May 30th — Memorial Day — will see the 12th annual renewal of what can rightfully be called a unique institution. Rodeos are quite common—the one, or two-night variety — but rare it is that a community of the size of Rising Star has maintained a summer-long weekly series of rodeos to which is attracted some of the top-hand rodeo talent of the region.

And when you add to that distinction the fact that the sponsors of the program—in this case the Rising Star Roping Club—have been able to maintain it for 11 continuous seasons and to begin the 12th in prospect of the biggest and the best of the lot, you do have an institution worthy of the term, unique.

Rising Star is fortunate to have this summer attraction, fortunate in the kind of fellows willing to give their time, talents and means free for its promotion. There are other towns which would rate it a prized asset.

In its edition of May 23 the Record plans some special advertising to boost the program and to give additional circulation to tell the rodeo story to a wider area.

As customary, the program will begin with a parade at p. m. in the business district, and the prospects are that more riding clubs and more horses than ever before will be seen in the line of march.

Although the initial performance will take place on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the arena east of town, all subsequent programs will be seen on Friday nights.

Sec'y Frank Hudler has asked that all contestants report to the arena not later than 7 o'clock p. m. It takes considerable time to arrange the lists for the various events, make the drawings, etc., and the early boys will simply give themselves more insurance of placing better, and help the secretary and his staff do a difficult job.

For those of us inclined to grow careless, it is well to be reminded, even unpleasantly, that the copperheads are still crawling, and, no doubt, the rattlers. The more so in this warm, humid weather.

I had chilling notice of that last Saturday afternoon while trimming grass along the walk to the front stoop of my home.

I looked up and there was something orange, spangled and ropelike looped in a spot of grass against the cool concrete of the step.

A series of startled impressions shot through my mind. "The thing's dead," I thought, for it looked deceptively relaxed and flattened.

Then I saw the stare of Old Satan and it struck me in fright that the reptile had his crawling scales gripped in for purchase, watching me and waiting for the right moment with design as evil as his looks.

I can recall few experiences as completely satisfying as the quick slash of my hoe that separated a pointed head from its astonished 3-foot body. There was a gush of blood, a writhing. Off to itself, the poisonous mouth gaped wide and suffering.

It was a delicate, membranous lavender — white fanged!

I walked off and shivered quietly. Sometimes they line coffins with lavender. Very pretty.

Record List For Rodeo March Seen

All riding clubs in this section have been invited to take part in the parade at 5 p. m., Saturday, May 30, which will open the 12th season of summer rodeo activity in Rising Star, according to Jack Jackson, president of the sponsoring Rising Star Roping Club.

The initial performance of the rodeo will take place at 8 p. m. that evening at the arena east of town.

A series of 12 weekly performances is scheduled. Each subsequent rodeo, however, will be held on Friday night.

Riding Club officials were expecting perhaps the largest number of entries in the parade and the most horses ever seen at an opening night of the rodeo.

The fact that the series will begin on a holiday was expected to swell attendance.

At the business session following lunch, it is expected that several committees will be named to work out plans, itinerary and details of the fall pecan tour, it was said.

Besides Smith, another local man will appear on the program. He is B. B. Freman, pecan grower of the Cheaney community.

Serpentine passageways and vast subterranean chambers inside Texas Longhorn Cavern in the Highland Lakes area of Central Texas evoke this look of wide-eyed amazement from a youthful visitor to the cavern. Reputedly the third-largest cavern in the world, Texas Longhorn annually attracts more than 45,000 visitors who express, in varying degrees, similar reactions to the cavern's underground marvels. Parts of the cavern are named for Texas outlaw Sam Bass who used the cave for a hideout in the 1870's and is alleged to have buried a $2-million treasure there. The cavern is focal point of 708-acre Texas Longhorn Cavern State Park located near Burnet, just off U.S. Highway 281 on Park Road 4.

Organization of United Fund Will Group Charity Financing

Organization of a United Fund in Rising Star in which fund raising for a variety of civic and charitable organizations would be combined, has been undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce.

The organization voted unanimously at its meeting Tuesday noon at the Elite Cafe to adopt a charter recommended by a special committee, and to proceed with the organization of the project. A committee consisting of B. A. Butler, Jay Koonce, James Rutherford, Walter Smith and Bill Tyler, was named by President John Pruet of the C&C to nominate a board of directors from which the officers will be chosen.

