Townsend Aftermath

Not long ago, the House by the overwhelming majority of 302 to 97 rejected the Townsend old age pension bill in the first record vote ever taken in Congress on this issue.

What this group (like most others) is interested in is money to be paid to them out of taxes levied by the Federal government. Dr. Townsend wants $200 a month for all over 60 who agree to discontinue gainful employment and spend their pensions within the month.

George Tucker Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—That rumbling explosion around Broadway for several recent nights was just Broderick Crawford returning from Hollywood and his actor pals sent their wives home early and set out to give him an old-fashioned home-coming celebration.

"I remember when I was a kid tramping in vaudeville with mother and father," he reminisced. "Sophie Tucker was on the same bill and in one stand we all went out for dinner together."

"That's the way Sophie is. When she wants something for somebody she usually gets it." Crawford's chief trouble when he left Broadway for Hollywood was to keep from being typed in Leslie roles all the time.

Life's Darkest Moment

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

Chapter 25 SMOKE IN HER EYES Mr. Tacks Adams, in a glowering mood, sat in that refuge of song and festivity known as The Heel Tap.

As a consequence, he was sipping his drink Continental fashion. With the sipping, however, Mr. Adams' resemblance to things Continental ceased. In other respects, his smile was comparable to that of a flea nestling on a bed of lichen.

"Tacks, however, was unaware of these conditions though in a dim way, he may have suspected their existence. But at the moment he was more interested in Miss Packy North, where that charming young lady was concerned, Mr. Adams was rixing his figurative shirt upon the turn of a figurative card.

"That's the way Sophie is. When she wants something for somebody she usually gets it." Crawford's chief trouble when he left Broadway for Hollywood was to keep from being typed in Leslie roles all the time.

would indicate that matters were in the bag. "Oke," he said briefly, and vanished.

Another three minutes passed. Then, suddenly, the dance floor began to darken. From the piano came a silvery ripple of music. The beam of a spotlight shot through the Heel Tap, picked Miss Packy North out of the shadows.

"The first chorus of the song was clearly over. Packy, moving rhythmically forward with each word, was working nearer and nearer to his table. Tacks calculated swiftly. He couldn't afford to fumble this thing. He was desperate. But, desperate. His heart was on fire and smoke was in his eyes.

"That's the way Sophie is. When she wants something for somebody she usually gets it." Crawford's chief trouble when he left Broadway for Hollywood was to keep from being typed in Leslie roles all the time.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—We promised not to write about war today so that is why you are talking to Melvin C. Hildreth, a Washington lawyer who is president of the Circus Fans of America.

We are compelled to state that the Circus Fans are a bit pained that Congress will recess early to see a baseball game, but will not stop a minute when Hingling Brothers comes to town.

Nevertheless, since the circus has recently been to town we can report that a goodly number of congressmen go to the circus, although they are not a major source of revenue.

Bringing a circus to Washington is no small task. In an ordinary city you go to the mayor or to the city attorney, post a bond and get a license and maybe a parade permit and that is an end of it.

DOUBLE PROTECTION To rent a piece of public property on which to pitch a tent requires negotiating with Secretary Ickes.

Mr. Hildreth is jubilant about the prospects of a good season for circuses, but we might just as well tell you that he was the same way last year and the circus business went to pit in double time.

THINGS LOOK GOOD Mr. Hildreth is jubilant about the prospects of a good season for circuses, but we might just as well tell you that he was the same way last year and the circus business went to pit in double time.

Ordinarily the Circus Fans of America work principally for perpetuation of regular road circuses, but lately they have interested the WPA in supporting a WPA circus in New York.

Robbin Coons Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Next to Hedy Lamarr, she's probably the more ballyhoo compared to her screen accomplishments than any young glamor gal out here.

Although she's one of the nicest girls in town, really she likes to say: "I can't be nice!" She's talking about pictures and her parts in them—and she's glad Ann Sheridan doesn't have to play pretty ingenues.

Clara Lou was a contest winner. She's one of the rare screen survivors of Paramount's "Search for Beauty."

After that it was a question of sticking it out. There's nothing less popular to his own among movie makers, than an ex-contest winner.

She knows she has a figure but she isn't conscious of it. She wore black silk tights (as for "Dodge City") and took a shower bath (for "The Roaring Road") with no more self-consciousness than she shows when wearing her favorite old tweed coat and unpressed slacks.

Her ambition: "To be an actress—big hit!"

