Politicians scurry to rebuild Italian coalition

After Craxi's resignation

ROME (AP) — Politicians scheduled a flurry of meetings to build a new coalition government to replace that of Socialist Bettino Craxi, one of Italy's most durable premiers whose government shattered over his handling of the Achille Lauro hijacking.

President Francesco Cossiga scheduled meetings today with the Christian Democrat Senate leader, Amintore Fanfani, and the speaker of the Chamber of Deputies, Nilde Iotti, a Communist.

The president also planned to meet over the weekend with leaders of the Communists, Italy's largest opposition party; and the five coalition partners: Craxi's Socialists, the Republicans, Christian Democrats, Liberals and Social Democrats.

Cossiga could name Craxi, whom he asked to stay on in a caretaker capacity, or someone else, to form a new coalition government.

In the event the consultations do not provide an agreement on a new government, Cossiga could dissolve Parliament and call an election three years ahead of schedule.

Craxi, who resigned Thursday, bitterly reproached the Reagan administration for criticizing Italy's release Mohammed Abbas, leader of the Palestine Liberation Front, a faction of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

The four hijackers of the ship said they were members of Abbas' organization, and the United States accused Abbas of planning the hijacking. U.S. officials were outraged when Italy released Abbas.

In a speech to Parliament, Craxi also claimed two American warplanes violated Italian airspace Oct. 11 by following the Egyptian airplane when it carried Abbas from Sicily to Rome's Ciampino military airport.

And he disclosed that Italy has filed a protest for alleged U.S. violation of Italian airspace.

Craxi told Parliament: "The polemical tone of the first reactions of the American government could not but provoke the strongest and displeased surprise as well as a feeling of bitterness for the ignorance on the part of a friendly government of everything that the Italian government had done to overcome with success a particularly critical and dif-icult situation and of the results which had been achieved."

The fate of Craxi's five-party coalition, which began in August 1983 and in another month would have been Italy's longest-lasting post-war government, was sealed Wednesday when Defense Minister Giovanni Spadolini and two other Cabinet members from his Republican Party resigned to protest the release of Abbas.

Stock prices on the Milan exchange tumbled after word of the government's fall, and the lira weakened against other West European countries.

Craxi, whose support for installation of U.S.-built NATO nuclear missiles in Sicily enhanced Italy's value as a Western ally, had refused to allow the Communists into his coalition government. Communist leader Giorgio Napolitano praised Craxi's speech to Parliament, saying it indicated that the "behavior by our major ally does not conform to those rules of respect for sovereignty of each member of the Atlantic alliance."

Farm Credit may sink at year end without bailout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad says the $74 billion Farm Credit System is so overloaded with debt that it will sink by the end of the year if a government bailout is not arranged soon.

Branstad called on President Reagan to endorse federal aid for the system and to sign a new farm bill that is slowly working its way through Congress.

The Republican governor, whose state is most severely squeezed by the current farm depression, said information due out next week will show the Farm Credit System is having its first annual loss since the 1930s and that its capital will be gone within three months.

"We're going to find out before this year's over that its capital and resources are gone," Branstad said Thursday after he and other GOP governors met with Reagan on economic issues. "They'll be under water."

The private, cooperatively owned system of 36 regional banks has admitted that falling farmland values and poor commodity prices have left many of its customers unable to keep up their loan payments, and that a multibillion-dollar bailout will be needed within two years.

Others, including the congressional General Accounting Office, say even that admission understates the extent of the system's troubles. Congressional hearings will be called soon after the system's third quarter report is issued next week, and system officials are expected to unveil their plan for federal relief.

Among options being discussed are a $10 billion line of federal credit that would be used to buy up problem farm loans, an interest rate buydown for troubled farmers and a corporation to take over foreclosed farmland and isolate it from the market to keep values from plummeting still further.

