

Personally Speaking

By E. M.

Most people know that the late Thomas A. Edison perfected the incandescent light some fifty-two years ago but it takes a Darrouzett school child to tell us that Benjamin Franklin "invented" electricity and that Eli Whitney "discovered" the cotton gin.

And the poet-shepherd David who immortalized the music in his soul in the Psalms would probably be surprised to hear the Twenty-third psalm quoted:

"Thou anointest my hair with oil;
My head runneth over."

The modern version of the Mother Goose nursery rhymes reads:

"Oud mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard
For something to quench her thirst
When she got there
The cupboard was bare—
Her husband had been there first!"
As for the dog, he doesn't even figure at all. The depression! The depression!

What a colorful month is October! Its coming brings crisp cool fall days, scarlet and golden brown leaves, frosty mornings and cold nights. It is the month of grinning jack-o-lanterns, black cats, and bats, yellow cornstalks and spooky witches-on-brooms.

October also brings Fire Prevention week from the fourth to the tenth, the anniversary of the discovery of America on the twelfth, and Halloween on the thirty-first.

Presidents both during October include O'Rutherford B. Hayes, John Adams, C. A. Arthur and Theodore Roosevelt. Other noted people born in this month are the writers, Helen Hunt Jackson and George Washington Cable, William Penn of Philadelphia, the great actress Sarah Bernhardt, and Noah Webster of dictionary fame.

There is something intoxicating in the October air that makes one long to forget all duties and responsibilities and leave them far behind some misty blue morning to go a-gypsysing with the wild west wind. Possibly the Canadian poet, Bliss Carman, has that feeling crystallized into words better than anyone else in his poem "A Vagabond Song":

"There is something in the autumn
That is native to my blood—
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and
The crimson-keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of bugles going by,
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like a smoke
Upon the hills.

There is something in October sets the gypsy blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name."

Great Genius Passes On Sunday

Sunday morning saw the end of the long and useful life of Thomas Alva Edison, inventor, who has made life more comfortable for millions of people.
 The funeral on Wednesday was to be in the fifty-second anniversary of Mr. Edison's perfection of the incandescent light which is considered among the greatest of the 1,300 odd patents to his credit.
 The value of Mr. Edison's inventions to mankind has been roughly estimated to be fifteen billions of dollars.
 Mr. Edison is one of the few geniuses whose worth was appreciated during his life time. It is logical to believe that he will go down in history as one of the greatest men of all time.

Fire Prevention 52 Weeks Each Year

Some excellent points concerning fire protection serving to bring public attention the desirability of using every precaution to reduce fire hazards were brought out during the National Fire Prevention Week which has just closed.
 Valuable as these are it should be remembered that fire-prevention is an all year problem and that all possible means should be used to impress upon everyone the necessity for constant vigilance and carefulness during the other fifty-one weeks as well.
 Statistics show that about 12,000 human lives and nearly half a billion dollars' worth of property are lost each year largely as a result of carelessness about fire.
 Approximately thirty-one percent of the fire victims are children. For this reason it is especially important that children both at home and at school should be taught to be careful about fires. This education should be stressed, not merely during the Fire Prevention Week in October, but during the other fifty-one weeks thruout the year.

LIFE

By MILDRED J. SPEER

Today, life is all joy;
 We shout, and play, and sing,
 And love, and eat, and sleep;
 Tears are but drifting clouds
 To make the sunshine sweet.

On the next longer day
 Life seems all seriousness;
 We study, and work, and gang,
 And fight, and yet worship
 Our heros from afar.

On the most brilliant day
 We drift and love, and choose,
 And marry, and build, and fall,
 And rise always to watch
 That nothing slips by.

Then comes the last day:
 We sit, and nod, and smile,
 And remember, and talk,
 And wait for a dark rider
 Who bears a silvery gift.

EGOTISM

By MILDRED J. SPEER

I saw a sign "No Parking";
 I heard a man remarking
 That no one dared stop there.

I though I'd try the parking,
 And stop the man's remarking
 That no one dared stop there:

A policeman came walking;
 He stopped not for talking;
 I wished I'd not stopped there.

He looked through me like air;
 I smoothed in vain my hair;
 And sadly lost ten dollars there.

