Resources Tax Plan Rapped By House Witnesses

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (AP)—The first wave of opponents to a giant tax on natural resources and other products urged the House Revenue and Taxation Committee yesterday not to retard industrial growth in Texas. "I plead with you, don't kill the goose that may lay the golden eggs even before the goose is hatched out," said Milam County Judge Charles C. Smith.

Lifesaver

He said he was testifying "in behalf of each and every citizen of Milam County" because those people fear the proposed tax on lignite might jeopardize success of Aluminum Corp. of America's 100-million dollar plant at Rockdale. The bill under attack was by Rep. George Berry. He said his backers had their main say last week on why they think the 84-million dollar a year tax is a good idea. Opponents dealt yesterday only with proposed taxes on coal, lignite, peat, bentonite, Fuller's earth, and other similar resources. Witnesses against sections of the bill taxing oil, natural gas, beer, timber, chemical products and gasoline at the refinery will be heard twice a week, starting Monday, through April 27. Another tax idea, a 2 per cent levy on goods bought for sale at retail was heard yesterday and sent to subcommittee for one week. Retailers said it would put many of them out of business.

The committee amended it to apply only to grocers and then voted without objection to send it to the attorney general to see if it were constitutional. Zivley, Miss Jerry Johnson of

Large Crowd Views Wedding Of Royalty

LUXEMBOURG, Luxembourg (AP)—A fairy-tale royal wedding united the reigning houses of two-thirds of the Benelux countries today before nobility of 11 European nations and some 140,000 more persons than the church could hold. In twin civil and religious rites, the grand duchy's heir apparent Prince Jean and Belgium's Princess Josephine Charlotte, sister of King Baudouin, were married. Jean, 32, is slim, dark, mustached and a World War II soldier who fought with Britain's Irish Guards to free his homeland from the Nazis. Someday he will succeed his mother, Grand Duchess Charlotte, as reigning monarch of this rich though tiny realm of 200,000 people and valuable coal, steel and iron industries. His bride, daughter of ex-King

Leopold and the late Queen Astrid, is 25, blonde, blue-eyed and attractive. They have known each other since childhood, and reportedly their wedding was a love match. Holland's Queen Juliana—third royal partner in the Belgium-Netherlands-Luxembourg military-political alliance forced after World War II—headed the noble guests. They included three kings, three queens, a grand duchess, an archduke, 40 princes and princesses and a score of counts and countesses. Some 2,400 chosen guests, including more than 100 reporters and photographers, witnessed the religious rites read in Luxembourg's ancient Roman Catholic cathedral by Msgr. Fernand Cento, papal nuncio (ambassador) to Belgium and Luxembourg. Outside, a vast assemblage packed the capital's decorated streets to see the newweds and the glittering array of noble guests drive from the ceremony in open cars.

Double Cross Is Reported In Trial Of Armed Robbery

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two revolt-bent Cubans say Gene Paul Norris double crossed them while posing as an arms peddler and helped rob them of the $248,000 earmarked for a counter-revolution in Cuba. But five residents of Duncan, Okla., Norris' home town, said they saw the ex-convict in Duncan for three straight days, Oct. 1, 2 and 3. The robbery at Fort Worth's swank Western Hills Hotel occurred Oct. 3. Norris' trial for armed robbery reached the final arguments stage today in Judge Willis McGregor's court and headed for the jury. The Cubans, Manuel Madariaga and Candido de la Torre, testified Norris opened the door to their suite and admitted a confederate armed with a tommy gun. Then, they told the court, Norris—known to them as "Johnnie"—helped the machine-gun-wielding Sandites get the gun and rob them of the money with which they had hoped to buy arms to overthrow Fulgencio Batista, president of Cuba.

Rocky Road Due For Extension Of Rent Lids; Gets Group Okay

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON—A five-month extension of federal rent controls has won the approval of the Senate Banking Committee but it faces a rocky path toward final congressional passage.

The committee pulled a surprise yesterday by voting 10-5 to accept President Eisenhower's recommendation for continuation through Sept. 30 of the ceilings which cover 3,500,000 housing units throughout the nation. These represent about one-third of all rental units.

At the same time, it approved 12-3 a controversial provision to give the President power to freeze all prices, wages and rents in a war crisis.

These were the two major sections in a package economic controls bill on which the committee finished action. It also would extend powers which the administration has asked to continue the mobilization buildup.

Sensators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Bennett (R-Utah), who were in the minority on rent controls extension and the 90-day freeze in the committee votes, said today they would fight to knock them out on the floor.

Bricker, in an interview, called the freeze provision "the most unlimited power ever given a Chief Executive." He said Congress could meet the issue by convening promptly and taking action on controls if an emergency strikes.

Bennett told a reporter he was hopeful both sections could be eliminated from the bill on the floor. He said opponents of the freeze, expected "vigorous leadership" from Majority Leader Taft (R-Ohio), who has opposed any kind of standby price and wage controls.

Present federal rent curbs are of two kinds.

General ceilings now cover about 4,300,000 housing units in 1,400 cities including such big ones as Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Minneapolis St. Paul and Cleveland. These lids were kept on last year by affirmative vote of city councils; they are now scheduled to die at the end of this month.

The committee voted to continue them for five months.

The other rent controls are ceilings which apply in critical defense areas where the housing shortage results from some big military project. These cover 1,300,000 housing units and also die April 30.

The administration asked for a year's extension of the critical area ceilings and the committee went along with this, voting for a new expiration date of April 30, 1954.

However, the senators wrote into their bill a tighter definition of critical areas which will disqualify many of the communities now covered. The new definition, to take effect Sept. 30, would exclude a private industry defense plant as a reason for a critical area classification.

Under the extension of both types of ceilings voted by the committee, local governing bodies could wipe out the lids at will.

The rent controls extension is up against a time problem since it must be acted on by April 30.

In the House, no committee action has been taken as yet on rent ceilings. Chairman Woiwotz (R-Mich.), of the banking committee has been cool toward any extension of general federal rent ceilings.

Man Has Tough Luck As Bracelet He Found Is Now Being Claimed

NEW YORK—Consider the hard-luck story of Harry Bond. Last Oct. 11, Bond, assistant manager of a Manhattan theater, found a $10,000 diamond-studded bracelet in the diamond house.

He turned it over to police. No claimant appeared during the past months and authorities arranged to turn it over to Bond today with appropriate ceremonies.

Yesterday police were forced to cancel the ceremony. An unidentified person, they said, had started legal action to claim the bracelet.

Kennan Retirement Set In Near Future

GEORGE F. KENNAN

WASHINGTON—The State Department will soon lose the services of George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Moscow and one of the department's two top Russian experts.

His retirement has, in effect, been forced by policy differences between him and Secretary of State Dulles.

Kennan, long-time policy planning chief and author of the controversial Russian containment policy, will go on a pension "in the near future," the department announced last night.

The containment policy with which Kennan was identified—the idea of holding back Russian expansion by strengthening the free nations—was criticized by Dulles during the election campaigns last year as completely inadequate.

Dulles advocated a more active policy of moral pressure and propaganda moves looking to ultimate liberation of Soviet satellite states. In a speech Jan. 16, Kennan cautioned against the U. S. officially committing itself to such a policy.

Thereafter, Dulles called in Kennan, who explained he had not intended the speech as an attack upon testimony which Dulles had given about his liberation proposals to a Senate committee a day earlier. The incident was written off as closed but it was not actually over by any means.

