Census Bureau Mopping Up

Census takers are making their rounds in this area, calling at households which have not mailed back their 1980 census questionnaires. They are making telephone calls at most households which have mailed back in completely filled out questionnaires.

Billy Yarbrough, Manager of the district office, says the round-up should be completed in the next few weeks.

"You can easily tell if someone who knocks on your door is a census taker," the manager advises. "We all wear red, white, and blue identification cards with the U.S. department of Commerce seal and 'census Enumerator, official Credential' printed on them, and each bears the wearer's signature. Census takers also carry large portfolios boldly lettered 'U.S. Census-1980' against a red, white, and blue background. The portfolios contain maps, questionnaires, and other supplies."

Householders should promptly report to the police anyone who claims to be a census taker but cannot produce this identification.

Reservations must be made for the catered noon luncheon by July 15th ph. 842-5589.

Chapter Two Set For Roof Garden Theatre

The Roof Garden Theater in Cisco has obtained the performing rights for Chapter Two, Neil Simon's latest comedy hit. The Roof garden is the first theater of any kind in the area to receive a royalty agreement with the author's representative. The play has been acclaimed by critics as Simon's finest. It is still running on Broadway, and more recently, it has become a major box office attraction at movie houses.

Chapter Two is the story of a writer whose life is shattered by his wife's untimely death. Simon applies his famous wit and comic art to the delicate issues of bereavement and remarriage as he relates the story. The play becomes a delicious comedy about two people trying to prove that they can still have a loving relationship, even though they rushed into their marriage. The story is particularly remarkable and moving because of its semiautobiographical nature.

The Roof Garden production of Chapter Two opens Thursday, July 17, for five performances and continues July 24-28 for five more. Dinner is served at 7:00 p.m., and the price of the dinner and show ticket is $12.50. Dessert is served at Sunday Matinees, which begin at 2:30 p.m., and the price of the dessert show is $7.50.

Cisco Junior College, which operates the Roof Garden Theater, is offering two special Salad Nights at 7:00 p.m. on Monday July 21, and again on Thursday, July 24. The Salad night ticket is also $7.50. Reservations for all performances are required. Call (817)-442-2567 during regular business hours, 442-2589 after 5:00 and on weekends. Payment will be expected for reservations not cancelled by 4:00 the day of the evening performances.

Eternity Past, And Eternity Future...

Eternal existence, Continuation without End. Future Life, Immortality. Endless time after death, The soul lives on forever, if they believed on the Lord Jesus Christ and His saving Grace through His shed Blood, a glorious eternal life. But if that soul wanted no part of our Blessed Lord and went out into eternity with out this hope in Christ, It will be an everlasting existence of pain, a feeling of horror, where the lost soul can never die, and remembers the times when they said I don't want to live for Jesus, I want to live my life as I see fit, maybe when I've grown old and can't get around any more "then" I will think about turning my life over to Him, but my friend just maybe, you won't get the chance to repent of your deeds and you are taken out without warning, then it will be forever too late. Just stop and think; Jesus came to redeem you and I, from a devil's hell. He suffered untold agony, because He loved us enough to give up His home in glory to pay for our sins, because in John 3:16 says: "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. It is a fact that God does love us. He that believeth on Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God, Our Lord tells us that the believer "cometh not into condemnation (or Judgment) Our sins were judged in Christ on calvary and every believer, hath passed from death into Life everlasting.

Hints For The Aged & Handicapped

By PATRICIA GALBREATH

DEAR PAT—Two years ago my husband had surgery and as a result of this is unable to lie down. He sleeps in a recliner chair. Now he is ready to go back to work, but due to the type of work he does he is required to spend about three nights per week in a motel.

I have never seen a chair in a motel room that would be comfortable enough for a good night's sleep. He has tried foam bed wedges and other types of back rests but has a tendency to slide down in bed and eventually is lying almost flat and then chokes.

