Through The Editor's Specs

By ZAB

Among the souvenirs of the M. J. Dukes is a post card addressed from Rising Star to Mr. Duke's mother, Mrs. E. M. Dukes, at Duster, Texas, in 1910, and bearing a picture of the old Commercial Hotel which stood on the corner adjoining what was the Butler Chevrolet building on West College Street.

Although it has not been too many years since the hotel was razed, it had long ago ceased to be the important part of the commercial community of Rising Star, and the likeness here reproduced from the old post card will no doubt evoke a lot of memories and some nostalgia on the part of a great many present and former Rising Star residents.

Not a few of those who became citizens of Rising Star back in those days when the community was a young and lusty agricultural town spent their first hours in the town as guests of the old two-storyed hotel, famed for its good food and good mattresses.

The post card on which the picture appeared was written by a brother of Mrs. Dukes, Arthur, who, to judge from the message, helped to build the Texas Central railroad branch from De Leon to Cross Plains through Duster and Rising Star.

"This is a picture of the hotel where I am staying," it reads. "Don't look for me Saturday night. We are laying the switch today to Star and I will just stay over here Sunday."

Duster, to which the card was mailed, is about 17 miles east of Rising Star. In 1910 it had a post office and a rural route or two. In that year it would have taken a good part of a day to make the trip by horse and buggy and, on the train, considering the wait for schedules, there would not have been much saving in time.

Today we drive the distance in twenty minutes, more or less. Which is the very good reason why there is no longer a railroad nor a comfortable old two-story hotel smelling pleasantly of frying ham and eggs and of hot biscuits, and the cigar smoke of drummers showing their wares in the sample room next to it.

Only this week you read of a multi-million dollar jet airliner capable of carrying 250 passengers at three times the speed of sound.

Some day not too far distant, those of us still here may look back upon mementoes of our own time with a homesickness and regret akin to that in which the Victorian elegancies and leisurely villages of the early century are now remembered by the older generation.

Peanut Tour Will Include Dryland, Irrigated Crops

Three irrigated and three dryland crops will be inspected during the all day Eastland County Peanut Tour on Thursday, October 15, it was announced from the county agent's office. The tour is being sponsored by the crops division of the County Program Building committee.

All of the farms to be visited on the tour will be in the southeastern part of the county in the Gorman area. Irrigated Spanish type peanuts will be seen on the Bill Andry, Claude Fuller and the Wayne Eaves farms. On the latter farm a patch of Virginia Runner peanuts, a variety popular in the old South especially in Alabama and Georgia, will be observed.

A field of the Starr variety of peanut, named in honor of W. B. Starr, one of the first growers of peanuts in the county who lives in the Scranton community, will be inspected on the Mitchell Campbell farm. The peanuts on this farm are being grown for seed certification.

Other dryland peanut crops will be observed on the D. B. Warren farm and the Vernon Files place. A demonstration on nematode control on peanuts will be seen on the Warren farm. This is being conducted through cooperation of officials of the Dow Chemical Co., manufacturers of the soil fumigant, Telone, county agent J. M. Cooper said.

The group will leave from the Brown Jug Cafe in Gorman at 9 a. m. and will return there for lunch at noon. During the noon break Ross Wilson, manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, will discuss the Arloxin problem.

B. C. Langley, Stephenville, superintendent of the Agricultural Research Station there, and developer of the Starr variety of peanuts, has accepted an invitation to attend.

Sister of G. E. McDonald Buried

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Leta Metcalf of Throckmorton, a sister of G. E. McDonald.

She died Saturday, Oct. 3 at 2 p. m. Her funeral was held Sunday, Oct. 4 in First Baptist Church in Throckmorton at 2:30 p. m. Burial was in Throckmorton cemetery.

She was 86 years of age. Her husband died 37 years ago. She had no children. She is survived by one brother, G. E. McDonald, and two sisters, Mrs. Underwood and Mrs. Moore, both of Brownwood.

