Rites Held for Jim Ricketts, 46, Accident Victim

Funeral services for James M. (Jim) Ricketts, 46, were held Saturday afternoon in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Don Root of Enid, Okla., formerly of Hereford, officiating.

Mr. Ricketts, a former Hereford resident, was killed Wednesday when he fell down the shaft of an uranium mine at Price, Utah. He had been working at the mine since Nov., 1957.

He was born April 9, 1912, at Portales, N. M., and was raised in Hereford. He was married to Mary Elias Hershey Jan. 12, 1930, in the Progressive community. He farmed near Hereford until 1933 when he moved to Miami, N. M. Later he and his family moved to Carlsbad, N. M., where they stayed until 1949, returning to Hereford and staying until 1956. He then moved back to Carlsbad and then to Grants, N. M., in March of 1957 and then to Utah.

Mr. Ricketts was a member of the First Christian Church here.

Surviving are his wife of Price; five sons, J. A. of Lubbock, Forrest of Carlsbad, N. M., Albert of Hereford and Ralph and Fred of Price; a daughter, Mary Beth of Price; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts of Hereford; four sisters, Mrs. Mildred McBrayer of Dalhart, Mrs. Margaret Dougherty of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. Ira Jean Higgins of Texline and Mrs. Catherine Russell of Hereford; a brother, Glenn of Albuquerque, N. M., and three grandchildren.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

AFTER TWO MONTHS WORK

Deep Test Well Location Decided

THE LONG-DISCUSSED and a waited-decision of location for the first deep test well in Deaf Smith was finally arrived at Friday night when the committee named Bill Salmon as the land owner where it would be drilled.

Arrangements for the contract were made yesterday morning shortly before noon in the office of attorney John D. Aikin. The contract calls for production of not less than 800 gallons per minute at the end of a 30-day test, and water not to contain in excess of 96 parts per million parts sodium bicarbonate or enough salt of harmful quality to endanger crops, which will be decided by committee head Virgil Dodson.

SALMON IS to pay half of the total well cost, but not in excess of half of $5,500. All other costs will be made by the financing of the well. Should the well prove sufficient, Salmon will have until February of 1959 to pay the entire cost of the well, or approximately $3,000 more. If it fails to meet requirements, he will pay $250 more, close off to higher-surface water, or take what Dodson can obtain in selling salvaged equipment.

The well will be drilled either 18 or 16 inches wide down to the red bed, and 15 inches wide from there. The well will reach a depth of between 800 and 1,000 feet.

Proposed location by Salmon is three and a half miles northeast of Hereford on Highway 60 and half

3 Burglars Get Prison Terms Here

FLEAS OF GUILTY to charges of burglary were entered by three Hereford men in 66th District Court here Friday and each was sentenced to two years in prison by Judge Harry Schultz.

The men are Uvaldo Vela, 24; Alfred Reyna, 15, and Guadalupe Guzman, 19.

They had been charged and indicted with the March 25 burglary of Plains Fertilizer here. Taken in the burglary were $155.06 in cash, $303.22 in checks and about $10 in items from a soft-drink machine.

Sheriff's officers arrested the men April 5 after hearing the trio had been spending heavily. They signed confessions the same night they were arrested. The grand jury returned an indictment against the three men in its session Tuesday.

Also in district court Friday, M. T. Greer, 58, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, second offense, and was fined $300 and court costs. Greer was arrested March 20.

Judge Schultz will hear more cases here April 23.

Winter Blunders Into Wrong Month

April Showers, indeed! Continuing its crazy pattern for 1958, February weather arrived in Deaf Smith County on April 13, bringing snow, sleet and rain.

At 9 a.m. Saturday Clay Angelo's official moisture gauge at City Hall in Hereford had counted 33 of an inch while amounts varied slightly across the county. That brought the month's total to .63 and the year's total to 5.94 inches.

The moisture continued to have

Transportation To Be Supplied By Red Cross

The re-establishment of Deaf Smith County Hospital's "Walking Blood Bank" will take place during this week, starting tomorrow afternoon. For those wishing free transportation will be furnished to the hospital by the Red Cross Motor Corps by calling the hospital, EM 4-2141.

A "Walking Blood Bank" is a list of blood donors, their blood types and locations where they may be reached in emergencies, eliminating the necessity of keeping whole blood on hand in the hospital and having to type blood donors when time is precious.

This name is given because the donors give only when called upon and in the form of transfusions as there is no way to keep blood in the local hospital, of any large amount. All blood donors give their blood without charge to the one needing the blood, and the doctors agree this type of service is the best that can be used in our community.

WHOLE BLOOD will keep only three weeks at the maximum in refrigeration, a facility which is not available, or necessary, in the local hospital. Transfusions are not frequent enough to keep the blood on hand, considering all the various types which would be necessary to be held in storage.

One local physician estimated the hospital would use an approximate average of 100 pints of blood over an entire year. "However," he commented, "there has been one week when we used 40 pints."

Process for joining the "Walking Blood Bank" consists merely of having one name registered and

Final Hale-Aikin Committee Meet Slated Tuesday

The Deaf Smith County Hale-Aikin committees will meet Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium, where separate committee reports will be made on school finance, school program, school buildings and teacher personnel.

All committee members are urged to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting, as well as the general public, according to general chairman Robert Wagener.

Final recommendations will be made on report forms supplied by the state committee, to whom they will be sent by May 1.

Committees were organized and work begun in November.

Chairmen of the four county committees are Ed Line, finance, Leo Forrest, teacher personnel, Don Zimmerman, school building and John Aikin, school program.

Wheat Acreage Law Gets New Change

After announcing earlier that any wheat acreage seeded in excess of the allotment would not be considered in establishing future state, county and farm allocations, the government changed the law whereby future acreage allotments would not be penalized for overseeded the 1958 crop.

ACCORDING TO an Associated Press story from Washington, President Eisenhower signed Saturday a law providing that wheat farmers who overplanted their crop for 1958 harvest will not be penalized in future acreage allotments under a section of a bill passed last year.

The new provision applies only to the 1958 wheat crop.

"This does not mean there is any change whatever in the marketing quota law which provides for penalties on excess wheat," stated U. S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office manager Faust Collier.

The Farm Act last year provided that no acreage seeded to wheat for harvest in 1958 or afterward in excess of the acreage allotment could be considered in establishing future farm acreage allotments.

Rep. Albert of Oklahoma, a sponsor of the bill, said a farmer who over planted his wheat crop for harvest this year still would be subject to penalties provided under previous law.

Proponents of the new legislation said the law passed last year was not signed until August 28, and in some areas the regulation was not received from the Agriculture Department before October when most of the crop had been planted.

Letter Carriers Group Meets Here

Approximately 150 delegates attended the quarterly meeting of District 13 of the Texas Letter Carriers Assn. at Aikman School here Saturday night.

Hereford Chapter 3168 was the host group. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss district business. The business meeting was preceded by a banquet. Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Lenderman welcomed the delegates and State President Dennis Lee gave the response.

Andy Baker, a member of the association's national executive board, gave a brief address during the business meeting. Marvin Knox, local carrier, served as master of ceremonies.

The organization represents city mail carriers.

MANAGERS ARE to make a list of needed equipment and meet with league president Dr. J. H. Channer at his office at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The group was told that the Hereford Jaycees are planning to clean-up and paint the field and bleachers. Plans were made to enlarge the present concession stand.

Pony League Meet Thursday In Jim Hill

Officials of the Pony League have called a meeting for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom. League president Don Martin urged all interested persons to attend.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss dates for player tryouts, player auction and opening day of the season. A schedule for the season also will be drawn up.

Four teams — the Indians, Red Sox, White Sox and Tigers — compose the league. Martin said the league probably will play a split

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS TO BEGIN ON APRIL 21

Tryouts for Little League teams for the 1958 season will begin April 21. Player auction will be held May 2 and the season opens May 12.

These dates were set by league officials and managers at a meeting held Thursday night at the Hereford State Bank.

The league, which consists of a major and a minor league, each with four teams, again will play a split season with a total of 18 games each half. Each team will play 18 games during the season.

WINNER OF the first half will meet the second-half winner in a three-game play-off unless the same team wins both halves. Regular season plays ends July 11.

Tryouts will be held at the practice field at 13th and Ave. I, April 21-30. Candidates for the teams are to report at 6 p.m. Each major league team is allowed 15 players on its roster and each minor league club is allowed 20. Major and minor teams have the same team names — Yankees, Cardinals, Dodgers and Giants.

Applications blanks for prospective players will be distributed at the various schools.

Candidates will be placed in four age groups: 8 and 9, 10, 11 and 12 years. A boy must be eight years old before April 21 and 13 after July 31 in order to participate.

Each major league team is allowed six 12-years-olds, five 11-year-olds and four 10 or younger. Players from last year will be on the same club unless purchased by another team.

GAME NIGHTS will be Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Minor League games start at 6 p.m. and Major League games at 8 p.m. Games must end at 9:30 p.m. Six-inning games are played. Site of the games will be Little League Park, next to the Hereford High School football stadium.

Managers for teams in both leagues have been named. In the Major League are Yankees, Joe Smith; Cardinals, Raymond Leub; Dodgers, Larry Summers; Giants, Red Merrill. Minor League pilots are Yankees, Jim Russell; Cardinals, Buck Mims; Dodgers, Elby Kendrick; Giants, Duane Balise.

League secretary-treasurer Joel Hodges told the group Thursday night that the league has almost $400 in the bank for the coming season. The league also has $300 in a savings account for future uniform purchases, Hodges said.

MANAGERS ARE to make a list of needed equipment and meet with league president Dr. J. H. Channer at his office at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The group was told that the Hereford Jaycees are planning to clean-up and paint the field and bleachers. Plans were made to enlarge the present concession stand.

Texas must have safety stickers Tuesday or they can't be driven. And income tax, well...

Bobby Doyle Finley, 21, 503 Miles Ave., was cited for following too closely after his car collided with one driven by Clyde Mantooth of Hobbs, N. M., at the intersection of 25 Mile Ave. and Catalpa shortly after noon Friday. Total damages were estimated at $150.

Boy Scout Troops 50, 51, and 52 from Hereford will participate in the Llano Estacado Field Day at Camp Don Harrington near Canyon April 25-27.

SFC Bill Albright of the U. S. Army recruiting station in Amarillo will be at Local Selective Service Board No. 18 each Thursday from now. Men interested in joining the army could see Albright on those days.

MORE THAN 500 members of the Rotary Clubs of the area are expected to register for the District conference being held in Amarillo today, Monday and Tuesday at the Herring Hotel. The district includes 42 clubs and some 2,300 members.

Kiwanis Club members have been taking advance orders for their annual mop and broom sale the past week. A truck-load of merchandise ranging from cloths pin bags to garage push brooms will be located on the corner of 5th and Main all day Thursday.

A former Hereford girl, Ann Dyer Porter, and Deneice Magness of Ft. Worth, will be appearing with the Texas Tech choir on Ed Sullivan's television show to night over KFDD-TV at 7 p.m.

Carita Kubick of Hereford was listed this week as a patient in Amarillo's St. Anthony's Hospital.

John D. Pittman was appointed as chairman of the Plains Hospital Fund campaign in this area. It was announced this week by chairman A. E. Herrmann. The drive is to raise money for expansion of St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo by adding a five-story, 163-bed wing.

Clarence Westfall, 62, 210 Ave. I, was cited for failure to grant right-of-way after his car collided with one driven by Christine Petree, 28, 213 Ave. K, near the intersection of E. Sixth and McKinley at 8:50 a.m. Saturday. Total damages were estimated at $65.

A pick-up truck driven by Bob by N. Williams, 25, of Rt. 4 collided with a car driven by Grover T. Williamson, 71, at the intersection of Third and Miles at 12:35 p.m. Saturday. Williams was cited for failure to grant right-of-way. Damages totaled approximately $445.

INSTALLING TORNADO SIREN—Two tornado warning sirens were installed by the city this week, one atop the city hall and the other in the alley between H and I Avenues south of Union. Though no date has yet been set for testing of the units because of a delay in wiring due to wet conditions, the signals which will be used are: alert (first warning) solid blast lasting three to five minutes; next signal (take over) will be an undulating sound, up and down, for three minutes. No all-clear signal has been designated. The alert will be sounded when tornadoes are actually in the area. "There'll be no trouble telling when the tornado warning siren goes off," stated city manager Dudley Bayne, "they're a lot different from the fire siren and a lot louder." (Staff Photo) blood typed, which takes about three to five minutes of time.

Three laboratory technicians will be on hand at the hospital between 3 and 8 p.m. every afternoon this week to type donors.

