A substantial increase in postage rates can be expected soon. A bill for this purpose has passed the House and is under consideration by the Senate.

Significant increases are proposed on second class matter, within which classification fall newspapers and magazines. The House bill provides for a surcharge of a penny per copy in addition to postage rates. If this is put in the effect it will mean a considerable increase in subscription prices for these periodicals and many of them, particularly the small local papers, will be compelled to cease publishing.

That would be a most unfortunate circumstance. It would mean a further and serious restriction in this country because it would destroy a large portion of the means through which that freedom of expression is made effective.

It would be another step in a trend in which we have found no effective countermove in the preservation of individual expression. Newspapers and magazines are becoming fewer and television and radio more centrally directed, and all these media more sensitive to the "official" climate. The means of dissent are growing less; the censors are becoming more influential.

It is enough to make one shudder to contemplate what a vast and centralized complex of control is being forged in this country to tempt some future dictator — the bleeding away of local and state rights, the growth of a vast federal bureaucracy which functions and even legislates on a perpetual basis, affecting and even controlling the life of every citizen; the development of a great and powerful military machine whose bayonets can be quickly turned against the citizens (witness Little Rock!); the concentration of economic powers; the centralization of educational control; the squeezing of all media of information and communication into a comparatively few centrally dominated groups or organizations!

It is becoming harder and harder, indeed, to hear the voice of the little man.

It seems to me that the American film industry is paying a rather high price for publicity for its products in the amorous antics of the Lizies and the Burtons and others of that frenetic clan whose features appear so necessary to the celluloid extraneous being turned out in times between.

Why the American public must be fed a diet of romantic exhibitionism which violates almost every principle of moral decency and good family life accepted in a Christian society, perhaps the press agents and the newspapers, the magazines and the other news media which carry it can explain.

An industry which has such a profound influence upon the American mind, and particularly the young mind, should be called to account for glorifying, even in the image of a star, ideals which do such violence not only to good taste, but to the essential sanctity of the American home. It is an amazing thing to read or hear that a film tycoon, harassed by delays and costly interruptions of his shooting schedule, doesn't give a continental what his star does with her private life just so she shows up to complete a picture. What she represents in her moral image and its impact upon millions of movie goers seems of far less importance than the jingle of dollars in the Hollywood till.

It is even more amazing, it is disgusting, to read and hear that the movie colony is betting that a star "will get her man" while at the same time she is on

The valley is being rapidly developed with shopping centers and extensive buildings, also an interesting museum. The Faulkenberry's traveled by train.

Track Regional Seen As Rising Star and Baird Battle

Rising Star and Baird track and field teams, both of which won their districts by almost identical records, rank as the favored contenders in the Region 2 track and field meet at Tarleton State College at Stephenville Saturday, April 11.

Rising Star qualified contestants in every event in the region with single exception of the shot put.

The Baird team is given the top favorite's roll with Rising Star rated the challenger spot by newspaper sports comment. The Wildcats took their district two weeks ago with a resounding record of 233 points accumulated with ten first places and a number of seconds and lesser places in the contest.

The Baird Bears gained appointments in a district contest at approximately the same number of Abilene which they won overwhelmingly.

Coach Lynn Davidson will have contestants as named in the following events at regional:

Merchants To Inaugurate Monthly Trades Day Event

The largest attendance of Chamber of Commerce members in many months Tuesday noon approved a program for undertaking a series of monthly trade days, to be held on the last Friday in each month.

The meeting, at the regular dinner in the Elite Cafe, heard President James Rutherford recommend a program similar to a successful "Robstown" plan known as "Mighty Monday", selected the last Friday in the month as the preferred date and authorized naming of a committee to get the program underway this month.

President Rutherford named E. A. Butler, Glen Henry, Bill Demard and Roy Holly as the committee to work out the details.

The plan calls for each participating merchant to offer special bargains for the day and to participate in newspaper and circular advertising to carry the news of the bargains to all sections of the Rising Star trade territory and to adjoining communities.

President Rutherford emphasized the necessity of offering genuine bargains and in maintaining the program for at least a six month period in order to develop sufficient interest and response to keep it going of its momentum.

"If you are not going to support it with attractive offerings of merchandise, effective advertising and keep it going for a long enough period of time to really test it out, you had better not go into it," he said.

"The program is working at Robstown and I know it will work here if we really get behind it and give it a try."

The group voted unanimous approval and authorized beginning of the program this month.

Sec'y A. D. Jenkins reported that the Chamber of Commerce had spent $196.00 in supporting prices of livestock bought from Rising Star club boys and girls during the county livestock show auction last month. Most of this, he said, was raised from local contributions by George Steel and Cecil Shults, special committeemen.

The chamber of commerce buyers bought and resold 18 head of stock from club boys and girls at the show auction.

