Wildcats Defeat Olden To Keep District Lead

The Rising Star boys basketball team, playing without the services of Pat Agnew, regular center who was out with injuries, played perhaps their best game of the year last Friday night at the local gym to defeat the strong Olden quint 75 to 64 and keep their lead of District 7-B untarnished with five wins and no losses.

Johnny Jones lead the scoring with 25 points followed by Beryl McKinnerney with 15 and Jerry Alexander and Wesley Walker with 14 each.

The girls on the same night defeated the Olden girls 54 to 22 to remain second in the district race, one game behind the Gorman team.

Jettie Duggan scored 20 points and Sherry Aaron 10.

There were no games Tuesday night. Friday night both teams go to Gorman for return games where the girls will have their chance to avenge a defeat by the Gorman team in a meeting here and pull even in

P-TA to Meet Tuesday; Mothers March Nets $156

The Rising Star Parent-Teacher Ass'n will meet Tuesday, February 9 at the High School library.

The P-TA sponsored the Mothers March for Polio Monday night of this week, which netted $156 for the March of Dimes fund.

Taking part in the march were Mary Clark, Eleanor Nunnally, Doris Putman, Helen Donham, Wanda Hughes and Ollie Burns.

Too Few Cooperator Agreements Major Weakness of Rush Creek Program

The first regular meeting of Officers and Directors of the Rush Creek Watershed Ass'n of 1960 was held at the REA building, Comanche, Friday night, Jan. 29. All officers of the Association were present, and 15 Directors and nine members.

The meeting was called to order by the president, C. B. Williams, Jr., the invocation by Don P. Chester, director, and annual report given by the secretary, Walter Fritts, supervisor of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District, the sponsoring agency, expressed his very real disappointment in the annual report on the valid grounds that the report was not specific in regard to accomplishments within the calendar year. We hope to be able to furnish supplemental data in regard to soil and water conservation within the watershed this past year, but as for activities of the Association itself, that has been limited to the efforts of the officers, directors, and other members largely within their own communities.

One of the major weaknesses of our watershed, and one that needs urgent attention on the part of landowners and farm operators within the watershed, is the fact that there are only about 350 Soil Conservation District Cooperator Agreements throughout the entire watershed. Other watersheds which have received assistance in upstream watershed protection, have had as many as 90 to 100% District Agreements. If you are a landowner within the district and are interested in this program, you can do yourself and the watershed a very real service by dropping by the local SCS office and signing a Cooperator Agreement.

Some 23 possible locations for detention structures out of a possible potential of 30 to 50 locations have been determined, and the directors of the Association have taken the responsibility of taking certain "Letters of Intent" to the landowners involved. You will note the forty "possible" locations, and sheriff/landowners contacted will take note that their sig-the race for the title. District play will end next week. Rising Star will go to Desdemona for two games Tuesday night and Friday night the Carbon teams come to Rising Star to return games played at Carbon and complete the regular season for both schools.

The Rising Star boys are expected to have little trouble with any of their remaining opponents, only Desdemona being given anything like a chance to upset them. The Gorman team remains the big hurdle for the Rising Star girls.

Shetland Ass'n To Meet Sunday At Legion Hall

The West Texas Shetland Pony Breeders Ass'n will meet at the American Legion Hall in Rising Star at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 7, it was announced this week.

A program of interest to all Shetland pony breeders and fanciers is being arranged, Mrs. Sara Bradley, chairman of the program committee, said, and everybody who is interested in Shetlands is invited to attend.

The association embraces the West Texas territory and breeders from all over that area and from other districts will attend.

Mrs. Bruce Erwin of Brownwood visited Mrs. Beryl Heath on Saturday. Mrs. Beryl Heath visited relatives in Brownwood on Thursday.

nature on the "Letter of Intent" is neither an easement on their part, nor a guarantee on our part that such a structure will be built.

Furthermore, if any of you landowners contacted have any reluctance or doubts about signing such a letter of intent, your watershed urges you not to sign it. In the first place, we do not want any reluctant or doubtful signatures — there will be plenty of other possible locations for a $30,000 to $40,000 Government structure on other farms whose owners will be eager to obtain them, or at least that is our hope.

