

"BIG STEVE" IS KICKING HIGH

L. A. Stephenson, Meadow Coach, was kicking rather high when this picture was taken. "Big Steve" as the other boys called him, was Captain of the West Texas Buffalos and led them to a victorious season. Coach and the boys are also kicking just a bit high this week when they go to Morton to take on a class A team. Just how much success they will have in the higher competition will be determined by how well they carry out the assignments Stephenson has given them.

Funeral Held For W. F. Mosteller

W. F. Mosteller, 67, passed away at the family home in Meadow Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 24th, after an illness of several months.

Surviving are his wife, seven daughters, four sons, and a large number of other relatives.

For a number of years he preached for the Pentecostal people, and traveled extensively carrying on his ministerial work, until recently he was forced to retire by poor health.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the Methodist Church with Rev. G. P. Moore of Brownfield conducting. Burial was in Meadow cemetery.

The Star extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Congressman Mahon Observes War Games Now Going On In Louisiana

Nathan Chesshir To Manage Smith Gin

Bill Smith, owner of the gin here by his name, informed a representative of the Star that he has engaged Nathan Chesshir to manage and operate the plant here. Other employees of the gin will be Robert Finley, book keeper; Jack Shaw, ginner and engineer; Fred Finley, pressman; and Jake Benson, suction man.

Mr. Smith has gone to a great expense putting the plant in A-1 condition. A Twin City engine, to be powered by natural gas has been installed. It is claimed to be one of the most efficient types of powering gin machinery. The cotton house, which formerly held only about 15 bales, has been enlarged to the present capacity of near 100 bales. A nice office has been erected separate from the gin, near the road.

Nathan invites the farmers of the community to come around and inspect the plant since they have repaired and remodeled it, and then decide where you want to do your ginning.

George Mahon, Congressman from this District, was back in his Washington office this week after having spent three weeks visiting in various portions of his District.

Early last week while en route to Washington, he visited Army maneuvers in Louisiana where a half million soldiers are engaged in mock warfare for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of our armed forces. Mahon reported that he saw a few of the enlisted men from the 19th Texas District.

In commenting on the maneuvers, Mahon said that the West Texas boys were measuring up to their full responsibility. "It is not a pleasant task for the boys to face the severe hardships occasioned by the maneuvers," he said, "but I can testify from observation that the boys can really take it. The thing that impressed me most was the physical toughness and the high moral quality of the men. The modern youth does not lack the physical stamina and the hardihood of his predecessors.

"The soldiers are the ones, and about the only ones, who are making real sacrifices for national defense. They deserve 100 percent cooperation from labor and capital and from the people generally."

Mahon is a member of the War Department Appropriations Committee, and he visited the maneuvers in company with Army officials and other Committee members.

Football Field Set With Grass

Last week the high school boys were busy working on the football field setting out grass, and after so long a time of wishful thinking the Bonchos will have a sodded gridiron. These rains of the past few days have done it no harm. Water lines have been put down, so that the field may be watered.

GUESS WHO

A number of years ago the Star carried a feature, which, for lack of a better name we called Guess Who. Several have asked that we again take up the practice, so here goes.

A man about town, connected with a business and school. You will find him taking a part in almost every move for the betterment of the community. Especially interested in sports. Not large enough to be a man, and too old to be a boy.

This one is easy. A harder one next week.

NOTICE

Every member of the Baptist Church is specially urged to be at Church every Sunday in order to select your pastor from among those preaching each Sunday. Preaching next Sunday by Rev. Cobb of Andrews. Pulpit Committee.

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hester on the birth of a daughter, Monday, Sept. 22.

New Cafe Being Erected

Mrsrs. R. A. Locker of Brownfield and L. W. Locker of Oregon have purchased Cafe fixtures and some lots on the highway from T. E. Verner, and are erecting a nice building, which we understand will house a Cafe when completed. They also plan building some cabins as soon as they can get the cafe opened, we have been informed.

