Atex Oil Co., 1302 W. Highway 60, scene of foiled armed robbery Thursday evening.

Attendant, 71, Limits Robbers To Only Tankful of Gasoline

A shotgun-wielding robber and his young companion tried to rob the Atex Oil Co. at 1302 W. Highway 60 Thursday evening but encountered an unwilling attendant and got away with only a full tank of gasoline.

According to police and witnesses, a late-model GMC pickup pulled into the station shortly after 6 p.m. Thursday. The driver of the pickup, described as the older of the two young Mexican-American men, asked the attendant, Louis

Freeman of 232 North, to fill up the vehicle.

When Freeman finished, the driver opened the door, sporting a 12-gauge shotgun and demanding the money inside the station. Freeman, who is 71-years-old, reportedly grabbed the gun and struggled with both of the men, receiving two or three blows to the face during the scuffle.

Police said the two robbers jumped back into the pickup and fled the scene going north on 4th Street.

Witnesses across the road on W. Highway 60 verified to police what had occurred.

Police spent most of the evening Thursday searching for the pickup.

The incident was termed an armed robbery by police and not an attempt because the two men did not pay for the gasoline.

It was the second armed robbery in Hereford in a week. Two men and a 16-year-old juvenile used a screwdriver for a weapon while robbing the Allsup's Convenience Store on N. Main of $52 last Saturday morning.

Joe Landin of 335 Ave. H and the juvenile were arrested in connection with that incident. Police, who have a suspect, are still searching for the third man.

Truck-Pickup Crash Injures Man, 23

A 23-year-old man was injured around 10:30 p.m. Thursday when his pickup ran into the back of a cattle truck on U.S. Highway 385 in front of Pratt Chevrolet.

Billy Cockrum received facial and chest injuries in the accident and was listed in fair condition today at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

According to police, Cockrum's northbound pickup hit the rear end of a cattle truck driven by Jerry Dickerson, 40, of Hereford. The pickup was totaled in the accident, and the rear end of the truck sustained extensive damage.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene to hose off gasoline, which spilled from the pickup.

UMBARGER-Residents of this community and surrounding areas organized the Buffalo Lake Survival Committee during a special called meeting here last night as they began mobilizing to stop the draining of Buffalo Lake, two miles south of here.

After an hour of comments and questions on legal options open to the public in saving the lake, ordered drained earlier this week by the Department of Interior, over 100 concerned citizens elected a steering committee and began collecting funds for a "war chest." The funds will be used to finance the fight to save the rain-renewed lake, which is a popular recreation area with Panhandle residents.

In the first 15 minutes after the fund program was set up, a total of $600 in save-the-lake donations were received, and an account to accept donations from concerned individuals from throughout the Panhandle was established.

Individuals desiring to donate to the Buffalo Lake Survival Committee fund may mail donations to the First National Bank of Canyon at Box 119, Canyon, Texas, 79015.

Lloyd Kurtz of the Canyon banking firm is handling the donation accounting effort.

Hereford residents wishing to donate to save the lake may leave donations with Jim Cherry at The Barber Shop, on West Fourth Street.

The majority of last night's meeting centered on criticism of Interior Department officials for the decision to drain the lake, attacks on elected representatives for their apparent lack of concern in the issue, and discussion of legal recourse open to citizens outraged at the lake draining.

Max Hoffman of Umbarger, who helped organize the meeting, called on the crowd in attendance for ideas on "the quickest way to get the gate closed at the lake and stop that precious water from draining out."

Amarillo attorney and Ducks Unlimited member Ronnie Walker was joined by Randall County Assistant District Attorney Rick Wilcox in explaining legal options open to those opposed to the lake's draining.

"The big question right now is whether the Interior Department filed an environmental impact statement, prior to ordering the lake drained. If no statement has been filed, we have a very good chance of obtaining a temporary restraining order against the draining of the lake," Walker commented.

Walker cited provisions of Environmental Protection Agency Regulations which call for "early public review" of any construction or draining affecting a wetland habitat, such as Buffalo Lake, which serves as a sanctuary for waterfowl each winter.

"In my opinion, these provisions should refer to the spillway situation here, which has caused the order to drain the lake. As things appear now, unless

Attorneys Serve Papers For Shooting

DIMITT-Attorneys for the parents of a 15-year-old girl who was killed by a shotgun blast last Halloween near Easter began taking depositions this week from persons who were involved in the incident and its aftermath.