Branstad, who declared an economic emergency in his state two weeks ago because of a growing rate of loan defaults and business failures, said he still found skepticism among administration of-

PLO denies hijackers' guilt in killing, Yugoslavia refuses extradition request

ROME (AP) — An autopsy indicated that the American slain during the hijacking of the Achille Lauro died from gunshot wounds, an anti-terrorism official said. But PLO chairman Yasser Arafat denied the four hijackers held in Italy had killed him.

In other developments Thursday stemming from the seizure of the Italian luxury liner:

—Italian Premier Bettino Craxi, who resigned after being criticized at home and abroad for his handling of the hijacking, accused the United States of ignoring Italy's actions to end the crisis.

—The whereabouts of Mohammed Abbas, a Palestine Liberation Organization official charged in a U.S. warrant with masterminding the cruise ship's seizure, remained unknown, but a PLO leader vowed he would never be taken.

—Yugoslavia, where Abbas flew after being released by Italian police, turned down a Reagan administration request that it hold him for extradition.

The body of Leon Klinghoffer, the 69-year-old New York City resident killed during the two-day hijacking, was examined at Institute of Legal Medicine in Rome. The body had washed ashore in Syria on Monday.

The anti-terrorism official, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said the seven-hour autopsy established that the wheelchair-bound man had been shot to death. He said no bullets were found in the body.

No statement was issued following the autopsy, but ANSA, the Italian news agency, quoted unidentified sources at the institute as saying Klinghoffer had been shot at least twice, once in the head and once in the chest.

The four gunmen charged in the Oct. 7 hijacking and Klinghoffer's death are being held in a prison in Spoleto. Italian authorities arrested them after a jet carrying them was forced down in Sicily by U.S. warplanes last Friday.

In Baghdad, Iraq, Arafat told a rally that the four did not kill Klinghoffer.

"I am sure they did not kill this sick American citizen ... Palestinians do not kill innocent people," the PLO chairman said.

Abbas, the PLO official accused by the United States of directing the hijacking, had been on the same plane as the four hijackers. He was released by Italian authorities on Saturday.

Demo's redemption in populist route

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contrary to popular opinion, the Democratic Party's redemption lies not in the middle of the road but in a return with passion to its own populist principles, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower told the National Press Club.

"Here I am, a practicing populist, a Democratic politician from the hinterland, come here today to the cultured East to bring to you an unconventional message from the frontier," Hightower began.

Hightower maintained to the Thursday luncheon audience that the political center of America is "not square-dab in the middle of the spectrum, of equal distance from conservatism and liberalism. Rather, the true center is in populism."

The Democratic Party must "seize the populist moment," he said.

"The Democratic party has got to get in the swing of things again and I think that means getting in the mainstream of Democratic populism. We've got to go to the people of this country with a combination of old-time Democratic principles, with common-sense, problem-solving solutions and with hard-core political passion," Hightower said.

He said the majority of Americans are looking for "champions," without regard to their political party. He pointed to his own election in 1982 as a populist Democrat, sandwiched between Ronald Reagan's landslide wins in Texas in 1980 and 1984.

AIDS victims too sick for sex

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Local officials who are threatening to file criminal charges against AIDS victims if they engage in sex may be wasting their time because victims of the disease are too sick for sex, a local AIDS foundation leader says.

"These people are pretty sick. They're not thinking about having sex. They're thinking about how much time they have left," Beverly Smith, president of the San Antonio AIDS Foundation, said Thursday.

The letters, distributed this week, warn AIDS victims they could face felony charges if they engage in sex.

The letters also warn against sharing needles, giving blood, semen, organs or other tissue, and urge victims to notify their doctors and dentists.

"It's very political. They jumped on it before they knew much about it," Ms. Smith said of the local health department's decision to send warning letters to 17 known AIDS sufferers.

"They are saying these are irresponsible people," Ms. Smith said. "These people are more responsible than any victims."

City sprays kill trees

MARBLE FALLS, Texas (AP) — The herbicide sprayed here to kill weeds sprouting through pavement cracks has worked. In fact, it worked too well.

