Schwellenbach Sits In On CIO Auto Meetings

Secretary To Ask GM To Resume Negotiations

DETROIT, Nov. 29 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach took a personal hand today in the nine-day-old General Motors strike which has idled 225,000 workers and stalled production in more than 70 plants.

Schwellenbach, who conferred with President Truman late last week on the GM strike, sat in on a four-hour meeting with officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers at Washington yesterday.

The conference was called by Chief Federal Conciliator Edgar L. Warren, who announced later he and Schwellenbach would ask GM President C. E. Wilson to resume negotiations promptly with the striking union. There was no advance hints as to what Wilson's reply would be.

Warren told reporters he was "hopeful" of getting the two parties together again and of finding a common ground for discussion of the union's 30 per cent wage increase demand.

UAW-CIO President R. J. Thomas and Vice President Walter P. Reuther said they were ready to meet with the GM management "any time, any place." Reuther added that GM would "have to be convinced" of the necessity of a meeting.

The Labor Department said Wilson had declined three separate invitations to the Capital for talks with the conciliation service similar to those yesterday with the union.

The company also reiterated its refusal to consider its profits and prices a proper subject for collective bargaining.

The Ford Motor Co., also facing the 30 per cent demand, meanwhile pressed its counter-demand for "company security" with a definite proposal.

In its next contract with the UAW-CIO it suggested a provision entitling the company to deduct from union dues collected under the check-off system $3 for each day or fraction thereof any union member is idle in an unauthorized work stoppage.

Un-son spokesmen said such a proposal was "unrealistic."

Firemen Request Old Toys For Repairing
 With Christmas season practically here, Big Spring firemen are requesting persons to cooperate with them and donate all old or damaged toys which might be repaired for under-privileged children.

Toys may be taken to the fire department where they will be improved, painted and remade before being given to the Salvation Army for distribution. H. V. Crocker, fire chief, asked that all toys be brought in not later than Dec. 15.

PLANT SHUT DOWN

DENISON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The big generating plant at the Denison dam was shut down today for the first time since it began operations more than a year ago. Minor adjustments are being made and the plant is expected to resume operations by Dec. 15.

Union Given Power To Call Walkouts

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP)—Officials of the CIO-United Steelworkers held in their hands today authority to call a nationwide strike to enforce their demands for a $2 a day pay raise.

The power was given by members of their union who voted in a National Labor Relations Board election yesterday, favoring a strike nearly 5 to 1.

Unofficial, incomplete returns to the NLRB from hundreds of polling places in 27 states showed the workers voting 342,125 for, only 70,639 against a strike.

There was no indication a strike would be called immediately or even in the near future.

Workers were cautioned against any premature work stoppage and were informed the authority for a strike rests with the national wage policy committee and the executive board.

The election was the greatest NLRB vote ever undertaken in the United States, involving 766 plants and some 650,000 workmen.

Navy Told To Destroy Codes Before Disaster

Austrian War Plan Revealed In Trial

NUERNBERG, Nov. 29 (AP)—Records proving that the German high command drew up detailed plans for a "surprise war" against Austria at the time Hitler was telling the world he had no territorial ambitions were laid today before the international military tribunal trying 20 Nazi leaders on war crimes charges.

For the second straight day, American prosecutors continued to unfold the tale of Nazi intrigue, deceit and fifth column activity that resulted in the blitz Anschluss of Austria in 1938.

The Austrian war plan, identified by the code name "Otto," was taken from files of the German high command, Assistant US Prosecutor Sidney S. Alderman said. He then produced a directive from Marshal Werner von Blomberg in which he quoted the former secretary of war as saying "there might be special preparations for war against Austria."

The war plan was introduced over the objection of counsel for Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, German army chief of staff, who said that the document showed only that the wehrmacht was preparing "for all eventualities," including "war against Spain."

The prosecution also produced as evidence, General Jodl's private diary which revealed that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, high command chief of staff and one of the defendants, and German naval chiefs had conducted fake military maneuvers to frighten Austria in February, 1938—a month before Hitler moved into the neighboring country without resistance.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering grinned at evidence of another bit of Hitlerite fakery used to intimidate small European nations—an order from Field Marshal Keitel directing "spreading of false but quite creditable news" of Nazi military intentions toward Austria.

US Court Of Appeals Acting On OPA Case

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—A United States emergency court of appeals has taken under advisement testimony and arguments presented by the city of Dallas and the OPA regarding the federal agency's regulations.

The city of Dallas and the OPA went before the court in a test case to determine if the OPA's regulations apply to state and municipal government. A ruling is not expected for some time.

CONFERENCE DELEGATES TO AIR GRIEVANCES IN OPEN SESSIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Delegates to the labor-management conference emerge today from three weeks of committee controversy to air their differences in open session.

Certain that President Truman would not step in to steer deliberations, conference leaders faced possible heated debate on a series of lost causes—among them, CIO President Philip Murray's resolution urging general wage increases.

However, no specific recommendations on basic issues were expected from this afternoon's plenary session.

With this in mind, some public members had advocated White House intervention to spur action. But Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told the executive committee yesterday Mr. Truman neither would intervene nor issue

Over 600 UNRRA Helpers Charged As Incompetent

Previous Reports Of Black Market Held Erroneous

HERFORD, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—Leo J. Mangolin, chief of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in Europe, said in a statement today that 600 UNRRA employees had been dismissed for incompetence within the last few months.

He said most of those dismissed were nationals of European countries.

Mangolin declared he wished to correct a previous Associated Press report which quoted him as saying 600 UNRRA workers, a majority of them Americans and British, had been dismissed, suspended or arrested.

(In London the European office of the UNRRA said the previous report that the dismissals were in connection with a two-month investigation into black market activities in Germany "is completely inaccurate.")

"UNRRA officials are doing everything in their power to ferret out any incompetence and dishonesty in the ranks," Mangolin's statement said. "The overwhelming majority of the UNRRA workers in Germany are honest, sincere and loyal and dedicated to the care of displaced persons who are innocent victims of war," his statement concluded.

Wedemeyer Muses Over Marshall's Mission To China

CHUNGKING, Nov. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, US commander in China, told newsmen today that he thought General Marshall was being sent to China "to make a survey of the situation and make appropriate recommendations to the President concerning future U. S. assistance—our military aid—to China."

Few men in the United States, either military or civilian, are better equipped to evaluate a situation than General Marshall. He has a fund of experience in international affairs, and enjoys the respect of the President, Congress and the people of the United States," Wedemeyer added.

Chinese press dispatches meanwhile reported Nationalists have halted their fighting advance toward Mukden, Manchuria, because Russians allegedly agree to their peaceful entry later into that historically rich city.

The dispatches said that Nationalists now are mopping up Chinese Communist resistance in the area between Shanhaikwan, Great Wall gateway to Manchuria, and Kowpangtze, a rail junction 90 miles below Mukden.

Says Iran Denied Right Of Sending Troops To Border

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Hussein Ala, the Iranian ambassador, informed President Truman today his government had received a note from Russia formally refusing permission for Iran to reinforce its garrisons in the northern part of the country.

The area has been the scene of civil disorders. The ambassador said after a call at the White House that the Iranian note was delivered to the Iranian embassy in Tehran. He quoted the Soviet government as saying that further northward movement of Iranian troops would produce bloodshed and necessitate the movement of further Russian troops into Iran.

Ala told newsmen there was "no justification for troops of other nations in Iran" and that he had been hopeful that the American note of Nov. 24 suggesting the withdrawal of all outside forces would have produced different results.

University Not To Share Marine Lab

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—"No matter how desirable it might be for the University of Texas to share in a marine laboratory on the gulf coast with the game, fish and oyster commission," there is no statute authorizing such a procedure, according to the attorney general's department.

This opinion by Assistant Attorney General William J. Fanning was in answer to a question by Howard Dodgan, executive secretary of the commission.

Dodgan also asked whether the game commission could use money from the fish and oyster fund for construction of a marine laboratory building. The answer to this was yes.

Congress To Probe Hurley's Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Armed with broad powers, Gen. George C. Marshall sped preparations today for a quick flight to China as his predecessor's explosive resignation headed for an airing on Capitol Hill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee told reporters he plans to call both Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes before a closed door session, perhaps Monday.

The purpose, Connally said, will be an informal discussion of Hurley's contention that he had been crossed up as ambassador to China by subordinates both in the state department and at Chungking.

Connally stressed, however, that he has no intention of ordering any such full-dress hearing as Senator Wherry (R-Neb) demanded in a bitter senate speech late yesterday. This would have covered about everything connected with the state department, the Atlantic Charter and the Potsdam big three agreement.

It appeared, meanwhile, that Marshall might get off for Chungking sometime today. The former army chief of staff has the absolute backing of Mr. Truman, and observers agree that anyone who fails to do what Marshall seriously wants done might very well find himself packing his bags for home.

