According to Duncan Dawson in the Dallas News of last Sunday, a former student of the University of Texas from Rising Star returned two books which he checked out of the physics library 21 years ago and was forgiven a fine of $660 which had accumulated.

No doubt, the University figured that pre-Atomic Age physics books were antique enough to be worth more than the fine.

Those growers who planted late watermelon crops after a heavy spring rains washed up early plantings this season, are finding their judgment paying off handsomely. They figured that plantings in other areas of the state, which normally come off later, or earlier, than the crop in this area would also be heavily damaged by rains and that even though the West Central Texas melons would be two or three weeks late, the crop as a whole would be short and the price good.

Rising Star area melons are just now beginning to come on the market and several growers with large acreage are reaping a nice harvest. The price this week at the fields was two and a half cents per pound on the average, I was told, and that means money when there is a reasonable yield.

A considerable acreage of melon was planned and to a great extent planted during the early part of the rainy spring season. When lazier and heavy rains washed out a large part of the plantings many growers refused to take a chance on a late crop. Those who did are profiting in a handsome way. Too bad there isn't greater acreage.

The peach crop likewise is returning a nice dividend to growers with commercial orchards. C. E. Smith and C. M. Cox have splendid crops. So do many other growers. Unfortunately, however, there has been a great decline in the number of fruit trees in this area as a result of the long drought and the late spring freezes. The current peach crop is the first in five years in this area.

Farm prices are generally favorable and farmers who are willing to work and to use their ingenuity are doing well with dairying, livestock raising and crops that can be harvested before the mid-summer dry season.

All that is needed to make conditions good here is rain. There has been such a demand for goods and improvements created by the long drought, that a good crop would stimulate a lot of business for everybody, and a lot of satisfaction for those farmers who have stuck with their hopes and their disappointments for the past seven years.

It's a long lane that has no turning.

Burns to Ground Sipe Springs Home

The modern brick home of Junior Files, Sipe Springs rancher and farmer, burned to the ground at noon Tuesday. The Rising Star and De Leon Fire Departments sent trucks but the house was already practically destroyed by the time they arrived. Cause of the blaze was not known here.

C. W. Brown Dunn No. 1 Good for 40 Barrels

The C. W. Brown Gus Dunn No. 1 in the Roberters field northwest of Rising Star tested for a potential of 40 barrels daily from the 1050-foot sand last week. The well is a 600-foot north offset to the Sam Eakin F. W. Roberters No. 1. Allowable is 5 barrels daily. Meanwhile Sam Eakin was drilling at 850 feet Saturday in his Pauline Roberters No. 1-A in the center of an 80-acre tract on which the same producer already has a well.

Fair Group Called Monday Night

Members of the Rising Star Free Fall Fair organization were called to meet at the Majestic Hotel Monday evening of next week at 8 o'clock to begin work on the fair program this fall. J. D. (Skeet) Clark is general superintendent for the three-day event which will be held September 26, 27 and 28.

Some work has already been done on the plans, members of the Chamber of Commerce were the Elite Cafe Tuesday noon, such as contacting women's clubs and other organizations who have been invited to send exhibits.

At the meeting next Monday plans for the parade, livestock show, commercial and agricultural exhibits and all the other features and details of the annual event will be put under way. All superintendents and committee members were urged to be present at the meeting.

As a method of demonstrating the quality of watermelons grown in the Rising Star area this year, the Chamber of Commerce voted to offer three cash prizes for the best melons grown in this area and exhibited at the Chamber of Commerce offices Monday, August 12. The suggestion for such an exhibit was made after Sec't A. D. Jenkins reported that E. B. Harding had brought two fine specimens of Tom Watson melons grown on his farm northeast of town, to the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday.

All growers of melons were invited to bring melons to be exhibited and compete for the prizes to the CoC office before August 12. Cash prizes will be paid by the CoC to growers whose melons are adjudged first, second and third best.

