"FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING" is the title of an editorial in the Ballinger paper praising a former Rising Star boy who is now county agent of Runnels County, and frequently selected to serve as a superintendent of one of the divisions of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

The editorial reads:

"Sometimes we think it is nice to pass along some flowers for those people who live among us and who render service, not only as required by their jobs, but who go the second mile to help their neighbors and friends. Such a man in this area is C. T. Parker, popular Runnels County farm agent.

"Runnels County is fortunate to have such an efficient man who knows all phases of livestock and agriculture and who is always on the job helping those who need his services. He is constantly sought by some of the biggest stock shows and associations in the nation to help with programs and instructions. He brought crop demonstrations to this county to test new varieties on local farms where the climate, soil and normal moisture can be a part of the success of a crop.

"His service does not stop with his farm and livestock work for he is also an authority on shrubs, trees and grasses. Often after hours he will be found in somebody's yard helping to save a tree or a lawn. His interests does not stop with a treatment for the diseased shrub but he checks back to see the results of his suggestion.

"He fills an important place in his church, in a service club, the chamber of commerce and on many other jobs of a civic nature. He is an outstanding speaker and is used on many programs. His announcing at the rodeo is nothing short of professional.

"He knows wildlife and often helps to make improvements in this field. He is a backer of the schools and the athletic program. He likes to fish and hunt and is just an all-round good citizen. Yes, for C. T. Parker you can sing the second verse of that old song: 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow.'"

Word from Cisco is to the effect that two Rising Star boys took bass fishing honors in the Cisco Fishing Rodeo which ended Sunday at 3 p.m. Robert and Don Needham weighed in four bass last Saturday which added up to 19 pounds 11 ounces avoirdupois. The largest was a seven pounder which took first prize for bass fishing and the second largest weighed five pounds four ounces—which is a real bass fish in any man's lake.

Two others weighed 3 pounds 12 oz., and 3 pounds, 11 oz. respectively.

GRASS FIRE NEAR HERE EXTINGUISHED

A grass fire, which under strong winds threatened to spread over the countryside, was extinguished by the Rising Star fire department and volunteers at the old Whitehead farm west of Rising Star Tuesday morning. The fire, which apparently caught from burning trash, was discovered by a crew from the Kizer Telephone Company which had gone to the residence to install a telephone for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edmiston who are moving there. The flames burned over several acres of ground but did no damage to buildings.

Work Starts on Booster Station

Construction of a booster station for the Coastal States Gas Producing Company on a site just east of Okra on the old Judd farm, started Monday of this week. The plant site is being cleared and pouring of foundations is expected to begin within a few days.

The plant will boost gas from wells in the Rising Star area into a 12-inch line being laid into this area from Thurber where it will connect with the main trunk line of the Lone Star.

Gas will be brought to the plant through a network of gathering lines over a territory several miles in extent.

Coastal States has been gradually developing their gas reserves in the field. During the past two years approximately 15 wells and others are being drilled. The company has four rigs running in the field now.

Thirty-six wells have been completed in the X-Ray field in northwest Erath county where the same company is also developing a field.

Five Hurt in Collision of Cars Here Sunday

Five persons were injured, one seriously, in a collision of cars at an intersection on South Main street here Sunday morning about 9:40.

Both cars, a 1955 Plymouth driven by Joe Fraley of Rising Star, and a 1958 Ford occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Lancaster of Reno, Nev., were so badly damaged that a local garage said they were total losses.

Mrs. Lancaster, formerly of this city and a relative of C. M. Cox, Mrs. Ivan Sherrill and Miss Manon Cox here, was most severely hurt. She was thrown from her car in the collision and suffered fractures of the shoulder and knee, according to reports from a Brownwood Hospital where all of the people involved were taken in a Higginbotham ambulance. Her husband was not injured.

Mr. Fraley suffered broken ribs and a head cut. His daughter, Louise, suffered a cut on the head, and Virginia Carr, daughter of Cecil Carr, and her friend, May Bender who is visiting here, each suffered cuts and abrasions. The three girls were riding with Mr. Fraley on their way to church at the time of the accident.

The girls and Mr. Fraley were released from the hospital Sunday afternoon after treatment.

Sister of Mrs. Respass Beaten by Robber Monday

A sister of Mrs. F. W. Respass of Rising Star, Mrs. L. B. Windham, 69, was beaten by a robber Monday morning who attempted to rob a store at Lawn where she is employed. A suspect, a 21-year-old Connecticut youth, was being held in jail at Abilene in lieu of $5,000 bond early this week, after being captured in a grassy field just west of Lawn three hours after the attack.

Mrs. Windham was treated at Hendricks Memorial Hospital for bruises suffered when she was knocked down and beaten shortly after she had opened the Lawn Cash Grocery about 6:30 a.m. Monday. The robber entered about 7 o'clock, asked for several articles, and followed her to the rear when she went to get them, Mrs. Windham said. He then asked for the store's money and when she refused and started screaming he struck her. She was thrown to the floor and beaten about the face.

Mrs. Windham was not seriously injured and was released from the hospital after treatment. She is now at home. Her screams attracted a neighbor who rushed into the store and surprised the youth. The suspect fled after grabbing money from the cash register, but was captured by officers and a posse shortly afterward.

VISIT PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Geyer and children have visited his father and mother, his brothers and sisters and other relatives who met in Comanche for a family live at Lamkin, one of his sisters lives in Stephenville and the others all live in Comanche.

29 Ropers in Calf Contest At Rodeo Here

Twenty-nine ropers took part in the calf-roping contest at the Friday night rodeo here—a contest that produced some remarkably low times.

