Calomel
 Another dose of the old style Calomel. There is a newer and improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your stomach as a wreck of lightning. People suffering with biliousness, indigestion, and especially headache and torpid liver should take immediate and complete relief from the new Calomel. Hereafter the new Calomel, always demand the "Pepsinated" kind. It is better for you, milder, and more beneficial to your system. In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by J. D. Biles.

TO CONCHO COUNTRY?
 The Southern Pacific wants to build a railroad to serve the rich country between Fredericksburg and San Angelo. The subject of a column of comment in the San Antonio Standard of recent date. The commission follows:
 The Southern Pacific wants to build a railroad to serve the rich country between Fredericksburg and San Angelo. Everybody who knows has hoped the line would move in that direction. This free thought is worth the approval of President Scott of the San Antonio Standard.

TABLOID TRUTHS FOR YOUNG AMERICA

This is National Education Week. Of all "weeks" set apart by State or Nation for various purposes, this probably is most important. A Nation's progress, prosperity and perpetuity are dependent upon the enlightenment of the masses rather than upon the extraordinary scholarship of a few individuals.

It is, however, through the influence and example of individual champions and advocacy of education that its promotion is achieved. Leaders are always necessary.

The mob always follows; it never leads. Left to itself it would get nowhere except in the wrong direction. The crowd has no mind. It has only emotions and impulses. Qualify yourself for leadership. The crowd can not of itself do anything worth while because it is without guidance. It can't even take care of itself without the aid and leadership of those who have wisdom. People have always had to be saved from themselves.

Listen, Boy: It is said to cost ten times as much labor, effort and money to make a college graduate as it does to prepare the average man for his work, and a hundred times as much as to raise a boy without such an education. Are you worth it? Those who are educated have heard over and over the value of cultivating various virtues, and the positive need for them in the right life. Therefore you should possess them. Do you? Will you? If you would be a leader you must be a master. Without mastership there is no leadership, and the first thing to master is yourself. Self-mastery is the greatest achievement it is possible for one to accomplish. He who does not master himself will himself be mastered by some one or some thing; and one who can master himself, and does it, can master almost anything else. Don't be a slave to anything, habits, wrong thoughts, open or secret sins. A habit is becoming boss when you find it is getting command of you, quit it. In fact it is better not to begin a thing that may become a habit unless it is a helpful one.

Don't play with habits, fire, dynamite or T. N. T. Mastership means a free mind in a free body. If one or the other has to be the slave, better a free mind in a slave's body than a slave's mind in a free body.

New ropes couldn't bind Samson, but Delilah's silken tresses could, and did. Be sure of this: If you are not governed from within, you will be from without.

Brain is yet challenging Brawn—and winning. It always had. Good luck much of being a sure index to genius. Better be crippled physically than mentally—in the foot than in the head. He who is whole in both is fortunate. God's standard is not length, breadth and thickness, but quality. The true measure of success is usefulness. No life can be called commonplace if it is useful.

One reason Progress has made such slow headway is that mind has had to carry such a burden of matter. One can not add to his endowment of brains, but he can develop what he has to the limit. The belief that fine minds can be found only in fine bodies has been shattered so often that few now assert it. Steinmetz, electrical wizard, was a hunchback and a dwarf, but he had a titanic mind and an unconquerable will.

It is seldom that genius is in the keeping of Apollos and Venuses. So rare is it that such a condition is looked upon as almost a phenomenon. The niches in the Hall of Fame contain few of them. The unthinking care more for handsome morons than for brilliant minds in unattractive bodies. You try to have both mind and body well developed.

Your mind is what you are. A mental giant in the body of a dwarf is an asset. A handsome fool is a liability. Nobody has a corner on either time or opportunity, brains or courage, patience or perseverance. You have your share, so "go to it."

The hill is steep. It requires power, energy, determination and patience to make the grade. If you haven't these, you'd as well stay where you are. Better be too lazy to start than too cowardly to keep on. Difficulty and necessity have done more to develop ability than have honors and applause. Latent genius, talent and the resplendent virtues which go to constitute a worthwhile life have been brought out by the searching grind, the heat and strife of daily battles, more than lack of birth, fortunate position or social influence.

It seemed necessary to throw Joseph into a pit in order to set him on a throne. The hole in the ground became a mountain-top. Selling himself into slavery exchanged his coat of many colors for the purple robe of a prince. An obscure farmer lad in Canaan, he became Prime Minister of Egypt. From threatened death at the hands of his envious brethren, he saved them from starvation. The reason for his wonderful promotion and achievements is that, as the Apostle tells us, "God was with him." Unless you have Him with you, you'll be a failure. Don't sneer at this. It's true.

He took Moses and his rod—one man and a stick—and freed three million slaves. He took Shamgar and an ox goad and slew six hundred Philistines. He took Samson and the jawbone of a meek little donkey and killed a thousand more. He took a little shepherd boy and a sling and downed the giant champion of the Philistine armies. He took the same lad and made him Israel's greatest King and the world's greatest poet. And He took a little Bethlehem Baby and made him the Savior of the world!

Columbus had more brains than Caesar. Napoleon was not the greatest son of France. Louis Pasteur was worth a million Napoleons. One was a blight, the other a blessing. One was a world terror, the other a world benefactor.