Wherry introduced a resolution for an all-out investigation of the state departments policies, operations, administration and personnel.

Connally, asking "what is his complaint?" said Hurley's charges appeared vague and general, "and that is not enough."

"I'd like to have General Hurley come up here and look us in the eye and tell us what some of these terrible things are," he said.

Asserting that this is no time for political expediency or partisan politics, the Texan added: "God knows there is enough trouble in the world. We have got to be united and act as Americans, not as republicans or as democrats."

Wherry, too, appeared infuriated by Connally's speaking manner. He said the chairman's tone seemed "jocular and sort of hula-hula fashion."

"Of course," the Texan said, "it is serious when an ambassador who has all the secrets of state in his breast, resigns in the public press without submitting his resignation to his chief or to the secretary of state."

In the house three republicans, Reps. Jones of Ohio, Herter and Rogers of Massachusetts, and one democrat, Rep. Gore of Tennessee called for a congressional investigation of Hurley's charges.

Restored Fund Adds To Vet Hospital Here

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The House has tentatively re-authorized the deficiency appropriations bill $158,320,000 for veterans hospitals.

Four Texas hospitals are among the projects, including: A new 500-bed hospital at El Paso, $5,047,000.

Of the amount restored, $23,460,674 will be used to complete a program for which $84,500,000 already was provided in the regular appropriation bill.

This program includes: A new 250-bed hospital at Big Spring, $2,570,753.

A 407-bed addition to the hospital at Legion, $2,863,521.

A 511-bed addition to the hospital at Dallas, $2,859,577.

Presumably, most of the appropriation listed for the veterans hospital here is covered under the regular appropriation. This is based on the original announcement that the cost would be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, whereas the figure in today's announcement is half a million dollars beyond that.

President Hopes UNO To Function

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman said today he saw no need for any more Big Three conferences if the United Nations organization works as it should.

Asked at a news conference whether revisions in Allied control policy and machinery for Germany might require a meeting of himself, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee, Mr. Truman said he was not in favor of special conferences.

He wants the United Nations to do its job, he added, asserting he remembers that the League of Nations was ruined by special conferences.

The President stated he hoped the United Nations would take over within the next 90 days all the problems previously worked out by Big Three meetings.

In his discussion of foreign policy Mr. Truman also developed these points:

1. He does not share either the fear which he said some persons in the country hold that Russia will not cooperate toward world peace or that Russia's policies will lead to war.

2. Negotiations are now under way among the Allies ruling Germany for a revision of the Potsdam Declaration on Germany in some respects.

3. The resignation of Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley from the China post reached his desk formally only this morning, the President said. Hurley announced it two days ago with a blast at American "career diplomats." Mr. Truman declined to comment on the Hurley criticisms.

A drastic revision of American policy on Germany is expected by diplomatic officials to result from Byron Price's report to the President on the potential failure of present German administration.

One result of any such change may be to eliminate to a great extent the remaining influence of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., over German control policy.

Howard County Far From Victory Bond Goal As Sales Lull

The $200,000 mark was still a will-o'-wisp goal for Howard counties Thursday as they lolled along on E bond purchases.

Wednesday totals showed $3,412.50 in E sales, reported Ted Groebel, Victory Loan chairman. This brought the total to $198,648.75 and elicited from the chairman the hope that "surely, even at this rate, we will go over the $200,000 mark today."

This, however, would be $131,351.25 away from the $330,000 E bond quota for the Victory Loan. Howard county currently is 60.2 per cent on the way to this goal, but progress the past two weeks has been slow and disappointing.

From Nathan Adams, Dallas, state chairman, came an appeal to increase personal solicitation to prevent Texas from "being doomed to failure."

Adams showed Howard county figures of $198,648.75 through Nov. 27, which was 58.8 per cent of the goal. Rank of the county in the region was not listed.

The Rotary club captured the lead in dollar volume again with $1,500 E bond sales, bringing the club's total to $55,378. This was ahead of the Lions with $54,400, the ABC Club with $26,039.25, the Kiwanians with $11,863.75 and the B&PW with $6,787.50. The Rotarians showed $1,036 per member and the Lions were trailing in second with $661.

In an effort to deliver the telling blows which will bring the county to the threshold of its quota, Howard county is to join with the remainder of the state in observing "Victory Week" in the campaign.

Gov. Stevenson has proclaimed the week and bond leaders are developing plans to follow up locally.

Children Are Individuals Speaker Reminds PTA

"Each child is a different person, and one has to know him," Rev. H. Clyde Smith said Wednesday in discussing "How to Say No," at Central Ward Parent Teachers association.

Rev. Smith reminded that each person came to the earth for a specific reason, and perhaps the reason for saying no to one person might not apply to another. "No leaf, no flower, no plant is alike," the preacher emphasized, "and every person and thing is individual, thus we must understand the child and his disposition."

Parents were told that each child is peculiar to himself and no one else, and they must learn and observe when and how to say no. Nor can they expect too much of institutions. Rev. Smith pointed out, since the most formative period in a child's life is that including his first seven years, and after that habits are hard to change.

"When to say no is not as important as how to say it," the speaker continued. There is a motive behind what each says which makes a lot of difference in how the answer is made. Above all, the parents were told, there must be patience, and older people must take time for what the child thinks is important. He ended on the religious note that Jesus was never too busy for children.

Mrs. H. Clyde Smith gave the Thanksgiving devotional, and Jim Farmer of the fourth grade played "A Christmas Carol" and the Hungarian Rhapsody as piano solos. The resignation of Mrs. L. S. Patterson, Jr., as unit secretary was accepted, and Mrs. Arthur Caywood was selected to take her place. Mrs. J. C. Lane, Central Ward delegate to the state P-TA convention in San Antonio, reported to the group on the action taken at the convention.

At the business meeting year-books and membership cards were distributed, and the December meeting was set for Dec. 12, rather than Dec. 18, since at that time schools will be dismissed for the Christmas holidays.

The room count was won by Mrs. Tom Stephens' first grade.

Members attending were Mrs. M. N. Thorp, Mrs. E. O. Hicks, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mrs. J. P. Kenney, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Mrs. R. M. Parks, Mrs. Lane, Rev. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. A. E. Ashly.

Teen Aged Go For Well-Scrubbed Look, Subscribe To Healthful Living Habits

By BETTY CLARK

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor Teen-agers have become shiny-face fans and as noted recently by returning GI's, French girls are now emulating the American well-scrubbed look.

But while many adolescents have adopted the soap and water habit, doctors estimate there are more than four million boys and girls in the United States suffering from embarrassing skin faults.

Most adolescents can help overcome skin difficulties, say skin specialists, by marking on a program of healthy living. It doesn't mean you've got to shelve your jive and cokes. But along with your indoor recreation, try to plan to get sunshine and outdoor exercise.

Establish proper habits of elimination, eat lots of fresh fruit and vegetables and drink at least a quart of milk a day. Too many sweets, pastries and rich fried foods are bad for beauty. Strict cleanliness of the skin is important in thwarting blackheads and excessively oily skin. To cleanse your face properly you need hot, not lukewarm water. Using a clean, rough face cloth and a soft complexion soap, massage soap lather into your face.

You may irritate your skin if your soap contains excessive alkali. But you should be able to find a mildly medicated soap that is fragrant and without medicinal odor.

After your soap massage, rinse your face several times in cool water. If you have accumulated blackheads or skin blemishes you may need a medicated emollient ointment.

You can use it at bedtime and leave it on at least for a few minutes before removing with cleansing tissue.

Ointments such as those used by hospitals, containing exyquinoline and sulphurated petroleum, are often advised by skin specialists for young skins.

However, if your skin does not respond to simple common-sense care within a few weeks, put yourself in the hands of a doctor.

Doctors say that though they get only the most stubborn cases, they are able to effect a cure in more than 80 per cent of these.

What It Means—

"GENOCIDE" — RACE MURDER

By BRONISLAW MATECKI (Polish Economics Professor and Government Official)

LONDON—"Crime without name."

That is how Winston Churchill, in a broadcast made in 1941, described the terrifying accumulation of well-planned barbarities committed by the Nazis on the living bodies of many a European nation and race.

Britain's war leader, whose unique eloquence failed him when he searched for a word to convey the suffering of peoples tortured by the German oppressor, finds now the name of this nameless crime in the indictment of the Nazi war leaders—genocide.

Count Three of the indictment reads in part: "... They (the defendants, conducted deliberate and systematic genocide ... in order to destroy particular races and classes of people ..."

Genocide, the word coined to fit the crime, seems likely not only to play its part in the Nuremberg trials, but may change the aspects of international law in war and in peace.

The creator of the word, Prof. Raphael Lemkin, a noted scholar of international law, formerly a public prosecutor in Poland and now a faculty member at Duke University in North Carolina, says he had no "linguistic ambitions" in writing the name, that he aimed at a legal and humanitarian concept which, if generally accepted, would mitigate mankind's misery.

