

This is an exciting time in our community—last minute details for Rising Star High School's homecoming are being worked out—Shelley Bailey, president of the Exes association, is checking her list to make sure that everything is in order. P.T.O. officers and committees are making preparations for the always delicious luncheon to be served to homecomers—cheerleaders are making posters, painting signs, and creating decorations for the big pep rally—Coach Gray and Wood are working those Wildcats in preparation for the Saturday night clash with the Mountaineers—in short it's a busy and exciting time.

It seems that almost every school in the area decided that October 2 was just the ideal time for a homecoming, and as a result, a lot of people are trying frantically to work out a schedule which will allow them to make it least two of the reunions. It's not easy!

The autumnal season made a beautiful entrance last week when Wednesday, the 22nd marked the first day of this writer's favorite season.

Certain questions that keep coming to mind these days, are sometimes heard on soap operas, they sound something like this:

Will the tests of Viking II prove that there really is Martian life on the Moon?
Will Channel 9 technicians make necessary repairs in time for the usual sessions of arm-chair quarter backing?
And will Jimmy Carter keep his foot out of his mouth long enough to get it in the presidential door? Just kidding Jimmy!

Speaking of Channel 9, the transmitter was repaired, replaced, or whatever in time for the noon telecast of the Natalie Powers show on Monday, when three local residents were interviewed by the charming and gracious Mrs. Powers.

Owen Aikin, general chairman of the local Bicentennial Committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Smith spoke briefly about the Kaleidoscope of Freedom Flags which were displayed in all of their colorful glory. A proud occasion for Rising Star.

Theresa Scott Wins State In 4-H Dress Reviuw

Theresa Scott, 16, of Rising Star, Texas, took top place in the 1976 State 4-H Dress Revue, and received the top wool-division award in San Antonio last weekend.

As state wide winner, she will represent Texas at the National 4-H Dress Revue in Chicago, November 30, during National 4-H Club Congress.

The double win was the second of its kind in two straight years, and the second since Dress Revue began in 1938.

As statewide winner, Miss Scott will receive an all expenses-paid trip to National 4-H Club Congress from Simplicity Pattern Company. She also won a Bernina sewing machine from the Bernina Sewing Center of San Antonio.

For the winning entry, Miss Scott constructed a four-piece ensemble in burgundy tones. It featured a 100 percent wool coat topped with a short, attached cape, for a full, flowing look.

Her fitted vest and flared skirt were topstitched for accent. Underneath, a print blouse in jersey knit completed the ensemble.

Projects Theresa has held besides clothing included; Public Speaking, Foods and Nutrition, Feeding and Showing Beef Cattle, Feeding Barrows for Show, Lambs for Show, and Home Improvement.

Round Up two years and received a 2nd place 1976, attended State 4-H Congress 1976, and has acted as a junior leader for three years. She has held reporter, secretary and council delegate offices in Rising Star 4-H Club and is Girl Vice Chairman of the County 4-H Council.

Karen Howard of Devine, Texas, was statewide runner-up. Other Dress Revue winners were Renne Muirhead of Red Oak, Tex., cotton-division winner, Cheryl Measures of Springtown, was cotton runner-up and statewide third-place winner, and Eileen Curry of Denton was wool runner-up.

Statewide finalists included Kim Campbell of Haskell, Kim Diederichsen of Dumas, Yvette Gouldsby of Hooks, Julie Hansen of Odem, Donna Jean Loden of Pearl, Julie Ludwig of Rosenberg, Ray Ann Skelton of Gouldbusk and Wanda Wolbrueck of Austin.

Traditionally State 4-H Dress Revue has been held in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas, however, to give more of Texas an opportunity to attend its events, "and see Texas 4-H Youth in action," the annual affair has taken to the road for the first time.

State 4-H Dress Revue is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System as part of its State 4-H and Youth Program.

Other Dress Revue sponsors included, McCall's Pattern Company, the San Antonio J.C. Penney Stores and Celanese Fiber marketing Company.

Also, the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association, Cloth World, Inc. and Vogue Pattern Company.

T.D.A. Requests Recipes

Eastland County cooks are asked to submit their favorite recipes and hints from the past for publication in the winter issue of the TDA Quarterly, the Texas Department of Agriculture's consumer-oriented magazine.

"In our winter issue, which will focus on agriculture in the Cross Timbers area, we will publish recipes from cooks from that area, with a special emphasis on peanut recipes. However, any good recipe will be considered," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

"Hints from the past may include such items as old-time remedies, recipes and methods of food preservation. These household-type hints are in danger of disappearing and we are interested in helping to preserve them," White added.

Deadline for submitting the recipes and hints is October 20.

TDA Quarterly takes a look at a specific region of Texas in each issue. It began publication last year. The magazine is free to Texas residents.

Recipes and old-time hints selected for publication will be credited to the sender. They will not be returned. They should be mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Information Section, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Wildcats Tie Buffaloes, 6-6

BY KEN HOUNSELL

The Rising Star Wildcats and the Cross Plains Buffaloes continued their long rivalry with a 6-6 tie last Saturday night on the Cross Plains Homecoming. Three inches of rain slowed the Wildcats down as it came steadily all night long. The Cats, who have been 38 points a game up to now, were forced to give up much of their offensive attack. Cross Plains had the luck of the weather as they could run their offense in any kind of weather.

The weather did allow the Cats to run one play of offense, when on the Cats first play from scrimmage, Macky Elliott followed beautiful blocking around right end for a 60 yard score. Elliott's run for the extra point fell one point short.

The two teams fought between the 10 yard lines for the rest of the half as when each got inside the others 20, a fumble or a touch defense would force the other to give up the ball.

The Buffaloes came back to score in the third quarter as tailback Ken Hunter went over from one yard out. The Cats got tough for the try for the winning points as they stopped fullback Sam Koeing at the 6 yard line.

The Cats were constantly defending their own goal as Cross Plains was always inside the Cats 35 except for a few instances. Elliott's quick kicking put the Buffaloes inside their own 10 yard line twice in the first quarter and was getting the Cats out of the hole very often. Only one was blocked on 7-10 kicks.

Randy Bibb also came through under pressure as he centered the soaked pigskin perfectly all night long to Elliott in the single-wing "shot-gun" formation.

The Cats had 13 first downs to Cross Plains' 15 and rushed for 116 yards to the Buffaloes' 104. Elliott completed 2 passes for 48 yards while the Buffs hit one for 4 yards.

