Lake Water's Fate Up to District Judge

BY JIM STEIERT
Outdoors Editor

The fate of the remaining water in Buffalo Lake at nearby Umbarger will be decided in U.S. District Court in Lubbock today as members of the Buffalo Lake Survival Committee continue their battle to hold off any further draining of the impoundment.

Judge Halbert O. Woodward began the process of hearing testimony on a preliminary injunction at 10:30 this morning, with witnesses from various federal agencies and the lake survival committee scheduled to testify during the course of the hearing.

A temporary restraining order was issued by Judge Woodward to stop draining of the lake on Monday, allowing the gate at the dam to be closed until the outcome of today's hearing.

Setting the stage for today's day in court over the lake draining matter was a special information meeting held on the West Texas State University Campus in Canyon last night.

Representatives of the Department of Interior, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and other agencies got a grilling at the hands of the Buffalo Lake Survival Committee during the session, originally called to allow federal officials to justify their reasoning for draining the dam.

In a marathon session that spanned three hours, survival committee members continually levelled charges and questions at the Interior representatives on hand and expressed strong dissatisfaction with the way things have gone at the refuge.

One of the most startling facts to surface during last night's session was an admission by an Interior Dept. hydrologist that the lake was being drained at ten times the rate the public was told during the time the gates were opened at the dam.

Survival committee members were originally informed that some three acre feet, or one million gallons of water were being drained from the lake each day.

Under close questioning, however, the hydrologist admitted that in actuality, 30 acre feet per day, or ten million gallons of water was being released from the lake.

The revelation brought an outcry from the crowd of approximately 100 on hand.

Tom Garrity, field solicitor for the Department of Interior in Amarillo accused the lake survival committee of "not working with us" concerning the lake.

Garrity stated that the Interior Department was "acting in good faith toward public concern over the lake" by calling last night's special meeting, and accused the survival committee of "being hard to get along with" because of the filing of the suit against Interior, which brought about the restraining order which halted draining.

Garrity's accusation brought another angry outcry from the audience, and a spokesman for the survival committee stated, "You left us with only one option when draining began at the lake and Interior officials refused to halt it without a court order. Did you expect us to wait around until you had drained off all of the water and were out of the woods?"

Max Hoffman Jr. of Umbarger, who helped organize the survival committee, then charged that Interior did not call last night's meeting until the day after the lake survival committee was mobilized last week.

An interior spokesman then admitted that Hoffman's allegation was true.

Concern over adequate funding for Buffalo Lake then surfaced, and a member of the crowd questioned if there was sufficient funding to operate Buffalo Lake in the event that it filled with water.

"Do you have adequate funds to run Buffalo Lake with water, or even without it?" asked the survival committee member.

An Interior representative admitted at that point that funding is not sufficient to operate Buffalo Lake, but added that the lack of funding had no bearing on the lake draining.

Gordon Hanson, a former manager at Buffalo Lake and an assistant director with the Interior, gave a brief history on the lake and indicated that Buffalo's low priority nationally as a recreation area had made it difficult to obtain funding for the area within the tight budget of the

Fed Funds May Be Skimpy

Hereford Sewage Treatment Studied

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

City Manager Dudley Bayne predicted Thursday that Hereford would receive little, if any, money from the federal government to upgrade its sewage treatment facilities even though its request for funds was to be studied today in Austin.

Approximately 600 Texas cities are competing for a limited amount of federal money for wastewater treatment projects. Those projects were to be studied in today's public hearing, conducted by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The state water board, in a 103-page report, has detailed projects in all state municipalities which have applied for federal assistance in upgrading or constructing sewage treatment plants. Hereford is among 10 Panhandle cities included in the report.

In that report, the water board ranked cities according to the priority of their projects. Hereford ranks 122nd in priority.

"They're going to determine Friday (today) which applications have the best priority," Bayne said. "We stand a very slight chance of getting anything at all, and I don't think we'll get a cent."

"What they're going to do is look at every system, and whoever is in the most violation will get the most money. Of course, that will be your biggest cities. If we were the only ones who applied, we would get our money, but there are a lot of cities requesting funds."

Bayne told the city commission in a meeting earlier this month that federal money would be unavailable to Hereford for the next few years because of larger cities' higher priority. He also recommended that the commission call for a bond election to upgrade both the sewage and water systems.

A successful bond issue would result in five new wells, a one million gallon ground storage tank and additional collector lines for the water system and additional lines and a primary clarifier for the sewage treatment plant.

The primary clarifier would separate waste into two flows to ease the load as sewage enters the treatment plant.

Bayne told the commission in that same meeting that some sewage lines in the city are flowing at near-capacity.

Cities are ranked in either Step 1, 2 or 3, depending on how advanced plans for treatment facilities have progressed. Hereford is in Step 1, which includes projects which have not yet had plans approved by the state water board. Plans in the other two steps have been approved and are ready for site-preparation funding.

Even though Hereford has requested more than $500,000 for overhauling the waste-treatment system, the water board has designated only $28,000 of that as the city's immediate need.

"About 2 1/2 years, we requested more than $200,000 for our collector lines. We amended it this year to more than $500,000, which would include the primary clarifier. This $28,000 is for the engineering study on our first request," Bayne said.

Courts Say Reporters Can't Sue over Meetings

By The Associated Press

Two different courts have told news reporters in Abilene and Beaumont they cannot sue city governments over private meetings because newspapers and television stations do not qualify as injured persons in such cases.

News media in both cities had tried to sue their local governments to force them to open private meetings which the press claimed should be public under the Texas Open Meetings Act.

But the 11th Civil Court of Appeals in Eastland, Texas, said Thursday the Abilene Reporter-News and KRBC-TV failed to show they had suffered a special or peculiar damage not shared by the general public.

The newspaper and television station sued when their reporters were barred from a meeting held by Abilene's Equal Employment Opportunity Board last November.

A District Court ruled in January that all meetings of the city council and any of its boards must be open to the public. But the appellate court overturned that ruling, saying the news media lacked "standing" to bring suit.

The plaintiffs argued the Texas Open Meetings Law allows "any interested person" to sue. However, the appeals court said the phrase "any interest

Listening to Feds

Members of the Buffalo Lake Survival committee and concerned citizens focus intense interest on statements by officials of the Interior Department and the Fish and Wildlife Service during a public hearing on the draining of Buffalo Lake last night in Canyon. Citizens, including a number of Hereford residents, were on hand to seek out the reasoning behind the recent decision to drain the lake, revitalized by heavy rains in late May. Those in attendance were startled to learn that water was actually being drained from Buffalo at 10 times the rate Interior officials testified to during a session which led to the issuance of a restraining order against further draining on Monday. A hearing on a preliminary injunction against further draining is underway today in Lubbock.

August Constructions Push Yearly Permits Past $4 Million

City building permits have passed the $4 million mark, thanks to a $165,000 warehouse and cleaning facility at George Warner Seed Co. and an overall productive construction month in August.

There were 35 permits issued for new buildings worth $659,500 in August, the second-best month this year and a complete turnaround from July's $297,600 figure.

The 1978 building total now stands at $4,151,180. For the city to surpass last year's second-highest construction total in history, it will have to average $409,500 for the remaining four months. Hereford's building permits last year totaled $5,789,180.

Single-family residences comprises more than half of August's building total, with 13 starts for $380,600. John Craig Builders were responsible for six of those starts, worth $148,100.

August building permits included: John Craig, six residences, $22,700, $25,400, $25,400, $25,400, $25,400, $23,800; Charles W. Cobb, move-in storage, $3,100; Contemporary Building Co., storage, $3,000; Williams Construction, two residences, $56,000, $56,000; Central Truck Brakers Inc., add-to-office, $2,000; Bill Gentzel, storage, $300; Florence Vaught, add-to residence, $7,000; Don Lane, garage, $3,500; Don Lane, move-in residence, $10,000; L.S. Compton, covered patio, $250; Marvin Sinclair, two residences, $28,000, $28,000.