In addition to eradicating the unwanted weeds, the powerful chemical is killing trees up to 25 feet away, according to city officials.

About 30 fruit, pecan, sumac and oak trees — some several hundred years old — have died or are dying. Authorities say the toll might reach 100.

"They told us this chemical would be what we needed. They said it would work on the weeds, and it sure did. But it also killed everything within a 25-foot radius," City Manager Jack Chaney said.

Damages could run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to Chaney, city manager of the Hill Country town of 5,000.

Governor asks for quick review

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Gov. Mark White says he has asked the U.S. Justice Department to quickly review a proposed redistricting plan before a federal judge cancels the Nov. 5 mayoral election.

White said he asked federal officials in a letter to "hurry and review the plan that's been submitted by the city of Houston and encouraged them to move forward so that we can have an election."

White on Thursday was only the fifth person in Houston to cast an absentee ballot. Normally, more than 100 votes would have been cast, according to Harris County Clerk Anita Rodeheaver.

Many residents promptly left without casting absentee ballots after learning they could not vote in the city elections, Mrs. Rodeheaver said.

"I think a lot of people may be thinking that the election has been called off, but the constitutional elections are still being held," White said after voting.

Chrysler strikers blame Iacocca

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — Layoffs from a Chrysler Corp. supplier are the first casualties of a 3-day-old walkout by 80,000 autoworkers and some strikers say Chairman Lee Iacocca has betrayed the loyalty they showed when the carmaker faced bankruptcy.

"We took concessions and what did they do? They slapped us in the face," said Allan Dean, a 21-year Chrysler worker who repairs engine cylinder heads.

Chrysler autoworkers, who gave up an estimated $1 billion in concessions to help the carmaker survive its 1979 brush with bankruptcy, "feel betrayed" by Iacocca, said Wilbur Spencer, president of United Auto Workers Local 227 at Chrysler's Detroit glass plant.

Meanwhile, the 3-day-old strike by 70,000 workers in the United States and 10,000 in Canada forced layoffs at C & F Stamping Co. of Grand Rapids, which makes metal parts and plastic bumpers. It will furlough 155 of 550 workers.

Chrysler is estimated to be losing $15 million a day in profits and supplier layoffs are expected to mount elsewhere within days.

VA disciplining 79 medical employees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration, which is disciplining 79 medical employees for improperly accepting gratuities from a drug company, should quickly devise clearer ethics guidelines, the head of a congressional panel says.

Rep. Robert W. Edgar, D-Pa., called for clearer regulations Thursday after VA officials told his House Veterans Affairs subcommittee that it was dismissing two employees and demoting a third for violating regulations on ethics and conflict of interest.

"What we did was to send a signal to the VA that it's important for us to have clear messages to give the 200,000 employees of the Veterans Administration as to what is ethical and what is not," Edgar said after the hearing by his health care subcommittee.

"The VA has to take this incident and make it positive ... within two or three weeks to come out with a strong policy statement, and make it public," he said.

The VA gave Edgar's panel its first public accounting of the results of an internal investigation into dealings between VA doctors and other employees and Smith Kline and French Laboratories, a Philadelphia drug manufacturer that sells drugs to the VA.

The VA Inspector General's office is expanding the probe to look at dealings with other drug companies. Robert A. Hincken, assistant inspector general, said records of four other drug companies have been subpoenaed. He declined to name them.

Fire forces newsmen to exit

MIAMI (AP) — A fire in a WSVN-Channel 7 studio about 10 minutes into the 11 o'clock news forced the television station to go off the air as newscasters dropped their scripts and ran for safety.

No injuries occurred in the blaze, which was reported at 11:12 p.m. Thursday and was under control by 11:32 p.m., said Ellen Duran, a supervisor at the Metro-Dade Fire Department.

Preliminary indications were that the fire, confined to the studio, was started by a lighting device too close to a curtain on one of the sets, she said.