President Rutherford also named a committee consisting of Ira Hudler, Bob Shults, John Pruet and H. McDonald to supervise reconstruction of the Scout hut on C. ty park property. Mr. Hudler has donated the tile attend a meeting at San Antonio for the building, he said.

A group was also named to April 26 when details of a proposal by which REA financing may be secured for rural industry will be discussed.

Pecan Budding School at Cisco On April 17th

Pecan growers not only from Eastland but also from adjoining counties as well are welcome to attend the annual one-day pecan budding school of the agricultural committee of that city, said Myrick.

The affair will begin promptly at 9 a.m. in the college cafeteria, according to Myrick, whose organization, together with the Agricultural Extension Service, is sponsoring the affair in an attempt to help develop the pecan industry in the county and area. County Agricultural Agent J. M. Cooper will conduct lectures and demonstrations on budding, grafting, forcing the bud in growth, types and kinds of budwood and other features during the morning session. There is no charge for attending the school.

After lunch in the college cafeteria those attending will practice their skill on pecan trees in the Kent Word orchard, 3 miles south of Cisco in the Leon river bottom, said Myrick.

Cold storage pecan budwood of several of the new varieties such as the Choctaw, Wichita, Comanche and T-110 will be available for those desiring it. An entry of the T-110 variety from Eastland County took grand championship honors at the state pecan show held at Texas A&M College in January according to County Agent J. M. Cooper.

SPEAKING OF MONEY

Money is a very difficult and confusing subject. It complicates life while at the same time it simplifies it. That is why most people are so touchy with the subject. They try to dismiss the subject with a "money doesn't matter" attitude, or others have a "money is all that matters" attitude.

A boy or girl who is very well situated in the financial world may make him very special to some people. On the other hand, not everyone looks at that side. They look at the person as he really is. His money cannot make a college accept him if he doesn't live up to the standards set by other students.

There are people who do not know how to make friends. They like to have wealthy friends and try to bribe their way into their affections. Others try to buy friendship. Choose your good friends for their lovable qualities, not their bank balances.

Some people try to get the best-paying jobs. There are many important jobs in the low-paying field, and somebody has to do them. Work for self satisfaction as well as money. Many people pass up the advantages of a high salary for even greater rewards: Working at something they like and believe in, contributing to the world they live in — a true solid sense of accomplishment.

Almost everyone wishes to be the prince or princess with nothing to worry about. We find in our history books that they are not always happy. Happiness and health are not for sale.

When you were a small child you found a birthday check a very disappointing present. You considered it just a piece of paper. You did not understand that such a useless-looking object represented hours of work and effort. Now you are grown and the mystery of money still looms to those who have not found the solution to being at the mercy of price taggers — those who see everything in cold dollars and cents. The solution is to value money realistically. Money counts; along with many other things. Money is powerful. Money buys things you want but can never purchase the best things of life — they have no price.

BOBBY GUYNES

On September 20, 1943, an important event took place at Rising Star, Texas. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Guynes. They named the baby Bobby Gene Guynes. He later became known as Bobby.

Bobby has been a very active student while in high school. He has been a member of the Wildcat Band for four years. He has been active in FFA for all four years in high school, going to national in a land judging contest; a member of the farm skill team and the livestock team; and a sentinel in the FFA. He has played tennis for four years.

Bobby's hobbies are working on cars and going hunting. His favorite pastime is cruising around. Bobby's favorite TV Program is "Bonanza". His favorite colors are red and blue and the song is "Teen Queen." His favorite actor and actress are Elvis Presley and Dottie Stevens. The best movie he has seen was "Blue Hawaii". Now for the most important part, eating — steak, potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, with banana pudding for dessert.

For the future Bobby plans to attend a college in Colorado and then start farming.

Bobby has been a well-liked School. Good luck, Bobby, in your future endeavors.

JUNIOR NEWS

Hi there,

This has surely been a "blue" week around ole' R.S.H.S. The girls' basketball jackets came in last week end, and every time you turn around you see a blue streak going down the hall. 'Course, ole man weather had his hand in it, too. All this rain is enough to make anyone blue.

I know you folks thought English class was a study of grammar, didn't you? Well, it's not, no sir — not English III, anyway. We may be supposed to be studying gerunds, participles, infinitives, but Richard is more worried about what you see at an Indian dance, and somewhere, he got the idea there were Indians. Imagine!! Mike seems a little nervous lately; he has taken up clock watching — interesting, eh Mike? Also surprising!

I bet you wonder how we have time for clowning around during six weeks' test time. I would like to say we have reformed and no more midnight cramming for us, but I'm afraid we made a wrong decision. We always have time for fun, though.

I hate to tell you this, but some of our Junior girls just don't have it — "school sport", that is. We won't discuss the details; but its common gossip; eh Mary, Deana, and La Verne? That's it for this week.

Kay

UPWARD AND ONWARD

Since this is the last day of six weeks' tests, most of us are happy! By the way, there's only one more six weeks to go before we will have completed our tenth school term. Some of us are glad and others sad; but no matter how you look at it, we are getting old even at this young age!