Would you or any of your readers have a solution? Surely he is not the only person with this problem. Perhaps motels should have recliners available that would be moved into the room when necessary.—E.F., Indiana

DEAR MS. F.—If your husband hasn't already tried sleeping on a chaise lounge he might find it helpful. The outdoor, light-weight, aluminum type with plastic weaving is inexpensive and is adjustable to the sitting height he would find most comfortable. It also folds to a compact size which would make it easy for your husband to carry with him on his business trips.

For more comfort, a foam mattress can also be carried very easily.

I would like to hear from any of my readers who have overcome this problem so I can pass the suggestions on to others.—PAT

DEAR PAT—If any of your readers are interested in photography, they should contact Mr. J.D. Weaver, a disabled veteran and photographic artist. He has published a free pamphlet entitled, "Photo Hints For The Handicapped", in which he shares some hints, thoughts, and goals with the reader. He also has a slide presentation that is available to community organizations. Write: Mr. J.D. Weaver, 2506 Rochelle Dr., Fallston, MD 21784.—Ms. L.J., New Jersey

DEAR PAT—I know it must be as difficult for many elderly persons to open doors as it for my mother. Because of arthritis she could not "grasp" and "turn" a regular doorknob. Quite by accident my husband came across a "door handle" that simply slips over the existing doorknob. If you know anything about this type handle and where elderly or disabled people can get them, I think it would be so helpful to so many.—Mrs. K.L.M., Oklahoma

DEAR MS. M—I am aware of the type door handles you refer to and they are extremely helpful not only in aiding the elderly but for anyone who has limited use of their hands.

By slipping a door handle over an existing knob, the door opens easily by "lever" action instead of "grasping." Even those who are severely limited can open a door by pressing the side of your hand, palm, wrist, or even elbow against the lever.

Dow-Knob, Inc., Box 721, Bloomington, Illinois 61701 offers an attractive antique bronze. Write for more information and prices.—PAT

PAT'S NOTE: Address any questions you may have or hints you want to share to: HANDICAPPED, P.O. Box 368, Weatherford, Texas 76086

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free..." The United States is a nation of immigrants and those lines engraved on the Statue of Liberty fail to stir only a few of us whose forebears came to this Country looking for personal freedom and economic advancement.

But, the argument that "as immigrants ourselves, we cannot restrict the flow of other immigrants to this country" just does not realistically apply today. Refugee laws enacted in the past did not — could not — foresee the massive influx of immigrants possible during this period of our history. A land that once cried out for people has rapidly become populated to the point that we can foresee the possibility of our borders bursting at the seams. We are no longer an adolescent nation straining to grow, but one that has grown to maturity and as an adult, must balance our emotions with realism.

The chaos created by the Cuban influx has been an emotional one. And one which we must now, painfully, face with realism. If we were to react emotionally, we would throw our borders and shores open to all. To react with maturity requires much more careful thought.

The President has ordered an immediate halt to the small boat sealift from Cuba and has announced that the U.S. is prepared to start an airlift or sealift if Castro would accept the plan. Castro, however, rejected the proposal and seems determined to create more problems. As a nation, in control of its own destiny, we cannot allow these actions by a foreign dictator to return us to policy dictated solely by emotion.

We must (by fair and reasonable means) limit the number of refugees from Cuba entering our Country. While I am very sympathetic to their needs, I believe that our nation cannot afford to allow a free flow of refugees in the country. We cannot forget that at present there are over 1 million other would-be refugees who are on waiting lists to enter this country legally. And all who enter must be absorbed into the economy in a manner which will not cause further domestic economic problems nor add to the already overburdened taxpayers' responsibilities.

Some mechanism must be devised within our immigration laws to see that this is accomplished in a fair and equitable manner for those wishing to immigrate from all areas, not just Cuba. As a state sharing a border with Mexico, for instance, we are perhaps more aware than most of the needs for a controlled policy allowing immigration.

Efforts to improve and revise our immigration laws have been undertaken in Congress several times in the past few years. Each time the House approved a new proposal, however, the Senate Judiciary Committee rejected it. In my view, Congress must accept its share of the blame for the situation at hand.

Hopefully, we can begin to strengthen our immigration and refugee laws to prevent another situation like this from occurring again.

