

More Than 1,000 Persons Die In Rumanian Quake

Disaster Hits Huge Area In Balkan State

Earthquake Damages Coveted Oil Fields, Destroys Property

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 11 (AP)—The most disastrous earthquake in this kingdom's history killed between 1,000 and 2,000 persons and spread devastation across a 5,000-square-mile area yesterday and new tremors added to the catastrophe today.

In a few quivering seconds yesterday morning more of Rumania was laid in waste than would be destroyed in months of war.

Whole villages were erased. Blazing fires burned in Rumanian oil fields. Masses of buildings were leveled in Bucharest. Tens of millions of dollars of damage was done to property. Thousands of persons were injured and other thousands left homeless and terror-stricken.

Again at mid-morning today, earth tremors shook this capital, toppling balconies and adding to the death lists which grew steadily as communications were re-established with provinces where village after village reported fatalities yesterday.

Explosions and fires in the ruins of an apartment house where nearly 200 were entombed killed an undetermined number of iron guard rescue workers. Bursting gasoline tanks spat flames through the wreckage, sealing the fate of those trapped beneath and it was not known how many searchers had gone to their deaths.

While experts surveyed the damage to oil refineries and power plants, caused principally by toppling chimneys, geologists said the earth movements might have made Rumania a bone of war contention.

In some places, where oil never before had been found, gushers were spouting through fissures in the ground.

At Focani, near the epicenter, 70 per cent of the houses were leveled. There were 35,000 homeless and at least 22 dead. Hundreds of others were injured, many gravely, and still others were buried.

Tens of thousands of German soldiers quartered in the kingdom pitched in swiftly to help iron guardists, firemen, police and Rumanian troops in the rescue work, which was hampered seriously by broken communications, including almost complete suspension of rail traffic because of collapsed bridges and buckled tracks.

(Some neutral military observers considered the damage might constitute a stiff blow to possible German plans to move large numbers of troops through Rumania for a Balkan campaign. They also pointed out the damage to oil fields might slow down the flow of Rumanian oil to the Nazi military machine.)

The quake, whose epicenter was in Focani, a city of 50,000 in the eastern Carpathian foothills about 10 miles north of Bucharest, struck

Big Spring Airport Gets Recognition

The Big Spring municipal airport has been designated as one important to national defense, a status which will put it in line for federally financed improvements and perhaps result in a maximum class four CAA rating.

E. V. Spence, city manager, received notice of the designation here Monday.

A communication Monday said that "the Big Spring airport has been listed as the location certified as of importance for military purposes."

Previous projects and supporting documents may therefore be submitted for additional improvements, the letter continued. Only such work will be included as may reasonably be expected to be completed by June 30, 1940.

Spence conferred with Capt. M. Smith, regional airport engineer for CAA, in Fort Worth, over the week-end and was given assurances that improvements were contemplated here which would bring the port class four rating, the highest given by CAA. This being true, perhaps an additional 200 or 250 acres will be included in the port.

Senator Key Pittman Dies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The unexpected death of Senator Key Pittman (D-Miss.) gave post-election Washington a suddenly somber atmosphere today but some governments must go on mentioned as the most likely man to succeed him as head of the important senate foreign relations committee.

Pittman, one-time Klondike sourdough, member of the senate since 1915, and chairman of the foreign relations committee since 1933 died yesterday. He was stricken Monday, the eve of his re-election for a fifth term in the senate.

President Roosevelt, saying he was "shocked and deeply grieved," led those in the capital who expressed regret at the Nevada senator's death. Secretary of State Hull, with whom Pittman worked closely on matters of foreign affairs, said he was "grieved and distressed beyond measure." Colleagues and associates likewise voiced their sorrow.

With the turn of international events at such a critical stage, the question of Pittman's successor as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee immediately became a matter of moment.

Senator Pat Harrison (D-Miss.) was the ranking committee member, but for him to take the post would mean relinquishing chairmanship of the equally important senate finance committee. Harrison indicated promptly that he intended to retain his finance chairmanship and since no senator may head two committees—this decision made George the No. 1 man.

MAN WANTED FOR MIDLAND ATTACK

Officers in this area were searching for a 40-year-old man, described as being partly bald, wanted in Midland by Frank Manning, police chief, in connection with an attempted criminal attack.

Manning told police radio dispatch operators here that the man also was wanted in Odessa on an attack charge.

Greeks Rout Invaders On Entire Front

Disorderly Retreats By Italians Reported By Athens Officials

ATHENS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Italian invaders of Greece "have lost the battle in all sectors and are retreating in disorder toward Albania," the Greek radio declared today.

Thus the radio summarized a series of Greek successes which it said had been won in 16 days of bitter warfare, "despite the superiority of the Italian forces."

A smashing defeat of Italy's crack Alpine Centaur division—trained for a year in Albania for a lightning attack through the mountains—was said by the high command to have suffered a smashing defeat.

Large units of the division were annihilated, it said. Although the full extent of the reported Greek victory in the Pindus mountains still was not learned, reports indicated that a large proportion of the Italian Alpini were either killed or captured.

mountains in Greece—was reported meanwhile by the Greek high command which said large units of the division were annihilated.

Greece's Highland troops were said to have swept onto the offensive along the whole 100-mile fighting front, routed the Centaur division in the Pindus mountains, wiped out two fascist battalions along the Kalamas river on the Italian right flank, and crumbled the Italian left wing at Bombarde Koziza, in Albania.

Greek confidence grew apace as the first downpours of the four-month winter rainy season made slush of snow in the mountain passes, deepened the mud in the lowland roads and threatened to bog down mechanized war.

Principal gains claimed today by the high command were in the Pindus mountains, central section of the border battlefield, where the Italian Alpine division was trapped in an attempted drive toward Metsovo, northeast of Ioannina.

What was left of the division was reported retreating in disorder, leaving behind uncounted dead and almost all its equipment—even medical supplies.

To the west, toward the coast, where Italians started their first wedge into Epirus almost two weeks ago, the Greeks were said to have stopped another Italian attack over the week end, annihilated two battalions, and forced the invaders back under heavy artillery fire.

British Make Ready To Bury Former Leader

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Plans for a public memorial service—possibly in Westminster Abbey—were being arranged today for Neville Chamberlain who died Saturday amid the bomb-strewn wreckage of his dream for "peace in our time."

The tall, lean statesman who led Britain from the Munich appeasement through the first eight and one-half months of war with Germany resigned as prime minister May 10 after the British withdrawal from Norway and stepped from his last cabinet post little more than a month ago an exhausted, ill man.

He died at 5:30 p. m. Saturday (10:30 a. m. CST) at his Hampshire countryside estate where the grounds near his rambling, 16th century home have been peck-marked by Nazi bomb craters. He was 71.

At the wish of the family, his death was not announced until Sunday morning—after parishioners at the neighborhood church had prayed for his recovery.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth headed the list of many who sent private messages to the family. During his illness they recently spent an hour at his bedside.