The basketball girls have been all smiles since their jackets came in; they are very pretty and I'll compliment the seniors for their good taste.

L. B. and J. R. — How do you two always seem to miss on the same days? By the way L. B. hope you are enjoying your spring vacation.

W. V. — Sometimes I wonder whether or not Mrs. Claborn appreciates you in English.

L. P. and H. S. — We're going to have to get together on this business of talking together in our sleep. Imagine carrying on a gossip session in our sleep!

S. D. — How did you enjoy the Interscholastic Typing Meet? I like your new pick-up; although, it seems I've seen another one in town the same color.

FISH BAIT

We have really been enjoying the rainy weather; the moisture will help a lot. You farm boys have been walking around with big grins on your faces.

This week is six weeks' exam week again. They should not be too difficult if you have learned what you should have every day. Still, it will be necessary to review; let's don't forget our responsibilities, Fish.

Our Freshmen class would like to report the results of our Lake sale and thank everyone who helped us out. We wish to express special thanks to Higginbotham's for allowing us to have the sale in their place of business. We had very good results, making about forty dollars.

The Junior Track Team, made up of Freshman boys — Larry Weise, Donnie Fraley, Mark Walker, Terry Geye, James Cox, Frazier Clark, John Gerhardt, and Danny Wooley — placed first, racking up 65 points.

We want to thank all of you who purchased magazines from the band; it's your support that keeps us going.

It's back to work on six weeks' review, so until next week...
 Charlene

WITH THE FHA GIRLS

April 2-6 was National FHA Week; our chapter observed the week by doing several things: posters were made, one day all FHA members wore our colors, red and white, and we had a campaign selling cook books.

The cook books are very nice and useful; the chapter will use the money to pay the way of two lucky members who get to attend the State FHA Meeting. We are also going to sponsor a Mother-Daughter Tea at which time a style show will be presented by the girls.

The Freshman girls have progressed greatly since the last time we heard from them. Several of the girls have worn their dresses and they look very nice. Keep up the good work "fish". The second year girls had a very delicious meal — pork chops, gravy, hot rolls, waldorf salad! Better watch out, girls, we might eat too much. The Homemaking III girls have been studying and using the different types of table service.

Thanks to all the people who bought cook books from us!
 Sharon

GIRLS' SPORTS

As everyone knows by now, we won District in basketball.

Volleyball is now under way; Thursday, March 29, we played at Carbon and beat Carbon and Desdemona, which gave us District in volleyball also.

The girls are all looking forward to the Regional Tournament at Stephenville the week end of April 13th and 14th.

There are twelve girls on the team this year. The main six are Maria Geye, Shirley Hagerman, Phyllis Ford, Joan Hicks, Sherry Aaron, and Mary Awalt. These girls are all working hard and are getting ready for Regional.

Good Luck, girls!!
 Pat

BOYS SPORTS

How are the roadrunners? Wet! This comes from some of the track boys' experiments last week.

The 28-B District Track Meet was another victory for the Rising Star Wildcats with the total of two hundred and thirty-three points. The second place was a tie between Desdemona and Olden with only sixty-six points. The Wildcats set three new records: broad jump, high jump, and the one mile relay. This meet gave the boys a lot of experience, but it is over and we are looking ahead to the Regional Meet to be on April 14. The cats are working to set two records this Saturday: the one-mile relay and the four-hundred yard relay. They also look to qualify several individuals for the State Meet. Our coach, Lynn Davidson, is expecting this to be one of the most successful seasons in several years for the Cats. Coach still has a lump in his jaw and we are still running so I better close. Good luck Cats.

HIGGINBOTHAM'S

Goats Help Rising Star Civic Leader Build Ranch of 'Shinnery' Land

There's a sort of unwritten law around Rising Star that when a public project is to be put over you get Cecil Shults to do it. There have been very few public projects of any consequence developed in this community during the past 40 years or so in which this Rising Star native, businessman and rancher, has not had a hand. He's that sort of a fellow — a man who would stop in the middle of a John Deere tractor sale to get right-of-way for a city gas line, or sell debentures to build a hospital, or buy stock at a club boy auction sale, or do any other unpaid work if he thought it would help the community. If, as they say, the real work of a community is done by the three per cent of the people who can see their own welfare in the good of the whole, then Cecil Shults is one-third of that three per cent in Rising Star. Cecil began his business career in 1915 when he went to work for Higginbotham Bros. and Co. Rising Star store. In 1918 he went overseas with the 36th Division. He was one of 20 men of a company of 160 to come unscathed through the bloody fighting around Chateau Thierry and Verdun. He served all but two months of the war overseas. After his discharge he returned to Higginbotham's where he worked in the hardware department and had charge of the mortuary until 1925 when he went into business for himself. With the exception of the years between 1941 and 1945, he has been continuously in business since that time, first as a groceryman and then, beginning in 1945, as co-owner, with his son, Bob, of the Rising Star John Deere agency.

