It was kinda like old home week going to the Palace Drug Store Saturday and meeting O. H. Doss who was for so long associated with the Dean Drug Co. in Cisco as pharmacist and partner in the business. Mr. Doss whose home is at Cisco, has spent many years in the drug business in Eastland, Cisco and Ranger, and Mrs. Wilkerson is certainly to be commended on getting him to handle the prescription duties at the store. He is on leave of absence from a Ranger drug store for the duration. She couldn't get a better druggist to serve her customers.

There was no word to the Record Wednesday afternoon from the Harris Memorial Hospital at Fort Worth where C. B. (Nick) Nichols was to undergo a serious operation. I understand he has a serious case of stomach ulcers and a specialist was called upon to perform the operation. Dr. Ben Bradley, his physician here, went to Fort Worth to assist in the operation.

The Rising Star Rodeos are still drawing big crowds and showing some exciting close contests among veteran, professional performers and by youngsters who take part in the barrel races.

The performances are put on each Friday evening at the arena east of town on Highway 36 at 8 o'clock each Friday evening. If you like rodeos you won't find better entertainment anywhere.

Farmers of the country are smiling over the good rains that fell beneficially early in the week. Barring any of the many misfortunes that may strike the farmer by weather or insect or otherwise, our peanut growers should harvest one of their best crops this fall.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

ABC LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Typewriter Ribbons for all makes of machines and Portables at the Record.

The finest peanut crop prospects in many years confronted the farmers of this area following rains ranging from 1.5 inches upward which fell generally over the section Sunday. Practically all of the allotted peanut acreage had been planted and most growers report excellent stands.

The Rising Star city gauge measured 1.7 inches bringing the total for the month of June to 2.01 here and that for the year to well above the average for the section. The manner in which the rain fell was ideal — as most of the good rains received since last summer have been ideal in the manner of falling. Only from the Okra area, where the precipitation measured up to five inches, were there reports of damage. Terraces there were badly washed in many instances, reports to the Record said, and there was some loss of plantings.

Henry Carter said that his section, four miles south of Long Branch received 2 inches while Long Branch itself got only about an inch. However, the Long Branch area received ample showers earlier in the month and the crops in that area were in wonderful condition.

West of Rising Star 2.7 inches fell in the Altus Butler and the Yochem farms. Similar good rains were reported from every section of the Rising Star Country, and prospects were that with showers in August or early September, particularly in the sandy land areas, the section would harvest a bumper crop of peanuts.

Good crops of feed and grain have already been gathered. Fruit is in fine shape. The pecan crop is excellent. As a whole the agricultural outlook before the area is one of the finest in history, farmers say. Given a moderate amount of moisture later in the summer, which may be expected, some of the effects of the long, long drought should be erased in a return of prosperity to the land.

HOWARD PAYNE PROFESSOR PREACHES HERE

Dr. and Mrs. B. O. Herring of the Howard Payne College faculty were here Sunday. Dr. Herring who is a Bible teacher at the college preached Sunday morning and Sunday night at the First Baptist Church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Ed Jackson, who is on vacation in Arkansas with his wife and son. They will visit relatives and friends there.

Mrs. Herring who accompanied her husband here is Registrar at Howard Payne College.

Rising Star Lions To Have Pancake Supper July 7th

The Rising Star Lions Club, meeting Monday evening for the first time at its new meeting place — the Elementary School cafeteria — voted at its business session to assist the P-TA in paving the drive area before the school, and to hold, on the evening of July 7, a pancake supper to raise funds with which to finance club projects.

Mrs. Ray Nunnally appeared as a guest of the club to represent the P-TA in explaining the project as adopted by that organization and to invite the Lions to assist. The area has already been curbed, she pointed out, with funds appropriated by the P-TA and there are still funds with which to purchase chat to be used in surfacing the drive areas. The Lions were asked to donate labor and to secure trucks for hauling the chat.

A committee consisting of Robert Butler, John (Skeet) Clark, Babe Morrison and Harry Sone was charged with responsibility for the Lions Club's part in the project.

Fritz Riedel, chairman; Adrain Jenkins, Bill Button and B. B. Hickman were named to arrange and conduct the pancake supper which will be held at the cafeteria on Monday evening, July 7 from 5 to 9. The supper, to which the public is invited, will cost 50 cents for all that a person can eat of pancakes, and it will take the place of the regular meeting of the club which would have been on the following Monday night.

