

High Cost of Living—There Are Some Who Beat It

WASHINGTON (AP) - Most Americans think they lose from inflation, and most probably do. But there are a lot of people who manage to break even, and others who are outright winners.

Nearly breaking even are the 35 million persons who receive Social Security payments, federal employees and workers whose union-negotiated wage increases keep pace with prices.

Winners include most physicians, corporate executives and workers whose wages and other benefits have exceeded the rise in the cost of living.

Barry Bosworth and the Council on Wage and Price Stability, which he directs, have been outspoken in their criticism of those who are ahead of the inflation game, saying they are gaining at the expense of the rest of the population.

Among labor unions, Bosworth has singled out the 2.2 million member Teamsters, the United Auto Workers and the United Steelworkers as being among those whose gains have put them in a privileged position relative to other workers.

Wage and benefit increases for major unions have been averaging between 9.5 percent and 10 percent a year, Bosworth says, while overall average worker earnings have been rising by about 7 percent, close to the recent rates of inflation.

However, since the 7 percent average includes those whose wages increased by substantially higher figures, it means a lot of workers are receiving much smaller gains.

"These major unions have to be brought back into line with the rest of the economy," says Bosworth. "If these contracts again come in in the range of 30 percent and over for three years, you might as well forget talking about decelerating inflation at any time in the near future."

Having said that, however, he adds that the average worker has done "terribly."

The government reported last week that workers' real spendable earnings, or earnings discounted for inflation and taxes, declined 0.4 percent in June and were down 2.3 percent from a year earlier.

Corporate profits kept up with inflation last year, rising an average of 11 percent for the biggest 1,200 companies.

Pay of corporate executives also has tended to far outpace inflation. The magazine reported that during 1976, for example, direct pay of executives - salary plus bonuses - increased 27.2 percent. Corporate profits were up 26 percent that year, but inflation was just 4.8 percent, making it a good year for executives.

"Sometimes they get bonuses even when there has been no increase in profits; I've never understood it," said one administration official, who did not want to be named. He said that while corporate profits and executive salaries have generally stayed ahead of inflation, dividend payments have not.

Bosworth recently told the House Budget Committee that big business and big unions escape the injuries effects of inflation because of their power in the marketplace.

"It's not hurting them," he said. "If the cost of living goes up, then wages go up. The companies pass it through into prices without any particular difficulty."

"The people who suffer from inflation are the minority groups, people in retail trade and people on the fringes of the economy, they get hurt by unemployment and inflation," he said.

A number of corporate executives confirmed to a reporter in background interviews in 1974, when inflation was 12.2 percent, that it wasn't a serious problem for them because they could pass along their higher costs into prices.

Besides corporations and large labor unions, physicians have been a clear winner over inflation in recent years, the wage and price stability council said in a recent study. It said physicians fees were up 9.3 percent last year and have risen 80 percent faster than other prices in the economy since 1950.

Farmers also have done quite well as a group in the past year, as their income rose 20 percent over the 12 month period ending in June, according to the Agriculture Department.

Property-Tax Relief Delayed in Austin

Bell Rate Request Ruling Due

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Public Utility Commission meets at 2 p.m. Wednesday to issue a final order in Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s $214.3 million rate hike request.

The three-member commission delayed the order last month on Bell's request after the company learned one of its former employees was under criminal investigation.

At a hearing last week, the company deleted $174,160 from its request, because the amount had been linked to alleged improper equipment purchases and leases uncovered by the U.S. attorney in Dallas.

Federal prosecutors have said Bell was a "victim" of fraud, not a participant.

Commission chairman George Cowden said last week he would be "very surprised" if Bell's request to delete the questionable funds were not granted.

A rate increase of $105 million has been recommended by the utility commission staff, while the Texas Municipal League says the company should receive $127 million more annually.

The Texas Supreme Court last week upheld PUC's earlier order granting Bell a $57.8 million rate hike. The amount was $173 million less than the company requested.

Bell's proposed rates for residential users include increases of as high as $1.36 in larger cities.

Mutilated Horse Found

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office is baffled over another animal mutilation--this time a horse found Friday morning with some of its bodily parts removed apparently by a sharp instrument.

The horse, a 4-year-old sorrel mare owned by Jau Don McCathern, was seen alive Thursday night, according to Chief Deputy Art Burton, who is heading the investigation of several recent mutilations.

Several steers reportedly were

Debugging a Corn Field

Local aerial applicators are currently at the peak of their pest control season in Deaf Smith County, with corn, sugar beet and occasionally grain sorghum crops in need of attention to control both vegetative and insect pests. Here, a Cessna Ag Wagon from American Dusting Co. of Hereford applies herbicide to weeds in a sorghum field southeast of Hereford. Spraying firms are also busy with their control program for the Southwestern corn borer, a consistent pest here, and fungicide application work on the local sugar beet crop will also give spraying firms plenty of work in the next few weeks. Populations of spider mites, which descended on the corn crop in hordes here last year and inflicted heavy damage, have not reached the alarming levels of last year, and the cooler temperatures that followed recent light rains may help to keep the pest in check. Farmers are counting on time-proven methods of corn borer control to work for them again this year and alleviate the threat of damage from that source.

USDA Says Farm Prices To Slip

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department expects average prices farmers receive for their commodities to slip for the rest of the year but remain well above 1977 levels.

