There has been an almost vocal stillness over most of the political and journalistic frontiers since the defeat of the poll tax nullification amendment last Saturday. One suspects that the so-called liberal elements, which supported the amendment so vociferously, are in a state of shock. One also suspects that those spokesmen of the so-called conservative persuasion, who plunked for the amendment on the defeatist theory that it would be abolished as qualification for federal voting, are still ruefully assessing their own faulty prescience. They were so sure it would pass.

Among the latter are some of our noblest journalists. Truth to tell, there can be little sympathy for such as they. What they failed to evaluate was the fact that the voters found in the poll tax thing an opportunity to express a resentment and a growing conviction which those newspapers had themselves helped so well to generate. They, in effect, spit upon their own image.

The remarkable fact—and a most sobering one from the New Frontier viewpoint—is the radical change in public opinion since the May primaries. Had the issue been submitted as a constitutional amendment last May the poll tax as a requirement for voting, would be as dead as Profumo's career. Could it indicate some sort of awakening?

As comforting as it may be to leftist sentiment to cite the comparative smallness of the vote (as an off-year turnout is was a tremendous thing, which is significant) the most likely truth is that had every eligible vote in the State been cast and counted the result would have been the same, only more so. The trend was too definite, and over half a million votes give a most clear foreshadowing of what two million would decree. This, the more emphatically, when you consider that the so-called liberal forces mustered every possible resource to the support of the amendment.

What should be most disheartening to the Yarbroughs and the Gonzaleses, their fiends and lieges, is the fact that the majority of their liberal Myrmidons, if there are such, didn't think enough of their voting right to go to the polls in what was most certainly an issue of supreme and creative importance to them. If they felt the poll tax a disfranchisement and a bar whose repeal would release to them more of a voice in the State government, they were not greatly concerned for that voice.

The result, on that score alone, must be rated a verdict of political irresponsibility on their part. One suspects, however, that the leftist leadership had really been about the creation of one of these images we are hearing so much about—an image that collapsed like a holiday balloon in the nail-hard prick of reality.

What the vote against the poll tax amendment really means, it seems to me, is an emphatic statement that the responsible citizenship of Texas is not about to turn their State government—one of the finest, cleanest and most efficient on the continent, not excepting the Federal disaster—over to a bunch of political extremists to be dismembered and plundered. It means they are not ready to accept that silly sen-

Local Vote Tracks State Sentiments

Rising Star voters conformed to county trends in all propositions in the special election on Saturday, Nov. 9.

They voted overwhelmingly against abolition of the poll tax as a qualification for voting in state and local elections; approved liberalization of benefits to the aged; turned down an amendment to permit Jefferson county to establish a pension and retirement system and approved an increase in the funds for Veteran land purchases.

County FB Names Committee Heads For Next Year

Six Farm Bureau members from Eastland County attended the Texas Farm Bureau's 30th annual meeting in Fort Worth this week. They are Jack Cozart, R. L. Hicks, B. T. Graham, and Mrs. Henry Fry, Cisco; Mrs. Lera Jones, Ranger, and Howard Wade, Desdemona.

At the meeting of the County Bureau at Eastland last week, attended by 11 members of the board of directors, it was voted to change the meeting date to the third Monday night of each month.

At the end of the fiscal year, Oct. 31, the county organization had 600 members, 25 more than the quota set, the board was told.

Aubrey Easter and Herman Schaefer were named to serve with the president, Jack Cozart, as an executive committee.

The following committee chairmen were named: Membership, A. C. Justice; Policy development, Mitchell Campbell; policy execution, B. T. Graham; service committee, Aubrey Easter; public relations, John Love; animal health, Henry Fry; women's committee, Mrs. J. C. Coats; citizenship committee, Mrs. L. A. Hardin, and budget committee, R. A. Norris.

The directors voted to conduct an education program during the year and to hold a meeting for members, to which visitors will be welcomed, the first Monday night of each month.

Lowly Gorman Gives May New Title Lease

The Gorman Panthers had not won a game all season, but that did not deter them from giving the Rising Star Wildcats a most convincing thrashing Friday night, and all but knock the languid Cats out of the district race.

It was a 21 to 8 whipping that in one sense must have irked the May Tigers as much as it disgusted local supporters of the team they were backing to repeat as district champions. But for the narrow victory that the Wildcats achieved over the Tigers a week earlier, the May boys would be sitting atop the district standings with nothing between them and the flag accept the Panthers.

