Whew! And a double whew! The Harvest Festival is all over, and what a show it was! It exceeded all hopes, dreams and expectations in drawing crowds, holding interest and promoting the event as an annual affair.

Parde Entry Winners: In the non-commercial division, Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter won first; La Plata Study Club, second; and Veterans of Foreign Wars, third.

School Budget Hearing Friday

Public hearing on the 1959-60 budget for the Hereford Rural High School District has been set for Friday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Board Room at the Senior High building.

The announcement was made by W. E. Hair, president of the board. School trustees will hear completion on the budget plans Friday night, Hair said. The board has been wrestling with the budget for about two months, trying to bring the estimated expenditures within the planned income.

At present, the budget figures indicate a budget comparable to the past year's. This will be about $900,000.

Three Injured In Collision

THREE WERE INJURED, one seriously, when two pickup trucks collided at the intersection of Plains and Centre at about 1 p.m. Friday. Receiving head injuries in the crash was John Beasley, driver of the vehicle at the rear. Gregg Combs, a passenger in Beasley's truck, and Darrell Dawson, driver of the truck at left, were treated for minor lacerations in the emergency room of Deaf Smith County Hospital shortly after the accident. Hardin-Simmons Hires Hereford High Teacher

Luther L. Corder, 27, an instructor in the department of business at Hereford High School last year, has been added to the Hardin-Simmons University faculty as an instructor in business education.

A former teacher at Abernathy, Corder is to receive his master of business education degree from West Texas State College at Canyon during August exercises. He will report to Hardin-Simmons prior to the opening of the fall semester.

Corder received the bachelor of arts degree from Eastern New Mexico University in May, 1954, and started teaching at Abernathy that fall. He transferred to Hereford last summer.

County Locates Office Buildings

Two buildings south of City Hall will serve as temporary quarters for offices of the County Courthouse during renovation of the structure. It was announced by County Commissioners Thursday after a called meeting Wednesday.

Moving operations will begin as quickly after Aug. 10 as possible, the commissioners said. The offices and library will be occupied in the two buildings south of City Hall on Miles Ave., known as the West Texas Feed and Seed Company building.

Offices will be set up in the first building south, and the library will be located in the other building. The first building is 75 by 120 feet in size, and the other building is 36 by 100 feet. A courtroom, to be used in county and 89th District matters, will be housed in the first building, according to County Judge Homer Henslee.

Hereford, Pampa Win Way Into Area Tourney Finals

Hereford used home runs to down Littlefield and Pampa fought from behind to sweep Dallas in Friday night's games in the Little League district tourney at Hereford.

Behind 2-0 at the start, Pampa battled back to defeat Littlefield 6-5 in the opener. In the second game, Steve Hodges hit two homers and Steve Conaway hit another to account for all the scores as Hereford won 10-0.

Civic Clubs Combine On Big Farm Tour, Aug. 26

Wednesday, Aug. 26, was officially approved as the date for Hereford's farm tour and joint civic club meeting when representatives from various civic clubs met this week with Joel Hodges, general chairman, to review progress on the annual tour.

Plans were adopted to feed 300 persons at the lunch and Hodges said that tour travel will be restricted to buses. "Dr. Virgil P. Lee of Houston will be speaker for the noon lunch," Hodges said. He also told the group that Dr. Lee is one of the outstanding agriculture leaders in the Southwest. Preliminary plans call for starting the tour at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 26, and continuing it to 3:30 that afternoon.

Lunch will be served at the Bull Barn and the meeting will substitute for all civic club meetings in the community that week, Hodges said. He also named the following committees: Transportation, Dub Hair, Fred Cunningham, Henry Ayecock; tour route, Jim Wiman, Lefty Thomas, Jess Robinson; finance, Bert Boomer, Curtis Roach; publicity, Clint Forby, Jimmie Gillentine; drinks, Marvin Coffee; and barbecue, Francis Hardwick. Forby will act as master of ceremonies on the occasion, and Wiman will assist Hodges as general chairman for the tour.

Hereford opened up in the bottom of the first with three runs. Ranspot got on by a fielder's choice and S. D. Baize singled. With two out, first sacker Steve Conaway parked one over the fence and Hereford jumped to a 3-0 lead.

In the bottom of the second, Hereford duplicated the feat with another three-run homer with two out and two on base.

Lynn Cook was waved to first after being hit by the pitcher and Charlie Moreno walked just before catcher Steve Hodges blasted one far over the left field barrier. After being limited to a scratch single in the first three innings, Littlefield got hot in the

TWO DAYS BEFORE BIRTHDAY

Christian Church Salutes F. H. Obertheir Sunday

A tall, distinguished Deaf Smith County pioneer, F. H. Obertheir will be honored by the First Christian Church Sunday, Aug. 2, in a rare ceremony of appreciation.

His long record of civic and church work will be reviewed during the morning worship service, closing with a citation for his efforts just two days before his 90th birthday, Aug. 4.

Obertheir is the oldest active member of the church and its only Deacon Emeritus. His family came to Texas in 1851 and settled in the Fort Bolivar section of Denton County. His father and four of his father's brothers served in the Confederate Army. His father was Henry L. Obertheir, born in Virginia in 1829. His mother was Eliza Jones, who was born and reared near Fayetteville, Ark.

His father operated a treadmill at Fort Bolivar from 1851 to 1868. During this period, Indians from the Fort Sill, Okla., area made frequent raids and many of the settlers were killed, and their homes and crops destroyed. For this reason, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Obertheir moved to Rusk County near Henderson in 1868.

F. H. Obertheir was born Aug. 4, 1869 in Rusk County. The family resided in this east Texas community until 1876. The county was extremely low and many people died as a result of malaria, without realizing that it was caused by mosquitoes.

Henry Obertheir became seriously ill with the disease and, at the insistence of his wife, moved the family to Comanche County in 1876. F. H. Obertheir was seven at that time. All of the schooling he received was in one-room, long school houses in various parts of Comanche County. He married Miss Amanda Holmes on Jan. 10, 1894, in Comanche County, where her family were pioneer settlers and her father had been the first sheriff for the county.

Children born to Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Obertheir were: Fred H. Junior, now deceased; Elizabeth, Mrs. Dewey Lawrence of Tyler; Louise, Mrs. W.L. Gaines of Millburn, N. J.; and Frances, Mrs. V. O. Hennen of Hereford. Mrs. Obertheir died on Jan. 21, 1957.

F. H. got his first job, off the farm in 1889 when he started working as a bookkeeper for the First National Bank of Dublin, Tex., for 40 months.

His second job was in 1891 when he became associated with the Comanche National Bank. He came to the High Plains

Call For More Young Swimmers

A Hereford group of swimmers under 17 years old has been participating in practice sessions recently in preparation for entering the Junior Olympics Swimming Meet to be held at Lubbock Aug. 21 and 22.

Contests will be held for four age groups for boys and girls. Races will be in free style, backstroke, breast and butterfly strokes.

The age groups include 10 and under, 11 through 12, 13 through 14, and 15 through 16 years. During the latter part of next week, time trials will be conducted and a team to participate in the meet from here will be selected. "We have some good prospects," Wayne Lawrence, a coach, said, "but there are other good swimmers in Hereford who have not reported for practice yet."

Practice is held daily from 7 to 8:30 a.m. at Hereford Municipal pool, and any interested swimmers are invited to try out for the team.

Other coaches of the local team are Bill Hardwick and John Matt Gilliland, both of Hereford. There will be 78 events in the Lubbock meet.

ing for the Brand. He indicated that the office then was across the street from the present quarters of the Brand and that when his speech was published, the type was set by hand.

Hereford was a small but healthy town at the time. Willard Marshall, who was with Brunk this weekend, told of seeing cattle driven down Main Street and the recreation he and Brunk indulged in as boyhood friends.

He confesses that he is glad that none of the same police are still on the Hereford Police Force now. He says that he is sure that if they were both here and Brunk would have been jailed as soon as they crossed the city limits.

Brunk soon left Hereford after his graduation and went to Wichita, Kan., as one of Brunk's comedians. After a stay there, he went to Vernon, where he is a public-accountant.

TAKING A DEEP SEAT, Red Berry of Vega stayed on top of this bronc for the required 10 seconds in the saddle bronc riding division of the rodeo Thursday night. He was one of few who managed to make the ride, as the stock at the Hereford Riders Club rodeo proved to be mighty tough. (Staff Photo) purchased some ranch land in Castro County.

It was 1908 when F. H. and his family moved to Hereford. The house in which he lives at 127 Avenue F was constructed in 1908 and the family moved in during January, 1909.

Obertheir and Claude Meadows built the first light plant in Hereford in 1908. Meadows managed it for a year and then returned to Comanche County. Mrs. Obertheir had some land in Comanche County which she traded to Meadows for his interest in the light plant. Obertheir operated this service until 1925.

From 1929 until 1947, Obertheir operated grain elevators in Black and Dawn. A number of prominent area businessmen were associated with him in these enterprises.

He was a charter member of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, which started in 1908 and was known for many years as the Hereford Commercial Club.

Obertheir was one of 40 men who contributed $4,000 for the first test irrigation project to be attempted in this part of the country. D. L. McDonald drilled the wells in this experiment, which proved to be a tremendous success. The drilling rig for this test was brought in from the rice field of the El Camp area.

Of the 40 men who eagerly watched this first well go down beneath the surface at Frio Draw, Obertheir is the only survivor.

With the occasional use of a cane, Obertheir is a common sight around Hereford, recognized by his erect carriage and immaculate clothing on a tall, spare frame. He continues to live in the large frame house surrounded by tall trees and lots of grass.

Obertheir regularly drives in to the downtown area to visit and look after some of his property holdings.

"Mr. Obertheir has been a devoted church member through the years," Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor, commented. "He has served in many capacities, but has never sought to be recognized. We wanted to show our appreciation to him."

Obertheir joined the Christian Church in Comanche in 1907, transferring his membership to Hereford when he moved here. Several years ago, Obertheir was elected Deacon Emeritus, an honorary position for life.

Still speaking of the Festival, and we will for some time, all persons having bills against the Festival are asked to turn them in immediately to the Chamber of Commerce office. This will enable the planners to get all the bills paid promptly and will enable them to start laying the groundwork for a repeat performance next year.

Steve Hodges opened up the first of the fifth with his second four-bagger of the night, this time with none aboard. Ranspot singled but was stranded on second.

Ranspot settled down for the last two innings as he shut out the Littlefield batters, allowing them to get just one baserunner.

Thursday night and they were walking on air about the big crowd that turned out for the show. They said it was the biggest crowd they had ever had for a Thursday night show. These riders, by the way, have built a fine new arena, with good bleachers and excellent stock-handling facilities. And those Junior Riders were really working hard, opening gates, moving barrels and untying roping stock. But they enjoyed every minute of it.

