Randy Goldston Seeks Your Vote Saturday

I have lived in Rising Star most of my life. I graduated from Rising Star High School in 1972 and went to Texas State Technical Institute in Waco where I studied electronics.

I have been employed by Brownwood Television Cable Service for 16 years. I opened Goldston Satellite Antenna's Sales and Service in 1982 and I also have a small cattle operation. I served as president of the Rising Star Ex-Student Association 1986-87 and currently serve on the Board of Directors of the Association.

I am married to Nanette

Goldston and we have two children, Brandi and Dusty. We have made Rising Star our home and, with anyone else that has resided here, have witnessed the declining state of Rising Star.

I would appreciate the opportunity to serve Rising Star as a member of the city council. I will do everything possible to promote growth and industry in our city. I would continue pursuing government grants for the improvement of our community.

I would appreciate your vote on May 5th.

Randy Goldston

Rains Cause Flooding

A Rising Star Rural fire truck and a semi, far left, blocked traffic heading east on U. S. Highway 36 last Thursday morning and another fire truck was parked behind the barricade on U. S. Highway 183 south as volunteers warned motorists that the roads to Comanche and Brownwood were closed.

A landscape already soaked with rains which had put the total rainfall for the year much higher than average, was inundated with a downpour that lasted several hours and caused flooding over a wide area April 25 and 26.

While Rising Star escaped the heavier amounts of 16 and 17 inches falling on Brownwood, Comanche and De Leon, the more than six inches measured here caused flooding in several residences and at the nursing home. Numerous fences were downed by the rush of the waters and a number of country roads were washed out. Some cattle were unaccounted for.

Much damage was caused to the pavement on bridges on highways that serve Rising Star, particularly to the east. State Highway Department personnel alerted Rising Star that U.S. Highway 183 to the south and U.S. Highway 36 to the east were closed because of floodwaters and bridge damage.

Volunteers began during the night of Wednesday, April 25, to flag traffic and warn motorists and truckers of the closed roads. Various volunteers worked through the night and throughout much of the day Thursday until word was finally given that 36E was open to traffic. Last Wednesday morning the soil around Rising Star was topped up with .2 to .6 inch of moisture, with the heavier amounts reported west of town. As evening began, so did the rainfall that led to flooding. The rain continued through the night and stopped about 9 a.m. Thursday, after many six-inch gauges had overflowed. Larger gauges held 6.75 inches of water, but the amounts varied according to location.

Rainfall was heavier to the south and east of Rising Star. One farmer in the Williams area estimated 8 inches of rain, and a farmer near Sidney reported more than 11 inches while to the north of Rising Star one gauge caught less than 5 inches.

Flooding occurred at Highway 183 and Mayfield Street in the south part of town. Floodwaters crept into the nursing home, to the west of 183 on S. Miller, and patients in the south wing were moved to dry areas. Some homes to the east of Rising Star were also flooded.

Farmers nearer Rising Star were hoping to recover some of their missing cattle, but news reports revealed that many head of goat and sheep were drowned in the extensive flooding in Brown County.

Several schools in the heavily flooded areas were closed Thursday, including the Rising Star and May schools. Friday had already been designated a holiday for Rising Star schools, so dirt roads in this area had begun drying out before classes resumed Monday.

Temperatures rose into the 90s Sunday before another cold front brought chilly weather Monday. Some mist fell off and on through a cold Tuesday.

Main, not welcome under such wet conditions, began falling about 6 p.m. Tuesday and by 6 a.m. Wednesday thunderstorms had added another 3.1 inches of rainfall to Rising Star. More rain was predicted.

Volunteers Are Great

To everyone whose combined efforts during the long and hectic hours of emergencies caused by the heavy rainfall of April 26 and 27: You all did a great job!

I would like to extend my personal thanks to each one of you for your help during that time. If the hectic pace and hours away from my work caused me to overlook any names, please be sure I appreciate your efforts.

