Greenbug Threat Not So Great

FROM FIELD DAY

Freshman Gain Experience; Appreciation Of Teaching

Members of the Stanton Junior High School Future Teachers of America received their first dose of what could possibly become their future profession as they taught in local grade schools last week.

Some 17 freshman students, who are members of the club, taught school at the four local elementary schools Tuesday. For most, it was a new and exciting experience to sit behind the teacher's desk.

Future Teachers of America is a club devoted to introducing students to the field of classroom teaching. F. T. A. has been active at the junior high school for three years, and was recently reorganized in high school after disbanding four years ago.

Mrs. F. G. Collier and Mrs. Fred Mercer are co-sponsors of the junior high chapter which sponsored the field day.

"The club members were really enthused about the trip," said Mrs. Collier. "It gave the students a chance to see what it takes to teach."

Student teachers made their own arrangements for the day's activities. Some of them taught the entire day, while others were in charge only part of the time, depending on the arrangements the F. T. A. members made with the regular teachers. Following the day's experience, the students discussed their teaching. All agreed that it was somewhat different than what they had expected.

Bruce Miller taught at Northwest Elementary School in the fourth-grade of Mrs. A. L. Yeager. "This has more than ever spurred my desire to become a teacher," he stated.

His comments were typical of others made by the young teachers. He continued, "My stay at school was most surprising in a pleasing way."

"I was amazed at all these students knew and how nicely they behaved," added Vickie Inman, who taught Mrs. Fred Mulkey's sixth-grade class at Shirley School.

"I taught reading, supervised playground games, and graded papers," said Barbara Langley, who taught Mrs. Woody Wilson's second-grade class. "The children were eager to learn and cooperative."

Jo Ella McGee, who taught Mrs. Jay Carter's first-grade class for Latin Americans which is learning to speak English, stated, "From my experience I have found that a teacher must be capable and very patient in order to do her job well. I thought it was wonderful."

"It was work," adds Martha Hudson who taught Madeline Bell's fifth-grade class at Alkman School, "but it's what I want to do."

Romanita Lucera stated, "After teaching in the second grade at Alkman, my desire to teach became more sincere. After that I am sure that I will enjoy sharing my time and ideas with children as I did Tuesday."

"You never knew what to expect!" said Nancy Martin who taught the first grade at Alkman School.

Others who practiced teaching last week included Patricia Maxwell, who taught sixth-grade students of Mrs. H. V. Crawford at Central School.

Cindy Loerwald observed in the second-grade class of Mrs. D. C. Martin. The class is comprised of Latin-American students who are being taught the English language through the use of pictures.

Nancy Tyler was in the class of Miss Bea Barrett at Shirley School. Teaching in the sixth grade class of Mrs. Gladys Setliff at Northwest Elementary was Myrna Botkin. Patsy Stoy

Call Red Cross Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross has been called for 10 a. m. Tuesday, April 24. It will be held in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Corinne Neeley, executive secretary of the local chapter, said that the agenda calls for election of directors and new officers. All local committee chairmen and members also are urged to be present to make reports of their activities for the past year.

A number of special awards will be presented at county Red Cross chapter members by Robert Blackburn of Amarillo, area field representative.

A FORMIDABLE HUNTING TEAM is comprised of two champions when they take to the outdoors in search of small game. A nine-month-old pointer of championship blood, "Pogo" is a bird hunter's dream, according to his owner, R. J. Cramer. In three months of training, the bird has pointed over 130 birds as the two prepare for the fall hunting seasons and field trials. Cramer, a hunting champion in his own right, has some 30 trophies representing wins at various trap shoots. (Staff Photo)

Fall Training Starts Early For Cramer And Young Pogo

BY WAIN MILLER
Brand Staff Reporter

"Spring Fever" has come to Hereford in epidemic proportions as residents begin preparing for the summer's outdoor activities.

Fishermen have been oiling up their reels and gardeners have begun their annual battle against the weeds, but R. J. Cramer is already preparing for the fall hunting seasons.

Three months ago he acquired "Pogo", a Pointer of championship blood. Since that time, Cramer has spent untold hours in training the nine-month-old pup. It is Cramer's 32nd pointer to train.

Officially registered as "Cramer Sowego Pogo", the pup promises to be a hunting champion. "I think he is going to be among the best pointers I've handled," Cramer says with a twinkle in his eye.

"I've shot 130 birds over his points during training," he adds. Pogo is as eager as his master when it comes to hunting.

The highly bred dog and his master combine to make a formidable hunting team. Cramer has some 30 trophies, which he has won at various trap shoots. He has been an avid hunter for over 45 years.

Pogo possesses all of the desired qualities of a hunting dog, according to Cramer.

"I got Pogo from Howard Phares, a dog breeder at Lubbock. He has bred pointers which have won field trial events throughout the country. Pogo's ancestors for four preceding generations have been champions," he adds.

Pogo is a sleek, white puppy, with orange muzzle, ears, and small spots trimming his body.

"He points and retrieves well for a pup," Cramer points out. "I should have him fully trained by fall. I think he will make a champion upland game dog." Cramer is training the dog to point at "anything with feathers." But he points out that pointers do not work for waterfowl. He defined upland game as birds that make their homes on land, such as quail, pheasant, and grouse.

Pointers are entered in "field trials" in which the dogs are judged on their hunting ability and style. Pogo has not entered competition yet, but Cramer is anxious to try him in the fall events.

Greenbug infestations in the county still remain a potential threat to area wheat farmers as an expected tapering off of the insect population did not materialize.

However, the infestations across the county generally were described as being moderate by aerial spraying service operators and owners. Some heavy infestations are occurring in the spotted sections in the Deaf Smith County area.

3 Lobo Homers Drop Hereford; Demons Are Next

The Dumas Demons, riding atop the District 1-AAA baseball heap, will be in Hereford Tuesday as the second half of conference play starts.

Hereford dropped a crucial contest in Levelland Friday and thus failed to end the first round in a tie for the top spot. Dumas has a 3-1 record after falling to Hereford in its opener. The Whitefaces, are second with a 2-2 mark while Levelland is 1-3 after winning its first conference game from Hereford.

The Whitefaces saw a 6-1 lead evaporate in the fourth and sixth innings as Levelland slammed out three home runs. Levelland took a 1-0 lead in the last of the first inning on a single by Burton, who stole second and went to third on a passed ball. He came in as David Schmidley grounded out.

But Hereford jumped into a substantial 6-1 lead in the second. With one out, Ken Loerwald singled and John Buck got on by error. John Willoughby's walk loaded the bases and Mickey Stevens singled to push in one run. Ronnie Duncan walked to load the sacks again and Joe Magk Hale singled to drive in a pair of scores. Eugene Green kept it going with a single and Dan McDowell singled to drive in the last score.

Loerwald was hit by the pitch to load the bases again but a pop-up finally ended the Herd's scoring punch.

Levelland loaded the bases in the second but failed to score. They put two more on in the third but again failed to move them around.

