Through The Editor's Specs

It was a good story in last week's column but it wasn't altogether true. Jimmy Warfield is not in Africa with the Peace Corps. He is slated to go there if he is accepted by the Corps. Right now he is still in training at Syracuse University. I am sorry we misread the signals.

Away up yonder in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Saturday we watched an Ada, Okla., sophomore and a colored boy show the 'Horns' of Texas how the game of football should be played.

For some thousands of Texas students and Exes it was a gloomy afternoon for all that the sun was shining fiercely upon the slope of the stadium where we sat. It was pretty hot.

But despite the fact that the star performer for Texas was sidelined with a wrenched knee and a substitute ran the team in his stead, I think the outcome was a foregone conclusion. Old Bevc was missing too.

Substituting for the old mosshorn that the Texans used to bring to the game and lead around with pride and some respect, was about the scrawniest and most discolored yearling I have ever seen. He looked as if he might have been rescued from the discard pens of a slaughter house.

One look at him and you knew that Texas couldn't win. There simply wasn't any inspiration there. Somebody ought to provide Texas with a better set of horns.

Better still, some way of keeping Texas talent from wandering across the Red River into the Sooner camp ought to be devised. About a third of the Oklahoma team roster appeared to be Texas lads.

In answer to so many hopeful inquiries since this column wrote about the hospital situation two or three weeks ago, may I say that the Hospital Board is still working. We haven't given up hope and we don't intend to quit.

There have been some promising developments, but getting a doctor and re-opening the hospital are tasks for time and patience.

We have been told that it can't be done; that the odds are too great. We refuse to accept this counsel of despair. It's got to be done!

In one of those beloved Uncle Remus tales of another generation, Uncle Remus tells the story of Br'er Rabbit who was being chased by Br'er Wolf. The chase was on a prairie with only one tree in sight and Uncle Remus saved his hero by having him climb the tree.

"But Uncle Remus, protested the little boy, 'rabbits can't climb trees!'"

"Son," said Uncle Remus, "the fix Br'er Rabbit was in he was 'bleeged' to climb that tree."

The fix we're in we're 'bleeged' to have our hospital.

Mrs. Marie Hardin visited her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Inabnet at Stephenville Sunday. Mr. Inabnet's condition is unimproved.

Ten Candidates File For Three Council Positions

Ten hopefuls filed with City Secretary Marie Hardin for the three vacancies in the City Council to be filled in a special election November 8, when the deadline for filing to be listed on the ballot arrived Saturday of last week.

The candidates as named by Mrs. Hardin are: J. F. Bobeen, William J. Clarke, Derrell White, John G. Lee, Charles A. Chamberlain, E. L. (Bob) Carter, J. D. Morrow, L. H. Morrison, Floy G. Maynard, John H. Nunnally. This field of candidates will seek election to the unexpired terms of Elgie Crisp, Willie Cooper and J. D. Morrow who

No-Postage Cards Will Aid Zip Code

Residents in the Rising Star area will be offered an opportunity to zip code their mailing lists during October, Postmaster Cliffogene Witt announced this week.

Cards which require no postage will be distributed to all patrons of the Rising Star post office beginning October 10. The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper zip codes.

This is a good time to get the zip codes missing from your lists. This Christmas, zip code will be as important as shopping and mailing early for the efficient and on time delivery of the record breaking avalanche of mail expected in the pre-holiday weeks, Mrs. Witt said.

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster. The post office will add the proper zip codes and return the cards to the sender.

President Johnson has proclaimed October 10-15 as "Zip Code Week" to promote greater usage of Zip Code.

Cats Meet Goldthwaite In Conference Opener

The Rising Star Wildcats, defeated 40 to 0 by the Bangs Dragons in a homecoming game at Bangs Saturday night of last week, meet an even tougher foe in their first Class A conference game to be played at Goldthwaite Friday night.

