Whenever one of these hippy characters with the exaggerated hairdo stands and berates the American 'power structure' and calls for a change in the social organization of this country, I do have a feeling of its inadequacy.

That would never happen in Russia, for instance. The "power structure" there is very effective in such cases.

But over here the so-called "power structure" seems too preoccupied with producing the goods and services that distinguish the economy of our standard of living, with anti-poverty and civil rights programs, with building hospitals and endowing colleges on whose campuses these hirsute reformers may culture their vermin and scream against authority—too much concerned with improving the conditions of society to worry about political dissent, as violent or insulting as it may become.

The very conditions and the freedom in which these objects scream their insults damns their thesis.

Recently a group of them seized and occupied for a long while one of the buildings on the campus of a great New York university because they objected to the location of a gymnasium the university was getting ready to build. Questioned, some of them admitted that the seizure was a demonstration against the "power structure" of a society they wanted to overthrow.

It is significant that this outburst, as is the case with many others, took place upon educational grounds endowed by the very 'oppressors' against whom it was directed, an institution devoted to the enlightenment and welfare of the very students who seemed to resent its symbolism. How strange that oppression should seek its own destruction!

Now just what is the American "power structure"?

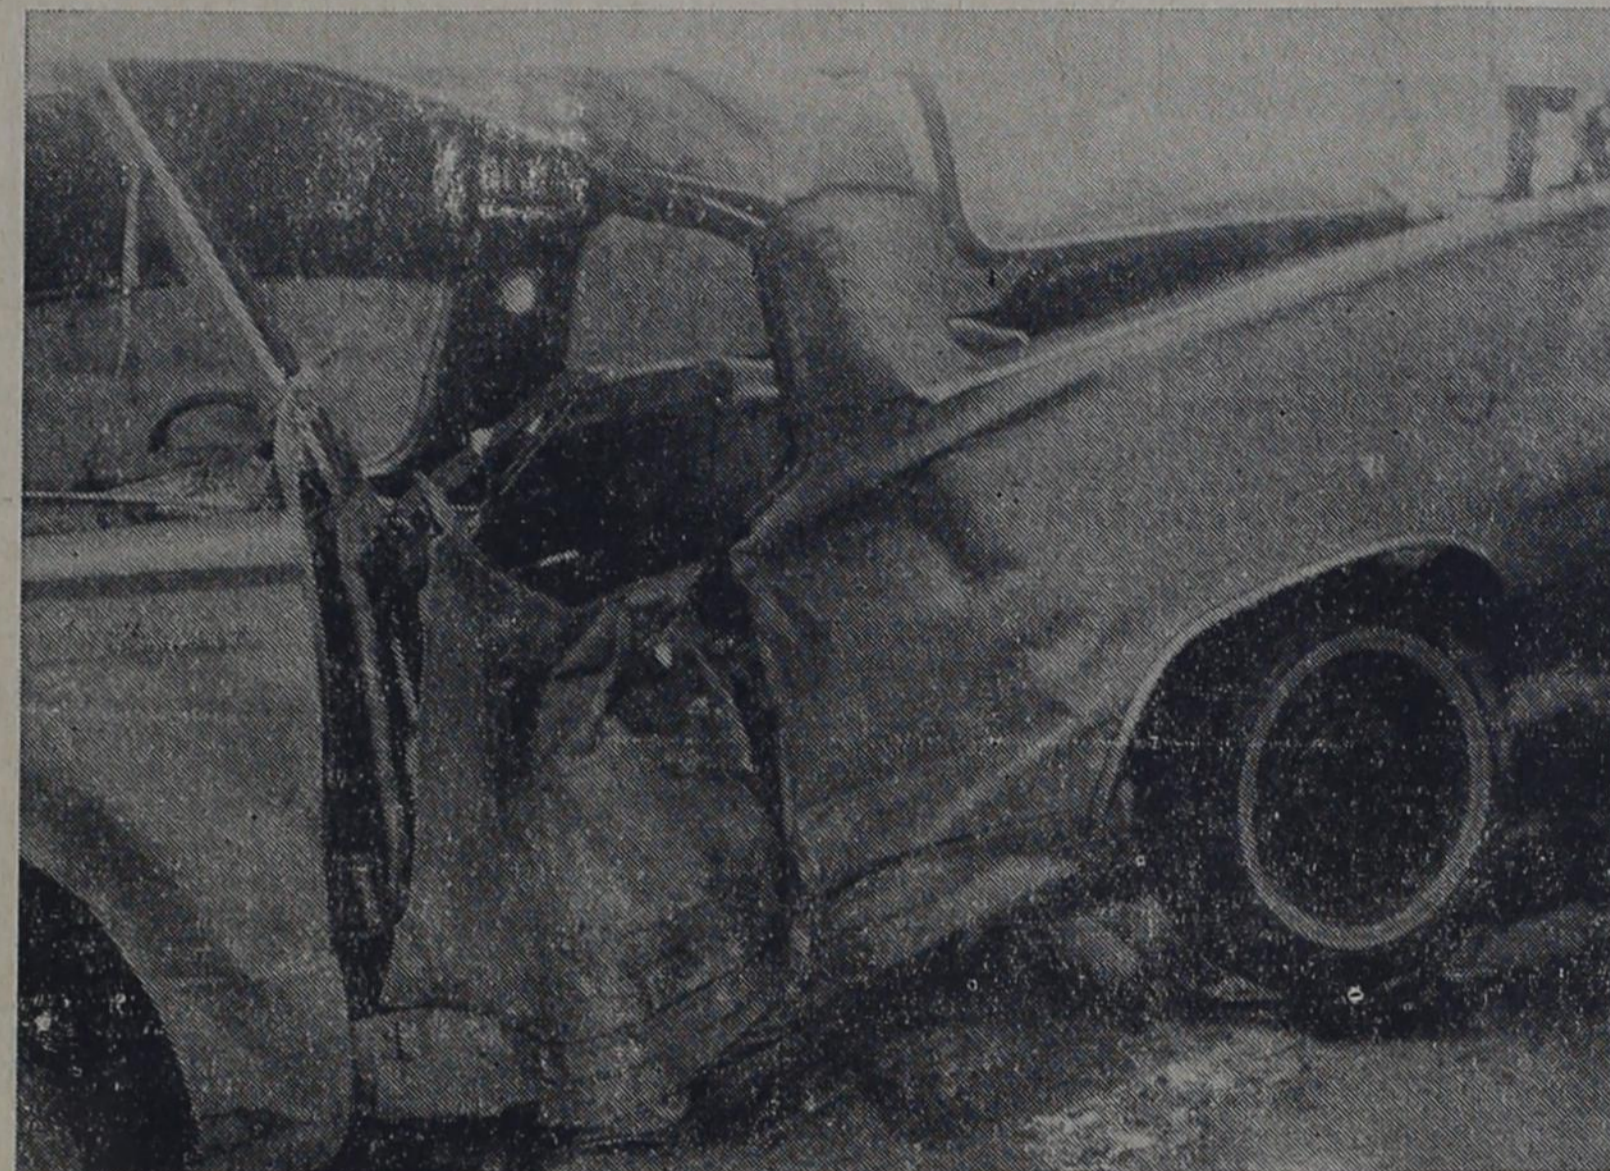

