A BALLISTOCARDIOGRAPH, an electric device that indicates heart strength, was presented to the Deaf Smith County Hospital recently by the local Heart Association. Rains Revive Some Sagging Wheat, Hail Damage Light

Deaf Smith County dryland wheat farmers this week are in a doldrum of indecision — while some hope for showers to help revive a dying crop, others fear showers could bring a hailstorm which could wipe out their fields of grain due to be harvested this month.

Moisture reports over the county after a rain Sunday evening ranged in the neighborhood of a half inch. Farmers reported scattered hail Saturday evening.

Northwest of Summerfield, Earl Lance, W. G. Harris and Austin Rose reported that hail hit their fields and damaged some of their crops.

From a quarter inch to one inch of rain fell throughout the county Tuesday evening. Little hail damage, however, was reported.

As wheat harvest is scheduled to begin about June 15, some dryland farmers fear that the week end and Tuesday rains came too late to revive their crops which were victimized by a lack of rain reaching drought proportions in May. Moisture in the county in May was approximately .14. The moisture problem was compounded by high temperatures throughout most of the month.

Other farmers, however, were optimistic that further rain before harvest time would produce near-normal yields.

Generally, wheat planted under irrigation should produce normal or above yields.

Although hail damage has been relatively small, high winds have toppled some of the larger stalks of wheat. Much of the tangled wheat should, however, straighten up before harvest begins.

Spot harvesting may be put into operation on dryland farms, and no shortage of combines or employment has been predicted by Pat Patterson, local State Employment Representative.

Harvest of barley may start about a week before wheat field operations start. Generally, fields of barley look good, farmers have reported.

Hoing of cotton should start in about 10 days. Harvest of onions and potatoes should begin about the middle of July. Tuesday moisture reports included: .23 in Hereford; .40 at Dawn; and .50 at Frio.

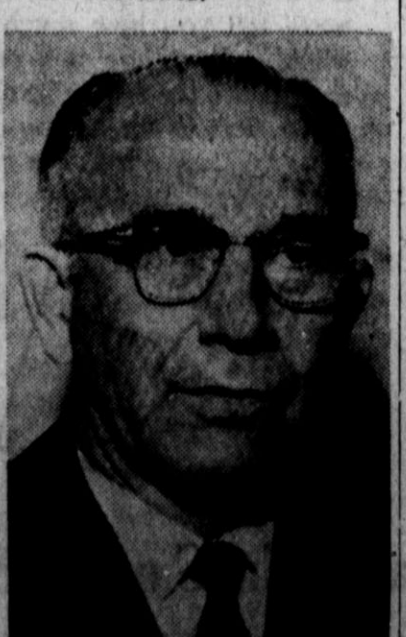

Re-elect Sears WTCC Director

Henry Sears of Hereford this week was named local director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Sears was re-elected to a second one-year term.

Announcement was made by J. Carter King Jr., of Albany, newly-elected president of the 132-county regional chamber. On Thursday, June 2, new directors of the Panhandle area of the WTCC are to meet in Dallas to elect a vice-president to represent District 1 of the West Texas Chamber. Sears has been nominated for the vice presidency by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The District vice president is a member of the WTCC executive committee.

Local directors of the WTCC regional chamber in meetings represent local members of the organization's board. They determine policy for the nearly 4,000-member body and are responsible for maintaining local financial support for the work of the WTCC.

Six major fields of activity for the organization are state and national affairs, community services, industrial development, agriculture and livestock and water resources.

Around Town

Driving to La Plata Tuesday afternoon we were trying to visualize what this country must have looked like to the first settlers as they came rolling across the plains in wagons. The pioneers were talking about the tall grass, and the creeks often running full, before the plows started gnawing at the sod.

Hereford High School's graduating class of 1910 voted Tuesday to have its 50th anniversary reunion next year in Hereford. There were 11 girls and a single boy in the class. And of this group, only one is dead, the late Gertrude Taylor. Other members of the class include Nellie Black, Price Bruce, Emma Dean, Lora Guinn, Letha Edwards, Una Norton, Annie Price, Jessie Sisk, Ruby Wilson, Waldine Wilson and Sam Brunk. That should be quite a reunion.

