On this page there is a picture and a story about a steer-feeding project carried out by the boys of the Future Farmers Chapter under H. L. Geyer's direction. The fact in the story should be of interest to every farmer and stockman who wants to make more money out of his cattle. The boys made an outstanding success of their project. They carried it out along very practical lines, because the object was to show that cattle finishing can be commercially profitable.

There is a great opportunity for increasing farm and ranch income to this section through finish feeding of our own Texas grown steers on locally grown feeds, particularly grain sorghums, it has been pointed out many times. Grain sorghums are as effective for this purpose as Iowa or Illinois corn, I am told. There seems to be no sense in taking steers off our own pastures, shipping them to distant points for finishing out on corn and then shipping the beef back to Texas for consumption. We could use those profits ourselves to good advantage and to the advantage of the consumer, too, in cheaper beef.

Cattle feeding is not hard work. A project can be small or large, and a grower can make profits in the proportion that he grows his own feeds and markets them on the hoof.

A new variety of combine seed, the Golden Wonder, under the sun, says its foundation—has been produced at the Research Foundation at Renner. The oil grain, known as Sesame No. 15, has been released for planting this season. It is a non-shattering, popper-shell variety, which is produced entirely mechanically, and is well adapted to this section.

Every now and then some bright boy comes up with a suggestion that ere long people will stop eating and take their nourishment in the form of concentrated pills. I don't think we need throw away our uppers in any immediate prospect of that happening, for people are going to be eating and enjoying it for a long, long time to come.

As a matter of fact the demand for food—good food, that is—is certain to increase. Land on the other hand will not. The amount of soil for the production of foods is diminishing year by year, absorbed by non-productive uses. Fortunately, we still have plenty of it in this section—land that can be used very profitably in growing things to eat. I believe our future, economically speaking, lies in the direction of promoting our food producing opportunities and the processing of such foods. And I firmly believe that this section has a wonderful opportunity in growing vegetables, fruits, poultry and other foodstuffs, and the processing of these foods for the home and nearby markets. Livestock is basic to the economy of this section, of course, but there is no reason we can't promote the production of other foods to the profit of our area and its increase in population. It is going to take effort, some imagination and some daring to do it. We get nothing for free. But it can be done.

FFA Fed Steers Show Big Gains

The Rising Star FFA Chapter this week is exhibiting three steers which the chapter bought and fed out at its lot at the High School both as a project for training Ag students in proper methods of feeding and to demonstrate to the farmers of this community in a practical manner that the finish feeding of steers can be a profitable business.

The demonstration was carried out under the direction of H. L. Geyer, High School agriculture teacher, and the results have been very satisfactory.

"We would like for the farmers, cattlemen and others interested to go to the High School FFA feed lot Thursday and see these animals," said Mr. Geyer. "Friday and Saturday the steers may be seen at the Eastland County Livestock Show at Eastland, and the following Monday they will be returned here for one day before being sold."

"The project has been carried out with very little work and any farmer or cattleman can carry on a well-managed feeding program without very much effort."

"We started the project last September. One steer was purchased from the Weedon Ranch on September 17, at a weight of 476 pounds. Two steers were bought from Mrs. Ellen Justice at Cisco on October 8, the weights being 540 and 560 pounds.

The steers were hand fed oats and hay at the start and then the feed was changed to a mixed ration of oats, milo, corn, CSM, bran, calf manna and molasses which was self-fed. On December 10 the steers were given stilbestrol implants in the ear.

"They were weighed at three-to-four-week intervals to check the rate of gain. Their weights on Nov. 27, when they were on full feed, were 580, 640 and 630 pounds. One hundred and ten days later, on March 18, the weights were 910, 890 and 900 pounds.

"Total gains for the steers were 330, 250 and 270 pounds from November 27 to March 18. This figures daily average gains of 3.00, 2.27 and 2.45 pounds respectively. It is not known whether the stilbestrol caused any extra gain, but we believe that it did. We think it helped our feed conversion. Since November 27 the steers have consumed 6,620 pounds of grain mixture and 18 bales of Johnson grass hay. This gives a feed conversion of one pound of gain for each 7.8 pounds of grain mixture.