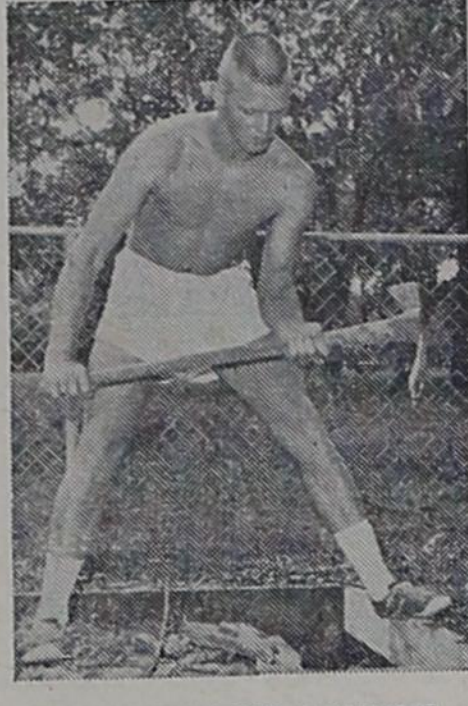

Mrs. Metcalf was a member of a large family who lived at Holder in Brown County. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McDonald attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Faulkenberry have made a temporary move to Caddo, and have listed their home here for sale.

23 Young Farm Families in Eastland Are Being Assisted With FHA Finance

H. P. Cole, County Supervisor of Eastland County, said that 23 young farm families are receiving Farmers Home Administration loans to assist them in the purchase of farms, the construction of essential farm buildings, the acquisition of livestock and machinery, and funds for the further development of their resources this year.

"Over 1,000 young farmers less than 35 years of age have received the financial and technical assistance of the Farmers Home Administration in Texas this year," stated L. J. Cappelman, State Director. Mr. Cappelman reported that, "One of the major endeavors of the Farmers Home Administration in 1964 is to assist young farmers in accomplishing the extremely difficult task of acquiring the capital and the skill needed to take over the farms

YOUNG TEXAN FOR SEPTEMBER—Gary S. Kempf of San Antonio, a freshman at Texas A&M, has been selected by Texas Optimist Clubs to receive the Troy V. Post Award designating him Young Texan of the Month. Gary, 18, is a June graduate of Robert E. Lee High School in San Antonio. He was all-district quarterback in football, a top honor student and a leader in youth activities at his church. Gary and the 11 other monthly winners will compete for three valuable scholarships to be awarded at a statewide banquet in early 1965. He was chosen Young Texan of the Month in competition with nominees throughout the state by a panel of state leaders headed by U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark.

New System Will Make Mail Service More Efficient

After completion of the Sectional Center Program now being developed by the Post Office Department for the more efficient handling of mails, Texas will have 35 sectional centers, Mrs. Cliffogene Witt, Rising Star postmaster, said this week.

All Post Offices will be assigned to a Sectional Center and are known as satellite offices. The Rising Star Post Office is a satellite office of the Stephenville Sectional Center. All mail previously received on 2 dispatches is now sent out on 1 dispatch at 4:30 p. m. on weekdays and at 9:30 on Sundays and holidays.

The Sectional Center concept will provide the public with improved, efficient and fast service. Overnight service will be provided between the Sectional Center and all its satellite offices and to other Sectional Centers in the state wherever possible.

The Sectional Center is the focal point for the distribution and dispatch of mail generated within its area. It is geographically situated so that it may function as the transportation hub of radiating service to the satellite offices it serves.

Mrs. Witt said that questions concerning this or any other postal problems are always welcome. She and other employees are always anxious to be of service to the patrons of the Rising Star Post Office.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN CALIFORNIA

A former Rising Star resident, Mrs. Rosella Masters, died Monday in California, it was learned here. She was a sister of Deen Broughton of Big Spring, also formerly of this community.

Regular Meeting of P-TA Tuesday, Oct. 13

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the study hall of the high school at 3 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 13. Everybody is invited.

Club Women Attend Luncheon at Cisco

A luncheon was sponsored by the Federated Clubs of Cisco, in honor of the new president of Texas Federated Clubs of all the state, Mrs. J. L. Jennings of Pilot Point.

The Saturday Club members who attended were Mrs. Ray Nunnally, Mrs. Lee Clark, Mrs. Olive B. Jones, Mrs. Ira Hudler, Mrs. Floyd Joyce, Mrs. Jack Agnew, Mrs. George Steel, Mrs. C. N. Huddlestone, and Mrs. Louise Weber.

Late Rains Make Farm Prospects Rosy

Peanut Growers Hopeful of Late Frost for Big Crop

If the frost holds off for two or three more weeks! That widely spoken hope recognizes about the only obstacle—barring excessive rain and storms, of course—to one of the best peanut yields in the Rising Star area in many, many years.

