Bull Barn....subject of much discussion over last few months and object of tentative guidelines agreed upon by county commission.

Final Policies Still Up in Air

Bull Barn Discussion Progresses

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Long-awaited policies governing the use of the county-owned Bull Barn are about to be formed. Well, keep your fingers crossed.

At least Deaf Smith County commissioners are making progress. It never came to a vote Monday, but lengthy discussion—it started in the morning and continued through 4 p.m.—gave commissioners a good idea of what policies will be enacted, probably at their next meeting.

"It's so many-faceted that it's due a lot of consideration. I don't see any rush," County Judge Sam Morgan told the commissioners court at the conclusion of the meeting. "We can table it and put it on the agenda until next time. At least we've made a lot of progress."

Progress didn't come easy. Commissioners closely studied, picked apart and argued subjects like dancing, insurance, civic clubs, meetings and cleanup fees before giving tentative approval to an incomplete set of guidelines.

Those informally-passed guidelines are as follows:

1. Dances, where fee is charged or donations are collected—the county will charge a $100 usage fee, require liability insurance and obtain a $200 cleanup deposit.

2. Dance, where no fee is charged or donations are collected—$25 usage fee, liability insurance and $200 cleanup deposit.

3. Meeting where no fee is charged—$25 usage fee and $200 deposit.

4. Civic club meeting where fee is charged—$200 cleanup deposit, which can be waived by the commissioners court in lieu of an agreement between the club and county.

"I don't think we need to charge civic clubs," Commissioner James Voyles said. "Their money goes to benefit the entire community. I would recommend we include civic clubs in a special category."

Still to be discussed are meetings where fees are charged for non-profit purposes and meetings for profit.

The court several weeks ago decided that no church could use the Bull Barn for its private purposes. The Rev. Mack McCarter of First Christian Church Monday questioned that policy.

"It looks as if, simply because they were churches, they were precluded use of the Bull Barn," Rev. McCarter said.

The First Christian pastor said he and several other ministers met recently to question the policy, deciding that it appears that churches would not be able to use the Bull Barn while individuals could for private purposes.

"We just want a clarification on the policy," Rev. McCarter said.

Morgan said a religious activity is allowed only when a cross-section of churches backs it.

"What would represent a cross-section?" Rev. McCarter said. "Does it mean two or four?"

Commissioner Bruce Coleman answered, "I believe we decided that if there was a question, we would go to the Ministerial alliance."

Rev. McCarter said, "That's putting the monkey on someone else's back."

"We, as pastors, would recommend an inclusive policy. Instead of being specific, be inclusive. Say a church could use this if there is a rental fee. We don't want to discriminate against churches just because they're churches."

Morgan ended the meeting Monday stating that any of the policies agreed on by the commission could be changed since no vote was taken.

"All we've really done is come up with some good ideas," the judge said. "Between now and the next meeting, I'll contact some other cities and see what they're doing."

The commission, in other business:

—purchased an acre of land in Precinct 3 to add a garage to a house which abutted the property.

—tabled repairs to cracks under the eaves on the south side of the courthouse until estimates are obtained.

—approved an easement from Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Administration to cross a county road with a cable Precinct 2.

—approved the August fire report which showed 13 city fires, two wrecks (See COUNTY, Page 2)

Appeals Court Upholds Woodward Lake Ruling

Citizens groups still working to save Buffalo Lake saw another hope dashed late yesterday when the federal appeals court in New Orleans denied a motion for an injunction against further draining of the impoundment.

The Buffalo Lake Survival Committee had carried the appeal to a higher court after a similar ruling by U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward recently.

The citizens group had hoped to obtain a halt to the draining long enough to devise a plan for repairs at the spillway of nearby Buffalo.

The spillway became the focal point of a decision by Department of Interior officials to drain the lake in August.

Interior officials claimed that the spillway is structurally unsound and poses a threat to inhabited areas downstream from the lake.

Yesterday's federal verdict came as the SAN DIEGO (AP) - Investigators want to know why two planes - a Boeing 727 passenger trijet and a tiny Cessna - collided in clear skies over San Diego after both pilots had radioed they could see the other plane.

With the death toll at 147 and climbing, it was the worst disaster in U.S. aviation history.

A Pacific Southwest Airlines jet with 135 persons aboard and a rented Cessna 172 with a student pilot and instructor aboard collided at 9:03 a.m. Monday, killing everyone on both planes.

At least 10 more persons died on the ground when bits of bodies and burning wreckage tore into homes in the North Park neighborhood about three miles northeast of Lindbergh Airport.

"Both planes were given air traffic advisories that they were in the same area and both aircraft acknowledged that they had the other plane in sight," said Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Bruce Chambers in Los Angeles.

Officials had no immediate explanation for the cause. Visibility at the time of the crash was 10 miles.

Tape recordings from the airliner cockpit and the airport control tower were given to the National Transportation Safety Board for analysis.

In Washington, meanwhile, John O'Donnell, president of the Air Line Pilots Association, criticized the Federal Aviation Administration for not pushing development of warning equipment designed to prevent an aerial collision such as this.

The technology has been available for many years, O'Donnell said in written congressional testimony prepared before Monday's collision. He was scheduled to testify today at a House subcommittee hearing that has been scheduled for some time.

He said ALPA wants a collision avoidance system, known as CAS, installed in aircraft to give pilots direct, immediate knowledge of any impending threat.

"There were pieces of body everywhere," said W.T. Bradbury, a police officer at the crash site. "Parts of bodies were sticking into a wall. I hope I never see anything like it again."

Emergency crews worked through the night, separating corpses from the still smoldering wreckage in the streets.

"I think we have all the major portions of bodies picked up," said Warren Chambers of the San Diego County coroner's office. "I know the death toll is upwards of 150."

Latest disappointment to the lake survival group, which last week was refused a temporary restraining order by Woodward.

The group had sought the order to stop draining pending the appeal of his denial of an injunction.

Survival Committee Attorney Ronnie Walker of Amarillo indicated that the citizen's suit to stop the lake draining will probably be withdrawn. He stated "we have no other legal recourse."

The lake survival group had pinned its hopes on obtaining an injunction against draining while legal actions were pursued. However, with the denial of an injunction, Walker indicated that the lengthy process of an appeal, which could take as long as six months, would come too late to save the lake waters and even a favorable decision for the lake committee would prove a moot point.

Priests worked alongside emergency crews as they put dozens of corpses into yellow body bags and stacked them in refrigerated vans in 100-degree heat.

"I anointed at least 50 bodies myself," said the Rev. Thomas Bonica of St. Augustine High School.

North Park residents, many of them elderly, ran screaming into the streets as bodies and burning debris hurtled down from 3,000 feet. Ten homes were destroyed and six more damaged after fiery wreckage touched off blazes that blackened a half-block area. More than 100 firefighters worked to extinguish the fires.

Rain Still Wets Area

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Light drizzling rain continued to fall over widely scattered portions of Deaf Smith County today, boosting the outlook for grazing on the newly-planted wheat crop, but raising the anxiety of local corn farmers as their tall yellow crop continues to topple under the pressure of moisture.

Rainfall totals from a week of wet weather have soared to the five inch mark and beyond in some portions of the county, and moisture has even moved into the dryland country to the west of Hereford, where wheat ranges missed out on heavy moisture last week.

In the most recent round of moisture which began yesterday and continued into this morning, the city of Hereford received .40 inches of moisture.

The Clint Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of the city recorded a total of .70 inches, and Mrs. Homfeld reported that the wheat crop is beginning to post good growth in that area.

The Bill Page farm at Bootleg Corner has received a total of 1.60 inches of

Farmers' Loans To Be Explained

Local farmers will have an opportunity to obtain an explanation of various government loan programs available to them during a special meeting to be held at the Community Center banquet room at 7 tomorrow night.

Melvin Hoover of the Hereford Farmers Home Administration office, John Fuston of the Hereford Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office and a representative of the Small Business Administration will be on hand to present facts and answer questions. Forms will be available at the session for SBA loans.

All interested farmers are invited to attend.

Part 2 of Seminar Set for Tonight

The second of three parts of a seminar dealing with intelligent investing is planned for 7 p.m. today in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service.

The seminar, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is free and open to the public.

Chamber business committee chairman Mike Carr said attendance at the first part of the seminar "is not a prerequisite to going to the second part."

Robert L. Clifford, an account executive with a Fort Worth investments firm and widely-traveled lecturer, will speak tonight.

High Housing, Medical Costs Cause Inflation To Jump Again

WASHINGTON (AP) - Food prices barely increased in August, but housing and medical costs pushed consumer prices up 0.6 percent, the Labor Department said today.

The August increase was larger than the 0.5 percent gain in July, but fell short of the average 0.8 percent monthly increase in prices that have hit shoppers all year.

The department also said the average worker's earning power fell by 0.6 percent in August. Workers got pay increases averaging 0.2 percent, but were hit by price boosts that more than offset wage gains. The average work week also was shorter.

The August increase in consumer prices would translate into a 7.2 percent inflation rate if it continued for a full year. President Carter's economic advisers predict that consumer prices will be 8 percent higher this year than in 1977.

In August, food prices went up 0.2 percent, but most of the gains were at restaurants. Prices at grocery stores were unchanged.

Prices for fresh vegetables declined 6.7 percent, and chicken and turkey prices declined for the first time this year.

Beef prices, which turned down in July, declined again last month and pork prices fell for the third straight month. Coffee prices declined 4.8 percent.

However, egg prices rose sharply in August and fresh fruit suddenly became more expensive. Prices for cereal and bread continued to rise rapidly, as they have during most of the year.