Leroy Hodges of Abilene was the winner with a time of 11.6 seconds. He was closely followed by Logan Adams with a time of 11.8 seconds. Third place winner was Doug McGraw, also of Abilene, who roped and tied his calf in 14.1 seconds.

The jackpot roping, the concluding event on the program, was also well filled, with 20 entries. Bill Guest of Abilene took first with a winning time of 11.5 seconds. Stanley Ivy was second with 12.7 seconds and Alton Carter third with 12.9 seconds.

A Comanche miss, Gene Minis, took first honors in the local girls and boys barrel races with 19.8 seconds. Lee Ann Chalk of Rising Star was second with 21.5 seconds.

In the girls open barrel races, a professional event, Mary McIlwain of Anson rode the course in 19 seconds for first honors. Judy Moore of Rising Star was a close second with a time of 19.2 and Mable Adams of Cranfill's Gap was third with 19.9 seconds.

The bare back riding contest produced two winners—Jack Chapman of Abilene and Bob Gohlsion of Cross Plains.

Bill McIlwain of Anson was first in the goat roping event. His time was 19.1 seconds. John Burrus of Goldthwaite was second in this contest with a flat 24.

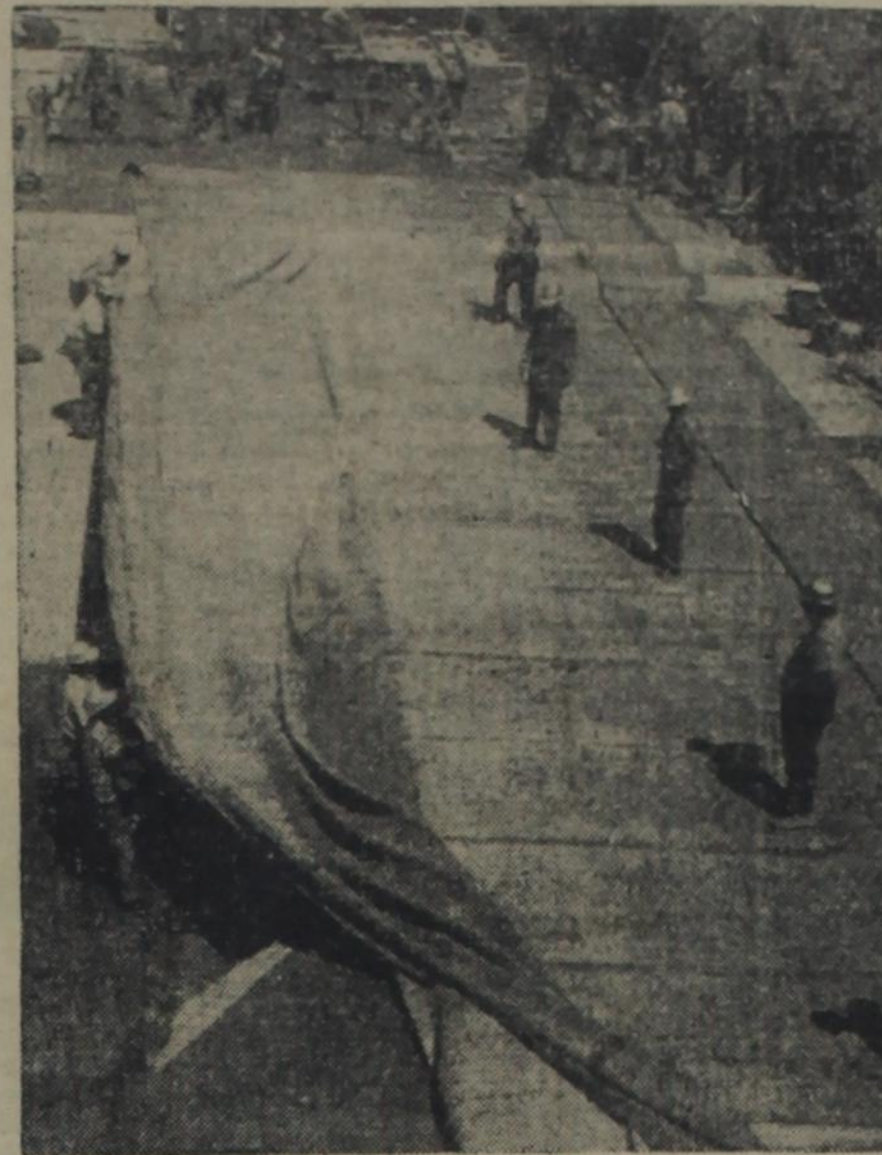

Only one rider stayed aboard in the bull riding event, John Middleton of Breckenridge taking first and second money. A crowd of about 1,000 witnessed the performance.

Mrs. Schaefer to Accompany Group On Tour of Europe

Mrs. Conrad Schaefer, teacher of English in the Cisco Junior High School, will leave August 30th on an extended tour of Europe during which she will see the performance of the celebrated Passion Play at Oberammergau, Germany, the Olympic games in Rome and visit the ancestral seat of the clan in Scotland from which she is descended.

She will accompany a group of English teachers drawn from all over the United States. In the course of the tour she will attend seminars at the University of London and the University of Southampton, in England, and will set foot in 12 western European countries.

She will leave here August 30, fly from Dallas to Idlewild Airport, New York, where she will join her group. The plane will land at Shannon, Ireland, and from there the teachers will go to England. While in England Mrs. Schaefer plans to leave the group to accept the invitation of the laird of the McLean Clan to visit the old castle of Duart on the Isle of Mull.