The policy differences between the two men remained unresolved and Dulles finally decided he would have no new place for Kennan in the diplomatic team which he and President Eisenhower are deploying over the world. Under a law applying to the foreign service, a diplomat of Kennan's super-grade of "career minister" is automatically retired in three months if he gets no new assignment.

Kennan and his long-time associate, Charles E. Bohlen, now on his way to Moscow as ambassador, are generally regarded as the government's two most experienced men in the field of Soviet affairs. They are experts in the Russian language and they have spent years studying Russian history, Communist theory and practice and Soviet behavior.

Kennan said last night he expects to pick up again the scholarly research work in which he was engaged at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J., before he became ambassador to Moscow a year ago. He was then on leave from the department.

Russia asked Kennan's withdrawal as ambassador after he was quoted as voicing criticism in Germany, at the way foreigners are treated in Moscow.

The State Department statement said he "hopes to be able to make arrangements which will permit him to function, following his retirement as a regular consultant to the government."

The retirement and the prospect of consultation, the department said, were decided upon as a result of conferences between Kennan and Dulles "and are agreeable to both."

The maximum pension for Kennan's foreign service class is $8,100. The State Department press office said he would get that amount or close to it.

Friends represented Kennan at viewing his retirement from active diplomacy without bitterness and generally seeking to minimize any idea that there were sharp differences of policy between Dulles and himself.

Kennan is 49 years old. He has been in the foreign service almost 27 years.

Lions Told Of Progress Made In Cancer Fight

Cancer attacks one out of every five persons in the United States today, Lions Club members were told at their weekly session on Wednesday.

Progress is being made in effective treatment, and it could be stepped up if one-third of the people stricken would refrain from delaying a visit to their physician.

Dr. George Peacock, district medical advisor for the Texas division of the American Cancer Society, said that 95 per cent of the skin cancers could now be handled satisfactorily. On the other hand, the percentage is almost reversed in the case of lung cancers, the most difficult type to find. In the latter connection, he said that the incidence of lung cancer had paralleled the increase in smoking.

The seven warning signals of cancer were spotlighted in a film projected by Mrs. Hayes Stripling, education chairman of the Howard County chapter. She was introduced to the club by Truman Jones, chapter chairman.

Ed. Pritchard, Midland, zone chairman, announced the April 18 zone meeting at Terminal. Talent for the district convention April 24 at Odessa will be selected at the meeting, he said.

Bob McEwen, club president, announced the board had approved the appropriation of $250 toward the summer recreational program.

Double Jet Ace Is Manchuria Prisoner

TOKYO, Friday (AP)—Red China's Peiping Radio said early today that double jet ace Harold Fischer was shot down and captured in Manchuria Tuesday.

The radio quoted a dispatch from Mukden, Manchuria near the Yalu River saying Fischer bailed out of his Sabre jet.

Helping said Fischer's plane was intercepted by anti-aircraft units and the "People's Air Force."

Fischer, 27, from Swea City 18, failed to return from his 70th mission Tuesday.

His wing man, Lt. Richard G. Knowland Jr. of Goshen, Mass., said he saw Fischer for the last time in a clash with a Red fighter near the Sulho Reservoir along the Yalu River.

Fischer shot down 10 MIG jets in 66 missions.

He told this correspondent two weeks ago, "I have never considered the possibility of not coming back. My father is counting on me coming back some day to help him, and I certainly intend to do it."

Knowland said of Fischer's last flight: "I lost him in the haze, and called him on the radio and told him we were separated."

"He yelled back, emphatically, 'Get out, get out.' That was an order for me to go home. Usually Hal was so calm and easy when giving orders, but not this time."

"He must have been in bad trouble."

Knowland said he and Fischer followed a MIG for some time and that Fischer dove for an attack.

"Capt. Fischer barrel-rolled around the MIG and I barreled around Fischer," Knowland said. "When I was on top of the roll, the MIG broke and Fischer went after him. That was the last I saw of him."

Fischer became the 25th jet ace, with five MIG kills, on Jan. 24. He reached the elite double jet status March 21.

He told a newspaper in an interview March 22: "I sort of hate to let the Air Force know about

Hammerskjold Set To Take UN Position

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold arrived from Stockholm today to become secretary general of the U. N. The Swedish diplomat-economist will plunge headlong into issues that have a giant-sized headache to his predecessor, Trygve Lie.

Hammarskjold, a 47-year-old bachelor, will be installed tomorrow by the 60-nation General Assembly, which elected him to a five-year term in the $40,000-a-year tax-free job.

Russia's agreement with the West in finding Hammarskjold acceptable for the post was a major move in Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's new peace offensive. But despite Soviet "sweet talk," the fair-haired new secretary general will have to use all his ability at compromise to escape a crossfire of criticism.

The Russians blacklisted Lie for taking a positive stand in endorsing U. N. action against aggression in Korea. Some American circles pictured the Norwegian as too friendly with the Russians and too soft on U. S. left-wingers on his own staff.

Under these pressures Lie resigned last November, expressing hope this would remove at least one of the tensions between East and West.

Lie now is free to retire on a $10,000-a-year pension for life. Hammarskjold cannot be sure the Soviet bloc will be any softer on him—if he crosses them—than they were on Lie. Other pressures already are forecast.

Hammarskjold has built up a reputation for handling extremely delicate problems. He is credited with much success in his one-man mission to the U. S. just after World War II to explain Sweden's neutral role during that war and to dispel ill feeling. He enjoys a high reputation in Sweden as a fast thinker, an expert troubleshooter and a top administrator.

One prominent Swedish politician said of his oral reports to the Cabinet: "He is like a jet plane. When the sound reaches you, the plane already has vanished."

Those who have worked with him in Stockholm, in his diplomatic work in the organization of European Economic Co-operation and other international tasks consider him a master of the art of compromise to gain a point.

In his new job Hammarskjold has the chief responsibility for administration—losing the U. N.'s 3,000 Secretariat employees from nearly every member nation and

Disturbance Case Dismissed After 3 1/2 Month Delay

A disturbance case, pending in Corporation Court for two and a half months, was closed this morning with dismissal of charges.

Dismissed was on the motion of City Attorney Walton Morrison after Judge William E. Greenlee upheld objection of Defense Attorney R. L. Tollett that certain testimony was irrelevant.

Testimony had to do with what occurred in a residence. Tollett objected on grounds complaint alleged the disturbance occurred in a public street.

The judge ruled the objection valid, but said since there was no jury to hear, the case he was willing to allow the city attorney to develop his case as he pleased. The testimony would not be considered, however, the judge warned.

"In that case I move that the complaint be dismissed. I'll not be treated in any such way," Morrison said, leaving the courtroom.

Charges against the defendant grew out of a pre-Christmas party on Dec. 19. Another man, found guilty of drunkenness and disturbance charges as a result of the same incident, was fined $51 on Dec. 20.

seeing that the complex machinery operates smoothly. He also can recommend major policy action whenever he deems it necessary.

This dual role puts the secretary general in hot water. Lie considered it a challenge to keep from becoming a mere "head clerk." Even the "head clerk" job, however, is loaded with explosive issues surrounding the U. S. loyalty program. Hammarskjold must tackle these problems immediately.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

When Harry Dooley ankle platedward in the role of a pinch in Big Spring's opening exhibition game against Roswell earlier this week, a roar of approval went up from the stands.

