Herd Hosts Olton Tuesday; Loses Opener To Palo Duro

Gaining needed experience, Hereford High's Whitefaces will host the Olton Mustangs here Tuesday, Dec. 1, for their second game of the season.

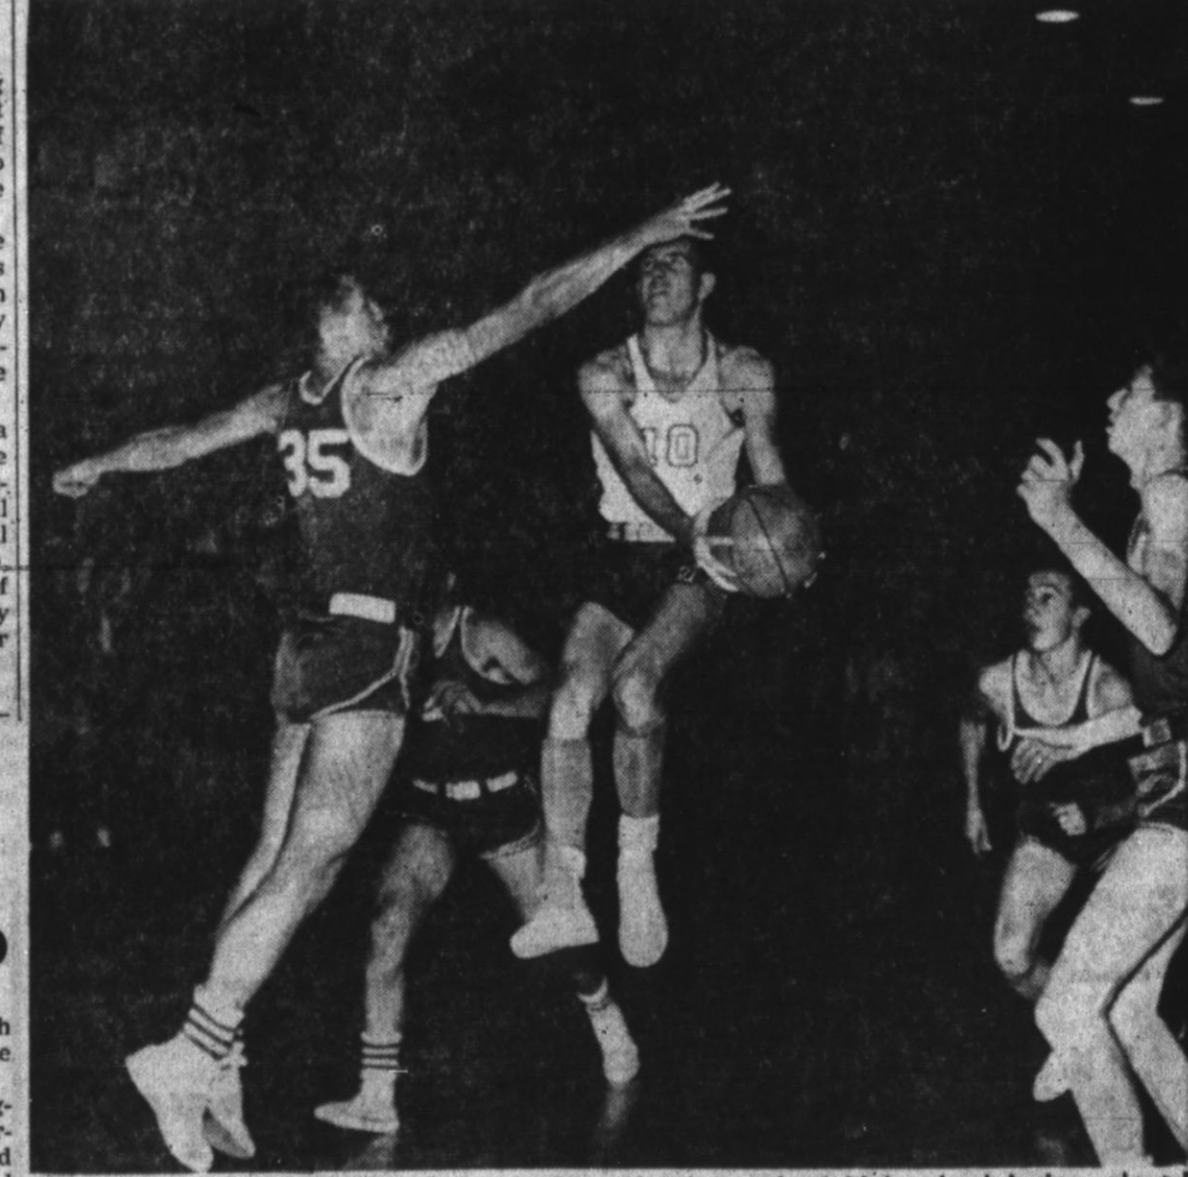

The Herd dropped its opener to the sharp-shooting Palo Duro Dons of Amarillo Friday night, 79-52.

Coach Tom Gilley's crew had little trouble handling the Whitefaces, as they displayed strong ball-handling and excellent shooting from outside.

The Dons also controlled the boards during most of the contest. The Dons were rated fourth in the large 3-AAAA conference before play started.

Coach Cuby Kitchens charges showed their lack of experience in weak passing and shooting, committing several errors throughout the game.

Brawling Town Of Helena Now A Shadow Of Itself

KARNES CITY, Tex. — From here take Highway 80 north, cross the San Antonio River at a little bridge and, at the next crossroads, you'll come to Helena.

In its heyday it was a wagon town, rowdy and sprawling, a way station on the Mexican Cart Road and the old Chihuahua Trail, and one of the saltiest settlements in Texas.

Today its mute remains stand as a reminder of the time when Texas was new and raw and one man's vengeance could disrupt a county.

No one knows when the trail on which Helena stood was started, but in the early days of Spanish settlement, travelers from Goliad used the route to reach San Antonio.

The trading post and wayside stop was called Alamita and long trains of oxcarts lumbered down the single, dusty street, laden with merchandise for the markets of Mexico, 1560 miles away.

Later, the road from San Antonio to Indianola also ran through Alamita.

Settlers continued to come and in 1852 a townsite was organized and laid out. Its name changed to honor Helena Owings, a doctor's wife. The following year a move was made to form a new county from parts of DeWitt, Goliad and Bexar.

Legalized in 1854, it was known as Karnes County, after red-haired Capt. Henry Karnes, Texas patriot and Indian fighter.

Helena was designated as the county seat.

From an overnight stop, it grew into a roaring little city with great expectations for the future. Oldtimers still treasure yellowed copies of its newspaper, the Helena Record and Kicker.

It knew the excitement and strife of the Cart War, when non-Latin teamsters sought to drive the Mexicans and their oxcarts from the highway, and it was the only stop on the stage coach line that ran from San Antonio to Goliad.

