Bilbrey Home Destroyed by Fire

A bedside alarm clock, set early for a fishing trip, woke Jesse Bilbrey to a room filled with smoke. Coughing and with eyes burning, he and his wife, Carol, quickly dressed, found their pets and made their escape through their bedroom window. The house that was seemingly quiet to a passerby just moments before quickly became a blazing inferno that completely destroyed the Bilbrey home in a very short time.

Aware that her nearest neighbor was away from home, Carol attempted to cross a fence to get to her mother's phone, found that she couldn't and drove around from E. Mill to Highway 36 to alert the fire department. Cynthia Clark, a neighbor who lives father down the street, smelled the smoke as she was leaving for work. She cruised Highway 36 until she located the source of the smoke and returned home so her husband could call the fire department, then went to the scene of the fire where she found the Bilbrey's safely outside moving vehicles away from the now openly blazing house.

Apparently the fire had burned in the kitchen area for some time before burning through the roof or into the garage for a fresh supply of oxygen. Once open air was reached, the wind-fanned flames quickly engulfed the remainder of the house.

The couple's two sons, Trey and Dusty, had spent the night with friends. Trey is 14 and wears 28wx34 student size pants and size 18 shirt. Dusty is 10 and wears size 14 slim pants and size 16 shirt. Jesse wears 31x33 or 34 slim pants and medium shirt. His shoe size is 10EEE. Carol thought she had received a sufficient amount of clothing.

Over the years Rising Star and area residents have been quick to help when a family has lost all its possessions in a fire. A house, some furniture, bedding, groceries and clothing were made ready for the family to be able to spend the night in new quarters and go to work and school on Monday morning. More necessary items were brought to the Chester Novak rent house just off W. Pioneer on McClure St. Monday as the Bilbrey's attempted to return some normalcy to their lives.

A pounding will be given for the family at the American Legion Hall on Saturday, May 28, at 1 p.m.

Very appreciative of all that is being done to help them, the Bilbrey's also would appreciate the E. Mill St. neighbors keeping a watch for their cat, Thomas, that strayed away during confusion Sunday.

Elm Cemetery Workday Is Saturday

The Spring Work Day will be May 28, 8:00 a.m. until Noon (or later if you wish) at Elm Cemetery in the Okra Community. All Association members and anyone interested in the Cemetery plan to be there with whatever tools you would like to work with - weeder, hoe, rake, gloves, etc.

RAIN
Rising Star received .8 to .9 inch of rain last Thursday afternoon and early Friday morning. About the same amount fell Saturday morning, followed by winds for the next few days and nights.

Farmers had had to put preparations for planting on hold until a sufficient amount of moisture was available and stockmen were facing a no-grass situation for their livestock. Stockpiled hay that was plenty for winter feeding had been sorely diminished by the need to continue feeding throughout the spring.

The Saturday Club

The final meeting of the Saturday Club for the 1987-88 year took place in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church at noon May 18.

The "piece de resistance" consisted of a lovely array of salads served from beautifully decorated tables in the club's colors, pink and white. The head table was decorated with a May pole, contributed by the constructive hands of Mr. Gaylon Swift and decorated by Joan Hubbard. The May-pole dancers were dolls with braided hair, dressed in old-fashioned dresses. The hair styles and dresses were hand-made made by Joan Hubbard. The entire centerpiece was truly a work of art. The luncheon tables, a delight to visualize, were centered by tiny swimming pools surrounded by small dolls and floral pieces.

The Social Committee's display of talent was very impressive and the salads, provided by club members, made a repeat "fit for a king."

As a token of appreciation for her faithful service, retiring president Bea Kruger was presented with a beautiful pin. Past president Polly Price made the presentation.

The food and fellowship were enjoyed by 37 club members, seven honorary members and one guest.

The annual Dothan Cemetery Association meeting will be Saturday, May 28 at the cemetery. The day will be spent in cleanup work, visiting, and sharing sack lunches. Due to the light rainfall and some previous good work there will be on by light cleanup. A complete report will be given on the progress of the Memorial Fund account.