Intelligence is Light. It is up to you whether you shall be a tallow candle or a searchlight. But better no light at all than a light leading in the wrong direction. The best in no line of endeavor has yet been achieved. Suppose you try it in at least one. Get ready for your goal, keep your gaze upon it, summon all your talent, virtue and will to the task. You may set a standard that the world shall strive for. Position in life counts for nothing unless you attain it yourself. Inherited honors are tawdry and cheap compared with those you earn.

You can't gain entrance into the Treasure House of Knowledge by "knocking the knob." You can't get into the Hall of Fame by sneaking through a window. You can't open the door of the Mansion of Success with a "frat" key. The great massive doors of these institutions yield only to him who has a MASTER key. Don't spend your life mining fool's gold. Don't waste time and skill developing an orchard that will produce only apples of Sodom. All you will gain by blowing bubbles is the lung exercise.

Another thing: Don't pose. Be yourself. No imitation is as good as the genuine article. It makes no difference how beautiful the original gem, nobody wants a counterfeit. If you are a "diamond in the rough," let your educational advantages constitute a lapidary that will make you shine. If you are not, everybody will know it. It's easy enough to be rough, but not so easy to be a diamond. If you can't deliver the goods, don't claim to have them. The spider makes his own web—OF himself and By himself. You will have to do the same.

If you do not use your gifts, small or great, you are simply human rubbish. Don't get swept out with the trash. Horseshoes, rabbits' feet and "luck pieces" are the talismans of laziness and stupidity. Men are not great because they succeed. They succeed because they are great. Your worth to the world is represented by zero if it consists in the great things done by an ancestor. You are not great because he was, any more than he was great because you are not. Do something yourself. The man who is unwilling to contribute to the common good, who is unwilling to deny himself for others; who says the world owes him a living and he's going to have it without cost to him, is simply a social hobo deadheading his way to hell.

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Observation from various quarters leads to the belief that the day of hard-luck lamentation and self-pitying on the part of that group of business men once classified as living "out on the farm"—with the cows and pigs and billy goats—is giving place to intelligent thought and conscientious effort. In fact, both sides of opposing interests are already accepting credit for the present improved agricultural outlook. Just as certain self-seekers have always wanted the farmer to think that the future of agriculture rests with the party or clique they happen to represent.

But sensible farmers have come to know that little help of worthwhile nature can be expected except as brought about by their own initiative, and economic causes. In this last respect it is interesting to review one situation in this country which is today slowly but certainly working in the interests of the farmer. City population is increasing much faster than farm population. There are now fewer farmers in the United States than there were fifteen years ago, but the city population has increased from 45,000,000 in 1900 to 80,000,000 in 1925. It is estimated that the city population of the United States will be 90,000,000 by 1930, when the next census is taken.

It is evident, from these figures, that unless the supply of agricultural products increases in an unforeseen manner, their prices will hold, and no doubt increase, the advances already made. Farmers prosper in exact proportion to the demand for agricultural products. The demand is fixed largely by consumers living in cities.

With a growing city population such as we now have, and with farmers making no gain in numbers, no assurance should be needed from the demagogue to warrant a bright outlook for the future of agriculture.—Farm and Ranch.

JAPANESE MOTIF USED AT BRIDGE PARTY

Dainty place cards, tallies, and lovely table appointments carrying out the Japanese motif, were used effectively at the lovely bridge party given on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Frances Sullivan on Johnson street, when eleven friends were her guests. Richly colored chrysanthemums arranged in vases gave adornment to the rooms, where the tables were set for the playing of a series of bridge games.

At the refreshment hour, an attractive plate holding fruit salad, sandwiches, hot tea, cakes and mints was passed.

EPISCOPAL CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY PARTY AT RECTORY

About forty or fifty guests were present at the regular meeting of the Episcopal Club on Wednesday night at the rectory, at which time a very pleasant evening was spent. Old-time song favorites were sung, followed by some hymns, after which refreshments were served consisting of sandwiches and tea. Mrs. J. D. Biles, Mrs. Shine Phillips and Mrs. W. R. Dawes were the committee in charge at this meeting.

The Episcopal club holds a meeting each Wednesday night at the rectory and everyone is cordially invited to attend these informal gatherings. Regardless of your denomination, you are welcome. No club dues are assessed. Every one is invited to come next Wednesday evening.

PIONEER BRIDGE CLUB GUESTS OF MRS. INKMAN

The bridge appointments for the party given by Mrs. W. W. Inkman Wednesday afternoon were rarely lovely, when the members of the Pioneer Bridge Club were her guests.

Three tables of players were busily engaged in the games, which held the interest high, until counting time, when it was announced that club high score had been made by Mrs. Bernard Fisher and visitors high score was won by Miss Lillian Frances Gary.

Favors of little bon-bon boxes topped with a miniature turkey, were presented to each guest, and a delectable luncheon, in two courses, consisting of a salad plate, and pie with whipped cream, was served.

COFFEE MEMORIAL CLASS ARE GUESTS OF MRS. RUDDER

A delightful gathering, marked by informal friendliness and good cheer was held at the home of Mrs. Josephine Rudder on last Wednesday afternoon, at which time the members of the Coffee Memorial class were guests. This Sunday school class of the Methodist church have these social meetings once a month, and this one proved to be unusually enjoyable.

Much pleasure was obtained from the games and contests, which was the diversion of the afternoon, following which delicious refreshments were served.