For 30 years Helena prospered, although during part of that time the local outlaws prospered with the city, preying on freighters, stage coaches and lone travelers.

These "gentry of the brush" came frequently to Helena until the Karnes County Vigilance Committee and the Texas Rangers hung enough of them.

And it was in this vicinity that John Wesley Hardin began the reputation that later earned him national notice as a gunman.

Among outlaws of the area originated that sanguinary form of personal encounter known as the Helena Duel.

But Helena's toughness finally led to her downfall in the 90's. B. F. Yoakum, pioneer railroad man, promoted the new San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad across South Texas. Knowing the county's reputation, Yoakum said: "If the new line could be run around Karnes County it would be better for everyone."

However, he sought a deal with the citizens of the metropolis, asking a free right-of-way and a $35,000 bonus to run the rails through the town. They refused, reasoning that Helena was the most important town in the rich area, and that the railroad would be forced to come to them. Several, who realized that this was not necessarily true, raised $32,000 and offered it to Yoakum.

The sum was large enough, and they immediately turned to the right-of-way problem, only to have bad luck overtake them.

It was during these days, according to old-time Helena residents, that the son of a wealthy rancher from across the county was shot from his horse and killed in the streets.

The next day the boy's father showed up with his ranch hands to claim the body. He dismounted, drew a line in the dirt of the street with his quirt handle, and offered to escort it out with any man who dared cross. He also threatened to kill the town that killed his boy.

He got in touch with Yoakum and offered to donate a full right-of-way across his property. Yoakum accepted and the new railroad missed Helena by several miles.

Parent-Teacher Association of Hereford High School will meet Monday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be held at the new junior-senior high cafeteria between the two school campuses and will afford patrons a chance to inspect the new building. There will be a discussion program on the problems encountered at the high school, which will be of particular importance to parents of high school students. Refreshments will be served during the meeting.

The political pot started simmering around the edges this week with the announcement that Lowell Sharp was going to run for sheriff. We suspect there will be several good races shaping up by the time filing deadline rolls around.

Hereford VFW members were in a spin for a few days last week. With posters out and arrangements made, they got word that part of their coming stage show had been involved in a car wreck. But agents got some good drawing cards to substitute and the show will go on as scheduled.

Appearing with Little Jimmy Dickens on Dec. 5 will be Arnie Derksen, a young Canadian singer, and The Casuals, a group of six young rock 'n' roll musicians from Nashville, Tenn. The stage show is slated to start at 7 p. m. in the High School auditorium, followed by a dance in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom at 9 p. m.

George Hill this week said that about 62 junior and senior high school band members ed Helena by several miles. Karnes City and Kennedy sprang up almost overnight, and most of Helena migrated to one or the other. By 1894, Karnes City was larger than Helena, and in a county election that year, it was voted to move the county seat.

Helena ignored the election. One night a few weeks later, after Helena had time to forget, riders from Karnes City trotted into town, seized the county records.

Then Helena, its glory truly departed, gave up and died. Today only a few families live in the ghostly old settlement that once mothered a county.

Hereford second home basketball game is set for 8 p. m. in the HHS gym Tuesday. The B squad game will start at 8:30 p. m. Coach Coby Kitchens is still hanging on to his crying towel in what is generally conceded to be a year for re-building. But we think his ten green juniors are going to settle down and be in the thick of things when the conference battles start.

A special City Commission meeting has been set for 2 p. m. on Tuesday, Dec. 1.

Project Christmas Card containers have been placed in Hereford grocery stores to go along with the containers already installed in the two banks. Posters which accompany the containers were made by Mrs. O. Werthenberger's junior high art class. Deadline for this year's project Christmas card is Dec. 19. Proceeds will go to the Community Center. The annual project, which uses money that otherwise would be used in sending Christmas Cards within the county, is sponsored by the Deaf Smith Cards within the county, is County Medical Auxiliary.

Between 240 and 285 students were being served each day in the old cafeteria, but this is expected to jump to 800 per day in the new dining facilities. Mrs. Smith commented.

Also included in the building, along the west side, are offices for the schools superintendent, his secretary and staff, board room, the tax collector - assessor, school dietitian and other administrative school personnel.

Opening of these facilities is not expected to take place until the latter part of the week.

General contractor for the cafeteria was Carl E. Maxey Company of Lubbock, while the Anthony Company of Lubbock was mechanical contractor and Owens Electric of Hereford handled the electrical work.

Golden Light Coffee and Equipment Company was low bidder on the cafeteria equipment, dishes and flatware.

Architect for the school construction program is Brasher, Spencer and Goyette, Inc., of Lubbock.

(Continued from page 1) make them strong district contenders by the time conference play rolls around during the middle of January. Kitchens is in a re-building year after having taken his team to the state play-offs for the past two years. Last year his team was the runner-up in AAA cage play.

Kitchens is using a "two-platoon" system to season his juniors. Time played was almost equally divided between two teams.

Carter got the Dons off to a fast start as he poured in two baskets and Bryan Bray added a charity toss before Hereford marked up its opening points. Carter chalked up eight points in the first quarter to lead 14-6 at the end of the period.

On the strength of five straight free throws, Hereford pulled up to 11-14 early in the second quarter, then mustered to 13-15 before the Dons got hot again. Palo Duro lead 32-21 at the end of the first half.

Palo Duro's Carter and Kiser both got hot in the third period as the Dons pulled out to a commanding 53-37 margin. Gilley had another surprise in the final period, as the Dons came out in a full-court press. The green Whitefords faltered in the face of this unexpected defense and allowed the Dons to chalk up eight points before they were able to get the ball down court and score on free throws.

It was a rough game from the opening whistle, as officials called 21 fouls against Hereford and 27 against the Dons. Two Palo Duro players, Bray and Johnson, were ejected after five fouls.

Had it not been for charity tosses, Hereford would not have been in the game at all. Falling to hit from the floor, they-netted 28 free throws and made just 13 field goals. The Dons hit 31 from the field and added 17 charity tosses.

In his platoon system, Kitchens had Thomas Coffman, Charlie Thomas, Charlie Burrus, Fred Mulkey and Ronnie Botkins playing on one squad. The alternate unit included Bud Martin, Carl Miller, Ronnie Carter, Greg Combs and Clyde Whitaker.

Palo Duro also took the B squad game, downing the Hereford Bees, 50-39. Dennis Hodges had 20 points and Jackie Oldham netted 10 for the losers. Pacing the Palo Duro Bees was Maxwell with 11 and Hall with 10.

was cut from 11,557 to 10,157 acres this year, constituting a decrease of about 1,400 acres.

However, it was estimated that as many acres were planted due to the Plan "B" choice of cotton acreage.

In April, a total of 126 growers chose Plan "B", a new feature of the cotton program introduced this year.