Virgil Dodson dropped in Wednesday especially to urge everyone to visit Palo Duro Canyon within the next week or two. The Dodsons and the Bert Browns went over Monday. "In all the years I've lived in the Panhandle, I have never seen Palo Duro look so pretty... the flowers are blooming and the grass is green everywhere you look," (Continued on page 2)

Interest High For Run-Offs Saturday Despite Light Slate

A short ballot will carry two local races of much interest to residents of Deaf Smith County when voters go to the polls Saturday for the second Democratic primary. Sharing the ballot for County Tax Assessor-Collector will be D. H. Alexander, incumbent, and LaNell Miller who ran a close race for the post in the first primary here May 7. Voters in Precincts 1 and 7 will elect a County Commissioner of Precinct 1 from a slate of two candidates, Charlie Sowell, incumbent and W. H. Andrews.

Other names on the ballot will be Lloyd W. Davidson of Travis County and W. T. McDonald of Brazos County for judge, Court of Criminal Appeals; and Jesse M. Osborn of Bailey County and Clarence L. Hamilton of Lamb County for state representative, 96th Legislative District. Davidson and Osborn are incumbents.

Voting at 10 county precincts will be held from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

A total of 62 absentee ballots had been filed at the County Clerk's office at deadline Tuesday, an indication that area voters will focus a great deal of attention toward the races in spite of a relatively short ballot.

Voting will be held at the following Democratic precinct places:

Precinct 1, Aikman School; Precinct 2, Stanton Junior High School; Precinct 3, R. W. Mitchell residence; Precinct 4, Simms Community House; Precinct 5, Ford Community House; Precinct 6, Dawn School House; Precinct 7, Garcia Community House; Precinct 8, Bippus Community House; Precinct 9, Daniel School House; and Precinct 11, Central School.

In order to cast a ballot in the primary, the voter's poll tax receipt must be stamped "Democrat." If a voter did not cast a ballot in the first primary, the receipt will be stamped before he votes in the second primary. It is not required that a

Charles Seed Captures Pitman Links Tourney

Breaking a tie which had existed after 45 holes of play, local favorite Charles Seed captured the John Pitman Memorial Golf Tournament at the local links over the week end.

Seed shot four strokes under the Dimmitt linkster to take the championship title in the first annual match, held in memory of the late John Pitman. Play began Saturday and ended Monday.

Seed and Ethridge began Monday afternoon play with even scores on 45 holes of play. In the last nine holes of medal play, Seed carded a 36, compared to Ethridge's 40. Seed scored a 211, four under Ethridge's 215, to take top honors for the 54 holes of play.

Third place in the championship flight was won by Dale Tinnin of Hereford with a 222, followed by fourth-place winner Joe Kerr with a 224.

A total of 38 golfers entered the three-day affair. Others who placed to win merchandise prizes included:

First Flight — John Blocker of Hereford, first place, 236; Troy Moore of Hereford, 239; Kenneth (Doc) Cowan of Hereford, 241; Walter Seed of Hereford, 244, and Earl Springer

Two Plead Guilty Of DWI Charges

Two Hereford youths were charged with driving while intoxicated, first offense, Monday evening after arrest by a Hereford police officer.

Fined $100 and court costs and sentenced to three days in Deaf Smith County Jail Tuesday afternoon were James Thomas Cooper, 21, 111 Ave. C, and John N. Messenger, 18, 413 Knight St., who entered pleas of guilty to the charges in County Court.

The officer who made the arrests, Hereford patrolman Edward Roberson, said that Cooper was driving a 1955 model car in which Messenger was a passenger when the squad car started pursuit on E. Highway 60. While the squad car was in pursuit, Roberson said, Cooper switched places with Messenger and that Messenger was operating the car when it stopped. County Judge Homer Hamilton presided in court.

Pioneers Dedicate Marker, Seek Old Jail As Museum

Dedication of a marker at the first county seat site in Deaf Smith County and a request for use of the old county jail as an historical museum highlighted activities of the annual Pioneer Day in Hereford Tuesday.

During the morning business meeting of the Mid-Plains Pioneers, those attending voted to ask the Deaf Smith County Commission for permission to take over the old county jail as a museum site. The county jail at Fourth and Schley is to be replaced in the near future by a large, modern jail adjacent to the courthouse.

Action on the request is expected at the next regular meeting of the County Commission. More than 100 persons made the long caravan trip Tuesday afternoon for dedication of a marker at the site of La Plata, first town and first county seat in Deaf Smith County.

Mrs. Clint Fornby made the dedicatory address. She is president of the La Plata Study Club, which sponsored the marker. Otto Massie, commissioner of Precinct Two, accepted the marker.

Two former residents of La Plata, Vern Witherspoon and Mrs. Ida Kibbe Vaughn, both of Hereford, turned the first earth for the trees and shrubs which will be planted on the 150-foot triangle of land. The county will maintain the site.