A nine-month climb was broken in July, when overall prices at the farm dropped 1 percent, the Crop Reporting Board said Monday. Production and living expenses stayed about the same as in June.

Even so, the prices farmers got averaged 19 percent above July 1977. Costs were up 8 percent, the board said.

Later, the department's forecasters said, "If weather remains generally favorable, average prices for farm commodities probably will ease seasonally during the second half of the year, when major crops are harvested and marketings of meat and poultry become seasonally more plentiful."

They added, however, that consumer food spending is not slackening and demand from foreign buyers is also good.

With 577.7 million bushels of grain locked up in a three-year reserve unless prices lunge ahead, "farm prices likely will be maintained well above a year ago," their midsummer appraisal of the farm economy said.

Not quite 374 million bushels of the reserve is wheat, Vice President Walter

Cuban Evades Patrols, Sharks for Freedom

MIAMI (AP) - A Cuban handyman pulled from the sea near the Florida Keys says he used ping-pong paddles as oars and fought off sharks and dodged Cuban navy patrols during a harrowing seven-day journey to freedom floating on two inner tubes.

Then he wept when he saw an American flag.

The ordeal of 27-year-old Ramon Estevez Cordova ended when he was rescued Sunday by the crew of a pleasure boat about five miles off the coast of Key Largo.

Cordova was surprised Monday when he was reunited with his foster sister, Sonia Batista, in Miami.

"I believe a kid will do as much as you expect him to do. If you expect him to be a good player, he'll be a good player. Our philosophy is to never be negative. We always approach things from a positive standpoint."

"You can motivate a player to get the maximum of his ability. The key to success is getting the maximum out of every player, not having a bunch of good players."

helicopters searched for him the first day but could not see him because of high waves. However, he said, sharks and hunger were his worst fears during the trip.

"The sharks came every day about noon and tried to attack me. They tried to tip the raft over. I was surprised at their strength. Once I had my leg in the water and a shark hit me with his tail and rubbed the skin from my ankle." Cordova said, showing a crusty, deep sore on his leg.

Cordova was reported to be in good condition, despite a slight fever and rope burns where he had tied himself to the raft.

Coast Guard officials at Key West said they received a radio call from a German cargo ship about a man aboard a raft Saturday night, but a four-hour search of the area turned up nothing.

Cordova later told Immigration officials he refused to be picked up by the German ship because he feared it was a Russian vessel.

The 50-foot pleasure boat Xtabay plucked Cordova from the ocean the next day.

Loni Myers, a mate on the boat, said: "When he saw the American flag on the dock at Islamorada, he put his hand over his heart. I almost started crying."

Dixie Burns, also on the Xtabay, said the scene did make her cry.

"We were trying to convince him he was in America, but I didn't have an American flag on me," she said.

It doesn't matter how good you are, only that you give your maximum effort.

It's a simple philosophy, but Hereford High football coach Don Cumpton says it's the reason this year's version of the Whitefaces might make a serious bid for the District 4-AAAA crown.

Cumpton, who left Hereford in 1974 as assistant football coach to take the head job at Sanford-Fritch, has returned to pilot the Whitefaces as they try to improve on last year's 3-7 season.

"I am really optimistic," Cumpton said, "because of our attitude, our enthusiasm, and the fact that the players have told us they want to get Hereford back to where it used to be as far as football is concerned."

Some coaches might not be so optimistic. Cumpton has 16 returning lettermen to work with--not a lot by football standards--and it's common knowledge in gridiron circles that when you enter a new situation, you're not supposed to win.

But, Cumpton denies rumors that Hereford is in a rebuilding season.

"I hate that word," he said. "Every time we take the field, we're going to try to win. The easiest way to build a program is to win. It builds your program in a hurry."

"We have a chance to win the district. If the breaks go our way. We think we've got some good players. We've got some untested players who have a lot of ability. They just need some experience. Our players are going to put on a good show, and I can honestly say that they won't ever get outthusted."

100 Dutch Persons Stricken with Polio

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) - Nearly 100 persons, most of them children, have been stricken in a polio epidemic this summer among members of Dutch sects rigidly opposed to vaccination.

"God must decide who is struck down by sickness, not the doctors," said the father of one ailing child in a television interview. "You will never understand unless you read the Bible."

"You can't tamper with God's will," said a teen-age girl in a wheelchair. "He wanted me to get polio. If it hadn't been this, it would have been something else."

The Health Ministry has tried without success to get a vaccination program under way in the Bible Belt in the central part of the country, where the preacher's word is law.

Most Dutch parents have their children vaccinated against polio as a matter of course. But vaccination is rejected by about 300,000 followers of the Dutch Reformed Communities, the Christian Reformed Churches and other splinter groups of the Dutch Reformed Church who regard disease as a manifestation of divine wrath.

The polio has not spread to people outside the sects, a Health Ministry spokesman said.

Initiative-Referendum Law Doesn't Clear

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A proposal to enable Texans to write and abolish laws without going through the Legislature will apparently not be approved during the special legislative session.

This means Texans would not be able to skirt the Legislature and, as Californians did recently, adopt a Proposition 13-type measure.

A provision giving Texans the power of initiative and referendum did not gather the majority needed Monday to clear the Senate State Affairs Committee.

