RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN TEACHER AND STUDENT ON BEING AN UPPER CLASSMAN

The relationship between a teacher and the students is very important in the welfare of the school. A student must feel no resentment toward the teacher just because he must enforce certain rules which the student does not approve. The student and the teacher must be friends, but respect must also be retained, for the teacher must meet certain responsibilities. Mutual understanding must be maintained at all times.

A feeling of trust must also be felt between the student and the teacher for if a student does not or cannot trust a teacher, he will not confide in him, and the teacher cannot get to the root of the trouble.

A teacher should also understand the student and the time in which he lives. There have been many changes since the time the teacher was a teen-ager. There are many things which are hard for students to accept, but they must be given credit for trying. The student, however, must realize that the teacher is older and usually wiser and is trying to prepare him for future life. Due credit must be given to the teacher; and I want to thank all the teachers for all their kindness, help, and advice that they have given me in my four years at R.S.H.S.

Colleen White, Editor

An upper classman may be a sophomore, junior, or senior. He has passed through the first stage of his academic development in the public school system. He is no longer regarded as a "fish." His skills have been tried in many varied and diversified subjects. In some of these he excelled. Perhaps in others he failed. Now he regards the past as something dead and forgotten. He looks ahead to new horizons and strives again. The greatest lesson he has learned is that he is human. Mistakes are inevitable; however, they do not have to prevail. Willingness and a strong desire to learn are the most important parts of gaining a complete education. An upper classman owes it to himself to attempt the development of his intelligence to its highest potential. The upper classman must never forget the students struggling in his wake. By aiding and helping them, he helps himself.

The student who is nearing the end of the line in high school should note the powerful driving spirit of the freshmen as they strike out with zest in the quest for knowledge. He must realize that this same characteristic is latent in his own being. The easiest way to make a long haul shorter is to look at it as if it had just begun. The upper classman is a maturing adult on the brink of discovering just what life is all about. The upper classman who has learned that now is the most important time of his life is a mile ahead of his compatriots. By working and studying now, tomorrow will be as Indian summer to a freezing Eskimo!

"TO MAKE THE BEST BETTER"

On Friday and Thursday of last week, classes were interrupted many times during the two days. Pictures were being made for the annual so classes were not too much of a grind. But starting Monday it will be full speed ahead, all over again. We are half way through the first six weeks, and soon it will be report card time.

C. S., has Tiny Tim escaped from your locker? I thought I saw him tripping through the tulips on the football field. Or maybe it was just D. H. working out. Better check on it. Hummm.

M. C., does 10 plus 8 really equal 16 or did Tiny Tim just stomp one of your rah rahs thinking it might be a tulip? Better count again when your toes heal.

Monday of this week Colleen White was elected Miss Rising Star. Congratulations, Colleen.

At the pep rally last Friday the juniors bubbled over with school spirit. They won the "Spirit Jug" for the second time because of their school spirit. Just you wait, juniors, this Friday we are going to be so full of school spirit, we are going to bubble, steam, and burst with it. (So just sit on the back row and listen to us "sock it to 'em.")

Until next week, siz, siz, bulb, bulb, sh, sh, pow, pow, yah Wildcats!!! Boys we are backing you all the way.

Patty

P. S. Dat, are you really a pretty boy?

JUNIOR NEWS

School has become a regular routine now for the juniors. We have settled into a definite pattern as classes steadily continue.

We all sympathize with those who have bought a cup of air from the coke machine, lost a dime in the candy machine, or whose home room door became stuck and the students missed activity. Do not give up; things could be worse, you know.

Pictures have been made. A few are eager to see the results, but others are willing to wait because they probably feel that their pictures resemble a chap named Tiny Tim. Could it be that they forgot to comb their hair?

History class seems to be entertaining to some. Did D. M.'s pet snake amuse you, K. P. and B. M.? Did it frighten M. S.?

If you happen to notice a weird looking object rolling down the hall, please do not run. It does not contain little green men! Just calmly pick it up and return it to the door that has a doorknob missing!

We have two very efficient exercise leaders in 7th period P. E. Of course, they are juniors. Could it be that they like to exercise? S. C. and J. C. enjoy making us groan!

