BY BAB

Mayor Walter Smith stood eyeing the skimpy clouds that Tuesday sheltered the hot old earth from a sun that has pushed temperatures in Rising Star to around the century mark for so many days that even the Spring flood that swept through the city has become hardly more than a memory.

"They sure do look good, don't they, even if they don't have any water in them?" he said.

For even a little cloud cover, reducing the heat and the appetite of people for water, was a welcome break in a heat wave that has had the mayor "walking and talking to himself."

With the responsibility for keeping the community in the drink, the mayor has worries enough. He needs help. You and I can help by cutting down on the amount of water we unnecessarily use, thus permitting the city pumps to catch up with the demand once more and build up a reserve. Few of us gave any thought to the water supply after the city installed a big steel reservoir last year to supplement its overhead storage, but the supply is limited by the capacity of the pumps to lift the water from the wells. All of them together just can't pump enough to meet the extraordinary demand of the present heat wave.

Friday, July 5, was the hottest day of the year so far in Rising Star, according to the city records. The thermometer rose to 102 degrees. Saturday following, although it appeared to be fully as hot, was three degrees less so. Sunday and Monday each registered 101 degrees.

School Plant Here Being Improved And Redecorated

An extensive program of improvement redecoration is being carried out at Rising Star High School this summer in preparation for the opening of the new term next September. The interior of the building and the outside woodwork are being repainted under a contract with Bobby Elliott and Virgil McCaughey.

The library is being remodeled, the old lattice work removed and the shelves made more convenient to the students using the library facilities. New plumbing is being installed in the science department and other improvements made to the equipment there.

The home economics department is receiving new tables and other improvements and fluorescent lighting is being installed throughout the High School building, replacing the old incandescent lights. John Nunnally has the lighting contract.

The ceiling in the gymnasium is being repaired and the playing floor refinished.

Plans call for work to be done on the football field bleachers also. A new 40-foot concession stand is being built in the field, adjacent to the score board at the south end of the field. The stand is the project of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Heat Wave Causes Record Water Use

A heat wave with a long succession of days during which the thermometer has stood at or near 100 degrees has caused such a demand upon the city water supply that even with the expanded facilities installed last year, the department is unable to keep up.

Fourteen city wells are kept running at capacity for 24 hours each day, but they are unable to pour enough water into the storage tanks to meet the demand and the city this week sent out an appeal to all water users to curtail unnecessary water use until the supply in the reservoirs could be built back to a sufficient level of reserve. Some of the higher sections of the city were without water during parts of the day.

"If the people will cooperate by cutting down on irrigation of gardens and lawns, on excessive water use in coolers and on other water uses which may be curtailed it will make it unnecessary to impose a system of rationing, Mayor Walter Smith said. "It is just impossible, even with our enlarged storage, for the city to pump enough water to keep up with the demand during this heat wave. We have been gradually falling behind in the amount of reserve and once behind it is more difficult than ever to overtake the demand, without help from our patrons.

"The increase in the amount of water used by the city has been far beyond our estimates. The good rains of the Spring made gardens good and when the heat wave started wilting them a great many citizens irrigated heavily. There are also a great many more air conditioners and many of these have no pumps. The result is that, although we more than doubled our water storage capacity last year, we can't pump enough to keep the level high. If we didn't have the new 125,000 gallon tank built last year we would have been without water two weeks ago.

"We are asking every citizen who uses city water to cooperate with us voluntarily in meeting this emergency."

Peanuts and other crops are not yet suffering from the prolonged drought, farmers reported, but there is need of rain to soften the soil crust and to help pastures which are beginning to burn. Peanuts were coming up to a fine stand in most places and the crop can withstand a considerable amount of mid-summer dry weather, they said. Rain will be needed before the vines can fruit, later in the summer, however. Watermelons and other crops were doing well, too, despite the heat.

RS-CP Phone Merger Plan Gains Favor

Merger of the Rising Star and Cross Plains exchanges of the Kizer Telephone Company under a program of improvement and extension to be financed with a half million dollar REA loan, was moving nearer reality this week after favorable actions by business leaders of both Rising Star and Cross Plains expressed through Chamber of Commerce recommendations.

The Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce is reported to have given approval to the plan at a meeting last week, recommending to the Cross Plains City Council that it officially endorse the plan.

The action followed a similar one by the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce some weeks ago.

The plan cannot be put into effect until both Cross Plains and Rising Star City Councils give it the green light, and approve a rate increase necessary.

If carried out the two exchanges will become one and no toll charges will be made for calls between stations in the two cities. Rising Star and Cross Plains subscribers will become members of a single exchange and may call each other directly without going through an operator, E. O. Kizer, president of the company explained. He said the rate increase would be small, and that the enlarged service would be more than worth it to the telephone users. The merger would add about twice as many phones to the list which each subscriber may dial without toll costs, he said.

The company last week received the first installment of the loan which will be used to refinance the system, extend telephone service to rural areas without connections, and do other improvement and additions which are expected eventually to increase the number of stations to more than 1,200.

South American Berries Promise Better Varieties

College Station, —Giant strawberries and blackberries collected recently in South America by Dr. George M. Darrow, U. S. Department of Agriculture specialist, give promise of even better fruits for U. S. markets of tomorrow.

Plant breeders will use these larger cousins of our domestic berries to develop new and still better varieties through cross-breeding.

Both wild and cultivated strawberries with large size, disease resistance, and other promising characteristics were collected in Chile. They were growing under such diverse conditions as long, dry seasons, heavy rainfall, mild coastal temperatures and the rigors of the Andes Mountains up as far as the timberline. Some were found within 1,600 feet of the permanent snowline, where they ripen after freezing.

A giant drought-resistant blackberry found on the slopes of the Andes near Bogota, Colombia, ripens at 2 inches in length. Another, collected at an altitude of 10,800 feet in Ecuador had 42 buds, flowers, and fruits growing in one cluster.

Successful crossing of these

South American species with our own strawberries can mean many advantages for both producers and consumers here in the United States, according to USDA specialists. Increased fruit size would out losses at production and marketing levels, bringing more high-quality berries to consumers at favorable prices. For producers, drought tolerance and hardiness can increase the range over which berries may be grown and make their production more dependable.

Guar Suggested For Late Planting Because of Rains

The bountiful drouth-breaking rains have resulted in unfavorable conditions for the timely planting of spring and early summer crops. Many farmers are running far behind schedule compared to the normal plan of operations.

The wide and extensive range of planting season for guar will be of particular interest to farmers in Texas where, for many crops, planting deadlines are advancing rapidly and, in instances, have already passed. Guar, a soil-conditioning summer legume, can be planted through June and the forepart of July as a combination soil-improving and cash crop offering substantial returns to the grower.

Guar is strictly a hot weather crop and thrives when moisture is available for growth. The 1957 summer season promises excellent performance for guar and apparent assurance of crop pro-

Just One Headstone

Why is it so difficult to cut the federal budget? One reason is described by Editor Tom Anderson of Farm and Ranch magazine in these words: "Most congressmen favor a budget-cut graveyard in which there is only one headstone, epitaphed: 'Spending outside my state.'" They are all for economy—so long as it's confined to another member's state or constituency.

Fortunately, there are exceptions. For instance, the budget contains a proposal to build a $4,900,000 stadium in Cleveland, Ohio, for the Pan American games. Senator Lausche of Ohio announced his opposition to this, saying: "The federal budget must be cut. I cannot support for Ohio something that I would oppose in another state."

If the people—the voters and taxpayers—showed enthusiastic support for that kind of attitude we'd soon see a cut of billions in the budget.

YOUR CHILD AND THE DOCTOR

It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parent's consent.