After building a float, getting together a booth, covering all the events and putting out a newspaper, I think the Brand staff is ready for a rest. And to compound the situation, some of us cooked beans all night Friday for the barbecue. The only consolation is that lots and lots of other Herefordites were doing the same thing. . . and more. . . last week. It was a lot of fun and, by September, we'll be ready to start on the next one.

A meeting planned by the Festival committee has been cancelled. Chairman Francis Hardwick said the group would meet next month to rehash the whole shootin' match and start planning for making next year's celebration bigger and better.

Boy, it sure is nice to get away from those tight blue jeans and cowboy boots for 11 months.

Ranspot earned the victory with eight strike-outs, while giving up four singles for four runs.

Starter Jimmy Parmer was given the loss for Littlefield. He was relieved after one and two-thirds innings by Sammy Pafr.

In the first game, Pampa took advantage of the breaks to rally and down Dumas, 8-5. Dumas opened the game with two runs on three hits. Norman Bonner singled, John Whitehead walked and singles by Jimmy McGill and Vernon Stafford brought them in.

Lanny Lewis hit a homer in the first to bring Pampa into contention, trailing 2-1.

Dumas was blanked during the second and third stanzas. In the last of the third, Jim Arthur knotted the score, 2-2, with a home run for Pampa.

Not to be outdone, Bonner powered one over the fence for Dumas in the first of the fourth and Dumas led 3-2.

Coming back strong, Pampa pushed over three runs in the fourth. Ronnie Oler walked, Larry Steele doubled, Kenneth McWilliams singled and Ronald Curlee sacrificed as Pampa went in front 5-3.

Pampa added insurance in the fifth with three more runs. Charles Snuggs and Jim Arthur singled and Kerry Roper pounded a homer to give Pampa an 8-3 margin.

Dumas made a strong threat in the sixth as David Hamrick singled and Bonner hit his second four-bagger of the afternoon. But Pampa settled down to get two more outs and the right to move into the finals.

Curlee was the winning pitcher while Butch Cariker was the loser. Stafford and Boyd also hurled.

One of the most satisfactory methods of hardening the surface of plaster of Paris is to incorporate in the wet mix a small quantity of gum arabic. After the casting has been made, the surface may also be hardened by immersion in a solution of alum.

By JIMMIE GLENTINE
Occasionally, you will hear some youngster express an opinion that there are not so many opportunities in 1959 as there were during his dad's time. This, of course, is erroneous. Today, new situations and circumstances have created jobs and opportunities the likes of which other generations never dared dream.

"Baby-sitting", as we know it today, was unheard of as a vocation a generation or two ago. Now they have a union, and some pretty fancy benefits. Just the other day I noticed where the sitters in California are demanding that the employer furnish the evening meal for the sitters' husbands. This figure, chiefly because the sitters cannot be at home to prepare the evening meal for hubby. By the same thinking, it won't be long until the employer - parents may even have to furnish feminine entertainment for the husband, too - if they happen to use his sitter-wife at night, thus depriving him of her companionship. They already have on record some cases where the sitters demand - and get - use of the family car on week-ends. A sort of fringe benefit, I guess.

This is the penalty, of course, for getting so far away from the kids' grandparents. Grandma and grandpa are usually happy to sit for free; nevertheless, it really is a new profession with wide open vistas.

Homer Newton of the Dimmitt area was in town the other day with a handful of certificates from his trip to Alaska on the KGNC Cotton John four. Homer allowed the country was good for little else, except "to hold the rest of the world together." He flew clear on to Point Barrow, and estimates that half of the already sparse population of Alaska will leave before cold weather sets in. Lots of the people, says Homer, get Alaskan jobs during the summer because it is an economical and practical way to see the country.

Last Thursday we had an Associated Press story about possible danger of children being suffocated in those plastic bags which cleaners use these days and, right away, we had a couple of telephone calls from local cleaners. One declared that even a 6-month-old baby can punch his way out of one of these flimsy plastic bags. From experience of trying to pack one in a car, I would almost agree, too. The bags rip open on the slightest provocation - especially when you don't want them to tear. However, I went back and read the article again. All it said was that the bags should be kept out of the way of small children - and just to be on the safe side, it sounds like good advice to me.

Wayne Lawrence offered to give me some free demonstrations, and says that the whole thing is sheer propaganda released through the paper industry, which is losing a lot of business. He could be right, too. However, I figure that very small children could probably suffocate in paper bags, as well.

Jay Boston, I hadn't seen in two or three months - and Friday, I ran into him every time I turned around. Jay says his absence is simple, though, and explains it away in one sentence: "I've been working!"

Another thing, I figured those big Texas size steps on the north side of the courthouse were solid concrete - and it turns out that they weren't more than four or five inches thick. I don't know why, but this really upset me for two or three days.

I have heard more comments - all favorable - about the Rider's Club rodeo this year than ever before. Attendance, from all appearances, is setting new records. Rodeo fans class the 1959 rodeo as one of the "best shows" in the Southwest.

Charley Martinez at Anthony's was telling me about when he first started with the firm at Clovis. Charley, still in high school, was learning to sell shoes and early one morning a stranger walked in, looked around - and before he could look twice, Charley had the man by the arm and back in the shoe department. Charley says he really went to town on one of the late styles, praising the buyer, extolling the quality and using every adjective he knew to make the sale. Finally, the stranger did buy the shoes. After delivering the package, Charley noticed the stranger in a huddled conversation with his manager and, after this went on for a couple of hours, he became worried.

When the stranger departed, Charley made tracks for the manager and asked, "Who is that fellow, anyway?"

"That fellow," replied the manager, "is Guy Anthony, in charge of company personnel. And he said to see that you got a raise - and pretty pretty soon!"

Time changes a lot of things but no one has yet found a substitute for enthusiasm, knowledge of merchandise and a polite willingness to be helpful. These things, after all, are the basis of successful salesmanship.

Progress marches on, but some people are never satisfied.

Ross Latham saw all of those combines fixed up with refrigerated air conditioners this year and, according to Dub Reeves, is about to run himself nuts trying to figure out a way to air condition his tractor. So far, the best he has been able to do is install an umbrella and an electric fan. If anyone has a workable solution, give Ross a helping hand.

Sometimes I get to thinking that the people who need vacations the least usually get them. For instance, Monk Johnson and Pack Brogdon just returned, while Urlin Streu and Howard Brown are just taking off. Meanwhile, hard working people like Robert Veigel, Jim Allison, Casey Gilbreath and I go right on plugging away all of the time. The same old grind.

My case, of course, is an exception. I usually take a vacation, but I was gone to Canada and Mexico so long this year that I am having a bit of trouble working it in.

An ice cream supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Patts Wednesday night honoring their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Patts of California. Patts was on his way to Missouri where he is stationed. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and family and Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and son.

Miss Beverly Decker of Broadview, N. M., spent the night with Tommy Brown. She spent Friday night with Roger Brown.

Mrs. Frances Decker and Mrs. Malcolm of Broadview, N. M., spent Saturday visiting Mrs. Eldred and Mrs. Floyd Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt returned Tuesday morning from a trip to South Dakota where they visited Walter Thompson and family at Pierre, S. D., where they fished and observed both Thweatts and Mrs. Thompson's birthdays as well as the 19th wedding anniversary of the Thompsons. Journeying through five states, the Thweatts reported Nebraska the greenest of the states and South Dakota as being very dry. Ranchers there report that they will be without water in 30 days if there is no rain before then.

Earl and Royce Brown spent Tuesday with their cousin, Miss Beverly Decker of Broadview, N. M., and Wednesday night with their grandmother, Mrs. C. W. King of Rosedale. Mrs. King and grandsons came to the home of Mrs. Floyd Brown, Thursday to spend the night.

Mrs. Bertram Jack and Mrs. E. M. Jack were in Hereford Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buse and sons spent Sunday in Hereford visiting George Bumpass and family.

S. N. Thweatt, Barbara and Tommy Brown tried out Thweatts new pick up with a trip to the Claude McDougal farm near the New Mexico line.

Good flavor change: add a tablespoon of grated orange rind to a two-egg cake made with two cups of flour.

STEVE HODGES comes home after hitting his first home run of the game to put Hereford ahead 6-0 at the end of the second inning. Hodges made a repeat performance in the fifth and was responsible for four runners batted in for the game. (Staff Photo)

32 HOUSE MARKERS were scattered over nearly an acre of a cotton patch northeast of Hereford sometime Thursday night or Friday morning. Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock said the markers apparently were taken from in front of homes in that section of Hereford by children. Home owners may pick up their missing markers at police headquarters, Aycock said. (Staff Photo)

Eight Texas Reservists Attend Army War College

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON, (AP) — Eight Texans are among 200 reserve officers attending a two-week national strategy seminar at the Army War College on the grounds of Ft. McNair not far from the Capitol.

While the Defense Department is cooperating and crediting the men with active duty time, the seminar is sponsored by the Institute for American Strategy and the Reserve Officers Assn. The purpose: to provide them with a better understanding of the global conflict between the free world and communists and to aid them in formulating plans to enhance free world security.

Seminar director is Dr. Robert Strausz-Hupe of the University of Pennsylvania Foreign Policy Research Institute.

The Texans, some of whom were "billeted" at the Sheraton Park Hotel along Rock Creek Park included:

Maj. Gen. James Earl Rudder, army reserve president of Texas A&M College; Capt. Thurman M. Gupton, naval reserve, Angleton judge; Cmdr. William L. Story, naval reserve, Dallas attorney; Maj. Frank Norton, air force reserve, Dallas lawyer; Capt. Robert J. Robinson, air force reserve, Dallas school teacher (Boude Storer Junior High); Col. James D. Scott, chief of staff, National Guard, Dallas; Capt. Billie Gene Hollowell, Air National Guard, Grand Saline attorney; Col. Brudge E. Kyle, Air Force reserve, Beaumont investment broker.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
 A pretty brown-eyed Texas school marm, Byrda Lynn Bracewell, 24, is spending the summer working in the office of Rep. John Dowdy of Athens. She'll return in September to her speech classes at Houston's Landrum Junior High, ready to dispense pointers on Congressional oratory as observed by her during lunch hour visits to the House and Senate.

A 1955 University of Texas graduate, Miss Bracewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bracewell of Huntsville. Her father is an East Texas lawyer and former district attorney.

She worked at Houston radio and television stations and spent a summer with a stock theater in New York before starting to teach in the fall of 1957.

Capitol Hill friends and associates of Lacey Sharp of Waco find he wants to monopolize conversation these days when the talk is about baseball. Sharp, top aide to Rep. W. R. Poague (D-Tex), makes sure you've heard of his 16-year old son, Rusty Sharp, who pitched a NO hit-No run game at the North Carolina boys summer camp he is attending. Rusty was credited with 14 strikeouts.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa got a real surprise birthday party staged by Texas colleagues and secretarial staffers. They saluted him at a gathering in the old George Washington Inn, across the street from the House Office buildings. As a hotel, many members of Congress resided there, but the building is now occupied by the staffs of House subcommittees. Rogers was 51 on July 19.

When Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio and Mrs. Kilday recently entertained Texas friends at their home in northwest Washington, the Mexican food served in the basement recreation room outdrew turkey and ham served upstairs.

Julian Langston of Abilene, aide to the House Administration Committee which Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex) heads, commutes during the summer between Washington and a cottage on Cobb Island, 40 miles away, down the Potomac River. Langston, who sports a 30-foot cruiser, is winning local fame as a fisherman and boatman.

JANITORS CONTROLLED
 JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Some janitors have become too uppity to suit members of the Missouri House of Representatives. The Legislature hires only two janitors and others are loaned by the director of public buildings. Members complained that they got nothing but backtalk when they made a request of one of the "borrowed" janitors. So the House approved a bill giving it complete control over all janitors on the premises.

KITE STRING IS SHOCKER
 SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The string to Marvin Wasserman's kite was of the type usually used for crochet work, containing silvery metal tinsel.

When it came in contact with an electric power line, carrying 12,000 volts, Marvin, 8, got a shocking surprise. His left hand was burned and, although he was not otherwise injured, the electricity also burned small holes in his socks.

Texas Pilot Steams Canal In Cruiser At Full Speed

ROCKPORT, (AP) — Capt. J. R. Stapler of Rockport is probably the only pilot who ever took a light cruiser through the Panama Canal at high speed.

It was a long time ago, and stemmed from a difference between civilian and navy engine room signals.

"Instead of 'standard speed,' which isn't an order used on merchant vessels, I gave 'Full ahead' which I was used to, forgetting that this meant exactly that," the captain related recently.

It was the first time that I had piloted a Navy Vessel through the Canal, and I didn't realize what had happened until the Richmond 'squatted and shook herself and the channel buoys began to go by so close together that they looked like fence pickets.

Adm. Day was riding through the Canal with us, and I looked at him and Capt. Osterhaus, and they were grinning like anything. I knew the admiral well, so I thought, 'What the heck, they've got to hang them before they hang me, and they're not about to do that,' so I let her ride.

"When we went around the first bend after we left the Gold Hill Cut I felt her slide sideways, but we had plenty of room so I didn't worry. There was a ship ahead and I blew to pass,

Miss Jo Ann Fowlkes Wins Festival Queen's Contest

Around Town

Whew! And a double whew! The Harvest Festival is all over, and what a show it was! It exceeded all hopes, dreams and expectations in drawing crowds, holding interest and promoting the event as an annual affair.

Parade Entry Winners: In the non-commercial division, Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter won first; La Plata Study Club, second; and Veterans of Foreign Wars, third.

School Budget Hearing Friday

Public hearing on the 1959-60 budget for the Hereford Rural High School District has been set for Friday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Board Room at the Senior High building.

The announcement was made by W. R. Hair, president of the board. School trustees will meet on Friday night, Hair said.

The board has been wrestling with the budget for about two months, trying to bring the estimated expenditures within the planned income.

At present, the budget figures indicate a budget comparable to the past year's. This will be about $960,000.

ing Company of Hereford. Her attendants were Judy McGee, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taft McGee, and Clarebeth Holt, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holt.

Miss McGee, sponsored by Cooper's Market, is a high school senior, and Miss Holt, entered by Hereford State Bank, is a junior at Oklahoma State University.

Other contest finalists included Jeanne Brown, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brown, sponsored by Robinson and Decker Insurance Agency; Ruby Brewton, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brewton, sponsored by the T-Bone Drive Inn and Hopson Meat Company; Zell Crump, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hardin-Simmons Hires Hereford High Teacher

Luther L. Corder, 27, an instructor in the department of business at Hereford High School last year, has been added to the Hardin-Simmons University faculty as an instructor in business education.

A former teacher at Abernathy, Corder is to receive his master of business education degree from West Texas State College at Canyon during August exercises. He will report to Hardin-Simmons prior to the opening of the fall semester.

Corder received the bachelor of arts degree from Eastern New Mexico University in May, 1954, and started teaching at Abernathy that fall. He transferred to Hereford last summer.

County Locates Office Buildings

Two buildings south of City Hall will serve as temporary quarters for offices of the County Courthouse during renovation of the structure. It was announced by County Commissioners Thursday after a called meeting Wednesday.

Moving operations will begin as quickly after Aug. 10 as possible, the commissioners said. The offices and library will be occupied in the two buildings south of City Hall on Miles Ave., known as the West Texas Feed and Seed Company building.

The first building is 75 by 120 feet in size, and the other building is 35 by 120 feet. A courtroom, to be used in county and 69th District matters, will be housed in the first building, according to County Judge Homer Henslee.

THREE WERE INJURED, one seriously, when two pickup trucks collided at the intersection of Plains and Centre at about 1 p.m. Friday. Receiving head injuries in the crash was John Beasley, driver of the vehicle at the rear. Graduation Talk Of '09 Recalled

"It would seem that when the great creative hand was moulding and fashioning out this earth, He reserved the clearest sky, the fleeciest clouds and the most beautiful landscapes and from these made the Panhandle."

These were the opening words of a graduation address by J. O. Brunk when he was one of the nine members of the Hereford High School graduating class of 1909. Brunk recalled the speech during a visit to the Pioneers' reunion.

The address was printed in full in the May 21 Brand of that year. In the address, Brunk went on to tell the history of the Panhandle from the time of the Indians until that year.

Brunk had come to Hereford with his family in 1902 and got in on helping construct a build-

Hereford, Pampa Win Way Into Area Tourney Finals

Hereford used home runs to down Littlefield and Pampa fought from behind to drop Dumas in Friday night's games in the Little League district tourney at Hereford.

Behind 2-0 at the start, Pampa battled back to defeat Littlefield 4-3 in the opening game.

In the second game, Steve Hodges hit two homers and Steve Conaway hit another to account for all the scores as Hereford past Littlefield 10-0 Saturday night.

Hereford and Pampa for the championship and the right to move into regional play-offs. Mike Ranspot went the route for Hereford, twirling a neat four-hit effort to gain the win. Littlefield had something to cheer about only during the fourth inning, when the visitors took advantage of a sudden ability to hit the ball.

Hereford opened up in the bottom of the first with three runs. Ranspot got on by a fielder's choice and S. D. Baize singled. Steve Conaway parked one over the fence and Hereford jumped to a 3-0 lead.

In the bottom of the second, Hereford duplicated the feat with another three-run homer with two out and two on base. Lynn Cook was waved to first after being hit by the pitcher and Charlie Moreno walked just before catcher Steve Hodges blazed one far over the left field barrier.

After being limited to a scratch single in the first three innings, Littlefield got hot in the fourth. Shortstop Owinlita (Continued on page 2)

ing for the Brand. He indicated that the office then was across the street from the present quarters of the Brand and that when his speech was published, the type was set by hand.

Hereford was a small but healthy town at the time. Willard Marshall, who was with Brunk this weekend, told of seeing cattle driven down Main Street and the recreation he and Brunk indulged in as boyhood friends.

He confesses that he is glad that none of the same police are still on the Hereford Police Force now. He says that he is sure that if they were both here and Brunk would have been jailed as soon as they crossed the city limits.

Brunk soon left Hereford after his graduation and went to Wichita, Kan., as one of Brunk's comedians. After a stay there, he went to Vernon, where he is a public accountant.

Civic Clubs Combine On Big Farm Tour, Aug. 26

Wednesday, Aug. 26, was officially approved as the date for Hereford's farm tour and joint civic club meeting when representatives from various civic clubs met this week with Joel Hodges, general chairman, to review progress on the annual tour.

Plans were adopted to feed 300 persons at the lunch and Hodges said that tour travel will be restricted to buses. "Dr. Virgil P. Lee of Houston will be speaker for the noon lunch," Hodges said. He also told the group that Dr. Lee is one of the outstanding agriculture leaders in the Southwest. Preliminary plans call for starting the tour at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 26, and continuing it to 3:30 that afternoon. Lunch will be served at the Bull Barn and the meeting will substitute for all civic club meetings in the community that week, Hodges said. He also named the following committees: Transportation, Dub Hair, Fred Cunningham, Henry Aycock; tour route, Jim Wiman, Lefty Thomas, Jess Robinson; finance, Bert Boomer, Curtis Roach; publicity, Clint Formy, Jimmie Gillentine; drinks, Marvin Coffee; and barbecue, Francis Hardwick. Formy will act as master of ceremonies on the occasion, and Wiman will assist Hodges as general chairman for the tour.

Call For More Young Swimmers

A Hereford group of swimmers under 17 years old has been participating in practice sessions recently in preparation for entering the Junior Olympics Swimming Meet to be held at Lubbock Aug. 21 and 22.

Contests will be held for four age groups for boys and girls. Races will be in free style, backstroke, breast and butterfly strokes.

The age groups include 10 and under, 11 through 12, 13 through 14, and 15 through 16 years. During the latter part of next week, time trials will be conducted and a team to participate in the meet from here will be selected. "We have some good prospects," Wayne Lawrence, a coach, said, "but there are other good swimmers in Hereford who have not reported for practice yet."

Practice is held daily from 7 to 8:30 a.m. at Hereford Municipal pool, and any interested swimmers are invited to try out for the team.

Other coaches of the local team are Bill Hardwick and John Matt Gilliland, both of Hereford. There will be 78 events in the Lubbock meet.

TWO DAYS BEFORE BIRTHDAY

Christian Church Salutes F. H. Obertheir Sunday

A tall, distinguished Deaf Smith County pioneer, F. H. Obertheir will be honored by the First Christian Church Sunday, Aug. 2, in a rare ceremony of appreciation.

His long record of civic and church work will be reviewed during the morning worship service, closing with a citation for his efforts just two days before his 90th birthday, Aug. 4.

Obertheir is the oldest active member of the church and its only Deacon Emeritus.

His family came to Texas in 1851 and settled in the Fort Bolivar section of Denton County. His father and four of his father's brothers served in the Confederate Army. His father was Henry L. Obertheir, born in Virginia in 1829. His mother was Eliza Jones, who was born and reared near Fayetteville, Ark. His father operated a treadmill at Fort Bolivar from 1851 to 1868. During this period, Indians from the Fort Sill, Okla., area made frequent raids and many of the settlers were killed, and their homes and crops destroyed. For this reason, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Obertheir moved to Rusk County near Henderson in 1868.

F. H. Obertheir was born Aug. 4, 1869 in Rusk County. The family resided in this east Texas community until 1876. The county was extremely low and many people died as a result of malaria, without realizing that it was caused by mosquitoes.

Henry Obertheir became seriously ill with the disease and, at the insistence of his wife, moved the family to Comanche County in 1876. F. H. Obertheir was seven at that time. All of the schooling he received was in one-room, long school houses in various parts of Comanche County. He married Miss Amanda Holmsley on Jan. 10, 1894, in Comanche County, where her family were pioneer settlers and her father had been the first sheriff for the county.

