City Operates Below Year's Budget Sums

Expenses $99,401.48 in 9 Months; Budget $103,615.43

INCOME $163,120 Water and Sewer Department Take In $103,101.88

An unusually healthy condition of city finances is reflected in the monthly statement issued by City Manager V. R. Smitham, in which it is shown that at the end of nine months of the fiscal year, the city is running $4,213.95 under its budget allowance.

The budget for three-fourths of the year is $103,615.43, while expenses for the same period amount to $99,401.48. The report has been given to members of the city commission.

Departments and the amount each is under-running its budget allowance, are administrative, $41,577; fire, $3,870.59; health, $1,788.29; water, $9,101; park, $53,823. Overruns are in the police department, $163.20; street department, $733.70; and sewer department, $633.83. The total over run is only $1,550.33, compared with an under-run of $5,764.78.

HOMETOWN TALK

BY BEDDY

Bill Stevens has been invited to bring his crack high school basketball team to a big tournament in Sanderson, Texas, down on the border, January 30 and 31. But, it's a long way to Sanderson and getting there by rail would be longer, and plenty expensive.

So, we're asking any good loyal Steer fan who will have four days January 28, 29, 30 and 31 off and would like to combine a trip to the border with some hot-shot basketball games to communicate with the high school authorities and offer their automobile. Three cars will be needed.

The important part about this is that our team has shown unusual strength and has a mighty good chance to win the tournament down there.

Today at 2:30 p. m. 25 boys and girls are scheduled to receive diplomas of graduation from grammar school. That's one of the thrills your humble servant missed. Back in the dim, distant days of our childhood getting through with the seventh grade was just another annual promotion.

But to these 25 dads and lassies today is a big day. And every (CONTINUED ON PAGE TEN)

The allocation is not final, but here is a rough arrangement discussed at a committee meeting in Abilene yesterday: One the basis of 100 per cent, 30 per cent of the house at $1, a total of $600; 20 per cent at $2, $300; 20 per cent at $3, $1,200; 10 per cent at $4, $800; 10 per cent at $5, $1,000; 5 per cent at $10, $1,000; and 5 per cent at $25 and up, $2,500. One that basis the house would net $7,900 for division among the various counties, according to their own sales. It should be said again that this allocation is only suggested. Final details will be mapped out Saturday, when the committee will meet at the Abilene Chamber of Commerce to receive reports of county committees.

Golden Leads With One Stroke

Pro Shoots Super Golf To Score 143 Total

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 16 (AP)—Johnny Golden's re-inauguration for the golf he played in the Agua Caliente $25,000 open tournament a year ago was $100, yet today he passed the halfway mark of the second renewal with a one-stroke lead in the quest for the $10,000 first place money.

Playing a steady and frequently brilliant game using the first two rounds, this returned professional from Noroton, Conn., wrote his name at the head of the list in the world's richest championship with scores of 70 and 73 for 143. This was 11 strokes better than he was able to do in 1930, although the course since that date has been increased from par 71 to par 72.

Another spectacular finish yesterday gave Golden the privilege of leading. He had completed the first nine in 38, two over par, due partly to a six on the eighth. Then he came back with a rousing finish, bagging two birdies on the last two holes for 35, one under and a 73.

Second among the 52 of 59 starting professionals who earned the privileges of continuing through the test was Ed Dudley, from Wilmington, Del., who stepped into the role of a major money winner only a few days ago by taking the Los Angeles open.

By sinking long putts with abandon, Dudley clicked off a 73 yesterday and finished in second place with 144. He tied with Golden last year, and likewise collected $100. He was only four strokes ahead of his half way total in 1930. However, there was nothing secure about the position of this pair with 12 others within striking distance of the top, only a half dozen blows back of Golden. Tied for third was the Scot, MacDonald Smith, New York, and the Spaniard, Monte Dutra, Long Beach, with 146. Five others were clustered at fifth. They were the defending champion, Gene Sarazen, New York; Horton Smith, New York; George Von Elm, Los Angeles, who as an amateur last year took first honors in the unpaid class; Ralph Guildhal, Dallas, and Willard Hutchinson, Chicago. They each had 147.

Outside the qualifying round of 157 or better among the pros were left behind such personages as Tommy Armour, P.G.A., champion from Detroit, and Tony Manero, New York, winner of the Pasadena open a few weeks ago.

Johnny Dawson, Chicago, and L. A. Eyerly, Portland, Ore., topped the list of 11 surviving amateurs with 154. To complete the pairings for today another amateur was selected by drawing lots, with Silas Newton, New York, the fortunate selection to continue.

The final round will be played Saturday.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan Gould

"Unless I am mistaken," writes Gene Gunning, sports editor of the Morgantown (W. Va.) Post, "the 1929 Dartmouth team you referred to as beating the University of Washington was coached by Dr. Clarence Wiley Spears, former Dartmouth star who has since coached with success at West Virginia, four years; Minnesota, four years; and now at the University of Oregon.

"Jackson Cannell, I believe, was not the Dartmouth staff in some capacity in 1929 but Spears was the head man. It was because of some difference of opinion with Cannell or Jess Hawley that Spears decided to leave Dartmouth and accept a flattering offer from West Virginia.

"Spears started his four-year regime at West Virginia in 1921. His 1922 team was undefeated and downed Gonzaga university, coached by Gus Dorais, now of Detroit, and one of the outstanding teams on the coast that season, in a post-season game at San Diego, Cal.

"Thus I think you'll find it was Spears who coached Dartmouth in '29 and also that the East's last victory was gained by a Spears-West Virginia team in 1922. West Virginia is located at Morgantown, in the middle of the Alleghenies and about four or five miles below the Mason-Dixon line, but it plays an Eastern schedule in nearly all sports and desires to be regarded as an eastern team.

"Next fall, by the way, West Virginia enters a new football regime under Earle (Greasy) Neale, one of the few major league ball players to make good as a college football coach."

Mr. Gunning is quite correct—on points. Jackson Cannell was not head coach at Dartmouth in 1929, as we reported, but merely an assistant. He took over the head coaching job in 1921, yielded the post to Jess Hawley in 1923 and returned to it in 1929, to serve a second term.

The honors, on behalf of the east, go to West Virginia's band of Mountaineers.

Bill Roper may "counsel" with the University of Virginia in football matters, having an interest in the southern school as the outgrowth of student days there, but the retired Princeton head coach has no idea of continuing active work at any college this year.

"I think I have earned a rest," Roper said at the meeting of football coaches in New York, where he led the fight for endorsement of much-needed reforms in the conduct of the sport. "So far as I

Business Men of Big Spring

You get very much indignant, and rightfully so when customers owe you money, and send their cash out of town for merchandise to be mailed to them.

We, as business men, owe the refining industry of Big Spring a debt of gratitude for the indispensable and large payrolls that are responsible for. The consistent way to recognize our obligation and manifest our appreciation would be to use their products.

Every Gasoline represents a payroll that is helping some community materially.

What community is receiving your financial support through your gasoline purchases?

Cosden Liquid Gas—one high quality gasoline sold in the U. S. A.—stands behind a Big Spring payroll to the tune of approximately $36,000.00 monthly.

Men Identified As Bank Bandits

As Bank Bandits

FRANKSTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Charlie Curry said today he and Constable Charlie Slaughter had identified William Quinn and J. C. Elg, charged in connection with the burglary of the First State bank of Montgomery, as members of a band of four with which Curry, Slaughter and other officers had a gunfight after the robbery of the Frankston bank some weeks ago.

Curry said charges of robbery by firearms had been filed at Palestine, Anderson county, in which Frankston is situated, against Quinn and Elg. He added the authorities probably would await the disposition of burglary and theft cases pending against the suspects at Conroe before attempting to remove the two to Anderson county. There might be action by the grand jury however, before that time, he said.

Slaughter and Charles Emmer, another deputy, were wounded in the roadside pistol engagement which followed the Frankston robbery by a few hours.

The four men escaped though one of them was wounded, in a truck they seized.

Quinn, Elg, three other men and a woman stand accused of the burglary of the Montgomery bank, which lost more than $2,000. A grand jury at Conroe began an investigation yesterday.

Curry said he and Slaughter viewed Quinn and Elg at Conroe.

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Bovine Basketball Boys Meet Warner Memorial Tonight

Water Valley, said to be a town near the banks of the silvery Concho River, seeks tougher competition in the way of basketball than San Angelo can furnish at the present moment. The Water Valley quintet defeated Billie Blasett's five 40 to 5.

Which reminds us that Bill Stevens, the Steer Mentor, wants automobiles to take the Bovines on a trip near the border. Sanderson is sponsoring a high school tournament, and the Steer coach has been contemplating taking his aggregation down there to win same, if possible. However, walking at this time of the year is extremely uncomfortable, especially having to carry a basketball along. So Stevens needs three automobiles, we believe it is, or maybe four, to bear the load. The tournament is Jan. 20 and 21, but it will be necessary to leave here a day or so early. Anyone able to spare about four days absence from the prevailing depression, and who has an automobile that will center over the roads, is asked to offer same to the Steers. It will be an ideal trip. Did we mention the town is near the border? This department offers our automobile, the Spirit of Rebellion No. 2, but it rests upon greater minds that we boast of to offer the four days. The local school has a crack basketball unit, and deserves to have the youths entered in the tournament. Bring on those automobiles.

The San Angelo writer remarks, "Ohie Bristol, has Bob Ingram (no relation to Navy Bill), the former S. M. U. star, to assist him at tutoring the Big Spring football squad next fall. Ingram would teach Bill Flowers to throw that melon." Yeah?

Which brings us back to the party of last year's grid season. The only time during the year when passing did the Steers much good was when Bill Flowers and Delbert Rogers kept the tosses short and hard. The Flowers to Phillips combination was especially noticeable—just so long as the boys were along the straight and narrow. The often resorted to long and high aerial attack, however, never did work to the Steers' advantage. Of course some of them were completed for long gains, but more often they were not, and too often they were completed to a member of the opposition who thought nothing of prancing right back with the pellet. That is the trouble with a passing attack. One never knows when it will assume the proportions and the antics of a boomerang, and come smashing back to knock things over in general. In case there is any question about it, one might confer with a Texas Christian University fan regarding the Baylor Bear tilt of 1930.

Icky Connelly, who spent the summer here last year tossing baseballs for Richardson Refinery, and keeping this department fairly well supplied with nickel cigars, is breaking into prominence with the Horned Frog cagers this year.

It seems from reports coming out of the district committee room, which was opened and aired at Abilene Thursday, that the one year eligibility rule is gaining much momentum. This, if passed, will be a severe, yet verily a serious, blow to some of the teams we call out swiftly. We had entertained hopes the rule would not go into effect before 1932, but it seems that if the sentiment for the ruling is as strong in other parts as it is in District Two, it will go over with a bang in 1931. The lads better get busy if they expect to thwart things. Which probably they don't.

According to Prexy Anderson, the boy with the circling hair, who earns his bread and maybe butter on the Abilene Morning News, Eddie Curt thinks Pete Barber was the best tackle in the district last year. That is too bad, Mr. Curt. Perhaps he doesn't know that Scrap Iron Grimes is declared to be the best tackle in the district. Or maybe he is like this department. He knows it, but he doesn't believe it.

Eastland School To Play Pair of Games Here

Having successfully thrust aside all high school threats made in 1931, Bill Stevens' high school quintet will step into the higher circles tonight and Saturday night, when the Steers clash with the Warner Memorial University five at the high school gym.

Warner Memorial University is located on top of a very attractive hill at Eastland. It may be a very small university, and it may boast of but very few students, but it takes just five good men to construct a basketball team with a few extras on the bench. It may be possible that five crack loopers call Warner Memorial home, and, with this being true, the furious five of the local school may have their respective hands loaded.

Since 1931 came dawning in, making last year's calendars look like last year's spring suit, the Steers have been advancing into a formidable opposition. They have met five high school quintets, and have never been in very serious danger. Their victims included two games with W. C. Stripling, Fort Worth, two from Lubbock high school, and one from the neighboring Colorado College. Prior to this new year, however, the Steers' record was marred by a loss to the Lamesa Lions, or some other well known animal.

The passing-pivoting aggregation that waltzes around the local gym floor, however, seems to bid fair to take them as they come along. Providing the quintet of the Eastland school offers serious and stubborn competition, it may be brought out conclusively tonight whether the Steer cage unit is really some pumpkins at the game.

Should the Longhorns keep up their winning streak, they will go to Sanderson, a border hamlet, the latter part of this month ranked high to cop a tournament there. Stevens, with a good nucleus left over from the 1931 contingent, has constructed a mighty nice looking aggregation to represent the high school this year. He is blessed with feet and inches in the form of Purdie, center, Hutto, forward, Hopper, forward, and Reed, center. These four youths, when they get on the same floor together are hard for any good aggregation to weave around. Bill Flowers and Ted Phillips have the burden of the guards, and bear it well.

Tonight and Saturday night the tilt will start at 7:30 p. m., central standard time.

John Neabitt, of Fort Smith, Ark., has a pair of horseshoes which won first prize at the state fair in 1880. He made them.

BASKETS and BANKBOARDS

BY "PHOG" ALLEN
This is the second of a series of weekly basketball articles written by Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, director of athletics of the University of Kansas. Allen here gives the outlook for the conference races now starting over the country.

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—With preliminary pre-season inter-sectional skirmishes over, varsity basketball teams over the United States now will turn to the serious business of their conference battles.

Columbia university, Eastern Intercollegiate champions, looks to repeat. With such coaches as Meehan and Mooney and with Gregory the versatile colored lad who does everything to lead their offense, the New York boys are favored to win a second straight conference title. However, Dartmouth appears strong and should give the Lions a great battle.

The resignation of Eddie Mc-Nichol at Pennsylvania gives the coaching reins to Lou Jourdet. Penn had bad luck in clashes with Western conference teams this year. Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio State, and Indiana lowered Pennsylvania's colors.

Fordham, Temple, and New York university finished strong last year and should be among the east's leading quintets this season. The University of Pittsburgh, which enjoyed a great season last year, due to the efficient coaching of Syracuse university with Lou Andreas at the helm should have another good year. Coach Andreas is president of the National Basketball Coaches association.

Alabama won the Southern conference title last season, but failed to look impressive this year in an early northern invasion. Sam Barry of the champion university of Southern California outfit won the Pacific Coast championship his first year after leaving Iowa. U.S.C. is not so strong this year.

John Bunn, new varsity coach at Stanford university hasn't the material to insure the Cardinals of being a threat this year. Bunn formerly was the University of Kansas freshman coach. California under "Nibs" Price looks best for the southern division of the Pacific Coast title, with "Hec" Edmundson of the Washington Huskies the choice for the northern section.

Youth Meets Veteran Tonight As Max Baer and Tom Heeney Climb Into Ring

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—An ambitious young ter looking forward to a chance to fight for the heavyweight championship and a fading veteran who has had that chance and failed clash in the feature ten-round bout of Madison Square Garden's boxing card tonight. Young Max Baer, heavy punching Californian, makes his second New York appearance against Tom Heeney, veteran New Zealander.

In Baer's first Garden bout he dropped a decision in two rounds to Ernie Schaaf of Boston. Despite his defeat, Baer made a big hit with the crowd with his aggressive tactics and the power behind his punches. Heeney's career reached its climax in the summer of 1928 when the rugged blacksmith stepped into the ring against Gene Tunney, the then heavyweight champion, Tunney scientifically cut old Tom to pieces, stopping him in the eleventh round and since then the New Zealander's ring successes have been few and far between.