Those whose names are already on file at the hospital are asked to apply for a new card and confirm their address. No blood typing will be necessary.

LaPlata Study Club initiated the first blood bank here close to the end of World War II. This was closely followed by the Knights of Columbus in adding their group to the files, which was again supplemented by the men in the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department.

In 1951 Dylathia (Bradly) Benson, then executive secretary of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter, worked with the doctors to organize and set up the present "Walking Blood Bank," as it is known in the Red Cross.

SINCE THAT TIME, no other drive has been held, and the files have become obsolete after such a large turnover of the area's population.

Dr. L. B. Barnett said recently "I believe it is the most satisfactory arrangement that any hospital the size of ours could have, however, I would agree that it should be brought up to date at least once a year. It has been the most satisfactory arrangement that I have ever had the pleasure of watching operate."

All of the other physicians of the city have joined with Dr. Barnett at various times recently, both in letters and in person, asking that the entire population of Deaf Smith take part in the drive.

a twin effect on the area: helping the winter wheat crop and rangeland pastures while keeping farmers from plowing and planting row crops.

At Walcott School, 30 miles northwest of Hereford, Mrs. T. L. Collins reported snow-covered fields Saturday morning with snow continuing to fall.

In town and other spots around the county, the snow melted as it fell, or was melted by rain, muddying fields and unpaved roads.

All farmers contacted by The Brand Saturday reported the moisture had stopped field work but is helping the wheat crop and rangeland.

Some moisture reports:

PAUL GRAHAM, 6 1/2 miles northwest, .50 of an inch. A. H. HUSMANN, 14 1/2 miles northeast, one-half to three-fourths of an inch. "Could mean the difference in irrigating wheat."

EMMITT JOHNSON, 6 1/2 miles west, one inch. "Feeding the cattle is quite a job with the muddy fields."

A. T. FRYE, 13 miles east, one-half inch or more. E. M. GREEN, 11 miles southeast, .40 of an inch, still falling. PERRY McMINN, 12 miles southwest, .65 of an inch.

rice was not fully informed of the law change until about two weeks ago.

The legislation signed Saturday also permits any farmer who desires to overplant wheat to do so without affecting his future allotments if he stores the excess for use during dourth, crop failures or similar periods.

As the law stood before Saturday, overseeding meant ineligibility for a 1959 loan; payment of penalty on excess wheat; and loss of history each year for four years, beginning in 1960.

Now the only penalty is the usual overseeding penalty payment, and excess not considered on history.

No estimated time of when digging would be started has yet been made, but it will begin as soon as J. D. Kirkland of West Texas Drilling can get set up for operations at the site.

Local FHA Girls To Attend State Meet This Week

Eight Hereford High School girls will attend the state Future Homemakers of America convention in San Antonio Thursday through Saturday of this week.

Royal Rose Chapter will send six representatives and Chapter I will have two at the convention. Accompanying the group will be Mrs. Phillip Shook and Mrs. J. J. Durham.

Attending from Royal Rose will be Dollie Paetzold, who will serve on the state nominating committee; Betty Hagar and Betty Paetzold, who are to receive state FHA degrees; Margaret Boomer, incoming chapter vice president; Natha Bryant, high-point girl; Silvana Felizia, to appear on program Friday night.

Chapter I representatives are Patsy Loerwald, incoming chapter secretary, and Cheryl Patterson, high-point girl. Royce Lee Pruitt is an alternate.

The group will leave for San Antonio at 5 a.m. Wednesday and return Sunday.

WELCOME IMMIGRANT—James McFarland displays two varieties of squash which, due to his gardening hobby, have become wildly popular in parts of West Germany.

By CYNTHIA LOWEY
AP Newsfeatures Writer
James McFarland has returned to the United States from Hamburg, Germany, but seeds of friendship he planted there will grow again this spring: squash seeds.
Until recently, the Mountain Lakes, N. J., man was information officer at the U. S. consulate in Hamburg. When he went abroad, McFarland—a weekend gardener—took with him an appetite for squash.
Through the years he has grown the distinctively flavored American member of the gourd family in Turkey, Switzerland and Canada. But only in Germany did his gardening cause such excitement.
The saga of the McFarland squash began with his arrival in Hamburg in 1956. He immediately acquired temporary title to a "kleingarten"—a 200 by 50 foot garden plot among others like it in a state-sponsored garden.

Here, as was his habit, McFarland planted his American vegetable garden with the usuals: tomatoes, lettuce, radishes, sweet corn, beans and squash.
Fellow kleingartners, who knew all about the pumpkin, were fascinated by the strange squashes—butternut, Hubbard, acorn, succial and, above all, the yellow crookneck.
They occasioned so much talk that McFarland received a visit from a famed German television chef. The upshot of the visit was that chef Clemens Wilmenrod decided to use the squash in a dish on his telecast.
McFarland offered to obtain some packets of seed in case any viewers wrote in for samples. He got 300 packets from his favorite American supplier, even though Wilmenrod said he never received more than 150 packets of mail from any one program.
Three days later, the station called McFarland hysterically: 2,000 requests had been received for seed and were still coming in.
Newspapers wrote about the new vegetable.
By the fall of 1956, squash growers all over Germany were writing McFarland about their love for the vegetable and new ways of preparing it.
Last fall, the annual kleingarten show at Kiel featured a squash contest. In the center of the hall was a large table exhibiting the curiously shaped food-stuff.
The exhibit drew its usual crowds, but when McFarland suggested giving away a free packet of squash seed to the purchaser of every 25th ticket to the show, Kiel police had to be summoned. Some people were selling their lucky place in line, others tried to crash the lines. Attendance increased from the usual 25,000 to more than 35,000.

The German squash movement is growing rapidly. Presumably seed stores will be stocking squash seed this season.
And McFarland? He's thinking of introducing Europe to sweet corn.

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—"Do the paintings of prisoners at the Joliet penitentiary show signs of escapism?"
"Yes," says John V. Hudack, art instructor at the Illinois State penitentiary.
Romanticism is characteristic of many of their paintings the instructor says. Memory and imagination also play an important role. Unlike painters on the outside, the prisoners have no opportunity to observe real landscape, no chance to watch the sea or feel the rain.

NO ACCIDENTS FORMULA FREDERICKSBURG, Va. — Major Burton, 63, and with 40 years of driving without an accident, has four rules for avoiding them. They are: Have reliable equipment, observe all driving regulations, be alert, and get plenty of sleep and rest. Burton retired March 1 from a job of driving for an oil firm.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN? CLEMSON, S. C. — So you think "eating like a pig" means gorging yourself. Not so, says Dale Handlin, professor of animal husbandry at Clemson College. "Unlike most animals," he says, "the pig quits eating when he's had enough and goes off to lie in the shade." "It might be a good idea if everyone ate like a pig," Handlin added.

SCRATCHER SCRATCHES MILWAUKEE — Terry M. Repischak, 18, had two weeks in which to erase his initials from two benches and a wall of the 6th precinct police station. District Judge Robert Hansen told Terry to get busy with sandpaper after it was testified the youth scratched the initials with a key while waiting for a friend who had been arrested.

JOHN 17:21 — "That they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (RSV)

This prayer which our Saviour offered on that last night that He was with His disciples just before He went to the cross has been called by some the real "Lord's Prayer," because it was the one He really prayed Himself, while the one that is called "The Lord's Prayer" was the one He taught His disciples to pray, and is the only such prayer of which we have any record. The one prayer that was on His great heart that night was that "they may all be one" — and for that He laid down His life. After these more than 2,000 years, to what extent has that prayer been answered? In recent years there have been many evidences of God's people of various nations and denominations coming closer together in spirit, but in many ways they are still far from being "one." May His prayer be ours.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What is the best way to rouge a very round type of face?
A. Blend the rouge high on the cheeks, close to the nose, close under the eyes. Fade it out at the edge of the cheeks, and this will bring the color highlight in the center of the face, and thus it will appear thinner.
Q. How can I mix a good skin bleach at home?
A. One good skin bleach is made by mixing equal parts of lemon juice and rose water.
Q. How can the scalp be kept clean in between shampoos?
A. Effective for this are lotion cleansings. Cleanse the scalp with your favorite hair lotion, cologne, or witch hazel, applying with tiny cotton pads and going over the scalp briskly. Massage with a towel, and then brush thoroughly.
Q. How can I remove coffee or tea stains from unwashable frocks?
A. Apply some glycerine and rub the material lightly between the hands. Let the glycerine stand on the stain for about an hour, then sponge with water. If a grease spot remains, let the fabric dry, then sponge with carbon tetrachloride.
Q. What kind of facial beauty mask is especially good for an oily type of skin?
A. Fuller's earth, mixed to a smooth paste with some witch hazel.
Q. What is a good way to disguise an unsightly facial pimple?
A. Cover it with some pink calamine lotion. You can keep this on all day, and when you wash your face you can give it another coating immediately. It will not dry the skin, is mildly antiseptic, and provides an effective covering for your "hickey."
Q. Just what is the physical cause of graying hair?
A. A lack of pigment in the hair. In older persons, this is quite natural. Premature graying is often caused by vitamin deficiency. Include ample quantities of meat, butter, and green vegetables in your diet.
Q. What makeup technique is good for eyes that are too widely set apart?
A. If you will apply your eyeshadow heaviest toward your nose, this will tend to bring the eyes closer together.
Q. When one's face is dry and sometimes sensitive to soap, how can one wash it?
A. At these sensitive times, try using warm milk for cleansing the skin.
Q. How can I give myself a henna rinse?

Dress Up Those Canned Pears

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

CANNED PEARS are often a good buy these days and, accompanied by a foamy sauce, take on new interest. We particularly enjoy the pears heated, but some of our testers like them best chilled. Both ways of serving are given in the following recipe.

PEARS WITH FOAMY SAUCE
Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) Bartlett pears, juice of 1 large orange, ¼ cup apricot preserves, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Method: Drain pears. Measure 1 cup pear syrup into a medium-sized saucepan; simmer 2 minutes. Add orange juice and apricot preserves; stir and simmer until very hot. Beat egg in medium-sized deep bowl until thick and pale colored. Beating constantly, slowly pour hot syrup mixture over egg. Return to saucepan over low heat; cook and stir constantly for 2 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. To serve dessert hot, put drained pear halves in a 10-inch skillet; sprinkle with lemon rind and lemon juice. Cover and place over very low heat until hot through. Serve heated pears with hot foamy sauce. To serve dessert cold, chill drained pears and foamy sauce in separate containers. At serving time, sprinkle pear halves with lemon rind and lemon juice; beat sauce to make foamy again and serve with pears. Makes 4 to 8 servings, depending on whether 1 or 2 pear halves are used for each portion.

Note: To prepare 4 large garnished portions of the dessert, slice 4 rings — each about ¼-inch wide — from the orange rind halves left after squeezing juice for sauce. With a sharp knife, cut away any straggly orange membrane on inside of each ring. Place a large soft table fig (or another small fruit) in cavity of a pear half and place another pear half over top cut surfaces meet. Stand up and slip an orange ring over top to hold stuffed pear halves together. Garnish with a fresh mint sprig or maraschino cherry. Arrange other 6 pears the same way. Serve with foamy sauce.

BACK HOME
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Leasure returned home from Enid, Okla., last week. They had been visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Leasure.

CANNED PEAR HALVES can be amusingly paired with orange-rind rings and served with a foamy sauce.

YOUNG MODERNS

Subdebs Give Rules For Charm

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

WHAT ARE the beauty secrets of young, pretty girls, the subdebs who always seem to be full of pep, surrounded by members of the opposite sex and popular with other girls? Here are some of the reasons for loveliness, or so the girls believe.

1. Get to bed early, in time to get eight hours sleep, unless you have an important appointment. Never stay up late unless you have a good reason, surely not to watch TV or see someone with whom you are just "killing time."
2. Remove every speck of makeup from the face before going to bed. Air your room, before you go to bed. Wear comfortable night clothes for a restful sleep.
3. Take a vital interest in life and just don't "pass through."
4. Avoid reading in artificial light as much as possible to ward off eye circles and eye strain.
5. Watch the food intake. Avoid freash diets. Learn to enjoy basic foods that are necessary to health. An occasional pizza pie won't kill you, one girl advises, but a steady diet of unbalanced foods may pad your frame with excess weight.

6. Keep skin clean. If skin is dry, a light coating of baby oil at night will supply needed lubrication. Apply it with a cotton ball before going to bed. Do not slather makeup over blemishes, as it will clog the pores.