The reaction brought smiles to the face of Bill Frank, general manager of the club, who did not know how the crowd would take to the Negro player. He felt all along the people would accept the ambitious young hurler but had no way of knowing until Harry was called upon to hit.

Stasey is going to have another fine club, judging off the one performance. His pitching staff is further along than it usually is this time of year. His infield is compact and his outfield shows signs of all-around brilliance.

Incidentally, the applause the fans gave Dooley must have set Stasey to reminiscing. He was tempted several times in recent years to bring in Cuban Negroes here but argued himself out of the notion.

The Braves' new center fielder, Armando Diaz, looks more like an Irishman than a Cuban. He probably has considerable Irish blood in him.

Ernie Lombardi Is Found With His Throat Slashed

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Ernie Lombardi, former major and Pacific Coast League catcher, was found with his throat slashed from ear to ear last night.

His wife, Berice and Deputy Sheriff's Floyd Harrison and Edward Bronson said Lombardi resisted their first attempt to rush him to a hospital, yelling, 'Let me die.'

Highland Hospital authorities said they did not expect the husky ex-major leaguer to live. He had lost a great amount of blood.

Stengel Laments His Infield Weak

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A week ago Casey Stengel looked at his favorite time champion New York Yankees through his Florida sun glasses and couldn't find a serious flaw. But in the chill damp northern light he is getting a slightly different view.

"The infield," Stengel moaned, "is definitely weak and the whole club, excepting the outfielders, is in a hitting slump."

Cayuses, Plainview Meet Here Tonight

Oscar Reguera May Take Hill

Hack Miller and his Big Spring Bronco return to competition against professional competition here at 8 o'clock this evening, at which time they meet the Plainview Ponies of the WT-NM League. The Ponies, newest entry in the Longhorn League's aster circuit, are coached by Jackie Sullivan, former manager of the Odessa Oilers. Plainview recently drubbed Harold Webb's Lamesa outfit, 16-9. The team has been training at Ballinger. They meet again Friday night in Ballinger.

Grid Vote Now Being Counted

AUSTIN (AP)—Final results of an Intercollegiate League vote on football substitution rules will be tabulated tonight, the league said. League members have been voting on whether the liberal substitution rule used in 1952, or the NCAA's new restricted substitution rule should be used next season.

The League Executive Committee ordered the vote because the NCAA Rules Committee, which deals mainly with college sports, said high schools could by mutual agreement adopt more liberal substitution rules. Word of the NCAA rule would allow any two coaches to agree to any sub rule, thus causing confusion in district play and chaos in inter-district playoffs, League officials said. The referendum will give League members a uniform substitution rule.

S'WEST CONFERENCE TEAMS REGISTER WINS

By The Associated Press Southwest Conference basketball teams, knocked right and left by non-loop competition the day before, snapped out of the doldrums Wednesday to win three of four games with outsiders. Texas A&M broke out of its batting slump to whip Bryan Air Force 44-40 behind two-hit pitching by Lou Little. The University of Texas Longhorns, 3-1 loser Tuesday to Oklahoma, completely humbled the Sooners Wednesday with an 18-8 revenge victory. And up in the Ozarks, the Arkansas Razorbacks whipped Buena Vista College, 9-4.

Only Rice Institute's Owls lost—7-6 to the Sam Houston State College Bearkats. Texas Aggie batters banged out nine safeties in stopping Bryan AFB. Tex Farmer had a double and Don Ellis a triple among the Cadet blows. The game replaced one of two rained out with Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio last week end.

Airport Grabs Two Victories

Airport has picked up two victories in Ward School football league play this week. The Airport team drubbed Central Ward, 10-0, at Central and then came back yesterday to blank College Heights, 18-0, in a game played on the Airport diamond. Don Payne pitched both games for Airport and helped his own cause along Wednesday with a home run. Joe Steen and Jerry Hines also clobbered round trippers for Airport Wednesday.

Golf Aristocrats Meet In Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Favorites Lloyd Mangrum, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan led a record field of 73 golf aristocrats into today's opening round of the 17th annual Masters Tournament. Mangrum, top money winner on the winter circuit, gave the boys something to shoot at when he fired a 9-under-par 63 in practice yesterday. Nobody could recall a lower Masters practice round. Mangrum, playing out of Niles, Ill., holds the official tournament record of 63, set in 1940.

He said he was going home to Oxford, O. Veteran Al Chiocki was expected to start at second base in the season opener in Beaumont tomorrow night.

Knott Enters 8-Man Team

KNOTT — Chances of the Knott Billies' winning the District 81-B track and field meet, which takes place today in Big Spring, have diminished due to the fact that two of the athletes have become classroom casualties. They are Phillip Stovall and D. Chapman, who had been counted on to score heavily by Coach Bill Bolin. Bolin was to take an eight-man team to Big Spring. The boys entered, and the events in which they will compete, are: 100-yard dash — Tiny Bays, Charles Burks. 440-yard run — Bobby Gay, David Althart. Low hurdles — Jerry Roman, Richard Parker. 440-yard relay — Althart, Roman, Burks, Bays. 880-yard run — Parker, Gay. 220-yard dash — Burks, Bays. Mile relay — Althart, Gay, Toby Metcalf, Parker. Texas Leaguers Launch Pennant Race Tonight

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas League opens another season tonight with three games. More than 20,000 are expected to see these clubs start the campaign: Shreveport at Houston, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, Fort Worth at Dallas. San Antonio and Beaumont begin the race tomorrow night at Beaumont. Then they'll all be off on a 154-game schedule that closes Sept. 7. Optimist prevailed, League President Alvin Gardner has forecast 1,500,000 attendance, an increase of about 200,000. The league has trimmed expenses sharply, this including a cut in the umpire staff, withdrawal of beauty contest sponsorship and voting on a supervisor of umpires. Houston is the pre-season favorite to lead the race but Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Shreveport are rated highly. Houston finished in the cellar last season and was not up to its usual good draw at the game. The only change in ownership is at Beaumont where Allen Russell, who was president of the Houston club, bought the franchise from Guy Alrey. Russell has conducted a strong campaign and the advance ticket sales is the best in Beaumont's history. They will be expecting a crowd of 8,000 to turn out tomorrow night when the Exporters open the season with San Antonio. Tonight Dallas anticipates 8,000, Tulsa 5,500 and Houston about 7,000.

Ford Frick Warns Of Video Menace

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick predicted today formation of a third major league within 10 years but warned that baseball must "decide something" about television pretty soon. "Very definitely there will be another major league—maybe two—in 10 years," he said. "We must have more towns represented in the major leagues. We can't stand still. The facts speak for themselves. The movement of population is westward." Frick tempered his enthusiasm for the future with his warning about the TV problem, particularly network television into minor league territory. "I think the time has come for us to make up our minds about television," he said. "Maybe we have been handicapping ourselves too long."