Charges for medical care went up 0.9 percent in August, the largest increase this year. Hospital-room rates rose 1.5 (See INFLATION, Page 2)

Fun Breakfast To Be Thursday

Games, prizes and cash drawings will highlight the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast at 6:30 a.m. Thursday in the Hereford Community Center dining facility.

The breakfast, open to anyone, will be sponsored by Dairy Queen.

Cost of the breakfast is $3 per person. Those planning to attend should contact the chamber of commerce office in order that the number of seats can be estimated.

Doug Manning and Lynton Allred as usual, will serve as masters of ceremonies.

Blood Mobile Schedules Stop

Local residents are urged by Joan Bookout, local blood drive chairman, to donate blood Wednesday when the mobile unit from Coffee Memorial Blood Center is here. Donations will be taken from 3-6 p.m. A total of 186 pints of blood must be given in order to meet the local blood debt. Donations will be taken at the Community Center.

Blood given Wednesday may be given for blood insurance, specified for the general pool, or designated for one of the following individual accounts:

Patricia Stephens, who owes 8 pints; Nick Milburn, owing 12 pints; Anna Carthel, 24 pints; Thelma Danile, 4 pints; baby boy DeLeon, 4 pints; the late Reyes Huera, 54 pints; Karen Abney, 12 pints; Ernie Randell, 12 pints; Glynn Bilbrey, 8 pints; Opal Norton, 8 pints; LeAnn Benjamin, 8 pints; Juanita Morales, 4 pints; Elmer Jones, 8 pints; and Jesse Wagoner, 20 pints.

The jump from supervising the dissecting of frogs and timing wind sprints at a local junior high school to holding down one of the country's most important agricultural positions was admittedly a big one, according to John Fuston, executive director of the Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

But agricultural traditions being what they are, and with farming always in the heart of the farm boy, the transition was a natural for Fuston, a personable 34-year-old with an obvious liking for farming and farm people.

Fuston grew up on a cotton and livestock farm at Turkey, in Hall County. He graduated from high school there in 1962, having participated in numerous high school sports, and went on to attend Clarendon Jr. College.

He graduated from West Texas State University in 1966, majoring in animal science and biology, and during his tenure at WTSU, he was a member of the university livestock judging team.

An agricultural background made Fuston an unlikely candidate for a job in the classroom or on the athletic field, but Fuston assumed a teaching position at La Plata Jr. High here in the fall of 1967.

"I went through school under a pre-veterinary curriculum, so I was pretty well-founded in the basics of biology. I also played catcher on the WTSU baseball team, and had a minor in Physical Education. Larry Wartes gave me an opportunity to coach youngsters here, and I coached football, basketball and track for four years. I really enjoyed teaching, particularly the challenge of working with youngsters," said Fuston.

But the lure of agriculture remained strong in a community so agriculturally-oriented, and at the end of a four-year stint in the local school system, Fuston assumed duties with a liquid livestock feed firm here.

In February of 1972 he began a six-month session of training at the Randall County ASCS office, which ultimately led to his employment as the office manager of the Hartley ASCS office.

He later managed the Muleshoe ASCS office from Oct. of 1974 until returning to Hereford as the local ASCS office (See BRANDING, Page 2)

Feds Criticized After Plane Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has been "unconscionably slow" in moving toward using collision-warning devices aboard aircraft, the president of the Air Line Pilots Association says.

As far back as early 1972 ALPA was critical of the Federal Aviation Administration for showing a lack of urgency in developing equipment that will enable the pilot to know when a midair collision is imminent," said John J. O'Donnell.

O'Donnell was scheduled to testify to a House subcommittee today, one day after a fiery collision killed 147 persons in San Diego.

O'Donnell's written testimony was prepared before Monday's collision of a Pacific Southwest Airlines jet and a single-engine private plane in the worst disaster in U.S. aviation history.

O'Donnell charged that the technology for on-board collision warning devices has been available for years but that the FAA has insisted on further testing.

However, an FAA official said today that further tests are needed to iron the bugs out of current systems including a tendency to sound alarms when there is no danger of a collision.

Psychiatrist Claims

Killing Had 'Goal'

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A psychiatrist has testified that under the circumstances of possible arrest on drug, theft and gun charges, David Lee Powell's machine-gunning of Patrolman Ralph Ablanedo was "goal directed."

Dr. Richard Coons of Austin said Monday he found Powell, 27, to be legally sane, contradicting testimony by a Detroit psychiatrist who has specialized in homicide.

A psychologist, George Parker of Austin, also said he believed Powell was sane.

Parker acknowledged, however, that his written report said Powell "probably needs environmental help such as incarceration to provide the degree of control that would manage his impulses for him."

Powell could be executed with a lethal injection if the jury finds he killed Ablanedo deliberately and without provocation and that he would pose a continuing threat to society if allowed to live.

Ablanedo died in a burst of fire from an AK-47 automatic rifle, the kind used by Communist troops in Vietnam, after stopping Powell's red Mustang on May 18.

Prosecutor Steve Edwards set up a "hypothetical situation" of a man with outstanding arrest warrants, several hot check charges on driving a car whose contents included $5,000 to $14,000 worth of methamphetamine — "speed."

Escapes Returned

To Palo Pinto Jail

PALO PINTO, Texas (AP) — Three escaped prisoners were back in the Palo Pinto County Jail here today, facing serious new charges stemming from their four-days of freedom.

The trio broke out of the jail last Thursday night after a jailer was stabbed and a police radio dispatcher was clubbed. One of the escapees was captured Saturday in Mineral Wells.

Two alert Fort Worth city patrolmen ended the manhunt Monday, arresting the two remaining escapees as they stood on a south side street trying to call a friend on a pay telephone.

"Well, we kept you all guessing, didn't we," one of the captured fugitives told police as they were being arrested. They were not armed. They told police they tossed out a .44-caliber magnum pistol somewhere along Interstate 20. The pair offered no resistance when arrested.

The two inmates captured Monday, Dan Taggart, 18, of Dallas, and Michael Bender, 23, of Mineral Wells, were returned to the Palo Pinto jail Monday afternoon. They joined the other escapee, Karol McAtee, 24, of Mineral Wells, who was nabbed Saturday.

Business Owners

Voted Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's taxwriters are spreading the breaks around as they continue work on an election-year bill expected to cut taxes by about $20 billion.

The owners of businesses were voted a reduction in their corporate income taxes on Monday.

Some taxpayers were voted a bigger income tax credit for being over 65.

And others were voted a bigger break on their income tax if they donate money to political candidates and parties.

At the same time, the Senate Finance Committee also voted in favor of a new "minimum tax" designed to ensure that people with very high incomes don't avoid paying taxes entirely regardless of how many credits and deductions they have.

The committee resumes work today on the bill, which Sen. Russell Long, D-La., the panel's chairman, predicts should be completed by mid-week.

The House of Representatives approved a $16.3 billion tax-cut measure earlier this year. Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd is predicting the Senate version will wind up at about $20 billion to $21 billion. The differences would have to be resolved by a conference committee.

Police Report

Bobby Fields, 826 S. Texas, told police Monday that someone backed a car into the wash room of the Polynesian Apartments. The damage was estimated at $75.

C.W. Walker Used Cars, 400 W. 1st, reported that someone broke the front window over the weekend.

Dora Thomas, Apt. 101 of the Bluewater Garden Apartments, told police that someone entered her apartment between Thursday and Monday and took $11 in one-dollar bills and a roll of quarters from a coin bank.

Police said entrance was gained through an unlocked window.

"I've had to be escorted out of a gym by police a time or two while officiating at basketball games, but there haven't been any real bad incidents. It's just that if there are 300 people at a basketball game, you've got 300 folks ready to referee, because they can all see. Pass interference calls in football are the same way, and they can get a lot of folks excited in a hurry. But I really enjoy officiating," Fuston emphasized.

Fuston and his wife, Joan, who he met while teaching in the school system here, have three daughters, Ronda, 7, and twins Sherry and Emily, 3.

While he's managed to include his love of both agriculture and athletics as parts of his profession, Fuston relates that he's basically an outdoorsman at heart.

"Of all the things we've talked about, I would a whole lot rather be on a good bass lake catching fish, shooting quail in the mesquite breaks, or gunning pheasants out in a stubble field. I grew up doing things like that. In fact, I got my first whipping in school for playing hooky and going quail hunting," he admitted with a grin.

The need to use special harvesting headers will necessitate a slowdown in the harvesting pace as well, and could lead to higher costs at harvest time.

Rapid growth on the part of the wheat crop due to the rains could spell better winter pasture for cattle, however, marking the first time in about three years that outstanding wheat pasture prospects are in the offing for the Panhandle.

Bell Equipment

Bill Haehnel, Southwestern Bell's science demonstrator, displays some of the equipment he uses in his new science presentation titled, "Through the Looking Glass—Lightly." The program offers a look at the latest developments from Bell Labs in the field of telephone communications.

Kiwanis Club to Show New Bell Innovations Thursday

Bill Haehnel, Southwestern Bell's science demonstrator, will show recent Bell System innovations in his newest science presentation before the Hereford Kiwanis Thursday.

The science demonstrator also will present his show Friday to students at Hereford High at 10:15 a.m. and at Stanton Jr. High at 1 p.m. and 2:30.

The new show is titled "Through the Looking Glass—Lightly." Haehnel expects to carry it 35,000 miles and present it to more than 300 groups in Texas.