The marker is located about 25 miles northwest of Hereford.

New officers elected by the association include: Mrs. Vern Witherspoon, president; J. B. Elliston, vice president; and Mrs. Roy Jowell, secretary-treasurer. All are from Hereford.

Meeting for the first time in the Hereford Community Center, the pioneers voted to donate $65 to the Center's furnishings fund.

Association president Goose Ramey conducted the morning session, at which awards and recognition were given. Ky Higgins and his sister, Mrs. Maude Higgins Orr, both of Hereford, were recognized as the man and woman who first came to Deaf Smith County in a covered wagon. They came in 1890 with their father, Uncle Summie Higgins, former president of the First National Bank of Hereford.

Ernest Woodburn of Los Angeles, Cal., was honored as the man who came the farthest to attend the meeting while Mrs. George B. Young of El Paso got the honor for the woman who came the longest distance.

"First county seat of Deaf Smith County, Grenada was chosen as the county seat from Oldham County on Oct. 3, 1890. The name was changed to La Plata (sometimes spelled La Platta) a year later. All buildings from the townsite at the center of this section were moved to Hereford when the county seat was moved there in 1893. "Erected under sponsorship of La Plata Study Club, 1960"

Three Hurt As Car Overturns

Three persons were injured in a one-car accident in Veterans Park late Sunday afternoon.

Treated for minor injuries and released from Deaf Smith County Hospital following the accident were Erlinda Almaguer, 17, 311 Norton; Evelyn Martinez, 16, 208 N. 25 Mile Ave.; and Linda Jean Martinez, 14, 208 N. 25 Mile Ave.

All were passengers of a 1952 model automobile driven by Elroy Alonzo Estrada, 17, who lives at the Greenport Courts. The driver was not injured.

Investigating Hereford patrolman Don Metcalf reported that the vehicle failed to make a turn, skidded and overturned. The accident was investigated at 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

The injured passengers were taken to the hospital in a car driven by Joe Guerrero of Hereford.

Set Summer School For Hereford High

For the first time since the late 1930's, Hereford High School will offer summer school this year, school principal Bill Stanford has announced.

Classes will begin Monday, June 6, and continue through July 25. English I, II, III and IV will be the only courses offered.

The four courses will be open to freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors. Students from area towns and cities are invited to enroll as classes are not limited only to Hereford students.

"Many students in Hereford and from the surrounding area have expressed desire for such a summer study program," Stanford said. "They will be taking the courses for personal enrichment, for make-up purposes and to complete English requirements during the summer in order to take elective courses in the fall."

Classes will be held from 7:30 to 11:45 a. m., Monday through Friday. Hereford High faculty member Delores Wall will be instructor.

Last day to enroll, Stanford said, is June 8 at 7:30 a. m. No pre-registration is necessary. All classes will be held in Room 101 at the school.

Stanford said state requirements stipulate that a student must have completed 140 clock hours of study in a course to receive a full unit of credit, and must have completed 70 hours for one-half unit.

Students taking the summer classes may enroll for a half-unit or a full credit schedule.

Enrollment fee is $30 for a full unit study schedule, and $15 for the half-unit course. Those planning to enroll are asked to render fees during first day of class.

A FORMER PUPIL in school at La Plata, Vern Witherspoon was an honored guest Tuesday as he turned dirt during dedication of a marker commemorating the first county seat of Deaf Smith County. Mrs. Ida Kibbe Vaughn, another former La Plata resident, also assisted with the dedication. The marker in the background was planned by the La Plata Study Club. (Staff Photo)

No one knows, or will say, whether there weren't enough fathers to play or whether they just didn't feel nimble enough. But, anyhow, the big baseball game between the Hereford High Whitefaces and their dads was called off Monday. I'll bet a lot of those dads will be reminded of that next season when they try coaching from the bleachers!

Westley Methodist Church will start its vacation church school on Saturday, June 4, at 9 a. m. It will continue through Sunday, June 12. There will be classes for children from 4 through 12.

We have been rather amused at a small boy who appeared at the Brand office Saturday and again Monday, with a towel draped over his shoulder and demanding to know when the swimming pool was going to open. Told it would be Wednesday afternoon, he became almost violent in his disgust about grownups who were so thoughtless as to keep the pool closed while the weather was so perfect and school was out.

Raymond White was scheduled to have a meeting of his Harvest Festival committee Thursday morning to discuss plans for exhibit booths. Although there isn't much to report yet, plans are progressing nicely for the Festival, which will be held July 28 - 30.