BEAT BROWNS Cubs Again Going Great On Road

By BEN PHLEGAR Associated Press Sports Writer Three years running the Chicago Cubs have won the National League's section of the Grapefruit Circuit. Now they're in a position to do it again. When the Cubs scored their third straight one-run victory over the St. Louis Browns yesterday they boosted their over-all spring record to 18-13. Only Brooklyn with 18-11 and Pittsburgh with 10-4 top the Cubs. And the Pittsburgh mark has been built almost exclusively against minor league clubs. Dee Fondy and Preston Ward, a pair of long-ball hitting first basemen who once belonged to Brooklyn, have sparked the Cubs' gradual improvement this spring. Ward, particularly, has been impressive since coming out of the Army. He banged a pair of homers against the Browns in Topeka, Kan., yesterday to run his total to seven in the last 10 games. Fondy, too, is on a homer spree and his circuit blow yesterday was his fourth in three games. The Cubs beat the Browns, 7-6, with the deciding runs coming on still another homer by Bob Addis. The Cubs have four spring games left—against the Browns in Kansas City today and then three with the White Sox in the Chicago city series starting tomorrow. Although they have won handily in the spring, the Cubs of the past three seasons have found regular league competition a very different thing. In 1950 they finished seventh. In 1951 they were last and last year they wound up fifth—highest since 1946. The injury jinx which has struck the major league clubs heavily in the closing weeks of the training season hit the New York Giants again yesterday and benched their No. 1 rookie, Earl Spencer, for at least two weeks. Spencer was hit in the face with a fast ball thrown by Cleveland pitcher Mike Garcia at Nashville and suffered a minor fracture to his left cheek bone. He had been scheduled to open the season at third base. Earlier in the spring Garcia hit Bobby Thomson of the Giants on his right hand with a pitched ball, resulting in a minor fracture. The Giants whipped the Indians, 11-10, despite a four-run Cleveland rally in the ninth. Gerry Staley, who will open the season for the St. Louis Cardinals, went all the way against the Little Rock Travelers yesterday and shut out the Southern Association club on seven hits, 10-0. Playing before his homefolks at Richmond, Va., Grady Hammer of the Philadelphia Phils supplied all the runs as the Phils edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1. Hammer homered over the center field wall in the second and over the right field wall in the fifth.

Bad Eating Habits Endanger Health Of Teen-Agers

NEW YORK (AP)—A nutrition expert says faulty eating habits among many teen-agers from all income groups are endangering their health and future well-being.

Dr. Pauline Beery Mack, dean of the College of Household Arts and Sciences at Texas State College, yesterday announced results of a 10-year study of 2,500 boys and girls.

Because of misguided and unguided eating habits, she said, many teen-agers suffer from the following:

- Underweight, stunted growth, retarded skeletal maturity, poor mineralization of bones, minor and major skeletal deformities, poor complexion, poor teeth, and eye difficulties.
- Teen-aged boys, Dr. Mack said, made a much better showing in the survey, partly because girls are more inclined to diet during their teens.
- Those from the highest income groups often showed "serious cases of undernutrition," she said, adding: "A well-balanced diet is often less costly than a poor diet."

North Dakota Mad As Sitting Bull Is Moved

MOBRIDGE, S. D. (AP)—The long-fought-over bones of Sitting Bull rested today in a new grave along the Grand River here, encased in an estimated 20 tons of steel and concrete.

"It will take an A-bomb to move him now," said Walter Tunland of Mobridge, chairman of the South Dakota Memorial Association.

Remains of the ancient Indian leader, dead for 63 years, were moved here Wednesday in the climax of a long-simmering feud between North and South Dakota groups.

Hereabouts, it was claimed North Dakotans weren't taking care of Sitting Bull's old burial place at Ft. Yates, headquarters of the Standing Rock Sioux Indian Reservation.

After many, but futile, interstate verbal exchanges, a party of South Dakotans took matters—and shovels—into their own hands. They dug up and moved the bones here by truck. The new grave is about 30 miles south of Sitting Bull's old resting place.

"I was tired of the white man's rope and delays," said Clarence Grey Eagle of Bullhead, S.D., who headed the party. Its members claimed to represent Sitting Bull's heirs.

North Dakota was shouting "foul" because no official disinterment permit was obtained. Dr. R. O. Saxvik, the state's health officer, said: "A law has been violated and we are taking steps."

But South Dakota was quick to point out that the bones still are on the reservation, which straddles the borders of the two states. Charles Spencer, reservation superintendent, watched the disinterment.

"I think Indians have the right to say where their relatives shall be buried," he commented. The Department of the Interior, in a telegram, agreed that the matter was one for decision by the heirs.

Two Indians stood guard over the new grave site, Wednesday night—"until the concrete hardens," it was explained.

Tunland said the bones were encased in an 8 by 10-foot steel crypt. Concrete then was poured into the ground below, at the sides and then atop the steel rectangle.

Japanese Girl Learning Her English Quickly

From Yahati City, Kyushu, to Big Spring, Texas is half way round the world.

And from the Japanese language to English is a mighty big jump, but little Tsutako Lovett made both changes within less than a year.

What's more, she did it with flying colors.

To hear her read her third grade reader, you would scarcely believe that only last August little Tsutako set foot on a strange continent amidst a strange tongue.

Today, Tsutako is a star pupil in the third grade at North Ward School. Mrs. Jess Slaughter, her teacher, accounts her as one of her better pupils. Tsutako is inherently shy, but she is bright and inquisitive.

She enrolled here a month ago when her father, M-Sgt. Alvin J. Lovett, transferred from Ellington Field at Houston to Webb AFB. Sgt. Lovett is NCO in charge of the administrative section of base supply.

"She has missed only two words in spelling in the weeks that she has been with us," said Mrs. Slaughter. Examples of her work were shown. The writing was in better hand than many adults can produce, and her numbers were perfectly formed and well aligned.

All of the children in the room are intensely proud of Tsutako. Interviewing her is made difficult only by too many answers—when Tsutako is hesitant, one of her

Latest Peace Talks Bring New Hope To Local Families

The families of two Big Spring soldiers reported missing in action are pinning their hopes on the pending prisoner exchange agreement in Korea.

If the United Nations forces and the Communists come to an understanding, it is possible that the two local soldiers will be among those returned.

Those missing are Charles Moody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Moody, 1065 Sycamore and Roberto R. Galindo, nephew of Francisco Galindo of Northwest Big Spring.

Sgt. Moody has been missing in action since Jan. 1, 1951, and last word was received from Pvt. Galindo on Aug. 12, 1950.

Alfred Moody said that he and his family are very much interested in the prisoner exchange agreement. "It means a lot to us," he said.

Galindo could not be contacted, but Mrs. Moree Sawtelle of the local Red Cross stated that he has constantly sought information about his nephew.

Sgt. Moody was with the 24th Infantry Division when he was reported missing for the second time. He was first reported missing in Aug. 1950, but later worked back to the UN lines. Only word received by his parents is that he is "missing in action."

Word has never been received as to whether Galindo is missing, captured, wounded or dead. Army officials do not know what happened to him. He was fighting in Korea and disappeared.

According to wire reports from Korea, the exchange agreement is "probable." However, it is for sick and injured prisoners.

In addition to the two men reported missing, Big Spring has had seven local boys listed among the

Another Suspected Nazi Plotter Jailed

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — A fifth suspected Nazi plotter was in jail today facing charges of unlawfully belonging to a secret political organization. He is Dr. Friedrich Karl Bornemann, a former Hitler youth leader, now a journalist.

Bornemann surrendered to West German court authorities yesterday. He had been sought since last January when British officials seized seven former Nazis on charges of plotting to overthrow the Bonn government. The British turned the case over to German authorities last week.

Four of the seven, seized in January are still in jail awaiting trial. The other three have been released.

Gets New Conviction

PECOS (AP) — Kermit meat dealer Tom Gordy has received a second conviction growing out of the sale of horse meat. Gordy was convicted yesterday of transferring horse meat for human consumption, fined $1,000 and sentenced to nine months.

Pork Jumps To Bargain List In Retail Stores

By The Associated Press:
Pork loins joined steaks and rib roasts on the bargain counter in many retail stores this week.

