RSHS Cheerleaders Win Prize Money

The Rising Star High School Cheerleaders' Advisor, along with other area cheerleading and pep squads advisors were invited to enter their squads as models in the Mall of Abilene Fall Fashion Show videotaping July 21. For their modeling services, cheerleading squads were offered a chance for a $500 cash prize to be drawn after the taping and for individual gifts of clothing to be drawn also.

The response to the invitation was so great that not all members of the cheerleading squads were called on to model. The R.S.H.S. cheerleaders who modeled clothing for the videotaping were Amy Dudley and Melanie Ratliff.

All five cheerleaders and the mascot, Amy Dudley, Melanie Ratliff, Oretha Morris, Becky Owen, Susan Benson and Lisa Brown were at the Mall to share in the excitement and jubilation when the Rising Star cheerleading squad's name was drawn for the $500 Cheerleading Camp) are the members of the Rising Star High School 1982-83 cheerleading squad-mascot which won the $500 prize to be given by the Mall of Abilene.

Linda Webb, cheerleading advisor, received word from Joe Scott of the Mall of Abilene that the squad would receive the prize money in about forty-five days. Drawings for individual gifts were not held the day of the videotaping, and gift certificates were to be mailed to the recipients.

The video tape is to be shown by participating merchants in the Mall of Abilene August 1 through August 28.

First Baptist Church Plans Celebration

The First Baptist Church was constructed in 1889, on the corner of what is now North Anderson and College Streets—the first of four to be built during the church's 100 years of organization.

August 7 and 8 will be special days for friends and members of the First Baptist Church in Rising Star, when the activities of these two days will mark the 100th anniversary of the church.

The church was organized in 1882 by a group of early pioneers, and the first services were held in the school building which was located just east of the present cemetery. The first church was built in 1889, a full time pastor was called, and the church has enjoyed a steady rate of growth since that time.

The church membership, along with former members and friends, will commemorate this period of growth and service on August 7 and 8, in celebration of praise and thanksgiving.

The activities will begin with a reception on Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock, in the Fellowship Hall. This will be a time of visitation and music. On Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. R.D. Williams will conduct the worship service, guests will be registered, and dinner will served in the Activity Building.

At 2:00 the anniversary service will be held in the sanctuary of the church, with Rev. Jimmy Turner as the guest speaker. This phase of the program will also include the recognition of guest and former pastors, special music and presentation of the church history, which has been compiled and published under the supervision of the Centennial Committee. The pastor, R.D.

Senior Center News

If you failed to make it to the center last Thursday, you certainly missed a red-letter day! We had a number of guests, including the DeLeon Quartet, who once again brought us inspiring selections of good old Gospel songs. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Curtis, from Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Curtis, from Grand Junction, Colorado; Mrs. Sheryn Galbard, Tamara and Ashley, from Bryan, Texas.

At noon, we gathered 'round a table absolutely groaning with the weight of a delightful meal. All of us know this has certainly been the year for gardens, and much of the bounty has been showing up on the Senior Citizens' table. Sure is good.

If was after lunch that we were entertained with some good old-fashioned fiddling music, and even some on the dulcimer. The Star Brights worked a little on the program to be given at Hico, this Thursday evening. All in all, it was an enjoyable day.

Lest I forget, I express my gratitude to some of the fine folks of our community who are remembering us with gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Altus Butler sent around some luscious tomatoes, last week. A great platter of them, sliced, were served with our meal. Also, a special "thank you" to Red and Sarah Chamberlain, for their lovely gift of the punch bowl and cups. They are so very pretty, and we will put them to very good use. We know the people of our community love us, as we love them, when they keep thinking of us in this way. Such a wonderful place, in which we live, with the grandest neighbors in the world.

Don't forget the birthday party, this Friday night. Overheard at the Center-some really "out-landish" hot-weather jokes. Here are a few: "Did you know it's so hot that the fire ants over near Ft. Worth are now wearing insulated cover-alls?" "Is that right? Well, I saw a horned-toad in the garden, yesterday. He was tearing around with an eight inch pop sickle stick in his mouth." "Really? Well, what on earth was he doing with that stick in his mouth?" "Would you believe, he would stick it in the ground, every time he stopped, and climb atop it to cool his feet?"