Father Who Saved Son From Icy Pond Receives Texas Rural Heroism Award

Dallas — A Knox County farmer who pulled his 7-year-old son from an ice-covered farm pond and saved his life with artificial respiration today received the Texas Rural Heroism Award. Alanzo (Al) Cartwright, who farms five miles from Munday in northwest Texas, was presented the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council plaque in ceremonies at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association. Bud Fichte, assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer and chairman of the Council awards committee, made the presentation.

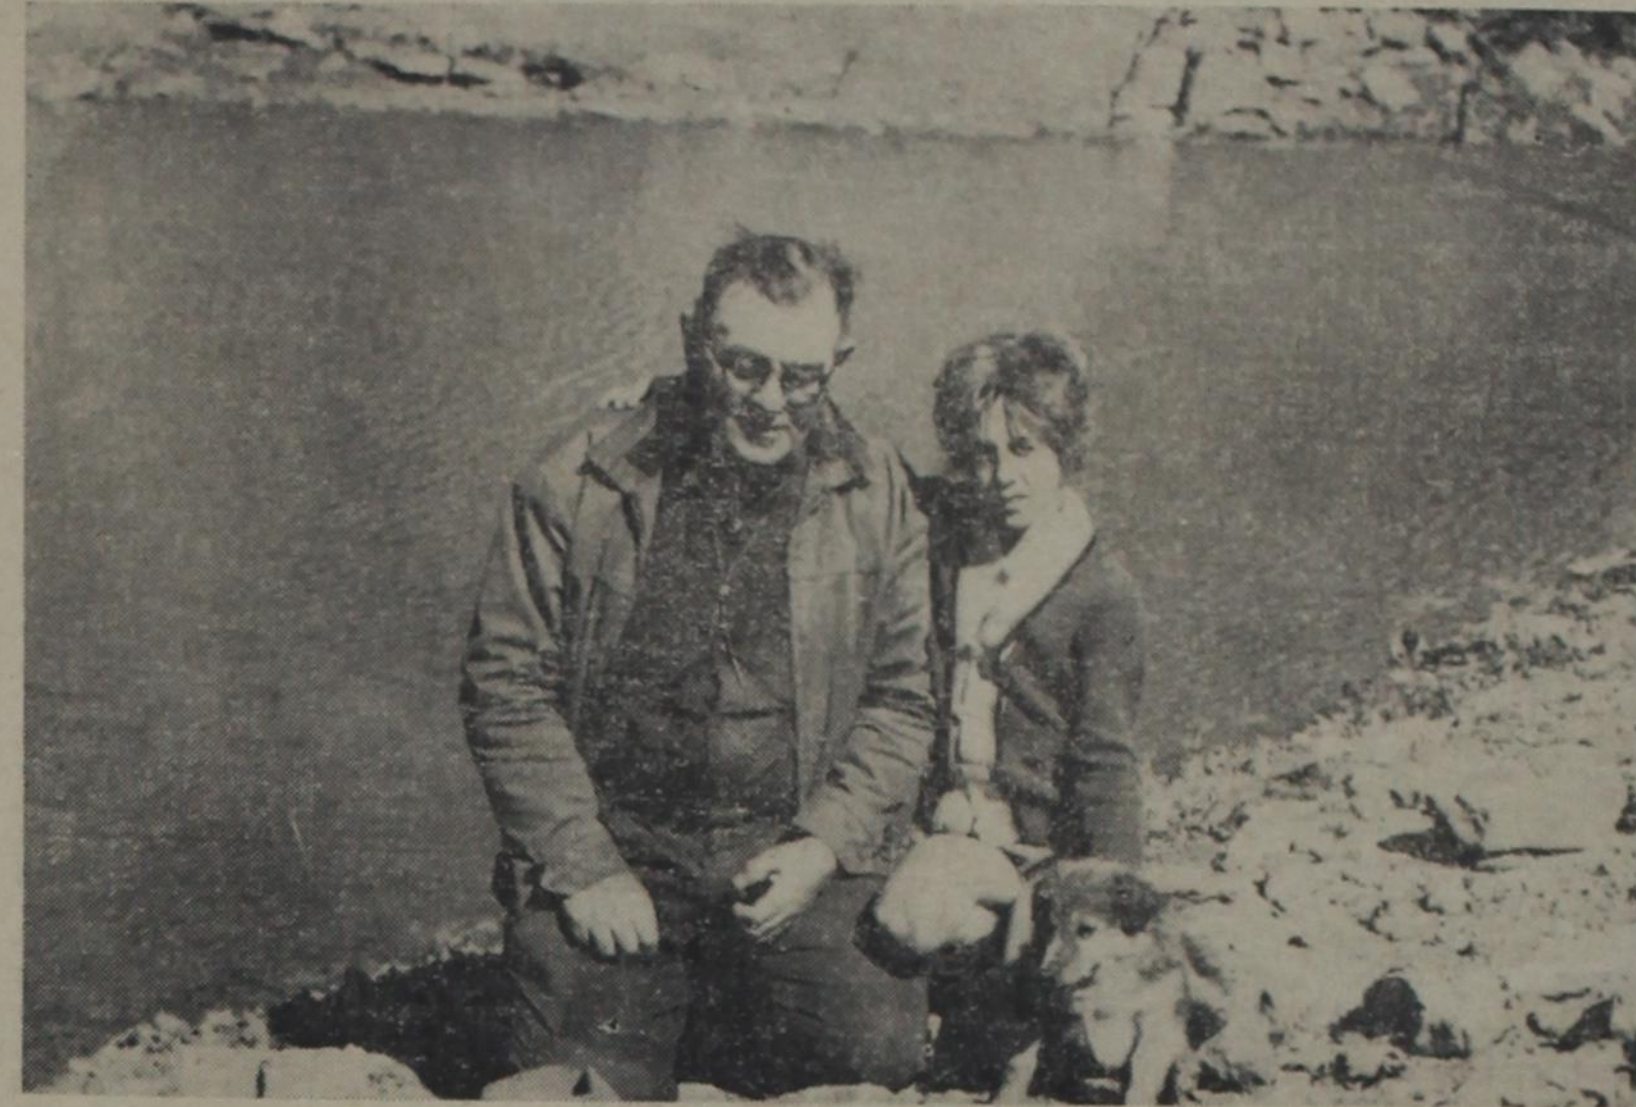

boots and heavy coveralls, then leaped into the icy water once more to pull the now-unconscious lad to safety. The father applied mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration until his son showed signs of life. Then, he drove the boy to Munday and a doctor. Dr. D. C. Eiland, who credited the father's quick actions with saving the boy's life, worked for about four hours on young Pat before the youngster regained consciousness. Pat was then taken to the Knox County hospital. He was released in three days after recovering from a slight case of pneumonia.

Calvin Pigg, farm director for PBAP, Fort Worth, and president of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, said there were 12 nominations from over the state for the third annual Rural Heroism Award. Cartwright received the award for the bravery he exhibited Jan. 27, 1961, in saving the life of his son, Pat. The elder Cartwright was mending fences when he heard screams from his son who had fallen through thin ice in a nearby stock tank. The boy tried to swim to shore, but was prevented from doing so by the ice which had formed in the sub-freezing temperatures.

Following the rescue, clothing on both Pat and his father, who was in a state of shock, was frozen and had to be cut away. Hospital attendants showed as much concern for the father as for his son since the elder Cartwright had previously undergone lung surgery. While serving in the Air Force, Cartwright volunteered for high pressure tests which resulted in 90 per cent collapse of one lung. Since then, one lung has collapsed once and the other twice.