The vote on the 13-member committee was only 6-4 to place in the Texas Constitution a provision giving Texans the power of initiative and referendum. Seven affirmative votes were needed.

The right to petition for statutory and constitutional changes also failed in a House committee last week. However, the House vote 97-42 Monday to add a provision setting up initiative and referendum to a proposed constitutional amendment.

In the senate, State affairs chairman Bill Moore, D-Bryan, criticized the initiative and referendum proposal as the "most radical concept of government."

He said the only reason he scheduled a hearing on the proposal was as a courtesy to the sponsor, Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, and the committee vice chairman, Sen. Glenn Kothmann, D-San Antonio.

"This is not a new subject," said Moore, 60. "It has been thrashed out for the past six months...and I studied it in high school civics."

Tropical Storm Fizzes In South Texas

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) - Tropical Storm Amelia, born in turmoil over the Gulf of Mexico Sunday, melted into a peaceful rainstorm scant hours later, leaving behind only a few fallen branches, swollen puddles and the debris from sunken fishing boats.

The storm opened the Atlantic Hurricane season when it evolved from a tropical depression less than 100 miles from the Texas coast, reached tropical storm status several hours later and fizzled out in less than a day in sparse coastal rangeland.

At least five shrimp boats were sunk by the storm's 50-mile-an-hour winds and six persons spent tense hours riding out the storm clutching debris from crippled vessels.

Three men whose fishing boat sank during the storm Sunday were found alive and well Monday afternoon after riding out high winds and heavy squalls on a life raft.

Earlier in the day three other persons were found inside a beached, overturned pleasure boat five miles from the tip of South Padre Island.

The Coast Guard had proclaimed the occupants of the boat missing when they found the craft. But later when rescuers waded out to the boat they heard the trio's cries for help and hacked the hull open to rescue them.

All six suffered from exposure but were otherwise unharmed.

Vance Still Planning To Visit Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance still plans a weekend trip to the Mideast despite strong U.S. displeasure with Anwar Sadat's new demand that Israel - as the price for resuming stalled peace talks - return all captured Arab lands.

One official, speaking privately, said consideration was given to canceling the visit because of Sadat's statement.

Vance decided to go, another official said, because of the realization that the visit might be the only way to get the two sides talking again and to salvage the glimmering hopes for a peaceful settlement.

The State Department announced on Monday that the Vance trip to Jerusalem and Cairo would go ahead as planned. What Vance will say to Egyptian President Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin has not been decided.

But Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said, "We expect that the United States will tell Sadat he has to sit with us for talks upon the chairmanship of the secretary of state."

"It is the policy of the United States to have the parties meet, and I do not believe the United States will neglect its effort."

Tax Relief

package of constitutional amendments including a possible homestead exemption from school taxes and evaluation of farm land on productivity - might mean failure of the special session to do something about property taxes.

"It pretty well puts it in jeopardy at this point," he said.

Monday's floor session was an ugly-tempered affair, with Clayton at one point declaring he would strictly enforce the rule against personal attacks against representatives in floor speeches.

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, criticized Clayton for a backroom meeting over the weekend with school administrators, who are upset over a provision allowing local voters to roll back property tax increases.

Bryant offered - and Von Dohlen accepted - an amendment requiring 35 percent of a community's voters to petition for a rollback election.

Clayton, he said, "committed to the school people that he would take out the local referendum or else water it down so much, cripple it so bad, that no citizen could ever use it."

"I think it is a deceitful way to proceed, but it is time to call the bluff of these promise makers back there and see if they'll support the amendment they said they would support," he said.

Von Dohlen said Bryant - a supporter of speaker candidate Buddy Temple, D-Diboll - had behaved "to the disgust of the members," while Clayton had been "fair to all."

While weakening the local referendum position, the House voted 97-42 to add a provision setting up initiative and referendum, which Californians used to cut their taxes through Proposition 13.

Chances were considered slim the provision would pass the special session, however, because a similar proposal failed to gather the necessary majority Monday in the Senate State Affairs Committee.

The proposed constitutional amendment would also require legislators to set up a means for rural land to be taxed on productivity capacity, not market value, and to exempt up to $10,000 of the value of Texans' homes from school taxes.

Senators have approved a similar proposal, which awaits House action. In Monday's debate in the Senate over countywide property appraisals, following stateset guidelines, Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, predicted such legislation would raise taxes.

"This is the same tax philosophy that brought on Proposition 13 in California; that caused the tax horrors there," he said.

"There is absolutely no basis for such a statement. This is a chance for the first time for taxpayers to have realistic tax reform," shouted back Sen. Grant Jones.

Farm Prices

F. Mondale and Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland have been urging feedgrain growers the last few days to join in and not sell 1977 crops into a sagging market.

The forecasters also boosted their estimate of gross farm income for the year, from $118 billion last month to $121 billion today. But the figure that counts, net income, remained the same at $25 billion, compared to $20.1 billion in 1977 and almost $30 billion in 1973.

They commented, "In terms of real purchasing power, 1978 incomes will total some 40 percent below the 1973 peak."

The appraisal also slightly adjusted the official department outlook on food prices, from anywhere in a range of 8 percent to 10 percent above the average 1977 prices to "close to the upper end of our earlier...forecast."

projected a .78 percent rise for the year, compared to 6.3 percent last year and the 9.26 percent indicated in the statistics in July.