It is important to remember, especially at a time when U.S. citizens are becoming increasingly critical of the way this country is run, that there are countless numbers in less fortunate countries who are willing to risk their lives just to reach our shores. That realization should be humbling to every American.

CAMPING ALL YEAR ROUND

BY BOB NESOFF

FIRST-YEAR CAMPERS HAVE LOTS TO LEARN

Dear Bob: We bought a camper-trailer and enjoyed ourselves this summer. One major problem we have is that there are so many things yet to learn.

I tried cooking while camping much the same way as I did at home and found that I never got out of the kitchen. We always seemed to have either too many clothes or not enough. And we always seemed to get bogged down in details. Bob, what do we do?

Dear Bugged: What you are facing is not uncommon among first-year campers. I'm also assuming that you are a new reader of this column as well. Over the past years I have covered most of the subjects you mentioned.

From time to time I print recipes designed especially for camping families. There are also several excellent books on the market covering this subject. The idea behind camp cooking is to make a meal as filling and hearty as possible while at the same time keeping your preparation and clean-up time to a bare minimum.

As far as clothes go, most people have a tendency to overpack. What I recommend is that after each trip you take inventory of what you brought along, what was worn and what remained in the closet.

Compare this to the kind of weather you ran into and the type of activities you participated in. Thereafter, you should have a pretty good idea of what to take along.

As far as getting bogged down in details, one of the fun things I find about camping is that there are no telephones at the campsite. We always let the family know where we expect to be in the event of an emergency, but strict orders are given about disclosing our schedule.

Plan in advance so that you have an idea of where you are going and make reservations in those areas that look as though they may be crowded.

If any of you other readers has a camping tip to share, write me in care of this publication. Those whose suggestions are printed will receive a pass good for a free weekend of camping at the KOA of their choice.

YOU AND YOUR HEALTH

By Peter J. Esse, M.D.

LOW THYROID AND PREGNANCY

Dear Dr. Esse: I had my first child without any problem. Then, after two years and two miscarriages — nothing. My husband was tested and found to have a low sperm count. The doctor said I would never conceive again and that there was nothing to be done.

Then my own doctor suggested my husband have a thyroid test. That was it — he had an underactive thyroid. He was put on thyroid extract. Would you believe it? Three months later I was happily pregnant. Now we have another lovely daughter. — Mrs. M.

REPLY: It doesn't always work. But I, also, have seen similar (apparent) effects from thyroid medication in some of my own patients.

REPLY TO MRS. V.: I think you will be encouraged by reading what Hal Boyle wrote after he had survived a stroke. Although lightly written, it is informative.

He concludes: "For nearly 20 years I have had high blood pressure and carried up to 40 pounds too much weight. But I stupidly resisted the doctor's plea to do anything about either. Now my blood pressure is normal and I have taken off 25 pounds, with 15 yet to go."

"You have had your warning," my doctor said. The same is probably true of most of the 30 million Americans who are overweight and the 20 million who have high blood pressure, of whom 10 million are unaware they have it."

I think, Mrs. V., that Hal Boyle's experience will give you the courage you need. —***

Dear Dr. Esse: I am 80, recently married a widow of 72, am happy and at peace with the world. Is it all right for me to take a sleeping pill occasionally at my age? They don't seem to hurt me and give me a good night's sleep. —Mr. D.

COMMENT: I'm sure your doctor will say it is all right. Incidentally, congratulations.

Fashion 'n' Fabrics

By FANNIE GLEESON

PRESSING FINESSE WITH WOOL FABRIC

This is the year for coordinated outfits and here's another charmer: pants, vest and jacket, plus full skirt, day or evening length. It's super in lightweight wool flannel, gabardine, doubleknit and wool crepe.

Pressing as you sew is particularly important with wool. It builds in the professional look and shape of the garment. First of all, pressing is not like ironing. While pressing, keep the weight of the iron in your hand and use a lower-and-lift motion without bearing down. Let the steam do the work.

Use a medium-to-low heat. The iron should never be in contact with the fashion fabric, but should be used with a press cloth of fine textured wool or lintless cheesecloth.