7. Get as much outdoor exercise as possible in every season. Be sure to protect the skin against overexposure to sun in summer and to cold and winds in winter. A light coat of oil over the skin before going outdoors should serve the purpose, provided the product is meant for that purpose.

8. Be yourself as far as looks go. It is true there are charm lessons to be learned from older girls, models and Hollywood stars one sees in the news. But do not apply glamor tricks to yourself unless they are suited to your type. A coiffure that is too grown up for you will make you look ridiculous rather than achieving the charm goal you seek.

9. Try to see the pleasant side of a situation, rather than going out of your way to examine every facet of a gloomy aspect that dims your view.

10. Mind your own business. This is one of the most valuable tips of all in developing an attractive personality. People who worry about the personal affairs of other people are just busybodies, and they look it.

Spring, and the Sad State of Men's Wear

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE

GUESS A BODY wouldn't know it were spring if the dark and lifeless appearance of the elm trees around the town were the only sign to judge by. Green leaves surely would add color to the scene a-long about now.

One positive indication that spring is really here is the renewed activity in Little League. John Channer and his group of league officials met Thursday to decide dates and schedules — there should be a full report on the meeting elsewhere in this issue of The Brand (I'd check the front page first).

I SAID THAT I might do the unusual and comment here on what our menfolk wore on Easter Sunday. Comment: men who went bare-headed out-numbered the men who wore hats. O. K., so that isn't too interesting. But I didn't see or hear of a single man in pastel-colored Sox or plaid vest or even a colorful tie (unless Ed Line wore his bright red one with the silver sparkles — he must not have or somebody would have noticed!). I suppose I'd have some colorful attire to describe if I'd sent a spy out to the golf course.

Don't get me wrong — I don't mean to imply that Hereford men aren't snappy dressers 'cause they are. But let us face it — men's clothes simply aren't as interesting as women's.

The only exciting thing that's happened to male fashions in the past 10 years, was the introduction of Bermuda pants — and the majority of men have still not taken to that idea. The most recent new style is the shirt with the tucked front, and I look for it to become even more popular than it is now. However, the most common measure of whether or not a man is keeping up with the trends, is to judge by the width of his tie — the wider the tie, the more old-fashioned the wearer.

Am thinking of taking a poll to find out how many women assist their husbands in choosing their clothes. Better still, I'd like to poll for a listing of Hereford's best dressed men — maybe that would cause a gentle stir of local interest in gentlemen's fashions.

NOW, THE ladies always make good copy.

I didn't see them all myself but the Easter Bunny told me that. . . Wanda Jones finally took her chemise out of the closet (how long had it hung there, Wanda?) to wear it with a becoming coquette-type of red straw — hat and dress matched exactly in color. . . also wearing cute red bonnets were mother and daughter Kent — Helen and Carol (Helen and her girls look more like sisters all the time). . . Pat Hill looked stunning in the new chemise lines, as did Virginia Winget (and probably countless others whom Bunny didn't see). . . Jerry Grubbs was radiant in a delightful hat that Bunny almost mistook for an Easter egg. . . Margaret Sigman's beige chapeau resembled an inverted lampshade (and pretty Margaret is just the gal who can really wow em in that kind of hat). . .

Nell Norvell and Mary Hale were seen assisting ole Bunny on the Aikman School grounds (think they both will recommend lowheeled shoes for hiking about the grass hiding eggs). . . Elvirgia and Fred Kroll had an unexpected treat when they were looking for their small son in the crowd at Veterans' Park last Sunday — they didn't find junior (he had already gone to the car) but they discovered a cuddly baby cottontail in a clump of grass and, to the delight of the whole family, decided to adopt the little bundle of fluff. . .

The Leon Alexanders and daughter, Eugenia, were pleased by another holiday visit by two very special little fellas from the Children's Home in Amarillo. This is a custom observed by the Alexanders, and I am thinking it is a very rewarding experience each time.

WHAT IS THE world coming to when people start stealing from librarians? Guess the chances of recovering Mrs. J. J. Boydston's $150 are pretty slim, too.

A last reminder to those who ought to get their blood typed: tomorrow is the day! Between the hours of 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. at the Deaf Smith Hospital. See ya there.

NEEDED ROOM WITH WEIGHTS
CINCINNATI — Hotel managers were startled when they received from the Cincinnati Royals wires requesting "40 pounds of bricks, sand or other weights suitable for leg exercises."

The weights were for Maurice Stokes, Royal ace, who uses them to strengthen an injured knee. Stokes missed nine National Basketball Assn. games. When he was able to raise and lower his leg with 40 pounds, doctors permitted Maurice to return to the basketball court.

Chemise Rage Spreads to Nursery

MIDDY—Tri-color outfit with red top, navy pleated skirt, by Kate Greenaway.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Never let it be said that America's younger set doesn't keep up with the fashion parade.

The chemise now has swept the kindergarten crowd, and small glamor girls are proudly showing off their new beltless, casual spring dresses.

For the small fry, two styles are favorites — the middy with the pleated skirt and the straight full dress that hangs free from a shoulder yoke, in line with the trapeze silhouette launched for spring by Yves Saint-Laurent, the new head in the house of Dior.

Little girls look cute as buttons in these new frocks, which faithfully follow grown-up trends. After all, when you're only four years old, you don't worry too much about your feminine form — and your knees are still dimpled, so you don't mind showing them.

Here is one age group in which the chemise silhouette meets no opposition. Even Daddy approves of his small daughter in the new sack look.

The new children's dresses for spring are practical too. Many are available in the new easy-care fabrics and finishes which can be washed and drip dried without ironing. Others are in fine cotton broadcloth and linen with new finishes which make them spot and wrinkle resistant.

Her lively-eyed, vivacious daughter uses the hats to illustrate talks on "The History of Hats."

Among her collection:

A 1908 beaver. "It is 24 inches across, with a three-inch white duck down band around the large crown and three blood-red cabbage roses, the largest being about the size of a grapefruit, made of turkey feathers."

A 1770 calash. Made of blue silk, this number was also known as a bashful bonnet, collapsible calash or wagon bonnet, probably because of its resemblance to the front end of the old Conestoga wagon.

A simple straw bonnet of the 1760s. "This was called a 'coal shuttle' or 'capote' and was skillfully made with straw grown in Deerfield," she says. "It has a little straw crown and 12-inch binders, so a lady just couldn't look sideways."

down, cover the leak with a little powdered sulphur, heat an old knife blade until it is very hot and spread the sulphur around the leak.

Q. How can I separate stamps that are stuck together?
A. If they are stuck together or to a piece of paper, place a thin piece of paper over them and then run a hot iron over this paper, very lightly.

Q. How can I dissolve beeswax and turpentine floor wax?
A. Mix a little ammonia with the beeswax and turpentine, and the wax will dissolve readily.

Q. How can I remove odors from leather shoes?
A. By cutting a raw potato into slices, placing the slices on waxed paper, and laying the waxed paper on the inside of the shoe. Wrap the shoes in heavy paper in order to keep them airtight.

Q. How can I make a good toilet perfume?
A. By mixing two ounces of alcohol with one-half ounce of orris root. Keep it tightly corked in a bottle, and shake thoroughly each time before using.

Q. How can I clean outdoor brass fixtures?
A. Use scouring soap that is mixed with kerosene. Apply with a flannel cloth and rub thoroughly.

Calliopians Meet With Mrs. Mims

The life and works of Pablo Picasso, known as the king of modern painting, made an interesting discussion program at the Calliopian Club meeting held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. A. T. Mims.

Mrs. Clyde Cave, program leader, presented the discussion giving excerpts from the book "The Private World of Picasso" by David Douglas Duncan.

Mrs. Cave said in part: "This book was written from interviews with the artist and a few hundred photographs made on his 75th birthday. Picasso is probably the best paid man living. He now resides on the French Riviera in Cannes.

Dr. M. C. Adams told the group about the Walking Blood Bank Drive starting tomorrow.

Members present were Mesdames B. F. Cain, Paul Conaway, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, W. J. Messick, N. E. Milburn, M. W. Nobles, Jack McCracken and the hostess.

Spry Irish Leprechaun Guarding Door to A. L. Manjeot Home Here

HAPPY AND GAY—Ginger Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lyons, and Jay Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson Jr., say hello to the colorful little leprechaun recently installed at the A. L. Manjeot home. Manjeot is shown telling the story of the happy little

An Irish myth about a fairy shoemaker with a long beard who hid himself away in out-of-the-way places, became one of Ireland's legends which has been exemplified in many parts of the world. The myth or fable was the story of the Leprechaun who went about doing good things for others in surprising ways and places. People seeking him out found him by the tap, tap, tap of his little hammer. The old tradition is that the little fellow was very fond of people and would suddenly appear, when least expected, to help others or to influence others to do good. The story goes that if people looked steadfastly at him, they could not escape his influence.

He wore long heavy brown stockings, striding shoes and a small peaked red hat. At night he carried a lantern which he used as a torch to spread the light of good deeds.

As the story of his good deeds grew, more and more people began to believe in "The Little People" and their influence spread like magic. Now wherever you find him he is supposed to bring happiness and good luck.

When Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot traveled in Europe last summer they found the intriguing little leprechaun in gardens in Switzerland, Germany and Ireland and many other places, peeping out from trees and shrubs in the most unexpected places. They were unable to bring one home on the plane, but at Christmas time one of the gay little fellows arrived as a gift from their son and his wife, Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Manjeot who are now stationed in Germany. Supposedly, he guards the entrance way that all who enter the house may find happiness and will go about doing good.

guy whose presence brightens both day and night. He is about two feet tall and holds his lighted lantern high to point the way to passer-by. It is said that if you are afraid on a dark, dark night and can see his lantern light, you need not be afraid any more.

Individual Child Problems Studied By Young Mothers

Individual Child Problems formed an interesting subject for the program when members of the Young Mothers Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Bownds Tuesday evening.

Members answered roll call by answering the question "Which is your child, tale bearer, dwadler, or show-off?" Mrs. Bill Brady presented the program on "How To Help Your Difficult Child," stating that "No child needs help more than one who is consistently hard to get along with. Tragically, it is his own actions that bar him from what he deeply wants, affection and companionship."

"Because of his own inner doubts and fears, he behaves in ways that cut him off from what he needs. And because he is cut off he shows his resentment in bad behavior and a vicious circle begins."

"The insecurity that the child feels as a result of this attitude may be overcome with love, flexibility on the part of the parent and basic understanding of what the real problem is."

"Mothers should combat pressures that upset and keep her from giving the child the help he needs and with much patience, prayer and perseverance the problem can, in time, be overcome," she said.

During a short business session committees were named including the nominating committee for new officers. They include Mesdames Bill Brady, Gerald McCaskill and Labry Ballard. Ed Dzulik Jr. explained the Walking Blood Bank project which will open tomorrow.

Members present were Mesdames Dick Godwin, Gid Brown, Bill Brady, Wayland Smith, Jay Hammond, Bill Stanford, Wendell Burdine, James Headstream, Hugh Clearman, Gerald McCaskill, Labry Ballard, and Stanley Slagle. Mrs. Gerald Hale was a guest.

Miss Jackson, Billy Gene Miles Recite Vows in Church Ceremony

Miss Judy Garland Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Jackson, Rt. 1, Abernathy, became the bride of Billy Gene Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miles of Hereford, in a double ring ceremony read in the Abernathy Assembly of God Church at 7 p.m. Saturday April 5.

The Rev. Nathan Helms Jr. read the marriage service against an appropriate altar background and traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Beverley Sheats. She also accompanied Mrs. Peggy Botsford who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Jack Thompson of New Deal served as matron of honor and Mrs. Al Cahill of Lubbock and Miss Sandra Caraway of Hereford attended the bride as bridesmaids. They wore pastel-blue, pink and yellow dresses respectively, fashioned with long bodices and full skirt accented with white velvet bow. Each attendant carried a hand bouquet of white carnations and they wore small hats to match their dresses.

Tom Botsford of Hereford was best man and Al Cahill of Lubbock and David Miles of Hereford served as ushers. The flower girl was Carla Jan Jenkins of Lubbock and rings were carried by Benny Jo Jackson, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with fitted bodice having a small Peter Pan collar, long tapering sleeves and full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a half-hat of flowers encrusted with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations carried atop a white Bible.

Films Are Shown at B&PW Club International Relations Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gaul were entertainers at a special meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club held in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank Monday evening.

Serving as hostesses were Mesdames C-Ora Cockrell, Pauline Howard and Caudie Ola Brown. Each member brought food prepared by a foreign recipe for the informal supper party.