On the basis of season records and despite the fact that Gorman looked good Friday night, the Tigers should have little difficulty with the warriors of the self-styled Peanut Capital.

As matters stand, the Tigers are very, very much in the running. It all depends upon the outcome of Rising Star's game with the Blanket eleven at the Blanket field this Friday night.

If Rising Star defeats Blanket—an outside possibility when you consider that Blanket walloped Gorman by almost the same score that Gorman humiliated the Cats—Rising Star and May will be tied in the standings with the Wildcats holding the advantage of a win over the Tigers. If Blanket defeats Rising Star, May and Blanket will be so tied with May holding the advantage.

There have been games this season in which the Wildcats rose to championship heights. But Friday night of last week

In similar fashion they held to the county trend on (1) continuance of unlimited issuance of doe permits, and (2) employment of a county trapper. They voted against the first proposition and approved the second.

In the voting on the four proposed amendments to the State Constitution, the County went as the state went in all particulars, except as regards amendment No. 3.

The Rising Star vote was:

- Constitutional Amendments
- 1. for abolition of the poll tax as a requirement for voting: For, 46; Against, 129;
 - 2. For increasing old-age benefits: For, 111; Against, 57;
 - 3. Authorizing Jefferson Co. to set up a pension and retirement plan: For 49; Against, 63;
 - 4. For increasing the Veteran Loan Fund for land purchase: For, 93; Against 63.

The Rising Star box voted 77 to 70 against continuing issuance of unlimited doe permits in the county, and 109 to 52 for hiring a county trapper.

The county vote on the same issues was:

- Amendment No. 1—For, 630; Against, 1390;
- Amendment No. 2—For, 1345; Against, 626;
- Amendment No. 3—For, 615; Against, 1131;
- Doe permits — For, 685; Against, 851;
- Amendment No. 4—For, 1031; Against, 1234;
- Trapper — For, 1163; Against, 804.

Ask County Drouth Relief Designation

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has been asked to approve Eastland County as a disaster area because of drouth, according to Emmett Powell, county ASCS office manager.

The request was made by the USDA County Disaster Committee, composed of E. E. Blackwell, J. M. Cooper and Homer Cole.

Appeal would mean that the stockmen could buy certain types of grain feed at a reduced rate, Mr. Powell said. When and if approved, producers will be advised of the details, he said.

Mail Early And Help Post Office Deliver Christmas Mail Quickly

It is almost Christmas mailing time — indeed, for some mailings, it is time now.

Mrs. Cliffogne Witt, Rising Star postmistress, has asked the Record to publish the following suggestions which will help to insure quicker and more efficient delivery of the holiday mails during the massive mailing period.

Christmas parcels, by surface transportation, and greeting cards, to members of our Armed Forces overseas and their families, should be mailed during the period November 1 to November 20, and Air Mail parcels from December 1 to December 10, if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas.

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard. All boxes should be wrapped in a heavy wrapping paper and tied with heavy cord, and boxes should be completely packed and tightly filled. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent rattling or loosening of articles within the package. A slip showing a list of contents and addressee should be enclosed in parcel. Forms 2966 or 2976 Customs Declaration, completed by the sender, are required on parcels to many destinations.

Patrons are urged to mail gift parcels to distant states before or during the week of December 2 through the 7, and to local and nearby areas not later than December 14, to insure delivery before Christmas.

Greeting cards for distant states should be mailed not later than December 10 and those for local delivery not later than December 15.

It is advantageous to patrons to include their full return address, including Zip Code Number, on all mail. Christmas time is an excellent opportunity for everyone to advise once-a-year correspondents of your Zip Code Number.

Greetings cards prepaid at the first-class rate may be sealed and contain a written message, and will be given priority dispatch, delivery and forwarding. First-class mail also is returned to sender at no additional cost if the mail is undeliverable, provided the return address is shown on the envelope.

Endorsements such as "Do Not Open Until Christmas" on outside of parcels are permissible. A letter may be enclosed if so stated on outside of parcel and appropriate postage paid in addition to the parcel post rate. Use of Air Mail, Special Handling, and Special Delivery will expedite transmission between Post Offices, and delivery of mail.