Why The Name

Genocide has two roots — the Greek "genos," nation or race; the Latin "caedere," a suffix made from "caedere," killing. Put them together and there is genocide — "killing a nation" or "murderer of a nation."

In his book, Axis Rule in Occupied Europe (published by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Washington, D. C.), Dr. Lemkin writes hitherto-used terms for attacks upon nations as a whole are inadequate.

"Denationalization," he declares, does not convey biological destruction and, in addition, sometimes is used in the sense of deprivation of citizenship. This author finds terms like "Germanization," "Italization" or "Magyarization" failed to convey physical annihilation and are to be applied only in such special cases where one nation attacks the national pattern of the other.

Genocide, on the other hand, means what it says: A murderous attack upon a nation or a group weaker than the oppressor. It does not necessarily mean the immediate destruction of a nation — except when accomplished by the mass killing of all its members. It is intended rather to imply a co-ordinated campaign for the destruction of the essential foundations of the life of national, religious and ethnic groups with the purpose of annihilating the groups themselves.

Thus genocide was practiced by the Germans upon Jews, Gypsies, Poles, Russians, and other Slavs and, to a lesser extent, upon Frenchmen, Belgians and Luxembourgers.

How It Works
Genocide is directed against a group as an entity, and the actions involved are directed against individuals, not in their individual capacity, but as members of such groups.

Lemkin finds in the Hague Conventions a legal basis for the punishment of a genocide in war. More important than punishment, however, he declares, is prevention—effective only when impartial investigators are allowed to study the victims' cases.

Further, he advocates prosecution for genocide in peacetime. World War II, writes the professor, taught that not only minorities but whole nations and races, if weak, may be attacked with a view toward annihilation.

Congress Told US Needs Bomb Supply

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP) — Congressmen were told today that this country needs a supply of atomic bombs.

That was the meat of testimony by Maj. Gen. L. R. Groves, who headed the bomb project, before a solemn Senate atomic energy committee.

The General's estimate of the cost of keeping the bomb plants working: $500,000,000 a year.

He gave this official estimate of what two atomic bombs did in Japan:

The one dropped on Hiroshima — 70,000 to 120,000 dead or missing and 75,000 to 200,000 injured. The one dropped on Nagasaki — 40,000 to 45,000 dead or missing and 40,000 injured.

CLEAN HAUL

LA PLATA, Argentina. (AP) — Mrs. Pastira Franco reported a man knocked on her door, came in, grabbed a cage containing two canaries, took two cakes of soap, and ran out. Police Sgt. Timoteo Rivarola arrested a man and recovered the canaries and the soap. But the man said he couldn't remember why he took them.

Tests Are Ready For Science Search

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — More than 15,000 American high school seniors with a flair for science soon will be priming themselves for a three-hour test in competition for $11,000 in scholarships, awarded annually to finalists in the Science Talent Search. Examinations have been mailed to more than 3,000 high school principals and teachers, who will administer the tests December 3-27, at which time they must be returned to Science Clubs of America in Washington, Watson Davis says. The examinations are designed to reveal the student's ability to think and reason rather than measure his fund of scientific knowledge.

The Search is sponsored by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. Cuba, with an area of 44,164 square miles, is larger than all the other West Indian islands combined. Call JACK at 109 for PRINTING (Adv)

Mirrors Of Austin—

What Every Wife Should Know About Social Security Insurance

By PAUL BOLTON

This is what every wife should know—and if experiences of the state capitol's social security office are a criterion, all too few of them know:

If your husband is a salaried man, or a wage earner, except in agricultural pursuits or governmental service; and if you have minor children; and if you are suddenly widowed, you have a very substantial insurance policy. For example:

Suppose your husband has been earning as much as $250 a month for the past nine years; you have a boy four years old. This insurance policy will pay you approximately $55 a month until that boy is 18. If you'll apply simple multiplication you'll find that's the equivalent of an insurance policy of more than $8,000.

Dave Pruitt, manager of the Austin social security office, says he would not attempt an estimate of the number of widows in Texas who are unaware of their rights under the social security program. This wide ignorance of the "survivors' benefits" provision is due to the fact that when social security first was launched it was on a basis of retirement at 65. The insurance feature was added as an after-amendment.

An easy way to determine whether you're entitled to this protection is this: Does your husband have a social security card? If so, the procedure is simple. Send that social security number to the nearest office with a notification of your husband's death and a statement of your circumstances as to minor children.

The maximum upon which social security benefits accrue is a pay rate of $250 a month. Benefits are graduated downward from that. And unless you have minor children, the real benefits do not accrue until you reach the age 65. The maximum which can be drawn under the survivors' program is $85 a month.

Pruitt incidentally tells of one episode with humorous overtones. A widow visited his office soon after her husband's death, and advised him that a baby was on the way. He told her to come back after the baby's birth. A few months later the widow returned and sat down at his desk. He started filling out the forms. "What is the baby's name?" he asked.

The lady replied, "Which one?" Pruitt said, "Don't tell me you have twins?" and her reply was, "No, triplets, and I've brought them along for you to see." The babies were out in the hall with a nurse; and this widow was entitled to the maximum amount, $85 a month for 18 years, or a total of more than $18,000.

Pruitt says the fact that so many people, supposedly well-informed, are not aware of this insurance program has caused them to lose benefits. In the case of a widow, with minor children, she has three months after her husband's death to make application. If none is made within that time, and she later finds out about it and makes application, the benefits start only at the time the application is made.

Sweetwater Angling For Airline Stops

Another West Texas city is becoming commercially air-minded. Sweetwater has instructed its city manager to begin negotiations with airline companies for stops in Sweetwater now that Avenger Field has been declared surplus by the army.

Avenger Field has been in use since May 1942 as a training post, first for RAF cadets and Eagle squadron, then by the WASPS, and more recently as a pilot training point for the Army. The field, under lease to the Army, is municipally owned.

HEAD MAN

NEW YORK, (AP) — When the chaplain at a Long Island Coast Guard base is away on brief leaves, he hangs this sign on his office door: "Chaplain's gone ashore. Take your troubles to God."

ONE WORLD

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — Talk about the melting pot — Argentina, which has had a flood of immigration in the last two generations, is it. A streetcar, whose passengers are a fair cross-section of the population, collided with a beer truck and injured nine persons. They included an Austrian, an Italian, an Arab, a Frenchman and three Spaniards. Oh, yes — and two Argentines.

New Yorker Creates Global Gab In Code For World's Businesses

NEW YORK — In a small East Side building of narrow stairs and dark corridors works a greying, keen-eyed man who has spent almost half a century thinking up a half-million new words.

His name is Ernest E. Peterson. He has invented about 300 special "languages" for 20,000 commercial firms from Aalborg, Denmark, to Zandjan, Iran.

The average man gets along without knowing such "languages" exist, let alone using them, but it's a safe bet that most international business is done with them. You can't break down a code unless you have its dictionary, and codes provide accuracy, uniformity, secrecy and a minimum of error. They also save a lot of cable charges, since a five-letter word can mean anything from the letter "a" to a 41-word high technical financial statement.

The lexicographer of such a code is almost as highly specialized as a lute player in a jazz band. Those half-million Peterson words are more than there are in the English language.

Business codes have been used since the invention of the telegraph, but Peterson is confident that his general code of 300,000 words is the world's largest. In its first edition of 1911 it had 27,000 words, grew to 65,000 in 1923 and then really burgeoned.

There's a humdinger in the works now, for Peterson can make up a grand total of about 470,000 words using a combination key which he developed. The total number of five-letter combinations possible with the 26-letter English alphabet, incidentally, is about 6,500,000.

Peterson, who made up his first business code in Chicago when he was 19, has a device which helps him think up new words that can't be confused with any other.

His own invention, it's a sort of type-setting machine that pours out weird new combinations of vowels and consonants like a juke box gives with "I Fall in Love Too Easily." All he has to do is add the definitions.

Fur pieces should be kept clean. Use hot bran which is rubbed into the fur. Leave in for a few hours, brush the fur lightly to remove bran.

FOUR MAJOR STEPS IN PROCESS TO OBTAIN PAROLE OUTLINED

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—There are four major steps in the process of obtaining a parole, and the fourth step brings a convict under the supervision of the local parole board, an agency without legal sanction.

The legislature has never formally recognized the local board's authority through the premise for its establishment was laid in the constitutional amendment adopted in 1936 setting up a new parole system in Texas.

The first step begins when a man enters prison. A prisoner immediately begins accumulating time subtracted from his minimum sentence for good behavior. Thus, a man sent up for two years if he behaves can be out of the pen in four months and 24 days.

In the second step, when he has served this requisite time less good behavior time, the convict's name automatically comes before the board of pardons and paroles, which studies the case and sends a recommendation to the governor.