Since Friday a few cars seem to have something new added! Would you believe red velvet carpeting and feather-filled seats? No? Well then, how about push-button windows and padded dash? The answer is still no. Well the truth is, they just have a new paint job! With white shoe polish at that! L. B., what does "Man, this is ridiculous!" mean?

The mighty juniors have done it again! We claim the "Spirit Jug" for another week. But we must admit we had a "little" competition this time! We had some great judges! Thanks, Mrs. C., Mrs. N., and Mrs. D.* People are beginning to wonder why we want that jug so badly! They will never find out if we have anything to do with it! Keep up the good work "Jyrating Juniors."

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Hi! It is your sweet, loveable reporter, writing for the home-making classes again!

The F. H. A. President, Barbara Hollis, opened our first meeting of the year on September 18, 1968. The officers and members were welcomed. Then we sang our F. H. A. prayer. At the meeting we elected our F. H. A. Beau - a senior, Tom Perkins. See, Tom! It always pays off when girls are boys' best friends! ? ! ? Congratulations, Tom!

The question of making money was brought up. There were some good suggestions made. One was having a bake sale, which will be October 5, starting at 9:00 a. m. The sales will not only consist of cakes but also pies, cookies and brownies. The cakes will sell according to size. The sale will be at Higginbotham's and Agnew's. So everyone come and buy something. You know if Tiny Tim likes our cooking, you will love it!!

Later we planned our F. H. A. float for the homecoming parade. The ones who are to ride in the parade are Joy, Shelia, Betty Kizer, Judy Benson, Paula, Donna, Martha, Pricilla and Carol Owen.

Carol Stroebel, working for her Junior degree, wrote up our constitution, which she read.

After we finished our meeting, Cynthia Hounsel, our song leader, led us in group singing.

For all of you cooks who saw tiny footprints in the sugar and flour bowl, do not worry, for it was Tiny Tim, who thought he was tip-toeing through the tulips.

Sheila

"THERE IS ROOM AT THE TOP"

Hi, gang! Long time no see! We sophs are just about as busy as ever. We have nearly decided on a money making project; so beware; watch out for sophomores trying to sell good products at a very low, reasonable cost. Trick yourself into helping a bunch of good (?) kids. Give your money to a worthy cause - SENIORS '71!!!

The coronation, homecoming and presidential elections are coming up. Sophomores are anxiously awaiting all of these.

As I gaze into my big, old, shiny, round, clear crystal ball I see more hippie chains, love beads, and necklaces showing up every day. D. C., I did not know boys wore necklaces!

Careers are the subject of our stories in English II. Even though you may run into hardships along the road to success, it is full of rewards.

In biology cell metabolism is being thrown around daily, and cell growth is waiting to make its entry soon.

A lot of people around R.S. H.S. are making fun of a poor, sweet, innocent, lovable, kind-hearted soul, and IN want to set the record straight. Tiny Tim is just as good as anybody else! Looks are not everything.

We have finished variables and have started on ions, equations, and problem solving. I think.

It is all Greek to us, as we study about the Greek civilization in world history.

Atta boy, Luther!

Caution: cigarette smoking is hazardous to your health. We have seen more interesting films and done some shocking experiments in health that proves this. Watch it, Leroy!

Keep those cards and letters coming in, folks.

See you next week,
C. S.

"WILLING TO LEARN"

The freshman class has taken up their first money making project. We are selling magazines. We started this project Monday, and we hope to raise a lot of money for our class. The first day forty-three dollars was collected. If you need any magazines, please call on a freshman.

The "fish" are now getting down to busy homework. We are getting tests in all subjects. It's tough!

One day not long ago the whole class was busy studying. Suddenly we were interrupted by a loud "thud"! When we recovered from the loud noise, they spotted M. J. K. on the floor very neatly covered with her books. Somehow M. J. K. had managed to turn her desk over. That is Jane!

About the seniors, you know what? They are plum scared of us "Fish"! !

Bye,
Cynthia

"LEARNING TO DO"

Hello again.

After the F. F. A. meeting last week and all business was taken care of, we went back to studying. This week we are studying plants that are grown in Texas (and a few we think that are not). The Farmers are selling magazines this week and also next week for individual prizes. The Farmers have about seventy different magazines to choose from.