T. E. L. CLASS MEETING

The T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church had their monthly business and social meeting at the attractive home of Mrs. Clifford Hurt Tuesday, November 17.

The meeting was opened with a song: I Love to Tell the Story. This was followed by the devotional reading of 100th Psalm by Mrs. Joe Lewis.

Prayer—Mrs. Lester King.
During the business session a Thanksgiving basket was planned for the needy, and other matters were discussed and decided upon.

Each member of the class brought a gift for our Sunshine Sister, Miss Lucille Reagan, and the box will be shipped at once so that it may reach her in time for Christmas.

It was a special pleasure to have as a guest Mrs. J. W. Ward of California, who years ago was a faithful and efficient worker in our church and also rendered valuable assistance to other denominations. She had many interesting things to tell of early days, when workers were not as numerous as now. We were also pleased to have with us Mrs. Deats of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Shick.

The business session was closed with prayer by Mrs. Douglass. The musical program and contests all of a humorous nature made one of the enjoyable features of the social hour. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Robt. Finer and Mrs. Clifford Hurt and all pronounced this one of the most enjoyable meetings the class has had.

Western Remedy for Snake Bite

By J. D. ELLSWORTH

(Copyright.)

AS A Westerner, I was amused by the discreet sinfulness of Boston; but when business called me to Maine, our down-East sister, whose temperate example is always held before our eyes, I felt that I was about to set foot on the stepping-stone of heaven. To provide against the serpent that must inevitably haunt such an Eden, I filled my pocket flask with the standard western remedy for snake bites.

The train left the Union station at nine in the morning, and anticipating a stupid ride I went into the smoking-car to enjoy a cigar and read my newspaper. The car was fitted up with mahogany card tables and stationary cribbage boards. In the seats in front of me were three traveling men.

"Play euchre?" said one of them, looking toward a lean, lanky stranger.

"Does it cost anything?"

"Not a cent."

"Well, then, I guess I'll come in," and he opened himself like a Jack-knife and strolled to his place.

As the train rushed over bridges and through suburban cities the novelty of my surroundings so engrossed my attention that I did not notice the card players again until I heard the lean stranger say:

"I guess I'm going to be real sick. I never had such a fearful pain before in all my life."

He put his hand on the pit of his stomach, and there were sharp lines in his face that indicated intense agony. The dealer looked up sympathetically, and his partner said:

"I've got a little something with me from Kentucky. Perhaps it might do you good."

"I come from Maine," said the stranger, "and we don't drink rum down there. But, as a medicine, I might take a few drops, if you don't think it would go to my head."

Lounging back in my seat and watching the dissolving panorama of snow bound villages, I ruminated on the incident.

At Lynn I was reminded of the euchre players as one of the drummers got out and another passenger took his place. The last comer carried a gun case and was dressed for a hunting trip. When we reached Salem at 9:35 the two remaining drummers left. The lean stranger and the sportsman found two new partners and continued playing.

As I had finished my cigar and exhausted my newspaper, I tried to amuse myself by watching the game. When the cards were passed to the lean stranger he shook his head and pushed them over to his partner.

"Deal for me," he growled; "I've got an awful pain in my side. It seems like pneumonia, but it may pass in a minute."

The group looked solicitous, and the sportsman, taking a black bottle from the pocket of his hunting-bag, said:

"Take some of this, man; you mustn't fool with a pain like that."

"I come from the state of Maine," said the sufferer, "and I'm opposed to strong drink. But, rather than delay the game, gentlemen, I'll take a little as medicine."

At the town of Newburyport the lanky representative of the Pine Tree state was left alone at the card table. I was becoming interested in him. As we crossed the bridge over the Merrimac I lost sight of him for a moment, but when the train had passed the state line I walked forward in the car. My invalid friend was playing seven-up with a swarthy stranger.

Dropping into a seat, I patiently waited for developments. We were due to reach Portsmouth at 10:40. I looked at my watch from time to time and then at the man from Maine. I saw that he began to get uneasy. His face showed signs of suffering and he coughed violently.

The brakeman brought some water in a tin cup. The suffering man motioned him away, gasping, "I wouldn't dare (cough) to take water (cough); it makes it worse."

The swarthy stranger drew from his grip a pocket flask and handed it to the sufferer. The spasmodic cough ceased for a moment, and a familiar voice said:

"My friend, I hail from the state of Maine and believe in total abstinence. I can't take a drink, but I'll just swallow a few drops as medicine."

The car was almost deserted after we left Biddeford, and another change came over the unfortunate representative of prohibition. In a very low tone he asked a question of the conductor, who replied by shaking his head decidedly. Then the man from Maine went forward into the baggage car and returned with a pale, haggard face.

Bringing out the flask I had filled at Boston, and unscrewing the top, I said, "Stranger, will you join me?"

"Thanks, very much," he replied; "I am a Maine man—"

As the train slowed up at Portland, the remainder of his sentence was drowned in the gurgling sound that flowed gently and smoothly as in a familiar channel.

Has Offensive Meaning

In English history the term "cabal" has been applied to the cabinet of Charles II, the word cabal being formed from the initials of the names of the members—Clifford, Ashley, the duke of Buckingham, Arlington, and the duke of Lauderdale. The word has, therefore, come to mean a clique working together and employing questionable means to attain their end.