The fine prospect is an abrupt reversal of the unpromising summer outlook when one of the most untimely drouths in recent history kept thousands of acres in the county from being planted and ravaged pasturelands to such an extent that livestock markets were glutted with cattle being sold for lack of feed and water.

Fortunately, id darily, most of the peanut growers in the Rising Star area planted their acreage. Now, in early October, with an estimated 90 percent of this acreage flourishing and fruiting heavily, this section has about the brightest peanut harvest prospect in the county.

"It's simply phenomenal," said Mrs. Marion West, whose husband has about 285 acres of peanut acreage located in all directions from Rising Star. "If the frost holds off we will have one of the finest yields we have ever had. That holds true for many other growers who took a chance on rains and planted last spring and early summer."

Mr. West brought in the first load of the 1964 fall peanuts last week, a yield of 12,000 pounds from about 11 acres of a 40-acre tract on the Oliver Steel farm in the Holder community. The peanuts were dried in the Winfrey drying plant and graded 63. They were bought by Jerry Winfrey for a Fredericksburg firm.

Mr. West dug only a portion of the field which had been blighted somewhat. The remainder of the field will not be dug until later and he expects that yield to be higher.

Digging of the crop is expected to begin in good earnest about October 15.

Other growers in the Rising Star area had similar optimistic reports on the development of the crop since the rains in August and September. Generally speaking, peanuts which were planted late and which came through the midsummer drouth in good condition to respond to the usual moisture of August and early September, will produce a good crop. Even the early peanuts were also putting on fairly good late yields, some growers said.

In the George Hill community eight miles northeast, early peanuts which were dug produced very little yield, but the late peanuts were doing well.

In the northern part of the peanut growing section of the county plantings were light and the peanut outlook is poor. Feed planted since the rains is doing well in most areas, however, and the livestock situation is much brighter. There is now plenty of stockwater.

County Singers Will Meet at Mountain Top

The Eastland County Singing convention meets all day Sunday, Oct. 11, at Mountain Top Church. Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy a day of good fellowship and community singing. A community lunch will be spread at noon.

Jim Wright Will Speak at County Democrat Rally

Congressman Jim Wright, of Fort Worth and Washington, D. C., will be guest speaker for the Eastland County Democratic campaign rally and barbecue to be held in City Park, Eastland, Thursday, October 22 at 6:30 p. m.

Spokesman for the Democrats stated "We are certainly fortunate to obtain Jim Wright at this particular time, since he is so much in demand as a speaker, for the Johnson-Humphrey campaign. The fact that he will accompany President Johnson to Texas on October 21st made it possible for him to be with us on October 22nd."

The rally and barbecue is the united effort of all Eastland County Democrats. Invitations will be sent to prominent officers in the party from Eastland to Austin to Washington.

Ticket sale will start immediately at $1.50 each.

Western Night At Sipe Springs Oct. 15

The Sipe Springs community will sponsor a Western Night barbecue supper Thursday night, October 15, to which everyone is invited.

Serving will begin around 7 o'clock and after the supper there will be entertainment, including a skit and western music.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Morris attended the funeral of a relative in Wichita Falls last week and drove on to Oklahoma City where they visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gordon, and baby. Mrs. Gordon, the former Bennie Sue Morris, is a student in Bethany College in Oklahoma City.

Cats To Richland Springs Friday; Tie Early 0-0

The Rising Star Wildcats, with a record of two victories and as many scoreless ties for their season, will go to Richland Springs Friday night for their next-to-last non-conference football game before beginning their conference schedule.

At early last Saturday night the Wildcats played a scoreless draw with the Longhorns in what was strictly a defensive battle. Neither team advanced further than within 15 yards of the opponents' goal. The Wildcats had their only scoring threat cut short at that point early in the first period after recovering an early fumble on the kick-off. The Longhorns intercepted a pass.

The nearest that Early came to a score was in an advance to the Rising Star 20-yard line, where the Wildcats held.

Early, like Cross Plains and Eastland, both of which the Wildcats have defeated, is a Class A team. Rising Star, a Class B eleven, will meet one more Class A team, the potent Ranger Bulldogs, whom they play at Ranger Friday night of next week.