DO-RE-MI

Hi!
We hope you enjoyed our performance at the football game Friday night. We practiced marching Thursday evening from 7:00 till 9:00 so that we could give a good half-time show. Have you noticed that we have new band caps this year? We like them really well.

We are happy to welcome Wayne Miles, Nathan Martin, Donald Martin, Karen Stuart, and Gwenda Mitchell to the band. Now we have 35 members.

An alto sax has been purchased and will be played by some member of the band.

Billie White is struggling to carry the baritone sax down the football field.

Till next week,

CHICKS WITH THE CHEERS

Go Cats Go!! That was what the crowd was saying last Friday night against the Mountaineers of Santa Anna.

The Cats showed up well and everyone was proud of them!

We will be open this week but will play Gorman for homecoming here next week. Let's Win, Cats! !

LIBRARY NEWS

There have been 25 new books put into the library, and $350 worth of new library books will be coming in within the week.

Two librarians have been replaced, and Janet Ezzell is librarian two periods now. Donald Martin, former library reporter, joined band and is unable to help in the library the first period.

Mr. George Carter was admitted to Mims Hospital at Comanche on Monday, Sept. 23 and at this writing he is still there. I know he would enjoy hearing from his friends by way of a card or letter. Miss Mattie Joiner is back with us and is on the road to recovery.

Our senior citizens had a lot of company the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hixon of Oklahoma City have been visiting with Mrs. Hixon's father, Bernie Richardson. From Vernon, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hays came to visit her mother, Mrs. Ada Hull. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Terrell, another daughter from Brownwood, also visited.

Mrs. Ader Walker had Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sprayberry from Lake Whitney in to see her, and Mrs. Hattie Boatman's son, Melvin, was here over the week-end.

"Happy Birthday" to Troy Williams on October 8.

Mrs. Mary Smoot (LVN here at the nursing home, provided cantaloupes for evening dessert and they were delicious. We promised not to reveal the location of her "patch".

Sunday worship service was brought by Rev. Don Timberlake and resident attendance was very good as well as visitors.

Mrs. Hattie Brooks had a pleasant week-end with relatives. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Diggers, and Mr. and Mrs. Byrum of Tyler spent several days at the home of Mrs. Brooks' daughter, Mrs. Lewis Falmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Everette Harris have returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Slaton and Tahoka.

4-H Canning Her 'Thing'

BETTY DEMPSEY, 17, shown here with some of her prize jars of fruits and vegetables, has been working on 4-H food projects for nearly nine years. She has canned or frozen well over 4,500 quarts of food, much to the delight of her family and friends who get to eat it.

Miss Dempsey exemplifies the 120,000 young 4-H cooks who strive each year to improve their products in hopes of winning a national scholarship offered to members enrolled in the national 4-H Food Preservation program.

Six $600 scholarships are given annually to outstanding members by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation, sponsor of the program for 40 years. State and county awards also are provided. They are a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, and medals on honor.

Girls who have claimed awards in the past say that winning was not easy, but the personal satisfaction gained was worth the effort. It takes time, perseverance and skill to preserve perfect jars of string beans, beets, peaches, jams, pickles, or any other appetite tempters.

How does a girl learn this traditional culinary art? By joining 4-H and being coached by the county extension home economist and the volunteer 4-H Club leader. She also has access to "how-to" manuals published by the Extension Service and Kerr.

Medicare Hospital Deductible Goes Up In January

Beginning in January, an older person who goes to the hospital under Medicare will be responsible for the first $44.00 of his hospital bill — now running about $600.00 for the average hospital stay by a Medicare beneficiary, R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene Social Security District Manager said. The $4.00 increase (from the present $40.00 deductible) results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of the deductible amount. The first such review the law provided, was to be made in 1968.

The law specifies that if this annual review shows that hospital costs have changed significantly, the hospital deductible amount must be adjusted for the following year. Necessary increases in the deductible amount are to be made in $4.00 steps to avoid small annual changes.

Following the formula in the law, and figuring the ratio of inpatient hospital costs under Medicare in 1966 with those in 1967, the deductible amount for 1969 worked out to $45.36. Rounded to the nearest multiple of $4.00, this will make the deductible $44.00 for 1969.

The results of the annual review of the inpatient hospital deductible also apply to the dollar amounts a Medicare beneficiary pays toward a hospital stay of more than 60 days, or a post-hospital extended care stay of more than 20 days.