Children born to Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Obertheir were: Fred H. Junior, now deceased; Elizabeth, Mrs. Dewey Lawrence of Tyler; Louise, Mrs. W. L. Gaines of Millburn, N. J.; and Frances, Mrs. V. O. Hennen of Hereford. Mrs. Obertheir died on Jan. 21, 1957.

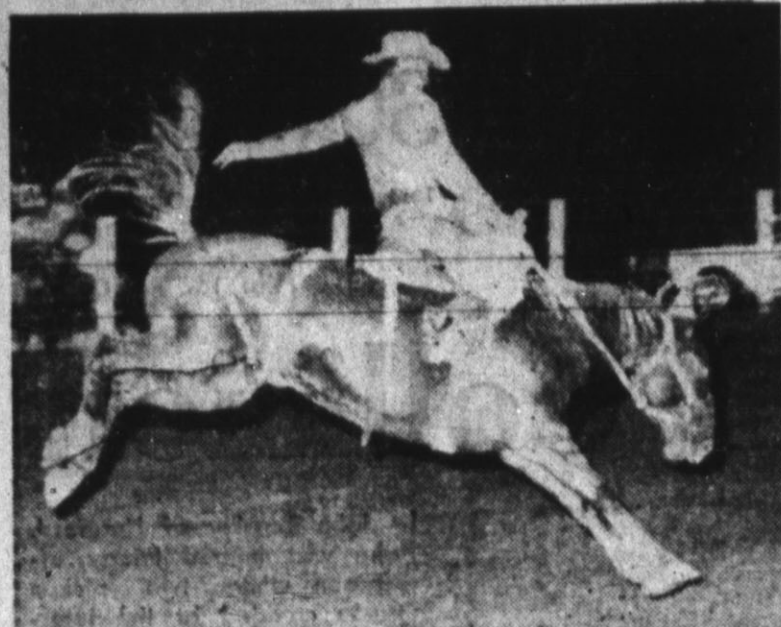

F. H. got his first job off the farm in 1889 when he started working as a bookkeeper for the First National Bank of Dublin, Tex., for $40 a month.

His second job was in 1891 when he became associated with the Comanche National Bank. He came to the High Plains

It was 1908 when F. H. and his family moved to Hereford. The house in which he lives at 127 Avenue F. was constructed in 1908 and the family moved in during January, 1909.
Obertheir and Claude Meadows built the first light plant in Hereford in 1908. Meadows managed it for a year and then returned to Comanche County. Mrs. Obertheir had some land in Comanche County which she traded to Meadows for his interest in the light plant. Obertheir operated this service until 1925.
From 1929 until 1947, Obertheir operated grain elevators in Black and Dawn. A number of prominent area businessmen were associated with him in these enterprises.
He was a charter member of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, which started in 1908 and was known for many years as the Hereford Commercial Club.

ner. Ranspot earned the victory with eight strike-outs, while giving up four singles for four runs.
Starter Jimmy Parmer was given the loss for Littlefield. He was relieved after one and two-thirds innings by Sammy Pair.
In the first game, Pampa took advantage of the breaks to rally and down Dumas, 8-5. Dumas opened the game with two runs on three hits. Norman Bonner singled, John Whitehead walked and singles by Jimmy McGill and Vernon Stafford brought them in.
Lanny Lewis hit a homer in the first to bring Pampa into contention, trailing 2-1.
Dumas was blanked during the second and third stanzas. In the last of the third, Jim Arthur knotted the score, 2-2, with a home run for Pampa.
Not to be outdone, Bonner powered one over the fence for Dumas in the first of the fourth and Dumas led 3-2.
Coming back strong, Pampa pushed over three runs in the fourth. Ronnie Oler walked, Larry Steele doubled, Kenneth McWilliams singled and Ronald Curlee sacrificed as Pampa went in front 5-3.
Pampa added insurance in the fifth with three more runs. Charles Snuggs and Jim Arthur singled and Kerry Roper pounded a homer to give Pampa an 8-3 margin.
Dumas made a strong threat in the sixth as David Hamrick singled and Bonner hit his second four-bagger of the afternoon. But Pampa settled down to get two more outs and the right to move into the finals.
Curlee was the winning pitcher while Butch Cariker was the loser. Stafford and Boyd also hurled.
Winner of the Hereford - Pampa game will move into the regional tournament next weekend.

Use a regular steel drill to bore a hole in glass, and keep the point of contact saturated with camphorated oil or turpentine. You will be surprised at the ease with which this is done.
Bluing Help
Add a lump of soda, dissolved in a little hot water, to the bluing water on wash day. This will prevent the bluing from settling in the clothes, and makes them perfectly white.
Rusty Copper
Rust can be removed from copper by use of a little liquid ammonia. Polish well afterward with a good copper polish.
Tired Nerves
A few suggestions for one who is suffering from tired nerves are: Plenty of sleep every night; a carefully balanced diet that includes plenty of fruit and milk; no parties that mean lots of drinking, eating, and late hours; include a long walk every nice day.
Fish Hooks
Stick the fish hooks into corks when they are not in use. This will prevent their rusting and keep them sharp, and will also keep them from doing any damage while thus protected.
Preserving Paint
Pouring plain paraffin over paint left in the can will preserve it and prevent it from hardening.
Skinning Tomatoes
Tomatoes can be skinned very easily by placing them in a basin, pouring boiling water over them, and letting them stand for a minute. You will then find that the skin can be removed without any trouble.
Eyewash
A boracic acid solution is good for washing out inflamed eyes. One-half teaspoon of soda dissolved in a glass of tepid water may also be used as an eyewash.
Dandelions
An ice pick dipped in gasoline and thrust into the heart of the dandelions will kill the weeds with little damage to the surrounding grass.
Tangled Hair
If a person has been ill for some time and the hair has become matted and tangled, from lying in bed so long, the tangles can be made to comb out quite easily if the hair is first saturated with alcohol.
Sash Cords
Soaking new sash cords in boiled linseed oil and drying well before installing them, will cause them to last indefinitely.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
Occasionally, you will hear some youngster express an opinion that there are not so many opportunities in 1959 as there were during his dad's time. This, of course, is erroneous. Today, new situations and circumstances have created jobs and opportunities the likes of which other generations never dared dream.

"Baby-sitting", as we know it today, was unheard of as a vocation a generation or two ago. Now they have a union, and some pretty fancy benefits. Just the other day I noticed where the sitters in California are demanding that the employer furnish the evening meal for the sitters' husbands. This figure, chiefly because the sitters cannot be at home to prepare the evening meal for hubby. By the same thinking, it won't be long until the employer - parents may even have to furnish feminine entertainment for the husband, too - if they happen to use his sitter-wife at night, thus depriving him of her companionship. They already have on record some cases where the sitters demand - and get - use of the family car on week-ends. A sort of fringe benefit, I guess.

This is the penalty, of course, for getting so far away from the kids' grandparents. Grandma and grandpa are usually happy to sit for free; nevertheless, it really is a new profession with wide open vistas.

Homer Newton of the Dimmitt area was in town the other day with a handful of certificates from his trip to Alaska on the KGNC Cotton John tour. Homer allowed the country was good for little else, except "to hold the rest of the world together." He flew clear on to Point Barrow, and estimates that half of the already sparse population of Alaska will leave before cold weather sets in. Lots of the people, says Homer, get Alaskan jobs during the summer because it is an economical and practical way to see the country.

Last Thursday we had an Associated Press story about possible danger of children being suffocated in those plastic bags which cleaners use these days and, right away, we had a couple of telephone calls from local cleaners. One declared that even a 6-month-old baby can punch his way out of one of these flimsy plastic bags. From experience of trying to pack one in a car, I would almost agree, too. The bags rip open on the slightest provocation - especially when you don't want them to tear. However, I went back and read the article again. All it said was that the bags should be kept out of the way of small children - and just to be on the safe side, it sounds like good advice to me.

Wayne Lawrence offered to give me some free demonstrations, and says that the whole thing is sheer propaganda released through the paper industry, which is losing a lot of business. He could be right, too. However, I figure that very small children could probably suffocate in paper bags as well.

Jay Boston, I hadn't seen in two or three months - and Friday, I ran into him every time I turned around. Jay says his absence is simple, though, and explains it away in one sentence: "I've been working!"

Another thing, I figured those big Texas size steps on the north side of the courthouse were solid concrete - and it turns out that they weren't more than four or five inches thick. I don't know why, but this really upset me for two or three days.

I have heard more comments - all favorable - about the Rider's Club rodeo this year than ever before. Attendance, from all appearances, is setting new records. Rodeo fans class the 1959 rodeo as one of the "best shows" in the Southwest.

Charley Martinez at Anthony's was telling me about when he first started with the firm at Clovis. Charley, still in high school, was learning to sell shoes and early one morning a stranger walked in, looked around - and before he could look twice, Charley had the man by the arm and back in the shoe department. Charley says he really went to town on one of the late styles, praising the buyer, extolling the quality

Ross Latham saw all of those combines fixed up with refrigerated air conditioners this year and, according to Dub Reeves, is about to run himself nuts trying to figure out a way to air condition his tractor. So far, the best he has been able to do is install an umbrella and an electric fan. If anyone has a workable solution, give Ross a helping hand.

Sometimes I get to thinking that the people who need vacations the least usually get them. For instance, Monk Johnson and Pack Brogdon just returned, while Urlin Streu and Howard Brown are just taking off. Meanwhile, hard working people like Robert Veigel, Jim Allison, Casey Gilbreath and I go right on plugging away all of the time. The same old grind.

My case, of course, is an exception. I usually take a vacation, but I was gone to Canada and Mexico so long this year that I am having a bit of trouble working it in.

Dr. Harold McCarrick and his mother, Mrs. W. E. McCarrick of Oklahoma City, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. King of Chickasha, Okla., are in Hereford this weekend to visit longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dickey.

Mrs. Rouse Returns From Visit In Kemp

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Mrs. J. E. Rouse has returned from Kemp where she visited her sisters, Mrs. J. A. Albright and Mrs. Beulah Nelson.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman made a business trip to Amarillo Wednesday of last week. While in Amarillo, Mrs. Coleman visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Coldiron and her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman.

Mrs. Bill White and children, visited in the home of Mrs. Eldred Brown Tuesday. They visited Mrs. Floyd Brown where the children went swimming in the stock tank.

An ice cream supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Patts Wednesday night honoring their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Patts of California. Patts was on his way to Missouri where he is stationed. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and family and Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and son.

Miss Beverly Decker of Broadview, N. M., spent the night with Tommy Brown. She spent Friday night with Roger Brown.

Mrs. Frances Decker and Mrs. Malcolm of Broadview, N. M., spent Saturday visiting Mrs. Eldred and Mrs. Floyd Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt returned Tuesday morning from a trip to South Dakota where they visited Walter Thompson and family at Pierre, S. D., where they fished and observed both Thweatts and Mrs. Thompson's birthdays as well as the 19th wedding anniversary of the Thompsons. Journeying through five states, the Thweatts reported Nebraska the greenest of the states and South Dakota as being very dry. Ranchers there report that they will be without water in 30 days if there is no rain before then.