Our political parties rise and fall in relative strength; presidents come and go; there is a constantly changing spectrum of political leadership from small hamlet to the highest office in the land; our business leaders, the presidents and other officers of our corporations, rise through the ranks and serve their terms and pass into retirement, and the same is true of our labor leaders and those of our educational and religious institutions. No one group, no one organization exercises dominance over the whole complex of our society, as is the case in Russia or China or others of the communist regimes. Ours is a dynasty of merit.

And I am a part of that power structure; I am a voter; I am a consumer of the products with which American business entices me. I, along with millions of other Americans, own a part of the corporate structure of this country.

My vote helps determine who shall sit in the chairs of government; who shall make our laws and maintain the institutions of essential political discipline. It is my unrestrained preferences in the market place which help to determine the kind of goods found on the shelves of our stores and the category of services that insure the physical comforts and satisfactions of our society. It is my vote as a stockholder which helps to determine the management and policies of a corporation. I have a voice in the op-

Waldene Lewis Dies in Skid On Rain-Slick Highway Mon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Waldene L. Lewis, 52, who died about 8:30 Monday morning in a highway accident on U. S. 183 north of Rising Star, were held at the First Methodist Church in Rising Star at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

The Rev. Strader Taylor, a former pastor of the church, officiated and he was assisted by the Rev. Jay Beavers, the present pastor.