Managers Of Both Teams Are Chased

Two Teams Tangle In Twin Bill At Midland Today

By HANK HART

In a bitter skirmish enlivened with the banishment by Umpire Buster Capps of both managers, Pat Stasey's big war club exploded with a three run homer in the ninth round, enabling the Big Spring Barons to come from behind and wrestle a 6-4 decision from the Midland Cowboys before a Ladies Night crowd of 1,800 fans here Monday evening.

Disciplined through eight innings of the contest by the brilliant slants of Jim Vickers, the L'I Yankees rallied to the fight that a brilliant Bobby Decker had been putting up after the inspired youngster had greeted the Midland hurler with a ringing triple, his third hit of the evening, in the ninth.

Fishy Rally

Trailing by two runs the Barons began to gamble heavily. After making futile gestures at two strikes, Curdell Loyd singled briskly to score Decker, a punch that dazed and broke the calm of the Midland hurler. Eight balls Vickers employed on Tex Walton finally gaining a gratis ticket to the initial sack. Assured that Vickers was breaking, Joe Plett, acting pitcher of the invading club, inserted Tom Leonard in the relief role. Leonard wasted little time in dishing up the right kind of pitch, working a fast one across the outside corner that Stasey belted high and far into the darkness beyond the right field wall.

It was a heart breaking reversal for Vickers who had hand-cuffed the Big Spring power hitters most of the way. Whiffing ten, the veteran gave but slight hits through eight innings of play and but for Decker would probably have closed books on schedule. As it was Robin was on the base paths all evening, scoring runs in the first and fifth before coming across in the ninth.

A near riot occurred in the fifth chapter when Tony Rego, Big Spring skipper, protested too violently on a third strike called by Umpire Buster Capps on Billy Capps, local third sacker.

The arbiter ordered the little pilot from the field of play but Rego ignored him, returned to the dug-out where he remained until forced out by the police who stepped in at the request of Capps.

The partisan throng put up a terrific howl, hurling a deluge of threats at the official but the excitement that was to follow soothed their ire somewhat. Sammy Hale, Midland manager, first man up for Midland in the sixth, failed to react favorably when Capps called a strike on him, tossed his bat crazily. His antics were unappreciated and he was waved from the fray. Enflamed he swung on the man in blue and the two went together before members of both teams could separate them. Hale in time was escorted out into the shadows by

PENNANT ADAGE SHOULD RING TRUE THIS YEAR

COOKE FAVORED TO MEET RIGGS

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 4 (AP)—United States Champion Alice Marble of San Francisco overwhelmed Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland, 6-1, 6-4, today to enter the semi-final round of women's singles in the All-England tennis championships.

Petite Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan of Cambridge, Mass., came from behind to beat the French champion, Mrs. Rene Mathieu, 6-4, 8-2, and join Miss Marble in the no. 1-16 last round.

Helen Jacobs, four times American champion and finalist here last year, was soundly beaten by Britain's pretty Kay Stammers, 6-3, 6-2.

Looking very pale and tired, the Berkeley (Calif.) veteran committed error after error.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 4 (AP)—The United States Lawn Tennis Association did not think enough of Elwood Cooke to pay his full expenses over here for the Wimbledon tournament, but just the same the Portland, Ore., boy and Bobby Riggs were 1 to 2 co-favorites today to take the all-England tennis title back to America.

Henner Henkel of Germany, who faces Cooke in the semi-finals tomorrow and Ferenc Fancso of Yugoslavia, who meets Riggs, both were quoted at 1 to 4.

This must be a very embarrassing situation for U. S. L. T. A. officials, who, when the money was being handed out to players sent over here to represent the United States, decided Cooke was worth a round-trip boat ticket and that's all.

Full hotel, traveling and personal expenses of Riggs, Helen Jacobs, Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan, are being paid by the association. Cooke, who yesterday eliminated the No. 1 favorite, Bunny Austin, has to dig into his own pocket for everything except that boat ride.

Tennis experts here are not convinced Cooke is ready to break into championship rank, but they like his sound technique, his natural sense of court pace and the length of his backhand drives. Yesterday he beat Austin at precisely the game Bunny likes to play.

Riggs has beaten Cooke twice in the past year in America on hard courts, but both times he took five sets to do it.

Abilene Club Transfer Is Underway

By HANK HART

The Abilene WT-NM baseball league franchise, drifting helplessly since the 1938 season was inaugurated, apparently is finally heading for a protecting port.

Negotiations have secretly been underway for the past week to transfer the Abilene franchise to Berger. Today the deal was nearing completion.