The exception is a pressing technique used for pressing curved seams over a tailor's ham or top pressing finishing touches. Leave fabric uncovered and hold steam iron over area until steam has penetrated thoroughly. Don't let the iron touch the fabric. Use a pounding block to hold steam in the fabric. As with all wool pressing, set garment aside to dry naturally.

With normal method, press each seam before crossing it with another. And press each garment section before joining it with another.

Seams should be pressed open. Open seam with finger tips or with dart opener, a three-inch long piece of thin hardwood pointed at one end and curved at the other. Follow the center line with the point of the iron — just the point and a light touch. Press the armhole with the seams together, but not turned inside the bodice or sleeve. After pressing the seam, turn it into the sleeve, where it will fall naturally, when you put your arm into the jacket.

When pressing lightweight wool, use less steam than usual. When pressing stretchy fabric such as crepe, also use a minimum of steam and set iron for synthetics and avoid excessive stretching. Be sure you are pressing, not ironing.

The Skeptic

The Good Word from the Bible

... a weekly inspirational message for today's life-styles.

Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness. Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; and quicken me in thy way.

Psalms 119: 36-37

Sometimes we are inclined to envy a neighbor, friend or business acquaintance who achieves a high social or financial position.

Oftimes, we comment to ourselves, if to no one else, "I can't understand how it happened!"

Nothing just happens, of course. Success doesn't merely come, nor does it go searching. One who succeeds does so through a measurable effort...and fails many times unknown to others.

Do not envy. Channel your thoughts and energies toward the purpose of developing your individual potential. Work and strive, with pleasure in any job well done. Pursue this course and recognition will come in due time.

Friendship cannot be based upon misrepresentation. Jesus clearly defined His concept of friendship, and the disciples were to respond in clear obedience. This holy concept is that of commitment.

One of childhood's earliest disappointments is the discovery that young friends will not always stand true. Throughout his life man is held in suspense by some of his so called friends, wondering just how far they will go with him.

Jesus Christ must have been disappointed a million times over in the past two thousand years. Many have called Him, "Blessed". Multitudes more than have claimed Him "friend," but how many have applied themselves to actually doing His will?

It is not lip service He desires but commitment resulting in action.

Judge for yourself. Do you claim to be a friend of Jesus and never or seldom attend the assembly of christians on the Lord's Day?

Do you claim to be a friend of Jesus and never give of your time, talents, and money to His cause?

Do you claim to be a friend of Jesus and harbor hatred, and unforgiving spirit, a proud spirit, or an unwilling helping hand?

I have heard over again: "I don't have time." "It costs so much to live now days-can't give." "You don't know what they did to me!"

To all Jesus still answers, "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you" (John 15:14).

Church of Christ

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURES?

Jon N. Bailey
QUESTION: Does God always accept man's worth?

ANSWER: God accepts only that worship which is pleasing to him. He has revealed in the Scriptures the type of worship which he desires. If our worship is to be acceptable unto God, we must worship as he directs us in his word.

Jesus taught, "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth" (John 4:23-24).

As Jesus taught, we must worship God "in spirit". We must worship him with our very heart and soul. The Jews worshipped under a "covenant of the letter" and not "of the spirit" (2 Cor. 3:6). They were often condemned for going through the acts of worship without having their hearts right with God (Amos 5:21-24; Micah 6:6-8; ect.). Under the new covenant of Jesus Christ, we must "worship by the Spirit of God" (Phil. 3:3), each striving to present ourselves as a "living sacrifice" to God (Rom. 12:1). Our thoughts must be pure. Our lives must be holy. Our hearts must be his. We must worship God "in Spirit".

As Jesus taught, we must also worship God "in truth". We must worship him as he directs us in his word. Jesus often condemned the Jews of his day for corrupting the worship of God. Once he said, "Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoreth me with their lips, But their heart is far from me. In vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men... Full well do ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition... making void the word of God by your tradition..." (Mark 7:6-13). By teaching, holding fast, and keeping the commandments and traditions of men, the Jews were forsaking, rejecting and making void the word of God. Their worship was thus in vain. When men today teach and follow the traditions and commandments of men, they are disobeying God, and their worship is in vain.