Raul and Karen Casas of Dimmitt have filed a civil suit against Loy and Louise Stone, who have been charged with murder in connection with the death of Roxanne Casas last Oct. 31. Mr. and Mrs. Casas are seeking $77,556 in damages, which include Casas' pickup truck, funeral expenses and personal damages.

Attorneys for the two plaintiffs and defendants began taking depositions from nine persons involved in the incident. They include witnesses, law enforcement officers and medical personnel.

The Stones were charged with murder after the girl died as a result of shots fired into the pickup truck in which she was a passenger.

Fed Cooks To Sample Lunch-Program Fare

WASHINGTON (AP) - Government cooks plan to sample some of their own wares next week in a demonstration of what 26 million children can expect to find in school cafeterias as they trek back to the classroom this fall.

The plan is for the Agriculture Department, which is in charge of the nation's school lunch program, to prepare the food and have Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, other department officials and reporters test the results on Wednesday.

The department sent notices Thursday to the news media telling reporters about the school lunch preview, which will be accompanied by explanations of changes by the department to improve the quality and acceptability of school lunches, the notice said.

Among the changes are steps to gradually reduce the fat, sugar and salt content of school meals and plans - still being developed - to cut plate waste and give schools more freedom in satisfying students' tastes and appetites.

Bonnie Whyte of the department's Food and Nutrition Service said Bergland and the other diners can sample a menu designed around commodities the department donates to the school lunch program.

Included will be sliced turkey, chicken pot pie, fried chicken, cheeseburgers, biscuits, whole wheat muffins, beef in barbecue sauce, canned vegetables, fruit, orange juice, peanut butter and a vanilla pudding made from nonfat dried milk, she said.

About 94,000 of the approximately 110,000 primary and secondary schools in the United States participate in the federal school lunch program. The participating schools have an enrollment of about 51 million students, of which

Little Money, Stereotyped Image Loom as Cowgirls' Obstacles

Professional cowgirls can't expect to make a living on what they win in rodeos, while their male counterparts may earn as much as $100,000 a year, say four of the entrants in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girl Rodeo.

"I don't do it for a living, that's for sure," said Sue Pirtle, a bareback and bull rider who won the Girls Rodeo Association (GRA) all-around world championship in 1975 and $8,000 in prize money. Tom Ferguson, meanwhile, won the men's championship and more than $100,000.

Pirtle, a Dallas resident, supplements her rodeo earnings by working as a draftsman....draftsperson, if you please.

Pirtle, Margaret Alford and Debbie Beaton are single cowgirls. Alford, who lives in Caldwell, works in a flower shop, and Beaton, of Balch Springs, repairs saddles.

Judy Day of Mesquite, on the other hand, has a fireman for a husband. The two of them are raising a 10-year-old son.

"I don't believe a girl could make a living at all-girl rodeos. Our horses cost as much as the men's horses, and our feed costs as much...." Day said.

"And it costs just as much for women to travel as it does men," Pirtle added.

Problems in female rodeos aren't limited to small winnings and big expenses. Fan participation, the four claim, has been less than desirable and the competitors are often stereotyped as strapping, malformed individuals—a thought which might turn off someone who has never seen an all-girl rodeo.

"They used to be big," said Beaton, who is by no means large and, in fact, might pass for a college cheerleader if she weren't wearing boots and a straw hat. "Just look at the pictures. Man, they were big, with big, broad shoulders. They were just big women.

But, most of us don't look like that."

Beaton and Day are team ropers. Alford undercorates steers and races barrels. Pirtle, who is petite at 115 pounds, undercorates steers and rides bulls and bucking horses.

"We put on a helluva effort to look like women," Pirtle said.

"You don't have to be a big person in barrel racing," Alford said. "It takes ability, skill and timing, and you've got to have a good horse."

So what can spectators expect to see tonight when the Hereford rodeo opens?

"They're going to see some super athletes with women's backgrounds," Alford said.

Pirtle added: "People can come out and look at women who look like women who do the same events the men do. And they'll be totally amazed if they come out with the attitude that they're

PAM TROTTER
 ...among elite women artists of the West

Local Sculptor's Work To Be in Elite Exhibit

Among the 40-plus professional women artists who will be represented in the current Western Heritage Art Show, which began today in the Cowgirl Hall of Fame, is a Hereford sculptor, Pam Trotter.