Burial in Rising Star cemetery was under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lewis, cashier-bookkeeper for the West Texas Utilities Co. here and prominent in church, club and music circles, was killed almost instantly when her 1968 Plymouth Barracuda went out of control on a rainslick pavement and struck a bridge abutment on Highway 183 just north of the Romney store. The accident occurred just as she was meeting a truck on the approach to a narrow bridge. There was no collision between the truck and the car.

Erasable Bond in 100-Sheet Packs at The Rising Star

Martin Weiser, driver of the Van Gardenhire gasoline truck, said he had just crossed the bridge when the Plymouth passed him, and he noticed that it was in trouble and beginning to skid, with the rear end sweeping around toward the front left fender of his truck. He said he swerved to the right to avoid it, and through the rearview mirror saw the car smash broadside into the end of the concrete bridge rail and fall into the creek on the east side of the highway. AUSTIN (Special) — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith has announced the appointment of Sen. Tom Creighton of Fort Worth and Mineral Wells to the Senate finance subcommittee.

This powerful sub-committee is made up of five senators together with five members of the House who will serve as conferees to make adjustments and reach agreement in the Senate and House versions of the 2.79 billion dollar tax appropriations bill.

Tarrant County is the only county in the state to have two representatives to serve on this important committee, the other being Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth. The appointments are based to a degree on seniority.

Other state members on the committee are Sens. Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo; Charles Herrington, Austin; A. M. Aiken, Paris; and J. P. Word of Meridian.

Pat Agnew Member of Elite Insurance Group

For the third year in succession Pat Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agnew of Rising Star and husband of the former Carolyn Cawley, has attained membership in the exclusive Million Dollar Round Table, exclusive sales organization sponsored by leading life insurance companies of the United States.

Pat, who represents an Austin-based company at Abilene, attained this distinction by having sold more than one million dollars in life insurance to his clients during the year.

Membership in the club, places the member among the elite of the insurance sales profession. Congratulations, Pat.

left door of the Plymouth at the driver's seat was V-ed into the center of the car and Mrs. Lewis was thrown into the right side of the front seat.

Mr. Weiser told Highway Patrolman Jack Therwanger of Eastland who investigated, that he stopped his truck as quickly as he could and went back to the wrecked car where he noticed feeble signs of life and that he then hurried to the Cecil Carter store and had Mrs. Carter telephone for help.

There were no vehicles other than the Weiser truck and Mrs. Lewis' car on the highway at the time of the accident. G. C. Stroebel who lives near Romney, arrived at the scene while Mr. Weiser was seeking help. He said there were no signs of life when he saw Mrs. Lewis, whom he did not at first recognize.

Rust Funeral Home was summoned when a call to Rising Star disclosed that the Higginbotham ambulance was on a call, and the Cisco funeral home attendants removed the body from the wreck and brought it to Rising Star. Justice of the Peace Lewis of Cisco returned a verdict of accidental death after he was called to the site.

Examination disclosed that Mrs. Lewis most probably died of a crushed chest.

She was on her way to Eastland, where she had been summoned for jury service, at the time of the accident. Patrolman Therwanger said that evidences at the scene indicated that the car was travelling at a normal speed.

Mrs. Lewis had been with the Rising Star office of the West Texas Utilities Co., for about ten years. She had served for many years as organist for the First Methodist Church, and was one of the leading members of a musical group known as the Melody Singers.

She was a native of Mills County, where she was born August 17, 1915, and had lived in Rising Star for about 32 years. She was married to W. Thomas Lewis at Wink, Texas, on June 28, 1936. Her husband, who is engaged in construction work at Katy, Texas, survives. So do her mother, Mrs. Florence Lasly of Goldthwaite; a son, James Walter Lewis of Houston; a daughter, Judith Ann Lewis of Rising Star, presently attending Sam Houston State College at Huntsville; two brothers, Walter D. Lasly of Nacogdoches, Texas, and Mark L. Lasly of Odessa; a sister, Mrs. Ruby Loraine Wright of Melrose, Mass., and one grandson.

Pallbearers for the services were Lane Wells, Pete Groce, John Pruet, Frank Gray, Ed Witt and Gene Rhodes.

Capt. Edge Flies Against N. V. Guns

U. S. AIR FORCES, Thailand — U. S. Air Force Capt. Thomas H. Edge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Edge of 504 South Park Street, Ogmulgee, Okla., recently piloted an F-105 Thunderchief to help destroy five 100mm radar tracking anti-aircraft guns in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam.

