Pancake Supper Will Aid Fire Department, EMS

A pancake supper will be held Tuesday, April 26, at the school cafeteria for a community get-together, sponsored by the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture. Half or more of the proceeds will be given to the Rising Star Volunteer Fire Department and Rising Star Emergency Medical Service (ambulance) for operating expenses.

The Chamber has planned the supper, not only for its members, but for all the Rising Star area residents. And while we're visiting and having a good time, we can give a little more help to our community's volunteer services. A new truck has been purchased but the fire department still needs funds to bring all the equipment to good operating shape. The volunteer ambulance service answers many call each month and operating funds are continually being used.

All the pancakes you can eat, plus a slice of smoked ham and coffee or milk will be sold at $3 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under.

Downtown Cisco is getting dressed up for the fifteenth annual Folk Life Festival, which will be held April 23 and 24. The downtown area has fresh paint, colorful banners and bright blooms in anticipation of the event. A breakfast at Lake Cisco Park and "The World's Shortest Trail Ride" will begin the activities on Saturday, April 23. The festival will open at the Rockwell Lumber Yard after the 10 a.m. Parade. As always, Festival goers will have a wide choice of foods, including homemade bread and strawberry shortcake. Many booths will provide the opportunity to inspect and perhaps buy fine Texas crafts. There will be continuous entertainment and

pioneer skill demonstrations

during the Festival. Daily

admission prices will be

$1.50 for adult and 50 cents for children.

City Manager Mike Moore reminds all residents that the City's voluntary water onservation ordinance is still in effect. The water level of Lake Cisco remains very low, and everyone is asked to cooperate. Lawn and garden watering is restricted to two days per week - Tuesday and Saturday, from 1 a.m. until 12 noon. If the voluntary program is not successful, the city will consider mandatory water curtailment, and this could include higher water rates.

The Pogues permanent home is in Valley Mills, where they purchased a "retirement" residence several years ago.

The Next Best Thing -

....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

E.C.B.C. Top Six Place at Regional

The 1987 T.A.B.C. Top Six Team from the Brownwood Bass Club walked away with a first place finish on Lake Brownwood. The Region III Tournament drew only 19 teams consisting of the top six anglers from 1987 club competitions. Each team was allowed to weigh-in up to 60 fish per team per day that measured 14 inches or longer. Only seven five-fish limits were turned in during the two days of competition.

Six of the 19 teams will be advancing on to the State Competition June 4 & 5 at at Lake Brownwood: pounds 21/2 ounces; Mineral 5½ ounces; Ft. Worth Mini ounces; Eastland County Bass Club 40 pounds 7 ounces; Hells Gate Bass Club 40 pounds 6 ounces; and Stephenville Bass Club 39 pounds 11/2 ounces. The total weight of these six clubs was 281 pounds 6½ ounces for a two day total. Just missing the top six was Granbury Bass Club who weighed in 38 pounds 131/2 ounces, missing

Members of the Eastland County Bass Club Top Six Team were Tommy Maynard, Jim Williamson, Jerry King, Chuck Burgess, James Fullen and Terry Wilson. Of these gentlemen Tommy led the team members with over thirteen pounds of fish for the two days. But without each man's contribution towards the final total these gentlemen could easily have been bumped out of going on to state to compete with

From sixth place to 18th,

there was only a difference

You may weigh only three fish per day. Your best weight for either Saturday or Sunday will count. Fish may not be weighed in combination (two Saturday and one Sunday, etc.). All monies are based on 133 entries fishing both days. For more information you may call (817)767-4924 ro (817)767-9289 or (817)592-4095.

Also the Second Annual Lake Granbury Big Bass

Tournament at Lake Granbury April 16 & 17. This will be a one fish tournament. You may weigh in as often as you like to win big bass of the hour which will be first $150. second of the hour is $50. Only one fish will count towards prize monies at days end. First place is guaranteed $5,000. Fifteen places will be awarded. The more entries. the larger the payback will be. As you all have noticed our March winds are here folks. Watch out for them when you're out boating. If you have any doubt about navigating safely, wait it out. And always wear your life jacket - I want to see you all back out on the lakes. Terry L. Wilson

From Janet Thomas, County Extension Agent April 10 - April 16 is being celebrated as the "Week of the Young Child". Each year the National Association for the Education of Young Children sponsors "The Week of the Young Child." With the majority of mothers of young children in the work force, it's no wonder that the Association chose "quality child care" as the special theme for 1988. One of the most difficult situations faced by parents is finding quality child care for their young children.

Most parents know that the early years are critical for intellectual, emotional, physical and social development. Yet many of these same parents will let their choice of child care be dictated by cost or convenience of the location.

If you're serious about finding quality child care, first investigate the skills and qualifications of the caregiver. Does she have background, training or degrees in child development? Does she relate well to the children? Is her day care facility registered How long has she been in the business and what do other parents think about the care provided for their children?

Of course, health and safety conditions will be another concern. You will want to visit and inspect the facility. Is it clean and well kept? Are toys and play equipment safe? Is there adequate supervision for the number of children in day care? You will also want to make some judgments about the type of care offered. Is there a regular routine to the child's day? Are children given nutritious and appealing meals and snacks? Do children get to play both indoors and outdoors, weather permitting? Does the program include some educational activities, such as or art work?

Range Management Critical After Wildfire

COLLEGE STATION--Ranchers that have seen much of their rangeland engulfed by wildfires in recent weeks need to give particular attention to certain range management practices in the days ahead.

Wildfires have run rampant over an estimated 400,000 acres of western Texas, destroying buildings, pens, equipment and hundreds of animals.

With those losses comes the rebuilding of fences and related properties, and special attention to range management, points out Dr.

Jake Landers, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who is located at San Angelo.

"The most critical thing is not to put livestock on the burned area too early," says Landers. "The worst damage from a fire comes from too heavy grazing too early."

"How fast burned ranges recover will depend greatly on weather conditions," he notes. "and that will dictate how soon they can be restocked. Grass must be allowed to recover, though, and a rule of thumb to follow in this regard is 60 to 90 days. However, in a dry year, recovery will take much longer.'

Landers points out that range grasses are adapted to fire and will resprout when moisture and temperatures are adequate.

In addition to paying particular attention to grass regrowth, the specialist recommends balancing animal numbers with the amount of pasture burned. If half the pasture is burned, restock when the burned portion has recovered, using only the number of animals that the burned portion can handle. This would be about half the usual amount stocked on the particular pasture. Another option, says Landers, is to fence off the burned portion and to treat the burned and unburned pastures separately. The specialist also advises ranchers to follow through with a good brush control program. That means controlling prickly pear and tasajillo with picloram, since these normally resprout after a range fire. 'Apply a small amount of picloram in April or May to wipe out prickly pear and tasajillo," recommends Landers. "In studies involving prescribed burns in February, an aerial application of picloram in late April at 1/8 to 1/4-pound per acre gave a 98 percent control of these two brush species."