The Buffaloes did have one last change as they drove to the Cats' 15 but were held on the clock. After 3 plays there 10 ticks left on the clock and the stage was set for a 33 yards FG attempt. With the rain still coming down the ball snapped but by the time it was placed on the back tee the kicker decided the best thing to do was to cover it instead of kick it and the game ended 6 all.

The Cats' 2-1-1 now face Santa Anna for the Homecoming game Saturday night. Santa Anna's 1-3 are coming off a 20-14 win over Hawley. They will be seeking revenge over the 18-13 loss the Mountaineers suffered to the Cats last year in the final minutes of play.

There is no doubt in the Wildcats' minds that the stands will be filled as they were in the rain last Saturday while the Buffs fans left Homecoming will also attract many exes. Happy Homecoming Exes.

The Rising Star Kittens downed the Blanket Kittens, Thursday Sept. 23, 2-0, at Blanket. The only points were made by Marc Kizer on a touchback. It was an even match for the Kittens, both our's and their's defense and offense were really great. This makes a 2-2 season for the Kittens.

I.C.A. Praises Tax Legislation

In Washington, Thursday, Independent Cattlemen's Association's president T.A. Cunningham and vice-president Roy Wheeler, joined Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Congressman Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson, in witnessing the rewarding results of many months of hard work spent in reforming the present estate taxations laws. Both the Senate and the house agreed to the Conference Report on the Tax Reform Act that included revision of the present estate tax law which is causing the liquidation of many farms, ranches, and small businesses for no other reason than the payment of Federal Estate Tax.

This act will repeal the existing exemption of $60,000 and replace it with a $30,000 credit, which in 1977 is the equivalent of a $120,667 exemption. By the year 1981, a tax credit of $47,000 will phase in providing an exemption equivalent of $175,625. This act will also allow agricultural lands to be valued according to what the land will produce rather than at fair market value.

T.A. Cunningham stated, "The people in agriculture and small business in Texas should pay special thanks to Senator Bentsen and Congressman Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson, for these men were ever so instrumental in the passage of this much need legislation. Senator Bentsen introduced in this legislation in the Senate and guided it through the floor while Congressmen Pickle and Burleson carried the stick in the House, beating off opposition as it arose."

Senate Finance Committee to th

The final legislation passed by Congress contained a carry-over basis provision which was actively opposed by some agricultural organizations. The Congress's proponents of the estate tax legislation feared that if this section of the bill were deleted the entire estate tax reform would have been thrown out completely. T.A. Cunningham reacted to the other agricultural organizations opposition stating, "It is better to have a bite of the apple than no apple at all. In my opinion we now have three-fourths of the apple."

Roast Turkey For Casual Meals

by Martha Logan

A casual family meal can be special when a frozen turkey roast is cooked with chunked corn-on-the-cob, lima beans and carrots. The frozen giblet gravy concentrate added to the pan juices is a savory accompaniment to the sliced, cooked turkey and vegetables. It's so easy to prepare and attractive to serve.

- Turkey Roast Gardinere
Yield: 6 to 8 servings
- | | |
|---|--|
| 4 pound Swift's Premium Frozen Turkey Roast with Giblet Gravy | 4 to 5 carrots, pared and cut into 1 inch pieces |
| 3 to 4 ears of corn, cut into 2 inch pieces | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 10 ounces fresh or frozen lima beans | 3/4 teaspoon chili powder |
| | 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper |
| | 2 cups hot chicken bouillon |

Thaw turkey roast according to package directions. Keep gravy frozen. Place turkey on a rack in a Dutch oven. Roast uncovered in a 325° F. oven for 1-1/2 hours. Remove from oven and add vegetables. Sprinkle seasonings over vegetables. Add bouillon. Cover. Return to oven and continue to cook 1-1/2 hours. Remove turkey and rack. Let turkey roast stand 15 minutes before carving. Remove vegetables with a slotted spoon to serving dish. Keep warm. Add frozen gravy packet to liquid in Dutch oven. Bring to a boil. Simmer 10 minutes stirring occasionally. Wildcat Tales

Wildcat Pride

As most of you already know we played Cross Plains Saturday night for their Homecoming. Cross Plains is considered Rising Star's greatest rival. Ever since I can remember, Cross Plains has been one of our most concentrated efforts. Well, I have never seen nor heard, so much spirit for one game. When we say we back our Cats 100 per cent we really mean it. Our backers stuck out three inches of rain to cheer the Wildcats on at Cross Plains stadium. The Wildcats gave it all they had!! We were all so proud to see all of our people at the game. Did you know that we had more people at the game sitting or standing in the rain than Cross Plains did? Thank you all so much for supporting the Wildcats like you did. Even though it turned out a tie - 6 to 6 we felt it a kind of victory. Homecoming is coming up this weekend, and we hope all of you will be able to come to some of the activities. The Registration Coffee kicks things off at 9:00 AM Saturday morning. The business meetings will begin at 10:00 AM and a great lunch will begin at 11:30 AM. The big parade will start at 2:30 PM with the pep rally scheduled for 3:00 PM. The big game will begin at 8:00 PM where we will meet the Mountaineers. This all happens Saturday, so try and make as much of it as you can. We are looking forward to a terrific turnout.

Until then,
Pam

Seniors

What a week!! CROSS PLAINS vs. RISING STAR HIGH SCHOOL.

Well, Cross Plains was really fired up for their Homecoming, but so were we. The hall was covered with signs, the stores were painted, the cars were painted, and they all showed that the Wildcats have a tremendous amount of backers. The Seniors have a sign in the hall which reads, "Wildcats, you've got what it takes." I want to see all of the community out cheering for the "TEAM" for the rest of the year.

We are all getting ready for six weeks tests. Can you believe that we, as seniors, only lack five more six weeks of school????

C'ya
DAR

Shphomores

The Sophomores have started on their float, and we are trying to get things fixed up. We have started on a play called, Take Three Girls. We haven't been able to do anything because we are studying for all our tests. Another event we are getting ready for is our Homecoming. We play Santa Anna for our Homecoming game. We tried to beat Cross Plains in three inches of rain!!!!

Kirk

Freshmen

Hi all you "fish bowl" fans. We have not done much this week. We had a class officers meeting September 16, and a class meeting to paint signs on September 23. We'd like to thank you all for going to Cross Plains to help cheer the Wildcats on. You should have seen the halls at High School last week. Boy were they ever decorated. Someone or something came over to Rising Star and slit some of the tires on the busses Wednesday night. Boy was that ever a sight. Well thats all till next week.