With two out in the top of the fourth, McDowell doubled and Greenbug infestations, reported one spraying service operator, are not as bad as a year ago. Approximately as many acres have been sprayed, but damage is not as great.

He attributed this to the fact that wheat farmers had started spraying operations earlier before wheat could be damaged heavily by the insects.

Spraying has been used this year, he pointed out, to prevent damage rather than to control the pests before crops were damaged.

The service operator estimated that the damage potential from greenbugs would exist for the next two weeks. However, "a lot depends" on the weather.

Spraying operations were reported to be very effective in the fight to prevent damage to wheat. Good kills have been reported from areas sprayed.

However, the possibility still exists for the reinfestation of wheat fields especially those sprayed during early March, according to spray service operators.

They also pointed out that this would be the "exception rather than the rule."

It was pointed out by one service operator that the pests which are usually "well up on the plant by this time of year, are still close to the ground."

"The greenbug apparently isn't on its last cycle," he commented.

Rain showers and watering are bringing the pests out of ground, he continued, but they are taking longer to come out this year.

For this reason, the insect count in fields inspected has varied with the count depending a great deal on the weather, he continued.

Spraying is recommended when greenbugs reached the Candidate for governor Jack Cox probably summed up the largest personal problem of many office-seekers now touring the state. Talking in Hereford Wednesday night, he said, "I have to leave here and fly home to Breckenridge — I've just run completely out of clean socks and shirts. I have a suitcase crammed with dirty clothes." Laundry always seems to be the biggest headache of touring actors, singers, circus performers, politicians and travelers.

In a change of dates, the Pioneer Study Club will meet at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 24, for a luncheon in the Western Wheel Inn.

One of the speakers at the Southcentral Hereford Progress Clinic at Fort Worth in May will be well-qualified. Bill Dameron of Hereford will talk on the individual breeder's responsibility in promotion. Bill ramrodded the highly successful Hereford four here three years ago, receiving interest in Hereford, Texas, as the center of Hereford cattle. He followed this up with a monthly ad in The Cattleman magazine and cooperates with other breeders in the county on still another ad in the publication. His work at the annual shows have helped qualify him to speak on the subject.

Hereford Man Posts $500 Bond On DWI Charge

A 66-year-old Hereford man, Otto Lee Massie of 405 East Fifth, was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of driving while intoxicated, first offense.

According to the official report, Massie was arrested about 6 mile north of the Hereford city limits on U. S. Highway 385 after pursuit north by a Hereford City Patrolman. The arrest was made between 3 and 4 p.m.

Arraigned before Judge H. C. "Hank" Williams Thursday morning, the man pleaded not guilty. He was released after bond was set at $500, pending the trial.

348 Red-Blooded Local Citizens Have It Typed

More than 300 Deaf Smith County Residents used the blood typing service sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council as the council launched a drive to get every citizen to carry a health and information card.

The service was operated at the Hereford Community Center and open from 2-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Licensed laboratory technicians were furnished by the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

During the afternoon session, it was reported that 170 persons were typed. During the evening, an additional 178 were typed bringing the total to 348.

The main purpose service was to type blood for health and information cards. However, it has been pointed out that from the records kept, the hospital will have a list of potential blood donors.

Information to be carried on the cards, besides blood type, consists of a vaccination record, allergies to antibiotics, the hospitalization carried and name of the family physician.

Beauty Contest, Election Slated

Highlighted by its annual beauty pageant and an election of two directors, the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative will stage its annual meeting in the Bull Barn Thursday.

A busy schedule awaits Cooperative members of Farmer, Castro, and Deaf Smith counties. The annual meeting will get underway with a barbecue lunch at noon, prepared by Hereford Rotarians.

Two directors will be elected in the business session which follows. Three nominees each have been received for posts in Farmer and Deaf Smith counties, according to Sloan H. Osborn, president of the board of directors.

Voting for election to the board from Deaf Smith County are Raymond Higginbotham, Rt. 1; Dick Ellis, Rt. 4; and Virgil Marsh, Rt. 5.

T. M. Caldwell of Farwell, A. Webb Gober of Farwell, and Jack D. Patterson of Rt. 2, Friona, are on the ballot for the Farmer County director. Sloan points out that members also may make nominations from the floor.

"It is important for members to take an active part in the annual meeting," states Leo Forrest, manager of the cooperative. "Officers and directors to be elected by the members will be responsible for operation and management of the system during the years ahead."

Following election of directors, members will hear annual reports from the officers.

Joe Henry, president of the Deaf Smith County Young Farmers of America, will present a program explaining the club's activities.

A 4-H club electrical demonstration will then occupy the spotlight, as James Short and Mike McGee of the Eager Beavers 4-H Club appear.

count of 100 per drill foot per row. However, it was pointed out, many fields have been sprayed when the count was below the minimum as a preventive measure.

Earlier this spring, infestations were heaviest with a 10-mile radius southwest of Hereford and in the north and north-west sections of the county.

From recent checks, the build-up now seems to be concentrated more in the northern part of the county. There are also a few isolated sections in the southern part of the area where heavy infestations have been reported.

The brown wheat mite has heavily infested the dryland wheat area of the county and some heavy damage has been reported to the wheat crop. It was pointed out that aerial spraying was not an effective control against the mite and that weather affects it more.

Wet weather, which is hard on the wheat mite, is needed in the dryland sections of the area. The crop is also reported to be in need of moisture.

Cramer takes advantage of much of his free time to train Pogo. "I first have to teach him to 'want to hunt'. Then he has to develop his natural instinct to point.

"Pogo's point is the most stylish I've seen," he said. "He is eager, but he remains rigid in the form of a champion.

"To train him to hunt, we plant a bird in ground cover, and then let him find it. After much practice, he is learning fast. He's also a very good retriever."

Cramer and Pogo will have to wait until the fall seasons before the "real hunting" begins, but in the meantime they enjoy every minute of the practice.

"Onions are all set," he continued. "Most of the crop looks real good and is 100 per cent normal. The market is good and the possibility for a fair year exists.

Carrots are being planted, he commented. Some cabbage has also been planted and up to a stand.

A few sugar beets have also been planted in the Deaf Smith County area. Within the next two weeks, a "good portion" of the crop will be planted.

Flower boxes on Main Street got a spring look this past week with the addition of some pretty flowers. We don't know what their proper name is, but are surely attractive.

It would have been a dastardly thing to do, but we would have liked to have Don Shipley or Oliver Strou or Clint Formby (if he was off the campaign trail) roped, hog-tied and made to sit through the entire Aggie Muster here Saturday night. The thought was so appalling to us that we just packed up and left town. But Hereford's old Aggies must have had a ball remembering old times at Aggie land such as Corps trips, blind dates with gals from "Tessie" and great football victories (which have been rather scarce lately). Oh well, they need one night a year to restore their spirit and ego.

If you don't think baseball is still popular, you should have looked across Dameron Park during Little League try-outs. A regional director for Little League talked here recently and brought out how large the program has become. The whole thing started in Williamsport, Pa., in 1939 with three teams and 54 players. The program now has spread around the world. In 1961, there were 923,587 players, which adds up to a lot of tired, hungry boys every night.