A survey of the best buys in meats uncovered numerous specials on pork loins, with prices down two to six cents a pound. In some stores, pork chops were down two to six cents.

Chain stores again picked steak and rib roast as specials in many outlets. Reductions ranged from four to 10 cents a pound.

Frying chickens were up four to six cents in some stores, but were featured by others at a four-cent reduction. Ground beef was marked down frequently, sometimes by four cents.

One big chain planned week-end specials on pot roast. Other meats mentioned for the good value list included chuck roast and veal. Leg of lamb tended higher, with four to six cent rises reported.

Specials on fish were infrequent. In the vegetable department, lower price tags were put on asparagus, onions, lettuce and fresh corn. Specialists predicted lower prices ahead for spinach, reported plentiful. They also said potatoes were getting cheaper.

Some stores reduced prices of California oranges a few cents a pound, but good huys in fruit were described as rare.

Eggs were off two cents in some stores, but unchanged in many. Butter usually was unchanged. The Department of Agriculture picked beef, cabbage and carrots as food headlines of the week. It observed that these foods were plentiful and available at reasonable prices.

In Denver, an official of the National Association of Food Chains said both chains and independent stores planned to make a special effort to sell beef this week. The official, Roger Corbett, said chain store sales of beef showed an average increase of 62 per cent during the first two weeks of March over last year.

A STEADY PACE

Big Spring isn't considered a "boom" town, at least as far as any comparison of "boom" is concerned, but the city is growing by leaps and bounds.

Population has increased nearly 17 per cent since the decennial census in 1930. An estimated 24,967 persons now call Big Spring their home.

That's for the metropolitan area (not entirely within the city limits); but the figure doesn't include the population of Webb Air Force Base or the Big Spring State Hospital.

The estimate is based on utility connections, allocating a certain number of persons to each gas, electric and water meter.

The number of persons per meter was known in 1930, when the census was taken and "greater Big Spring" was found to contain the homes of 21,015 persons.

The increase since 1930 has been 3,952 residents, a growth of 18.9 per cent in the city's population.

That's way ahead of the national average which has been 3.4 per cent in the three years, according to the National Census Bureau.

When the 1950 head count was made there were 4.01 persons for each gas meter, 3.43 per electric meter, and 3.72 for each water meter.

Using those factors, City Manager H. W. Whitney worked out a formula for estimating population changes between 1950 and 1960, when the next official census will be taken.

Application of the factors to the present utilities, and subsequently taking the average of the three figures, shows present population to be 24,967.

That's a gain of 1,361 since Jan. 1 when the same formula gave the city a population of 23,606.

Most of the almost-25,000 persons live inside the city limits, since only two major residential areas now are outside the city. They are the Airport Addition and Settles Heights Addition, both west of the city.

Annexations of territory last year took in a portion of the Airport Addition, other areas near the Webb Air Force Base, and part of the Monticello Addition.

There's no estimate available on the number of people now residing within the city limits as utilities companies and the city show no distinction between inside and outside residents in their meter records.

"Inside-the-limits" population in 1950 was 17,545 but many of those residing outside have since been annexed.

Water connections at present include water, 6,087; gas, 6,636; and electric, 7,186.

ONE FIRE TRUCK IS NOW MISSING

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — It seems incredible, but...

Fire Chief Robert Miller says Marysville's new, 48-foot long, fire truck—painted a fiery red, of course—has disappeared "in the wide, wild west."

The truck was due Sunday. American LaFrance assured Miller the truck had passed through Denver.

Teddy Roosevelt's 'Big Stick' Sought

ROOSEVELT, N. Y. (AP) — The citizens of this Long Island community have started a hunt for Theodore Roosevelt's "big stick."

They want it for a national shrine to be opened here later this year, at Roosevelt's Oyster Bay home, Sagamore Hill.

Roosevelt was presented the hand-carved stick when he attended a firemen's tournament here shortly after he first used the motto: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

MEADOLAKE MARGARINE is Better than Better!

City Concludes Its Year In The Black

The City of Big Spring wound up the 1952-53 fiscal year Mar. 31 with all funds in the black. Cash on hand totalled $272,463.82. March report of City Secretary C. R. McClenny shows:

Balances were left in 11 funds: water and sewer revenue fund, $133,944.76; water and sewer construction fund, $1,145.85; storm sewer bond fund, $5,754; airport fund, $2,955.42; general fund, $18,840.88; insurance fund, $1,156.74; cemetery fund, $128.52; swimming pool and park system fund, $5,549.24; garage fund, $11,642.34; parking meter fund, $218.79; and interest and sinking fund, $91,727.48.

March operations were little, if any, better than February's, revenue-wise. Water metered to customers during the month amounted to 59,315,900, a decrease of 6,228,990 gallons from February.

Water and sewer charges for March totalled $32,298.72, some $2,280 lower than the previous month.

General fund receipts amounted to $83,214.59, including $61,825.70 transferred from other funds. Big items of general fund revenue were telephone franchise, $5,615; gas franchise, $4,353; fines and court costs, $2,753; and tax collections, $1,452.

Virtually all of the balances left after 1952-53 operations are appropriated in the budget for the fiscal year which started April 1.

The Lady Driver Is Given Praise

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—That much-maligned species of motorist—the woman driver—finally got a pat on the back today.

A New York driver, male, that is, wrote a letter to the state motor vehicle director saying in part: "I couldn't help but notice a car bearing license RN 390, and driven by a woman, being handled so expertly and after passing a car always moving over to the right. It was so noticeable that I felt your office would be glad to hear about a good driver for a change."

The Motor Vehicle Department checked the license number, then sent the following letter to Mrs. Althea Roane Martie, a Teaneck housewife:

"In order for a woman to win the praise of a male operator in these days of highly competitive traffic, the lady must indeed merit the approbation."

Hospital Gets Gift Of GM Stock From Defense Aide Wilson

DETROIT (AP)—Harper Hospital disclosed today receipt of a gift of approximately $100,000 in the form of 1,500 shares of General Motors common stock from Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson.

Income from the fund is to be used for heart research.

Wilson recently announced the disposal of his G. M. stock in compliance with a Senate request that he do so to qualify for his government post.

Reds Take All They Can Get From Australians

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA, April 9 (AP)—It's no wonder Russia refuses to get out of Austria. Under Soviet occupation, the Russians are systematically denuding the country of its oil wealth—and even snatching its silk stockings and pencils for Russian women and children.

This is a key reason why hundreds of four-power meetings to try to get a state treaty for Austria always have failed.

The Russians plainly are out to take the last shirt of the eastern part of the country—their occupation zone. Two more years and the Russians will have taken the last drop of oil. Since 1945, they have often plundered or cheated Austria out of one billion dollars.

Meanwhile, the United States has had to give Austria $1,419,000,000 in various aid. If it hadn't, the Alpine land would have collapsed under the Soviet heel long ago and the West would have lost a strategic foothold in Central Europe.

The Russian robbery of Austria is all-embracing. Not only do the Soviets take most of the output of 300 factories, but they run a huge illegal black market that nets tremendous profits. On top of that, they supervise a big East-West business that brings in vital war goods for the Soviet bloc. The Austrians and the Western occupation powers are helpless to stop this illegal traffic.

"The plan," said the Vienna newspaper Arbeiter Zeitung recently, "is to weaken the Austrian economy" so much that Austria's successful resistance against foreign domination and Communist infiltration can be broken.

which the exploiting Nazis had seized before the Russians got to them.