Legible and complete addressing, including Zip Code, is extremely important. Large volumes of Christmas mail are undeliverable due to illegible and incomplete addresses.

Boykin Appaloosas Do Well In Shows

Two Comanche Appaloosa colts are doing well in the show rings.

Winning second place in the yearling class at Alice and Corpus Christi was Cheetah's Spec, owned by U. Kovacevic, also of Temple. Cheetah's Spec was raised by Gaston Boykin of Comanche, and both foals were sired by Cheetah Spook, Boykin's outstanding Appaloosa stallion.

From Crop Control to People Control

Editor's Note — The following article written by John C. Satterfield, past president of the American Bar Ass'n., is worthy of serious reading by farmers who employ labor or rent out land.

Last spring the American wheat farmer thought that he had made his point in rejecting federal control. But farmers who fought the battle against further federal management of their farms are discovering that President Kennedy's civil rights bill brings even sharper federal regimentation to the farm.

Instead of crop control, the President is proposing people control.

If the present civil rights bill is passed, the farmer will find a whole new crew of federal agents watching his farm. Each individual farmer will be told whom to fire and hire, promote and demote. No farmer will be able to make his own free decisions about which tenants to put on his property and which to put off.

No farmer will be free to decide which man can be trusted with expensive tractors and equipment. He cannot freely choose the men who will gather his wheat and dust his cotton. And if he gets fed up with it all, he can't even sell out unless his buyers are acceptable to the federal government.

Instead, in all of these decisions, the farmer will be bound by the whim of a Civil Rights Commission appointed by President Kennedy or by the authority to withhold federal funds granted in the bill. The proposed law directs the Commission to hire as many agents as are necessary to do its work. The agents will have the power to examine any farmer's records and books. It will study all of his transactions and the day-to-day affairs of the farm.

The Commission and its agents (or the President's present committee with the authority granted in Title VI of the Bill) will then say whether it finds "imbalance" as to race, creed, color, or national origin in the conduct of the farmer's business. However, this word "imbalance" is nowhere defined in the President's bill. The definition can be made up by the Commission or Committee as it goes along.

The Commission could decide, for instance, that a farmer has hired too many Protestant Negroes and order him to hire more Catholic Mexicans. It could direct him to evict a Belgian tenant and rent to an Italian. It could require him to demote a Chinese and promote a Japanese.

These examples sound far-fetched only to those who have not studied the bill. There is only one limitation to the powers which can be given to the Commission. The President can grant it only "such powers as he deems appropriate."

If the civil rights bill is passed, the farmer has only one hope of escaping federal regimentation. Any farmer is included in the controls if he is a federal contractor, directly or indirectly. He can escape only if he does not receive the benefits of any federal assistance program.

Even so, the federal government has enmeshed itself so deeply in the economy that nearly everyone can be considered a federal contractor under the proposed law. And all federal contractors can have their benefits cut off if they do not accept the verdict of the appointed Civil Rights Commission. In short, any farmer who does not submit can be quickly strangled. His crop subsidies could be cut off. Payments from the Federal Land Bank could be stopped and he could be denied help from the Agricultural Marketing Service.

The farmer would be trapped if he depends in any degree on benefits from the Farm Credit Administration, the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Soil Conservation Service, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the Farmers Home Administration, or the Forestry Service.

Worse than all of this, many innocent people would suffer. The farmer's bank must call in his loans or withdraw from the Federal Reserve System. No depositor in any bank where he has a savings account would be protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The farmer's cooperative would have its low-interest loans recalled by the Banks for Cooperatives. The Rural Electrification Administration would not be allowed to continue to aid his power co-op. To protect his neighbors, he farmer must either submit to federal regulation or give up the services which are necessary to survival.

All of this federal regulation is contained in President Kennedy's civil rights bill. That is why many farmers have come to the conclusion that the bill is only 10 per cent civil rights and 90 per cent expansion of federal power.

The Social Security Administration and the U. S. Treasury Department suggest that you cash your social security check each month as soon as possible after you receive it. By doing so, you lessen the danger of it being lost, misplaced, or stolen.

timementality, fostered by the left-wingers, that the poll tax is a tax on the right to vote. It means that they see the vote as a right to be qualified for, as the right to a job is qualified by the obligation to be prepared to do it. Why should the course of this state, the welfare of its literate and provident people who have made it prosperous and great — be sacrificed to the ambitions of an element which has in captivity great blocks of votes unlettered in English, perhaps not even in their own tongues, unfamiliar with the democratic tradition, and conscious only of a blind loyalty to some leader?