The Richland Springs team, a Class B eleven, has probably the fastest backfield of any team yet faced by the Wildcats. It holds a one-touchdown victory over the May Tigers. After the Ranger game the

57 Pct County Allotment Planted; Feed Crop Good

Generally speaking over the county there had been a remarkable recovery from the effects of last summer's untimely drouth on the agricultural industry in Eastland County, according to a survey by the county agent's office.

In two areas of the county—the Rising Star and Gorman territories—the outlook for the peanut yield is exceptionally good. Amazingly so, in view of the dreary prospects of last summer, according to County Agent J. M. Cooper.

Most of the peanut plantings in the county are confined to those districts, he said. The unusual drouth during the planting season caused scanty plantings in other areas.

But late planted feeds have come along phenomenally well, while pastures are excellent and stock water is in plentiful supply as a result of the heavy rains during August and September.

"I don't think I have ever seen feed crops respond so well as they have grown since August plantings," said Mr. Cooper. There have been especially heavy plantings of cane and sudan.

While the peanut crop outlook in the Gorman and Rising Star areas is very bright, it is shadowed by the prospects of an early frost. It is essentially a race between maturity and frost, said the county agent.

"It normally requires about 120 days for peanuts to mature," he said, "and the late planting of most of the crop makes it a pretty tight race."

The average frost date in the county is November 15, but killing frosts have occurred much earlier in the past. Last year, however, there was no severe frost until after Thanksgiving, and growers would like nothing better than for the weather to repeat that history this season.

If the frost does hold off until the crop can mature, the county will harvest about 57 per cent of its normal allowable acreage of 37,000 acres, or 21,150 acres. Most of this is located in the southern and southeastern part of the county. There are 416 growers with peanut allotments who did not plant this year because of the drouth during the planting season, Mr. Cooper said.

But most of these have planted their acreage to feed and these crops are prospering.

As an interesting sidelight, Mr. Cooper pointed out that Eastland county, which once was among the major cotton producing counties of the State, this year has only 69 acres of cotton.

Kittene Lose 14-12 To CP; Play Bangs Here

The Rising Star Kittens lost a closely played game 14-12 to the Cross Plains Juniors here Tuesday night. The Junior B teams of the two schools tied 0 to 0.

The Kittens will play the Bangs Juniors here next Tuesday night at 7:30.

Millet Yield On 75 Acres Is Remarkable

Typical of the remarkable manner in which farm and feed crops have responded to the late rains in the Rising Star area is a field of millet on the John Hopper farm southwest of Rising Star planted by Wilburn Caudle.

The field of 75 acres was planted about August 15 after Mr. Caudle had harvested an early peanut crop. The millet will be baled for winter feed, and Mr. Caudle estimated a yield of 4,000 bales on the 75 acres.

NEW HOMES BUILDING

Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Killion are building a new home on S. Miller just south of Twilight Acre Nursing Home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bowers have built a new home on the adjoining lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Joyce were visited by their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCleod, and children from Fort Worth last week-end.

Elaine Ghormley Wed In Deer Park Ritual

The marriage of Miss Elaine Ghormley and John I. Matejka, Jr., was solemnized at the First Baptist Church in Deer Park Saturday, August 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ghormley, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Matejka, Sr., of Galena Park.

The bride will graduate from the University of Houston in January. She is a science major. The groom also attended the University of Houston and played three years on the varsity football team.

The couple now live in Pasadena, Texas after a wedding trip to New Orleans.

Elaine is the granddaughter of Mrs. Beatrice Hellums of Rising Star and attended school here in the seventh grade. Her parents are both graduates of Rising Star High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Shoemaker left Thursday for their home in Connecticut after a visit here with his sister, Mrs. D. Breeding and friends, and a visit with their daughter in T.C.U. at Fort Worth.

Kenneth Williams Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pittman, Richmond Ezzell, son of R. T. Ezzell, and Randall W. Reames, are three more Rising Star students to register at Cisco Junior College this fall.

IT WAS NEVER NECESSARY TO "Enjoy" POOR HEALTH

Many people seem to "enjoy" poor health. They would not care to be without a cupboardful of odd medicines for self-treatment — some of which may not be in keeping with competent medical advice.

The better way is to enjoy GOOD health by careful planning. Consult your doctor at regular intervals; more often if required. He will prescribe only the preparations that you need — preparations of the highest quality, such as those from the laboratories of Parke, Davis & Company — prescriptions which we will be pleased to compound for you. The necessity for medication will pass, and life with abundant health can become a pleasure indeed.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE SPIRIT

Stop! Look! Listen! Do you see and hear that thing called school spirit — the basis of pep rallies, and the code by which the cheerleaders, football boys, band, and students live.