Since then, Russian managers sitting in elegant offices of a five-story building in Central Vienna have been running these seized properties—organized into a trust known by the initials "USIA". Under them are 60,000 Austrian employees. The plants total one-fifth of Austria's industrial wealth.

These plants manufacture everything from steel products and bridges to silk stockings, bathubs and wine. Seventy per cent of their output is shipped eastward down the Danube in Russian ships or in trucks and freight cars of the Soviet-run transport agency Juschweschtrans. The rest can be sold to Austrians.

Steak Timely Treat For Family Dinner

One of your best grocery store buys now is beef, local grocers say. That's because most of them have bought top quality beef at recent 4-H Club sales.

So the smart homemaker might well use the opportunity to treat her family to steak.

Preparing a steak may be nearly a lost art in your household, or if you're a bride, perhaps the whole process is a new experience. Either way, it's time to brush up on the details.

With the per pound price of steak only a few cents higher than we've been paying for ground beef we can fit it into the budget again. Don't wait for an anniversary or birthday to cook a steak dinner. The very fact that steak is within your pocketbook is cause for celebration. The family is certain to agree.

Whether you prefer sirloin, porterhouse, T-bone, flank or swiss steak, here are a few suggestions. Even if you are one of the rare cooks who has kept in practice, a new twist to accompaniments for a steak dinner are always acceptable.

A successful steak sizzling on the platter begins at the meat counter when you select the beef. The best steaks will be well marbled with interlacing of fat to make the steak juicy.

Although the United States Department of Agriculture, purple stamp is no longer compulsory on meat, many packers probably will continue to use it. Unless you are an experienced steak selector, these are the best guide to quality meat. Most cooks prefer to broil steaks. The kind of steak will determine largely how long it must be in the broiler, after you decide whether you like it medium, rare or well done. In general, here are six easy steps to tasty broiled steak.

1. Set the regulator at 550 degrees F. or "broil."
2. Put meat on broiler rack and place under broiling unit so that top surface of meat is about 2 inches from heat (greater distance for very thick chops or steaks.)
3. Broil with door closed if using gas range; leave door slightly ajar if broiling by electricity.
4. Broil until meat is well browned, season with salt and pepper.
5. Turn and broil other side. Only one turning is necessary.
6. Serve broiled meat immediately on hot platter to "save the sizzle."

For a steak measuring about 1 1/4 inches thick you can allow approximately 20 minutes for a medium done steak. For rare steak cut the broiling time a little or lengthen a few minutes for well done. If you are planning to make it a well done steak place the rack a little further from the heat so the cooking will be slower. Thrifty housewives recognize the good buy that flank steak offers. Because it is no-bone, it is no waste. Here is a recipe for delicious stuffed flank steak in which the dressing is subtly flavored with onions, caraway seed and celery salt.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK

1 flank steak
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon caraway seed
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 cup tomato juice

Have the meat man score the flank steak. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt fat and in it lightly cook onion. Mix with bread crumbs, caraway seed, celery salt and salt and pepper to taste. Spread stuffing on unscored side of steak. Tie in three or four places with string or fasten with short metal skewers and lace with string. In a skillet or other heavy utensil, brown steak in a little hot fat. Add tomato juice, cover and cook over low heat or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) two hours, or until tender.

A mere pound of flank steak can be stretched to serve four persons adequately when prepared with this flavorful Spanish Sauce.

SPANISH SAUCE

1 pound flank steak
1 teaspoon vegetable bouquet sauce
2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup thinly sliced onion
1 cup drained sliced or canned tomatoes
1 cup sliced carrots
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup finely diced green pepper
Lightly score flank steak against the grain. Brush on both sides with vegetable bouquet sauce. Melt fat in Dutch oven over moderate heat. Brown steak lightly on both sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover with layer of onions, then add tomatoes, carrots, celery and green pepper. Cover tightly and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 45 minutes. If necessary, add small amount of water to keep meat from sticking. Remove steak to warm serving platter and keep hot while putting vegetables through sieve or food mill. Serve meat cut in strips, accompanied by the gravy. Serves four.

Steak prepared in this manner would go well on a menu with hot steamed rice, green peas, a green salad bowl, bread and butter, apple pie and coffee.

It is probably a toss up as to which is more popular, steak with mushrooms or steak smothered in onions. If you and your family prefer the onions, here are a few simple directions which will make a delicious steak.

STEAK SMOTHERED WITH ONIONS

Beef steak, cut 1/2 to 1-inch thick
1/4 cup enriched flour
Lard or drippings
6 medium onions, sliced

1-3 cup fresh or canned mushrooms
1-3 cup fat
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup water
2 small cloves garlic, minced
Dredge steak with mixture of next three ingredients. Score meat on both sides. Brown steak, onion, garlic and mushrooms in hot fat; add other ingredients. Cover; cook 1 1/2 hours over low heat. Yields six servings.

Broiling is the easy — and delicious — way to cook and serve either sirloin or porterhouse steak. Before broiling, rub the steak with a cut-clover of garlic, or onion salt. The length of broiling time will vary, depending on the thickness and individual preference for rare, medium or well done. Serve with pan-fried mushrooms, baked or French fried potatoes and sliced tomatoes.

Tomato Paste Pie

1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup tomato soup
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 teaspoon clove
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup raisins
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup nuts

Cream shortening, adding sugar slowly and continue to cream until light and fluffy. Add well beaten eggs, add soda dissolved in water. Sift flour with baking powder and spices. Add to above mixture. Then add tomato soup, raisins and nuts. Bake for one hour at 350 degrees.

MISS MARIAN McDONALD serves strawberry shortcake

Native Of Big Spring Recalls Coyote Howls

Coyotes howling at night west of Lancaster Street is one of the recollections Miss Marian McDonald has of her girlhood.

Miss McDonald was born in Big Spring across the street from her present home at 506 Gregg St., where she and her family moved when she was only 3.

Miss McDonald recalls that there were hardly any houses past Lancaster Street. "And no one dreamed there would ever be houses out by scenic Drive," she recalls. "Everyone kept cows out there."

Her own family even had a cow in the back yard, she says, and sold milk and cream. "I've churned many pounds of butter. People would line up for milk at the back door with their milk pails."

Her father, a native of Alabama, came to Big Spring in the 1890's. Her parents met when her mother, the former Mary Pope of Wintersboro, was visiting her sister, Mrs. S. H. Morrison, here.

McDonald clerked in Patty Matthews Walcott general store, located where the Big Spring Hardware Store is now. Later she went into business with John Roberts and sold shoes and men's furnishings. Their store was located where Woolworth's now is.

In 1935 he sold out to Victor Mellinger.

Miss McDonald started to school in an old red school house, on the site of the present Postoffice.

Just when she was ready to start to high school, a high school was built.

This was a lot farther from where Mrs. McDonald lived, but she remembers walking to school and back home for lunch, every day no matter how cold and windy it was.

She enjoys working in her garden now and is especially proud of her roses and pansies. She belongs to the Eastern Star.