Toward New Horizons

Hi! This week we've really been busy. The Freshmen class is finally getting to cook. We had a meeting Thursday, and the Freshmen cooked the cookies for it. They were all really good. Pam and Laurie Hill and Jeanne Hounsel gave us some ideas of what the life in Hawaii is like. It was really exciting. Mrs. Diddle is beginning to make house visits now. On October 1st, the FHA is going to have a bake sale, so everyone come and buy alot. At our meeting we discussed our projects and money-making projects.

See 'ya next week
Marilyn

With the Farmhands

The Ag boys are getting ready for six weeks tests. We are finishing chapter for the test. We are going to have a point system this year. The boy who has the most points in each class gets a prize. We are buying some FFA caps. We elected a program committee. They are: Randy Bibb, Johnny Childers, and Randy Kinsey.

Annual Staff News.

This week in the annual room we have started working on some of the pages, mostly adds. We found out that we have a deadline November 16, for 50 pages. And also, I would like to announce that the annuals will be here May 6, 1977. If anyone would like to buy an ad and have not been asked, Please contact one of the people on the annual staff.

Well I guess thats about all for this week. See ya.
Gwen

Rah! Rah! Rah!

Well the Wildcats had a tremendous victory over Richland Springs. The score was 50 to 30. We played Cross Plains last Friday. They played great. Well this week is the big week. The parade will be at 2:30, following will be the pep rally. The cheerleaders have learned a new pom pom routine, and we will do it at the pep rally. You all be sure to come. The game is here against Santa Anna at 8:00 Be sure to come.

Wildcats Country - Welcome Back Exes

Welcome exes and howdy again to Wildcat Country regulars! It's Homecoming weekend. The Cats face 1-3 Santa Anna who are in our District, but in the West Zone. If you remember last year it was an exciting game as the Cats pulled out a win in the final few minutes of play. The Wildcats 2-1-1 are off to their best start in three years. They are now averaging thirty points per game, while the starting defensive unit has allowed only two legitimate touchdowns in the last three games.

Mackey Elliott rates fourth in area scoring with forty points in the class B area, while Ken Hounsel is sixth with 34 points as of Sept. 23. The Cats rate 45th on the Harris Pole as of the same date.

React Says 23-Channel CBs Are Still Good

In the wake of Federal Communications Commission action to expand the Citizens Radio Band from 23 to 40 channels, some people have gotten the idea that present 23 channel sets will be obsolete. R.T. Ezzell President of Rising Star Emergency REACT Team, states the information he has received from REACT International Headquarters indicates that the present 23 channel will not be affected by the new additional 17 channel which becomes effective on January 1, 1977.

According to REACT, an international citizens radio emergency communications organization, the present 23 channels will be continued and the radios now in use, continue to be useful for many years to come. The REACT Team will continue to monitor Channel 9, the official Emergency and Motorists Assistance Channel as a public service.

Indicates that the present 23 channels will not be affected by the

The local affiliate of REACT, Rising Star Emergency, maintains a volunteer watch on the CB emergency channel 9 and participates in local community activities where communications are required. The group is prepared for emergency communications assistance on the CB band. Further information is available from R.T. Ezzell, or John Bishop.

Cross Plains Resident Reaches Century Mark

The following news item was published in an area paper, almost a century ago.

"Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elias Booker Kent, September 30, 1876, a male child.

They have named him Charley Alexander. His parents live near Gatesville in Coryell County".

Charley Alexander Kent is the second child in a family of 14 children, nine boys and five girls.

He came to Callahan County with his parents, at the age of four. The family lived in Bu Brand just north of Cross Plains for about two years, when they moved to Eastland County, east of the Salt Tank Cemetery. The older children attended the Salt Tank School.

Charley Kent was married to Alice Abby Jones of Cross Plains on November 30, 1904 at Rising Star by a Reverend Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent moved back to Callahan County in January of 1916 to make their home 2 1/2 miles north of Cross Plains, where he raised a family of ten children. He was a farmer.

Nine of the ten Kent Children are still living, Elias, Jerry, L.D. Jasper, Mrs. Calvin Ingram, Mrs. G. F. Clark, Mrs. Ray King, Mrs. O.A. McCoy, Mrs. Ruth Dellinger, one son

Tohl, is deceased.

Many changes have occurred during the life span of Mr. Kent. When his family first settled in this area, the farming was done with a team of oxen, and now a century later we are exploring the moon.

Mr. Kent is now a resident of the Colonial Oaks Nursing Home in Cross Plains, where he will celebrate his 100th birthday on September 30th.

Look at your attitude toward aging.

Get off your rocker. Don't take old age sitting down.

Texas Wildflower

If you've ever wanted to grow your own oak tree from a special acorn, now is the time to start. How to do it is told in the Fall issue of a new quarterly publication: The Texas Wildflower Newsletter.

The key to oak-growing success is to never let the acorns dry out and to plant them immediately, writes research scientist Benny J. Simpson of TAMU at Renner.

Simpson also suggests that you pick your acorns directly from the tree and avoid those on the ground, which may have been damaged by insects.

Simpson's step-by-step guide to growing your own oak forest is just one of the features in the Wildflower Newsletter.

Horticulturist Jill Senior gives in-depth techniques on how to propagate two groups of beautiful Texas shrubs: Silverbell and Agarita.

Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson picks her favorite Texas wild flowers and tells you why.

And three of the Newsletter's pages are filled with things to make and do, what to plant and collect during the Fall months.

Charter subscriptions are still available at $3 per year. Just write to Texas Wildflower Newsletter, 500 Thompson, Kerrville, Texas 78028.

Sipe Springs Couple To Celebrate Anniversary

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the occasion.

Save the syrup of canned fruits in a plastic container and keep it in the freezer until you have enough. Thicken it with a little cornstarch and use it as a hot sauce over snow pudding, pound cake, French toast, or pancakes.

React Receives Favorable I.R.S. Ruling

Rising Star Emergency REACT Team and all other U.S. Citizens Band Radio Emergency Teams affiliated with REACT International, Inc., are declared exempt from Federal Income Taxes and eligible to receive tax deductible contributions as charitable and educational organizations under a recent favorable ruling by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

Explaining the significance of the ruling, REACT Team President, R.T. Ezzell, stated, "This ruling affirms the basic public service role of REACT Teams. It will permit our local REACT Team to accept the public support that is required to organize and carry out programs to meet the needs of the fast growing CB user population."

Ezzell pointed out that the ruling also affects individual REACT members who may now deduct their out-of-pocket costs of REACT participation from their personal Federal Income Tax returns.

Literary Notes On The Southwest

By James P. White

Lon Tinkle is most probably the best authority on Southwestern literary activity of the past 50 years. His first review appeared in the Dallas Morning News in 1926 and for five subsequent decades he has worked to encourage literature and to evaluate literature coming from the Southwest.