The price report found that preliminary July prices for all farm commodities averaged 215 percent of a 1967 base used as a standard.

Declines for cattle, corn, hogs, soybeans and lettuce brought the average down. They were partially offset, the board said, by higher prices for potatoes, broilers, eggs and grapefruit, which jumped from $1.62 a box in June to $3.25.

Cattle prices dropped $1.50 per 100 pounds between mid-June and mid-July, to $49.80, it said. Hog prices slipped to $45.20, a decline of $2.50 per 100 pounds.

Altogether, prices for potatoes, sweet potatoes and dry beans were up 30 percent from June and 40 percent from a year ago.

The rectum and testis on the mare were removed, and Burton said there were no other apparent wounds on the animal. He also said that there was no blood on the ground around the mare.

"They did some pretty neat carving on her. No way was it coyotes. It was cut out."

Burton said the horse was gentle "and would have walked right up to you." There reportedly were no footprints around the carcass.

Chinatown Mass Murder Trial Begins in San Francisco Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - It was the bloodiest chapter in the long saga of Chinatown's gang warfare. It ended with five dead and 11 wounded.

Monday, more than 10 months after three stocking-masked men burst into a crowded Chinatown restaurant and unleashed a barrage into horrified diners, Curtis Tam went on trial for murder and assault. Eight others are to be tried later.

Tam is charged in connection with the Sept. 4, 1977, attack at the Golden Dragon Restaurant on Washington Street. Free on $1 million bail, he has pleaded innocent to five counts of murder, assault with a deadly weapon and assault with intent to commit murder.

After identifying the bullet-ridden bodies, police determined that none of the victims was linked to the Chinese youth gangs who police believed were involved.

Bit by bit, the vicious cycle of killings and retaliation between two rival youth gangs, surfaced and led to the conclusion that the Joe Boys, arch rivals of the Wah Chings, had been out to avenge the death of a 16-year-old member who had been shot and killed two months earlier.

Police embarked on a painstaking seven-month manhunt that led them into one false lead after another. But eventually they picked up an 18-year-old Galileo High School boy named Curtis Tam. His friends and teachers said he was a quiet boy who got mixed up with the wrong crowd.

Two months later, bathed in the fluorescent glow of a cramped police interrogation room, Tam burst into tears and cried, "I did it! I did it!" police said at a court hearing the next day.

In a 50-minute tape that came out of that interrogation, Tam disclosed in detail - down to the color of the Mao jacket he said he wore - the events leading up to the killings.

The plan, Tam said, was to catch Wah Ching leader Michael Louie at the Golden Dragon on the night-in-question.

But Louie and his boys - who always sat at a rear table, facing the double glass doors of the two-story dining hall - were said to have disappeared before the gunmen arrived, long before they fired their guns into the unsuspecting crowd.

Half a minute later, the three executioners dashed to two waiting getaway cars and vanished in the same manner they had appeared - without a trace.

Tam has linked 11 people to the massacre, but formal charges have been filed against only eight so far. Tam has pleaded numerous times, "I didn't want to shoot anyone...I didn't want to do it. They made me."

Make lowfat milk at home by mixing half whole milk with half skim or instant nonfat dry milk, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Never use a can of fruit or vegetables if one or both of its ends are swollen. This doesn't ordinarily happen, but it may — especially if the can has been forgotten and stored for an overlong time. It is safe to eat cheddar, Swiss or Parmesan cheese even if it has developed a slight mold on the surface. But, before using, cut away the moldy part and discard it because its flavor and texture call for disposal.

NEW YORK (AP) — A one-of-a-kind collection of home entertainment memorabilia, spanning the 100 years from Thomas Edison's original tinfoil phonograph to the newest selection videocassette recorder, has embarked upon a nationwide tour as a salute to the broadcasting industry. The traveling exhibition, culled from many sources by RCA, includes a model of that first phonograph that still works, a turn-of-the-century Victor-1 victrola with its eight-inch records and huge flowered horn, an early crystal set and a 1946 model of the first mass-produced television set, the 630-TS with its nine-inch picture tube. The tour will take the collection to some 30 major cities throughout the country during this year and next.

Rose Hits Safely In 44th Straight Tilt

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

Pete Rose has a chance to break the all-time National League record for consecutive game hitting streaks tonight against what he calls another "freakball pitcher."

The Cincinnati Reds third baseman hit in the 44th consecutive game Monday night, getting a sixth-inning single off Atlanta Braves right-hander Phil Niekro, a knuckleball specialist. That tied him with Wee Willie Keeler, who hit in the first 44 games of the 1897 season with the Baltimore Orioles, then an NL club.

Tonight, the Braves send lefthander Larry McWilliams to the mound, a rookie whose stock in trade is a forkball. "Freakball pitchers have a tendency to get you lunging," Rose said.

McWilliams has been very successful for the Braves lately. He's started three games, winning two by shutout over the New York Mets and getting no decision in the other.

The Reds wound up winning 3-2 on ninth-inning RBI singles by Cesar Geronimo and pinch-hitter Joe Morgan, making a winner of Mike LaCoss, 2-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, Phil Niekro's younger brother Joe pitched a two-hitter to give Houston a 4-1 victory over San Francisco. San Diego edged Los Angeles 4-3, Philadelphia clobbered the New York Mets 6-1 and Montreal shaded Pittsburgh 3-2.