Members of the committee named to study the possibility of constructing a swimming pool in Rising Star reported to the Chamber of Commerce meeting that a survey was being made under a proposal that a stock company be organized to finance and operate such a pool as a business investment. Between $7,000 and $8,000 in subscriptions to such stock was in sight, the group was told, but the survey was not yet finished and there was no recommendation that could be made.

The committee was continued in its function.

Mrs. Bostick on State THDA Panel Program Friday

Mrs. Cecil Bostick of Nimrod left Tuesday afternoon for Houston where she will appear Friday on the State THDA convention panel program in a discussion on community club activities. She will relate the experience of the Nimrod Neighbors Progressive Club in winning first place in the District Pasture Improvement Contest this year. She also attend a recreation workshop.

Meanwhile her two sons, Ronnie and Robert Bostick won third place in the State FFA Convention Talent Show at Fort Worth recently. They were the top vocalists, both the first and second place winners being bands. Six votes separated the top three winners.

Mrs. Hall Buried At Nimrod Thursday

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Mary Ella Hall, 92, Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Nimrod Baptist Church with the Rev. Charles Wood, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cisco, officiating. Burial was in the Nimrod Cemetery.

Mrs. Hall was a resident of the Nimrod community for 60 years and a Cisco resident for the past five years. She died early Wednesday morning at a Cisco hospital following a long illness. Mrs. Hall was born in Mississippi on December 22, 1864. Her husband died in 1938.

Survivors include a son, W. H. Hall of Cisco; a daughter, Mrs. Dottie Marshall of Loraine; a brother, R. A. Ferguson of Seymour; two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Snodgrass of Nimrod and Mrs. R. B. Hogan of Seymour; 10 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Boy Scout Trust Fund Swelled to $3,000 by Gifts

BROWNWOOD. — Contributions have totaled $3,000 to a Boy Scout Trust Fund of the Comanche Trail Council since the founding of the fund April 21, 1955, board members, have announced. The trust exists under a charter issued by the National Boy Scout Council of America.

The first donation to the fund was given Dec. 27, 1955, by trustees of the Ed G. Hall Estate. It was $1,400 in savings bonds. A year later additional bonds amounting to $1,600 were contributed to the Scout trust by the Hall trustees.

"On behalf of the Boy Scout fund trustees, we consider the trust fund the finest project that has ever been initiated," Judge A. O. Newman, chairman of the Scout fund, said.

He said the Scout fund trustees were hoping gifts would soon reach $100,000.

Hall Estate trustees are Dean Rippetoe, Mrs. Ora Lee Rice and E. P. Woodruff, all of Brownwood.

Rippetoe, who is a vice president and cashier at First National Bank of Brownwood, said, "The trustees of the Hall Estate thought the Boy Scout trust was a good thing. The main reason we gave the bonds to the trust was because we know it was something which would be permanent."

The purpose of the Hall Estate was to make gifts to such worthy causes as the Boy Scout trust, Woodruff added.

In Trust. Trustees of the Scout fund have been given authority by the declaration of the trust to hold the principal of all money or property given to the fund. However, all persons making gifts may specifically authorize the money to be spent for certain projects.

Actually the money spent is the income from the principal, Joe Galbraith, Comanche Trail Council Scout executive said. Funds are deposited in First National and Citizens National Banks of Brownwood.

Six men are currently serving as trustees of the Scout trust fund along with the president of the Comanche Trail Council. They are Dr. J. C. Terrell of Stephenville, Pat Cagle of Comanche, Grady Pipkin of Eastland, L. M. Stephens of Lometa, and W. Wayne Dees and Judge Newman of Brownwood.

Cox, council president, is a member of the board by the nature of his office. Trustees of the trust fund are appointed by the council for life.

Galbraith said contributions to the funds are ways for people to make gifts which will have a lasting benefit. He said he thought the fund and gifts which have been given to it are examples of "Christianity at work."

"I feel the trust fund is the finest means of helping boys and future boys secure a program which will lead to the finest in physical, spiritual and mental training, which will be needed in the atomic age," President Cox said.