Her bronzes will be included in a collection of more than 100 western paintings, sculptures and drawings being exhibited from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. today, Saturday and Sunday in the Hall of Fame, temporarily located in the basement of the County Library. The public is invited, free of charge. All works will be offered for sale.

Pam Myers Trotter was born at Levelland in 1952. Many of her childhood memories are of the days she spent with her family, hunting arrowheads, antique barbed wire and pioneer relics linked with the historical Indian country of Roswell and Espanola, N.M.

"I grew up," she said, "on cowboy songs and stories that have inspired me with ideas for many of my sculptures." Her first recollections of sketching and modeling date back to when she was a child of 5 years old. "I can't remember when I wasn't trying to draw and model horses out of anything and everything I could get my hands on from paper rolls, felt and papier-mache, to soap and clay."

Active in 4-H and rodeo events, she married Johnny Trotter in 1970, helping her husband in his work with cattle and young horses. As a rancher's wife she was exposed firsthand to the life of the Southwestern cowboy and ranching livestock.

In 1972, the Trotters' son, Rick, was born. Two years later, Pam Trotter had the opportunity to visit the studio of a well-known sculptor, Juan Del Wade. "This," she said, "inspired me so much that I went right out and laid in a supply of bailing wire for armatures (used in making bronzes) and bought a supply of wax to sculpt." This was the beginning of her career as a serious sculptor. Within a few months of her visit to the Del Wade studio, she made her professional debut with her first finished bronze casting.

Mrs. Trotter now devotes full time to creating her original sculptures in wax or clay. She then forms molds and reworks the second waxes in preparation for bronze casting. Completely self-taught and strictly a realist, Mrs. Trotter concentrates on accuracy and minute details.

Her intricate bronze castings have received distinguished awards in major art shows and national competitions throughout the United States, including a medal from the Museum of Science and Industry in Los Angeles, 1976; the American West Show in the offices of the Secretary of State, Sacramento, Calif.; and the National Women Artists Organization of the American West Show (WAOAW) competition in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame here.

Mrs. Trotter is a member of Top Hand and is Southwest area director of WAOAW. Her works are exhibited in the Saddleback Gallery at Santa Ana, Calif.; Charles M. Russell Show at Great Falls, Mont.; Cody Western Art Gallery at Cody, Wyo.; and Beef Empire Days at Garden City, Kans.

Aggie Moms Prepare For New Club Year

Aggie Mom officers met this week to discuss plans and projects for the coming year, which officially begins with the club's meeting Monday, at 11:45 a.m. at K-Bob's.

Mrs. Hollis Klett, vice president for projects, listed the following dates of importance: October 14, District meeting to be hosted by the local club; Nov. 11, annual bake sale and Dec. 19, annual holiday dinner honoring the local Texas A&M students.

Mrs. Walter Hardin, Aggie Mothers Club president, urged cooperation with Mrs. Klett in preparing the club's first yearbook, which Mrs. Klett plans to distribute at the September meeting. The book will contain names of each member and her Aggie student, whether present or former student.

The officers voted to begin presenting a token of recognition at graduation time to each local student graduating from Texas A&M University.

Other officers attending the noon meeting were: Mrs. Bob Hicks, treasurer; Mrs. Austin Rose Jr., historian; Mrs. Hilrey Aven, recording secretary; Mrs. Beryl Fish, vice president for membership and telephone; Mrs. David Beavers, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Werner Koelzer, reporter.

Don't Say One Thing... Hypocrisy gets me! Actually, I can't tolerate it. It's really better to say nothing to me at all, than to tell me one thing and do another!

I have a very good habit of trusting people and accepting them on what they say.

I have never met a young hypocrite. Children are open and honest. They are also very blunt, but that's okay. The feelings they communicate are real.

Perhaps hypocrisy wiggles into you because you are afraid to admit how you really feel, but please!!!!!! don't say one thing and do another.