The remaining 439 cotton growers in the county chose the regular Plan "A" program, and an estimated 6,459 acres were planted under specifications of the program.

Plan "B" growers chose to comply with an increased farm allotment 40 per cent larger than the "regular" farm allotment, with support at a level 15 per cent of parity lower than under the other plan.

That would mean that up to 11,213 acres could have been planted for harvest this season.

POWER LINE TO PROSPERITY

For every one dollar spent on cooperative lines an estimated $6 is spent to use the electricity. This means the electric cooperatives have created a billion dollar market for local businessmen.
The cooperative is locally owned—business managed—tax paying... owned and operated by the people it serves.

DEAF SMITH COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
Probably the only thing wrong with Thanksgiving is that it has always made Friday seem like Monday. And what a day was Friday. A couple of times, I thought about getting a little cranberry farm - just to get away from all of the headaches.

Joe Bishop, who is visiting here these days, just sold his day in Arkansas. Joe says this is a pretty good country at that and has even been looking at houses. Joe says he didn't get to do much fishing, but he sure came back with a lot of fish stories. Seems that the water is just now getting right for bass catches. Pack London is just back from a fishing junket down on the coast.

"I caught one of those sheephead fish that was really old," says Pack. "He was so old he had false teeth. Honest, he did."

What happened to all of those A. & M. boys? Since that Thanksgiving game they have been really hard to find. Even big bruisers like Wayne Phillips and J. W. Robinson would rather talk about something else. Most people were sort of glad to see Texas U. go into the Cotton Bowl, though, and if they play anything like they did against the Aggies, Syracuse will know they have been in a ball game.

One good thing about the snow flurries Thursday. Everyone got to worrying about the roads, and started home early. Consequently, there seems to have been fewer automobile accidents than usual. Harry Caylor says this is what happened to him. He drove back from Perryton, and says that every car he saw was driving at a moderate rate of speed.

Some of the old boys who stuck around home got a bit reckless, however. Mend Johnson says that he ate cranberry sauce, then smoked a cigarette - all in the same day.

Francis Hardwick is back from his annual vacation in Hot Springs. Francis was presented a special miniature bath tub by the Rotary Club there; seems that he was the visitor furthest from home. Francis says it is the one Rotary Club he has ever attended which has about as many visitors as members at each meeting.

I notice where West Texas State College at Canyon relieved Clark Jarnigan of his coaching job after a rather fruitless season. I guess that's one reason coaches draw such good salaries, but it sure would be a tough job to have. This reminds me of a story Henry Sears tells about a little old lady on a college board. The board was talking about the coach, who had a long string of losses, but the college president kept taking up for the coach, who was a longtime friend:
"Joe didn't maybe do so good in scores," admitted the prexy, "but he instills the boys with good sportsmanship, teaches them to respect their fellowman, and always conducts himself in a Christianlike manner."

About this time the little old lady interrupted to ask, "why pay out all that money. If it's a Sunday school teacher you want, I know where we can get one for free."

These Hereford bridge players are sure on the ball. I notice where Mrs. Russell Carver recently won the Amarillo city championship title in a two-session duplicate tournament. Pretty sharp, I would say.

Monday is Dollar Day again - and it will kick off the Christmas season in a big way. Business has been a bit sluggish the past two weeks, and most of the merchants are plugging away with some of the best $-Day bargains they have ever offered. If you don't believe it, just turn through the paper and scan some of the ads.

I've been trying to smoke a pipe for the past month, but have just about decided it isn't a very good deal. When I smoke my own tobacco, I keep thinking about the 25 cents I have to pay for a 10 cent can - and when I smoke other people's tobacco, I pack my pipe so tight it won't draw. It's just one of those things where you can't win.

Frank Beizer says the St. Anthony's ladies fed more than 1,000 people at their annual Thanksgiving dinner - and that's a lot of people when they all stay for dinner. If you don't believe it, just ask some of those K-C boys who were washing dishes that day. Frank says they fed more folks in 1953, which was their biggest year. However, the dinner this year was their 25th; they started in 1928, but missed a year or two along the way. All in all, the annual St. Anthony dinner is a real community service and, fortunately, it is also a profitable project for the group.

Speaking of food, everyone says the new high school - junior high cafeteria set up is really a honey. Students not only get a wholesome meal for 37 cents, but have a choice of meats, vegetables and other items. In addition, they can select salads and other specialties if they choose. And for the really fastidious ones, they are going to have a snack bar with sandwiches, malts, and all the trimmings. Gonda Smith, supervisor, says they are going to try to make it so attractive that the students would rather go to the cafeteria than some other place.

This sounds like a good deal. No one, anywhere, can cook like Mom, but cafeterias can be good - and think what a relief they can be to a lot of tired mothers who work themselves to a frazzle going after kids, fixing a special lunch, then hauling the kids back to school. A little cooperation and the new cafeteria set-up can do as much for the community as any single thing I know.

Good attendance was reported. Mrs. Jack Weaver called the meeting to order for business. Secretary Mrs. Floyd Brown read the minutes, which were accepted. Treasurer Mrs. Bob Wyly gave the balance in bank report.

Mrs. Leland Elbert Smith, formerly Miss Frances Thomas (Angel Photo)

Thomas-Smith Vows Read In Avenue Baptist Church Rites

Wedding tapers in pyramiding candelabra and large baskets of white shaggy chrysanthemums flanking an arch of greenery tied with wedding bells formed the background Friday for the wedding of Miss Frances Jean Thomas and Leland Smith. The Reverend Jackie Heath, pastor of the Kokimo Baptist Church in Olden, read a double ring ceremony in the Avenue Baptist Church at 7:30 in the evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thomas, 1009 Union, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Smith, Route 4, Dimmitt. Miss Zella Vee Smith of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom, played a prelude of nuptial selections preceding the wedding and accompanied Mrs. Weldon Stephen, vocalist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and the recessional.

Mrs. Jackie Heath of Olden was her sister's only attendant. She was attired in an aqua chiffon dress made with fitted waist and full ballerina skirt. She carried a hand bouquet of white French carnations.

Wesley of Dimmitt was his brother's best man and ushers were Loyd Messenger of Friona and J. G. Henderson of Dimmitt. The bride was given in marriage by her father, wore a ball-sleeve-length dress of white chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned along Princess lines. The fitted waist featured a low sweetheart neckline and short sleeves which were met by long white lace gauntlets. Her veil of illusion was held by a nylon tulle headband embroidered in seed pearls. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a white Y W A Bible topped by an arrangement of white bridal rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore a gray-blue woolen suit with white accessories and a small white hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a mediterranean blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Her hat was in blue to match her dress. Each mother wore a white carnation corsage.

Honoring the couple, a reception was held in the educational building of the Church. Presiding at the bride's table, centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums, were Mrs. Charles Gresham and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. David Funk of Amarillo. Others in the house party were Mrs. Darrell Carroll and Mrs. C. R. Higgins.

