

It has been said that "if you don't like Texas weather just wait awhile and it will change." The veracity of this statement was proven last weekend.

Now there was no guarantee that anyone would like the change, just that a change would take place, and change it did, from the balmy sunny weather just right for peanut harvest, to a snow covered area that was "beginning to look a lot like Christmas", and remember this winter is still five weeks away.

But seasonal or unseasonal, the snow presented a landscape that would make any artist turn green - just beautiful! The combination of colorful autumn leaves and the deep green of the cedars, against the snow covered slopes between Rising Star and Abilene were a sight to behold!

And when have you seen green mesquite leaves covered with snow? The kids young and old had a great time! Snowmen popped up everywhere, snowballs flying like geese, and the snow ice-cream was delicious.

We are deeply grateful to our friends while braved the elements on Friday night to attend the recital in Abilene. It's this kind of loyalty that makes life so beautiful!

Speaking of things bright and beautiful - in just a few days our town will be decorated for the holidays season with the new street ornaments, recently purchased by the Chamber of Commerce.

Wildcat Country

By Ken Housel

Its basketball time and the Cats had a game against Early on Tuesday but the results were unknown at the time of this writing. We hope to improve this record as four starters Nickey Newberry, Robert Underwood, Mackey Elliott, and Kevin Rust return.

In area football Gorman wrapped up District 6+ B by beating Eden 40-6 in the Zone playoff game. Other area D District Champs are Brownwood (4-AAA), Comanche (9-AA), Baird (8-A) DeLeon (10-A), and May (6-B) six man.

Playoff games, sites, and unstable predictions are Brownwood vs. San Angelo Lake View at San Angelo. Brownwood 14-7. Comanch vs. Bowie at Weatherford. Comanche 22-12. Hamlin vs. Baird at Abilene. Hamlin 16-7. Mason vs. DeLeon at Brady. DeLeon 14-0. May vs. Mullin at Mullin. May 42-30. Gorman vs. Rochester at Eastland. Gorman 15-13. All games are Friday at 7:30. The results and next playoff games will be in the next write-up.

I promised a district breakdown by rating also last week and the final rating, opinion of course, based on games, toughness of schedule, and everything else goes like this: 1. Gorman 2. Rising Star 3. Evant 4. Eden 5. Richland Springs 6. Santa Anna 7. Blanket 8. Bronte 9. Lometa 10. Irien County 11. Miles

The Cats as of November 15th were 19th in the state and 5th in Area rankings. Mackey Elliott will most probably win the scoring title in IClass B area. He has a very stable lead.

Ken P.S. Texas Tech will edge Houston for the SWC title.

"Thank You"

Our sincere appreciation to all who so unselfishly contributed the hours of work, time, and money to make another "Harvest Festival" a success.

It was not only the church but others in the community working on the different projects that made it possible to go beyond the goal.

The attendance at the dinner was unbelievable for 25 degree weather and a snow-covered ground.

What a Blessing it was to see and be a part of the Fellowship found among all at the Harvest Festival dinner! First United Methodist Church

Social Security Cards Required For Holiday Jobs

With Christmas just around the corner its again time to remind young people who don't already have a social security card to apply for one now if they expect to work during the holidays. Many employers are reluctant to hire a person without a social security card. Despite the reminder, many young people will probably wait until the last minute because they think that getting a social security card is still just a matter of dropping into the nearest social security office and picking one up. But it doesn't work that way anymore.

Now when you apply for a social security card you are required to submit proof that you are who you say you are - documents that show your age or date of birth and citizenship, and a document which shows either your signature or photograph to prove identity. Your application is then sent to Social Security Headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland. There it is screened against existing records to make sure nobody else has the number that is to be assigned to you and that you haven't been issued a number before. The card is then mailed directly to you.

The same procedure is followed in getting a duplicate card when you've lost your old one. If you have the stub that accompanied your original card you may get a duplicate on the spot. If not, your application is sent to Social Security Headquarters, checked, then mailed back to the local office where you applied and the duplicate is issued from there. This takes almost as long as the original request for a social security number.

The reason it is important for social security to be sure each person is assigned only one number is that multiple numbers may result in your earnings being credited to different records. This could mean lower benefits for you and your family when you retire, or if you become disabled or die, since the amount of your social security check is based on your average earnings over a period of years. So don't delay if you need a social security number. Call us today at 698-1360 or come by our office at 142 S. Pioneer in Abilene.