"I started smelling smoke five minutes into the newscast," said anchor Sally Fitz. "I asked, 'Is anyone smoking a cigarette?' I kept saying to the floor crew, 'There's something burning down here.'"

"They said there was nobody free at that moment to check it out." Ms. Fitz and co-anchor Peter Ford continued reading the news, trying to keep composed faces before the camera, as they watched two crew members use fire extinguishers to battle flames that quickly grew to 10 feet high.

High school athletes tasting bitter fruit

AUSTIN, Texas — Many high school athletes in Texas are now tasting the bitter fruit of the state's new no-pass, no-play rule as it is being put in practice.

Football teams, drill teams and cheerleader squads are being reduced in number by the rule, which bars students from extracurricular activities until their next report cards unless they pass every course.

First six-week grade reports were due at most Austin high schools Tuesday, even though several varsity football coaches knew they would have to bench some of their athletes because of the new rule, which kicks in at 4 p.m. Friday.

The rule was a key element of the state's public school reform efforts and it took effect last spring. But this is the first football season in which it has applied.

The rule will cut members of the football team, along with some drill team members and cheerleader at the Fannindel consolidated school district in Ladonia, in Fannin County. High school principal Larry Braley, who is also the head football coach, said the varsity football team would be cut from 17 to 11 members.

The Fannindel girls' drill team will lose 10 members, from 17 to 7, and all three cheerleaders and the cheerleader mascot will sit out the next six weeks.

"We tried to get the failing students to get tutoring, but they mostly didn't," Braley told the Greenville Herald-Banner. "It seems the kids have got to learn to get their priorities straight — education first and athletics second. Somehow they've got to understand that they're in school to get an education."

The principal of the District 9-A school said as long as the football team has 11 members they will compete. The team currently has a 2-4 record.

Some coaches said early indications show the losses from junior varsity and freshman programs could be even higher than at the varsity level.

According to the Austin American-Statesman, the Crockett Cougars led the Austin Independent School District list, losing seven varsity players.

Coach C. Ray Daniel said a check made Monday showed a heavier toll than he had expected. He declined to specify how many starting players will be lost.

The loss totals five for Coach Wally Freytag's Reagan Raiders.

"There could be more. We'll know when we get the (computer) printouts," he said.

Johnston and Austin High each have at least four players who failed one or more courses during the first six weeks of school. LBJ has lost at least two varsity players, coaches said.

Austin LBJ Coach Jim Davis said 10 junior varsity and 12 freshman players are known scholastic casualties, and Austin Anderson Coach Jim Acker reported five junior varsity and 10 freshman ineligibilities.

At San Marcos, seven varsity players — including two starters — will be lost, said Coach John Lamme. He said the losses were slightly higher than he expected.

"Obviously, it will cut into our depth, especially in the line where we lost two starters," he said.

In Georgetown, Coach Andy Griffin said six varsity players, including three starters, are lost.

Leander Coach Danny Malone said only one varsity player became ineligible although he had feared he might lose more than 30 percent of the players in his program. He said the junior varsity lost 17.

At Round Rock, Coach John Baskin said he knew of three varsity ineligibilities and expects a casualty rate of 25 percent or more among non-varsity teams.

Pflugerville, gunning for its third straight District 25-AA championship, lost four varsity players. Coach Leonard Tolbert said nine junior varsity and nine freshmen also will be ineligible.

STRONG BONES

BOSTON (AP) — A study at Harvard shows that women who played sports while in their 20s may have stronger bones later in life than women non-athletes when they are 30 or younger. When the women are in their 60s or older, the athlete's bones are harder and denser, and less likely to break.

Decorating contest to be sponsored

First place winners in each category will be photographed for the Hereford Brand.

POPULIST

Populism, he said, is born of a "realization that too few people control all the money and power and are leaving very little for the rest of us."

"Populism is propelled politically by the simmering desire of the mass of people to upend that arrangement. This is hardly a centrist position — by centrist you mean moderate — but it is at the center of most people's political being and it is a very hot center indeed," he said.