BUSINESS MEN CONTRIBUTE TO Y. M. C. A. FUND

Urban Williams, state secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Texas, and J. M. Manuel, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. have been interviewing the business interests of Big Spring the past two days relative to securing more funds to carry out the work of the "Y."

They report the business men responding very liberally, most of them have doubled the amounts contributed last year, and many doing even more than this.

The funds collected are being divided 50-50 between the local and the parent organization. They will not be able to see all the business men just at this time but Mr. Manuel plans to give everyone interested in the youth of our city to make a donation to help carry on the important work the Y. M. C. A. is doing and expects to do.

If we did not have a "Y" we would gladly dig up a big bonus to secure one for we know their work. We have a "Y" so let us make it bigger and better by giving it our local support and cooperation.

Mrs. M. Weisen left Wednesday evening in answer to a message that her little grandson, Robert Weisen of Ranger was in a critical condition, suffering from a relapse after an attack of pneumonia.

HARLEY SADLER WILL BE HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

Next week is Thanksgiving week, and along with the many other blessings that we have to be thankful for, comes another. This one is the advent of Harley Sadler and his own company to our city, who will spend Thanksgiving week here giving performances each night in his big tent theatre. Harley Sadler is the renowned comedian of the State, because of his rare ability in handling the red-headed Toby parts, and he is indeed the favorite show man that visits our city.

Sadler brings with him on this tour of the state, a cast of thirty-five people, who appear in plays that are new and different. He includes in his company only people who are above reproach, and who are morally and mentally straight. The plays that he present deal with humanity. They call forth a sigh, a smile, a tear, and streams of laughter, and each one has a good moral ending. Between acts, good wholesome comedy is furnished for entertainment. He brings with him a band who will give a concert on Main street Monday afternoon at four o'clock, and which plays in front of the tent each evening before the opening of the performance.

Harley Sadler needs no introduction to the people of our town, and community. He is well known and many of his friends look forward to this week of entertainment with much pleasure.

BE AT CENTER POINT SUNDAY

Public School Day will be observed at the Baptist church at Center Point from 10 a. m. to 12 m. on next Sunday.

A fine program consisting of songs, readings, etc., will be presented.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

In a recent address, President Coolidge said: "Whether one traces his Americanism back three centuries to the Mayflower, or three years to the steerage, is not half so important as whether his Americanism of today is real and genuine. No matter by what various crafts we came here, we are all now in the same boat."

PRESBYTERIAN AUX. NOTES

A meeting of the Presbyterian Auxiliary will be held at the church next Monday at a o'clock.

This is a regular business session and all members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Mary E. Russell left Friday evening for an extended visit in Terre Haute, Indiana.

Are You Fair to our home town Merchants?

When money is slack; when crops fail; when credit is needed it is the home town merchant whom we seek for friendly service. He tides us over with credit; he charges no interest; he provides us with reliable, guaranteed merchandise fairly priced.

In short, he "holds the bag for us." That is why he deserves all our patronage in times of plenty as well as in days of stress.

And isn't it a pity that there are many who use him only as a leaning post — to tide them over the slack days and use their cash to fill the coffers of the big town mail order houses who wouldn't trust them over night — with, or without interest.

We all need that merchant — we need his confidence, his friendship. Our town needs his enterprise — the service he renders in handling only guaranteed, first-grade goods that he here to stand back of day in and day out.

Let's give him our cash when we have it. Let's pay his bills as promptly as we can. Let's earn and merit, the confidence he has placed in us and in our community. Let's support him — we need him and he needs us, our trade, and our unselfish good will.

HARLEY SADLER ALL NEXT WEEK

November in Texas

By Phebe K. Warner

Every month in the year has its special charms and duties. But is there another month in the whole year in Texas so full of beauty and interest as NOVEMBER.

First of all there is the gathering of the crops. That's not always a pleasant job, but it is a most happy job when there is anything to gather. And Texas never fails to have good crops somewhere to gather. And the gathering of crops is one job everyone loves in proportion to its size. The bigger the crops the happier the toilers, for every bale of cotton, every bushel of grain and every bundle of feed means more comfort and happiness for the people.

But it is not only the quantity of grain and cotton and food that counts but it is the climax of the year. November tells the tale of our whole year's work. It is the time of victory or defeat. November sits on her golden throne like the Supreme Judge of all Nature and passes the final decision on our year's efforts. This is true only in the world of Nature. But to a very great degree the success of every human being depends upon Nature's decision at her November court, for after all everybody's pay must spring first of all from the soil.

Two Great Holidays

But there are other reasons for November being a great month. Two of the greatest celebrations come in November. One is strictly an American creation. The other is a world-wide holiday. Thanksgiving has become one of the most loved days of all the year. Our Pilgrim Fathers recognized the blessings of November long years ago and created a day of Thanksgiving at the close of their first year's crop. Herein is a lesson for every discouraged Texan this year. If you feel that Nature has forgotten you this year and that your efforts have not been crowned with the usual amount of success and glory, think of the Pilgrim Fathers on the cold shores of the Atlantic Coast, three hundred years ago. You are living in Texas today because of their sacrifices. They gave thanks because they were still alive. How about you?