He views contemporary Southwestern writers as writers celebrating their own response to literature and to the region they are writing about. Larry McMurry's is a hostile response, John Graves' is a compatible response. Contemporary Southwestern literature he sees as hyperself-conscious.

This self-consciousness is not a negative characteristic, however. Tinkle states that "there is big talent and variety in Texas writing today. It is important to stress that regionalism naturally gets most of its importance from the involvement of a writer in his material. It's foolish to characterize a novel as a Texas novel." Tinkle studied at the Sorbonne and at Columbia University, and for a number of years taught French and comparative literature.

He is the author of a long list of works and currently is writing the biography of J. Frank Dobie, which he has been working on since 1964. He was the executor of Dobie's literary estate along with Dobie's wife. Tinkle also has worked in drama with Margot Jones and has served as President of the Texas Institute of Letters. He was in Paris after World War II with Hemingway and Fitzgerald.

His works include 13 Days to Glory—about the siege of the Alamo, a book in which he attempts to gain the historical spirit of the crisis. His book, Texas, which is a pictorial book on Texas with a long essay by Tinkle is a best seller published by Scribners and is now being distributed in paperback.

He is planning a book Southwestern literature of the 1930's and has reviewed for the Saturday Review and The New York Times. Tinkle has written a number of works which have put him in a national focus. He is of particular interest because of his support of Southwestern writers.

During the literary renaissance of the late 20's and 30's in the Southwest he knew Oliver Lafarge, who wrote Laughing Boy, Catherine Ann Porter who wrote Flowering Judas, J. Frank Dobie who wrote Coronado's Children, McGinnis James who wrote The Raven, and Willa Cather who wrote Death Comes for the Archbishop. D.H. Lawrence was in New Mexico as was Huxley, Isherwood and Spender. All were concerned with the Southwest. Painters were included too, such as George O'Keefe and John Sloan.

Tinkle views this rich period of Southwestern culture as one when strong nationally important artists in this region were celebrating the area and were not so self-conscious as present day writers are.

He states that "Culture is a contagion of people who agree about a certain lifestyle" and his hope, which he has worked toward for years, is to make art central in everyone's lifestyle, to make literature, drama, music and all of the arts important in our culture.

Pioneer News

- Mrs. A.C. Halsell

The book "You Can't Go Home Again" by Wolfe, was not a good argument (even though it is interesting reading) as we observed the large crowd of Home-comers in Cross Plains last Friday and Saturday. There will be other comments in this week's Review but my thoughts and perhaps the thoughts of many others, are about the Homecoming. So these few timely comments are my introduction to News this week.

One thing we are mindful of, is that we can meet and enjoy the fellowship of those we have known in the past; we are mindful that time passes, along with its varied events. From the past, we can never see the return of part of the past. I'm reminded of these lines by Richardson:

Three things return not, even for prayers and tears -
The arrow which the archer shoots at will;
The spoken word, kept
and sharp to sting;
The opportunity left unimproved.

If thou would speak a word of loving cheer,
Oh, speak it now. This moment is thine own.

Mrs. Ethel Brown was so thoughtful to call me Sunday night about all the many guests she had during the week of Homecoming, that I am writing her up before I get too weary to call others. Thanks, Ethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Cochran from Abilene, Lou Grider, Mr. Exal McMillan all on Monday. Mrs. Gladys Sessum on Tuesday and Mrs. Halsell on Wednesday, on Friday Mrs. Brown visited in Rising Star Nursing Home with several friends. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Anderson, all of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hughes and Julie of Crane; Billy Joyce Eddington and son Eddie and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morralls all of Albany; Mrs. TOMMY King, Blandye and Leah of Pioneer Mrs. Ethel Anderson and Mrs. Mrs. Stewart Sowell all of Cross Plains, also visited.

C.J.C. Offers Hunter Safety Class

A special night course in HUNTER SAFETY will be one of a dozen different general interest classes on Cisco Junior College's fall semester schedule of Community Service Courses, Executive Dean Carroll Scott has announced.

The Hunter Safety program will begin one week ahead of the other classes, Scott said. It is designed for youngsters as well as adults, and will meet two evenings per week for three weeks, with one Sunday afternoon spent on the rifle range.

The class will begin with registration and the first meeting on Tuesday, October 5 at 7:00 p.m. Students will come to the CJC Registrar's Office in the Administration Building to sign up, and the class will meet in Room 10 of the same building. It will last until 9:30 p.m., and subsequent sessions will be on Tuesday and Thursday nights for three weeks, with the additional Sunday afternoon meeting. The students will have actual gun firing practice during the Sunday session, Scott said.

Bill Ash, an experienced and qualified instructor, will be in charge of the class, and the cost will be $13.00. Mr. Ash has issued a special invitation for students in high school, junior high, and the upper grades of intermediate school, as well as adults who are interested in learning proper safety measures while hunting, to consider taking the course. The instruction will cover, among other things, the topics of hunter responsibility in the field and to the landowner, handling of guns, survival, and first aid.

Other classes on the fall Community Service Schedule, details of which will be announced in a later release, will include: Beginning and Advanced Karate on Sunday afternoons; Typing and Oil Painting on Monday evening; Art for Children on Tuesday afternoons; Macrame; Bowling, Rock and Mineral Identification, Defensive Driving, and Cake Decorating on Tuesday evenings; a second section of Defensive Driving on Wednesday evenings; and Beginning Silversmithing, Conversational Spanish, and a third section of Defensive Driving on Thursday nights.

All classes except Hunter Safety will begin the week of October 10-15, Mr. Scott said. Further details may be obtained from his office or from the CJC Dean of Admissions Office, 442-2567. A mailer listing the complete schedule of classes, along with costs and descriptions, will be mailed out to all residential postal costs and descriptions, will be mailed out to all residential postal customers in Cisco and surrounding towns next week, he said, and everyone is invited to take advantage of the program. There are no admission requirements other than a desire to learn, the dean concluded.

Church News

First United Methodist Church

There is no sentence in the Bible which more distinctively expresses the mind of Jesus regarding the conduct of life than "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness." It is His definition of the chief good which is within the reach of every man.

Every man who would make life a success must have something that is always first for him. The kingdom of God is the new spiritual economy. To seek it, is to make attainment for ourselves and others, or the holy spiritual happiness which it secures to all its genuine subjects, our great object, to lay up treasures for ourselves in heaven.