Under a heading "He Served Britain," the Daily Mail said today "Neville Chamberlain will be remembered as a sincere, high-minded steadfast statesman. His successes and his failures all sprang from one abiding motive—to serve right in serving Britain."

British Down Roman Planes

Planes Parade Over Channel

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—British fighters bagged their first Italian planes over England—five bombers and three fighters—today, the government announced, as axis raiders roared across the coast in an Armistice Day air parade which set off five alarms in the capital.

Ten other invading planes, reported downed to 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST) by a ministry of information communique, were German.

The eight felled Italian planes, it said, were shot down by RAF Hurricanes "during an attempted attack on shipping" off the Thames estuary.

(The Rome newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia announced Saturday that a "tremendous air bombardment of England and her allies" would be launched by the Italian air force as an immediate reprisal for the killing of civilians in recently intensified British air raids on Italy.)

Nazis Claim Convoy Sunk

BERLIN, Nov. 11 (AP)—Annihilation of another British sea convoy by air attack was reported by authorized Nazi sources today but no details were divulged.

These sources also said a merchantman of about 3,000 tons also had been sunk about 300 miles off the west coast of Ireland.

(A British convoy of 60,000 tons, including 15 or 20 ships, was reported by the high command last week to have been destroyed by a Nazi surface raider and the Germans also claimed the sinking of a convoy containing 31,000 tons of shipping. The British, however, have disputed both these claims.)

(Recently, both Stuka-divers-bombers—planes and at least one surface raider, presumed to be either the Lutzow or Admiral Scheer 18,000-ton sister pocket battleship, have intensified German warfare against British shipping.)

MAN INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE MISHAP

John Glenn, weather bureau employe, suffered multiple abrasions Monday morning when he was thrown from his motorcycle as the machine got out of control.

The mishap occurred on the west highway near the Lakeview grocery.

He was taken to the Cowper clinic for treatment. The physician said his injuries were not serious.

Armistice Day Activities Center On Football Game

Short Holiday Parade Moves Through Town

Big Spring Band Leads Veterans And Cheer Groups

Big Spring pointed toward an afternoon football game today as the outstanding feature of an Armistice Day celebration.

More than 4,000 people were expected to look on as Big Spring and San Angelo, long time gridiron rivals, tangle in Steer stadium at 2 p. m.

A parade through the downtown district during the morning was staged after long delay. It was abbreviated when the San Angelo band, scheduled to arrive around 10 a. m., did not appear in time to participate in the procession. Finally, the march got underway at 10:50 a. m. over a nine block route.

Ending on the east side of the courthouse lawn, the parade was turned into a pre-game pep rally, followed by a brief patriotic ceremony in which the band played the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," followed by taps while the crowd faced westward for a minute of profound silence out of respect to the nation's honored war dead.

Then the band moved on to the Settler hotel for a mother short rally. The San Angelo band arrived soon after the parade had shoved off, 50 minutes behind the original schedule.

Headed by the highway patrol, the parade moved along with the Big Spring band following the colors. Behind the band were the Big Spring yell-leaders and a handful of high school students.

Then came J. B. Nell, American Legion post commander, and Capt. Tom Clay, who is pushing to enlist a national guard company here by Nov. 20. Next were the colors, trailed by Legionnaires, frocked 40-and-8 members, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Members of the San Angelo and Big Spring pep squads brought up the rear along with several decorated automobiles.

During the morning the Big Spring and San Angelo bands were to practice at Steer stadium for a combined stunt at half time in the afternoon game.

NEW BUDDIES JOIN VETERANS IN ARMISTICE OBSERVANCES

By The Associated Press New buddies marched with Texas World war veterans today, men as young, lithe and strong as were the veterans themselves 22 years ago on the first armistice.

These newcomers—national guardsmen called up for training in the regular army and registrants under the selective service act—drew places of honor in lines of parade.

Traditional observance of the day was modified in many places to commemorate the nation's new defense effort.

A blustery norther chilled outdoor observances in most of Texas. Galveston planned to give draftees seats of honor and introduce them at a national defense rally tonight, climax of a program featuring a day military parade and memorial services for World war dead.

Amarillo, where commemoration of Armistice Day opened last night with ex-service men participating in services at all churches, was the rallying point for several Panhandle legion delegations.

For a morning parade sponsors lined up bands from Plainview and Amarillo high schools, 400-odd draft registrants, and veterans.

The army put on a show at San Antonio with mechanized units of its Second Division allotted for the parade there, and exhibition of army equipment at Alamo stadium. A high point on the San Antonio program was the dedication of a cenotaph to Alamo heroes.

Special drills by the national guard were arranged at Beaumont, and every other city had its celebration.

Temperature Dips To Freezing Here

First general killing frost of the season went into the record books today as the mercury dipped to freezing and below on readings at the U. S. department of commerce weather bureau at the airport and the U. S. Experiment Farm thermometer north of the city.

Strong west winds, reaching a velocity estimated at 40 miles per hour, shifted to the north late Sunday and drop temperature readings from a maximum of 74.3 degrees to 32 degrees this morning, according to the weather bureau.

The experiment farm thermometer, located on the caprock rim, was down to 30 degrees. Both were by far the lowest readings of the season.

Forecast for the area showed continued cold in prospect for tonight, with warmer weather predicted for Tuesday. Sections of East Texas were in for sharp cold, according to the U. S. weather bureau outlook.

The frost fell almost on schedule, experiment farm records for a 40-year period revealed. Average date for the first killing frost is Nov. 30.

Previously, frosts in the northern part of the county had nipped foliage and killed leaves in some cotton fields. But the generous frost coating today was the first over all the county.

It was not expected to be particularly damaging since temperatures started rising steadily Monday under clear skies. Another frost, of more damaging proportions, was in prospect for tonight. Cotton stalks, however, it would clean stalks of leaves and be followed by either warm weather or clear, sharp weather to pop bolls open.

Steers Hold Slight Edge Over Bobcats In Betting Odds

A gridiron rivalry of long standing will be renewed at 2 o'clock this afternoon on Steer stadium when Big Spring's Steers entertain San Angelo's Bobcats.

Although San Angelo is placed in an underdog role by the district 3-AA leaders, Big Spring, Bobcat coach Harry Taylor let it be known that his boys were willing and ready to give Coach Pat Murphy's Longhorns a run for their money. Thus far in the season these lads from the brushy banks of the Concho have not shown any outstanding threat insofar as a touchdown punch is concerned, having fallen victim to Odessa, Midland, Sweetwater, and La Mesa.

Coach Taylor is basing some hope on Bobcat Back Chase to carry the ball against a Big Spring forward wall that has turned back every threat made by a conference foe in past engagements this year. Chase, 164-pound quarterback, has been able, on occasion, to give the opposition some unpleasant moments with pile-driving thrusts.