From another came this one: "Yes, I believe it. For, the little doodle bugs are now building their doodle holes upside down. That way they can use them for shade."

But, I think this one took the prize: "I noticed the grasshoppers are not bothering our garden so much in the last few hot days. So I met one in the pea patch, a day or so ago; I asked him why he was no longer eating all the peas he could get his grubby little mouth on. This was his reply, "Well, I just never did develop a yen for parched peas. To me, they are just not good unless they are raw."

Sidelights and Spotlights

About Viola Payne

By Julia Worthy

Viola Payne

You may not have been entertaining any angels unaware lately, but if wooden nickels weren't so expensive these days, I'd bet one that you've talked to an Eastland County celebrity without knowing it.

"Shrinking violet" does not apply to this lady, "unassuming Viola" does.

Yes, today's Spotlight is full on Viola Payne. Like any other spotlight, it will only pick out some high points and fade around the edges. These edges you'll find interesting to investigate for yourselves.

Viola has interviewed many of you for stories run in the EASTLAND TELEGRAM.

The TELEGRAM takes only part of her writing time as she turns out fiction, articles, poems and books. Not quite as fast as that sounds! Writing, whatever you may think of it or however much the writer may like it, is work.

Viola's books are "Scurry County Style," a collection of short stories about life in Scurry County (where else?), "Three Angels Over Rancho Grande," the story of a courageous Mexican family, and "Gold of the Caballos," a real-life thriller Viola wrote for the lady who lived it. "Three Angels..." has been translated into Spanish. Yep. Didn't know you had an international author in your midst, did you?

For some of the rest of Viola's story you may not know, she married the late Travis Payne when she was eighteen. They had three children: Margaret, the only daughter, is the wife of Jurgen (Bob) Herting, and they live in Germany. Margaret has two daughters: Krista and Cin-

John Payne, the older son, is a country-western musician whose specialty is the guitar. He is more-or-less based in El Paso where the Paynes lived for years. Viola says there may be the tink of wedding bells there as John brought "Elizabeth" home for a Mother's Day visit.

As nearly as I can tell, Viola and Travis had the right combo figured out for producing brainy offspring all around, but no doubt I'll incur the wrath of Marvin, the younger boy, when I identify him as an intellectual giant. Of the electronic age, wherein tweeter does not refer to a bird nor woofer to a dog, Marvin presently is engaged in an experiment to find a method to produce methane gas in commercial quantities at Texas A&M's experimental farm in Stephenville.

Lest Marvin sound too much like the genius he probably is (Viola took him through high school at home), I must say he can get just as greasy working on cars and just as sweaty hauling hay as anybody else. He also sings, plays guitar, banjo, mandolin, and I have seen him occupied at the baby-grand in Viola's living room.

Viola said she would have like to be a concert musician, but she was not ambitious enough to put in the necessary hours of practice. Take my word for it; she practiced a lot. She plays the violin (fiddles pretty well, too) and teaches a few pupils.

If you happen to visit Viola's home south of Cisco when Marvin, or some of his cousins (also "musical") are there, you'll be hard put to decide whether the music or the conversation is the more entertaining.

Viola often evades speaking to the point about her own accomplishments by asking you such leading questions about yourself that you follow a trail you never had in mind.

Carol Capp, one of my young friends updating a chapter in Glenn Capp's speech textbook, came up to talk to Viola about interviewing techniques. I was an interested spectator. They had a very informative session. When Carol and I left, she said, "Phew! That was neat!"

"Oh?" I encouraged.
"Did you notice? In about five minutes, Viola had it all turned around. She interviewed me.

Well, Carol came to learn about interviewing.

Viola Payne's interest in YOU, what YOU are doing, where YOU are going, what YOU have done or will do, is real. That probably accounts for your not knowing any more about her than you do. And for my not being able to tell you any more than I have.