We cannot worship Thursday, July 17, 1980

God "in truth" if we reject his truth to follow the doctrines of men. When we add to the worship which he has commanded, we are worshipping like Nadab and Abihu (Lev. 10:1-2), Jeroboam (1 Kings 12:25-33) and Ahab (1 Kings 16:30-33). When we take away from the worship he commands, we are worshipping like Saul (1 Sam. 15:1-23), Ahaz (2 Chron. 28:24), and Ananias Sapphira (Acts 5:1-11). Our worship must be in obedience to God's word, for the scripture says, "He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer is an abomination" (Prov. 28:9). We must worship God "in truth".

We must worship God "in spirit and truth". Only in this way will our worship be acceptable to God.

Speaking on the Subject of Quality

.... it is always an appreciative compliment when so many of our customers tell us they like our abstracts. They must for many of them have been doing business with us for more than 30 years, and still are. There is no secret attached to this expression of confidence. A quality product produces confidence. And we are proud that we have both - the confidence of a host of customers and a quality product to sell them.

Kilowatts Are Getting More Precious All The Time

This insulator and rack is used to bring your electric service from the utility pole to your home.

	1972 Cost	1979 Cost
Secondary Rack	70c each	$1.55 each
Spool Insulator	33c each	70c each
5/8 x 10" Machine Bolt	30c each	85c each

These essential parts are just an example of how rising prices are affecting the cost of producing electric energy. Of course everything else has gone up, too. Materials, equipment, labor - nothing has escaped the effects of inflation.

Which means that we at WTU are striving harder than ever to operate efficiently and economically as we meet the daily needs of our customers.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY

As always, WTU's goal is to provide a dependable supply of electric energy at the lowest practical cost. We hope you'll use it wisely.

Stop Looking—It's All in The WANT ADS

GORDON SPOT

by DeMarquis Gordon

The extreme heat wave continues in our area causing all forms of life to be stressed. This includes crops, trees, lawns and ornamentals as well as people and animals.

One of the heat stress signs we are seeing on trees and other ornamentals is leaf scorch. Leaves first show a burning or scorching around margins usually with older leaves being affected first. The marginal scorch progresses inward until the entire leaf withers and drops. The extent and spread of the leaf drop is dependent on the type of plant and cause of damage. There are several unfavorable conditions that may cause leaf scorch.

One of the most common conditions causing leaf scorch is root failure. Roots may be damaged by such things as diseases, insects, or a change in the soil caused by man. When this occurs the leaves are not furnished with enough water and nutrients to supply the top.

Root failure often results when oxygen is made unavailable to the roots. Such is the case with overwatering, adding fill soil, soil compaction or natural gas leaks. Building concrete walks or patios over a portion of the root system will cut off the oxygen to those roots. Feeder roots are destroyed when ditches are dug or the soil is plowed underneath large trees. This may result in leaf scorch two or three years later. Plants vary in sensitivity to this condition and some can survive much better than others. Post oak trees are one of the most sensitive. Many times limbs overhanging driveways will scorch when other parts of the tree show no scorch. The roots are unable to absorb and translocate enough water and nutrients to adequately furnish the plants.

Another common cause of leaf scorch is simply a shortage of soil water.

Toxicity from herbicides or excessive use of fertilizer burns roots and causes their failure. Certain herbicides may kill roots directly while others translocate to foliage tissue causing leaf scorch.

A blockage of the trees vascular tissues may cause leaf scorch to only one or two limbs. Some diseases will cause water transporting vessels to become plugged and prevent normal translocation.

With any of these problems leaf scorch is worse in very hot weather because the leaves are losing water at a faster rate.

The treatment for leaf scorch depends on the source of the problem. First, the problem should be corrected if possible such as stopping a gas leak. There is no cure for most vascular diseases of trees except pruning infected limbs.

Regardless of the cause of leaf scorch, plants should be provided with an adequate amount of water and fertilizer. In most cases the plants recover in time.

"Are We Talking To You"??

For the last couple of weeks we have been talking about "Compulsive Overeaters." The time has come when we feel each of you need to take the time and consider as to whether or not YOU could possibly be a "Compulsive Overeater!"