Beyond its more regional implications, who can say that the vote last Saturday was not a protest against national policies and programs which are squandering the substance of the nation, leading us down the road to a sure and tragic reckoning. In that event the only remedy would be some form of Statism because all other resources for dealing with it will have been exhausted.

We do not have today the untapped national credit resources of the Rooseveltian experiment.

Prevent Sickness

You, as homemaker, can do something about car sickness, if your children are prone to such.

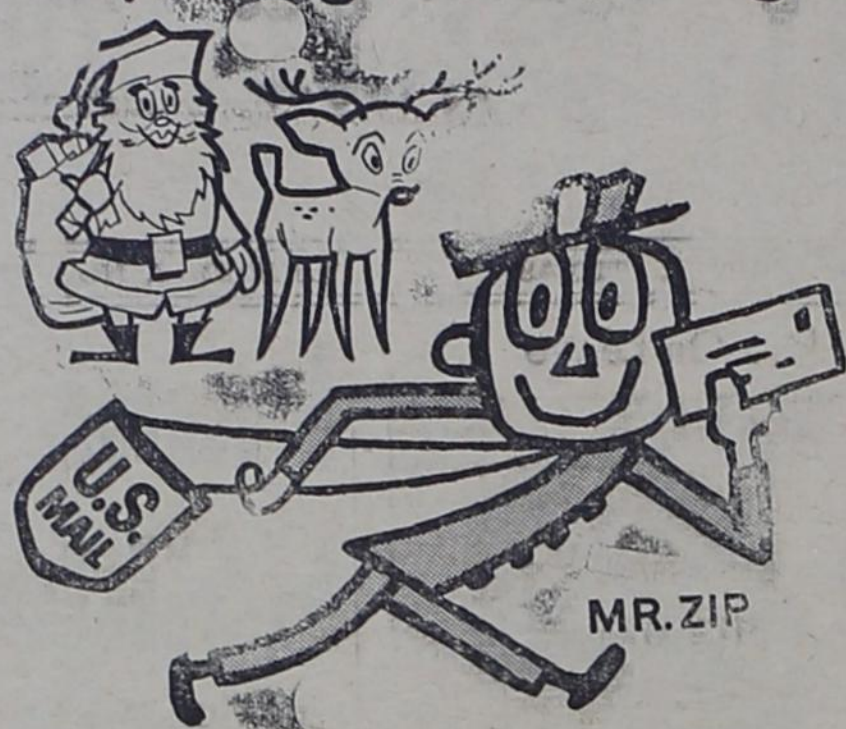

First, encourage them to eat lightly and avoid rich foods.

Make frequent short stops for drinks of water and little walks.

If a child begins to feel queasy, move him to the front seat and let him suck on a lemon.

Shift your child's attention from rapidly moving scenery to activities inside the car. Reading, however, tends to make them more car sick.

Who Owns Wounded Game?

Suppose you are hunting and shoot a deer or a duck, which falls mortally wounded. Before you can get to it, another hunter beats you there and claims the fallen game as his own. What are your Rights?

Jim had been hunting all day without success, and had headed for home when he finally saw a deer. He took careful aim and hit the deer with his first shot. Although mortally wounded, the deer managed to run a short distance, with Jim in hot pursuit.

Roy was also deer hunting. He heard Jim's shot and saw a deer running toward him. However, before it reached the spot where he was standing, the deer fell to the ground.

Although it was obvious that the deer was about to die, Roy walked to within three feet of it, delivered the finishing shot, and quickly put his tag on it. When Jim ran up and claimed the deer, Roy said that such deer were wild animals, and belonged to no one until killed. Since he was the one that killed the deer, Roy claimed that it belonged to him.

Which hunter has the legal title to the deer?

In this case the deer belongs to Jim. Jim was the first to wound it, and did so before Roy appeared on the scene. He had mortally wounded the deer, and had it in such a situation that its escape was improbable, if not impossible. The prevailing rule is that the instant a wild animal is brought under the control of a person so that actual possession is practically inevitable, a vested property interest in it accrues which cannot be divested by another's intervening and killing it, or reaching it first.