We haven't heard anything directly, but the grapevine says some of the Hereford High Players have been invited to come over and try out for the Canyon American Legion baseball team. It's a shame we can't get a summer baseball program going for the boys who are too old for Pony League. It would help our high school team and "straight ticket" be voted in the General Election on Nov. 8. In accordance to Texas Election Laws, a county Democratic executive committee will meet Tuesday, June 7, to canvass votes in the primary.

After that time, political activity in the county will consist mainly of campaigning for the Nov. 8 General Election. The first primary was moved up more than two months as result in a change in state law this year.

also let some other boys play who aren't on the Whiteface squad.

As a public service the Brand will start a series of three articles Sunday dealing with the problems of the aging. They are being written by the Rev. Don Davidson of Lubbock, former Hereford pastor, who was named to head the new Methodist committee to plan and locate a home for Golden Ageds in this district.

We admit the ballot won't be long, but that doesn't keep it from being important. So plan now to vote Saturday in the second Democratic primary. Making the effort to cast a ballot is a pretty small price to pay for freedom.

LaNell Miller slightly edged incumbent Alexander in the first primary here as she received 945 votes as compared to Alexander's 873 votes for County Tax Assessor - Collector. Incumbent Sowell carried 325 votes as compared to Andrews' 155 votes for the County Commissioner's post. Six candidates had filed for the post.

Judges at Democratic primary voting places will include: Frank Bezner, Precinct 1; Urilin Streu, Precinct 2; R. W. Mitchell, Precinct 3; J. G. Fortenberry, Precinct 4; L. J. Strassfuss, Precinct 6; H. V. McCabe, Precinct 7; S. N. Thweatt, Precinct 8; Clint Homfeld, Precinct 9; Mrs. C. L. McBroom, Precinct 10; and J. J. Clark, Precinct 11.

Memorial Day and the long week end are over and, surprisingly enough, we had no serious accidents. Bill McCarver was telling me that the sheriff's department had only one call — and it was minor. Best of all, most people seem to have survived the holiday in fair condition. Paul Harvey took his son, Mike, and David Norton on a fishing junket near Springer, N. M., and from all outward appearances I would say that Paul will be back to normal maybe by Saturday or Sunday. This is very good for a bald headed old coot like Paul who leaves the comforts of air conditioning, a nice foam rubber mattress, and good food to rough it in a tent for such a long period.

Lake Conchas was the popular place with Hereford folks. One fellow was telling me that he never saw so many friends and neighbors. First off he ran into the Neil Cooper family, then the Lynn Kesters and the Jack Allmons, the Hilary Aves and the Slim Westers. He said he was talking about all of Hereford being there, when along came Kenny Wilson and Earl Nipper; about that time, Tommy Bryant came chugging along in his big houseboat — and he recognized the Melvin Youngs and the Alvin Smiths (the school teacher, not the preacher) just then, he looked over toward the bank and there stood Wayne Lawrence.

I haven't heard of anyone who caught any fish, however. All of them allege to have gone over for a little water skiing — and just thought they would wet a hook to two. I still say if someone would open a commercial fish market on the Conchas site they would get rich. These old boys are bound to get tired of sardines — all of the time.

Politics are picking up as the Second Primary draws near. Some of the happiest faces you see are those of candidates who lost out in the first go-around and don't have to worry about the election Saturday. I guess that's the way things go.

Roy Clark, former Brand news editor, visited in Hereford over the week end. Roy is now with the Department of Agriculture in Washington, but lives in Virginia. He says they are quite happy and that prices are pretty much like those in Hereford, except rent. Roy never did say how much rent he paid, but cited it as "outrageous". He said they plan to move to an apartment house soon. They now live in a house, which is part of a long row of houses and, according to Roy, the only difference between houses is the color of the doors.

"They paint the doors different colors, so you won't make a mistake and go into the wrong house," he said.

Roy also said that they used one of our Hereford wheat pictures in a world fair display to depict harvest methods in the U. S. A. The picture was made south of Tierra Blanca Creek — and was enlarged to approximately 8 feet by 10 feet.

Mr. Donnell, who runs an UMBarger garage, was in the other day to run an ad about those trailer bodies you add to a pickup bed. He even has some of the stuff for do-it-yourself fans. Those trailers always intrigued me, but not enough to involve so much hard work. I guess trailers are a lot like boats, you just can't find one with all of the answers. What I want is a 22-foot house trailer with kitchen, bath, refrigerator, air conditioner, etc., which can be folded up and put in the back of your car. Another thing, it would need to sell for less than $200 for me to be real interested.