New Regulations Govern Bagging Of Peanuts, Farmers Are Reminded

Peanut farmers have been urged to become familiar with the new regulations concerning the type of bags they must use in marketing their 1957 crops, according to E. E. Blackwell, chairman of the Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The new rules were recently adopted by the ASC Committee.

"It is of utmost importance that producers meet the minimum requirements in order to avoid delay and possible refusal by warehousemen to accept their peanuts for the government loan program," Blackwell says.

He points out that the Commodity Credit Corporation in previous years encountered losses and difficulties from the use of old odd size and type bags in carrying out the peanut price support program.

This resulted in waste and loss from torn bags, problems in handling and stacking peanuts in the warehouse and difficulty in meeting sanitation requirements of the Pure Food and Drug Administration, Blackwell says.

"These problems originate with individual growers when they use old, dirty and odd-size bags," he continues. "For this reason, the CCC this year has established minimum requirements with respect to bags in order that peanuts may be eligible for price supports."

The ASC chairman listed the following minimum requirements:

1. Peanuts delivered in mesh or net type bags will not be eligible

2. The bags shall be made of material weighing not less than 7 1/2 ounces nor more than 10 ounces per square yard.

3. The bags shall be of uniform size with approximately two bushels capacity.

4. The bags shall be new or thoroughly cleaned used bags, free from holes and finished at the top with either the salvage edge of the material, binding or hem.

5. The date for the annual Eastland County Farm Bureau Queen contest has been scheduled for August 16, according to a statement by Mitchell Campbell, Farm group president, Friday night at a called session of the board of directors, at the City Park in Eastland.

Miss Barbara Joy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Smith from Gorman, is the first contestant to signify that she will participate in the contest this year. She is the granddaughter of FB Director Luther Cunningham, also of Gorman.

Communities are urged to get the names of their candidate to the Committee Chairman, Mrs. John Leveridge, and Mrs. Clyde Coates, both of Cisco. Any young lady who is 16, single, a daughter or a sister of a Farm Bureau member is eligible to enter the contest. The county winner will participate in the District 7 contest in the near future to decide the State title winner.

Parents Of Minors Liable Under New Vandalism Law

Attention has been called here to the new Texas law covering acts of vandalism and passed by the last Texas Legislature. The law, which became effective August 22, reads as follows:

"Section 1. Any property owner, including any municipal corporation, county school district, or other political subdivision of the State of Texas, or any department or agency of the State of Texas, or any person, partnership, corporation or organization, whether incorporated or unincorporated, shall be entitled to recover damages in an amount not to exceed Three Hundred Dollars ($300) from the parents of any minor under the age of eighteen (18) years and over the age of ten (10), who maliciously and wilfully damages or destroys property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to such owner. However, this Act shall not apply to parents whose parental custody and control of such child has been removed by court order, decree or judgement.

"Section 2. The suit may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction, and venue thereof shall be governed by the statutes regulating venue in actions based upon trespass. The recovery shall be limited to the actual damages in an amount not to exceed Three Hundred Dollars ($300) in addition to taxable court costs.

"Section 3. The action authorized in this Act shall be in addition to all other actions which the owner is entitled to maintain and nothing in this Act shall preclude recovery in a greater amount from the minor or from any other person, including the parents, for damages to which such minor or other person would otherwise be liable, it being the purpose of this Act to authorize recovery from parents, and to limit the amount of the recovery, in situations where they would not otherwise be liable."

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Milner, were Mrs. R. B. Poole of Weatherford, a sister-in-law of Mrs. John Teague, also Mrs. Milner's father and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott and their three children of Fort Worth have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Scott.

Tuesday Is Hottest With 108 Degrees

The searing heat wave which extended through July rose Tuesday to a high of 108 degrees, according to the city thermometer. The hottest day of the year was one of 14 days during the month which the temperature stood at 100 degrees or better and for most of the other days it rose to within touching distance of that level.

The sustained heat again this week had put such a pressure of demand upon the city water supply that the pumps, although working at full capacity, were falling behind. Unless there is a voluntary reduction of water consumption on the part of the citizens, it may be necessary to impose rationing restrictions in order to insure a reserve in the tanks, Mayor Walter Smith said.