A group from the Bangs Club will come to assist the local club in the event and will bring the Bangs equipment for cooking and serving the pancakes to be used in the Rising Star supper.

Deputy District Governor Tommy Young was a guest of the club and acted as installing officer for the new slate of officers who took office effective July 1. Roy Holly is president. Other officers are John (Skeet) Clark, first vice; Bill Button and Art Fisher second and third vices; B. B. Hickman, tail twister; Ed Jackson, Lion tamer; Lane Wells, treasurer; Andy Bankhead, secretary, and Charles Rutherford, Sam Jones, Harry Sone and B. A. Butler, directors.

Janis Jones, Lion sweetheart, was pianist for club singing led by Lane Wells. Miss Jones was given responsibility for furnishing entertainment at the pancake supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henderson of Amity visited Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Joyce Monday.

Lake Leon Road Dam Issue Agitated As Petitions Pro And Con Are Circulated

EASTLAND—Don't look now, but the Lake Leon lam road issue is showing again.

A petition being circulated in Ranger and at Lake Leon calling for the paving of the road over Lake Leon dam has been signed by more than 200 persons, and another petition by Kokomo farmers opposing the paving has been mailed to the Eastland County Commissioners Court.

The Ranger Chamber of Commerce is spearheading the petition urging the paving of the four mile stretch of road, and Joe McNeely of the Kokomo community is backing the attack against the road.

"Our Highway Committee voted to stay in the background on this," H. J. Tanner, Eastland CoC secretary, said. "The petitions are in the office, however, if anyone does want to sign them."

In February, a joint effort by the Eastland and Ranger chambers of Commerce failed to get action on getting the road paved and made a farm-market road. At that time Gordon Smith, resident engineer with the State Highway Department, told the group that he felt there are other roads in the county needed more than the dam road. "We can come back to that road a little later," he pledged.

Wording of the petition being circulated by proponents of the road and the one mailed to the Commissioners Court by McNeely is given below:

Opposing Petition
We the residents of Kokomo Community, want to protest the movement made by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce in regard to a farm to market road being built from F. M. 570 over Lake Leon Dam to connect F. M. 2214. The road over the dam would not help the farmers of Kokomo Community. It would help us more by spending money on our present roads as they are almost impassable in rainy weather.

When we get our F. M. 2214 we can go to Eastland and Ranger on pavement. Now it seems that this project over the dam is for sportsmen and sightseers mostly and could be built after other necessary road construction is completed.

We need a road to F. M. 2214 by Kokomo and on to Gorman. Then we could carry our produce

Horace Switzer Is Buried Monday In Services At 10 A. M.

Horace Swinden Switzer, 64-year-old retired drug store executive, died of a heart attack at his home here at 9 p. m. Saturday, June 22, and was buried in Rising Star cemetery after services at 10 a. m. Monday, June 23. Death ended a retirement which began three and a half years ago when Mr. Switzer and his associates sold their group of ten drug stores in Beaumont and he returned to the town of his youth to live out the remainder of his life. He had been in business at Beaumont, helping to organize and develop the Beaumont stores for 35 years after leaving Rising Star as a boy to work for a newspaper at Rockdale as a teen-age printer, then going to the Southeast Texas oil capital to work for a store which became the nucleus of the group.

For the past several years Mr. Switzer had been subject to recurring heart attacks some of which sent him to Rising Star Hospital for extended periods. Despite his illness, however, he was a tireless and effective worker in the First Methodist Church, a member of its official board and the one member of the church to whom a major part of the credit was given for the new Hammond organ which was purchased three years ago. Mr. Switzer handled the duties of collecting pledges and paying on the note for the instrument which was paid in full and cancelled only a few weeks before his death.

The music of that organ was a reverent background of melody as the Rev. Robert A. Cook, pastor of the church, spoke an effective eulogy in Scripture and quiet praise of the life of Mr. Switzer before a crowded church. There were no songs. After the simple and beautiful service, the casket, unopened, was taken from the church and carried to Rising Star cemetery in a Higginbotham funeral coach where interment was made under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Frank Switzer, Wightman Switzer, Forrest Switzer, Roy Gamble, Harry Sone and Mark Clark. The latter two were Rising Star friends.

Surviving are the wife, the former Helen Kone, whom Mr. Switzer met at Rockdale when he went there in 1913 to work for the Rockdale Reporter and married in 1918, after he had gone to Beaumont; a son, the Rev. David Switzer, chaplain of Southwestern University, Georgetown, a daughter-in-law, Shirley, wife of David; two grandchildren, Rebecca and Eric, children of David and Shirley; two sisters, Mrs. Vada Arnold of Rising Star, and Mrs. O. J. McInnis of Austin, David, who has his degree in Theology, is presently taking courses for his master's degree in psychology at Texas University.