Next to dandelions you can probably get more free advice on the subject of Johnson grass than any other thing that grows. Bert Boomer tells me to use gasoline, then I talk with John Pool and he says the only thing is Dow — something — or — other, that gasoline is a waste of time — and my wife says just to keep it mowed down, and it will die out. Naturally, I am going to wind up doing it like my wife says, but I have a lot of fun making believe that I am engineering the project — and when I give her all of these arguments I can sort of save face. Irregardless of which, we still have a nice stand of Johnson grass, and I imagine the same will be true this time next year.

Included among the pioneers Tuesday were the Brunk boys, Orville and Sam, who once operated tent shows all over the Panhandle. These boys, along with Ralph and Bill Smith, were big entertainers back in the early days. When I was a kid I used to attend their tent shows, which were most exciting to me. I always bought one of those boxes of candy with prizes, but never did get one with a watch or a pair of hose like the exhibit. Along came the movies and TV, and the tent shows are pretty well a thing of the past. However, they provide a lot of memories for an earlier generation, and leave things wide open for that old quip about not having to worry about the draft.

Stowed away in his files, Major Schroeter has an early day township plat of La Plata. Many of the street names seem to have been moved with the town, and the plat has an interesting resemblance to Hereford. Someone dreamed a great dream back in those days, but missed the mark a few miles — and probably lost a fortune when the town moved to the present location on the Santa Fe tracks. A lot of things turned out that way — and still do, for that matter. Folks used to say, "Nothing ventured, nothing gained"; now they say, "That's the way the cookie crumbles."

Meanwhile, we have had some nice rains and the Supreme Court justly ruled that Texas should retain her Tidelands. This is good, but what in the heck are we going to complain about?

Announce Improvements In Mail Transportation

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced sweeping improvements in mail transportation that will mean better mail service for Hereford and 124 other communities in the Amarillo and Lubbock metropolitan areas, covering over 37,000 square miles.

Discussing the program at a meeting of postmasters in Amarillo, George A. Gray, Regional Operations Director, said that 900,000 people in the 40 counties would benefit by better mail service.

Barring infrequent delays in media of transportation and occasional distribution errors, first-class letters mailed at designated collection boxes or in the post office before 3 p. m. on a business day will be delivered on the first delivery at any office in the areas on the following business day.

"Tests just concluded," Mr. Gray said, "proved the mail pattern to be highly successful. Approximately 600,000 first-class letters originate on an average business day in post offices within these two metropolitan areas. Approximately 66 per cent of this mail is destined for points within the area. We have tested our newly changed operations with highly gratifying results."

He pointed out that mail for and from offices outside the area, all over the United States, will be expedited by the new arrangement. Accelerating the flow of mail in the metropolitan areas, it was explained, is part of the vast postal program which has next-day delivery between any two cities in the country as its long range objective. The revised mail pattern is based on the establishment of sectional centers to which mail from outlying offices is brought for consolidation, distribution and onward dispatch for connection with trunk line facilities, principally at Amarillo.

These sectional centers have been established at Amarillo, Childress, Lubbock and Plainview.

Post Offices near one of these sectional centers will send their mail to that point for processing. Fast non-stop service over the highway then will carry the mail to Amarillo and Lubbock for dispatch to destination. Special connections have been established via fast truck service north of Amarillo.

Some towns could not be brought within the plan because of the distance involved; however, slightly earlier mailing would assure the mailer the benefit of metropolitan area service.

Mobile sectional centers, which consist of mail distribution cars in trains and buses equipped for en route distribution, are also utilized in the program.

The plan required an intricate pattern of interlocking schedes, with connections being made within a matter of minutes at many places. For instance, a letter from Roaring Springs to Levelland travels over six different routes, including one train; it is transferred at five different locations.

Mr. Gray explained that the next-day delivery depends on the conscientious attention of postal employees as well as the closely integrated time table which governs the area's postal units and the transportation linking them together.

He said this improvement in letter mail service is the result of intensive study, and he credits the cooperation of dedicated postal employees in the 125 offices involved.

The counties in the area are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crosby, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley and Floyd.

Also Foard, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hemphill, Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lubbock and Moore.

Also Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Terry, Wheeler, Wichita and Wilbarger.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

A Variety Of Mail Flows Into Congressional Office

To The People of the 18th District:

If variety is the spice of life, as the old saying goes, Members of Congress have a well seasoned existence. Even the proverbial "Joseph's coat of many colors" could not boast of the variety that graces the mail flowing into a Congressional office.