Jim had delivered the shot which so crippled the animal as to cause him to cease trying to escape, thus permitting Roy to walk up to the animal and deliver the finishing shot. Jim had effectually brought the deer under control before Roy took a hand in the matter. The deer legally belonged to Jim, and he can enforce his claim in court.

YOUR DUTIES AS AN AMERICAN

Because of the increasing emphasis being placed on our American Heritage programs, many people are becoming more aware of the importance of protecting our rights and privileges as American citizens. It is the responsibility of every person to take his stand against all detrimental occurrences in our great land.

One of the greatest weaknesses of the American people is the tendency to be easily influenced by the ideas of others. Every man should learn to make and to uphold his convictions and not to be swayed by others.

Our democratic form of government is gradually being taken from the power of the common man. We as Americans must stand up for our rights and check all undemocratic moves in order to preserve our freedoms. There is no doubt that our government, because of its free, democratic type, has been the main factor in making the United States such a great leading power. Can we assume from this that our government will remain and continue to strengthen our country.

No, it is impossible for such great things to continue with no support or interest among the people. We are going to have to work, and work hard, to preserve our democracy. It was no easy task for our forefathers to set up this type of government and to give us the fundamental principles that we live by today. It took deep thought, foresight, and hard work to establish a government that could exist and perform the necessary duties for all the people for many centuries to come. How many Americans today could have the ability to plan such a great nation?

Many might have the ability, but none would take the time and energy to use this ability. We have our sound government, so why interfere? Do we really know how sound our government is and how long can it remain this way without the work of the American people?

The younger generation will undoubtedly be faced with the responsibility of making our governmental system work and of insuring the rights and privileges of every citizen. We must be ready to accept every challenge and opportunity that will allow us to maintain a sound democracy.

It is of vital importance that we become aware of the history of our freedom and government. We must acquaint ourselves with the every day threats to our nation in order to be fully prepared to guard against any attempt to destroy or overthrow our government.

It is up to us, the present day Americans, to keep our rights and privileges and secure the future for those to follow us.

"UPWARD AND ONWARD"

Tonight is the night of one of the biggest events of our school year — the Coronation sponsored by the Annual Staff. The theme is "Harvest Gold" and, believe me, the annual staff has really put a lot of time in on it.

It will be especially memorable to the seniors because it is our last.

Tomorrow night is also a very notable date because it is our last game of the season and will decide where we stand in the district play; let's all keep our fingers crossed. We had the girls pin the boys this week; and, as you know, this is supposed to be for good luck—so let's hope!!!!

As to our studies: English has us "intrigued" with English literature. American History students are traveling right up to the present day. The Typing and Shorthand students are working hard trying to stay up and our Biology students are learning lots about cells.

S. D. & H. S. Have a good L. B. I hope you aren't making time at U. T. Did the football players really "send you"?? ing plans, for next summer and P. B. I definitely am not!

A. J. I noticed you still have your senior ring—that was a surprise!

Harriet

P.S. Lovey is learning to crawl—all over again—Second Childhood??

"FROM THE MEGAPHONE"

Cats, we can say now that you really have done a fine job this season. You really skinned us a Tiger this time.

Boys, just think it all depends upon you whether this be our last game or not? We are really behind you so don't disappoint us.

The cheerleaders have set the Football Banquet for December 7. Girls, December is next month so you better start getting ready.

No more news from this end of the megaphone until next time.

Linda Duggan

"LIVE AND LEARN"

Wow, what a week! This week a number of important events are taking place or have taken place. First, the Coronation on Thursday night was just beautiful. Everyone and everything was grand; Mrs. Claborn, the evening was a success.

Second, this is Twirp Week and the boys are treated kindly. A few of the girls have worked up their courage to ask their "certain boy" but not many.

Third, tonight is the Wildcats' last game. It will be at Blanket, and we urge everyone to bring their blankets and watch a great game. Boys, this could be "it". It has been a swell season! Thanks for the memories.

Lessons, lessons, and more lessons; everyone is studying hard. It is the week before six weeks' test. In Algebra the students are on Chapter IV after completing a test on Chapter III. The word from the Biology lab is that they are studying the Class-Insects; they will also dissect an example of this. The World History Class has taken a test over Chapter IX and is taking Chapter XI. English students are continuing their study in literature. The Homemaking girls are finishing their projects except for a few; while the Ag II boys are working in the shop. Typing students are working on Unit X.

"KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

Hello there! Glad to have you back reading the junior news again this week.

Everything is really swinging in R.S.H.S. this week. Next week is six weeks' test week, so everyone is really living it up.

The basketball girls are coming in with a big bang this year, right girls? They had a game with Cross Plains last week and the results were very profitable. Everyone please attend our basketball games, for they are very interesting and exciting. We find that we have a total number of forty-one players that are coming out for the team.

The juniors took aptitude tests, November 4 and 5 and learned what they didn't know! Ha! We would like to thank Mr. Stamey (Testing-Counselor) for being so kind to the juniors while taking these tests.

The 1963-'64 Coronation for the R.S.H.S. will be tonight at the R.S.H.S. gym. The time is 7:00 and we would like to extend a personal invitation to each and every one of you to attend this event. The crowning of Miss R.S.H.S. will take place, along with many other social awards. The R.S.H.S. Stage Band directed by Alton Roan will have the program for this event. We hope to see you all there.

"Can You Imagine?"

Mrs. Claborn — talking hep talk?

Mike Pruet — not mouthing in English III class?

Mr. Roan — everyone being on time to band rehearsal?

High School without teachers?

The seniors of '65 staying all night in the White House on their senior trip?

Mr. Henry teaching Home Ec.?

Sharolyn talking about a boy other than Franklin?

"ONWARD FARMERS"

Another week has just about come to a close for the Future Farmers.

The VA II boys have started working in shop with power tools. The class was so big it had to be divided into two groups. One group meets the second period; the others work in the seventh period.

We are still waiting for our last test grades which, according to everyone, do not look too promising.

The VA I boys are beginning to wonder if the shoeshine kit can be made or not.

Signing off until next week,
 Reporter

Hi, Franz!

"TOWARD NEW HORIZONS"

One of our most successful projects this year has been collecting cancelled stamps. These stamps are sent to Norway where a firm sorts the stamps and sells them to collectors all over the world. The money is used to fight tuberculosis in Norway.

Sherry Jones turned in the greatest number of stamps with 4,710. Sharolyn Roach had over 4,000 and Charlene Vermillion had over 3,000. Several girls turned in from 100 to 800 stamps.

We really appreciate the way in which the girls are participating in the special projects this year. This is what it takes to make a good chapter!
 Signing off,
 Becky

"GIRLS' SPORTS NEWS"

Well, sports' fans, we are back with another two weeks of news. We missed last week and failed to report.

We have had one game in basketball with Cross Plains already. If you did not see the game, the following girls were the ones suited out for the A team: Judy Lewis, Ginger Cook, Gingar Bishop, Pat Burns, Linda Duggan, Sandra Teague, Marcelene Roberts, Anna Ezzell, Linda Ezzell, Brenda Harris, Lovey Bishop, Sharon Lewis, Cherry Maples, and Sharon Stewart. Our coach is Eddy Henry and manager is Charlene Vermillion. We are looking for a successful basketball season.

Our last district football game is to be played tomorrow night at Blanket. We hope that every one who can will be there backing our big Wildcat team!

We have been taking our regular exercises in P.E. and practicing the soft ball throwing and broad jump. Our six weeks' grades are to be taken from those exercises this time.

Until next week—
 Sharon Lewis

"IN THE FISH BOWL"

The Freshmen were kept busy two days of last week taking aptitude tests. This momentarily stopped all regular classes and put us slightly behind.

The Algebra I students have finished the third unit on equations; we took a test last Friday and we are now taking up negative numbers. In General Math, we are studying the ratio of fractions, and the General Science class is learning how to change Fahrenheit degrees to Centigrade degrees and how to change Centigrade degrees to Fahrenheit degrees. In English I, we are reading plays about Greek gods, and we are taking true-false tests over each one. The girls made a cherry pie in Homemaking I last week, and we also had a short test on Friday. The Ag boys are cutting wood for their shoeshine kits, and they are planning to begin putting them together soon.

The girls started their basketball last Thursday night with a game against Cross Plains; both A and B teams participated. Another game was played the following Tuesday with the same teams. The latter was played away from home.