Thanks to Rusty and Dottie Davis, Dwight and Trisha Hutchinson, Mike Nall, Dennis Reagan, Gene Hicks, Truitt Horton, Bones and Kay O'Connor, Billy Bush and Kay Fraley.

And, my thanks to Brent

Holden, Shannon Bailey and Frank Agnew for helping at the nursing home.

During emergencies such as this, please remember to use the emergency telephone numbers for emergencies only. We never know when a person may be calling for help in a desperate situation. No one should knowingly cause delays by using the emergency line to make unfounded complaints or for any non-emergency reason.

Again, my thanks to those who helped for giving their time and efforts so unselfishly.

FHA Dinner Theater Comedies on May 5

The Rising Star Chapter of Future Homemakers of American (FHA) is proud to present two one-act plays, "Oh, Baby," a comedy by Le Roma Greth, and "Snowee White and the Seven Chicks" by Juliet Garver, Saturday, May 5.

This is the fourth year that the Dinner Theater has been presented. This year's menu is taco salad, chicken enchiladas, tamales, rice, beans and a delicious dessert. The play will be presented in the high school and dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any FHA student or the Home Ec Dept. at high school for $8 per adult and $5 per child; children under two eat free. For your ticket reservations call 643-3362 or 643-3172, or see any FHA student.

For the third year in a row FHA voted for one-half of the profits to go to the Meredith Hamblen Scholarship Fund. A big thanks to all who have enabled this fund to grow. Each year a high point vocational student is awarded a $500 scholarship from this fund to the college of their choice. Meredith Hamblen died two and a half years ago in an auto accident. Her love of life and laughter will live in the memories of those of us who knew her forever.

If you'd just like to see the two one-act plays, tickets may be purchased at the door at $3 for adults and $1.50 for children, with dessert included. The first play will start at about 7 p.m. Saturday, May 5.

Roddy Peoples, the Voice of Southwest Agriculture, will serve as moderator for the Clinic and will conduct his VSA Agriculture Broadcast live from the Brownwood Coliseum.

After Dale Minnick has "Primed Your Pump" with laughter, Dr. Bill Mies will discuss "Valve Based Marketing" of Beef Cattle. Dr. Mies brings many years of industry experience in management positions with Friona Industries and Alta Verde Industries. Dr. Mies is now Associate Professor of Texas A&M University and oversees the Masters of Agriculture Program in feedlot management.

The Clinic will conclude with Jim Pumphrey, Livestock Specialist, with The Noble Foundation in Ardmore, Oklahoma, discussing "Selection of Beef Cattle" for today's markets.

Dr. Steve Hammack, Beef Cattle Specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will conduct a "Question and Answer" session at the end of both the morning and afternoon sessions.

Coordination of the Clinic is handled by the Beef Cattle sub committees of Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, McCulloch, Mills, and San Saba counties. For further information contact DeMarquis Gordon, County Extension Agent.

School Financing Crisis

As of May 1, 1990, the Texas Supreme Court will comply with their judgement in Edgewood vs. Kirby and shut off State funding to Texas Public Schools. The State Legislature have been in special sessions since February 28th in an attempt to restructure the school financing, but both sessions have failed to produce a bill that was satisfactory to both Legislators and the Governor. In the latest attempt, a sales tax increase, Governor Clements vowed to veto the bill on Monday, April 30th and at this time the 2/3 vote of both House and Senate to override said veto had not been reached.

So how will this "State Shut-Off Of Funds" affect Eastland County schools? In speaking with the three superintendents, the following questions were asked of each and their individual replies follow.

1ST INTERVIEW WITH JERRY JACKSON, SUPERINTENDENT OF RANGER INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

1. WHEN AND IF THE TEXAS SUPREME COURT SHUTS OFF FUNDS TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS, WILL YOU BE ABLE TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL THE END OF THIS SCHOOL YEAR?