The program dealt with "International Relations" and films were shown by the Gaults were made made on a trip made last year to points in Africa and Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Gaul were especially interested in the people of the foreign countries and much of their film included people of all classes who told their own story of how they live, and make their living, and observe age-old customs.

Following the picture showing, Mrs. Bruce Carter, president, conducted a short business session when plans were completed and members were appointed to help with the Walking Blood Bank to be sponsored by the group soon. Members were also named to complete plans to assist with Hereford's annual Pioneer Day celebrations in May. Plans to attend the B&PW State Convention in Dallas in June, were discussed. Special guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Gilliland, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Paul Hoff and Pete Peterson.

United Church Women Planning Training Meets

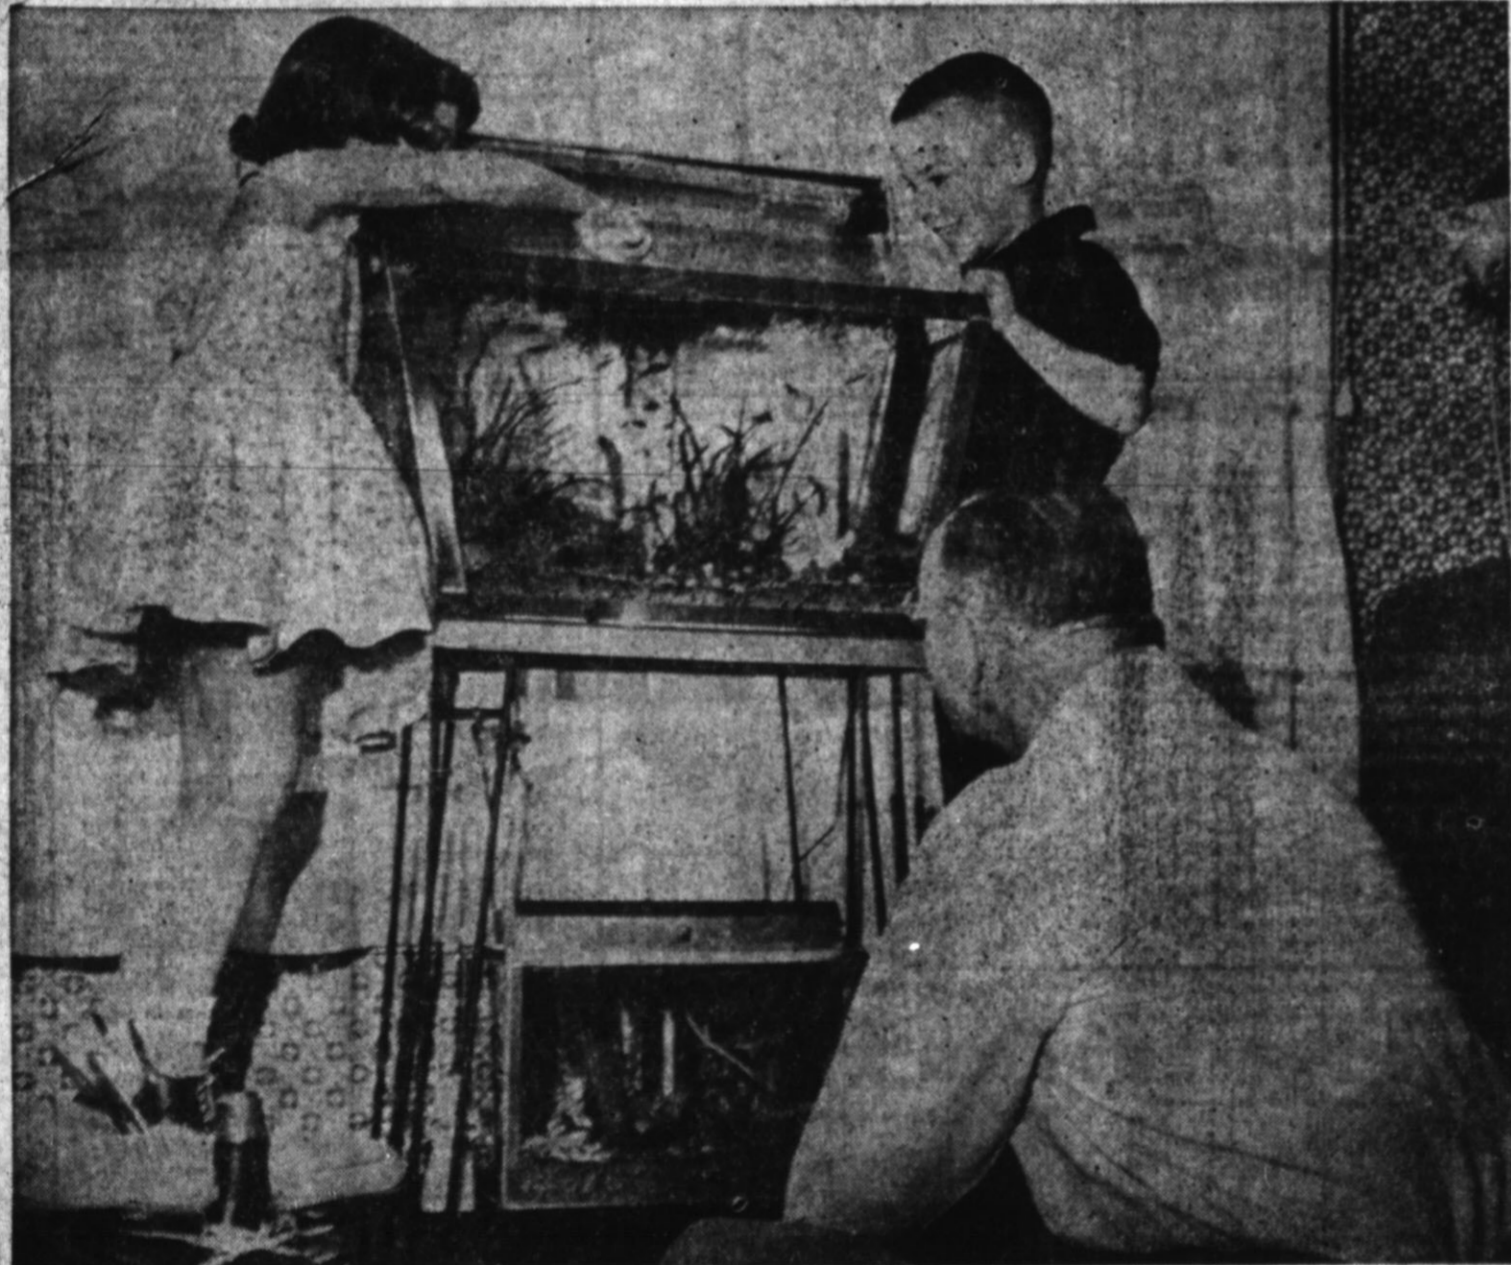

United Church Women of Texas will hold institutes in 10 areas over the state during the month of April. Purpose of the institutes is to train leaders in the use of public relations media and a training session for the teams conducting the various institutes, was held in Fort Worth last month.

Two of the institutes will be held in northwest Texas. One in Jacksboro on April 22, and one in Pampa at the First Presbyterian Church on April 23. The Pampa team in charge of the session will include Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Lubbock, Mrs. Edgar Hubbard of White Deer, Mrs. J. A. Barnes of Amarillo and Mrs. H. H. Hester of Fort Worth.

The Institute in Pampa will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. and will adjourn at 3:30 p.m. A condensed program aimed at assisting members of local councils to utilize effectively ways and means of promoting the total program of United Church Women has been prepared, according to Mrs. Grant Hanna, president of District 19, who urged all interested church women to attend the Pampa Institute. "United Church Women have something to proclaim and this is the day to learn a new and better way to communicate with local churches and the community at large," she said. Mrs. Hanna and officers of the Hereford United Church Women's organization plan to attend the session in Pampa.

REUNION HELD

A small family reunion was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clay Easter Sunday. Present for the dinner and the Easter egg hunt in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Craig, Donna and Kent of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Howell, D'avn, Diane and Buddy of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Glascock, Gayle, Sandy and Jerry of Salt Lake City, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Clay and Pam of Hereford, Mrs. Lillie Burrell of Hereford and Mary Lois Coker of Hereford.

FISH STORY—Ginger and Jay, who are five year old cousins, delight in watching the tropical fish in the aquarium. Here, "Art," as they call him, is telling them about the shells they picked up along the Mediterranean Sea and the fern and rocks they brought home from Switzerland and Germany. The youngsters love the bright colors of the fish and Jay doesn't let many days go by without stopping by to see if they are up to any new tricks. (Staff Photos)

Lone Star Study Club Ends Study of World's Religions

Lone Star Study Club met in the home of Mrs. W. C. Mehary Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Kendall serving as assistant hostess. Mrs. C. D. Kelton, president, conducted a brief business session and V. E. Dodson, special guest, explained the need for and the plans made for the Walking Blood Bank which will be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The program was the last in a series on The Great Religions of the World. Mrs. Leo Forrest presented the program on "Christianity."

Quoting from Paul Hutchinson's "The Onward March of Christian Faith," Mrs. Forrest said, "Among all the religions of the world Christianity is the most widespread, embraces the largest number of adherents and makes the most stupendous claims for the divinity of its founder, and the finality of its teachings. Of the 21 billion people on earth, nearly 800 millions are listed as Christians. Missionaries have planted churches in almost every nation. Those usually designated as Christians include Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox and Protestant.

"In the United States today 97.5 per cent millions out of the 160 millions claim to be Christians," she said.

Members attending were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Leo Forrest, H. E. Henslee, Jim Higgins, John Jacobsen Jr., C. D. Kelton, Joe Kendall, Louie LeGrand, Vivian Major, G. W. Newsom, Coy Phillips, Chas. Sowell, Baker Womble, Norman Moore, S. S. Williams and the hostess.

Frank Ikard Rose From Ambulance Driver to Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — During his college days Texas Congressman Frank Ikard drove an ambulance for the combination furniture store-funeral parlor his uncle owned in Henrietta.

That experience, along with other jobs before getting his law degree at the University of Texas in 1937, convinced him that small business enterprises are the backbone of American economy.

P-TA...

A program was presented by Joel Hodges who gave the evaluation of P-TA in Hereford throughout the year, and quoted from other school men to point up the need for P-TA cooperation in the school, home and community, if the challenge of a satellite age is to be met.

During the business session committees were appointed and delegates to the District P-TA meet to be held in Canyon on April 15 were named. They include Mesdames Colby Conkright, Edgar Skypala, Ed Loerwald, Don Guseman, H. E. Wester, O. B. Leggett, O. H. Culpepper and W. H. Patton.

dustrial and manufacturing concerns.

When the small businessman gets hardpressed or needs capital to expand and meet competition, the Texan declared, he has to go to the bank and hope he can meet the collateral requirements for a loan. The giant business concerns, on the other hand, can sell stock.

"In my opinion," Ikard told the House, "the hearings demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt, small and medium sized businesses need tax adjustment — not in their interests alone, but in the interest of the general public as well."

"Replacing wornout equipment, construction improvements and increase in working capital seem to be the basic need."

"BUSINESS IN this category cannot generally acquire additional equity capital on the open market through the issuance of stock."

He proposes some changes in the tax laws which would be especially to the benefit of smaller enterprises.

One would allow all businesses

(Incorporated or unincorporated) to deduct from business net income, for tax purposes, an amount equal to additional investment in depreciable asset or inventory, but not to exceed 20 per cent of such income or $30,000, whichever is the lesser.

The quiet speaking Northwest Texas congressman has been in the House since Sept. 8, 1951. One of the most popular members on either side of the Capitol, he stands 6 feet 4½ inches and weighs 235.

A combat infantry private in World War II, he was captured by the Germans in 1944 and weighed but 135 pounds when released.

Returning home, he resumed his law practice in Wichita Falls. In 1948 the late Gov. Beauford Jester appointed him a state district judge, a position he held until his election to Congress.

Ikard's wife is the former Jean Hunter of Wichita Falls. They have two sons, Frank Jr. and William.

Bud and Sis Dress Alike

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

All over the country thrifty mothers are turning to their sewing machines about now to stitch up new spring outfits for their small fry.

They also know that boys and girls have firm ideas about fashion these days and that they're fussy about fabrics, colors and styling. This spring off-beat colors are the choice so you'll be seeing the well-dressed youngster set stepping out in outfits of moss green, sandy brown, coral and turquoise this spring, instead of the traditional navy blue and pastels.

Local sewing center experts suggest using matching fabric in different colors for a brother-sister outfit. There's a sturdy linen-weave American viscose rayon available that is perfect for children's clothes, since it is guaranteed for washability and color fastness.