Beef Profits Hinge On Prices

COLLEGE STATION - A livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says that beef producers shouldn't worry too much about the amount of beef they apply to consumers, but neither should they expect profits to increase unless retail prices go up.

Dr. Ed Uvacek points out that beef per capita consumption in several foreign countries is considerably higher than that of the U.S. "We therefore, are probably nowhere near our ultimate limit in U.S. beef consumption," he contends.

Uvacek notes that higher prices paid for beef by U.S. consumers do not necessarily constitute a profit for producers unless consumption levels are maintained or increased. "Producer profits can only come from increased consumer demand for beef and higher retail prices," points out the economist.

Marketing costs are cited by Uvacek as a key factor inhibiting producer profits. "Marketing costs have and will continue to increase at a fantastic of dollars spent are increased."

The specialist says that U.S. consumers will eat the beef this nation can produce. The question is, at what price will they consume it?

Early Snow Blankets Area

The cold Northwestern front which blew in on Thursday evening was packed full of surprises, including record low temperatures, and beautiful blanket of white which fill on Friday night according to some weather-watchers a record setter.

The "Winter Wonderland" setting was very picturesque but also very perplexing to a lot of people. Area highways became a patrolman's nightmare, and and the Texas Highway Department worked overtime sanding the bridges and hills and clearing the roadways with the huge snow plows.

Cattlemen initiated their winter feeding program a bit earlier than anticipated. Most cattle in the area are in good condition but required extra hay while the grazing areas were covered with snow. The premature snowfall created a new hazard for area peanut farmers, for once again the harvest has been delayed. It has been estimated that about 25 per cent of Eastland Counties 35,000 acres of peanuts remain unharvested. However, with just a few days of good weather the harvest can be completed without any great loss to the producers. Reported snowfall measurements have varied from 4.5 to 6 inches of the very wet white stuff.

Estate Planning Seminar To Cover Tax Changes

COLLEGE STATION - New tax legislation affecting estate planning is of prime interest to farmers and ranchers. And the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is trying to do as much as possible to enlighten agricultural producers on this issue.

A major effort in Extensions educational program relating to estate planning will be a seminar Dec. 9-10 at the Rudder Center on the Texas A&M University campus.

The two-day event will deal with many of the key points in estate planning, with particular emphasis on the estate planning section of the 1976 tax reform bill. Also discussed will be the preparation of estate tax returns, community property as it relates to estate tax, various forms of farm ownership, transfers of property, estate liquidity problems, and estate administration, points out Tom E. Prater, Extension economist in management and chairman of the upcoming seminar.

Five major areas of estate planning will be discussed in depth in special work sessions - legal matters, trust aspects, tax considerations, Internal Revenue Service procedures, and insurance.

According to Prater, the seminar will feature an outstanding slate of speakers who are attorneys, IRS officials, bank trust officers, insurance representatives, and professors at Texas A&M University.

The opening address will be by Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service director.

Prater emphasizes that the seminar is for professionals as well as anyone else interested in obtaining a deeper understanding of estates planning, especially those working with agricultural producers.

He encourages anyone interested in attending the estate planning seminar to register in advance. For registration information, write Tom E. Prater, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843, or contact any county Extension office.

Local Flu Immunization Program Slated

The A/New Jersey influenza immunization, campaign will open in Rising Star, Texas on Friday, November 19, 1976 with clinics in operation at one site, according to Dr. Billy Carpenter.

Everyone should be immunized with these free shots as soon as possible in order to be protected against this strain of influenza, said Dr. Carpenter. There's every reason to believe that the A/New Jersey, or swine, influenza poses a serious threat to the health of all individuals in the community.

It was detected last winter at Fort Dix, N.J. If it follows the pattern of other influenza outbreaks, it can be expected to spread during the coming flu season, said Dr. Carpenter.

Local public health authorities and members of the First Lady's Volunteer Program are working statewide in the influenza immunization campaign. The First Ladies are assisting with the recruitment and organization of the statewide volunteer program to complete the immunization campaign. Volunteers will work in the campaign alongside private physicians and nurses, other volunteers and public health personnel.