Hightower sprinkled his speech with references to Republican "yuppies," a self-satisfied minority, he said, who "are out there right now enjoying a mid-day repast of cool melon melange and asparagus and goat cheese and delightfully fruity California white wine.

"But most of America doesn't live there," Hightower said. "The majority of Americans are down at the 7-Eleven picking up a Budweiser and a Slim Jim and wondering if there's anybody that's going to stand up on their side."

"My point is not that we must go sell populism to the population," he said. "The population is already populist and they're not waiting on the Democratic party to figure that out."

PLO

Craxi said there had been insufficient cause to hold Abbas and that he had been traveling on an Iraqi diplomatic passport.

That decision provoked angry criticism by the Reagan administration and led the Republican Party, one member of Craxi's five-party coalition, to withdraw, sealing the government's fate.

Before resigning, Craxi denounced the United States for criticizing his handling of the Achille Lauro affair.

In Baghdad, senior PLO official Salah Khalaf vowed, "The Americans will never arrest Abu Abbas (Mohammed Abbas)."

Khalaf also said the PLO "did not ask" that the four hijackers be sent to Tunis, Tunisia, where PLO headquarters are.

Egypt's state-run Al-Akhbar newspaper today accused Tunisian officials of having told the United States that the plane carrying the four hijackers and Abbas was heading to Tunis. In a lengthy editorial, Moussa Sabry, former editor-in-chief of the paper, said Egypt had intended to hand the four hijackers to the PLO in Tunis to put them on trial, and had asked Tunis for permission for the plane to land there.

officials about the need for federal help for agriculture, including a Farm Credit System bailout.

"I think after this information comes out next week it'll be abundantly clear" that such help is needed, Branstad said.

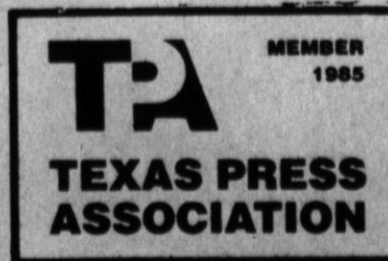

He said while Reagan made no commitment on either the farm bill or the credit issue, "he indicated awareness and concern for the situation." Branstad said Reagan had promised him another meeting on farm credit.

On Monday, Branstad had said he did not plan to invite Reagan to help in his re-election campaign next year because the administration had made farm policy mistakes that had diminished the president's popularity in his state.

Branstad said he told Reagan in Thursday's meeting that to veto the farm bill, which the administration has threatened to do because of its costs, would cause further political damage.

"The president has provided tremendous hope for the rest of the country," Branstad said. "But in the agriculture sector there really is great despair. ... Farmers need that hope. They don't need another veto."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I disagree that family feuds are usually over some small misunderstanding and if all parties will give a little, everything can be worked out. For example:

How do you reason with a sister who forges her elderly mother's name on checks because she knows her mother won't turn her in to the authorities?

I cannot invite this woman (my own sister) to our home. The same goes for her children. They have stolen so many of my lovely things I'm afraid of being completely cleaned out. Others in the family have had the same experience. These people are crooks and thieves, Ann. Do you still feel we should try to maintain a relationship? My minister has advised me to stay away from them.—NO NAME, JUST ANGUISHED

DEAR ANGUISHED: Most family feuds are the result of petty jealousies, lack of consideration and poor communication. Your situation is quite different. It involves criminal behavior. And that my dear, is a horse of a different color. The next letter might interest you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I agree with you that many family feuds are the result of silly misunderstandings, but some are not. For example, when a close relative believes you are the devil and tells everyone that you have the ability to cast spells on people, bring bad luck and even death, the problem is somewhat different. The only way I can deal with this situation is to put as much distance between me and the nut as possible. To do otherwise would be self-destructive and hypocritical. Am I wrong?—NOT FITTING THE MOLD IN MO.

