Stringent New Rules Limit Use Of Buses

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation took war-time control today over all of the nation's inter-city bus operations, ordering present routes frozen, competitive service pooled, and all express service discontinued. The order is effective July 1.

In addition, except for one daily round trip, bus companies must discontinue schedules which fall to show an average load in both directions of less than 40 per cent of the seating capacity of the buses used. Operators are required to keep records of passenger miles and seat miles and report to ODT any round trip schedule which fails to meet the seating capacity requirement.

Such plans, or a statement as to why no plans have been agreed upon, must be submitted to ODT by July 30. Express service was ordered stopped, ODT said, to release vehicles needed in local service. The nationwide control followed two special orders based on operators' plans affecting four bus lines operating New York and Washington and two lines operating in the west. Other special orders covering particular routes and lines are forthcoming, ODT noted.

Filing Permitted For Railroad Commissioner

Deadline For Entries Set At June 11

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP)—Two railroad commission posts will be at stake in the democratic primary, July 25, by party executive committee action.

The group decided to permit filing until midnight June 11 for the post vacated by Jerry Sadler.

James E. Kilday, who sought unsuccessfully to file by June 1, announced following the committee ruling yesterday that he would be a candidate.

Meanwhile, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, said he would announce immediately.

Other potential candidates included State Senator Clem Fain of Livingston and C. E. McCormick, Cameron county business man.

The executive committee will meet at Corpus Christi June 12 to certify candidates for the position.

The committee certified a list of candidates for 12 statewide offices, including the railroad commission position now held by Ernest O. Thompson who is seeking re-election, at its Austin meeting.

Kilday, director of the rail commission's motor transportation division, filed notice of his candidacy for Sadler's place on June 1, before Sadler's resignation had been accepted by Governor Stevenson.

The executive committee took the position the office was vacant since June 1 and should be thrown open to all candidates for a limited time.

Those Austin for the party's September convention at which it will certify nominees for the general election ballot.

Rejected, 20 to 20, a proposal for a party referendum on prohibiting the sale and manufacture of alcoholic liquors for the duration of the war.

Held to a principle evolved in 1933 which leaves with county executive committees the determination of the right of negroes to party membership.

Authorized members of the armed forces, otherwise qualified to vote in person or absentee in party elections.

Gasoline Rationing To Await Tire Needs Study

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Postponement of any nationwide gasoline rationing until a comprehensive survey is made of the country's available scrap rubber was predicted in congressional quarters today.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Ky) said he understood such a survey was being contemplated and other informed legislators added that it was likely President Roosevelt would await the results before deciding whether it was necessary to put all private automobiles on short fuel rations.

Barkley told reporters there were all kinds of estimates on the amount of rubber that could be reclaimed from the scrap pile, ranging from the 10,000,000 ton estimate of one business executive down to a war production board expert's guess that only 700,000 tons could be obtained.

Meanwhile, Price Administrator Leon Henderson reported to a senate committee that it was likely that slightly more than 800,000 tons would be reclaimed in 1942. Henderson informed a special committee investigating the gasoline situation, headed by Senator Maloney (D-Conn) that 6,000,000 tire caps probably could be made from this amount.

At the same time Henderson expressed the opinion that no combination of tire conservation measures which did not include nationwide gasoline rationing could hope to avert "a serious transportation crisis."

"Even if improvement in the scrap situation were to make possible the top-capping of 6,000,000 passenger car tires this year and in future years," he said, "there is no reason to regard the motor transport problem as solved."

He said these capped tires, made of 74 per cent reclaimed rubber, were good for only 6,000 miles of wear at speeds of less than 40 miles an hour.

"This means that, at best, the top-capping program will add 30,000,000 miles to passenger car mileage each year, which is only 18.17 per cent of the distance travelled by passenger cars in 1940," Henderson's report said.

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A senate committee considering a bill to permit the allocation of 30,000 tons of reclaimed rubber and 20,000 tons of reclaimed tires each year for recapping and retreading of tires, was told today that this would permit operation of "at least 20,000,000 passenger cars."

Normally, there are about 30,000,000 passenger cars in operation. Ellender, chairman of a senate small business subcommittee on tires, and introducer of the measure, explained the rubber allocations would permit recapping or retreading of 30,000,000 automobile tires, "without in any way affecting adversely our war program."

An average requirement of from one and a half to two and a half ounces of crude rubber would be needed for each tire, he said, as an adhesive to bind the reclaimed rubber to the tire carcass. The total amount, he added, would represent "but a fraction of one per cent" of crude rubber stocks, which he estimated at 750,000 long tons.

Carmen Arroya New Mexican Teacher

Carmen Arroya, who received her degree from Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, last Monday, is new teacher at the Kate Morrison school here instructing in the second grade.

Miss Arroya arrived in Big Spring the day after commencement to take over the post of teacher among her own people. She was an outstanding student in high school and in college.

School Board Takes Steps Of Significance

Pre-Flight Course Approved, Tax Suits Ordered By Trustees

In a busy session Monday night, the Big Spring school board approved inauguration of a CAA pre-flight course in the high school, ordered the school expanded to a 12-grade system, instructed filing of suits for delinquent taxes, and accepted several resignations.

The pre-flight course will be open to both boys and girls in the senior class, and will cover all flying instruction preliminary to actual instruction in handling of planes.

Expansion to the 12-grade system—a move which has been taken already by many schools—will be accomplished by adjustments in the primary grades. Present high school students will graduate according to their old schedules.

The school tax assessor was instructed to turn over to the school attorney all delinquent tax accounts on which satisfactory arrangements for payment have not been made. The attorney will be instructed to file suits and prosecute them until collection has been made.

This action follows a warning letter issued to tax payers in mid-May. Since that warning, more than $3,500 in past-due taxes have been collected and many persons have made arrangements for payments of their accounts.

Resignations were accepted from King J. Sides, assistant superintendent, who has accepted a position as assistant principal of El Paso high, and Mrs. Sides, a grade school teacher; Mrs. Norcliffe S. Meyer, grade school; Herschel Stockton, assistant coach, who has entered the Coast Guard and is stationed at New London, Conn.

W. E. Matthews asked to be and was relieved of duties as summer school principal. Reta Debenport was elected to his position for the summer and Mrs. Earl Brownrigg was added to the summer staff as a mathematics teacher.

The board authorized Mrs. W. O. Low to conduct a paid-tuition summer school in commercial subjects with high school equipment, this rental fee going to the school district. The school will start as soon as it can be organized, and is for adults, post-graduates or regular students. High school credit will be allowed for undergraduates.

Scouts Assist In Salvage Campaign

Boy Scouts and cub scouts from the East 4th St. Baptist church spent Monday delivering salvage circulars as their part in the war program. This marked the third war assignment given to the scouts.

The church troops delivered the circulars to the section of town north of the railroad tracks and to the east section of town. The circulars ask that local people save rubber, scrap iron, rags and paper to be converted into war use.

Taking part in the distribution were James Brooks, Roy Sheppard, Herbert Brown, Jackie Hooper, John Ray, Pat Ray, Clifford Porch, Billy Gene Bettis, Gorman Rainey, Boyce Patton, Lynn Spear, Donald Williams, Billy Jo Kilpatrick, all scouts from patrols one, two, three and four.