Baer's youth and strength plus the admitted fact that Heeney is not the rugged old warhorse he once was have made the young Californian a heavy favorite. Paul Swideraki of Syracuse, N. Y., battles Marty Callahan of Washington, and Stanke, Freda of Jersey City takes on Tony Einar, of New York, in the other ten rounds of the all-heavyweight card.

90 Rookies To Be Given Trials In National League Clubs This Spring

District Solons Put Skids Under Ineligible Stars

Members of the district committee of District Two, Interscholastic League, held an informal three-hour confab Thursday afternoon at Abilene, and when it was all over the solons had gone on record as favoring bigger and better rules for football players, and endorsing the Roy Henderson plan of dividing the state into 16 districts.

George Gentry, principal, and W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, attended the session, representing Big Spring. The committee repealed the 1930 rule which required protests against players be lodged seven days to the minute prior to the respective contest. In its stead the body passed a measure to forfeit tilts in which ineligible participants.

The body also recommended to the state committee immediate adoption of a one year attendance rule for transfers who have participated previously in athletics. Retention of the 10 semester ruling also was advocated. In recommending Henderson's plan, the committee offered three reservations, to-wit:

1. That the district races be continued through the week of Thanksgiving, as heretofore.
2. That the bi-district game involving the El Paso district winner be subsidized to the extent of the traveling expenses of the visiting team.
3. That the state fee for bi-district games be reduced from 5 per cent to 2 1/2 per cent.

A case of "poison ivy" kept "Light Horse" Harry Cooper from playing in the $10,000 Los Angeles open this year. The golf pro won the event in 1923.

The American Association also will not look for representation. Brooklyn has purchased Clyde (Pea) Ridge Day, veteran right hander from Kansas City, while Hal Wiltse, former Redsox and St. Louis Browns pitcher, is up with the Phillies from Milwaukee.

The Giants will see what can be done with Tom Irah, former university of Georgia fourth star, who batted .354 with Asheville in the Sally league last year. Howard Grossklos, an all-around athlete at Amherst, will try out for a place in the Pirates' infield. Bob Parhan, former Georgia Tech player, will do some outfielding for the Brooklyn Robins at least during the spring. Ed Storer, former pitcher with the Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates, gets another chance with the Phillies, and Ed Steckel, right hander, once with the Browns, goes to the Reds by draft from Milwaukee. The Reds also will try out Bob Ashbjornson, catcher, who batted .331 with Nashville last season.

Charles Leonard, 87-year-old owner of the Newdale Stable, attributes his longevity to racing horses. He has followed the track since he was 15.

Stop Coughing Quick As Lightning

Thousands last winter first became familiar with Mentodine. The new lightning-acting cough-syrup, acting as a discovery for stubborn, hacking, racking coughs, bronchitis, chest cold, asthma, children's coughs. Takes only seconds. A single swallow checks worst coughs, soothes soreness, clears head, throat and chest like a flash, and a delightful invigorating warmth spreads through chest and body, instantly driving out grippy feeling.

Mentodine is entirely different from old-fashioned remedies. Contains one special, powerful secret ingredient which instantly produces results on inflamed, irritated membranes. Five other scientific ingredients immediately neutralize acid condition of congested passages, loosen phlegm, penetrate and clear tubes, check stubbornest coughs, restore health in quickest time known. No harmful drugs, safe for all.

Mentodine should be used at first sign of cough, headache, grippy feeling. In a second hit spot, gives instant soothing, clearing, stimulating results. Get Mentodine from druggist today for few cents. Sure quick relief or money promptly refunded by manufacturer.—Adv.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Miss Evelyn Ferrara, national women's discus throw champion, has filed a praepice of a suit for $10,000 against the Chicago Cubs claimed to have been suffered at Wrigley Field last August 15. Miss Ferrara claims her hand was cut on a broken bottle during the rush by others to obtain possession of a baseball.

NEW SIGN
NOKOMIS, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—This Illinois mining town is to put up another signboard. On the concrete highway, near Hillsboro, is a large sign that tells passing motorists they are "12 miles to Nokomis, home of Jim Bottomley."

On the other side of Nokomis another sign tells motorists about Charley Ruffing, the Yankee pitcher, who also lives here. Now that Andy Bednar, another native of Nokomis, is a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates, merchants have decided to honor him with a similar signboard.

Frank Hall, pro at Bobby Jones' home golf court, set a new record of 64 or five less than par over the greens.

Date for District Club Meet To Be Held Here This Spring Not Yet Definitely Settled

Several Prizes Announced for Individuals and Federated Clubs Who Make Best Showing of the Year

At the meeting of the executive board of the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in Abilene last Saturday no official action was taken to decide the date of the district meeting in Big Spring.

Mrs. Joyce Fisher, president of the City Federation, was unable to attend.

The board decided to wait until the next meeting in Austin, Feb. 3, to settle the date. It is hoped that some of the Big Spring club officers can attend that meeting.

The business of the session was devoted to the selection of 11 prizes to be awarded to district clubs at the Big Spring meeting. Big Spring clubs and individuals are also eligible for these prizes which are as follows:

Two $5 prizes are to be given by the district, and others by chairmen of committees. District prizes will go to the club and to the city federation making the best reports based on score percentages.

Mrs. Fred Cook of Fulton, chairman of junior membership, will give $5 to the junior club making the best report.

Mrs. A. C. Spaulding of Terlingue, chairman of conservation, will award a $5 prize to the county federation making the best report on conservation of natural resources.

In the department of American Citizenship, a prize will be awarded by the chairman, Mrs. G. B. Kelly of Cisco, for the club giving the best program on citizenship training.

Art Prizes To the club holding the largest number of exhibits of original paintings by Texas artists, a book in the life of Elizabeth Ney, will be given by Mrs. A. C. Hoover of Donna, chairman of art division.

Another prize to be given in the fine arts divisions, is one to go to the club giving the best program on Texas Music and reporting that program to the music chairmen, Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco. Mrs. Lee is offering the prize $5.

Indian Bracelet In the public welfare department, Mrs. T. C. Miller of Ballinger, chairman of Indian welfare, is offering a hand-made Indian bracelet, to an individual member of a junior club sending in the best story on the life of the Alabama Indians.

To the club woman federating the largest number of clubs during this administration, the chairman of memberships, Mrs. W. Van Sickle of Alpine, will award an official federation pin.

Year Book Prize Five dollars will be given by Mrs.

J. C. Holmes, Jr. Has Colorful Birthday Fete

J. C. Holmes, Jr., known to all his friends as Sonnyboy, cut his fifth birthday cake yesterday in the presence of a large number of his friends.

The party began with the presentation to each guest of a paper army cap. The afternoon was then devoted to the playing of indoor games, in a pink and blue atmosphere. The lights were furnished entirely by tapers in these colors and pink carnations carried out the color scheme, as well as the refreshments of cake and ice cream.

The prizes were won by Barbara Collins, Elizabeth Moody and Calvin Boykin.

The favors were pink and blue suckers in the form of little colonial ladies.

Sonnyboy's guests were Gary Bivings, Bobby and Calvin Boykin, Betty Bob Diltz, Josephine Timmons, Dylse Davenport, Wesley Meats, Elizabeth Moody, Sonnyboy Moody, Gene Minor, Betty and Frances Hart, Betty and Barbara Collins, Thomas L. Watson, Russell Latson, Raymond Jr. and Wilkison Winn, Dean Miller, Sarah Jane Strange, Rosemary O'Neil, Helen Jean Johnson and Sarah Woodward.

Mrs. Holmes was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. Moody and Mrs. Hugh Duncan.

She also asked in as her guests, Mesdames S. E. Deats, R. S. Minor, J. B. Collins and Miss Mary Wine of Tulsa, Okla.

Theatre For Children Fad Of Jr. League

The latest fad of Junior Leagues, according to press reports, is the idea of children's theaters.

Fourteen Junior Leagues in as many cities will produce Master Linck's "Bluebirds" before April 1, in the first countrywide tour of the Children's National theater.

The tour will begin at Boston and travel as far as Tulsa, Oklahoma, and New Orleans. Castes in the various cities will be ready for the arrival of costumes, scenery and directing staff which will get to each only in time for the final production.

The Children's National theater is said to be the outgrowth of work done by the Junior League in Chicago, whose object was to bring good plays within the reach of more cities.

Floydada Man Returns To Home After Being Kidnaped

FLOYDADA, Texas, Jan. 16 (AP)—T. P. Guimarin, 71, former district clerk of Floyd county, returned to his home here yesterday from Jacksonville, Fla., and related a story of aimless wandering in the company of two unknown companions who had taken his money and other personal possessions.

Relatives and officers of several states had sought him for more than a month.

He said he was struck in the head with a blunt instrument when he looked at a grocery store in Fort Worth, Dec. 5, while with two men who proposed to trade the store for property in Floydada. He recovered his faculties in a Miami, Fla., hotel and telegraphed his family. J. C. Wood, a son-in-law, went to Florida and found Guimarin in Jacksonville. He showed the effects of nervousness and shock.

Loucile Allgood's Weekly Letter How To Get Hens To Lay 9 Eggs A Month; Plans For Next Council

Dear Club Women and Girls: Now that egg production is increasing, I am sure you are thinking more and more about the care you are giving your chickens.

Most club women with whom I have discussed the matter this month are starting the year off with a daily egg record. That is the only way you can to know what your hens are averaging in egg production.

Nine Eggs Per Hen The standard egg production for this month is nine eggs per hen. What average are you getting?

Last year the hens in flocks over the state where poultry calendars were kept averaged nine eggs. However, Mrs. E. L. Parish, of the Center Point community averaged over 15 eggs per hen on her flock of 375 white leghorns.

She gives the following reasons for her success: (1) Feeding laying mash, supplemented with whole grain once a day. (2) Three gallons of milk daily. (3) An abundance of warm water throughout the day, during the cold weather.

How She Did It Very early each morning they started heating water, and kept it out for the hens all day. When we realize that 66 2/3 percent of the weight of the egg is water, we are convinced that a hen must have an abundance of water if she is going to be a producer.

How to Grow Green Feed Below are suggestions for poultry keeping in January. This information appears on the poultry calendars sent out by A. and M. College.

Much loss from poor circulation, colds, roup, and worms may be avoided by furnishing adequate amounts of green feed to the flock at all times. Green feed furnishes vitamins and contributes otherwise towards keeping the flock in the best of condition. Growing green feed such as illustrated is best.

Weather conditions may not always permit growing green feed and in this case, sprouted oats is one of the best substitutes. With the use of an oat sprouter as shown, a supply can easily be kept on hand. One square inch should be fed each bird per day and the sprouter should be built with this capacity in mind. A good grade of alfalfa meal added to the mash at the rate of 5 lbs. per 100 will also substitute satisfactorily.

A more expensive substitute is toasted cod liver oil. This may be mixed with the mash feed or grain at the rate of 2 lbs. per 100 lbs. of feed.

A double yard system is about the only satisfactory way of insuring a constant supply of green feed. Double yards enable the planter and grower in one yard, while the flock is ranging in the other. This constant changing back and forth, with intervening cultivation and planting, is also one of the best sanitary measures known.

Tips On Breeding The hens in the breeding pen should not be pushed for high egg production, as it will reduce the hatchability of the eggs and the livability of the chicks. Supply breeding pen with abundance of green feed and oyster shell.

1. Select 24 to 26 ounce eggs. 2. select eggs with good shell formation, neither rough nor porous. 3. avoid long eggs, round eggs, or irregularly shaped eggs.

Periods of incubation may vary somewhat but the following is the average time required: Chickens, 21 days; turkeys, 28 days; ducks, 28 days; geese, 30 days; guineas, 28 days; pigeons, 17 days; and (Muscovy) ducks, 34 days.

The practice of hatching chicks at home under hens or in small incubators, is being discarded rapidly in favor of the regular custom hatching. Arrange for your chicks this month and avoid any possibility of delay. If you use your own eggs, make arrangements with your hatcheryman as to the time of hatch and the price. If buying

by Nancy Earle

Noted Authority and Writer on Health, Charm and Beauty.

The vender of exercises cries his wares like a story-book peddler with leathern girdle and long pointed curls. Good legging and maybe a feather in his vagabond cap. "Exercise is exercises!" he cries. "All exercises today? Good exercise for every body. Exercises for stout, and exercises for lean. Exercises for lungs and for livers, and for legs and arms. Who'll buy my exercises?"

All kinds, to suit every anatomical deficiency. Many and varied they are, and most of them of very genuine merit. Exercise does contribute to the health of the body in a direct and unmistakable fashion. It will cure many ills. It will stimulate the mind and enliven the spirit. It will brighten the outlook on life. It will relieve the body of many distressing conditions. And throughout all the body's efforts toward a higher standard of health, exercise is perhaps one of the three most important factors.

(The other two—just if you happen to be curious—are diet and mental attitude). But exercise, nor diet, nor mental attitude, should not be regarded as a cure-all. One of the chief pitfalls into which we fall, is that of permitting ourselves to be borne away by our enthusiasms to realize quite irrational in the cool dispassionate light of fact.

Many absurd merits are claimed for exercise. Many absurd claims are made for the preponderant importance of mental attitude as a factor in health. All are important. All vital. All insistently lay claim to our attention and to our energies and health.

Perhaps there is not any one health habit more meritorious than that of the regular performance of a little sequence of simple exercise each morning. Habitually followed, this will keep the body in good muscular tone, will be invigorating, and in conjunction with other rational modes of life, will conduce to the preservation of the health and the appearance far into the years.

The body that is well exercised is not likely to mislay its symmetry in hills and valleys of fat that accrue. It is not likely to fall victim to that stodginess and clumsy inertia that means old age. It is not likely to be harassed by those innumerable little aches and pains and disorders that descend upon a body that is not kept vibrant and a-tingle with life by use. If the body has been overindulged and has accumulated bulging pounds of fat, then exercise—the right sort—is one of the means of rescuing the body from this menace to its health and its beauty. There are no other ways to reduce scientifically. Diet and exercise. Strict and regular, and continuous over a long period of time. No short laxy ways. And for constipation, exercise will tone up the muscles and inspire, the tensing and relaxing of the intestinal muscles which is called peristalsis. For the lungs, which means for the cleansing and invigorating of the entire body by packing into it the fresh miracle of oxygen. For that general stimulation of circulation and the firing of all the vital forces of the body which elevate it to a higher efficiency and to a greater joy in its own powers. A new delight in life that is partly physical and more spiritual is the reward of a body keenly attuned by means of exercise to its own needs and its divine quest within.

But exercise is not a cure-all. Enthusiasts who assert, for example, that exercise will cure certain diseases resulting from bacterial infection are misinformed. Exercise, proper diet, and the constructive fraying of mind, and when occasion offers the skilled services of a physician or surgeon. These are the ways to a long life of health.

If You Have "Menu-itis", Just Try This Easy Cure

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON If "menu-itis" could be classified as a dangerous affliction, almost every woman would find her name enrolled on some hospital list. The first symptom, usually, is a feeling that one cannot simply cannot plan another dinner! Ever! And matters soon progress steadily from this point until the complaint becomes chronic, and the whole family is involved in the suffering. Of course, no two persons will arrange a menu in quite the same way. The best method for obtaining needed relief from this daily task of meal-planning is to allow someone else to furnish occasional suggestions. I am sure you will find the menu printed below is a welcomed, practical idea. Try it for dinner tonight!