AMERICAN GREATNESS WAS BUILT BY FAITH AND HARD WORK

The fact that Labor Day, the last holiday of the summer season, was named in honor of the workers of America is a tribute to their vital role in the building of this nation and our way of life that became a reality through the combined efforts of the men and women of every occupation and cultural heritage. But all their achievements were built on a foundation of faith in God, who gave them the incentive and the ability to perform these feats. Salute their accomplishments by attending your Church and letting your own faith inspire you to join them in the never-ending task of maintaining our standard of living that is unsurpassed anywhere on earth.

Pate, Gilbert Tie After 1st Day at Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) - Jerry Pate and Gibby Gilbert, each an unsuccessful challenger a week ago and each bubbling with confidence, are looking to salvage winless seasons this week in the $250,000 Hall of Fame Golf Classic. "Look out for this week," said Gilbert after firing a solid, four-under-par 67 and tying Pate for the first-round lead Thursday. "I've only told you that once before," Gilbert said. "And that was at Memphis Tenn. Just remember what I'm telling you."

It was at Memphis that Gilbert scored his second career victory. "I've had scores low enough to win several times this year, but every time I get there, somebody shoots the lights out," he said. "But this is the week." Like Pate, Gilbert had a chance to win last week's Westchester Classic until playing poorly in the last round. "I've been playing well for quite a while now," said Pate, a former U.S. Open titleholder and a playoff loser in the recent PGA National Championship.

"My game has been pretty consistent." Over his last seven holes, it was spectacular. He played those holes six-under-par with birdie, eagle, birdie, par, par, birdie, birdie. "I don't know what it was," mused Pate. "Maybe it was just everybody saying how tough the golf course was. I kept telling myself, 'It can't be THAT tough.'" The old No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, one of America's finest, was punished by Hale Irwin's 20-under-par winning total a year ago and this time the sponsors decided to "restore" it. Some tees were lengthened. The fairways are narrower. The rough is up. "The rough," said Howard Twitty, "is consistent. Consistently bad."

DALLAS (AP) - The severity of the challenge would appear to diminish somewhat for the World Champion Dallas Cowboys in the National Football Conference East Division this year. George Allen isn't around Washington anymore to accuse Tom Landry of coaching illegal crackback blocs and Terry Metcalf isn't at St. Louis where he bedeviled the Cowboys with his scintillating touchdown runs. The New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles are on the rise but certainly haven't reached a World Championship altitude. The National Football League schedule has been expanded to 16 games which gives a deep team like Dallas even more of an edge. Tony Dorsett actually knows the plays this year although he gained over 1,000 yards in his rookie year with Dallas on instinct. "What about complacency? Don't Super Bowl champions always have it?" "This team has worked as hard in the off-season as any I've ever had," says Landry, dean of the NFL coaches going on his 18th campaign. "If there has been any complacency, I haven't noticed it. This team would like to be the first one to win three Super Bowls."

No Agreement Reached In Umpire's Strike Talk

NEW YORK (AP) - Umpires may not be the most popular people in sports but they are a necessity. Major league baseball may find out just how necessary in the near future. Attorney Richie Phillips, who represents the Major League Umpires Association, has been threatening a strike by the ump's if the National and American leagues do not open negotiations on several subjects. Phillips met Thursday with AL President Lee MacPhail and NL boss Chub Feeney in an informal meeting to discuss the umpires' complaints. No results of the meeting were announced, but a release was to be given out sometime today at the National League offices, where Phillips, MacPhail and Feeney were scheduled to gather again. The umpires have a contract that runs through the 1981 season but Phillips said the umpires' demands were in relation to areas not covered by the contract. Because of that pact, the major leagues have refused to discuss renegotiation.

"I've probably played No. 2 as much as anybody in the tournament," said Leonard Th' done to it is brutal. For 50 years it stood on its own. If you play well, you'll shoot a good score. Now you can play well and shoot a bad score. What they've done to No. 2, it makes you want to cry." Twitty and Thompson, along with Tom Kite and Greg Powers, were tied for third at 69. Cesar Sanudo had an ace with a two-iron shot on the sixth hole and headed a group of eight at 70, the only others to break par. Arnold Palmer matched par 71. Tom Watson shot 72. Irwin fought his way to a 73. Leading money winner Andy Bean carded a 74. Pate's spectacular finish was helped by a couple of iron shots that stopped less than a foot from the cup. He made two birdies with 10-foot putts and got the eagle off a three-wood second shot that stopped 15 feet from the cup. Gilbert, playing in the afternoon when the greens were bumpy and more difficult, holed three critical, par-saving putts of 8, 6 and 5 feet.