The Wildcats, who were seriously hampered in the Bangs contest by the loss of two regular backs — Robert Clarke and

Burleson Gets Award For Economy Record

Washington, D. C.—H. Vernon Scott, executive vice president National Associated Businessmen, Inc., today presented Congressman Omar Burleson with the organization's "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" in honor of the Congressman's 100 percent economy voting record for the 89th Congress, 1965-1966.

In congratulating Burleson, Mr. Scott said, "Your outstanding economy voting record indicates to our membership that you have a keen realization of the problems of fiscal responsibility. I congratulate you on the courage you have shown in standing up to oppose those who are blind to the possibility of increasing the efficiency and the reduction in the scale of Federal programs. Your economy voting record is a constructive achievement of which you and your constituents can be justly proud."

Made up primarily of small business firms, the NAB is a nonpartisan organization in government and the elimination of the Federal Government from competition with business.

Peanut Harvest Getting Into Full Swing This Week

A 50 percent expansion program is under way at the Winfrey Feed and Peanut Company where workmen this week were installing a second bucket elevator for unloading grains and peanuts, and a new drying shed eight new Long dryers has been constructed.

Jerry Winfrey, owner and operator said that he expects the new equipment to be in operation by the week-end.

The company already operates 18 dryers and the new ones will extend its capacity to 24.

The company has also enlarged its storage space with the purchase of the Durham company warehouse on the lot. The public scales, also on the lot, have been purchased by the company form J. R. Bucy, public weigher here for many years.

Harvest of the peanut crop in this area was just getting under way this week and dryer equipment in several locations was expected to be running full blast by the end of the week.

First to bring peanuts to the dryer here was Cowan Hutton who farms just north of Pioneer. Mr. Hutton's irrigated peanut crop produced in excess of 94 bushels per acre, green-weight. He brought in three loads about two weeks ago.

Other to bring in peanuts were Henry Carter and Wilbur. Mr. Caudle harvested 54 bushels per acre dry weight.

HISTORICAL MARKER FOR RISING STAR READY

W. E. Tyler is in receipt of a letter from Mike Collins, chairman of the Eastland County Historical Society, stating that the Historical Marker for Rising Star "is just about finished" and will be shipped to Mr. Tyler. The Historical Society will have the marker erected when it arrives.

TO OPEN CAFE

Mrs. Edna Allen of May has leased the former Cozy Cafe and will be open for business Monday, October 17. Mrs. Allen is an experienced cafe operator and will serve the best of food.

Kokomo Man New County Singing Association Head

Johnny Henderson of Kokomo was elected president of the Eastland County Singing convention at the meeting of the singers at Mountain Top Church Sunday. His election followed the refusal of Henry Carter to serve a further term after having been at the helm of the organization for most of the time since 1947.

"It has been a great experience," said Mr. Carter, "but it is time for somebody else to take over the reins."

Mrs. Owen Justice was elected secretary.

The convention drew a capacity attendance.

Mmes R. C. Brown, Jean Fore and Delmar Dean of Pioneer, attended services at the Twilite Nursing Home, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bailey Hutton is a patient in the Gorman Hospital suffering from lockjaw.

County Pecan Show Here Next December

The Eastland County Pecan Show, which has been an annual show in this county since it was organized in 1952 by Former County Agent J. M. Cooper is the first of its kind in the state, will be held in Rising Star—a major pecan center of the county — this fall for the first time since its inception.

The show will be held in the former Higginbotham Motor Company building on South Main on December 8 and 9.

Plans for the show, which will include, in addition to exhibits of pecans, a pecan bake show sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county, were worked out at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce representatives and members of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Ass'n., the show sponsor, at a meeting at the home C. E. Smith Rising Star grower and secretary of the Association, Tuesday night.

The social event of the show will be the selection of a County Pecan Queen in a contest to be held at Rising Star on December 7.