More than 2,500 changes have been made in the basic telephone over the past 25 years," Haehnel said. "In fact, virtually every component has been changed in the past six years to increase efficiency and fidelity as soundwaves are converted to electrical waves and reconverted into the sound of a voice."

The Bell System handles 500 million calls a day, Haehnel said. "Ten years from now, we'll double that to a billion calls a day. That's why new technologies are being developed to handle those calls without investing huge additional sums of money in new equipment."

Using a century-old device invented by Alexander Graham Bell, Haehnel demonstrates in his show the practicality of converting soundwaves into electrical waves and transmitting them over lightwaves.

The device is called a "photophone," and it was one of Bell's most exciting inventions—but one that never saw the light of day.

"Mr. Bell based his photophone on sunlight—using a nonmetallic element called selenium—and he actually transmitted soundwaves through the refracted light across a room. That was in 1880, and he never really had the time or encouragement to perfect his photophone," Haehnel noted.

He said both the selenium device and modern-day solar cells developed by Bell Labs are solid-state, light-sensitive components that have almost infinite telecommunications capabilities.

Bell's early efforts are being developed by the Bell System in more sophisticated ways. Haehnel said lightwaves from lasers are being transmitted through flexible glass fibers, carrying telephone, data and video transmissions.

"The success of a lightwave communications trial in Chicago is perhaps one of the major breakthroughs toward the way we'll be communicating in the near future," he said.

But right now, a variety of telephones and services are available or on the horizon, Haehnel said. One new instrument, he said, is the Touch-a-Matic automatic dialing telephone.

Available with 16 or 32 buttons, Haehnel said, it allows a customer to dial at the touch of one button 10 or 31 frequently called local or long distance numbers. The last button will automatically dial the last number that was manually dialed by the customer.

"Innovations that have resulted from Bell System teamwork are stepping stones to the next plateau of equipment and services that today are but a gleam in the eyes of scientists and engineers," Haehnel said.

Branding

manager in March of 1976.

"I was raised on a farming and ranching operation, and farm people are the kind of folks I have always felt at home with. I like to work with farmers," Fuston explained.

"I guess the most challenging part of ASCS work is trying to see that each farmer has the opportunity to avail himself of the programs we have. Being of service to the farmers in our area, particularly during the trying times we have had the last couple of years in agriculture is rewarding," Fuston continued.

Even as he pursues a career in agriculture, however, Fuston keeps in touch with school-related athletics by serving as an official at various sporting events.

"I guess it's a little like stepping out of the frying pan and into the fire, coming from a job that is sometimes controversial and spending my spare time serving as a referee in front of a bunch of riled-up fans," Fuston admitted with a smile.

"I've enjoyed officiating, ever since I was in the school system here. It's kind of a challenge to see how thick my skin is sometimes on Friday nights, but this is a way to stay close to the young people, and I've enjoyed sports since I was in high school," he related.

Fuston's work as a member of the Amarillo chapter of the Southwestern Officials Association takes him to sporting events all over the Panhandle.

And whether he's teaching or not, he still has "homework" to attend to in the evenings.

"It takes a lot of studying to keep up on the various ASC programs and regulations and I spend a lot of time studying them at home, because that's the only time I can get away from the office and concentrate on them a bit. Then too, you've got to keep up with all of the rules for high school sports, and I spend about two hours one night each week during the season going to officiating school in Amarillo," Fuston stated.

While farmer frustration over government, agriculture programs can create some tense moments around the local ASCS office at times, Fuston points out that officiating gets a bit exciting at times too.

Page reported that some dryland wheat farmers in that area were forced to replant their crop, but that the wheat is responding well to moisture now.

At Easter grain south of Hereford, a total of 1.90 inches of rain has fallen, but the corn crop is toppling rapidly under the moisture and up to 30 percent of the crop is down in some areas.

To the east of Hereford, the rainfall total since the wet spell began last week has reached four inches, and north

Dawn, up to nine inches has fallen on the Wildorado area.

The problem of fallen corn ranges well southward into Castro County, and is particularly acute in the Dimmitt and Hart regions, where harvesting operations were already underway prior to the rainfall.

Special "pick-up" attachments for corn headers should allow farmers to reclaim a major portion of the fallen corn over the area, but with the corn already on the ground, there is always the risk of the

Course Due

On Farm

Income

The Deaf Smith County Crops Committee will conduct a special marketing short course entitled "How to Increase Net Farm Income tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford State Bank."

The course is designed to assist farmers in making decisions to market this year's crops. Information will be presented to help farmers obtain higher prices for their commodities through better marketing.

Dr. Ronald D. Knutsen, Economist, Marketing and Policy, with the TAES, College Station, will be tomorrow night's featured speaker.

In addition to marketing alternatives, Dr. Knutsen will discuss the current U.S. farm policy and project its impact on decision making for the 1979 crop.

A second marketing session will be held Oct. 5, at which time Dr. Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist with the TAES, will discuss the outlook for grain prices and marketing alternatives available to farmers.

Forming the reception line were the honoree's sister, Janis Simpson, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Simpson.

The refreshment table was centered with lavender chrysanthemums. Crystal serving pieces appointed the table. Cookies, sandwiches and punch were served.

Gifts were displayed in the parlor.

Hostesses included Mmes. David Hutchins, Clayton Jobe, Roland Hairgrove, Gerald Payne, Charles Bell, Phillip Shook, Jim Arney, and Bettie Roberts.

Mrs. Yarbro Hostess To Club Thursday

Hereford Study Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. R.N. Yarbro. A letter was read supporting the membership of Helen Spinks. A temporary leave of absence was granted to Ruth Long. Virginia Winget will be acting as treasurer during this leave of absence.

The program was "Primping and Plucking" given by Dalene Springer, and introduced by Joan Yarbro. Acting as co-hostess was Willie Braddy. Hereford Study Club will be meeting October 5 in the home of Morgan Cain.

Those present at the meeting were Mmes. Labry Ballard, Tommy Braddy, Cawthon Bryant, B.F. Cain, George DeBoer, S.L. Garrison, J.D. Gilbert Jr., Bob Poston, Joe Story, Art Stoy, Maurice Tannahill, Ed Wilson, C.R. Winget and Gladys Setliff.

Club Members to Attend Women's Emphasis Days

In lieu of their next scheduled meeting, members of Cultural Home Demonstration Club agreed to attend the Oct. 12th session of Women's Emphasis Days Friday afternoon during a meeting in the home of Virginia Sumner.

Club president Edith Hunter appointed a nominating committee composed of Jewel Hargrave, Mrs. Sumner and Iley Inman. It was reported that a total of $23.65 was contributed by members and guests at the previous meeting as a gift to Meals-On-Wheels. The club also voted to make a donation to the non-profit program which provides hot meals to the elderly and convalescents.

Each member answered roll call by recalling a crisis she has had to conquer. This served as an introduction to the program topic discussed by County Extension Agent Joyce Shipp.

Mrs. Shipp and her mother, Geneva Alexander, were welcomed as guests.

It was announced that the club's meeting on Nov. 10 will feature a program on favorite holiday ideas, presented by Mrs. Shipp.

Other members present at the recent session were Annis Corbett, Bertha Dettman and Vernis Parsons.

Receiving Guests

Mrs. John Silney Jr. was the guest of honor Saturday afternoon during a post-nuptial wedding shower in the E.B. Black house. Welcoming guests were, from left, Miss Janis Simpson, sister of the honoree; Mrs Ray Simpson, her mother; Mrs. Silney; and her grandmother, Mrs. Dwayne Ory of Stanton. Mrs. Silney is the former Kim Simpson.

Nine Squares Dance To National Caller

Nine squares danced to the calling of nationally-known caller Rocky Streichland of Dallas Friday night during the regular meeting of Merry Mixers Square Dance Club.

Welcomed as guests were Ed and Mary Barber, first vice president of the Texas Federation of Round and Square Dancing, of Amarillo; Bill and Paula Harman of Dimmitt; and Tommy and Wanda Verschelde from Country Singles Square Dance Club here.

Members and guests had the opportunity to hear Streichland's two just-released albums.

Refreshments were served at intermission.

The club's next scheduled dance will be at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 6 at the Community Center.

Area dancer are reminded to attend the Aspenade Gala Square Dance Jamboree Sept. 29-Oct. 1 at Red River, N.M. Featured callers will be three Amarillo men, Roy Johnson and Sid Perkins for square dancing, and Les Grumke for rounds.

Singles Sponsoring Program This Evening

All interested persons are invited to attend a special program to be presented this evening at First Baptist Church by the Single Adults of Hereford. The program will commence at 8 p.m.
Ron Churchill, a single adult ministering to the needs of other single adults in the Dallas area, will be the keynote speaker. His topic this evening will be "Communications." The presentation will be aimed at adults who are interested in improving their listening habits and communicate more effectively.

A nursery will be provided at the church.

Ann Landers Unjustified Inmates

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I work for a correctional institution and would like to pass on some information to all persons who decided to correspond with inmates.

Many prisoners receive names and addresses from lonely hearts clubs, so-called "scientific" foundations, computer matching outfits and magazines. They often misrepresent the nature of the crimes committed, length of terms, release dates and so on. Sometimes an inmate will send a picture of someone other than himself.

We are not permitted to censor outgoing mail, so we don't know that someone has been conned until she (it's almost always a woman) has sent money, a radio, TV, or an airline ticket to a person who is "being released soon." She then contacts us and wants to know why her friend was not given his freedom on such-and-such date.

Any person who wishes to correspond with a prisoner should write first to the superintendent and inquire about his age, marital status, and the nature of his crime. It would save a lot of time, money and heartache. Please tell them.