The third step is the governor's recommendation, which usually but not always follows the board's, since the governor has no facilities or appropriation to investigate these cases.

The fourth brings the man, if paroled, before the local board. All the board gets is his name and the governor's clemency recommendation.

The local boards—without any appropriations and on their own time—must keep tab on a convict until the total length of his term is completed. They must try to find him an appropriate job, and help him over the rough spots.

All the numerous local parole board members consulted heartily concurred that the first requisite to successful parole is a job, and that the parole board should require assurance of employment before a convict is released.

Not just any job will do, these workers say. It must be within the parolee's capabilities, it must interest him, pay him a living wage, and be free of pressure because the man holding it is just out of the penitentiary.

"That 93 per cent go straight in view of all this is the amazing thing, not that seven per cent fail," commented Salvation Army Major Fred Felter, chairman of the Travis county board.

"TROUBLE" WILL DELIVER BEER, TAKE TIPS LIKE ANY CARHOP

You may find this hard to believe, but we saw a picture of it. Down in Houston, the carhop at Dad Rollins' drive-in is a dog. He's a four-year-old black-spotted terrier named trouble, and he'll deliver your bottle of beer, come back and pick up the empty, and even accept tips.

It started long ago. Trouble would watch customers toss empty bottles aside. One day he picked up the empty, placed it carefully near the case, and was rewarded with a pat.

So he began picking up every empty bottle tossed on the ground by the carriage trade. Dad Rollins stuck a full beer bottle in front of his nose to see what Trouble would do. The dog grabbed it and scampered to a waiting customer and gave him the bottle.

So Dad Rollins tied a bottle opener on a string around his neck and put him to work, full time.

He now delivers the beer, and brings back the empties. Customers will sometimes place a tip on the bottle, and trouble will carry the bottle and coin back very carefully so as not to drop his tip.

Dad buys a bar of Trouble's favorite candy with the money, and the dog gets his reward by satisfying his sweet tooth.

One thing that puzzles Dad and his customers is the fact that Trouble won't deliver soft drinks. Nothing but beer. He used to drink beer, but once got one too many and hasn't touched a drop since. However, he likes tobacco, and chews the butts of cigars.

Trouble helps with the business, too, carrying a leather bag with the day's receipts. One night Dad Rollins stopped to talk to a friend. When he looked for Trouble, the dog and the money bag were gone. He called, and Trouble barked, then began to dig frantically.

"Apparently he didn't trust the fellow I was talking with," Dad says. "So Trouble buried the swag until he went away."

Not All Christmas Delicacies Require Sugar - Make Popcorn Balls Instead

Popped corn and molasses mixture... For easy-to-make candy and tree trims.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS Associated Press Food Editor

You can make candy for this Christmas, despite the sugar problem. There are some types which require no sugar at all and others which require very little. Children love nothing better than to participate in this particular branch of cookery and, with a little supervision from you, can turn out some creditable products.

- Pop Corn Balls
- 1 1-4 cups New Orleans molasses
  - 2-3 cup corn syrup
  - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

- 1-8 teaspoon baking soda
  - 4 to 5 quarts popped corn
- Cook molasses, corn syrup and butter or margarine together until a small amount becomes brittle when dropped in cold water. Stir in baking soda. Pour mixture over the popped corn, stirring constantly. While still hot, shape into balls pressing firmly between the hands.

- Chocolate Pecan Squares
- 2 cups sugar
  - 2-3 cup light cream
  - 1 cup milk
  - 4 tablespoons light corn syrup
  - 1-4 teaspoon salt
  - 1-2 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 cup pecan meats, coarsely chopped
  - 4 squares semi-sweet chocolate
- Combine sugar, cream, milk, corn syrup and salt and heat until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils, stirring constantly. Cook, stirring occasionally, until a small amount forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Cool to lukewarm and add vanilla. Beat until mixture begins to thicken. Add nuts and continue beating until mixture loses gloss. Turn into oblong pan and cool completely.

- Chocolate Molasses Taffy
- 4 squares semi-sweet chocolate
  - 1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
  - 1-3 cup corn syrup
  - 2-3 cup water
  - 1 cup light molasses
  - 1-4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine ingredients in saucepan. Cook over low flame, stirring constantly, until the mixture comes to a boil. Continue boiling, stirring occasionally, until a small amount of the mixture, dropped into cold water, forms a hard ball. Pour onto a greased platter. As candy cools, keep folding the edges toward the center with a spatula. Continue until cool enough to handle. Grease hands lightly with butter or margarine and pull candy until cold. Cut into pieces with scissors when cold.

Food For Thought

OCALA, Fla., (AP) — Summoned to put out an oven blaze, Fire Chief Tom Sexton was worried about the edibility of a flaming meatloaf if he doused it with water. He extinguished the fire with a can of condensed milk.

The Army had more than 900 post exchange outlets in the Pacific.

"I Was Right," Evolution's Foe Still Declares

AP Newsfeatures LAFAYETTE, Tenn. — The man who introduced Tennessee's famous anti-evolution law into the state legislature still believes he did the right thing. And, says 69-year-old J. W. Butler, "there's still a book in my heart" about the famous "monkey trial" at Dayton, Tenn., in 1925. Butler says he had planned to write the book and call it "With Bryan at Dayton." But he adds, "I guess I am too old now."

Butler, now a farmer whose home is near here, not only sponsored the bill, which bars the teaching of evolution in Tennessee schools, but also helped William Jennings Bryan uphold it in the Dayton trial. He was reelected to the state senate after the trial and recalls that he introduced another unusual bit of legislation—the anti-gossip bill.

It wasn't passed, he says, "but I got loads of mail on it."

Initial Sale Of TB Seals Good

Initial response to the mailing of Christmas seals has been encouraging, the Howard County Tuberculosis association reported Thursday.

Although tabulations were available for only the first two days of the week, receipts totaled approximately $622.

Mrs. Ira Thurman, who has been serving in a double capacity in directing the drive and tabulating receipts, urged several hundred others, who have not yet responded to the appeal to buy seals, to send in their contributions.

She stressed the fact that return envelopes are enclosed and that amount listed was merely a suggestion.

"Any gift is acceptable," she said, "and many individuals have thoughtfully made liberal contributions far beyond the minimum amount suggested."

Goal of the association this year is $4,200 in order to carry on a complete program of tuberculosis tests to every school child in the country.

Letters To The Editor Readers Rack Back Slow Discharge Rates, Mr. Leicester, Signal Lights

Dear Editor: I am sending you a clipping out of the Manila paper that I would like for you to read. My buddies and I would like to see some of these articles in the headlines at home.

Tenor of the articles was to the effect that it is "rather obvious that the War Department is saving face and hoodwinking Congress and the American people by discharging low-point men in the States and bring them back from nearer theatres such as Europe and Hawaii. This compiles a fine statistical record to forestall domestic criticism. . . . and makes the point system as much laughing stock among the GI's as temporary duty and rotation have been." Another pointed out that several hundred thousand troops had been moved to the Pacific in three months, but "strange that it (the Army) can't get a quarter of these troops half that distance now."

I haven't so much coming as I have only 79 points but it is no easy matter to sweat out that many points. But what I want to know is what about the boys with 90 points and over who are still here, and I might add don't know when they will get out. At the rate things are going we will never get home.

I think it is time the people at home get behind the boys and get them back. This place is not fit for the devil and we think after two and three years we have had enough now that the war is over.

Yours truly, Pfc. Clarence E. Smith, Manila.

Also from a Forsan GI comes a clipping that the Marguerite Le Hand was due to sail from Manila with only ballast because the Army was not interested in making use of it as a troopship. In answer to Army objections to the Le Hand, GI writers learned that she was suitable for conversion to handle 1,500 troops under fairly comfortable conditions; had a 500-ton fresh water storage and 20-ton daily replacement capacity; had ample refrigeration, ventilated holds. Its travel time to Frisco was estimated at 20 days at the most.

Dear Editor: Monday afternoon's Herald carried an editorial on the sports page with which I heartily disagree. According to Mr. "Leicester's" column, our town of Big Spring has an inferior grade of boys and, I for one, don't like the inference that our kids are not as good as anybody's kids; and, I mean mentally, morally or physically. If Mr. Leicester is correct, our boys are physical weaklings, and have been for the last three or four years and apparently are getting weaker. Also by Mr. Leicester's inference, if you want strong, healthy boys who have the mentality to learn football, you will have to go to Lamesa, Sweetwater, Cisco or some other place where they grow.

No Mr. Leicester, I can't go with you. I know a lot of these boys personally and believe there are no better or finer kids in Texas than right here in our home town. Yours truly, Boone Horne.

Dear Editor: I read an editorial in your Monday's paper, "It is Time to Start", which dealt with traffic accidents, etc.