Earl and Royce Brown spent Tuesday with their cousin, Miss Beverly Decker of Broadview, N. M., and Wednesday night with their grandmother, Mrs. C. W. King of Rosedale. Mrs. King and grandsons came to the home of Mrs. Floyd Brown, Thursday to spend the night. Mrs. Bertram Jack and Mrs. E. M. Jack were in Hereford Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buse and sons spent Sunday in Hereford visiting George Bumpass and family. S. N. Thweatt, Barbara and Tommy Brown tried out Thweatt's new pick up with a trip to the Claude McDougal farm near the New Mexico line. Good flavor change: add a tablespoon of grated orange rind to a two-egg cake made with two cups of flour.

STEVE HODGES comes home after hitting his first home run of the game to put Hereford ahead 6-0 at the end of the second inning. Hodges made a repeat performance in the fifth and was responsible for four runners batted in for the game. (Staff Photo)

32 HOUSE MARKERS were scattered over nearly an acre of a cotton patch northeast of Hereford sometime Thursday night or Friday morning. Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock said the markers apparently were taken from in front of homes in that section of Hereford by children. Home owners may pick up their missing markers at police headquarters, Aycock said. (Staff Photo)

Presenting Beta Sigma Phi Leaders For 1959-60

MRS. CHARLES LAING was recently elected president of City Council. She will direct the activities of the Council when regular sessions of both chapters get underway. (Staff Photo)

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority officers and directors have completed the programs for the 1959-60 season. Themes for the Kappa Iota and Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapters have been selected, special committees have been named and projects adopted for the coming season have been announced.

The Kappa Iota Chapter, which was organized nine years ago with seven members, has grown in size and perspective to see an Exemplar Chapter, Xi Epsilon Alpha, organized here in 1956, and has assisted in organizing a growing chapter in Tulia.

Theme for the Kappa Iota (Ritual of Jewels) Chapter will be "Paths To Loveliness," and programs are developments of this theme along the group's special interests and purposes. General meetings are held from September through May.

Mrs. Charles Bell, president, will have the assistance of other officers, including Mrs. Bob Brotherton, vice-president; Mrs. Barry Summers, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Barrett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hicks Roberson, treasurer; Mrs. Leonard Watson, extension officer; Mrs. Bill Kendall, civil defense officer; and Mrs. Irving Alexander, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Bess Moore will serve as sponsor. She will set the mood for the social affairs of the chapter and give assistance in plans and preparations for special events.

Mrs. Ansell McDowell, newly-elected director, will assist the group in planning and carrying out the study programs as outlined in study books.

The Exemplar Chapter is made up of Kappa Iota Chapter members who have completed four years of work in the Ritual of Jewels Chapter. Mrs. Ernest Wade heads this group as president. Other members of the executive board are Mrs. Ed Line, vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Hodges, recording secretary; Mrs. Margaret Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. D. Whitaker, treasurer; Mrs. Norman Moore, civil defense, and Mrs. Ronald Babione, parliamentarian.

Theme for the year will be "Life - Learning - Friendship" which has long been associated with Beta Sigma Phi as a motto. The course has been designed as a vehicle for the study of the philosophy, and furtherance of Beta Sigma Phi ideals in the minds and lives of members.

This group has no sponsor or director, but both the sponsor and director of Kappa Iota Chapter work with the Exemplar group under the direction of the City Council, and joint sessions are observed on all special occasions with the City Council serving as sponsor.

City Council officers include Mrs. Charles Laing, president; Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Wade, treasurer; and Mrs. Ed Line, reporter.

MRS. ERNEST WADE will assume her duties as president of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, when the group resumes meetings in the fall. (Staff Photo)

MRS. ANSEL McDOWELL, newly-elected Beta Sigma Phi director, will assume her duties in the fall as program director, assisting members in working out assignments and problems. (Staff Photo)

MRS. CHARLES BELL will preside as president of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, during the ensuing club year. (Angel Photo)

MRS. BESS MOORE, Beta Sigma Phi sponsor, will guide the social affairs for the coming season, as well as serve as counselor for members. (Staff Photo)

Club Members Work For Funds For LaPlata Permanent Marker

Members of La Plata Study Club held a coffee session in the home of Mrs. Joel Hodges Tuesday morning for the purpose of completing plans for raising funds for erection of a permanent marker on the town-site section of old La Plata, county seat of Deaf Smith County from its organization in 1890 to 1898.

Plans for the project were started by the club members as a tribute to the late Mrs. Homer Brumley, member of the club, who suggested that a suitable marker be placed at La Plata, from which the club got its name.

Members of the club will man booths at various locations during the Harvest Festival to receive contributions to the marker fund.

Committee members for the project include Mesdames Joel Hodges, Bill Thompson, Leroy Aven and Ansel McDowell.

Other members attending the meeting were Mesdames John Blocker, Jay Boston, Jack Brown, Elmer Patterson, Frank Prowell, A. J. Schroeter, Urlin Streu, Raymond White, Louis Woodford, Rex Lee and Clint Formby.

MADISON AVENUE APPROACH GREENWICH, Conn. Churches should use the "Madison Avenue approach" in appealing to youth, says Dr. Lester B. Granger, director of the National Urban League. He told an Episcopal conference here: "It's fashionable to sneer at the 'Madison Avenue' cliché, but the approach is successful because it's based on good, skillful psychology. In our work with young people, we must use the symbols of success, because they want to be successful."

Q. How can I remove some candle wax from one of my dresses?

A. After scraping off the excess wax, place the stained portion between two white blotters and press with a warm iron. The blotters should absorb most of the grease. Then rub the spot with cold lard or turpentine, and wash in warm suds.

Q. What do you recommend as a "liquid control" for one's hairdress?

A. Brilliantine. If the hair is fine, the brilliantine used should be of a thinner consistency. It should never be applied directly to the hair. Place a small amount in the palm of one hand, rub the palms together briskly, then pass them over the hair. If the hair is heavier or coarser, then a heavier brilliantine cream or pomade should be used.

Q. What is a good, simple exercise for improving the contour of the bust?

A. Merely extend the arms sideways at shoulder-level, and swing them up, describing complete circles with the arms — elbows rigid throughout.

Q. How can I make a good hot-weather bath powder at home?

A. Equal parts of cornstarch and talcum.

Venice Couldn't Get Along Without Boats

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Heard, who has been employed at the Daura Oil Refinery in Baghdad, Iraq, for the past two years left his position in the testing department of the company June 7. He and his family are visiting in other countries before returning to Hereford.)

Villach, Austria
July 18, 1959

Dear Folks:

Tonight we are in the first town after crossing the Italian-Austrian border. I had never heard of it before. It's quite nice and is very cool. We had dinner in the garden of the hotel on a terrace by the river that runs very rapidly through the center of the town. It was so cool that we wore coats and sweaters and were still cooler than comfortable.

We drove up from Venice this afternoon. We had several surprises about Venice. It had never occurred to us that there were walks in Venice.

We had the preconceived notion that all transportation in Venice was by gondola but we soon found that the most expensive transportation per mile that can be had. Venice certainly is almost all water and concrete and stone. It is surprising that such a place has so many canals. It must be very frustrating to them not to be able to find sand or dirt.

Boats are used as much as we use trucks, cars and buses. The people delivering Coca Cola were using a gondola type boat painted the usual Coca Cola yellow. We also saw a funeral procession using a boat as a hearse.

I am sorry to say that I was on a boat that was being used as a bus down the Grand Canal so I could not follow to see what happened. It made me curious as to where they were taking the body in the boat and as to whether the burial was at sea. It could be the grave diggers there could have troubles similar to that of the cats.

We also saw boats especially fitted to deliver meat and a boat fitted with a garbage carrying device similar to that of the garbage truck that presses the trash into a small space so that a larger load may be hauled.

Men push two wheel carts down the numerous walks picking up the rubbish at the houses and they take them to the boats on the canal.

One may come into Venice from the mainland by auto, bus, train or plane. If by car, it may be parked in a garage or parking lot, and then proceed to a hotel by boat or by walking. It is also possible to stay in a hotel on the mainland and drive over each day and park.

It is surprising, the number of people seen carrying luggage. I suppose it is because of the high price of porters and gondolas. We got as much or more walking in while in Venice as any place that we have been. We took several rides through the canals but we did not see all of the waterways. Incidentally, the canals and boats are not as romantic as I had always thought and someone certainly needs to do something about some of the stinking stagnant water in some of the canals.

Like the Wabash River in Indiana which has inspired several songs, Venice looks better at night, especially if the moonlight is not too bright.

The country on the mainland around Venice is very good looking farm land. It is rather level and the fields are larger than the average that we have seen in Italy. Also, the use of farm tractors and other power equipment is more noticeable. There is a lot of fruit and vegetables as well as field crops being grown.

The markets are well-stocked with produce of all kinds and the prices seem cheap to me. At least it is cheap by the USA and Iraq standards that I am accustomed to. I do not know the wage level here or the farm income level, so I cannot compare in a proper manner. It is also noticeable that the prices were two and three times higher on the streets on which the tourists walk in Venice.

On the matter of prices, we certainly have to be careful about our buying habits. We think of soft drinks as being so cheap that we never ask the price but we are learning to ask.

The several times we have been stuck with Coca Cola and Orange Soda! The other day in Venice we paid about 80 cents for four cokes. A liter of wine which is about 35 oz. costs only 40 cents in the restaurant.

It is cheaper elsewhere. We also noticed that cokes in the stores in this town, Villach, Austria, costs 10 cents each in boxes of six, whereas a bottle of beer which is twice the volume costs the same price served in the hotel dining room.

We got stuck yesterday at Lido (an island off Venice) by ordering iced coffee without asking the price. We saw it advertised and we were hot and tired so we ordered. Imagine our surprise when we found that they cost 85 cents each. It was good but not my idea of iced coffee. It was mostly ice cream and whipped cream, sort of a coffee flavored soda which did not use carbonated water.

If you wonder why I write about costs and prices, remember I am unemployed and have not yet applied for a job. Besides the variation of prices from our normal pattern interests me.

After a month of looking over ruins, we feel we are almost ready to qualify ourselves as experts. We have seen very old specimens and some very interesting, but the ones we viewed in Pompei got our vote for first place in both interest and being well preserved.

With some, it is necessary to have a guide or a guide book, but with these, the guidebook helps, but there is enough left to be able to really understand the Roman city.

It is surprising how many cities have been built since that time without as good planning and without the facilities that were built into Pompei. I was a bit surprised that Athens was such a nice city. As so many cities that I have visited were built without the obvious benefits as parallel streets and cross streets laid out at right angles, I was again astounded that Athens would have been so well laid out.