Clinic sites have been established to provide for the efficient administration of the vaccine and the compilation of necessary information on each individual.

Clinic locations and, clinic hours follow: First Baptist Church, November 19, 1976, 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

All shots administered in public health clinics will be free, said Dr. Carpenter.

Jaycees Discuss Ambulance Problem

A meeting was held on Thursday night November 11 for the purpose of discussing the discontinuance of the ambulance service to the Rising Star area. Don McAlister with the Texas department of Public Health Resources from Abilene was the guest speaker. Mr. McAlister explained the current regulations under which the present ambulance system exists. These regulations are quite minimal as stated in Article 4590b of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes:

1. Permit required
2. Equipment required
3. Persons trained in first aid on ambulances
4. Permits; siren and warning signals
5. Violations
6. Partial invalidity

The Jaycees have appointed a committee to further investigate the possibility of contacting area funeral homes in an attempt to retain the ambulance service presently provided by Higginbothams. This committee will report back to the Jaycees at their next regular scheduled meeting.

GORDON SPOT

by DeMarquis Gordon

The weather has been perfect the past week. After a week of rain, peanut growers were extremely happy to see sunshine on October 30 followed by a week of the same. By the end of last week harvesting progressed at full speed all over Eastland County. It appears that the four to five inches of rain the last week of October did not cause a great amount of damage to peanuts.

Soil temperature is down to 50 degrees or below which means peanuts are not going to mature any more. Therefore there is no need to leave peanuts in the ground any longer. Growers will be getting the crop as fast as they can and as soon as the soil dries out enough to permit digging.

A few growers have reported yields up to 130 bushels per acre on irrigated land, but most yields are below average this year.

One of the reasons for lower yields is the short growing season in 1976. We had a very cool month of May which delayed planting a cooler than normal July and the coldest October on record. There was some hot weather in between, but not enough for good crop production.

An old pest is causing problems in Eastland County again. At least two cases of screwworms have been confirmed the last month, one near Gorman and one near Cisco. Two other cattlemen have told me they have treated livestock for screwworms, but did not send samples to Mission for confirmation.

This should be a warning to all livestock owners. Observe all livestock wounds daily. If you find worms in a wound collect a few for identification and treat the livestock with an approved insecticide. We have vials and mailing kits in the Extension office. The insects should be mailed to the USDA's Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission, Texas. The post office box is 969.

This has been the worst screwworm year in Texas since 1972 and the second worst in 15 years.

R.D. Hart, Eastland County farmer, won two blue ribbons at the 1976 State Hay Show in Austin recently. His entry of coastal bermuda hay had 15.2 percent crude protein and a total score of 94. The highest score any entry made in this class was 96. His entry of alfalfa hay scored 85.5, the second highest in the state show.

The Eastland County Pecan Show is coming up soon. It will be December 10 and 11. If you have pecans we hope you will select 43 of the best pecans of each variety for the show.

UNKNOWN DIABETICS ARE STILL OUT THERE!

Every year, in November, it has become traditional to call attention to the millions of people who have diabetes and are not yet aware of their problem. Most of these people are adults who have no symptoms of the disease and will only have it detected if they take the trouble to be checked.

Diabetes can be a killer if undetected so don't take a chance. Especially if there is a history of the disease in your family. Once detected, diabetes can usually be controlled and you can live a normal life.

Governor Dolph Briscoe's Education Package

Gov. Briscoe told the Educators in Austin recently:

"I recognize, as I know you do, that no study of property values can ever arrive at 100 percent accurate market value for the entire State of Texas. However, I can say with confidence that all of the procedures used in this study were designed and developed value estimates which place every district in a proper relationship with all other districts in the State.

"The taxable wealth is shown by two methods: the full market value and agricultural use value. The agricultural use value was included to comply with the mandate of the Legislature. Its value is shown along side of the market value for consideration by the Legislature. A recent decision by the Texas Supreme Court will undoubtedly have an impact on the number of individuals requesting qualification in school districts.

"The impact modeling for each school district has been based on full market value. It should be recognized that if the legislature chooses to adopt the agricultural use values, the Local Fund Assignments which are outlined in our models, would be distributed to the districts in a different manner.