Terry Watson, storage, $700; Jonnie Cloud, enclose patio, $2,100; Chaparral Builders, addition to residence, $25,400;

J.T. Boyton, move-in tanks and pumps, $8,000; Albert Barrera, residence, $30,000; Chloe Rippey, storage, $100; Jim Williams, enclose porch, $100; George Warner Seed Co., metal warehouse, $165,000; Richard Burch, residence, $55,000; Perry Ray, cellar, $500; Vincent Garcia, move-in mobile home, $15,000; Weldon Toews, carport, $250; Natividia Torres Jr., add-on garage, $2,000; and Marcus Matthews, addition to residence, $7,500.

Unemployment Drops To 2nd-Lowest Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Unemployment declined to 5.9 percent in August, the second time it has dipped below 6 percent this year, as more women and teen-agers found jobs, the Labor Department reported today.

The drop from the July unemployment level of 6.2 percent gave the Carter administration and the public their first favorable economic news of the week following several days of generally "wait-and-see" developments. These included a report pointing to a possible slowdown in economic growth.

The Labor Department said total employment increased in August by 160,000 jobs to a total of 94.6 million, while unemployment dropped by 225,000 to just under 6 million.

The August unemployment rate was the second lowest of the year, bettered only by June's 5.7 percent, a figure that was said to be artificially low because of statistical problems.

Except for the two drops below 6 percent, the unemployment rate has fluctuated between 6 percent and 6.2 percent this year.

The August report was sure to cheer administration economists, who have been trying to slow the economy to dampen inflation, but without significantly increasing unemployment.

The Labor Department said most of the employment gains in August occurred among adult women and teen-agers, with some gains for black workers as well.

It gave the following breakdown on unemployment in August for various population groups, compared with the July level:

• Adult men 4.1 percent, unchanged.
• Adult women 6.1 percent down from 6.5 percent.

• Teen-agers 15.6 percent, down from 16.3.

• Whites 5.2 percent, down from 5.3.
• Blacks and other minorities 11.7 percent, down from 12.5.

• Full-time workers 5.5 percent, down from 5.7.

• White collar workers 3.5 percent, down from 3.8.

• Blue-collar workers 7 percent, up from 6.9.

Most of the new jobs were in service industries, especially wholesale and retail trade, where employment increased by

Cattle, Corn, Potato Prices Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) - Led by lower prices for cattle, corn and several other commodities, the government's index of prices received by farmers dropped in August for the second straight month.

The Agriculture Department said on Thursday that lower prices for potatoes, broilers and apples also contributed to the decline. But higher prices were reported for hogs, milk and eggs, the department's Crop Reporting Board said.

Overall, the August farm price index was down almost 3 percent from July, when it dipped 1 percent. Before that, farm prices on the whole rose for nine consecutive months.

The August price index still was 20 percent higher than it was a year ago, the report said.

Meanwhile, prices that farmers pay to meet expenses held steady in August but still averaged 9 percent above a year ago.

With a record 6.5 billion-bushel corn crop estimated for harvest this fall, corn prices at the farm nationally averaged $1.99 last month, down from $2.16 in July.

Wheat prices dropped just a penny during the month to a farm average of $2.79 in August, based on the preliminary figures.

Beef cattle - which includes all types sold for beef - brought $48.80 per 100 pounds, down $1 from July. Hogs, at $47.50 per hundredweight, were up $2.30 from a month earlier.

The parity ratio last month was 70 percent, down from 72 in July. A year ago, the indicator - which theoretically at 100 percent would give farmers the same buying power they had at the turn of the century - was 64 percent.

Vociferous Coach

Hereford High head football coach Don Cumpton has been a busy speaker this week, advertising his Whitefaces, who are about to open the season. Cumpton spoke this week to the Rotary Club, Lions Club and Booster Club, asking people in all three groups to attend the controlled scrimmage between Hereford and Amarillo Tascosa at 7:30 p.m. today in Whiteface Stadium. The Herd opens the regular season next Friday night at home against Pampa.

Judge To Rule On McInnis' Future

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) - Indicted Hidalgo County District Attorney Oscar McInnis may find out today if a judge is going to allow a state council to seek McInnis' ouster.

Last week, State District Judge Joe B. Evins approved a temporary restraining order barring the Texas Prosecutors Coordinating Council from filing a removal suit against McInnis.

Representatives of the council were to argue their case before Evins here today. Chairman Richard Hatch has said he believes the council has the power to seek McInnis' removal pending the outcome of the indictments.

The longtime South Texas prosecutor was named in a federal indictment alleging he plotted to have a friend's ex-husband kidnapped and killed. Further indictments charged McInnis lied to federal grand jurors when quizzed about the alleged plot.

The prosecutors council - a new state body conducting its first investigation - has been looking into the McInnis situation. At an Austin hearing two weeks ago the council voted to file the removal suit.

But McInnis' attorneys sought and were granted the restraining order against the council.

Documents filed in Austin stated the council had found "good cause to file an action against Oscar McInnis... For misconduct, namely, aggravated perjury and perjury in connection with the testimony before the federal grand jury... and solicitation and conspiracy to murder."

Closing Arguments Set in Davis Hearing

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) - Defense and prosecution attorneys had a last chance this morning to polish their cases with final arguments in millionaire Cullen Davis' bond hearing.

Presiding judge Arthur Tipps said he would rule today on whether the Fort Worth industrialist can be freed on bond while he awaits trial on a charge of solicitation of capital murder.

The defense rested its case late Thursday after seven days of sensational testimony.

It was two years ago this week - Aug. 27, 1976 - that Davis, facing two charges of capital murder and two more for attempted murder, found himself in a courtroom not 50 feet away from where Tipps is presiding, listening to another judge order him held without bond.

That ruling began a 15-month-long bid for freedom that ended less than 10 months ago with an acquittal on a charge of capital murder in the shooting death of his 12-year-old stepdaughter.

Then and now, a cool mask of inscrutability hides the tempest some witnesses have said simmers inside the unassuming industrialist.

Davis, 44, was arrested again Aug. 20 by state and federal authorities. This time the charges are solicitation of capital murder and carrying an illegal weapon - a .22-caliber pistol with a silencer.

Prosecutors claim he hired a "hit man" to kill District Judge Joe Eidson, who has presided over the bitter, 4-year-old divorce suit filed by Davis' estranged wife, Priscilla.

Postal Service, Unions Return to Bargaining

WASHINGTON (AP) - In what may be the final effort to avoid an illegal mail strike, the Postal Service and three unions representing more than a half-million postal workers are returning to the bargaining table for 15 more days of talks.

The new round of negotiations beginning today with the help of a seasoned labor trouble-shooter, James J. Healy, as mediator is the latest chapter in a contract dispute that began 4 1/2 months ago.

Meanwhile, lawyers for both sides were due in federal court to argue on whether a judge's restraining order against a postal strike should be upgraded to an injunction. Union leaders have not backed down from strike threats because of the restraining order.

In the new talks, the unions are expected to seek improvement of the 19.5 percent increases in wages and cost-of-living allowances contained in an earlier agreement which postal rank-and-file workers rejected. This money package is substantially below what coal miners and railroad workers have won this year.

Postal management is expected to try to rid itself of the no-layoff requirement it reluctantly accepted on the last day of the original three-month bargaining period. Postal managers would like to be able to lay off workers during periods when mail volume is low.

Group Says Tower Loyalty Misguided

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Sen. John Tower's fight against a bill regulating electronic fund transfers served the American Bankers Association, not his constituents, the Texas Consumer Association says.

Jim Boyle, the association's executive director, held a news conference Thursday to denounce Tower for opposing the bill.

Tower said he voted in committee against sending it to the Senate floor because Congress doesn't know enough about EFT yet to regulate it properly.

He denied he was threatening a filibuster, but he was formally notified the Senate leadership of his opposition.

"My understanding is the leadership is not going to bring it up for debate," Tower said.

Boyle said Tower's "hold" was fatal because the Senate leadership is reluctant to bring up controversial legislation that would delay other bills as this session of Congress winds down.

Boyle said the EFT bill has a high priority with consumers.

"Consumer groups across the country are vitally concerned about this," he said.

EFT is used mainly for automatic bank deposits, such as Social Security and payroll checks. All it takes is a simple electronic signal from computer to computer, he said.

Police Report

A police department spokesman said this morning that no offenses were reported Thursday night or early today.