Look around you. Do you see spirit boosters — posters, banners, beat ribbons, encouraging looks? Of course you do, and do you know what is responsible for this? It is our school spirit.

Many long hours of hard work have gone into these signs and displays which appear in the halls. The indestructible blue and gold and the Wildcat are our symbols of determination and drive. These things make us proud of our school and make us want to take more active part in its functions.

Pep rallies give each student an opportunity to show greater participation than ever before. The cheerleaders have worked long hours learning and practicing new yells. Their efforts can only be rewarded by you, the students.

The Homecoming game was a great booster of our school spirit. Let us all work together to maintain this high level of school spirit.

The people of the community have always been very encouraging to students. With your support we can continue to have a never-failing school spirit.

A "pat on the back" should go to the cheerleaders, the fighting Wildcats, the band, the people of the community, and to you — the Rising Star High School student body — for making the school spirit a reality.

Scotland was safe. We are trying to complete our memory work and gather material for our term themes.

In chemistry we are studying the elements and their atomic structure. It is amazing how anything as small as an atom can cause trouble to so many students. Much to everyone's supreme delight, we are still having pop tests.

The Seniors also have been thinking about graduation and what follows. Most of them plan to take the A C T college examinations in November and are beginning to think about which college they want to attend. Terry Geye has a new interest in Baylor!!

"LIVE AND LEARN"

Hello, Readers! R.S.H.S. students are breathing deeply after the first week of six weeks' tests. My, how time does fly!

This week-end the Junior class will pile grubbs for Ira Hudler. We hope to do very well with this project.

Besides having six weeks' tests, we are carrying on weekly classes. In Algebra we are taking up Unit III; Typing I students have also handed in another unit. The chemistry class is slowly proceeding with Chapter IV—"Love and Faith."

We enjoyed another exciting game last week from the Wildcat 30; go with us this week to Richland Springs, where they will give us another grand and glorious game.

"TOWARD NEW HORIZONS"

This week our Freshmen are really going to taste their own cooking. The class is divided into three groups and each group is going to prepare the first meal. They will prepare some type of quick bread, a meat dish, salad, dessert, and beverage. We all know they are going to have plenty of fun!

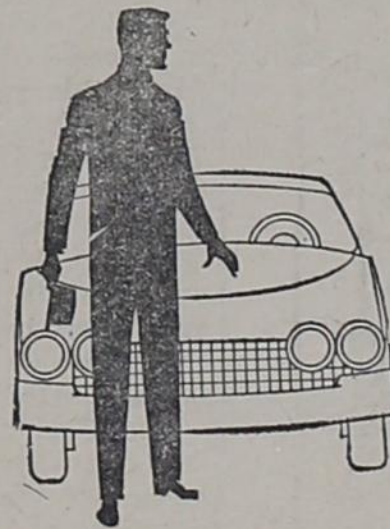

Many of the sophomore girls have already finished their jumpers and have begun working on blouses. We are required to have set-in sleeves, a collar,

"KNOWLEDGE COMES, BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

Hi! This week is six weeks' test week. It has kept all the seniors busy studying and burning midnight oil. Along with our studies, we are trying to finish our magazine sales. We have had a lot of fun on this project besides earning money for our senior trip. The class split into eight teams of four and competed for a $10 prize.

We have finished our study of "Macbeth" and are glad

"BUILDERS OF TOMORROW"

Time certainly flies by; it is already the sixth week of school; of course, that suggests tests; however, for one reason or another some of our teachers have decided to give six week tests earlier—at the end of a certain unit. This was fine with the Sophomores, since we have some of them behind us and sooner than usual at that.

The biology and World History students have been working on our notebooks, and the English II class has begun the study of "Julius Caesar". The Health class has been debating some answers to a test; while the Home Ec. II girls are still sewing on our garments. Some of us are about finished, but those making two-piece dresses or suits will take a little longer.

The basketball girls started training last week and will have a game on the fifteenth of this month; more than half of the girls coming out are Sophomores.

DO RE MI

The band has been practicing very hard this week. We want to put on a good performance for you this Friday when we will meet Richland Springs.