You need only two yards of fabric to make a blazer for an 8-year-old boy. A jumper and blazer for an 8-year-old girl takes about four yards, plus a little over three yards of contrasting fabric to make jacket lining, jumper lining and long-sleeved blouse.

The boy's blazer, piped in white, is made with a standard pattern which has inch-rulers printed on it, to make alterations easy.

A little girl's version of the Chanel suit also is available in a standard pattern, designed by Helen Lee for the pattern company. The jumper has snugly fitted top and full pleated skirt, worn with a tailored jacket, both in moss green rayon linen. Off-white piping on the jacket matches the ivory-toned blouse and lining. Another smart color combination this season is tangerine or coral for the jumper, with beige blouse and lining.

You'll save time and trouble if you pin-fit the pattern before cutting the fabric and test-stitch a piece of fabric before beginning to sew. Press all seams as they are stitched, and the garments will have a professional look. Growth allowance may be achieved through extra-deep hems on the sleeves and skirt, allowing room to move over buttons and making the jumper with a tuck in the straps at the shoulder line which may be let out next year.

TAILORED TWOSOME—The girl's Chanel outfit and the boy's blazer are made of rayon linen in different colors.

WALCOTT NEWS

P-TA Meeting Slated Friday

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS

Walcott's next P-TA meeting will be held Friday night, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. A. L. Shelton's first and second grade pupils will present the program. Musical numbers and a play based on the "Wizard of Oz" story are being prepared. Each family is asked to bring pie for refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kay of Bucklin, Kan., who were en route to their home after a six week visit in California, visited with her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Minks, from Sunday until Tuesday of last week.

Thomas L. Collins took the carry-all bus loaded with Walcott students to Happy Wednesday morning where they entered the District Interscholastic League Literary events. Schools present were Adrian, Vega, Lazbuddie, Nazareth, Bovina, Happy and Walcott. In the Sub-Junior division Gay Wyly won second place in the Story-telling division. Gay also won fourth place in the girl's declamation. John Perrin won fourth place in the Sub-Junior boy's declamation. Phyllis Tice and Keith Henderson also entered this division but did not place. In the Junior division students who entered but did not place were Clyde Lockhart, declamation; Betty Lockhart, number sense and ready writer; Johnny Buse, number sense; Kathryn Burrus, declamation; Edna Steward, ready writer; George Steward, spelling, and Dianne Jack. Mothers attending were Mrs. J. V. Perrin and Mrs. Glenn Burrus.

Thursday afternoon each classroom had a party or an egg hunt. Prizes were given for the one finding the most and the least eggs. Visitors were Mesdames W. L. Cook and Larry, Buel Monroe and Jimmy, Jack Weaver and Charlene, G. V. Hall and Danny, H. D. Buse, Al Myers, Leroy Cupell, and Brenda, Waldron Melton, J. T. Tice, James and Nadine, Bill Steward, Alvin Wilkerson and children, Frank Codgell and Chuck of Hereford, N. E. Tyler and Jerry, Norman Minks and Margaret and Glenn Burrus, Margaret and Mary Alice.

Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins, Marilyn and Linda of Whiteface and Charles and Carl McClure visited Walcott School a short while Thursday morning. The children formerly attended Walcott School and Mrs. Lumpkins drove a school bus. Charles and Carl have just completed boot camp in the Navy at San Diego, Calif., and were home on leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Durham of Spade visited her sister, Mrs. Joe Rader, and family Thursday afternoon and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Collins and Bruce left Walcott Friday for Fort Collins, Colo., where Bruce kept his appointment with Dean C. H. Wasser of the School of Forestry at Colorado State University Saturday morning. The family looked over the campus and visited different buildings, including the new Newsome Hall, a boys' dormitory. Bruce is planning on enrolling as a student at Colorado State University next fall.

Places which the Collins family visited while gone were Grady, San Jon, Logan, Mosquero, Springer, Maxwell, and Raton, N. M.; Trinidad, Walsenburg, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Castle Rock, Denver and Fort Collins, Colo. From Colorado Springs they could see Pikes Peak and the Rocky Mountains. They attended early Easter worship services at Fort Collins and returned home by way of Denver, Strasburg, Deertail, Limon, Lamar and Springfield, Colo. They went through Boise City, Okla., and Dalhart. They reported that the fields look better from Dalhart on toward home and thought they were prettier than any fields they had seen on the entire trip.

Willie Bob Steward, fourth grade pupil, is in the Deaf Smith County Hospital with pneumonia.

Mrs. T. L. Collins missed three days of school this week due to being sick with the flu. Mrs. J. V. Perrin taught in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. M.

Payne, Larry and Darla of Hereford drove to Cotton Center Easter Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Davis, Pat, Mary and Margaret. They then drove to Littlefield to visit Mrs. Rader's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomas.

A. L. Shelton, Walcott's coach, took Steve Patton, Don Tice, George Steward, Grady Cates, James Burrus, Johnny Buse and Carl Myers to the Interscholastic League District 3-B track and field events at West Texas State College football field Saturday. Don Tice and Grady Cates placed in dashes.

Cottage prayer meeting was held in the T. L. Collins home Wednesday night, April 2, with J. V. Perrin as leader. Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins.

The Phillip Miller family held cottage prayer meeting in their home Wednesday, April 9.

FAMILY MATTER
COLUMBUS, Ohio — The McNultys take care of their own. So when John McNulty, who was visiting his brother Francis, had his car stolen, Francis looked into the matter. Francis is a policeman, and it took him only an hour to find brother John's car.

At The Movies

STAR THEATER

Baby Face Nelson: The drama of a ruthless killer who for three blood-drenched months was sought by the FBI as Public Enemy Number One, is told with boldness and lasting impact in "Baby Face Nelson." Baby Face replaced John Dillinger as the most dangerous and most sought after criminal in the United States, when Big John was killed by FBI agents. Not only in title did Baby Face replace Dillinger, but in many other respects he was much more dangerous, senseless and ruthless. Stars Mickey Rooney as Baby Face Nelson and Carolyn Jones as his wife. Booked for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Jeanne Eagels: Story of a "cooch" dancer in a mid-west carnival owned by Sal Satori, who wants to marry her. Determined to be a great actress, Jeanne comes to New York with Sal, takes lessons from dramatic coach Mme. Neilson and steadily climbs to Broadway and Hollywood fame. But her drive for stardom takes its toll; she turns to drink and drugs to escape the pressure she puts upon herself and as well as her unhappy marriage to socialite John Donahue. Actors' Equity suspends Jeanne when she begins missing performances. Sal, who has achieved considerable success as an amusement park concessionaire, tries to help the girl. In a seaside town, Jeanne and Sal desperately attempt to revive their care-free carnival days. Kim Novak and Jeff Chandler. Booked for Wednesday and Thursday.

PEACE DISTURBED

APPLETON, Wis. — Municipal Judge Oscar Schmieg, trying to arrange peace in a family, found no peace in his court.

Two sisters, who charged each other with disorderly conduct, shouted at each other so much in court the judge couldn't be heard.

Judge Schmieg imposed silence on Mrs. Wanda Pahlke, 59, and Mrs. Alfred Craven, 56, by ordering them to post $100 bond each and warning them they would be clapped in jail if their clamor continued.

MAKE YOURSELF USEFUL
MARTINSVILLE, Ind. — The town board in the nearby community of Mooresville figured their volunteer firemen might as well perform a civic service in their regular Saturday night practice drills.

So they asked the firefighters to use their hoses to wash down the streets while they were practicing.

YOUNGSTER WITH A HEART
STUTTGART, Ark. — Garry Alan Johnston, 4-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen of Stuttgart, was so impressed by March of Dimes publicity that he donated his life savings of $3.05 to the polo fund.

He said he wanted to give the money "so other little boys and girls can run and play like I do."

Church Holds A Fellowship

By BETTY WALSER

A fellowship was held at the Summerfield Baptist Church Wednesday night with a covered dish supper before the prayer service. There will be a covered dish supper once a month on the business meeting night.

Present for the fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Dawson and boys, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Nell and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Galley and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Sargent and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walser and Ken, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clearman and girls, Mr. C. Beene and Cynthia, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill, Mrs. Jack Hansen, Joe and Gene, Mrs. Jack Harrington and daughter, the Rev. Marie Weathers and Nelda, Charles Jacks, Linda Kay and Jerri Bea Noland.

Mrs. Ray Johnson left Wednesday for Gainesville, where she plans to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith.

Several men from this community attended a meeting of farmers in Littlefield Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry returned home Wednesday after attending the funeral of Mrs. Curry's uncle in Ralls.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill left Wednesday for Baton Rouge, La., where they plan to visit in the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Winkler.

A group of Young People from this community attended the Youth Rally in Dawn last Saturday evening. They came home with the attendance banner. Approximately 25 from the Summerfield Baptist were there.

Visiting in the J. C. Clearman home Sunday were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCafferty and Stanley and Mrs. L. McCafferty all of Amarillo.

Mrs. J. C. Clearman, Dianne and Mary Jo were in Amarillo Sunday evening to visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCafferty and Stanley.

They also visited in the home of Mrs. J. A. Stanford, T. W. Peterson, father of Mrs. Claude McGovern, passed away in Hereford this week.

For Easter Services Sunday morning the total enrollment of 134 present and in the evening services a total of 112 were present. This went over the enrollment.

Birthday dinner was held in the Jim Lookingbill home for Jim and those attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Lookingbill and family, Joanne Fowkes and Jamie Clearman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howell and son of Dimmitt visited in the Carl Lee home Sunday.

Ford H. D. Club Studies Furniture

A program on "Selection of Furniture" was given by the agent, Mrs. Tom Draper, to the Ford Home Demonstration Club April 9 in the home of Mrs. S. T. Wiseman.

"Buying new furniture or making over old furniture is always an exciting experience for the whole family. The whole family should be considered in an investment or expenditure as large as in furniture buying," Mrs. Draper said.

During the business meeting plans were completed for a luncheon to be given in the Ford Community House April 16 at 1 p.m. The Ford Club will entertain the West Hereford Home Demonstration Club on that date.

Several of the members plan to attend the District meeting in Stratford on April 10.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames Bill Gilleland, J. L. Fite, Loehmann, Hardy Benson, Earl Dyer, Tom Draper, S. T. Wiseman, Effie Charlton, C. D. Corley and George Isham.

Furniture Topic For Wyche H. D.

The Wyche Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Wilburn Axe recently for a program on "Buying Furniture." Mrs. Argen Draper was the speaker.

"When one piece of furniture is added it takes more ingenuity than when a whole room full of furniture is added. However, to add one piece of furniture at a time gives a pleasing effect that nothing is quite so satisfying," Mrs. Draper told the group.

To illustrate her ideas, Mrs. Draper showed slides of good furniture and ideas on how to select furniture.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames E. C. Hewitt, Ira Ott, Wilburn Axe, J. V. Pickens, Charles Packard, C. F. Newsom, Marvin Axe and Argen Draper.

HIDDEN ASSETS
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Phillip La Vallee's invalid wife died in 1953 but he's still finding what she left.

A year ago he discovered $13,000 under the upholstery of her wheel chair. Recently he found $31,100 in cash in a newspaper-wrapped cigar box, stored inside a suitcase which in turn was inside a locked trunk. La Vallee said the money came in on investments and was turned over to his wife for re-investment.

Section Three

WHEN YOU'VE GOT TRASH, YOU'VE GOT TROUBLES!

Even Best Of Mothers Find It Hard To Coax Kids Into Picking Up Hats, Coats

Trash and garbage, by-products of civilization, often create tremendous problems in growing towns and cities—and Hereford is definitely no exception. Growing resentment and lack of cooperation with Hereford's "Dempster Dumpster" system has, in fact, advanced to the point where garbage collection is once again a city headache.

The city complains that by failing to collapse boxes and properly use the city containers, downtown business firms are increasing the cost of handling trash and garbage by as much as 50 per cent. "Hauling air," in the form of uncollapsed boxes, they declare, is not practical or sensible.

Some merchants, on the other hand, say that the system creates unnecessary hardship. This is often the complaint of firms operated solely by women or by elderly persons, some not physically capable of handling and collapsing boxes. Still others blame their neighbors and point to service costs as being excessive. A few, of course, are belligerent as the result of previous brushes with the city.

The city commission, after reviewing the problem, definitely recognizes both sides of the argument. They approached it by seeking cooperation of defaulting merchants, which seems fair. In case this approach fails, they indicated that an ordinance will be necessary to enforce the collection of trash. They also recognized the fact that disgruntled users can provide their own containers and haul their own trash, provided they meet with existing city ordinances governing health, sanitation and general appearance within the community.