Reservations are now being taken for "Tied to the Tracks", a summer Melodrama to be presented June 9-11 and 16-18 in the Rockwell Lumber Yard. Dinner performances will begin at 7 p.m., with fried chicken, potato salad and corn on the cob as part of the menu. Dessert only performances will begin at 8 p.m., with dessert served during intermission. Call 442-2567 or 442-2589 for more information.

EASTLAND
Eastland High School Head Coach and Athletic Director Ron Sanderson has been on the job for a couple of weeks now, and says he is pleased with the Maverick's willingness to work. Sanderson is completing the coaching staff at this time. The new defensive coordinator will be Gordon Lockett, who will move to Eastland this summer. Coach Sanderson has an offensive line coach in mind, and is also interviewing for a girls' coach. When football practice begins, the coach plans to install a new offense and defense. On defense, he prefers the 4-3 with gap control.

A recent 4-H Walk-A-Thon from Cisco to Eastland was successful. Eastland Seniors and 4-H Leaders made the walk to endorse fitness and raise money for the Club's projects and other activities. The 4-H'ers collected pledges before the walk began. That that made the walk were Pam Kea, Monty Kea, Mark Chaney, Natalie Stevens, Jennifer Jarrell, Christy Arther, Diane Butler, Janet Thomas, Gene Kea, Dorothy Kea and Kathy Stevens. Don Griffin helped transport the group to Cisco, and Ralph Stevens followed along in a vehicle. Upon their return to Eastland the group ate lunch at the new cafe, "Lost in the Fifties". The owners presented the Club with a donation.

Assembly has begun on the Eastland County History Book. Roy Lee Smith is going to Dallas this Wednesday to hand deliver the family history script to Taylor Publishing Co. for printing. Volunteers have been checking the work to remove any errors, before the book is published. This promises to be the biggest and best county history book ever printed, and more pre-publication sales are needed to pay for it. Business or memorial pages are being sold, and the book can have as many General History pages as the number of business pages sold. Contact Roy Lee Smith or Ron Bailey for more information, or send your request to P.O. Box 856, Eastland, 76448.

"Beetlejuice" To Show At Majestic

Perhaps the most aggressively funny comedy to spring into theatres since last year's "Raising Arizona," "Beetlejuice" has the same wicked, violent, cunningly over-the-wall comic ambience that categorizes the best of both Monty Python and Looney Toones. Director/actor Tim Burton, whose last effort was "Pee-wee's Big Adventure," has toned down the Pee-wee-esque wackiness in favor of more pointed satire, and has come up with an even more magical, faster-paced universe than the one Mr. Herman inhabits, with gags that are more often than not insidiously, gut-wrenchingly hilarious.

Adam and Barbara Maitland (Alec Baldwin and Geena Davis) die in a car accident, and their spirits are consigned to spend eternity haunting their own beloved country home in Connecticut. This is fine with the Maitlands until Barbara's sister sells their house to a cadre of terrifyingly trendy New Yorkers, the Deetz family. Delia Deetz (SCTV's Catherine O'Hara), it turns out, is a talentless sculptress, and immediately sets about turning the Maitlands' quaint country cottage into a nouveau deco hellhole. In a novel twist, the deceased effectively find themselves haunted by the living.

Adam and Barbara don Delia's designer sheets and try to make vaguely otherworldly noises in an effort to shoo the family away, but the Deetzes prove simply too self-absorbed to notice anything as subtle as ghosts. The Maitlands are forced to consort with Beetlejuice, a slovenly, fearsomely unmannered "bio-exorcist" and the only poltergeist frightening enough to scare the Deetzes back to Manhattan.

"Beetlejuice" is rated PG for language, violence and some B-calibre gore.

Homemaking Hints

From Janet Thomas, Young Agent

This is the time of year that many high school and college students start looking for summer employment. Finding a job is not easy.

This month I attended a state in-service training session on Job Skills and Satisfaction which was taught by Dorothy Taylor, Family Life Specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In today's column, I would like to share with you some excellent suggestions on how to "package yourself" when interviewing for a job.