"The values compiled by my office show the total market value of all districts to be approximately 238 billion dollars, an increase of 78 billion dollars over the values used in H.B. 1126. However, exemptions for veterans, homeowners over 65, and agricultural lands could substantially reduce this amount.

"Value assignment is a highly subjective matter and there is always a possibility for error. There will be disagreement over procedure and unit values and someone will have to be the referee.

"To perform this task, I will appoint a panel to hear requests for change in value assignment. This group of people should commence their work as soon as possible in order to be completed before the Legislature convenes.

"I would like to stress that I feel that a distinction must be made between the resources of the local district and the resources of the State as a whole. There is a shared responsibility for education between the State and the local district. The $238 billion in taxable property is a local resource.

"As such, it should be used primarily to support the local share of the education responsibility. To the greatest extent possible, local resources must be left in the control of the local district. It is the only way which those districts have to modify their programs to meet their varying needs.

"Certainly apart from local consideration stands the responsibility of the State to provide for the design and support of a strong basic educational program available to all young Texans.

"The State cannot meet its responsibility by placing an unbearable burden on local resources.

"I will recommend to the next Legislature several major changes in the allocation of State funds for public school financing.

"In total these programs will entail the expenditure of $850 million in new State money over the next biennium. I have interpreted the directive to me in Section 10 of H.B. 1126 as a mandate to develop proposals to provide for a basic educational those increases, foundation funding failed to meet the cost acutely, incurred by the districts. In order to more adequately support this component, I will submit legislation to the next session of the Legislature to provide an additional $25 million in transportation funding.

"This legislation will also include recommendations to alter funding formulas so that transportation allotments will be distributed to the districts on the basis of pupil density.

"Another problem which I will request the Legislature to address is the unique problem faced by the State's smaller districts in providing adequate staffing. It will be my recommendation that an adjustment formula similar to that currently in the law continue in effect but that the provision be expanded to include all districts with fewer than 1,000 ADA, not just those with 300 square miles as set forth in present law. I will recommend that the personnel adjustments provided for these smaller districts be funded to the extent of $15 million over the next biennium.

"A most important problem which must be addressed is that of educational renewal and accountability. There has been no orderly process for change in education. I am requesting the Texas Education Agency to provide to me and the members of the Legislature by December 1 a program and process of renewal and accountability in education within the framework of the expenditure of some $10 million over the next biennium.

"State funding to the school districts through the Foundation School Program is equalized through the use of a local fund assignment based on each district's ability to support the program.

"Available local revenues, on the other hand, are not equal-the vast differences in the wealth base supporting each student allow many districts with a high value tax base to provide a high level of enrichment while other districts are condemned by a low tax base to make a high local tax effort with little resulting enrichment.

"It must be realized that many districts lack the resources necessary to have a flexible program which can be designed to meet local needs. H.B. 1126 made an attempt to address this need by including a provision for State equalization aid.

"As presently delivered, State equalization aid is provided to too many districts including many with above average wealth per ADA. I will recommend to the next Legislature that State funding over the next biennium for equalization aid be increased to $250 million. This level of funding will provide as much as $210 per ADA which is nearly four times the amount presently provided by H.B. 1126.

The Apostle Paul depicts the church as the Body of Christ. The image is that of a living organism. "If one member suffers, all suffer together if one member is honored, all rejoice together." (1 Cor 12:26) Within the corporate life of the church each member of the body is important to the other and has a unique function to perform. No member is independent. Each must care for the other and contribute to the mutual upbuilding to serve and to reach out beyond itself. Paul uses the analogy to illustrate our relationship to Jesus Christ and to each other, as well as to suggest the various ministries to which each is called. The life and activity of the church are to be characterized by the spirit and ministry of Our Lord. We are to embody his will and do his work. "He has no hands but our hands to do his work today."

We are the church. It is for us to bring new days. It is for us to make the church alive and vital in our age. The church must have a new day of service. Through individuals who are aware of the needs of the world and who desire a share in answering those needs, the mission of the church will be fulfilled. Christians who find new lives will bring new days. God sends no churches from the skies, out of our hearts they must arise.

A very special word of thanks and appreciation is hereby expressed to all that gave us the fine support in Our Lord's Harvest Festival. Without each of you we could not have met our goal set forth. But praise be unto Our Lord we more than topped our goal, so again we say thanks to all.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Pete Starks has been returned home from the hospital and is slowly improving from her recent illness. There are several others within our community and within our fellowship that have been ill. For these and others we may not know about we lift our prayer to Our Heavenly Father.