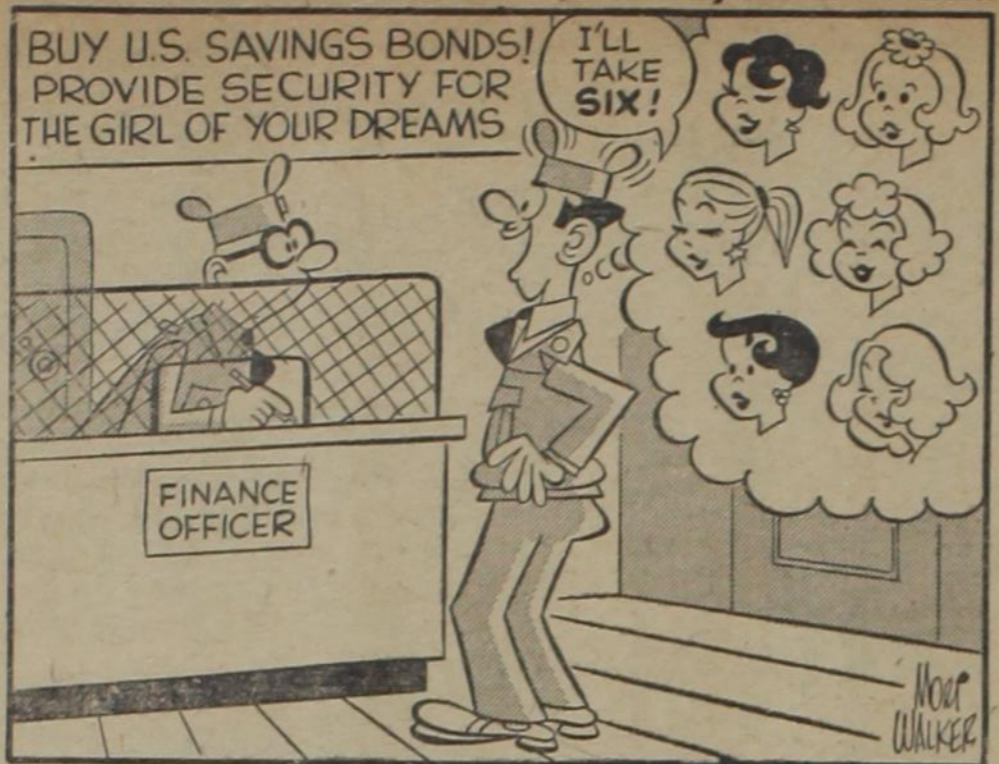

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid—but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to a hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

A lot of folks are surprised to find out that (if you are rich enough) you can give away a lot of money without paying Federal gift taxes. Every person has a $30,000 specific lifetime exemption that they can give away without paying a gift tax. They can also give away $3,000 a year to as many different people as they can afford without paying any gift taxes, with some exceptions. How much you can give away without paying taxes, as long as you do it more than three years before you die, is brought out by this example: John and Mary have struck oil. They have five children and twenty grandchildren. They can give away $30,000 each or $60,000 under their specific lifetime exemption. They can also give each of their children and/or their children's husband or wife and each of their grandchildren, or a total of 30 people, $3,000 each or $6,000 per year. This makes a total of $180,000 per year that John and Mary can give to their children and grandchildren tax free. During the first year John and Mary could give as much as $240,000, under the circumstances cited above, tax free. Each year thereafter they would be limited to the $180,000 unless they choose to pay gift tax. It is too bad we are not one of the children.

DROUGHT AND FLOOD—Texas knows both. Here, at Possum Kingdom Reservoir, an installation of the Brazos River Authority, flood waters are pouring over the spillway. Up to May 21, Possum Kingdom released 1,773,540 acre-feet of water downstream. Meanwhile the dam was holding vast quantities of water. Just a few weeks earlier this was drought-parched land. The U. S. Corps of Engineers estimated that, up to May 6th, the two great flood-control dams—Whitney and Belton—had prevented damage of $23,700,000 during recent floods in the Brazos River Basin. The B.R.A. master plan calls for many more dams, for flood control and conservation, on the main Brazos and its tributaries.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

A. M. Goss, conservationist on the local SCS staff, has returned from a three-week training course held at Tarleton State College. According to Goss all subjects relating to the conservation of soil and water were covered.

John Hopper planted 30 acres of weeping lovegrass on his farm two miles southwest of Rising Star. Some of the grass is up on the moisture in the soil at planting time. Hopper believes that it will take another rain to bring up the rest of the grass. He planted the grass in June which, according to him, is a little late. He would have planted in May but the rain prevented his doing so.