When you boil it all down, the problem still exists. Regardless of its popularity, Hereford does have the most modern and latest garbage and trash collection system in the country; it is exactly the same as that found in Amarillo, Lubbock and scores of other Texas cities. Keeping the cost down is, of course, of interest to all concerned, including those who are inclined to not collapse their boxes.

The situation offers possibilities for some of our unemployed to establish a box-folding route with a reasonable charge at regular periods. The cost, doubtless, would be better than paying out additional collection fees.

The public is definitely interested in trash and garbage, due to possible resulting health hazards, aggregation of flies and general pride of living in a clean, attractive town.

How the local problem will finally work out, no one knows. However, it does seem that everyone interested in his family, his neighbors and his community should make an honest effort to meet the city commission proposal at least half-way. Their problems, after all, are our problems, and settling them on a friendly, cooperative basis is always best.

Meanwhile, trash and garbage continue to collect with a regularity almost as certain as death and taxes. While our problem is nothing to compare with that in New York, Chicago or San Francisco, it is still a problem—and one to which no person has yet found a workable answer. As we said, trash and garbage are by-products of civilization. As long as we have people, we will have garbage and, so long as we have garbage, we will probably have disputes about the best way to handle it.

To Politicians

Everyone curses the politicians these days. Most of us are so confused we honestly don't know which way to turn and, after we do turn, we often hear a story which leads us to question our own intelligence.

Apparently, there is no logical rule to overcome this situation. The voter will just have to do his best. Homer Steen, in Floydada, recently came up with some advice to the candidates, however, which might even prove of some value to the average voter. Mr. Steen says:

"Suggestion for an amateur candidate: Come out strong for mother, hard against sin, and repeal of irritating tax laws. It is a noble fact that in all history of mankind there never yet has been erected a monument to a man for sponsoring a tax bill."

Little League Is Growing Up

Just two scant years ago Hereford joined the ranks of renewed interest in baseball. The immediate vehicle for this interest became widely heralded as "Little League." Now we are discovering that Little League, like most other things, has a tendency to grow up.

Graduates from the 1956 Little League teams last year went into "Pony League," and everything was fine until this year, which poses the question "What are we going to do with our Pony League graduates?"

The question appeared before the school board this week but, it seems, there are too few schools in this district with sufficient interest in baseball to sponsor a high school program. The only remaining answer seems to be an American Legion league, sponsored

FIRST OF A SERIES

Danger Is Present in Labeling Delinquents

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of three articles on juvenile delinquency by Dr. Elmer H. Knowles, head of the department of child development and family relations at Texas Tech College in Lubbock. The next two articles will appear on the Sunday Brand's editorial page.)

By DR. ELMER H. KNOWLES

Juvenile Delinquency is a label stamped on youth by others, sometimes justly and other times unjustly. Americans are quick to label people as well as things, such as: "Inferiority Complex," "Crazy," "Square," "Misfit" and so on.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

For garden club folks, here's a suggestion. It also is an appreciation of Texas voting funds that added Big Bend to U. S. A.'s National Parks' chain.

In our home is a kodachrome reproduction of that Santa Elena Canyon view that bids eventually to equal in popularity Yosemite's Half Dome from Inspiration Point.

Afront that inspirational Santa Elena view is a bowl of zinnias. Writer once found zinnias grown wild while botanizing in Mexico. One as yet little appreciated asset in Big Bend National Park is that it is the only area in U. S. A. for certain valued garden plants that have been built up on Mexican wild-flowers. An example is said Zinnia. On this desk is a plant breeder's description of his new creation—a zinnia with flowers 5 inches across!

The value of Texas Garden Clubs "geogardening" (i.e. linking members growing flowers with Mexican and even Big Bend Geography), is that they may extend U. S. A.'s Garden Club movement into Mexico. Our Southern neighbors have their own garden tradition rooted in Aztec times. Anyone who recalls the Floating Gardens of Xochimilco of a half century ago can testify as to this.

Faithfully,
C. M. Goethe
Sacramento, Calif.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Most Considering Joining 'Walking Blood Bank'

Do you plan to register for the "Walking Blood Bank" next week?

MRS. JERRY ALBRACHT—To tell the truth I haven't given it much thought, but I do think it's a good idea and I just may register.

C. A. GUINN—I hadn't thought too much about it. I don't much think that I would qualify for the age limit anyway.

MRS. RALPH BEISTLE—I can't register myself but if I were able to do so I certainly would.

DOUGLAS WOMBLE—Actually, I hadn't thought much about it but I probably will have my blood registered.

MRS. W. L. CARTER—Oh, yes, I will, and I do think it is a good thing for our own self as well as for the other person. In fact, I think it will be good for everybody. Some people don't even know their own blood type and this way they would be able to tell in an emergency and it could save someone's life.

OWEN PEELER—I haven't planned to but I might consider it. I already have my blood typed so I just don't know.

JEAN DAVIS—No I don't guess I will. I can't donate blood, but if I could, I surely would.

J. L. MARCUM—I sure am. I think it is an essential thing to do.

MRS. A. E. DOUGLAS—Well, no, I am passed that age limit, but it is a good idea and I certainly would if it were possible.

ED LOERWALD—Yes, and I think that everyone should consider doing so if they can. It is really a good thing and is the only way we can do business in a case like this.

along lines of the Little League and Pony League.

Many parents, along with other interested citizens, should give the situation considerable thought. Those who are willing to admit to changing times since their youth are bound to agree that both Little League and Pony League have been more than worthwhile to the community. Certainly, it is far superior to the gangs which roamed the area a few years back, armed with steel rods and lengths of chain, for the express purpose of gang fights. In addition, attendance figures indicate that the public in general thoroughly enjoyed the baseball games here during the past two years.

What do we do now? Do we bring our boys up through Little League and Pony League, then say, "Baseball is kid stuff—and you've grown up?" This question, it seems to us, is one of the most important to be faced in the community in 1958.

Little do those who so freely label others realize that a person labeled as a juvenile delinquent, for instance, may actually try to live up to the label stamped upon him—even though it may be an undesirable tag. As a person grows through childhood, he "identifies" with many many people and learns numerous roles, some good and perhaps some bad. For instance, a well-meaning parent purchased a phonograph record of "Cinderella" for her daughter who in turn played the record over and over again for some months. The mother thought her daughter was only identifying with Cinderella. She found out eventually—and to her complete amazement—that her daughter was becoming more like the characters portrayed by Cinderella's sisters!

GOOD AND BAD are themes that are present in almost every story, play, radio or television program. A "cowboy" movie is a good example. A child who views any western picture sees—both sides, the good and the bad. He learns both roles—the hero's and the villain's. What happens in most cases is that the child favors the hero and spurns the villain's role. But, there are children who reach youth and find the role of the good boy less favorable than the bad one. What happens is that at times he's good and other times he may be bad or deviant. The degree of deviancy and the amount often determines the difference between a delinquent and a non-delinquent. It is difficult to see which role—good or bad—many children will favor until it is too late. By the time a youth gets into serious trouble and is branded a delinquent, the real damage is done. The youth is often well set in a pattern of delinquent tendencies before we make an honest-to-goodness diagnosis.

LIKE CANCER, the sooner delinquency can be spotted and treated the better. Yet, many well-meaning persons are prone to overlook early delinquent traits with the statement: "He's only going through a stage, he'll be all right after he passes through it."

Most of us might be more realistic if we think of delinquency as seriously as we do cancer. We certainly don't expect cancer to come howsoever itself. It needs attention and treatment—the sooner the better. The same thing is true of Juvenile Delinquency. It is true that in some cases we can cure a person of delinquency, and thereby remove the brand or label. But the scars remain. The ideal situation exists when we place our emphasis upon prevention so that we can devote our time, money and energies to other perplexing social problems.

A. L. Thomas Recalls Buying Land for $3

By MRS. E. L. CRISWELL
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Thomas of Hereford will have been married 60 years on Dec. 28, 1898. "We knew each other as children," said Mr. Thomas. "We attended the same school, church and community gatherings. I thought she was a mighty pretty girl and that's about all. Things like that grow on you without your personal knowledge, and suddenly you know and wonder why you had not noticed it before. Our life has been good but as usual there has been some tense moments as well as happy ones.

"We came to Hereford in 1917. We had two wagons, two teams of horses and mules and two children. I drove one wagon and my wife drove the other. We drove from Cook County to the Red River. It was so high we had to wait for 30 days for the water to run down enough for us to cross. There were no bridges in all that distance, so we must cross the best way we could. We liked the Plains country and decided that Hereford would be a fine place to live.

"I WENT to work for Mr. W. S. Higgins, (we called him Uncle Sully) for 130 per month. We lived on this and kept a team and fed cattle all winter. It began snowing in the early part of November and covered the ground and up to the second wire on a three wire fence. Snow covered the ground for 48 days before the cattle could graze. They ran hungrily from clump to clump of grass as it showed above the snow. That night it snowed again, 12 inches or more and I do not remember how many days until the cattle could graze again. We fed them every day and on Saturday we fed morning and evening so there would be no feeding on Sunday. Mr. Higgins said it never paid to work on the Lord's day and I learned that also.

"Several years later we moved to New Mexico, near House. I filed on some land and bought a thousand cows. I was sure I was going to make a fortune right there and was doing very well, when the depression of the late twenties came along. I could not borrow money to buy feed. I had bought these cattle for $65 per head and was forced to sell them for $20. I kept a few cows and horses to make another start and headed back to Deaf Smith County and I plan to stay here the rest of my days.

"The two boys were driving the cattle and I followed along in the wagon with a load of household goods. Mrs. Thomas and the girls were to wait for us to return for them. The cattle traveled faster than the team. The boys were a couple of miles ahead of me when a blizzard struck.

"The day was warm and sunny when we left House. We did not need coats, now it was below freezing. The snow fell so fast and thick, we could see only a short ways and the wind swirled the snow along the ground making it

SISTERS OBSERVE 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Tuesday, April 1, marked the 20th anniversary of the arrival of the first group of Dominican Sisters to Wellington and the Panhandle, to pioneer in hospital work. As the Sisters quietly took over the hospital from Dr. E. W. Jones, who presented it as a gratuitous gift, Wellington could not be aware of the magnitude of this step for the group of five women and for the Dominican Order, which since its founding 632 years earlier, had been wholly a teaching order. The 20th anniversary was observed with only one celebration, a dinner served at noon by the Hospital Auxiliary, long allied with the hospital in its work.—WELLINGTON LEADER.

GAS CHARGES INCREASED BY CITY COMMISSION

In a surprisingly fast move, the Dumas City Commission Monday night voted to draw up an ordinance raising the rates for natural gas, effective with the May billings. The ordinance, which would raise the minimum charge as well as the charges for each 1,000 cubic feet of gas used, was passed on first reading Wednesday morning, after being drawn up by City Attorney Jim Lovell. According to the proposal, the new minimum rate will be $2.30, a 30 cent increase from the present minimum of $2. According to the city commission, the increase is necessary because the city is forced to buy natural gas from commercial sources to take care of the ever-increasing demand and increase in population in Dumas.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS.

FRIONA BOOSTERS RAISE $2,000

Members of the Friona Boosters Club announced having reached a goal of $2,000 for the purpose of purchasing an electric scoreboard and a new public address system for the Friona High School football field. Ralph Roden, president of the Boosters for 1958, said that almost 200 persons and firms in Friona and the surrounding area participated in the drive for the new scoreboard and PA system.—THE FRIONA STAR.

SCHOOL BUS AND CAR COLLIDE

Lady Luck frowned, then quickly smiled, Friday morning. An Olton school bus, bringing some 25 students to school, and a car collided. There were no serious injuries. Five youngsters were, however, slightly hurt. The accident occurred three miles east and a mile north of town. The bus, driven by F. L. Burrow, was going west and the car, driven by Salvador Fiscal Vasquez was going south when the collision happened at an intersection. The injured children were taken to the clinic of Dr. B. J. Souders for treatment. The impact of the vehicles was the center of an intersection. Investigating officers believed that neither driver saw the other vehicle.—THE OLTON ENTERPRISE.

The BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm takes up the farm price situation this week, but he never does make clear what his ideas are.

Dear editor:

Like a bunch of Congressmen, me and my neighbors have been arguing the pros and cons of the farm price situation lately, which was brought on by President Eisenhower's vetoing a bill Congress passed to keep price supports on farm and dairy products at the same level this year they were last year.