We to extend our Christians sympathy to those who have recently lost loved ones. Among those that we know about are a Mrs. Robbie Henderson who lost a nephew this past week, and too, to Glen Henry whose uncle passed away in Dallas this past week end.

Many were complaining about the bad weather we had this past weekend, but remember things could have been worse. So let us be thankful into the Lord for the good life He has given us. Thank God He is still blessing us in many ways. Come by and let us worship together and praise Him for His abounding grace.

Church Of Christ

The three-fold denial of Christ by the apostle Peter, related in grim detail by all four Gospel writers, has stood as the classic example of those who yield to the pressure of circumstances and abandon previously firm convictions. How often the fervent Galilean fisherman must have wept and wished that he could recall those hateful words: "I know him not!" (Luke 22: 57).

Ours is a world where the hosts of Hell press on every hand and before whose baleful glare it would seem so dangerous to maintain openly any connection with Jesus of Nazareth. If we in America do not fear the clang of the prison door, or the crack of the executioner's rifle, it does not mean that we are free from threats to our faith.

For example, in our sophisticated, Twentieth-Century context, how popular is it to proclaim openly that "...God made the world and all things therein...being Lord of heaven and earth..." (Acts 17:24)? A still less acceptable is the notion that "...He gives to all life and breath and all things..." (Acts 17:25) Even more repugnant is the thought that he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he has ordained. (and) "...raised from the dead" (Acts 17:31). It is so easy to grin with the enemy and say "Yes, isn't that silly!", rather than uphold the Biblical declaration.

And, how much easier it is to drift with the tide of tolerance and permissiveness, to blend into the background of a godless, materialistic and hedonistic society, rather than boldly confess: "I belong to Christ and joyfully wear his image in my life".

An aged Christian of many centuries ago, Polycarp by name, said "Eighty and six years have I served my Lord. He has never denied me. Why should I deny my King and my Savior?, shortly before being put to death.

Let us not be ashamed of Jesus here, for to do so is to have him deny us before God and the angels (Matthew 10:32-33)

- Literary Notes On The Southwest

By James P. White

If you are interested in publishing your work and you haven't been able to, most probably your difficulty is that you need further information about publishing markets. A good story, novel, or poem can easily go unpublished if an author is unknowledgeable about where to submit and how to submit his work.

Too, the writer should be aware of what is being published, and he needs to understand what about his work is marketable.

Being a good writer and a writer who practices honing his work is one thing, but publishing one's work and building a reputation as a writer very often is something quite different. A writer must discipline his work, and he must learn how to publish his work if he is to gain a literary reputation.

Writers who have disciplined their work yet have been unable to find a market, and writers or editors interested in starting into publishing should find a December 3, 4, and 5 conference on publishing particularly suited to their needs.

The Texas Center for Writers will be holding a special weekend workshop on publishing. The Workshop will have two focuses. The first part of the conference is on national, regional, and local publishing markets-how to get published. This section will include information on how to submit, and what, where, and which markets are open to new writers.

The second part of the conference concerns how to publish your own literary review, book, or newspaper, and how to distribute it and get it noticed. The purpose of the conference is to give information to concerned writers and also to encourage the growth of literary markets.

Consultants for the conference includes Si Dunn who has the current cover story in Texas Business and who makes a living as a successful free-lance writer. Janice White, former Fiction Editor of Boy's Life magazine and Executive Editor of the Dallas Gazette a literary arts newspaper for the Dallas Metroplex; Vance Muse, Vice-President of Madrona Press; Robert Speer of Taylor Publishing Company and Michael Anderson, Editor of the successful Pawn Review. The fee for the conference is $20 per day. The Texas Center for Writers is located in the Melrose Hotel in Dallas, and participants can reserve a room at a discount rate. The conference will run Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, December 3, 4, and 5.

The how to workshops are geared to give explicit information on the practicalities of writing and publishing. Attending the publishing workshop can save an interested writer or editor a tremendous amount of time and trouble. All of the consultants for this conference have practical experience in dealing with getting work published, and several of them, in establishing their own presses.