These amounts, therefore, will also increase by 10 percent, effective January 1 - to $11.00 a day for the 61st through the 90th day of the hospital stay; to $5.50 for the 20th to the 100th day of a stay in a posthospital extended care facility; and to $22.00 a day for each day of the lifetime reserve of 60 days, the reserve account a beneficiary can draw upon if he ever needs more than 90 days of hospital care in the same benefit period. The changes in these amounts apply only to hospital insurance part of medicare and do not affect the financing of the supplementary medical insurance — the voluntary program which covers doctor bills and a wide variety of other medical services.

The "Old Settlers" reunion in low ebb in 1903, according to a Rising Star is by no means a item by Editor Albert Tyson. He organization. The first organization was made in August, 1903.

Officers were: president, Albert Tyson; secretary, James Irby, Sr.; arrangement committee, F. B. Weaver, H. E. Anderson, J. C. Barnes, A. J. Rhone, T. B. Roberds and W. W. Smith; on correspondence to secure speaker for the occasion, James Irby, C. E. Anderson, W. S. Michael and J. L. Alford.

The first reunion was held September 12, 1903. On the appointed day the town was filled with old settlers, their families and friends. Streets were lined with wagons, buggies, hacks and saddle horses, and people.

The Rising Star High School students gave an hour's entertainment during the morning session, followed with speeches by Honorable J. H. Calhoun and H. P. Brelsford. Music was furnished by the Rising Star brass band. At noon a basket picnic was spread. "Those who attended brought well filled baskets of something good to brace up and sustain the physical man. The exercises aside from those of a gastronomical nature, already mentioned, will consist of experience meetings of old settlers, along with periods of reminiscing of the settlers in this portion of the country with the proper commitments. Everybody come," said Albert Tyson, editor of the Rising Star Xray.

In the afternoon Old Fiddlers delighted the crowd with "hoe down" music. There were more speeches by county dignitaries and memorials for those who had died during the past months. Late in the evening the meeting was adjourned until the next year.

get there by simple petition. The George Wallace campaign demonstrates how an independent is able to secure a place on the ballot in Texas, and in other states. The process is actually the formalization of a new party.

Under Texas law an independent and those who dependent must present a petition signed by a substantial percentage of the voters, all of whom must certify to the satisfaction of the responsible officials that they did not participate in any primary election held during the year. In the case of a county or precinct office the county judge is charged with the duty of determining the correctness of this certification.

In this provision the law simply guards against playing the political game at both ends — participating in the primary for the selection of a candidate and then going into the general election as an opposition candidate to the party's choice.

In the case of George Wallace, the petitions which qualified him as a candidate in the November election, were signed BEFORE the primaries were held. It was therefore patently evident that none of the many thousands of signers of the petition had taken part in any primary.

In the parade Saturday the sophomore class won first place with their float. The theme of the float was: "Roast the Trojans."

The May Home Demonstration Club served a chicken spaghetti supper last Saturday for the community and the May Exes. The supper was a great success and the members of the club wish to thank each of you who helped make it so.

There was a large crowd at the May-Divide football game, but late in the first quarter, with the score 20-0 in favor of May, two members of the Divide team suffered injuries and required hospital treatment. With only five members remaining on their team, the remainder of the game was cancelled.

During the activities at the game, Jeannie Harris was crowned May High Homecoming Queen and Barbara (Boyd) Stewart was May Exes Homecoming Queen.

Members of the 4H Club plan to go to the Dallas Fair next Saturday. They are to be guests of Dallas business firms. Chartered buses will leave the courthouse in Brownwood at 5 a. m. and return at approximately 8 p. m.

The May Community Improvement Ass'n will meet next Monday night in the clubhouse with a covered dish supper. Chuck Threet, Brown County agricultural agent, will be the speaker. Everyone is invited.

The May Home Demonstration Club met last Wednesday and elected officers for the coming year. Elected president was Mrs. Lloyd Alexander; vice-president and program chairman Mrs. O. C. Allen; secretary, treasurer-reporter, Mrs. V. O. King; council delegate, Mrs. Doyle Morrow. Mrs. W. M. Holt gave the program which was a review of driver's education.

The new housing project at May is nearing completion and one house is ready to receive a Rising Star family.