Yes, we will remain open.
2. ARE YOUR RESERVE FUNDS ADEQUATE ENOUGH TO CONTINUE THROUGH THE SUMMER AS FAR AS TEACHER/STAFF SALARIES AND MAINTENANCE OF SCHOOL CAMPUSES?

Yes.
3. DO YOU FORESEE PROBLEMS STARTING IN THE FALL, EVEN IF THE LEGISLATURE PASSES A BILL THIS SUMMER IN COMPLIANCE WITH EDGEWOOD VS. KIRBY?

No.
4. DO YOU AGREE WITH GOVERNOR BILL CLEMENTS' PLAN TO VETO THE TAX BILL IN LIEU OF HIS ALTERNATE FUNDING THROUGH CUTS IN OTHER STATE DEPARTMENTS?

No. They started off the year 500 million in the hole through paper shuffling last year.

5. DO YOU FEEL THE LEGISLATURE AND GOVERNOR CLEMENTS WAITED TOO LONG TO BEGIN PLANS FOR RESTRUCTURING SCHOOL FINANCING?

No. Schools are always last. It's the biggest expenditure of State Funds, but they always wait to discuss it's financing.

6. DO YOU FEEL THE EDUCATION OF TEXAS WILL SUFFER BECAUSE OF THE SUPREME COURT DECISION OR IS FINANCIAL RESTRUCTURING NEEDED IN MOST PUBLIC SCHOOLS?

Yes. It was needed.
7. DO YOU, AS AN EDUCATOR, FEEL THAT MORE MONEY IS THE ANSWER TO BETTER SCHOOLS IN TEXAS?

No. [locally] more parental involvement, less extra-curricular activities during the week, and higher standards.

[statewide] less t.v., more homework; more calculators and computers, drop-out programs, more scientific equipment, some type of academic excellence awards and better enforcement of compulsory attendance laws with the installation of juvenile or truant officers funded by county or state which has the authority to enforce the law.

The second interview was with Superintendent Keith Watkins of Eastland, who answered all questions and had some other comments.

QUESTION 1: Yes. The local funds are available to finish this term without a problem.

QUESTION 2: Yes. We can maintain the staff and do the usual work around the buildings.

QUESTION 3: I think all the schools would have problems getting started next fall if the Legislature doesn't pass a bill that will give adequate funding. If they get the funding into compliance, I see no problem with next fall.

QUESTION 4: I don't agree with the Governor's plan to veto the bill to fund education by raising the sales tax. I don't think his partial funding from other sources will work.

QUESTION 5: Yes. I feel they could have been more prompt on this. But many times packages on Education are the last thing to be funded.

QUESTION 6: No, I don't think Education will suffer in the long run because of this ruling. I think it will be improved - but it will cost more money. Eastland would get more state funding by the restructuring - at least under the bulls I've seen.

QUESTION 7: No, money is not the only answer - but it is part of it. It has been frustrating in the past to have new programs mandated - but mandated without state funds. I hope this new plan would provide the funds.

In commenting on the situation in Austin, Watkins said: "I know the folks down there have a difficult job. I doubt if there are enough votes to override the Governor's veto - something else will have to be worked out. It will be interesting to see what!"

The third interview was with Superintendent Ray Saunders of Cisco, who also took time out to answer questions:

QUESTION 1: Yes, we have the funds to complete this school term.

QUESTION 2: Yes. We have the funds to do everything necessary this summer.

QUESTION 3: We can start school next fall without more state funding, but we would need help. We could probably run the school on through October. If the state complies with the Edgewood vs. Kirby ruling I see no problem.

QUESTION 4: No, I don't agree with Gov. Clements' plan. I'm not crazy about the Senate Bill - It is not what I wanted - but the Senate Bill sure beats a veto.

QUESTION 5: Yes, I certainly do.

QUESTION 6: Not if the State will address it. I believe all the schools in Eastland County would benefit from the Edgewood vs. Kirby ruling, so in the long run it would help.