ROLLING OUT THE CARPET—Sixty feet below the surface of the ground in downtown Houston, workers stretch out a Butyl rubber carpet on which the 44-story Humble Oil & Refining Company building will stand when completed in 1962. The Butyl membrane will act as a water barrier for the foundation of the building. This is a unique application of the durable, flexible synthetic which is produced at Humble's Baytown Refinery and is widely used in everything from hot water bottles to conveyor belts, tubing, tires, wading pools, protective clothing for missile launching crews, and car accessories.

Conservation Program on Watershed Reduces Lake Brownwood Siltation

Sedimentation in Lake Brownwood has been favorably reduced following application of a conservation program on 66 per cent of the watershed. This information was revealed by a sedimentation survey requested by the Brown-Mills SCD and made jointly by the Soil Conservation Service and Brown County Improvement District No. 1. The Survey was started in August, 1959, and completed early this year according to E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service at Brownwood.

Since catching the first water in July, 1932, Lake Brownwood has lost 13,962 acre feet of water storage capacity to sedimentation, it was learned. When completed in 1932, the lake capacity was established at 149,925 acre feet. By 1940, according to a survey made at that time, the reservoir had been reduced to 145,720 acre feet which amounted to a loss in storage capacity of 4,205 acre feet or an annual average of 553 acre feet during the first eight years. Almost 20 years later, the 1959 water storage capacity was found to have diminished another 9,759 acre feet or an average of 498 acre feet per year. The lake was found to be silting up at the rate of 0.37 per cent per year during the first eight years and has been reduced to 0.34 per cent from February 1940 survey to the recent 1959 study, both being made by the Soil Conservation Service. The latter survey showed the lake has lost 9.3 per cent of the original capacity during the 27-year study.

Distribution of sediment over the reservoir varies greatly as was determined by soundings made at 71 segment data ranges strategically located over the lake. The greatest capacity loss due to sedimentation was found to occur at and near the confluence of unprotected streams. Hog Creek which empties into the reservoir just east of Byrds Store has lost over 58 per cent of the original capacity, while a sounding immediately north of the State Park headquarters had lost less than 1 per cent in storage capacity.

In addition to the Conservation land treatment program in the watershed that is needed for soil erosion control and profitable farming and ranching, floodwater retarding structures are being planned to protect flood plains, cities, roads, bridges, and downstream reservoirs. To date, the Brown-Mills, Central Colorado, and Middle Clear Fork Soil Conservation Districts with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service have planned 44 floodwater retarding structures on the Jim Ned and 12 on Turkey Creek. The Upper Pecan Bayou and Lake Brownwood Laterals would require an estimated 35 additional retarding structures for needed protection against sedimentation and downstream flooding.

Harry Sone Again Heads Methodist Board of Stewards

They are Harry B. Sone, chairman; Bullis McCollum, vice-chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Snook, secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Ellis, treasurer.

The board voted to install air conditioning in the parsonage, and heard a financial report at the beginning of the new year. The new pastor, the Rev. Norman Purvis, greeted the members of the church on his

Braves Maintain Lead In Little League Play

The Braves and the Indians maintained their standings as No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the Rising Star Little League standings Tuesday night at the City Park field.

Thursday night of this week these two teams will meet in

Tuesday night the Braves defeated the Dodgers 6 to 1 while the Indians downed the Yankees 13 to 10. Winning pitchers were Danny Fisher for the Braves and Larry Burns for the Indians.

The Braves have lost only one game and tied one while winning five. The Indians likewise have won five games, but lost two. The Yankees and the Dodgers have each won one game, the Dodgers losing five and the Yankees losing four and tying one.

July 4th Harvest Of Death on Texas Highways Set at 24

An alert went out to Texas motorists today as the Texas Department of Public Safety predicted 27 motorcides will occur on streets and highways of this state during the three-day Fourth of July week end.

The period covered by the prediction, during which time the Texas DPS will conduct its Operation Deathwatch, extends from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, July 2 through 11:59 p.m. Monday, July 4. The DPS statistical section keeps the official state records of the holiday death count on the calendar day basis, in contrast to wire service counts using fractional parts of days, and different holiday periods.

The DPS prediction released by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director, emphasized that 4,000 cars will be damaged requiring garage repairs—some a total loss—during the three-day period. The report said that 1500 persons will receive bodily injury with some persons being crippled for life.

"These are some of the factors on the grim side of the holiday," Garrison said, "but it is necessary to relate them in order to explain the seriousness of the holiday traffic situation to Texas motorists."

"The Fourth of July is a holiday in which Texans go out of doors and do lots of driving. I wish everyone a good time during the July Fourth week end. At the same time I would like to advise them to be careful."

"Let someone else drive if you drink, watch your food and keep it refrigerated, and don't mar your holiday with personal injury, death, or damage to your automobile. We will have on the highways to help you every available patrolman. You can make their job easier by planning safety into your holiday activities."

Rising Star Students On HPC Honor Roll

Pat Howard and Jack Curtis Smith of Rising Star have been listed on the honor roll at Howard Payne College for the spring semester, according to Dr. Z. T. Huff, academic vice president and dean.

A sophomore student, Miss Howard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Howard, Route 1, Rising Star, Texas, and is a graduate of Rising Star High School.

A freshmen student, Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Smith, Rising Star, and is a graduate of Rising Star High School.

Ninety-three of Howard Payne's 956 full-time undergraduate students were listed on the honor roll. A student must accumulate a minimum of 36 grade points to make the honor roll.

Traffic Control On 36 Project Is Discussed

Control of traffic through Rising Star during the reconstruction of Highway 36 from Pioneer to this city was discussed at the chamber of commerce meeting at the Elite Cafe at noon Tuesday. Present for the luncheon were Duell Ellis, superintendent for the general contractor; H. Petrey, trucking contractor, and R. S. Martin of Brownwood, resident engineer in charge of the work for the State Highway Department.