Mr. Switzer was a native of Comanche County, a farm boy, born on November 18, 1893, and living there while a boy. He attended and graduated from Rising Star schools and then left for the job at Rockdale. At Beaumont he was active in the First Methodist Church as a member of the official board for many years. He was an ardent member of the Beaumont Lions Club, serving as its president and then for 15 years as its secretary.

During World War I he was commissioned as a second lieutenant at Camp Pike, near Little Rock, Ark. and served with the infantry forces of the Army in the United States.

Mrs. Bill Seeliger and sons Randy and Jay Scott, of Sacramento, Calif., were here this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Koonce and Linda. Mrs. Seeliger is a sister of Mr. Koonce.

Mrs. M. G. Joyce, recuperating from a heart attack suffered several weeks ago, was doing well at her home here this week.

The faculty of the Rising Star Public Schools has been completed, Supt. Sam Jones announced this week.

There will be two new faces on the High School faculty, one of them returning to the staff after an absence of three years in the armed services. The latter is Weldon Hill, who will resume his old place as assistant coach and teacher of typing. The other is Homer Putnam, who takes the place vacated by the resignation of Marvin Chambers, teaching mathematics and assisting in the athletic programs of the school. Mr. Hill is due to receive his discharge from the service in August.

Another and welcome development was the decision of Miss Peggy Tate, band director, to withdraw her earlier resignation and resume the post she has filled so efficiently for the past two years as director of the Wildcat Band and teacher of public school music in the elementary school.

Mrs. Dorothy Shook, teacher of history and English in the High School, is on a year's leave of absence.

With the exception of these changes, the faculty of the High School, and that of the Elementary School will remain the same as last year. They are:

High School — Ray Nunnally, principal, social studies and coach; H. L. Geyer, vocational agriculture; Homer Putnam, math and assistant coach; Weldon Hill, typing and assistant coach; Mrs. C. A. Claborn, English; Miss Martha Jay Childress, social studies and commercial; Mrs. Billie Nowlin, home economics, and Jack White, science.

Mr. Putnam, presently working at Abilene, taught at Mattson last year. He has purchased the Robert Needham home west of Rising Star.

Elementary School — J. M. Crump, principal and math in 6th, 7th and 8th; Mrs. Madolyn Sone, first grade; Mrs. Etta Mae Tyler, second grade; Mrs. Lois Ferrell, third grade; Mrs. Betty Jo Fisher, fourth grade; Mrs. Irene Vermilion, fifth grade; Edward Watkins, sixth grade; Miss Peggy Tate, seventh grade home room, music in grade school and band in high school; Miss Alice Wheeler, eighth grade home room and English in 6th, 7th and 8th.

The Average Individual . . .
... gives little thought to the question of values when he should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without an abstract, disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which loss could be saved and the savings wisely spent for abstracts of title.

Chicken Next To Beef As Meat Choice For June

College Station, — With the exception of beef, chicken is the first-choice meat of households in Houston, Texas, according to a recent survey of consumer attitudes and preferences regarding chicken by research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Most of the families who bought chicken at the chain stores included in the Houston survey did not consider it their first choice meat. However, people who usually buy chicken rather than other meats do so because they prefer it or because it can be used for variety in the family menu.

The main reasons given for buying chicken fell into four groups — flavor, economy, health and versatility in meal preparation. It is considerably more popular for weekday evening meals or Sunday dinners than for special occasion meals.

Few people think of chicken in terms of its food value and nutritional advantages. Weight-conscious consumers should be interested in the fact that it is high in protein and high in B vitamins, yet low in calories.

Outdoor barbecuing of chicken at home has increased in popularity during recent years. It is somewhat more popular among high-income families, but an appreciable number of medium and low-income families also are indulging in this new method of "dining out."

Detailed information and charts of the results of the survey are contained in Bulletin 895, "Consumer Attitudes and Preferences Regarding Chicken." It may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

to market and could get to hospitals and doctors when necessary. "We appreciate the fine road program that the Highway Department, Commissioners Court and our county commissioner has promoted in Eastland County. However, we do feel that the above road is an unnecessary expense of money when other roads are so badly needed.