DEAR N.F.: You are not wrong. The first letter deals with criminal behavior. Yours deals with a psychotic personality. I believe you both are entitled to a pass.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Put yourself in my place and tell me what you would have done. You are out with your family to enjoy an evening of car racing. Seated next to you in the bleachers is a man with his young son. (My guess is the lad was about 5). In the party are five others, all respectable-looking, quiet people. As the racing begins the man boasts to his son and the rest of the group how he put away a six-pack of beer just prior to the event. He appears to be somewhat high, but you write it off as another immature 40-year-old, and you are happy no liquor is sold on the premises.

After about 30 minutes the man takes a bottle of vodka out of his shirt and drinks about a fourth of it. He then gives the bottle to his young son. The boy drinks a few swigs as if it were lemonade.

Should I have said something to the man, who was by then quite drunk? I chose to avoid what might have been a fistfight and kept quiet. But I felt guilty afterward because I did nothing to help the boy. Please comment.—RED BANK, N.J.

DEAR RED: I would have said

Marcus Brown scores three touchdowns

Whitefaces crush Caprock Longhorns, 34-15

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

Sophomore tailback Marcus Brown scored three touchdowns, including a 61-yard punt return, to help lead the Hereford Whitefaces to a 34-15 victory over Caprock Friday in a District 3-5A game in Amarillo.

The victory improves Hereford's district record to 3-2 and its season record to 3-4. Caprock fell to 2-4 in the district and 3-4 for the season.

Thursday's game began with three turnovers by Caprock in the first half of the opening period.

Rodney Torres of the Whitefaces intercepted a Caprock pass, and later Hereford recovered a pair of Caprock fumbles.

The Whitefaces drove for a touchdown after the second fumble recovery, starting at their own 40-yard line.

Hereford needed eight plays to reach the end zone, with Marcus Brown rushing the last 10 yards for the score with 2:10 left in the first quarter. Mark Artho kicked the extra point, and Hereford held a 7-0 lead.

Hereford gained possession of the ball again in the closing seconds of the first quarter, at its own 46-yard line.

Into the second quarter, a pass for 10 yards on third down from Stefan Hacker to Artho gave Hereford a first down.

Moments later, the Whitefaces were faced with a fourth down and two yards to go at the Caprock 36-yard line. Marcus Brown gained eight yards for the first down.

Hacker completed a pass to Casey Daniel for 20 yards in a third down play from the 28-yard line, and Hacker carried eight yards in the next play for a touchdown.

Artho added the extra point, putting the Hereford lead at 14-0 with 8:52 left in the first half.

The Herd defense then forced Caprock to punt from the Longhorn 27-yard line. Marcus Brown fielded the punt at the Hereford 39-yard line and returned it 61 yards for a touchdown.

Brown utilized his speed and quickness to outrace several Caprock defenders. The touchdown, coupled with Artho's extra point, increased the Hereford lead to 21-0 with 6:51 left in the half.

In the play right after Phibbs' interception, Caprock took the ball right back, intercepting a Todd Shire pass.

Caprock tried to drive for a touchdown, but the Herd defense rose to the occasion. The Longhorns failed in four tries to score after achieving a first-and-goal at the seven-yard line.

In the fourth down play, Martinez passed to Edwin Carter, and Hereford stopped Carter at the one-yard line.

In Hereford's next play, the handoff from Shire to running back Allen Dudding was mishandled. Dudding recovered the fumble but could not get out of the end zone, and Caprock scored a safety with 1:54 left in the game.

Caprock returned the kickoff from the goal line 50 yards, and used eight plays to get on the scoreboard.

Longhorn quarterback Matt Martinez completed three passes for 35 yards in the scoring march, including a 15-yard pass to Iman Crawford for the touchdown with 2:45 left in the first half. A fumble on the snap from center resulted in no extra point for the Longhorns.

In a second down play from the Hereford 31-yard line, Bobby Baker of the Herd caught a pass for a 13-yard gain but fumbled and lost the ball to a Caprock defender.