Another city that I had never heard of that appealed to me was Sienna, in Italy. It was built about the 13th century and the buildings of that mediaeval period have been kept in good repair and are still in use. The walled city part is still used as the business district, in spite of the very narrow streets and no sidewalks. It was very fascinating to walk through this city that on the surface appeared so very old and look into shops that were well-stocked with high quality modern merchandise.

The city had every appearance of being very prosperous and the new parts of it were as nice as one could want. I liked it almost as well as Florence which is so much better known—particularly because there were so few tourists there. We have not yet seen the Leaning Tower of Pisa that is so famous, but we have certainly learned that other towers lean in Italy. I suppose a lot has been learned about building foundations since these buildings were built, but it is to the credit of these builders that they built the structure strong enough to stand so long in spite of the lack of proper foundation preparations.

The Arab contractors of the refinery housing in Baghdad missed out on both. The foundations were about half large enough to support the house walls and the walls were so poorly built that they cracked open enough to see through.

Some cities in Italy evidently do not have adequate public transportation and the citizens are not rich enough to own cars or motorcycles. So bicycles are used very much.

This was particularly noticeable in Bologna. It seems strange to me to see a very well-dressed and groomed young lady pedaling along on a bicycle. It also interests us at the way the ladies can ride on the back of motorscooters in such a lady-like manner. We notice as we came into Austria that motorscooters are not as prevalent as in Italy but that motorcycles are more in use.

We had a very beautiful drive from Rome south of Naples to the vicinity of Salerno. The road winds along the hills overlooking the Mediterranean from Naples to Salerno and gives a very beautiful view for the riders and a challenging drive for the driver.

The farming in this vicinity is mostly fruit and if it were not for a few fences and terraces, any fruit that should happen to fall from the tree might roll several miles into the sea.

It is really steep and rugged. I was surprised at the lemons being on the tree now, and in such abundance. I had the mistaken idea that lemons were harvested in the winter and finished by late spring. I had never seen supports built to hold up the trees and bee hives on top of this.

From a view above the trees it is not apparent what it is. I thought at first it was grapes when we started observing this from above, but later we passed below the trees and we could look and see the lemons.

So much of Italy in the center of the "boot" is so mountainous that it surprises me that so much farming is done. Much of it is done by hand and cow power. Some of the people who have cows that they call dual purpose because they don't give much milk or make good beef should see these triple-purpose cows here—that are used for milk, meat and plow power. It may be that a horse is not sure-footed enough to walk up and down these mountains while plowing or mowing hay. The farms generally look prosperous and well-kept, but I am not sure that our USA farm wives would approve of one huge brick building that serves as cow barn, hay shed and home. (See Heard Page Seven)

Incompetence, Stupidity And Criminality

FIRE AT SEA: The Story of the Morro Castle. By Thomas Gallagher. Rinehart. $4.

Twenty-five years ago next September, the Morro Castle, Ward Line luxury cruise ship, came back from Havana with 200 officers and crew and 300 passengers.

The last day out, after Capt. Robert Wilmott died, the usual festivities were cancelled but some passengers made merry in their cabins; in the late drunken hours fire was discovered. The vessel turned belatedly toward the Jersey shore; the first passengers off landed at Spring Lake, and the stricken liner was finally beached at Asbury Park, mecca for sightseers. The official death toll was 134.

The crew had little training for such emergencies; the smoke detector had been turned off deliberately, and the water stations cut off. Besides, the chief engineer was reluctant in the face of danger to assume his post, Wilmott had been afraid of an attempt on his life, and the chief radio operator had a criminal record before he joined the ship, was found guilty of double murder some years later, and had been associated with one or more acts of incendiarism.

Of all the books about sea disasters flooding from the presses in recent months, none offers such a shocking record of incompetence, stupidity, negligence and outright criminality as this. While Gallagher can write a real dumber sentence, he writes a story to shiver your timbers.

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

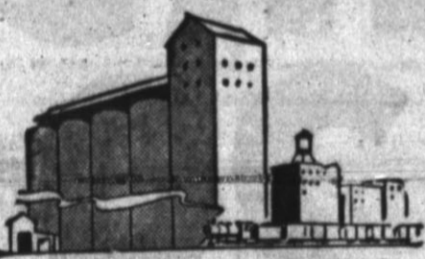

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Interest Runs High In Proposed Country Club Program For Area

Recently a campaign was opened to organize a country club in Hereford and, in a one-week period, one-half of the proposed 300 membership had been subscribed.

The question is not whether the community is large enough to support a country club but, rather, whether the people of the community need and want such a club.

Operation of a country club in Hereford will be comparatively easy under existing conditions, chiefly because members would use the already existing golf course which is ample and adequate.

Proposals for the club, as we understand them, call for a family organization; a place where the entire family can find companionship, games, swimming and excellent food.

Sponsors of the project have foreseen such items as reasonable finance planning, sensible architecture, excellent location and general operation.

leaving the answer entirely up to the people.

As we said before, there seems little question about whether we can support or finance a country club in the community.

Festival Bids Future Growth

Hereford's Harvest Festival concluded Saturday night and, in the opinion of most people, seems to have been an outstanding success.

Based on the idea of combining several activities into one big event, the Harvest Festival seems to have drawn and held far more interest than these events attracted individually in past years.

Some of the events, especially the newer ones, may not have attracted so much interest as sponsors desired, due to lack of experience, misunderstanding and general handling.

Combining the activities has the same advantages offered in the United Fund collection system and, as the years pass, the festival will no doubt expand tremendously.

Many sponsors feel that the Harvest Festival may even become a Panhandle-wide institution, attracting people from over the entire area.

Some Ideas On Americanism

How much federal aid did the Pilgrims get? They were in a Depressed Area. No one guaranteed them high prices for anything.

All they had was Character. All they did was Work. All they wanted was Self Respect.

The sum total of those three traits became AMERICA.

But what's going to be the sum of traits you see today—the traits of character, or, rather lack of it, that demand more money for less work, put security above self-respect, pamper self-pitying criminals instead of punishing them, give away resources we desperately need ourselves, listen to weaklings that want government to take care of them when they should take care of themselves.

Long years of early-American self-respect and hard work built America, but the traits you see today can destroy it, in half the time.

Texas legislators, assisted by an army of lobbyists, are scratching their heads these days in an effort to come up with a popular tax measure to gain sufficient revenue to operate our state.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

A church was built in Stowe, Vt., 10 years ago in memory of a layman known affectionately as Brother Joseph Dutton.

Joseph Dutton left Stowe in 1861 to enlist in the Union Army. He was a courageous soldier. Yet, after the Civil War he became a drunkard for 10 years.

When 16 U.S. Navy ships steamed by Molokai in 1908, they dipped their flags in salute to the veteran on orders of President Theodore Roosevelt.

Red Reaction To U. S. Exhibition

Like most Americans, we have been intensely interested in the "official reaction" of Russian leaders to the big U. S. exposition now in progress in Moscow.

This reaction many of us saw first hand when Premier Krushchev appeared on television in his controversy with Vice President Richard Nixon.

When the Premier becomes sullen, dictatorial or angry, the exposition officials can rest assured that their display is truly achieving its objective.

Meanwhile, even if the Russians do view our model houses, electric kitchens, shiny automobiles and color television with a grain of salt, they are certain to be impressed with the comparison to their own lot.

The changing times are producing corresponding changes in the way in which residents of Deaf Smith County are spending their money.

Because local incomes have been rising faster than the cost of living, the average family has been able to eat better, to dress better and to

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Opinions Presented On Problems Of Inflation

How do you think we can or should stop our present inflationary trend, both in government and private spending?

MRS. JAY BOSTON—Most Americans think that we probably spend too much on foreign aid, but there really seems to be no stopping point.

MRS. BEN CONKLIN—The government spends a lot of money on things that we could do without.

MRS. STANLEY DIMM—I think that the answer to the reduction of the inflationary trend is in the control of labor. All efforts should be taken to uncover racketeering in the labor unions and expel the racketeers.

MRS. H. L. MECHAM—There are a number of things the government spends money for that I think we could do without.

MRS. FRED MULLER—I think a step in the right direction would be to eliminate some of the waste in government.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindweed farm discusses a topic he no doubt is an authority on, laziness.

Dear editor:

One of the troubles with the world today is that it has to have an explanation for everything.

You take laziness. You'd think the word lazy means what it says, just lazy. But psychologists have to go into a long rigamarole explaining the deep psychological causes of it.

For example, I read in a newspaper yesterday afternoon while I was reading under a shade tree out here on my hindweed farm—well, technically I wasn't resting, at least I hadn't done anything to make me tired, what I was doing was just sitting there because I wanted to—where a prominent British surgeon has been analyzing laziness.

This is what I'm talking about. Thunders, laziness doesn't imply a lot of intelligence, you can be lazy whether you've got any sense or not.

And as far as it's being a "normal, healthy attitude of a man with nothing to do," I can tell you real quick that British surgeon doesn't know the first thing about laziness.

I'm not a complete success at it yet, but I'm working on it. It's not something you acquire in one week. It takes years.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Miss Patricia Ann Carthel Weds Joe McCollum In Church Rites

Miss Patricia Ann Carthel and Joe Fred McCollum of Amarillo were married at 8 p.m. Friday in the Hereford Central Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carthel of Hereford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. McCollum of Amarillo. Hubert Settling, minister of Plainview, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Baskets of yellow gladioli and greenery flanked an arch of yellow daisies at the altar with tall wedding tapers in pyramiding candelabra providing soft illumination for the ceremony. Pews for relatives were tied with white satin bows. The aisle cloth was laid by Ronnie McLain, Danny Carthel and Clinton Chappell.

The church chorus presented wedding music, including the traditional wedding marches and vocal selections "Always" and "Because".

The bride's attendants were Miss Kay Golden, Miss Mary Limbocker, Mrs. Betty Mae Boedecker and Miss Mildred Paul. They wore identical dresses of yellow organza over taffeta fashioned with fitted waists attached by cummerbunds to bouffant skirts. Their headpieces were of the same material as the dresses trimmed in velvet, and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

Flower girls were Debbie Carthel of Amarillo, niece of the bride, and Dianne Kirby. Their dresses matched the other attendants' and they carried small white baskets filled with yellow rose petals. Ring-bearers were Karen Sue McLain, niece of the bride of Lakin, Kan., and Donny Carthel, a nephew of Black. Karen Sue's dress was of yellow embroidered organdy.

Candles were lighted by Beth Carthel, sister of the bride.

and Jay Boynton. Tod McCollum, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ray Ashford and Leon Watkins of Amarillo and Ken Osborne of Lubbock were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The molded bodice had a scalloped square neckline sprinkled with sequins and long tapering sleeves. The lace of the elongated bodice extended into an apron effect in front over the bouffant nylon and tulle skirt, dipping to the length of the skirt in the back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara crown embroidered with seed pearls and rhinestones, and she wore pearl earrings, the bridegroom's gift. The bridal bouquet was of white gardenias and stephanotis carried on a white Bible.