House Committee Approves Rush Creek Watershed Plan

The Rush Creek Watershed project, in the making for more than ten years, passed its first hurdle on the way to Congressional approval Tuesday when it was approved by the House Committee on Public Works and Washington, according to a telegram from Cong. Omar Burleson to The Rising Star. The project, which is regarded as a certain for House approval, will next go to a Senate committee for action and recommendation to that body.

The project, sponsored by the Comanche County Commissioners Court and the Upper Leon and Brown-Mills Soil Conservation district, provides for the construction of 13 floodwater structures and a multi-purpose reservoir for storage and irrigation. The area lies within Comanche, Eastland and Brown Counties.

The watershed starts at the eastern edge of Rising Star and extends almost to Comanche.

As It Looks From Here

By Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th Texas Dist.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — As is common knowledge, the Supreme Court has ruled that suspected criminals must be guaranteed certain privileges such as the right to have an attorney present before questioning.

A FEDERAL Court has ruled that a taxpayer does not have to be told his Constitutional rights during a criminal tax investigation. The court cites the case of Kohatsu vs. United States (351 Fed. 2d.898) in which this ruling was established. The decision was reached in this case, which led from a routine civil tax audit conducted by a Revenue agent into a criminal investigation conducted by a Special Agent of the Intelligence Division.

THERE ARE other cases in which an honest businessman may face charges of Labor Law violation as the result of information he willingly provided a Labor Department investigator who reportedly did not even advise the man of the nature of the investigation, or of the possible violations of Law.

THERE ARE Other instances of farmers being charged with violations of the Immigration Laws and Child Labor Laws by Federal agents who come into their farms without warrants, without any warning of the nature of their investigation or without any advice of the right to counsel during questioning. There farmers have committed only the crime of seeking to give summer employment to some youngster seeking work, but end up facing serious charges.

CONGRESSMAN Olin E. Teague of the Sixth Congressional District of Texas feels that the honest taxpayer, businessman, farmer or any other Law-abiding citizen, should have at least as much protection against Federal investigators that our Supreme Court has granted those suspected of murder, rape, robbery and other serious crimes.

CONGRESSMAN TEAGUE has introduced Legislation designed to give the average citizen the same protection from Federal Investigators that the Supreme Court has given suspected criminals.

HE SAYS THAT with the ever growing authority of the central Government and the ever expanding bureaucracy of Federal Government which has resulted in a growing horde of Federal investigators, the average citizen who carries the load in taxes to support his Government needs some protection too.

THE MEASURE introduced by Congressman Teague is designed to require officers and employees of Federal agencies to have a warrant to obtain records, papers, or any other information from private citizens in the course of any investigation, if the information or records are to be used in charges of any violation, whether it be criminal or civil.

THE BILL ALSO requires Federal Investigators to warn the citizen that he has the right to refuse to provide information or records that might be used against him in the course of any resulting prosecution. It also provides that the citizen be advised of his right to have an attorney present before questioning or search for information can begin.

NOT ALL Investigations by Federal Agencies such as Internal Revenue Agents, Civil Service Representatives, Labor Department examiners and others are based on specific complaints, but rather, under some general suspicion that the citizen is not complying with the law. Evidence developed in the course of the examination of records, questioning and so forth may subsequently be used in either civil or criminal action against the individual, or in decisions by some Federal Agency.

MANY CONGRESSMEU, if not all of us, receive letters of complaint from citizens who have had to deal with various

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I Recognized His Voice"

"It is a case of mistaken identity," protested the defendant, accused of breaking into a woman's home at night and assaulting her. "She admits the house was pitch dark".

But the woman countered: "Even though I could not see him, I recognized his voice. I have known him for years, and I am certain he was the man."

May an accused person be convicted solely by the sound of his voice? In this case the jury believed the woman's story, and the court upheld its verdict of guilty.

True, a criminal is ordinarily identified by sight, not by sound. But his voice, even when not conclusive evidence by itself, may still play a key role in identification. The law recognizes that, in some circumstances, what a victim hears may reveal a lot more than what he sees.