Sometimes it comes so fast and furious that it is impossible to avoid some delay in answering. Some express glad tidings and great joy, while others reach the other extreme of complete frustration and are permeated with the depths of despair.

Many contain personal problems of the writers who are writing their Congressman because they know not where to turn. Others contain advice and counsel on world affairs, national affairs and specific pieces of legislation.

Many are "thank you" letters while some are replete with caustic criticism. Some are written on the finest embossed stationery, while others may be on the reverse side of a discarded letter or an old piece of paper sack. Sometimes the great bulk of the mail concerns one particular issue of great interest.

Usually this is some controversy. The increase in the mail under these circumstances can be 400 or 500% over a period of a few days period. The issue that created the greatest increase in my mail since I have served in Congress was the controversy between President Truman and General MacArthur when the President fired the General.

Within a period of approximately 2 weeks, I received some 7500 written communications on that subject alone, to say nothing of the telephone calls and personal contacts. Other issues have generated measurable increases, but none could compare with the Truman - MacArthur controversy.

Many of the letters that I receive as well as conversations with people indicate that there are quite a few people who feel that mail directed to a Congressman is read by some secretary and is never seen by the Congressman.

This could be true in a few cases, but in most instances, the Member of the House of Representatives is vitally interested in the contents of the mail received and tries to read every letter from his constituents. This has been true in my own case for several reasons. One is that I have always liked to receive mail and to read it.

There is nothing that I am more anxious to do than to find out what is inside of a sealed envelope or who is on the other end of a ringing telephone. Perhaps I received an oversupply of curiosity, but if so, I am glad of it. To give you a general idea of what my mail contains, I will pick at random from my desk top a few items. As I have explained in a previous newsletter, I have my own individual filing system. Many of you who have visited my office are familiar with it.

It consists of dividing my desk top in the same manner as a section of land, that is, the NE quarter, the NW quarter, the SE quarter and the SW quarter. When I file a letter for future attention, all I need to remember is the quarter in which it was filed.

Incidentally, the Truman - MacArthur mail made it necessary to lease several additional sections on a temporary basis. I will pick up a few items from the different quarter sections. In the NE section, I find that I haven't paid my dues to the Panhandle Plains Historical Society at Canyon.

Other subjects include the effect of unfair imports on the farm situation, several different positions on federal aid to education, Turkish government decree for the protection of Turkish currency, application being processed by the FCC, who to vote for as President of the Texas Bar Association, legislation affecting the use of Mexican Nationals for farm labor, disability pension under Social Security, socialized medicine, the selection of additional post office quarters, the oil import problem.

Turning to the SW quarter,

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Legislative Fund Is Shrinking

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — Most ardent advocates of a tax bill to pour fresh funds into the state's coffers will be legislative employees. They may be hunting new jobs or working for nothing before the year is out.

Only about $130,000 remains in the legislative expense fund for use between now and the end of the year. A good part of this probably will be needed to pay travel and miscellaneous expenses of the study committees that meet between sessions.

If these expenses run very high, the permanent legislative employees — people who keep records, staff the legislative library, etc. — may run short on salary money.

Their only course, if they want to stay on their jobs, will be to hang on until the new legislature finds money to pay them.

Last year's legislative sessions — one regular, three special-cost the state $1,773,140.

This averages out to $16,385 a day when the lawmakers are meeting, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness' report.

Of the $2,773,140 total, $724,000 was spent by the 32-member Senate, $1,243,000 by the 150-member House. Each member received in salary about $5,000, at the rate of $25 per day.

Rest of the expense is mostly for the employees to keep a session going — answer letters, keep records, print bills, etc.

A retail sales tax with groceries, medical and other services exempted would raise an estimated $133,000,000 a year, a legislative committee was told.

Collection costs would run about $3,000,000 a year, a Texas Research League tax expert told the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy.

If the tax covered not only furnished products but raw products used by business in manufacturing, the take would be some $80,000,000 a year more but would result in the consumer's paying two taxes on one item.

A retail sales tax would not hurt Texas' future industrial development, the Commission was told by a business expert, but a tax on manufacturing raw materials would.

Very few elective officials have come out strongly for any kind of broad-based sales tax. Some are bound to look longingly at this avenue, however, since the amount that will have to be raised next year will, if teachers get any sort of raise, be almost as much as a retail sales tax would net.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has been asked for opinions on whether retiring lawmakers should continue to serve on two important interim committees.