Armistice Day

The world-wide holiday in November is a day that will grow in meaning as the years go by. Not many of us ever did appreciate the meaning of the words, "World War." It was too far away from the most of us to make much of an impression on anybody but those who suffered. Eight million of our homes will always remember Armistice Day. They offered and gave something worth while to the cause of world peace. But there are more than twenty-six million homes that gave only time and money to the cause of world peace. Most of them have forgotten it. But the world that suffered will never forget and November 11 will some day be the greatest world-wide day, save Christmas.

National Education Week

But November has more than DAYS. November has WEEKS and this is National Educational Week. What's that? A whole week of time set apart by our Government for the sole purpose of talking EDUCATION: And what does education mean? Not just better schools but better homes and better babies and better health and better farming and better communities. This week is being observed by every progressive community, town and city in the United States to promote its educational interests. You are expected to think education, talk education, plan education, work for education for all the people—old and young, rich and poor—for through education and training only can we hope to build a more efficient Nation.

When God created man he gave him two great parts. A body and a mind. He intended both these essential parts of every man and every woman to be developed equally and simultaneously, so that each might serve all mankind. Which have you given most attention and food in your own case? Your body or your mind? Educational Week is to call your attention to your own mind. Are you giving it a square deal? Are you giving it a chance to do its best

You Can be Relieved of This Load

Most men work hard for what they have, and therefore they should not spend it foolishly. Winter time demands added expense for clothing—but there is no reason why it should drag anyone in debt, if they will invest wisely.

We have values in our store that can be bought at a moderate price but have wearing qualities that pay twice their cost. This is the kind of purchases to invest in.

SUITS FOR MEN AND BOYS

Many practical and well appearing patterns in stock, styled along the newest lines and made to stand hard wear. Look at what we have, before you buy elsewhere.

Ready-to-Wear For Ladies

Beautiful fur-trimmed coats in all the new colors with linings in harmonizing shades. Each one can find just the one to suit her.

A complete line of ladies and misses dresses that are up to date, and made in wool, and silk materials.

Also, Sweaters, Slippers, Hose and Underwear for the ladies are in stock.

PHOENIX and HUMMING BIRD hose can't be beat in price and quality — and can be had in several different colors.

The Grand Leader

VICTOR MELLINGER, Proprietor

MELLINGER ALWAYS SELLS IT FOR LESS

to serve your body and your family and your community? Educational Week is for you and you and you and every one of us. It is a national command from our Government to stop a few minutes in the midst of life's duties and listen to the inward pleadings of our own MIND for a square deal at our own hands. How many of you are starving your mind to gratify some other part of nature not half so important to your well being and future safety? Think about it this week.

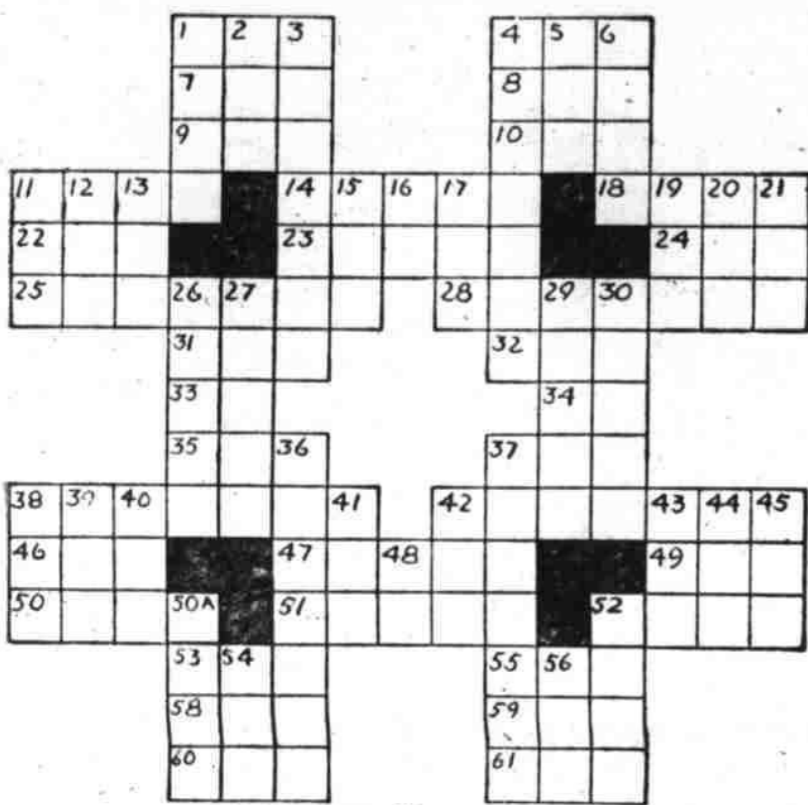

Two Great Meetings

Another thing that always happens in Texas in November is two great meetings. The State Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and the State Convention of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The first of these was held last week in Austin and was the greatest gathering of its kind in the history of the Federation. Nearly four hundred Texas women met in their capital city in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol to discuss the women's work in Texas. Topics of interest to every citizen in the State were discussed. Wonderful work that is being done in every part of the State for the betterment of the home, the community, the county, the town and city, and the State at large filled the five days to overflowing. Beside a convention week it was like a week of Chautauqua with the best speakers from all over the State and several of National renown. The most outstanding features of the convention were PEACE and the HOME. These factors were interwoven through the entire week. The crowning appeal for the American Home was made by Mrs. John D. Sherman, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The climax of the week's work for peace was reached in the address of Dr. Harvey of New York City, who gave a masterpiece on the "Cause and Cure of War." This week the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teacher Association holding their annual convention in El Paso. In this convention chief theme will be the Children of the Twentieth Century has been chosen by some of our ablest thinkers. The Children's Century. The Meeting will prove this in Texas. If the pastime of State and Nation would attend these November meetings might be convinced that the NOT going to the bad but the good is being accomplished this day for all humanity that is before in history. It is only fitting that these great events should also come in November that the women of Texas gather in the reports of the work for the home, the school and the State at this period of the year.