Hopper planted the grass on land placed in the Soil Bank Program. The lovegrass will do a good job of conditioning the soil and should show its benefits in the crop following it.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Phillips of St. Jo and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jones spent the holidays at the Mearlyn Jones cabin on Lake Brownwood. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jones returned to their home while Mr. and Mrs. Phillips remained for a longer visit with Mrs. Phillips' mother, Mrs. Olice Jones, and other relatives.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

• Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field offers a frame design that lets you ride within the frame side members for greater roominess, more smoothness and increased safety.
2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.
3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride no matter how rough the road conditions.
4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch" on rough, bumpy roads.
5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof... greater quiet and safety.
6. Only Ford offers such a savingful car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.
7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all... enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.
8. Only Ford, among all makes, electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.
9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road and weather conditions.
10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust and weather wherever you travel.
11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance and exit.

U.S.—Bulwark of Freedom

BIRTHDAY OF A FREE NATION as the Declaration of Independence was presented to Congress in 1776. Contrary to popular belief, this historic document was not signed by Congress on July 4th. Instead, the Act by which the original 13 states broke colonial allegiance to Great Britain was approved by Congress July 2, proclaimed on July 4th, and signed at various times up to Nov. 4.

SYMBOL OF HUMAN RIGHTS and freedom, the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall rang out at every festival and anniversary of Independence until it cracked in 1835.

BIRTHPLACE OF OUR NATION was Independence Hall, Philadelphia, where Continental Congress met, Declaration of Independence adopted and proclaimed, Washington appointed Commander-in-Chief, and U. S. Constitution framed.

OUR NATION'S CAPITOL, moved from Philadelphia to banks of the Potomac in 1800, today is a majestic city, nerve center of a great country, and the hope of freedom-loving people everywhere. The capitol dome, sprawling office buildings, monuments, memorials, and 7,000 acres of public parks including the Mall shown here, are familiar sights to countless Washington visitors.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

AUSTIN.—Half of the men and a fourth of the women in the United States smoke cigarettes daily, according to a recent survey by the U. S. Bureau of Census. That adds up to something like 38 million cigarette addicts—25 million men and 13 million women.

Those figures, besides revealing the extent to which the smoking habit has become ingrained among Americans, accentuate the grimness of the recently validated relationships between cigarette consumption and the general death rate, including dreaded lung cancer.

It took the American Cancer Society four years of concentrated study of the smoking habits of 188,000 men to reach these conclusions:

A 57 per cent greater death rate from diseases of the heart and circulatory system among smokers as compared to non-smokers; a 97 per cent greater cancer death rate; a 186 per cent death rate due to pulmonary diseases excluding cancer; and a 29 per cent greater rate of death from all other causes.

Among men over 50 with a history of regular cigarette smoking, the general death rate is 52 per cent above the death rate for men who have never smoked.

The same study revealed a slight relationship between pipe smoking and lung cancer, and practically no relationship between cigar smoking and lung cancer. Present studies indicate that the reason cigarettes are more important in the cause of lung cancer than either pipes or cigars is that the tars in cigarette smoke is drawn in at much higher temperatures.

In support of statistical evidence relating smoking to cancer death rates, it is possible to prove the connection by laboratory methods. By condensing the smoke of burning cigarettes and painting the gummy tars on the shaved backs of mice or rabbits, laboratory technicians have produced cancerous growths on the animals.

The question as to whether men who smoked but quit have a lower death rate than those who have not quit has also been answered statistically. Men who quit ten years before the study was made showed a death rate almost as low as those who had never smoked.

Should you stop smoking? You must answer that question alone. Ask yourself if the fleeting pleasures you get from cigarettes—described as "adult pacifiers" by the late Dr. William Mayo—outweigh the risks involved.

And keep in mind that the best scientific research talent in the world is convinced that steady cigarette smoking constitutes a health hazard of major proportions.

The American Cancer Society has turned its results over to the National Institute of Health for further checking.

Now Is Time to Apply for Farmer Gas Tax Refund

COLLEGE STATION. — Farmers are reminded by C. H. Bates, farm management specialist, that they may now apply for a refund on the 3-cent Federal tax on gasoline used for farming. The amount claimed must be based on the quantity of fuel used for farming purposes on individual farms and ranches during the period from July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1957.