-- No Ident
DEAR NO IDENT: Frankly, I had doubts about your letter, so I checked with Robert Glotz, assistant director of the Cook County Department of Corrections. My hunch was wrong. It was on the level.

A person on the outside CAN receive information regarding the nature of a prisoner's crime. It's a matter of public record. Personal data, however (age, marital status), are not released.

Mr. Glotz felt your letter merited publication -- so here it is along with my apologies for being suspicious.

DEAR ANN: In reference to "Had It With Libbers:" I take the train to my job every day. I am 25 years old and in good health. I don't expect any man to give up his seat for me. But when I see older folks with canes and crutches standing while great big men and teenage boys (and girls) just sit there, it gets to me.

Recently I saw a woman at least eight months pregnant trying to balance herself while two men sat. One was busy reading his newspaper, the other blob pretended to be asleep!

Is it asking too much to occasionally give up your seats, fellas? Try it. It feels good. -- Willing To Stand In Walden, Mass.

DEAR WILLING: Where are all those oafs located? I was swamped with letters from men telling me they always give up their seats to women, old people and the disabled. If you could read over my shoulder for half an hour, you'd think this was the age of chivalry. Maybe the guys who stay glued are so ingorant they can't write.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for "Nervous Wreck," whose husband smokes in bed. She wrote that he had fallen asleep with a cigarette in his hand the other night and burned a hole in the carpet.

There's a solution to the problem. Cigarette smokers should train themselves to hold their cigarettes between the third and fourth fingers. It doesn't drop and anyone who falls asleep this way will wake up fast. -- Done It

DEAR DONE IT: My cigarette-smoking friends say you are right, but I still insist that anyone who smokes in bed, no matter how he holds the cigarette, is asking for trouble.

Correction

In the feature on Mrs. Calla Mountz there was a mistake made on the Hot Brown's Apple Butter recipe. Below is the correct recipe.

Hot Brown's Apple Butter
Core, quarter and cook apple, run thru colander
1 gal apple sauce
10 cents red hots
3 lbs. of brown sugar
1 cup pure apple cider vinegar
Combine-Cook slowly in an iron kettle on back of a Coles Hot Blast wood stove to a butter consistency. Seal.

UNUSUAL PH.D.
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Stephen Sloan is believed to be the first person in the country to receive a doctorate in human sexuality.

He received the degree in September 1977, from New York University where a program that offers a Ph. D. in human sexuality was established in 1970. A lot of people started through the program before he did, he said, but most were part-time students, and he was the first to finish.

Dr. Sloan, 28, who has been doing some counseling work here, said his primary interest was in counseling the handicapped and the elderly, and in teaching.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

Next to the oarsman on a slave ship whose captain wanted to water ski, the most maligned person on the face of this earth is the teenager who has just landed his first full-time job.

No one suffers more and is appreciated less. Many of these "slaves" have heard stories of men who got up each morning, were fully clothed by 7:00 and on the job by 8:30, but they discarded these as venomous rumors—the kind circulated in Berlin in the 1940s.

My son considers himself a "human sacrifice" on the altar of the Church of the Establishment. He was 15 before we could use the word "employment" in front of him. The word broke his face out and he preferred we spell it. The way he explained it to us on the eve of his marriage to a paycheck, "This is an exercise in group persecution, isn't it? All of you have run the course and now before I come of age, I have to prove that I can hack the 9-5 number, is that it? Okay, you win. If I have to prove that I'm mature, I'll get the dumb full-time J-O-B...jjjj...jjooo...joob!"

Maybe a lot of you know my son --or at least have heard of him.

He's the only employed person who has to work all day and then come home and feed himself.

He's the only dedicated teenager in North America to work when the "gang" went tubing down the river one Wednesday afternoon.

He's the first person to ever have half of his paycheck withheld for some service which he has never requested (federal income tax, hospitalization, Social Security, etc.). As he stated, "Someone is going to hear about this!"

He stands alone as the only worker who is dominated by a senile boss (age 35) who engages in office brutality by insisting he arrive on time in the mornings, and after lunch.

He's the only full-time worker in the country who has not gained the respect of family and friends for his contribution to labor.

Last Saturday, I tapped him on the shoulder. "Hey, George Meany, out of the sack. It's the crack of noon."

My son rolled over. "I do not believe this is happening to a working person," he said. "All week long, I work five days a week, eight hours a day, and what do I get for it?"

"You get all your meals served like a sultan, your bedroom cleaned, your clothes washed and ironed and a full-time old family retainer -- me!"

Something tells me I'll have the first kid to retire three years before he has anything to retire from.

Quilt Recognized As Form of Art

By C.G. McDANIEL

CHICAGO (AP) — The homely quilt receives recognition as the fine art it often is in an exhibition at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Like so many home arts and crafts, quilting did not receive the attention it deserves until its practical necessity was diminished by mass-produced bed coverings and comforters.

While their beauty was appreciated by those who made and used them in times when there were few alternatives for sleeping warmth, they were not considered to be the "high art" they, at their best, are deemed to be today.

Perhaps it is a reaction against plastic, mass-produced material which has rekindled an interest in quilting and other arts usually described as folk arts.

Families are rediscovering treasures put away in attic chests when electric blankets were purchased. Quilting classes are being taught — to men and women — in big cities. And newly made handsewn quilts from the South fetch fancy prices at fashionable Northern shops.

The Art Institute's exhibition of 50 quilts is in two parts. The first segment is being shown through Nov. 6. The second segment will be shown Nov. 9 through Jan. 21.

The simply hung exhibition is illuminated with subdued lighting to minimize fading. For this reason, too, each segment is being shown for only a few weeks.

The exhibited quilts date from 1755 to 1950 and include crazy quilts, album quilts, brides' quilts and commemorative quilts. They are made both by the piecing method — sewing scraps of material together to form a design — and by applique — sewing a design onto a backing.

They range from simple all-cotton bedcovers to elaborate crazy quilts and those made of rich fabrics. One of them, dating from the 1880s, has a wide border of lace and is decorated with sequins, pearls and other semi-precious stones.

Some of them show that artistically untutored housewives had as fine an artistic sense as some of the artists who were to win acclaim as pop artists in recent years.

A quilt dating from 1847 has a striking pattern, mostly in red and green, of appliqued cherries, grapes and other fruits and a variety of flowers, including morning glories, trumpet vine and tulips.

THE HOT DOG VENDOR

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.
He sold very good hot dogs.
He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.
He stood on the side of the road and cried:
"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"
And people bought.
He increased his meat and bun orders.
He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.
He finally got his son home from college to help him out.
But then something happened.
His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?"

Oklahoma Officials Won't Link Car

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - An Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation official Monday said no evidence has been found so far to connect a car found abandoned in Texas with two mass murders in central Oklahoma.

OSBI Inspector Al Abernathy said preliminary indications are that the stolen rental car found in Tyler, Texas, last week is not connected with the murder of three members of a San Antonio, Texas, family near Purcell and the slaying of six Oklahoma City steakhouse employees.

Abernathy said two bags of evidence recovered from the rental car still have to be processed by lab technicians. But he said that evidence checked thus far, including fingerprints lifted from the rental car, has not established any link with the mass murders.

Abernathy said an official determination on the matter will come later this week.

Authorities had hoped the discovery of the car in a parking lot in Tyler last week would prove to be a major breakthrough in the investigation into the murder of three members of the Melvin Lorenz family in late June and the July 16th murder of six Sirlin Stockade Restaurant employees in the south Oklahoma City.

The car found in Tyler was stolen from a rental agency at Will Rogers Airport, only a few miles from the steakhouse murder scene.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republicans are fielding a record number of candidates in congressional races.

Highest GOP hopes are pinned on George W. Bush, 31, of Midland, and Tom Loeffler, 31, of Mason.

Bush is running against State Sen. Kent Hance, conservative Democratic nominee for the 19th West Texas district seat held by retiring U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock.

Loeffler is contesting former State Sen. Nelson W. Wolff of San Antonio, Democratic nominee for U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger's 21st district seat.

Another close race pits Waco oil and gas distributor Jack Burgess, 40, against Democrat Marvin Leath, 46, Marlin banker, in District 11. The seat was held for 40 years by Rep. W. R. "Bob" Poage of Waco.

Some Republicans see an outside chance for Wes Mowery of Fort Worth against ultra conservative Democrat Phil Gramm of College Station in District 6 which is being vacated by Rep. Olin "Tiger" Teague.

Still others feel Bill Fisher, 34, of Abilene, could possibly defeat Democrat Charles W. Stenholm of Stamford in District 17 which was represented by Rep. Omar Burelson of Anson since 1946.

Other Republican congressional candidates include Leo Berman, 42, of Arlington against Martin Frost, 35, of Oak Cliff and Dallas lawyer Tom Pauken, 33, against Rep. Jim Mattox, 35, of Dallas.

Veteran Republican Congressmen Jim Collins of Dallas and Bill Archer of Houston are safe for re-election.

Republicans contested Democrats in 21 districts out of 24.

lative Budget Board it will seek a $10 million appropriation for a multi-story building near where several department units already are located. The department operates from five locations here now—three of them leased.

AG Opinions

The Open Records Act does not require release of names of rape and attempted rape victims, Attorney General John Hill said in a new opinion.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Statutes do not authorize Gaines County to provide day care to all children, although the county may provide day care to some children, or under some circumstances. Legislation would be necessary to authorize counties to provide general day care services to all children.