Olives and Egg Appetizers Deviled Ham Loaf Succotash of Fresh Corn and Oven Baked Kidney Beans Cole Slaw Pure Apple Butter Hot Rolls Chocolate Wafer Dessert Coffee Small open sandwiches, often called "canapes," make excellent appetizers. They should be ready on small serving plates at each place when dinner is announced. The following simple appetizers are made from foods that you more than likely have on hand: Olive and Hard Cooked Egg Appetizers: Cut rounds of bread, and toast on one side only. Butter the untoasted side and spread with a layer of thinly sliced stuffed Spanish olives. Cover with a generous layer of chopped hard cooked eggs, moistened with mayonnaise salad dressing. Sprinkle with egg yolks that have been forced through a sieve and on the center of each, place a slice of the olive.

Deviled Ham Loaf: 1 lb. raw ham and 1-2 lb. fresh pork, ground together; 2 beaten eggs; 1-2 cup tomato ketchup; 1 teaspoon prepared mustard; 2 cups Rice Flakes; 1-1/2 teaspoons evaporated horseradish; 4 tablespoons green pepper, chopped; 2 small onions, chopped. Combine ham and pork, eggs, tomato ketchup, prepared mustard, rice flakes, and horseradish, which has been soaked for 10 minutes in 2 tablespoons cold water. Fry green pepper and onions in a skillet with butter until they are tender, but not brown, and add to the meat mixture. Form into a loaf and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—for about one hour.

Succotash of Corn and Kidney Beans: 2 cups fresh corn cut from cob; 1 medium can oven baked red kidney beans; 1 green pepper, minced fine; 1-2 teaspoon salt; 1 egg, slightly beaten; grated cheese buttered crumbs. Mix corn with kidney beans, an add green pepper, salt and egg. Pour into a buttered baking dish sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered crumbs, and bake in a cayed teeth. Six pupils had sore gums. One pupil had poor posture. Total number of defects, 23. Two children had a correction.

How Is Your HEALTH?

Edited by Dr. Iago Galdston
for the New York Academy of Medicine

NOISE

The noise and din of the modern metropolis severely taxes the health of its dwellers and injures their ears.

This was demonstrated in a study of noise recently made in New York City by the noise abatement commission. In its published report the commission defined noise as "sound that is without agreeable or musical quality."

That noise is harmful may be appreciated by the fact that it evokes a feeling of annoyance.

Experimental studies have further demonstrated that sudden loud and unpleasant noises tend to increase muscular tension, respiration and circulation.

This response interferes with the efficient working of the body.

An easily appreciated effect of noise is its disturbance of sleep. The commission observes that the abatement of noise is imperatively needed because it interferes with sleep. Every individual needs between six and nine hours sleep. Most persons are accustomed to sleep during the night, and hence at least the hours from 11 to 7 should be as free of distressing noises as possible.

Many night workers have to sleep during the day. This is another strong argument for the elimination of noise whenever possible. All street noises are indirectly harmful because windows have to be closed, keeping out fresh air.

The commission found that constant loud noises are apt to impair hearing. Noise interferes with efficiency in the worker and makes attention and concentration more difficult. Noise interferes with sleep and has a harmful effect on development of infants and young children.

Tomorrow—Ring Worm

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — As though determined to laugh off any thought of economic depression for the new year, filmland is planning to launch a new tidal wave of comedy in 1931.

When things looked pretty dark in a business way last year the studios all discovered at about the same time that the American public wanted to laugh away its troubles and would pay good money for the privilege. So comedy after comedy rolled from the movie mills, and the majority made money.

This year they're taking up the laughs themselves with energy and the cinema clowns appear to be at the gateway to their biggest boom.

TEAMS AND SINGLES

Moran and Mack, the "Two Black Crows," faded from the contract lists, and another black-face team followed suit, but Amos and Andy made a successful debut, and the Four Marx Brothers repeated their success of 1929. The Wheeler-Woolsey team strengthened its hold with three features, and is set already for more in 1931.

Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner, whether playing individually or together, never failed to ring the box office bell, and both were crowned as stars during the year.

Eddie Cantor and Leon Errol were important acquisitions from the stage, and among youngsters who progressed exceptionally were Stuart Erwin, Warren Hymer and "Skeets" Gallagher.

Masked Longing
BY HOWARD ROCKEY

Chapter 6

THE LATEST SENSATION

Vivienne relaxed and reached for a cigarette. On a dais in Channing's studio she had been posing in 1929.

At first she had found it difficult. Keeping still for so long was different from sitting for a few moments before the camera's lens. But after the first few days had passed she mastered the trick of it.

Photographic prints and sketches strewn on the rugs gave striking evidence of Channing's thoroughness. There was scarcely any angle from which he had not recorded an impression of Vivienne.

The artist's deft fingers had been busy with his clay. Now he critically examined the dainty eight-inch figure he had begun to fashion. Glancing up at his model, his expression registered artistic satisfaction. Her coloring was gorgeous in its striking contrast.

The blue-black cap of her hair was as sleek as though it had been lacquered. A vivid flash of crimson revealed a half-smile on her lips—as mocking as the mystery in the depths of her half-closed eyes.

Putting down Channing's lighter, Vivienne exhaled a cloud of smoke. Her arm dropped carelessly to her side and a bluish haze filtered up through her long, slender fingers.

"Well, that's a relief," she announced with a sigh. "Some day you'll keep me here so long that I'll never move again."

Channing threw a wet cloth over his embryo statue. "How about a bit of luncheon?"

"They're the sweetest words I've ever heard!" Vivienne drew a shawl about her, a magnificent Spanish specimen of rose-embroidered black. Through the closed glass doors she glimpsed the vista of terrace. "Can't we be served out there?" she asked. "I'd like to bathe in the fountain."

"I'll confess I'd like to let you," Channing helped her from the dais. "But as an artist, I insist that you don't catch cold. I mustn't forget my murals."

"Then I'll curb my mermaid tendencies," Vivienne promised him. "But I'm going to have lunch in the garden—even if I have to dress. I suppose I might as well, anyway. We're not working this afternoon?"

"No—but if you're comfortable, why bother to change just now?"

"I shan't," she decided and sauntered out, carefully protecting her shoulders from the noon-day sun.

She peered over the parapet down into the canyon of the street below. If she lost her balance and tumbled over backward. By that time the millions of the law appeared and Miss Santa Claus and her escort were removed to the precinct station.

The fascinating young woman gave her name as Aileen Gray and stated that she is an actress. She explained that she had thoughtlessly strayed from the theatre in costume and apologized to the police for creating a disturbance.

Her companion admitted brazenly that he was James Crane, a publicity man in Max Klein's employ. He revealed, under grilling that Miss Gray will soon be seen in a Broadway musical comedy called "Sara's Christmas Stocking." Both were held in bail for further hearing tomorrow.

"Well?" Vivienne asked when Channing looked up. "What do you think of it?"

"I think I want to meet this Jimmy Crane—and I want to know your sister. Here's to them both!" he proposed and passed Vivienne her drink. "And to my statue," he added, touching his glass to hers.

The Italians Succeed

YOUR CHANCE of getting across the Atlantic ocean in an airplane appears now to be about five in six.

Ten Italian seaplanes which landed on the coast of South America Tuesday established that percentage, since twelve had started and only two failed to arrive. One was forced down soon after leaving the African coast on the 1,800-mile journey, and the second went down in the sea 475 miles short of the goal. Both were picked up by Italian cruisers stationed along the route.

General Lallo, commander of the expedition, and his men deserve all the honors the Italian government can heap upon them. Their stunt is quite the most spectacular of any since Lindbergh lone-eagled it over to Paris. The open-water stretch was comparatively short and the planes were as good as in the water as in the air but all the same it was a tremendous achievement.

Probably the future will find seaplanes making the journey direct from North America to Europe, in flocks of half a dozen or more. The Italians have demonstrated that it can be done on a scale hitherto undreamed of.

The first trans-Atlantic sea flight made by Alcock and Brown in a flimsy land plane in 1919, was for a distance of about 1,900 miles from Newfoundland to Ireland. From Rome to Rio, ultimate destination of the Italian flight, is 7,000 miles.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Judge Clark's Opinion

New York World: WE ADVISE against the throwing of ticker tape, the lighting of bon fires, the firing of cannon and other forms of communal rejoicing over the opinion of Judge Clark of New Jersey that the Eighteenth Amendment is not part of the Constitution and never has been. We do not believe that this opinion can be taken seriously. The chance of it being upheld by the Supreme Court seems to us as small as one in twenty million.

As we understand the opinion, Judge Clark departs abruptly from the argument of counsel, abandons what he calls "the stereotyped form of constitutional interpretation," and deals with the question rather as a matter of "political science."

By this method he arrives at the conclusion that the Eighteenth Amendment is not part of the Constitution, because it was ratified only by State Legislatures and not by conventions elected by the people.

We cannot follow the logic by which Judge Clark reaches this conclusion. Nor can we put much faith in the willingness of the Supreme Court to declare unconstitutional an amendment which it has been construing and applying for ten years. Though time and practice does not necessarily render constitutional that which is unconstitutional, they have great weight when courts are called upon to overturn policies that have long been accepted as established.

Ex-Vice President Of Ft. Worth Bank Enters Guilty Plea

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16 (AP)—A. L. (Lon) Baker, former vice president of the defunct Texas National Bank, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge James C. Wilson today to a charge of misapplication of the bank's funds and making false entries on its books. The Texas National closed January 31, 1930. Sentence of shortage laid to Baker in the charges was over $5,000. He was jointly indicted with B. B. Samuels, former president of the bank, who is reported to be in New York City to be brought back to Fort Worth for trial. Judge Wilson came to Fort Worth from San Antonio to hear the case against Baker. Both Baker and Samuels have been at liberty under $25,000 bond each since the filing of complaints against them on April 22, 1930.

Nueces County Judge, Nat Benton, Is Dead

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Jan. 16 (AP)—Nat Benton, Nueces county judge since 1928, died here today after a long illness. Judge Benton was born in Seguin, August 18, 1860. At various stages he was a farmer, member of the Texas rangers, deputy sheriff in Edwards county, ranchman, and school teacher. He was credited by many as being the prime mover in the establishment of the Texas College of Arts and Industries, now located at Kingsville. Judge Benton is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mr. H. N. Garrett; a son, Curran L. Benton of Corpus Christi; a sister, Mrs. John Donegan of Seguin, and five grand children.

CHAIRMAN—

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11) find the face of Uncle Andy Melton," he said. He charged the Gulf Company with an effort to drive Texas independent producers out of business by establishing a distributing system of their own. He said part of the industry's troubles were its own fault because "we sat by while the big companies slowly got control of the oil world." His statement followed the report of W. M. Fuleon of Great Falls, Mont., chairman of that state's delegation, saying the oil industry should have all of the protection possible and that great storage of oil was dangerous to the small operators. Meanwhile, a resolution calling for a tariff on oil was formulated by a special committee. Senator-elect Gore, its chairman, planned to present the measure.

BANK ROBBERY

Mr. Eldridge had been in the Sugarland hospital with a bullet wound in his chest. Pneumonia developed and caused his death.

Senator Parrish To Seek Abolition Of New Marriage Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock introduced a bill today calling for abolition of the new marriage laws imposed two years ago. Characterizing the present laws as causing humiliation to those desiring to marry and to be a discouragement of marriage, he asked that his bill be passed as an emergency measure. Measures to pay the members of the 42nd legislature their salaries and expenses awaited today the signature of the speakers of both houses and the governor. The senate went through a morning of waiting for the signatures. The body stood "at ease" frequently.

Captain Frank Hawks Receives Promotion

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Promotion of Captain Frank M. Hawks from aviation superintendent to aeronautical advisor of the Texas Company was announced today. The promotion, it was explained, would give the speed flier more time for flying. J. D. ("Duke") Jernigan, wartime pilot who towed Hawks across the country in a glider last year, succeeds him as aviation superintendent.

HOME TOWN—

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11) man and woman ought to be proud of them. It is awfully good to live in a time and in a community where education is offered free to every child. A few hours around one of our schools makes you feel proud of them.

Unusual problems have confronted Big Spring school officials within the past three or four years. The scholastic population jumped so rapidly that expenditures necessary to barely keep the schools going, not to speak of broadening of the curriculum and expansion of material equipment, has put a lot of worry upon them.

When it comes to the relationship between patrons and teachers we never have gotten it out of our heads that our own dear mother, when we were down in the grades, let us know that any time we received punishment in school, either by word or leather strap, we could count on some more of the same when we got home.

Pity the child whose parents openly criticize teachers for efforts to maintain discipline. Many a kid is taught more at school about how to behave than they are at home.

because the folks may naturally humor and pet 'em more.

Today's grammar school graduation is not a big news event in the ordinary sense. But, in the lives of those kids it is a big day and may the Lord bless 'em.

HERALD'S—

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11) all of us. And sometimes hard. But let's seize upon every possible way to surmount it and make it more poetic and gayly courageous. The tilt of our hats, the way we walk, our perfume, our clothes, can be gallant stepping stones upward out of the dull defeat of life. It's a matter of psychology, you know.

..of Extravagant

"We need not spend" extravagant sums to put the principle into effect. The simplest gingham apron can be made a stepping stone. If a woman has one costume a year, it can be the ultimately perfect thing for her, if she chooses it according to principle.

"Let's poetize ourselves," pleads Miss Earle. "If we don't do it ourselves, nobody else is likely to. However many pennies we spend, let's make them count. It isn't the number of pennies. It's a matter of principle, and imagination, and inner glory."

"And Miss Earle knows all about it," concludes our correspondent. "And herself, is she beautiful? Well,

24-Year-Old Son of Wealthy Banker Was Prisoner for Days $15,000 RANSOM PAID Father Finally Gives Interview Telling Of Experience

CORSICANA, Texas, Jan. 15 (AP)—Isaac N. Cerf, wealthy banker, today revealed that his son, Robert Cerf, 24, had been kidnaped from the streets here the night of December 10, and held until next day when he paid $15,000 ransom for his release.

After refusing to discuss the incident when the kidnaping was revealed by Dallas police last night, Cerf gave an interview to the Corsicana Daily Sun today.

Mr. Cerf said his son was on his way home from town about 11:30 p. m. when an automobile occupied by one man stopped and he accepted an invitation to ride. After he entered the automobile young Cerf was covered with a pistol and told to keep quiet, his father said.

After the automobile headed towards Dallas a stop was made while two or three other men were taken in, young Cerf not being sure of the number.

Telephone Call Mr. Cerf said he received a telephone call about 12:30 a. m. and was told to look for a note on the front porch. He said he found the note which contained a demand for $15,000 ransom, but he refused to divulge other contents.

Next afternoon, accompanied by N. Suttle Roberts, a business associate, Mr. Cerf started to Dallas in an automobile and was met by

HOME TOWN TALK

BY BEDDY

Good roads have been cursed and discussed in our county for many weeks now. A lot of good men have allowed themselves to be swerved from open-minded consideration of the proposed road improvement program by little prejudices, or jealousies. A lot of those who voted against the recent bond issue at heart are for good roads.

This "city-county" business is a lot of rot. Come to think of it every town in a country anything like dependent upon agriculture, would be out of luck without the farmers. On the other hand the farmers would be out of luck without the town folks.

Never could see why the fact that a man lived in a place known as an incorporated town was any different, by nature than one living outside city limits. Like we told some Big Spring fellows not long ago the fact a fellow lives in town or country doesn't make his skin whiter, his heart bigger or smaller, his soul worth less.

The people of Howard county are members in the same civil, social and educational unit. Not to speak of the same economic unit, in many respects. It is, therefore, the height of folly for anybody to get it in his head he can get along without a large portion of the other people of the county.