The bride's mother wore a lace dress in dusty rose with white accessories. Mrs. McCollum, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy sheer with white accessories. They wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over yellow and featured a centerpiece of yellow and white daisies. Appointments were in crystal and silver. Assisting in the houseparty were Mrs. Dick Golden, Mrs. Ray Golden, Mrs. Tod McCollum and Lorraine Morton.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad and other points of interest in New Mexico, the bride traveled in a black two-piece voile with a cotton brocade jacket. She used white accessories and the gardenia lifted from the wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Abilene Christian College. She has recently graduated from San Jacinto Beauty School in Amarillo.

McCollum graduated from Palo Duro High School in Amarillo and attended Amarillo Junior College. He will be a junior student at West Texas State College at Canyon this fall. He is presently employed at the Smelter in Amarillo and after Aug. 3 the couple will make their home at 89 Carolina St. in Amarillo.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Dee Chappell of Alamosa, Colo., sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McLain of Lakin, Kan., and relatives from Amarillo, Lockney, Plainview, Olton, Dimmitt and Friona.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds

The world was at peace that year, but Nazi storm troopers were strutting... and Hitler was talking about a "Super Race." The Olympic Games were being held in Berlin... and they were supposed to be a showcase for Nazi superiority. Hitler himself watched the games from his special box. Nobody had ever heard of a tan, slender athlete from Ohio named Jesse Owens when those Games started. The weather was cold and rainy, not the best for track and field events... but that didn't bother Owens.

In four days, Owens represented the U. S. in 14 straight events... and broke nine Olympic records! Running or jumping, he was unbeatable. And when he finally made his record shattering broad jump to win his last medal, Adolph Hitler just got up and walked out. He wasn't there to present the victory laurel to the American who had just given one of the greatest performances in Olympic history.

Remember the year? A car buyer looked closely at the record that year... when he bought a new car. He checked performance, price, trade-in terms... and wasn't fooled by claims of superiority in deals unless he had the facts!

The year was 1936. Great performance and super power are words that really fit the 1959 FORD. And as for price, trade-in allowance and monthly terms, well, you can step up to one of our new FORDS right now for a lot less than you think. ### REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Newsletter Author Views Nuclear Ship's Launching

To the people of the 18th District:
SAVANNAH — SS and NS
One-hundred and forty years ago the United States launched a brand new era when the SS Savannah was built and became the first steam-powered vessel to cross the Atlantic Ocean, which event signaled the beginning of the huge fleet of merchant vessels from every country which ply the ocean lanes today. The SS Savannah weighed 320 tons and could carry only enough coal and wood to power it for four days, relying on sails to complete the voyage from Savannah, Ga., to Liverpool, England.

Last week Mrs. Rogers and I were privileged to be present when this country embarked upon another notable, new era. The NS (nuclear ship) Savannah, the world's first nuclear powered merchant vessel, was launched at Camden, New Jersey. Having been more or less landlocked all our lives, it was a new experience for us to view the actual launching of a maritime vessel, and it was a real thrill to see this gigantic atomic powered ship slide down the ways after Mrs. Eisenhower had christened its prow with the customary bottle of champagne. The greater thrill, of course, was the knowledge that the age of atomic transportation had begun.

Legislation authorizing the construction of the Savannah was passed by Congress in 1956, and the keel was laid a year ago. The trials and tests are expected to be completed in about six months, at which time the Savannah will be placed in limited cargo and passenger operation. It is expected this ship will be chartered to a commercial firm for regular maritime use sometime in 1961.

The following operational data, I believe, most interesting. The Savannah weighs 12 thousand tons and can carry over 9 thousand tons of cargo at a normal speed of 21 knots and can, in addition, carry some 60 passengers. Its atomic reactor will supply power for the ship for some 3 1/2 years on a single charge of uranium 235, which can take it around the world approximately 12 times. The vessel will not be initially economically competitive, but neither was Edison's first light bulb.

It is expected, however, that the launching of this great ship will hasten the day when the sea lanes of the earth are filled with ships employing the unleashed atom for peaceful purposes. As my good friend, Honorable Herbert Bonner, Chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries noted at the launching ceremonies: "With this ship, and with those which I hope will follow soon, we are casting our bread upon the waters, and I am sure the return will be a thousand fold." We had an unusual group of visitors from the Panhandle last week in Washington. These were the American Field Service Foreign Exchange students from other countries who have resided in the Panhandle the past year. Of the total 1156 foreign students who have lived with American families in 45 states this last year, four of them were in the Panhandle. We were honored with their visit to my office last week when they stopped off in Washington en route to their homes in Europe. The four students were as follows:

Miss Joelle Tillier - Laroche, who hails from France and has made her home in the past year with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson of 610 East Fifth Street in Hereford, where she attended Hereford High School.

Miss Dorritt Madsen, whose permanent home is Denmark. Dorritt lived with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackburn at 2815 Ong Street in Amarillo and attended Amarillo High School.

Mr. Ernst Bonek has been in Amarillo this last year, where he attended Tascosa High School while living with Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Krabbe of 4604 Pisen Boulevard, Ernst is from Austria.

Mr. Kjell Andberg has returned to his home in Norway after living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lile Bunch of 1323 Cleveland Street in Amarillo and attending Palo Duro High School. All these young people were richly rewarded, I am sure, as were those in the Panhandle homes where they lived.

We appreciated seeing our good friend, George Schaeffer, from Happy last week. Mr. Schaeffer and his son, Sgt. Dean Schaeffer of the Air Force, were in Washington for a brief visit after vacationing the past month in some of the southern states. Sgt. Schaeffer has recently reported for his new duty assignment at Langley Field, Virginia.

Texas and the Panhandle were well represented and greatly honored last week, Boys Nation, which is under the worthy sponsorship of the American Legion, was in annual meeting in Washington. Each state sends two delegates to the conclave. One of those from Texas was Don Seamster from Borger. He paid us a visit, as did the Texas State Director of Boy's State, Dr. W. F. Haynie, also of Borger.

The boys spend the week in Washington observing and participating in the federal government. They divide themselves into two political parties — the Nationalists and the Federalists — for purposes of debate and the affairs of state. Don Seamster was the National Chairman of the Nationalist Party — a very great honor — and he performed his duties well. This is indicated by the fact that the Nationalist Party candidate, a California Delegate, was elected to the Presidency of Boys Nation. They had a fine time, and gained considerable education. We certainly enjoyed seeing and visiting with Don and Dr. Haynie.

Murals Aid In Recovery Of Ill In State Hospital

TERRELL, Tex. (AP) — Blank walls of Terrell State Hospital have been changed to something to behold for the 2,700 mental patients.

And all the credit goes to Mrs. Mazie P. Becker, a professional artist who lives at Richardson, Dallas County.

The hospital thinks so well of murals the 71-year-old artist has painted on the walls that it named a day in her honor — the first such event in the hospital's 75-year history.

The 5-foot, 100-pound artist has transformed the dreary walls inside many of the hospital's old wards into a riot of color with spectacular murals she designed and painted herself.

She did the entire job, which took three years, voluntarily.

"My contribution to the hospital," was the way she put it. At present commercial rates, the 3,500 square feet she painted would have cost the hospital $5,000.

"These paintings have been the springboard for a whole new series of improvement at the hospital," Dr. Manuel J. Otero, clinical director said.

Dr. Otero, who originated the idea, said "many good things have seemed to come about because of them."

For instance: In the dining room of a men's ward, where some of the hospital's sickest patients live, Mrs. Becker painted a peaceful country scene complete with a house, barn, trees, flowers and reflecting pool.

Men who eat there no longer throw food at the walls, attendants say. They seem more relaxed and eat better. Authorities have been able to put knives and forks back on the tables. There's even talk of unclocking the doors of the ward for the first time.

In another ward where Mrs. Becker painted murals, attendants say they have observed a "definite change for the better" in patients. They are less depressed and more receptive.

Mrs. Becker painted beautiful tropical murals, in the hospital's drab old canteen. Immediately, patients changed the name of the place to the Tropicana Room, and it soon became the favorite place on the sprawling hospital campus.

Hospital officials found money to purchase new tables, chairs and curtains. The Dallas Mental Health Assn. bought bamboo blinds to go with the murals in another ward.

Some patients who hadn't talked for years have commented on the murals. One man broke into a smile for the first time attendants could remember.

D. H. Alexanders Attend Wedding Of Granddaughter

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexanders have returned home after attending the wedding of their granddaughter, Jerre Zan Hudson and James Hamilton, held July 24 in the First Presbyterian Church of Seagraves.

Mrs. Alexander had spent the previous week in Seagraves in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Hudson, where she attended a banquet honoring Grand Master Roy Kreitzmeier of the IOOF of Texas.

The wedding date had a special significance for the Alexanders because it also marked the 51st anniversary of their wedding.

In keeping with that anniversary, the bride wore her grandmother Alexander's engagement ring and carried the handkerchief she carried in her wedding. Several who attended the wedding were also present at the Alexanders' wedding half a century ago.

PIONEER VISITOR — Mrs. K. Rice of Fort Worth is visiting in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Byrle Elliston. Mrs. Rice is a pioneer resident of Hereford and attended the Harvest Festival celebration.

Congressmen Dream Of Coming Adjournment

By TEX EASLEY WASHINGTON (AP) — A popular subject for idle chatter on Capitol Hill these days is speculation as to when Congress will adjourn.

No one knows. Uncertainty seems largely from the fact there is NO limitation on debate in the Senate. But in the House — with 436 members — restrictions prevail. If there weren't the House would likely get nothing done.

"It is hoped that adjournment will come NOT later than Aug. 15; however, it is entirely possible that Congress might be held over until Labor Day."

A number of adjournment time pools timed down to the minute, are in operation on the Hill. Dates range from late August to mid September, with many picking the first weekend in September, just before Labor Day.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Panama, commenting on the situation, said: "Everyone seems to be making a guess about adjournment. I feel that much would have been accomplished had we adjourned by July 15. This was NOT possible because of the controversy surrounding the 'labor reform bill.' ... Added to this is the time that will be required if a civil rights bill is debated. This could hold the Congress in session until Sept. 15."

Arriving early in June on an expense paid study project, they have spent the summer working part time for Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Reps. Homer Thornberry of Austin and Jack Brooks of Beaumont, and the rest of the time on conducted tours of principal federal departments and agencies.

Virtually all congressional offices remain open the year round, but many of the hired help, like their bosses, return to the various districts and have practical problems posed by the uncertainty of adjournment. The question whether to register children in school here or back home is one. Senate and House Page-boys have their problems too. The Capitol Page school, a fully accredited high school maintained in the Congressional Library, starts in early September. It's all right for the boys who live here with parents, but fully half are from throughout the country and many of them haven't been home since Easter or Christmas.