This editorial brought to my attention the traffic lights of Big Spring. I wondered why they were placed over the center of the intersection. I would like to suggest to the appropriate department of the city that they be changed. They could be placed on the right side of the entrance to the intersection, therefore the sun in the afternoon would not hinder the west bound traffic from seeing the traffic light and being able to distinguish red from green. To me this is definitely a traffic hazard and should be changed now.

I assume that you have driven west on these streets in the afternoon and that you are acquainted with the situation, therefore I dwell no longer.

I am a stranger in your town and may not be acquainted with the difficulties that would be encountered. It may have been suggested before, in that case I will second the motion.

Yours truly, Geo. H. Buxton, Jr.

RING RESTORED

Dear Editor: In regard to the letter I wrote recently about Lt. Folger's wife's ring being lost, I have heard that it has been restored to them. Your good Texas policemen or sheriff must have scared the thief. Yours truly, Mrs. Ora H. Merritt San Jose, Calif.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECESTER

An unofficial check on receipts of the Southwestern-Hondo AAF football game played here last week showed gross receipts to be $2839.90. That, of course, does not include income realized from program advertising and concessions.

The West Side park fund, which was to receive all profits from the bout, stands to get something like $650.

Ahlene high school will letter 20 gridders for the autumn's work, the same number that earned monogram for Big Spring. (Steer lettermen will be announced at the annual banquet the night of Dec. 11).

Four of the Eagles' best men — Bill Murphy, Kenneth Tate, Norman Daulton and H. D. Terry — have completed their eligibility along with Clinton McCombs and Aubrey Crider.

All the 14 others can graduate if they so desire. None is expected to ask for his sheepskin.

Coach Jake Bentley will build his '46 club around such veterans as Bobby Rely, Ted Hardin, Duane Hendley, Bill Braselton, Lloyd King and J. D. Hinton.

Rating football teams of the country is, in the beginning, a silly business. The so-called experts tend to make their grid polls even more ridiculous by permitting favoritism to influence their selections.

In example, the august Associated Press saw fit to place a team like Holy Cross in 13th place among the nation's top teams, simply because sports writers in that section of the nation have beat the drums for the Crusaders all season. Two weeks ago The Cross took a shellacking from Temple, a team roundly outplayed by Penn State earlier in the month.

At least five teams in the Southwest conference could handle the Crusaders with ease.

The AP put Columbia in the 19th spot, Virginia in 20th. Texas Tech could hurdle both clubs without experiencing too much trouble. So could New Mexico university.

The Williamson poll is perhaps arrived at on a safer basis, though even that unit gets hopelessly enmeshed in sectional play and tends to ignore unsung elevens not in the northeastern and mid-western parts of the country.

Williamson this week places Oklahoma A & M in third spot behind Army and Alabama. Perhaps the Aggies are better than that. Certainly they are no worse. Their record alone merits them a higher spot than Navy, who rated the No. Two position in the AP's list.

LSU comes in 13th in the Williamson analysis, 23rd in the syndicate's system. Undoubtedly, the Bengals are stronger than Holy Cross, Missouri, Columbia and Virginia, elevens rated higher than them in the AP poll.

Mr. Williamson apparently thinks very little of Southwestern football teams. He nominated Rice Institute as the 32nd strongest contingent in America, Texas A & M in 35th place, Texas Tech 42nd, New Mexico 45th, one length back of TCU, and SMU down in 56th position.

It took a Big Ten championship to get Indiana more respect in both the polls than that boasted by Notre Dame. Oklahoma A & M, St. Mary's and Tulsa could probably all take the Irish with yards to spare but they did not have the solid backing of the Fourth Estate.

BONUS FOR ALL BUT TURKEYS
BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 29 (P)—North Dakota celebrates a "bonus" Thanksgiving today. Legislators had decided the legal holiday should be observed on "the last Thursday in November."

In the same law, it was decreed that any day proclaimed as Thanksgiving "by either or both the president and the governor" also is a legal holiday. President Truman chose Nov. 22.

Texas Seeking 3rd SW Title In Four Years

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 29 (P)—Texas and Texas A. and M. battle today for some pretty high stakes, among them being Southwestern conference glory and a spot in the Cotton Bowl, but that's no more important than the deep-seated rivalry that has put this annual game at the top of the gridiron hit parade.

Texas will be seeking its third conference championship in four years; A. and M. will be fighting for a piece of that title and to wreck the Longhorns' football dreams.

The Cotton Bowl will be watching the game from a calculating angle; what to do if A. and M. wins and throws the conference race into a three or four-way tie. The champion, you know, is host team in the Dallas gridiron classic but just what team would be picked under that circumstance is what's causing Cotton Bowl officials sleepless nights.

A crowd of 40,000 will be jammed into Kyle Stadium. All the color and the spirit of the 51 games before it will be here. Texas is a heavy favorite to win from the standpoint of football records and manpower. But this isn't like other games. The team picked on statistics and season performance many times hasn't come through when Aggies meet Longhorns.

Bonfires leaped high last night on the campuses of Texas and Aggie land. All the pre-war features of this annual game were brought back.

A. and M. admittedly enters the contest in a crippled state with its quarterback and passer, Tom Daniel, out with an injury and with Bob Butchofsky, fine blocking back, through for the season for the same reason. Texas is at full strength.

Bulldogs Must Stop Cavender To Win Friday

Five of the six players comprising the Toyah six-man football squad, which tangles with Coahoma here Friday, 7:30 p. m., are Latin-Americans.

N. E. Craft, mentor of the Reeves county clan, has but to quote the Bisons record to show that the youngsters have absorbed a very thorough knowledge of the game. In ten starts this fall, the Toyahs have not been beaten. A tie with Barstow mars an otherwise perfect record.

The Latin-Americans in the Toyah lineup are Padille and Ramos, end; Campas, center; Bitolos and Guebara, backs.

Star of the District Ten aggregation is a 195-pound powerhouse named Johnny Cavender. His tonnage gives the Buifs a decided pull in weights over the Coahomans.

John Albers Coahomans are currently reveling in five game winning streak. In those five tests, the Bulldogs have rolled up 148 points for an average of almost 30 points a game.

The 'Dogs will build their hopes around the same boys who helped humble Water Valley last week—wiry little Wayne DeVaney and Dennis Turner. DeVaney weighs but 128 pounds but he can turn on a dime and is hard to catch.

The Nation Today— State Of Affairs In Washington As Grey, Rainy As The Weather

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (P)—Rain dripped all day from the low skies over the capital. It was a grey day, yesterday was, the 105th day since Japan quit and the world suddenly went back to peace.

Yesterday this was some of the news at home and abroad.

Abroad— In China — nationalist troops fought the communists. (In the US house and senate cries went up for investigation of our policy in China.)

In Iran: Government forces confronted insurgents. America, Britain and Russia, who used this ancient country as a wartime highway, watched carefully.

In Java: Indonesians fought the British.

At home— Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) told the senate "We are drifting toward war with Russia with certainty and speed."

He said he'd like to see the US stand up to Russia and say: "Brother, you haven't a thing on earth that we covet other than your cooperation, friendship and good will. But don't make the fatal mistake of pushing us around—we won't take it."

Byron Price, sent by President Truman to investigate conditions in Germany, said in his report we face failure in running that country unless we do better.

And before the senate atomic energy committee went the man who headed the atomic project, Maj. Gen. L. R. Groves, to say: "We should keep on making the bombs until we have a 'sufficient' supply."

LUEKEMIA VICTIM DIES

EL PASO, Nov. 29 (P)—Lem Taylor, 25, of El Paso, died here last night from acute leukemia. Taylor was flown to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., in an Army plane Nov. 5. He was returned here Nov. 17.

Prep Footballers Clear Decks Odessa Can Clinch Crown Today

By The Associated Press
The list of district champions in Texas schoolboy football will be completed this week-end in all divisions — Class AA, Class A and Class B.

The first title goes on the line today as Odessa entertains Midland in District 3 of the Class AA championship with a victory or tie, otherwise first place would end up in a deadlock between Odessa and the winner of tomorrow night's Sweetwater-San Angelo game at San Angelo. In that event it would be up to the district committee to select the team to represent it in the state play-off opening next week.

Two district championships will be determined tomorrow night. Highland Park (Dallas) plays Sulphur Springs at Dallas for the District 5 crown. Temple and Waco meet at Temple for the District 10 championship.

The final Class AA title will be decided Saturday afternoon when Amarillo plays at Pampa in District 1. Amarillo can win the title with a victory or tie but defeat would throw Amarillo, Plainview and Pampa into a tie for the top and loss of a coin would be necessary to determine the champion.

Earl Blaik Says Navy Terminals Well Manned

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 29. —(AP)—You can throw all the records on the window and chalk up Saturday's Army-Navy football game as a rough, tough struggle in which anything might happen.

OSCAR HAGSBERG

Carrington May Not Be Able To Operate

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29. (AP)—Navy had an added worry today —whether Guard Jim Carrington will be able to play — as the Middies packed seabags to shove off for Philadelphia and Saturday's big game with Army.