QUESTION 7: No, money isn't the answer to everything, but most of the schools can improve their programs with more funding. Every school would increase the curriculum with more money to do so. I think Cisco would gain from a restructuring, and it would help us build more into a quality program.

Saunders added that he did not know all the legal implications of events taking place now in Austin, but would be watching with great interest. The latest word was that State Comptroller had a plan for advance state funding for the schools.

According to a telephone interview with Rep. Jim Parker, as of 4:00 p.m. Monday the Governor had not vetoed the Senate bill. The Senate had not gathered enough votes to pass the "Early Payment of Funds" nor a 2/3 majority to override the certain veto.

As soon as the Governor vetoed the bill, they will begin Wednesday in another session with a provision which includes no tax increase and would be funded by taking current funds from Tax Rich schools and giving that to the Tax Poor Districts. And example given was:

An estimated 60 million from Dallas ISD.
50 million from Houston ISD.

21 million from Austin ISD.

Parker felt confident that this provision would be clarified and passed by both House and Senate and signed by the Governor by the first of next week. Checks for payment are not due til the 25th of the month, and all monies should be free and clear by then.

There will be more details on this new provision in this week-end edition.

Where Is Education Money Coming From?

The Supreme Court avoided having to decide whether or not education is a fundamental right subject to strict protection under the Texas Constitution. Judge Clark's decision at the trial court level held that the school finance system also violates the equal rights and due process of law guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

Since that ruling one special session of the State Legislature was unable to agree on how to finance the immediate millions and projected billions needed to satisfy the Court that equalized standards are being met. The second special session is now meeting in Austin. Gov. Clements stated Tuesday that he did not believe there would be an agreement during this session. The Gov. has vowed to veto any bill requiring more than $300 million in new state funds to citizens of the state.

There are numerous opinions on the situation, and few are in agreement. A task force on Public Education, appointed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker of the House, and the Governor has proposed a $4.3 plan-of-action. Under the plan, funding for the next year would rise by $234 million, in addition to the $450 million the Legislature has set aside in equalization aid for this biennium.

This plan is opposed by organized teacher's groups and others, who consider it "inadequate."

June Hicks of Carbon, a teacher in the Abilene State School, sent the Eastland County Newspapers a statement from Ollie Besteiro, President of the Texas State Teacher's Association. It says, in part:

During the past two weeks the Texas State Teachers Association, which represents some 95,000 school employees, has been swamped with calls from concerned members about growing rumors that Texas schools might be forced to close—either because of a court-ordered freeze on state funds or the failure of the state's lawmakers to adopt a school finance plan the Governor will sign and the Supreme Court will accept.

The plaintiffs are asking the courts to freeze all school funding by May 3, an act that would close most, if not all, schools, especially poor ones.

The plaintiffs in the lawsuit of "Edgewood vs. Kirby" are on a collision course with a recalcitrant governor with obviously small concern for high quality education in Texas.

Further, the Governor's proposals to raise revenue by raiding other educational funds is preposterous. It is unconscionable to even consider cutting the state's contributions to employee retirement funds. Employees are sick and tired of having their pensions raided every few years to save the state a needed tax increase. More than a third ($164 million) of the $450 million in cuts recommended yesterday by the Governor would come out of retirement funds that rightfully belong to the educational employees already.

Other cuts being considered are equally ridiculous. It is suicidal to our future economy to eliminate the already scheduled three percent pay raise earmarked for university salaries or raises for community college faculty. And it is downright stupid to cut funds from remedial education and at-risk programs to "equalize" funding for poor school districts.

Three special points are set forth by the TSTA. They include:

1. The need to change the way we're "doing business" in the schools was underscored again this week by the discouraging report of the National Assessment of Education Progress. Texas isn't singled out by that report, but we all know we're not exempt from the indictment, either.

2. The salaries of teachers and other school employees must be raised. To duck the salary issue in the context of equalizing school funding is to duck one of the essential elements of finance reform.