"The boys in the vocational agriculture classes have done all the work connected with the project. We believe that it is practical demonstration of what any farmer in our community could do. About the only change we can see that a farmer would want to make is to use a less concentrated grain mixture and utilize more home-grown roughage and grain."

Stock Show Judging All Day Saturday

Judging of animals at the annual Eastland County Livestock Show at Eastland March 28 and 29, will begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday with the placing of the Angora goats, according to show officials.

The Angora goat has played a significant part in the agricultural economy of the county in recent years. There were over 30,000 head in the county according to the last U. S. census and it is believed that the number has materially increased since then.

The judging will continue throughout the day and will be completed with all divisions of the show by late afternoon.

The dairy cattle will be the last division judged. These will be judged on a classification basis where an animal competes against the ideal animal of that age and sex instead of each other.

All animals must be in their place by 12 o'clock noon on opening day of the show and must remain there until 4 p.m. the following day.

The auction of the animals in the fat stock division, steers, pigs and lambs will be held at the Eastland Auction barn on Tuesday night, April 1.

There will be a parade at 2 p.m. Friday.

INTERNATIONAL[®]
FERTILIZERS

Fertilizer Can Be Applied in Several Ways

Generally, the row or band application of putting on fertilizer is used for row crops at seeding time. Not as much fertilizer is required per acre as compared with the broadcast or top-dressing methods.

Either before or after plowing you can broadcast fertilizer uniformly over the surface of the soil, working into the moisture layer, as the seedbed is prepared. Quite often high phosphate and potash fertilizers are broadcast in excess of current crop needs because these nutrients do not readily leach away and stay available for plant use for more than one crop season.

Corn growers and others who raise heavy feeding crops like the side dressing method of applying fertilizer because the crop responds quickly. Tests show demand for plant food is greatest during a critical stage of plant growth, and fertilizer placed beneath the soil where moisture is available gets to plant roots quickly. High nitrate fertilizers are often side dressed in split-applications. Because this form of nitrogen is very soluble—it tends to leach out quickly if too much it put on at one time.

The top dressing method is recommended to apply fertilizer on established hay and pasture lands. Best time to top dress these forage crops is in the spring and fall when rains carry fertilizer down to the feeding zone of plant roots. Most farmers report from 40 to 60 per cent more forage from top dressing pastures. And, in addition, there's more feeding value in the forage crops produced.

It Pays to Buy High Analysis Fertilizers

It pays to buy high analysis fertilizers. In fact they cost less because they have more plant food units. With them you have fewer pounds, or tons, of fertilizer to haul and handle, less to apply per acre. However, the biggest saving lies in the cost—per unit of plant food. Remember, you actually get as many units of plant food from 1 ton of 10-20-10 as you do from 2 tons of 5-10-5.

Fertilizer Better Buy Than Ever Now

Fertilizer prices have advanced only 13 per cent since 1935, while the prices of other items farmers buy have advanced 125 per cent. Thus, fertilizer is a better buy than ever before. A dollar invested in fertilizer may return you from $3 to $7. Too much emphasis is placed on selling fertilizer on the "cost-per-ton" of plant nutrients, to the proper use of these nutrients and to the

Pastures Supply 80 Per Cent Cattle Feed

Good pastures produce at least 80 per cent of the total feed supply of all beef cattle. Good pastures will produce from 200 to 400 pounds of beef per acre per year.

Fully half of the nation's milk supply is produced by pasture. Dairy cows on pasture will produce about 20 pounds of milk daily.

Pastures are the cheapest feed to produce because they require less labor to handle. Animals do their own harvesting.

It's profitable to have our pastures producing at top capacity. Let's renovate pastures—fertilize them and keep them productive.

Detouring Around Financial Tangles—

... has long been a basic characteristic of the successful man. Young men seldom do and few of his older brothers. To avoid many of the pitfalls blocking successful careers, save something regularly, don't mortgage income beyond its capacity to absorb, make a will, provide adequate life insurance for yourself and family, keep all properties insured, and guard against faulty titles in buying real estate. These are a few of the fundamentals which, if followed, will detour you around many financial tangles.