Her recipe for strawberry shortcake has been in her family for generations, at least since her grandmother's time. Although she likes to use frozen strawberries, she says that the fresh strawberry season will be starting in a few weeks and should put shortcake high on our lists of desserts.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

INGREDIENTS:

1 2/3 cups flour
1/3 cup cornstarch
2 teaspoons baking powder
2/3 cup butter
2/3 cup sweet milk

METHOD:

Mix like biscuit dough; that is, sift dry ingredients together, cut in butter, mix in milk. Divide the dough in two equal parts. Roll each part out. Spread one in a buttered pie plate and brush top with melted butter. Place the other half on top and bake in a hot oven as for biscuits (about 425 degrees). When they are done, cover each with sliced, sweetened strawberries and place one layer on the other.

Bring Spring Inside With Sunny Colors

Rain or shine, come Sunday morn, bring some of spring's brightness inside. Sunny colors included in your breakfast menu may do the trick. Bedeck the table, too, for the occasion. Use a centerpiece of cheerful flowers and spread a colorful cloth.

Sunshine-tinted peaches in a nest of crisp golden corn flakes give a spring air. Sweet rolls provide the bread, and there's butter and lots of milk to pour over the peach "nests."

This attractive menu has been planned from a basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. Dozens of other equally appetizing meals may be easily and quickly prepared from these five foods. The secret of success is your own imagination; variety is the "spice" of breakfast!

Economy plays a big part in the breakfast pattern's popularity. By spending only about 15 cents you are able to have a nutrition-wise and tasty meal. Save on your morning meal, help your family get needed nutrients, and that sunny front will show in your disposition as well as in your breakfast.

Coronation Salad

Lettuce 3 canned cling peach halves
1 Pint cottage cheese Bits of maraschino cherries

Fill lettuce cups with shredded lettuce and top with cottage cheese. Make 3 dills in each well-drained peach half. Spread peach apart on cottage cheese to form points of crown. Top each point with a bit of cherry. Makes 3 servings.

Garnishes Add Color To Roast

Gay garnishes can set off your dinner roast. A bit of color adds the finishing touch to your dinner table, the same as accessories to a basic dress.

Hot garnishes are suggested for hot meat dishes; cold garnishes for cold meat dishes. Of course, there are exceptions to this rule. Brightly spiced crabapples, spiced peaches or apricots, orange slices, fruit-filled orange cups are all time for garnishing roasts.

Occasionally, let your dinner vegetable serve as a garnish. Glazed carrots are an ideal addition. Baked potatoes topped with butter, asparagus, frenched or cut green beans, all may be used successfully. For cold servings such as sliced pork loin, ham, or chilled lamb, salad molds make an attractive garnish.