Rushing to the boy's aid, Al Cartwright saw his son couldn't make it to shore, so he plunged into the icy, 20-foot deep water in an effort to rescue him. Prevented by heavy clothing from reaching his son, Cartwright returned to shore and shed his herd purchased at Paint Rock. The ranch has never been without a herd since then and Cecil credits goats with most of the reason for its success. Although there were quite a large number of hair goats in this country when he began the ranch, Cecil is one of the men who pioneered commercial herds.

Practically all of the land which the Shults purchased was "shinnery" land, covered with heavy oak and blackjack brush. Goats were ideal livestock for helping to clear this ground, but now that it has been converted to open pasture and grain fields, the animals do just as well on grass, said Cecil.

400 to 500 Goats Cecil and his son try to keep their herd at between 400 and 500 head, although they have run as high as 700.

"Five hundred goats will make as much on a given piece of land, as 700," said Cecil. At present a good Angora costs about $8 and it will gross about $7 in hair. With the kid crop, a nanny will normally pay for herself in two years, he said.

Biggest problems of the goat raiser are stomach worms and proper shelter especially after shearing time. "It isn't a wise policy to buy goats before you have enough shelter," said Mr. Shults. "Get the shelter first and then buy the goats and you'll be all right." Besides the goats, the Shults father and son now have about 70 mother cows and raise a nice crop of grade calves each year. "A lot of people thought we were fools when we paid $10 per acre for shinnery land," said Cecil. "But it paid off, even at the cost of $40 to $50 per acre for clearing it. Land now costs in the neighborhood of $100 per acre."

Married in 1921 Mrs. Shults is the former Ruby L. Lowry of Bronte, Texas, who was teaching school here when Cecil met her. They were married in 1921.