So far in the season, Cat plays have been run from a double wingback formation with an unbalanced line, varying the program with a modified punt formation. The Murphymen have been specializing in a spread maneuver that is a variation of the Notre Dame system. In regard to tactics used, both clubs have relied to a large extent on power plays to move into scoring position, although Big Spring has developed something of a passing attack. In the last couple of engagements, at this point, it appears that most of the play this afternoon will be hug-the-earth variety with Big Spring throwing in a dash of over-the-shoulder blitzkrieg.

Murphy will be without the services of his regular quarterback, Tabor Rowe, but has indicated his satisfaction with the manner in which Horace Bostick, tackle-regular halfback, has been handling signal-calling chores. Rowe has not been in uniform

Russian Envoy Goes To Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 11 (AP)—Soviet Russia's premier-foreign minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, sped toward Berlin today for discussions which some sections of the German press indicated might center on the problem of British-guaranteed Turkey, guardian of the Dardanelles.

The National Zeitung stated boldly last night, a short time after Molotov left Moscow by rail amid considerable ceremony, that the Turkish question lay within the scope of conference, scheduled to open early this week, perhaps tomorrow.

Molotov, accompanied by a staff of 33 experts on foreign affairs, internal affairs, commerce, aviation and industry, left Moscow at 6:40 p. m. (9:40 a. m. CST) yesterday.

Canadian Steamer Limpers Into London After Air Attack

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The steamship Empress of Japan has reached a United Kingdom port under her own steam but suffering "some damage" from an attack by enemy aircraft, the admiralty announced today.

A correspondent of Domes, Japanese news agency, aboard a Japanese liner-carrying Japanese from Britain, radioed his New York office Saturday that an SOS had been received from the Canadian Pacific Steamship company's fleet.

Negress Suffers Stabbing Wounds

Ethel Gatewood, negress, remained in a serious condition from stab wounds Monday, while police investigated an altercation in which she was wounded.

Given treatment at a local hospital Saturday midnight, she was removed to a place in the county section of the city.

Police took Annie Franklin, negress, into custody for questioning in connection with the stabbing. Ethel was stabbed in the back and faced a slash across her shoulder and was stabbed a second time in the back above the hip.

Congregation Gives A Surprise Shower For Pastor And His Bride

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran church entertained with a surprise shower Saturday night in honor of the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Theo Graalmann.

The Graalmanns were married here last June and are at home at 209 West 21st. Mrs. Graalmann is the former Gertrude Snider of Colorado City.

Guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Bertha Rueckart where they registered in the bride's book and then went to the Graalmann home.

The evening was spent in games and contests directed by Alma Rueckart, Stella and Pauline Schubert. During the middle of the evening, a knock was heard at the door and Pauline Schubert, dressed in a gypsy costume, entered and showed old fashioned clothing. Among these articles was a wedding dress of fifty years ago. In another suitcase she presented the gifts to the honored couple.

Refreshments were served and the guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Heckler, Mrs. G. W. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Paschall, Mrs. Walter Rueckart, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bynum, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pachall and family, Stella Schubert, Mildred Creath, Mrs. Bertha Rueckart, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Oppergard, Pauline Schubert, Mrs. A. S. Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

It's peculiar, the unimportant things that remain in your mind for years and the things that are worth while that elude your memory.

Like a jingle learned when you were small, two lines of a poem by an obscure poet.

The way your first party dress looked or a funny joke somebody told you a long time ago. With no trouble at all, these things can be remembered at a minute's notice.

But who was president, when history changing battles occurred, and facts about science, sociology and biology are slipped into the limb of forgotten things. When somebody pulls a question and you could flip back an intellectual answer, can you remember? No, your mind gives back a perfect blank.

Yet, you can produce such facts as the number of students enrolled in your school, the name of the professor who wore a hair net, the smell of the ground after rain, how you felt the first time somebody gave you a bunch of violets and millions of other trivial items. You can remember vividly the picture show you saw when you were four years old called "The Green Archer" and in a flash can give the details of the plot, the amount of money you earned at your first real job, and the percentage of answers in chain letters.

But heaven help you if someone asks a question requiring an answer in the number of feet in a mile, what 9 times 7 is, and who was the 16th president. The old mind goes into a stall and it takes plenty of figuring and a lot of brow wrinkling to arrive at the right answer.

Big-And-Rough Brewster County

Hankers For He-Man Visitors To Hot Tamale And Frijole County

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS

PERSIMMON GAP, Nov. 11 (AP)—Brewster, the biggest, roughest, toughest county in Texas, is hankering for visitors—he-men who can throw a diamond hitch and bounce into the hot tamale and frijole country of the Rio Grande on the hurricane deck of a bronc.

There's room for all comers—6,000 square miles of it. Right now every man in the county has a square mile to himself.

It's a lonely country, filled with the melancholy stillness of the desert; rocks, mountains, canyons, sheep and bawling whitefaced Herefords. Its people take things easy and draw "Howdy" to every stranger on the trail.

Folks in these parts want to keep Brewster county just that way, big, friendly, rough and tough—not tough in the sense of the old-time thumb-buster pistol, brass knuckles and bare fists—just rugged and untamed, as it was before the Comanches and Apaches were liquidated.

They want to slice off 788,000 acres down where the county makes that big bend in the Rio Grande and make it into the nation's 27th national park—Big Bend National park.

But they don't want a high-hat park with hotels and paved highways. They want a trail park, retaining the Texas frontier aspect and atmosphere, with food served from chuck wagons, wild horses and wide open spaces, where men can whoop and holler.

When they say Brewster county is big, they aren't fooling. It's five times larger than Rhode Island. From the Chisos mountains basin, in the geographical center of the proposed park area, it's 90 miles to Marathon, the nearest railroad; 121 miles to Alpine and 146 miles to Marfa—all in Brewster county.

The Big Bend park would begin here at Persimmon Gap and extend southward through a lot of oh-and-ah country of high peaks, desert and ranchland.

The tumbling Rio Grande splits the canyons, Santa Helena, Mariscal and Boquillas, three of the southwest's most beautiful natural gorges.

Through public subscription, a committee headed by Publisher Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth, has raised $150,000 to buy the land for the park. A campaign for $1,000,000 is scheduled to start in 1941.

M. R. Tillotson of Santa Fe, N. M., regional director of the National Park service, proposed that park workers build a western longhorn cattle ranch for visitors to romp over and "make the Big Bend unique among the national parks."

The people of Brewster county, who like a lot of elbow room anyway, cottoned to the idea.

Breakfast Given Here For Mary Nell Edwards In McAlister Home

A breakfast was given Monday morning at 9 o'clock honoring Mary Nell Edwards by Mrs. O. H. McAlister and daughter, De Alva, in their home. Miss Edwards is the bride-elect of C. H. (Toots) Mansfield whose marriage is to take place December 1st in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Edwards.

An all white theme was carried out in the breakfast table that was laid with a grass linen cloth and centered with a reflector. The reflector held figures of a bride and bridegroom and was surrounded with white ruffled paper. White mums were around the centerpiece and white tapers in crystal candelabra were at either end of the table.