PAUL IN CORINTH

GOLDEN TEXT—And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.
LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-17.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Working for Jesus in a Great City.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Working and Preaching in a Great City.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Working for Christ in a Great City.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christianity in a Cosmopolitan City.

The establishment of the church at Corinth is an example of missionary endeavor for all ages.

I. The True Missionary Method (vv. 1-3).

Paul came to Corinth a stranger. He did not have an advance agent to do his advertising, neither did he have his photograph put in the daily paper with a sensational announcement upon his arrival at Corinth. His method of gaining a foothold in Corinth was:

1. Finding a home (v. 2). This he found with Aquila and Priscilla, Jews who were recently expelled from Rome by the cruel edict of Claudius.

2. He tolled for his daily bread (v. 3). He was of the same craft with his hosts, who were tent makers. Every child among the Jews was taught some trade by means of which he could gain a livelihood should occasion require.

II. Preaching in the Synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8).

1. Though compelled to toll for a living while getting a foothold in Corinth, he did not lose sight of his main work (v. 4). He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, persuading the Jews and the Greeks.

2. His activity was increased when Silas and Timothy came (v. 5), which resulted from three causes:

a. They brought good news from the church at Thessalonica (I Thess. 3:6). To hear of the steadfastness of those who had confessed Christ under his ministry put new vigor into his labors.

b. They brought pecuniary gifts from the Macedonian church (Phil. 4:15; II Cor. 11:9). Being relieved from the necessity of tolling for a living, he could now devote more time to the preaching of the gospel.

c. Silas and Timothy became assistants to Paul in the work.

3. Paul opposed (v. 6). His increased activity was met with increased opposition. As the Lord's ministers become more aggressive in their work, the ministers of Satan put forth corresponding efforts in opposition.

4. Paul announces his purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6), because of the blasphemy and opposition of the Jews.

5. He did not go far away (v. 7). He remained sufficiently near those whose hearts God had touched so that they could easily find him.

6. His success (v. 8). Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted. Perhaps Paul's severity in turning away from them moved Crispus to act. Pressure to an immediate decision is helpful to some. They realize that it is now or never. Many others followed the example of Crispus. Paul varied from his usual custom and baptized Crispus, who was an important man (I Cor. 1:14).

III. Paul's Vision (vv. 9-11).

His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying. He needed encouragement at this time. It is just like the Lord to come at the time of the servant's greatest need. Note the Lord's words to him:

1. "Be not afraid." When one is executing the commission of the Lord he need not be afraid.

2. "Speak and hold not thy peace." The one who has heard the voice of God cannot refrain from speaking.

3. "I am with thee." The Lord is with everyone who faithfully carries out his command.

4. "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee." The one sent by the Lord to do a work is immune from harm until his work is done.

5. "I have much people in this city." It is most encouraging to know that in the great cities the Lord has his own people and that the one who goes in his name shall have fruit for his service.

IV. Paul Before Gallio (vv. 12-17).

1. The charge against him (v. 13). They accused him of persuading men to worship God contrary to the law.

2. Gallio's decision (vv. 14-16). He decided that it was not his concern to settle disputes concerning matters of the Jewish law.

3. Sosthenes beaten (v. 17). In all probability he was leading the attack upon Paul. The Greeks seemed to have sympathized with Paul. Therefore, they turned against his enemy.

The Will of Christ

If, then, the will of Christ is not being fulfilled through us, if there is good that it belongs to us to do, but which remains undone, then the point of juncture with Christ is the point that needs looking to—the reason of our fruitlessness is the simple one, that we are not closely enough attached to Christ.—Marcus Dodds.

Starting next issue, the Northwest Oklahoman invites the women of Ellis county to send us their favorite recipe. We would like to print at least two good recipes each week.

It is suggested that women clip out these tried recipes for future use.

THE BOOKER NEWS Trade at Home

Only by trading at home and giving the home man a little profit can the home town expect to exist.

Some man out of town might put up a "spiel" about being a cripple or something else, but the local man will be a financial cripple if you spend your money with some concern that does his spending in some other town.

THE ELLIS COUNTY NEWS Old Guns Displayed

Several old guns, dating back better than 50 years are on display in Young Hardware.