Thus, identification-by-voice has been allowed not only in crimes committed in the dark but also in crimes committed by a masked man—or even committed over the telephone. A man who made obscene calls to a woman was convicted largely on the basis of her identification of his voice on the telephone.

But what if the criminal's voice is one that the victim has never heard prior to the crime? Even then, it may be distinctive enough to be recognized later with reasonable certainty.

In one case a holdup victim testified that the robber had a peculiar accent. This was held valid evidence in court that the defendant, who had a similar accent, was the guilty man.

In addition to a criminal's voice, other sounds he makes may also help to pinpoint his identity. The sound of a man's footsteps and the sound of a car's exhaust—both distinctive—have been held admissible in the courtroom.

Even the sound of a dog's barking has been held sufficient to identify him as the nocturnal slayer of a farmer's sheep.

Of course this kind of evidence, like any other, may be rejected if it is just too flimsy.

For example, in a homicide case, a witness was notably hesitant as the voice of the kill-tant in tagging the voice of the defendant as the voice of the def-er. The court held that such evidence was not convincing enough to send a man to prison for murder.

"Conjecture," observed one judge, "is not proof."

CONSCIENTIOUS EFFORT

Some people think that skimming over a chapter or copying written assignments from a neighbor's paper is sufficient study and that no additional time should be spent in this capacity. They feel that time spent studying is time wasted; that being able to say they read the material or show evidence of a completed paper is all that is required of them.

Teachers have no means of forcing a student to do his work; they can only encourage each to work harder at every new task, to have the desire to excel and produce better grades.

Competition among the students also creates a more willing group as each tries a little harder in order to make higher marks than his fellow classmates. On the other hand, a class that has a habit of loafing can transfer this attitude to other students if they allow themselves to be affected by the lack of interest in their work.

Everyone has his good days and his bad; sometimes he can grasp even the most difficult explanations; others, his mind is a total blank. The problem, however, is to put the "bad" days in the minority and place greater emphasis on making every day a "good" day.

"BUILDERS of TOMORROW"

Chill bumps, sniffles, and winter coats were top at R.S.H.S. this past week. But then again we had a few pretty days, too. R.S.H.S. it is warm, cozy, and recuperation days. Aside from the weather, inside all smiles for we have graduation (cap and gown) and class pictures. Everyone, of course, says, "This and that just isn't so-so." Truly, they are thinking to themselves and no one can hear their thoughts say, "it is fair! I like the colored gowns, etc."

Now everyone breathes easy again for six weeks' tests are over, and report cards have gone home — and those grades were better than had been expected.

Until next week remember, Cats, "Fight!" That game against Bangs was really good! Lots of Luck against Goldthwaite on Friday night.

NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN

The Junior class is really in business now. We had a very nice rummage and bake sale and cleared a good profit for our Senior trip.

When students and room mothers put out a little effort to make the most of a project, everyone benefits from it.

Our class has always been very cooperative and on its toes. Credit should be given to the parents and sponsors who have helped us achieve our goal.

We want our class to give spirit and interest to every school activity and be a vital part of it.

Viva la Juniors! - Pegs

WITH THE SOPHS

This week marks the first week of the second six weeks. The time has really flown. In biology we are still studying the cell. There is a great deal to learn about it.

In Algebra I we are getting into the more complicated equations.

In World History we are studying Chater V of our textbook "Our Debt to the Greeks." The study of the Greeks is very fascinating.

In English II we are reading "Julius Caesar." Mrs. Claborn has given us our requirements for our term themes. Some are writing on "Julius Caesar"; others on "Silas Marner."

In Health we are studying the different parts of the body.

The P. E. girls have been working hard at basketball. There are still many bruises and bumps.

Katie

WILLING TO LEARN

The first six weeks period is over and you might say that we are a little reluctant to get our report cards. We are trying to do some better and some of us will.