Place cards were decorated with silver bells and favors were miniature bridesmaids dressed in net and groomsmen in long tailed coats. White mums tied with white ribbon were given to each guest.

Miss McAlister presented the honoree with a gift before the

Britain Plans New Offensive In Near East

LONDON, Nov. 11. (AP)—An informed British source declared today that Britain would strike at the axis forces in the Near East at the earliest possible moment.

This authority said that reinforcements must be sent swiftly to the Near East in preparation for "a fierce and protracted struggle" and that Egypt must be held "at all costs" because of its vital strategic position.

He estimated Italian strength in Libya, pointed toward Egypt and the Suez Canal, at 250,000 troops, plus a group of German technicians and tactical experts.

Commenting on the Near Eastern campaign, experts declared that Britain's position in the western desert was "immensely improved" with "better" armaments and defenses.

Looking 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

Weatherman has given his go-ahead signal as far as the weather is concerned, the coaches are ready, the fans are ready, and from here on out is up to the gladiators to decide just which club is the best, San Angelo's Bobcats or Big Spring's Steers.

It is a long trail that has no turning, and it is our opinion that the Steers have just about come to the conclusion that the district path through Big Spring is the place where they make that long-awaited turn. For one of the few times in a long series of conflicts between the lads from the banks of the Concho and the Herd, the former must take the back seat—at least before game time.

Odd as it may seem, in view of the unimpressive showing made by San Angelo in past engagements this season, Big Spring is rated just about even with the invaders of Steer stadium this afternoon. A long history of this West Texas classic records that when these two clubs meet it's every man for himself when the Cat and the Cow get together for a bit of a romp.

We have a correction to make regarding a story that appeared in Sunday's paper. Fororan was defeated by a Comanche six-man football team that refused to pay any attention whatsoever to the fact that it was supposed to lose to a Fororan crew that had piled up an outstanding record of wins in district 12. Comanche has been rather far down in the list of standings this season, but turned on the heat Friday and rolled over Fororan to the tune of 14 to 13.

Texas Aggies have shown their critics that it is not luck that has put them far in the forefront of Southwest conference aggregations, Saturday, according to what we have been told, the Cadets rolled over Southern Methodist in a style to warm the heart of an O' Army roofer and turn to ice water the followers of the Pony.

Last year A. and M. was denied billing in Pasadena's Rose Bowl. This year maybe the story will be a different one. If it isn't, there must be something to the idea of some ex-Aggies that the Maroon machine is not getting a fair break.

Aggies Bound For Rose Bowl Or Else

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Officially, there's only silence from the Texas Aggie football campin' ground.

Unofficially—but from the usual well informed, reliable, authoritative, unimpeachable, and trusted voices from the inner circle come whispers about as soft as an air raid alarm that it's the Rose Bowl or bust.

The robot machine that is the Aggie football team can't dare speak of such things as the California excursion. But you can tell every time Jarrin' John Kimbrough cracks off five yards that a statistician cuts that much off the mileage chart from College Station to Pasadena.

"No bowl talk around here," mutters Coach Homer Norton. "We have a quaint policy of playing the games as they appear on the schedule."

Such is true, and it has worked well. Eighteen straight have been ground under the Aggies' heels—the latest a very capable Southern Methodist team.

In the words of Madison Bell, a respected gentleman with a sincere ring to every word he utters and a man with experience after coaching since 1924 in the Southwest conference: "There hasn't been a better football team in this league since I started coaching. They really licked us."

Furthermore, Coach Bell and 27,000 fans who watched it, agree solemnly on another little matter: John Kimbrough is a fullback of great proportions.

But to clear John's good name and relieve him of liability, there is definitely not an iota of truth to the circulated rumor that he had the slightest thing to do with the collapse of the temporary bleachers during the S. M. U. game. He did not let the stands on that blast over right tackle.

But he did something else that shook the permanent concrete stadium. On one single sweep around right end, he felled and rendered unplayable two of the most rugged individuals on the Methodist club—blocking back Will Mullenweg and tailback Johnny Clement. Mullenweg compares favorably with a panzer tank. Clement confessed after the game he was "somewhere else for the next two periods."

It has become rather generally known that the Aggies do not plan a return trip to the Sugar Bowl. If it isn't the Rose Bowl, the game they grieved over missing last year, it will be Dallas' Cotton Bowl for them.

But next Saturday it is Rice Institute at College Station. And Rice, 'e it be known, is a rather salty eleven itself, having lost only to Tulane and defeated such teams as Texas, Louisiana State, Arkansas, Texas A. & L., and Centenary.

Lois Lutz, San Antonio girl, had a score of 1,566 to win the Class A all events title and one of 566 for the Class A singles. San Antonio five-member teams won the Class A and Class B events in their sections.

Houston, Dallas, Beaumont, and Galveston bowlers won most of the other events.

First and second place winners in their various classes included: Class B doubles: Cole and Reidler, Beaumont, 1006.

Class B singles: Valkenier, Houston, 570; Parkinson, Amarillo, 569.

Class A singles: Mann, Galveston, 510; Hayes, Dallas, 485.

Team events: Class D: Davoust Paint Co., Dallas, 2043; Elks Club, Wichita Falls.

Gridiron Grins

Georgia Tech was playing Howard college in Birmingham, in 1911. The field was short and there was no room to punt from behind the goal.

Backed up against their goal, the Howard punter had a bright idea: he decided to borrow 10 yards from Tech, so he would have room to kick. The Tech captain consented, the referee approved, the ball was moved in 10 yards and kicked out of danger.

Then, later in the game, Tech came in possession of the ball on Howard's 11-yard line and demanded immediate payment of the borrowed 10 yards. Howard didn't want to pay off in paydirt yardage, but Mister Referee said, yes. With 1 yard to go and 4 downs to make it, Tech came through with a touchdown!

Nation's Backs Paced By W. V. Footballer

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Jack Hunt, line-smashing fullback of little Marshall college in West Virginia, personally scored five touchdowns in his team's victory over Detroit Tech the past weekend to take over high individual scoring honors among the nation's footballers with a total of 114 points.

EOS UNIT TO MEET

Past matrons club of the Order of Eastern Star will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. B. F. Wills. Mrs. G. C. Graves is joining as co-hostess for the occasion.

Names in's names. Colorado's quarterback, Click, makes his play do just that. . . . When Fred Shook tackles 'em for Maury (Norfolk, Va.) high, they stay that way. . . . Halfback Quick of Franklin and Marshall is the fastest guy on the squad. . . . Thrust is the backfield threat of the Mansfield (Pa.) teachers. . . . And Romeo Popp pops 'em over for Mississippi U.

Short, short stories. The Phillips 66 Oilers, National A.A.U. champs and the Ohrbach A.A. metropolitan champs, kicked the lid off the basket ball season in the Garden two weeks from tonight. . . . Tulane players voted Boston College the best team they've played this year.