An initial budget of $2,130 was recommended by the charter group. The budget subject to approval by the board of directors to be chosen, is made up of estimated annual askings of ten organizations or programs to be included in the United Fund group.

By raising the budget as finally adopted, the fund-raising for all of these organizations would be accomplished in one drive, it was explained.

At the same time the C&C refused to sponsor an independent finance campaign for the Red Cross, whose Rising Star quota, instead, would be included in the United Fund budget.

Mr. Rutherford of the charter committee presented the recommendations of his group. He pointed out that the purpose of the United Fund is to combine all financial campaigns for charitable and social agencies into one drive, thus saving time of the workers and enabling contributors to make their gifts to all of these agencies in a lump sum.

Some agencies, such as the Cancer Society will not participate, preferring to make their appeals independently. But on the whole, experience of communities where the United Fund exists shows it very successful in grouping most charitable and social agencies into one financial program and raising ample funds for all of the organizations represented, it was explained.

As the charter of the United Fund in Rising Star states "Our purpose shall be to develop teamwork among the social agencies serving Rising Star and their constituencies, in the interest of the financial support of such agencies and the effective planning and execution of the social service program of this community."

The charter of the organization will be published in next week's issue of the Record.

Organizations whose appeals would be included in the United Fund list are:

The Boy Scouts, March of Dimes, West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Girls Club, Red Cross, Local relief, Heart Fund, Texas Mental Health, Youth Center, and an unallocated fund for contingencies.

Other projects discussed at the meeting Tuesday included the Little League program which is lagging.

The board members met in a business session and the WMS members held a meeting.

It's the Law in Texas

The 58th Legislature passed H. B. No. 457 dealing with the use of worthless checks to defraud. It has practical aspects for both the collection of such checks and the prosecution of offenders that were not available before.

It makes it unlawful for any person or firm to make, draw or deliver a check with intent to defraud, knowing that the funds on deposit to cover its maker does not have sufficient payment. It is no longer required that the check be given in exchange for property in order to subject the maker or drawer to punishment.

The new Act, similar to the old law, provides that the refusal of payment by the bank shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds, "provided such maker... shall not have paid the holder thereof the amount due thereon within ten (10) days after giving of such notice that such check... has not been paid..."

New notice provisions state that such notice shall be given in writing sent by registered or certified mail or telegram to the place listed on the check. Penalties are provided which increase with each offense and depend upon the size of the check. First conviction on a check under $50 shall be punishment in the county jail for not to exceed two years and by a fine of not to exceed $1,000.

If the check is over $50 the penalty can be fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for not less than two years nor more than ten years. In order to avoid turning law enforcement agencies into mere collection agencies, the bill provides that anyone who has furnished information concerning a worthless check which has resulted in the acceptance by the District or County Attorney of a complaint and who shall thereafter suggest or request that such case be dismissed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not less than $100 nor more than $500.

COMMENTS FROM THE CAPITOL by Vant Neff

It is interesting to note that on the same day, in two different parts of the world, two men spoke differently on the same subject. Adlai Stevenson patiently explained to one audience that peace was necessary for the salvation of mankind. Whereas Khrushchev scolded the West and denounced "imperialist exploitation" of the underdeveloped countries. K's message was read to representatives of 116 have-not nations. It was a direct order to the underprivileged to arise and confront the West.

It is my contention that we cannot continue our sweet, peace-loving policies while our adversaries - particularly the one who has enslaved and held so many countries in captivity - continue to exhort the world to attack us.

You would think the Administration silly if we sent dollars directly to Cuba... so we send them indirectly; we give aid to Morocco... and Morocco buys sugar from Cuba. It is silly, isn't it? And not only silly but downright stupid is the administration of our aid program to Red satellites who supply Cuba with electronic equipment and military hardware.

Sukarno told the United States, "To hell with your aid." In his speech, he turned to the U. S. Ambassador and said, "When was it that you wanted to stop your aid?" Though no answer was made by the Ambassador, we trust that the Administration will break its silence and thunder its reply to the baiting, egomaniac Mr. Sukarno, saying briefly - "Now!"

This is the same Sukarno who has broken every promise, reneged on the pledges he pledged and for whom we fought our ally, the Netherlands, a NATO member. Still we continue to pour our millions into the rat hole of Sukarno's anti-U.S. Indonesia.