TANNING TAKES TOLL ON SKIN

Our skin takes a beating. We scrape it, scratch it, cut it and bruise it, accidentally, but regularly. Worse yet, some of us even try to bake it.

The main problem with trying to get the perfect tan is that the sun damages the skin. Some damage may be immediate—burning, blistering, skin rashes or eruptions and eye injury. Later damage can include skin that sags and wrinkles prematurely. And, of course, increases a person's chances of developing skin cancer.

People who freckle or sunburn easily are particularly susceptible to the sun, sunlamps or tanning salons. Only about 2 percent of all types of skin cancer is fatal. Skin cancer seldom develops in people under 20, the incidence increases gradually with age and peaks at about 75.

Avoid sunbathing around noon. The sun is strongest and most harmful from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Use a sunscreen regularly and re-apply the lotion every two hours or after swimming or perspiring heavily.

SURPLUSES?

Agricultural surpluses are created by government programs withholding from the market products that will not move at a predetermined price. Surplus is defined in the dictionary as follows: "That which remains when use is satisfied; excess beyond what is prescribed or wanted."

Production that does not move into the market without the aid of government is referred to as carryover. Carryover in the hands of the producers and handlers will automatically reflect itself in the future production and marketing schedules. Stocks created by government are isolated

Another Eastland County WWI Veteran

By Viola Payne

"People often don't give the Lord the credit due him," says Robert Toliver of Cisco, World War I veteran. "I am so thankful for what He has done for me."

Some people might not understand this 86 yr. old veteran's cheerful attitude.

For Robert Toliver is blind.

Toliver's blindness explains why he could not read the Eastland County newspapers and find out that reporter were collecting names of WWI veterans just before Memorial Day. His name, unfortunately, was omitted from that list.

Toliver gets along very well in his little apartment in Cisco, thanks to kind friends such as Pastor and Mrs. O.T. Killion, Ruth and Roy Cartee, Mozelle Phillips, and Virgil and Druella Stillwell. These people prepare food, carry him meals, take him places, and generally see to his needs.

But time hangs very sometimes, when you are alone and blind. Several years ago Toliver's record player was stolen, so he cannot play the music and other records which enjoyed so much.

Robert Toliver was born on a ranch 10 miles south of McGregor, Coryell County, in 1895. His father, John Henry Toliver, had homesteaded part of the property, which joins the present site of Mother Neff State Park. Both sheep and cattle were raised on the ranch.

Robert Toliver's mother died when he was 12 years old, but his father stayed on the home place and kept his children together.

After finishing the schools in his area, Robert Toliver attended Thorpe Springs College, a Church of Christ school near Grandbury. After he had been at the College for a year, a measles epidemic swept through the dormitories. Toliver had a severe case of the disease, and he decided to go home and gain strength before continuing with his education.

A sister was keeping house for his father, and her 4 yr. old child took diphtheria. Toliver helped care for the child, and contacted the disease from her. He was very ill, and noticed that the disease seemed to affect his eyesight.

By World War I-April, 1917-Toliver had moved to southwest of Abilene, where a brother-in-law had a farm. He remembers that Abilene, at that time, had board sidewalks and "only one store where you could buy a good suit of clothes-at Minters."

He enlisted in the Army at Abilene in early 1918, and received quick training and quick boat trip to Europe.

First he was placed in the 28th Division, Infantry, then moved into the 31st Division. Once in France, 66 men were chosen from that group to go to the front lines at a special area. The Germans knocked out the railroad, so they had to hike in.

"I saw France on foot," Toliver chuckles. "Not the easiest way, especially during a war. We started out with full packs, but discarded almost everything but guns, ammunition, and emergency rations. These were: 'hard tack'-a kind of dry bread almost impossible to chew-and 'corn willie'-something I am sure was canned horse meat."

Toliver arrived on the Verdun Front 16 days before the Armistice. He soon found out why the area had a reputation for tough fighting. When not in actual combat the men slept in ditches, trenches, and dugouts. Toliver feels very fortunate to have escaped death there.