Today's guest star. Edward T. Murphy, N. Y. Sun: "As soon as Alva Bradley names the new Cleveland manager tomorrow, he'll sit back and await developments. . . . Some of the players ought to have their first batch of complaints in by Wednesday."

Spirits of the press. Tim Cohane, N. Y. World-Telegram: John Kimbrough is the toughest man to come out of Texas since the Lone Ranger. . . . And the fellow who some years ago offered Texas Christian an endowment if it would never play another football game, should come through with the first installment, at least.

Through wind and occasional rain, Demaret bored birds shots while Little vainly sought to make up for his failure to match Demaret's play in the first nine of yesterday's 36 holes.

Mythical Nat'l Title Hopefuls Shaping Up

Minn., Aggies, Cornell, Stanford Making Bids For Grid Recognition

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—It takes persistence as well as power to win recognition as champion in any of the big football conferences and as a contender for the mythical national title.

Minnesota's Golden Gophers, who might easily choose to rest on the laurels they won in successive one-point victories over Northwestern and Michigan, run into Purdue next. That should be a comparatively easy assignment, but the Boilermakers turned in a couple of good early-season performances and gave a tough Fordham team a real scrap last Saturday before going down 13-7.

Cornell, the east's ranking power, found Yale a stubbornly resisting opponent but won 21-0. This week it's Dartmouth. And although the Indians' record is fully as good as Yale's they won't give up without a struggle.

Stanford virtually clinched the Pacific Coast conference title when it came through in the last quarter to beat Washington 20-10. Still there's no assurance that Oregon State won't make trouble this week.

The mighty Texas Aggies could not be stopped by Southern Methodist, a previously unbeaten team. They won 19-7, and that only sent them on to meet Rice, 14-7 winner over Arkansas, loser only once in six starts and currently the No. 2 team in the Southwest conference.

In addition to the "big four" of the nation's list of unbeaten and untied "major" teams includes Boston College, Georgetown, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Hardin-Simmons. Michigan was the week's only important casualty and the Wolverines' 7-6 loss to Minnesota didn't take much away from their rating.

Penn State held to a 13-13 draw by Syracuse, Mississippi State and Texas Tech have been tied but not beaten.

Hardin-Simmons comes east to play Catholic University, 12-6 loser to the strong Tulsa team last week.

Michigan and Northwestern clash in the stadium under the Western conference with second place at stake. The winner will retain a chance of beating out Minnesota if the Gophers are as tired as they should be now.

Oklahoma, 13-0 winner over Kansas, and Missouri, which whipped Colorado 21-6, fight it out for second place in the Big Six. Kansas goes east to play George Washington while Kansas State, beat 20-13 by South Carolina, faced Iowa State, 7-6 winner over Drake.

Tennessee, after blasting Southwestern of Memphis 40-0, takes on a bigger "independent," Virginia, which beat Washington and Lee, 20-0.

Still hoping for the Texas Aggies to crack and give them a chance, Southern Methodist's Mustangs play Arkansas and Texas Christian meets Texas, victor over Baylor, 13-0. Baylor tackles the Missouri Valley conference leader, Tulsa and Texas Tech, the big "independent" risks its unbeaten record against two southern schools, Centenary today and Wake Forest Saturday.

Today's schedule in the state follows: District 1—Plainview at Amarillo, Pampa at Borger. District 2—Sweetwater at Big Spring, Sweetwater at Odessa. District 9—Breckenridge at Brownwood, Cisco at Ranger. District 11—Longview at Tyler, Marshall at Texarkana. District 12—Jacksonville at Henderson, Nacogdoches at Lufkin. All of these are conference games.

Crucial Card Scheduled For Schoolboy Gridirons

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
It's showdown week in Texas schoolboy football. Starting today the list of games reeks with important struggles, headed by Amarillo's battle with Plainview and Sherman's tussle with Paris.

These four teams are undefeated and untied and in the case of Sherman and Paris, the winner will become an overwhelming favorite to take the District 5 title.

Districts 2, 7 and 10 also have crucial games. Wichita Falls and Graham, tied for the District 2 leadership, battle it out at Wichita Falls Friday.

In District 7 Masonic Home's mighty mites, unscared on in seven games, play Arlington Heights, their Fort Worth rivals, Thursday night. These are the only undefeated teams in the conference race.

Corianna and Temple collide at Temple in the showdown battle of District 10. Tied for first place, the winner will be made a heavy favorite to capture the flag.

Longview's Lobos, rudely upset by Kilgore in District 11 when they seemed to be headed for a place in the play-off make their last stand against Tyler, the only undefeated, untied team remaining in the conference drive. Defeat for Tyler would shove Kilgore into first place. Kilgore is unbeaten but has been tied.

There comes word that Longview may have the services of Don Farnough, great Lobo back who was injured in the Kilgore game. Farnough received an injured collar bone and torn shoulder muscles but his physician says he may be able to play against Tyler.

At least two of the state's undefeated, untied teams will fall this week, cutting the list to ten. These have unscathed records: Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Paris, Sherman, Masonic Home, Stephenville, Lufkin, Jeff Davis (Houston), Kerrville, Corpus Christi and Harlingen.

Today's schedule in the state follows: District 1—Plainview at Amarillo, Pampa at Borger. District 2—Sweetwater at Big Spring, Sweetwater at Odessa. District 9—Breckenridge at Brownwood, Cisco at Ranger. District 11—Longview at Tyler, Marshall at Texarkana. District 12—Jacksonville at Henderson, Nacogdoches at Lufkin. All of these are conference games.

WAKE FOREST HEADS FOR LUBBOCK TUES.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Wake Forest Deacons, who came through unscathed in their 20 to 14 victory over N. C. State will leave tomorrow night for Lubbock, Texas, where they meet Texas Tech Saturday.

Coach D. C. (Peahead) Walker said he planned practice stops for the 30 squad members in Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday night and Dallas Thursday afternoon. A drill also will be held in Lubbock Friday afternoon.

Raiders Hold Edge Over Gents Today

LUBBOCK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Centenary's gallant Gentlemen were in the underdog role here today on the basis of records for their Armistice football clash with Texas Tech's Red Raiders, out for a sixth win of the year.

The Gents were pepped up by a recent victory over Washington University, but the Shreveport team's records for the season was two won in seven played and the raiders had won five, tied one.

Both squads were in good shape for the kickoff scheduled at 2:30 p. m.

Past meetings have seen Tech twice victor, 12-8, and 7-2. Last year the teams battled to a 0-0 tie.

Following their 61 to 14 rampage over the University of Miami here last week, the Raiders were rewarded with three days of rest, but they are now back on the field and with only one game in mind, that against Centenary here Monday.

Although the Gentlemen have won only two of their seven games this season, they do have a dangerous passing attack and promise plenty of trouble for the unbeaten Raiders.

The Tech offense is one of the best in the nation. Not only is it versatile but fifteen of the Red Raiders have scored one or more points since the season started. E. J. McKnight, senior right end, leads the Tech scoring parade with 34-points.