Everywhere I go, I find that intelligent people are for equal rights for the colored man. Beyond a doubt, he's entitled to them. And making sure that he gets them is what the current Civil Rights Bill is supposed to be all about. But is it? Because the sad fact is that it also includes deceptions that threaten the basic rights of the majority while pretending to serve the minorities. Politicians have twisted the wording around so that it turns over to the federal government the power to trample on our traditional American freedoms.

For example, the bill says an employer must not show "discrimination." But what is "discrimination"? What does the bill really mean?

It could mean, for example, 2 1/2 percent of the workers in a plant must be American Indians, 12 percent Negroes, and so on.

Unquestionably, there is a real need for civil-rights legislation. But, in the name of all that's decent, let it be the right kind of legislation and not a camouflaged power grab.

It is one of the great mysteries of financial operation that Robert B. Anderson, who is considered a financial genius and became Secretary of the Treasury, could not operate Radio Station KTBC in Texas profitably - but the L. B. Johnson family could, did and ran it up into a young fortune.

It could happen nowhere else in the world but in the United States and, of all places, New York... the Puerto Ricans there DEMAND that the school teachers in the public schools which Puerto Rican children attend MUST know and speak Spanish! Moreover, they DEMAND that the history of Puerto Rico be taught! Do you remember way back when immigrants coming to this country were glad to become Americans... even thought it their duty to study, understand and speak English... and learn the history of the United States - rather than expect our public schools to teach in the immigrant's foreign language?

Americans have been duped again... you remember when the administration promised that at least 50 percent of the American wheat we were sending to Russia would be sent in American ships. Well, the "excuse" is that there is an insufficient number of American ships. The wheat is being sent in bottoms belonging to other nations.

The latest excuse I ever heard was that offered by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara who stated that the reason we did not "do something" about the Cuban situation at the time of the missile confrontation is that we were "terribly short" of fighter and transport planes and needed vessels. No amount of whitewash will cover up the fact that we have failed to deal effectively with the Cuban threats.

The so-called "war on poverty" is a great ideal but the Administration's program adds up to little more than a revival of the old New Deal WPA. The fact remains that the only effective way to eliminate poverty will be to encourage the growth of job opportunities in private industry. This, the Washington planners do not seem to understand.

When I was in Russia, I was astounded to find daily papers affixed to buildings throughout cities. They were fastened in cases under glass for all who wished to read. Currently, my friends write me that there are cartoons depicting the "aggressor United States" taking produce from little African nations by force. Another, with an ugly, giant American soldier standing astride the Panama Canal with dead, mutilated bodies of Panamanians around his bloody feet. Still a third, I am informed, shows the United States Navy turning away boats bound for Cuba and laden with food.

The important part of this disclosure is not that it represents anything new or a departure from the previous Russian brain-washing of their citizenry - it is projected now because in the midst of all our sweetness and light, when the Administration is asking us to think kindly of the Russians, to feed them and extend credit, nothing has changed from the Russian point of view. We are still the dirty name, in their state-controlled propaganda.

Looking about through history, one finds adages that conveyed the feeling of people. For instance, the Romans had "Wherever a Roman, there is Rome". In Colonial times, the rattlesnake flag bore the motto, "Don't tread on me." In the days when our West was newly opened, the cadence of the people was symbolized by the expression, "Live each day so you can look every man in the eye and tell him to go to hell!" Medieval France sported a flag bearing a thistle with the slogan, "Who bruises it gets stung." And Scotland's flag portrayed a thistle and contained the Latin motto, "No one wounds me without being punished."

Today our motto seems to be, "Let's be nice to our enemies and hope they will have a change of heart," or "Let's not look at it and maybe I'll go away", as in the case of Cuba.

Ever since the Court of Appeals "freed" Gus Hall and his party members, they are more flagrant than ever in issuing directives for work stoppage, inciting civil disorder and advocating our submission to the dictates of the Soviet demands. Under the guise of better American-Soviet relations, there is intense pro-Soviet activity across the land by the people who support any and all the doings of the USSR. It would be interesting to know where the money - which supports the meetings sponsored by the Communists in this country comes from. Who pays their railroad fare, hiring of halls, decorations, electric bills, posters, flyers, advertising and, for that matter, the salaries of their leaders and hired agents.

OUR SENIORS

This time of the school year is always one of mixed emotions. We are happy for our seniors, as they will be taking a great step forward in their lives. We are glad that they have had enough initiative to complete high school, and we are especially proud of those who have made plans to continue their educations. There is always sadness and a sense of loss that accompanies each graduation; but this year we are feeling the loss more greatly than before.