The writer was born on about the blackest black land farm in Texas. But he was carried away without being asked his permission. Glad in a long dress when it happened. He knows nothing personally about farming. But he has the idea that farmers are as necessary in our present-day scheme of things as anybody else.

The fellow who says this newspaper is "agin" the farmer is speaking from ignorance or prejudice or just because he naturally doesn't have much respect for the truth, or has been misled.

The paper and individual farmers may disagree sometimes as to what is or would be of benefit to farmers but this newspaper has not and will not do anything maliciously or intentionally to harm any farmer.

Fact is of all the people we would like to see prosper it is our

12 Perish In Earthquake

Southern Mexico Rocked; Capital Appears Shelled

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 15 (AP)—Wireless reports to the department of communications today said twelve persons had perished at Oaxaca in an earthquake which rocked Southern Mexico last night.

The city itself looked as though it had been shelled for hours and telegraphic communication was impossible.

Because the wires were down it was impossible to confirm reports from the stricken area, but it was feared the death toll would be considerably higher than the first estimate. The epicenter of the quake was believed to be a few miles northeast of Oaxaca and it was feared that considerable destruction had been wrought in the vicinity.

Mexico City was shaken for four minutes last evening and one person was killed and twenty five injured. Walls and houses were shaken down and the damage was widespread.

Word from Oaxaca said the city was a panic-stricken and that many of the inhabitants whose homes had been left standing feared to go back inside lest another tremor bring the walls tumbling down about them.

Direct advices wireless this afternoon to President Ortiz Rubio by General Evaristo Perez, military commander in the state of Oaxaca, said 25 persons had been killed or injured in the quake there.

A.F.L. Favors Modification

Green Verifies Approval of Plans For Fight

MIAMI, Jan. 15 (AP)—President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, today confirmed reports that the executive council of the body had approved campaign plans for modification of the prohibition by the "labor's legislative committee for the modification of the Volstead Act."

Ira N. Ornburn, president of the Cigar Makers International Union, explained the plans.

Approval of the campaign was given by the council of the American Federation of Labor in executive session here yesterday. Headquarters will be established in Washington under General direction of Mathew Wolf, a vice-president of the Federation. With Mr. Ornburn in charge of the office, final details will be worked out at a conference in Washington February 23 to 24.

Mr. Ornburn said the modification committee program would "bring back real, true, honest temperance."

The campaign, he added, would be conducted through the 48 state federations of labor, the 738 local central labor unions and the 32,000 local unions in the country, using the journal of the various international unions. The labor press, he said, has a paid circulation of 300,000.

Organizations friendly to the movement will be invited to join in, Mr. Ornburn added.

"The committee will not seek funds to carry on the 'drive,'" he explained. "The workers will be paid from the international unions and no funds will be solicited."

Mr. Ornburn said modification of the Volstead Act would effect many workers in all unions. He cited figures showing that in 1918, 133,055 freight cars were used in the transportation of coal and farm products alone for the consumption of breweries, then in operation.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said he had no comment to make.

Pro Charges Filed On Dallas Man

Charges of possession of intoxicating liquor for purposes of sale were filed in Justice of the Peace Cecil C. Collins' court today against H. H. Hoffman, Dallas, who was arrested by Chief of Police E. A. Long.

Ch. J. Long turned the man over to county authorities and signed the complaint against him.

He waived examining trial and his bond was set at $1,000 by Collins. Hoffman is alleged to be the owner of a small auto in which approximately 35 pints of whiskey and 20 quarts of gin, he is charged labels found.

Gallery Cheers Speaker's Tax Reform and Road Positions

CUSTOM DISCARDED

Control of Monopolies and Trusts Urged In Address

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—Departing from custom, Governor Dan Moody today read his farewell message to the Texas legislature at a joint session of the house and senate.

The governor did not attempt to give a detailed account of the operation of Texas under his administration but turned to a scientific treatise of the principles of government in which he flayed the national republican administration and urged a return of democracy to power.

A crowded gallery listened attentively as the governor read his message. He was applauded several times, his remarks concerning tax reform to relieve the burden of taxation on property and his recommendation that highway construction costs be paid by the traffic receiving favor.

The governor urged adoption of the short ballot; elimination of the national republican administration as incompetent; restoration of the democratic party and its principles as the only means of increasing the prosperity of the average citizen and strict control of trusts and monopolies.

A resolution authorizing the house to proceed as long as necessary under the rules of the first legislature was adopted after debate. It had been proposed by Representative Walter Beck of Fort Worth that use of the old rules be restricted to three days but an amendment was voted striking this provision out.

The house and senate adjourned immediately after hearing the governor's message and will hold a joint session later in the day to canvass election returns for governor and lieutenant governor.

Meanwhile, committees of both house, senate and were entangled in deliberation of rules for operation under the 120 day session amendment.

Second Semester Of High School To Begin Monday

The second semester of the 1930-31 session of Big Spring high school will open Monday evening. Teachers and pupils were busy Thursday giving and taking final tests of the first semester.

All high school students will assemble in the auditorium at 9 a. m. Monday and will there be given directions governing registration for the new semester. They are all told by Principal George Gentry to come prepared to spend the entire day at school as usual. The afternoon will be divided into shortened periods to allow the living of assignments for first lessons of the semester.

Pupils in grade schools will report to rooms where they have been enrolled the past semester and any changes necessary will be made after they report.

The three new ward school buildings are not quite ready for occupancy.

Seven New Members Enrolled For C. of C.

After making a brief series of solicitations in the business district Thursday morning Mrs. Alice Phillips, assistant to the manager of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed the belief that "this budget really doesn't need to be lowered."

She succeeded in obtaining seven new C. of C. members. They are Mrs. Lucille Allgood, Loy Acuff, George Wilke, O. Dubberly, A. M. Stephens, D. H. Reed and M. E. Whiteside.

She reported a survey shows that of service club members but two Rotarians, seven Lions and eight Kiwanians do not hold memberships in the organization.

Dr. Dillard Chosen For Boy Scout Leader

LITTLE SCHOOLHOUSE AT MARYVILLE, MO., BECOMES THE PYRE OF SLAYER OF VELMA COLTER, SCHOOL TEACHER.

Chained to the ridgepole of the little white schoolhouse in which, the battered and violated body of Velma Colter, 18-year-old teacher was found, Raymond Gunn, who confessed complicity in her murder, burned to death near Maryville, Mo., Monday. A mob, which grew to 3000 persons, wrested him from Sheriff Harve England of Nodaway county when he was being taken to the courthouse for arraignment, led and dragged him three miles to the school, then turned both school and victim into a blazing torch of vengeance. An investigation into the behavior of the sheriff's force and a national guard unit mobilized to protect the prisoner, which offered no resistance, may be ordered by Governor Gairfield of Missouri. The school is shown in flames.

Kiwanis Club Addressed By S. A. Official

Captain Scott Tells History Local Work of Organizations

International and national history of the Salvation Army and some enlightening things about its practices and efforts in Big Spring were given members of the Kiwanis club in their weekly meeting Thursday noon at the Crawford Hotel by Captain F. C. Scott, who is in charge here.

The captain also played two saxophone solos, an old favorite, the other a new popular selection, that created much applause.

Miss Roberta Gay played piano accompaniments. Other guests were Mrs. Scott, Dr. Schwartz of the Lubbock club and a representative of the Buick Motor company, guest of James Webb.

Dr. J. R. Barcus, permanent program chairman, introduced Captain Scott and led the club in several songs.

Next week's program will be in charge of A. C. Walker. The following week annual ladies' night will be observed with a banquet.

Captain Scott spoke, in part, as follows: "The Salvation Army was founded in East London, England, in 1865 by William Booth, for the purpose of teaching masses of people that were unchurched and bringing them to a state of salvation. The army plan of organization was adopted long ago and has prevented internal strife for when a command is issued it is obeyed without argument."

"The Salvation Army now does preaching and relief work in 54 nations and colonies, using 88,000 more missionaries than any other religious organization in the world."

"The corps here is under jurisdiction of divisional offices in Dallas, which is a part of the southern territory with headquarters in Atlanta. We have been here 15 months. Besides a large amount of relief work we have done a great deal of religious work. We have

Clara Sobs And Shouts As Witness

She Says 'Best Friend' Tried To Extort $125,000

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Clara Bow, the target of recriminations, clung today to her role as a prosecution witness in the trial of her former secretary, D. I. de Boe, on charges of grand theft.

Alternately sobbing and stamping a foot while testifying, the red-headed actress yesterday sought to show Miss de Boe stole $16,000 of her money and attempted to obtain $125,000 from her in an extortion scheme.

The flapper heroine of motion pictures seemed on the verge of hysteria under searching questioning of Miss de Boe's counsel, Nathan Freedman.

"She was my best friend," sobbed the actress after an indignant outburst. "She was my best friend in the world. I'm sorry to be crying, but I can't help it." Then she daubed at her nose with a powder puff.

Miss Bow had been recalled to the stand to testify concerning an alleged attempt by Miss de Boe to obtain $125,000 from her under pain of having letters or telegrams from the film flapper's boy friends released to newspapers.

Hurley Says No Stand Yet Decided

Wirt Franklin Attacks Recent Statement By Secy. Wilbur

SOLONS PROMISE AID

Sheppard and Garner Indicate They Favor Crude Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Secretary of War Hurley told the conference of independent oil operators and producers meeting here today the administration "has taken no position for or against a tariff on oil."

Referring to a recent statement by Secretary Wilbur that such a tariff was unnecessary, Hurley emphasized the federal oil conservation board had taken no stand either way. Both Hurley and Wilbur are members of the board.

The producers met to forward their campaign for such a tariff. Hurley said the tariff commission is studying oil schedules. "The primary question to be considered," he said, "is whether the oil industry has reached the stage and congress can be convinced that it is vital to the welfare of the oil producing states to put a tariff on oil."

Wilbur Attacked Hurley's statement was made following an attack upon Wilbur's tariff statement by Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma City, chairman of the meeting and president of the Independent Petroleum Association.

He said "the present crisis in the oil industry has been brought about by a marked decrease in consumption and a tremendous increase in production."

Senator Sheppard, democrat, of Texas, promised the conference to help efforts to obtain an oil tariff. Representative Garner, of that state, said he was inclined to favor the proposal.

The latter said a bill to provide such a levy should be introduced at once to be followed by hearings before the house ways and means committee.

"If you convince me you ought to have it, I will vote for it," Garner said, "if you make as good a case as you did last year I will vote for a tariff."

In the absence of Governor Hollaway of Oklahoma, Franklin was elected chairman. Russell Brown of Tulsa, was elected secretary.

Meanwhile, President Hoover was urged to assist in providing a market for the output of Kansas strip wells by Senator Capper, of that state. He called at the White House.

Writ Of Mandamus Sought To Compel Opening of Grade Crossing On Goliad Street

City Commission And Texas and Pacific Are Defendants

The Goliad Street grade crossing was back in district court today, with a writ of mandamus filed by the Farmers Gin and Supply Co., and a number of other residents of the north side, against Mayor J. B. Pickle, members of the city commission, and the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. The commission consists of C. E. Talbot, L. L. Bug, W. A. Gilmore and H. Hinman. It is alleged in the petition that the city and the Texas & Pacific Railway company entered into an agreement, whereby the city donated the Goliad street crossing to the railway company. It is alleged that an election is necessary before the crossing can be legally closed.

The plaintiffs ask that the city of Big Spring be compelled to repair the crossing and reopen it to traffic. It was closed Thanksgiving Day when the Benton street viaduct was opened. An injunction suit restraining the railroad from closing the street was filed. The plaintiffs wish that farmers living south of the Texas & Pacific right of way, bringing cotton to town "are unable to pull their loads over either of the viaducts."

According to the petition, the crossing has been there for 48 years, and at the present is the only one within ten miles east of Big Spring. Citations were served on the city commissioners at the regular meeting of the body Wednesday night.

Furore Over Act Shock to Magistrate

Fellow Club Men Visit George Parks In Bastille ASSISTANCE OFFERED

Court Himself Visits His Friend, Whom He Sent To Prison

SWEETWATER, Tex., Jan. 15.—Efforts will be instituted immediately to procure release of George Parks, young Sweetwater reporter who went to jail yesterday on a three-day sentence for contempt of court, Millard Cope, editor of the Sweetwater Reporter, announced this afternoon.

Cope said he had employed counsel in behalf of his reporter, and would institute habeas corpus proceedings, probably in the court of Judge Fritz R. Smith, who sent Parks to jail for publishing information on an indictment prior to the arrest of the defendant.

Cope said he had received offers of assistance from newspapers, including the Scripps-Kellogg group which had offered to send him an attorney from Fort Worth on the ground that the court had exceeded its constitutional authority.

Coily removed from the furore aroused over his commitment, Parks is enjoying his experience, forcibly reminding that he is no ordinary prisoner. He said today he was being showered with attention "from the outside." His editor, Millard Cope, in person is taking him three square meals a day. The Sweetwater Lions club, of which Parks is a member, went to the jail en masse today to pay its respects and to fine Parks 25 cents for missing attendance. A portable typewriter, writing material, was sent to him late yesterday, and today he was covering his courthouse run by telephone and between times entertaining callers.

Parks said that the order had been issued because the reporter had violated the request of the court in giving premature "publication" to proceedings of the grand jury of Nolan county.

Smith himself was on Parks' calling list late yesterday. They had a pleasant chat and shook hands after parting. Parks and the court are old friends.

Musical Duet Featured For Presbyterians

Mrs. W. C. Barnett, Leader of Devotional Service of Auxiliary

The Presbyterian Auxiliary met yesterday at the church for the monthly program on foreign missions.

The meeting was opened with a devotional service led by Mrs. W. C. Barnett.

A piano duet, "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, was played by Mrs. R. L. Owen and Mrs. Omar Pitman.

Mrs. Emory Duff was program leader of the day.

Mrs. R. T. Piner gave a talk on educational work in the foreign field.

Mrs. L. S. McDowell told of the medical work.

Mrs. Ellen Gould spoke on the evangelistic work.

Those present were Mesdames: W. R. Settles, J. E. Littler, J. O. Tamsitt, Sam Baker, R. C. Strain, B. F. Wills, Ellen Gould, L. S. McDowell, R. T. Piner, Emory Duff, R. L. Owen, Omar Pitman, and W. C. Barnett.

Dallas Man, With Much 'Fine' Liquor Arrested By City Officers; List of Prominent Local Men's Names Taken

A Dallas man is being held in the county jail, a cargo of bonded liquor and gin is stored in the locked closet of the city hall, and a list of names and addresses of prominent Big Spring men, found in possession of the man is held by Chief of Police E. A. Long, following an arrest Monday afternoon.

The man was arrested by Chief Long, as he was sitting in his car, a Ford coupe, on Scurry Street. The liquor is said to have been found in the rear of the automobile.

Between 40 and 45 pairs of "Glenmore Bourbon sour mash" whiskey, and a quantity of gin in quart bottles were seized by Chief Long. The man gave his home address as Dallas.

He was being held in the county jail today pending disposition of charges. Chief Long announced he would either turn the man over to Federal authorities or handle the case in the corporation court.

Jess Slaughter, sheriff, indicated before noon he would file a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor against the man in Justice of the Peace Cecil C. Collins' court.

The man had $150 in cash on his person when arrested.

He did not state whether the list in his possession were customers or prospective customers of his.

Ordinance Passed By City To Govern 'Swelling' Of Cream In Milk; Sholte Named To B. C. D.