As John Trapp once said, "man is in need of learning to covet spiritual things, to labor for the meat that perisheth not." Thus the object of everyman should and ought to be that of laying hold upon eternal life, for temporal things are mutable and monetary. Besides, they are insufficient and unsatisfactory, and many times prove instruments of vice, and hindrances from heaven. Spiritual things, on the other side, are solid and substantial, serving to a life that is supernatural.

Our Lord in his speaking suggests that if man attains true and full satisfaction and transcendent desire after that one supreme object, and then there will be no room and leisure left for the anxious care after the lesser. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness," here is the secret of a quiet heart. And nothing, no nothing, makes men lighthearted like deliverance from care and anxiety.

Trying to keep up with the sick of Our Church is a task, however we try and invite the help of all our members. In review we find Mrs. Maggie Groce and Mrs. Hester Miller still confined to the Cisco hospital. Mrs. Vivian Koonce has been released from All Saints in Ft. Worth and is at home with her daughter, Mrs. Linda K. Brown at 3045 Texas Boulevard, Ft. Worth, 76116. Word was received a few days ago that Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wyatt of the Sipe Springs community has been ailing. And too, we find Mary Boase has returned to the Nursing Home to set up temporary residence. Mrs. Mabel Rolston tells us she is returning to Dallas to stay with her daughter for the winter months. David said: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." So let us put our trust in Him who is able to keep us from falling. Together let us pray for our friends and neighbors for good health and peace.

Be reminded we stand ready to give assistance when and where needed and continue to rejoice that we are permitted to minister in the Name of Our Lord. Call us if we can help. Hubert Taylor

First Baptist Church

We have all seenbooks advertised in magazines. When we go to a book store there are so many books on the shelves. Most of the time we are not impressed to buy any of the books advertised or that we see in a book store.

If though I in some way come to know the author of some book I will take a second look and perhaps buy that book. Some years ago Herbert Lockyer held a Bible conference in a church I pastored. I have since purchased many of his books. Other speakers I have heard or come to know and I say, "Man, I've got to get their book!"

For years as a child and then as a youth, the Bible sat on a table in our home. I never, hardly looked at it. One day I heard the Gospel and I accepted Jesus Christ as my Savior. As a Christian I picked up the Bible and started to read it. Since that time I have purchased several new Bibles.

What made the difference? I came to believe in and to know the one behind all the movements of the Bible. I know the author. The more I read the Bible and think upon the truths from the Bible my knowledge of Christ and what God would have me do grows.

How is it with you, Reader? Do you know Christ as your Savior? Do you read God's Word each day?

Visiting with us in our church were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Barton and children, Mrs. Susan Williams all of Rising Star, George and Amy Phillely of Fort Stockton, Leslie Alford of Mesquite, and Jason and Steven Darr of Fort Sam Houston.

The Church has set a goal of 175 in Sunday School by October 31 You all come!! Each Sunday evening the G.A.'s, R.A.'s, and Mission Friends will meet from 6:00 to 6:50. This includes a class for all preschoolers 3 to 5 years old and Girls and boys grades 1-6. All children are invited to learn about missions at home and abroad. Learn to be a missionary every day. R. WORK SAVER -- Did you know a lump of alum placed in your silver drawer will keep silver from tarnishing?

TWO FOR ONE -- Mild cheddar cheese does double duty if you know how to convert it to sharp cheddar for special recipes. Add dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce to taste and you'll have a very acceptable sharp cheese.

FLOWERY COOKING -- Pioneer cooks knew the value of marigolds as an herb. Be adventurous and use the dried petals to enhance the flavor of salads, soups and stews. For peak flavor, pick early in the morning.