Carrington had a temperature of 100 before yesterday's last long workout, and the Middies coach, Cmdr. Oscar E. Hagbert, sent him to bed.

That is, you can if you're inclined to believe Colonel Earl (Red) Blaik, head coach of the all-victorious Army team which has been established in most quarters as a four-touchdown favorite to sink the Navy, run its victory string to 18 and pocket the national championship of 1945.

With burrowed brow, Blaik will look you straight in the eye and tell you he rates the game a toss-up. And there's something about his straight-forward manner that makes you think he really means it.

Bulldogs Boast One Of State's Best Records

Sectional champions in state prep colored football competition square off at 8 o'clock tonight in the Steer arena when Frank Miller's Lakeview Lions of Big Spring and the mighty Tyler Bulldogs from down East Texas way to take the field.

The mythical title of Texas is in the offing to the winner. The Big Springers have cleaned up on everything in sight in this neck of the woods and have long been thirsting for bigger game. The invaders have been equally as potent in the piney woods country. Ten times they've gone to the post and as many times have they come out on top.

The champion of District 12 will be decided tomorrow night when Archer City meets Crowell at Archer City. Grand Prairie, leading the District 15 race, plays Irving at Irving tomorrow night. A loss by Grand Prairie would make Carrollton champion. Van plays Mineola at Mineola today and by winning can take the District 18 title but a loss would give it to Edgewood.

In bi-district games of the Class A division Pasadena defeated Webster 20-6 and Taylor dined Lampasas 22-7.

In Class B, which plays only bi-district championships, the district titlists were: 1—Meadow, 2—Rochester, 3—McCamey, 4—Eldorado, 6—Eden, 8—Moran, 9—Era, 10—Grandview, 11—Howe, 12—Frisco, 13—Forney, 14—Ladonia, 15—No participation for championship, 16—Hawkins, 17—Kemp, 18—Hubbard, 19—Early, 20—Iredell, 21—Moody, 22—Rogers, 23—A & M Consolidated, 24—Thorndale, 27—Deer Park, 28—Anahuac, 30—Pleasanton, 31—Port Lavaca, 32—Ingleside, 33—Banquete, 34—Prement, 35—Lyford. Robert Lee plays Bronte for the District 5 title. Baird meets Cross Plains for the District 7 championship. Marble Falls meets Burnet for the District 25 crown. Bastrop clashes with Eagle Lake for the District 26 title and Devine plays Crystal City for the District 29 pennant. In bi-district games already played Rochester defeated Meadow 20-23. McCamey dined Eldorado 32-0. Hubbard defeated Kemp 33-0. Thorndale won over A & M Consolidated 38-6 and Deer Park beat Anahuac 13-0.

One - Man Grid 11

HERMAN WEIDEMEYER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29. (AP)—Football fans who attend the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans will be interested in these facts and figures on Herman Weidemeyer, the Hawaiian hurricane who "carries the mail" for St. Marys. So will Oklahoma A. and M., which will be on the other side of the field, come New Year's Day.

During eight games this season Weidemeyer threw 96 passes. He completed 60 for a total gain of 1086 yards and an average of 62 per cent.

He carried the ball 93 times for net gain of 391 yards, average 4.2 yards.

Weidemeyer scored 9 touchdowns and converted 17 times for a total of 71 points.

In eight games, Weidemeyer had a punting average of 38 yards plus. Weidemeyer threw eight touchdown passes.

He averaged 42 yards per kickoff.

The foregoing are individual qualifications that show up on the statistical chart. Less tangible but clearly perceptible from the stands were Weidemeyer's blocking and tackling gifts—for a 174-pounder he bowled 'em over like a giant.

Weidemeyer was the outstanding team leader in the Far West this season. Only 21 himself, he held together a starting eleven that at times numbered nine freshmen from 17 to 19 years of age, all playing their first college ball.

"Boxer Of Year" Sought By Editor

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)—For the first time in something like 22 years, Nat Fleischer, the Ring magazine editor, is stumped for a "boxer of the year." . . . Nat insists that his annual award should go to someone who is a credit to the sport besides being a good fighter and he has checked more than 2,000 record cards without finding the man he wants. . . . "To make it worse," he moans, "there are more fighters than ever since the real pros have been coming out of service." . . . Navy coaches say the Army football squad uses 16 variations to get outside the tackles and ends. The most effective still is give the ball to Davis and get the heck out of the way.

Observation Post—Bo McMillin, the tearful Indiana coach, didn't get a haircut all through the football season—but he did have several close shaves.

Cleaning the Cuff—Tuscaloosa grid fans are plugging 'Bama's Frank Thomas as the No. 1 coach of the year and the No. 1 citizen of Tuscaloosa. . . . # Local Keglers Plan Circuit

Bowling enthusiasts meet with E. B. Dozier at the West Texas Alleys at 7:30 this evening to discuss final plans for formation of a six-team keglers' league. Competition is expected to get underway Monday and continue through 36 weeks of play. Sponsors will be named at a later date. Dozier announced Wednesday night that Big Spring had been entered in a traveling major league, which has Odessa, Midland and Abilene as other members. Either four or five players will constitute a team. A run-off will be conducted at Dozier's bowling emporium tonight to determine places on the local contingent. Matches will be played every other Sunday.

Army Intelligence Figured Siam Move

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Army intelligence officers guessed on Nov. 27, 1941—ten days before the Pearl Harbor attack—that Japan's next military move would be an invasion of Thailand.

This estimate was disclosed in a memorandum by Brig. Gen. Sherman Miles, then acting assistant chief of intelligence, which was filed today with the senate-house committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Miles told Gen. George C. Marshall, former army chief of staff, that it then appeared evident the Japanese had "completed plans for further aggressive moves in southeastern Asia."

A Dec. 5 estimate for Marshall on the forthcoming military developments in December, January, February and March carried the statement that Japanese leaders "were aware of the peril of further military adventures" wanted "to avoid a general war in the Pacific."

USES Places 72 Persons On Jobs

Of 106 persons referred to jobs by the United States Employment Service, 72 persons were hired last week, figures show at the local USES office.

Current labor market conditions show only 98 job openings compared with 266 persons registering for jobs.

Principal demands for local labor include: two ticket agents for airlines; two automobile mechanics; nine linemen; two automobile body repairmen, metal; butcher; electrical appliance serviceman; four motion picture projectionists; messenger; funeral attendant; two filling machine operators; pile driver fireman; porter; two yardmen; janitor; laborer; ten hospital workers; five sales clerks; five chambermaids; seven domestic workers (maids); five waitresses; two barmaids; two doughnut machine operators; seamstress; stenographer.

"A growing numerical surplus of manpower is available in this area," Henry A. Clark, manager, said. "However, there continues to be a shortage of persons for electrical trades." Other than these, reserves in almost all occupations are plentiful, he stated. The number of veterans contacting the office is increasing daily and a concerted effort is being made to contact employers regarding job openings of all kinds for these returning servicemen as well as non-veterans.

Cotton In District Showing Poor Yield

The 19th Congressional District had harvested 77,000 bales of cotton as of November 1st of this year, which is 10,000 bales less than was harvested by the same date in 1934, an exceptionally poor crop year in West Texas, Congressman George Mahon said recently.

However, Howard County is doing a better than normal year with the prospects of 20,000 bales of cotton in view.

The banner cotton crop year for the twenty-five counties was 1937, when more than one million bales were produced.

Cases Break Record In November Court

A total of $601 in fines were collected during that period.

Most of the penalties were inflicted against motor vehicle operators.

Try and Stop Me

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK
By BENNETT CERF

SENATOR OLIVER ST. JOHN GOGARTY, noted wit, statesman, limerick reciter and author of As I Was Going Down Sackville Street, has been paying a prolonged visit to our shores. He is one of the most thoroughly Irish Irishmen ever seen on a lecture platform.

Gogarty was a character in James Joyce's Ulysses; "Buck Mulligan," Joyce called him. They met in 1903, when Lady Gregory, patron saint of the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, ran out of "geniuses" and advertised for more of same. She was dismayed at the poverty-stricken flood of applicants and fled. Joyce wrote the following limerick:

There was a kind lady called Gregory,
Said, "Come to me, poets in beggary."
But found her imprudence
When thousands of students
Cried, "All we are in that caTEGory!"

Gogarty sniffs at England's time-honored sport of fox-hunting as "the pursuit of the uneatable by the unspeakable."

A very up-to-the-minute young lady in Raymond Weaver's literature class at Columbia asked him whether he had read a best seller. When he confessed that he had not, she cried, "Oh, you'd better hurry up; it's been out three months!" "Young lady," said Weaver, "have you read Dante's Divine Comedy? No? Well, you'd better hurry up; it's been out six hundred years."