The Shults home place and son Bob's home are supplied with natural gas from a gas well on the ranch and water for domestic use comes from a 200-foot water well. It is soft water. Ten tanks and an eleventh in process supply ample stock water for the ranch and furnish plenty of good fishing, too. One, known as 'Bob's Folly', is a magnificent body of blue water, 20 feet deep, backing up for a quarter mile or more.

Even in a complete drouth, the Shults Ranch could supply ample water for its livestock for two years or more. The statement that Cecil's first interest is livestock raising needs amending. His real first interest, and that of Mrs. Shults, are two grandchildren, Mary and Bill, twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shults, who divide their time between their own home and the home of their grandparents. The two youngsters are developing a herd of cattle of their own, numbering now some 11 or 12 head, and running with the regular ranch herd.

First Interest

His first interest is goat and cattle raising. The Shults home, a rock veneer residence started in 1932 and completed in 1942, five miles north of town, is headquarters for a 1,500-acre ranch put together little by little over a period of more than 30 years. Practically all of it was undeveloped land bought in the rough.

It began with a 40-acre purchase in 1929. The next year an additional 80 acres was purchased — all at $10 per acre — and then Cecil started a program of Angora goats with a small

INCOME TAX EXEMPTIONS AND DEDUCTIONS

You are entitled to a $600 deduction on your income tax return for each exemption. If you are in an income bracket where you will have to pay a tax, this will result in a minimum reduction of your tax of $120.

The basic exemptions are those for the taxpayer and his spouse. You are entitled to one exemption each, plus an additional exemption of $600 for each of you who reaches the age of 65 during the taxable year or who is blind.

In addition to exemptions for you and your spouse, you may claim a $600 exemption for relatives who receive less than $600 gross income during a taxable year and who receive more than one-half of their support from you. Non-relatives also can constitute dependents which will entitle you to a dependency deduction.

tion where they satisfy the same rules, and when they live in your home.

Your child, if under 19 or a student, can be a dependent for which you will be entitled to an exemption, whether or not he or she earns in excess of $600 gross income, where you provide more than one-half of the actual cost of supporting the child. Amounts received by the student child as a scholarship are not counted.

The standard or optional deduction is available to you if you do not desire to itemize your personal deductions authorized by law such as real estate taxes, charitable contributions and medical expenses.

These personal deductions are deductions from a figure called Adjusted Gross Income. Adjusted gross income less exclusions, such as the sick pay exclusion, and deductions for business expenses and related items such as expenses incurred in connection with property which you hold for the production of rents or royalties.

The standard deduction is 10 per cent of this adjusted gross income figure up to a maximum deduction of $1000. It is a substitute method allowed as a mea-

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Insects have bothered man since the beginning of recorded history. They have stung him, bitten him, destroyed his home and his food and, even worse, carried germs that brought sickness and death. Entomologists report that they can identify some 10,000 "public enemy" insects that do $4 billion damage annually.

For thousands of years man probably did little but swat and squash the insects to defend himself against them, but by 1000 B.C. Homer was writing about sulphur as a fumigant. Since that time insecticides have steadily improved. One, DDT, sure of presumed personal deductions and is given to you whether or not you keep records of deductible expenses or pensers or actually have these expenses.

The determination of whether or not you should use the standard deduction should be made by comparing the net tax which you will pay under both methods of filing your return. The final method used should be based upon a consideration of the relative cost of filing under either method, the amount of personal deductions you have incurred and your ability to sustain the burden of proving the accuracy of your itemized deductions.

A general rule of thumb would indicate that you will pay less tax by itemizing your deductions where you own your own home and pay substantial real estate taxes and mortgage interest. However, there can definitely be other situations where the itemization method will benefit you taxwise.

was developed in 1942, and gave promise of providing the knockout punch against insect hordes. However, many insects, including flies, salt marsh mosquitoes, roaches, and lice quickly developed resistance to the chemical. Other insects including Mexican beetles, spider mites and many aphids were not affected by it.

Even today there is still only one sure defense against insects. A simple but complete program of community and home sanitation. Start this program at home by clearing the weeds from around the garage, stock ponds and fence corners. These are ideal breeding places for mosquitoes and flies.

Check your garbage cans for leaks and corrosion, replacing those that are worn or misshapen. Garbage cans should be washed weekly to keep them clean and dry.

Always replace the lid when depositing refuse. If the lid doesn't fit, fix it or get a new one.

Inspect the house and ground carefully for stagnant water catchers. Vases and flower pots inside the house are frequent offenders as are old tires, wood piles, tin cans empty jars in the yard.

Use a good residual spray on all stock and pet water troughs at least once a week.

Finally, repair or replace all worn or damaged screens and use a space spray or aerosol bomb to rid the house of flying pests, being particularly careful to cover foods and eating ware.

Take the precautions now and keep them up through the summer, and the fly and mosquito population will be the only loser. (A weekly feature from the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.)