A county clerk has a duty to provide mailed written notice to all assumed certificate holders under the Business and Commerce Code, and he is not relieved of the duty by budget limitations. Commissioners courts have a duty to provide adequate funds.

The State Board of Examiners of Psychologists may not require that applicants for certification as subdoctoral personnel have taken coursework from board-certified psychologists.

Ineptness Called Corporate Killer

NEW YORK (AP) - Ineptness in dealing with people is emerging in recent years as the fatal flaw for corporate chief executives, although a decade ago it was hardly even mentioned as a weakness.

The assessment comes from an analysis of top executive changes in the nation's 500 largest industrial concerns by Eugene Jennings, among other things a confidential adviser to presidents and chairman.

A chief executive fired for "people ineptness" also has the most difficulty finding another job, Jennings found, mainly because he is branded as having a character deficiency nearly impossible to overcome.

Being fired for this reason was almost unheard of in the 1960s, said Jennings, who has spent more than 30 years studying corporations and executives, and who has written many basic volumes about them.

In recent years, he observes, respect for authority has diminished in the corporation as in some other institutions, while respect has grown for executives who lead by cooperation and team-building.

The problem isn't uncommon, and it isn't necessarily limited to the corporate institution. "If Jimmy Carter were a corporate president he'd get fired," said Jennings.

Jennings, a Michigan State professor, came to his conclusions about chief executives after studying the annual 12 percent regression rate of top people in the nation's 500 largest industrial companies.

About half left involuntarily, he estimates, although various reasons were given for their departure. Jennings grouped the firings into six categories, of which people-ineptness was the most serious.

Such people, he said, cannot understand how to build a cohesive team or resolve conflict. In fact, they have "a marvelous capacity for offending everyone eventually, and then claiming they get no support."

When dismissed, such a person also spends the most time finding another job, takes the biggest pay cut, and is more likely than others to be forced into accepting a job at a much smaller company.

In contrast to being people-inept, those fired because of conflicts over corporate strategy, in effect because of their strong convictions, find little difficulty on landing on their feet.

"It's the classiest way to go," said Jennings. "It's almost a sign of competency."

Nothing stands out as a greater tragedy than the firing for being inept in dealing with people. A person so branded, said Jennings, never loses the reputation and sometimes slides toward oblivion.

Their problem is not one of general ineptness, and in authoritarian times they succeeded. Their firing, Jennings stated, "reflects the importance now placed on people management and team effectiveness."

uncertainty undermines planning, explained Albert Matamoros, Armstrong Cork economist, in delivering the views of the National Association of Economists. Uncertainty is an anathema.

First, said Matamoros, it forces a company into day-to-day monitoring of the economic environment. Uncertainty is war, and the economist must always be ready to dive for cover.

"At Armstrong," said Matamoros, "we are preparing 1979 budgets on a 'most probable basis' but are also feeding independent variable values from our 'worst case' model into our predictive equations."

"Uncertainty, indeed pessimism," he said, "is rooted in disappointment in the administration's seeming inability to deal effectively with...economic problems."

This is Carter's report card, based on responses to a multiple-choice questionnaire - superior, good, average, poor, failure - by 442 of the association's 3,000 members:

- Energy Program. Rated "poor" or "failure" by 87 percent.
- Tax Program. Almost 80 percent rated it "poor" or "failure." The rest termed it "average."
- Private Capital Formation. The preponderant proportion of survey respondents give the administration a grade of "poor" or "failure." Once more, 20 percent say "average."
- International Economic Policy. Rated "poor" or "failure" by 72 percent. Almost 5 percent said "good," while 23 percent checked the "average" box.
- Confidence-Inspiring Qualities. Rated "poor" or "failure" by 86 percent of respondents.
- Matamoros seemed to feel the pupil was not applying himself and that economists "have got to work harder in the economic education area," offering "constructive observations at all levels of government."
- Carter might be justified in reminding the public that the record of business economists has not always been superior or good. One sweeping charge against them is that they tend to be expert in forecasting a continuation of conditions but often fail to call the important turns.
- But the record of economists really is not the point. What is important is that some presumably influential thinkers believe the present administration is doing a poor job and is not likely to improve much.

tax. Some 900 cities levy the local-option, one per cent city sales tax.

Bullock estimated Texas homeowners and renters will enjoy a $150 million tax break with repeal of the state's four per cent tax on residential utility bills.

The one per cent city sales tax on utility bills will be automatically repealed in all Texas cities effective October 1, 1979, unless they vote by May 1, 1979 to continue the tax. Cities were given the option of repealing the tax by October 1 this year, the same day the state tax was lifted. San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin were among major cities which voted for immediate repeal. Houston declined to repeal.

FDA Says Labels Must Have Dates

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Food and Drug Administration said Monday that all prescription drugs and virtually all non-prescription drugs must be marked with expiration dates so consumers can know the products' shelf life.

Although some common medicines like aspirin already carry expiration dates on their bottle, currently the government requires expiration dates only for drugs liable to deterioration like antibiotics.

The expiration dates are part of an FDA updating of its Current Good Manufacturing Practice regulations. The new rules also will require each drug manufacturing plant to maintain a unit responsible for accepting or rejecting all drugs and their ingredients.

The new regulations will be published Friday in the Federal Register and take effect in six months.

The FDA said it proposes to exempt from the dating requirement non-prescription drugs "that have no dosage restrictions and are stable for at least three years, such as medicated shampoos and rubbing alcohol."

The agency also is proposing to exempt food-type products such as medicated cough drops or baking soda used for indigestion.

Lighter Side

LOS ANGELES (AP) - "Star Wars" toys have done battle with "Spacewar" toys and come out victorious.

A federal court judge has ruled that Arco Industries, Inc., must stop manufacturing "Spacewar" toys because they violate the copyright under which "Star Wars" toys are produced.

Judge Irving Hill ruled Thursday that toys based on the characters from the movie "Star Wars," the most profitable film in history, may be manufactured only by the Kenner Products Division of General Mills.

"Star Wars" was produced by 20th Century Fox Film Corp., which granted the copyright to General Mills to make toys based on the film. Fox had filed $1 million lawsuit here against Arco in June for alleged copyright violation.

The plaintiffs claimed that by copying their line, Arco had significantly damaged possible profits on the toys.

Hill's decision left a monetary award to be determined should Fox or General Mills pursue it further.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A robber walked into the Bank of New Orleans Thursday, ordered a teller to hand over a bulging money bag he spotted on a table behind her, lugged it out the door and escaped.

The bag was full of pennies.

Problems Still Remain After Tailings Scattered by Company

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) - Twenty years ago, a fire station was built atop a foundation filled with what seemed harmless dirt. Years passed, and a family took a house near a lot heaped with the same dirt. Neighbors had lived quietly in the peaceful area for decades.

Now one of those neighbors has leukemia, the firemen are frightened, and the young family in the quiet brick house is eager to move away.

Lyman Olson, director of the Utah Division of Health, says he is unaware of any cancer cases proven to be caused by the tailings.

"There are so many factors one must take into consideration. Do they smoke? How long have they lived there? What are their genetic characteristics? Where did they live before?"

Nevertheless, says Olson, large doses of radon gas over 15 to 20 years can cause cancer. "We know that to be the case."

One person caught in that uncertainty is Ander Burke, 65, who has lived for 35 years in his modest house eight blocks from the Vitro lot. Last February, he said, his doctors told him he had leukemia.

He says he cannot blame the tailings for his condition.

"But then again, it's possible," he adds. "Nobody knows."

Property around the lot has become almost valueless, residents can't find buyers for their homes, and, in recent years, no new building has been allowed near the perimeter.

"I don't like the idea of living here," says Pat Hatch, 29, a mother of four whose brick home is across the street from the lot.

She says she knows of three area residents who died of

Economists Flunk Carter

NEW YORK (AP) - President Carter received a terrible report card from the nation's business economists at their annual meeting in New Orleans a few days ago. They flunked him.

They graded him "poor" or "failure" on a list of five major economic policy issues, and on top of that said his economic conduct produced "uncertainty" - call it confusion - about the future.

To economists, that reference is probably the most damning of all, the future being their turf. They find it difficult to forgive anyone they think has made too many footprints on it.

Uncertainty undermines planning, explained Albert Matamoros, Armstrong Cork economist, in delivering the views of the National Association of Economists. Uncertainty is an anathema.

First, said Matamoros, it forces a company into day-to-day monitoring of the economic environment. Uncertainty is war, and the economist must always be ready to dive for cover.

Building Sought

The Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation again is trying to build a new headquarters in Austin—this time a $10 million structure in the Camp Hubbard area.

The department several years ago picked a site in downtown Austin south of the capitol and directly across the street from the governor's mansion. Loud protests were raised by conservation and historic groups, claiming the structure would dominate the capitol and increase traffic.

Building plans finally were abandoned on order of the legislature after the site had been cleared. The old site is now a parking lot, with some public park features.

LOCUSTS FOR DINNER?

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) - South African scientists say locusts could feed the masses, noting a swarm carries about a ton of locusts per hectare, and a recent swarm covered 1,300 hectares.

"Since they consist of more than 53 percent crude protein, this represents about 65 million kilograms of concentrated airborne protein," the scientists explained.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 26th, the 269th day of 1978. There are 96 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1907, New Zealand became a self-governing dominion within the British Commonwealth.

On this date: In 1777, British troops occupied Philadelphia in the American Revolution.

In 1815, the Holy Alliance was formed by Russia, Austria and Prussia.

In 1915, the U.S. Federal Trade Commission was established.

In 1918, the World War I Allies launched an offensive that broke the Germans' Hindenburg Line.