The first flight of 105s evaded heavy anti-aircraft fire to strike the gun position, at the direction of a forward air controller who had spotted the enemy emplacements in the trees. Gun cameras on the flight showed three guns destroyed and a fourth damaged. Later in the day another Thunderchief flight hit the target area completely destroying the remaining two guns.

The captain, a graduate of Cushing High School, attended Oklahoma State University. He was commissioned upon completion of Officer Candidate School.

His wife, Evalene, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Hutson of Rising Star, Texas.

BY VADA ARNOLD

A graduate of the Rising Star High School, Brig. Gen. Fred C. Gray, vice-commander of the First Air Force retired from active military duty on March, 29 of this year after more than 35

Formal ceremonies were conducted on the Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y. flight line.

A parade in the general's honor was the highlight of the ceremony. Squadrons of airmen marched past the reviewing stand in honor of Gen. Gray and distinguished guests. As the squadrons passed the stand, several flights of Air Defense Command flew by in aerial tribute.

Many distinguished guests attended, including Commanders, Vice Commanders of the Air Force and Air Division Commanders from throughout the First Air Force. Among guests were the Mayor and City Manager of Newburg, N. Y.

Gen. Gray and his family were honored in the evening at a formal dinner at the Officers Club, given by staff officers of the First Air Force.

Gen. Gray, a native of Texas, received his first commission in 1935. In February, 1944 he became wing executive for the 66th Fighter Group in England and in 1945 he became director of fighter operations for the 8th Air Force.

He returned to the United States on V-E Day and was assigned to set up the Air National Guard in seven mid-western states. Later he became an investigator for

H. L. Geye Attends Tarleton Tractor Clinic

H. L. Geye, Rising Star High School vocational agriculture teacher, participated in a Tractor Maintenance School at Tarleton State College on June 19 and 20. J. B. Morton, Agricultural Education, coordinated the school which was taught by Tommy Wells, Serving Training and Warranty Supervisor, Ford Motor Company.

The school was designed to improve the competence of vocational agriculture teachers in the knowledge and skills necessary to teach tractor maintenance to vocational agriculture students and adult and young farmers.

Wells pointed out that agricultural machinery is second only to land and buildings in the amount of investment on modern farms. Preventive maintenance, he said, is the key to getting the dollar value from this investment.

Geye studied and practiced all aspects of preventive maintenance during the two day school.

Prior to going to Stewart Air Base he was Commander of the United States Logistics Group with headquarters in Anakara, Turkey.

Born near Palestine, Texas, son of the late Fred C. Gray and Mrs. Gray, he moved to Rising Star with his parents in the early 20s, attended local schools and graduated from the High School here. He was known as Colbert Gray in Rising Star.

His father was co-owner of Agnew and Gray Food Market for several years and later owned and operated the Gray Chevrolet Co. in Rising Star.

Later the Grays moved to Abilene where Gen. Gray graduated from the Abilene Christian College. He spent one year as coach and math instructor in the Sylvester Schools, before entering the U. S. Army Air Corps Flying School at Randolph Field in February, 1933.

More farmers harvest more peanuts with Lilliston Combines than with any other make in the field.

Fifty-four years of pioneering know-how pays off for these farmers — harvest after harvest year after year.

They know when they've got something good going for them. In fact — the best!

Overwhelming testimony proves the Lilliston first in the field.

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — GROWING UP ON A FARM WE HAD BEES. Having been told about the duties of the queen, the workers and the drones, they were interesting to watch. (If in that day there had been television, probably the bees would not have been noticed.) But it was fascinating to learn that when the old queen had expired and her usefulness served, the new queen left the hive, followed by the workers who surrounded her on the Mesquite limb where she chose to light.

AT THIS POINT, THE DRONES, TOO, HAD SERVED their purpose and either died or were killed by the workers. When the new queen was installed on her throne in a new hive, the workers immediately began to gather the materials for new comb and to dress up the new palace with all needed fixtures.

WE LEARNED THAT THE WORKER BEES would sting and were willing to give their life afterwards to protect their queen and her castle. The drones could be caught with the hand without injury. They carried no stinger and did not leave the hive except for a stroll outside for fresh air.