J. W. Robinson Jr. of Hereford has been named to the 1962 roster of the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters. Fewer than one per cent of the world's life insurance agents are Round Table members.

Deaf Smith County farmers are being invited to attend a meeting on noxious weeds, and their control. It will be held Monday, April 23, at 8 p. m. in the Friona State Bank. A. F. Weise will be the principal speaker.

County Commissioners are scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. Monday, April 23, for a regular session.

Hereford lost a game it should have won Friday, thus ending the first half of conference baseball in second place. But there is time yet for them to pull out and win the district title. They'll be trying when they host Dumas at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the opener of the second half. They could really use your support.

Candidate Barry Makes Talk Here

A Galveston truck line operator was in Hereford Wednesday morning to push his candidacy for the post of Congressman-at-large on the Republican ticket.

Desmond Barry told about 40 persons at a breakfast meeting of his long-standing battle with the federal government and the Teamsters Union to preserve his business.

He told of freedoms being "nibbled away" by government bureaucracy. "Before I even started my fight with the Teamsters, I had lost 94 per cent of my business as a result of government actions," he declared.

Barry told how he was brought a contract stating that his employees would be represented by the Teamsters Union, although they had not voted on the matter. "I decided to fight back." Although harassed by secondary boycotts in Oklahoma City and by hired pickets who did not belong either to his company or to the Teamsters, he kept his line operating.

"After seven years I am still waiting on a Supreme Court decision on my case," Barry said. He told how he finally got a injunction against the Teamsters, although it stated that the Union was forbidden to engage in practices in which it had not engaged. "That really made a lot of sense," he scoffed.

Barry contends that James Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, was not blasted by the McClellan committee investigating illegal union practices. "Hoffa got a slap on the wrist because Walter Reuther and George Meany (top leaders of automotive and steel unions) were going to back John F. Kennedy for president."

Barry said that he was campaigning because he had been fighting for his rights for 30 years and felt that he couldn't stop now.

"I can think of nothing proposed by the Kennedy administration which I approve of," he said. Barry, who described in a 1958 Reader's Digest article about his fight as "The Man the Teamsters Found Too Hot to Handle".

Barry said that Hoffa had told his union members that Barry must not be elected to Congress. "That really made me want to work," Barry grinned.

Barry blasted President Kennedy for his recent attack on the steel industry. He said that the industry had not had a price increase since 1958, despite a sharp increase in wages.

Barry also blasted an answer given by the President at a recent press conference in which he said the Kennedy admitted that a Legion of Merit award was planned for the Japanese admiral who planned the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Briefly, Barry outlined his platform for local government control. "What I want is for the federal government to keep its cotton-picken' hands off all affairs not specifically granted by the Constitution."

Better still, he advocated, would be for "federal government operations to be cut back and let the bureaucrats come down to Texas and take the place of the bracers they are crying about."

He also advocated a cut in foreign oil imports and a resumption of domestic oil production to its former level.

Barry told the group that Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg has asked the President, who has asked Congress, to allow unions to withhold union dues from a large number of government employees' wages. "If this is done, it would mean an additional $7.5 million a month at $5 per employee for additional union political action," he declared.

Friday, April 13, members of the Hereford Garden Club met at the Hereford Community Center for the regularly scheduled meeting.

Mrs. G. W. Newsom, program chairman, introduced Miss Gillian McArthur, exchange student from Edinburgh, Scotland, who showed color slides of her native country, showing many gardens and flowers of interest to the garden club members. Slides of an European spring-time were shown by Mrs. W. C. Hromas. Instructions were given by Mrs. G. W. Newsom for mixing soil for the planting of chrysanthemums around May 1.

Feature of the second portion of the program was the judging of dried arrangements brought by members of the Junior Garden Club. Mrs. A. L. Manjoet, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. and Mrs. Emmett Hale served as judges. Junior Garden Club members attending the meeting and participating in the show were Misses Billy Jo Witherspoon, Candace Hill, Becky Sumners, Jan Scott, Mary Stoy and Linda Jacobsen. Mrs. Art Stoy, sponsor of the group, also attended. Linda Jacobsen won first place with her arrangement and Mary Stoy won second place with her entry.

LCC Student Prexy Speaks At Dinner Meet

Ward Lane, president of the student body at Lubbock Christian College, was guest speaker at a dinner honoring seniors from the Central Church of Christ of Hereford on Monday evening, April 16. The affair was hosted by the Hereford chapter of Lubbock Christian College Associates. Mrs. Elmer Patterson, local chapter president, acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Lane asserted that atmosphere and dedicated instructors are more important than the buildings on a college campus. However, he pointed out that Lubbock Christian College now has its third permanent building under construction. The new men's dormitory will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the fall term of school in September.

A concert of vocal selections, ranging from sacred music to "barbershop quartet" arrangements, was presented by a male quartet from Lubbock Christian College, including Richard W. Dent, Dennis Hamlin, James Randolph and Darwin Chandler.

Seniors being honored were Nicky Bradford, Virginia Roberts, Sandra Wester, Judy Rowland, Jan Reese, Linda Jones, Dan Wall, Barbara Pulliam, Wan Dee Hudson, Mack Cansler, David Highers, Leslie McGee, Darrell Garrett, Tommy West, Bud Thomas and Sandra Hodges.

Parents of the seniors also were guests of the Associates. Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Highers, J. C. Reese, H. E. Wester, Zeari Cansler, Ernest McGee, Aldene Hudson, Deniz Pulliam, Harvey Rowland, Houston Roberts, Raymond Garrett; and Mesdames N.R. Jones and Nathree Bradford. Members of the host group included Messrs. and Mesdames W. P. Axe, E. A. Guinn, Chester Wiggins, Elmer Patterson; and Mesdames E. W. Allen, N. D. Bartlett, Dick Walker, Henry Green and Dais Young. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kingdom of South Dakota were special guests.

Final Rites Held For Tammy Frye

Graveside services for Tammy Frye, age 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frye of Hereford, were held at 3 p.m. Saturday, April 21, in West Park Cemetery with the Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford, officiating.

Tammy was born on Sept. 18, 1959, in San Rafael, Calif. She died at 4 p.m. Thursday, April 19, in Houston following a open heart surgery. Surgery began at 1 p.m.

Surviving, besides the parents, are four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sowell and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye, all of Hereford. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home of Hereford.

Mormons Slate Public Meeting Here Thursday

A public meeting of the Hereford Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons) will be held on Thursday, April 26, in the Hereford Community Center. The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Speakers will include Elder Owen Despain of Salt Lake City, Utah; Elder Howard Beck of Aberdeen, Idaho; and Elder Charles Page of The Dalles, Ore. Despain presently is a volunteer missionary in Amarillo while Beck and Page are serving as missionaries in Hereford.