Weather

West Texas - Fair north, considerable cloudiness south through Saturday with scattered showers and a few thunderstorms southeast and extreme south. Continued warm afternoons. Highs mainly in the 80s except 70s in the mountains. Lows 55 to 70. Highs Saturday 82 to 95 except middle 70s mountains.

Weddington Appointed Head Of Women's Issues Department

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sarah Weddington, a Texas attorney and advocate of abortion rights, was appointed Thursday to a $51,000-a-year job handling women's issues at the White House.

Press secretary Jody Powell specified that her job will differ from the one held until recently by Margaret "Midge" Costanza, the feisty, outspoken aide who resigned July 31 after her $56,000 position was downgraded in duties but not in salary.

Ms. Weddington's new title will be assistant to the president, while Ms. Costanza's title was special assistant to the president. Ms. Costanza's duties initially included responsibility for minorities as well as women.

Powell said Ms. Weddington will meet with White House aides beginning next week, but would be free to present my that she will retain her present title as general counsel for the Agriculture Department while winding up her responsibilities there during the next month.

Powell said Ms. Weddington will have an office within the White House, but said he did not know if it would be the same basement cubicle relegated to Ms. Costanza shortly before she resigned.

In an interview earlier Thursday, Ms. Weddington said President Carter asked her to draw up a definite strategy for the administration to win points with women.

"He wants to think in strategy terms," she said.

Ms. Weddington, 33, a native of Abilene, Texas, has been general counsel at the Agriculture Department for the last year. In her new job, Ms.

Weddington said she plans to: -Head the newly organized Interagency Task force on Women.

-Work closely with first lady Rosalynn Carter, who first offered her the job, as well as coordinate plans with top White House aides, Tim Kraft, Anne Wexler and Stuart Eizenstat.

-Represent the administration at various meetings around the country.

-Keep a list of women's names who are qualified for administration appointments.

Ms. Weddington differs strongly with Carter on the abortion issue. She said she discussed these differences with the president during a half-hour meeting just before he left for his western vacation.

"I raised it because I felt it was important for him to know how I felt," she said. "He said I views to the administration, but that once a decision had been made he expected I would abide by it."

Carter has said he opposes abortion for religious reasons and he opposes using federal funds to pay for abortion. As a private attorney, Ms. Weddington represented "Jane Roe," the pregnant Texas woman whose lawsuit led the Supreme Court to strike down state anti-abortion laws.

Ms. Weddington was later named president of the National Abortion Rights Action League.

Asked if she expects to change the president's position, Ms. Weddington, smiling broadly, said, "I didn't think it an appropriate time to ask, but I do think it's important for me to present my views. ... My way of dealing with those I work with is to be very up front about everything."

Economy Experts Say No Recession

CHICAGO (AP) - A panel of economic experts predicts a 7 percent inflation rate next year that will mean a sluggish economy, but no recession.

One of the forecasters cautioned that the consumer will be the "most vulnerable" in an economic downturn.

Former presidential advisor Alan Greenspan, now a financial consultant, and three other consultants said 1979 economic growth will drop below 3.5 percent, assuming Congress passes a proposed tax cut.

But Greenspan, chairman of the Council on Economic Advisors under President Ford, cautioned against taking predictions too seriously.

The consensus "doesn't mean anything. We're sort of huddling close and hope we're right," he said.

The economic forecasters gathered here for meetings of the American Economics Association and the American Finance Association.

In other predictions, interest rates will peak later this year

ELNA BISHOP SWEIS

Funeral services for a former Hereford resident, Mrs. Elna Bishop Sweis, 43, of Coolidge, Ariz. were held Thursday at Coolidge.

Burial was at Coolidge.

Mrs. Sweis lived in Hereford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bishop, for a number of years while her father operated an alfalfa dehydration mill. She graduated from Hereford High School in 1953.

After attending college at Abilene, she graduated with a bachelor of science degree at West Texas State University.

While she was working as a teacher at Dumas, she married Elmer Sweis, who is a native of Ammon, Jordan.

The couple moved to El Paso, where they both taught in the public school system. They later moved to Coolidge, where they again taught school. Mrs. Sweis had quit teaching in recent years.

Surviving her are her husband; a daughter, Emily, age 10; a son, Owen, age 9; her parents, who reside at Plainview; and a brother, Ivan Bishop of Tucson, Ariz.

RANDY WALVOORD

Services for Randall H. "Randy" Walvoord, 74, of Amarillo will be read at 4 p.m. Saturday in First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. Officiating will be Dr. James R. Carroll, pastor, and Dr. John F. Walvoord, president of Dallas Theological Seminary and brother of the deceased.

Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery, Amarillo, under direction of N.S. Griggs & Sons.

Mr. Walvoord, who died Thursday night in Amarillo, was the father of a Hereford resident, Mary Dziuk.

A resident of Amarillo since 1945, Mr. Walvoord was born in Sheboygan, Wis. He married Elizabeth Korn in 1927 at Waukesha, Wis.

He graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a degree in electrical engineering and was a member of the Professional Engineers Society. At the time of his death, Mr. Walvoord was employed as a sales engineer by G.E. Jones Electrical Co., where he had worked for 32 years.

Mr. Walvoord was a lifelong member and elder of the Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by the widow; four sons, David and Gary both of Amarillo, John of Carrollton, and Randy of North Lauderdale, Fla.; two daughters, Mary Dziuk of Hereford and Betty Jo Dillon of Houston; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Jo Ann Forbes, who died in 1958.

The family will be at 3300 Palmetto St. in Amarillo. Memorials are suggested to the American Heart Association.

Buffalo Lake

Fish and Wildlife Service.

"The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service recognizes the concern in the area to maintain water recreation at Buffalo Lake, and will continue to work for maximum recreational use that will not interfere with the wildlife aims of the refuge or its funding," said Hanson.

He outlined steps the department would take to improve conditions at Buffalo after draining.

"We will seek an early settlement of repair versus drawing down of the lake. To as great an extent as possible, we will continue the public use policy of skiing, camping, boating and picnicking. We are willing to respond to any attempts to determine the availability of a dependable water supply and to correct the safety problem at the spillway, and we welcome any citizen's group that might advise us of conditions of concern to the general public at the lake," said Hanson.

An Interior hydrologist explained the actual problems with the Buffalo spillway, stating that concern arose over a combination of defective design and deterioration.

"The current design causes water to turn as it comes around the corner of the spillway, and could wash out a portion of one wall. A 60 ft. section of the spillway wall has settled 4-5 inches. There are voids beneath the spillway and no rebar is visible in the concrete. There has been no maintenance on the spillway in at least 20 years," the hydrologist stated.

He added that repairs would probably require the removal of some concrete, restructuring, installing drains and turning beams, and probably widening the spillway.

A 1967 study at the spillway estimated cost of repairing the structure at $2 million, and the hydrologist estimated that it would take 18 months to complete any such repairs.

State representatives Bob Price and Bob Simpson were on hand for the meeting, and pointed out that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department could not take over any such defective structure, and that an act of Congress would probably be required before Buffalo could be passed into state hands.

"We will help you all we can on the state level, but the Texas legislature isn't going to want to pay for a federal boondoggle," stated Price.

Most other economic developments this week have pointed to a weakening of the economy across the board, including:

-A drop of 0.7 percent in the government's index of leading economic indicators, designed to foreshadow economic trends. The July decline was the first since January.

-A 3.8 percent drop in new orders for factor goods in July, the second straight decline and the largest in this key indicator of future economic performance in nearly four years.

-A trade deficit of nearly $3 billion in July, the fourth largest on record, which sent the dollar into a new tailspin on world money markets.

-An increase in interest rates engineered by the Federal Reserve Board in an attempt to support the dollar, but which also tends to slow the economy.

-An admission by the administration's chief inflation adviser, Robert S. Strauss, that the year will end with an inflation rate of about 8 percent, up from the administration's earlier revised forecast of 7.2 percent.

-A prediction by Henry Wallich, a member of the Federal Reserve Board, that inflation may top 8 percent next year.