Defensively, it will be the same old dose of Doomsday II with Ed "Too Tall" Jones, Harvey Martin and Randy White even more devastating in the preseason than they were in the 27-10 Super Bowl XII victory over Denver. "The Defense should be better," says Landry. "Ed Jones came into his own in the three playoff games and White and middle linebacker Bob Breung should benefit from an additional year of experience. We have the two best safeties in the league Charlie Waters and Cliff Harris."

There are coaching changes at both Washington and St. Louis, chief rivals in the annual Cowboy march to the playoffs. Jack Pardee, an Allen disciple, takes over the Redskin helm while Bud Wilkinson, who led Oklahoma to many a Big Eight title in college, is the new voice at St. Louis, replacing Don Coryell. Coaches Dick Vermeil and John McVay return at Philadelphia and New York, respectively, to handle those rebuilding programs. Pardee, who guided Chicago to a 9-5 record and a wild card playoff berth last year, inherits a team that finished 9-5 with victories in its last three games. "We are going to have that kind of effort again," said Pardee, who used to play under Allen. Pardee plans to carry on the Allen tradition of great specialty teams and solid defense. Pardee said, "We have a good running game, and you have to have that in the NFL to be a road team. I think our offensive line has got to make a big improvement from last year."

Philadelphia was 5-9 last year but with luck could have been 9-5. "I think we're going to be a better football team though I'm realistic enough to believe that it will be hard to show it in the win-loss column because of the schedule," said Vermeil. "It's going to be tough because we'll be playing 11 winning teams and we haven't beaten a winning team in the two years that we've been here. Before we can be successful in Philadelphia, we're going to have to start beating people even on off days."

Quarterback Ron Jaworski threw 18 touchdown passes last year and Eagle hopes ride with him again. The Giants were 5-9 last season when three rookie quarterbacks took turns acquiring some painful experience. Two of them, Jerry Gisteyn and Joe Pisarcik, will fight it out again for the No. 1 job this year. New York only averaged 12.9 points per game in 1977, but the defense was the eighth best in the NFL and third best against the rush.

Rangers Beat Twins, 4-1
BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) - Jim Sundberg would have settled for a sacrifice fly, what with runners on second and third and the score tied 1-1 in the top of the 10th inning. Instead, and much to the delight of himself and Ferguson Jenkins, he drilled a three-run homer to right-center to give the Texas Rangers a 4-1 victory over Dave Goltz and Minnesota Thursday. "I was looking for something up that I could hit a sacrifice fly with," insisted Sundberg. "I didn't think I hit it that good." Good enough to ruin Goltz's

In NFC's East Division... Dallas Apparently In Driver's Seat

DALLAS (AP) - The severity of the challenge would appear to diminish somewhat for the World Champion Dallas Cowboys in the National Football Conference East Division this year. Pat Donovan has moved from right to left tackle for the retired Ralph Neely. Rayfield Wright, the former All-Pro who has knee problems, came back weaker than expected and second-year man Andy Frederick is being shoved into the breach. Eren Herrera, the All-Pro placekicker, is gone because of his salary dispute with the Cowboy front office, and it remains to be seen if he will be missed.

It will still be Billy Kilmer and Joe Theismann battling for the quarterback job. Former Cowboy Calvin Hill announced his retirement from the Redskins while another former Dallas player, Jean Fugett, has been switched from tight end to wide receiver. Tommy Reamon, a World Football League refugee, could add punch to the Redskin ground game. At St. Louis, Metcalf has made tracks for the Canadian Football League, causing glee in the Cowboy camp. But there

May the Force be with you!

Bike Tips from Mark Hamill

Mark in "Star Wars." There are to be two more "Star Wars" movies. The next one will not be out until May of 1980. Right now, Mark is in Ireland, making a movie about World War II.

In the smash hit, "Star Wars," Luke Skywalker rode around in his landspeeder on the planet Tatooine.

In real life, Mark Hamill, who played Luke, rides around a lot on his bike on the planet Earth.

In fact, he rides a bike more now than he did when he was growing up.

Mark has other hobbies besides riding his bike. He is a real science-fiction fan. He also likes to draw cartoons.