They will explain the beliefs of the church and answer questions about the subject.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In my three and one-half years of service to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce I have not felt called upon to write a letter to the editor about any subject; in fact, because of my position, I have felt the necessity of not doing so for fear that my personal opinion would be interpreted as that of the Chamber of Commerce. Now a situation has arisen that, in my opinion, must be brought to the attention of every citizen and his aid enlisted.

The Billie Sol Estes hearings which are receiving such wide publicity and attention are creating a false impression of the damage being done to the economy of Hereford and the other cities and counties involved. I received a letter from a good friend in Brenham, Texas, the other day in which he expressed real concern for my welfare because of the situation. Other reports have reached us which indicate that newspapers and other news media are leaving the impression that business is badly hurt and that the economy of the area has been badly damaged.

This afternoon, Friday, April 20, I have addressed a wire to the Chambers of Commerce in Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock as well as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce asking that those organizations join us in offsetting this misinformation with the truth. The truth is that business has not been hurt in Hereford. This is not to minimize the individual situations, the few jobs that have been lost, but is to put the thing in perspective. Hereford's economy was not and is not controlled by the Billie Sol Estes enterprises. The complete closing of all three here, and such is far more than a case, could make no more than a very temporary dent in our strong agricultural economy.

But the impression that we are being hurt can in itself do more damage than anything else. The loss of confidence on the part of investors and potential investors could cause a real recession in our area. Won't you join with the Chamber of Commerce in our effort to restore confidence with facts?

Yours truly
W. T. "Bill" Thompson,
Manager
Deaf Smith County
Chamber of Commerce

Farmers Urged To Investigate Terracing Aids

"New designs and equipment are currently making terracing easier in the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District," says Fred Chaney of the Soil Conservation Service here. "Farmers can obtain cost-sharing benefits for terracing projects through the Great Plains Conservation Program and the A.C.P. Program," he pointed out.

Terracing, the most effective of the supplemental erosion control practices, decreases the length of slope, thus reducing costly erosion and runoff.

The major type of terrace now being constructed in the District is the graded, channel-type terrace. These terraces are being designed to convey excess water off the land at a safe velocity onto pasture land or vegetated woodlands.

Terraces are being constructed in such a way that almost all tillage operations can be carried out with a minimum of inconvenience to the farmer, Chaney points out.

In many cases where the slope is uniform, parallel terraces can be constructed which eliminate the inconvenience of farming point rows between the consecutive terraces.

For further information concerning cost-sharing and assistance in planning a terrace system, Chaney urges farmers to consult one of the technicians at the local Soil Conservation Service office.

JACK COX

Jack Cox Speaks At Thursday Rally

Jack Cox of Breckenridge was in Hereford for a talk Thursday night on behalf of his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial spot.

He was introduced by Kenneth Rudd, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Republican organization. There were about 50 persons in the county courtroom for the talk.

Cox drew a round of applause when he opened his talk, stating, "We will do something unusual and elect a Republican governor in Texas in 1962."

Much of his informal talk was devoted to tracing the theory of conservative and liberal movements. He pointed out that in 1776 Thomas Jefferson would have been classed as a liberal because he believed in state's rights, local self-government and individual freedoms.

That thinking today belongs to the conservative, he said.

"If we are truly concerned with the welfare of our neighbors, then we must be conservative and in favor of local action, rather than federal action," he said. He declared that there is no such thing as a "common man," but rather that each person is an "uncommon man."

"Many of us have a poor background. But we can progress through our own efforts to get an education and advance in society. We can grow according to our own abilities... This can happen only in America," Cox declared.

"For centuries, men have dreamed of freedom, but it came into being only with the settling of colonists in America. Our forefathers arrived at Plymouth Rock with only two things: one was a belief in God; the other was an inherent faith in their own ability to succeed."

"With individual freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, they started to build an empire. I, for one, want to see this individual freedom continued."

Cox said that he felt the election of a Republican governor in Texas this year would materially change the political future of this state and the nation.

Briefly, Cox stated that he was in favor of a sound, conservative financial policy for Texas. He stated that the state was $80 million in debt, although the state Constitution provides that the state must have a "pay-as-you-go" fiscal base.

"I want to eliminate waste in national government and start by promoting sound, local government which would accept its own responsibilities. Ten years ago, the state spent $1 billion in the biennium. The current cost for the biennium will be $2.6 billion."

Cox urged more political participation, saying, "Too many of us have talked a pretty good game of government, but too few of us have done much about it. I ask that you start now to take an interest in your own local government."

He stated that he felt the governor should make his feelings known on pertinent national affairs. He illustrated with the proposed Department of Urban Affairs, which he termed "an effort to create a super-mayor" for the entire United States.

Cox pledged aid for education, with financing aid from industry when possible rather than any federal hand-outs.

"I see in the proposals of the present administration, vestiges of action which would destroy all farmers and ranchers in this nation," he said, then quoted a threat made by the Secretary of Agriculture that farmers must go along with a proposal of the Secretary would dump surplus grain on the market and break it.

Cox backed private medical care, citing medical and health achievements in this country, and said he would oppose socialized medicine.

He said that the state needed

Veleda Club Continues Study Of Book By Dr. Norman Peale

Veleda Study Club members met on Tuesday evening, April 17, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Dick Godwin.

A letter was read from Mrs. George Turrentine about the health cards, being distributed by the County Home Demonstration Clubs, urging each member to secure a card and her blood typed.

A nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mesdames Hugh Clearman, Charles Hoover and Don Johnson. The committee will present a slate of officers for election at the next meeting. An installation dinner was discussed.

Roll call was answered by "naming an experience in my life where I learned that my hindsight is better than my foresight".

The program given by Mrs. Kenneth Malone and Mrs. Dale Barkley was the second portion of a three-part series study of the book by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale called, "Stay Alive All Your Life". The chapter called "To Learn From Your Mistakes" included the statements that, "You will make fewer mistakes by learning from past mistakes. Don't let mistakes destroy your faith in yourself. Just because you have made a mistake don't assume that there is no hope for you. Learn new 'know-how' from old mistakes. Don't hold a mental image of past mistakes that may stimulate a repetition of that error. Use spiritual meditation to erase errors. Know the truth and the truth will make you free."

"Practice silence, think with your mind and not with your emotions. Become a practitioner of joy. Believe in joy, think in joy, and act in joy. You get joy out of life by giving it away and lose it by selfishly trying to keep it."

The chapter on "How To Lift Depression And Live Wisely" tells how by practicing hope, depression can be lifted. "Practice hope as hopefulness is a habit that is only achieved by practice. The vitality for life is gained by right thinking, right praying and right living."

"Peace Of Mind-Your Source Of Power And Energy" was the title of still another chapter reviewed for the program. The writer said "We are only effective when cool and not in a turmoil." He urged his readers to "Do your best, letting the past be the past. Live each day to the best of your ability and let the rest go. When you have peace of mind you have the power to live more effectively."