Stomach Distress?

Galveston, Texas.—"One year ago I was suffering with indigestion. Everything I ate hurt me and I had almost constant headache. I tried several remedies which did me no good. Then I decided to try Dr. Pierce's medicine. I took the Golden Medical Discovery, which was highly recommended for stomach trouble, and the Favorite Prescription, a celebrated feminine tonic, and I improved right from the start, and by the time I had taken a few bottles I was well."

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Thanksgiving Services will be held at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, November 25th at the First Christian church.

Because so few have found it convenient to attend the services of the morning of Thanksgiving Day, it was decided that the services be held on Wednesday evening.

Rev. R. L. Owen will deliver the sermon of this occasion. A special song service will also be prepared.

A free-will offering for the United Charities Association of our city will be made at this service.

Everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

J. R. GALLEMORE, INSURANCE

This is to notify friends and patrons, that I have taken over the insurance business formerly conducted by my father, A. J. Gallemore, and I expect to give my entire time and attention to the conduct of this business. I will do everything in my power to merit a continuation of your valued patronage and I want you to give me a chance to prove I will look after your best interests.

I handle all kinds of insurance and you will always find me ready and willing to treat you right. When in need of insurance, I would appreciate an opportunity to discuss this business with you.

J. R. (Roger) GALLEMORE

Every life is its own excuse for being, and to deny or refute the untrue things that are said of you is an error in judgment. All wrong recoils upon the doer, and the man who makes wrong statements about others is himself to be pitied, not the man he vilifies. It is better to be lied about than to lie. KNOTT ITEMS

The organization of a Parent-Teacher Association was effected at the school house Friday afternoon during a mass meeting assembled for that purpose. Much interest was manifested by those present when the scope and extent of the work was made known. One of the first objectives of the new organization is a community banquet at which it is hoped that every friend of education and community progress will be gathered. It is thought by the members of the association that when all the people of the community sit down side by side and stick their feet under the hospitable board of the P-T A that all differences will be forgotten in the friendship and good cheer that will envelope the banquet. It is also hoped that under the influence and spell of the occasion the entire strength of the community may be enlisted in a high and intelligent move for educational and community advancement.

The date of the banquet is the evening of the 26th. The Knott Parent Teacher Association specifically invites all to attend this Thanksgiving feast. Let the community come and render thanks together. There will be songs, music, and entertainment for all. The P-T A will give a little play, entitled "How the Story Grew."

The following are the officers and members of the organization: president, Mrs. Lee Castle; secretary, Mrs. S. T. Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. F. O. Shortes.

AUTO OWNERS READ THIS

The attention of all owners of motor vehicles and motorcycles is called to the following provision of the Texas Automobile Headlight Law:

"Section 16. Before any county tax collector shall issue a certificate of registration to the owner of a motor vehicle or motorcycle as now provided by law, he shall require the presentation of a certificate showing that the headlights of such motor vehicle or motorcycle have been tested and adjusted at some one of the county test stations referred to, and that said test and adjustment have been made within the 30-day period just preceding the date of application for registration."

Since headlamps must be adjusted within thirty days of the date of registration of the cars, approximately two months will be available for the pre-registration tests. Considering extreme cases, for example, if a car is registered on January 1, the owner will have had thirty days in which to have the headlamps adjusted, and if registration is made on January 31, practically the whole month of January will have been available. In other words, the certificate of adjustment must not be over thirty days old at the time the car is registered. Of course, most motorists will have their headlamps adjusted about the time of registration.

Motorists are requested to begin registration at the earliest possible time and not wait until the latter part of January. Early registration will help the Tax Collector tremendously, and will save time for the motorist. The regular registration period will begin in this county about December 1, 1925, and will extend thru January, 1926.

FLORENCE ALICE HARRIS DEAD

Funeral services for little Florence Alice Harris, seven years, eleven months and four days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harris of Stanton, were conducted in this city at the graveside in Mt. Olive cemetery at four o'clock Saturday afternoon. Inflammatory rheumatism caused by diseased tonsils, from which the little one suffered for about a week, was given as the cause of her death. All that medical aid and loving hands could do was done for the child, proved of no avail in combating the malady, and she passed away at the home of a near relative in this city at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

J. Homer Davis, pastor of the Church of Christ, conducted the services and the body was in charge of the Eberley Undertaking Co. Deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harris, two brothers, a sister, and other relatives who mourn the loss of this loved one. Heartfelt sympathy goes out to the bereaved ones in this sad hour.

Hunters should practice the Golden Rule on their hunting trips. Don't invade a man's place without getting his permission. You would not want the other fellow to do this if you were the land owner. Irresponsible hunters kill and wound many head of livestock each year and that is one reason so many ranchmen are compelled to post their ranches. If you are willing to do the right thing it is not difficult to secure permission to hunt on many ranches in this county. Play fair if you expect to be treated right.