3. The school employee health insurance crisis has reached the state at which it can not be detached from the compensation equation. The Legislature must at least begin to address the desperate need for health insurance benefits.

Arguing that the majority of the state's teachers favor keeping the career ladder, Glossbrenner, chairperson of the House Public Education Committee, said, "ATPE members at their convention recently voted overwhelmingly not to abolish the career ladder and put that money into teacher salaries."

The House voted 74 to 68 to table an amendment sponsored by Rep. Dick Waterfield (R-Canadian) that would have killed the career ladder. Waterfield proposed putting the state's current $270 million career ladder contribution toward overall teacher salaries.

ATPE members obviously are reacting to state office pleas to "contact your legislators," because the House also reversed itself on several other issues, indicating that they are hearing from ATPE members. House members approved a finance mechanism that will add 450 million new dollars into the system in 1990-91 and will raise the state's contribution to the system by $1.8 billion in five years.

The ATPE state office has received many calls from panicked teachers who are concerned that they will not be paid if the May 1 deadline is not met and an injunction is placed on the comptroller prohibiting him from issuing checks to school districts after April 28. Some teacher associations are encouraging teachers to walk out or strike. After a conference with the House Speaker Gib Lewis and other leaders, we believe that there will be a bill passed along with a small increase in the sales tax to support the increased cost to the state.

As a backup measure, there has been a bill introduced by Rep. Harvey Hilderbran (R-Uvalde) that would allow the comptroller, when he issues checks to school districts on April 28, to write lump sum for school personnel.

Near its end the letter had this note:

If nothing comes to pass and if there is no resolution of these conflicts and if schools are closed at this time next month, TSTA is prepared to call for massive, massive action all across this state.

We will call on the active and retired teachers, support staff, school administrators, school board members, parents and students to come to Austin May 5 to let Governor Clements know that we don't intend to stand by and take this. We are suggesting that all forces and segments of the population start now to make plans to descend on Austin and the Governor's Mansion in the largest demonstration of public outrage since the fall of the Alamo to Santa Anna.

The Texas Association of Professional Educators also has a number of members in Eastland County. Ruth Stewart, President of the Cisco group, provided the County Newspapers with comments and proposals by this organization.

"We need weighted ADA," Mrs. Stewart said. "This means that the school districts would receive a little more funding for students in special programs such as Resource."

The ATPE has taken an active role in the current legislative process. Early this month the House voted to keep the Career Ladder, something the ATPE supported.

Citing ATPE's position on the teacher career ladder, Rep. Ernestine Glossbrenner (D-Alice) persuaded other state representatives Monday not to abolish it. As a result, the House reversed its position on the issue from a vote taken two weeks ago on the first proposed public school finance bill.

by Viola Payne

Early this week I compiled an article about the Texas Supreme Court ruling on the Edgewood Vs. Kirby case, in which the Court stated that the school finance system of Texas was unconstitutional and not equitable. The Court gave the Legislature until May 1, 1990 to design "an efficient system."

Since the type of system the Court mandates would require a great deal more money, the Legislature has been embroiled in discussions on where to get the funds. There are strong differences of opinion between Governor Bill Clements and supporters and some other Legislators.

At Press time this weekend there is still a deadlock in Austin, with the Governor declaring he will veto any measure calling for more taxes or more than $300,000 in new state spending this year. The Governor makes it plain that he considers a proposed one-half cent raise in the state sales tax in the same category as other tax raises.

The Texas State Teacher's Association has announced that if the matter is not resolved with what they consider adequate funding their group will hold a rally in Austin on May 5, demanding that enough money be appropriated.

My last overview of the decisions pending in Austin did not deal much with what Eastland County teachers think of the Court's decision and the funding situation. A number of the local teachers belong to the Texas State Teacher's Association, others to the Texas Association of Professional Educators, and others to smaller organizations or no organized group at all.