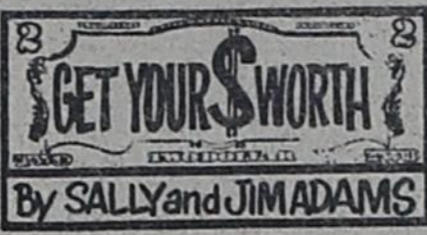

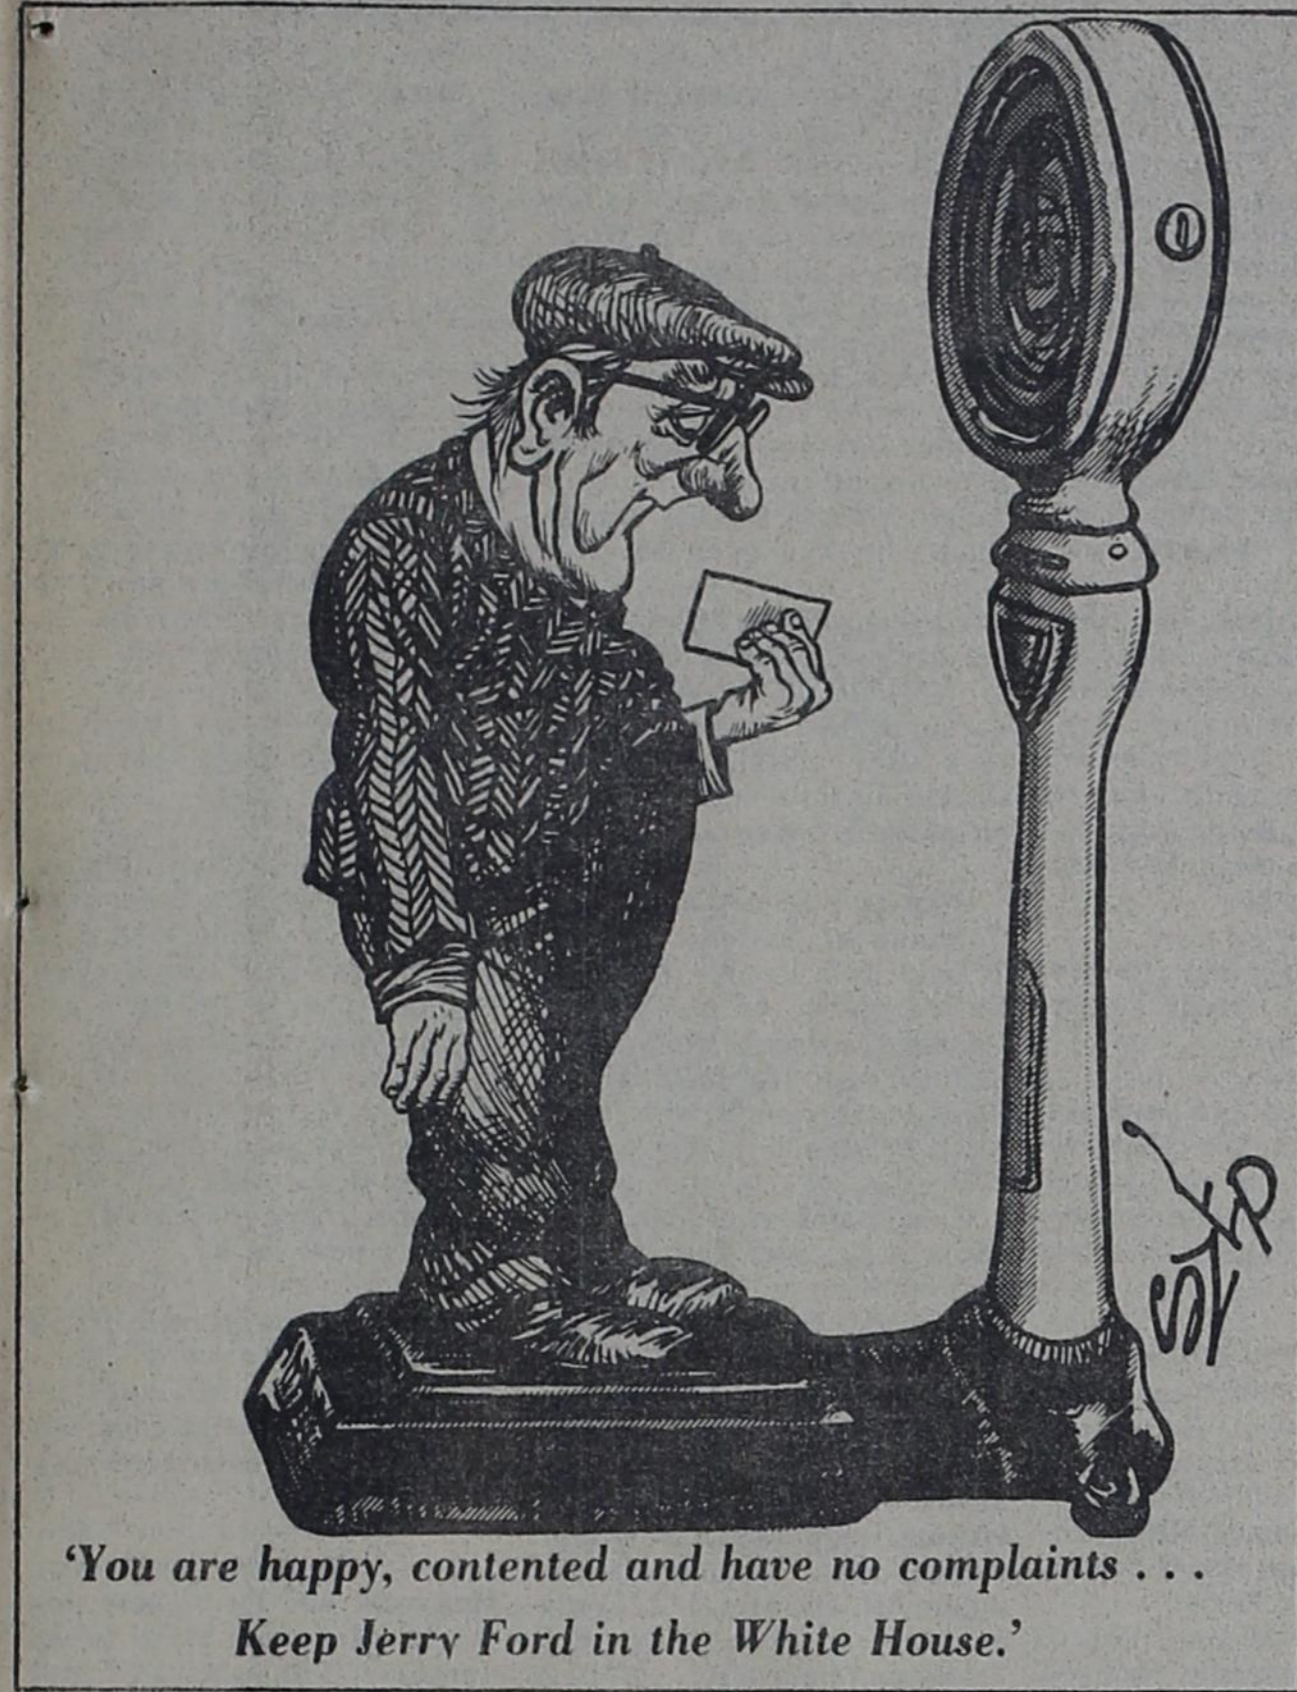

BEWARE -- When storing summer clothes in garment bags with moth balls, be sure to use wire or wooden hangers. Plastic hangers could soften and stick to your clothing when exposed to moth balls in closed quarters.

PARTY SPECIALS -- Cream puffs freeze very well if they are not filled. And they're great to have on hand for special treats. Fill with ice cream for desserts, or with seafood or chicken salad for tempting luncheon dishes.

TIME SAVER -- To know at a glance how much paint is left in those old cans on your storage shelves, mark the paint level on the outside of the can after each use.

WINTERIZING HERBS -- It's almost time to beat Jack Frost and bring your herbs inside to ready for winter use. Spread them on a cheese cloth or screening in a dark, well-ventilated place for a week. When brittle, strip leaves and store in airtight jars in dark place. For cooking, crush about a third as much as you would use of fresh herbs.

RULE OF THUMB -- Wouldn't it be lovely if all manufacturers marked the size on the bottom of their baking dishes? For those not marked, use this rule of thumb. A one-quart casserole will hold 4 cups of water, 1 1/2 quarts will hold 6 cups, etc.

SAFE-DEPOSIT BOX

Consumer experts urge you to invest in a safe-deposit box -- a small annual expense that could save you a good deal of time and money by protecting certain papers and valuables against fire, theft or other forms of destruction.