Treasury Seeks Billion Yearly In Added Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Treasury officials indicated today they were seeking about $1,000,000,000 of additional tax revenues from new levies on such items as soft drinks and securities and increased levies on individual income and corporate excess profits.

They said that, although Secretary Morgenthau already had committed the administration to seek more revenue from the next congress, no definite tax plan had yet been agreed upon. Congressional leaders probably will be consulted before any decisions are made.

Upward revision of the recently enacted excess profits tax was taken almost for granted by a number of treasury officials. From this revision alone, they hinted, the revenue possibilities run as high as $500,000,000, but probably less.

The corporate excess profits tax, together with the increased corporate income tax enacted with a few weeks ago, were said by some to necessitate a similar increase in individual income tax rates which might bring in upwards of $100,000,000 more taxes.

Many other tax sources, small in themselves but productive together, are being examined. Chief of these is a possible levy on soft drinks, possibly a half cent on nickel tops.

Barbecue As Prepared By Mrs. Ross A Favorite With Big Spring People Has Operated Eating Place Since 1929

Since October, 1929, Mrs. W. S. Ross has been providing Big Spring people with genuine, pit-cooked barbecue, although the Ross Bar-B-Q establishment has been at its present location, 904 E. 3rd, only two years last May.

Before opening up where she is now, Mrs. Ross owned and managed a cafe at 803 E. 3rd in which there were only four stools for customers in the beginning. Mrs. Ross' business expanded rapidly as she gained a reputation for her way of preparing barbecue. There are four tables and twelve counter places for the trade at the new location.

Barbecue, being strictly a south-western style of preparing meat, must be correctly cooked to give it a flavor that is particularly acceptable to people of this section of the United States. Barbecue was first introduced to Americans by the Mexicans. The early-day ranchos of Mexico covered so much territory that the men on the ranges were forced to eat many meals away from regularly established kitchens.

Tiring of jerked beef and other make-shift foods, these ranch hands devised a method whereby meat could be prepared with little trouble, yet be tasty. They would dig a pit, fill it with firewood and wait until nothing but glowing embers were left. Then, the pieces of beef or pork would be placed over the heat and basted with the juices that were produced as the meat simmered.

Mrs. Ross follows the exact method used by those chefs of the open range in fixing meats for her customers. She explains that the tangy flavor peculiar to true barbecue comes as the result of the constant stream of wood smoke that curls around the meat. Artificial flavorings can be easily detected by one who has an exact conception as to how barbecue should taste.

Chill is a specialty offered by Mrs. Ross in addition to her barbecued beef, pork, chicken and turkey. She can, on short notice, prepare any amount of food of this nature for those wanting to take home a supply.

Although tourists are an item of business at Ross' Bar-B-Q, bulk of the trade comes from local people. During summer months a larger volume of business is handled, but winter does not make too large a difference.

With the assistance of her daughter, Mrs. Lois Thompson, Mrs. Ross offers to the public a place in which the best of foods can be obtained in a pleasant and home-like atmosphere. Succulent slices of barbecued beef or pork plus home-made relish makes up a dish that has brought people back to try some more of Mrs. Ross' handiwork with a piece of meat, a pit and a pile of wood.

HOME OF FINE BARBECUE is the establishment operated at 904 East Third street by Mrs. W. S. Ross. Interior of the place is shown in the top photo, and pictured below is Mrs. Ross, who has been operating a cafe in Big Spring since 1929. Her specially prepared barbecue is much in demand. 30 Employed At B'Spring Laundry

Forty-three years ago, L. C. Holdslaw arrived from Beaumont, Tex., and established a little laundry at 121 W. 1st St., next to a Chinese laundry and today the large well-equipped Big Spring Laundry is still operating at the same location.

From the small beginning, the laundry now employs 23 girls and seven men in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Holdslaw, who own and manage the establishment.

Three trucks are now necessary for delivery and one-day service is featured. Articles sent before 11 o'clock in the morning are returned that night. As the bachelor's friend the laundry also will sew on buttons and mend socks.

The present building was erected in 1910 and is of brick and houses the most recent and modern equipment. There are seven rolling washers, 4 tumblers and a $15,000 flat work iron. According to those in charge, the business has grown from a $200 venture to a $100,000 business.

Also perfected by Holdslaw is a secret formula for bleaching clothes whiter. Other features of the work are mending torn articles and washing silk clothes by hand.

Most of the employees of the laundry have been with the establishment for many years with the longest having worked 18 years.

The Big Spring Laundry has the distinction of being the first steam laundry in Big Spring as when Holdslaw arrived here in 1897, a steam laundry was just something dreamed about. But Holdslaw, whose home state is North Carolina, worked his little laundry and chased out his Chinese competition.

At first, times were tough and flood, depression, and other business ills caused him to have to rent out the upstairs of his laundry where he also lived.

But persevering brought progress and his efficiently operated laundry is the result of his 42 years' effort.

Chamber Directors To Hold Meeting Tuesday

Chamber of commerce directors will meet Tuesday noon at the Settles hotel for their regular semi-monthly meeting. The parley was delayed from Monday due to the holiday. Important matters are to be discussed, foremost of which is a report from J. R. Greene, manager on the airline brief to be submitted by he and Ted Groehl, chamber president, in Washington Thursday.

PARLEY IS DELAYED

George Melear, president of the First Baptist Brotherhood, said today that the regular monthly meeting of the organization had been postponed until Nov. 18 due to the regular meeting date falling on Armistice Day.

Work on Independence hall was begun in 1732 but not completed until 1759.

Seiberling Tubes Are Chosen By The Army

The national defense program has given Shook Tire Co. something to talk about.

Recently the army placed an order for half a million dollars of Seiberling "bullet proof" inner-tubes.

The talking point is simply this, according to Charles Creighton, manager of the Shook Tire Co. in Big Spring: "The tube is the same as Seiberling's puncture proof tube with the exception that in the puncture proof tube, the cured and cemented rubber arrangement only extends around the driving surface."

"It is really the only honest-to-goodness puncture proof tube on the market," said Creighton, and went on to explain that Seiberling had paid three million dollars for patent rights on the tube which features a thick tube surface made of pockets of pliable gum held in position by narrow strips of cured rubber. Objects piercing the tube produce no problems since the hole is promptly sealed by the pliable gum.

Here the tube has been a particular favorite of ranchers and others who whip their automobiles over particularly rough terrain. A tire with that tube won't go down, said Creighton.

Also featured by the Shook Tire Co. now is the new Seiberling saw-tooth tread tire. Recent tests have shown it to have 10 per cent more wear than other Seiberling models, in addition to an "air-conditioning" feature which provides for air pockets on the side of the tread structure.

Creighton, raised on ranches in this area, is none the less familiar with tire business. He has been in it for years, and is a veteran Seiberling man.

In connection with the complete tire business, the unit offers complete automobile service. Merle Creighton, brother of Charles, operates the service unit of the business, known as Creighton Service Station. Charles explains the dual set-up by saying that to operate each division as it should be handled, it takes one man devoting his time to that particular part.