They are old relics and are interesting to those who are lovers of guns.

M. A. Willard of this paper has on display an old relic, which was found several years ago, in a jip cave north of Fairview. The gun was made in 1852, known as "Sharps" patent. How long the gun was in the cave, is not known but the solid walnut stock had started to decay and the metal parts were rusted. The barrel rifles are intact.

There is evidence some of the other firearms have a record or history, but little is shown.

THE FOLLETT TIMES New Stamp Appears

AMERICANS

The following story given by the Expositor is a conversation that occurred between a school teacher and a pupil.

Teacher: Did anybody ever teach you about God?

Boy: Nope.

T: Did you ever hear the name of Jesus?

B: Yep, when we are saying bad words.

T: Do you ever go to Sunday School or Church?

B: Nope, I am an American.

The following is added to it. There are twenty seven million children under sixteen years of age in the United States. Sixty five per cent of them are Americans in the sense illustrated in the story." This rather than being funny is a tragedy and challenges every father and mother.

Next Sunday morning at the morning service we are planning if possible to have every member present to answer to their name in roll call.

"If there is one word above another that will swing open the eternal gates it is the name of Jesus. There are a great many passwords down here, but that will be the countersign up above. Jesus is the 'Open Sesame' to Heaven. Anyone who tries to climb robber. And when we get in what up some other way is a thief and a above every other joy we can think of will it be to see Jesus Himself, and to be with him continually."—D. L. Moody.

From the lips of Sam Jones:
 "The mountains are God's thoughts piled up.
 Flowers are God's thoughts in bloom.
 Prairies are God's thoughts spread out.
 Rivers are God's thoughts in motion.
 The harvests are God's thoughts expressed in bread."

Mrs. Browning:
 "Earth's crammed with Heaven,
 And every common bush affire with God;
 But only he who sees takes off his shoes—
 The rest sit round and plack black-berries."

One small piece of garlic.
 Salt and pepper to taste.
 Put plenty of water around loaf to keep it moist. Bake for two hours in a slow oven.

MRS. J. A. HOOVER.

APPLE PIE

 Two eggs, well beaten
 One tablespoon cornstarch.
 Spices to taste.

Mix eggs and cornstarch with applesauce. Add spices. Cinnamon or nutmeg is good, or lemon if preferred. Line a pie plate with plain pastry. Turn applesauce into pie shell and bake for 15 minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake until filling is set. This usually requires about one-half hour. When quite cool, spread with sweetened whipped cream, flavored to taste, and serve cold.

Hi-Lites

By L. W.

Bill Pugh had a birthday recently and he is no longer classed as a kid but as a man. Despite the fact that Bill is getting old, he can still turn unexpected hand springs out of a truck and light on his feet.

Mr. Speer had been telling about the mosquitos from his country. He says that the mosquitos there are so large that some will pull the covers off the bed while the others attack. Yarning and mosquito cooperation?

Some of the pupils in high school had a discussion as to what the 'C's' and 'D's' on their exam papers represented. They decided that it must be that the 'C' stood for 'Can't be Beat,' and 'D' for 'Dandy.'

A secret! The password to the basketball boys' dressing room is dirtyfeet.

Seventh Grade Gives Historical Program

"The Westward Voyage" was the historic play presented by the seventh grade at chapel, last Thursday morning. The play was sponsored by the Seniors.

The cast was Ramah Reger—Queen Isabella, Opal Lourwood—Lady Dolores, Marjory Daily, Mae Kemp and Helen Hanschu were gypsies. Kenneth Fausset—King Ferdinand, Russel Ertz—Columbus, George Settles—Don Juan, Dan Kirchner—Diego, and Marvin Jones—Jester.

Third, Fourth Grades Activities

By Mrs. Lela Hennigh

The third and fourth grade room is beginning to look as though the old witch might come flying through the window at any time. The black board has a border of Jack-o' lanterns and the windows are decorated with black cats, bats and old witches. Halloween posters and pumpkins are being made during busy work period for more room decoration.

A new class president was elected Monday in the third and fourth grade room to serve for another month; Dean Terrel from the third grade was chosen.

The third and fourth grades had a very pleasant surprise Monday morning when a new reading table was presented to them. The table was made and painted by Messrs. Otis Travis and Ray Hennigh. The table will be a great help to the room, and the students certainly thank these gentlemen for their work.