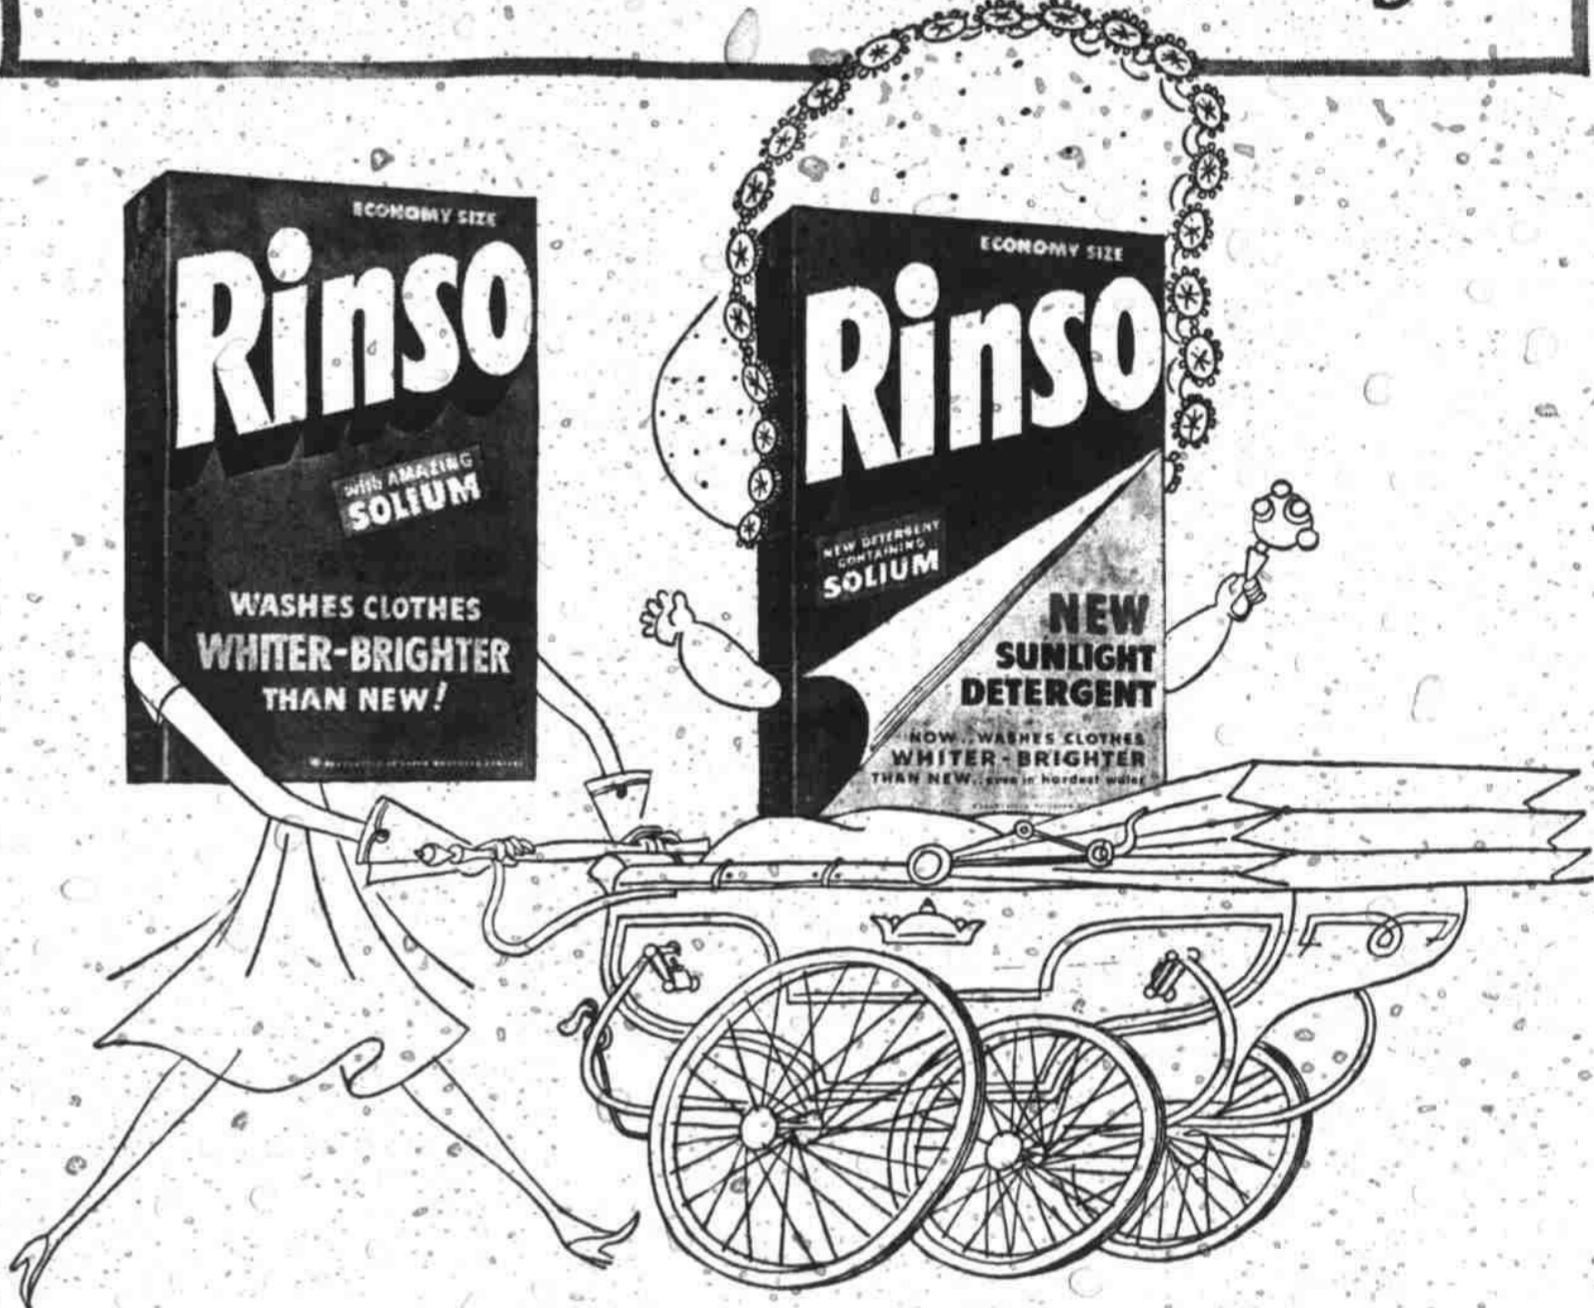

However, let your meat determine the garnish—fruits for pork, ham or lamb; vegetables for beef and veal. Remember, never over-garnish the platter. They may get in your carver's way, leading to garnishes scattered over your dinner table.

MAMA RINSO SOAP has long been the most popular washday soap in the world. And "Doc" Lever predicts that the new baby will soon be the most popular detergent. It already has a nickname: RINSO "D" (D for detergent).

Rinso "D" dissolves instantly, makes huge quantities of fragrant suds; cuts grease, and leaves no scum—even in the hardest water.

All detergents are good, but our tests prove that the new Rinso "D" washes about twice as many dishes as today's largest-selling detergent!

Rinso "D" will also do a brilliant job in your washer. It leaves your wash looking whiter than new. That's because of the SOLIUM.

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

There's hardly anybody in West Texas who has ever worked with livestock who hasn't heard of Dr. LeGear. Even now there are packages of his stock remedies to be found on the store shelves, but 30 and 40 years ago this brand was one of the really big-selling items. Almost every drug and general store and country store stocked the Dr. LeGear products, many of them to the complete exclusion of competitive lines.

Dr. LeGear also had a very famous horse. We once saw this horse on exhibition in St. Louis. This horse, if memory serves correctly, was also named "Dr. LeGear." He was a Clydesdale, a bay, and the other Dr. LeGear claimed he was the biggest horse in the world. His normal weight was around 2,800 pounds. For the soul of me I can't remember whether he was a stallion or a gelding.

The LeGear Company distributed lots of calendars and other advertising material in those days, and on all this material as well as on all the LeGear packages was the picture of this big horse. Only the picture of the horse's head appears on the modern packages put out by the LeGear organization.

"Not long ago I saw a Dr. LeGear package on a shelf in the Dorward Drug Store at Gall, and made the remark to Judge Dorward, veteran druggist and former county judge, that I had once seen the famous LeGear horse."

"Did you ever see Dr. LeGear himself?" the store owner asked. "Lassid I hadn't."

"I knew him well," Judge Dorward recalled. "He used to travel through this country himself behind a fine team, selling his products. He was his own drummer through here back in those days."

At that time the LeGear factory was located at Austin. It was later, as business increased, moved to St. Louis.

Now hundreds of gasoline and oil signs grow where one stock remedy sign grew before.

And probably nobody is enjoying Shine Philip's history of Big Spring more than this Borden County pioneer.

A few days ago he wrote Shine acknowledging receipt of the book. Said he had spent the morning reading it and that it was certainly recalling to him memories of the Big Spring of which Shine has written. Judge Dorward can remember when those Borden and Garza County wagons used to rumble into Big Spring for supplies and when thousands of cattle used to be shipped out of here over the T&P.

Incidentally, Shine says he sure hopes to be able to attend the Big Homecoming at Gall Sunday, April 26, which has been designed to honor the David Dorwards.

Shine has made a deal with Joe Hayden to call him early the Saturday night before and remind him of the event so he (Shine) can get in a Saturday night bath. Then Joe is to call him again early Sunday morning and remind him to get up and start traveling.

It's rumored the barbecue committee ordered an extra lamb and double ration for the steers when they held the editor of the Big Spring Weekly News, was counting on being there.

Joe is one of the mainstays of assistance to the association sponsoring the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion at the Big Spring City Park each year. Nobody works harder in connection with this event than Joe Hayden and nobody enjoys doing it more than he does.

It's up to the rest of us to keep him well fed.

that about 1,200 vocational agriculture students from approximately 120 West Texas high schools are expected to attend. It covers all of Area II which is under the supervision of E. L. Tiner of Big Spring. In these contests all schools are in one class regardless of size. There are nine different contests open to the boys and the winners become eligible to participate in the state contests later.

The deadline for entries is April 22, and Ray L. Chappell is general chairman. The Plains Co-Operative Oil Mill will be host to the FFA boys at a barbecue following the contests which will be over about 5 p.m.

Team contests and their campus directors, all from the Tech agriculture faculty are: Livestock, Stanley Anderson;

Dairy cattle, Roy Neeley; Foultry, Dick Turner; Dairy products, Dr. J. J. Willingham; Meats, Fred Boren; Crops, Cecil Ayers; Cotton classing, Chester Jaynes; Grass, Gordon Gatherum, and Wool, Nathan Allen Jr.

FFA teams from other high schools in the area are also expected to participate at Lubbock.

BIG SPRING

W. S. Goodlett, SCS area conservationist, has been seeking information on the value of Guar as a livestock feed. He says the best information he has been able to get has come from John A. Esser, manager of the General Mills Guar processing plant at Kenedy.

Esser writes Goodlett that the protein content of field run Guar beans will range from 28 to 30 per cent, and that other analyses for the seed are ash 3.3 per cent; fat 2.7 per cent; fiber 10 per cent, and nitrogen free extracts 43.6 per cent.

Esser points out that the Guar is very palatable and most positively is not toxic, and that cattle take to it readily. He says there are numerous instances where feeders have described it as a fine finishing feed. The plant manager says he cannot recommend it as a hay, however, because it is relatively coarse and does not hold its foliage.

He says that as a forage it should be thought of only from an emergency standpoint and that in this case it is good, but that the plants have very little ability to recover and reform when being grazed.

Feeding tests are being encouraged and it is hoped these will be scheduled by Texas A&M; Texas Tech; PanTech Farms and at other experiment farms in different parts of the state.

Goodlett says he hopes hogs will be included in these tests since he believes Guar will prove to be one of the best hog feeds that can be grown in this area.

At least two teams and probably three from the Big Spring High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will participate in the annual FFA judging contests at Texas Tech in Lubbock, April 25, according to Truett Vines, instructor in vocational agriculture.

Entering the contests from Big Spring will be livestock and dairy judging teams, and possibly a crop judging team if the boys can be gotten ready in time. Vines says. The event is sponsored by the Agriculture Division at Tech.