-The Labor Department's report that prices of goods other than food increased 0.7 percent in July - matching the figures for previous months and equaling an annual increase of 8.5 percent - even though grocery prices declined for the first time in a year.

negotiations unless it can show it would suffer actual damages if it did not.

King said the newspaper have "no judicial interests in negotiations sufficient to maintain the action" brought against the city and the union.

Wall said the only grounds for individual action against the city would be if the individual could show specific damages were caused by a government decision.

"The Enterprise Co. failed to show that it was in any way damaged by not sitting in on the negotiations," the judge said.

Economy

80,000.

The department said employment in manufacturing declined by 50,000, with job losses in the food processing, paper products and rubber and plastics industries.

"Following relatively large gains in the first three months of the year, overall employment growth in manufacturing has been rather sluggish," it said.

The industrial employment report is tabulated from different statistics than the survey on overall employment in the economy.

The Labor Department said the nation's labor force totaled 100.5 million in August, virtually unchanged from the levels of the previous two months but up 2.7 million from August 1977.

Newspapers

from bargaining sessions Aug. 10, argued Texas law entitled him or any citizen to sit in on joint negotiations in which public dollars are at stake.

But the court agreed with City Attorney Ken Wall, who said the newspaper has no special right to observe the contract

Nixon Australia Visit Nixed

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) - Former President Richard M. Nixon has been denied a request to visit Australia next month and meet with Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser, senior government sources said Thursday.

Nixon was advised of the denial Wednesday by the Australian Embassy in Washington, the sources said. They said he was told such a visit in September or October would be "inopportune" because of a "heavy program" of official foreign visits already scheduled.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, said the nature of Nixon's visit would have been official, even though he holds no office, because he wanted to see Fraser and Foreign Minister Andrew Peacock.

Nixon, who resigned in 1974 because of the Watergate scandal, made his overtures to Australia through its Washington embassy, and indicated at the time he planned to visit China, other Asian points, Europe and the Middle East after Australia, the sources said.

The Australian denial, "couched in the most polite terms," was made after officials here conferred with the Carter administration and were advised the decision "was up to Australia," the sources said.

Teen Dance Tomorrow Not Today

It has been incorrectly reported in The Brand that a Teen Dance is to be held tonight at the Community Center. The dance will be held tomorrow from 8-12 midnight at the Community Center. Admission cost for the dance is $3 per person and $5 for a couple. The Hereford High School twirlers are sponsoring the dance at which "Young Country Sounds" will be providing music.

WOMEN BANKERS PROVE SUCCESSFUL NEW YORK (AP) — Since the four Westchester offices of Barclays Bank of New York have been staffed entirely by women, business in those offices has doubled, reports John Whicker, president of the bank. "Since our staff has been all female," says Sandra Ross, manager of the bank's office in Yorktown Heights, "turnover of personnel has been reduced dramatically, absenteeism has been curtailed and morale in terms of upward mobility opportunities has been greatly reinforced."

Sunday Carnival To Benefit MDA

The yearly Muscular Dystrophy Carnival staged each year by the Hereford BPOE Elks Lodge #2269 will be held Sunday in Dameron Park. Carnival chairman, Mort McCullough reported that last year's carnival netted $5,570 for the MD Association. The 1978 carnival here raised $3,460. The Elks and Elkettes have been taking donations from local merchants throughout the summer months in preparation for the benefit carnival. Among the carnival events planned are a dunking board, bingo, cake walk, penny pitch, basket throws, darts, fishing pond, and a concession stand and other games.

Ann Landers Kidney Patient Speaks

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My name is Don. Two years ago, on June 16, I received a phone call from a hospital in Indianapolis to say they had found a kidney for me. The dream I had been waiting for two years had come true. I was going to have a kidney transplant. It would be my 40th operation, and the most serious. I was at the hospital in 45 minutes. The doctors did tests and when the results came back they gave the go-ahead for the transplant. At 5:00 p.m. I was in the operating room. Six hours later, I woke up with a new kidney. I had been on dialysis for over a year and spent approximately 795 hours hooked up to the machine, unable to walk more than a few feet away. I can describe what it's like in one sentence: It's a life-saving hell. Without it you die. It's that simple. It's hell because you are a slave to the machine for three days a week, five hours each time. When a guy is 17, which is how old I am, he doesn't have time for much else. When I got my transplant I was free. I could go anywhere and do almost anything. For the first time in three years, last summer our family finally took a vacation. I would like to beg and plead with anyone who reads this. PLEASE, for the sake of thousands of people in the USA who can't see and need eyes, and people who need kidneys, hearts, or livers, PLEASE become organ donors. My kidney came from a traffic victim who was wise enough to know that he would not need his kidneys if he should die, so he made plans to leave them to someone whose life depended on them. I was the lucky one. People are on machines every day. Some have been there for over ten years. The reason they are still on machines is the lack of donors. In most states you can become a donor when you are getting your driver's license. In all states, a uniform doctor card is a legal document. If you are the kind of a person who is saying, "No one wants any part of me," you are wrong. For every person who passes away, he, or she, could help six different people. Thank you, Ann, for letting me use your column to say what is in my heart. I hope I helped someone. -- Don. DEAR DON: It is you who deserves the thanks. Anyone who wants to be a donor (eyes and/or kidneys) should write to The National Kidney Foundation, Box 353, New York, N.Y. 10016. DEAR ANN: My 41-year-old husband spends a fortune on wheat germ, dried alfalfa, vitamins and health-store foods. Does this stuff do any good? He also eats a lot of raw and uncooked foods because he thinks they will give him the needed enzymes. Frankly, I think he is being ripped off. Will you settle this once and for all? -- Wife Of A Health Nut DEAR WIFE: An excellent book on the subject of food fads and phonies is "Eat O.K. -- Feel O.K.," by Fredrick J. Stare, M.D., and Elizabeth Wehlan, Sc.D. (The Christopher Publishing House, N. Quincy, Mass.) The price is $9.95. Your husband will save a lot more than the price of this book when he stops buying some of that useless junk. He will also learn which foods are REALLY beneficial. CONFIDENTIAL To Trapped Again: The most difficult thing about spare time is how to prevent people from using yours. There is no substitute for frankness. Either you assert yourself and refuse to be taken over or be prepared to get moved in on.

Expressing Gratitude

H D Clubs Build Around Corners

A different style - their own - is what several area clubs use to solve problems in their local communities. Members of the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs build their programs around family and community concerns their own way. Then they carry out some solutions, says Joyce Shipp, County Extension Agent. Many ideas come from new members, so the clubs constantly search for them. That's one trait they all share. Also, they balance their special programs with traditional ones, such as living and related areas. But showing unique ideas and putting them to work for families and communities is the most exciting part, members say. Palo Duro Home Demonstration Club members in Hereford agree. They discovered they shared an interest in senior citizens. So, in addition to regular club work, they decorated doors at Westgate Nursing Home for Christmas. Special programs such as this are catching on across the entire state, too, as other Home Demonstration Clubs approach their programs with today's feeling of an individual freedom and worth that depends on each person's ideas and contributions, Mrs. Shipp explains. In Dimmitt, the Town and Country Home Demonstration Club has a special interest in meeting challenges and in singing, as well as one in health-their major subject of study and action. Recently their community-wide efforts netted 103 pints of blood from individual donors - 53 more than Dimmitt needed to remain an active part of the volunteer blood donation program of the Coffee Memorial Blood Center in Amarillo. In addition, the club's efforts brought to life a local awareness and a long-range commitment to that program itself and other programs in health. For fun, the Town and Country Club also organized a 50-voice mixed chorus one season. It included a professional pianist and director, along with local people from several other professions, many of whom were husband-wife duos. As a volunteer chorus, they sang together once a month and performed for other county groups. "but, mainly, they created their own style - and they shared it," Mrs. Shipp said.