Ranger Petition To The Commissioners Court of Eastland County

State Highway Commission, Austin, Texas:

We, the undersigned citizens of Eastland County, and people from out of the state and county, who have traveled the road from Farm Road 570 at Lone Cedar, across the dam at Lake Leon, to Farm Road 2214, and have spent time and money seeking recreation at this new resort, hereby earnestly petition the Commissioners Court of Eastland County and the State Highway Commission to take the necessary steps or taking over and paving this four mile section of road.

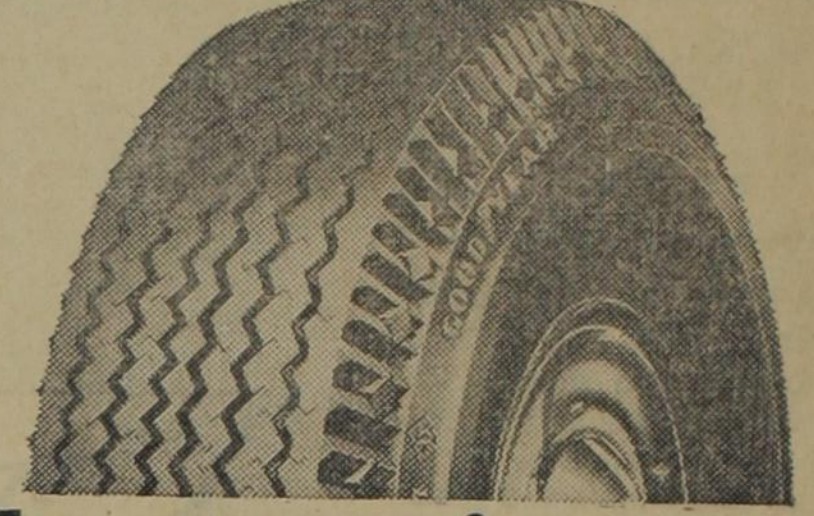

Many of us would like to visit Lake Leon more often and spend more money in this area if the above mentioned road was paved and the hazards eliminated for transporting boats to and from the Lake. The road is rough and dusty and disagreeable to travel in dry weather, and almost impassable in wet weather.

Also, there are 60 to 70 farm families who live south of the lake who would be greatly benefited by being able to get their products to market and their families to hospitals for medical care. The road is also a route for school buses and rural mail delivery.

At the present time there are about 75 privately-owned cabins around the shoreline, in addition to four commercial lodges and boat docks. The county and state tax valuations are increasing every day, and we feel that money derived from gasoline tax alone, of local and out-of-county people should soon pay the cost of the road, due to its increased travel by people seeking recreation.

Eastland to Host Week-End Lakeside Tourney

EASTLAND — A number of local golfers are expected to journey to Eastland this week-end to participate in the Eighth Annual Lakeside Country Club golf tournament.

Tournament Chairman Emmett Powell has issued a special invitation to all local golfers to participate in the match play event. He said some 96 golfers are expected to vie for honors in six flights.

Defending champion of the tournament is Bill Carson of Abilene. He beat out Frank Freer of Lamesa in the finals of the championship flight last year.

Other champions down through the years include such Texas amateur greats as Ray Ferguson, Lee Chapman, the late Marion Hickey, Jimmy Phillips, Joe Ed Black and Darrell Tully.

"Lakeside Country Club is in the best condition since the Club was first founded in 1950," Powell declared. "The greens are in perfect shape, and our fairways have more grass on them on them than we had ever dreamed was possible."

The club recently purchased new equipment to get the course in tip-top shape for the tourney. A new fairway mower and a greens mower have been in use for a month, according to Pro Hab Simmons.

Qualifying rounds got under way earlier this week and will end Friday, to qualify for medalist honors players must qualify on Friday.

One thousand dollars will be divided among the champion runner-up and consolation winner in each flight.

To Our Friends and Customers . .

We wish to announce that

Mr. Oliver H. Doss

Of Cisco, formerly of the Dean Drug Store, Cisco, is now in charge of our Prescription Department.

Mr. Doss, who is presently associated with the Ray Lilly Drug Store in Ranger, will be with us for an indefinite period and until a permanent arrangement is made for the operation of the PALACE DRUG STORE. He is a registered pharmacist of many years experience, as able and qualified a druggist as it is possible to obtain and we feel fortunate in securing him for the very essential service of our customers.