The visitors and Mayor Walter Smith said they were confident some means of handling traffic through the "bottleneck" during the period of greatest danger when the street from the traffic light west is torn up, could be worked out. Heavy truck traffic contributes a serious hazard and the fact that the sand and gravel trucks of the contractors will be passing at the rate of one every two minutes during working hours, makes it imperative, Mr. Petrey and Mr. Ellis pointed out, that there be some rigid policing of the intersection at the traffic light to prevent a serious accident.

There was discussion of a "trifles day" program offered by representatives of a company from Weatherford but no action was taken other than to suggest that the representatives contact the merchants to see what their acceptance of the program might be.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

TREASON

The history of liberty often shows that a would-be tyrant likes to accuse his opponents of treason. So, to safeguard our liberty the constitution itself sets out the kind of proof we need to find come one guilty of treason.

For this reason America has had relatively few cases of treason. Not so in early English and Roman law. "Treasonous acts" covered many things, in fact, anything that seemed to threaten the community safety.

In the fourteenth century the English tried to define treason: Since every subject owed allegiance to the King, trivial breaches of a private nature became "petite (small) treason." But a subject disloyal enough as to attack or plot against the king himself was guilty of "high" treason.

The kings liked this: For one to imagine the king's death became treason subject to death.

The broadened treason widened further to include crimes against private persons. Later even the king himself was not exempt: In 1649 they indicted, convicted, and beheaded King Charles I for treason.

King Henry VIII made it high treason to slander Queen Anne or her children. Failure to take an oath not to slander the queen itself became treason.

Under Elizabeth I it became treason for anyone to hold a religion which did not conform to the crown's.

Conviction of treason was easy. In some cases you needed no witnesses. Trials were short and the accused could not have defense counsel.

In conflicts for power, the losing politicians often became "traitors" as they do in many countries to this day. Our early settlers lived in troubled times with the coming revolution creating new factions. For them treason was also a frequent accusation.

But after the revolution the founding fathers and the people had had enough.

They decided to limit "treason" and faced these problems: Should the new executive put down rebelliousness and define treasons himself? Should the Congress during "troubled times" have power to define treason?

No. The new Constitution took treason out of politics. It said treason "shall consist only of levying war against the United States or in giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

Conviction required testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act.

ROW Deeds for Gas Pipeline Are Filed

STEPHENVILLE.—The Lone Star Gas Co. has filed right-of-way deeds at the office of County Clerk Elmo White for the Erath County part of a 12-inch pipeline which will be built from the Exray gas field some 35 miles southwest to Sipe Springs.

In addition to the main pipeline, feeder gathering lines will be built in the field to tie the gas producers on to the main line.

A report was heard in Stephenville that work on the main line has actually started but The Empire's informant said the name of no contractor has yet been put on record.

It has also been unofficially understood that a "stripper" plant will be constructed at Exray. If the project goes through it will bring employment to about 25 men and could mean much to the Huckabay school district.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hagan of Anton, Tex., accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law of Long Beach, Calif., visited relatives here.

Specialist Gives Suggestions for Horn Fly Control

COLLEGE STATION.—Hot weather is horn fly weather, and the insects will be one of the chief stock pests from now until fall, reports C. F. Garner, extension entomologist for the Texas A&M College System.

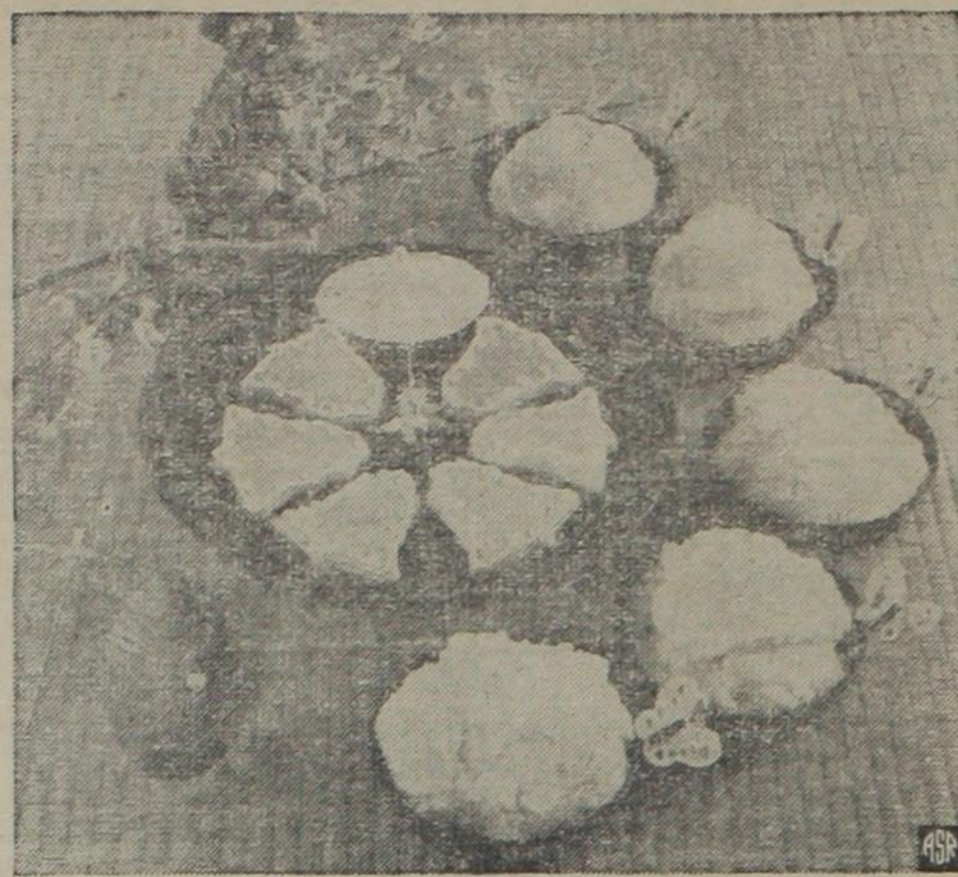

The horn fly, a close relative of the stable fly, pierces the skin of livestock to suck blood, the specialist explains. The pain and annoyance caused by these bites interferes with the animal's feeding and resting, resulting in a loss of weight, decreased milk yield and indigestion. Horn flies also have been suspected of carrying anthrax, Garner says.