The Longhorns moved to the Hereford 17-yard line where they were faced with a fourth down and four yards to go. Hereford linebacker Curtis Cotten broke up a pass attempt, and Hereford ran out the rest of the time left in the half.

Caprock received the second half kickoff, but could not get a first down against the Herd defense.

The ball was snapped over the head of the Longhorn punter, who chased it down, only to be tackled at the Caprock 15-yard line.

Hereford capitalized on the Caprock mistake, with Mark Artho carrying for a touchdown in the Whitefaces' first down play.

Artho was successful again in kicking the extra point, and Hereford's lead was 28-6 with 10:05 left in the third quarter.

The teams exchanged possessions a couple of times in the rest of the third quarter. Hereford moved in for a score from the Caprock 48-yard line in the closing minutes of the period.

Marcus Brown scored from three yards out as the third quarter buzzer sounded. The extra point attempt was not good, and Hereford's lead stood at 34-6.

Caprock scored its other touchdown of the game in its first possession of the fourth quarter. A 64-yard drive was capped off by a six-yard touchdown run by Monty Buchanan and a kick by Mike Maldonado with 8:08 left in the game.

The rest of the game was a defensive battle, with Hereford intercepting a pair of Longhorn passes, Caprock intercepting a Hereford pass, and Caprock scoring a safety.

The first Hereford interception was made by Michael Phibbs near midfield, midway through the fourth quarter.

Caprock again was threatening to score, and had a fourth down play at the Whiteface two-yard line. Brett Clements, a Herd linebacker, intercepted a pass in the end zone.

Caprock outgained Hereford in total yardage, 312 yards to 246. The Longhorns had 158 yards rushing and 154 yards passing, compared to 143 yards rushing and 103 yards passing for Hereford.

Rushing stats for Hereford were 55 yards in 10 carries by Marcus Brown, 29 yards in eight carries by Mark Artho, 20 yards in seven carries by Stefan Hacker, 21 yards in five carries by Allen Dudding, and 18 yards in four carries by Todd Shire.

Hacker completed six of nine passes for 83 yards, and Shire completed two of 10 passes for 20 yards, with one interception.

Bobby Baker caught three passes for 35 yards, Casey Daniel caught two for 36 yards, Marcus Brown two for 22 yards, and Artho one for 10 yards.

Caprock was led by Monty Buchanan with 93 yards rushing in 19 attempts and Edwin Carter with 63 yards in 15 carries. Longhorn quarterback Matt Martinez completed 10 of 22 passes.

Ineligibility figures listed for Hereford athletics

The no-pass, no-play rule affected junior high school football more than any other sport in the Hereford school district.

The controversial University Interscholastic League rule, in which students are ineligible for sports and extracurricular activities if just one class is failed, means that nearly 100 junior high school boys in Hereford are ineligible for football the rest of the 1985 season.

The ineligibility lasts for one grading period, six weeks of school. Grade reports were issued Thursday in the Hereford Independent School District.

Figures from Stanton Junior High School show 32 seventh grade boys and 26 eighth grade boys ineligible, along with two ninth grade boys.

At La Plata Junior High School, there are 21 seventh grade boys ineligible, 15 eighth grade boys ineligible, plus two or three ninth grade boys.

Hereford High School lost only one varsity football player, not a starter, and also had four junior varsity athletes become ineligible.

The HHS varsity volleyball team did not lose any players, and two junior varsity spikers are ineligible.

Losses at La Plata in girls' athletics are two ninth graders and at least 11 seventh graders, but no eighth graders.

Figures on the number of girls ineligible at Stanton according to the no-pass, no-play rule were unavailable at press time.

Stanton 8th, 9th grade football teams lose

Stanton Junior High School suffered a pair of football defeats Thursday when visiting Gattis teams from Clovis scored victories.

Gattis won the ninth grade contest, 14-6, at Whiteface Stadium, and took the eighth grade contest, 41-0, at La Plata Field.