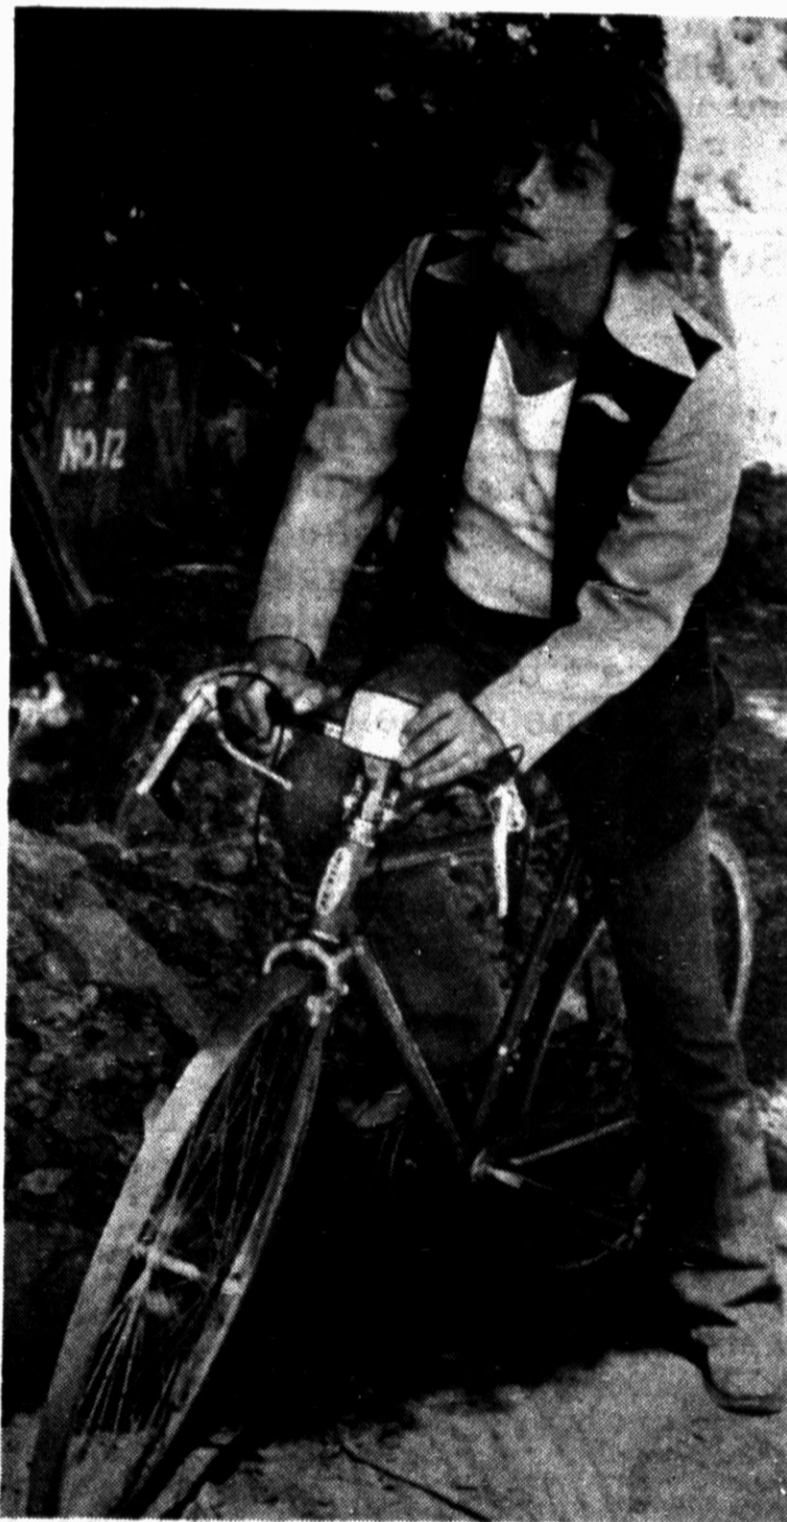

He often talks with kids. They want to know things like what C3PO and R2D2 do during the summer.

They want to know where Princess Leia is. To some people, "Star Wars" is a fairy tale.

But many kids take it very seriously.

So Mark is hoping they will take these safety tips from one of the "Star Wars" stars very seriously, too.