Guardsmen Offered Night Classes At Daniel Baker

Daniel Baker college at Brownwood will offer college work of standard credit to National Guardsmen stationed at Camp Bowie. The classes will be met at night and will not interfere in any way with the training program at Camp Bowie.

Many men in school at the present time will welcome this news that their college or university careers can be continued even while they are in the year's military training program. The classes are especially designed for those going into training at the Brownwood center. Any year of college work may be taken and the official curriculum will be announced after final approval is received from the War Department at Washington.

Daniel Baker College is offering the classes as a service to those in need of the work, and it is believed that many will take advantage of such an opportunity.

More information may be obtained by writing David E. Parks, 1201 Seventh Street, Brownwood, Tex.

Local Men Are Made Honorary Members Of Ector County Bar

ODESSA, Nov. 11 — District Judge Cecil C. Collings, District Attorney Martelle McDonald, both of Big Spring, and L. P. Boone, Midland, court reporter, have been made honorary members of the Ector County Bar association.

They were tendered this honor at a recent meeting of the unit at which routine and special matters were handled.

The association authorized the secretary to have prepared a large composite picture of all the members, including the honorary members, and to have it placed in the district courtroom at Odessa. Sketches introducing the individual members of the bar will appear from time to time in the press of the county and district.

Budget Bill To Be Sponsored In Legislature By Westex C. Of C.

A weekend announcement by the West Texas chamber of commerce told of the completion of its bill for introduction at the coming session of the legislature of Texas embodying the regional chamber's plan for reorganizing and modernizing the budgetary functions and the administrative machinery of the state government.

The bill will be introduced by Rep. Joe Humphrey of Abilene. Humphrey is known as a student of governmental practices, holding a master's degree from Southern Methodist university. He has made a close study of the WTCC program, in a statement, expressed the confident opinion that "this bill and plan supplies the whole answer to our present haphazard, makeshift and piecemeal system in fiscal affairs."

"We are ready to start firing," said J. S. Birdwell, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce. "Our program, carrying the bill, is set forth in detail in a pamphlet prepared by B. A. Handeen, our general manager, and Dr. Geo. C. Hester, head of the school of government in Southwestern university. The plan and procedure have been approved by our public expenditure commission headed by Judge Jas. D. Hamlin of Farwell. The pamphlet is ready for the printer and soon will be distributed from study by legislators, the taxpayers and all who are concerned over the problem and the need for gearing the structure of Texas government to the tempo of a modern world where efficiency is no longer excusable and may avert catastrophe."

Problem, Remedy, Benefits

The WTCC plan is a study of the state's management problem, offers a remedy, and recites benefits to accrue from its adoption. It says, as to the problem, that the state has property and investments worth hundreds of millions of dollars and spends annually around 175 million—"more than the cotton income from all the farms in Texas."

This largest business institution in Texas, consuming so much from Texans' income, is—says the WTCC—run without adequate financial plan or control and amid confusion of responsibility and management; without adequate accounting or auditing; without adequate information made available to the legislature, the policy-determining and appropriating branch; and with far too many agencies and departments (more than 10 at present) each independent of the other.

The West Texas chamber contends the remedy lies with the legislature. The bill drawn to meet the problem, to be introduced by Rep. Humphrey, provides for extensive supervision of state expenditures and receipts through definite, centralized control; for directed financial planning; for an adequate system of centralized purchasing of state supplies, materials and equipment. It provides a system of accounting control and independent auditing; coordination of the staff services of the state; a civil service system for employment of non-policy personnel on basis of merit and open competition. It consolidates the state's 100-odd agencies into not more than 15 departments, provides for the supply of complete information on administrative affairs to the legislature; and, in the whole, aims at the installation of a more business-like administration of affairs for the benefit of taxpayers.

SALES RECORD SET BY CHEVROLET IN OCTOBER

DETROIT, Nov. 11—It was stated today by W. E. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet, that Chevrolet dealers had sold at retail during October a total of 99,822 new passenger cars and trucks. This figure sets an all-time high: October sales record for the company and exceeds by 8,705 units the number of Chevrolets retailed in the comparable month of 1937, which was the highest previous October in the company's history. October sales represent a gain of 101 per cent over the same month last year and an increase of 112.3 per cent over the preceding month this year.

Mr. Holler further stated that used car sales likewise established a new all-time high October sales record in this important division of the business. A total of 146,165 used cars and trucks were sold which represents an advance of 13.0 per cent over the preceding month this year. Mr. Holler is holding a series of dealer meetings in every region in the United States and he reports that Chevrolet business is unusually good in every section of the country and that dealers everywhere are looking forward to one of the biggest years in the company's long history.

OCTOBER SALES OF PONTIAC AT A RECORD HIGH

More Pontiac cars were delivered at retail during October than in any previous month in the company's history, according to D. U. Bathrick, general sales manager. The October sales figure was 27,217 cars which was 86 per cent above September and 61.9 per cent above October of 1939.

Production managers are making every effort to increase the factory output and for the second month this season the plants will operate at capacity.

Since the beginning of the 1941 model production Pontiac has built 33,251 cars up to Nov. 1, which is greater than any corresponding first three months of model production in the company's history and is 40 per cent above the entire model production for the year 1932.

This is Armistice Day. Like all of our great holidays, we have succeeded pretty well in converting it into a day of celebration and festivity, with little time left to refresh our forgetful minds on its significance.

at 3:29 a. m. (7:39 p. m. Saturday, C.S.T.)

Focsani and Galati, a city of 102,000 population on the Danube, were believed to have been the worst hit cities.

Bucharest's newest and most modern apartment building, a 10-story structure, collapsed at the very beginning of the quake and officials estimated 300 men, women and children were trapped in the wreckage.

The United States legation said a hasty check disclosed no Americans among the casualties of the quake thus far.

Ploesti, an important oil center nearer the capital, also was hard hit, while hundreds of roads and large buildings collapsed in Brasov, historic German Transylvanian city, killing some and injuring a great many.

MOSCOW, Nov. 11. (CP)—Earth tremors, the strongest ever recorded in Moscow, were reported today to have damaged some southern Russian cities yesterday, particularly Kiev and Odessa.

Striking at the same time as the tremors which devastated thousands of buildings in Rumania, the earthquake awakened many persons here and cracked the walls of some buildings, but did no serious damage, the Seismological Institute announced. No casualties were reported.

Stronger shocks were felt in the southern cities.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(This daily feature, conducted by DeWitt MacKenzie, is being written by Fred Vanderschmidt while MacKenzie is taking a brief vacation.)

By the irony of coincidence, Neville Chamberlain died on a day when Germany, which he tried to appease, and Soviet Russia, which he disliked and miscalculated, chose to make it known that they are continuing to collaborate to the detriment of British besieged.

Today Soviet Premier Molotov is traveling to Berlin. There he will see Adolf Hitler and, while it is possible that the two men will meet and talk with a certain wariness, nothing very good for Britain can be expected to come out of their conference.