"The mental and spiritual elements as well as the body require constant attention to keep the mind in its full potential," was the gist of the chapter, "How To Feel Well And Have Vibrant Health". The author gave three points to remember: to empty out all resentment and hate; visualize health and wholeness and entertain no sick thoughts about yourself or your loved ones; and believe in the healing grace of Christ.

Members present were Mesdames Bill Bradley, Gild Brown, Wendell Burdine, Kenneth Malone, George Ritter, Jess Robinson, Robert Strain, Don Johnson, Gene Matthews, H. A. Tuck Jr., Dale Barkley and the hostess, Mrs. Dick Godwin.

Drop...

 Steele singled, but an attempted double steal failed and so did Hereford's scoring attempt! Then came the inning Hereford would like to forget — the last of the fourth. Levelland marked up five runs on three hits and an error. Ted Warren walked and Abe Pompa doubled before the first out. Wayne Burton got on with what should have been a double play out. That scored one run. Then Schmidley homered to drive in three runs as Hereford hung on to a narrow 6-5 lead.

Mickey Stevens was relieved on the hill by Drew Kershen who got the next batter to hit a slow roller back to him. Then chunky Don Stephenson poked a high, fast pitch over the fence to tie the game. Kershen finally struck out the next batter to retire the side. Hereford got runners on in the fifth, but both were cut down at second base and a strike-out finished the fifth. Levelland went down in order in the fifth and it began to look like a tight game again.

In the top of the sixth, Hereford went down 1-2-3. But not Levelland. With one out, Wayne Burton hit a ground ball down the first base line that went between Joe Mack Hale's legs. Schmidley then pounded another homer over the fence to give the Lobos an 8-6 lead. Another run counted as Ross Joplin, Stephenson and Baggett singled in succession.

Kerhen was pulled in favor of Richard Casas with two outs. An error allowed Levelland's final run to score before the side was retired.

Green singled to start off the final inning but was out at second. A pop-up to the catcher and a strike-out ended the game.

Schmidley was the best player on the field Friday as he pitched the entire game for Levelland and drove in six runs with two homers and a ground ball. He gave up six runs on nine hits, struck out seven and walked four. He also hit one batter.

Stevens worked three and one-third innings for Hereford. He allowed five runs on three hits, walked five and struck out two.

Kershen worked two and a third innings and was charged with the loss. He gave up five runs on five hits, struck out two and walked none. Casas struck out one as he pitched one-third of an inning.

Green and McDowell both hit Dowells double was the only extra base hit for the Whitefaces. Hereford was charged with four errors while Levelland had one.

On Tuesday, Hereford's "B" or reserve baseballers lost a 7-4 game to Nazareth. Jim Haney and Gary Kendrick homered for Hereford and Billy Hill doubled. The game saw with Hereford gaining a 3-2 lead in the fourth. But Nazareth got four runs in the fifth and two in the sixth while holding the Whitefaces to a single run in the seventh.

Hereford had seven hits and five errors while the Swifts got 13 hits and made just two errors.

RAINWATER SLEPT THERE
CAINES STORE, KY. — Fred Rainwater recalls that he slept in Abe Lincoln's log cabin exactly 100 years after the late President's birth there.

He had walked about 50 miles to see the Feb. 12, 1909, ceremony at Hodgenville consecrating the cabin a national shrine.

Rainwater, then a 21-year-old training school student, arrived early and fell asleep by the fire-side in the cabin.

A guard put him out before the centennial ceremony began. Rainwater now lives in Pulaski County.

Later new waters flowed into the basin and sediments accumulated atop the salt. Slowly the sediments hardened into stone heavier than the salt and under this pressure the salt was squeezed upward like toothpaste.

IN OKLAHOMA ACCENTS
STILLWATER, Okla. — An Oklahoma State University professor is making a map of Oklahoma with a tape recorder and conversation.

Dr. William Van Riepr, associate professor of English, tramps through fields, visits farm houses and villages and talks with people long resident in the area. He is attempting to determine how Oklahoma speech differs from speech patterns in the rest of the United States. It is part of a nationwide research project.

GOODYEAR SUPER-TORQUE COSTS YOU NOTHING

...if it doesn't outpull and outwear any other tractor tire in America...

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF

Try the Super-Torque. If it doesn't outpull and outwear any other rear tractor tire you've ever used, regardless of tractor, soil, or farming job, we'll give you your money back. Every red cent!

There isn't a better tractor tire value than Super-Torque! Field tests by more than 1,000 farmers have proved this. It digs deeper... pulls harder... wears longer than any other tractor tire. "Angle Braced" lugs are the reason — an engineering breakthrough which allows extraordinary lug length and depth. So much more length and depth that after a full year's use a Super-Torque will probably have more wear and traction left than a brand new conventional tire.

OUR PLEDGE

The Super-Torque rear tractor tire is guaranteed to have better traction longer and to wear longer than any other rear tractor tire you have ever owned, including the original tires on your tractor.

If in a full season's use from date of purchase, the Super-Torque tires do not prove to have better field traction and show less tread wear than other tires when used under the same conditions for a like period of time, your Goodyear Dealer or Goodyear Service Store upon return of the tires will refund in cash any payment made plus any allowance made for your traded-in tires.

(This guarantee excludes comparison with special purpose Rear Tractor tires.)

Like all other Goodyear tires, the Super-Torque is also guaranteed by Goodyear against defects in workmanship and material without limit as to time or mileage. Any Goodyear tire dealer will make allowance on a new tire based on original tread depth remaining and current "Goodyear Price."

EXCLUSIVE ANGLE BRACED LUGS MAKE THE DIFFERENCE!

LUGS DEEPER OVERALL THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA*
 Sheer pulling power from a deeper, more positive soil bite.
* Comparison with rear tractor tires other than special-purpose tires.

STRAIGHTEN THIS ANGLE BRACED LUG AND IT MEASURES LONGER THAN... THIS STANDARD LUG!
 LUGS LONGER THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA*
 Greater frontal area to grip more soil, assure greater traction longer.

AVERAGE LUG WIDTH GREATER THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA*
 More rubber on the road for longer wear, far smoother riding.

MORE RUBBER PER LUG THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA*
 This is the "working" rubber... and the more there is, the longer the tire delivers peak traction and wear.

... all this without lugs tearing or folding under!

By Wain Miller

AN EASTER BUNNY AND A BONNET combine to delight three-year-old Dee Anne Caison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Caison Jr., 133 Star Street. Her new Easter basket is filled with a fluffy bunny rabbit, and her eyes relay the happiness that comes into the hearts of youngsters on Easter morning. Her new Easter outfit also adds to the joyous occasion.

Interest In Scouts Grows

By Mrs. Clark Dobbs
The community is busy at work — the women are rushing about with their last minute sewing and preparation for Easter; the men are spending late hours in the field trying to get their land ready for the rest of this year's crops and irrigating those already planted.

Interest is continually growing in the Boy Scouts just recently organized at Westway. The Scoutmaster, Lincoln Bolin, would like to extend a cordial invitation to any boy of the surrounding area to attend. There are about ten boys attending now.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meiwes are the parents of a baby boy born April 11. The baby weighed seven pounds, two ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kirby spent last weekend with her mother, Mrs. Bulah Watkins, in Plainview.