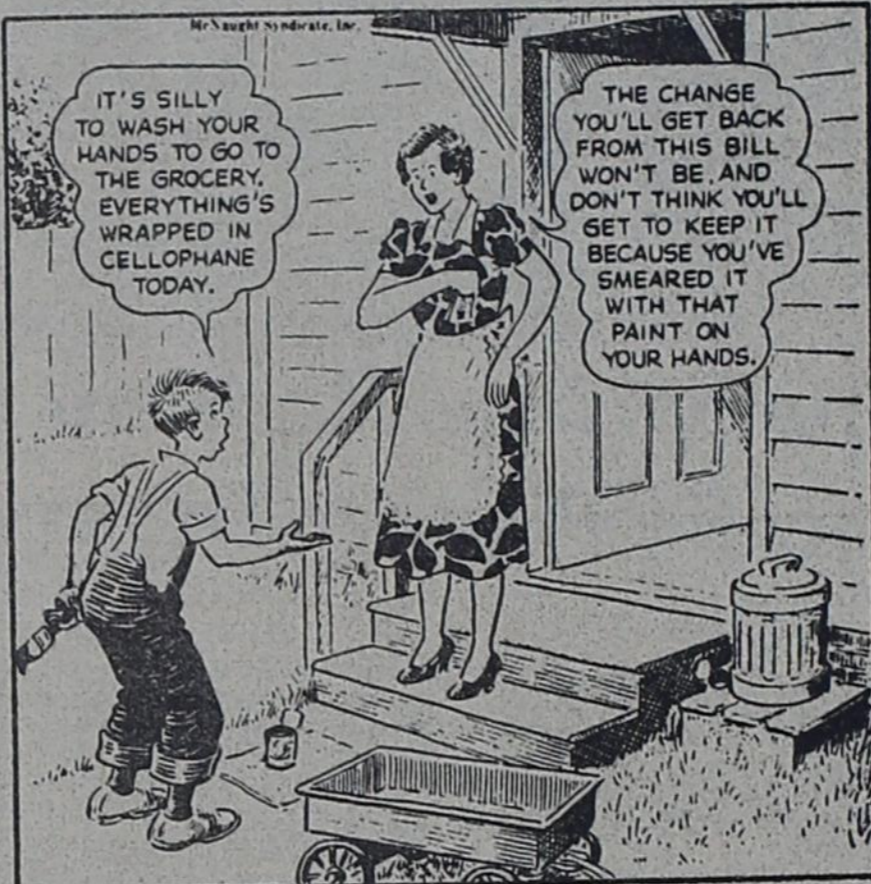

What should you keep in a safe-deposit box? Any documents that would be difficult or impossible to replace if they were destroyed or stolen. Birth, death, and marriage certificates. Citizenship papers. Adoption papers. Military discharge documents. Property records -- deeds, mortgages and titles.

Also fire insurance policies. Stocks and bonds certificates. Auto titles, bills of sale for expensive items, business contracts. Passports.

Also records of money you've spent for home improvements, which you will need to get a reduction on the income tax you must pay if you sell your house at a profit.

Also, your household inventory, so that you'll have proof of loss in case of fire or burglary. The inventory should be complete -- room-by-room list of everything you possess -- furniture, appliances, paintings and other art objects, rugs, draperies, silver, china, phonograph and TV; books, bedding, linens; also sports and hobby equipment; coins, stamps or other collections. Also garden tools and equipment.

In addition to making a list, it is a good idea to photograph the contents of each room as added proof of loss when it comes time to deal with the insurance adjuster.

The safe-deposit box is the place to keep valuable jewelry, unless you wear it frequently.

But don't keep in a safe-deposit box papers you might need in a hurry: your will, and insurance, health and accident policies. Boxes are usually sealed upon the death of the renter, and it might take your heirs a long time to gain access to these papers.

Are there any new medicines for palsy (the shakes)? I take L-Dopa. -- C.M.

L-Dopa is one of the newer medications for treating your condition. If it is not working well for you, set an appointment with your doctor. It sounds like it is time for an adjustment. Your doctor may want to change the medicine, or dosage, or may want to prescribe additional medication.

What is a good way to administer medicine (in tablet form) to a dog? -- C.K.

One way is to put the tablet in some peanut butter. I've been told this works fine -- if your dog likes peanut butter. If any of you animal lovers have some other suggestions to help animals take their medicine, let me know. I'll pass it along to our readers.

I know there is a drug which will make a person ill if he drinks alcohol, but there is a drug which will make a person lose the desire for alcohol? -- D.J.

One such chemical is being studied now. It seems to be beneficial for alcoholics whose problem stems from metabolic imbalances. The chemical, called p-CPA, works by reducing the serotonin levels within the brain. A lower serotonin level seems to produce a marked reduction in the desire for alcohol.

AUTUMN LAWN CARE

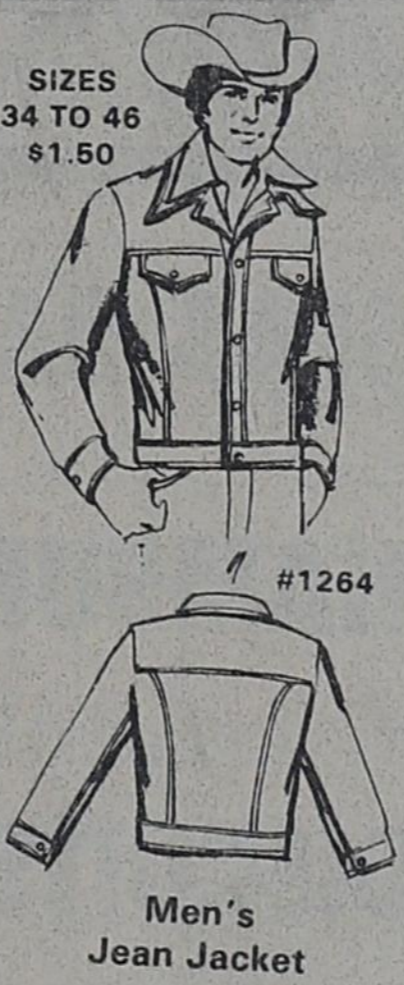

Fall is an ideal time to repair brown or bare patches in your lawn. Scratch the superficial soil of these spots and reseed them. The cooler, damper weather to come should help these patches catch up with the rest of the lawn.

Right now is feed-your-lawn time and that 10-5-5 or 20-5-10 (indicating amounts and proportions of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash respectively) fertilizers are best. But did you know that two fall feedings -- plus another one, of course, in late spring of the following year -- are now considered of optimal importance by most lawn experts. Try to space them four weeks apart and get the second fertilization in before possible frosts.

You will be mowing the lawn less and less as the weather gets cooler and since the clippings will be lighter than they were all summer, it is a good idea to leave them on top of the growing grass. Research has shown that the cut grass returns nitrogen to the soil, improves soil structure by increased water infiltration, controls certain grass enemies and, in general, it's ecologically efficient as a practice because it recycles nutrients back to the earth.

Water should be continued as usual as long as the weather stays warm and the most respected experts on the subject recommend watering lawns heavily but infrequently. One and a half inches every five days is best, according to the latest research data. ©1976 McNaught Synd.

Sipe Springs Resident Recalls Pioneer Days

By HAZEL ARNOLD HILL

Some people at 98 might be living in the past, but not Mrs. Zelma Runkle Morgan of Sipe Springs, Comanche County. Pioneer life taught her long ago that the challenge of each new day demanded the best she had to give.