The six, and the co-ops which sponsored them: Linda Sue Sanders of Luling and Donnie Ches-ser of Lockhart — Lower Colorado Rural Electric Co-op; Jane Morton, Austin, and Jimmy Furber, Johnson City — Pedernales Electric Co-op; Edith Duff, Livingston, and Richard D. McClain, Cleveland — Sam Houston Electric Co-op.

Athens' police chief Frank Baker, with his wife and son and a neighbor lad, have been here viewing the sights. They were shown around the Capitol by Bill Yelvington, aide to Rep. John Dowdy (D-Tex). The chief's wife is the former Charis Quinn. The son is Carlos, and the lucky neighbor boy with the Bakers is Raymond Habie.

Under the host family program set up by Maurer, each foreign student is matched with a family with mutual interests. The family asks him out at least once a month. The international students took to the plan eagerly. Formalities faded in the enthusiasm of hosts and guests.

"After the first visit, they're treated like a city cousin," said Maurer. "First thing you know the students are going over to help out with chores, play with the children or just sit around and talk."

Many of the students are Buddhists, Moslems or Hindus. Host families here are Protestant or Catholic and go to church regularly.

City Councilman Makes Dough On The Side

BAYTOWN, Tex., (AP) — City Councilman Al Clayton makes a lot of dough on the side. His constituents gladly help him dispose of it.

Every Sunday morning, breezes carry the aroma of fresh baking dough from the Clayton home.

Neighbors raise their noses in approval. Soon they start dropping in for shares of the Sunday special, said Chester Rogers, writing for the Houston Chronicle.

"I just plain like to fix homemade bread," Clayton said. "It's nearly becoming a lost art."

But Clayton says there's no secret about either the bread or his friends who eat it — "they go together."

There is, he says, one secret for the successful handling of yeast.

"You must remember that it is a growing, live thing which must not be chilled or heated with either cold or hot water. It must be nurtured in warm or tepid water."

Clayton usually starts making bread about 5:30 a.m. and serves about three hours later to his wife and daughter, Dianne, 14. Before the next batch of loaves or rolls is out, the kitchen may be filled with hungry neighbors.

Trimmings on the Clayton breakfast table may include bacon or sausage, lots of butter — and brown, boiled beans.

"It's been an old family custom," he says. "Just sticks with you all through the day."

When washing dishes, use cold water for those that hold milk, egg, cheese mixture and doughs.

HANDS or HEART?

"Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry." Acts 17:16. "Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD: Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that He is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things," Acts 17:22-25. "God is a Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth," John 4:24.

Your dishwasher does the dishes "on the double" — you're out of the kitchen in half the time. And you break fewer dishes, keep your hands lovelier, and keep those dirty dishes out of sight — in the dishwasher — between loads. Plenty of hot water is what your dishwasher wants — and gets — from an electric water heater. You can put that electric water heater right where you want it — where you use the most hot water — because it has no vents — no flues. Yes, the electric dishwasher and water heater go together. Try one now — add the other later. You'll like them both. ATTENTION, HUSBANDS: Wouldn't you spend 1 1/2c a day to give your wife lovely hands? DAME AND DOG—Dame of Sark, the last purely feudal ruler in the world, with poodle Bella.

Ruling's A Lark To Dame Of Sark

By EDDY GILMORE
SARK, Channel Islands — "Yes," said the Dame of Sark, "I suppose I am the only purely feudal ruler in history who ever rode a bicycle."
The Dame — whose title goes back to 550 — is the widow of a Yale man, Robert Hathaway, of New Jersey.
"I'm 75," she said, "and proud of it."
She opened the front door of her lovely granite home herself. A poodle barked at her heels.
"That dog," said the Dame, "is the only bitch on this island."
By law, the Dame is the sole inhabitant of the beautiful little island who is allowed to keep a female dog.
"We've got lots of dogs on Sark," she said, "but Bella here's the only bitch."
"Why?"
"Well, if we didn't control the thing the dogs would multiply and if they got to be too many, they'd chase all the sheep off the high cliffs into the sea. Sheep are valuable."
Sark is a far away place of almost unbelievable natural charm — leafy trees, flowers so heavy with scent that a perpetual smell of perfume hangs over the island during spring and summer.

It's a verdant plateau rising 200 feet out of the sea and ruled by the Dame. She holds it as a royal fief as it has been held since Elizabeth I.
Sark was part of the Duchy of Normandy when William conquered England in 1066.
"So," said the Dame, "we call England OUR oldest possession."
Legally, of course, it's linked up with the United Kingdom.
Today, Sark is the last purely feudal state in the world.
The Dame's ancestors bought it from a ruler who went bust.
Robert Hathaway, the American, was the Dame's second husband. He came to England during World War I as a volunteer to fly with the old Royal Flying Corps. He liked Britain so much that he became a British subject.
In 1920, when the Dame was a widow with six children, she dropped in to see Hathaway in London for some introductions to people in the United States.
Hathaway was so attracted to this handsome witty woman that he met her at the pier upon her return from America.

He laid heavy court for eight days and on the eighth evening he proposed. They were married four days later and Hathaway became the Seigneur of Sark.
Hathaway died after World War II and once again she was the ruler.
One of the charms of this spectacular spot of land is the total absence of automobiles.
"I won't have them," explained the Dame.
"Do you object to motor cars?"
"Not at all. I like them. I just don't want them on Sark."
Ancient horse-drawn carriages and motorcycles are the means of conveyance. The islanders usually walk, however.
A few years ago — the Dame couldn't remember exactly when — a concession was made to the combustion engine and a few tractors were imported.
Lame since childhood, the Dame has never let this interfere with her bicycling, dancing, hunting, or doing anything else she wants to.
Perhaps the greatest challenge of her long life was during the German occupation of Sark.
On nearby Alderney the British troops pulled out, wisely realizing that it would have been impossible to hold the island from the Germans who'd overrun France only eight miles away.
This led to the evacuation of the entire population of Alderney — but not Sark.
The Dame decided against evacuation.
One Sunday night after church she called together the population and told them she meant to stay.
The islanders voted to stay, too.
On July 3, 1940, two German officers chugged over in a boat from Guernsey. From her turret tower she saw them turning.
She told her servants that when they arrived at her house they were to show them in.
The Dame and her husband stood tensely in their drawing room.
Finally, she heard them at the door.
"It's going to be all right," she said — after she heard them wipe their feet before entering. That assured her.
The following day — July 4 — Sark was occupied.
"A hell of a day to be captured," observed the American-born Hathaway.
Later, Hathaway was taken away by the Germans and put in a prison camp.
A gallant woman and fearless, she never removed such antifascist books from her drawing room shelves as "Sawdust Ceaser" and "The House that Hitler Built."
The Germans came to dinner sometimes — as her guests. They bowed and when they left they kissed her hand.
That's the way the Dame played it. She made some enemies, though.
She organized the islanders. They made clothes and shoes for themselves and dolls for their children. She led the good fight always.
Then came the day of liberation.
Before the liberators arrived — while the Germans were still on Sark — the Dame defiantly ran up the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes.

Bible Words for Today

II CORINTHIANS 4:5 "What we preach is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord." (RSV)

Augustine, one of the early church fathers, was in his early years a self-indulgent student at the University of Carthage. His life was full of complacency and compromise. Of this period he writes: "There sang all around me in my ears a cauldron of unholy loves." Augustine's standards of morality left much to be desired in this period of his life.
One day Jesus crossed his path and Augustine was never the same again. "You took me," cried Augustine, "from behind my own back where I had put myself all the time that I preferred not to see myself. And you set me there before my face that I might see how vile I was. . . I saw myself and was horrified."
That's what Jesus Christ has done for men in every generation, and he is doing it today for everyone who discovers him as the Lord of Life.

This Town May Save Your Life

By A. F. MAHAN JR.
TECUMSEH, Mich. — Wherever you live, you some day may owe your life to this town in southeastern Michigan.
Most of Tecumseh's 8,500 residents have volunteered to participate in the largest health study of its kind ever undertaken by medical science.
Thorough physical examinations that include cardiograms and x-rays are being given families. A health history also is being compiled on each participant.
From this picture of a whole community's health, science hopes to learn what people by types, occupation and kinship have what ails them; possible ways to detect an ailment as it develops and before it becomes obvious; whether distribution of a disease reflects the cause of it; inter-relationship of diseases and new methods of prevention.
The study is being directed by the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, whose Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. directed the nationwide trials of the Salk polio vaccine. It will run through 1960.
Currently the study is being financed by a two-year grant of $280,000 from the National Heart Institute, a branch of the U. S. Public Health Service.
Already, some of those participating have been told of diseases or defects they never suspected they had. And experts believe they have discovered something significant about influenza and how an immunity to it may be established. But details are being withheld for the present.
Tecumseh was chosen for several reasons: it is close to the University of Michigan; it is big enough not to be just a farming center; a town with no obvious bias, and a town not dominated by one industry.
A medical description of the community may point in various directions from the current primary emphasis on heart ailments, and should give the basis for a study of family health traits, since near and distant kin can be traced from the original subjects.
While they hope the current study will point to many specific fields for further investigation, Dr. Horton and his colleagues appear confident this health picture may establish the pattern of possibly several diseases and point out means of coping with them more successfully.

School Helps Oldsters Adjust To New Japan

By KENNETH ISHII
KODA, Japan — The woman peered into the registrar's office at "Kotobuki University" and asked if she could enroll.
"We're happy to have you," said Mataro Shiga, the school's chief administrator. "You meet our requirements admirably." He wasn't joking — although the woman is 90 years old.

For Kotobuki means long life, the name appropriately given to an institution established in Koda in 1957 as unique — and remarkably successful — experiment in meeting a little-recognized need in postwar Japan.
"New ways of thinking and living have come to Japan since the end of the war," says Shiga. "Our society has become democratized. But the old folk, whose minds are deeply ingrained with feudal, old-fashioned ideas, have often found it difficult to adjust to the new Japan."
"Our university is an attempt to help the old people of Koda make this adjustment so they can understand and enjoy their new environment instead of feeling useless and discarded."
At 30, widow Ju Suzuki is the oldest student at Kotobuki.
Youngsters under 70 do not qualify for admission, though many would like to.
"We keep enrollment down to about 60 for financial reasons. The university operates on an annual budget of $777 dollars apportioned out of local taxes by the Koda town assembly. And tuition is free."
There are 32 men and 28 women in the class of '59 from a town of 18,000 people of which about 800 are over 70 years old.
Classes are held once a month at the Koda town hall to which the old folk commute by bus, on foot, and sometimes in muddy weather on the rear luggage racks of bicycles pedaled by sons or daughters.
Ten classes constitute a complete course, but attendance at eight of these is sufficient to assure a student of a diploma.
Classes last from two to five in the afternoon and are divided into lecture and recreation sessions.
"For lectures," Shiga explains, "we have teachers come to discuss problems of the old in our changing society, which is something no one ever considered before."
"Students are encouraged to talk about their particular problems and this serves as a basis for general discussion."
"We also have talks on politics and other subjects of current interest. And travelogue movies are also popular."