Bates says that all claims must be submitted to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, and claims for the past year must be in by September 30, 1957. Only one refund claim per farm operator will be permitted and each tax claimant is cautioned to make certain that his refund request includes all eligible fuel used.

Each farm or ranch operator who applied for tax refunds in 1956 will be mailed Form 2240 for filing the 1957 claim. An instruction sheet for preparing the application will also be provided, says Bates. For new fuel

July 21 to 27 Designated As Farm Safety Week

College Station. — The death toll from farm-work accidents last year in the nation was higher than in any other major industry. "Farm accidents," said Governor Price Daniel on June 13 when he issued his Farm Safety Week Proclamation, "have become a serious problem which not only causes untold suffering among our rural population, but which affects the economy of the entire Nation."

In proclaiming the week of July 21-27 as Farm Safety Week, Governor Daniel pointed out that the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service would be cooperating with the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture in carrying out a farm accident-prevention educational effort. This campaign is in keeping with a proclamation issued earlier by President Eisenhower on a national basis.

Governor Daniel said, "The effect of accident-prevention programs has indicated that our rural residents, through attention to safety education, can greatly reduce accidents and the resulting loss and suffering. Therefore, as Governor, I urge all farm families to join in a continuing campaign against needless accidents."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council strongly believes that farm accident prevention efforts should be made a part of every family's plan for improving their farm and home. "Until farm families become conscious users or those who failed to file last year, copies of the filing form may be obtained from the office of the local county agent.

Too, Bates suggests that a copy of Publication 308, Farmers Gas Tax Refund, prepared by the Internal Revenue Service, be obtained from the county agent's office or from the nearest District Internal Revenue Service Office.

The specialist advises agricultural producers who used an appreciable amount of gasoline last year in their farming or ranching operations to check into eligibility for a refund. The legislation which makes possible the refund was passed by Congress in the spring of 1956 and farmers unfamiliar with the procedure should contact their local county agent or Internal Revenue Service for details.

CIVIL DEFENSE EVACUATION would look like this with carefully controlled traffic moving one-way outbound from a threatened target city at a rate of up to 1,200 autos per hour per lane, except that cars would be carrying more people. All access to major surface streets would be controlled, traffic on cross streets banned. Reports indicate that some 32 million persons could be evacuated from 185 target areas in 1 1/2 hours by using this system. (Cameramen, Inc., Photo by Berkeley Payne)

4th Celebrations On Humble Program

Independence Day celebrations step into the spotlight on "Texas in Review," Humble Oil and Refining Company's weekly television program, during the week of July 15. Highlight will be presentation of a medal to a distinguished Texan for outstanding service to the nation.

A special ceremony at Eldorado honors Maj. Gen. Alvin R. Lueddecke, a native son, who receives the Legion of Merit medal during the program. At Seguin, fireworks, a parade, and selection of "Miss South Texas" make July 4, 1957 a memorable occasion.

The festive mood continues as the Humble camera moves to Jacksboro to record the centennial celebration of Jack County. History and present-day life in the county will also be featured.

At Mineral Wells, TV viewers will tour the "Crimemobile," currently travelling the state, with its 1,000,000 visitor. Another feature will show the organization and function of the State Bar of Texas, which has headquarters in Austin.

of the multitude of accident hazards which surround them, little progress can be made in removing the hazards, says the Council. "We would like to see the farmer and every member of his family become as safety conscious as are the people who work in industries where the accident rates have been reduced almost to the zero point. We think it can be done, if as Governor Daniel says, everyone will participate in a continuing educational campaign to wipe out farm accident." "Appoint yourself a committee of one to start the ball rolling on your farm," urges the Council.

The Good Life Requires An Investment In Religion

There is no "Magic Formula" for the Good Life. It requires an investment of one-self in things of the spirit and in the support of those institutions which foster the religious development of good character.

"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness", is a tried and true formula. Through the Church we are enabled to realize upon opportunities of spiritual growth as it is not possible to do anywhere else. Support the Church and it will sustain you.