The Wildcats play at Blanket Friday night, the final game of the season unless, of course, we win district. Bobby Reeves was injured again in the May game; he suffered a blow on the head, and his hand was also cleated. We are with you, Cats—all the way!

Extra! Extra! Extra!
 G. E. — Whom do you swim with at night??? Surely not in November!

M. F. R. — Are you really going with C. B.?

Thought for the Day: "You can never do a kindness too soon because you never know how soon it will be too late."

Football . . .

Rising Star was forced to kick, and this time Geye had more success, the ball bounding out on Gorman's 39.

Here occurred a play that demonstrated as much as any single event of the night the ineptness of the Rising Star defense. Ormsby, Panther quarter was rushed and threw a high pass well short of its intended receiver. With the ball floating above three or four Wildcat defenders, Watson of the Panthers turned and ran back to take the ball literally out of the hands of the defense for an eight yard gain.

It was the beginning of the first of three touchdown drives. Jay ran for 16 yards to the Rising Star 36; two passes, one of 13 and another for 8 yards, took the ball to scoring position and Overstreet took a pitchout and outran the Wildcat defenders for the score. The try for point was good and Gorman was a head 7 to 0.

At this point the Wildcats showed something of their real form, and, to the Rising Star stands, it was a promise of happier moments to come. Even the Gorman partisans expected a juggernaut to roll. "You'll eat us up," said one of them.

The Cats scored from the kick-off with an ease that suggested they had only been "foolin' around". Kenny Butler, held to three yards on his first try, broke through the line with a straight down the field drive for 31 yards. Geye picked up two more and then threw beautifully to Larry Duggan for 25 yards and a touchdown. He tossed another to Duggan who caught it adroitly under difficulties for two points that put the Wildcats in the lead 8 to 7 as the half ended.

But if that drive showed what the Cats would do, they failed to do it for the rest of the game.

Instead Gorman came out — having changed from white to red jerseys between halves — and promptly took charge during the second half. The Cats stopped a drive on their 28 and from this point Butler, with a five yard assist from Wooley, manufactured two first downs in plunges of 8 and 15 yards.

But it was Gorman's time to stand firm and they did it by holding the Cats on fourth down on the Gorman 30.

From this point Overstreet got off on one of two long jaunts that simply added insult to the Wildcat difficulties during the night. He rushed for 23 long yards and personally carried the ball to the one-yard line — helped by a Rising Star penalty. Rogers scored and then Ormsby ran over for two more points.

It was all that Gorman needed to win the game, but the invaders weren't through. In what must have been a gesture of sweet compensation for all the miseries they have been dealt this year, the Panthers stopped a Wildcat thrust by recovering a fumble on the Gorman 30, and seconds later Overstreet broke through a Wildcat defensive screen and raced 70 yards for the third Gorman score. It was time to leave.

New Drugs Save Millions, PTA Is Told Tuesday

The lives of two million Americans have been saved by the sulfa and antibiotic drugs in the last 20 years, a spokesman for the pharmaceutical industry told the Rising Star PTA Tuesday. The speaker, John G. Ricker-son, of American Cyanamid Company's Lederle Laboratories said new drugs save both lives and dollars. As an example, he cited the present day treatment of pneumonia. "With today's antibiotics, deaths from pneumonia are rare," he explained, "and the average cost of treating the illness is less than one hundred dollars compared with about a thousand dollars prior to antibiotics."

He also pointed out that in many cases drugs even avert the need for surgery. "Antibiotics have virtually eliminated mastoiditis, the painful ear infection which only a few years ago almost invariably resulted in surgery and sometimes in loss of hearing."

To develop new drugs, the speaker said, the drug industry spends millions of dollars for research. In 1958 industry research expenditures amounted to $170,000,000, and last year research spending reached $194,000,000.

"No other industry spends such a big part of its income on research," the speaker said. "This is 9 per cent of sales compared with 2 per cent for industry in general." He pointed out that the United States now leads the world in new drug development, largely as a result of pharmaceutical industry research.

He illustrated by saying that last year the industry worked with 114,600 different compounds, and that probably less than forty of these will ever become useful drugs.

Mr. Ricker-son, who made a special effort to come to Rising Star for the program, was presented by Dr. Steve Semeniuk.

The program drew one of the largest attendances in the recent history of the PTA.