PACKAGING YOURSELF

Applying for a job is like giving someone a gift - you are both the presenter and the gift.

CREDENTIALS:

Your credentials are those things that can be written on your resume, which is only a specific format for listing them. Credentials are those things that make you believable; they give you credibility and show that you can do the job.

There are three kinds of credentials: Personal, Academic, and Occupational. Personal credentials include recommendations from current or former employers, friends, and others who can support you in this job application. Academic credentials are diplomas or certificates showing your preparation for this job. Occupational credentials are work experiences that have developed skills needed for the job you're seeking. SPEECH:

The way you speak is at least as important in your job search as any other single factor. Only in careers where you don't deal with people can you get by with sloppy English. Use good grammar. Keep the tone of voice pleasant. Avoid profanity or expressions which may offend others. Speech is one of the first personal attributes with which any potential employer has contact. Don't let it be the last. DRESS:

Clothing and appearance are important in the work world. Although there is no universal "right way" to dress, there is an appropriate attire for the particular occupation, season and location. Your clothing should show good taste.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS:

First impressions are important, and your clothing is usually the first thing about you that anyone will notice.

Research studies show an 8-20 percent higher starting salary for appropriately dressed and well-groomed applicants. Most employers interpret neatness as evidence of skills when evaluating potential employees.

PERSONAL HYGIENE:

Laundry in personal hygiene will not be noticed as quickly as inappropriate clothing or speech, but it will certainly leave the most indelible impression. Sloppy habits can sabotage your changes at a job, whether it's poor hygiene related to clothing, hair, body or teeth. Being clean and well-groomed is essential to making a good impression. Don't chew gum or use any form of tobacco. ATTITUDE:

Attitude is part of your personality and includes all the other elements of your personal packaging. You can be sure that your attitude will be tested in an interview as well as the way you react to questions. Your behavior will indicate the kind of team player you are. Positive thoughts about yourself and other people, together with enthusiasm, are two additional elements that every boss likes his or her team players to have. Don't criticize other bosses or companies, nor do you want to vent your own personal problems.

Good luck to all as you seek summer jobs!

Recipe For The Week

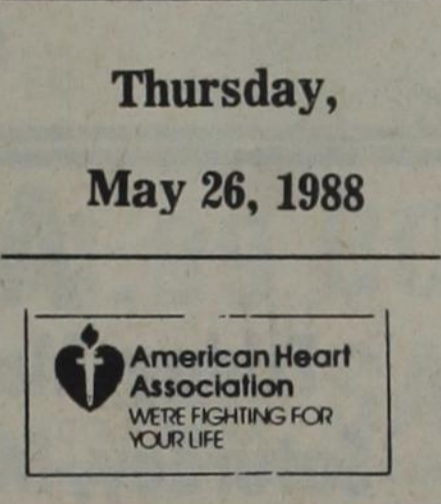

This week I am sharing a wonderful fruit salad recipe. This is excellent with meat entrees, and a real time saver for it can be prepared ahead of time. Keep this recipe in mind for your graduation parties, brides maid luncheon, or a special Sunday dinner.

Happy Day Fruit Salad
1 (3 1/2 ounce) package instant vanilla pudding
1/2 pint whipping cream whipped
1 (30 ounce) can fruit cocktail, drained
1 (11 ounce) can mandarin orange sections, drained

1 (4 ounce) jar maraschino cherries, drained and halved
4 bananas, diced
1 cup miniature marshmallows

Prepare pudding according to package directions; fold in whipped cream. Fold in remaining ingredients, and chill well. Yield: 10 servings.

THANK YOU

Has anyone told you how wonderful you are? Let me tell you we have the most loving and caring people in the whole world! I can never say "Thank you" enough for all the loving and kind things done for me and my family since my surgery.

The cards and letters are so uplifting; the visits, I've cherished; the phone calls, delightful; the flowers and gifts are wonderful; the food, delicious; and the PRAYERS, I could not have made it without them. Again my family and I thank you from the bottoms of our hearts.