The day of the Armistice was a great one for the wary troops. Toliver's outfit remained on the Front for about 10 days afterward, then marched back into another area of France. They stayed there about 6 more months, during which time 'flu' swept through the troops. A number of the men died-but Toliver had nothing more than a sore throat.

Finally, in 1919, Toliver returned to the United States. After his discharge he came to Ranger, where he found work in the oil fields. Even after the "boom" was over he continued to work in various oil-related industries. He was working as an engineer at a Gulf Gas plant when his eyes were burned in an accident. This caused more difficulty for his sight.

Toliver married Ida Lou Garrett, who grew up in East Texas. She died a number of years ago.

Several years ago Toliver became completely blind, but this did not stop his interest in life and community activities. He has attended the Senior Citizen's luncheons and programs, and friends assist him in attending services at the Cisco Assembly of God, where his a member.

Although Toliver is not in the best of health, he has the same courageous spirit which helped him survive in France-and what life held for him afterward.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE WORK-HORSE OF THE NILE!

THESE BROAD-BEAMED VESSELS, CALLED NAGGARS, CAN STILL BE SEEN ON THE RIVER NILE, JUST AS THEY WERE WHEN THE BABY MOSES WAS SENT DRIFTING DOWN THE RIVER, IN AN ARK WOVEN OUT OF BULLRUSHES, THOUSANDS OF YEARS AGO. THESE STURDY BOATS ARE LOADED WITH CARGO UNTIL THEY ARE NEARLY AWASH IN THE WATER AND SLOWLY MAKE THEIR WAY TO MARKET—IF THERE IS NO WIND, THE MEN LINE UP ON SHORE WITH ROPES AND PULL THE VESSELS ALONG—AS IN SO MANY OF THE "BIBLE" LANDS, THE OLD WAYS ARE STILL CARRIED ON IN THE FACE OF MODERN PROGRESS!

SPOT

By DeMarquis Gordon

Along with hot temperatures, mid-summer in Eastland County may bring special lawn problems — drought, weeds, insects and disease.

These lawn problems can cause concerns for homeowners unless accurate diagnosis and proper treatment takes place before they become severe.

Dry spots, thin turf and weeds can result from improper watering, fertilizing and mowing practices. Follow recommended cultural practices before applying a chemical to correct lawn problems.

Drought stress most often occurs in mid-summer and shows up as wilted, discolored turf. Adjust watering schedules to wet the soil to a depth of four to six inches, and water only when grass shows symptoms of moisture stress.

Also, raise mowing heights one-half inch to improve drought tolerance in mid-summer.

Lack of nitrogen or iron often creates a lawn problem. Grass with a nitrogen deficiency may have a pale color and be heavily infested with weeds. A light application of a nitrogen fertilizer will improve the lawn's appearance.

Grass leaves that have yellow stripes parallel to the leaf margins may be deficient in iron. An application of iron sulfate or iron chelate at six ounces per 1,000 sq. ft. will usually solve this problem.

If St. Augustine lawn has symptoms similar to nitrogen or iron deficiency but does not respond to applications of either material, suspect St. Augustine Decline (S.A.D.). Close examination of S.A.D. infected turf will show green and yellow blotches on the leaves. Continue good maintenance practices where this problem exists. Also, Floratam, a new St. Augustine grass variety resistant to S.A.D. may be sprigged into the infected area.

Leaf spot diseases are generally a problem when lawns are under stress and increase with high temperatures, drought, heavy shade and close mowing. While proper mowing and water will reduce these problems, fungicides may be required to prevent serious damage.

Chinch bugs and white grubs feed heavily on lawns during mid-summer, and their damage resembles drought injury. If turf does not respond to applications of water, suspect these insects. Both pests damage St. Augustine grass, but only white grub damages bermudagrass lawns.

Chinch bugs and white grubs can be controlled with insecticides. Water the lawn thoroughly prior to applying an insecticide for chinch bug control, and follow with a light watering.

Drench the lawn after an insecticide is applied for grub control, since grubs feed in the soil.

We will be attending the Texas County Agricultural Agent's Association annual meeting in Tyler August 1-4.