Four members of the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy are "lame ducks." They are the chairman, Sen. Bill Fly of Victoria, and Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, who were defeated for re-election; Rep. V. L. Ramsey of Beckville, who ran for comptroller and lost; and Rep. Obie Bristow of Big Spring who didn't run this year.

Three of the five members of the House General Investigating Committee also did not run for new terms. They are Rep. H. J. Blanchard, chairman, and Reps. Joe Burkett of Kerrville and Carl Conley of Raymondville.

If the Attorney General rules these men should be replaced, most of the new appointments will be made by retiring House Speaker Waggoner Carr.

Court action has begun on what will undoubtedly be a long legal battle over whether the natural gas severance beneficiary tax passed last Loreta Fowler reported that J. W. Robinson, Wayne Stark and Charles Bell gave some life insurance programs. Mrs. J. C. Morrison, as chairman of the council education, Expansion Committee, arranged the quarterly report to the Commissioners Court.

Thanks to all of you who are so kind and generous to help carry on the work.

During June the women's club will have programs on salads when the 4-H clubs entertain the H. D. clubs. The program material has been mailed and the women are ready with the programs.

Consumer Credit is another program in a series of family economics programs the clubs will have. The material has been sent to the family economics demonstrators of the Clubs, so in case I am unable to attend, the club will have a good program. The editorial in Sunday's Amarillo Globe on teenage credit buying is quite interesting and is in line with our June study.

This week these women will give the programs at the clubs — Mrs. J. E. Dyer, Mrs. George L. Olson, Mrs. J. B. Caraway and Mrs. Bob Thuet.

both the Senior Class and her dormitory. During her college career, she has been a member of the Christian Association and the Recreation Association.

Three other Texans are in the graduating class of the Virginia college. They are Misses Mary Ellen Brown, of Midland; Margaret Paulsel, of Fort Worth, and Linda Davis, of Houston.

rows will give a longer grazing period than will broadcast plantings, McBee says. Other advantages of planting in rows are: livestock won't trample as much of the pasture and weed control is easier. He suggests more than one planting in order to extend the grazing period.

Fertilizer should be used if needed and applied according to a soil test, McBee adds. During growing season, when moisture is available, applications of 20 to 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre should be used as a sidedressing after each grazing period or cutting.

Several types of plants can be used, Sudan is still one of the most dependable. Varieties of Sudan include Sweet, Common, Tift, Piper and others.

Pearl millet is suggested for use where Sudan does not produce satisfactorily, mainly on acid, sandy soils of East Texas and severely eroded soils of Central Texas. Varieties include Georgia Hybrid No. 1, Common, Starr and Texas No. 7.

Perennial sweet sorghum can also be used the agronomist says. It has a sweet stalk which is coarser than Sudan and the peak of grazing is mid-summer to fall. It should be handled as an annual.

Another, sorghum alnum, is nonsweet and has a larger stalk than Sudan. It gives more grazing in mid-summer to fall than Sudan and is more successful when handled as an annual.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. Tuck

Any person interested in current affairs, world opinion or history should be interested in the book reviewed this week: One Day In The World's Press is an outstanding study achievement.

Wilbur Schramm edited and commented upon the news as it appeared in 14 of the world's outstanding papers on a day of crisis: November 2, 1956.

Hints Offered On Controlling Snakes

College Station. -- Most snakes are not welcome, even as visitors, in yards and homes. This is true, points out Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, despite the fact that most snakes are beneficial to man because of the number of rodents and other pests they eat. But, he adds, because of the fear of poisonous snakes, most folks just don't care to see them around.

Cooper points out there is no sure way to keep snakes from moving into the yard or even on occasion the home but offers suggestions which tend to discourage this happening. The best solution is, to make the premises unattractive to snakes by the removal of food and cover they like.

Since most snakes feed on rats and mice, a good rodent control program will help. Maintaining rodent-proof buildings, rodent trapping or baiting programs and removal of rodent food supplies not only discourages rats and mice but snakes as well.

Closely mowed lawns and fields are much less attractive to snakes than are areas of tall grass, weeds and brush. Eliminate trash piles, leaves, boards, flat rocks and other materials which snakes use for cover. Weeds, logs, rocks and other objects around ponds attract snakes and should be removed if snakes are a problem.

If the proper "housekeeping" job around the home is done, Cooper says the few snake visitors can be controlled by persistent killing.

"Friday, November 2, was one of those days when history seems to balance on a knife edge, and the destinies of nations are poised ready to fall either way," Schramm comments.

Hungary's revolution seemed about to succeed, Nasser's brasserie edifice in the Middle East was tottering as British and French acted like imperialists of old, the United Nations was in emergency session.