Meadow To Have Booth At Fair

Women of the Meadow Home Demonstration Club have been busy this week collecting some of the fine farm products grown in the Meadow community, to be exhibited in the Terry County Fair this week end. The ladies say they will not be satisfied with less than first place on their booth.

Try Meadow First

Plenty of action and thrills are in store for rodeo fans during the 28th annual fair in Lubbock, Oct. 6 to 11. Six big all star programs are scheduled, one each night before the large grandstand. Shown above is a larrupin' cowboy on the hurricane deck of "Hellsinki" one of the many rough and tough bronchs that will be in the ring. A full slate of bronc busting, steer riding, roping and bulldogging is on tap.

Local Girl To Sing On KFYO Sunday

Miss Mattie D. McCallister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McCallister of Route One is to sing on the Musical Roundup Program from KFYO Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The musical roundup boys were sponsored by the business men here Friday night, and drew a very large crowd. Several persons participated in the home talent part of the musical, but the most outstanding persons were Miss McCallister and Miss Joyce Stephenson, both of them proving themselves to be singers with outstanding talent. Tom Biggs, the MC on the program requested Meadow people to send in cards to the radio station, stating which of the girls they preferred to represent Meadow in the contest to be held between representatives from a large number of South Plains towns.

Southland Lucks Out On Meadow

Two hard luck plays on a muddy field cost the Meadow Mustangs a football game Friday afternoon with the Southland Eagles. Meadow out played Southland all over the field, which was not indicated by the 6 to 0 score in Southland's favor.

The field was very slick, making play extremely slow. In the first half the boys fought it out pretty evenly. Meadow made the first down just before the ending of the first quarter. In the second quarter they made a first down each.

In the last half Meadow boys opened up and made five first downs, to none for the opposition. About middle of the last period Meadow marched down on Southland, but lost the ball on fourth down. Southland tried to carry out but to no avail. They kicked a very nice punt backing Meadow to their own 20. Meadow did no good and attempted to punt out but was blocked by Southland behind the line of scrimmage, and they took over on the Meadow 8 yard line. A quick pass, which Bert Smith almost intercepted, but could not hold, was completed, and Southland had 6 points, the attempted extra point was no good. Soon after this the gun ended the game.

Edward Warren, the 210 tackle for Meadow was by far the most outstanding player in the game. He was in the Southland back field every play, and was largely responsible for the fact that Southland did not make a 1st down in the last half of the game. All of the boys tackled unusually hard for Meadow players, and looked fair in their blocking under the prevailing condition.

The starting lineup was: Beasley, Peugh, Yowell, and Smith, backs; Finley and Liles, ends; Warren and Upton, tackles; Fox and Mitchell, guards; and Moorhead center. Other boys who were used quite a bit in the game were: Price, Tilger, Gibson, Moore and Freeman.

They play Morton this afternoon, in Morton.

A BIT OF FUN

Noticing a terrible commotion in the vicinity of the Preston Hester Garage Tuesday afternoon, we waked down that way, and the excitement was being caused by none other than Pres himself. The garage had several cars in it, and Pres would take one of them, drive it out side, and up and down the stree several times, then put it back in the Garage, and do the same thing with another, until he had tried about every one of them, but the sad part about it, he was so excited, that every time he attempted to drive them in or out of the big door, he either smashed up a fender or two, or stripped off the hub caps. The mechanics saw he was tearing up all the cars, so made a desperate effort to stop him. Finally, when they got him quieted down enough that he could talk, they asked him what was the matter? All he could say was, "It's another girl."

What About The Girls?

While about every sport fan in the community is interested in the showing the football boys are making, and are very anxious to see them win the conference this year, we have not heard much about the girls. They also have a new coach this year, in the person of Mr. Howell, the new high school principal. In conversation with Mr. Howell a few days ago he informed us that a large group of girls were taking physical training. At the present they are playing volley ball, but will soon start baske ball.