Mrs. R. E. James and son, Theo, Mrs. J. W. Chase, Mrs. C. N. McGee, and Don Fiskin visited the third and fourth grades last week.

Jack Phillips is dinner pail monitor this week.

G. A. Jenkins is health inspector for the fourth grade this week, and Don James for the third grade.

Lloyd Mosley was absent from school Tuesday.

Lowell Hennigh and Jack Phillips are group captains in the Good Manners Club that was organized Tuesday. Five percent is to be added to the lowest grade of the student who uses the best manners during a six week period.

A flower shelf was made in the third and fourth grade room this week by Mr. Chappell, and a flowered curtain was nailed around it by Mrs. Hennigh. The students are bringing potted flowers to place upon the shelf.

The third and fourth grade pupils are taking a great interest in winning the medal offered by Mr. Joe Michel for the best spelling record in the grades. Each student brought a new spelling pad to school Monday morning. Much care is being taken of these new pads.

Pupils Are relieved After Suffering Exams

Examinations were undergone by the student body Thursday and Friday at the high school. (As we say in Spanish—we suffer an 'exam—sufir un examen). The tension in the atmosphere was relieved at four Friday when everyone though—SIX whole weeks 'till more of them things—was the universal opinion. D. E. M.

O. C. Elfers Chosen Best School Citizen

O. C. Elfers was chosen as the best citizen in school by a majority vote, last Thursday morning before chapel. Each student voted for the student he thought had been the best citizen during the past six weeks.

The other students who received honorable mention are: Kenneth Jenkins, Lewis Woods, Coeta Terrel, Marguerite Hennigh, Leo Meier, Florella Woods, Gwen Pugh, and Laveile Garvin.

The "best citizen" honor according to Mr. Speer, is one of the highest honors any student can obtain.

Fifth, Sixth Grade Notes

By Mrs. Ruth Wright

Last week was the end of the first six weeks term. We were kept rather busy with reviewing and examinations.

Mrs. Henry Altmiller and Mrs. George Hennigh were visitors in our room for a short while Wednesday afternoon.

After making a study of birds in citizenship class, we are now making bird books. Pictures of birds with brief sketches about each, bound with a bright colored construction paper covering, composed the booklets.

Friday afternoon the G. E. C. Club met at 3:00. Oscar Taylor, president, presided at the meeting. The minutes were read and the roll called. We voted to change our meeting to Thursday afternoon instead of Friday. Jennie Woods read a list of the oral English errors made during the week, and Gertrude Stranske was appointed to list the mistakes for the coming week.

At 3:30, Friday afternoon we had a thirty minute "clean-up" period. Our group picked up the trash in front of the school house, while Mrs. Hennigh's room cleaned up the west part of the yard.

The states of Carolina were studied in fifth grade history Tuesday. Interesting talks on pine trees were made by Lionel Settles and Marie Bellah. Teresa Frass read an original life story of a pine.

Halloween lamp shades are being made in art class.

Primary Room Notes

By Mrs. J. E. Speer

The primary room is preparing for Halloween; there is a large pumpkin on the front board; it affords endless enjoyment as it has a large grinning mouth and is cross-eyed. The windows are being decorated with witches, cats, bats and pumpkins.

The most interesting poster the first and second grade have made this week was a poster of an elf that had just looked over a fence and found a cat much frightened at a jack o' lantern.

The animal books of Patty Powell and Betty Jean Frass, in the second grade, and Delores Powell and Raymond Stranske, in the first grade, were chosen as the best and have been placed on the public interest board.

The first and second grade used their busy period Friday to make a walking toy. A story was told about Johnny Possum's first day of school and then he was colored and made.

Sam Kirchner, a second grade student, is still in the hospital at Shattuck; they expect to bring him home soon.

Alpha Hennigh visited the primary room on Friday.

Small books were bound this week to keep the hearts given for perfect records in milk drinking.

Mrs. Powell traded the primary room two very small fish for two of the larger fish; it is very interesting trying to catch them when it is time to change the water.

The primary room is very glad to see the high school boys moving the giant stride; it will be much more fun to play on it when there is no danger of hitting a post.