Hitler may try to make an arrangement, secret or otherwise, whereby Russia will ease influence to swing Turkey away from the British alliance and into the axis camp. In return, Hitler may allot to the U. S. S. R. her sphere of interest in the so-called new order setup, on paper, by the "one for all and all for one" alliance of Germany, Italy and Japan.

This "sphere" might embrace Iran, which is squarely on the Soviet southwestern frontier and which is a country with very great oil wealth. This oil wealth has been under Great Britain's thumb.

Of course it is by no means certain that Russia will want to go that far; the Germans, indeed, are careful to say that nothing sensational must be looked for.

Many Englishmen believed right along that Chamberlain's mistake in trying to appease Hitler was equalled by his inability to understand or estimate Russia.

He distrusted the Soviet union but, unlike his predecessor, Stanley Baldwin, he did not seem to fear the Russians; actually, he derided them.

I heard him say, at Lady Astor's luncheon table, that the thought the red army would be no good for a long time because all its higher officers had been shot. That statement, somewhat incredible now, was made in the spring of 1938, on the occasion of Chamberlain's first and last attempt to "appease" the American press.

It is true that when he settled Chamberlain did see the wisdom of having Russia on his side. But he bungled the attempt to reach a military alliance with Russia, alienated the Kremlin even more completely than before by dispatching an unknown negotiator to Moscow, and confirmed in the Russian mind the belief that he was trying to push the Soviet union into a lonely war with Germany, by quibbling over such matters as a definition of "indirect aggression."

The bombs beat out a requiem to Chamberlain's own heart-broken epithet, spoken on the day he declared war: "Everything I had worked for, hoped for and believed in during my public life has crashed into ruins."

I'd rather remember Chamberlain as he was the day I saw him in Munich, when he rode through the warm rain from Hitler's apartment, grasping the little piece of paper which said the British and German people were determined never to fight each other again.

I am sure that for a little while, as the old man tilted his long German cigar and his old eyes gleamed with triumph, he believed he had saved "peace in our time."

since the defeat by Plainview, at which time he received a foot injury. Expected to be back in the lineup after being out of last week's show because of an injured shoulder, is Samuel Nations, starting left end. Ready to fill in for Nations is Jack Graves, pass-catcher from last year.

As in games past, Fullback Pete Presley will likely be given most running assignments in the clutch. Presley has piled up an impressive record for pounding through opponents' defensive works and, since he is in top physical condition, will probably deliver his usual jarring drives.

Featured in the contest will be two lines that are considered the most massive in the conference. Steer forwards are billed to have more speed than the San Angelenos but are touted to be equally matched in ability to stop a center-line crash.

In former years San Angelo has had a habit of letting Big Spring take the lead and then coming from behind to either tie or win. In 1937 Big Spring stunned a superior Bobcat team with an early touchdown, only to lose 14-6. In the first of two games played the following year, Big Spring befuddled the Bobcats with two quick touchdowns, then fooled away the game 14-12.

Last year, after commanding the situation all the way, the Steers had a two minute lapse, but in that time San Angelo tied the count 13-13. Three times the schools have played scoreless ties, and deadlocked on two other occasions. Big Spring has won only once, a 14-6 victory in 1934, the year the Steers went to the state quarter finals.

Evidence of intense rivalry between Big Spring and San Angelo on the gridiron, regardless of relative strength, is shown by the record of scores since 1928:

Year	Big Spring	San Angelo
1934	6	14
1935	9	6
1936	14	6
1937	14	14
1938	14	12
1939	13	13
1940	13	13

*Two games were played in 1938.

Here 'n' There

This is news, for the parade today is one that Burke Summers didn't have any part in planning or staging. For several years now, Burke has been dished up the unenviable job of promoting, organizing and marshaling all manner of parades here from rodeo to Santa Claus.

Down at Brownwood, they tell us, things are up in an uproar. A 10,000 barrel gusher right under the courthouse couldn't have stirred up as much excitement and boom as has the work surrounding establishment of a national guard camp for thousands of men. Payroll for a week, reported a few days ago amounted to $210,000 to 7,200 persons at Camp Bowie (Brownwood). The week before that it was only $50,000. Reflecting this activity, resulting in more than 300 frame structures and over 1,000 tent frames, was a 64 per cent rise in postal receipts—$8,225.86. Rents—when you get a chance to pay them—are reported up in about the same proportion. But construction is due to be over soon.

E. H. Josey is particularly over his new line of paints and varnishes at the Big Spring Lumber Co., 1110 Gregg. He is now handling a complete line of Dupont paints. In addition the company has made available loan services for new building and remodeling work.

Bill Elliott, the western movie star who made a personal appearance here Saturday, looked in vain Saturday for a paint pony to match one he uses in his picture work at Hollywood. He viewed many horses, including the champion Palomino of Lane Hudson's, but he couldn't find the steed he wanted. But he was more fortunate on being fitted for boots. George Friday came over from Midland to do the job up well.

Keep your money in your pockets, boys, if you are going heavy on points against San Angelo in the classic grid contest today. Five times out of the last 10 games, the two teams have fought to ties, three of them scoreless, one a 6-6 draw and the other a 13-13 deadlock last year. In all that time, with the exception of 1932 when San Angelo had a powerhouse and Big Spring virtually nothing, not more than one touchdown has separated the two teams. And more than that, in 12 games in recent years, Big Spring has won only once, that a 14-6 triumph in 1934. The Steers have yet to win one on their home field. Back in the dim ages, Big Spring tumbled the Bobcats here, 2-0.

Schoolboy Patrol To Start Tuesday

Twenty-four school boys will begin the schoolboy patrol Tuesday morning at street intersections near the high school and school authorities have put in a plea for cooperation from motorists.

The boys, who as yet have no belts or other insignia of the patrol, will not be directing traffic but with a red flag on a standard will direct passage of the students across the streets.

The school patrol which has successfully cut the number of students injured during school hours in other cities where it has been tried, is designed to keep down traffic hazards.

OPEN SEASON!

"A-hunting we will go!" Hunting jackets are coming down from attic pegs. Shotguns are being oiled lovingly. And Brer Rabbit, Brer Squirrel, Brer Fox and Brer Bear are busy hunting holes. Open season is here.

It's also open season, now, for value-hunters. Stores are stocking shelves for Christmas—and there are a lot of tempting clearances. Shirt sales are on the wing. Housefurnishings provide a fine target for modest purses. Linen for Thanksgiving may be needed. And Christmas shopping is just around the corner.

The advertisements in this newspaper are the best weapons for a value-hunter. They tell you where the game is thick and plentiful. They save you steps, and help make certain that your purchases are products of quality built to give lasting satisfaction. It will pay you to read them every day.

Painters, home owners praise this new DuPont House Paint

It's brilliantly white... tough... durable! Du Pont House Paint keeps houses beautiful because it stays cleaner! Here's why—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the film are not abnormally affected. Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between repaintings. Remember: Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!