BE A FRIEND, HAVE A FRIEND

JOAN DWYER DIRECTOR

Say "I'm Fine"!
 I dropped by a hospital room this morning to say hello to the mother of a good friend. Her mother had surgery 3 days ago. If you're a veteran patient, you know that the 3rd day is the toughest one. (I never have questioned this phenomenon, or asked "why?" Nobody wants to show their ignorance around the whitey clad genre.) Anyway, Nellie Nurse came by and asked, "How are you feeling?" The patient automatically answered, "Fine." She quickly corrected herself and said, "I'm not really fine; I don't know why I said that." The emphatic nurse added that sometimes if we say we're great, even when we're not, the positive attitude helps to get our minds set in that direction. This theory works for me too. Zig Zigler suggests that I bounce up in the morning; clap my hands, and say out loud, "What a fantastic day!" And when I'm in the street and someone inquires, I'll say, "I'm fine."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

COMMENTARY Donald F. Graff

Outspoken Andy

What about Andy Young? In the crowd of professionally close-mouthed diplomats, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations is a headline-making standout as one whose vocabulary evidently does not contain the words "no comment."

With his offhand reference to "political prisoners" in the United States, has he shot from the lip once too often? There is a growing body of opinion that thinks — or hopes — the heated response in this case indicates he has.

Item: President Carter, who has defended or kept silent on previous displays of Young's penchant for eloquent but undiplomatic self-expression, this time has been constrained to a public expression of displeasure.

Item: The current titleholder as most powerful man in the U.S. Senate, Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, says just one more "irresponsible statement" and Young must go. House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill takes a milder but still critical tone, suggesting the ambassador should have "curbed his tongue."

Item: Proving that there's still life in bipartisanship when the occasion calls for it, Republican National Chairman William Brock notes the harm to U.S. foreign policy and, incidentally, to "the president and his party."

For the record, the prisoner remark consisted of one sentence in a lengthy interview with the Paris newspaper Le Matin. It arose in connection with the current propaganda trials in the Soviet Union, about which Young had more to say:

"I think that the present Soviet dissidents could well be the salvation of the Soviet Union. They are a natural development of Soviet society which the leaders haven't yet understood."

A succinct wrapping up of both political and human rights positions of the United States, which by itself probably would have won Young a diplomatic gold star.

He has already earned a number. The inside word, usually diplomatically as both a forceful personality and an articulate advocate of U.S. policy. He has been notably effective in winning a friendlier attitude and influencing more favorable political alignments among African and other Third World nations.

He has been a voice in the Carter administration against extreme positions on Angola and inclinations to pull a few French maroons out of various fires — the Le Matin interview included a pointed critique of France's role in the Shaba crisis and its general neo-colonialist policy in Africa.

When it comes to giving practical effect to open diplomacy and honesty in government, Andrew Young has few peers. He could never be faulted for not speaking his mind. But speaking out does not preclude a careful choice of words to be spoken, a truism the ambassador tends to overlook on unfortunate occasion.

Young likely will ride out this storm. Even Senator Byrd says he has one more chance.

But should his outspokenness continue, his real problem may be not his critics but his supporters. Tass has spoken up for him in this instance, and also a prominent African — Uganda's Idi Amin.

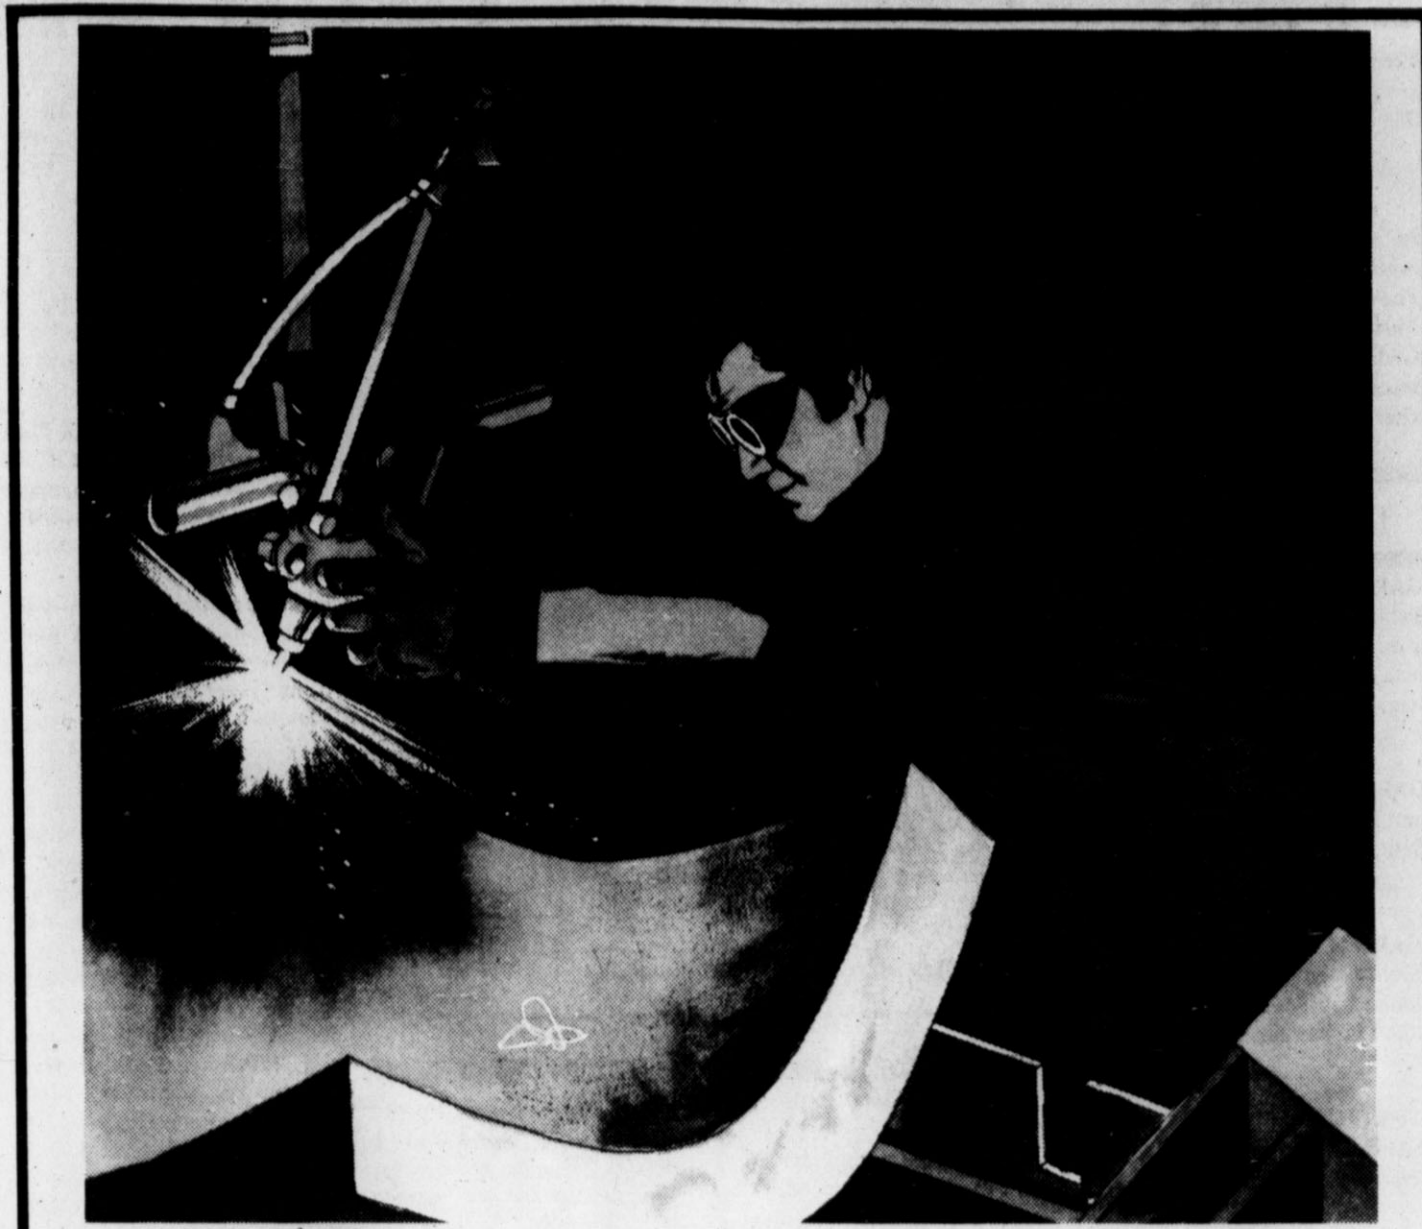

Little attention is ever paid to what the Soviet agency says. But considering the public relations standing of the Ugandan tyrant, that's the sort of endorsement that could really hurt.