Cubs from dens one, three, four and thirteen were Holly Bird, Billy Peterson, Harley Dunham, Jackie and Jimmy Jennings, Wayne Burleson and the leader, the Rev. R. E. Dunham.

British bombers hit Ruhr targets today, and German forces launched a new offensive against Sevastopol.

NAVY BLIMPS COLLIDE OVER EAST COAST

LAKEHURST, N. J., June 9 (AP)—Coast guards recovered today three bodies and wreckage from one of two navy training blimps lost in what apparently was a mid-air collision over the Atlantic ocean while on an unexplained "experimental mission."

Only one survivor was known. Still missing were nine of the 13 naval and civilian occupants of the G1 and the smaller L2 when they set out last night from the naval air station at Lakehurst.

The airships plunged into the ocean about four miles off Manasquan, which is 16 miles northeast of Lakehurst.

Among those missing was Ensign Frank A. Trotter of Toms River, N. J., internationally famous free balloon racer.

Three bodies were recovered: Lieutenant Commander Clinton S. Rounds, 39, Toms River, senior officer aboard the two craft.

Aviation Chief Machinist's Mate R. C. Poteet, 23, Langdon, Kas. Dr. A. E. Wise, civilian scientist, New London, Conn.

The navy declined to discuss the purpose of the flight except to say it was "an experimental mission involving some hazard."

Sheriff Lewis Menninger of Ocean county reported recovery of the three bodies in the gondola of the L-2, dragged ashore at Point Pleasant beach.

Among the bodies was that of Lt. Cmdr. Clinton S. Rounds of Toms River, senior officer aboard the two craft.

Japanese Force Meets Waterloo

CHUNGKING, June 9 (AP)—An army spokesman said today that a Japanese force which penetrated the walled city of Chubai in Chekiang province had been wiped out after three days of violent fighting and that the Chinese were again in full possession of the city, but he warned that China's situation in general "remains grave."

He said the Japanese were trying to bypass the town, chiefly important because of its nearby airfield which is within bomber range of Tokyo, in an effort to trap large Chinese forces by closing a pincer with forces 180 miles to the west in Kiangsi province.

Italian Casualties In Balkans Heavy

MILAN, (From Italian Broadcasts), June 9—An Italian casualty list issued Monday said 478 troops were killed, 783 wounded and 78 were missing in the Balkans during May.

The figures gave credence to reports of continued sharp fighting in Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania with guerrilla bands of patriots.

Allred Will Speak Here On Wednesday

First major candidate to visit Big Spring in this summer's political wars will be James V. Allred, who seeks to unseat W. Lee O'Daniel as senator.

Allred will speak at the band stand on the courthouse lawn at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, following a radio address over KBST from 6:15 to 8:30.

The ex-federal judge and former governor of Texas will arrive here following appearances in Odessa and Midland. Thursday morning he will speak at Lamesa and proceed northward into the panhandle.

James T. Brooks headed up a group making local arrangements for the appearance.

New Federal Auto Stamps Put On Sale

Available for the customers—and that means all users of automobiles—tomorrow are Uncle Sam's new auto-use tax stamps, which cost five bucks a throw and entitle the holder to operate his car until July 1, 1943.

Postmaster Nat Shick received an allotment of 5,000 stamps Tuesday, and sales are authorized beginning June 10. Shick was hopeful that there would be an early demand to avoid crowding at the windows on July 1.

The new stamps, red in color, are gummed on the face, so that they may be affixed to the inside of the windshield. On the reverse side are blanks on which to be filled in the make of the car, model, engine number and state license number.

Use of an automobile after July 1 without the stamp is prohibited. However, purchases may be made at any time, and after August 1, the price declines on a monthly basis.

Mitchell Draft Group Listed

COLORADO CITY, June 9 (AP)—A new group of Mitchell county selectees will leave Colorado City Wednesday for an induction center for physical examination and possible induction into military service.

EXCHANGE SHIP FROM SWEDEN MAKES PORT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 9 (AP)—The passenger liner Gripsholm arrived today from Gothenburg, Sweden, a day late on her mission to exchange Japanese and American diplomats and nationals.

The white-painted Swedish-American liner, which has not been seen in this country in several years, carried 123 Swedish and other Scandinavian-Americans.

Jesse E. Saugstad, state department representative, said the Gripsholm would sail Thursday for a 23 to 24-day journey to Portuguese East Africa with about 1,500 Japanese who will be exchanged for American diplomats and nationals held in Japan.

There were 59 aliens, Swedes, Norwegians and Finns, on the ship.

Among the passengers was a 25-year-old American nurse, Margaret Bostrom of Arlington, N. J., who had lived in Sweden since 1939. She wore a bronze medal awarded her by Field Marshal Mannerheim of Finland for her services in nursing wounded Finnish soldiers in the 1939-40 war with Soviet Russia.

"The Finns are bitter about the United States' going into the war on the Russian side," Miss Bostrom said. "But they don't like the Germans either, although they have to tolerate them. Beggers can't be choosers."

Selectees Will Leave Wednesday

Howard county's newest quota of selectees will depart by bus early Wednesday for examination at Lubbock. While this group is in response to the latest state call, selective service headquarters said Tuesday that another quota would be sent the latter part of this month.

Those in Wednesday's group include Paul Wade Clifford, Elred B. Cole, Hugh Willis Dunagan, Eleno Mora Barrera, Julio Silvas, Fred Erwin Haller, Elbridge Peyton Driver, Fred Irvin Brazzel, Omar Leland Jones, Jasper Trumble, Corning Sidney Layreene Clifton, Johnnie Otto Johansen, Murray Patterson, Ross Jackson Callahan, Gilbert White, Ellis Fontaine Simmons, Orva LaFayette Lemon, Ellard Adron Singleton, Thomas Wade Jackson, James Franklin Archer, Raymond Hendrix McGettles, George Harold Axtens, Haskell Odell Hudgins, Jennings Bryant Amos, William Edward Griffin, Cecil Clay Elliott, Quinn Ingram, Jefferson Davis Lassiter, Jr., Delmer Edward Powell, Talmadge Hedrick Jackson, and Joe Henson Henderson.

It's her 21st birthday and the glamor-girl-turned-housewife steps into $3,400,000 in cash and a life interest in $2,500,000.

British Say Axis' Libya Drive Halted

Nazis And Reds Dispute Trend In Sevastopol Battle

By The Associated Press

Waves of British warplanes, perhaps 450 strong, visited another night of terror, death and destruction upon Germany's industrial valley of the Ruhr before dawn today and also struck at targets in Nazi-occupied France and Holland.

Eighteen RAF bombers were acknowledged missing from the overnight assaults, which followed a British radio broadcast urging people of France to evacuate the coastal areas from the Belgian frontier to the Pyrenees.

The broadcast warned of impending allied operations of "capital importance" to be executed "at the most opportune moment."

In the Russian campaign, Soviet dispatches reported that German tanks, troops and planes attacking in a five-day-old offensive against Russia's long-besieged Black sea naval base of Sevastopol, in the Crimea, had been thrown back in fierce battles in two sectors.

By contrast, German field headquarters asserted that Nazi infantry, supported by heavy artillery and strong air squadrons, stormed Soviet defenses on a height commanding Sevastopol and repulsed Russian counter-attacks with "bloody losses."

Dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said the Germans were suffering terrific casualties in the new drive after losing 20,000 men since the siege began seven months ago.

Red Star said German General Fritz Erich von Manstein was throwing clouds of airplanes and heavy infantry reinforcements into a furious attempt to smash the Black sea base's defenses.

Counter-attacking Red army forces broke a wedge which the Germans succeeded in driving into one sector, however, and buried the enemy back in another sector, Red Star declared.

The Germans said strong Nazi air formations renewed attacks on the Crimea fortress, spreading fire along the waterfront with direct bomb hits.

On the North African battlefield, British headquarters reported that Lieut. Gen. Neil Ritchie's armies crushed heavy new axis attacks on El Hachem, 50 miles southwest of Tobruk, the inland anchor of Britain's 80-mile defense line.

A communique said Free French and Imperial Indian troops beat off a series of assaults by German tanks, infantry, artillery and dive bombers after fierce fighting.

Other British forces inflicted damage on axis supply lines west of the bloody "Devil's Cauldron" where much of the heaviest fighting in the 15-day-old battle has centered.

Italy's high command tersely summed up the desert battle with the announcement that "fighting between opposing motorized and mechanized units continues."

Of the Italian home front, the fascist command acknowledged a new British air raid on Taranto, big naval base at the foot of the Italian boot, but declared that no damage was inflicted by fire on shore installations.

Soldiers' Dependents Get Assurance Of Financial Aid

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Dependents of Army and Navy men had congressional assurance today their financial needs would be taken care of, in a moderate way at least, by Uncle Sam and his fighting men.

House passage late yesterday of legislation embodying the general pay provisions of a bill previously approved by the senate put both branches overwhelmingly on record in favor of the same scale of payments, leaving extraneous provisions to be worked out by a joint conference committee.

At the same time the senate agreed, 85 to 26, to raise the minimum monthly pay of service men to $50, effective as of June 1. The measure probably will reach the president for final approval late this week.

On the dependents' allowance bill, the only disagreement of any consequence between senate and house was over a senate proviso under which the definition of dependency for draft purposes would have been broadened to include factors other than actual financial dependency, such as the family relationship.

Members of the house military committee, who have gone on record as being opposed to the disruption of established families, told the house the scale of payments provided in the legislation presently was kept moderate to prevent local draft boards from getting the impression they could draft family heads indiscriminately.

The scale calls for a $43 deduction from the service man's pay, to which a federal allowance of $25 would be added for a wife, $12 for the first child and $10 for each additional child.

In all cases involving "Class A" dependents—wife or children, or both—the deductions and allowances are mandatory.

Allotments and allowances for "Class B" dependents, such as parents, brothers and sisters, provide for a $22 deduction from the service man's pay and federal additions of $15 for one parent, $25 for two parents and $5 for each dependent brother or sister. These deductions are optional with the service man.

In cases where a man has dependents of both classes, and elects to contribute to both, his total deductions would be $27 monthly, or which $22 would go to the "Class A" group, and $5 to those in "Class B." The federal payments would remain unchanged.

Affected by the bill are dependents of men up to and including the rank of line sergeant in the Army and third class petty officer in the Navy.

Miss Douglass Becomes Bride Of Lon M. Gary, Jr., In Ceremony Read At Church Monday Night

In a single ring ceremony read at 8 o'clock Monday evening at the First Baptist church, Cornelia Frances Douglass became the bride of Lon M. Gary, Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Douglass. Gary is the son of Mrs. L. M. Gary.

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the church, was in charge of the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, W. R. Douglass. Her gown was of white net over white satin and trimmed with Chantilly lace insets at the neck and sleeves and in the skirt. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, a tight bodice and full skirt that ended in a train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was fastened to a coronet of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls. The bride's old-fashioned bouquet was of gardenias, stephanotis, rose buds and forget-me-nots on a pink tulle background. She wore a two-strand pearl necklace belonging to Mrs. J. H. Greene for something old and for something borrowed she carried a Brussels handkerchief belonging to Lillian Shick. Something blue was the forget-me-nots in her bouquet.

Attendants
Janice Slaughter was maid of honor and dressed in a dusty rose net gown made with puffed sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a bouffant skirt. Annie Eleanor Douglass, sister of the bride, and Caroline Cantrell were junior bridesmaids and both dressed in dusty rose identical net gowns. Their flowers were colonial bouquets.

Ann Dinwiddie of Moorhead, Miss. daughter of Mrs. Robin Dinwiddie, was flower girl and wore a dusty rose dress fashioned as the gowns of the bridesmaids.

Lane Hudson was best man and HI Alexander and John Nobles were the ushers.

Mrs. Bruce Frazier played for the processional, the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and the recessional "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn. During the ceremony, Cornelia attended Mary Hardin-Baylor for two years. She received her degree as a speech major at T. E. C. W. at Denton in June 1941. Gary was graduated from Big Spring high school and is employed as welding instructor at the Big Spring high school.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Robin Dinwiddie and daughter, Ann, of Moorhead, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cone and Jan of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. La Velle of Odessa. Other guests included C. G. Griffin of San Francisco, Calif., who was sent as a representative of the shipbuilding company which Gary formerly worked for in California, and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Parsons.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

It's an ill wind, you know, that doesn't do somebody some good and while we too view with alarm the prospects of gas rationing, lack of new tires and no money to spend there is something to be said in favor of the situation.

This summer the peace and quiet of the family will not be disturbed by that old question of whether to go to the shore or the mountains.

Family battles over the virtues of fishing versus mountain life used to begin with the first warm day and end only when the weakened one gave in at long last. The fishing poles that used to be gotten out each spring with loving hands and the fancy flies that were counted and pressed may do service this year, but only in nearby waters.

The little hide-away cabin in the mountains, where the number of blankets that were needed at night labeled the spots superiority, is likely to stay padlocked for the duration.

Mother and Dad will sit down now, not to argue over which spot to go for their vacation-with-pay, but to figure out how far they can go on their limited time, their limited money, their limited gasoline, and their wearing tires.

As with many other things, this of war-time life has given a new set of values to old time traditions. It may even be a relief to the family circle not to hear the old arguments again this year about the merits of favorite vacation spots. Anybody with a vacation this year will be lucky even if they spend the time within the limits of their own backyard.

Red Cross Instructors To Have Picnic At Park
The Red Cross Instructors association will hold a picnic on Scenic Mountain Wednesday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Cincy Climbs At The Expense Of Boston Braves

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houdini at his best could not have turned the tables on the Boston Braves as swiftly and completely as the Cincinnati Reds performed the trick this last weekend.

Before Friday the Reds were floundering futilely in the second division of the National league and the Braves, who had been a bold second for quite a spell, still were holding determinedly to third place.

Then Casey Stengel led his band into an ambush at Cincinnati and in four days the Reds beat the Braves six times—lifting Cincinnati to third and dropping Boston to a groggy fifth.

The Reds completed their sweep yesterday with a 2-1 triumph on the three-hit hurling of Big Paul Derringer.

For eight innings the right-hander had a no-hit game and the only Boston player to get on base reached first through an error in the opening inning. Derringer finally was tapped for three singles and a run in the ninth.

There was only one other game scheduled in the major leagues yesterday and in this the New York Yankees squeezed out an 11-10 decision over Cleveland when relief pitcher Tom Terrick made wild throw of Joe Gordon's sacrifice bunt with two on base in the 11th inning.

It was a suitable payoff for a game in which each club used three pitchers and the world champions made 16 hits and three errors to Cleveland's 15 hits and two miscues.

Cleveland could have recaptured second place in the American league from the idle Detroit Tigers by winning, but the Yankees made it their 26th triumph in 31. As a sideline, Joe Gordon stretched his hitting streak to 25 games and Buddy Hassett extended his to 20.

Reiser, Phelps In Chase For Bat Honors

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The American league has been having a two-man race for batting honors almost since the opening of the season and now the National league is getting some of the same.

Pete Reiser, last year's batting champion in the senior circuit, has been sprinting during the last week and today had a lustrous 365 average, close on the heels of Gordon (Babe) Phelps, Pittsburgh catcher.

Phelps has been out of action because of a spiked heel and made his first appearance in the Pirate lineup in more than a week on Sunday. He was called on to pinch-hit twice and made one hit to inflate his average to .375.

On the same day Reiser made six hits.

Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees, riding the crest of a 26-game batting streak, still is the American league leader with .388, thirteen points ahead of Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox.

Canadian Golfers Are Goodwill Men

TORONTO, June 9 (AP)—Gordon Brydon and Bob Gray, both of Toronto, not only will represent Canada in the Hale America national open golf tournament at Chicago but will serve as goodwill ambassadors. They will present each competitor in the Hale America with an invitation to compete in the Canadian open Aug. 6-8.

Cleveland could have recaptured second place in the American league from the idle Detroit Tigers by winning, but the Yankees made it their 26th triumph in 31. As a sideline, Joe Gordon stretched his hitting streak to 25 games and Buddy Hassett extended his to 20.

Looking 'Em Over

With WACIL McNAIR

So, Big Spring is without a baseball club again. It was not unexpected, when notice was posted that an important meeting was to be held in Amarillo Sunday. Nor was there much doubt that the Bombers were to figure heavily in the discussion. Several fans at the last home game expressed their belief that it might be the last time they would see the Bombers in action here this year. Attendance was poor from the very beginning, and it was getting no better fast. Apparently people in this area are just not sports minded this year. Of course the club was not winning and was definitely the weakest entry in the league. Last year the town had a winning club, and the sudden drop probably killed any interest that might have developed as the season went on.

had some top notch teams in their day. In 1927 the Wichita entry won the title and then went on to defeat New Orleans four games to two in the Dixie Series. Very often in a town that size that has become accustomed to baseball of the Texas league class, the fans refuse to support a club in a smaller league. Corpus Christi is the other place mentioned as a possible new home for the Indians.

It seems to us that a young pitcher's chances of going up this year are exceptionally slim on Brooklyn Dodger farm, with Larry McPhail specializing in a staff of oldsters from year to year and winning more ball games with them than the clubs that had them while they were in their "prime." Maybe Ted Lyons will go to the Dodgers when he finishes with the White Sox, if he ever does.

A siege of good weather should bring out many a duffer to local golf courses. Management at both the Country Club and Muni courses were quite pleased with the condition of their links after the rains this weekend. And golf was already off to a good start for the summer here anyway.

considered as a new location for the Indians, as that city did not support their team in the West Texas-New Mexico loop. But it might be pointed out that Wichita Falls has practically been a Texas league town for years. They were formerly members of that league, and

Other places, however, are having their troubles at the turnstiles, and many of them are much larger than Big Spring. Despite all the talk that the Texas league is running over last year's figures it appears likely this week that Oklahoma City may lose its franchise. In fact they have already started speculating on possible sites to move the Indians to in case they do not pull out of their present deficit. According to reports the Indians need at least thirty thousand dollars to keep operating at Oklahoma City.

It may seem strange to some that Wichita Falls is being con-

Plenty of softball was played at city park last night, and the two leading teams in the city league were given every opportunity to break their deadlock in the standings, but they are still tied today.

Big Spring State Hospital and W. O. W. are still even, but each now has a loss on the ledger.

A protested game was completed, which wound up giving the W. O. W. a 4 to 2 edge over their Hospital rivals. But that wasn't all. Last night's card pitted the W. O. W. and Hospital aggressions against each other again, and the W. O. W. lead proved to be short lived.

After going four innings without a single hit the Hospital broke loose with a three-run barrage in the fifth and added four more in the sixth, which was enough to give them a 7 to 5 triumph over the leading W. O. W. and to knock percentages in the standings again.

In the first game the ABC Lions outscored Vaughn's 13 to 10. The Lions crossed the plate seven times in the first inning and were never headed by the Vaughn team.

In the Church league the First Methodists romped over the First Baptists 20 to 10. Pitches Chahey of the Methodist team held the Baptists to nine scattered hits and collected four hits out of five times up to lead his team in just about every department.

Radfords-WOW Play Tonight

Radfords' and the W. O. W. will meet tonight at 7:30 in the first game of the usual double bill in the city softball league. Both teams are in the thick of the battle for first place honors. In the second game Vaughn's and the Boy Scouts will meet at 9:15.

In the Church league, the East 4th Baptist play the Wesley Memorial Methodists at 7 p. m. This will be the second game on the schedule for each team this year, and both have a loss recorded against them. The East 4th Baptists forfeited their tilt to the North Side Mission Friday evening.

About 75 percent of the paper produced in the United States is burned after being used once, according to the Department of Commerce.

Dean Belted From Mound By Oilers

By The Associated Press

Paul Dean, the former big league pitcher attempting a comeback with Houston, lost his second game of the season Monday night as the Tulsa Oilers won the afternoon at a doubleheader 9-5 after dropping the first tilt to the Buffs 3-1.

Dean was trying for his eighth win of the year, a goal achieved by his teammate, George Kleins, who stopped the Oilers in the opening duel with Humphries in the mound. Dean was belted from the mound.

Other scheduled Texas league games were postponed because of the weather.

Don Johnson, regular Tulsa second sacker, was sent to the sidelines because of a dislocated thumb. He will undergo an X-ray examination Tuesday.

Bobby Jones Trying Comeback, May Be Tough In Natl. Rounds

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Immortal Bobby Jones, after 12 years of virtual retirement, will attempt to leap back into golfing glory in the Hale America national open next week.

Playing some of his best golf in a decade, as indicated by a par-lashing 54 holes last weekend, he's coming here to win, although he won't admit it. Observers are ready to tab him as one of the men to beat.

New golfing greats have remade the headlines since stocky Bobby collected his famous grand slam—winning the British amateur, British open, U. S. open and U. S. amateur in succession—and announced his retirement. The Augusta Masters has been his lone annual return to competition.

The Hale America at Ridgemoor becomes the first tournament outside the Masters that Bobby has entered, and there is much speculation that he will do better in it than he ever has done in the Masters. No one would be too surprised to see him finish well in front after knocking off some of the top fliethers.

"Look at that pair of 6Ts and that 7I he carded on the Atlanta East Lake course last week," observers chorus. "He's getting back into the groove. And East Lake comes nearer to being a carbon copy of Ridgemoor than any layout in the country."

They believe one of the largest galleries in golf history would follow Jones if he were playing with Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan or Sam Snead.

At his home in Atlanta last night, Jones said he would not have entered the Hale America "if it weren't for patriotic considerations."

"I felt it my duty to accept the U. S. G. A.'s invitation and wanted to aid in raising money for the USO and Navy Relief," he said. "My game is a little better than in the last few years, but I have no illusions of winning."

Jones is expected to arrive early next week for practice and an exhibition match Wednesday with Bob Hops.

It's A Fast Game

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 8 (AP)—There's no talking where this wartime speed-up of baseball will end.

The Charleston Rebels and Jacksonville Tars played five innings in 37 minutes. Had they played out the game at the same pace, press-box observers figured nine innings would have been completed in one hour and five minutes.

NO ILLUSIONS OF WINNING

Jones is expected to arrive early next week for practice and an exhibition match Wednesday with Bob Hops.

Josephus Daniels Is Still 'Chief' To FDR

By JACK STINNETT
 WASHINGTON—Josephus Daniels at the age of 80 succeeded his son as editor of his Raleigh, N. C., newspaper. That along with being secretary of the Navy for eight years, ambassador to Mexico and a number of other things should be enough for any one man's claim to fame in a lifetime, but it isn't.

The older Daniels holds one more distinction which no other man does (and probably none ever will be able to) lay claim to. It happened this way:

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

Back in pre-World War I days, Daniels got a telegram from the newly elected President Woodrow Wilson. The President asked if he would accept the post of secretary of the Navy. Daniels hesitated. He took the telegram home and discussed it with his wife.

If he accepted, he speculated, how about his assistant secretary? There was young Franklin D. Roosevelt. How would he do? Mrs. Daniels thought he was a splendid young man. Daniels carried his acceptance personally to Mr. Wilson. How about young "Frank" Roosevelt for assistant secretary? Mr. Wilson thought he was a splendid young man. So Franklin D. Roosevelt became World War I assistant secretary of the Navy.

Many years later, Josephus Daniels attended the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the United States.

When President Roosevelt saw him, he said: "Hello, Chief."

Daniels smiled. His return greeting was: "You're chief now."

Roosevelt countered: "You always were and always will be chief to me."

And that's how it is to this day. There is hardly a man on Roosevelt's staff who doesn't call him "chief"—presidential staffers nearly always refer to the Big Boss that way—but the only man in the United States whom the President calls "chief" today is Josephus Daniels.

German Agent Gets Ten Year Sentence

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—Dr. Hans Helmut Gros, convicted German agent, was sentenced Monday to 10 years in federal prison, and, in low, bitter tones, read a prepared statement lashing out at the quality of American justice.

His American-born wife, Françoise, convicted with him, had asked probation and will receive a hearing next Monday.

Sentenced On Sedition Count

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 9 (AP)—George W. Christians, 53-year-old construction engineer who directed what he called "a paper and ink revolution for economic liberty," Monday was sentenced to a total of five years on sedition charges.

Overruling a defense motion for a new trial, Federal Judge Leslie Darr said he felt that the defendant should be incarcerated for the duration of the war without parole before the war's end.

Says Octopus Easily Managed
 LA JOLLA, Calif.—Dr. Martin W. Johnson of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography debunked the octopus. It is not the diabolical creature commonly believed, he said, but one that can easily be captured and managed. Octopi even change color in fright while trying to escape, he adds.

Presently, washed up, their hair neatly combed and brushed, two men walked into the dining room. Lizzie beamed upon them. "Ah shores does love cookin' for men-folks," she said, bustling about the table. "Men-folks always eats like they enjoys it."

"And when men-folks have a cook like you, Lizzie," said Uncle Frank, "they just naturally have to eat."

Lizzie smiled her thanks. "Had it occurred to you, Joe," said Mr. Frank, "that you've got a fine opportunity to squelch Kathleen's plans to be an actress?"

"How?" said Joe.

"By panning her in your review of 'Goodbye, Honey Chile!'" said Joe. "No matter how much I love her, Mr. Frank, I couldn't pan her if she didn't deserve it."

Mr. Frank turned to his meal. "That," he said, "is what I call true love."

Laura Again
 When Kathleen and Paul had left him, Fred relaxed a little. He nibbled on a Western sandwich, sipped rather dish-water coffee, and listened to the insecta. Actoral! What a heck of a lot they were! Feeling as though they were something set apart! Above criticism! Know-it-alls! Then as he saw Ruby Howard coming out of the barn theatre, looking self and appealing in slacks and a bright sweater, he said to himself:

"There are exceptions, of course." Ruby saw him, and came over. "Aren't you going into town for dinner?" Fred asked her. "No," Ruby said, sitting down beside him. "After that strenuous rehearsal you put us through, I'm dead. I'm too tired to eat, much less drive miles to get it."

"Have a Western sandwich on me," said Fred. "They're about the only things our cook knows how to make. The coffee's tired, too—but it's hot."

"All right," said Ruby. "I suppose I'll have to take something, if I'm to get through the show tonight."

Her order was given, and when it was placed before her, she gave it her listless attention. "What about?" Fred wanted to know. "Kathleen—Paul."

"You mean—off stage?" "Yes." "And Paul's worried about you on stage. He thinks you make too early an entrance—that you deliberately try to spoil his scene with Kathleen." Fred eyed her with one brow arched. "Do you do it—deliberately?"

"No, I don't," answered Ruby. "It's only Paul's imagination. But it gives me an idea."

"Yes, go on," said Fred. "This ought to be good."

"I'd do it deliberately on the night we open," said Ruby. "If I thought it would finish forever Kathleen's feeble chances of getting anywhere with a stage career."

"Has Paul said anything about Laura of late?" Fred asked. "Only when I referred to her," said Ruby. "Then he nearly bit my head off."

"Do you think we ought to tell Kathleen about her?" "It wouldn't do any good. Kathleen's too stage-struck at the moment to care. Besides, she might develop a terrific sympathy for Paul—and then things would be even worse."

the word with the bark on and be reasonably sure of results.

That is the reason President Roosevelt has promised swift and certain retribution upon Japan if it persists in using poison gas in this war. Japan has already used it against the Chinese in isolated cases, but if it repeats its use against China the U. S. will consider it as having been used against itself and act accordingly.

Winston Churchill gave a similar warning to Germany not long ago. The Nazis were reported to have experimented with gas against the Russians in the Crimea, and any further use of it against Russia will be considered as having been made against Britain—and Hitler can take the consequences.

Neither Japan nor Germany is in position to dish it out without taking it in return, and this simple fact will have more effect on their poison gas policy than all the humanitarian arguments imaginable.

The United Nations are ready and willing to do a bit of fighting fire with fire—if the totalitarians start it. And they are on warning now that use of gas against any of their members is to be considered as used against all, with immediate retaliation certain.