Following a short wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple will reside on a farm near Dimmitt. For traveling, the bride chose a turquoise tweed suit with white accessories, and she wore the bouquet of rosebuds detached from the wedding bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Hereford High School, has been employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Canyon. Her husband is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and attended Wayland College at Plainview. He is presently engaged in farming.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bag-

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to Garland McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. McClure, 822 Blevins St.

The approaching nuptials were revealed at a tea given by Mrs. Wester in the Wester home 111 Bradley, Thursday afternoon.

The refreshment table was laid with an ecru linen cloth and carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of red and gold in appointments. Garlands of gold ribbon bearing the inscription "Mildred and Garland - December 27" were held by cupids and extended from the red and gold floral arrangement in the center to flanking gold tapers.

Other decorations for the home carried out the bridal theme in tapers and flowers.

Those presiding at the table were Sheryl Patterson and Sandra Wester, sister of the honoree. Jonna Lee Blocker served at the guest register.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Wester and her daughter were the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. T. V. McClure, and Mrs. Carlie Smith who will serve as maid of honor.

Others in the house party were Mesdames Edgar Telchik, Elmer Patterson, and Wilodyne Brooks, Misses Nancy Trautmann and Sheryl Patterson.

Those attending during the calling hours of 5 to 7:30 included Mesdames Robert Waggoner, Rufus Weathers, D. E. Allmon, Elmer Patterson, Charles Trautmann, Leon Denton,

Mrs. McDowell To Review Book

Mrs. Ansel McDowell, popular book reviewer, will be presented by the Rebekah Lodge in a review of the book Mrs. 'Arris Goes To Paris, by Paul Gallico, on Dec. 1 in the High School Auditorium at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Dean Saul, noble grand, has announced that everyone is invited to attend and that tickets will be on sale in Hereford business houses and at the door the evening of the program. Proceeds will go to redecorating the IOOF Temple. Other officers of the Rebekah Lodge are Mrs. Nathan Hopson, vice-grand; Mrs. Ross Lomenick, secretary; Mrs. A. N. Hopson, financial secretary; and Mrs. C. E. Beauford, treasurer.

Mrs. 'Arris Goes To Paris is a warm and loving story of a London char-woman whose feminine desire for a beautiful dress took her to Paris. The book is especially appropriate at this time of the year when the Christmas spirit of good will prevails in every mansion or hamlet.

What Mrs. 'Arris finds in Paris and what the city people find through her influence, make an entertaining and inspiring story.

Plan Marriage Early In April

The engagement and early spring wedding of Miss Sammie Lucille McLallen and Arthur Edwin Travis Jr. of Fort Worth was announced here yesterday in the home of Mrs. B. E. Roberson, 125 Avenue C.

Miss McLallen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McLallen of Brownfield, formerly of Hereford. Her fiance's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Travis, 1415 Gambrell St., Fort Worth.

Formal announcement of the engagement was made at a tea given in the Roberson home by the bride-elect's mother. She was assisted by Mesdames Jimmie Allred, Owen Stagner, Marlin Gilliland, Tandy Legg and Mrs. Roberson.

The refreshment table featured the colors of Sapphire Blue and Pink to be used in the wedding. The table was covered with a pink organdy cloth over pink and news of the romance and forthcoming wedding was revealed in a night scene picturing a diminutive bride dressed in a traditional lace gown standing in a pale pink cloud. The light from a crescent moon shone through the pink cloud mist at the back and above, enhanced by the incandescent glow of sapphire blue night jewels at each side. Wide pink satin streamers lettered in gold told the story, "Sammie and Art - April 1."

In the house party were Mrs. Dixie Murphy, Annette Albracht, Dolores Broman, Nancy Story, Carolyn Allmon, Mary Ann Young, Marlene and Marilyn Legg, Joy Morton, Gay Taylor, Sandra Roberson, Marlene Gilliland, Beth Scott, Sue Suggs and Clydene Allred.

Local H-SU Exes Invited To Reunion

Deaf Smith County ex-students of Hardin - Simmons University will assist in the organization of a Panhandle H-SU alumni association at a meeting at the First Baptist Church of Amarillo next Tuesday.

Speaker for the dinner meeting, set for 7 p. m. in the church dining room, will be George L. Graham, formerly superintendent of schools at Hereford and now executive assistant to the president at H-SU.

The Rev. Byron Bryant, director of public relations, and Truett Latimer, alumni director, will be on hand to give the exes a report on progress of Hardin - Simmons and to assist with the organization of an alumni chapter for the region.

The meeting is one of a series being held throughout the state this fall as H-SU seeks to set up ex-student chapters to promote friendships among alumni and to keep the exes informed on progress of the university.

The Rev. Bryant will report on the H-SU building program, which includes a $630,000 chapel - auditorium on which construction is starting, a half-million-dollar student center to be started early in 1960; and a $165,000 renovation and enlargement of Caldwell Hall, completed recently.

Latimer will speak briefly on the functions of an alumni organization. Election of officers for the new chapter will climax the meeting.

LEE MORRIS . . . Models her first formal dance dress.

YOUNG MODERNS

Start Living With That First Formal

By VIVIAN BROWN
Newsfeatures That "First Formal" is the time when you leave your dreams behind and start living. That's what pretty Lee Morris, 13, of Chappaqua, N. Y., found out when starry-eyed and pitter-patter-hearted she went to her first big dress-up party. Says she: "I had been thinking about it always, it seemed, and it was kind of a relief when my date, Jimmy O'Brien, picked me up for the dance. I had spent days testing out my new 2 3/4 - inch heels so that I could walk in them, and I had tried on my evening gown so many times that I was afraid it would be worn out by the time I got to dance in it."

Lee didn't need to worry about balancing herself on the high heels.
"All the girls at the dance took off their shoes anyway, and danced in their bare feet," she says, "and it wasn't risky, because the boys are good dancers. Barefoot dancing took me by surprise, although it is a lot of fun to be that casual!"
Her strapless dress was white silk-organza with blue flowers and green leaves at the neckline. Her green evening slippers were dyed to match.
"It was a moonlight night, warm and wonderful," she says, "and we danced outdoors on the terrace. At one point, we did the Bunny Hop and the dance line stretched all the way out to the golf course."
The Bunny Hop? Lee describes it as a dance that goes "kick your feet, jump and then hop, hop, hop."
Jimmy, 14, Westchester County freestyle swimming champion (in the under-14 group) wore a white jacket, blue trousers, Black Watch cummerbund and matching bow tie. His parents are members of the Westchester Country Club where the party took place, so the young people had soft drinks in the club grill after the dance.
"The older kids went on to have fun later, and those old enough to drive could make a night of it but most of us were delivered back home by parents shortly after 12," says Lee.
Lee, a ninth grade student at Horace Greeley High School, says that she was too excited to eat before the party. The piece de resistance for her get-up arrived with Jimmy—a wonderful corsage of brown and yellow orchids.
She wore her lovely blonde hair in a nice boy coiffure rather than her usual pony tail because "it made me seem more grown up," and Ma and Pa Morris agreed that lipstick and a little eyebrow pencil would further enhance their offspring's beauty.
A week end drama student at the American Academy of Dramatic Art, Lee plans a career in the theatre. She had her first real thrill in that respect last year when she had her very first kiss (for picture purposes) from movieland's Tab Hunter.