For God So Loved The World

Labor Day marks the official end of the summer season, and the fact that it is celebrated by more than one great land is a testimony to the fact of human nature it was designed to commemorate: that work is the most indispensable element for the progress of any society of human beings. Faith in God has always inspired our working men and women in their untiring efforts, with the result that we enjoy the highest possible standard of living and spirit of cooperation for the benefit of all. Honor the workers of this country for a job well done, by attending the Church of your choice, where you will learn that both faith and dedication to duty are vital parts of the good life

Cuban Government Approves Freedom for Fed Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Castro government has decided to allow 48 Cuban political prisoners to seek entry to the United States and U.S. authorities will soon begin screening them to determine which will be admitted, the Justice Department announced Thursday.
Attorney General Griffin B. Bell said in a statement that the Cuban government has already released some of the prisoners and more will be released soon. All of the persons are still in Cuba.
A Justice Department spokesman Terrence B. Adamson, said 30 members of the prisoners' families also are seeking entry to the United States. He said that ultimately as many as 1,000 Cubans may apply for entry under the program.
Adamson said the Castro government initiated the procedure about two weeks ago when it disclosed to State Department officials in Havana that it was willing to let the prisoners emigrate.
A screening team, which has not yet been chosen, will travel to Havana to interview the applicants and the FBI and the Immigration and Naturalization Service will help in investigating their backgrounds.
Adamson said the screening would seek to determine that the political prisoners are "not spies, terrorists or common criminals."

He refused to disclose any of the names of the prisoners but said that there may be a couple who were arrested by the Cubans during the Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961.

Umps to Stay Behind Plate While Talks Go On

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - A federal judge has ordered major league baseball umpires to remain on the job while lawyers try to untangle a complicated legal rhabarb.

The umpires staged a one-day walkout Aug. 25 after charging both the American and National leagues with unfair labor practices.

The stoppage spread to 13 major league cities before U.S. District Court Judge Joseph L. McGlynn Jr. ordered the officials back to work, replacing college and retired professional umpires who had filled in.

Thursday, the judge extended his temporary restraining order indefinitely, giving both sides until Sept. 15 to file legal briefs which will clarify their arguments.

That came after a two-day hearing on a league motion for a temporary injunction, aimed at keeping the umpires on the field once the temporary restraining order expires Sept. 4.

Richie Phillips, attorney for the 52-member Major League Umpires Association, had made it clear the arbiters would resume the strike if and when injunction expired.

The dispute, brewing since spring, came to a head Aug. 16 when the association sent an eight-page telegram to AL President Lee MacPhail and NL President Chub Feeney demanding 21 improvements in a contract that doesn't expire until 1981.

The demands include cost-of-living benefits, job and union security and adjustments in travel expenses.

The umpires contend the five-year agreement, which contains a no-strike clause, is not binding because association officials never signed it, nor gave their attorney authority to, and because it does not cover all the mandatory subjects of collective bargaining. Agreement was reached March 1, 1977.

"For almost a year and a half there has been almost complete silence by the umpires - until the thunderbolt two weeks ago the telegram followed by the strike," Theodore Martineau, counsel for the two leagues, told the judge Thursday. "Since then, baseball has been on the tenderhooks."

The umpires contend they didn't say anything because they didn't know anything was wrong until about a year after the March 1, 1977 settlement. Seven umpires, all members of the association's executive board, testified that it wasn't until late February or early March of this year that they received a printed copy of the contract. It was then, they said, they discovered errors and omissions.

"We started going over this thing at spring training this year, and we said, 'Hey, this isn't what we agreed to.' And we realized we had an incompetent lawyer, and that a lot of things had slipped through," testified Jim Evans, an AL umpire since 1971.

The contract was signed Feeney, MacPhail and by the association's former attorney, John Cifelli.

"John Cifelli didn't take care of things. He wouldn't brief us on what was going on," testified AL umpire David Phillips. "We had different guys at different meetings. It was chaos."

Tascosa is rated 2nd in the preseason polls.

Cumpton will have the services of last year's leading district rusher, Paul Bell. Plus, Jackie Mercer, Robert Graves, Mike Kerr, Ronald Lucero, Glen Yosten, Bud Hughes, Steve Sauter, Jay Montgomery, and Buzzy Abalos.

Assistant coaches this year include Lester Kirkland, Gary Goodin, Rodney Murphy, Dany Haney, Kenny Barnes, Stacy Bixler, Raymond Schroeder and David Ashby.

Head trainer is Larry Walls.

Hereford, Tascosa Scrimmage Tonight

Amarillo Tascosa visits Whiteface Stadium this evening at 7:30 p.m. during a controlled scrimmage.

The Whitefaces plan to use the scrimmage as a tough practice session and see how far along they are on offense and defense.

Hereford will enter the scrimmage without the services of two players, nose guard James Dudding and tackle Eliseo Gomez.

Gomez reportedly hurt his ankle this week and is expected to see action soon, but Dudding underwent knee surgery Wednesday.

Coach Don Cumpton said Dudding suffered a left knee injury. He is expected to be out the rest of the season.

Cumpton mentioned there probably wouldn't have been any field goal kicking anyway during the scrimmage but now a replacement must be found.

Hereford opens their season next Friday against the Pampa Harvesters at Whiteface Stadium.

Tascosa, 9-2 a year ago and District 3-AAAA champions, are not expected to field as strong a team as a year ago, but Cumpton reminded they are always big and tough, especially

Walton to Meet With Trail Blazers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Bill Walton will meet with Portland Trail Blazers owner Larry Weinberg in the next few days to discuss a possible reconciliation with the National Basketball Association club.

Walton, voted the Most Valuable Player in the NBA last season, has asked to be traded to the Golden State Warriors, and Trail Blazers officials said they would try to accommodate him.

He cited the team's medical policies, specifically regarding the use of pain-killing injections to keep injured players in the lineup, as a reason for wanting to leave.

But the possibility of Walton's return to the team he led to the NBA championship in 1977 surfaced Thursday when the 6-foot-11 center's friend and agent, Jack Scott, revealed the planned meeting with Weinberg in interviews with the Portland Oregonian and television station KATU.

Trail Blazer publicist John White confirmed the report, saying Walton had asked Weinberg, through an intermediary, to meet with him.

Scott, who was in San Francisco when he revealed the planned meeting, said Walton and Weinberg would meet in Los Angeles "one-on-one, with no agents around."

"If they have a meeting of the minds," Scott said of Walton and Weinberg, "it's quite possible that next week Bill Walton will be a Portland Trail Blazer again and everything will not be a meeting of the minds. There's no way to predict."

White said Glickman told him that Walton's intermediary asked for the meeting in a telephone call from San Francisco Thursday.

The team had announced Aug. 4 it had agreed to the 6-foot-11 center's request to be traded to another NBA team. After talking with representatives of several teams, Walton announced, through Scott, that he had chosen the Golden State Warriors.

Walton has made no public statements since the team's Aug. 4 announcement. Scott told the Oregonian that he felt there was one valid criticism of Walton's handling of his problems with Blazer management.

"That was that Bill maybe could have done more to correct the situation, rather than just leave it," Scott said.

"When he asked me my personal opinion I told him that if certain problems could be resolved, I personally thought Bill Walton could never find a better place to play basketball than Portland."

Scott added, "I give Bill the information; he makes his own decisions."

Thursday Rains Delay BC Golf Tourney

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) - Lee Trevino and 149 other professional golfers tried again today to start the $225,000 BC Open Golf Tournament.

Constant rains drenched the Em Joie Golf course Thursday and postponed the opening round. Tournament officials decided to run the event today through Labor Day on the 6,903-yard, par-71 course.

Last year's runner-up, Lee Elder, withdrew from the tournament because of the death of a close friend.

Other pretournament favorites include U.S. Open champion Andy North, PGA champion John Mahaffey and the last year's BC Open winner, Gil Morgan.