The only streak left for Rose is the major league mark of 56 by Joe DiMaggio, set in 1941.

That string is 12 games away and, barring a rainout, could be tied Aug. 13 in San Diego and broken Aug. 14 in Pittsburgh.

Astros 4, Giants 1
Joe Niekro, 8-8, yielded only singles to Darrell Evans in the fourth and Roger Metzger in the eight in pitching the Astros to their seventh straight victory and 10th consecutive triumph at home.

"I really had the good knuckleball tonight," Niekro said, "and I was getting ahead of the hitters."

Padres 4, Dodgers 3
Eric Kasmussen, 10-7, allowed six hits in 7 2-3 innings for his eighth consecutive victory, and Rollie Fingers picked up his 24th save to give the Padres their seventh straight win, a club record.

Ozzie Smith went 4-for-4 and scored what turned out to be the winning run in the fifth inning after San Diego had erupted for three runs in the fourth off

Red Sox Rip White Sox, 9-2

BY FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

"Maybe that's what we needed," said Boston's Carlton Fisk, "a little rain."

The Red Sox, suffering from anemia of the bat, played the Chicago White Sox in sporadic drizzle at Fenway Park Monday night. They had scored just five runs in their last six games, had won just one of their last six and watched as their once-huge American League East lead dwindled.

But as rain kept falling, Jim Rice and George Scott broke out of slumps and Boston bombed the White Sox 9-2.

"We were playing lousy," said Fisk. "Tonight we snapped out of it." Scott had been 0-for-25 and Rice 1-for-21 before they collected two hits each off Chicago pitching.

The Baltimore Orioles, though, weren't overly pleased with the way they were tied. The Birds and Milwaukee Brewers had played 8 1/2 innings when Dodgers right-hander Rick Rhoden, 8-6.

Phils 6, Mets 1
Bob Boone drove in two runs, one with a fifth-inning homer, and Greg Luzinski keyed a four-run outburst in the sixth with a bases-loaded double as Philadelphia snapped a three-game losing streak.

Dick Ruthven, 8-8, made his first start in nine days after he struggled with a sore back and held the Mets to five hits.

Expos 3, Pirates 2
Montreal rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth on RBI hits by Chris Speier and pinch-hitter Ed Herrmann to make a winner of reliever Mike Garman, 2-4.

rain nearly drowned the 10,514 fans at Memorial Stadium. The Brewers tied the game 5-5 on Cecil Cooper's single in the top of the ninth. Then came the downpour...and the wait.

The umpires waited two hours, 20 minutes for the storm to stop. So, 31 minutes on the other side of midnight, play resumed; the Orioles couldn't score, and the game was suspended by local curfew laws.

In other American League games, Toronto trimmed Detroit 8-7 in 14 innings, Cleveland edged Kansas City 4-3, New York topped Texas 6-1 and Oakland blanked California 2-0.

Blue Jays 8, Tigers 7
Otto Velez blasted a home run in the 14th inning to power Toronto past Detroit. Rico Carty had cracked a grand slam, the second of his career, and had scored a fifth-inning run to give the Blue Jays a 6-3 lead, but the Tigers scored three times in the ninth to tie it and went ahead 7-6 in the 10th on a homer by Lance Parrish.

Indians 4, Royals 3
Jim Norris slapped a two-run single in the bottom of the ninth inning to help Cleveland hand Kansas City only its third loss in the last 17 games.

"When you close your eyes and swing, you get lucky now and then," joked Norris. "It was a 19-hopper."

Yankees 6, Rangers 1
Ed Figueroa fired a four-hitter for his fourth consecutive victory, Mickey Rivers hit a leadoff home run and Reggie Jackson continued his hot hitting with an RBI double as the Yankees downed the Rangers.

A's 2, Angels 0
Matt Keough, Dave Heaverlo and Elias Sosa combined to hold California to seven hits and bring Oakland within five games of the West Division leading Royals.

"We're just trying to make believers out of everyone," said Mitchell Page, who singled in the fourth inning for the game's first hit, stole second and third and scored on a throwing error by Angels third baseman Carney Lansford.

Miller Worried Over Tee Shots

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — Johnny Miller, who flirted with perfection here five summers ago, fought the hook and slice on his return.

"My tee shots have been killing me all year," golf's former fair-haired boy said Monday after playing intently but erratically through a practice round for the PGA Championship that starts Thursday.

His swing wasn't cooperating, but Miller still felt something special as he strolled the Oakmont Country Club course for the first time since he won the 1973 U.S. Open here.

"Yea, you can't help but reminisce a little," said Miller, who earned that victory with a final-round 63 that still is a record for this course and the Open.

"It was a great moment in my golfing life. It was one of the better rounds that's ever been played. Even if it never happens again, at least it happened once."

In 1974, Miller led the PGA with earnings of $353,021. He soared to $61,025 last year and this year he ranks 99th on the money list with winnings of $16,090. He hasn't won a tournament since 1976.

Dorsett Injured

THOUSAND OAKS, California (AP) — Tony Dorsett, the National Football League's Offensive Rookie of the Year last season, has been listed as questionable by the Dallas Cowboy coaching staff for Saturday night's opening exhibition game.

Dorsett suffered a bruised right knee Monday that team officials say may force the former heisman trophy winner to sit out the contest against the San Francisco 49ers at Texas Stadium.