It's probably costing you something to see this eclipse

THE regular fall eclipse of the sun is here. Now the lazy sun rises later and sets earlier. There are more hours of darkness, more hours when you use electric light—and therefore something added on your bill.

MRS. VICKERS GREAT IMITATOR:
WILL APPEAR HERE FRIDAY

Big Spring people will get a good laugh the night of Friday, Nov. 27. In fact, the people of this city are guaranteed hearty laughter or they'll get their money back.

Creola Richbough Vickers will give a concert at the Courthouse for benefit of Central School Parent-Teacher Association, at 7:30 o'clock. The admission fee in Big Spring will be 15 cents for children and 35 cents for adults. This same concert was given in Waco, Dallas, Amarillo and other large cities at 50 cents to 75 cents for admission.

The concert to be given by Creola Richbough Vickers is not the usual "cut and dried" recital. Her program includes funny imitations of the country man; she mimics the Irishman, the Scotchman, the Italian, the old negro mammy. She sings and gives characterizations. People who don't enjoy the concert will have their money refunded on request.

WHY SHY OF 13?

Why look askance at the figure "thirteen"? There were originally thirteen colonies. That fact didn't hoodoo us. There are thirteen stripes in our flag, and it is a mighty good flag at that. Our Declaration of Independence was signed by thirteen patriots. In our National coat-of-arms the eagle holds an olive branch of thirteen leaves in his right talon and in his left talon a sheaf of thirteen arrows. In the field above the eagle's head there are thirteen stars. Our National motto, "E Pluribus Unum," contains thirteen letters. If you have a silver dollar or a half-dollar, explain it to your neighbors—also how you got it.—Facts and Fiction.

It seems difficult to interest our folks in providing a community chest to take care of worthy cases of charity, yet by such a plan we could rid our town of many professional beggars and fakirs and handle the worthy charity cases more economically.

DO WE HAVE THE COURAGE?

Do we have the courage, or the sense, to face our own shortcomings to admit to ourselves and to all concerned our errors and mistakes?

If we do not have, there is little chance that we shall ever be much better equipped to fight our battles than we are today.

Only obstinacy refuses to confess error and only vanity declines to admit defeat. Obstinacy and vanity are drags upon the chariot of progress. Unless we cut them loose we do not get very far.

The same truth holds for the individual, the group, the community, the nation. History is replete with instances of fine heads battered against the impenetrable wall of unalterable fact, of fine causes lost by enthusiasts who clung tenaciously to original error, of cities stunted because they were too proud to change habits, of nations wrecked upon the shoals of their selfish desire.

It is not enough merely to see ourselves as others see us. It is probable that others do not see us as we are, though their appraisal is likely to be more nearly accurate than our own when we are blinded by stubbornness and self-conceit. What is important is that our sole pride in opinion be a pride in seeking the right opinion, that our sole pride in doing be a pride in trying to do as well as we can.

There is no shame in admitting failure or mistake, either to ourselves or to observers. We can not long delude those who watch, and they will respect us the more highly if we frankly confess, when we miff the ball, that it was our fault.

As long as we are not too vain to face the facts of our conduct there is hope for us. But we will never be useful to our teammates in life as long as we hypnotize ourselves into belief that we have made a home run with the bases full after we have just struck out.—Corsicana Sun.

WHY NOT WOOLEN AND MOHAIR MILLS FOR TEXAS

They are bringing the cotton mills to the cotton fields. Why not bring the woolen and mohair mills to the sheep and goat country?

Texas leads all States in the production of wool and mohair, producing 80 per cent of the mohair of the country. Fortunately, the sheep and goat country of the State is supplied with its liveliest running streams. High bluffs on each side with rock foundations for dams should make attractive locations for mills to be operated by water power. Bringing cotton mills to Texas is a splendid business move. To card and spin wool near the source of supply with an abundance of cheap water power, and with oil and gas in other sections of the State, should prove as good a proposition, and benefit both to producers and consumers.

It took something of a campaign to start the cotton mills in Texas. Perhaps the same effort on the part of wool and mohair producers would bring equally as good results. The Southwest is a consumer of woolen goods. Perhaps not in the quantities consumed in colder climates, but enough to make the local demand worth while. The Southwest is also a heavy consumer of mohair in its various forms of manufacture, and undoubtedly it would be cheaper to ship the finished product to other markets than it is to ship the raw material.

While our chambers of commerce are talking industries for the Southwest, why not give greater consideration to the use of raw material produced on the farms and ranches? When talking cotton mills for the Southwest, why not also talk about woolen and mohair mills?—Farm and Ranch.

If the goose-bone prophets continue to prophesy a severe winter and a cold summer from year to year, they are almost certain to make a bull's eye finally. We have enough troubles right now without worrying about what may happen in the future.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS AND SMALL CITY SCHOOLS

More than 500 county superintendents of schools have recently sent to the Bureau of Education, U. S. Department of the Interior, reports concerning the educational work under their supervision. These reports covering about one-sixth of the rural territory of the United States are fairly representative of school conditions in the open country, country villages and small cities of less than 2,500 population. Only the cost per pupil in 1924 will be noted here.

For the entire country the average cost per pupil was $68 in the one-teacher schools, the schools of two or more teachers in the open country, the consolidated schools and those in villages where at least 50 per cent of the enrollment came from farm homes. These groups combined make up the rural schools.