The delay could boost attendance for the four-day tournament, which will now end on a holiday, officials said.

"We are used to any disaster," said Alex Alexander, the tournament director.

"We're not concerned at all. We can't play Gold. We'll handle any situation and we'll handle this."

The weather was expected to clear over the area by this morning.

The winner of this tournament, named after a cartoon strip, will take home $45,000.

Diablos Rout Amarillo

By The Associated Press
Midland, San Antonio and El Paso were tied for the lead in the Texas League West today and Jackson held a slim lead over Arkansas as second half play neared completion.

The last games of the second half are scheduled to be played Saturday night.

Midland and El Paso managed to move into first place with San Antonio as El Paso blasted Amarillo, 12-1, and Midland edged San Antonio, 4-1. San Antonio entered Thursday's games alone in first place.

In the Texas League East, Jackson swept a doubleheader from Tulsa to remain 1½ games ahead of Arkansas with two to play. Jackson won the opener, 4-0, and took the night cap, 2-1. Arkansas also swept a twin bill, beating Shreveport by scores of 7-6 and 5-2 to stay close.

Kevin Drury put on a virtual one-man show for the Midland Cubs in the 4-1 victory over San Antonio. Drury sacrificed home a run in the first, double home a run, stole third base and scored on a single in the sixth inning and singled and scored on a wild pitch in the eighth.

George Riley, now 5-3, was the winning Midland pitcher. Gerald Hannah, now 9-6, was the losing Dodgers pitcher.

El Paso stayed in the second half championship chase by unleashing a 19-hit attack against Amarillo in the 12-1 rout. The Diablos had four runs the second and four in the seventh. Chuck Porter limited the Gold Sox to only six hits to pick up the victory. He is 10-5. John Yandle, now 5-10, was the loser.

The Arkansas Travelers moved to within 1½ games of Jackson in the Texas League East by combining the three-hit pitching of Earl Bass in the nightcap and taking advantage of mistakes by the Shreveport Captains in the opener.

In the opener, Arkansas scored five runs in the third inning off Shreveport starter and losing pitcher Randy Tate. The Travelers scored on walks, wild pitches, two errors and a balk by Tate, now 2-8. Picking up the victory was relief pitcher John Littlefield, now 9-7.

Bass allowed only three hits in the nightcap.

Girl Files Suit To Play Baseball

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A suit was filed in federal court Thursday to allow high school girls to play varsity baseball with boys.

The American Civil Liberties Foundation of Texas, Inc., (ACLFT) and Women's Equity Action League filed the class action suit on behalf of Pamela Jacobs, 15, a sophomore at Wells High School in Cherokee County.

The suit challenges a University Interscholastic League rule that permits only boys to play baseball, as well as football. The UIL provides softball programs for girls.

In the Wells district, however, the only girls' sports are basketball and track.

ACLFT lawyer John Buckley said the suit is directed solely at opening up baseball to girls.

U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals of Houston ruled in the spring that Linda Williams of Houston Wheatley could play on the boys team, but the UIL said the ruling applied only to Williams.

Williams, the UIL said, batted nine times without a hit, striking out eight times and grounding out once. She made five fielding errors as an outfielder and quit before the season ended," the UIL said.

ACLFT said Jacobs made the first baseball team organized at Wells, a Class B school, as a ninth grader this past spring.

She was forced off the squad after three games. ACLFT said, by a UIL directive that the Williams ruling did not mean that all girls could play baseball.

UIL director Bailey Marshall's letter said superintendents should discourage parents from going to court "since the next judge may go beyond deciding for one school with a definite set of circumstances."

ACLFT said Wells school officials asked Jacobs to leave the team so that the school could retain its eligibility in baseball.

But Supt. Thomas Fields of Wells said in a letter to the Texas Education Agency that the girl quit "because she feared she would jeopardize our UIL membership if she played."

ACLFT said the league rule discriminates on the basis of sex, which is forbidden by the U.S. and Texas constitutions - specifically the state equal rights amendment - the federal civil rights act and the state discrimination law.

It attached a letter from Gilbert Conoley of the state education agency stating that the UIL rule seems to be "contrary" to federal law Title IX. Conoley suggested that Fields contact John Bill of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Dallas for clarification.

Marshall was not available for comment Thursday, but UIL athletic director Bill Forney said, "Some people just don't want to be told no."

Football Flood Due Over Networks

An unprecedented flood of pro football begins pouring into the nation's living rooms this weekend and the big questions are: Can Jayne Kennedy pick up where Phyllis George left off? Will Curt Gowdy or Dick Enberg emerge as No. 1 at NBC? What will Dandy Don reply when Howard says something outrageous?

And last but not least... Is the world ready for Thursday night football?

These and other fascinating questions will be answered as the three networks, working on the first year of an amazing four-year, estimated $656 million contract with the National Football League, televise a total of 232 games, including both regional and national games.

Basically, ABC and CBS are standing pat with solid lineups while NBC is sprucing up the offense. Herewith a scouting report on the upcoming season:

ABC
STRENGTHS: Monday night football a smash success heading into its ninth season. Highest rated sports series on the air, often outrating entertainment shows on other networks. Frank Gifford - Don Meredith - Howard Cosell most famous TV trio since Kukla, Fran & Ollie. Cosell with halftime highlights very entertaining. Matching gold blazers look nice. Price per 30-second commercial: $85,000.

NBC
STRENGTHS: "NFL Today" big winner among pre-game shows. Brent Musburger holds show together. Jack Whitaker commentaries welcome added touch other networks don't have. Pat Summerall - Tom Brookshier solid one-two broadcast punch, backed by good lineup of play by play men. National Conference has weaker teams but bigger markets, i.e. better ratings. Plan more live halftime reports instead of film features. Price per 30-second commercial: $55,000.

Meet Karen Grassle Who Plays 'Ma' Ingalls

When Karen Grassle went to try out for the part in "Little House on the Prairie," she wore a plain dress and no make-up. It worked!

Michael Landon, the man who runs the show, picked her over 47 other actresses.

He thought she looked like a pioneer woman should look.

She had a "clean, wholesome, proud look," he said.

Off camera, Karen dresses in jeans and tops. She went to the University of California where she studied to be an actress.

After she finished college, she won a Fulbright scholarship.

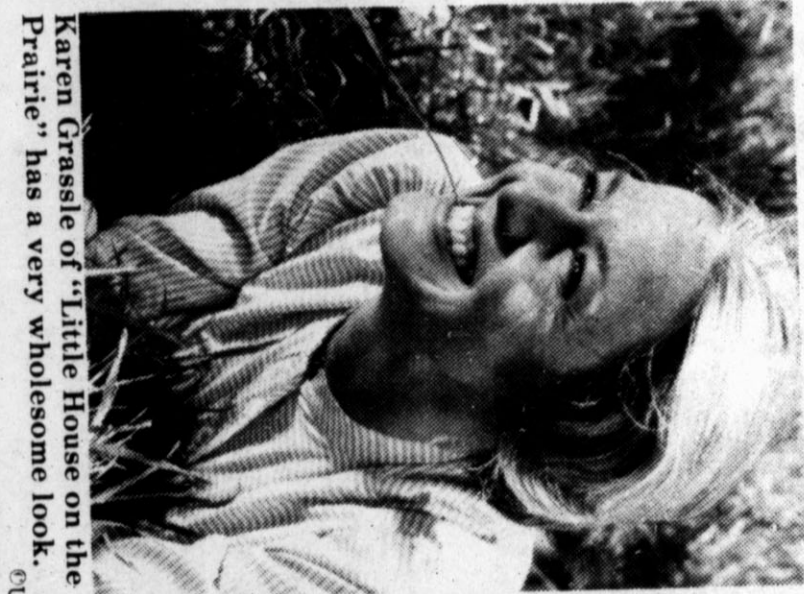

She went to England and studied music and acting.

Fulbright scholarships are given by the U.S.

government to students who want to go to other countries to study.

It is an honor to be picked for one of these scholarships.

Karen is single. She has acted on stage. She has also been in three daytime serials.

Karen Grassle of "Little House on the Prairie" has a very wholesome look.