In the second place, if you have any doubts or qualms about the desirability of one of these structures on your property, before you give a positive or negative answer, you owe it to yourself to make a trip to Greens Creek over at Dublin, visit a number of the structures, talk with the farmers directly involved; those on whose land the structure is built, those above and below or adjacent to the structure. Arrange a time convenient to you and one of the watershed directors from your community, or contact John Simpson of the local SCS to arrange a tour. But if you are one of the possible 23 being contacted now, and haven't already signed, don't put this trip off indefinitely. It could be the most valuable day of your half day of the year to you, your family, and your future.

In conclusion, we want to stress again that these 23 possible locations are strictly tentative, none are official nor will they be, until a planning party makes an on-the-ground survey of the actual site, and even then another location up or down stream might be considered more feasible, so when you sign a letter of intent, remember this is not a contractual agreement between either party, but only an evidence of desire, interest, and concern of local landowners within the watershed. I said "only an evidence of desire, interest, and concern of local landowners!" Let me rephrase that in a more positive, if possible, manner. It is the

Nomination of Johnson Goal Of Texas Demos

AUSTIN. — From now until May 7, there are three months of unusual political significance to Texas.

During these three months, thousands of Texans will put one goal above all else — the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson to be president of the United States.

These people — members of the more than 260 Johnson for President Clubs in Texas — are volunteers. They are businessmen, who are putting off business trips until later, carrying on much of their own work at night. They are housewives who are putting off the spring cleaning this year because "it's not as important as this."

More and more, you'll be able to recognize these people by the hats they wear. Not the hats on their heads, but little bronze western hats with the letters "LBJ" on them. Men wear them as tie pins or lapel pins; women at the necklines of their dresses. Later on at meetings and rallies, they'll wear red, white and blue badges printed "All the Way With LBJ."

Nerve center of the operation is the Johnson for President Headquarters in the Littlefield Building in Austin. From it goes a steady stream of bulletins, news material, pins, badges and brochures. Into it come the reports of activities over the state and increasingly over the nation.

May 7 is the first important date to the Johnson workers because, under the new election laws, it's the date of precinct conventions.

There are a small number of candidates for statewide office this year, meaning, probably, lighter than usual interest in the primary voting that will take place May 7. Additionally, there's no big cat-and-dog fight brewing in connection with the precinct conventions, as there often has been in years past.

It's the sort of situation in which a lot of people might decide on Saturday night, May 7, that they might as well stay home on the couch and watch "Gunsmoke."

There's another consideration this year, too. Unless the poll tax holder goes to the primaries to vote, he can't even get his poll tax stamped "Democratic." And without a poll tax stamped "Democratic" he can't even get into his Democratic precinct convention.

Stage Band Takes First At Trinity

The Rising Star High School Stage band took first place honors in Class A division at the Trinity University meet, San Antonio, last week for the second straight year.

The Stage Band also won first place as the "Best Show Band". Gerald Green, first chair player, earned an honor for himself by making the all-star band selected from the competing organizations.

Director Lloyd Gonzales expressed his special thanks to parents who went along to help chaperone the band.

The Stage Band will also enter the Brownwood All-State Festival to be held Feb. 26. Judges at San Antonio noted considerable improvement in the playing of the Rising Star band over last year, to judge from the remark of one of them. "This couldn't be the same band I heard last year."

Area-Wide Band to Be Formed at Eastland

Persons interested in organizing an area-wide community band, were asked to meet Sunday afternoon, February 7, at 3 o'clock, in the annex building of the First Christian Church, in Eastland.

The band, to be organized from adults of Ranger, Cisco, and Eastland, who have formerly played in high school and/or college bands, will play for their own entertainment, enjoyment, and pleasure, a spokesman said.

"However", he added, "If we become good enough, we'll try to schedule some Sunday afternoon concerts in the three towns, or maybe try to represent Eastland County on special occasions . . . if we're asked."

You should own your instrument, or have access to one. Instruments needed are all the regular instruments found in military bands, i. e., brass, woodwinds, percussion, etc.