Garner recommends the following methods for horn fly control: add to 100 gallons of water 3 1/3 quarts of toxaphene 98% emulsifiable concentrate, or 3 quarts of 25% methoxychlor, or 16 pounds of 25 1/2 Korlan wettable powder, or 16 pounds of 25% wettable powder Co-Ral. The above insecticides should not be used on lactating dairy cattle, and Korlan and Co-Ral should not be used on dairy cattle under any circumstances, Garner cautions. The specialist also warns against using any insecticides other than those especially formulated for livestock.

For lactating dairy cattle the specialist recommends one paping tablespoonful of 50% wettable methoxychlor powder per animal. Sprinkle on the poll, neck, back and upper sides. Then rub lightly by hand to carry powder beneath the hair.

The above controls last for about three weeks, Garner says. Garner concludes by cautioning that cattle should not be slaughtered for at least 28 days after application of toxaphene or Korlan. In the case of Co-Ral, should not be used on

Employment in State Department Beckons Youth

The art of diplomacy is said to be as old as government itself. In the United States the Department of State was the first executive department to be established, and it has grown from a small agency into an intricate organization employing thousands of dedicated Americans.

The Department of State is the headquarters of a vast reporting system which stretches from Washington, D. C., to the far corners of the earth.

From its posts abroad members of the United States Foreign Service report to the State Department on foreign developments which have a bearing on the welfare and security of the American people.

From its "home office" in Washington, D. C., members of the Departmental Service are engaged in programs in direct support of the Department's responsibilities in the field of foreign affairs.

"Young men and women, if you are interested in using your clerical skills in return for the opportunity to take part in the conduct of foreign relations with other nations, the time to do something about it is now," says Ancel N. Taylor, the State Department's Chief of Employment. "The Department is interested in drawing its employees from every one of the 50 States of the Union; from big cities and small towns, from villages and farms."

Persons interested in "home office" employment as stenographers, typists and clerks must be at least 18 years of age, and must qualify by passing a Civil Service examination, a physical examination and a background investigation. Starting salaries range from $3,255 to $3,755 per year.

Young people interested in "Foreign Service" employment as secretaries, stenographers, communication, mail and pouch clerks must be at least 21; American citizens for at least 5 years; single with no dependents; high school graduates in excellent health; and available to go to any one of 236 embassies, Legations or Consulates located in 90 countries throughout the world. They must be able to pass performance tests, and meet a minimum work experience requirement of three years. College training may be substituted for a maximum of 18 months of experience. Starting salaries range from $3,730 to $4,180 plus travel expenses and housing allowances.

Travel, foreign lands, good pay and opportunity for advancement are, of course, important to individuals in considering overseas employment, but the Department is most interested in those candidates who have the concept of service to their country uppermost in mind.

For further details and application forms write to the Employment Division, Department of State, Washington, D. C.

Garden Vegetables May Be Damaged by Root Knot

COLLEGE STATION.—Are your garden vegetables poor producers? If so, the plants may have been damaged by root knot.

Root knot occurs in all areas of Texas, and is usually more common in sandy soils. The disease is caused by nematodes. Nematodes are small, microscopic worms belonging to a group of animals known as roundworms.

Plants damaged by nematodes show a lack of vigor as indicated by stunting, wilting and yellowing of the leaves. Loss of leaves often occurs. Plants may die. Vegetables are usually small and unfit to eat.

To examine suspected plants, carefully remove roots and soil with a shovel. Diseased roots have abnormal galls or knots. Avoid confusing root knot with beneficial nodules or legumes. Root knot swellings are a part of the root itself. Nodules are easy to push off of the root.

Nematodes are controlled by a combination of cultural practices and the use of nematocides.

For further information contact your extension agent and ask for a copy of MP-356, "Plant Nematodes—Their Identification and Control."

Popular Wildlife Publication Reprinted

COLLEGE STATION.—Almost three-fourths of Texas' 170 million acres of land are forests and grasslands. The soil, vegetation, and climatic conditions vary in different regions of Texas, providing suitable habitat for a variety of native wildlife species, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

When drought, intensive cultivation or overgrazing of ranges denudes an area of natural vegetation, wildlife populations usually diminish. Wise land use and water management, however, helps to preserve a bountiful wildlife population.

Wildlife biologists continually study the complex relationships between wild animals and their environment, including the effects of land management practices. If man would preserve and encourage the growth of natural food and cover plants essential to the various wildlife species, animals could defend themselves against the weather, diseases and predators as they did before the arrival of man, the specialist points out.

Deer, pronghorn antelope, elk, bighorn sheep, bear, peccary or javelina and tree squirrels are considered game animals in Texas, Cooper continues. White-tailed deer and squirrels, more plentiful than any other game, are distributed more widely and are the most important game animals.

Extension bulletin B-150, "Wild Game of Texas," has been reprinted and is available from local county agents. This bulletin discusses the game animals and birds of Texas and is well illustrated.