May the Force be with you to and from school!

Mark near his home in Malibu, Calif. When possible, he prefers riding his bike to driving a car.

Check the bike rules you observe. Observe the rules you don't check!

Match these Punch Lines

"Earthquake" Cookies

You'll need:

- 2 cups whipped topping, room temperature
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 box cake mix (lemon, spice, orange or chocolate)
- ½ cup confectioner's sugar

Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

What to do:

1. Fold whipped topping, beaten egg and vanilla together.
2. Add cake mix and stir well.
3. Put confectioner's sugar in separate bowl. Drop cookie mixture in by the teaspoon. Coat each lightly with the sugar.
4. Put on lightly-greased cookie sheets and bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes.
5. When done, the edges are lightly browned and the top has "earthquake" lines!

Super Sport: Nancy Lopez

When a lot of her friends were still playing with tea sets, Nancy Lopez was swinging a golf club. She began playing at age 8 and has developed into one of America's best women golfers.

She is one of the top stars on the women's pro tour. In just her second year, she ranks among the top money winners.

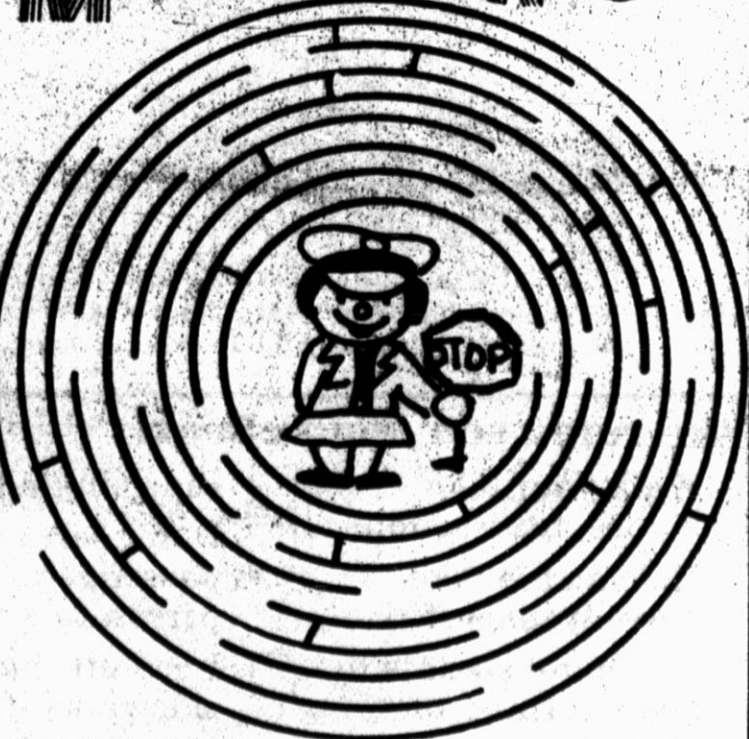

Nancy, who is now 22, attended the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma.

She was born in California and now lives in New Mexico. Her father got her interested in golf.

Meet the Green Cross Man

©UPS

See the man on the right. Is he wearing a black cape? Does he have on a scary mask? No... but that man is the same one who played Darth Vader in "Star Wars."

His name is David Prowse. He is in a Green Cross uniform.

And what does a Green Cross Man do? He teaches safety rules to kids in England.

So it's safe to say that Darth Vader isn't all bad!

In real life, David Prowse is 6 feet 7 inches tall. He is an ex-weightlifting champ. He now owns a group of gyms in England. (The Green Cross is the name of a safety program in England for kids.)

Walking Safety . . .

1. Leave home on time. Hurrying can cause accidents.
2. Walk on the sidewalk where there is one. If not, walk on the left edge of the road, facing the traffic.
3. Look both ways before crossing. Cross only at intersections. Do not cross between parked cars.
4. Never speak to strangers.
5. Obey all traffic lights and signs.

Bus Riding Safety

1. Keep the aisle clear.
2. Stay seated until the bus reaches your stop and comes to a complete stop.
3. Keep your hands, arms and head inside at all times.
4. Keep your feet off the seats.
5. Keep quiet enough so you do not bother the driver. Obey his orders. Never push or rough-house.
6. Never throw objects around in the bus or out the window.