Take some time out of your day, read and reread the following fifteen questions. They can be answered with a yes or a no, however, they are far from simple to answer. Read them, think about them, live with them for awhile, then HONESTLY answer them.

1. Do you eat when you are not hungry?
2. Do you go on eating binges for no apparent reason?
3. Do you have feelings of guilt or remorse after overeating?
4. Do you give too much time and thought to food?
5. Do you look forward with pleasure and anticipation to the moments when you can be alone to eat?
6. Do you plan "secret" eating binges ahead of time?

7. Do you eat sensibly in front of others and then make up for it when you're alone?

8. Is your weight affecting the way in which you are living your life?

9. Have you ever tried to diet for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?

10. Do you resent the advice of others who tell you to "use a little will power" to stop your overeating.

11. Despite evidence to the contrary, have you continued to assert that you can diet "on your own" whenever you wish?

12. Do you crave to eat at a specific time, day or night, other than at meal time?

13. Do you eat to escape from worry and or trouble?

14. Has a physician ever treated you for being overweight?

15. Does your obsession with food make you and or others unhappy?

How did you score?? If you have "honestly" answered these questions and answered those questions and answered "yes" to three or more of them, then it is probable that you have a compulsive overeating problem or that you are well on your way to having one. Till then believe that for you, one little bite leads to countless others. We have found that the way to arrest your compulsive overeating problem is to practice The Twelve Step Recovery Program of O V E R E A T E R S ANONYMOUS.

O V E R E A T E R S ANONYMOUS meets Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m. in the Cross Plains Multi-purpose Center on East 8th St.

At Overeaters are no weigh-ins, no dues or fees, only a group of recovering overeaters who will do their best to help you.

Don't wait TOO long! Come by and give O.A. a try; we think you'll find it works!!

Stephanie Long, Rising Star 4-Her, makes last minute preparations on her 4-H Recordbook.

4-H Recordbooks to be Judged

Wednesday, July 9, was the deadline for Eastland County 4-Her's to submit their recordbooks for judging at the County level. "Recordbooks are not always easy for the 4-Her, but they are an excellent way to show progress and growth", says Mrs. Donna White, County Extension Agent - 4-H and Youth. A complete 4-H Recordbook is an organized presentation of what has been learned and accomplished in 4-H. When accurately kept and carefully assembled, it is a useful tool for the 4-Her. The following Eastland County 4-Her's turned in a complete recordbook:

Eastland 4-H: Truet Hart, Beef; Leanne Brown, Clothing; Jill Lowrance, Clothing; John Glenn Kidd, Beef; and Shirley Kidd, Citizenship.

Cisco 4-H: Christy Purvis, Foods; Kathy Choate, Dairy; Julie Weathers, Clothing; and Kelley Cooper, Clothing.

Gorman 4-H: Shannon Caraway, Sheep; Sue Ann Osborne, Clothing; Noble Laminack, Swine; Rebecca Scitern, Sheep; Alan Scitern, Sheep; Johnny Osborne, Sheep; Phil Osborne, Sheep; and Kathi Osborne, Clothing.

Nimrod 4-H: Janice Woolley, Clothing.

Rising Star 4-H: Jamie Hutton, Safety; Tabitha Hutton, Clothing; Warren Parson, Public Speaking; Travis Parson, Public Speaking; Jami Long, Sheep; Jerry Long, Sheep; Stephanie Long, Gardening; Toby Long, Gardening; and Sam Scott, Beef.

When the County Awards Banquet is held in October, these 4-Her's will receive a medal for their efforts. Congratulations to these 4-Her's.

Four Co. 4-Her's to Participate in 4-H Congress

Four Eastland County 4-Her's will be participating in the 1980 Texas 4-H Congress in Lubbock July 15-17.

The 4-Hers are: Truet Hart of Eastland; Caye Little of Gorman; Phil Osborne of Gorman; and Amy Weekes of Ranger.

This year's theme of the Congress will be "4-H and Agriculture, the Growing Scene."

Four different tours will highlight this year's Congress, which will include beef, swine, cotton and grain.