Dear Santa, I am six years old. I am in the first grade. I have been fairly good. I would like a doll in a jumper seat and a doll crib.

My brother, Dene, would like a policeman's outfit. He is five years old. My sister, Lorri, would like a doll and a bottle. My brother Barry, who is one year old, would like a teedy bear.

Rev. Gilbert Davis Speaks To Optimists

The Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor of the First Christian Church of Hereford, gave a Thanksgiving program at the noon meeting of Hereford Optimist Club Tuesday in the L. O. O. F. Hall.

He said that "gratitude for us is not an easy virtue, and we often wonder what we have to be thankful for."

The Rev. Davis said we can be thankful for: the blessing of life itself, freedom, prosperity and God's redeeming love. He added that we can show our gratitude by accepting the good things God has given us, using well the gifts God has placed in our hands and giving ourselves to God.

"We take good things for granted, but we should be thankful for them," he said.

The Optimists named a committee of workers for their Christmas tree lot, which will be set up at Ave I and Park Avenue sometime soon.

'What About Santa Claus' Topic For Young Mothers Study Club

"What About Santa Claus" was discussed at the Young Mother's Study Club meeting held with Mrs. Gerald McCaskill Tuesday evening. Members answered roll call by answering the question, "What DFO Your Children ask about Santa Claus?" Following a short business session, Mrs. Labry Ballard gave a program on "What To Tell Children About Santa Claus, Deity and Death". She said, in part, "Believing in Santa Claus is one of the greatest joys in a child's life. While some believe a child becomes disillusioned when he later learns about Santa Claus, most people think that the knowledge only makes the old fellow more real. "By setting an example and worshipping with children, parents teach their children about Deity and there is a beautiful side to death that a child can be made to see even though he cannot understand," she said. Attending were Mesdames James Alston, Labry Ballard, James Boyd, Gid Brown, Wendall Burdine, Hugh Clearman, James Headstream, Kenneth Malone, Jess Robinson, Burl Caudle, James Russell, Dale Young and the hostess.

Beauty At Home

Q. What can I do for dried or bleached hair?
A. Before your customary shampoo, apply some warm olive oil to the scalp, massaging this well in. Then tie up the hair overnight, or at least for a couple of hours, before shampooing your hair.
Q. How can I remove grass stains from one of my unwashable dresses?
A. Sponge the stains with denatured alcohol (or benzene). Dilute the alcohol with two parts of water if using on rayon, vinyon, or a colored fabric. Rinse by sponging with clear water.

Q. What is a good exercise to help shape the ankles?
A. Lie on back on floor with two sofa pillows under the hips and bend the knees to the chest. Encircle the left ankle with both hands. Twist the hands back and forth as hard as you can in a circular movement around your ankle. Continue this twisting movement, slowly travel up the leg until you have massaged well above the knee. Repeat this twisting massage five times on each leg.
Q. What treatment will help to alleviate a very greasy and oily type of skin?
A. One treatment which is at once cleansing, cooling, soothing, and drying consists of the following: Two or three times daily, try a facial bath 5-1/2 ounces of rose water, one-half ounce of alcohol, and one-half ounce of boric acid.

Q. How do I go about keeping my fingernail cuticles smooth and in good condition?
A. Make a habit after wasing the hands, of pushing gently with an orange stick and then massaging each nail with a bit of oil or cream. If a tiny hangnail has been scraped up, nip it off with the nippers before it tears more - but never cut the cuticle!
RECORD ENROLLMENT - WASHINGTON (AP) - An estimated 5,138,000 pupils are enrolled in Roman Catholic grade and high schools, a new record. The parochial school enrollment accounts for about 12.5 per cent of all elementary and high school pupils in the country.

George Heard Speaks At Meet

George Heard, a Hereford resident who recently returned from Baghdad, Iraq, was guest speaker at the noon meeting of Hereford Lions Club Wednesday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel. Heard, who worked in a lubricating oil test program in the Government of Iraq Oil Refinery Administration, showed a variety of Arab dress in giving his talk. He explained that clothing of Arabs often denotes what profession in which the wearer might be engaged. Heard said that there is a constant language barrier in Iraq, and that he and his family were treated well by the people in the country.

Extra Hours Gained In Automation Create Social Problems For U.S.A.

What are the things our children need most to learn in order that they may better face life in a few years?

The answer is a tough one. It is also one which too few of us analyze sufficiently. We are more prone, in fact, to criticize curriculum changes in our schools as they occur from time to time, while the schools might be more justly criticized in the opposite direction.

Automation has already shortened the work week from 48 hours to 40 hours in many areas, and this continued trend is the real cause which underlies the recent steel strike, along with a probable railroad strike.

Automobiles, airplanes and jet planes whisk people between places so fast that millions of former travel hours are also added to the extra time we Americans now find at our disposal.

The modern housewife, surrounded by scores of gadgets, no longer works far into the night to do her chores; instead, she has a job downtown, finds recreation in bowling, golf, bridge or study clubs. Tremendous sales of boats, trailers, fishing tackle, hunting gear and sports equipment testify to the fact that the American people have more time on their hands than ever before in history. Furthermore, every indication points to the fact that the amount of extra time will increase in years to come.

Music, once a luxury which few could pursue or afford, now provides entertainment and relaxation for thousands of Americans; physical education, often the wedge used by school critics, is likewise a method by which the next generation can relax and at the same time keep physically fit. Amateur painting, too, is becoming all the more popular as we Americans discover extra hours.

When we study this situation, there can be no doubt that our problem has changed drastically — and that the education of our children should be different from that of 50 or 25 years ago. Going further back yet, we find an old adage: "An idle mind is the devil's work shop."

Already many people are attributing juvenile delinquency outbreaks to the fact that our modern youngsters have little or no work to keep them busy, while our modern labor laws prevent them from holding jobs or positions in many businesses. Most of us are personally acquainted with people or relatives who upon reaching a coveted retirement age find themselves bored, restless and genuinely unhappy.

Whereas, most of us simply had to learn to work, modern living demands that our children learn how to play intelligently. They must invest their spare time in such a manner as to get the most out of it themselves, and still not infringe on their families, neighbors and fellowmen. Unless this is accomplished we can expect our divorce rates to continue to soar, our people to waste ability and, frequently, to break our laws.