The Band Boosters have added a new building to the ball-field. The members will be selling popcorn, so everybody go buy a sack full; it is delicious.

The band is still looking forward to going to Dallas to the Fair.

Danny S. — We thought you were a nice boy. Shame on you! Good luck, Wildcats.

"NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN"

We are very glad to be almost finished with six weeks' tests. We are studying very hard, but we are scared of the outcome of our first six weeks' tests. We can always do better next time, but don't wait too late!

In biology, we had a test that was very hard even for the ones who studied. It covered all of our notes on the first six weeks.

In English I, we have finished our six weeks' tests and are working on our poetry of which we have to have one hundred lines this semester. We take literature one semester and English the second semester.

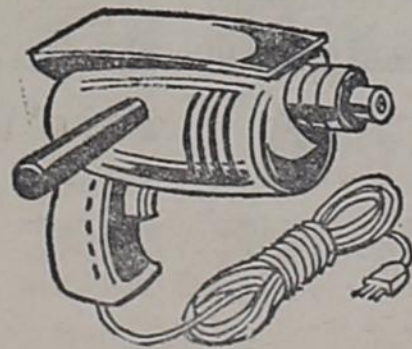

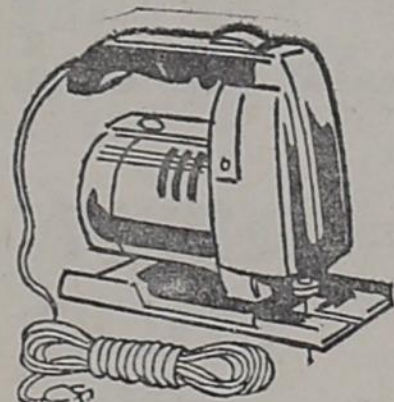

All of the boys have received their animals for projects this year in Ag. I. We have recited the F.F.A. creed which took most of our five days to learn. We blocked sheep one day for (Continued on Page Four)

Ten Members Attend WSCS Study Monday

The WSCS of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon for the second lesson in the mission study topic "Missions in India", a part of the general course of "Studies of Christian Issues in Southern Asia."

Mrs. Milton Slayden, secretary of Mission Education, was in charge of the program. She also led the devotional after the meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. R. Bucy, the president of the society.

Others taking part in the program were Mes. Emma Weathermon, John Mathis, Cecil Joyce and May Pearl Hull and Miss Loretta Pearce, who led the closing prayer. There were ten members present. — May Pearl Hull, Reporter.

Wildcat Tales--

the boys who are using them as projects.

In Algebra I, we are learning to interpret stated problems and form an open sentence.

In General Science, the boys and girls decided the class was very boring because they were studying all about blood and learning to perform experiments correctly.

FROM THE WILDCAT DEN

I am sure everyone who saw the Wildcats play Saturday appreciated the fine job that each boy did. The Wildcats have really put forth their best sportsmanship this year, and I am sure everyone will say this really helps to produce a clean game.

The entire Wildcat team is grateful for the fine job the cheerleaders and the fans are doing this year. Their backing really helps to strengthen that Wildcat spirit and drive out there on the field. The fine job that the local quarterback club is doing this year can receive more credit than anyone. Besides their backing and support, the club also provides for making a film of each game.

The Cats will take on Richland Springs this week. They have been working very hard in practice, and we want to wish them the best of luck.

SPORTS SCOOP

Basketball has really begun to get underway. Coach Eddie Joe Henry is trying to schedule a game for October 15, the opening date for games.

The competition is stiff with about 26 girls trying out for the team and only 14 suits to be issued. That means you girls had better give it all you have. In a meeting last week the training rules were set up, and it looks like the candy and coke machines will be losing business for a while; also at the meeting we elected Anna Ezzell, Linda Duggan, and Sandra Teague as our captains. Our new manager is Candy McCutcheon; the assistant is Margie Phillips.

Even though basketball is just around the corner, let's not forget that football is still here. I hope to see you out there backing the Wildcats when they meet the Richland Springs team.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

When Industry votes for your community... you are the winner

The campaign WTU is conducting to bring new industry to this service area is based upon a platform of economic advantages. That's because profitable operation is the objective of all industry on the move. But when you come right down to it, local enterprise, local activity, local leadership are the deciding factors in winning the race for new industry. That is why when industry votes for your community, your platform is adopted and YOU are the winner.