Stanford University, which published the book, chose the 14 most influential and widely read papers in the world. The study includes these giants of the world press: Pravda from Moscow; La Monde of Paris; Trybuna Ludu of Warsaw; the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung from Frankfurt; Rude Pravo of Prague; Dagens Nyheter from Stockholm; Belgrade's Borge; Al Ahram of Cairo; Jen-Min Jih - Pao of Peking; Asahi of Tokyo; La Prensa of Buenos Aires; The Times of India from Bombay and Delhi; The Times of London; and the New York Times from New York City.

Each of the papers is covered separately, with statistics on cost, circulation, single copy price, population and literacy of the country, type of government and other mass communications media.

But the fascinating thing is that a scaled-down reproduction of each paper's front page for the day is accompanied by facsimile translations of the foreign language papers. Not only the front page, but inside pages are shown in very accurate translation, even down to the approximate size and type for all headlines and body types.

In retrospect, most of the papers devoted too much news space to the Suez crisis and far too little to the Soviet move that crushed the Hungarian revolt. Only Dagens Nyheter of Stockholm cried out against the cruel purge that the Soviets were just beginning to get underway. The staid and encyclopedic New York Times even heralded "Victory in Hungary".

For a radical change of pace evening or two, One Day In The World's Press is excellent. You can find a copy in the Deaf Smith County Library.

AGE DISCRIMINATION

This Chain

... surely it is capable of drawing a heavy load. Another chain might hold a tiny cross or a precious gem in place. Still another might bind my arms in helplessness. But the old adage is true. "No chain is stronger than its weakest link." One link, the weakest link, governs the strength. For one weak link the heavy load breaks loose, or something precious is lost, or the manacled arms are free again. There, too, are chains of character, good habits, religious morals that make us strong and dependable in difficult hours. These attributes are as links of the chain. For life is of a piece and every day is part of the chain that counts toward everlasting. Then anchor the picture of the chain in the gallery of your meditation. Then form good habits that hold us firmly in constructive toil. Attend church regularly and support God's cause with your means. Put goodness, integrity and truthfulness into your personal character chain.
Let God's church and His faithful help you forge a chain of strength and usefulness.

You In The Church
 The Church In You
 — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

STEEL OR FABRIC?

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel with polka-dot or multi-colored patterns?

It's likely in the near future, according to "Steelways," publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, which predicts that steel researchers also will devise a surface that will have the feel of fabric.

The magazine says the development could create a new world of steel designs for household appliances, offices, buildings and automobiles.

"Steelways" predicts that it may become impossible in the future to identify steel at first glance or touch.

John Scott takes a look at one of the many simultaneous operations which mark the modern farm. He has served on advisory committees on agriculture in President Eisenhower's Administration.

Red River Valley's John Scott depends on DITHANE M-22 to protect 700 acres of potatoes

Ask John Scott, of Gilby, North Dakota, where's the greatest spot in the world to live... and he'll tell you "The Red River Valley."

Potato grower, sheep raiser, bank president, member of the Federal Reserve Board, farmland improvement enthusiast and an active Red River Valley promoter... John Scott is a busy man. A 14-hour working day is not unusual for him.

In the middle of his large acreage of flat, fertile land, a pair of comfortable remodeled homes, symbolic of this family operation, stand side by side in well kept grounds. Scott, his wife and daughter live in one—son, John, Jr., and family in the other.

At the rear, a modern swimming pool brings neighbors visiting in hot weather. Neat white fences and old shade trees give the farm a picture quality.

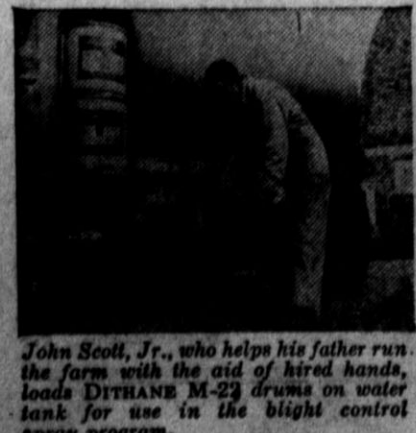

About 700 acres are devoted to the potato crop. Much of the rest of the Scott land is used for growing certified seed grains. Brokers handle most of the potato crop for eventual table use and North Dakota certified seed.

Scott says DITHANE M-22 saves handling time because it mixes easily. His potato spraying schedule is more flexible now because this 80% maneb fungicide lasts longer on the vines.