The annual professional conference will be highlighted by a number of key-note speakers, business sessions and recognition ceremonies.

Among featured speakers will be Deputy Chancellor for Agriculture Perry L. Adkisson of Texas A&M University System; U.S. Rep. Ralph Hall of the 4th Congressional District; Dr. Zerle Carpenter, who will become Extension Service Director on Sept. 1; Mr. Frank Naylor, Under Secretary of Agriculture for Small Communities and Rural Development.

Highlighting the first day's program will be a special luncheon honoring seven county agents who have been named recipients of the Distinguished Service Award for 1982.

A special banquet honoring recipients of the "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" Award will highlight the second day's program.

Conservation Tillage Fights Erosion

Texas farmers can fight both soil erosion and the cost-price squeeze by using conservation tillage practices, says an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He said many degrees of tillage are involved in the concept of conservation tillage, yet all refer to reduction in the number of trips across fields. Conservation tillage systems also require an increase in crop management efforts, however, the specialist adds.

Historical To Be Set July 31 Near Eastland

A Texas Historical Marker for the Hargus farm, located on the I20 Access Rd. 2 mi. E. of Eastland, will be dedicated on Saturday, July 31, 2:00 p.m. This will be the first time in Eastland County that a Family Land Heritage Award farm has had a Marker erected.

The Family Land Heritage Award recognizes Texas families who have maintained continuous agricultural production on the same land for 100 years or more.

Mrs. Pebble Hargus Boles, the present owner, and her son, Winston Boles, will host the event. The public is invited.

Larry Hargus, the original farm owner, and his wife Mary (Corder) came to Eastland County in 1879. In 1881 they bought the original tract of their farm at the site from C.U. Connelley, a founder of Eastland.

The Hargus family were also active in the development of a local Methodist Church.

The family farm was later inherited by Larry Hargus' son Barry, who lived there with his wife Mackie (Gilbert) and eight children. Three of these children are still living: Pebble Hargus Boles of Eastland, Valera Hargus of Belton, and Gilbert Hargus of Tyler.

Pebble Hargus Boles married Claude Boles of Eastland, who operated the farm for a number of years. Eventually the Boles purchased all the property from the other heirs. After the death of Claude Boles, in 1965, the Boles son Winston began active management of the land.

Judge Scott Bailey of Eastland, Chairman of the Eastland County Historical Commission, will speak during the program and make the Dedication of the Historic Marker. Descendants of the Hargus family will also participate on the program.

A large group of family, friends, and Civic leaders are expected to attend.

Disability Cases Being Reviewed

Beginning in 1981, individuals receiving Social Security disability checks began having their file reviewed. Generally, every three years, unless a shorter or longer period is justified because of the nature of the impairments, all individuals getting a disability check will have their file reviewed.

This new law passed by Congress in 1980, recognized the many new advances in medical science. Also, rehabilitation techniques have improved since the first disability checks were issued.

Social Security disability benefits can be paid only as long as you are unable to do any gainful work because of your impairment. Congress felt that the more often than they had been doing in the past. So the review was started in March 1981.

When a case is reviewed, you and your doctor will be asked for current information and evidence on how your impairment affects your ability to work. If additional evidence is needed, the State Agency which does the review for Social Security can send you for a special examination, at Government expense. It is important that you keep this appointment.

After the file is reviewed, you will be notified in writing of the decision on your file. If the disability requirements are still met, your checks will continue.

If the final decision is that you are no longer disabled, the checks will continue for the month of the decision and two additional months, then your checks will stop.

If you have any additional questions about the review of your disability claim, please get in touch with the nearest Social Security Office. The Abilene office is located at 142 S. Pioneer. The phone number is 698-1360.

Strake Talk

Keeping In Touch

This is the first of what I intend to be a number of weekly columns from me, discussing various topics of importance to Texans. During the coming weeks, we will discuss such things as President Reagan's "New Federalism" proposal, the need for better laws dealing with drunk drivers, illegal aliens, the education of our children, and a host of other issues that will be on our political agenda.