Our seniors this year have become a regular part of our lives. We have been more closely associated with these students than with any previous class. Perhaps this is due to the fact that we, as juniors, will be the next seniors to be leaving Rising Star High School.

The smallness of this class has not affected the greatness of the class; it has been a challenge to these students to work harder to make up for the limited number in their class.

You seniors have been our guideposts throughout the year; we have patterned our lives after you who have led us along the highest road. We want to thank you.

want to thank you. I want to thank you seniors for the great inspiration, encouragement, and influence you have given us as underclassmen.

It is with much sorrow, as well as pleasure, that we give you seniors to the outside world. We juniors will be faced with the task of taking over the responsibilities of you seniors next year, but we can never replace the greatness of your contributions to R.S.H.S. We wish you the very best of everything and continued success throughout your lives. Thank you, seniors of 1964.

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE"

Donald Gene West was born November 20, 1946, at Brownwood, Texas, to Mr. and Mrs. T. W. West. Don has one brother.

Eight years of school have been attended here by Don; he has certainly made them enjoyable years! Don has played football two years and has run track one year. He has represented our class on the Student Council and has been in Band one year. He has also been active in F.F.A. two years. One year he went to the poultry judging contest at State.

Some favorites of Don's consist of "I Can't Stop Loving You," for a favorite song, and "Move Over, Darling," for a favorite movie. Sandra Dee and Troy Donahue are his favorite movie stars. Like Cherry, Don considers food his favorite food. His favorite pastime is being with Charlene - say, Don, how's the record now - 24 dates straight! Don considers competition with his pastime his pet peeve.

As to the future, Don plans to enter Fort Worth College and major in electronics. In the distant future Don plans to eventually marry.

Best wishes for a life of happiness and success, Don; you are truly deserving; we hope the best is always yours.

"LIVE AND LEARN"

The annuals have come in and, Mrs. C., they are the best! Everyone is busy signing them. This is the last reminder before class trip time - get all dues and debts paid.

We had a car wash last Saturday and we did well on it. Only two weeks and two days and we will be juniors!

This week we are all laboring diligently to finish everything in our books. The World History is working hard to finish Chapter 23, "World War II," and then there will be just one more. In English we are working on Unit VI - complex and compound sentences. The Homemaking girls are finishing the book on "Family Relations"; while the Ag II boys are completing shop. Mr. Hill's typing class is completing its unit, and the Biology class is reviewing the study of all animal life.

Bobby, see what happens when you stand in someone's way?

"UPWARD AND ONWARD"

We are anxiously awaiting the hour of 1 p. m. - why? Today we leave on the senior trip at that hour - sharp! This is what we have waited and worked so hard for so long.

Our class wants to express a very sincere thank you to the Methodist women who sponsored the breakfast last Friday morning in honor of our class. It was so nice and thoughtful.

We are getting ready to complete our studies here at R.S.H.S.; final tests are just around the corner - much to our sorrow. They sound as if they are going to be doosies, as Hazel would say.

This week on the "This Is Your Life" section we are featuring Don West. I hope our editor reads it; she might learn something about this boy - as if she didn't already know! Congratulations to our new majorettes. We're looking forward to seeing you out on the field leading the band next year.

Now straight from the grapevine:

Lovey, you shouldn't talk so loud; it might cause a misunderstanding - right?

Cherry's getting into full swing of the rodeos - I think she rather enjoyed the May Rodeo!

Loretta, do you have an ugly boy friend or do you just call him that?

Donna Chalk, I'd say somebody got scissors happy! Does that mean no wedding?

Pat Burns, Lovey wants to know if you missed the window?

Until next week,
Cherry

AN EXPRESSION OF THANKS

The seniors want to express their appreciation for the lovely breakfast given in their honor by the W.S.C.S on Friday morning of last week. The tables were very decorative in the class colors of gold and white with arrangements of daisies (class flower). The menu was orange juice, ham, scrambled eggs, butterflake biscuits, apple jelly, whipped butter, and coffee. This was a gracious gesture, which we hope other seniors may be able to enjoy.

KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS

Here we are in the last few weeks of school. Everything is buzzing and it seems (to the seniors) as if graduation will never get here!

The classes are all working real hard trying to finish their books before the end of this year, but it seems to be a real chore for some. In Civics, the pupils are learning the difference in democracy and communism. The American History class is studying about World War II and James said he didn't know what else they were studying! In English III, we are giving oral book reports. In Homemaking III, the girls are learning how to make baby clothes; this is a very rewarding job for the future; right, girls?