OUR SOCIETY IS SOMETHING LIKE THIS. It has one criterion, namely, that the individual have a willingness to work. Our economic system is not designed for the "drones", for the shiftless and for the fellow who wants to live in the morning while others are out on the job.

THE GREAT MARVEL OF OUR FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM in America is that it virtually guarantees a reasonable annual income to about everyone provided he or she is willing to work. There are, of course, exceptions. In the past we have not done all which should have been done to give opportunity for training more people for better jobs. There are those who, for some misfortune or other, are unable to obtain and hold a decent job but no country in history has been so successful in creating job opportunities as has this Country.

YET THERE ARE SOME PEOPLE WHO WANT TO REDESIGN our system so that it gives the "drones" full equality with the "workers."

IN FEBRUARY OF 1967, THE NATIONAL COMMISSION ON TECHNOLOGY, Automation and Economic Progress, produced a 210-page report endorsing a guaranteed minimum annual wage for every American. Should the Commission's report ever be enacted into law, the citizen who chose not to work would get a cash allowance from the Government. The advocates of the guaranteed annual income theory contend that it is everyone's Constitutional right, regardless of the circumstances.

IT IS NOT SURPRISING THAT THE OLD-LINE SOCIALISTS endorse such a plan because they have always been for a redistribution of the wealth. It is surprising, however, to find some prominent businessmen along with many of the intellectuals advocating such a proposal.

GENERALLY, IT IS DOUBTFUL THAT THE SOCIALISTS give any heed or consideration to the cost as a factor in their reasoning. You would think the businessmen, and successful ones at that, would consider the cost and where the money must come from. Estimates of the cost have ranged from $2 billion to $20 billion a year. This is the difference between 2 cents and 20 cents — quite a spread in estimates.

IT IS BEING PROVED OVER AND OVER AGAIN that there are those who, knowing they are able to extract money from the taxpayers, choose this method as their livelihood. In the big cities, welfare officials say they spend as much time in trying to get able bodied men on welfare to go to work as they do in trying to help those who are really entitled to help. Imagine that if every chisler realized he never had to work again but only to apply for the guaranteed annual wage, how great the ranks of the "drones" would swell. Imagine, also, the reaction of working men and women who must supply the money to support the "drones". We can well imagine the feelings of people who have to get up early to go to work and others who work all night and who have to find their rest in the daytime.

CERTAINLY THERE ARE MANY WHO HOLD UNPLEASANT JOBS simply because they know that working is the only way to support themselves and their families. Unless these working people felt it morally wrong not to work and felt it an insult not to do their part in society by holding down jobs, they could with considerable justification say, "Why should I work to support the loafers?"

TO SUPPORT THE "DRONES" WOULD BE TO STEAL the rightful earnings of those citizens who use their energies each day to support themselves, their families, their communities and their Country.

WITH INCENTIVE TO WORK DESTROYED, such a scheme would eventually create a class of totally dependent citizens, vulnerable to the unscrupulous and reckless politician who would promise them more and more.

LIKE THE FELLOW SAID, "I am working — for a guaranteed annual income and I will sit here until I get it."

Nancy Campbell and Ronald Rhodes Wed

Miss Nancy Beth Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell, became the bride of Ronald Dale Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rhodes of Rising Star, Friday, June 14, at 7 p. m. in the Church of Christ in Cross Plains with Minister Gary Adams officiating.

The wedding was performed before an arch of greenery centered with two wedding bells, accented by candelabra and baskets of white gladiolus. Family pews were marked with white satin bows. Recorded music was played by Dennis Campbell, brother of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length empire gown of peau de soie with chantilly lace bodice and sleeves with the lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. The sweep length train was fastened at the waist. Her veil of illusion was fastened to a pearl trimmed white satin pill box. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white gladiolus.

Mrs. Janet Jackson, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Ruth Coggin and Peggy Lane. They all wore floor length gowns of blue peau de soie and lace fashioned like the brides. They wore short veils of blue tulle and carried long stemmed pink carnations with pink ribbon streamers.

Donnie Rhodes served his brother as best man. Mike Rhodes, brother of the groom, and Larry Campbell, brother of the bride, served as ushers and candlelighters.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the classroom annex of the church. The bride's table was covered with lace over blue and laid with silver and crystal. The centerpiece was pink and white carnations with blue candles. Mrs. Donnie Rhodes and Miss Patsy Ingram presided at the table. Miss Joan Burk registered the guests.