Many public schools are aware of the problem. However, they alone cannot solve it. Like any other social change, it must also come through the home and the church, which should bid for their part of these extra hours.

Most important of all, however, we should face and recognize this vast change in the American way of life. We should not expect our children to be able to get along with the same fundamental training we once had, and we should do our best to help prepare them to live in a more complex, more complicated society than any of us have ever known. In short, they need to know how to invest those extra hours wisely that they can reap the most for themselves and for humanity in general.

No Money Down, Move In Today!

Smaller towns are rapidly losing population to the large cities of the United States. One of the reasons, seldom given its fair place, is due to available housing with low down payments. Homer Steen, editor of the Floydada Hesperian, commented as follows in the subject this week.

The big dailies—Dallas for instance—are full of ads offering to let families "move right in" to new homes with very little down-payment and monthly installments cheaper than rent. No wonder the big towns lure off the young fellow with a new family. The kids want to enjoy living, have a bright new home beyond their means. They can do this simply by moving to the big city and get a job equally as good as the one offered at home. Who got the laws set up so that a big city has such tremendous advantage over the small city in this and many other ways? Perhaps the lawmakers thought to help carry out that consoling biblical passage in which it is told for the little fellow even that which he hath shall be taken away.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Christmas Carols voice faith in warm, happy song. The first Nativity hymn, "Jesus Light of All the Nations," was composed in the Fourth Century.

Later under the influence of St. Francis, solemn religious hymns were transformed into simple, popular, joyous and fervent carols. Martin Luther is credited with composing "Away in a Manger." In 18th Century England, strolling musicians warmed the spirits of their fellow townsmen as they sang from door to door. Father Joseph Mohr in the Austrian Tyrol manifested his faith in the 19th Century when he wrote "Silent Night." It is said that he wrote verses on Christmas Eve because the church organ was broken and he did not wish his parishioners disappointed. He rushed to his friend, the organist, who composed the melody in a few hours, and it was sung at midnight.

Today carolers of all ages, representing churches, organizations and neighborhood groups, lift spirits as they softly sing down hospital halls, to the aged in homes, to gatherings in communities and to their neighbors.

"God rest you merry gentlemen; Let nothing you dismay, Remember Christ our Savior was born on Christmas Day . . ."

Parents Warned About Photo Registry Scheme

Parents who believe their children's photograph worthy of use in national advertising were warned recently by Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

25 YEARS AGO

Allotment Compliance Checkups Begin Here

25 YEARS AGO

Check up on corn-hog signers will be started next week, says Dewey Reed, county agent. All signers will be checked for compliance; then certificates will be made and sent to Washington.

Second payment of the 1933 allotment will be made after approval of the compliance papers. This payment will be 20 per cent of the year's total and for the county will be about $12,000.

First payment was made last month and amounted to $24,000. It was 40 per cent of the total. Third payment will be made in the spring.

Next Saturday, Nov. 24, is the last day for cotton farmers to sell tax exemption tags to the government pool. In Deaf Smith County there are 26 cotton farmers. They hold certificates representing 90,000 pounds of tax-free cotton. These certificates, if sold to the government pool, are worth four cents for every pound of cotton they represent.

To date tags for 54,000 pounds have been placed in the government pool. This leaves about 21,000 pounds outstanding. County Agent Dewey Reed says they can be sold to the government pool up till Saturday. After that date no more will be taken.

45 YEARS AGO

Upon call, the two national banks of Hereford, the First National and the Western National, on the first of the month, sent their first assessment of $1,000 each to the Regional Bank located at Dallas. Monday, the day for the opening of the Regional Banks for business, they sent in a deposit for reserve, the Western National remitting $2,000 in gold and the First National sending $3,000 in gold. Under the present regulations, each national bank member must keep two-twelfths of their reserve on deposits in the Regional Bank, five-twelfths with any reserve agent of with the Regional Banks, or in their own vaults. These proportions will be changed at the end of a year, gradually increasing the reserve in the Regional Bank, each year for three years.

This, the beginning of an entirely new system of banking for the United States, will be studied and watched by all financiers the world over. Starting at a time when the greater part of Europe is at war, with destruction of property and industries on every side, it may be the beginning of financial supremacy of the United States. The necessity of the moment may force the return of securities from the financial centers of Europe to the United States and may change this country from a borrowing nation to a leading country. Our common people may become bond holders instead of money borrowers.

Thompson cited the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership, as stating that "photo registry" or "mug book" promoters are fleecing thousands of dollars from gullible parents who are led to believe that a photo or snap shot of their child may earn $500 or more for use in advertising.

Here's how the scheme works, according to Thompson.

"A 'Mug Book' is a collection of photos of would-be models published for profit by a promoter at the expense of the models, collectively, or their parents, and sent, unsolicited, unwanted and usually unused, to advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers.

"These books or albums attract patronage by representing that there is a big demand for child photos by national advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers who pay up to $500 and more for them. They solicit the submission of photos for approval, and then congratulate the parents on the photogenic qualities of their offspring.

"The story is that child photos are published in an album and distributed to large numbers of advertisers, agencies and publishers, presumably in dire need of such photos. A common fee for inclusion of a photo is $10.

"Surveys made by the National Better Business Bureau establish that national advertisers do not use 'mug books' as a source of child photos. They secure their photos through their advertising agencies, who use commercial photographers and professional model agencies.

Unsolicited albums are not generally considered, because (1) the usual quality of most of the photographs makes it impossible for anyone to know whether the children are suitable; and (2) the children are not geographically available; (3) the photos are not current; and (4) the legal work involved in dealing directly with parents would make the cost prohibitive.

LIQUOR ELECTION CONTEST

A hearing in the suit contesting the legality of calling a liquor election in which sale of alcoholic beverages was approved in Castro county has been tentatively set for 10 a.m., Dec. 3, in Judge Harold LaFont's District Court in Plainview. The announcement came after liquor stores in the county had been open for a week in Nozareth and East Dimmitt. What effect the open package stores are having is hard to determine. Castro County Sheriff Jack Cartwright said this week that about ten drunks had been locked up over the weekend, which was an abnormally high figure. One man was arrested for drunken driving, but it was conceded this particular individual would have probably been arrested for the same offense if the county had stayed dry. The ten arrest for being drunk in a public place may have been just a coincidence, Cartwright said. Most reports were that the package stores did a brisk business over the weekend. The suit being placed before the District Court contests the right of the Commissioners Court to call the election which enabled Precinct 4 to go dry. It does not contend there was any illegal procedure used in the election.