In the same counties in the large villages and small cities where less than 50 per cent of the enrollment came from farm homes the average cost per pupil was $101.

Dividing the whole country into four geographical divisions it appears that in the North Atlantic division the average cost per pupil was $69 in the rural schools and $85 in the larger villages and small city schools.

In the North Central division the average cost per pupil was $78 in the rural schools and $111 in the larger villages and small cities.

In the two Southern divisions combined the average cost per pupil was $34 in the rural schools and $44 in the larger villages and small cities.

In the Western division the average cost per pupil was $97 in the rural schools and $117 in the larger villages and small cities.

One dangerous sign of the times is that the people, when the expense of any system or policy is mooted, are satisfied with the reply, "The State bears the expense," or "The Federal Government bears the expense," or "They divide it between them," and the fact is that, disguise or divide any expense which comes out of either the State or National treasury as we may, the people inevitably pay for it, directly or indirectly.—From an Editorial, Houston Chronicle.

THANKS TO FEDERATED CLUB CONVENTION

Last week, at the annual meeting of the Federated Clubs, held in Austin, they voted to take the Park Program Bill under their care, and use their influence on behalf of its passage, when the Legislature meets. This guarantees the success of the Park Bill.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution, at their annual meeting, at Mineral Wells, endorsing the Park system, and about fifty smaller organizations have passed similar resolutions, since the Legislature adjourned.

There will probably be a Regional Park Conference held in January at some convenient point in West Texas, for the West half of Texas, West half of Oklahoma, all of New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, and probably another one at Texarkana or Paris, for the East half of Texas, East half of Oklahoma, all of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

These conferences will be attended by the officials of the National Conference on State Parks, and Governors of the different States, together with the Park Boards, and the Park Associations.

The conferences will be for the expressed purpose of discussing the best methods of securing, improving and maintaining State Parks, which will be of vital interest to all States, all voters, all tourists and everybody else.

Howard county is not going to make quite as much cotton as she did last year, but our county is not going to fall down in production as much as many counties throughout the state will this season. It is stated that some counties on the plains will make just about half as many bales as they produced in 1924.

It surely would be fine if we could carry out a campaign to have some trees planted along the Bankhead Highway in our county. Trees surely do look good to the majority of tourists, especially as it is practically a treeless country from here to California, with two or three small oaks boasting of trees, outside of the trees to be found in the cities along the route. Mesquite, hackberry or China trees would prove the best as they seem to thrive in this section and with the least care and attention.

BENEFITS DERIVED FROM SLEEPING OUT OF DOORS

D. E. Breed, Executive Secretary, Texas Public Health Association urges everyone to sleep out doors and receive the benefits that are to be derived from breathing fresh air. Night air, in spite of the theories of our grandparents, is just as healthful as day air. It is even more purifying, for it is less laden with dust and humidity. Cold air, moreover, according to recent experiments, has been found to be even more health-giving than warm air.

There are four factors that make outdoor air a healthful tonic, according to Mr. Breed. It must be at the proper temperature, not too high nor too low. There must be the proper balance of humidity. The air must be in motion and it must have variability, or change. Within the closed room there can never be the proper combination of these four factors. Ventilation specialists who have been working on this matter for years have concluded that there is no artificial device which can combine the right variability, motion, temperature and humidity. The best air to breathe at all times is fresh outdoor air.

For those that do not have a sleeping porch the most practical way to bring in the fresh air is through the windows, opened top and bottom. Cross ventilation is thereby obtained and this keeps the air in motion. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are largely responsible for the increased recognition of the value of fresh air.

West Texas National Bank Building, Room 4.

Our front is full of apples, but we still have lots of bargains in furniture just back of them. Come in and look it over, pick up an apple to eat while you look around; the apple is on me. J. R. CREATH.
P. S.: We have sweet potatoes too, yes, and mountain cabbage.

A special train passed thru this city Sunday evening enroute for Van Horn, where J. A. Somerville, general manager of the Texas and Pacific, other officials of the T. & P. and some oil company officials will enjoy a deer hunt in the Davis Mountains.

The street signs which had been installed by the city last week, were taken down for remodeling. The upright posts were to be cut in half, the sign board made smaller and the signs and posts to be painted before they were put up again, so 'tis said.

Ed Allen arrived Monday from Altus, Okla., and will again make his home in this city. Ed will be associated with his father, W. B., and his brother, Will, in conducting the Allen sandwich shops in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McIntosh of the Center Point community are receiving the congratulations of friends upon the arrival of a bouncing boy at the home Tuesday, November 10.

Bring the family to Gulley and Robinson Cafe Sunday, Nov. 22. A good dinner four bits, plenty of music.—advertisement.

Thanksgiving Day

MOST of all, that thankful dawn when all America from coast to coast communes in spirit, giving thanks as did that little band of Pilgrims centuries ago, for the hand that has guided us through the years of ever increasing prosperity and success.

On this day the Albert M. Fisher Co. extends a happy Thanksgiving to all.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Springman of this city, and Joseph Gregory and Fred Watkins of Washington, D. C., returned Wednesday from a hunting trip in Southwest Texas. They report a fine trip, with plenty of turkey, deer and fish for their trouble. Messrs. Gregory and Watkins fell in love with West Texas and it would not be surprising if they decided to make their home here.

Christmas Cards