Snack-Time Specials Come In Jars

In warm summer months everyone wants to spend time relaxing with friends on breezy outdoor patios or in air-conditioned living rooms. Of course, cooling refreshments and tasty snacks are essential for such gatherings. Here are some hints for easy summer entertaining.

There is no better summer-time combination than good-tasting cheese spreads, some nibble tidbits, and a tall glass of iced coffee. Of unusual interest, too, are cheese spreads in new hostess jars. Attractively designed for use at home on your coffee table or outdoor buffet, the jars feature a wide top for easy service. Almost pear-shaped, the clear glass jars have easy twist-off tops and a steady flat base.

The cheese spreads are available in eleven flavor varieties from Pimiento or Pineapple to Smokey or Garlic. They provide quick steps to hostess popularity. Just arrange jars of the spreads near a tray ringed with crackers and assorted tidbits. Let everyone choose his own flavor. But here's a special flavor hint:

Spread pineapple cheese spread over two slices of canned luncheon meat, then put together sandwich fashion. Add a plain slice of meat for a top. Chill for a few minutes in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Remove and cut these double-decker meat sandwiches crosswise into finger-length or bite size pieces. Fill celery stalks with creamy blue cheese spreads.

Cheese spreads are a boon to teen-age summer sandwich making, too—let the kids make their own.

Highland Park Ex-Mayor Seeks Grave of Father

CISCO.—A promise made to his mother more than 60 years ago brought P. King Taylor, an ex-mayor of Highland Park, Dallas, back to Cisco recently. The promise which he came to fulfill was to put a marker on the grave of his maternal grandfather, A. G. Collins, who died and was buried here in 1885 in a local cemetery.

Mr. Taylor was contacting early day Cisco residents in order to find out the burial place of his kinsman.

Mr. Taylor's father owned a ranch near Breckenridge and a store at Caddo where he traded with buffalo hunters. In 1885, during a bad drouth, he sold his cattle to Charles A. Goodnight, an early Texas cattle baron, and moved to Wyoming. P. King Taylor, then an infant, was taken by train to Wyoming by his mother.

Since then Mr. Taylor has lived in the Indian Territory, Illinois, California and Texas. In 1915 he attended a business college in Fort Worth and Armour's Institute of Technology in Chicago the next year.

Presently, he resides at 4225 Versailles Street in Dallas where

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Both wildlife and domestic animal rabies showed slight declines in May, according to Texas State Health Department animal disease figures.

State Health Department veterinarians attribute the decline to a seasonal drop and the effects of local rabies control programs now active in several Texas areas.

Forty examined heads proved positive during May compared to 88 positive heads examined in March and 48 in April. The number of heads submitted for examination is also declining. In May 409 heads were prepared for examination—a decrease from 591 heads prepared in March.

Whole heads are sent to the State Health Department laboratory in Austin where the brains are carefully prepared for microscopic examination for presence of "Negri bodies," indicating rabies infection.

A breakdown of positive animal heads examined for May shows 10 dogs and three cats. Also there were nine foxes, 15 skunks and three bats.

Statistics show that domestic pet rabies is running only one-third as the five-year median while bovine rabies is just half as much as the five-year median figure.

At the same time wildlife rabies is running ahead of the usual-incidence level.

The high rate of wildlife rabies makes control measures among domestic animals more important than ever, public health authorities say. They warn against possible outbreaks at any time or place.

An unprotected domestic animal population—especially dogs—could mean exposure to humans during an unexpected outbreak before emergency controls could be enacted.

Heads submitted for examination to the State Health Department laboratory include almost every species of wildlife—rabbits, rats, squirrels, flying squirrels, mice, raccoons, gophers, and hamsters.

Laboratory technicians ask that heads sent for examination be packed in ice, but separated from ice in a smaller container.

Whole heads should be submitted instead of just brains to avoid accidental infection during removal of the brain by untrained persons.

Sheep and Goat Raisers Ass'n to Meet June 25th

SAN ANGELO.—The summer quarterly directors meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association will be held in Big Lake Saturday, June 25, according to the Association President, Lucius M. Stephens of Lometa. All directors are urged to be present and the members, prospective members, and friends of the Association are cordially invited.

Heading the list of important matters to be discussed are wool and mohair marketing, lamb imports, and ranch labor.

"The increasing shortage of sheep shearers and tentative plans to relieve the problem by encouraging counties to conduct shearing schools will be considered by the directors," says Stephens. The TS&GRA was instrumental in promoting a successful shearing school in Crockett County two years ago.

All aspects of the ranch labor problem will be discussed in the TS&GRA Ranch Labor Committee. The Association is currently sponsoring a program to import labor for Texas ranch work from the British West Indies. Tully Pratt of Bracketville, Committee Chairman, urges those interested in contracting these laborers, available to Association members and prospective members, to attend the meeting. As reported by the present users, the BWI laborers are working satisfactorily.

Committees will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday in designated rooms of the Reagan County High School, Big Lake, and the general business meeting will convene in the school auditorium at 1:30 p.m. Registration is scheduled Friday from 2 until 5:30 p.m. at the Country Club, and Saturday from 9 until 11:30 a.m. in the lobby of the high school.

Highlighting the entertainment will be a leg of lamb supper and dance Friday evening and a lamb and goat barbecue at noon Saturday, all to be held at the Country Club.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Association will meet Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. at the Country Club.

Conservation Awards Program Is Announced

COLLEGE STATION.—For the eighth time, a nationwide soil conservation awards program is being sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. All soil conservation districts in the nation are eligible to participate.

Jack Barton, soil and water conservation specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the program officially started on May 1, 1960 and would end on April 30, 1961. He emphasized that an early entry would be to the advantage of the conservation district because the sponsor, upon receipt of an entry, will provide material very valuable for recording the progress of the district.