I believe these columns will provide a unique opportunity to stimulate public discussion on these important issues. Indeed, this may be the only way. I have challenged my opponent, Mr. Hobby, to a series of free-wheeling debates on political issues, so both our views could be put before the people of Texas. We met in debate one time in Houston. In the view of all observers, Mr. Hobby lost and he has announced that he will not debate again. So I have chosen this route to try to let you know my position on the issues. I feel you are entitled to know that before you make your decision in the November election. Additionally, I hope you will let me know your views. They are important to me.

The office of Lieutenant Governor is exceedingly powerful in Texas. It affects all our lives. In addition to presiding over the State Senate, the Lt. Governor appoints all Senate committees, their chairmen, and assigns all legislation to the committee of his choice. He presides over the Legislative Budget Board, which significantly shapes state spending. It is an office all Texans ought to be concerned about.

I hope you will watch for this column. Tell your friends and neighbors about it. Discuss the issues. Together, we can make a contribution to the political processes, and hopefully improve all our lives. Let me know your views on the issues I discuss in the weeks ahead. Just write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, Texas. 78705.

Chambers-Spence Reunion

A reunion for descendants of Spencer Chambers and Nancy Roe Chambers and John Wesley Spence and Martha Almeda Lester Spence will be held next Sunday, August 1st, in the May Community Center.

Both the Chambers and Spence families were early settlers of the Wolf Valley Community near May, and still have many descendants in the area.

Spencer and Nancy Chambers, who came to Brown County from Albertville, Alabama, were parents of seven children. These included Eugene, Griggs, Paul, Wade, Bin, Soloman and Lizette.

John Spence, who came to Texas after the Civil War, and his wife, Martha, were parents of nine children, John, Lily, Mary, Wessie, Edna, Jim, Lola, George, and Mike.

Meat for next Sunday's Reunion will be furnished, along with bread, tea, coffee, ice, cups, plates, and cutlery. Those attending are urged to bring their favorite dishes.

Members of the family attending are also requested to bring items of family interest for display, or family stories to tell at the afternoon meeting.

Commentary

by Myrtle Owen

REMEMBER; what God Has Done For You In Times Past. "Art not thou our God, who did drive out the inhabitants of this land before they people Israel, and gave it to the seed of Abraham thy friend forever? It is important that you know for yourself the records of God's deliverance in the past, which are recorded in the bible. It is important for your faith that you know how God has always delivered his people from every physical and spiritual affliction that they have fallen into.

Of equal importance it is the knowledge of your personal relationship with God. Jehoshaphat recited the historical evidence that God was with Israel in the past; but now, he declares that God's power and presence are not only "past tense." God was, but always is the god of the present, the now the immediate. God is "an ever-present help in times of trouble." (Ps. 46:1) One of the greatest truths ever written in the Bible is in the 23rd Ps. King David said, "The Lord is my Shepherd." Here we have the personal application that God is not only God. He is not only present at the moment, but He is, to David, "any shepherd."

He is not just any shepherd. God is a personal God. Jehoshaphat found the secret of knowing God in a personal way. The historical connection was not good enough. Your mother, father, grandfather, grandmother, sister, or brother can know the Lord, but that is not good enough for you. You could be the great-grandson of Martin Luther, or John Wesley, but that doesn't really do you any good in your hour of need unless you can address "their" God as your very own. This personal relationship between God and man is brought out in so many different ways in the Bible.

In this present scripture, we not only see man declaring his relationship to the Lord God, but we have much evidence in the scripture for the claim going in the opposite direction. God is declaring His relationship with us. In Isaiah, we hear this promise of the Lord to His people, "When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour... (Isaiah 43:2).

Note the personal application here: "I will be with thee"...not a messenger, not someone appointed, either heavenly or earthly, but God will deliver in the times of trouble.

The fires may rage, but if you keep your trust in God, you will never be burned; the waters may rise all around you, but God will be right there to see that they never overcome you, you will not drown. "God does not guarantee that you will not go through tribulations, like a flood, or have trials that appear to be a mighty raging fire around you; you will feel the heat of the flaming fire, but the waters will not go over your head, nor will your flesh be burned.