As Meadow has gained state wide recognition with girl basketees, we often hear the question asked, "How will Meadow girls be this year?" The prospects are bright. Several of the letter "men" from last year's team should be stars this year, and then there are some coming up from the reserves of last year who should be in there holding down regular positions. Watch for more news ab ut these girls.

Ready To Go

The Star editor was over at the Farmer's Gin one afternoon this week, and the boys over there say they have the gin in the best repair [than it has been in a number of years and all they are waiting on is some cotton. Louis Peeler is the manager this season.

The Meadow Home Demonstration Club was entertained by the Johnson Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon, September 19 in their community building.

A welcoming song by the Johnson Club was followed games of 42, after which refreshments of punch, sandwiches, ice cream, and cake were served to Mesdames. Locke, Bell, Richie, Moss, Wossum, Doak, Fulford, Pendergrass and Richards. A nice time was had by all.

B. F. Donowho and J. T. Renfro of the United States Army are visiting friends and relatives here.

C. R. Lackey, manager of the Lackey Chevrolet Company has had workmen busy about his place of late, building a very nice business stand along the east side of his filling station. At the time we questioned him he would not say just exactly what kind of business he intended opening, but hinted that it might be a cafe. Lackey sells and distributes Texaco products, and in connection with the station he operates a Garage, with Roy Baker as mechanic.

Study Club (Delayed)

The Meadow Study Club held its initial meeting Sept. 11, 1941 at 4:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. John Cadenhead. The following members answered roll call: Mesdames Burleson, Cadenhead, Copeland, Hand, Hartzog, Hedgpeth, Hinson, Lackey, Mitchell, Padgett, Peeler, Rackley, Russell, Sharp, Toombs, and Zachry. The program consisted of an inspiring welcome from the new club president, Mrs. Chas. Padgett and an effective parliamentary drill conducted by Mrs. Olive Rackley. The hostess served a lovely plate in the red white, and blue color scheme. The theme around which the Study Club programs are built for the current years is: "Our Environment: Ideals and realities." Surely no club member can attend without realizing some lasting good from the careful study of such a subject. - Reporter

NOT TO BE NEGLECTED!

Service at sea involves all sort of odd and dangerous jobs, especially on that bucking bronco of the high seas, the destroyer. Here two Polish sailors are making a running repair on the paravane gear of their new destroyer, O.R.P. PIORUN, which was turned over to them by the British Government to take the place of a Polish vessel lost off the coast of Norway. The paravane — it's that finny, torpedo-like body in the foreground — is a hollow float which is towed along beside the destroyer to detect and snap the anchor cables of lurking mines.

Did You Say Talent?

Folks, if you have been wondering lo, these many years, just what E. H. Jones is talented at, you should have been in town the early part of the week, and you could have observed him applying that talent. He has been very busy painting the woodwork of his hardware store. We also notice that he has been painting his home in the south part of town during his off hours from the store.

He has one of the finest and most complete line of hardware and implement repairs you will find anywhere in towns of this size, and better than those in towns much larger. They have just recently received a large stock of cotton pickers supplies, as well as binder repairs.

Hungry?

If you are hungry and want some wholesome, refreshing food that will hold you up where you can do a days work, Mrs. Robert Finley says for you to come over to their Cafe on the Highway and they have what you need. They have recently rearranged their grocery and station, and are now operating a cafe in the building, which is very spic and span, and as clean as a new dollar. Regardless of what your products are, the most inviting quality of business is neatness.

Gin Repaired

J. M. Burlison, manager of the West Texas Gin here has been spending quite a bit of his time this summer supervising the overhauling of the machinery so that they may be equipped to put out the best possible service to the farmers when ginning time rolls around. HE says it is the best gin on the Plains. They have also been making some additions and changes on the buildings lately.

Would you like to have a community house? Think it over.