If your town does not have a journal or cultural newsletter, you might consider starting one. Any individual should consider this even if it comes out only once a year. Such a journal can give valuable information on cultural activities and can help promote them.

The conference also will give information on how to promote literary activity and publications so that people are more aware and supportive of literature. For information write the Texas Center for Writers, P.O. Box 19876, Dallas, TX 75219.

October 30, members of the South Central Modern Language Association--over 1,000 college English teachers--will be meeting at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. Richard Hauer Costa of Texas A&M is the Executive Secretary and responsible for coordinating this large meeting which will be highlighted by a talk by Carolyn Gordon, Director of the Creative Writing Program at the University of Dallas. The public is invited.

SMU is sponsoring a literary festival November 7-12 which will be highlighted by readings by Saul Bellow, Richard Hugo, and other well known writers.

Turkey Tips For Holiday

COLLEGE STATION - "Turkey and all the trimmings" make the holiday festive for most people.

Mrs. Sally Coble, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, offers consumers some tips on buying and storing along with cooking and serving the turkey.

"Turkeys are a good buy because they're in season now. Amount to buy depends on the appetites of those eating, but a guide for servings per person may help plan how much to buy. If cooking for persons with hearty appetites, figure the number of servings needed - not how many people are to be fed," she advised.

Roasted, quarter or half Thighs or drumsticks
braised
Boneless, rolled turkey

Turkey Buying Guide
1/2 to 3/4 lb. for birds 12 lbs. and over
1/2 to 3/4 lb. for birds 12 lbs. and over
1/2 to 3/4 lb.
1/4 lb.

Storing Methods

Fresh, ready-to-cook poultry (Whole or in parts) is available in plastic wrapping. Remove the wrapping and place the meat on a dish or tray, covering loosely with waxed paper or foil. Refrigerate immediately. Turkey stored this way will keep for a few days.

Frozen turkey should be placed in the freezer and held at 0 degrees F, or below, until time to thaw for cooking. For top quality, do not keep longer than six months.

Commercially frozen stuffed birds should not be thawed before cooking. Follow one of these recommended procedures for thawing unstuffed frozen turkeys.

Frozen whole turkeys and parts need to be cooked soon after thawing. Frozen turkey also may be placed directly in the oven, but the cooking time will be longer.

Cooking Turkey

Ready-to-cook turkeys require little cleaning. Wash the bird in cool water and dry with paper towels.

Salt the body cavity well. Grease the skin of the bird with softened fat or oil. Place breast-side-up on a rack in a shallow pan and roast at 350 degrees F. until the internal temperature reaches 180 degrees F. A meat thermometer may be inserted into the thickest part of the breast or thigh muscle. The following chart indicates the approximate cooking time to reach the desired temperature.

Weight	Time (hours)
6-8	3-3 1/2
8-12	3 1/2-4 1/2
12-16	4 1/2-5 1/2
16-20	5 1/2-6 1/2
10-14	6 1/2-7

"The goal of turkey cookery is to have the meat completely done, but still juicy and tender. The skin should have a brownish-yellow color and be moist and tender to the touch. Consumers should pay close attention to cooking instructions on the bag for best results," Mrs. Coble said.

Pounds	Thawing Turkey
	Refrigerator (days)	Room Temp Cool Water (hours)
4-6		6-8
8-12	1-1 1/2-2	8-12

Why do we write or read news columns? To write the name or names of the one or many people who come and go into our and our neighbors homes could be a rather mundane exercise and of interest to the people mentioned unless we allow our imaginations to work.

Then we find ourselves, not only enjoying our own week-end visitors, with snow and sleet shutting us, but actually sharing all the joy that comes into the homes of others who have visitors.

This week-end was unique for November in that if visitors came, they arrived before the wintry weather or they found it very difficult to drive on the highways after the snow and sleet came.

Amid the pleasures of having some of our own family, Drs. Charles and Lou Rodenberger, Onis and David Taylor, we were reminded of Whittiers "Snowbound". A few lines from the poem follow.

Unwarmed by any sunset light
The gray day darkened into night

A night made hoary by the swarm
And whirl-dance of the blinding storm

As zig-zag wavering to and fro
Crossed and re-crossed the winged snow

And ere the early bed time came
The white drifts piled the window-panes;

So all night long the storm roared on
The morning broke without a sun.