FARMERS PRAISE MAIZE AGREEMENT

Moore County farmers this weekend were praising an announcement from the federal government that grain sorghum will be included in all future foreign purchase agreements under Public Law 480. In past agreements, only one specified grain requested by a negotiating county could be included in the agreement. This practice had not allowed the county to, at some later date, substitute one grain for another even though a price advantage might develop. It has been agreed that future agreements will read "U. S. feedgrain (corn, grain sorghum and barley)." This designation, which could possible lead in an increased export of grain sorghum into countries which have not previously requested sorghum shipments, was developed while Elbert Harp, Grain Sorghum Producers Assn. director from Abernathy, and association executive officer Bill Nelson, were in Washington. Association leaders have commended the Foreign Agricultural Service and the Commodity Stabilization Service for this decision.

FARMERS ASK COURT TO CUT TAXES

Elimination of all personal property taxes was sought by a group of farmers appearing Monday before the Randall County Commissioner's Court. Headed by Earl Burtz, who lives south of Canyon, the delegation represented the Randall County Farm Bureau, which has about 450 members, and the Randall County Dairy Association, which has about 50 members. No action was taken on the delegation's request that tax on personal property be eliminated altogether. In a prepared statement, Burtz complained that the court's recent action in removing the personal property tax on cars and trucks represented unequal treatment of taxpayers. Other members of the delegation were Kenneth Erwin, Harold Erwin, Roger Dugan and Ben Turpin. C. C. Graham, Canyon merchant, asked whether houses in town are taxed on the same basis as houses in the country. Burtz said his group wanted to discuss personal property taxes only and would be satisfied to leave the overall tax set-up to a citizen's tax committee. Natural expansion would take care of the $23,000 the county would lose, by accepting the group's proposal, Burtz said.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but we don't guess you can blame him for trying.

Dear editor:

The more I learn about the behind-the-scenes activities of television the more I'm convinced the industry is being run by human beings.

For example, one of the latest wrinkles uncovered by a Congressional investigating committee involves side pay-offs for small favors.

Like this: if a comedian can work in the mention of some product, the manufacturer will send him a sample free. Say he's being sponsored by a car manufacturer, well, of course he gets paid his regular salary for mentioning that, but if he mentions perfume, the perfume makers will send him a generous sample. If he mentions soda water, the same thing happens. Or refrigerators or hair dressing or stoves or toothpaste or shoes or razor blades or what not.

Well, a lot of people are outraged at this and I am too, but not for the same reason. The reason I'm outraged is that I mention articles all the time in these letters to you, and does any store ever send me any free samples?

I figure there must be a possible reading audience in The Brand of a least 10,000 people, and if Hereford merchants were on their toes like the big-shot manufacturers they'd be flooding me with gifts. But what happens? Nothing. Why I've been mentioning the name of your paper off and on nearly every week and you haven't even been alert enough to send me a free subscription. Why don't you and the rest of the business people in this area get up on the national level and fight this television scandal by smothering me with gifts? It's getting monotonous, having Congress spend all its investigating energies on New York and Hollywood and completely ignoring us folks in Deaf Smith County.

In this letter alone I've mentioned a good many items I could use, and will be glad to mention more in the future. What are you hung on?

Yours faithfully

der their children beautiful and justly so. But this very fact proves that there is no dearth of suitable child models within a stone's throw of the advertising agencies who need them. Local mothers who may be tempted to earn some money through the use of their children's photos are urged to investigate any advertised deal very carefully before paying a photo for the inclusion of a photo in an album or register. If in doubt, ask the Chamber of Commerce for a report.

Mrs. Thomas, using material taken from "Parents Magazine," described methods of disciplining children in the past and pointed to the changing times which has brought about different methods to meet different situations.

She said, "We have now gone from the fear of authority to the freedom in respect of authority."

Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr., vice-president, presided over the business session.

Members in attendance were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Ivan Block, R. A. Daniel Jr., Virginia Hartman, O. G. Hill Jr., Gayle Neal, Wayne Thomas and the hostess.

Bufs Open Year With Three-Game Road Trip

CANYON. (Special — West Texas State's young basketball forces, under new coach Metz LaFollette, will open the season with a three-game road trip against two Missouri Valley Conference foes and a strong independent.

The Bufs, trying to rebound from a disastrous 6-16 record in 1958-59, will tangle with North Texas State at Denton Tuesday, Dec. 1. They will fly to University of Houston the following day, and then fly back to Wichita Falls Thursday for a tilt with Midwestern. It will be a strenuous schedule, playing three games in three days.

After five weeks of workouts, Coach LaFollette indicates the Bufs are making progress "but have a long way to go." He generally is pleased with their improvement on defense but says "the team is far from being a polished club."

LaFollette, who built outstanding teams at Seminole High School, is pinning his hopes on a squad composed of five sophomores, two juniors and three seniors. On his current starting five, he is going along with the three seniors, one junior and a soph.

Milt Fitts, 6-5 senior who plays one of the low post positions, returns after posting a 15.5 scoring average last year and landing a berth on the All-Border Conference first Unit. The other seniors are Gene King, 6-5 forward who averaged 11.5 points last term, and Jim Reid, 6-6 post man who scored at a 6.5 per game clip while starting about half the 1958-59 season.

Rounding out the probable starting five are junior Keith Blair, the shortest man on the squad at 6-1, and David Seal, 6-2 sophomore who has been impressive in drills. Elair averaged slightly over 11 points per game as a starting sophomore last year.

Seal has been sharing the starting role with another sharp-shooting sophomore, 6-4 Jim Curtsinger, and Coach LaFollette indicates he will use both boys a lot.

With his running brand of basketball, LaFollette intends to substitute frequently. He can call on Jim Conner, 6-8 sophomore, and Henry Hardaway, 6-3 soph, to fill in at the post positions. Outside reserve strength will depend on Frank Castleberry, 6-4 transfer from Frank Phillips JC, and Jerry Bell, 6-3 sophomore.

The Bufs' don't have the big man but will average a frac-

Proper Residue Management Is Important To Crop Production

Proper crop residue management is an important job of high production minded farmers, reports Don Newman, local Soil Conservation Service technician.

Crop residue utilization as it is usually called, is the management of crop residue so as to leave a protective cover on the surface of the soil during the critical period. This time usually occurs during the fall, winter, and spring.

Grain sorghum stubble now on our fields in the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District will provide the necessary protection and improvement if properly handled. Shredding followed by tandem disking seems to be the most efficient method.

This method leaves sufficient residue on the soil to provide protection from damaging wind. Crop residue utilization also aids in maintaining or improving the chemical, physical and biological condition of the soil. Maintaining crop residue on the soil surface increases the rate of decomposition. This is important in the development or maintenance of soil structure and in the production of available nutrients, especially nitrogen.

Sound management of crop residues insures higher crop yields, maintenance of soil fertility, and productivity.

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
A Christmas Cantata will be presented at the Dawn Baptist Church the Sunday before Christmas. Practice session for the presentation are being held each Sunday at 6 p. m.

The Cantata is featuring all ages. Mrs. R. T. Stewart, choir director, is asking everyone who will sing in the Cantata to be present each Sunday for rehearsal.