League President Milton E. Price notified league directors Monday that the Lamesa-Abilene series for July 4-5, originally scheduled to be played in Abilene, had been transferred to Lamesa and that the Apaches' series with Big Spring July 6-7 would probably be played in Big Spring.

Charley Willson, business manager of the Abilene club, meanwhile will work toward the transfer. Berger has shown plenty of interest in the change and expressed desire of immediate action.

Despite a new interest taken by the Abilene merchants the city has never rallied to its team's support. The club has lost money since the beginning of the campaign.

Royer, Lockey In Net Finals

GALVESTON, July 4 (AP)—Texans from the interior today fought for championships in the three divisions of the Gulf Coast tennis tournament.

Fred Royer of Dallas met Aubrey Lockey of Houston for the men's singles title.

Grover Cantrell of Sherman paired with Bob Goldbeck of San Antonio in junior singles finals after defeating his brother, Don Goldbeck in semi-finals, 6-2, 6-0.

In the doubles finals, Cantrell and Daid Bryant, Jr., also of Sherman, will meet the winner of a match between Mason Fowles and Julius Zinn of Galveston and Joe Adams of Waco and Malcolm Snow of Fort Worth. The Sherman pair defeated the Goldbeck brothers, 6-2, 6-4 in doubles.

Center Of Interest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4 (AP)—The nation's champion five-gaited saddle horse, Midnight Star from the Leisure Hour Stable of San Antonio, Texas, will hold the spotlight tonight at the Golden Gate International Horse Show on Treasure Island.

Midnight Star will compete for the $2,000 stake for five-gaited geldings. If he wins, he will be the horse to beat in the grand championship $4,000 stake for five-gaited saddle horses which will bring the show to a close Sunday night.

ON ROAD BACK

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 4 (AP)—C. S. Howard's Kayak II was due to return to the racing campaign today, running as the star attraction in the $15,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Buel Fox's father, Pat Shaffer of Roscoe. Mr. Shaffer, 59, died yesterday at his home. Funeral services will be held today at 3 o'clock in Roscoe and several from here plan to attend.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Looking for another pitcher is an ambitious Tony Rego whose Baron baseball team has managed to keep its head above water despite a succession of reversals, of unfortunate mishaps.

Only last weekend the little skipper found that he would have to get along without Johnny Soden, at least for a while and possibly for the season, for the promising young right hander who chalked up 12 victories for the fifth place Big Spring club last season had been called to the bedside of his father in Yakima, Wash., who lies seriously ill.

Rego had only recently predicted that Johnny was on the "road back", that he would within a very short time be able to take his place as a regular starter. It was Soden, remember, who, after scoring two early season victories, was shunted to the sidelines when his throwing arm went bad. Instead of going home, however, Soden decided to stick it out, was making a good job of rounding into shape when the bad news came to him.

Doubtful is the return of Willard Ramsdell whose suspension handed down by Judge Bramham will be lifted this month.

The complete washouts of Soden and Ramsdell, who teamed to give the Barons two of the best hurlers in the circuit last season, proved a blow that was exceedingly hard to hurdle. However, Rego has succeeded in doing very well under the circumstances.

Tex Nugent, whom the Barons shelved into submission in the first game of the Sunday twin bill, attempted to catch on here before finally moving to Midland. The terms he demanded wouldn't be met by Rego, however, who was searching for younger material, anyhow.

Nugent was at his best two years ago while pitching in the Southern Association, was very effective for Marshall of the East Texas league last semester.

One of the major injustices being committed by local fandom is the disloyalty shown Bobby Decker, truly the best second baseman in the entire league.

Robin is that type of ball player who plays best when he realizes the supporters are with him, suffers a bad letdown when criticized.

There isn't a club in the circuit who wouldn't sign Decker on a moment's notice. Lubbock has talked trade time and again.

Yet his surest hobble is magnified in the eyes of a public which certainly overlooks his value.

We have this to say of Robin.

There were 18 games between the first and last place clubs in final standings of first half play in the WT-NM league. That's far too many.

Big Spring, which ended up in third place, trailed Lubbock, the pace setter, by six games, was ahead of Midland, cellarite, by 13 games.

Proudly we call attention to our April selection of the manner in which we thought the WT-NM league clubs would finish.

Our picks:

1. Lubbock.
2. Amarillo.
3. Big Spring.
4. Lamesa.
5. Clovis.
6. Pampa.
7. Abilene.
8. Midland.

The way they finished:
