No Need to File Homestead Exemption Each Year

During the past couple of weeks we have had numerous people in the Tax Office wanting to sign up for exemptions. The homestead law no longer requires annual registration. If you signed up last year you do not have to sign up again. If you did not sign up you must do so before May 1 of this year in order to qualify. In order to be eligible you must own your home as of January 1, 1983, or maintain a life estate in your home, meaning that your home is in your children's name, but you maintain a right to live in that

Open-Space land exemption requirements are much the same. If you signed up last year, you do not have to register again this year, unless, of course, you have changed the use of the land. This would change the taxable value and should be reported.

In the next few weeks we will begin to up-

Tribute Given At DAR

Meeting

Charles Crawford Chapter, DAR, met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Durham 909 South Seaman in Eastland, at 2:30 p.m. Monday, December 13, 1982. Mrs. M.F. Kiser was cohostess.

Delicious refreshments of coffee, hot tea, sandwiches, nuts, and a variety of Christmas candies and cookies were enjoyed by all.

Following refreshments, Mrs. Joseph Perkins, regent, called the meeting to order, and lead the gathering in the pledge to the flag. The minutes were approved as read.

Tribute was paid to DAR member, Mrs. Josephine Clements who had deceased. Many of her attributes and contributions were recalled. A special prayer in her memory was voiced by Mrs. Perkins.

Mrs. Bess Francis gave the National Defense Report. She also read a prayer by George Washington which was most timely in its content.

All enjoyed viewing the book, Stores of Great Men.
This book is housed in the archives of the Eastland Memorial Library and indicates the quality of reading material in the 1800's.

Mrs. Durham introduced Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Huff. Rev. Cecil Huff is the assistant pastor for visitation for the First United Methodist Church in Eastland. Rev. Huff comes to Eastland after having spent 11 years in the Navy. Rev. Huff read "The Birthday Day" by Margaret Sangster. He concluded the program by singing "He Touched Me". The DAR thanks Rev. Huff for a most inspiring program.

The group enjoyed singing "Silent Night".

In the absence of Dorothy Perkins, Curator, Mrs. Joseph Perkins shared a pewter teapot, spoons and platters. At the time of the Revolutionary War, all spoons were melted into bullets. The spoon shown to the gathering was overlooked. The spoon was from the area around Concord.

Visitors present were
Mary Lou Frost, Flora McClamies, and Mrs. W.E. Cox.
During a short business meeting money was contributed to be used by the organization as needed.

A motion was made by Mrs. H.H. Durham to temporarily place chapter papers and other important items in Mrs. Fred Keith's safety deposit box at Eastland National Bank until other arrangements could be made. The motion was seconded and carried.
Mrs. Perkins reminded the officers that reports are to be turned in in February. Mrs. Perkins thanked the members for their support and adjourned the meeting at 4:10 p.m.

Members present were Mss. B.C. Cromwell, H.H. Durham, Fred Keith, P.H. Kelly, Stanley McAnelly, Joseph Perkins, C.E. Terrell, Charles Terrell, M.F. Kiser and M.F. Francis.

January Oil And Gas Hearing Set

TYLER--The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for February 1983 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 72nd month in a row and the 128th time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Buddy Temple and Jim Nugent directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in February totaling 2,463,653 barrels per day, a decrease of 2,124 barrels daily when compared with January 1982 buyer requests. February 1982 nominations totaled 2,446,320 barrels daily.

Next month's permissable rate of output is calculated to average 2,860,545 b/d with actual production estimated at 2.345 million b/d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in February 1982 was 2,407,122 barrels daily.

Wallace reported that February 1983 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,932,575 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for January amounted to 22,434,324 Mcf/d. February 1982 gas nominations totaled 25,029,205 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, Feb. 17, at 9 a.m. in Austin at the Railroad Commission headquarters building, Room 107.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Beware the "Easy-out" for Paying Income Tax However, illegal tax

Like to stop paying taxes?

That's a very tempting idea, and proponents of this notion are making speeches and offering seminars around the country on the "how-to's" of tax evasion. The Internal Revenue Service, however, has some words of advice on the subject, too.

Working toward tax reform certainly is not illegal, the IRS points out. For example, urging changes in the tax laws is the right of every individual, as is arranging one's affairs to pay the lowest possible tax within the law. Also, if you hold securities so as to have a long-term instead of a short-term capital gain, the law supports your move.

that results in the unallowed underpayment or non payment of taxes, or not filing required tax returns, is illegal, the IRS states. The IRS has the duty and tools, given by Congress, to enforce the Federal tax laws. When some individuals remove themselves from the law, the burden of taxes is greater for those who willingly comply. In the interest of fairness for all taxpayers, the IRS says it will continue to enforce all Federal tax laws, including laws governing those who place themselves above the law by illegally refusing to pay their just share of tax.

"AT MY COMING," "At even, or midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning," It may be in the evening, when the work of the day is done, and when you sit in the twilight, and watch the sinking sun. While the long, bright day dies slowly, over the sea. And the hour grows quiet and holy, with thoughts of me; while you hear the village children running along the street, among those thronging footsteps, may come the sound of My feet. "Therefore I tell you, "Watch" by the light of the evening star, when the room is growing dusky as the clouds afar; let the door be on the latch in your home, for it may be through the gloaming I will come." It may be when midnight is heavy on the land and the waves softly rippling along the sand; when the moonless night draws close and the lights are out in the house; when the fires burn low and red and the watch is ticking loudly beside the bed. Though you sleep, tired out, on your couch, still your heart must awake and watch in the dark room; for it may be that at midnight I will come." So I am watching quietly every day. When the sun shines brightly, I rise and say, "Surely it is the shining of His face. And look unto the gates of His high place beyond the sea, for I know He is coming shortly to summon me. And when a shadow falls across the window of my room, where I am working at my appointed task, I lift my head to watch the door, and ask if He has come; and the angel answers sweetly in my home. "Only a few more shadows, and He (Jesus) will come."

Homemaking Hints By Janet Thomas

This year's home fashion colors are like the pastels one would find in a Florentine villa. They are soft and relaxing, not too dusy, but timeless. They are the colors of da Vinci fresco. Home fashion forecasts indicate that colors will be slightly greyed, but on the whole, they will have more life than the colors of the past year.

If any color will predominate, it will be yellow. Various shade of yellow - all mellow are being used in combination with blue, red, pink or peach. The yellow influence had developed because of a growing national interest in the country life style of the Middle and Southwest or the western frontier. Colorado Gazette Earth tones of prairie colors will be consideralby yellower. Also seen will be yllows derived from an interest in solor energy. Certain colors like green will have a yellow influece. Shades of yellow include banana - as a true yellow -- and neutrals like butternut and custard.

Other fashionable colors that will appear often are various shades of rose and Chinese cucumber (celadon). Blues will come in a variety of rich tones like mountain blues, teal and cornflower. Lavender blues and the periwinkle reminiscent of Victorian times will also make an impact, especially in the dining room, bedroom and bath. Also in the bedroom will be shades of English rose mingled cranberry.

Rooms in '83 will chen now will be decorated in muted tones, especially sand, almond, and white. The look will be traditional, functional.

Home fashions for this coming year are elegant and classic, and no one color will overwhelm. Colors will be used in combination for a muted effect that will be easy to live with.

Accent colors will include black, silver, red, and rich opulent colors will also be available for those who want them. But the basic trend for the early '80s will continue to be soft pastels.

Appliances follow fashion trends. If you have bought an appliance recently and selected one in white or almond, you're right in style.

Regardless of the recipe it is generally quite tasty and after boiling for awhile it is clean and won't cause intestinal upset. The only problem for me is those heads and eves...and if one combines the soup with travel in a boat on rough seas during our seacost inspections it's Tortillas are popular too. However, they are about a little finger thick and fried quickly in a deep grease...quite tasty and very similar to Rising Star's old timers skillet corn-

There are about 5 kinds of vucca roots which are eaten. They look a lot like tough sweet potatoes and cook up like irish potatoes, but slightly stringey...Delicous flavor...Sometimes they are fried in a batter or boiled like turnips. They don't taste like turnips but more like crisp Irish potatoes.

When folks have enough money they loe to eat beef. Last week hamburger was selling for $3.00 per pound in Botota! Of course that was in a store frequented by foreigners. In many native markets refrigeration is unknown and people get up early in the morning to get their beef and other foods while they are fresh and unspoiled. Cuts of beef as we know them are not utilized in many places. All cuts are the same price. A typical housewife will buy a hunk of leg and start "peeling it" similar to what we would do with a large potato. She never cuts the peel off so she ends up with a strip of beef less than finger thick but very long. This is placed over hot charcoal for a Bar-B-Q "CHURRASCO" as they call it. You can eat this piece of tough meat (with the grain going every which way) along with salt and pepper sauce. It

Many chickens in the country are of the long legged variety and tough. In some cases you can find good looking roasted chicken in a supermarket but often find that it has been fed fish meal for prtein and your chicken tastes like fish or oysters.

One delightful treat commonly prepared is rice and coconut. The milk from a green coconut is used to boil the rice and then fresh shredded coconut is mixed in toward the end. The mixing of flavors is excellent. Suspect that prepared coconut as we get it off the grocers shelf would not necessarily be good. Who knows?

I commonly see horse meat steaks advertised on the menu. When I inquired about this it turns out that its not horse meat at all. They use a beef filet and then put a fresh egg on top. The egg is supposed to be "riding the horse" and for this reason its called its called that on the menu. Guess its sorta like our "hamburger" which contains no

Another strange term used on the Central American menus is "caballo pinto" or spotted horse. This is a mixture of rice and pinto beans and is another staple food of the area.

One thing we have learned to like very much is ceviche. This is small tart-like dishes of raw fish which has been mixed with lemon and onion juice for several hours all day. The lemon juice sort of cooks the fish and it is quite good.

Good vegetables generally hard to find. Green beans, spinach, turnip greens, black eyed peas, etc. grow best in a colder climate which in our case means high up in the mountains. What little is produced is quickly purchased upon arrival in the city and there's not enough to go around. We are fortunate to have a U.S. armed forces commisary to get some of these items frozen from the states. We are still looking hard for black eyed peas for New Years day!

One interesting phenomenon...Food from South America is also available in the markets of several Central American countries. When its winter in the states its summer in the southern hemisphere and vice versa. The people enjoy the best from both...if they can afford it.

Hominy bread is a fovorite in Colombia. Its sort of heavy but edible. In some respects the hominy corn meal is used like BISQUICK in the states. You can use it for small biscuits that don't rise or stuff it with a cream filling and roll it in sugar for a desert...not bad.

Fish is perhaps the cheapest meat of this region. Its generally plentiful, good, and quite varied. Shrimp and lobster are equally available but considerably more expensive. They have learned to export these products to the States. In general terms they cost $4 - $5 per pound in the market for the better quality and sizes.

A basic staple are the various kinds of bananas. The big plantation bananas seem to be the favorite and are used like bread after they are fried...Many styles and types. The tiny bananas sometimes called "primitivos" or primative species are my favorite. They are about as long as my

Beef Cattle Short Course Continues

The second session of the Eastland County Beef Cattle short course will be Monday night, January 31. County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon invites all county cattlemen to the program will be held at the Cisco Junior College Agriculture building in Cisco. The program begins at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Steve Hammack, Extension Beef Specialist, will discuss nutrient requirements of the beef herd. Providing the necessary nutrients for top performance at the lowest cost is important to every producer.

The third and final session will be on Feb. 7 when Dr. Jesse Cooke speaks on external parasite control of beef cattle. During the first session last Monday night Dr. Ashley Lovell spoke on economics of beef production.

All cattlemen are urged to attend the short course which was planned by livestock and forage committee and sponsored by Cisco Junior College Agriculture Department and the Extension Service.

fingers but conour siderably fatter. The flesh is yellow like butter, sweet, and very rich and tasty. The common bananas we see in the states probably were bred from these primative Speaking of the common type..the area around Turbo, Colombia produces Chiquita brand bananas plus Dole and other United Fruit products. There seems to be a glut on bananas at the present time and stalk by the hundreds are put out in the pastures to be eaten by cattle. Pigs love them too and with just a little protein (like chicken entrails) the hogs will become quite fat. The facts are that local farmers feed surplus bananas just like we folks in Eastland County feed surplus watermelons, peanuts, or other products. Rotten bananas don't have a very good odor however and for miles around the plantations the small lets you know where you are. If you are inspecting animals in the area you have to be careful where you step. Slick bananas can easily cause you to

While we are still enamored with the tropical fruits..papaya, mango, etc. we constantly talk about all the good things available in Eastland County ... Peaches, pears, plums, watermelons, and how so many of these items are preserved for use all year round. You begin to appreciate home all the more when you travel in strange lands.

Contestant registrations have been coming in daily. So far, the oldest registrant is Mr. Horace Shahan of San Saba who turned ninety years of age on January 14, 1983.