Newly Named City Commissioner

The city commission, after disposing of a volume of routine matters pertaining to the city Tuesday night will hold another meeting Thursday night to act on city paving petitions. The meeting will be held after the newly organized Board of City Development has transacted business.

At the Tuesday night meeting the commission, with C. E. Talbot acting as mayor in the absence of J. B. Pickle, passed two ordinances and discussed others.

One of the ordinances prohibits "swelling" of cream on milk by local creameries or dairies. Jimmy Williams, city sanitary inspector, displayed two samples of milk to the commission. One of them was raw milk, and showed 5.1 butterfat; the other was pasteurized milk, and showed 4.3 butterfat. He pointed out that although it appeared more cream was in the bottle containing the pasteurized milk, really the raw milk contained more butterfat.

The ordinance was passed as an emergency, and a fine attached for violation.

The other ordinance adopted by the commission prohibits burning of loose trash in the city limits. Smitham presented figures to show the city had netted $7457 on work done by local labor when sewer and water lines were dug. According to the figures, Midland's unit price, based on a contractor's bid, was $78,939, while the same amount of work here cost $7,142.

How To Get Hens To Lay 9 Eggs A Month; Plans For Next Council

Dear Club Women and Girls: Now that egg production is increasing, and you are thinking more and more about the care you are giving your chickens. Most club women with whom I have discussed the matter this month are starting the year off with a daily egg record. That is the only way you are to know what your hens are averaging in egg production.

Nine Eggs Per Hen
The standard egg production for this month is nine eggs per hen. What average are you getting? Last year the hens in flocks over the state where poultry calendars were kept averaged nine eggs. However, Mrs. E. L. Parish, of the Center Point community averaged over 15 eggs per hen on her flock of 375 white Leghorns.

She gives the following reasons for her success: (1) Feeding laying mash, supplemented with whole grain once a day. (2) Three gallons of milk daily. (3) An abundance of warm water throughout the day during the cold weather.

How She Did It

Very early each morning they started heating water, and kept it out for the hens all day. When we realize that 66 2/3 percent of the weight of the egg is water, we are convinced that a hen must have an abundance of water if she is going to be a producer.

How to Grow Green Feed
Below are suggestions for poultry keeping in January. This information appears on the poultry calendars sent out by A. and M. College:

Much loss from poor circulation, colds, roup, and worms may be avoided by furnishing adequate amounts of green feed to the flock at all times. Green feed furnishes vitamins and contributes otherwise towards keeping the flock in the best of condition. Growing green feed such as illustrated is best. Weather conditions may not always permit growing green feed and in this case, sprouted oats is one of the best substitutes. With the use of an oat sprouter as shown, a supply can easily be kept on hand. One square inch should be sown each bird per day and the sprouter should be built with this capacity in mind. A good grade of alfalfa meal added to the mash at the rate of 5 lbs. per 100 will also substitute satisfactorily.

A more expensive substitute is tested cod liver oil. This may be mixed with the mash feed or grain at the rate of 2 lbs. per 100 lbs. of feed.

A double yard system is about the only satisfactory way of insuring a constant supply of green feed. Double yards enable the planting and growing in one yard, while the flock is ranging in the other. This constant changing

Free Information

Long winter evenings are ideal for studying your poultry library. Bulletins on any phase of poultry production are available free of charge from your county agent, the Extension Service, at College Station, or from the United States Department of Agriculture, at Washington.

Owing to the rain of last Saturday, there was no business meeting of the women's council. There were only five members present. Perhaps by our next meeting date the weather will be better.

New Officers

The council had its annual meeting Saturday, December 13th, with all clubs represented. The following new officers were elected: Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, Luther, chairman; Mrs. Arthur Stallings, Lohman, secretary; Mrs. Chess Anderson, Elbow, treasurer.

At your next meeting, please select your wardrobe and pantry demonstrators, one of each to the club. Make a copy of your roll as it is at present, with the names of your demonstrators. Be sure to include initials and addresses of all the women on roll.

Yours sincerely,

Move To Hold Bond Election Started Here

Cosahoma Citizens Favor Bonds If Road Remains Where It Is

Petitions asking the county commissioners court to call another $500,000 road bond issue were being circulated today, following the meeting of the Big Spring Lunch Club.

The petitions were given out by Dr. C. K. Bivings, after the club had voted approval. One of the petitions was circulated among and signed by members of the organization and visitors.

They will be returned to M. H. Morrison by Saturday morning and presented to the commissioners Saturday. The petition is identical to one circulated before the first election, in which the bond issue was defeated by a narrow margin.

The Rev. John Thorns, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Cosahoma on behalf of a Cosahoma delegation presented at the luncheon, presented a petition bearing the signatures of residents of the town "approving the bond issue if the highway remains where it is." Another petition, bearing a smaller number of names, also approved the bond issue.

The Rev. Mr. Thorns declared the bond issue is a Howard county question, and not a Big Spring nor any other single community's proposition. He urged that county residents work in union in the campaign.

Cosahoma's Viewpoint
He declared he had found a majority of Cosahoma voters favored the bond issue, providing the highway remains where it is, with a sharp ninety degree turn being removed if it is necessary. He declared, "Big Spring should do everything to help us in this campaign to keep the highway where it is." He pointed out that a number of residents had invested their money in property along the present highway, and in his opinion, it would not be fair to change the routing.

Regarding the other election, held Dec. 23, the Rev. Mr. Thorns declared the "trouble was those that were for it didn't vote, and those that were against it did." He predicted a substantial majority would be given the bond issue in the next election.

He criticized an editorial appearing in the Herald following the defeat of the bond issue, and dealing with the adverse vote cast in Cosahoma and precinct No. 4, "Needs Eyes Opened."

"Sometimes I think," he declared, "that it is the man that is publishing a newspaper that needs his eyes open."

He declared the editor of the Herald "did not know what he was talking about," and "failed to obtain the facts regarding the vote in Cosahoma."

He declared Cosahoma "is not trying to retard progress, as was indicated by the Herald editor, but is willing and wanting to go ahead. But we want to see where we are going."

Shine Phillips declared petitions regarding calling another election had been given to a committee to work on precinct No. 4, but that they had not been circulated. He declared a number of residents of that precinct who were against the bond issue before, are favoring it now.

He declared he was against cutting off that precinct and creating a separate road district to pass a $700,000 bond issue.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

NANNIE E. TURNER vs. E. E. TURNER IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF HOWARD COUNTY, TEXAS.

The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Howard County—Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Howard once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon E. E. Turner whose residence is unknown, who is alleged to be non-resident of the State of Texas, to be and appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Howard County to be held in the City of Big Spring, on the 1st Monday in February A. D. 1931, the same being the 2nd day of February A. D. 1931, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 29th day of December A. D. 1930, in a suit, numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 1932 wherein NANNIE E. TURNER is plaintiff and E. E. TURNER is defendant, of the nature of plaintiff's demanding substantially, as follows:

Plaintiff has been an active and indefatigable inhabitant of the State of Texas for a period of five months and has resided in said County, Texas where this suit is filed, for a period of one month preceding the filing of this petition, and is now a resident of Howard County, Texas; that Plaintiff and Defendant were legally married on the 16th day of May, 1927, and lived together as husband and wife until on or about June 1, 1929, when on account of the cruel and harsh conduct of Defendant she was forced to permanently abandon him, since which time they have not lived together. Plaintiff alleged that Defendant was cruel to ward her and that he talked disrespectfully to her of her parents, called her a liar in a public place in the presence of others. That on or about June 1, 1929, Defendant left with a woman of questionable character and with whom he frequently associated and upon such occasion angrily pushed and shoved the Plaintiff, that such conduct is cruel and harsh and insupportable. Plaintiff prays for a divorce and for the restoration of her maiden name.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said Court on the said first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

(SEAL)

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the City of Big Spring, Texas, this 29th day of December A. D. 1930.

WITNESS, J. I. PRICHARD, Clerk of District Court, and for Howard County, Texas.

farmers. They deserve it, just as do men who work in factories, or stores, or offices. Even from a selfish standpoint we should be for the farmers—when the agricultural population gets hard up the rest of the folks do too.

This farm relief business, as the government is attempting to practice it, is not so awfully hot, it appears. It might help a lot more if more people took advantage of it.

But one piece of government relief that we believe would bring some immediate and real benefit to cotton farmers of this section of Texas, would be enactment of a law and voting of an appropriation by the state legislature to repay farmers in the area out here that was included in the pink boll worm restricted district for losses they suffered because of those restrictions.

In seeking such an appropriation we would not be asking anything not due us. The restrictions, and attendant expenses, were invoked to protect all cotton farmers of the county. The farmers within the area raised 25 more or no less cotton than they would have without restrictions. The state, and perhaps the federal government, should vote cash to repay our farmers.

Incidentally whatever influence your newspaper, and the writer of this column, has—over though it may be slight—in going to be exerted during the 42nd Legislature, which opens Tuesday, to help get this appropriation.

Semi-Annual Tax Payment To Be Sought

Sterling Favors Measure Proposed By Wichita Falls Senator

MOODY TO SUBMIT

Bill Would Affect This Month's Bills If Plan Adopted

Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—In keeping with the plan approved at Houston Monday by Gov.-Elect Ross S. Sterling, Senator Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls announced here Tuesday that Gov. Dan Moody has agreed to submit Wednesday for emergency action Mr. O'Neal's bill to divide state taxes into semi-annual payments this year and next. Sen. O'Neal said he will offer the bill and seek to have it enacted before Jan. 31 to make it effective this year. His bill will permit paying one-half before January 31, and one-half before June 30, with customary penalties applying on the amount after those dates and next. The 10 per cent penalty on all taxes accruing after January 31.

C-C Banquet Date Set For February 5

Program Arrangements Being Started By Committee

Annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the main dining hall, Settles Hotel, the evening of Thursday, February 5, a special program committee decided in a meeting Monday afternoon. The committee decided to plan a 2-hour program including time used for the meal. Invitations is being extended a noted Texan to come here as the principal speaker. Plans are going forward already to "frame" some surprise stunts for the evening. Invitations will be sent representative citizens of neighboring towns.

Mrs. A. Ramsey Elected Head Of B. S. Study Club

The Big Spring Study Club met in regular session yesterday at the Settles Hotel. The program was a study of the cowboy. The election of officers for the coming fiscal year, which begins next September, was the most important business on hand. Mrs. Ada Ramsey was elected president. Mrs. Felton Smith was elected vice-president. Mrs. J. E. Debridge was elected treasurer. Mrs. J. P. Dodge was elected parliamentary. The roll call was devoted to sketches from cowboy life. "Preservers of Our Cowboy: John A. Lomax, Lawrence Chittenden, Oscar J. Fox, David Pilon," was given by Mrs. J. P. Dodge and a reading, "Alaska," an early life in Big Spring on a ranch was related by Mrs. L. S. McDowell. Cowboy songs were sung by Mrs. F. J. Higgins. The following members were present: Mesdames Louis Bibes, J. P. Dodge, L. E. Eddy, T. J. Higgins, J. E. Kuykendall, J. C. Lane, L. S. McDowell, Ada Ramsey, and Felton Smith. Mrs. Lola Stricklin of Dallas, was a visitor.

Crowds Increase At Revival Here

The Methodist revival meeting, still in progress in the Nazarene basement on the east side, is drawing increasingly large congregations, according to the pastor, Rev. W. M. Whaley. Members of the Epworth league of the First Methodist church attended Tuesday evening's services and selections by a quartet from their ranks were much appreciated said Rev. Whaley. Rev. Hickley of Garden City, who is assisting with the meeting, brought a message on "playing the Game of Life Fairly." Tonight he will speak on "The Modern Boy." The Hartman band will render special music Thursday evening. The Methodist people of Big Spring and surrounding communities as well as members of other denominations are invited to join in the services each evening.

Mission Pastor Given 'Pounding' Tuesday Night

Tuesday evening while Rev. W. M. Whaley, mission pastor of the Methodist Church, was in the revival services at the Nazarene basement the Rev. W. G. Bailey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, slipped in on the Whaley household with a fine "pounding." When the pastor returned to his home, 1501 East 13th Street, he found the dining table heavily laden with good things to eat. He thanked those who had a part in the "pounding."

Will Rogers, Just a Cowboy In Nice Duds, Talks of Alfalfa Bill Murray, And Clara Bow in Brief Visit Here

Plain old Will Rogers, worth much more, known by most every man, woman and child in the country, is a very busy man. But he will have an awfully big heart. If he were not full of human kindness his journey from home in Hollywood across the western states to Fort Worth—by airplane—would not have been made Monday. He took the trip on his own initiative after wiring Texas men he wanted to make a series of public appearances to help raise a fund for relief of unemployed and needy in the more heavily stricken sections of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. His journey to Fort Worth to make final arrangements for his whirlwind campaign of mercy brought him to the Big Spring airport for 20 minutes late Monday. Due to misunderstanding between the S. A. F. E. radio operator at the field, and a newspaper reporter, about 1,000 local people reached the field too late to see Will.

He's just a big, country cowboy. He is, and he isn't. When Mrs. J. R. Roberts, 118 Lincoln, wishing to meet the visitor became tired of standing before him.

SPEECHES PLANNED

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 13 (AP)—Will Rogers' tour of Texas in the interest of relieving immediate needs caused by unemployment will begin January 28 and eight cities have tentatively been selected on the itinerary of the celebrated cowboy humorist. They are Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, San Angelo, Amarillo and Waco. The places were chosen by Rogers himself, who insists upon paying his own expenses of the tour and will require that all proceeds from his appearances go to relief of the needy. The famous humorist's talks will be sponsored in each state by the Federated Women's clubs with various social welfare agencies, including the American Red Cross and community chest organizations cooperating.

Rogers made clear that he wants all of the proceeds of his appearances to go to the fund for relieving families in rural sections made destitute by crop failures and the needy unemployed of the cities.

Behind the chain barrier stretched to keep the crowd away from the big tri-motor Fokker, she stepped over it. Mrs. W. A. Earnest and Mrs. Adam Talley followed her.

"Why don't you introduce us to this man?" asked Mrs. Roberts. A newspaper man introduced Will to the ladies. Will was plainly embarrassed. Like a cowboy just in from a long "work" on the range thrust suddenly into a drawing room full of richly dressed women.

Perceiving the embarrassment of Mr. Rogers, Mrs. Roberts, smilingly reminded him that she didn't figure he'd be embarrassed around women, since his recent little act with Clara Bow, when the latter lost some cash in a border banquet, etc., place. "Yeah," said Rogers. "They told me in El Paso this morning gambling had started up again in Juarez. I told 'em I reckoned I'd better bring Clara down."

Reminded that Alfalfa Bill Murray had been inaugurated governor of his native Oklahoma earlier in the day Will volunteered desire to have been on the scene. "Papa served on the Oklahoma constitutional convention with Mr. Murray and seemed to like him pretty well. Papa was the oldest man in the convention," he said.

Informed of Mr. Murray's inaugural address, especially his state mental pardons could not be bought Will, without a sneer and half in fun said, "they all start good."

Mr. Rogers said he left home in Hollywood early Monday, would meet a committee in Fort Worth Tuesday morning to plan his speaking tour and then would fly on to New York and Washington, there to "tell Hoover how to run the country."

"I'll tell him. Yeah, I'll tell him. He'll have to take or leave my advice," he said, grinning sheepishly. "Wish you had time to drive in to town," said Dr. E. O. Ellington, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who was among the first to greet Rogers. "Where is it?" he said, looking eastward in the direction of the business district, hidden under the hills. "What you got, wheat?" he asked. "No. Cotton mainly," he was told.