A random sampling of local teacher's opinions revealed why some had not formed strong ideas on the funding crisis. I was told several times: "A lot of news releases and material from Austin are so dull that I go through about two chapters and get tired of it. It is confusing - I really don't know what to think of it!"

Several, however, shared opinions on the subject, each saying they were giving personal opinions only.

Bobbie Thompson, President of the Ranger Texas State Teacher's Association, said this group has not held a meeting to formulate an official statement.

"But personally I don't like the idea of the Governor deciding ahead of time how much funding will be made available," she said. "I wish he were a little more open-minded."

"All agree that just spending more money on Education won't do the job," she continued. "But we have to spend enough to do what the Court requires."

"Health insurance for teachers can be a problem," she noted. "I would like to see Health Insurance arranged for by the State, rather than left up to the local Schools. We have good insurance here, but in some places the teachers have had trouble with it."

Tom Page Member Chairman of the Ranger TSTA, said he couldn't speak for all the teachers in Ranger, but had his own opinions about the current situation.

"I believe most teachers think the Governor is being a little obstinate. I don't know whether his plan will satisfy the Court or not. I think the plan the TSTA has put forward would come nearer satisfying the Court's order."

Page says there are future ramifications of the Court's order which he feels are not clearly understood, such as how the State can continue to equalize schools after this round of funding is over. He wishes someone would give the answer to that.

He says he would like for teachers and other citizens to make their wishes known on school financing and other questions.

"We should all write our Legislators," he said. "Let your wishes be known."

June Hicks of Cisco is a member of the Texas State Teacher's Association and is a former officer of the group. Currently she is Teacher in the Abilene Independent School Dist.

"I do not know what they're trying to do in Austin about the Court Order and extra financing needed," she said. "I very much support the stand of the TSTA on the amount of finances, and that equalization money should not come from other school programs."

"I do not feel the state should dip into Teacher's Retirement Funds for the financing of public schools, or the equalization of financing!" Mrs. Hicks continued.

"Governor Clements wants to do that - Gib Lewis does not. Teachers must have a sound retirement program. We have paid our own money into that fund!"

Mrs. Hicks turned a local school issue.

"I am concerned that Carbon would even consider closing their school. It is my opinion that with more effective administrators the school could be kept open."

"That school has done an outstanding job of educating children - and that's what schools are supposed to be doing!"

"Some people say Carbon classes are too small. I graduated with a small class there, and was well educated. I went right on to College with no problems."

Another Cisco Teacher, Gene Kinser, has been a local President of the TSTA. He has also served as President of TSTA District 4, which includes ten counties.

Kinser says he's so busy teaching in the classroom right now that he hasn't had time to study all the aspects of the Supreme Court ruling on school equalization.

"Things do seem to be in a deadlock in Austin," he remarked. "As is usually the case, the Legislature is never prompt - there will be debating to the end."

"It may be more serious than I think, but I can't see the schools closing May 1. Even if state funding ceased, I believe the schools here could operate until the end of the school year with local funds."

"Texas is basically a conservative state. We haven't dealt with the problems here that people have up north, for example."

Kinser did say that he considered the Supreme Court decision on equal funding "complicated."

"I believe the state funding formula was already 'equal', in the sense that it hinged on daily average attendance (in October)," he said.

"The 'inequality' came from local funding and varied tax bases," he added. "Do we take money from the rich and give it to the poor?" he asked. "I don't know the answer. The only way I can see how the state could carry this out is for the state to require local Districts to have certain tax rates - and then the state make up the difference for some."

"Solutions to this seem almost impossible," Kinser concluded. "This situation may be more of a monster than we realized."

"But I'm hoping that out of all this will come something better - something that will help educate children that are not really in the system right now."

Gary Upchurch, Eastland High School Principal, shares Kinser's hopes and optimism. "No, I don't know what they're going to do in Austin," the Principal says. "But we've been through a number of things before, where there's a lot of muscle-flexing."