Personally, the problem is too big from a long-range standpoint for me to figure out, but you can get some pretty hot statements on the matter from other farmers.

For example, when Ike vetoed the bill, he said what the farm situation needs is not a freeze but a thawing out.

One of my neighbors said: "The trouble with a thawing out is that generally what it amounts to is that prices don't just thaw out, they melt and run down to practically nothing."

Another neighbor said he understood a lot of Congressmen admitted that maybe from a long-range viewpoint it would be ideal to have no acreage restrictions and no fixed prices, but that a lot of farmers don't see it that way and when a Congressman faces a choice of taking a long-range view and getting beat, or a short-range view and staying in, it doesn't take much mental raveling to come to a conclusion.

Another neighbor said it's a lot easier for a farmer with a job in town to take a long-range view of low prices than it is for a man living altogether off the land. That is, he said, "maybe I could wait for the situation to right itself over the next few years and tough out low prices a while, but my wife and kids don't see it that way. There never was a woman satisfied with being in style five years from now, and very few kids who postponed their education and ever went back to it." He also added that you've got to remember like is a farmer who has a job in town.

Personally, the problem is too big for me, and I hereby turn it over to you. Give it some thought, and I hope you'll solve it before the month is out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Wyche H. D. Makes Report on 57 Sewing Accomplishments

SEWING COMPARISON — Comparing sewing techniques are Mrs. E. C. Hewett, Jr., left, and Mrs. Lloyd Olson. Notice the working convenience of all equipment in Mrs. Olson's sewing center; the low ironing board with steam iron.

Almost every woman is thrift-minded. That's why family budgets are worked out, lunches are carried by children to school, old furniture is made over, left-overs are used in another meal, and it's also the main reason women want sewing machines.

As a project for the year of 1957, the Wyche Home Demonstration Club decided to keep a personal record on how many items of clothing each member made, or made over, by machine and how much money was spent on material.

The results were staggering. Reports turned in by the 12 members revealed 276 items were made, or made over, for a cost of only $373.85. Items ranged all the way from expensive coats and wool items to curtains.

Probably the busiest sewer of the group was Mrs. C. F. Newsom, who lives on a farm south-east of Hereford. She made 42 new articles of clothing and made over five other articles — all for only $56.50. She made 16 pieces of children's clothing, five for herself, a wool skirt and cap, boy's shirt, a can can, a coat, a blouse, two capes, pair of bermudas, seven sun suits, three skirts and two halters.

MRS. IRA OTT spent the most money for her year's project of sewing, but, considering the items made, the sum was very little against retail prices. She spent $75 in making 10 children's items, eight for herself, five for her husband, four wool garments, five pieces of underwear, four coats or suits, four curtains and made over two adult garments.

World's Fair Girl Guides Shun Chemise

AP Newsfeatures

American girls who will serve as guides at the Brussels World's Fair have shunned chemise lines for simple tailoring.

Their uniform is an informal daytime suit in grey wool and dacron, loosely fitted. The skirt is permanently pleated. A white nylon blouse is worn under the jacket, which has three-quarter length sleeves. The outfit is topped by a gold sateen beret. The shoes are specially designed Capozios.

Although the guides are not raving about it, they think it is practical. They have two complete outfits for the six months they will be on duty in the American pavilion. The material is drip-dry.

The costume is designed to blend with interior decorations of the pavilion.

Male guides will wear dark, striped sport coats and grey slacks.

TREE CLIMBER

GRANITE PARK, Utah (AP) — Walter R. Van Moorebenn thinks his cat must like getting rescued from dangerous perches.

It climbed 45 feet to the top of a tall tree and wouldn't come down until Van Moorebenn returned home to coax it down. It was his second rescue of the animal in as many days.

Home Demonstration agents and home making teachers, but three said they taught themselves.

ALL THE WOMEN said they had good shears, but about half had sleeve boards, pressing hams and cutting boards.

Comments on what they enjoyed most about sewing were: "Just sewing," "Creative diversion, the saving, better fit in some garments, gift giving," "I enjoy the garment and its making when it turns out O. K.," "The convenience and saving," "I enjoy putting the garment together after I get it cut; but I dislike cutting it out," "The machine stitching. I don't like the tedious hand finishing of a garment. I enjoy making aprons and other gift items," "Sewing pretty things and saving on the budget," "The satisfaction of the finished garment," "Finishing the garment," "Finishing the garment after I have it cut out," "Seeing the finished garment — ha."

Other members of the group include Mesdames H. L. Ward, G. W. Newsom, W. P. Axe, E. C. Hewitt Jr., George M. Howard, O. B. Sumner, J. V. Pickens, Lloyd Olson, Charles Packard and Jewell Elston.

Also listed on the form filled out by members for the report were questions such as:

1. Do you sew for persons other than your immediate family? Who?
2. Do you charge?
3. How did you improve your sewing center?
4. How old is your machine? Where did you get it?
5. How do you take care of your machine?
6. Have you had a dressmaking course? How many? Have you had a wool tailoring course?
7. How many people have you taught? Course?
8. How old were you when you made your first garment? What was it?
9. Who taught you to sew?
10. Do you have a sleeve board? Good shears? How do you take care of your shears?
11. Do you have a pressing ham? Cutting board?
12. What do you enjoy most about sewing?
13. Tell us anything else interesting about your sewing? 4-H; wise shopping; children's clothing from adults.

Some interesting and informative statements were made by the ladies at the end of the forms: "The most satisfying thing is when the former 4-H girls come back after several years for information. Recently one came for help on bound button holes. I had taught her in 4-H club."

"I have remnants given to me from friends and relatives. I buy most all material on sale and also remnants for children's clothing. I have a number of dresses I intend to make for children's skirts, as needed. I improve on the patterns. I try to sew not more than we need or will wear. I try to not let sewing interfere with regular household duties."

The sewing information project of the Wyche Home Demonstration club is only one undertaken by each of the various such organizations of the community and area. All are for the improvement and betterment of household work and planning.

Answers for question 3 were: "Bought sewing booklet," "New slant needle electric machine," "Added all articles designated in our basic sewing course," "By adding a table to put the portable machine on," "Put the machine where I could get good lighting," "Added sewing chest, steam iron and improved location."

Ages for starting sewing ranged from four years of age to 18, but most were between nine and 12.

Ages of machines owned by the members ranged from one year to 18 years.

Nine of the dozen members stated they had been in at least one sewing course, and some up to four.

Most of the women were taught to sew by their mothers, many by a world of white. We could see nothing but white snow and the boys lost their way and had to give the horses heads to get to shelter. The horses were sheltered from the storm. These friends of ours lived seven miles from our new home. We stayed for two weeks waiting for the snow to melt so we could move on.

"I BOUGHT LAND from Mr. Higgins for $3.50 per acre, with no money down and 10 years to pay. That was one of the hardest debts I have ever paid. We made good crops. I made 9,000 bushels of maize and only got 20 cents per hundred for it. At this time I tried working on a Sunday, but I lost more than I gained. The grain was so ripe I decided to cut it on Sunday.

"My wife objected but I went along with my plans to work all day. I had two binders in the field and before three o'clock both binders were down. Had to wait until Monday to drive 30 miles in a buggy to buy parts and have repair work done. Did not get the binders going until late Tuesday; so I lost more than a full day by using the Lord's day. The Bible says that 'The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath.'"

"A lot of folk laugh when we old timers say that our winters are not so cold as in the old days. Remember the small earth tremors in the late twenties? Well the earth shifted on its axis and we are four or five hundred miles further south than we were before this happened. This is why our winters are less severe."

"It is nice to think of the old days," said Mrs. Thomas. "We were married in the Methodist preacher's house, just a simple ceremony. Rev. J. C. Cooper read the rites for us. He was very kind and wished us many happy years together. We have had our share of worries and I surely will never forget our move to Hereford, from House."

"There were no telephones and there was no way for us to hear from Mr. Thomas and boys, until they came for us. The girls and I did not know if they were lost and frozen or if they had made it to Grady. There was a number of people that lost their lives in that storm. It did not help our peace of mind to learn that a young woman, near House had

Texas Tech Hosts First Space-Age Engineering Show

LUBBOCK — Rocket men — both student and professional — will highlight the first space-age Engineering Show that more than 2,000 high school interscholastic Leaguers will see when they visit the Texas Tech campus April 13-15.

Tech's 26th Annual Engineering Show is part of the Spring Festival that will also feature the "Atoms for Peace" Atomic Energy Commission exhibit, the Tech Home Economics Open House and Variety Show.

West Texans will be able to see an Army Nike-Ajax missile, its launcher and 12-man crew as part of the Tech Army ROTC display. The Nike is the 20-foot surface-to-air missile that currently is used to guard strategic defense areas throughout the nation.

Interscholastic Leaguers will also see a rocket built by Tech physics students, members of the Pyros club, who have made several successful supervised rocket launchings.

The AEC's newest "Atoms for Peace" exhibit will be displayed during the Tech Spring Festival at the Naval Armory on the Tech campus. The free show features more than 80-panel displays showing developments in nuclear energy technology, a "balloon suit"

She left the child in the buggy and tried to open the gate, but she could not. She was numb with the cold and could not get into the buggy. Tragedy marred many lives in those days, even as now.

"We have five children, two boys and three girls. They are married and have homes of their own, and we have 18 grandchildren. It is a happy, noisy time when they all come home but we enjoy it very much but appreciate the quiet, when they have all gone. Hereford has been an asset to our lives and we hope to live here the rest of our days. I keep house and enjoy it too and Mr. Thomas has his Geiger Machine as he calls it and it is a good hobby. He says he will use it again and this he may do but it is a good thing for him to have an interest to keep him busy."

DR. ROBERT E. GOODRICH, JR.

Methodist Revival Slated, April 20-25

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich Jr., preacher, radio man, band director, writer, civic leader, television pioneer, father, will be the guest speaker at the First Methodist Church of Hereford Spring Revival April 20-25.

Song leader for the revival will be the host's brother, Rev. A. B. Cockrell of the First Methodist Church of Levelland. Rev. Alby Cockrell is pastor of the Hereford congregation.

Week-day revival services will be held both morning and evening. Morning services will be at 7:15 a.m. and 10 a.m., with coffee and doughnuts served at 7 and 7:45 a.m. Prayer services will be held at 7:30 p.m. and evening worship at 8 p.m. Regular times will be observed on Sunday, April 20.

Dr. Goodrich is pastor of the First Methodist Church of Dallas, where he was appointed in 1946. For two years he was program director and business manager of a radio station in Shreveport, La. He was band director of the famous SMU Mustang Band from 1933 to 1935, where he inaugurated the "Pigskin Review," an annual band show on the campus.

His early experience in the radio field has served him in the ministry; at Houston he produced the first professional Methodist Radio program, which was broadcast over a Texas network for 39 weeks; in El Paso, in addition to the broadcast of his sermons every Sunday, he presented a weekly 15-minute commentary on the religious significance of the news.

In 1950, he entered the field of television with a weekly dramatic show, "The Pastor Calls," on KRLD-TV. This is now being pre-

Rev. Cockrell, who received his AB degree from McMurry College, was at Perryton four years prior to moving to Levelland, where he has been pastor for the past year.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 20:18 - "Mary Magdalene went and said to the disciples, 'I have seen the Lord'; and she told them that he had said these things to her." (RSV)

"I have seen the Lord!" These words of Mary Magdalene on the first Easter morning are important words for any Christian to speak, during Lent or at any time of the year.

Yet can we speak them truly? We shall, of course, not expect to have a vision of Christ exactly like that of Mary Magdalene. Yet the experience of forgiveness of sin, of renewal of life, of glad expectancy in the presence of the Living Christ, which were hers should be ours also. There is too much that clouds our sight. In eager quest the vision is given, but we must seek to find Him.

Then when we have seen and heard, we must tell others the glad good news. An old gospel hymn, which I recall the evangelist Gypsy Smith used to sing most effectively, is "Let the beauty of Jesus be seen in me." That we all need to do, and we can do it with compelling power only after we have "seen the Lord."

NEW YORK (AP) - "A Very Special Baby," one of Broadway's quickest boxoffice flops last season, has been picked to appear in the 40th edition of "Best Plays," the annual choice of the theater's 10 outstanding literary efforts. The drama ran only five performances, and its selection is believed to be the first time such a short run has received the honor.

OK ON THEATER TOURS
NEW YORK (AP) - A court decision has put back in business travel services which arrange theater-going tours for New York visitors.

The city licensing department, which controls sale of ducaats to all Broadway shows, previously said tour agencies could not be okayed. The state supreme court ruled, however, that permits could be issued if proper controls are set up. Theater tours have been a booming business for several years.