Happy Dreams of Labor Day Kidding Around With Kids' Jobs

The first Monday in September honors working people. It is called Labor Day. The Mini Page asked kids to make up jobs they would like.

Maybe you can make up your own dream job.

CAUTION: These are only make-believe jobs. We are only kidding, kids!

SHAUN CASSIDY CONCERT MANAGER—girl, age 9 to 12, needed to make arrangements and attend Cassidy concerts. Must travel; $3,000 per concert.

SUPER SETTER—Hair stylist needed to wash and set Farrah Fawcett-Majors' hair every day. Must be a "Six Million Dollar Man" fan. Salary: $300 per set.

ICE CREAM TESTER for large ice cream firm. Experienced taste buds and open mind about new flavors needed. Pay: all the ice cream you can eat, and $10,000 a scoop.

These kids look like they are already experienced make-up artists for the rock group "Kiss."

"KISS" MAKE-UP ARTISTS—Salary $1,000 for every time you put make-up on or take it off the members of this rock group.

KID ASTRONAUT to go up in space shuttle to test zero gravity. Must float well and not fear heights. Earth return guaranteed. $5,000 per shot.

TASTER, VIEWER AND CRITIC—Do you want to work in the "Kids' Critic Corner"? We have kids' movies every day. We need a critic to come in and watch the movies free and eat for free. We need a taster to try our many different sandwiches from our restaurant. "The Star Wars Spectacular" and "Close Encounters of the Peanut Butter Kind" are only two of the sandwiches. Here's to your big fat chance!

What fun this would be!

WATER SLIDE TESTER—Kids 7 to 13 wanted to test water slides in different parts of the country. Free swimsuits furnished. Salary: $2,000 per slide and all expenses paid for you and your family.

Here's some work to do for fun! Fill out this job application!

Name _____ Last _____ First _____ Middle _____ Age _____

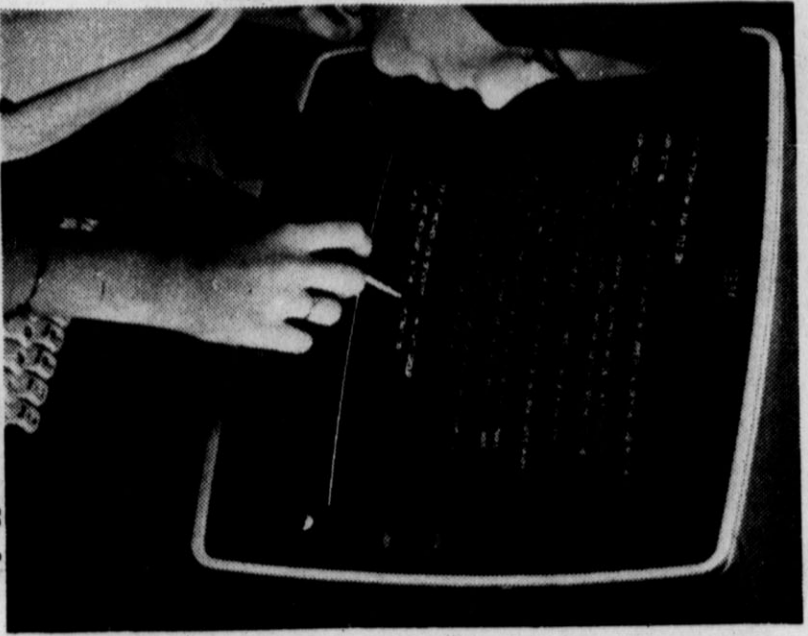

Address _____ No. _____ Street _____ City _____ State _____ Zip _____ Telephone No. _____

Marital status: Single Engaged Married Separated Divorced Widowed

Previous job experience _____

On a separate sheet of paper, could you list four people who would give you a good reference? Please give addresses and phone numbers! Remember, kids—we are only kidding.

Finding a Job When You Grow Up Can Be Hard Work!

In a special guidance program called DISCOVER, some students are using computers to help them find out about careers. The computers can give information about jobs, colleges and special schools.

What are you going to be when you grow up?

Many people ask kids this. Do you already have a career in mind?

The Department of Labor has turned out a report that might help you.

It is called a "job outlook report."

It tells what jobs might be good to go into in the next few years.

Below are just a few jobs to think about

Cashiers, receptionists and secretaries are expected to be in demand. There are a lot of workers in these fields and they change jobs often.

Cooks and chefs will also find it easier to get jobs as more and more people eat out.

Doctors and nurses should be able to find jobs as the health business gets bigger and bigger.

Scientists and engineers will be in demand.

Beauty parlor operators will be needed as women have more money to spend as their incomes rise.

Security guards will find job-hunting easier as more businesses want protection.

But the outlook isn't good for some jobs. Teachers and reporters will keep on having trouble finding jobs.

High school or college?

The Labor Department report also says that a high-school education will be important for all jobs.

Four years of college does not mean that you will be able to get a job.

Many college graduates are taking jobs that high-school graduates used to fill.

The type of training a person has is as important as how long he or she goes to college.

The Paper Box

Look at the "Help Wanted" ads in the want ad section of your paper. Do you see a job that would interest you?

Page 3: _____ is a new place for tennis tournaments.

Next week: Find all about the new Fall TV programs for Saturday morning and some other shows of interest to kids.

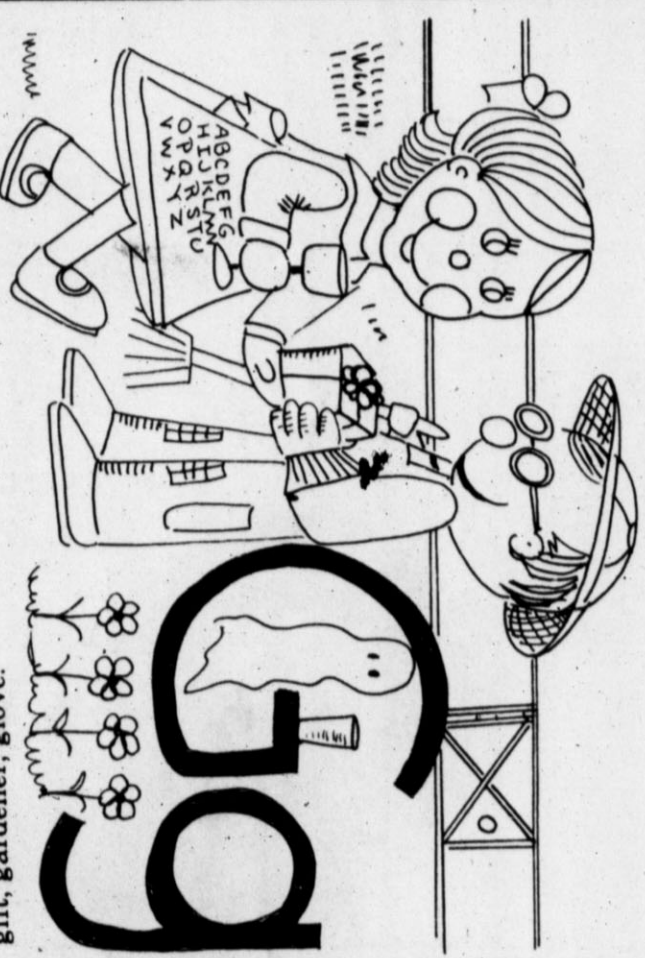

WORKERS TRY TO FIND

Names of workers are hidden in the block below. See if you can find: teacher, lawyer, doctor, engineer, technician, cook, clerk, vet, butcher, barber, pilot, dentist, nurse, carpenter, judge, artist, designer, painter, actor, farmer, policeman, clown.

A New Site for the Top U.S. Tennis Tournament

A map of the new National Tennis Center. The indoor buildings hold nine courts. The other courts. The larger stadium seats 20,000 people. The smaller one seats 6,000.

Flushing Meadow Park, in Queens, New York, will be the new site for the upcoming U.S. Open tennis tournament. It is called "open" because both amateurs and pros from around the world are invited to play.

This is the tournament that used to be played at Forest Hills, New York. But the crowds got too big. The site had to be moved.

The center takes up a part of a park where the 1939-40 and 1964-65 World's Fairs were held.