President Roosevelt correctly calls it "inhuman warfare." It is inhuman, in the first place, because non-combatants, being unprotected, are the chief sufferers. No humanitarian appeal would have the slightest effect on the Axis, but a promise of retribution and the ability to carry out retaliatory action may serve in the noble purpose of vetoing any use of this horrible weapon.

Poison gas would add immeasurably to the horrors of war, the modern version of which is horrible enough without trimmings.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Harry Wants An Outside Job Next Time

By ROBBIN COONS
 HOLLYWOOD—It didn't seem right, somehow. There was a chase going on—the hero was dashing to the rescue, the serum would soon arrive. But Harry Carey wasn't dashing. Harry was waiting. For once in his life, Harry was on the receiving end of a chase.

The setting was an operating room in a hospital in old Boston. There wouldn't be any horses, for Preston Sturges' new movie isn't a western, but a serious study of the work of Dr. William Morton, the Boston dentist who gave us anesthesia, or "Triumph over Pain."

Young William (played by Joel McCrea) had tried out his method once and flopped. The good old doctor—that was Harry Carey—had promised him a second chance, and here was a patient on the table with medical students from Harvard in the gallery waiting to see William flop again. One of the boys (Grady Sutton) had made book that William wouldn't last, even show up, and there was old Doc Carey playing for time because it looked as if William wouldn't.

worked too. You could feel that whole set pulling for him. When he made it, finally, there was applause—because all actors know what it is to be "stuck."

Harry came off, wiping his brow, but happy. "It's being good for me," he said. "But next time I hope they let me outdoors—and give me a horse!"

Man About Manhattan—Quiet Guys Sometimes Big Packages Disguised

By GEORGE TUCKER
 NEW YORK—I used to think I was pretty good at estimating people... I used to think I could size up a man at a glance... Now, I'm not so sure....

There was a guy named Jerry. He was sort of fat, and slow... He had a bulldog chin... He wasn't very tall, and he had lost a lot of his hair... I used to see him around Broadway, looking low and dispirited... He got a job as a press-agent's assistant, and did a little leg work. He also answered the telephones. This guy Jerry was always soft-spoken and obliging... He would gladly run an errand for anybody. He never said much, and never did he lift his voice, or express an opinion.

went into business for himself, as a construction engineer. His income reached the $25,000 a year mark. He was sailing along. A Success. That sort of easy sailing was too good to last. There seems always a little joker in the cards that means the game.

So I put Jerry down as an amiable lightweight who was so busy doing favors for other people that he never had time to weep for his own private griefs. Just a good guy, with nothing on the ball. You know the type. You see them everywhere you go.

He lost his wife. The blow staggered him. His health failed him. He went into a decline, and almost died. One day he threw up his business... I think he wanted to throw up the sponge too... It looked like curtains for Jerry... But just then one of his friends whom he had known in the old barefoot public school days ran into him... The man saw what was wrong... He "adopted" Jerry... Gave him little unnecessary chores to do, as a sop to his pride... He encouraged him... He built him up... When the Japs struck, when we went to war with the Germans and the Italians and the rest of the mob, this friend cornered Jerry one night and said, "Start getting yourself in trim. There's Asia. There's Australia. This country needs engineers. You're elected."

Then it happened. Somebody told me that Jerry had gone into the Army. As a captain of engineers... That he had been assigned to duty on an important engineering project, outside of the country.

So one day he got a telegram from the War Department, and that was that. I shook hands with him when he left. I didn't have the courage to tell him how badly I had underestimated him. But I imagine he knew.

I was taken aback. "How in the world did that guy get a commission?" I asked. The man who told me about Jerry snapped me up rather tartly at this. "Why shouldn't he?" he asked. "If he could satisfy the United States government that he is qualified, why can't that satisfy you?"

Wears Evidence to Court
 SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Robert Ollie Duke, youthful negro, made the fatal error of wearing into court the coat he was charged with stealing. "That's mine," the complainant exclaimed and the evidence was all in.

I thought that over for a minute. "But Jerry, he's only..." "I know what you're going to say, a stooge, an errand boy. Well, you're wrong."

And then he told me all about Jerry. This Jerry, this amiable, pleasant "lightweight" was a college graduate, a graduate engineer. Not only did he win a degree from one of the toughest engineering colleges in the country, he was a Phi Beta Kappa. He

UNFAIR TO LOVE

By Watkins E. Wright

Chapter 28 STUBBORN GIRL

As the days passed Joe had the feeling that Kathleen had walked straight out of his life. So far as ever getting an opportunity to talk to her, he and she might as well have been living on opposite sides of the globe.

He forced himself to keep hard at work, trying to improve upon the play, giving a "homey" air to his column, and polishing up his play reviews. There was certainly plenty to do—and he liked working. But he couldn't keep his thoughts from returning again and again to Kathleen and the dreams and hopes he had so long held where she was concerned.

Finally there came a day when he could no longer resist the urge to see her, to talk to her. He wrote a last item to his column—an item about Miss Camilla's furniture being used to outfit a stage setting—and then placed the cover over his typewriter. He picked up some rewritten scenes of his play, planning to read them aloud to Kathleen, ran down the worn stairs of the Linville Gazette building, and jumped into his car.

Not long afterwards he was facing Lizzie out at the Vaughan residence.

sin't to home. Seems like she ain't never to home no more."

"Okay!" said Joe. "Thanks, Lizzie."

He turned to go, but Lizzie had an idea.

"Ah's got some sugar-cured ham for supper, Mr. Joe," she said.

"No kidding?" said Joe.

"An' it's a shame for Mr. Frank to be eatin' by himself all the time."

"Are you going around your elbow to ask me to stay and eat some of that ham?" "Lizzie's face brightened. "Yes'r," she said. "Ah shore hates seein' good food going to waste."

"Then I'll stay," said Joe. "Sure I'm not going to be a pest?"

"Lawdy, Mr. Joe, you ain't never no pest." Lizzie hustled off, calling back, "You-all just set there and cool off. Ah'll go add the final fixin'."

Joe dropped down into a porch chair. He took the rewritten scenes of the play from his pocket, and tried to read them. But he felt no interest. He jammed the typed sheets back into his pocket, and stared out across the well-kept yard. He was still staring, lost in moody thought, when Mr. Frank drove up.

Supper For Two
 "Hello, Joe, boy!" Mr. Frank greeted. "Waiting for someone?" "No," said Joe. "I'm waiting for some sugar-cured ham. Small it?" Mr. Frank sniffed the air. "Do I?" he said. "My, that smells appetizing. Where's Kathleen? I thought you were waiting for her."

"She's not coming home," said Joe. He explained about the telephone call. "Lizzie thought you might like to have me eat with you."

"Lizzie's right," said Mr. Frank. He sat down upon the top step. "Kathleen's been as scarce as hen's teeth here of late. Oh, well, I suppose rehearsing is an exacting business."

"Evidently," said Joe dryly. "But not unexciting when you have a handsome actor to coach you, and drive you back and forth to the theatre."

"Don't let it get you down, Joe," said Uncle Frank. "I don't think it's going to come to anything."

"What's not going to come to anything?" Joe demanded.