In addition to Dorsett's injury, Cowboy officials say second-year fullback Larry Brinson is in a doubtful status for the 49er game because of a deep strain of his groin suffered during a Monday morning practice.

Meanwhile, the Cowboys said 10 rookie free agents and one draft choice — No. 5 pick Rich Rosen of Syracuse — were waived. The action reduced the squad to 75 players, including 25 rookies.

Some Cowboy veterans returned to workouts Monday. Billy Joe Dupree, Tom Rafferty and Jim Eidson got back into action.

Dupree, who has a cracked left thumb as well as stitches in his right hand, may play in the 49er game. Rafferty, the starting right guard, and Eidson, an offensive tackle, are expected to be ready for the San Francisco contest.

Golf Not Leisurely Says Open Winner

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

He crouched over the ball and, as he stood there studying the lay of the green, the distance of the putt, the diameter of the hole that by now looked no bigger than a needle, a droplet of perspiration fell from Andy North's brow and landed at his feet.

"And they think golf is a leisurely sport," North murmured to himself.

For the weekend duffer motoring his way around the course in a comfortable cart, it may very well be that. For the professional, playing this game for a living, it is something else again.

North, winner of the 1978 United States Open and defending champion in the upcoming $300,000 Westchester Classic, plays golf well enough to have career earnings of some $477,000 since turning professional in 1972. But that doesn't mean he finds it simple. In fact, he believes golf offers a greater challenge to its practitioners than any other sport.

What bugs North is that golf has a country club image and that its performers are rarely seriously considered in any discussion of great athletes.

"People don't understand how difficult it is to win one tournament, let alone two or three in a row the way Gary Player did earlier this year," said North.

"There are so many variables involved, a good bounce here or there can make the difference between whether you're in the money or out. It can be as little as that."

There is tension in every sport but other athletes at least play their games in fairly standard conditions.

"A pitcher always stands 60 feet, 6 inches from a batter," said North. "A football field is always 100 yards long. Tennis courts are standard and so are bowling alleys. But there are no two golf courses that are the same. You're playing different courses every week in all kinds of conditions... rain, heat, wind, cold."

This week's course is the challenging layout at Oakmont, Pa., where North plays in the PGA championship tournament. It won't be easy because all of the sport's heavyweights, the Nicklauses, Trevinos and Watsons, will be there.

"Winning a major golf tournament is like pitching a no-hitter," said North. "The odds are about the same. We've got 150 guys who tea up each week and of those we've got 100 who can win."

That would seem to make the odds 100-to-1 but North says they're even higher than that for the players who are a cut below the superstars.

"Some of the guys like Nicklaus and Watson would be 1-to-8 shots," he said.

North's last tournament was the Philadelphia Classic, played in the punishing heat and humidity of the Whitmarsh Course and won by Nicklaus. "I shot four rounds of 78," said North. "That's not really too bad. You know where I finished? Somewhere around 25th."

Phillips Likens Self to Billy

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Coach Bum Phillips of the Houston Oilers said Monday he and his holdout wide receiver, Billy Johnson, have one thing in common. Both are in their contract option year.

"There ain't nobody, I mean nobody, who wants Billy Johnson in camp more than I do," Phillips said.

"This is my option year, too. My contract is up in January and I have to think my chances of getting another one are a lot better with Billy Johnson on the team."

Johnson has refused to report to camp until the Oilers meet his contract demands. Phillips terminated negotiations early last week, saying talks would not resume until Johnson reports to camp.

Phillips also boosted the daily fine for failure to report from $500 to $1,200.

The fines now total about $10,000 and Johnson has given no indication of reporting.

Phillips said he does not know how many Oilers are playing out their contracts this year.

"But the rules agreed on by the owners and players are that they come to camp," he said in defending the club's position in this dispute with Johnson.

"They're under contract to play and if we negotiate with Billy when he's not in camp we'd have to do the same with anybody else in the future. I want him to win and I want to keep my job but I wouldn't hurt the team to do either one."

Amarillo Tops Tulsa Drillers

By The Associated Press

Jim Beswick's run-scoring double proved to be the difference Monday night as the Amarillo Gold Sox took a 2-1 Texas League baseball victory over the Tulsa Drillers.

In other Texas League action, San Antonio handed Jackson a smashing, 9-0, Midland beat Shreveport, 8-4, and Arkansas edged El Paso, 2-1.

Beswick's double drove home Barry Evans, who had singled. John Yandle, now 3-6, was the winning pitcher, Kerry Keegan, now 2-8, was the loser.

Kelly Snider accounted for three of the runs with a single and a double to pace the San Antonio Dodgers to a 9-0 shutout over the Jackson Mets. Rick Sander, now 8-7, held the Mets to only three hits. Larry Prewitt, the losing pitcher, is now 7-4.

Greg Keatley's triple with the bases loaded was the big blow as Midland beat Shreveport, 8-4. Jim Tracy helped the Cubs offensive with his third homer. Tony Pena homered for the Captains in a losing cause. George Riley won his third Texas League victory without a loss. Rafael Vasquez saw his loop pitching record drop to 11-7.

John Fulgham struck out 12 El Paso Diablos as he pitched the Arkansas Travelers to a 2-1 victory. Fulgham, who has had 23 strikeouts in his last two outings, moved his season record to 6-7. Frank Hunsaker singled home Leon Durham with the winning Arkansas run in the eighth.