Happy Birthday Mary!

Who gave her the party?

Her parents, of course. And they had the help of hundreds of other people—men and women that Mary's parents don't even know.

These people helped Mother bake the cake and cook the party food. They helped freeze the ice cream, sew Mary's dress, and wash and iron it. They helped heat, light and clean the house for the party.

These busy people are the men and women who supply electric service for Mary's house. It's hard to imagine life without the electricity they provide—for everyone depends on electricity for dozens of jobs all over the house.

If you stop to count all the ways you put electricity to work, you'll be surprised. Can you think of anything else that gives so much value, day in and day out, for so little cost?

THE WISE PHILOSOPHER'S CORNER:

This advice is something you will want to take; For the Seniors don't want you to make

The biggest mistake in your life By missing the Senior Play on Friday night.

April 11th is the date; So grab your hat and don't be late!

FROM THE EDITOR'S SCRAPBOOK:

"I know three things must always be

To keep a nation strong and free: One is a ready heart and hand To love and serve and keep the land;

One is a hearthstone bright and clear

With busy, happy loved ones near;

One is a worn and beaten way To where the people go to pray; So long as these are kept alive; Nation and People will survive."

"The chief lesson I have learned in a long life is that the only way to make a man trustworthy is to trust him; and the surest way to make him untrustworthy is to distrust him and show your distrust."

"Don't be fooled by the calendar. There are only as many days in the year as you make use of. One man gets only a few days value out of a year while another man gets a full year's value out of a week."

"No man ever sank under the burden of the day. It is when tomorrow's burden is added to the burden of today that the weight is more than a man can bear."

Remember to be sure and turn your "Lights Out" on April 11th and come to see the Senior play!

SOPH GOSSIP

That contagious disease called Spring Fever has once again invaded the classrooms of RSHS. Everyone is moping around complaining of the work they have to do. The teachers have no sympathy for us though; they still insist that we must work, work, work! Oh, well, it won't be long before school will turn out for three glorious months and we can loaf all we want to.

Spring has no effect, however, on the crazy things the Sophs say or do. The following are some latest happenings:

Carolyn Perry seems to think that because we have balls and sockets in our legs, we should have bolts and screws.

Jettie Sue has been having some terrible dreams lately. Let's hope none of them come true! It seems that our vice-president, Douglas Walker, has trouble opening Elgie's doors after they are once closed. Right, Doug?

Carolyn E—what happened to you in the H. E. Cottage last Thursday? Was something wrong with the salad?

Mary Lois—have you a new admirer that writes you crazy letters?

Virginia—what was that you said in H. E. class last Wednesday? Better watch your tongue!

Bobbie C—do you have a secret attraction for Agnew's grocery store? Mysterious phone calls aroused curiosity among some of the Sophs.

Bonnie T—do you enjoy thinking of new names to call people? Katie and Bennie — we like your new haircuts.

Mrs. Claborn has really been cutting down on the calories lately. How many pounds have you lost this week?

Maybe Janis will be caught up with her work by next week and can write some interesting news.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Tests! It's nearly time for them again. We had tests in English and Homemaking last week — and achievement tests also.

The tennis bug has landed on the Fish; all the boys have been playing tennis and now the girls have started. Lots of fun, isn't it, kids?

We have been writing letters in English; some have written letters of application trying to get all kinds of jobs; also, invitations to imaginary parties, regrets, and acceptances.

Nearly all the girls are through with their clothes in Homemaking I; they are very pretty too. Nita and Johnnie look like twins when they wear their skirts and blouses. Must close and work on English.

JUNIOR CHATTER

Hi! We made it again, barely, with some chat-chat about the Juniors and their doings.

The Juniors are very anxious for the tryouts for the Junior play, I believe it is scheduled for the latter part of April. We have also begun planning for the Junior-Senior Banquet. We are trying to make it the best one that has been given.

In English, we have been studying vocabulary, vocabulary, and more vocabulary. If you see a Junior going around mumbling to himself, you know he is