"What? Cotton? In this cold country?" he asked. Yes, he knew there was an oil field near here. He didn't recall any old friends living in Big Spring but knew some of the Midland and San Angelo men in the old ranching days. "I'll take a look at your town," said Will as he climbed back into the ship. At Abilene he stopped six minutes, changing from the regular mail plane which flies directly to Dallas before doubling back to Fort Worth. He got in a special plane sent out from Fort Worth for him.

GRAND PRAIRIE — Baptist Church asking bids on new addition. B. P. Lauritzen of Hartington, Neb., attended his first bridge party when he was 81. He won first prize.

Don't Throw Away Empty Glass Jars; Call Mrs. Allgood

A use has been discovered for empty peanut-butter jars, pickle jars, jam and jelly jars—in fact all sizes of glass jars bigger than the dime pimento containers. Mrs. Louelle Allgood made the discovery. Last summer she heard of women in Howard County, who were financially unable to buy jars in which to put up their vegetables and fruit that they had grown. She began hunting jars for them to use. Their neighbors helped her out, denying themselves; so did a few town women who heard about it. This is the season when women who do little, canning are buying most heavily of food products put up in jars. If they will save all empty glass jars and call Mrs. Louelle Allgood (telephone 1139) she will send after it and see that it gets into appreciative hands. This word of caution. It is not enough just to call. The spirit of kindness which will prompt women to save glass jars must go far enough to enable them to cooperate with Mrs. Allgood in picking them up. Don't expect her to come at once. She will send for the jars whenever she finds the family who can pick them up. It is impossible for her to collect all the town's glassware; but the county women who need it will be glad to send their children for it, when they can. Save unneeded jars! Call Mrs. Allgood! Wash them and easily picked up on short notice.

Members Of Cotton Co-Op Gather Here

The first resolution offered in the House was defeated without record vote. It was to clear the floor until the speaker was elected. In opening the House, Mrs. McCallum urged members to place service above self and said tragic need existed for constructive legislation, for proper representation of the citizenry and for defending the integrity of traditions and institutions of the state. Addressing the House, Speaker Minor said he "craved the cooperation" of all members to the end the session might be successful. He pointed out the legislature was convening under circumstances which offered a great opportunity for signal service and urged that personalities be set aside and efforts devoted to measures that would increase the social and economic status of Texans. Carl Hardin of Stephenville was elected president pro tempore of the senate without opposition. Both Houses adjourned within an hour and a half.

Field Man Heard On Plan Followed By Organization

A small crowd of members of the local branch of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association heard S. A. Debnam, field man for the organization, speak Monday afternoon in the district courtroom regarding work of the organization. Debnam discussed different angles of the business of the cotton organization, and answered questions of members regarding different phases of the work. Debnam offered services of field men to the farmers "at any time you want us." He declared the organization was "neither sponsoring nor condemning" a movement to make cotton acreage compulsory. He declared the reduction will not be as great as hoped for. He declared a good grade of cotton for this section is middling 15-16th, and urged farmers to use good seed. He suggested that a 10 acre block be devoted to good seed production. Debnam declared the estimated carryover will be six million bales. "An insidious campaign is already being carried on to undermine confidence in the farm board and the cooperatives," Debnam declared. "A tremendous fight will be waged at the next session of congress to repeal or modify the Agricultural Marketing Act in a manner which will prevent successful operation of the farm board and the cooperatives. "We cannot avoid the consequences of over-production, but we can save ourselves from receiving the full consequences at one blow. That is what the cooperatives and the Farm Board did, by holding three million bales of cotton off the market. World-wide depression has caused cotton miles to use three million bales less this season than they did last season. The supply on hand is three million bales more."

Kansas City Life Agents To Dallas

L. Coffee, district manager of the Kansas City Life Insurance company, with Mark Henderson, district manager at Odessa and Brick Eldson, local agent at Stanton, under Mr. Coffee will leave here Thursday morning by automobile for Dallas to attend the annual Kansas City Life conference. Sessions will be held at the Agency's Home office building which was acquired in 1929 by O. San Cummings, head of the company's local western activities. Friday morning Miss Julia Boyce, local agent at Coahoma will go by train to the Dallas meeting. Mr. Coffee and Mr. Henderson must be there Friday morning to attend a district managers' meeting preceding the general session scheduled for Saturday. The majority of the Texas field force, which comprises almost 800 salesmen, will be in attendance.

Fred Minor Not Opposed For Speaker

First Resolution Defeated In House Without Record Vote

WOMAN PRESIDES

Bob Barker Again Made Secretary of Upper House

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 13 (AP)—The forty-second legislature convened at noon today for a 120-day session. Mrs. Jana Y. McCallum, secretary of state, presided over the House and Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller rapped for order in the senate. All 31 members of the senate were present and the chief clerk of the House reported after the roll call that the entire membership of that body of 150 was on hand. Representative Fred Minor of Denton was elected speaker of the House without opposition. He became one of the three or four that have been elected to that post unanimously in the memory of those now around the capitol. Minor, 42, began his legislative service only four years ago. He served as president pro tempore during the last legislature while Speaker W. S. Barron of Bryan was ill. Among those who seconded Minor's nomination was Mrs. Sara T. Hughes of Dallas, one of the five women members of the 42nd legislature. This legislature contains more women members than any previous one. Bob Barker of Fort Worth, veteran secretary of the senate, was re-elected. Other officers named included: John Depriest, assistant secretary; J. W. Holt, sergeant-at-arms; Joel Gunn, assistant sergeant-at-arms; M. H. Dryer, calendar clerk; Mrs. Lola P. Lawrence, postmistress; W. A. Collins, doorkeeper and Lee McDougal, custodian of records.

Defeated

The first resolution offered in the House was defeated without record vote. It was to clear the floor until the speaker was elected. In opening the House, Mrs. McCallum urged members to place service above self and said tragic need existed for constructive legislation, for proper representation of the citizenry and for defending the integrity of traditions and institutions of the state. Addressing the House, Speaker Minor said he "craved the cooperation" of all members to the end the session might be successful. He pointed out the legislature was convening under circumstances which offered a great opportunity for signal service and urged that personalities be set aside and efforts devoted to measures that would increase the social and economic status of Texans. Carl Hardin of Stephenville was elected president pro tempore of the senate without opposition. Both Houses adjourned within an hour and a half.

New Procedure Used In El Paso Swindles Merchants of Much

EL PASO, Jan. 14.—Merchants dealing in high-priced jewelry and wearing apparel were today warned by the police department against an uncommonly shrewd confidence game reported operating in West Texas. The racket is said to be attempted by a well-dressed, impressive man and an attractive woman who give the impression of being highly prosperous. Entering a jewelry store or other high class establishment, they ask to be shown diamonds or expensive goods. Finally a stone or garment is selected and the man nonchalantly presents a $1,900 bill in payment. Startled and a bit suspicious, the merchant thinks fast. It isn't often a customer tenders a bill of that size in payment for a few hundred dollars worth of goods. The merchants wonders whether the bill is good and decides to make sure. He slips the bill to an assistant and surreptitiously orders it taken to the bank for inspection. "Hurry," he whispers as he thinks of excuses for delay. The clerk returns to his customer and stalls for time. Small talk, obviously intended to cover up any delay, rouses considerable irritation in his customer. As the minutes fly, the customers demand an explanation, finally rising on their dignity and informing the clerk the deal is off. "We'll go where we can get service," they haughtily inform him. The assistant returns as the proprietor is trying to smooth things over. The bill, found to be genuine, the bank, is slipped to the clerk. But the customers demand their money back. The man stuffs the $1000 bill in his pocket and turns to stalk out of the store. "Wait," the merchant pleads as he makes a final effort to put the sale over. The customers pause, look at each other as if understood, and finally give in. "All smiles and considerably relieved of worry, the clerk wraps up the purchase, accepts the $1,000 bill handed him by the man and makes change. The clerk smiles with satisfaction as the customers walk out. Then the bad news. Later in the day, possibly next morning, the bank notifies the store that the $1,000 bill is counterfeit—not worth the paper used in its manufacture. Realizing the man switched the bad bill on him while arguing, the clerk futilely calls in the police. But the man and woman are gone. With several hundred dollars of the store's money and a diamond or a pair of jewelry traveling along some highway in a motor car or placidly riding a trail to some city where they will pull the same racket on another storekeeper. "Don't be fooled by this confidence racket," the police advise merchants. "Take a good look at all money and save yourself grief."

How Is Your Health?

Edited by Dr. Jago Goldston for the New York Academy of Medicine

TIME TO DISCOVER
In many cases of childhood disease, the child suffers more during the period following the acute condition than it does while it is ill. Because of this, pediatricians and physicians specializing in the treatment of children, have recently placed emphasis upon the value and importance of adequate convalescence.

They insist that every child who has been ill should be allowed time to recover before being put into the ordinary "run-of-things."

This idea is valid in all cases of illness, but particularly so in children, for the child has a double job of both living and growing.

During illness all energy is concentrated on the task of overcoming the disease. Growth suffers a setback, or at least is arrested.

To enable the child to catch up, its routine should be so modified as to place a minimum tax upon its strength. So important is this practice that in recent years convalescent homes have been developed as adjuncts to hospitals, and children who have undergone severe ordeals such as are represented by whooping cough and rheumatic fever are sent to the convalescent home to recuperate. While these are gross illustrations, the principle is equally valid in milder diseases.

Every home can be made into a convalescent home for the child recovering from an attack of illness. The convalescent child should be fed an appropriate diet. Its physical activities should be kept down to a minimum unless there are warrants to the contrary. It should be given every opportunity to be out in the fresh air. Above all, it should have an adequate amount of rest and sleep.

New Orleans 1815

THE battle of New Orleans, distinguished in history because it was fought after the treaty of Ghent had been signed, took place on the night of January 19, 1815. The treaty of peace was signed December 24, 1814, and the battle would never have been fought if the world had had modern communications systems.

The battle was of importance chiefly for two reasons: it gave Andrew Jackson the fame he needed to send him to the presidency, and it gave Europe a new conception of the American republic. The fact that 6,000 raw and untrained Americans licked an army of 12,000 that included the flower of the European armies which had conquered Napoleon quite literally made Europe sit up and take notice. The British loss was 2,800 men, including three generals who fell in the main assault against the cotton bales and earthworks, while the Americans lost eight killed and 13 wounded.

The war of 1812, like so many others, was an unnecessary and useless expenditure of life and money.

The anniversary of the battle of New Orleans slipped by unnoticed. Yet few English cities in which American soldiers participated have had a happier or more brilliant issue. From that day to this the world outside has had a healthy and sincere respect for American prowess on the field of battle.

HOLLYWOOD—Ninety-nine times out of a hundred it isn't dangerous for an actor to use a partner in his screen test. But in the case of Warren Hymer, in which case it is just too bad.

The elder Hymer, when the test was screened, was not considered "the type" for the need then at hand, but the executives with chuckles of delight signed Warren on contract.

IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN
Casting announcements are getting to be like weather reports, interesting but occasionally frustrated.

Jean Arthur was to have supported William Powell in "Cavalier of the Streets," but was switched to another picture and Carole Lombard was put in her place.

Then the problem of selecting a leading man for Ruth Chatterton in "Unfaithful" occupied weeks. First it was Paul Lukas, and there was talk of re-writing the part so that his foreign accent would not be incongruous.

Then it was decided that the character must remain English as written, and Clive Brook was cast. But Brook was switched to New York to play opposite Tallulah Bankhead in her first talkie, and John Loder, young English actor, was substituted. Loder is playing the part now.

INDOOR SPORTS
Picture people must like to play games which will permit them to "talk shop" all the while. For a time Hollywood was mad over contract bridge, but slowly the fever is waning and the old auction game is returning to favor with some of the stars.

It's obviously because the newer game required too much concentration, interfering with the running conversation about parts and stars and directors and studios and scripts.

A ROMANCE OF RADIO

BY HOWARD ROCKEY

SYNOPSIS: Vivienne Grey, youthful model, yields to temptation and wears an expensive but borrowed evening gown when she goes out for an evening with Dwight Channing, prominent New York artist. When a sudden downpour of rain spoils the dress, Channing promises to make everything right. Later, at his penthouse apartment, he tells Vivienne he is to paint the mural decorations for a great new motion picture theater, and asks her to model for him. At first hesitant, Vivienne finally agrees to do it. Meanwhile her older sister Alleen, an actress, is worried by two things—her growing affection for Jimmy Crane, theatrical press agent, which she must put aside until Vivienne's future is settled, and her fear that Vivienne's excursions into society with Channing will make her disinterested with her career as a model. Then Alleen's show is closed, leaving her jobless.

Chapter 5
A STUNT FOR BROADWAY
Jimmy was drawing caricatures on the table cloth.

He talked with Alleen in lowered tones although he might have shouted. No one could have overheard him against the noise of a radio that dinned in Alleen's ears. A blaring jazz orchestra was playing the season's latest dance hit while a tenor shouted the words through a megaphone in an unintelligible jumble.

"Can't you get them to turn that off?" The raucous notes made Alleen cringe and she put her hands over her ears.

"Have a heart for a fellow artist!" Jimmy excused the music. "Because you've lost your job, you're jealous."

Alleen smiled and Jimmy went on.

"Listen to this chunk of wisdom. I didn't want to spill it in front of the other girls. Klein's going to put on another show and I spoke to him this morning about giving you a part."

"Not really?" Alleen gasped. "Do you honestly think he would?"

"Sure. I'm the slickest black-mailer on Broadway. I whispered a few words in his ear and told him to come across."

"You didn't! Jim Crane, you know I wouldn't."

"Don't tune out. The program to which you are about to listen involves no scandal. It's pure, clean entertainment with a whole of a wallop. It is made possible through the courtesy of Mr. James Crane who is probably, and without doubt, the cleverest cooker-up of publicity along the Great White Way. The orchestra will now play for you—"

"You're a nut!"

"Can't help it. My brain's in a permanent wave. That's how I happened to evolve an idea that appeals to Klein. I told him flatly that my price for it is giving you a chance. Klein has nothing to lose by that and it gives you a break."

"Jimmy, you're a darling!"

"Don't. You make me nervous. I'm not used to such treatment. But to resume and continue. Klein's new show is entitled Sara's Christmas Stocking. The so-called book of this masterpiece concerns Sara's methods of getting her Yuletide stocking filled with lacy trifles, Princes, revenue, agent's and garment manufacturers contribute lavishly. But to the surprise of Sara, and of our audience, the most precious gift she receives is a poor but honest heart. Finale and curtain. Klein proposes to open in three weeks if he can."

"That means work!" Alleen spoke from experience.

"Also it means gravy for a girl like me in mind. But to get back

Captain Scott To Lead Kiwanis Club Program

Captain Scott, in charge here for the Salvation Army, will be in charge of Thursday's program of the Kiwanis club, in the Crawford dining hall.

But eight of the 61 club members were absent from last week's meeting. Absentees were W. G. Bailey, Calvin Boykin, R. F. Lyons, John Wolcott, Dr. J. R. Barcus, C. B. Fought, L. G. Talley, and Ray Wilcox.