The band went to "Six Flags" last Saturday and the rumors are that everyone had a real blast! The band put on an assembly program yesterday during activity period. We hope everyone enjoyed it. The band officers will be selected this week along with the twirlers for the '64-'65 season!

This being next to the last time you will hear from the '63-'64 juniors, we would like to say that our junior year has been one of the greatest and we want to thank everyone for helping us.

Someone is bound to be hurt! Until next week,

"BUILDERS OF TOMORROW"

The annuals came in Monday of last week and the high school students spent most of our class periods signing yearbooks.

The Algebra I class is solving equations by the substitution method. This is only one of four ways; we have to be able to work each method on a test. The General Math students are studying fractions; some do not seem too enthusiastic over the fact. The General Science pupils are studying radio and television - how the waves are carried from the transmitter to the receiver; this chapter brings us very close to the end of our texts. In English I we have been studying verbals as a whole, but we will begin gerunds tomorrow. The Homemaking I girls have their home experience reports written up. The coffee held last Wednesday for our secret grandmothers was nice and everyone enjoyed it very much. The Ag boys are working in the shop - welding, building or doing woodwork.

The sixth period P. E. girls the third and last time this are taking calessthenics tests for year. These will last from two to three days; then we will get back to running and playing basketball.

Through the grapevine comes: K. N. and F. M. have been taking evening rides and viewing the town plus blowing bubbles on Sunday.

"TOWARD NEW HORIZONS"

Wednesday morning we had our monthly F. H. A. meeting. Charlene Vermillion, our chapter president, led the opening ceremony. Marcia Lee read the minutes of the last meeting.

Sharon Donham, Becky Nowlin, and Charlene Vermillion gave reports on the state meeting.

The freshmen then presented a style show for their mothers and secret grandmothers.

After the style show we had our closing ceremony. The girls then chose their secret grandmothers, and the junior girls served refreshments to the group. We would like to thank all the guests who attended the tea.

"ONWARD FARMERS"

Last Saturday the dairy judging team, along with Mr. Geye went to the State contest, which was held at Texas A. & M. University. The team consisted of Gene Burns, Russell Botts and of 100 schools, representing the Bob Clark. They placed 33rd out entire state of Texas. This week the monthly chapter meeting will be held. The different chapter awards will be presented at that time to the various boys who have achieved the most in the ones for which they are trying. Both of the Ag classes are still working in the shop. F.F.A. Reporter, Franz

"SPORTS NEWS"

First, we would like to compliment Larry Duggan on an excellent job in track. He went to Austin last week for the mile run in the State contest.

The P. E. girls have finally completed their tests once again. They have all been complaining about sore muscles - especially when they laugh. The four cheerleaders are already showing great school spirit by practicing their yells every Tuesday and Thursday. If things go as planned, they will attend Cisco Junior College this summer for their cheerleading training.

The basketball girls have been getting in condition for spring training. Most of next year's team will be sophomores and they are looking for a successful season. Join us again next week for more news.

Until then,
Sharon Lewis

Star-spangled way to sweeten up your future

The old American proverb says, "Money isn't everything, but it sure helps."

And that goes double for the money you put in U.S. Savings Bonds. Because this money helps two ways.

First, it helps your future. Putting youngsters through college. Building homes and summer cottages. Buying cruises for you and the spouse. You dream it, Bonds can deliver it.

Second, it helps your country now, by making Uncle Sam a stronger influence in an unsettled world.

Your fellow Americans have tucked over 47 billion dollars into U.S. Savings Bonds. Why not join them? There's no safer investment anywhere in the world.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds
- You get 3 1/2% more money when they mature (7 years, 9 months)
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Every year many people unnecessarily suffer severe and painful skin irritations because of contact with poison ivy and other related plants. Poison ivy and poison oak are widespread in Texas, particularly along streams and in shady places. All parts of the plants are poisonous, particularly the sap. Only a small amount of toxin from blisters on a person's skin is needed to cause inflammation to be transferred from one person to another. Don't be fooled by the idea that burning the plants will serve as a protective measure, for the toxin may also be spread in smoke. For the prevention of poisoning by the plant, take particular care not to come in contact with poison ivy plants. Neither should pets be allowed to run through the plants as the toxin can be transferred on their feet. Do not burn leaves and trash that contain poison ivy plants. Should contact be made with poison ivy, wash the contaminated parts of the body thoroughly with soap and water. Neither should contaminated clothing be worn until it is washed. With care ammate will satisfactorily control all growth forms of poison ivy without danger to other plants or the soil. The chemical is also safe for use around animals and humans.