Worthans and the E. O. Worthans. It was the first time to see the E. O. Worthans' new home since completion. The C. P. Worthans returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Duggan returned home from a vacation in Nevada, California, and Oregon Tuesday due to a call they received that Mrs. Duggan's father, E. F. White, is seriously ill.

The Duggans visited friends and relatives all along the way but spent some time with her cousins in Stockton, Calif., the Arch Nurses and the Joe Chambers. In Salem they visited his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wiley.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK
A rare combination of humor and pathos is deftly combined by Leo Rosten in a new fiction release, Captain Newman, M. D. The story is told primarily through the eyes of a young lieutenant who is assigned to a psychiatric ward on an Air Corps base during World War II.

Set far out on the sun-baked desert is Colfax Field, which is feverishly turning out pilots for the battles overseas. But the cargo planes that trundle out with eager pilots return to Colfax with another load sometimes.

These are the wounded, the shocked, the hysterical, the numb, the shattered. While their bodies may be whole, their minds are empty.

It is the job of Lt. Beldon

Anderson to aid Captain Joe Newman and many others to restore these men to duty where possible, or to reality, if that can be done.

In chapter form, the untiring work of Captain Newman is traced. Now, Captain Newman is disliked by many on the post, actively hated by others who feel that if a man is whole in body, the other infirmities must be imaginary.

But Captain Newman ignores them and tries to do his best with even the most hopeless cases. This, however, is not a particularly morbid book. Absorbing is better.

Ward 7 became the complete world for Lieutenant Anderson. Two badly needed orderlies came in to help. Corporal Jackson Laibowitz soon became a staff member. The other was the epitome of military bearing, Private Albert Lawrence. His only trouble was that occasionally profanity would slip past his embarrassed lips, striking superior officers, sergeants, anyone who happened to be around.

But it was the patients who were most interesting. There was Mr. Future, who slipped away from his real identity after 30 years in the Army. One of the most interesting was the Captain who was brought in suffering from the most acute shock. With his records lost, Captain Newman knew only that the man's apathetic behavior was tied in somehow with a cellar.

Then, of course, there was the time when the Post was commanded briefly by a Colonel who tossed a party to end all parties. It ended among a flock of ducks in the Officers' Club swimming pool. That was one time when Ward 7 wasn't involved.

Another incident might be termed "The Case of the Missing Jeep", while still another revolved around the Ward's sheep, used for various tests. Seems they got loose just about the time a top-brass inspection team was due from Washington. Never were so few sheep herded so badly by so many... with all the action taking place on the base runway while the VIPs circled above in their plane.

Laibowitz had a loving devotion to his patients, even to the point of snatching part of the General's 25-foot Christmas tree and getting it into the Ward on a stretcher. He also pulled a joke with a group of Italian Prisoners of War that went unnoticed by all but a few.

Taken altogether, Captain Newman, M.D., is fine reading. It makes some excellent points

NOTES FROM

Hello-Easter is always such a wonderful time to me. Not for bunnies and colored eggs, but because everything is so fresh and new. The mornings just plain smell good and the whole world, it seems, is sprucing up to say "Thank You" for the miracle of the Resurrection. Our family truly has a lot to be thankful for. How about you and yours? See you Sunday in church so we can say our thanks together.

Bye now,

PATIENCE PAYS
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The price of really profitable land speculation is patience and fortitude.

Back in 1906, Miss Myrtle B. Thorne bought 10 acres of land north of town for $400. She held onto it through the boom of 1912-13, and the 1923-26 boom, and the depression of the thirties and all the other economic fluctuations.

Today that 10 acres is surrounded by residential developments in the center of town. And Miss Thorne has sold it finally for $75,000.

CUPID, ROBIN HOOD OR INDIANS
MILLVILLE, N.J. (AP) — Some archer who shot an arrow into the air here may not know where it came to rest, but Robert Ward does.

Ward discovered the arrow in the office where he works. It had broken a window in the office and landed on a desk, he told police.

SEARCH FOR SAILING RECORDS
LONDON (AP) — Valuable record books of the old-time sailing ships, volumes once thought lost forever, have been recovered from forgotten library corners following a world-wide appeal by Lloyds' Register of Shipping.

So far, 17 of the missing volumes have been found in libraries and private collections. The recovered volumes are copied by Lloyds' and returned to their owners.

Now only 12 editions still need to be traced to complete the series of Lloyds' registers running back to 1764.

RUINED BY DEMON DRINK
GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Norman King had a flourishing business — until he won a contract to paint a whiskey distillery.

"That was the beginning of my downfall," he told a bankruptcy court in Inverness.

"Instead of working on the job my men were lying around drunk or playing football."

Master-painter King said he lost 400 pounds ($1,120) on the distillery contract and that put his business on the decline. He went broke with debts of 1,166 pounds ($3,265) against assets of 964 pounds ($2,292).

Should Estes Be Known Robin Hood Of Plains

Is Billie Sol Estes, the Pecos Millionaire promoter, destined to become a Robin Hood of the Texas Plains?

While most of the population of the United States is shrugging off the Estes escapades as "one of those things," there are hundreds of people in the Pecos country—all over the Plains for that matter—who are inclined to see the promoter as a benefactor. Estes, to them is the man who created thousands of jobs, the man who brought their fertilizer at prices often below wholesale cost; he is the man who expanded scientific farming over the entire territory.

When you boil it all down, Mr. Estes was truly one of the greatest "con" men who ever operated in this part of the country. By his own testimony, he was around $10 million short in his operations when the assets were checked against the liabilities. Losers for the most part, will be finance companies and corporations, never very popular with the public but generally composed of average people as stockholders. Does this mean that passing out funds in the form of operating losses justifies the fact that the operation may not have been legally or morally on the side of law and order?

Does the end justify the means if your neighbor robs you of $100 — and gives $35 of it to his church, or to some worthwhile organization? Should this also pacify the scores of independent fertilizer dealers who were forced out of business due to unfair competition? Does the corruption of federal officials justify the fact that Estes secured cotton acreage, some of which no doubt might have been allotted to you?

Somehow, we cannot visualize Mr. Estes dressed in the green cloak and jaunty hat of Robin Hood. In the first place, Robin Hood was fighting a tyrant, while Mr. Estes was robbing his fellowmen of acreage which should have been allotted in a democratic fashion. In addition, once Mr. Estes controlled a market, the fabulous fertilizer prices did not always continue to descend.

Hospital Plan Gets Two Birds

Faced with an acute parking problem as the result of current expansion, the hospital plans to take sufficient space along Third Street to create inset parking for the institution. At the same time, the program will automatically widen Third Street and make less serious the traffic hazard which the narrow street has created.

The solution is one of those rare moves from which everyone benefits. If the additional space results in half as much improvement as recessed parking around the courthouse, it will be worthwhile indeed. Meanwhile, the hospital will definitely not miss the lawn space, and it would appear that sufficient hospital parking should abound for several years to come.