Table assignments were contained in the weekly letter issued Wednesday through the mails to members. The club has changed the custom of being seated at luncheon along "banquet" tables and member gather in groups of six or eight around separate tables, one member being placed in charge of each table.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Dan Moody Steps Down

Dallas News:
DAN MOODY is the greatest governor Texas ever had, but if you run back over the list of governors he stands high. Consider them—Mrs. Ferguson, Neff, Hobby, Ferguson, Colquitt, Campbell, Lanham, Sayers—you go clear back to Culberson before you find one whose fame has not lessened with the years. Even the fame of Culberson, as we remember him now, is that of Attorney General at Austin, and of Senator at Washington. Jim Hogg's is the last big gubernatorial administration until we come down to Moody's. He's big is he?

Offhand, that can't be answered. But of two things, we can judge: Of courage and of honesty in the chair that Moody leaves, no man has shown more than he. Her lies his strength and his claim to return. Here also is his weakness and the explanation of failures.

In overthrowing Fergusonism and all its works Dan Moody was the lion of the people, utterly fearless and utterly splendid. Against graft and mismanagement of public funds, he has been a scourge, pitiless and incorruptible. In the public trust of appointive power he has been conscientious, fortunate in obtaining big men for big responsibilities—and blind to the trading power of patronage.

On the administrative side Governor Moody was admittedly a success. On the legislative side his service was in vetoes. Like Cleveland, he goes out of power with a few enactments to his credit. If he had made vetoes for votes and played the politician as Roosevelt did, or ridden passion and dirt in precincts as Jackson did, he might have some of with her in his bag of statutory reform.

As a matter of fact, the Legislature reached the nadir of its effectiveness within the last five or ten years, probably. An organization built on conditions of record-making days broke down under modern demands. The amendment which increases its pay and alters the conditions of its sessions, in line with the seriousness of these demands, came too late to save the Moody legislative program. But the very failure of that program made the necessity of the necessity of a better Legislature (the able to do its best).

That Dan Moody goes out of office a poor man financially is due to the fact that he deferred the building of his own fortune for a decade of service in underpaid posts. But it is the best evidence that not a penny of public money, not a billion, a. ebb and flow through the Treasury

Cut Glass Returns To Fashion Once More

Reproduction of old glass give the right note to modern tables.

By MARGERY TAYLOR
Interior Decoration Editor
McCall's Magazine. Written for The Herald.

It may not be Einstein's fault, but the latest trick of time is the bringing back of cut glass.

Nowadays, in order to be ahead of the style, we have to go up into the attic. So, time and place being relative anyway, we become futuristic by drinking out of "milk glass."

Since cut glass has left the company of the olive fork as a wedding present joke, the new reproductions of the old Waterford glass in those intricate geometrical designs, seem somehow right for our modern tables.

With Waterford goblets, the old glass candlesticks decorated with prisms, although it is true that they have never really left us.

The "nodball" type of pressed glass is also returning to tables which were not even dreamed of in the days when the famous Sandwich factories were producing it. It is particularly pleasant to see them again in the knob-studded rose bowls, water pitchers and straight vases.

Those who believe that originals are somehow sacred may perhaps not be content without one of the few pieces of the pressed lace tracery patterns of the old Sandwich factory, such as the trumpet or cornucopia. But those who judge values with their eyes more than with their purses will be perfectly happy with the modest-priced reproductions.

It would be difficult to find more delightful dessert dishes than the ribbon edged opal glass plates, of the same era as the pressed, set off with tinted lines.

SURVEY OF FRENCH NOVEL REVIEWED BY JIM SCHMIDLY FROM EUROPEAN VIEWPOINT

"THE FRENCH NOVEL"
By PIERRE MILLE
(J. B. Lippincott Co. Price $2.)
Mr. Schmidly found this book so interesting that he was quoting from it verbatim after his first reading.

Since he studied and spoke both French and German in his public school days—or maybe farther back than that—in Switzerland, we found his enthusiasm irresistible and also dependable.

In short, we considered ourselves and our readers fortunate to have on tap someone to review this book in whose background French literature has played as prominent a part as English literature has in our own.

The review follows:

Two Aims
This book, written by a well-known French author and translated by Elizabeth Abbott, has two aims.

One is to give the history of the novel of France.

The other is to criticize it.

Monsieur Mille believes that the subject matter of a good novel was, is, and always will be, "a man or a woman, or preferably a man and a woman, depicted as definite types more real than reality. Since man and woman form a society in which they move, the novel must either describe this society or create the conception of such a society."

In regard to the origin of the novel the reader is informed that the "Iliad" and the "Odyssey" so-called epics, were novels in subject matter.

Consequently the French epic "Chanson de Roland" and other "chanson de geste romans" were called romances from which the French word "roman" (meaning novel) was derived.

Love Enters Fiction
They dealt principally with adventure and rivalry but later the thing called love was recognized as more interesting and more important. Love had found its way into the hearts of all classes and acquired a greater importance as a social factor. In consequence the novel became "a love story."

The history of the French novel is the history of evolution of society and the history of the evolution of love.

First French Novel
The author considers the novel of "La Princesse de Cleves" as the first novel in French literature.

Even though this novel made a great impression and served as a guide for later novelists, the real novel which established itself as a dignified work of art and as a unity in itself in French literature, was Rousseau's novel "La Nouvelle Heloise."

Among the many novelists that followed Rousseau, were Hugo, Balzac, Chateaubriand, Stendhal, Flaubert, Maupassant, Zola, Daudet, Loti, Anatole France, Romain Rolland, Proust and many others.

Wherever artists or writers gave their work a new tendency or a certain individuality, it becomes known as an "ism." Thus we find such terms as Romanticism, Realism, Naturalism, Symbolism, Eroticism and Modernism, and their literary equivalents, pointed out to us.

M. Mille also mentions the influence of the English novelist Sir Walter Scott on the French novel.

The condensed critical history of the French novel, which this comparatively small book offers, will be a great asset to the student and teacher of French, and also to the student of comparative literature.

Today's Musical Program at 1st Baptist Church

The musical program for the Sunday services to be held today at the First Baptist Church will be as follows:

Charm Secrets Will Be Told To Women Over 20

"Don't wish you were twenty years old." This is one of the unusual bits of her philosophy of charm which Miss Nancy Earle will unfold in her series of five free talks in the Charm School which the Herald has arranged as a courtesy to its women readers.

The Charm School will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of Settles Hotel January 20-23.

"To those women who are accustomed to measure youth by the calendar and to feel a sense of loss with the passing of the years, this may sound surprising. Miss Earle has a number of ideas which are surprising. This is one of the things which makes her Charm School so charming.

"Most women do not know how delightful it can be to be thirty, or forty, or fifty years old," she says "and fewer of us, alas, know how very interesting and lovely a woman may be who has passed the first flush of the teeming twenties.

The clever woman never permits herself to grow old. "But," and here Miss Earle grows most emphatic, "she doesn't make the ludicrous mistake of trying to imitate the teens by using more rouge and trying to be coy. She knows that there is a youth of thirty and forty and even of eighty which, though it is quite as powerful as charm as the youth of twenty, it is subtly different. I am convinced that a woman has not begun to manifest the real possibilities of her charm until the years have brought their gifts of experience and wisdom and her personality has ripened in the sun of life.

"The woman of eternal youth never settles down into the middle-aged slump. The beautiful symmetry of her figure is never permitted to be swathed in blankets of fat, nor does it wither into dry angles of skin and bone. Her body is elastic. She moves with lithe grace. She is energetic because she follows the simple rules of hygienic living and is therefore perfectly healthy.

"She so carefully studies and so faithfully follows the scientific methods of caring for her complexion that the annual grim pilgrimages of Father Time leave no lines of dismay to mar the smoothness of her skin. The crow, with his menacing feet, perches in defeat upon the calendar—or decides to become a bluebird! Just the right kind of powder, and rouge, and just the right amount applied in just the right way, continues to enhance her facial loveliness. She continues on and on with just one single chin which the Creator thought was enough for her in the beginning."

"And this perennially young woman," continues Miss Earle, "never forgets that she is a distinct personality and she never ceases to be interested in the ways and means of expressing it. Her clothes are modish, and are of the color and designs which she knows are best suited to her type, even though in the more mature decades she may adapt the passing vogue to her own requirements. Her perfume—that most exquisite way in which we may make our individuality more alluringly distinctive—is still a delight. Her hair is well cared for, modestly coiffured. Her nails daintily manicured. Her total self meticulously groomed, and effectively adored in that manner which is expressive of her own individual type.

"Knowledge of poise and her little secrets of relaxation so turn the bumps and jolts of life that she never becomes that most unfortunate of all creatures, a nervous woman. She has garnered views on life, too, and its many vicissitudes which make for calm and happy stability.

"Whatever her years, therefore, she is lovely to look upon. And with the years has come this other and deeper charm; the blossoming of her inner self.

"And who," asks Miss Earle triumphantly, "would barter this inner glory for the dubious advantage of being 'just twenty'?" Especially when the gifts of youth—can be so indifferently preserved? And what woman wouldn't like to know just how? Put aside these dates Jan. 20-23 which promise so many galadays for every woman who attends the Herald Charm School in the Crystal Ballroom of Settles Hotel.

Gull in Hands Off Friend Fired Inadvertently

Boys Hunting Ducks In Center Point Community Witness Mishap

Accidentally shot in the back while hunting ducks, Marshall Woody Kerby, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kerby of the Center Point community, died at a local hospital five hours after being wounded.

No. 4 birdshot fired from a 12-gauge shotgun, said to have been held by Lewis Loftin, 15, close friend of the victim, struck the youth in the shoulder, the shot penetrating his lungs.

According to C. H. Massey, Kerby's brother-in-law, a party of eight were hunting ducks at a tank near Center Point about 8:15 p. m. Monday. Kerby and Loftin had gone to the tank when some ducks were seen there, with the others remaining in the field nearby.

Kerby was said to have been walking in front of Loftin, with a distance of about four or five steps between them. It was said that Loftin's thumb slipped as the two were approaching the tank, his finger pulling the trigger accidentally.

Kerby was rushed to the Big Spring hospital, reaching here at 9 o'clock. He succumbed to his wounds at 1:15 a. m. today. Morally, he was regarded as a good boy.

The two boys had been friends for seven years. They attended school together at Center Point, and had been closely associated. Kerby was born in Tarrant county, moving to the Center Point community with his family 10 years ago.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kerby; four sisters, Misses Ebra, 20, Marie, 14, Lorene, 8, and Mrs. C. H. Massey; and three brothers, Bob, 18, Frank, 5, and Leon, 3.

Funeral rites will be held at 11 a. m. Tuesday at the Eberly Chapel. Interment will be in the Mt. Olive cemetery.

The boy's grandmother, Mrs. P. J. Carter, also survives the youth. Loftin remained at the hospital Monday night until his friend died of his wounds.

Both Houses Vote $45,000,000 Drought Loan Bill; Senate Appends $15,000,000 For Food Purchases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Congress reconvened at noon today after a two weeks' recess.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Congress voted appropriations for drought relief today but senate and house differences must be adjusted before the lending to sufferers can begin.

The house approved the $45,000,000 figure for seed, feed and fertilizer loans requested by the administration. The senate not only did that but on motion of Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas—added $15,000,000 more, to be advanced for food purchases by farmers whose crops were hit. No record votes were taken.

The bill went back to the house for action on the food loan amendment. If it refuses to accept that, as seems likely in view of strong administration objections to the principle involved, and if the senate persists in its stand—then a conference between the two branches will be in order.

Efforts are expected to be made to send the legislation to the White House as quickly as possible. C. W. Warburton, secretary of the national drought relief committee, testifies in congressional hearings on it that loans would be made available within a week after the president signs the appropriation bill.

When the authorization measure was before the house, Representative Garner, of Texas, the democrat leader, led the fight for the food provision.

Little debate preceded the senate action on the Caraway amendment.

Rotarians To Hold Banquet
Local Club Anniversary To Be Observed Next Week

The annual birthday party of the Big Spring Rotary Club will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Settles Hotel, according to announcement made at the luncheon of the club today.

The affair will be in the form of a banquet and program—the latter of which will be in charge of Dr. G. T. Hall, Hobson Hayward and Dr. Wofford Hardy.

The program today was in charge of Charles Quezura who called upon various members of the club for short talks regarding their hopes for Big Spring and the club in 1931.

Responses were not made by those called upon but by other members who gave "take-offs" of the type of talk that might have been expected from the one called upon. Those who talked were: Emil Fahrenkamp, Harold Homan, W. W. Inkman, W. S. Miller, Jim Miller, J. C. Douglass, Robert Piner and Robert W. Jacobs.

Guests of the club today were James Howe, Kenneth Ambrose and Malcolm Meek, of Midland; James Frazier, Austin; Lucille Halley, Big Spring.

Malcolm Meek of Midland reminded the club of its pledged support to Midland in the district convention which will be held in Plainview, Midland seeks the 1932 district convention.

A committee in charge of Fred Keating was appointed to make arrangements for the planting of trees by members of the club in City Park. Each tree is to bear a metal tag on which is imprinted the name of the Rotarian who planted it.

A. A. Glover Jumps From Sixth Floor

Despondency Over Ill Health and Finances Believed Cause.

PROMINENT CITIZEN Native West Texan Known As Successful Business Man

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Mayor A. A. Glover of San Angelo jumped to his death from the sixth floor of a local bank building at 5 o'clock this morning. A verdict of suicide was returned by Justice of Peace B. E. Gray. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Glover had been worried for months over ill health and private financial reverses, his friends said. He was vice-president and general manager of the Martin Glover Company and a native West Texan. For years he had been prominently identified with the civic affairs of this section. He was a Royal Arch Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias. He was a charter member of the Kiwanis Club and for years had served on charity committees of the city. He was a member of the Methodist church. He was chosen mayor of San Angelo in 1928. Mr. Glover was 52 years old.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Glover is survived by Clinton A. and Marie Elizabeth, both students in the University of Texas, and another son, Edison G. of San Angelo.

Funeral services were set for 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Methodist church.

No one saw the mayor jump. C. A. Meek was leading his truck in the rear of the building and was the first to reach the body. He quickly summoned employees of a nearby furniture store. One of them felt for his pulse and found there was none. They called police.

W. P. Martin of the furniture company, one of the first to reach the body, said: "The back of his head was crushed and blood was spattered everywhere. His glasses, bent and broken, were lying to one side. His watch had come loose from its chain and was lying nearby."

Mayor Glover's coat was found folded on the window sill of the sixth floor of the bank building. His hat was on the fire escape from which he leaped.

The tragic death of the chief executive cast a pall of gloom over the city. Under the terms of the city charter R. A. Hall, commissioner number one, becomes mayor pro tem until a special election is called to name a successor to Mayor Glover. Action toward an election call is expected at the city commission meeting Tuesday.

Glover was one of West Texas most successful business men. Starting with a capital of $10,000 twenty five years ago the Martin-Glover Company closed its books last year with a total capital and surplus and undivided profits of approximately a half million dollars. The company has done better than a million dollars worth of business here for the last five years.

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 10 (AP)—San Angelo is to bury a mayor and a former mayor tomorrow. Shortly after Mayor A. A. Glover jumped to his death from a local bank building today, Charles H. "Owels," 69, ranchman and former banker and mayor, died. While in the hospital on Jan. 1 he was sworn in as Tom Green county commissioner No. 1. Powell had resided here 43 years. He leaves a widow, two daughters and five sons. Burial will be Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Funeral services for Mayor Glover will be held at the Methodist church here Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Lines of Eastern Railroad Systems in Proposed Merger

A proposal to consolidate eastern railways into four major systems has been agreed upon by railway executives. Announcement of the agreement was made by President Hoover. The major groups in the plan are the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio and the Chesapeake and Ohio, which, with the Nickel Plate, is the Van Sweringen system. In the consolidation the New York Central gets the Lackawanna; the Pennsylvania retains control of the Wabash and the Detroit, Toledo and Ohio; the Reading and the Central of New Jersey, and the Van Sweringen system will add the Lehigh Valley and possibly the Pittsburgh and the Western Maryland. The Van Sweringens already control the Wheeling and Lake Erie. Maps above show makeup of the four systems under the proposed consolidation.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—A new flying team with Edna May Cooper, film actress and aviator, Bobbie Trout, Los Angeles girl flier, broke the world endurance refueling record of 42 hours, 16 minutes for women at 9:46 a. m. today.