May God richly bless each of you.

Sue & Willie, DeLana & Tami Vandivere

We want to thank you, friends, neighbors and relatives, for your concern for us when Hulin had to have surgery.

For the cards, visits, telephone calls and most of all for your prayers which helped us through this trying time.

Peanut producers in Eastland County can now get the latest market information through a 24-hour national toll-free hotline.

By calling 1-800-346-1066, producers can access a brief, taped message concerning the peanut market and other issues of concern. Recorded messages are updated as needed, once or twice weekly in the off season and daily during the peak marketing period.

In addition to current peanut market information, the service also provides timely reports on such issues as peanut contracts, legislation, and rules and regulations.

The hotline is provided by the Agri-Products Marketing Services, Inc., whose staff collects, edits and narrates the hotline information. The hotline is supported by state peanut producer organizations, including the Texas Peanut Producers' Board and several commercial companies that serve the peanut industry.

The new testing procedures will effect most Texas producers who sell market-weight hogs.

New testing procedures for detecting sulfamethazine and other sulfa products in slaughter hogs will be

Pecan Tree Spray Time

The next six days will be the time to spray pecan trees to control the pecan nut casebearer in Eastland County, reports County Extension Agent, DeMarquis Gordon. May 25 to May 31, has been determined to be the best time to spray if you hope to have a pecan crop this year.

The adult moths of the casebearer have started laying eggs on the tips of the small pecans. The best time to spray may vary with location in the county and between varieties, says Gordon. Pecan producers and homeowners should check their trees closely for the small white eggs which are deposited on the black tip of the pecans. The eggs hatch four or five days after they are deposited by the moths. About three days after the small larvae emerge from the eggs they begin eating in to the pecans.

Insecticide applications should begin after the first nutlet damage is observed, the agent says. Many producers treat too early and miss most of the insects. It's best to have 1% to 2% nut damage continues seven to ten days after the first spray application, the trees should be sprayed again. However, one spray application usually is sufficient.

Effective insecticides include Guthion, Malathion, Thiodan, Zolone, Diazinon, Pydrin, Ammo, and Cymbush. Before using any of these materials, read the label directions and follow them carefully. It is also important to spray pecan trees with zinc. Zinc sulfate is a wettable powder that may be mixed with insecticides. NZN is a liquid zinc that is preferred for yard trees and may also be used in orchards.

For more information on pecan pest control contact the County Extension office.

Youth Cutting Horse School

Tarleton State University and Texas Agricultural Extension Service are jointly sponsoring a youth cutting horse clinic on August 2-5, 1988, at the TSU Horse Center Arena in Stephenville, Texas. This school will be directed at the improvement of the riding and exhibiting skills of the youth exhibitor. Pete Branch, of Dublin, Texas, will be the primary instructor. Pete is a nationally prominent cutting horse trainer and exhibitor who consistently appears in the finals of most of the major aged events. He is very youth-oriented and is an outstanding teacher.

The school will begin at 1:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 2, and will conclude at noon on Friday, August 5. Enrollment is limited to 25 students, and each student can bring only one horse. Students will be housed in the TSU dormitories and will take their meals in the University Dining Hall. Horses will be stalled at the Horse Center.

Total cost of the school will be $225.00 per student. This includes room and board, stall rent, cattle charges, and all instructional materials. Parents may stay in the dormitories for a nominal fee.

Enrollment is limited and will be taken upon a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, contact Crystal Akers Wilbanks, County Extension Agent, at the Eastland County Extension office in the basement of the Courthouse or call 817-629-1093.

Poem

He's Just A Little Boy
He stands at the plate with his heart pounding fast; The bases are loaded; the die has been cast. Mom and Dad cannot help him; he stands all alone. A hit at this moment would send the team home. The ball nears the plate; he swings and he misses. There's a groan from the crowd, with some boos and hisses.