Barton added that the program's purpose is to stimulate individual effort in soil conservation. The awards offered under the program are made on the basis of the administration of the soil conservation district; conservation education, planning and application; organization and activities of committees to assist district governing body and general district program and progress.

Plaques will be awarded to the winning districts, certificates will go to the supervisors of the winning districts and an all-expense trip to Goodyear Farms at Litchfield Park, Ariz., for a supervisor from the top winning district in each state.

Turkeys and Melons Rate USDA Plentiful List

COLLEGE STATION.—Looks like a spread for an old-fashioned Fourth of July Picnic!

That's how the Texas Extension Service, College Station, describes the U. S. Department of Agriculture's July plentiful foods list for this area.

There is turkey for the main dish, surrounded by a variety of summer vegetables, with watermelons, cantaloupes and peaches for salads and desserts.

Farmers are marketing about 10 percent more turkeys this summer than last. In addition, cold storage stocks are larger than last year and larger than average, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Larger crops than last summer are expected for onions, potatoes, lettuce, celery, eggplant, green peppers and cabbage.

Heavy supplies of lemons and limes suggest many cool and refreshing beverages.

Also, USDA July plentiful includes ice cream, peanut butter and vegetable fats and oils.

Leslie Martin of Presidio has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Carl Martin.

Co-eds Take "Mrs." Degree; To Get Bachelor Degrees from H-SU in August

One degree down and one to go.

That's the status of at least 2 Hardin-Simmons University co-eds, who received the coveted "Mrs." degree in May and hope to earn their bachelor degrees in August.

From the classroom to the home are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Edmiston of 1634 1/2 North 4th St. and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wicker of 2126 Grape.

Ernestine Parrot and Doyle Edmiston were married in the Pioneer Drive Baptist Church here May 25.

Mrs. Edmiston, who is majoring in secretarial science and minoring in economics, is taking an economics course the first semester of summer school to complete the requirements for her BBA degree.

A physical education major and biology minor, Edmiston is taking a government course the first semester of summer school. He will take one other course in the second summer session to qualify for a BS degree.

Mrs. Edmiston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Montgomery of Penwell and Wicker's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wicker of Seminole.

Both couples agree that beginning their married life and finishing their college year simultaneously is not much harder than had they finished school unmarried. Their arguments are that they aren't spending all of their time dating. However, both couples stress that the situation would probably be different if they had several years of school ahead of them.

"Dorm life is important in helping one adjust to the responsibilities of marriage," Mrs. Edmiston stated.

Glenda Montgomery and Wayne Wicker were married May 28 in the First Baptist Church of Odessa.

Both will receive their degrees in August—Mrs. Wicker will receive a BS with a major in English and a minor in secretarial science, and Wicker will receive a BBA with a business management major and an economics minor. They plan to attend both semesters of summer school.

Upon completing his college work, Wicker, an officer in the ROTC, will enter the Army as a lieutenant and enroll in officer's training school. Mrs. Wicker plans to teach.

Presently, Wicker leads the singing at the North Park Baptist Church in Abilene. Mrs. Wicker is the daughter

1959 Production Of Livestock in Texas Increases

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas livestock production for 1959 showed a sizeable increase over 1958 production, according to Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

Mohair production in Texas set a new record in 1959. An increase in the average mohair price coupled with an increase in production resulted in this new record, the specialist explained. During 1959 Texas accounted for 97 per cent of the U. S. mohair production.

Texas again outranked all other states in beef production. Although cash receipts and total poundage for Texas showed an increase in 1959, Iowa exceeded Texas in gross income from cattle and calves. Bergsma explained that Iowa's larger gross is the result of the intensive cattle-feeding industry in that state and in shipments of cattle and calves.

Hog, wool and sheep and lamb production in Texas all showed an increase in 1959 over 1958.

In commenting on the market outlook for 1960, Bergsma said heavy market supplies of most classes have forced the market lower, thus making for a delicate market which reacts quickly to adverse weather or other unfavorable factors. Marketings of stocker and feeder cattle will continue heavy, and this could reduce expected heavy runs this fall. Lower priced feeders will fill the feedlots, the specialist added.

Reduced hog slaughter will result in a strong seasonal price advance, and efficient producers will be in a good position to take advantage of this increase.

Larger supplies of slaughter lambs will dampen the effect of a seasonal price advance. Increased competition from lower priced beef will influence the lamb price downward, the specialist concludes.

Young People Enjoy Sunday Fellowship

Twenty-seven young people were guests at a fellowship at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hudler after church services on Sunday night, June 19th. The young people participated in group singing led by Jimmy Warfield who was accompanied by Miss Linda Kooze at the piano. The night's activities were ended with the forming of a "friendship circle" and the closing prayer by Mr. Hudler. Refreshments of punch and cookies were then served to everyone present.

Mrs. Oleta Seale returned recently from Fayetteville, N. C., where she was the vacation guest of her son, Capt. L. D. Griffith of the US Air Force and his family.

Does Your Family, Inc. have an annual report?

In some ways it certainly makes a lot of sense to look at your family as a business.

For instance, businesses set aside money each year to meet their future needs. Your family should, too, because you'll have a lot of future needs... college educations for the children... a new house... a retirement fund.

You might call the money you'll need for these things a reserve for future operating expenses. And you should start building that reserve right now.

One of the best ways to do this is by regular purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. This is a safe, sure investment that's backed by the strength of the greatest nation on earth.

Savings Bonds are absolutely indestructible. If stolen, lost or destroyed—they'll be replaced without charge by the U. S. Treasury.