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 29 (AP) — The British command officially announced today the complete occupation of the Java naval base city of Soerabaja—the scene of bitter fighting in recent weeks between Indonesian nationalists and British Indian troops—and said a local administration had been set up there under British control.

Military operations continued south of Soerabaja where 12 Indonesian guns were knocked out yesterday.

British authorities earlier had issued an ultimatum that any Indonesian found in the northern half of Bandoeng after noon today would be shot.

Work Stoppage Affects Loading At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP) — Loading of 20 to 40 ships is scheduled to stop for 24 hours beginning early Dec. 3 when local members of the National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) participate in a nationwide work stoppage.

The stoppage was suggested by N.M.U. President Joseph Curran as a protest against alleged government failure to allocate sufficient ships for the transportation of returning war veterans.

R. J. Sullivan, local N.M.U. agent, said New Orleans members would participate.

Audacious Holdup Bank, Robbers Unaware What's Happening Here

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 29 (AP) — A lobby full of customers didn't know a robbery was being committed at the Fidelity National Bank yesterday—and the two bandits claim they didn't know they were holding up the teller for $13,505.

The robbery was executed by two negroes armed only with a pasteboard box containing a note instructing the cashier, Mrs. Betty Jean Phillips, to fill the box with big bills under threat of death to herself and others in the bank. The note was ostensibly signed by the escaped convict, Matt Kimes. Audaciously, it ordered the teller to give the negroes $5 for carrying out the holdup.

The note stated that "this messenger" was a representative of the Kimes gang and that he and three members of the gang were in the bank ready to shoot if instructions were not carried out.

The two boys, captured three hours after the holdup, told police they thought they were merely carrying out an errand one day, Welch Long, 18, led officers to the hotel where he had hidden the money.

Deputy Sheriff Dan Kean said when he picked up Long, acting on a tip, the boy said "you know, for once in my life I sure am glad to see the law."

Long said he had given the other boy, Bill Hook, 17, $1 for accompanying him on the errand, to which he was summoned by a "Captain A. Jackson," by phone. He said Jackson had instructed him to deliver the money to a cafe but he was unable to find the location.

Tackling Some Problems

The board of trustees of the Howard County Junior College district are wasting no time in tackling the business at hand.

Already officers have been elected, a date (Dec. 12) set for opening bids on the $200,000 bond issue. This weekend the board is to make an inspection of suggested sites for the college.

This does not mean that the board will immediately select a site, and indeed, we believe it will be better if action on this point is delayed for at least several weeks.

It seems wise that the board will not consider the matter of building until a college president, who will be the administrator, has been chosen.

No reason for retarding action on bond sales exist for the market is good at present. If the issue can be marketed for an exceptionally low rate of interest, the money can be reinvested in government bonds, without incurring an interest loss, until funds are needed.

Amen, Mr. President!

That the press can sometimes imagine itself into extraordinary roles is evidenced in the recent wrathful outburst from the White House press contingent when President Truman slipped for a quick trip home for his mother's birthday.

When he returned he faced a miffed and sarcastic corps of reporters who assumed that they had been double-crossed, circumvented, or, worse still, had not been consulted about the trip.

But let the Abilene Reporter-News editorial on this point suffice:

"Harry Truman flared up. 'I don't need to give any explanation,' he said with some asperity. 'I took a notion to visit my mother and I did so.'

"The contry can say amen to that. There is a mistaken notion that the country owns a president body and soul, that he can't take a stroll in the White House grounds without permission, that he has very little private life, and is accountable to the sovereign taxpayers for every minute of his time.

"This silly custom has broken the health of more than one president, and we are glad to see the latest occupant of the White House is independent and

With The News

By Dewitt Mackenzie AP World Traveler

LONDON, Nov. 29.—This column ventured the prediction weeks ago that the coming year would largely determine whether we are to have real peace or whether mankind is to commit atomic hara-kiri.

The signs have seemed to me to indicate that in this general period (for I'm not trying to pin the thing down to an exact length of time) we shall encounter the paramount international problem upon which peace hinges.

Now the corollary to this is that the quicker the new United Nations peace organization gets into action to help settle the difficulties, the better will be our chances of avoiding further conflict.

It is good to be able to report that there is a sense of urgency to get the organization going. Present plans anticipate the meeting of the general assembly the first week in January.

Then the world's major problems, both political and economic, can come before the United Nations. Indeed, I heard it suggested yesterday that there might be an international trade conference by June.

One of the earliest questions to be dealt with by the assembly will be the control of atomic energy—a subject which is causing international heart-burnings that are smoldering but none the less dangerous.

We may see the United Nations organization dealing with some issues which heretofore would have been regarded as not international in character but as purely the business of the nation immediately concerned.

This doesn't mean that national sovereignty isn't to be respected. On the contrary there seems to be a very positive determination not to intrude in the purely domestic matters of any country.

There also are likely to be cases where individual countries will turn local problems over to the United Nations.

short-tempered enough to tell the lads where to head in when they invade his privacy.

"In this incident, the president came off with flying colors, but the boys of the White House press corps didn't rise and shine."

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

With The AEF: Chinese Girl Uses Bridge As Salesroom

By HAL BOYLE SHANGHAI (P) — A pretty young Chinese girl stood half-hidden in the shadows of the iron girders of Soochow creek bridge.

As each passerby walked over the Soochow bridge the Chinese girl came out from her shelter in the girders. She was one of a half dozen outdoor merchants who use the bridge as a salesroom.

She held out a piece of merchandise — a small, leather-covered object with a braided leather thong.

"Two dollars," she said. I asked her what it was, and she swung it vigorously, as if she were cracking down on a skull, and laughed merrily. I saw then it was a blackjack and before I could walk on she had cut the price from a dollar and a half to $1.

I passed up the purchase because there was nobody around at the moment I wanted to clip, but the experience convinced me that of all oriental cities Shanghai is least disappointing to a newcomer.

Where else in the world would you run across a pretty native girl at night peddling blackjacks at one buck each?

That was more impressive even than the oft-quoted statement that for $50 you could get anyone murdered here.

But despite all complaints being made against Shanghai merchants by American service personnel, their prices are no higher than merchants charge in Hongkong, Singapore or Tokyo.

And Shanghai has much to be said for it on the credit side. More than any city in the Far East it is mysterious and exciting — a true wonderland of mixed-up peoples and strange sights and sounds, where women refugees belt ricksha boys during fare disputes and somebody is throwing firecrackers at all hours.

No city could be more cosmopolitan. In one hotel lounge I counted 14 nationalities—American, English, Chinese, Russian, Polish, Danish, Indian, Iranian, Swedish, Greek, Swiss, Austrian, German and Czechoslovakian.

This city by the Whangpoo river is the world-to-be in miniature of ambitious frustrations and secret dealings: It is perhaps the most interesting place in the world, yet I have met only one American soldier who wants to stay here.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Foggy Foreign Policy Cause Of Worry

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Harry Hopkins, now hospitalized in New York, is not improving. Always a living skeleton, Harry kept himself alive because of his love of FDR. Now that FDR is gone, Harry has no more zest for work.

Senator Claude Pepper of Florida is returning from a three-month tour of Europe to blister the administration's handling of foreign policy. Coming on top of Senator Fulbright's two-fisted attack, perhaps somebody around the state department will wake up to the fact that the seeds of World War III can be planted right now.

The strategic services unit of the war department (it was formerly the "oh-so-secret" office of Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan) has just set up a very interesting project which will not keep the peace. It is working on a "plan for an order of battle for a war with Russia."

The job is under direct supervision of Maj. Raymond Cromwell, former Tokyo correspondent for the Wall Street Journal. Postmaster General Rob Hannegan has told intimates that he is genuinely concerned about the administration's handling of domestic and foreign problems.

He adds that the president is aware of the difficulties and will remedy them. Inside The Management Parley Labor isn't the only group split wide open at the labor-management conference. Management is in the same boat.

At the start, AFL and CIO delegates presented a divided front which made management delegates chortle with glee. Now the shoe is on the other foot.

Eric Johnston, astute president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and usually mild-mannered David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America, both are storming mad at the more conservative block of management delegates who just don't want to get along with labor.

Johnston and Sarnoff believe unions are here to stay. Also they feel that industrial harmony is essential to reconversion prosperity. So they want to see the conference get somewhere, having carefully refrained from union-baiting.

On the other side of the fence are Almon E. Roth, head of the powerful National Federation of American Shipping, Inc.; Ira Mosher, president of the Tory-minded National Association of Manufacturers; and Charlie Wilson, of General Motors.

The first issue facing the management delegates was on the broad principle of general cooperation with labor. Johnston urged full cooperation. So did Sarnoff. However, Mosher and Roth spearheaded the conservative management group, which wants representative labor legislation from congress. They feel that if the conference ends in failure, anti-labor legislation is certain.

In his opening address to the conference, NAM's Mosher urged that where the conferees disagree, they "not gloss over" their disagreements. "Let's state them frankly," to Johnston and his colleagues, this was a clear-cut bid to congress to step in with anti-union laws.