Durham reached on a walk, stole second and went to third on a ground out.

Chuck Porter, now 6-3, was the losing El Paso pitcher.

An Electric Car
in Your Future

There is an electric car in your future.

Our government's Energy Department is investing $60 million in loan guarantees to expedite development of the electric automobile.

Five companies in four states will race one another to be first with the best. The objective is to be road testing 10,000 electric vehicles in a variety of climates within eight years.

The electric car is not new. Ford and Edison combined their talents to build the first one more than 60 years ago.

Others have tried since. The most recent—Sebring-Vanguard-marketed 2,100 so-called "Citicars," then gave up.

The electric car—to become efficiently functional—awaits development of a better, smaller, lighter, stronger battery and a more efficient electric motor.

We are almost there. Our U.S. Postal Service has been operating a fleet of 390 electric vans for five years.

Electric cars DO save energy. They DO require less maintenance. But in cold weather some of them do run out of juice.

Ford is hoping to improve its high-temperature sodium sulphur battery.

General Motors is betting its money on a new zinc-nickel oxide battery. It promises to store twice the energy in half the space and weighs 60 percent less than conventional batteries.

GM's chairman, Tom Murphy, says, "I think we are on the threshold of developing a battery that can do the job."

The Wall Street Journal, understandably seeking to anticipate the future from an investor's point of view, believes that electric cars in showrooms are 10 years away and that they will not dominate the market; that traditional automobiles will remain better performers and better sellers.

If this prognosis is valid, the electric car—at least at first—will be a more likely "second car" candidate. The car in which the housewife goes shopping and the one her commuting husband parks at the train station.

More than 90 percent of all passenger car trips are under 21 miles.

Tentative government standards for electric vehicles now under development require a range of 31 miles and acceleration from zero to 31 miles an hour in 15 seconds.

If—with this "government push"—the electric car can replace 10 percent of all cars within 20 years, it would save our country from 100 million to 150 million barrels of oil a year.

At any hour, of course, a breakthrough could be announced which would accelerate the timetable and multiply the potential.

If you owned an efficient electric car today you would be inconvenienced by too few dealers and too few competent repairmen.

But when one realizes how promptly service stations were able to adapt themselves to the demand for lead-free fuel, one realizes how flexible we can be when we want to be.

Appointments Delayed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Senate questioning of three controversial gubernatorial appointees - chairman Hugh Yantis and Durwood Manford to the insurance board are Dorsey Hardeman to the water commission - was postponed Monday until today.

The nominations subcommittee recommended confirmation of 37 other state appointees before quitting for the day.

Subcommittee chairman Peyton McKnight announced the

Ann Landers Loony Lady

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't know what to make of a woman who works in this office. (Incidentally, I'm a male, age 46.) She seems perfectly normal in every other way, but "Doris" talks to herself. For example, a few minutes ago she said (in a voice loud enough to be heard 20 feet away), "Today, I simply must get organized. Now let me see, these letters should be sorted out, I have to check the phone numbers and addresses." "Doris" continued to give herself oral instructions. Finally she asked herself, "How can I do all this by five o'clock and still go to lunch?"

Ann, I'll be a monkey's uncle if she didn't ANSWER herself. She replied, "I WILL do it because I must! And I'll go to lunch too!"

This is just one episode. She does it all the time. Is the woman loony?—Auburn, Ala.

DEAR AUBURN: I hope not, because if she's loony then I am, too. Many people who work intensively talk to themselves. It can be very reassuring. It also helps relieve the pressure.

Listing aloud things to be done can serve as a useful guide. So—put away the butterfly net. Doris is O.K.

DEAR ANN: I am a teacher who agrees with you. Children need to be taught how to handle life situations in school. It is vital that they learn to cope with stressful situations as well as be informed on the basic "facts of life." The vast majority of students are not getting the information at home. Why? Would you believe the problem is the parents?

The principal and several members of our faculty have tried for 18 months to initiate both a sex-education program and a drug-abuse program. They can't get them off the ground. One parent said to me, "I don't want the school putting such ideas into my child's head." (Her daughter is 14 and the girl already has plenty of ideas. Most of them bad.)

A mother came to school to complain when we took a poll in May asking parents if they wanted their children to attend lectures on drug abuse. Mrs. R. was furious. She screamed, "My son wouldn't think of such a thing on his own! When schools give courses on drugs they tell kids how to use them." (This woman's son, the previous week, had carved on his desk, "Do a bowl," which is slang for "Let's smoke pot.")

In another part of the country where I taught 8th grade, parents stood behind teachers and supported them. They were relieved and grateful when sensitive topics were handled by teachers. Most parents are too embarrassed (or uninformed) to deal with subjects like masturbation and "Funny Uncles." Yes, even in these "enlightened" times.

In today's society it is not easy to be either a parent or a caring teacher. The solution is to work together, not against one another. Our goals are the same. We must help our children become enlightened so they can deal successfully with a world that is becoming increasingly complicated and dangerous.—I Care A Lot In Newark.

DEAR NEWARK: Thank you for supporting the unpopular position. It is the right one. For the life of me I can't understand why more parents don't appreciate your heroic efforts to do THEIR job when they bomb out. Hang in there, Angel. In the long run, you'll win.