The 4-H members will also explore various career options in agriculture, including production, marketing and related fields.

The Congress will officially get under way with an opening assembly at 7:30 p.m. the first day which will include feature talks by Texas Tech University Dean of Agriculture Sam Curl, and Grady Nutt of the television show "Hee Haw".

Other special features of the event will include a visit to Palo Duro Canyon where 4-Her's will see the musical drama "Texas", and a fashion show featuring teen fashion trends by the Robert Spence School for Modeling in Lubbock.

A banquet featuring a talk by Extension Director Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel and the installation of the 1980-81 Texas 4-H Council members will conclude the Congress.

Sponsors for the 4-H members from Eastland County to attend Congress are: Texas Electric Service Co.; Eastland National Bank; Birdsong Peanut Company; Eastland County Newspaper Company; Brown Feed Store at Gorman; Ranger Savings; The First National Bank of Gorman; and the Eastland County 4-H Adult Leaders Association.

above date. All farms that have a record of cropland should file a report, even if no NCA crops have been planted. Failure to file a report or give an incomplete report makes a farm ineligible for program benefits (loans, disaster and deficiency payments) and can cause possible loss or reduction in yields and crop history for future years. BE SURE that a complete report has been filed for your farm.

FILE ACCURATE REPORT-When filing your crop report, be sure your acreages are correct. Failure to file an accurate report can result in a farm becoming ineligible for program benefits.

PEANUT INFORMATION-July 15, 1980, is the final date to report peanut acreage. All peanut farms will be measured this year and producers will be given an opportunity to plow back if they have exceeded their farm allotment. Peanut producers will again be required to turn in a receipt for their seed peanuts. The receipt must include the name and address of the handler or person from whom the seed was purchased, the pounds of seed and the date of purchase. The receipt must be presented at the time of certification of planted acreage.

DISASTER PAYMENT PROGRAM-

Wheat, corn, barley and grain sorghum production that averages less than 60 percent of the farm's established yield and was affected by disaster conditions may be turned in for low yield payment consideration. Applications for disaster credit on acreage that will not be harvested for grain must be filed prior to making any other use of the crop.

1981 WHEAT PROGRAM - Comments concerning the 1981 wheat program are being requested. Interested individuals will have until July 21 to send your comments to USDA on what you think the Department should do. The Department is specifically interested in whether there should be a set aside, a voluntary diversion program, a National program acreage, target price calculations, extra target price adjustments if there is a set aside in effect, loan levels and haying and grazing provisions. The address is: Director, Production Adjustment Division, Room 3630 South Bldg. P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Elmdale School Plans August Reunion

"Elmdale School-Taylor County District Number 20-is no more. It exists only in the hearts and memories of those fortunate persons who were served by it or who served it." That is part of the preface of a new book entitled ELMDALE- ECHOES OF THE PAST which will be sold at the August 2, 1980 Elmdale School Reunion. This book is not a narrative history, but a collection of historical information compiled by Dora Sue Christian, a former Elmdale student and presently, a teacher at Anson Jones Elementary School in Abilene.

The book contains a copy of the County Commissioners Minutes of May, 1895 when the Elmdale School District officially came into being. It also contains copies of interesting historical items as well as a complete list of faculty members from the year 1896 to 1969 when the school was destroyed by fire. A list of trustees who served the school from 1916-1969 is included as well as data about the Parent Teacher Association. Proceeds from the sale of this book will be used to help finance the 1982 reunion.

The reunion will be August 2, 1980 at Briarstone Manor in Abilene from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. An evening meal will be served at 7:00 p.m. at a cost of $4.00 per plate. Reservations are necessary prior to the reunion and can be made by phoning Mrs. Melba Boozer-673-1347- or by writing her at 1300 Lakeside Drive-Abilene, Texas 79602.

Officers for the 1980 reunion are: President, W.H. Blackburn, III; First Vice-President, Dora Sue Christian; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Kay Watson; Secretary, Mrs. Melba Boozer. In charge of displays of memorabilia will be Leonard Antille and Mrs. Eldon Landers.

All former students, faculty, patrons, and friends of Elmdale School are invited to the reunion!