We do not know where the idea originated, but the commissioners court, hospital board and management are certainly entitled to a pat on the back for adopting and carrying out the plan with dispatch. It is one of those few times when we have seen "two birds killed with one stone."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

THE EASTER STORY—IV

"Although the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them, saying, 'Peace be with you.' Then he said to Thomas... 'Be unbelieving no longer, but believe.' Thomas said, 'My Lord and my God.'"

Many Tank, Cesspool Additives Do Nothing

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce today warned against the advertising of commercially prepared bacterial and enzymatic additives for septic tanks and cesspools.

These additives are of little or no use and some are definitely harmful, yet dozens of firms continue to advertise them as panaceas for ending septic tank and cesspool troubles, according to Bill Thompson, manager of the Chamber.

According to the U. S. Public Health Service, none of the 1200 bacterial products placed on the market for use in septic tanks have ever proved to be of advantage in properly controlled tests, he said.

There are three kinds of additives, Thompson noted. The first group are caustics, such as those containing sodium hydroxide. These only add to septic tank troubles, Thompson reported.

While small amounts of bleaches, detergents and drain cleaners have no appreciable bad effect on a properly designed septic system, the frequent use of caustic additives creates an unhealthy climate for the bacteria which liquify solid wastes, he said.

The second group of septic tank additives contain bacteria and/or enzymes, which do no harm and, by the same token, little or no good. They are usually sold to consumers at a point when their septic tanks should be cleaned out.

The third group includes chemicals designed to further porosity in the drainage field. These additives serve usefully in helping to maintain a constant flow of water in the drain area and are therefore not subject to the criticism directed against the bacterial and enzymatic additives.

The average septic tank should be pumped out at regular intervals. This cannot be avoided by adding bacterial preparations to do the job instead, Thompson emphasized.

Two things should be borne in mind when considering preparations which contain bacteria or enzymes, he said.

First, though the amount of so-called "digesters" sounds impressive, it is almost infinitesimal compared with the bacterial population already in the tank.

Second, if the "climate" for bacteria is already bad, it will be equally bad of the newly added bacteria or enzymes.

The answer is to remove the cause of the problem so the bacteria can multiply properly, not to add more victims, Thompson said.

Hereford Citizens Form Club Supporting Ramsey

At a meeting suggested and called by the friends of Judge W. F. Ramsey, a number of his admirers and supporters met at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon and there organized the Hereford Ramsey Club. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Knight, who was also chosen as chairman of the meeting. A. C. Elliott was named as temporary secretary. A motion was made that a Ramsey Club for Hereford be organized by electing a permanent president and secretary. W. M. Knight was elected as president and W. H. Russell as secretary of the Club. On motion, an executive committee composed of seven members was chosen: J. E. Garrison, C. S. Garrison, E. B. Black, A. J. Lipscomb, E. T. Woodburn, and the officers of the club composed the committee. A motion was duly made and carried that petitions be circulated to secure additional members to the club. These papers were signed by a large number on Wednesday and Thursday and 100 names were secured. The executive committee was instructed to solicit friends to attend the Ramsey rally, which was held at Amarillo yesterday, and to select some suitable badge which would be worn by the Hereford delegation. The committee was further instructed to arrange a program for an open session of the Club to be held Tuesday night, April 23, at 8 o'clock. The public, men and women, are invited to attend this meeting of the Ramsey Club. Some good speeches are promised and an interesting program may be expected.

25 YEARS AGO

Officials of the District Soil Conservation office in Amarillo today flatly denied that Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects at Hereford, Vega and Channing are to be closed. "You have nothing to worry about," D. A. Dobbins, Amarillo official told O. T. Williams in a long distance telephone conversation following the appearance of a Washington, D. C., press release in the Amarillo News Wednesday morning. Mr. Williams further quoted the district official as saying definitely that the Hereford demonstration project will not be discontinued. Meanwhile, Hereford Chamber of Commerce officers and other local agencies had already moved to contact Washington in an effort to retain the Hereford office, which they said provided valuable information for this area, and offered a worthwhile service. The report which stated the Hereford, Vega and Channing SCS offices were to be closed was sent out Tuesday. It was said to have resulted when the House Appropriations Committee reported out a measure cutting Department of Agriculture funds. The report further stated that the projects were to be replaced with a 60,000 acre Texas demonstration area which supposedly could be operated for less than the three projects.

GRADUAL GREENBUG BUILDUP REPORTED

Even though there has been a gradual buildup of greenbugs in some areas of Moore County, rapidly growing wheat can withstand this buildup in most instances. As the size of the wheat increases it is able to withstand larger numbers of insects, according to Martin Gossett, county agricultural agent. At this stage of growth, wheat is likely to withstand infestations up to 100 insects per foot of row. Limited spraying has occurred in the Sunray area and farmers are extremely watchful of any potential large scale buildup of these insects. Spraying results to date has been variable. Unfavorable weather conditions for a buildup of the predators, such as lady beetles and habits, has occurred during the last 10 days. No buildup of greenbugs has been experienced this year as was experienced in 1961.

HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE APPROVED

Hardeman County citizens approved by an overwhelming vote a $275,000 bond issue for the enlargement and improvement of Hardeman County Memorial Hospital. Very little opposition was generated county-wide as the bonds passed by a 4-1 vote in Saturday's election. Residents voted on two propositions — for a farm to market road tax not to exceed 20 cents per hundred dollar valuation except for exempt homesteads and for issuance of hospital bonds and levying a tax payment. Voters approved the bond proposition by a vote of 1000 to 261 and the farm to market tax proposition by a vote of 982 to 278. Voting against the road tax — which will be used to retire the hospital bonds — actually was an automatic vote against the hospital bonds since the county would have been unable to pay for the bonds out of current revenue.

NEW COUNCILMEN BACK CHANGES

Three new councilmen elected only 10 days ago took up positions on the Olton city council Tuesday night and immediately spearheaded sweeping changes in city government. The three — Cecil Galloway, Bob Gullett, and Howard Buchenau — pushed through a proposal to reorganize the city council and backed a motion to appoint a new city attorney, Andrew Stroebel of Olton. In suggesting the council reorganization, the three new councilmen proposed that each councilman head up a different phase of city operations. "I think we could accomplish more if each man had a primary concern in addition to being familiar with all departments," said Councilman Gullett. Buchenau said he thought such a proposal would shift some of the load off the mayor and spread it among the council. The idea, Galloway said, is to have each councilman "work with" a different department and not necessarily to have absolute control over it. The council approved the plan after discussion by a unanimous vote.