Organizers stated that rehearsal times would try to be worked out at a time that would be most convenient to everyone present, perhaps twice a month. It was stressed that there is no particular age limit involved other than the members should be out of school.

Former Rising Star Woman Serves Phoenix, Ariz., Schools in Many Ways

(From the Arizona Republic Phoenix, Ariz.) Mrs. Julius Spitalny, the former Justine Canafax is serving schools in many ways in the city of Phoenix, Ariz.

Justine was Texas born, came to Phoenix from Kosse, Texas, in 1935, where she had attended private schools which had no room mothers or PTA's. It was not until her son, David, now 12, was born that she began thinking about school needs, and of what PTA's can do to build an emotional bridge between the school and the home.

When her son enrolled in Cartwright school in 1953, Justine and a few of her friends organized a room mother's group. Later she helped to organize a Cub Scout's club where she served as den mother. They repaid her by winning the highest achievement banner. The same year in March she and 11 other mothers organized the school's first PTA. She saw the need for a lighted baseball field and through the work of PTA, she helped to organize the Little League in their school, and helped to build it. The concession stand was the little league's first fund.

Justine managed it, but this took 13 hours a week. Their profit for the two-year period stands at over $900. During the period, from 1953 to '56, she served as a board member of the Cartwright School District. The 1959 session of the legislature brought the fight for equalization in which Justine was a familiar figure at the capitol building. This year a summer recreation program has been added. Adults were enlisted in share-your-hobby-with-youngsters plan. Her work with PTA earned her a life membership. In January, members of her district named her to another term on the Cartwright School Board, this one for five years. When she was told that a new school would be named in her honor she said, "no higher honor could be bestowed. Only my marriage and my son have been more important. To have a school named after me has made my life complete."

(Justine Canafax, a niece of Mrs. Florence Graves, attending school in Rising Star, and well known here.)

SOLUTIONS FOR WORLD PEACE

There is not just one solution for world peace, but many different solutions. Today many people are working for and many against world peace. There are some leaders who do not want peace but instead want to stir up people in different nations; on the other hand, there are some leaders who are striving for peace throughout the world.

World peace should begin at home within the nation. Nations say that they are striving for peace in the world when they are not peaceful at home among themselves. I think a country or nation should strive to gain peace within itself. If the nations are to be peaceful, they should have peace at home. If the nations are not peaceful within themselves, there isn't much hope for world peace. When these countries solve their problems at home, then they should strive to gain throughout the world.

A nation can aid world peace by aiding other nations in gaining peace and helping them along financially just as long as it does no harm to any other country. There are limits that a nation shouldn't pass because it would endanger the peace and safety of that nation.

Today many leaders of the different nations are meeting together in peace conferences trying to gain peace throughout the world. These talks or conferences are beneficial and may help solve world peace. Another solution for world peace is to correct the attitudes of the nations toward each other. A nation should not try to find the faults of other nations but look for the nation's good deeds. Before a nation starts trying to find the faults of other nations, the nation should correct the faults that it has within its actions and deeds.

Still another solution for world peace is the spreading of the word of God throughout the nations and world. This within itself is as important towards world peace as any of the other solutions mentioned. The spreading of the word of God and the reading of the scriptures of the Bible will help show the nations of the world how to live together in world peace.

Just one of these efforts alone will not bring about world peace but all of these efforts combined. If these efforts that have been mentioned were combined with the efforts of the nations today, we would have a good chance for peace throughout the world.

proved to be an excellent organization. It has improved steadily since last year. All of you will have to come to Jet-tie's coronation to hear us.

B-NOTES

If you see the kids of the stage band leaning on a post sleeping, don't wonder why. We got in from San Antonio at 12:30 Saturday night. We're happy though; we won first place, class A, in music and first in class A show. We were very proud of our first trumpet player, Gerald Green; he made the All-Star Band.

The Park Motel on Broadway was full of stage bands; there were several others besides us.

The last of February the stage band goes to Brownwood to another festival even larger than the one in San Antonio. There will be more about this later.