Office Supplies at The Record

For District Clerk

ROY L. LANE

Over 6,000 Cases Processed During Roy Lane Tenure

To The Citizens And Voters Of Eastland County:

Due to the duties of the office of District Clerk, which you have heretofore entrusted to me, I have been unable to see all of you as of this date, and probably will not be able to see you before May 5th. Therefore, may I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to you for the honor of serving you in this important office, and I want to thank each of you personally for the trust that you have placed in me, and for the many courtesies and favors that you have extended me while serving as your District Clerk.

As most of you know, the duties of the District Clerk are many. He must be posted and familiar with the Rules of Practice and Procedure in all civil action, as well as criminal cases brought in the District Court of our county and the State of Texas. It is his duty to issue all process in connection with these cases, whether civil or criminal, and to record and keep all the records of and for the District Court, and to issue abstracts of judgment, to consider the solvency of various bonds and to approve or reject them. He is responsible for all moneys paid into the registry of the Court as Trust Funds and Child Support Funds, as well as moneys deposited as Court Costs, Fines, etc. There are many other duties that could be mentioned, but space will not permit.

When I first asked you for this important office, I told you that if elected I would render you the most efficient service possible. I have tried to make that promise good, and I welcome an investigation of my record, and when you have done this and considered the experience I have had, I hope you will help me again in this campaign.

During my tenure of office, we have filed and processed over six thousand cases, which exceeds by far, the number of cases filed and processed for the same length of time by my predecessors. I am proud of the fact that I have been able to handle these cases with one regular deputy to help me, and I am sure that you will agree, and appreciate the fact that we have saved the citizens of the county money by the manner in which we have handled this important work.

I am, indeed, thankful that in all the cases we have processed, the records will show that there has never been a single instance where a case has had to be continued, or that resulted in a mistrial due to an error on the part of your District Clerk's office, and I feel that this has been a tremendous saving in costs to the people.

The help and co-operation I have had from the attorneys has been wonderful, and since the most of our work in processing and handling cases is with the attorneys, I urge you to talk with them, not just one, but all of them, and determine for yourselves whether your District Clerk's office has been handled in an efficient manner and in accordance with the laws of our State. When you have done this, I believe that my record will speak for itself; that it will show that I am not only qualified to render you the kind of service that you are entitled to have, but have done so in a courteous and efficient manner.

I am sure that you have often heard it said, "Expect nothing from him who promises a great deal", therefore, I make you the one and only promise that I have ever made, and that is, to render the same economical, efficient and courteous service that I have in the past, if you see fit to re-elect me.

This is your office. It belongs to you, the citizens of Eastland County. I am your hired hand with a job to do, and I have tried to keep this in mind at all times. In the manner in which I have cared for this important office meets with your approval, I shall greatly appreciate another term, and I earnestly solicit your help during the remaining days of this campaign.

Again, I wish to thank each of you for the many courtesies, favors, the wonderful help that you have given me, and most of all the confidence you have placed in me. I hope that I may have your continued support and vote of confidence on May the 5th, and I trust that I shall ever merit the same.

Respectfully, Your District Clerk, Roy L. Lane

Working Students Are Covered By Income Tax

Working students got word today on how to fulfill their tax obligations to Uncle Sam from Arthur E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service here:

1. Students earning $600 or more during 1961 must file an income tax return, even if the student is claimed as a dependent by his parents.

2. Students with incomes of less than $600 during '61, and who have had income tax withheld, should file a return to get these taxes refunded. Usually, a Form 1040A will do the trick.

3. Single students filing a return should claim one exemption for himself, even if he is also claimed as a dependent by his parents.

4. In a community property state, such as Texas, the total combined income of husband and wife is considered one-half attributable to each. Thus, married persons, including students, may elect to file a joint return by combining their total incomes; or separate returns with each reporting exactly one-half of the combined income.

5. Married students filing joint returns and who are furnished their chief support by their parents cannot be claimed as dependents by their parents.

What a game to make of our most sacred and vital social relationship. APPLE PECAN ROLLS make a Good Breakfast Better

Their plumes of cinnamon and apple drifting through the house make these rolls warm persuaders for generous breakfasts.

They whip up appetites. Before you know it, the members of the family are eating—and enjoying—the sound breakfast essential to build quick energy for the morning's work.

These Apple Pecan Rolls are light and hot and love to drink up butter. Spicy with cinnamon, with a taffy-like topping, each bite is crunchy with nuts and tastes of apples. With good reason! The rolls unfold a thick filling of canned apple sauce and pecans blended with butter and brown sugar. And they stay so fresh and moist they can be made the afternoon before and just reheated in the morning.

1 package roll mix	1 3/4 cups canned apple sauce
2 tablespoons sugar	1/2 cup brown sugar
6 tablespoons butter or margarine	1/2 cup chopped pecans
	Cinnamon

Prepare roll mix according to directions on package, adding 2 tablespoons of sugar. Cover; let rise until double in bulk.