"One reason I don't remember the things back in the past," she told me recently, "is when that's gone I try to forget it and try to do things in the future."

Mrs. Morgan celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday on January 6, but she looks and seems more like a woman in her sixties.

She lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Winnie and Herman Anderson, and is an active member of the household.

An active member of the Order of the Eastern Star for over half a century, she has held several of the offices in the Sipe Springs chapter. At present she serves as Warder, which chair she has occupied for more than thirty years.

Just before Christmas she finished quilting a quilt that her mother had "pieced" more than fifty years ago.

"If you stop planning," she told me, "you stop living. Sometimes when people get old, they get that chair and sit down and naturally lose the use of themselves, but I keep moving around. Now, I can get out here and dig in my flower beds, plant my flowers, water them and take care of them. I had as pretty flowers as you ever saw last year around that little old mesquite tree. The petunias looked just like a calico dress."

Mrs. Morgan was born in Burleson County in 1878, the second child and the oldest daughter of Joseph Daniel and Ellen Runkle. Her recollections of Burleson County center around visits to the home of her Aunt Mary Bowles.

In 1882 her family moved by covered wagon to Erath County, and her father worked one year on the Barbee Ranch near Dublin.

Runkle promoted the idea and managed to secure the first mail route in northwest Comanche County. It ran from Gap to Sipe Springs. Tom Brown carried the mail on that route for many years.

Zelma Runkle had four sisters: Nellie, Hattie, Mary, and Sally; and besides Jim, she had three other brothers: John, Joe and Fred. They attended the Shrum School, located about three miles southwest of their home. One teacher taught forty or fifty students in all grades.

She studied in the Blue Back Speller and the McGuffey's Readers. Games at recess time were "marbles," "Mumbly Peg," and "Ante Over."

On Sept. 5, 1888, she was married to John Jefferson Morgan, a blacksmith and owner of a livery stable at Sipe Springs. Mr. Morgan's first wife had died leaving him with five children ranging in age from nine years to sixteen months.

The youngest of the children, little Harry, died two months after Mr. and Mrs. Morgan married, but the other four grew up, hardly aware that she was not their own mother.

On Sept. 16, 1903, a new baby, Winnie, was born.

Mr. Morgan — "Big Jeff," as the old-timers remember him — was a big man. Born at Osage in Coryell County in 1861, the son of a Texas Ranger, he grew up amid the hardships of Reconstruction times.

Besides keeping the blacksmith shop and the livery stable, he "freighted" until about 1910, when the MK&T Railroad built a spur line from De Leon to Cross Plains, bringing the trains through Sipe Springs.

He built roadbeds and constructed earthen dams for reservoirs. He helped build the De Leon to Cross Plains line and the Stamford and Northwestern, which runs from Stamford to Spur. He built the reservoir which for many years furnished water for the city of Eastland.

Mrs. Morgan was accustomed to doing whatever had to be done. In the house and on the farm.

"I don't reckon there's anything on the farm that I haven't helped to do," she smiled. "When we moved out here, Mr. Morgan wanted to hire a hand to help him break land. But I told him I'd rather break the land than to wait on a hired hand. So when we'd get the kids off to school, he'd drive one plow and I'd drive the other. I told him if we were going to hire somebody I'd hire me a housekeeper because I'd a whole lot rather work outside than in the house."

With the discovery of oil in Sipe Springs' famous "Shallow Field" in 1920, the town boomed. Both the Morgan place and the Runkle place had production. "Big Jeff," with his gray horses, "Doc" and "Clyde," did oil field work, moving rigs, pulling wells, and hauling supplies. By that time, Winnie was the only one of the Morgan children still "at home," and she was her father's best ranch hand. But Mrs. Morgan still did her bit too. "Big Jeff" continued to farm, as well as run cattle and do oil field work.

Mrs. Morgan remembers the Fourth of July in 1923, when a blizzard suddenly blew in from the north dropping the temperature to the thirties in a very short time. The "women folks" were preparing dinner for the threshing crew and had the tables set on the back porch when the norther struck.

They hurriedly built a fire in the dining room fireplace and moved the table inside. And, instead of using the churns-full of iced tea they had prepared, they had to boil several pots of black coffee. The men worked in the fields in jackets that afternoon, finishing "Big Jeff's" threshing before nightfall.

Sipe Springs was a thriving community then, but today, there is only one store, one church, the Masonic Hall — the lower floor of which is used as a Community Center — and the homes of less than a dozen families scattered over the hills where foundation stones mark the sites of former residences and business houses. The school was consolidated with Rising Star in 1943.

Mrs. Morgan explained "There are now only three children of school age in the entire community."

"Big Jeff" died in 1936, when Mrs. Morgan was fifty-eight years old. He had gone off into the big pasture that January morning to haul wood, and his team and dogs came home with an empty wagon. Mrs. Morgan and Winnie, taking 5-year-old Harry Andersen with them, drove the team back into the pasture, following the dogs, who went straight to his body, lying beside a tree that he had felled. He had been trimming the limbs off the trunk when stricken by a heart attack.

"He was talking and laughing and just as peart as he could be when he left the house that morning," Mrs. Morgan remembers.

Mrs. Morgan has never spent a night in a hospital. She keeps up with current events through TV and radio broadcasts, as well as through the daily newspaper.

"Do you know what I think makes people live longer now days?" she asked. "Because the houses are warmer, and they have warmer beds. And I just think that has a whole lot to do with your life."

C.J.C. Tops Enrollment Figure

Cisco Junior College has again established an all-time record enrollment, according to the fall semester figures released today by the college.

A total of 1711 Students are registered for courses at CJC and its four extension centers in Abilene, Clyde, Merkel, and Coleman. This represents an increase of eighteen percent over the 1975 fall enrollment, which was 1448.

A breakdown of the student numbers shows 784 on the main campus at Cisco, 511 at the Community College Center of Abilene, 336 at the Clyde Educational Center, 47 at the Merkel Extension Center, and the Abilene college includes 55 students taking courses through the Dyess Air Force Base Education Office, and 456 taking technical-vocational programs coordinated through the CCCA extension operation in Abilene.

CJC Registrar Olin O. Odom III pointed out that the figures are a "head-count", with any student taking one or more courses at CJC or in one of its off-campus programs being counted.

Dr. Norman E. Wallace Jr., president of the college stated, "We are of course encouraged by having such a dramatic increase in enrollment this year when many colleges in the state have shown a decline. We hope to continue to merit the confidence of our constituency in the Big Country Area of Texas, and we anticipate further growth in virtually all phases of our operation during future years."