The United Fund Drive in the Dawn community was successful. Mrs. William Wimberley, local chairman, reports that the people were generous in their contributions and that this was the best drive since the fund was started several years ago.

Restrictions Lifted For 6-Month Active Duty Reserve Enlistments

First Lt. James Alston, Commanding Officer of the 1st Platoon, 700th Company announced that restrictions have been temporarily lifted for six months active duty enlistments in the United States Army Reserve.

The number of enlistments in the Army Reserve is governed by the ability of the training centers throughout the country to handle them.

When a backlog occurs it is sometimes necessary to stop enlistments for as much as several months at a time.

Once again however, a young man in the community between the ages of 17 thru 25, without prior military service, may now enlist in the US Army Reserve in his home or nearby town. He will be able to serve with friends and neighbors, many of whom he has gone to school with, and known all his life.

If he is presently in high school he will have a chance to finish before he reports for his six months active duty training. During that six months active duty he will receive the basic training that every soldier gets upon his entry into the service. After completing his basic work he will be

'Blessings Of Music In Home' Theme For Music Study Meeting

A program of unusual interest was presented at the Music Study Club session held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lowell Sharp, with Mrs. James Alston as cohostess.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. R. P. Coneway, was built around the theme "Blessings of Music in the Home" in keeping with Thanksgiving time, and with musical selections featuring nostalgic lullabies and nursery rhymes members had used with their own children.

Mrs. Coneway gave the introduction to the program saying, in part, "Music in the home should never be a lost art. The rhythm of and words of a lullaby mean much to the small child who should learn early to join in with the family music making, for the happiest family is the singing family."

She quoted Mary Martin, who says "Everybody can sing if they try and everybody should try. The practice of singing together as a family should be begun even before the children can read."

Musical selections included a medley of lullabies and nursery songs sung by Mrs. C. J. Mountz with piano accompaniment by her daughter, Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait. Songs included "Rock - A - Bye Baby", "Brahms, Slumber Song"; "The Fox and the Grapes"; "The Chickadee Song"; "Angels Guard Thy Bed"; "Away in the Manger";

"O Peter, Go Ring The Bells" (Negro Spiritual) played by Mrs. Bill Stanford; "Bless This House" (Brahe) sang by Mesdames W. T. Carmichael, Bill Bradley, A. J. Schroeter, and A. O. Thompson; "Narcissus" (Nevin) played by Mrs. Lowell Sharp; "The Old Refrain" (Kreisler) played by Mrs. Howard Scott and the hymn of the month, "We Gather Together", sung by the club under the direction of Mrs. Crosthwait.

Members in attendance were Mesdames J. R. Allison, Bill Bradley, W. T. Carmichael, Steve Clements, R. P. Coneway, Ellis Coombes, B. Y. Crosthwait, W. E. Dameron, Cliff Estes, H. K. Fox, Paul Lyons, J. C. McCracken, George McLean, C. J. Mountz, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, Bill Stanford, W. J. Stanford, A. O. Thompson, W. T. Thompson, J. E. Eyer, C. W. Mystery Is Stripped From Chinese Food

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

GLAMOROUS, MYSTERIOUS and delectable! That's how Chinese dishes strike many of us. Thanks to Calvin Lee, the third generation of a restaurant-keeping family, you can have a guided tour through New York's fascinating Chinatown plus 150 clearly written recipes and valuable shopping and cooking advice.

Maybe it's young Calvin's law training that accounts for the fact that his recently published book, "Chinese Cooking for American Kitchens" (Putnam) is such a well-organized Biederker. According to the author, Chinese menus needn't puzzle you, and his method of teaching is to begin with a list of main ingredients. Here they are: chicken (gia); duck (opp); beef (new); pork (gee yok); lobster (lung har); shrimp (har); fish (yu).

Now go on. Which of the six basic methods of Chinese cooking do you prefer? Calvin says they are stir-frying (chow); roasting (shew); deep frying (low); steaming (fine); braising (mum); and red-roasting or cooking in soy sauce (hoong shew).

Put this simple glossary together and you can recognize some of the dishes on a menu. Chinese fried chicken is low gal; fried shrimp is low har; roast pork is char shew; and steamed chicken is ling gal.

It's easy and fun—especially when you find more words close to the preparation method of raw ingredients: slicing (moon-ding), chopping (choong), cutting in chunks (kow), and shredding (sze).

Most persuasive feature of all in Chinese cookery, is speed. Using a round-bottom flared utensil called a wok or a frying pan plus a high gas flame magnificent combinations of food are readied in minutes. But heed Calvin's warning about organizing your cooking. He says "it is important to place all your ingredients such as garlic, ginger root, salt, pepper, oil, sugar and corn-starch in an orderly arrangement on a table next to the stove so you can reach for them as you need them." Here is one of Calvin's excellent recipes with which to begin your Chinese cooking.

Sweet And Sour Pork Cubes
Ingredients: 1/2 pound pork tenderloin, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/4 cup sliced green peppers, 1 ring pineapple, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 clove crushed garlic, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 cup water, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 1/2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed with 3 tablespoons water, 1/4 cup sliced carrots.
Method: Cut pork into 1-inch squares. Roll in flour. Deep-fry in broiling oil. Pork will float when done. Boil green peppers for 3 minutes and drain. Slice, pineapple in 1-inch pieces. Using a high flame, heat a well-greased frying pan and add salt and garlic. Add sugar, water, vinegar, soy sauce, monosodium glutamate. Bring to a boil. Add cornstarch paste and cook and stir for 1/2 minute. Add green peppers, carrots, pineapple and pork and cook for 1/2 minute more.

Members of the club and their husbands included Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burk, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Burrus, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Burrus, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds

This was one of the most memorable years in sports. It was the year Gene Tunney retained his crown against Jack Dempsey's challenge in the famous "long count" fight. That year a young man named Johnny Weissmuller was churning up the water faster than any swimmer ever had . . . and another young man named Bobby Jones was winning most of the tournaments.

But the biggest record of that year was hung up by a man who was affectionately called "The Bambino" or the "Sultan of Swat." The most dramatic crowd-pleaser in the history of the diamond, Babe Ruth was challenging his own record of 59 home runs that year. He was well behind his best pace most of the summer. Then came September. The Babe started to drop them over the fences almost every day. His total mounted. The sportswriters set up a time-table. It seemed impossible . . . but Ruth wound up the season by breaking his record with the magical number 60!

Remember the year? A man expected a car to keep going a long time in those days . . . one of the most important things to him was good service . . . at a fair and honest price! The year was 1927. For safety's sake, bring your car to our expert factory trained mechanics for dependable service . . . for the right parts and accessories that mean longer years of trouble-free driving. See your reliable FORD dealer for the best in parts and service! CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC., 146 E. SECOND, PHONE EM-4-2727.