SPRING WINS OVER DIKE

At Estelline last Saturday an effort to stop the flow from the Salt Hole was unsuccessful. U. S. Army Engineers built a circular dike around the spring to raise the water level in hopes that the weight of the water above would equal the pressure from below and stop the spring from flowing. The dike was about four feet high and was completed about noon Saturday. At 3 p. m. the water rose to a level where it broke the dike. Engineer Jack Skidmore of the Corps of Engineers of Tulsa, said he was disappointed but not too surprised that the dike broke. The water from the salt hole flows at the rate of 2,500 gallons per minute and puts 450 tons of salt per day into the Red River.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm has found out about the increase in the price of steel, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a lot of people, including the President, have gotten mad because the steel industry raised the price of steel, but I had managed to control my temper until I read all the reasons why the price increase was called inflationary and therefore bad for the rest of the country.

According to the experts, you raise the price of steel and automatically you've raised the price of cars, homes, refrigerators, freezers, vacuum cleaners, tractors, plows, wrenches, nuts and bolts, etc.

But, and here's what made me mad, nowhere in the list did you read that raising the price of steel would raise the price of farm products.

I checked all the lists, from all the Congressmen eager to be quoted, from all the economic experts, and not a one was worried about the possibility of cotton or corn or potatoes or fruits or vegetables or chickens or eggs or milk or beef or pork or anything else grown on a farm going up.

This is what burns me up. How come farmers ain't signed up with the economic index the same as steel and labor and nearly everybody else, outside of school teachers and preachers? How come we can't get in on these inflationary spirals?

The truth of the matter is, everybody takes farmers for granted so much that if we all announced that starting next Monday morning the price of all agricultural products would be increased 10 percent on account of the increased costs of production, you think anybody would get on television and denounce us? Everybody would just bust out laughing.

We not only couldn't get anybody to denounce us, we couldn't get anybody to pay any attention to our price rise, people would just keep on paying the same price, or possibly a little less.

Washington has nothing to worry about when it comes to us farmers doing anything inflationary. You're not going to catch us racking the economic boat. We're too busy bailing water for that.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Les Meres Hosts Annual Guest Night

Les Meres Study Club observed their annual Guest Night on April 12, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Members of the Young Mothers Study Club, the mother club to Les Meres Study Club, and La Madre Mia Study Club to which Les Meres Club is the mother club, as their guests.

Mrs. Nelson Rieger, president of the Les Meres Study Club, introduced Mrs. Don Newman, president of the Young Mothers Club, and Mrs. John E. Smith, the president of La Madre Mia Study Club. Mrs. Rieger welcomed the other guests and club members.

Cancer films were viewed for the program. "From One Cell" and "The Other City" were titles of the films. "The Other City", the film that the entire city of Racine, Wis., cooperated in to film, was the story of the seven danger signals of cancer. A citizen of Racine, having one of the symptoms, was used to portray the seven signals. Racine is a city of 75,000 people, the same number of people that die each year with cancer.

Dr. Bruce Beene was present to discuss the film in a question and answer period. Dr. Beene said, "At the present time there is not a fool-proof examination to diagnose a cancer, but there are various examinations to seek out and expose cancer in different parts of the body."

The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth over white. The centerpiece was an arrangement of red and white roses, carrying out the club colors and flowers.

Refreshments of cookies and coffee were served to the guests and members. Dr. Bruce Beene and Mesdames Ernest Flood, Ralph Packard, Ruby Watson, Harlon Voyles, Ben Gollehon, Don Newman, Howard Hunter, Dean Herring, Eugene Sparks, Hugh Clearman, Bobby Owen, Bill Langford, Joe Brooks, George Frye, Joe Locke, Lee Drake, Ted Hardwick, Joe Henry, R. History Of Opera Is Music Club Program

The Music Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Dick Godwin, 203 Sunset Drive, with Mrs. Bill Lankford as co-hostess.

Mrs. Herbert Boardman was leader of the program on opera. She told of the history of opera saying that "the earliest operas were written just for special occasions. It was not until 1637 that the first public opera was opened in Venice. From the middle of the 17th century to the middle of the 18th century opera dominated the international scene. As a pastime of the aristocracy, the operas were staged magnificently with many elaborate sets and astonishing effects. Opera had always been serious but with the middle of the 18th century comic opera began growing in favor with the public.

"Opera must be seen and heard to be appreciated. At best, books can only itemize the delights of opera". Mrs. C. W. Parker and Mrs. Dale Young, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hacker, presented a vocal duet, "La Ci Darem La Mano" from "Don Giovanni" by Mozart. "Barcarol" from "Lakme" by Delibes Galsworthy was given as a vocal solo by Mrs. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Hacker.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter accompanied Mrs. W. T. Carmichael as she sang "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice". To conclude the program, the club chorus, directed by Mrs. J. C. McCracken, presented "Pilgrim's Chorus" from "Tannhauser" by Wagner. Mrs. C. W. Parker, vice president, presided at the business session in the absence of Mrs. Ellis Coombes, president. Mrs. Ellis Coombes, Members present were Mesdames J. R. Allison, Herbert Boardman, J. E. Beyer, W. T. Carmichael, W. E. Dameron, H. K. Fox, Joe Hacker, Paul Lyoris, C. W. Parker, T. W. Robertson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, Dale Young, R. Under our American system of justice,

THIS MAN IS PRESUMED TO BE INNOCENT UNTIL PROVED GUILTY!

(This is not true in the Soviet Union)

But guilty... or innocent... this man is GUARANTEED the right to be defended by a lawyer, to the best of the lawyer's ability. Our Constitution guarantees this right to everyone accused of a crime. Be thankful for the Sixth Amendment, because it is designed:
(1) to protect the innocent and
(2) to insure that even the guilty will receive a fair trial.

Golden Agers Are Guests At Pioneer Club Party

The Pioneer Study Club members entertained with a program and a tea on April 11 at the Hereford Community Center. Special guests were ladies between the ages of 80 and 91. Each year the Pioneer Study Club entertains the golden age group with each club member bringing one or two women as her guests. The golden age ladies enjoy the programs and entertainment and look forward to the future programs.

The program was given by two guests, Mrs. J. B. Noland and Mrs. Charlie Noland. The theme for the playlet presented was "A Morning in Hatshop". Mrs. J. B. Noland portrayed the customer who could not remember the name of "Miss Mudge". She wandered aimlessly in conversation from fudge to smudge and after trying on every hat in the shop she explained that she was only "killing time" waiting for a friend and they were going to another shop to buy a hat.

Guests present were Mesdames M. L. Hardy, William McGeehee, Mary Bodkin, A. J. Malone, Henry Tietel, Roy A. Kelly, H. M. Benefield, R. J. Smith, J. L. Pevley, D. H. Bryant, W. L. Hall, Joe Huckert Sr., J. W. Alexander and Mrs.

Planting Of Gladiolus Discussed At Meeting

The Garden Beautiful Club met April 16, Monday, in the home of Mrs. Roy Smith with Mrs. V. O. Hennen as co-hostess. Mrs. Lloyd Pool gave the program on "Gladiolus", telling the ancient history of the flower. A helpful hint for growing large and healthy gladioli by soaking the bulbs in a solution of one teaspoon of Lysol to a gallon of water for one-half hour was given. Let the bulbs dry thoroughly. This solution is to kill any insects that might have entered in the bulbs.