And now they're better than ever. Every U. S. Series E Savings Bond purchased since February 1, 1957 pays 3 1/4% interest when held to maturity. It matures earlier, too—in only 8 years and 11 months—and pays higher interest in the earlier years.

So this year look at your family's finances with a businessman's eye. And make it your New Year's Resolution to start building a fund for the future by buying Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan at work—or regularly where you bank.

The "center" of a MEDALLION HOME is a "flameless" Electric Kitchen

Symbol of Modern Living

The touch-of-a-button magic of an electric kitchen brings the whole world of tomorrow to today's homemaker. The modern electric food preparation center is a decorator-designed dream of beauty, comfort and convenience. Here's why...

CLEAN..... In your electric kitchen everything stays sparkling clean. Walls, ceilings, curtains, pots and pans testify to the fact that your electric range gives efficient, controlled heat without the dingy by-products of flame-type cooking.

COOL..... Electric heat is transmitted directly to the pots and pans, and not out into the room. Your kitchen stays cool and comfortable... and so do you!

CONVENIENT... Push a button or twirl a dial for automatic, carefree cooking, clothes washing and drying, dish cleaning and garbage disposing. It's as simple as that!

ECONOMICAL... Costs less than 3¢ to cook an average meal electrically in this area. And, a penny's worth of electricity does an equally big job in washing and drying your clothes, preserving your food, perking your coffee, toasting your bread, or disposing of your garbage.

SAFE..... Enjoy odorless, flameless security in your electric kitchen. Breezes can't blow out this heat. And, you can safeguard youngsters by throwing away the matches forever!

SURE..... In your electric kitchen you know the heat will remain constant; you know it will be the same tomorrow and the next day; you know it is the proper temperature for each dish you prepare; you know all this because you know you can depend on electric heat.

Hot Weather May Damage Quality Of Egg Shells

COLLEGE STATION.— Although the hot weather of late spring, summer and early fall increases the feed efficiency of laying flocks, it can also be detrimental to them, reports Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head of the Texas A&M Poultry Science Department. Reduced shell quality, decline in production and drop in interior egg quality are the major poultry problems of summertime, but they can be solved or reduced by an alert poultryman.

In hot weather the bird's ability to absorb and utilize calcium is impaired, resulting in an increased number of cracked and broken eggs. Quisenberry says that the use of improved ventilation, pad and fan or spray nozzle cooling system and increased calcium level in the ration will help solve the problem of shell quality.

Decline in production is perhaps the most important economic problem of hot weather. The higher environmental temperature, however, reduces the amount of feed needed to keep the body warm. Therefore, if the rate of egg production can be kept up, feed efficiency increases considerably, Quisenberry explains. Egg production may be kept up, Quisenberry says, by use of the following management practices: use of economical cooling system; provision of unlimited cool, clean drinking water; increased ventilation; maintenance of a constant or increasing light period in the house; feeding at least twice daily and stirring feed up to three additional times daily; and painting the roof white to increase radiation.

Heat is the worst enemy of egg quality. The following practices will pay off in higher grades and longer shelf life which means more income for the poultryman: gather the eggs at least three, and preferably five times daily; place in coolers immediately; gather the eggs in a wire basket and do not fill over half full; separate the clean eggs from the dirty and spray with a light oil or wax; wash dirty eggs with a sanitizer detergent and cool quickly after drying; if possible, transport eggs in a refrigerated truck; gather and store eggs on small end.

If these few management precautions are taken, most poultrymen will find summer egg production both a pleasant and profitable business, Quisenberry concludes.

Teachers Heading For California

AUSTIN.— A lot of Texas teachers will be heading for California this week to attend the National Education Association convention in Los Angeles, June 26-July 2.

But some of them may not be coming back to Texas to teach. They may go job-seeking in California, that happy hunting ground for teachers.

The Amarillo school district lost 100 teachers to California last year. And it's no wonder, if the experience of Harold Lee Milam, a teacher in the Austin schools, is typical.

Milam is going to teach next year in San Rafael, Calif., near San Francisco. San Rafael is much smaller than Austin, but Milam's salary there will be $5,600 next year, compared to $3,888 in Austin this year. He will be teaching the fifth grade, the same assignment he had at Wooten Elementary School in Austin. He has five years teaching experience.

In his second year at San Rafael, Milam will pick up a $300 yearly salary raise, moving him up to $5,900. That is more than he would receive in Austin 20 years from now at the present salary schedule. He has a wife and two children and feels that he can't afford to wait 20 years.

Latest national rankings show Texas is last in the percent of increase in average salary for teachers in the last ten years, with a 49.1 percent gain.

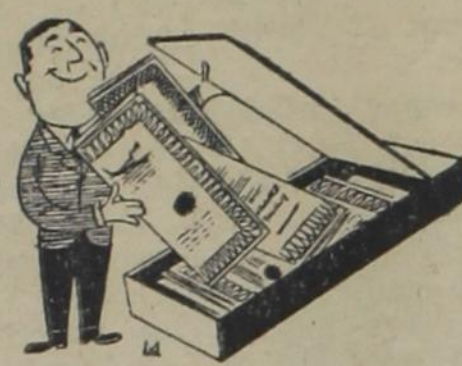

Will living expenses in California eat up Milam's higher salary? A state income tax and general sales tax in that state will take back a little of the $1,712 salary raise he will receive. But there will be plenty left.

On the other hand, Milam personally compared prices in San Rafael on 50 food and other items his family buys each week. The total cost for these items was less than in Austin, the capital city of Texas. Comparable housing will cost about $15 a month more in San Rafael.

Milam's principal in Austin summed it up this way: "He is the kind of fellow we hate to lose."

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kornegay visited their son, J. W. Kornegay, who is Educational Director in the First Baptist Church in Tulsa, Okla.