"My guess is that during the final hour to two of this session some kind of a solution to funding will be reached.

"Then we will make the best of whatever comes out of it. Somehow I don't think anything bad will come from this, although there may be some changes."

"Look at House Bill 72. At first there was confusion and a lot of changes - and some of the changes were not easy. But on the whole, I think HB72 changes have worked out well."

Principal Upchurch finished: "I think that when this is all over in Austin, and the dust settles, we'll find that nothing bad has come from it. And here in Eastland we'll go right on trying to have the best school we possibly can with the resources we have available."

Prison Sentences

Two Waco men received 10 year prison sentences Monday for the March 22, aggravated robbery of The Sleep House, an Eastland Motel.

Robert Wayne Johnson, 19, and Michael Edward Munns, 22, entered guilty pleas before 91st District Court Judge Jim Wright.

The pair attempted to rob a desk clerk at gun point, and fled when a guest unexpectedly entered the room. A High School girl, leaving her job nearby, got the license number of a getaway car.

Law enforcement officers stopped the car on I-20 in Callahan County, and also stopped a second car with one of the wanted men. Both cars were stolen.

A four year old nephew of one of the men was in one car.

Reception Is Planned for Retiring School Teacher

The faculty and staff of Rising Star Elementary School will hold a reception honoring their colleague, Edith Bibb, who is retiring after a career spanning 31 1/2 years in the teaching profession.

A graduate of Rising Star High School, Mrs. Bibb began her teaching career in Throckmorton, where she taught for four years. She then taught for a half year at Sidney before beginning her 27-year stint in Rising Star.

Mrs. Bibb and her husband, Kenneth, have four children, Tommy, Steve, Marilyn and Randy, all of whom are graduates of RSHS. Edith has always been, and continues to be, a faithful supporter of school and community functions.

The reception will be held Sunday, May 10, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the Church of Christ fellowship hall.

OUR BEST FRIEND

"There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." (Prov. 18:24).

In that first Eden, God Himself came down to keep the man He had made from being lonely. Jesus came later to restore fellowship between man and God, and to take away human loneliness. He wants to be your companion and friend.

When you were a child, did you cherish a best friend? Your best friend was the person you could always count on. If you had a disagreement, your best friend would forgive you and vice versa. You shared special things with each other.

As life goes on, sometimes the childhood ability for intimate friendship is lost. But no matter how old, how rich, how well educated a person is, the need for a best friend remains. Today, there seem to be so many lonely, rootless, friendless people.

The Son of God wants to be our best Friend, our always-present, always-forgiving, always-sharing Friend. Jesus loves us forever; Jesus' friendship is endless; it carries over from this life into eternity.

Cultivate friendship with Jesus. He fulfills all the deepest meanings of friendship. Spend time with Him, listening to His Word, talking to Him in prayer. Friendship is characterized by the desire to spend time together and share experiences. It would be tragic never to discover the continuing gladness of having Jesus as your ever-present best friend.

We cordially invite you to worship with us during our spring revival services May 6-13.

Darrell Dossey, pastor

Most of the springtime sports are over for the Lady Cat athletes, who should be commended for a fine effort this past year. Stephanie Sizemore and Becky Walker wrapped up the year last week at the Regional Tennis Tournament and Regional Track Meet.

Stephanie won her first match on Wednesday 6-0, 6-4. She then advanced to the second round where she competed against the No. 1 seed in Regional. In her last match of the year, Stephanie was defeated 6-0, 6-0 after making a good effort against a very talented opponent.

Becky Walker, a senior, ended her high school track career at the Regional Meet by placing 6th in the 3200m run and 4th in the 1600m run. Competition was tough and Becky did a fine job.

Congratulations to these two Ladies on a good year in athletics!

Students in the elementary classes have been taking CAT tests, California Achievement Tests, all of last week and Monday of this week.

When asked what they learned from these tests, Blair Bailey, second grade, said, "I learned about maps in the Social Studies part of the test."