Gloria Swanson Says Sack Here To Stay

GLORIA SWANSON

CHICAGO (AP) - The controversial chemise is here to stay — at least for a while — on the authority of no less an expert than Gloria Swanson, Hollywood star and fashion designer.

"I approve of it," said the still glamorous Gloria during a Chicago visit. "Its popularity is just approaching."

Gloria gave a good demonstration of youthful vim during a preview of her new fashions here.

"I'm interested in everything," she said. "I never get bored. People who are bored should be smacked. There is so much excitement today. I'm always involved in causes, not philanthropic, but nevertheless, causes."

Costumed in a black velvet chemise and carrying a pink carnation, the former movie queen hopped from chair to chair as she spoke with guests.

Miss Swanson was in her teens when she first worked in films at the old Essanay Studios in Chicago in 1916. Francis I. Bushman was another who started there.

She appeared in about 60 or so pictures during her career that reached its peak about 1926.

"I knew it, too," she said. "I said to my mother then: 'What do I do now? There's no place to go but down?'"

For 17 years she remained on the sidelines. If she despaired, she prayed. Then she was picked for the star role in Sunset Boulevard.

"I sure prayed for the part. A long time to wait, eh?" she said. Although she says "Sunset Boulevard" was her top film, she denies that it was a portrayal of her life.

Miss Swanson again called on prayer to get her out of a tough spot when she was interviewed by Mike Wallace.

"I was on a boat en route to New York when the arrangement was made. I didn't know Mike Wallace. When I landed, everyone asked: 'Aren't you afraid? He'll tear you to pieces.'"

"I prayed again. I prayed so hard that by the time the show went on I was very nervous. But I thought his questions were very dull. He didn't give me much time for my views on cancer research. That's the only complaint I have. But after the program I adored him," she said.

Gloria Swanson was born in Chicago. Her home is everywhere.

although she maintains a New York City mailing address.

"Wherever I hang my hat is home," she said.

"I keep looking for paradise, but I haven't found it."

"... SEVERE THUNDER STORMS with possibility of a TORNADO or TWO."

Those are spine chilling words—often heard over radio or television these days.

The HAMLIN STORM WARNER is your personal protector, lending a feeling of comfort whether during the quiet night or busy daylight hours.

Severe storm alerts are for large generalized areas. The HAMLIN STORM WARNER, when it sounds its alarm, pin-points the storm to your particular location. It is your personal weatherman.

Normally in the direct path of a TORNADO, there is a barometric pressure drop. This pressure drop will trigger the alarm in the HAMLIN STORM WARNER.

This delicate instrument contains its own power-pac and is beautifully mounted in a provincial oak case with brass fittings. It is suitable to hang on the wall or be used as a table piece.

Its alarm, if heeded, may give you that margin of time necessary to save your life.

The Wok--a Chinese Secret Food's a Bargain at Any Price Says Top Expert in Good Eating

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
With a pair of chopsticks, deft hands and a wok you can cook up some gorgeous Chinese food. We know because every Thursday afternoon for the past month we've watched young attractive Dorothy Lee use these tools as she prepared superb dishes from China's classic cuisine. Mrs. Lee teaches food and nutrition, with the blessing of New York City's Board of Education, at China Institute in America.

The fascinating utensil called a wok is a shallow bowl-shaped metal cooking pan with a round bottom; it is cradled by a steel ring and is used on a top burner of a gas range. The combination of this particular pan and the intense heat produce the delightful bright color and crispness that distinguish so many Chinese dishes. Some food, such as whole fish, are steamed and served with wok-cooked sauces.

Next to the dexterity and rapidity with which Mrs. Lee cooks, we admire the skill and speed with which she uses a sharp cleaver to slice, mince, chop and shred meat, poultry, fish, vegetables and fruit.

Here's one of Mrs. Lee's recipes that may be made with or without a wok; we've prepared it several times in a 10-inch iron skillet. But if you are intrigued by Chinese dishes and want to include a good many in your repertoire, you'll find woks and steel rings as well as cleavers endlessly useful. They're available in shops in Chinese sections of cities and may also be ordered by mail.

CHINESE PEPPER STEAK
Ingredients: 1 pound flank steak (trimmed of fat and partially frozen), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 pound medium-sized green peppers, 3 tablespoons peanut oil, 1 slice (the size of a quarter) fresh ginger (minced), 1 large clove garlic (minced), 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water.
Method: Slice steak across the grain so pieces are between 1/16 and 1/8 inch thick and 3 to 4 inches long; if sharp wide knife is held almost flat during slicing, pieces will be about 1 inch wide. Stir cornstarch, soy sauce, salt and sugar together until smooth; toss with beef slices. Wash peppers; cut into halves; remove seeds and white membranes; dry. Slice each half into 4 diagonal pieces. Add tablespoon of the peanut oil and the peppers of a wok or 10-inch heavy skillet; toss constantly and cook about 1 minute over a high flame. (In using skillet, be careful not to have heat so high that peppers blister.) Remove peppers with chopsticks or slotted spoon, leaving oil. Add remaining 2 tablespoons oil to wok or skillet and heat (375 degrees on automatic top burner heat control); add beef; sprinkle with ginger and garlic. Brown rapidly on one side before turning with spatula in skillet; thorough cooking helps prevent coating from sticking to pan. When beef loses its red color, add green peppers and bouillon. Bring to a boil rapidly; cook and stir over high heat until sauce thickens and looks slightly shiny. (This may take 3 or 4 minutes in skillet.) Peppers should be emerald-green and crisp if possible; do not overcook. Serve at once with steamed rice. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

RECORDING BY LAVELLI

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Lavelli, former Yale basketball star, is featured on a long-playing record, "Accordian Classics." He recently signed a songwriter's contract with Broadcast Music.

Witnesses Slate Spring Seminar

The spring seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses' Texas Circuit No. 9 will be held April 18-20 in the Central Elementary School at Borger. Assembly department heads met in Sayre, Okla., March 17 with Randall V. Davis, the circuit supervisor, at which time preparations were initiated to accommodate an expected 700 delegates from the 19 congregations of the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma.

In the preliminary meeting at Sayre it was indicated that this will be the most important assembly of Texas Circuit No. 9 to date. Such a conclusion results from the contemplated assembly program and objectives.

"The program, built around the theme, 'Fulfilling Our Ministry,' aspires to a more effective Christian educational effort in the circuit, and will aid the Witnesses to form a closer bond of understanding and friendship with those to whom they minister."

"The witnesses stress the need of continuous education and ministry improvement to keep them abreast of the times and enable them to bolster the spiritual foundations of an age in which many feel insecure," Davis said.

Lloyd Reddoch will head the assembly delegation from Hereford.

Susie Sews a Raincoat

By DOBOTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

One of the brightest things a girl can do this spring is to sew her own raincoat.

It's an easy assignment, because a raincoat is cut on simple lines and requires less fitting than a dress. And it pays off in big dividends, because this is an important addition to the wardrobe.

Making your own raincoat becomes a practical matter this year, since somebody discovered that you can pick the brightest printed cotton on the fabric counter, be sure that it's sanforized against shrinkage, make it up into a smart coat and then send it to your dry-cleaner to have it rain-proofed.

Choose a sturdy sportswear cotton, such as topsail, now available in all kinds of gay prints — polka dots, flowers or whimsical motifs. Then get a standard topcoat pattern, and take these sewing tips from experts at your local sewing center.

Before starting to cut your fabric, check the pattern for correct fit and make alterations right on the tissue pattern. Remember to duplicate alterations on the lining.

Zigzag stitching will help in the construction of the coat. For example, if you use a non-woven interfacing, the darts may be shaped without bulk if zigzag stitching is used. Cut out dart along markings. Pin edges together and back with muslin. Stitch raw edges together with a zigzag stitch, backstitching at both ends. On coat and lining make regular darts.

If you make stitched buttonholes, remember to adjust the satin stitch according to the weight of your fabric. Use the buttonhole attachment for your straight-needle sewing machine; or a close satin stitch on your slant-needle automatic machine.

FOR APRIL SHOWERS—This gay raincoat of a topsail print in bold blue, turquoise and gold poppies on a white ground, is easy to make at home with a standard pattern. Then apply a water-repellent finish.

To make a neat hem finish, use the automatic blind stitch attachment on both lining and coat. There's a new cording foot, too, which makes it easy to stitch close to cording, if you should desire this type of color accent on your coat.

If you have a little fabric left over, make a matching beret or scarf.

When the coat is completed, your dry-cleaner will give it a water-repellent finish for a small charge. Or if you prefer to treat your own coat, you can now buy a spray can of water-repellent liquid. Be sure to follow directions carefully.

After the coat is rain-proofed, it will be a gay and practical topper for April showers, and will serve as an all-purpose coat all summer long.

Texas People Have Their Say in School Matters

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a public service release provided by the Texas State Committee on Public Education, a state-wide non-partisan group urging citizen participation in school improvement work.)

Schools belong to the people, and in Texas the people have better than average opportunity to make their say-so known.

This is a summation of four statements by members of the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24, state-wide official group coordinating a study of the Texas Public Schools going on currently in each of the state's 254 counties.

"Our schools can and will be just as good as we the people make them," said Thomas B. Ramey, chairman of the State Board of Education and member of the Hale-Aikin Committee, in one of the statements.

Noting that the state has delegated the major portion of its authority for public education to the people of local communities, Ramey asserted that "it behooves each of us therefore to become thoroughly informed of the status of our schools - what they are now accomplishing, as well as what they should accomplish."

Opportunity for the citizen to become informed is afforded through the county committees which are urging all citizens to participate in the studies, according to Mrs. Carter Taylor, President of the Texas State Committee on Public Education, a state-wide non-partisan citizens group which is active in developing citizen participation in school improvement efforts.

This committee is gathering statements of Texas leaders, including the Hale-Aikin Committee, on state education problems, and will distribute them as a public service as they are developed.

Hereford Student Joins Fraternity

Donald E. Schmitt of 806 Union Ave., Hereford, was initiated into the Texas Beta Chapter of Tau Beta Pi Association Saturday at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Tau Beta Pi Association is a national engineering honorary society. Candidates for membership are selected from the upper one-eighth of the junior and upper one-fifth of the senior classes in engineering, and the final selection is made on the basis of integrity, breadth of interest both inside and outside of engineering, adaptability and unselfish activity.

The aim of public education in a democracy is to give every child an opportunity for learning.

He urged a thorough grounding of pupils in the fundamentals of reading, writing, language and arithmetic in the lower grades so that on graduation from high school the student will be "qualified for continuing education either at home, on his own, or in the college of his choice." Teacher compensation, he said, should be based not only on subject knowledge, but also on success in imparting knowledge.

The Texas State Committee on Public Education, without taking sides on controversial questions in education, is simply urging citizens to find out for themselves, said Mrs. Taylor. She asserted that the Hale-Aikin studies afford unparalleled opportunity to do so at the county and local level. She urged citizens in doubt as to how to participate to contact their county chairmen or write for information to the Texas State Committee at its headquarters, 2503 Avalon Place, Houston 19, Texas.

Columbus discovered some unusually deep waters off the northern coast of Honduras. And that is how the Central American nation got its name, for Honduras means "The Depths."

RUGGED INDIVIDUALIST—Alphonse Dulle removed mail from the box which has angered his neighbors. Trustees of the community have

A White Mailbox Sets off Hassle

ST. LOUIS — Alphonse J. Dulle has learned the price of non-conformity — he faces a lawsuit over the color of his mailbox.

Dulle, 55, and a press room foreman for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, moved into a swank subdivision in St. Louis county four years ago. He was one of the earliest of 28 homeowners purchasing the $30,000-$40,000 homes.

Although other residents have black mailboxes in racks at strategic points through the subdivision, Dulle put up a white mailbox with black lettering on his own post.

His individualism destroyed the serenity of Ronnie's Country Club Acres.

Dulle recently refused a subdivision trustees' request to change the mailbox to conform. Then the three trustees filed a lawsuit asking for an injunction and $2,000 damages.

This wounded Dulle, a man with a Dutch temper. But he was even more seriously offended when his mail box was knocked down by uninsightfully and detracts from the beauty of the subdivision.

But Alphonse Dulle remains adamant: "It's a free country," he insists.

Pay yourself too!

When you start peeling off the long green to pay the butcher, the baker, and all the rest, remember: You should be in line for some of it, too—you earned it. Make it an every-pay-day habit to deposit a few of those hard-won dollars in a bank savings account with us.

THERE'S NOTHING QUITE LIKE HAVING MONEY IN THE BANK!