A similar appeal earlier this month met with good response from water users and the city was able to restore its reserve and avoid restrictions on water use. But Tuesday the level was again dangerously low and there was the possibility that rationing regulations would have to be resorted to unless there was a voluntary reduction in demand.

Meanwhile, despite scattered showers of a week or ten days ago, crops were suffering serious pastures were badly burned, and feed crops, although still in good condition, were in immediate need of a general rain if they are to make a good crop this fall. A dry weather crop, peanuts can withstand a lot of dry weather during the early stages of development, but when fruiting time arrives they need moisture. A good rain in August would insure a good yield, growers said, but that rain was necessary.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"?

Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 181 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges depend upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men were created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some 5 years later, the first

HOW VALUABLE

...IS LOCAL NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO LOCAL BUSINESS PEOPLE?

Here's what the American Bankers Magazine, a publication which represents a traditionally conservative profession, has to say:

"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town . . . it's the best possible town adviser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

AUSTIN.—"School days, school days, all around the state," may stray somewhat from the original song, but it means that come September, around 263,000 little Texans will be going off to school for the first time.

In anticipation of this the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health is girding itself for the annual last minute onslaught of thousands of requests for birth certificate photostats.

It seems that each year the situation repeats itself. Most school districts require proof of birth in the form of a birth certificate or photostat for students entering school for the first time in the first grade.

Harried mothers all too often forget about this requirement until middle August. By then the Bureau of Vital Statistics is flooded with thousands of similar requests for photostat copies resulting in a delay in the receiving of the copy for two weeks or more.

In efforts to speed up the process, the bureau each year hired extra help and works overtime, in addition to using certain speed-up techniques to aid in the location of the original certificates kept on permanent file at the Department of Health.

Most of the requests will be for six-year-old children. Knowing this, vital statistics personnel arrange the record books containing the 217,470 certificates of birth for the year 1951 and part of the "stacks" for 1950 so that access will be easier and quicker.

The removal and replacement of the certificates for photostating is done at the "stacks" by the extra personnel instead of at the photostat machine by the technicians in the usual manner.

In this way a staggering pile-up of record books is avoided and the issuance of birth certificate photostats is greatly speeded.

State Registrar Don Carroll asks that requests for photostat copies be made as soon as possible to avoid the rush. Contact your local health department or send the request to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State

Marable Named WTCC General Manager

ABILENE.—Paul D. Marable, Jr., has been named general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce according to an announcement by WTCC executive vice-president Fred H. Husbands carried in the current issue of the WTCC magazine, West Texas Today.

"In charge of the work of the WTCC in water resources and industrial development for the past five years, Marable is being given a 'considerable amount of administrative responsibility with respect to all the work of the organization,' Husbands stated."

The monthly magazine also quotes Husbands as saying that a re-assignment of staff member functions and responsibilities have been made in strengthening the West Texas Chamber to more efficiently serve work needs which are now being expanded.

In the announcement, Husbands pointed out that two new staff members have been added during the past 12 months. Jim Roberson relieved Marable of work in publications and informational activity in Aug. 1956 which Marable had been handling for four years, Husbands said.

W. R. (Dick) Kendrick joined the WTCC staff in May, 1957, to provide full-time staff attention to member relations, previously a part-time responsibility of Ralph Duncan, Husbands states in the announcement. He added that Duncan will "now give more time to community services, although continuing to work much of the time in member relations."

Returns From Six Weeks Vacation

Mrs. Ethel Barnes has returned to her home here after a six-weeks stay in Dallas with her daughter, Mary Nell. During her visit she and her daughter and Mrs. Ethel Parker and Janice Arnett went to Florida on a vacation trip, during which they visited the Bellingraph Gardens in Alabama and the Cypress Gardens in Winterhaven, Fla., and many other interesting places.

They drove to the eastern coast of Florida and returned by the Gulf Coast route. "It rained on us most of the way," said Mrs. Barnes, "and it was much cooler than Texas. The huge pecan orchards and orange groves were beautiful sights as were the banana trees."