In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson collapsed aboard his private train after making 40 speeches on behalf of the Treaty of Versailles.

In 1950, United Nations troops in the Korean War recaptured the South Korean capital, Seoul, from the North Koreans.

Ten years ago: George Ball resigned as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations to campaign for the Democratic presidential nominee, Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Five years ago: The U.S. House and Ways Committee voted to bar any new trade privileges for the Soviet Union until it eased emigration policies for Jews and other minorities.

One year ago: Britain's Laker Airways began its bargain flights between London and New York, triggering some fare cuts by other airlines.

Today's birthdays: Entertainer Julie London is 52 years old. Gov. Robert Ray of Iowa is 50.

Thought for today: There is no grief which times does not lessen and soften - Cicero, Roman scholar, 106-43 B.C.

Don Coryell Replaces Prothro at San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A dream has come true for Don Coryell, the new head coach of the San Diego Chargers.

Coryell, who gained prominence as head coach at San Diego State for 12 years, now is in familiar territory after being chosen by the Chargers to succeed Tommy Prothro.

Prothro resigned as the National Football League team's coach Monday, one day after a 24-3 loss to the Green Bay Packers.

"I'm pleased with the opportunity to coach again in San Diego," said the 53-year-old Coryell, who went from San Diego State to the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals in 1973, where he coached for five seasons. "It's like a dream come true."

Coryell became the Cardinals' coach after directing San Diego State to an outstanding 104-19-2 record from 1961-72. At St. Louis, where he coached through last season, his teams were 42-27-1 and qualified for the playoffs three times. Coryell was not required after the Cardinals lost their last four games in 1977 and finished 7-7. But he still had two years remaining on his St. Louis contract. In order to obtain his services, the Cardinals agreed to give the Cardinals their third-round draft choice in 1980.

"I certainly hope I'm worth it," said Coryell. "I thought I could take the year off without coaching football but I started to

Martin Plays Martin In LeFlore Story

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Billy Martin, the once and future manager of the New York Yankees, smiled one of his infectious smiles, giving notice that he was about to say something outrageous.

Martin was chatting with newsmen at a preview of the television movie "One In A Million," the dramatic story of Ron LeFlore, center fielder for the Detroit Tigers. LeFlore made it to the big leagues after spending time in prison for armed robbery and got his chance only because of Martin, then manager of the Tigers.

Veteran outfielder Mickey Stanley of the Tigers, playing interviewer instead of interviewee, asked Martin what seemed a perfectly harmless question.

"When you're as involved with a guy's career as you were with Ron's, does it affect your feelings when you manage against him?"

Martin loaded up for the answer.

"Oh sure," he said. "When I like a person, I don't throw at you like I should."

Billy the Kid strikes again. Martin plays himself in the film which stars LeVar Burton as LeFlore and will be shown over the CBS network tonight. Did the manager feel comfortable portraying himself in the movie role?

get itchy when I attended a Dallas-San Diego rookie scrimmage in July.

"I haven't seen the Chargers play this season except on television, but with a few breaks the team could be 4-0."

Coryell said he plans to keep the staff of assistant coaches and said the offensive philosophy of the Chargers, both offensively and defensively, was very close to his own.

Prothro, 58, was in his fifth season as the Chargers' coach. Before going to San Diego, where his teams were 21-39, he was the head coach at Oregon State for 10 seasons starting in 1955, the head coach at UCLA from 1966-70 and the Los Angeles Rams' head coach in 1971-72. He sat out the 1973 season.

sports movies. "One In A Million," comes across realistically, mostly because of Burton, a capturing actor, who succeeds in capturing LeFlore on the screen.

"There is no fiction, whatsoever," said LeFlore. "I told it, as I remembered it and LeVar played me to reality."

The one problem LeFlore saw was Burton's size. The actor is a slender, slight man, not nearly as large as the ball player.

"I wanted to put a pillow in his stomach to make him look bigger," LeFlore laughed.

The LeFlore story starts in the Detroit streets where the outfielder grew up with the usual ghetto surroundings of dope, prostitution and crime. It follows him to prison and his transformation from a rebellious convict to one who discovers, almost by accident, that he can play baseball.

Word reaches Martin about this outstanding prospect behind bars. The manager makes a scouting trip, likes what he sees and promises LeFlore a tryout once his jail term is over.

The rest is history, including close to a .300 batting average for four major league seasons and hitting streaks of 30 games in 1976 and 27 games this year.

Player Dies At Practice

SAN BENITO, Texas (AP) - An autopsy has been ordered to determine the exact cause of death for a 17-year-old high school football player who collapsed while jogging during practice Monday afternoon.

Juan Galvan, a 135-pound reserve defensive tackle for the San Benito High School varsity team, was dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Coaches said mouth-to-mouth resuscitation failed to revive the youth, who collapsed shortly after arriving on the field for warmup exercises.

Hereford Cyclists Win Races

Kevin Cardinal, 18, and Chris Posey, 15, both of Hereford won cycle division races Sunday in Clovis, N.M.

Cardinal wrapped up the Class 250 Intermediate Division at the Midway while competing at the Midway Cycle Park.

Posey was 1st in the 125 Novice Division.

Kevin Cardinal kept the winner's circle family close as he finished 2nd in the 125 Novice Division while Roger Hamilton netted 2nd in the Maxi-Man Division.

Other Hereford cyclists competing were Paul Jorde, 14, who was 3rd in the 100 Class while Orland Douglas, 14, was 4th in the 125 Novice.

More cycling action will take place here Sunday at 12 noon at the Hereford Course.

Vikings, Tarkenton Jump Bears, 24-20

By HOWARD ULMAN
AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) - For a long time, Fran Tarkenton has taken his knocks both on and off the football field, from fans and reporters as well as defensive linemen.

His latest lumps came after he was replaced by young Tommy Kramer at the end of two of the Minnesota Vikings' first three games this National Football League season.

A Viking defeat against Tampa Bay Sept. 17 spurred hometown boos and speculation that the 38-year-old Tarkenton might not start Monday night against the Chicago Bears.

Even Bears General Manager Jim Finks said, "I wouldn't be surprised to see Minnesota run Tommy Kramer out at quarterback, if not at the outset, then very early."

He was wrong.

Tarkenton completed 14 of 20 passes for 152 yards and a touchdown on the sixth play from scrimmage. Kramer did not play. The Vikings led all the way and won a big National Football Conference Central Division matchup 24-20.

"Next question," Tarkenton replied when a reporter asked in just how it felt to have the starting job nailed down.

With the game just 2:49 old, Tarkenton hit Sammy White with a 33-yard scoring strike. Less than five minutes later it was 14-0 as Chicago quarterback Bob Avellini fumbled a center snap and Mark Mullaney recovered and lateraled to Matt Blair, who romped 49 yards to score.

With nine straight regular-season victories, including three this season, the Bears seemed ready to threaten the Vikings stranglehold on the Central Division.

But Monday night's victory evened the Vikings record at 2-2. The Bears are 3-1 and tied with Green Bay for the division lead.

The Bears closed to within 14-7 with 1:26 left in the opening period after Len Walterscheid blew up the middle without being blocked to bat down a punt by Mike Wood.

The Bears started at the Minnesota 13 and, helped by an offside penalty that gave them a first down, scored on Walter Payton's 3-yard run.

Bob Thomas' 27-yard field goal in the second quarter and 32-yarder in the third made it 14-13.

Tarkenton then engineered a

69-yard drive capped by Chuck Foreman's 1-yard touchdown run. Tarkenton completed five passes he threw in the series.

Rick Danmeier added a 29-yard field goal for the Vikings early in the fourth quarter before Payton scored from 1 yard out with 13 seconds left in the game.

"We were victims of the Vikings and our own mistakes tonight. Don't get me wrong, they made mistakes too in crucial situations," said Bears

Coach Neil Armstrong. "But ours hurt us more. That's the first long pass White's touchdown that's been scored against us and then they got that cheap one on a bad exchange on a quick count."

Murder Charges Filed In Bostock Incident

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - The body of Lyman Bostock arrived home in California at virtually the same time a man he didn't know was charged in Indiana with his murder.

Those who came in contact with the popular California Angels' outfielder continued to ponder the misfortune that struck him down in the prime of his life.

"I hate to even think about this, but I keep wondering why it couldn't have been ... somebody not as nice as Lyman," said a secretary for the Angels. "He was always so pleasant, so easy to deal with."

Lyman Bostock was popular with teammates, with fans, and with members of the media and with the youngsters he unselfishly helped. All were shocked when he was shot to death in Gary, Ind., last Saturday night.

Funeral services for the 27-year-old Bostock will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. PDT, at Vermont Square United Methodist Church in Los Angeles. Interment will follow at Inglewood Cemetery.

A murder charge was filed Monday against the estranged husband of the woman believed to have been the target of the shotgun blast that killed Bostock in a car on a Gary, Ind. street.

Arraignment for Leonard Smith, 31, was delayed until Friday, giving him time to consult with his attorney. Smith appeared briefly before Lake County Superior Court Judge Andrew Giorgi after being transferred from the Gary city jail to the county jail at Crown Point, Ind., where he was held without bond.

Smith's estranged wife, Barbara, 26, who was riding in the back seat of the car with Bostock, apparently was the target, police said. She was hit by some of the shotgun pellets and was released Monday from a Gary hospital. Mrs. Smith's sister Joan Hawkins, and the driver of the car, Thomas Turner, was not hit.

Bostock often stayed with Turner, his uncle, when the Angels played in Chicago, about 35 miles from Gary.