Special recognition was given to Gerald on his rendition of "Sugar Blues." Janice Jones was recognized as the soloist when she sang, "You Made Me Love You". The band played several difficult numbers. Other high school bands who won first places were Caldwell, who won AA division; Breckenridge won in AAA; and Birdville won first place in AAAA division. The bands were entertained by bands from Lamar, Houston, and 4th Army band. Fifteen members of our band entered the festival and the sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Koonce, Curtis Alford, Mesdames George Steel and Pete Starks.—Linda Koonce, Reporter.

SOPH HIGHLIGHTS

Sherry Aaron

Looks as though the ole' flu bug has hit the Sophomore class—first, Miss Childress; now just about half the class has colds. But to top that off "Spring fever" has hit RSHS. Wednesday was such a beautiful day that I think everyone had a little touch of it. And most of us can hardly wait to dispose of these winter sweaters, skirts, etc. for cool and lighter ones. Who's Who was announced this week and several of the Sophs have won the honors. They are: Linda Koonce, H. E. II; Carol White, Eng. II; Shirley Hageman, Typing I; Sherry Aaron, Speech; Johnny Jones, Alg. II; Dick Morrow, Ag. I.

The speech class is planning a pantomime program for the PTA February, and we're all hoping that all of you will be at the next meeting of PTA.

Public School Week is coming up soon, so watch for the dates and plan on visiting our two schools this year.

Also in February is the Queen's Coronation, where you will see the school's personalities; and the Queen of RSHS.

Sophs, let's start getting those class dues in and then you won't be bothered for the rest of this year.

So long for now.

BOYS SPORTS

Hello again, folks! I guess you know how the basketball teams are progressing toward district championship. The boys have been working out very regularly these last few weeks. We hope you have enjoyed these last few games. We have enjoyed seeing you at these games.

The next few games will determine the district winners and we will need your support at these games.

The P. E. boys have been playing soccer and have been enjoying it very much. Some of the boys are looking forward to track season this year, which is not very far off.

We'll see you at the ball game tomorrow night.

AROUND THE SENIORS

Our Senior "shutter-bug", Paul Freeman, has been using up rolls and rolls of film this week. He's been snapping pics of the RSHS Who's Who; among them, Seniors Karen Steel—Biology; Daneilia Darnell—English IV; Bennie Sue Morris—Civics; Mary Lois White—Typing II; La Veda Boggs—Algebra I; Janis Jones—Bookkeeping; and Gerald Green—Band. This is quite an honor, and we who have been recipients of such an honor are justifiably proud of ourselves and our fellow Seniors. Congratulations to all!

We in Mrs. Claborn's English IV class find that maybe we haven't forgotten all we've ever learned about grammar. John Bob, is Mrs. C. going to have to threaten you again for answering everyone else's questions? At least you haven't forgotten all you knew.

Although at this writing I don't know the outcome of the Trinity Stage Band contest, I hope that all who are reading this will know whether or not we returned with a first place trophy. Our stage band has

Homes May Be "Booby Traps" Unless Care Used in Removing Fire Hazards

Editor's Note—The following paper on "Fire and Accident Hazards in the Home," was prepared and read before the meeting of the Saturday Club recently by Mrs. O. D. Carver, a member of the club.

Many words have been written about the home. Home is said to be where the heart is. "Home" is also a man's castle. Everyone agrees that "There is no place like home". Many complimentary things have been said and written about the institution which God created and called "home". But our homes could also be called "Booby Traps". Here thousands of people are killed every year through accidents. Accidents which could be prevented by simple precautions.

Fire also takes its toll in lives and property every year. Most of our houses were wired years ago before families owned many electrical appliances. Now we have several things plugged into every outlet. This means the circuits are carrying loads much too heavy. To begin our study of ways to prevent such losses we should have our houses checked by capable electricians to see if we have enough "house-power".

Then we do things which we would not do if we used our brain first. Things such as: sticking your fork inside the toaster when the bread doesn't pop up; fooling with the radio when you are in the bath; trying working on appliances without unplugging them or use worn appliance cords instead of buying new ones. These can be shocking experiences and can cause bad burns. We should be sure that all the cords and electrical outlets throughout the home are always in good repair.