Management delegates have revealed four separate splits in the conference thus far.

Four Management Splits No. 1 split was over a resolution

Hollywood— American Theatre At Lowest Ebb

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29 (P) — The American theater is at a low ebb, says Dudley Nichols.

Traditionally, Hollywood has been the target of ridicule and criticism from stage people, notably George S. Kaufman. Now a Hollywoodian hits back.

Dudley Nichols, distinguished writer of "Stagecoach," "The Informer," "Long Voyage Home," "Air Force" and the current "Bells of St. Mary's," told me he believes playwrights are doing a poor job, compared to screen writers.

"Because of the limited audience, the stage is a medium of penetration," he said. "The movies, appealing to a mass group, can only touch the surface. Instead of dealing with the problems that it alone can handle, the stage is merely hitting the surface. And that is something the movies can do better."

Nichols said Hollywood is open to criticism, particularly for its

Washington— Studying Letters Up On The Hill

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Rep. Robert J. Corbett, Bellevue, Pa., Republican, has started something that has attracted attention of other congressmen and is bound to spread—taking a public opinion poll in his district.

Rep. Corbett got the idea when he started totaling his unsolicited mail on peacetime universal military service. He found that it was about 25-to-1 opposed to it. The national polls had the country in favor of it. The congressman got to thinking. Was he being set up, or did his constituents really feel that way about it?

The congressman sat down and wrote a form questionnaire. He included eight other questions, each carefully worded so that it wouldn't be leading or give any hint how Rep. Corbett felt about the subject. (I don't know yet how the congressman feels about any of them.)

He feels pretty good about the results of the poll. More than 2,500 answers have come in, and Rep. Corbett is deep in the heart of percentages—some mighty interesting ones to a man who is dedicated to carrying out the wishes of his voters.

For example, 66 per cent of those answering have declared in favor of a year of military training for 18-year-olds in peacetime. Only 34 per cent said "no"—a far different picture than the congressman could get from his 25-to-1 opposition in unsolicited letters.

One batch of queries was sent to young men under 18 in school—the boys who will be affected if training is voted—and found not quite so much enthusiasm, but still 54 per cent in favor of it.

On that score and on several others, the Democrats and Republicans apparently feel just about alike.

The other bi-partisan opinions were for abolishing the federal oleomargarine tax, favored by 86 per cent; limiting the President to two terms in office, favored by 88 per cent; and exemption of income tax on incomes of $1,500 or less, favored by 71 per cent.

On three other controversial matters, the Democrats and Republicans split just about along party lines. Corbett said. One was on raising unemployment compensation to $25 for 26 weeks. The Democrats were 71 per cent in favor; the Republicans 70 per cent opposed.

Although word of the Corbett poll has just begun to get around, several congressmen have asked his office to outline the methods used in the sampling.

to enforce existing labor-management contracts. The unions had agreed that all grievances arising during the life of a contract be arbitrated. This would avoid irritating work stoppages which have been the source of much industrial disunity. The Johnston-Sarnoff group strongly favored the proposal. However, Roth and Mosher opposed arbitration. They had the measure referred back to a management caucus and have kept it buried.

No. 2 split arose in the committee on collective bargaining. The AFL and CIO had presented a joint proposal—the only proposal on which both were in complete agreement. However, when the resolution came before the executive committee, Roth bullied other management delegates into opposing the resolution. He insisted on rewriting the proposal to include a suggestion for emasculation of the Wagner Act.

No. 3 split occurred when Roth and Mosher proposed changes in the anti-trust laws and advocated abrogation of the LaGuardia-Norris law which protects unions from paralyzing court injunctions. Roth knew that labor delegates could not accept his proposals. Yet he refused to withdraw them, leading to another stalemate.

Split No. 4 came at last week's executive committee meeting. Eric Johnston recommended that a continuation committee carry on any unfinished business after the conference adjourns. John Holmes, president of Swift & Company; M. W. Clement of the Pennsylvania Railroad; and H. M. Prentiss of Armstrong Cork all opposed. In the end, Johnston had to appeal to his colleagues for unity on even this simple issue before the meeting could continue.

At this writing the question still is not settled. New Air Chief Gen. Carl Spaatz will definitely succeed Gen. Hap Arnold as head of the army air forces. Maj. Gen. Edmund H. Leavelle will succeed Gen. Charles P. Gross as head of army transportation. This may help to speed troop movements. Congressman Hugh Delacy of Seattle demands that all American troops be withdrawn from China immediately and that use of all American lend-lease for the Chinese civil war be stopped. He'll have a hard time putting this across as long as the policies of Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley prevail in China. . . . Those very cooperative Swiss have now informed us that we can't recover the Nazi loot Hitler stole and hid in Switzerland—if it was stolen before 1940. No, their five-year statute of limitations has expired, say the Swiss; which means that any Nazi who stole from the Allies in the first two years of the war and took his booty to Switzerland can now escape scot free. . . . Maybe we shouldn't blame the Swiss too much, however. Congressman Hatton Summers of Dallas, has just reported out a bill which would reduce the U. S. statute of limitations to a mere one year (not five as in Switzerland) when it comes to violation of national bank laws, wage-hour fraud, or surplus property scandal.

The universal bag limit is 12 birds a day, but west of the Pecos the possession limit is 24 while for the balance of the state it is 36. No more than 36 birds a week may be killed west of the Pecos, where the weekly limit is 24.

A few hunters will enjoy shooting Chabala. This bird occurs only in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Open season is from Dec. 1 to Jan. 16, both days inclusive, and the daily bag limit is five. The possession limit is 10.

Work In Norway Is Last Resort

AP Newsfeatures
OSLO—Five months after her liberation from the Germans Norway is slowly but not at all surely going back to work.

Barricades have been cleared from the streets and other marks of war taken away. Traffic is fairly heavy in Oslo harbor and some boats get unloaded. A few factories have started up. But still industries are not in full production and there is no indication of when they will be. Government officials shrug their shoulders and say merely, "It is very difficult to tell."

Crowds of working people mill around the streets, hold community walking marathons, sit and listen to open air band concerts, join in parades. It is not so much that Norway does not want to go back to work. It is just that so far she has had no compelling reason to do so and many reasons not to.

Materials Lacking
Raw materials are impossible to get. There is not enough fuel or power for either factories or ships to work full time. The people were well paid by the Germans and there was so little to buy that they still have plenty of money. And during the occupation people formed the habit of doing as little work and accomplishing as near nothing as possible. After liberation they stopped work to celebrate. Then they had to have vacations.

Other Diversions
The Quisling trial, elections and departure of the American Army were diversions.

Now that the final excuse for postponing work has run out, newspapers congratulate the country on its industry.

Home Specialist Puts Finger On Budget Busters

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 29.—With reconversion job shifts getting underway and long-awaited consumer goods coming back into the markets, it may be a good time for families to reconvert their spending and saving plans. What happens to the budget that looks so good on paper—then ends up in a deficit, or with nothing saved toward that new car, coat, refrigerator, or radio?

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement for the Texas A. and M. college extension service, suggests three types of expenses that frequently pop up and play havoc with budgets that have not provided for them.

The first type, she says, is the small expense of a nickel here and a dime there, which mounts up surprisingly. The wise family counts in these expenses which many people consider "too small to matter." Some like to handle such items through personal allowances for which no further accounting is necessary.

Some things such as taxes, winter fuel bills, insurance premiums, interest payments, and Christmas shopping turn up only once or twice or a few times a year. For this second type of expense, Mrs. Claytor suggests finding a monthly average from the yearly total of these expenses, and setting that amount aside each month. Some families find it helpful to mark up on a calendar the probable amounts of bills and the dates they must be paid.

Unforeseen expenses such as a siege of illness, an unexpected need for repairs on the house, or a change of job requiring a move to another community can upset a budget and run the family into debt if no provision is made for emergencies. Even if the family must live on less money, it is wise to have an emergency fund set aside.

MONTEVIDEO, (AP)—The executor of Mrs. Teresa Engelbrecht Gadea's estate has asked the newspapers to help him persuade the government to take $70,000. In a letter to the papers, he said Mrs. Gadea left the sum to the government to be used for hospitals but "for four months all efforts to get the government to accept the money have been fruitless."

Milk Sharecropping Proving Successful

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Sharecropping in milk production has proven a success in Fairfield county, S. C., says the state Extension Service. One farmer has arranged for milk production among his tenants on the same basis that it has been used for many years in cotton production.

The farmer owns the cows, the cropper feeds and milks them, and grows feed. Cost of supplemental feed is deducted before profits are divided on a 50-50 basis.

The plan supplements rather than replaces cotton sharecropping. Milk checks reduce advances on regular crops and manure builds up cotton lands.

The Army Engineers have perfected a four-pound water purification unit capable of producing a half gallon a minute.