Weathermen now have a hard time pinpointing tornadoes and other severe local storms. Such forecasts usually cover a much wider range in both time and space than is actually affected by a particular storm. Current research with electronic equipment is encouraging however, Jehn says. Such research points toward improvement in weather bureau facilities for alerting the public to impending tornadoes and thus saving lives and property.

Accurate Weather Forecast Possible Only Week Ahead

AUSTIN—Even with modern electronic computers, the weatherman cannot accurately forecast day-by-day variations in the weather more than one week in advance, University of Texas Meteorologist K. H. Jehn says.

"Many persons tend to believe that the computer is the final achievement in weather forecasting. They think that present weather conditions can be fed into the computer, which will then produce a perfect forecast. That is not the case, however. Computers may answer certain problems faster, but they are not necessarily more accurate than man," Jehn says.

Explaining just what the public may expect from professional meteorologists, Jehn says that detailed weather forecasts are possible for two or three days in advance, but the reliability of the prediction decreases progressively after the first day.

Individuals or organizations sometimes publish forecasts for conditions more than one month in advance, but they are misleading the public if they do not clearly describe the forecasts as experimental and of unproved value, he added.

Weathermen now have a hard time pinpointing tornadoes and other severe local storms. Such forecasts usually cover a much wider range in both time and space than is actually affected by a particular storm. Current research with electronic equipment is encouraging however, Jehn says. Such research points toward improvement in weather bureau facilities for alerting the public to impending tornadoes and thus saving lives and property.

WHERE ELSE BUT FROM GOD?

Faith Builds Stronger People

It's been told many times how there were no atheists in the foxholes.

Faith under fire was quick, complete, uncomplicated and unquestioned. Fortunately, many who found faith under these conditions kept it—even after the firing stopped and the last troopship docked back home.

Like much of the hard wisdom learned in war, the faith developed in battle has been put to wider, wiser use in the years that have followed.

It has spread outward now ... to the family, giving them the strength needed to weather the long, hard pulls and the short, sharp adversities.

That strong family faith and stronger, richer life it brings are never built better than now ... are never built surer than when you worship together regularly—every week. Remember! It's your faith ... your family!

Build a stronger, richer life . . . worship together this week!

As Time Goes Marching On—
... more and more land titles become involved in an endless chain of normal every-day events precipitated by marriage, divorce, lunacy, illegitimacy, birth, death, the hidden heir and many other natural and unnatural happenings within the family circle. Thanks to time it has a tendency to cure some titles with possession a controlling influence, but wrecks and changes the status of many others. Your abstract is a safeguard — keep it up to date.

Cattle Price Break Meets Resistance

FORT WORTH. — The sharp break in cattle and calf prices of a week ago met with firm resistance from cattlemen who have the best water and grass conditions in a long time. The movement of cattle and calves to Fort Worth was less than half the numbers offered for sale a week earlier.

Result of the hold-off was an uneven market, however, changes were all on the upside of the price schedule.

Slaughter calves and stocker and feeder cattle and calves rebounded sharply with 50 cents to $1 per hundred higher prices. Cows were strong to 50 cents or more above the low close of last week. Bulls ruled steady. Fed steers and heifers were in small supply and were steady.

Good and choice slaughter yearlings and heifers sold from $20 to $23, and medium and lower grades bulked at $13 to $19.

Fat cows cashed at $12.50 to $14, with few heiferish kinds to $15. Cannors and cutters cashed at $8 to $12.50.

Bulls scored $11 to $15, a few to $15.50. Good and choice slaughter calves ranged from $18 to $21, and common and medium offerings cashed at $13 to $17.50. Culls sold from $10 to $13.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $19 to $23, and stocker steer yearlings sold from $21 down. Feeder steers weighing up to 900 pounds sold from $20.50 down. A few replacement cows sold from $10 to $13.50. Estimated supply of cattle and calves here Monday was 3,800 cattle and calves compared to actual salable receipts a week earlier of 8,068.