Months ago, i company with Eleanor Smith of New York, Miss Trout set the record, surpassed by an hour today.

Contractor Dies Unexpectedly At Tourist Camp Here

Charlie G. Knight, bridge contractor, died unexpectedly at the Cap Rock Tourist Camp, Lamesa highway, at 6:30 p. m. Monday from an attack of acute indigestion.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. today at the Eberly chapel, the Rev. S. B. Hughes, pastor of the East Fourth street Baptist church, conducting. Burial will be in the new Mt. Olive cemetery.

He had been in ill health for several months. He had been residing here for five months.

Charm School To Be Held Here Beauty Expert To Give Series Of Free Lectures in Crystal Ballroom of Settles Hotel

Every woman who cherishes her natural charm and all those who long to increase their store of loveliness, will welcome the announcement that the Herald is to bring Nancy Earle to Big Spring for a series of free lectures to the women of this city. There will be five talks which will constitute a Charm School.

So tremendous has been the interest aroused by the Charm Chats of Miss Nancy Earle, which have been appearing in these columns for some days, and so great has been the number of letters which Big Spring women have sent to her in care of this newspaper, that the Herald sought and obtained her consent to appear in the Crystal Ballroom of the Settles Hotel for five addresses from January 20 to 23, inclusive.

In lecture appearances and by means of her 'Charm Chats' Miss Earle has given her recipes for abounding health and radiant charm to a half million women throughout the country.

Miss Earle will include in her talks a discussion of every feminine problem. The benefit of her experience and studies in the realm of beauty, charm, health and personality will be at the disposal of Big Spring women during the week of January 19th. Carr of the skin, weight reduction, what to eat and why, hairdressing, how to accent the face, the psychology of color, the art of choosing and wearing clothes, the pleasing speaking voice, the psychology of happiness and success, hints of homemaking—these are but a few of scores of topics included by Miss Earle in her Charm School talks.

Every talk in the Charm School series will be absolutely free. Those who attend will not be asked to buy anything since neither Miss Earle nor the Herald has anything to sell. This widely and favorably known woman is being brought to the city solely as a courtesy to the women of the community.

Miss Earle believes that charm is much more the result of knowing how to develop latent attributes than it is a matter of divine gift and maintains that every woman possesses the potentiality of superlative charm, and only needs competent direction in how she can make it manifest. The Herald knows exactly what it has in mind, and set aside the lecture series of her Charm Schools in other cities, that she is thoroughly competent to give such direction.

This newspaper also has learned that invariably after the first lecture given by Miss Earle in the cities where she has conducted Charm Schools, it has been almost impossible for late comers to obtain seats, so quickly has word spread of the speaker's own exceptional personality, and attractive manner of presenting her formulas for charm and radiance.

So remember the dates of the Charm School, January 2 to 23, inclusive. Remember the place—Crystal Ballroom, of the Settles Hotel, and set aside the lecture periods so you will miss none of Miss Earle's valuable charm, beauty and health hints.

Auto Owners Urged To Pay 1931 Licenses

Attorney General Says February 1 Is Final Day For All

L. B. Barkley, state highway patrolman, today announced that motor vehicles, including cars and trucks, must have 1931 license plates by midnight, Feb. 1. According to Barkley, quoting from a decision given by Rios M. Tilley, assistant attorney general, anyone operating a motor vehicle after February 1 that has not been registered for the current year is subject to arrest. If the vehicle has not been registered and has been operated during the month of January, the owner is not only subject to arrest, but must pay a penalty of 20 per cent of the registration fee.

The patrolman urges owners of cars and trucks to register them early in order to avoid the last minute rush for plates.

Three headlight testing stations are located here. Headlight certificates may be obtained at Hills and Jay Service Station, Fourth and Scurry streets; Buck's garage, East Third and Gifford's Service Station, South Scurry street.

The license plates may be obtained any time after the headlights have been tested and adjusted. Barkley declared many think it is necessary to obtain the plates immediately after getting lights tested.

The patrolman also warned truck owners to see that a rear-view mirror is in place, and maintained throughout the year. Violations will bring a fine of $500 or less, he declared.

$5,000,000 In Road Work Will Be Let

12 Miles of Surfacing On No. 9 In Sterling Is Included

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 10 (AP)—One of the most ambitious highway improvement programs since early last summer will be started by the Texas highway commission January 19 and 20 when contracts for work estimated to cost $5,000,000 will be awarded. The program calls for 36 contracts in 32 counties with 18 of the projects to be carried out with federal aid money. A total of 291.17 miles will be improved in addition to four bridge projects. The program called for 109.1 miles of bituminous surface treatment and other paving; 62.7 miles grading and construction of drainage structures and four bridges.

Contracts for all the work will continue to specify use of local labor and contractors will be urged to distribute the work among as many men as possible. Unemployment was expected to be greatly relieved during the next several months after contractors get actively started on the projects.

The bidding at the January meeting was expected to be close and heavy.

4,100 Quarts of Grade Milk Being Consumed Here Each Day; 27 Dairies Qualify For Grades

Big Spring people are using approximately 4,100 quarts of milk per day, the figures show.

Mr. Williams, city inspector in charge of enforcement of the milk ordinance, said Saturday.

This milk is produced from 500 cows in 27 dairies. Three dairymen are producing "ungraded milk" and the figures.

Mr. Williams appealed to the public to support the milk ordinance by using milk produced in graded dairies, "where the highest type of sanitation is maintained in production and handling." He asked citizens to report to him any complaint as to cleanliness of milk.

Mr. Williams issued a list of dairies qualified to sell grade "A" raw milk and grade "B" raw milk, as described in the ordinance. It is pointed out that the fact a dairy may produce only grade "B" and not grade "A" is no reflection upon desire to practice cleanliness.

Grade "A" raw milk may be produced by the following: H. A. Page, C. H. McDaniel Jr., Melvin J. Kelly, C. Loyd Kemp and Bird D. Davis, H. G. Lees, A. E. McCutcheon, A. F. Roberts, W. W. Lytle, Coffee & Moore, W. A. Thomson, J. F. Thixton, Sam H. Stamps, C. Craig, T. D. Couch, J. H. Kerfoot, Daucus, Kinard, Whitehouse dairy, W. P. Lucas, Walter Davidson.

Grade "B" milk permits are possessed by the following: M. M. Denton, Clyde Denton, L. C. Hill, M. P. Hill, T. W. Huddleston, B. J. Avery.

Grade "A" pasteurizing milk plants: Snowhite Creamery, Big Spring creamery.

Sterling Names Board Members For Institutions

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Governor-Elect Ross S. Sterling today made the first appointments for his coming administration, filling all expiring places on the boards of regents of the University of Texas, A. & M. college and the State Teachers' College.

The appointments:
As university regents: Leslie Waggoner, Dallas banker; M. Frank Yount, Beaumont independent oil operator; John T. Scott, Houston banker. They succeed H. L. Luther Stark of Orange, M. E. Foster of Houston and Sam Neathery of Houston.

As A. & M. regents: Joseph Kopecky of Hallettsville, editor of Novy Domov, a Bohemian language newspaper; Henry Schumacher, Houston wholesale grocer; and Raleigh White of Brady, Kopecky succeeds William A. Wurzbach of San Antonio, who recently was elected county judge of Bexar county. Schumacher and White were reappointed.

Reappointed
As State Teachers' College regents: Thomas H. Ball, Houston, attorney; Henry Paulus, Yoakum lawyer; and John E. Hill of Amarillo, all were reappointed.

Memberships on the three governing boards of the state institutions run for six years. The board of regents of the State Teachers' College governs normal institutes at Huntsville, Canyon, Denton, San Marcos, Alpine, Nacogdoches, and Comal.

Mr. Waggoner is the son of the late Leslie Waggoner, Sr., who was a member of the first faculty of the University of Texas, and first president of the university. The son is a law graduate of the university, and at present is executive vice president of the Republic National Bank and Trust Company of Dallas. He was married in 1900 to Miss Annie Nelson of Belton, a fellow student in the university, where their son, Nelson, is at present a sophomore.

Mr. Yount's appointment might be regarded as a gesture of honor to Mr. Sterling's native county of Chambers. Mr. Yount lived there in his youth and worked on the farm of Frank P. Sterling, brother of the incoming governor. The oil man is now president of the Yount-Lee Oil Company, a major concern of his kind operating principally at Spindler, Tarrant county, Hill, Liberty, Barber's Hill, Welsh, Hackberry and Evangelina, La.

Mr. Scott, chairman of the board of the First National bank, the oldest in Houston, for 10 years was a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Several members, however, were unqualifiedly against any kind of a bond issue and several more said they were maintaining an open mind on the question.

Any move to give the cities additional representation will meet with bitter opposition, Johnson and other members favoring a plan to increase the population of city districts and spread the representation out as much as possible.

Utilities
One of the important measures scheduled for presentation early was a bill to create a public utilities commission to have power to improve the rate structures of all utility corporations. The commission would have power to determine the items of expense to be used by utilities in arriving at the rate to be charged. It also would be empowered to pass on the fairness of rates.

Renewal of the fight to legalize boxing was seen when arriving members were greeted with copies of a bill to establish a state athletic commission of three members to regulate the art of boxing, sparring and wrestling exhibitions and performances. The bill would allow the commissioners $10 per day and traveling expenses for time devoted to the commission. It would have jurisdiction over all boxing and wrestling matches given by any club, corporation or association with an annual fee of $500 charged for each license.

A tax of ten per cent of the gross receipts from ticket sales would be charged by the commission in favor of the state treasury.

Representative Coke Stevenson of Junction and Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg were leaders of the opposition to Metcalf's proposed redistricting. Stevenson said he would favor redistricting large districts to six members while Petch favored five as the maximum.

Stevenson declared granting cities increases would definitely take control of the House out of the hands of the country and place it with the city element.

A bill to give tax collectors not less than ten per cent nor more than fifteen per cent of the fees paid for collections of delinquent taxes also was proposed.

Representative Ray Holder of Dallas arrived with a bill to establish a library system in the public schools, claiming it would save parents $3,000,000 per year by permitting students to use library reference books, eliminating purchase of supplemental "work" books.

Representative Lee Satterwhite of Odessa, former speaker of the House, said he will offer a bill to abolish the double primary system and substitute a combination primary and convention system.

Representative Eugene V. Giles of Austin said he would sponsor another single primary bill, providing preferential voting.

MERCERS RETURN
Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Mercer have returned from a holiday visit in Morgan.

Redistricting May Develop Sharp Debate

Bond Issue Continues Uppermost in Pre-Session Talk

METCALFE TAKES LEAD

Rural-Urban Clash On New Representation Basis Seen

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two questions, one the state highway bond issue and the other legislative and congressional redistricting, occupied most of the pre-session discussion of the legislature as they browsed about House and Senate chambers today. Sentiment for and against these two measures rapidly was crystallizing, indicating that either might cause a serious rift.

From the discussion it also appeared likely that rural and city representation would be at odds on both questions, numerous rural members expressing opposition to the bond issue plan and to the redistricting proposal of Representative Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo, the only one drafted so far which would distribute representation on a straight 38,000 population basis.

The senate caucus was set for Tuesday with tentative announcement placing J. W. E. H. Beck of De Kalb at the helm of the important senate finance committee and Joe Moore of Greenville at the head of the state affairs committee. Other committee assignments placed Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene as chairman of agricultural affairs; Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, chairman of civil jurisprudence; Charles S. Garner of Bryson, chairman of criminal jurisprudence; Margie E. Neal of Carthage, chairman of education.

Projects
Projected legislation flew thick and fast wherever legislators gathered. There was considerable agitation over regulation of the commission that would effectively control operation of these vehicles. Representative J. O. Johnson of Omaha said he would favor a proposal to increase license fees of trucks and busses to where they would actually pay for damage to the roads.

Johnson expressed the opinion a bond issue would pass if presented in proper form and guaranteed the burden of retiring the issue would be placed on users of the road and not on owners of real property and would take up outstanding county bonds. He said he would favor the plan if presented in this form, pointing out it would enable the state to proceed with its primary construction and permit counties to improve the feeder roads.

Several members, however, were unqualifiedly against any kind of a bond issue and several more said they were maintaining an open mind on the question.

Any move to give the cities additional representation will meet with bitter opposition, Johnson and other members favoring a plan to increase the population of city districts and spread the representation out as much as possible.

Thousands of Men Return To Work In Railroad Shops And Automobile Factories

Texas Among Those Again At Steady Employment

(By The Associated Press)

The return to work of many thousands of workers was noted today in dispatches coming from various sections of the country. Railway shops and automobile factories were chiefly affected.

In Chicago, Vice President Frank Walters of the Chicago and Northwestern announced that 7,000 men were returned to work yesterday along the entire system on a three-day week basis, while from Detroit came reports that automobile plants in Michigan had reemployed 22,000 employees. The Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company recalled 6,500; the East Windsor Ford plant 5,000; the Cadillac company 6,000, and the Buick company at Flint, 4,500.

The men reengaged by the Chicago and Northwestern are being used in the car and mechanical departments, closed since December 24.

Between 600 and 800 shop men on the Monon Lines were returned to work on a temporary basis in Chicago, and reports from other sections told of additional good news for railway shop workers. These included the return of 2,800 men by the Norfolk and Western at Roanoke, Va., 2,200 by the Missouri Pacific at Sedalia, Mo., 1,000 by the New York Central at East Buffalo and Depew, N. Y., and 850 by the Southern Pacific at El Paso, Texas.

From Moline, Ill., word came that the trend toward better employment conditions in Moline, Ark. Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, known as the "Tri-Cities," had been accelerated by a report of one company that its normal factory force was at work and that others are planning increases.

J. H. Dyer, vice president in charge of operations of the Southern Pacific railroad, announced in San Francisco that return of 8,500 employees from part time work to the full time payroll. Of these 7,500 are in railway shops and 1,000 on maintenance. Cities from Texas to Oregon are affected by the order.

After a period of curtailed operations, 750 men were returned to work yesterday at the Ford Motor Company assembly plant in Denver.

MOBERLY, Mo., Jan. 6 (AP)—Four hundred men were returned to work in the Vabash shops here yesterday.

PARSONS, Kans., Jan. 6 (AP)—Following a two weeks layoff, 435 Katy shopmen have returned to work here.

Local officials said "So far as we know the men will be employed on a full time schedule." Shopmen throughout the Katy system worked three weeks in December, their pay shops announced today that appropriate steps would be taken for their employment by the railroad.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—A layoff of several weeks 2,000 men returned to work today at the New York Central Railroad shops here.

ATLANTA, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Ford Motor company plant here announced today that approximately 700 employees had been put back to work after a two week's layoff for the annual inventory. This is the normal force at the plant, the announcement said.

SHAWNEE, Okla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Officials of the Oklahoma Railroad shops announced today that all men who have been laid off from their jobs here will resume work January 19. The order will provide employment for approximately 350 men.