"All this stage-struck business. Ruby told me the longer Kathleen rehearsed, the more certain she became that she was an amateur and nothing more."

"She did?" Joe brightened. "You mean she thinks all this acting nonsense of Kathleen's will turn out to be just a sort of teapot tempest?"

Uncle Frank nodded. "I only hope Kathleen won't take it too hard," he said.

Lizzie called them to supper then.

"Come on," said Uncle Frank, "let's go wash up."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

These huge 50-ton heavy tanks cost $150,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 28 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstoppable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every day.

Crop Acreage Measurement Under Way

Measuring of cotton crops and soil conservation acreage on Ooward county farms is getting underway, according to M. Weaver, county AAA administrative officer.

Eleven men have successfully completed a course of training as compliance reporters and have been hired to do this measuring. Two or three have already started work, and others will do so in a few days.

Weaver expects the measuring to take less time this year, since only cotton and soil conservation acreage is being measured. In the past, feed acreage was also checked.

Performance reporters who completed the course were Ellis Eden, Virgil Little, E. H. Long, Dan McRae, M. B. Morris, L. E. Ricketts, Albert Smith, Elmer White, Clyde Winars, Willis Winters and N. Y. Burnett.

In response to a call for greater production of vegetable oils and a good government-pegged price, farmers of the county have planted approximately 2,000 acres of peanuts and most of these are up to a good start. Quota for the county was only 800 acres.

Mortality of males is higher than that of females at almost every age.

Major Political Dates Are Near

Almost-overlooked reminders that this is an election year are contained in two political calendar dates near at hand.

Saturday is the last day for filing an application for positions on the ballot by county and precinct officers. Usually a period of speculation as to late political entries, this pre-deadline week has heard no street-corner talk on the subject and very little mention of any political subjects.

Monday the county democratic committee will meet to approve these applications for places on the ballots, conduct a drawing to determine the order in which candidates' names will appear on the ballots, and to assess each candidate his pro-rata share of the election costs.

The following Saturday will be deadline for candidates to pay this assessment, according to L. S. Patterson, county democratic chairman.

Week's Oil Output Shows A Decline

TULSA, Okla., June 9 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States declined 280,370 barrels to 5,622,530 for the week ended June 6, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Texas, with an additional shut-down day, was off 214,250 to 1,275,850; Okla. 136,850 to 285,650; Kansas, 28,500 to 218,900; the Rocky Mountain states, 225 to 126,600; and Oklahoma, 8,050 to 280,200.

California production increased 14,500 to 662,500; eastern fields, 2,200 to 122,900; Illinois, 5,475 to 293,765; Louisiana, 8,900 to 323,900; and Michigan, 1,250 to 28,250.

Freedom For World Is The Goal For America, Christian Scientists Say

BOSTON, Mass., June 9 — The great task now confronting a liberated America, which more than three quarters of a century ago fought a four-years war to free the slaves, is to aid in working out the freedom of the whole world from slavery, the Christian Science board of directors told several thousand Christian Scientists gathered in annual meeting in Boston yesterday.

Declaring that this would be the sentiment expressed by the nation's martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, were he here today, the directors pointed out that "through the ages tyrants have endeavored to govern and control men by engendering fear," and quoting from Mary Baker Eddy's work, "Miscellany" (p. 191), they further say, "Persecution is the weakness of tyrants engendered by their fear, and love will cast it out."

The directors' statement was the highlight of the annual meeting of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., which annually draws thousands of visitors to the Hub City from all parts of the world. This year, however, the audience was more localized due to unprecedented world conditions that keynoteed most of the reports to the meeting. The directors emphasized the world-wide emergency as presaging a more universal turning to spiritual enlightenment as the pathway to future world peace.

Meeting in their Mother Church under the world-enveloping shadow of what is probably the gravest threat to political and religious freedom since the advent of Christianity, the visitors were reminded in a report by the Christian Science board of lectureship that the union of Britain and America was foreseen forty-four years ago by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, as the instrument through which the rights of free peoples everywhere might be permanently established and protected.

This wedding together of the two great democracies, under the impact of an international crisis, said the lecture board, is the fond hope of all Christian Scientists. The board alluded specifically to a poem written in 1856 by the leader of this world-wide religious movement, Mrs. Eddy, which reads in part as follows:

"Brave Britain, bleat America Unite your battle-plan; Victorious, all who live it.— The love for God and man."

Other prophetic statements of Mrs. Eddy foretelling the troublous times of today and giving assurance that the forces of right would inevitably win the day were cited by the board of directors.

The directors also announced the election of Mrs. Elisabeth F. Norwood of Brookline, Mass., as president of the Mother Church for the ensuing year. The chief duty of the president is to preside at the annual meeting.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr. Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, June 9 — Law . . . And order? . . . After the Louisiana boxing commission suspended Matchmaker Law Raymond and Manager Broadway Johnny Cox for talking out of turn, the commission learned that Raymond couldn't be suspended because he never was licensed and Cox couldn't legally be set down except for an "offense against boxing" . . . So they called the whole thing off . . . Might be a good idea for the New York commission . . . And in baseball, scribbles point out that since Prexy Alvin Gardner of the Texas league decided a few years ago that umpires shouldn't act as peacemakers when the boys began punching, there have been only half as many fights.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Bill Shirley, Little Rock Arkansas Democrat: "When Harry Pullivan was president of the National league he had a little sign hanging on the wall of his office which said: 'Take nothing for granted in baseball.' Now, how did he know that some day Vernon Gomez would get four hits in one ball game?"

The N.C.A.A. mile championship at Lincoln, Neb., next Saturday lost a lot when Dartmouth's Bon Burnham, who beat MacMitchell last week, decided not to go west.

Another missing star will be Oklahoma's Dick Smethers, who passed up the meet to help a friend harvest his wheat crop.

CAPPING THE CLIMAX

They tell more stories than you can believe about happenings in the Kitty league, but until further notice this should stand as the error record: The other night John Favis, Fulton's rookie third baseman fielded a slow bouncer . . . As he straightened up, his cap flew off and he threw the ball right into the cap . . . Together they sailed over the pitcher's head, grazed the umpire and landed halfway between the mound and first base . . . the base runners were too surprised to run and the first baseman didn't know where to look . . . Favis finally dashed across and retrieved the pill himself, but not until two runs had scored.

SERVICE DEPT.

George McAfee, the former Duke and Chicago Bears footballer, is hitting .375 for the Jacksonville (Fla.) naval air station ball team and has stolen 11 bases in 12 games . . . Lieut. George Earnshaw, team coach, says McAfee is a natural player and even if he couldn't hit he could beat 300 . . . Coach of the Keesler Field (Miss.) football team, which is lining up a heavy schedule for next fall, will be Lieut. Arlo M. Klum, former assistant at Nebraska . . . Because of his prematurely gray hair, the boys at the Great Lakes naval training station are calling Frank Pytlak "Pop." The ex-Red Sox catcher is 32.

Chester O'Brien, Jr., Addresses Baptist Brotherhood

Chester O'Brien, Jr., who is studying for the ministry, told a father and son gathering of the First Baptist Brotherhood Monday evening that "God's people would have to humble themselves" before there would be an end to present world strife.