And how everybody loves an open fire in the fireplace. A fireplace without a screen can also be a "Booby Trap". Every fireplace should be screened—especially for the safety of toddlers. It's estimated that over 1500 homes are attacked by fire every day.

Even though fire and electricity are dangerous in the home when it is not used right, accidents remain the number one killer in the home. They strike primarily at two age groups, the very young and the elderly.

About 14,000 older persons die of falls each year. Besides death caused in this way, many other persons suffer great pain and are perhaps crippled for the remainder of life. Of the fatal falls these older people have inside the home, over half happen in the bathroom. And how can we prevent these? We should use a non-skid rubber mat on the bottom of your bathtub or shower, and provide a vertical grab-bar on the wall. Ten times as many seniors fall while going down stairs than fall while going upstairs. They should take one step at a time, placing both on each step before proceeding to the next. Seniors should not get out of bed too fast. They should sit on the edge of the bed for a few minutes for fear of being dizzy upon arising. Sometimes older or any-age husband gets mixed up in the dark when the good wife changes the furniture which is something we are all guilty of doing.

Even more tragic is the fact that accidents are the No. 1 cause of death in children. The annual accident death rate in youngsters up to 14 is more than 14,000, far greater than all major disease death rates combined. Dr. Robert J. Haggerty of the Harvard Medical School made a study of thousands of childhood mishaps and he came up with these facts. In the first year of life more are killed by falls, burns, inhaling of foreign objects, poisoning and drowning. Children in this age group should not be left alone on tables, beds and etc. Electric cords and appliances should be kept out of reach and they should not be left alone in the house. Of course they are helpless in water and are prone to put everything in their mouths. Small and poison objects should be kept out of reach. As children get older, firearms, motor vehicles and bicycle accidents are added to the list of dangers already discussed. Drowning burns and falls are still major killers. Firearms should be locked up at all times. They should be encouraged but taught not to push swimming skills. They should be taught traffic and bicycle safety and knives and electrical equipment should be kept out of reach.

As times change so do hazards change. Even though we do not hear of many such accidents the TV is a potential danger. Children should be taught not to fool with them. The newest danger is plastic bags. I am sure you have read of many cases in recent months where plastic bags has been the cause of death for a baby. Plastic bags make noise as they play with them and seem to fascinate infants. Plastic should not be given to a baby to play with and should not be used in any way on a child's bed, unless it is well covered. Of course, plastic mattresses are covered with sheets and etc.

The accident-prevention problem concerns all ages. No age group is immune. These are some things we should do to make our homes safer for all ages. Keep stairs well lighted and clear of clutter. Be sure the family dog doesn't sleep where someone can stumble over him in the dark. Keep ladders repaired. Don't stand on chairs or use makeshift ladders. Throw rugs are a danger to all.

So we see "Booby Traps" exist in every room of the house. It is our job to see that our homes are made as safe as possible.

Scouts Celebrate Golden Jubilee February 7-13

Fifty years of service to boyhood through the program of the Boy Scouts of America is to be observed as the golden jubilee during Boy Scout Week February 7-13 throughout America.

Scouting for boys had its beginning in America in 1910 resulting from a "good turn" administered to an American business man in England and today more than 21 million boys have been in the citizenship training and charter building program in this country.

Over 2332 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers under the leadership of 854 volunteer leaders in 123 Scouting Units sponsored by 79 churches, schools, veteran organizations, civic clubs and other groups are preparing to participate in Scout week activities, according to Lowell Pouncey of Brownwood who is Chairman of Camping and Activities in the eight-county Comanche Trail Council, E. R. Weatherford of Breckenridge and Norton McCullough of Brownwood are District Chairmen of these Committees.

The members are engaged in a five point plan which includes attending church services as a Unit on Scout Sunday, Feb. 7, displaying an up-town window with handicrafts and camping equipment, conducting an open house with parent and friends and presenting awards, adopting a project of service to their sponsors or community to carry out the slogan "good will and good turn", and going on an outing or hike with advancement as the objective. Each Unit that completes four of the five points will receive a golden jubilee certificate. Boys who have uniforms are urged to wear them.