A thoughtless voice cries, "Strike out the bum!" Tears fill his eyes; the game's no longer fun. Remember - he's just a little boy who stands all alone. So open your heart and give him a break,

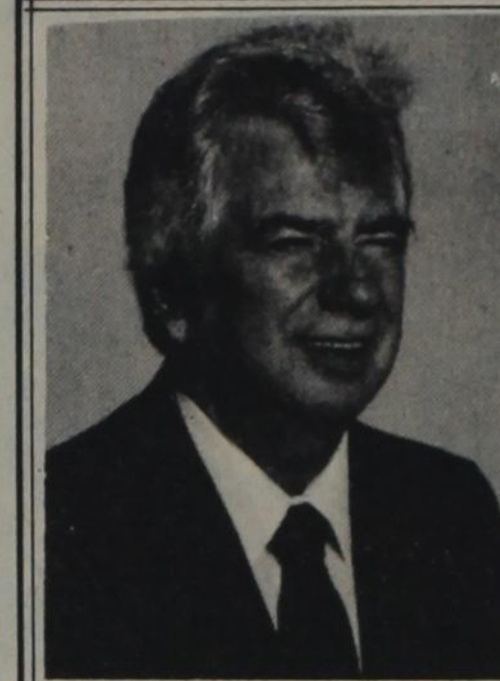

For it's moments like this a man you can make. Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget, He's just a little boy, not a man yet.

The Next Best Thing -

.....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A FREE PRESS

ONCE UPON A TIME IN TEXAS, there lived a newspaper that reported all kinds of things, from weddings to recipes to obituaries to local news and deeds, to club and church news, to water and power rates, to local elections. And while the town worked hard to solve unemployment, crime, bad streets and all the other aches of the day, the newspaper kept at it to try to bring the town a promise of the best to come - - and to believe in itself.

A FEW YEARS EARLIER, the newspaper didn't have as many readers. But its merchants advertised a lot, and there were more available dollars to hire writers and advertising sales people.

THE TOWN PROSPERED and its population grew to attract new, bigger businesses that came in to compete for customers from throughout the entire region. But some of those bigger businesses tried different ways of advertising, or reduced their own dollars for advertising when they took command of the market. Some small firms left.

TIMES GOT TOUGHER for the newspaper in spite of helping it's town grow. In just 18 months, the price of newsprint increased 30 percent, and it cost 20 percent more just to mail the same newspaper. The newspaper faced the same higher taxes, increased minimum wages and all the other new challenges to business as did everyone else. Just the cost of keeping its doors open increased to $526 per day for every 2,500 circulation. *

The newspaper was forced to reduce its staff a bit, along with some of its local coverage because the dollars just don't have the same reach as prior years.

THE TOWN STARTED LOSING its close kinship and upbeat manner. And its citizens became less interested in ideas for the future of a town in which they were losing contact . . . and information.

BUT THE NEWSPAPER (every newspaper) kept plugging along, attending countless local meetings and events. And its staff worked long hours to find ways to produce a better newspaper for the town, and to provide businesses with a valuable means of selling their goods and services, and informing readers about everything from government to fashions and foods.

TEXAS NEWSPAPERS are always plugging, because they enjoy exercising "Freedom of the Press." But please understand, this freedom doesn't come cheaply. It costs lots of dollars to keep it going. So help to put a happy ending on this story for both your town and its newspaper . . . SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER, AND ITS ADVERTISERS, because they're truly helping your town!

* Based on an informal survey of 1987 newspaper expenses.

Baccalaureate

Graduation exercises were first held by the European universities of the Middle Ages. American educational institutions today still have many of the European customs. Usually there are two special ceremonies, baccalaureate and commencement.

"Baccalaureate" is defined in Webster's Third New International Dictionary as a religious or semireligious service held at many educational institutions the Sunday before commencement. It is derived from the French word "baccalareus" meaning "advanced student." A Baccalaureate service was held last Sunday, May 22, at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church for the graduating seniors of Rising Star High School. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Dale Jackson; the Baccalaureate address was given by Dr. Don Bryan, the superintendent of Rising Star schools; and the benediction was delivered by Roger Barron. Mrs. Pat Walker played the music for the service.