There must, he said, be a return to sublime faith and earnest prayer before there can be any sound hope of settling an issue. To carry the war on hate is to prolong it, he said.

Younger guests, who gave the program, included Theodore Atkins, cornet solo; James Lee Underwood, accompanied by Betty Jean Underwood, vocal numbers; Robert and Richard O'Brien, piano duo; and Gene Nabors, piano solo.

J. H. Greene read a poem, "My Boy," and Dick O'Brien was heard in an impromptu piano selection.

George Melear, president, announced that there would be no break in summer programs and voted to make the next one a "father and daughter" affair. Irby Cox, John Coffey, Horace Reagan and Rev. and Mrs. Dick O'Brien were named as general committee on arrangements.

Corn Patch Good Trap For Worms

Danger of damage to cotton by boll worms can be lessened by planting a trap crop of corn near each cotton patch, according to County Agent O. P. Griffin.

Actually, cotton boll worms are fond of tender young roasting ears than of cotton. The moths that are parents to the worms will fly a good distance to seek out a corn patch. Thus, if a few rows of corn are planted in or near a cotton patch, the worm population of the area will be found there and not in the cotton bolls.

Of course, old, tough corn is not palatable to the worms. To assure that a young crop will be on hand at the right time, Griffin suggests planting a few rows of trap corn on June 15 and a few more on July 1.

Navy Lists Construction Corps Ratings

The naval recruiting station here has released a new list of ratings open for various construction company tasks with the fleet.

Men from 17 to 50 who have had experience in any of several construction trades may qualify for these ratings, receive a brief training course, and go into construction work. All assignments are for foreign duty—presumably at naval bases which must be maintained all over the world.

Base beginning pay in most occupations is $72 or $80 per month, plus 20 per cent addition when the service takes the man outside the United States, plus $34.50 per month rent allowance for married men who are making as much as $72 base pay. The local office has nothing to say on the subject, but all these pay scales undoubtedly will be boosted by the law passed Monday by congress raising the wages of all soldiers, sailors and marines up through the rank of second lieutenant or ensign.

Those desiring immediate selection for construction ratings would do well to inquire this week, since an interviewing officer will be in Abilene Saturday to talk to applicants. Full details may be secured here, but the interview at Abilene is necessary before final acceptance.

Openings for negroes in construction regiments as bakers, cooks, electrical draftsmen, gunners mates, sailmakers and stewards also have been announced, under conditions same as those for whites.

Jobs open for whites include blacksmith helper, carpenter, concrete worker, cooper, millwright, deckhand, electrician fireman, crane helper, engine helper, construction worker, launchmen, metalmith, oiler, painter, piledriver man, pipefitter, powderman helper, rigger, road machinery operator, steel worker, telephone man, tractor operator, water tender, welder, wharf builder.

Council Urges Continuance Of Safety Course

The Big Spring safety council decided at its Monday meeting to advocate continuance of the basic industrial safety engineering course being conducted here.

The present course will be completed within a few days, and it is planned to start a new class as soon as practical.

The council advocated building of an additional access road to the Big Spring Army Flying school, to approach the school from the south. Jimmie Greene, chamber of commerce manager, reported that arrangements had about been worked out to run the road through the state park, two private properties, and a tract of city land to reach the airport from the starting point on the old San Angelo highway.

Cowper Clinic And Hospital

Mrs. W. C. Phillips, Coahoma, had major surgery Monday.

T. McWhorter was admitted Tuesday for medical care. Patricia Selkirk, who underwent major surgery Sunday, is much improved.

MISSING IN ACTION

Mrs. Roy E. Childers, 601 Runnels, has received word from the war department that her brother, Sgt. William C. Rogers of Wichita Falls, is listed as missing in action. Sgt. Rogers was stationed at Java the last time Mrs. Childers received word from him.

Texas Amateurs In Qualifying Play at Dallas

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)—Including two national champions and students with the standbys who have made Texas amateur golf tops in the country, the 36th annual state tournament field swung into 18-hole qualifying rounds today.

Earl Stewart of Dallas, who won the national intercollegiate title last season playing under the banner of Louisiana State University, and Bill Welch of Houston, who fought his way to the National Public Links crown, were on hand.

Also there was Harry Todd of Dallas, who was the top amateur in last year's National Open.

Stewart was an outstanding favorite to bag the medal on the basis of his fine practice rounds. He had a 70 Saturday and yesterday pulled five strokes from par with a blazing 66. Bill Roden of Glen Rose, a member of the University of Texas team, shot a 69, equalling a fine round Sunday by Todd.

Match play opens tomorrow with two rounds daily and with the 36-hole finals scheduled Friday.

Big Spring Hospital Notes

Sammy Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Turner, had tonsilectomy and adenoidectomy Monday.

Eva Jean Ataway underwent tonsilectomy Monday.

Murray Johnson was admitted for medical treatment Monday.

Florine Cass underwent tonsilectomy and adenoidectomy Tuesday. Virgil Worley, Rankin, is receiving treatment for eye infection.

Mrs. Nathan Orr is receiving medical care.

Mrs. Lucas Whitehead, Lenorah, is receiving observation.

Bill Bailey, El Paso, had tonsilectomy Tuesday.

Judith Pickle underwent a tonsil operation Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe Demslow was discharged Monday.

Clarke Sunday, Route One, returned home Monday.

Shirley Beatrice McMahon returned to her home Tuesday.

Bobby John Suggs returned home Monday.

Match Play Starts In Women's Tournery

SAN ANTONIO, June 9 (AP)—Mrs. C. W. Roberson, Jr., of Terrell, medalist with an 85, meets Mrs. T. E. Knott of Beguin today as match play begins in the state women's municipal golf tournament.

Mrs. Knott qualified yesterday for the championship flight with a 95.

Thirteen new students enrolled in the East 4th St. Baptist vacation Bible school Tuesday raising the number to 152 students, so officials reported today. Intermediate boys went to work Tuesday morning to make a book shelf for the church library and roadside signs for the North Nolan mission. Junior boys activity was making toys for younger brothers and sisters. An offering will be taken Wednesday for Chinese war orphans. Mrs. Leslie Roberts, Jr., also joined the faculty Tuesday to teach the junior department students.

Granville Dawson of Abilene, former Big Spring resident, is in the army now at Aberdeen, Md., so friends here learned today. He is stationed in the ordnance training school and according to his letters is having the time of his life. Aberdeen is about the size of Stanton, he writes, but is only 20 miles from Baltimore. His address is Private Granville Dawson, Company C, Barracks Four, First Battalion, O. R. T. C., Aberdeen, Md.

How to Get More Light from Your Lamps*

Good light that permits faster and better work is important these days, both in the factories and in homes. Dust and grime absorb much of the light that is needed for eyesight protection and better work.

To get all the light from bulbs and fixtures, wipe them with a damp cloth regularly and dust shades. Glass shades and diffusing bowls should be washed periodically, especially those in ceiling fixtures that cannot be wiped frequently.

Floor and table lamps that are out of order usually can be repaired by an electrician. By adding a new, white-lined shade you can have an attractive and useful lamp.