One of the highlights of the year is the National Jamboree to be held near Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22-28. It is expected that two full troops, of seventy four Scouts and Explorers, with their leaders to attend from this area. Reservations are being accepted through the Boy Scout office in Brownwood for the Jamboree trip.

A report to the Governor program will be held in Austin Feb. 13 with Eagle Explorer John Tompkins of the Lampasas Kiwanis Club Post 9 representing Comanche Trail Council in this special activity. W. H. Taylor, Advisor and Explorers of Post 9 will also attend. "We encourage each sponsor organization to cooperate with the Scouts in observing the anniversary," stated Cyrus B. Frost, Jr. of Eastland, President of the Council.

New Auto License Plates Now on Sale

AUSTIN.—New license plates for 1960 will go on sale at all county courthouses Monday morning, February 1. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced today. The plates will have white letters and numerals on a black background.

Greer stated that 4.7 million motor vehicle registrations were bought by Texans in 1959, and predicted that 1960 registrations would approach the five million mark.

Greer urged Texas vehicle owners to register early. The registration deadline is midnight, April 1.

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the home county of the vehicle owner.

"Take your certificate of title and your last year's registration receipt to the tax collector in your home county. Penalty for improper registration of a vehicle can be as much as $200. Don't risk an illegal registration. Remember, too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community," Greer said.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wolf visited their son, Jr. Wolf, wife and two children in Midland on Sunday, January 31.

Safety instructor to class: "This bottle has 331 pills in it. Just one is poison; the rest are sugar pills. Who wants one?" Nobody accepted. Said the instructor: "You're smart. That's the same chance you'd take if you tried to slip through a red light!"

"I GIVE YOU TEXAS"

By Boyce House

"Free Silver", the national political issue in 1896, also was of course an issue in lesser races. For example, in Tennessee. For example, in Tennessee, the brilliant Edward Ward Carmack was the editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. Appealing to the story which old timers on the staff told, years later, when this chronicler was cub reporter, Carmack was called in by the publisher, who directed him to quit writing editorials in favor of free silver and start writing editorials supporting the gold standard.

Carmack's reply, in effect, was, "I am the editor of this newspaper and I will write only that in which I believe." So he resigned, ran for Congress and defeated the incumbent, who campaigned as a "gold-bug." The loser contested the election. Since the Republicans were in control of Congress and since the loser's position on the money question was in accord with theirs, Carmack stood an excellent chance of being unseated.

"Private John" Allen, of Tupelo, Mississippi, was a member of Congress at that time and he addressed the committee on behalf of Carmack. Allen expressed considerable doubt as to whether the contesting candidate's stand in favor of gold was sincere and then told of a speech he had heard the man make in a previous campaign. On that occasion, the statesman had (Allen said) discussed the repeal by the Republicans of the silver purchase act; then, holding up a silver dollar, had exclaimed:

"Silver! Only twice disgraced! Once by Judas Iscariot and the other time by the Republican Party!" (The committee voted to seat Carmack.)

Not only did "the money question" play a major part in the Congressional campaigns of 1896 and thereabouts but it was even brought up in county races where the winners could not have possibly, in the performance of their duties, done anything about it. The beloved Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee, governor and United States Senator, was fond of relating in his lectures a story about a man who was running for county clerk in the mountains of East Tennessee. While this candidate was speaking, someone called out, "How do you stand on the money question?"

The speaker replied, "I am in favor of the gold standard; also, I am in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the ratio of 16 to 1; also I am for greenbacks—" and he paused then concluded, "and I'm for a little more counterfeit." (He was elected by a landslide.)

These Are Our Sentiments—
... that whatever happened in '59, any repeats in '60 will be bigger, including the National Debt. Politicians will be witnessing speeds up to 600 m.p.h. but we will be doing 1500 by the end of '60. Abstracts will be bigger, too, and may cost more, as "creeping" inflation continues to soar to spectacular heights. Whither are we drifting?