The losses put the Stanton ninth grade team at 3-3 and the eighth grade team at 0-5 for the season.

Next action for Stanton Junior High School will be against Plainview Red in Plainview next Thursday. The ninth grade is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. and the eighth grade game is set for 6 p.m.

The ninth grade game Thursday between Gattis and Stanton was scoreless in the first half.

Gattis gained an 8-0 lead in the third quarter with a two-yard touchdown run and a pass for the two-point conversion.

Keith Brown of Stanton scored later in the third quarter with a two-yard run. The extra-points attempt failed, and Stanton trailed 8-6.

Gattis scored its other touchdown in the fourth quarter with a one-yard run. The extra point attempt was not good.

"We played well enough to win but the turnovers killed us," said Stanton Coach James Salinas.

"Against a team like Gattis, 6-0 on the year, you cannot do that. They had to drive two yards and 33 yards for their touchdowns," Salinas added.

In the eighth grade game, Gattis held a 21-0 lead in the first quarter and a 28-0 halftime lead in defeating Stanton 41-0. The score was 34-0 after three quarters of play.

La Plata suffers 18-6 loss in ninth grade football game

La Plata Junior High School's ninth grade football team fell behind Plainview Blue 12-0 in the first half Thursday, and suffered an 18-6 loss in a game played at Whiteface Stadium.

La Plata trailed Plainview Blue 18-0 after three quarters of play. Offensive mistakes by La Plata led to Plainview Blue scoring its three touchdowns.

Plainview Blue intercepted two passes and recovered three La Plata fumbles, all in the first half.

Jason Scott passed to Clint Cotten for the La Plata touchdown in the fourth quarter. The scoring play went for 15 yards.

The loss puts the La Plata ninth grade team at 2-3-1 for the season. The team's next game will be at home next Thursday against Littlefield, starting at 5 p.m.

ENMU Greyhounds host Cameron University Saturday

Eastern New Mexico University's Greyhounds return to the gridiron this Saturday against Cameron University after having an open week last week.

Kickoff for Saturday's game is 7:30 p.m. in Portales, N.M.

The Greyhounds defeated Texas Lutheran 27-24 two weeks ago for their first win of the season. ENMU is 1-3 for the season, and Cameron University is 2-3.

Cameron University opened its season with a 14-3 loss to East Texas, and then lost to Angelo 42-13. Cameron scored a 12-10 win over Southwestern Oklahoma, defeated Northwestern Oklahoma 30-3, and last week lost to Northeastern Oklahoma 19-17.

Cameron turned the ball over six times in the loss to Northeastern Oklahoma, and missed a 36-yard field goal attempt with 54 seconds left in the game.

Cameron had 168 yards rushing in the game and 42 yards passing, compared to 193 total yards for Northeastern Oklahoma, including 78 yards rushing—the third time this year that Cameron limited an opponent to fewer than 100 yards rushing.

Cameron, a team that uses the veer offense, leads the all-time series with ENMU, 7-2, including a 13-12 victory over the Greyhounds last year in Lawton, Okla.

The little-known basketball player of the 1950s, Arnie Risen, had a unique distinction. He was replaced as Boston Celtic center by the great Bill Russell after the 1956 Olympics.

Agreement ends newspaper strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators reached a tentative, four-year accord early today in a strike that has left the nation's fifth-largest city without a local daily newspaper for 42 days.

Daily News scheduled ratification votes for later today. A spokesman for Philadelphia Newspapers Inc., which publishes both papers, said presses will resume rolling one day after employees return unless they report to work later today, then efforts will be directed to publishing a Sunday paper.

The agreement was announced first by officials of The Newspaper Guild, the largest of the nine striking unions. Last to be resolved were contract details that concerned janitors and drivers, both belonging to the Teamsters.

The newspaper strike, the longest in the city's history, began when employees walked off the job Sept. 7, one week after they had agreed to extend their contract on a day-to-day basis as long as negotiators made progress.