In view of the fact that since the sudden death of my husband, there seems to have been some uncertainty created as to my plans for the store, I wish to make it clear that:

1. The PALACE DRUG STORE will continue to be operated as in the past.
2. A registered, competent pharmacist will be on duty to fill all prescriptions exactly as ordered and to give competent, qualified drug service to our customers.
3. And while it is true that my present plans contemplate sale of the store, I shall certainly not do so except to an owner and operator who will carry on the business in the spirit and tradition of O. E. Wilkerson
4. The prescription files of the PALACE DRUG STORE are a part of the assets of store and will be maintained and sold with it.

"O. E." built the store. He put his heart and soul into it. He made it an instrument of service to the people of this area second to none. I would certainly not be true to his ideals and his memory if I did anything less than to see that the business is carried on by the standards which he set.

I pledge you my most earnest efforts to do just that.

Sincerely,

Mrs. O. E. Wilkerson.

RESPONSIBILITY

Only those legal systems have survived which have respected people by seeing that they had well trained men to speak up for them in court. Otherwise law becomes arbitrarily forced upon people in distress who may not know their rights or how to assert them.

Athens had little use for experts of any kind. Aristophanes, for instance, poked fun at people trying to defend their rights in courts. So people in trouble would go to "rhetoricians" or "sophists" to get under the table advice on how to win lawsuits. Such lawyers had few standards and no way to enforce them.

But in Rome, where the law grew out of religion, the earliest went on, found themselves up-lawyers were priests who as time holding the law, both profane and sacred.

Later, law passed into the hands of wealthy, influential, educated non-priests who, out of duty to the Republic, helped others before the Roman courts. Their motto: "High above all virtues stands the law."

Later, as the Caesars took over, the Greek notions crept back. High-minded men had to take action against shady characters under a code for lawyers covering their preparation for, and admission to the bar, their competency, pay and conduct.

Under the barbarians Roman law gave way to the tribal folkways of the Goths. Everyone (with the help of kinfolk) had to fight his own battles. For example, no one saw crime as a public offense punishable by the state; murder, theft, etc., were personal affronts, and private affairs.

Some of the Roman law lived on in Church courts and in Italy. With growing commerce in the Eleventh Century the princes and merchants called in lawyers to improve local rule and set up rules for trade. For this they turned again to the Roman law, the Justinian Code—which thus became the foundation for the legal systems of Europe. With it again came the notion of professional responsibility.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- A fundamental and continuing issue is before the American people. It is not a political issue in the sense of candidates or party. It is one from which most want to shy away.

It is the matter of so-called grants-in-aid to states, cities and individuals. It involves 105 different programs. For the fiscal year 1957, it amounted to 6 1/2 billion dollars.

On several occasions in recent years the Supreme Court has said, in effect, that the federal government may control that to which it contributes. The decisions do not say that the federal government MUST control, but that it MAY control.

The issue is: Should the federal government tax its citizens and return to them in the form of grants some of the money, or should it collect less money by lower taxes, leaving the local governments to collect the taxes and provide the programs they want?

Should the federal government tax the people, decide what the needs are, and the degree of control to be placed over the programs by the bureaus, commissions or departments administering the programs?

Grants increased 25 per cent from 1956 to 1957. It is estimated that in the coming fiscal year these grants will exceed 8 billion dollars.

In 1953 soon after President Eisenhower took office, he suggested to the governors of the states that a joint federal-state Action Committee be set up to study this question.

The most the committee did was to recommend a reduction of the federal excise tax on local telephone service from 10 to 6 per cent, and that the states levy the tax instead, to finance programs costing about 105 millions a year. This sum would be supposed to take care of vocational education, municipal waste treatment plants, advance planning for slum clearing projects and disaster relief for damage to public facilities.

All of this is a drop in the bucket compared to total grants, and besides, it deals with a tax on communications which was supposed to be a temporary wartime tax.

The mayors of all the big cities, with one or two exceptions, grants. So do the state governors.

HOW DOES OUR STATE OF TEXAS FAIR under the state allocations of grants-in-aid?

Texas was second only to California in the amount received in 1957, or a total of $453,969,000. Based on a population of a little over nine million, this amounts to $50 per person. Incidentally, this compares with $38 per capita for the nation as a whole. Our state paid $2,567,739,000 in total taxes, or 3.2 per cent of all the taxes paid into the federal treasury during 1957, and received 7 per cent of all the grants made by the federal government.

Everyone is for states' rights but we must wonder how long it will be before all states and local governments have sold these rights to the federal government. Remember what the highest courts of the land have said -- "The federal government has the right and may control that to which it contributes."