Edgar Altom Says Thanks for May 2 Election

I wish to express my appreciation and say "Thank you for giving me such a vote of confidence in the May 2 primary."

When I announced as a candidate for Tax Assessor - Collector of Eastland County, I did so realizing the importance of the office and the tremendous amount of work involved. Having had several years experience as a deputy. I felt I was qualified to do the job well.

You people were so wonderful to us, first, for letting me run unopposed, and then your support in the election. I feel I owe you a debt of gratitude and I will try with all that I have to make you a good officer.

Due to the heavy work schedule at this time of the year, I did not get to see as many of you as I would have liked to, but Ada, my wife, and I want to say again and again, Thank you.

Edgar Altom.

Mrs. Leonard Harris and her sister from Lubbock visited their parents at Mason recently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Joyce and son, Joe, of Albany visited relatives here Friday.

AUSTIN — Are the "childhood diseases" here to stay? Is it still necessary to have a smallpox vaccination? Do babies inherit a "natural immunity"?

The "childhood diseases" are a myth. The fact is that these diseases are so contagious among children that most people have had them and developed immunity by adulthood. But adults can and do catch them, and when they do they are sometimes much sicker than children.

Two of the so-called childhood diseases — mumps and German measles — have special dangers for the adult patient. Mumps can be damaging to adults — both men and women. And German measles, when occurring in the early part of pregnancy can result in damage to the unborn child. So, if you are exposed to any "childhood" disease and believe you have never had it, ask your doctor what you can do to protect yourself.

It is extremely important that you and your children keep protection against smallpox up to date. True, the absence of smallpox in this country has led to a lack of public concern about this serious disease and large segments of the population are unvaccinated or require booster shots. In some parts of the world smallpox continues to be a serious problem. If just one single undetected smallpox case should be introduced into a U. S. community, it could touch off a serious epidemic.

Is it true that a baby is protected by his "natural immunity" acquired from his mother? Some of the mother's natural or acquired immunities, if any, can be passed on to her unborn infant as her blood courses through the placenta that nourishes him, but this inherited immunity remains effective for only a short time.

In the case of whooping cough, a highly contagious disease that is especially dangerous and often fatal for small babies, there is evidence that immunity is only occasionally passed on.

Every parent, medical authorities advise, should plan an immunization program against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis and smallpox. Booster shots to maintain complete protection should follow at prescribed intervals throughout childhood and in the case of certain diseases, well into adult life.

the fastest company of his High School track career, turned in one of his best—and certainly a remarkable—time to take fourth place in the mile run of the Class B division of the State Track Meet at Austin last Saturday. He ran only seven seconds away from the top spot, completing the distance in a time of three minutes and 37 seconds. Winners of first, second and third places were seniors, and Larry, a junior, will have another and third chance next season, provided he can win at district and regional, as he has done the last two seasons.

Last year he failed to qualify in the State running, although his time of 3:52 was better than that made by some of the boys who placed near the top.

Larry's performance in his favorite sport is distinguished by a quality which marks the champion — the ability to deliver under pressure.

There has been a constant improvement in his time in running the mile. At State this year, he clipped 13 seconds off his time in last year's prelims. And in his running of the event at district and regional this year there was a progressive improvement.

I believe he won in a time of 3:42 at district and bettered that by two seconds in taking regional honors and the right to represent his school at State. That may not be exactly correct, but it is substantially so in that it indicates the determination and the concentration that this young Wildcat trackster brings to the job of perfecting his technique and increasing his stamina—qualities that certainly recommend him to the prospect of gaining additional honors for his school next year.

A lot of platitudinous nonsense can be written in praise of a youngster like Larry. The important truth is that he respects his sport, his responsibility to it, and is willing to make the necessary sacrifices to excel in his contribution to it.

There is a lot of extraordinary and useless talent running loose in this world because it lacks the one prime element to discipline it. It is housed in the wrong character.

It takes much more than mere ability to succeed.

Guests of Mrs. Tommy Holden were her son and family of Tyler. She returned to Tyler with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dyle returned Friday from Lampasas where they visited relatives for several days.