Add 2 tablespoons butter to apple sauce; cook 10 minutes to evaporate some of the liquid, stirring occasionally; cool. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter in 9"x9"x2" pan; add brown sugar and heat until melted.

Roll out dough to 17"x9"x1/2" rectangle; spread with cooled apple sauce, sprinkle with pecans and cinnamon; roll up jelly roll fashion. Slice in 1" slices. Arrange cut side up in pan on sugar mixture. Cover; let rise until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 20-25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 16 rolls.

Underground Gas Storage Built In Eastland County

Dallas — Lone Star Gas Company has started construction of a new underground natural gas storage project in Eastland County, Texas.

The underground reservoir is located in the Hill Lake field some seven miles north of Cisco. Lone Star engineers estimate the reservoir has a capacity of about 11 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

The Hill Lake project is included in the $2.3-million budgeted by Lone Star to reinforce the company's transmission system and implement utilization of its storage facilities in the West Texas area during 1962.

With addition of the Hill Lake facility, Lone Star will be in a position to purchase and store in West Central Texas some 50 million cubic feet of gas daily in excess of its customers' normal requirements during low demand days of the summer, a company official said.

The Hill Lake reservoir will give Lone Star a total storage capacity of about 70 billion cubic feet on its system in Texas.

Hill Lake is Lone Star's sixth field to be utilized in this important phase of maintaining ample, year-round gas supply for customers, the company spokesman said.

Gas stored in the Hill Lake reservoir will be available for use beginning the winter of 1963-64. The gas will be utilized in Lone Star's transmission pipeline system which now measures some 8,888 miles in length.

Two 1,100-horsepower compressors will be installed at the storage project to pump gas into the reservoir which has an average depth of approximately 3,600 feet.

Lone Star will transport the gas purchased from producers in the Abilene area and Eastland, Stephens, Erath and Palo Pinto Counties.

Natural gas injections are expected to begin sometime in June, the Lone Star spokesman said. The field will have five injection wells and five withdrawal wells.

Lone Star has two other storage reservoirs in the West Central Texas area. They are locat-

SCOTT BAILEY

Bailey Issues Statement For Legislator Post

Rep. Scott Bailey announced recently that he would be a candidate for a second term in the Texas House of Representatives. A native Texan and life-long Democrat, he was born and reared in Cisco and is well known in this part of Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bailey of Route 3, Cisco.

Bailey is a 31 year old veteran of the Korean Conflict having served for 16 months as an enlisted man in Korea. He was educated in the public schools of Cisco and Cisco Junior College. He holds a BS degree from North Texas State University, where he majored in education and government. Before his election to the Texas Legislature Bailey taught in high school and junior college. Bailey is a member of the Lions Club, as well as other veterans and civic groups. He has long been active in professional organizations of the teaching profession and a member of the University of Texas Ex-Students Ass'n.

As a first term member of the Texas House, Bailey holds membership and seniority on five important house committees. He is now serving on the committees: agriculture, banks and banking, education, game and fisheries, municipal and private corporations, and an interim committee to study school finance. Bailey has been the author and sponsor of Legislation of state-wide importance and the sponsor and co-sponsor of local legislation affecting this area of West Central Texas.

Bailey was the co-author of HB 24, the water pollution control bill and took an active part in the fight to get it enacted into law. Bailey voted for tax measures that he said he deemed to be the least punitive and discriminatory. He was on the losing side, however, and Texas now has one of the most burdensome and confusing tax laws in the United States, he said.

Bailey voted against final passage of House Bill 20 in the first called session. The Abilene Reporter News carried this vote and printed Bailey's objection to the bill. "You will recall that HB 20 as finally passed is the present sales tax and it also raised the fee on our driver's license and a number of other things that are too lengthy to mention," he said.

"I voted for legislation that would call for the removal of the unfair provisions of the 'so called' merit rating plan in the auto insurance law. I supported and worked for the passage of the school improvement bills. The past Legislature has done more to help the independent and common school district than has been done in the last ten years," Bailey said. "I also supported legislation to improve the status of our Senior Citizens and to aid unfortunate people who must have help from the State. I received recognition as a leader in the field of veterans legislation and I have always voted to give Women Equal Rights."

In making his announcement, Bailey said, "This office that I hold belongs to you, the people. You are entitled to have it exercised according to your will. If you see fit to return me to Austin, to speak for the people, I will continue to attend to the duties of this high office with dignity and decorum, remembering at all times that a public office is a public trust. I have at all times made my record public to those interested in good government, having sent the house daily journal to the high school libraries in the district so that anyone could see how I voted."

"I need your help as I am unable to pay for large newspaper ads or flood the U. S. mails with political material. I will continue to see the people and invite their support. I seek your support as a plain Democrat and if you nominate me to run on the Democratic ticket this fall, I will remain Democratic and try to carry your banner to victory in the general election. I will not switch over to the side of the opposition. I am bold enough to ask for your support and I appreciate