4-H Firsthand

Hello, My name is Scott Hamby. My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hamby. I am in the Buffalo 4-H group. In 4-H, we do lots of different kinds of projects. The one project I really enjoy is plant study.

In a plant study, you can do lots of different things. Plant study is an all-year project. In this project, I have learned how to start house plants and take care of them. In the past winter, I started tomato plants to set out. I found out that I didn't start them early enough. If you start them 8 to 12 weeks before they are to be set out, they will be ready.

Now, I would like to tell you some of the new gardening ideas. In some literature that I read recently, I discovered that it helps to companion plant. Companion planting is where you plant different plants with other plants. Here are a few companion planting hints and their effects.

-You can plant Basil with tomatoes to improve the growth and flavor and it is said to dislike rue and repels flies and mosquitos.

-You can plant Catnip in borders and it protects against flea beetles.

-You can plant Dill with cabbage because it improves the growth and flavor. Also plant dill with carrots.

There are lots of other companion plantings, but these are just a few.

Growing different vegetables in containers is very popular among people who don't have a place to put a regular garden. Lettuce is very popular among container radish.

Some apprehensive flight types get well-belted even before they get on the plane.

People who recall the good, old days usually dwell fondly on something that happened at night.

Well-meaning pats on the back bring only shrieks from secretaries just returned from toast-in-the-sun vacations.

Economy Indicator Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government measure of future economic trends rose a moderate 0.4 percent in June, the fifth increase in a row, the Commerce Department said Monday.

The increase in the Index of Leading Economic Indicators, about average for the past year, gave out no signals of a strong downturn in the next six months.

Government economists are expecting slower growth in the second half of the year after an unusually strong spring. However, they are uncertain whether economic growth will be so slow that it will create more unemployment.

The government is more worried about consumer prices, which were riding at a rate of about 10.4 percent per year in the first half of 1978. The Consumer Price Index released Friday showed that prices rose 0.9 percent in June for the third month in a row.

The 0.4 percent increase in the economic indicators followed increases of 0.5 percent in February, 0.1 percent in March, 0.9 percent in April and 0.1 percent in May.

The index is composed of a series of economic indicators that are intended to give the first signs of an impending slowdown or boom in economic growth.

Contributing to the increase in June were a longer average work week, faster deliveries, more liquid assets, higher prices for selected products, rising stock prices and more building permits.

On the negative side were increased contracts for plant and equipment spending, a smaller money supply and more factory orders. The layoff rate was unchanged.

Big Foot Called Big Joke

CAMERON, Texas (AP)—Milam County Sheriff Leroy Broadus thinks the Big Foot monster story is just somebody's idea of a big joke.

But Broadus doesn't think it's so funny and may file criminal charges if he finds the person or persons responsible.

Broadus said Sunday he based his decision on a report made by the Big Foot Research Society of Dallas.

The monster story started last Wednesday when 15-year-old Jeffrey Gelfner found a mysterious footprint that was 24 inches long and 9 inches wide near the Little River. The next day he said he saw a large, two-legged hairy creature in a densely wooded slough near the river.

Broadus said he believes Gelfner did see something in the woods and did not have any role in the hoax.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

Our daughter climbed into a giant teacup ride at Disneyland that whirled her around like a centrifuge, bounced her around until her eyeballs scrambled and came to rest with her chin hooked over the safety bar.

She laughed so hard I thought her teeth would catch cold. She climbs into the back seat of the family car (the one where the ride is so smooth, a jeweler cuts diamonds) and before you can get out of the driveway, she threatens to throw up.

I guess every family has a "queasy rider." It's the kid who turns every vacation into a question: "What am I doing here?"

According to my husband, I have no right to complain. After all, I'm the one responsible for passing on the up-chuck chromosome.

Didn't I view the Statue of Liberty from the center of the ferry with my head between my legs? Wasn't I the one who took Dramamine to watch Gilligan's Island? And I'm the one who blew $20 on a never-to-be-forgotten fishing venture in Florida a few years back. (They tell me I tried to choke a small child who was eating a mayonnaise sandwich with bait on his hands as I was on my final approach to death.)

In the interest of all you Moms and Dads who will be traveling this summer with a child who suffers from motion sickness, I'd like to offer you a few suggestions that might make things easier for you.

Motion sickness pills are very effective. When given as directed, a child can sleep for many miles. A word of warning: they may be habit-forming. (To the parents, not the child.)

Keep the child's mind off being sick. Tell her you're going to abandon her at the next exit ramp if she persists in this nonsense.

Give the child her own window—especially if it is in another car.

Cool it on the rich food and drink. Keep her busy by having her hang her head out of the car to see if the left-rear tire has a bubble on it or is smoking.

And above all, don't let the driver of the car stop and start...stop and start...stop and start...excuse me.

Liquor Permits Enjoined

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—An attorney for the dry forces in Abilene's controversial local option election last month says a temporary restraining order has been issued by a state district judge here prohibiting the Alcoholic Beverage Commission from granting beverage permits in the West Texas city.

Buck Wood said Sunday the order was obtained Friday from State District Court Judge Charles Mathews.

Wood said the action was brought on behalf of two Abilene residents who are challenging the legality of a second canvass of the June 17 election.

According to Wood, the order will remain in effect until an Aug. 7 hearing on the suit.

The results of the June election found the wets with 11,591 votes and the dries with 11,160.