The Social Studies and Science part of the CAT test is a new addition to the test as of last year.

Holly Butler, fourth grade, replied, "I learned a lot from the Spelling part of the test."

Timothy Butler and Justin Nall, both kindergartners, complained that the test was much too long!

All of the elementary school students seemed to agree on one point: They were all happy to have the CAT tests completed!

School Scoop

by Wendy Green

C.H. and J.C. went to the dance at CP - apparently they had a blast because C.H. came in limping.

What junior girl went all the way to San Antonio to see what ex-Wildcat? Now that's dedication!

D.B.'s been telling jokes again. Why was he the only one laughing? (Must've been one of those inside ones!)

One student was quoted as saying "I guess the flood wasn't too bad, none of the teachers floated away."

What two RS girls and three RS guys went to CP? Haven't they learned that CP is not the place to go looking for babes?!

What senior guy was floating Saturday night? -and it wasn't from too much rain!

Well D.W. found himself a woman. I don't know where she's from or how old she is, or what her name is, but she is pretty!

What is the deal? Junior (P.H.) has found someone new. I guess B.C. was more of a senior than R.B.

What senior mom had to go looking for her sweet little innocent daughter Saturday night?

What senior girl now has the nickname of "Donny"? I wonder why.

Well D.A. must be desperate - All I ever see him with is guys!!!

Don't forget you can send any scoop to: RSHS, Mrs. Woods' Room, School Scoop Section, Box 37 or call 643-3522 and ask for Wendy Green or Cindy Wood.

All SIXTH GRADE students are invited to the revival services at First Baptist Church on May 6-13 by Kirby Bush. Thursday night is a special youth night.

Letter To Editor

This week is "Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week." A year ago about this time, there was such a week designated, but like many folks, I did not pay it too much attention, nor give it much thought. All members of my family were in good health. Anyway, the need for organ transplants, to my knowledge, had not occurred in or near our town.

Let me tell the people of our area that the importance of organ donation became very real to me and mine a few months back. An urgent need for a liver transplant became evident in our country, our town, - in or house. When this happens to you, interest in the need for more people to sign donor cards picks up.

Statics show that presently only 16% of people needing liver transplants ever live to receive one. Please seriously consider signing a donor card now. Discuss this matter with family members—let them know of your wishes regarding this, and get to know theirs.

To learn more about becoming an organ and tissue donor write: Transplant Services, P. O. Box 58689, Dallas, TX 75258.

Sincerely,
Ima Ruth Taylor

Senior Center News

The center was closed last Thursday. Due to high water we thought it best not to try to open the center.

Monday we had a large crowd for the meals on wheels luncheon. Come out each Monday to visit your friends and neighbors.

Marion and Marjorie West spent the weekend at Seagraves visiting relatives. Not much rain had fallen and one of our friends called from Seminole reporting .3 of an inch there.

Irene Mayfield is still in the hospital but is improving and will be home soon.

Evelyn Ward was not able to come to the center Monday because she was sick with a cold.

Oral and Amy Davis had lunch at the center Monday. We are so glad you came and hope you come again.

Bill Gray visited Irene Mayfield in Humana Hospital Sunday. She is improving and will be home soon.

Dr. Billy Conkling's wife, Lillian Ruth, died last week. Billy is Bill and Irene's nephew.

Gary and Kelly Lash returned home to Steamboat Springs, Colo. after spending ten days visiting relatives and friends.

Anna Lovell attended the funeral of Mrs. Morgan in Carbon.

Joyce Geye is back from her trip to Houston. She spent two weeks with her daughter and family, and reported a good time.

While in West Texas, Marion and Marjorie West visited the O'Donnell Museum Friday afternoon. This is a lovely museum. They have a nice display on Dan Blocker, who grew up in this community. The city has converted this hotel into a museum. It has two upstairs floors, and is all furnished. You can see as much as you would expect in a larger city.

Have a good week!