The last year was filled with highs and lows for Bostock. He was second in the American League in hitting last season, finishing with a .336 mark for the Minnesota Twins. But he played out his option and signed a five-year, $2.7 million contract with the Angels last November, making him one of the highest-paid athletes in the history of professional sports.

His career with the Angels began dreadfully last April. After a 2-for-39 start, he offered to give his salary back to the Angels. When the team said no, he donated the money to charity.

Even at his lowest point, he still would talk to reporters. Later, when the slump ended, he admitted relief but said that while he had lost a lot of confidence during the slump, he always figured there were better days ahead.

The Angels said Monday that team members would wear black armbands the rest of this season in tribute to Bostock, who had boosted his 1978 batting average to .296.

Steelers is a sellout. A spokesman for the National Football League club said no tickets remain for the rematch with the Steelers, who nipped the Browns 15-9 in sudden death Sunday at Pittsburgh. The spokesman said the final ticket was sold Saturday.

No exact count was available, but the sellout means more than 80,000 persons will be on hand for the game.

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) - A net loss of $28,616 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1978 has been reported by the Cleveland Cavaliers, compared to a profit of $96,569 reported by the club last year.

A spokesman for the National Basketball Association team said the loss would be reported Oct. 5 to stockholders of the Cleveland Professional Basketball Co., which owns and operates the Cavaliers.

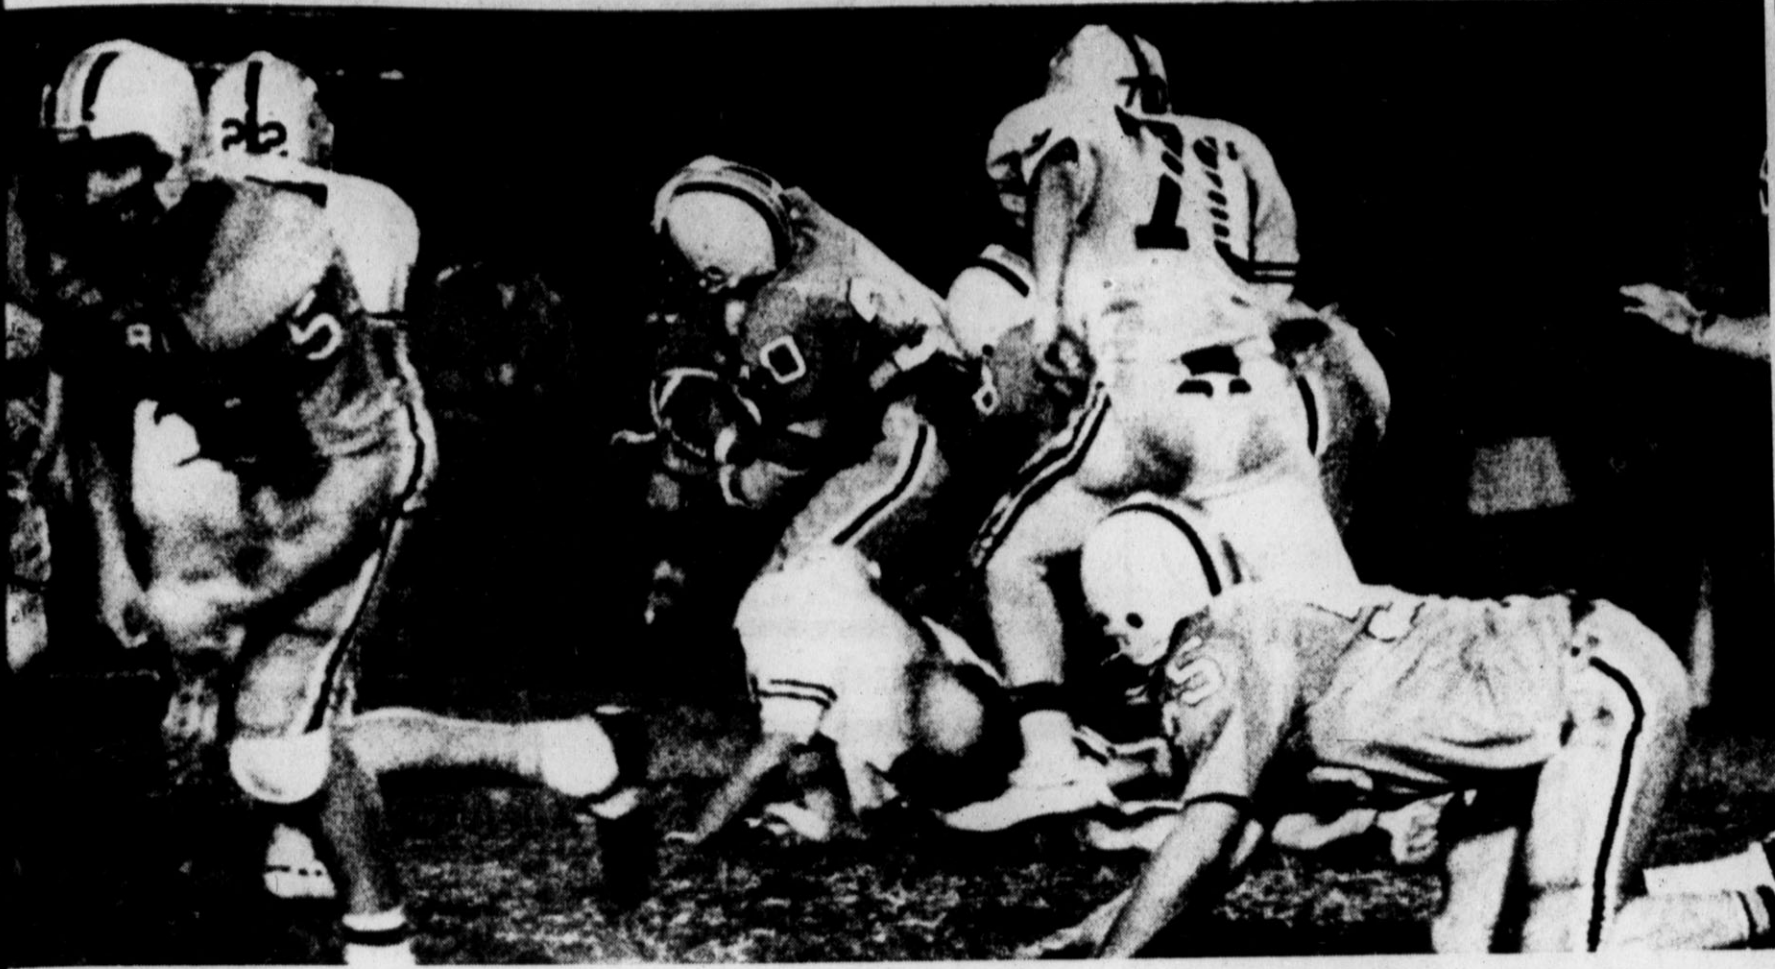

President Nick Mileti blamed this year's net loss on reduced gate receipts caused by the energy crisis and unusually severe winter weather conditions.

Mileti said the company is debt-free and noted that revenues from radio and television were up for the fiscal year.

CINCINNATI (AP) - The Cincinnati Stingers have made their first cuts of preseason training camp, releasing Chuck Pappas, Bob Ferriter and Gerry Galloway from the World Hockey Association team's roster.

The move lowered the roster to 26, seven over the squad limit the Stingers must meet by their Oct. 13 opener.

Pappas, a right wing, played last year at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y. Ferriter, a center, was one of eight free agents in camp and Galloway, a left wing, was a member of Regina's Western Canada Hockey League club last season.

Redskin Tabs Monday Poke Game Mini-Bowl

WASHINGTON (AP) - The seeds of contempt were sown early this NFL season between Dallas and Washington.

The two NFC East powers resume their rivalry Monday night as the Cowboys attempt to blemish the Redskins' unmarked record. Washington quarterback Joe Theismann has tabbed the game a "mini-Super Bowl." Redskin defensive tackle Diron Talbert simply refers to the encounter as "war."

And although the regular season is four weeks old, Dallas has been on the minds of the Redskins since before the season began.

In an informal, pre-season poll conducted by Washington Post sportswriter, Leonard Shapiro, the Redskins displayed both respect - and contempt - for the Pokes.

Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach epitomized the love-hate relationship between the two teams. Staubach was listed third behind Chicago running back Walter Payton and Baltimore quarterback Bert Jones as the first man the Redskins would pick to start a franchise.

But he was also listed as one of the most overrated NFL players by the Redskins. Staubach was listed fourth behind New Orleans guard Conrad Dobler, Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini and Dallas safety Charlie Waters.

Waters' counterpart in the Dallas secondary - Cliff Harris - was listed behind Dobler as the "dirtiest NFL player."

But the Cowboys were also voted by the Redskins as having:

- the "classiest" uniforms in the NFL;
- the best stadium locker rooms in the league;
- the best artificial turf Houston, incidentally, was voted as having the worst;
- the best coaching strategist in Tom Landry, who also was named the "best all-around coach in the NFL" ahead of Don Shula, Bud Grant and George Allen;
- the two most underrated NFL players in running back Robert Newhouse and defensive tackle Jethro Pugh.

Dallas was also rated second only to San Diego as the Redskins "favorite city on the road."

Accordingly, the unanimous Redskin response to the "team you enjoy beating most" and the "coach you enjoy beating most" was Dallas and Landry.

Rangers Grab Minnesota Win

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) - Gary Serum made two mistakes, and they cost him a victory Monday night in Minnesota's game against the Texas Rangers.