For traveling, the bride chose a lime green dress with white accessories.

The bride and groom are graduates of Cross Plains High School and Cisco Junior College. They are at home at 2100 Echols, Apt. 6, in Bryan where the groom will attend classes at A&M in the fall.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Odom's restaurant.

A lovely shower honoring the bride was given in the home of Mrs. Cowan Hutton Friday night, June 7.

It Has Been

By Vada Arnold

Entertainment of some kind has always played a vital role in the society of American people. And Rising Star people have been no different from other people.

During the year 1912 modes of entertainment in this area were varied and simple, but much enjoyed.

There were no TV sets, no picture shows and "automobiles" were as scarce as hen's teeth. Nevertheless, "a good time was had by all."

In March of that year new officers were elected for the Literary Society at Okra, C. E. (Charlie) Scott was elected president. For secretary, Miss Eutha Hilton; Miss Bertie Bishop, treasurer; and P. B. Burns, vice-president.

The "Okra Eye Opener" reported "We have a large attendance at the society every meeting night. If you don't come, you miss a good time to be sure."

At Sipe Springs, Miss Isla Jay entertained in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Jay, with a Tacky Party, on Saturday night, March 24. A large crowd attended.

The Vernon brothers string band furnished music. Several piano selections were played by Ola Hill, such as "Pretty White Rose" and the "Bee March." Mr. Caphart dressed like a silly school boy, gave a funny performance. Games including "snap" and drop the handkerchief were played.

Some of the tackiest dressed guests were Ola Hill, Kate and Allie Irby, Carrier Childress, Iliion and Lola Stamey, Winnie Woods and Clarence Stamey, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dobbins were the tackiest couple.

Refreshments of biscuits filled with cotton, red beans, chowchow and cornbread with buttermilk to drink, were served.

Mrs. W. P. Bucy entertained in her home in the southwest part of town on Tuesday night, March 27, 1912 honoring the Senior Epworth League of the Methodist Church.

Games of various kinds intermingled with contests was the feature of the evening making it one of the most enjoyable parties ever given here. "It will never be forgotten by all that were present," the reporter said in the write up for the Rising Star X-Ray.

"Delightful music was rendered by Misses Clara Jacobs and Blanche Gray, that met the listening ear with joy."

"Tasty" souvenirs were given in remembrance of the evening although it was not necessary that these be presented, for this purpose as all will remember this evening as a glorious one." Fruit was served.

And there was "the big to do in the home of Wm. Koonce, on Monday evening, March 26, 1912.

J. L. (Pink) Boyd, a popular cotton buyer here, who was a favorite of everyone who knew him, sent out invitations to quite a crowd of his friends to meet him at the Koonce home for a three or four hour program of "most pleasant entertainment."

The name of the person who wrote the affair up is unknown but it went like this. "Our jolly cotton buyer "Pink" Boyd really put on dog, Monday night at Will Koonce's home. The illuminations were turned on at 8:30 p. m., after the arrival of the guests.

Games of various kinds were played and intermingled with interesting and funny contests. Several courses of refreshments were served during the evening.

Miss Mary Pearce won first prize in the art contest, and W. E. Tyler won the Booby prize.

Our friend, Pink, announced that he was leaving Rising Star for several months, much to the disappointment of all guests. However, he promised to return at the opening of the fall cotton season.

Toasts of all kinds were given in behalf of the host, such as "Long live the name of Pink Boyd," "To the happiness and prosperity of the host," "May the return of the jolliest cotton buyer in Texas come soon." To the many toasts received, Mr. Boyd graciously returned the honor.

Those present were Misses Willie Boase, Edna Clark, Winnie Gibbs, Lela Toombs, Nettie and Banche Nowlin, Mary and Myrtle Pearce, Fannie Mae Koonce, and Bessie McKinney; Messers Sam

What Is the Difference?

Your surplus cash on time deposit in a bank is payable upon your demand; the rate of interest is guaranteed. Your money is AT HOME, where you can "put your hands on it any day.

If your savings are in a Savings and Loan Association, you are NOT a depositor; you become a stockholder; the rate of dividend is NOT guaranteed, nor are you guaranteed that you can withdraw your money on demand.

There is a great deal of difference between a bank's FDIC guarantee and the guarantee of the Federal Savings and Loan Association. It might pay you to let us explain the difference.