The Twins right-handed hurler had a three-hitter going into the eighth inning, then served up back-to-back home runs to Johnny Grubb and Bobby Bonds.

Texas overcame a 1-0 deficit with a blast and went on to win 2-1 in the 11th inning on a double by Bonds and a single by Al Oliver.

"It was a heartbreaking game, that's for sure," said Serum, who left after the eighth for reliever Mike Marshall.

"The guys gave me a lead and I just couldn't hold it. They (The Rangers) tied it up and before I could turn around they had gone ahead."

Alaniz 1st In Contest

Armadno Alaniz of 626 Ave. F won the Brand's Football Contest, missing only three games.

Alaniz had a tiebreaker score of 68. The Brand's third week of predicting weekend football games had the largest number of entries this year.

According to ad director Dan Welty, 234 entries participated in the grid game.

Harold Leewald of 238 Ave. E was 2nd place winner, missing four games with a tiebreaker of 27.

Third place winner was Maria Alaniz, missing four games with a tiebreaker of 56.

No other contestants missed four games, said Welty.

Serum threw a 3-2 fastball that didn't quite sink as much as he wanted to Grubb. "Then I tried to overthrow my slider because I was mad about the pitch that Grubb hit," he said, and Bonds hit his 30th homer of the year.

Minnesota had scored an unearned run in the sixth on singles by Rod Carew and Willie Norwood and a ground ball by Jerry Morales that Texas third baseman Jim Mason mishandled.

Norwood, who went 3-4 for the night, doubled to open the ninth and send Ranger starter John Matlack to the showers. Pinch hitter Glenn Adams greeted reliever Reggie Cleveland with a solid single to right, scoring the tying run.

Cleveland, 5-8, struck out three and gave up three hits in the three innings he worked. Marshall, 8-12, got the loss. He retired the first seven men he faced before he threw a high fastball at Bonds with one out in the 11th.

"It was in on him and Marshall just turned it over a little, trying to get it to sink. Oliver hit the same kind of pitch," Twin catcher Butch Wynegar said.

"Both Serum and Marshall pitched well. That's the sad thing about it to get a real good performance like that and lose the game. When you're leading 1-0 in the eighth you expect to win," Wynegar said. Serum had his off-speed pitch working well for him and had the Rangers fooled most of the evening. He struck out five and walked only one.

Matlack also gave up only five hits and struck out five while walking two.

The Rangers, although win-

FEMININE PLOYS
NEW YORK (AP) — Debbie Austin, one of the regulars on the Ladies PGA tour, says women attempt a lot of psyching out of each other.

"We have experts on the tour," she said, "who will do anything from moving as you make your shot to having their caddies drop the bag right in another player's sight-line on a putt."

"Low rates are a big reason we're the largest home insurer. But there are more..."

Low rates wouldn't mean much without our first class service. Drop by, or give me a call.

Carter Faces Meany Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) - Now that President Carter has mediated between ancient Middle Eastern enemies, he faces some really tough negotiations. He needs to find a framework for peace between the administration and George Meany.

Carter is working on a new inflation control program, since administration efforts to dampen the rise in the cost of living with a gentle program of guidance and persuasion is not doing the job.

To strengthen it, the administration is considering a set of wage and price guidelines, still voluntary but nonetheless a more intense form of pressure on labor and management.

Carter called it "a strengthening of our limited arsenal of weapons against inflation." He imposed one of those limits himself. As a candidate, he said he would not turn across-the-board to wage and price controls to combat inflation - but that he would like standby authority on the books.

It was to be a sort of psychological weapon, to be there but not to be used. That stirred some jitters, particularly among businessmen who recalled that Richard M. Nixon opposed standby control legislation but wound up using it to impose his administration's mandatory wage and price limits.

The business community's nervousness, reflected by falling stock prices, prompted Carter to change signals. Before his inauguration he dropped his request for standby control powers.

So the White House is working on a voluntary system which may include some sanctions to be invoked if guidelines are defied. In addition, it will include federal spending curbs.

Carter said the new program will be fair. "It will not penalize labor or any other group in our society," he told the United Steelworkers of America. "At the same time, it will be tough. I will ask for restraint and some sacrifice from all."

Meany already had been to Atlantic City, to tell the same convention that guidelines reflect a "controls psychology" that would penalize the victims of inflation without addressing the real causes. He blamed corporations and bankers, and said the administration should deal with them to hold down prices.

"If the president gets them down to reasonable levels, then wage demands will also come down - and not before," the AFL-CIO president said.

Meany said the Nixon controls restrained wages for a time, but not prices.

"I sincerely hope that the president is not persuaded by those who are beating the drums for controls to repeat our experience of 1971 to 1973," he said.

But no inflation control program is going to work without limits applied on both sides of the ledger.

Carter's problem now is to convince organized labor in general, and Meany in particular, that his new program will be as stringent in restraining prices as in dealing with wage settlements.

WASHINGTON (AP) - And so Jimmy Carter is a born-again political leader, his fortunes at home revived by the diplomatic triumph of Camp David.

There are perils ahead, for the fragile framework of peace between Egypt and Israel, and for the administration as it turns back to what have seemed intractable domestic problems on taxes, inflation, energy and more.

But Carter returns to that agenda with an aura of command and competence that had not been his since his days as a victorious political campaigner.

At Camp David with Anwar Sadat and Menachem Begin, he campaigned for peace as he had campaigned for office. Only dogged perseverance and patience against long odds carried him through the two-year campaign from Plains to Washington. He never was more effective than when he sat with once, two or a half-dozen political leaders to argue his cause as a candidate - and never more stubbornly determined than when they refused to join it.

Those attributes showed again in the 13 days at Camp David, and with them, Carter gained more than all Henry Kissinger's Middle East shuttles could achieve.

That is not to say that the Camp David accord will withstand the obstacles it now faces. If it does, Carter's diplomatic coup will be complete, but even if it does not, his political gain will be largely intact.

"If it breaks down, I don't think the blame comes back to Carter," said pollster Peter

Journalists Suffer Setbacks

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - American journalists have sustained recent setbacks in efforts to preserve confidential news sources, the president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association says.

Barclay Jameson, managing editor of The Santa Fe (N.M.) New Mexican, cited the U.S. Supreme Court's decision earlier this year in a Stanford University student newspaper case as one of the most serious setbacks, "not only for the press, but for the public."

In the Stanford case, the court ruled that police have the right to search newspaper offices for notes and pictures on a "third party" warrant, although no reporter is suspected of any crime.

"It is the public who is being hurt by this and similar decisions," Jameson said Sunday in an interview on the eve of the association's national convention in Portland. "The First Amendment - guaranteeing freedom of speech, freedom of the press - is a public right, not just a press privilege."

"People who know of wrongdoing in public business can't fight the battle alone," he added. "And the press can't fight wrongdoing effectively unless it can protect the confidentiality of its sources."

Jameson said the ruling in the Stanford case "could be construed to apply to businessmen, doctors, even lawyers, even private homes."

He said the case of Myron Farber, a New York Times reporter jailed for refusing to turn over to a New Jersey judge his notes on a murder investigation, is "another indication of the crisis of a sort between the press and the judiciary."

In 1931, a tidal wave hit British Honduras, killing 1,200 persons.

You should try dancin'

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 68 years old and a diabetic. I control my diabetes by diet. However, I cannot eat a lot of raw foods because I also have a spastic colon. As you say, I cannot take a physic because it hurts me. I have taken Metamucil which works fine until I have a nervous spell which results in a spastic colon and the constipation. My doctor gave me a medicine that I think is a physic because it cramps me. I never can tell when I'm going to be nervous and it is usually over nothing. What do you advise? Exercise is impossible except indoors. Do you have something I can do?

DEAR READER — Many people who have spastic colons do find out that they can eat raw food. It used to be that doctors put patients on relatively bland diets if they had colon problems. In recent years it has been well accepted that many people do better if they have increased bulk in their diet. Bulk can help level out the blood sugar and may even decrease the insulin requirements of a diabetic.

Perhaps you could start by using real whole wheat bread on a daily basis and then add to your routine an adequate amount of breakfast cereal which contains bran. That would be any of the whole wheat breakfast foods or those listed as containing bran.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Spastic or Irritable Colon and Constipation to give you a better idea on how you might improve your bowel function. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

There's more to the whole program than just taking bulk. You need to develop good habits, drink adequate amounts of water and this will help relieve the cramps and pains which you have had.

Yes, I think exercise is good for such conditions. You might go dancing. That's good exercise and if you do it within your tolerance and gradually build up, it could be an enjoyable way to improve your daily activity.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've been taking vitamin D with calcium for many years. I would like to know if it will harm my kidneys in any way. I'm 68 years old.

DEAR READER — Excessive amounts of vitamin D can cause calcium to be mobilized from the bone. As a result, there is an increased calcium content in the blood. This may settle out in the kidneys' soft tissues causing calcification of the kidneys.

Vitamin D toxicity is a real thing. You have to be more careful about it these days because many of our foods have vitamin D added to them. Specifically, such things as milk and dairy products.

For this reason, I don't recommend taking large amounts of vitamin D on your own. It's true that larger amounts of vitamin D with calcium are used successfully to help control calcification of the bone or osteoporosis in patients that have this problem. When given under controlled conditions for these circumstances it can be considered as safe.

If you weren't taking the vitamin D I would think that whatever amount of calcium you're taking, in reasonable amounts, would be acceptable. The body has a wonderful biological system and when you take too much of many things it simply eliminates them or, as in the case of calcium, simply absorbs less.