PRISON RODEO STARS - - THE YOUNG AMERICAN SINGERS have been chosen to entertain the crowds at the Sunday, October 16 showing of the Texas Prison Rodeo. Consisting of seven gals and 11 guys, the popular group was formed in the early sixties and since then they have been guests on a Bing Crosby Special; four times with Meredith Wilson's "Star Theatre Specials," and have performed with singer Johnny Mathis across the nation. They will share the rodeo spotlight with tough convict riders and other entertainment features. The rodeo is held in the prison stadium at Huntsville, beginning at 2 p. m.

With the coming of a new six weeks, we know that we will go even deeper into our new found subjects.

In science we are studying how to combine elements, the spectra analysis, and quan numbers of the atom also.

In math, we are trying to learn how to square a number along with many other things.

In English, we have started a new unit called "Swimming Upstream", which tells the true life of handicapped people and how they overcame it. We have been asked to decorate the bulletin board in the English room, which will stay up one week.

In Vocational Agriculture we have started a new book about soil erosion and what we can do to stop it. We may start a program to make money so that we can buy a new and bigger trailer for the chapter.

We have many projects started and we know that the State Fair of Texas is right around the corner.

In Physical Education, we did a very good job of tanking the May Tigers last week. Mr. Gray is showing the film of this and other games so we can profit from our past mistakes.

Carter

La ESTRELLITA

It's been a busy, busy week as far as the annual staff is concerned. We have been working as hard as we can to get more and more snapshots.

We are very pleased with the pictures that have come in. Even though everyone thinks that his picture is just terrible, they really are flattering; don't you agree?

More layout and more pages are our goals now. We are trying to get our annual out as early as possible.

Bev.

DO-RE-MI

The majorettes want to thank the Band Parents for buying our fire batons. The batons will be left with the band for future shows.

The majorettes are to go to a twirling contest on October 15 at Jefferson Junior High Gym in Abilene, directed by Bill Horton of Abilene. They plan to enter a trio; Bess Lee will give a solo. Medals will be given for first place winners.

The band has begun work on a program for the Coronation. We plan to have a small stage band.

Brenda

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

In a big gust of wind I heard the freshman in Homemaking prepared their first meal a few weeks ago which sounded interesting and good.

Barber Pole Franks; Tossed Green Salad; Apple Crumbles; Iced Tea.

Last week Mrs. Nowlin suffered through a meal of: Tuna Fish Salad; Muffins; Chocolate Pudding; Iced Tea.

Oh! yes, what happened to the girls' manners at Table One? It was said everyone was laughing. How about it, Joy!

Mary Jean

BOYS' SPORTS

The Wildcats came through with the big victory over May in the Homecoming game. The score was 38-14.

Dalton Hughes scored two touchdowns and Dwight Carter scored none, but he was a great Wildcat in carrying the ball.

Danny Schaefer scored a T.D. also and the game was over for May. Our next game is with Bangs, their Homecoming, and at best it won't be easy. They are undefeated and we have a 3-1 record. The older boys on the team cannot quite forget the 45-0 score of last year's game and hope to reverse it.

Danny W.

ALL THE WAY, CATS!

The cheerleaders have been busy the past week making signs to boost school spirit. We want to encourage spirit for the district games that are beginning.

The Wildcats did a fine job last week against the strong Bangs Dragons. The Cats will meet the Goldwaite Eagles this Friday night at Goldwaite. This will be the first district game of the season. Good luck, Cats; we are behind you all the way!

Sally.

4-H Is Way of Life For Boys and Girls Who Are Members

Most people consider it good fortune to spot a four-leaf clover. But those who find a four-leaf clover with an "H" on each leaf are even more fortunate says Ass't County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Wanda Clifton.

The well-known symbol of 4-H has served one out of every five adults in the United States. These 23 million alumni and some 2.2 million 4-H boys and girls currently enrolled, provide strong evidence to back the agent's statement. Here in Eastland County, 200 have discovered the lucky 4-H clover, Mrs. Clifton says.

With these young people, 4-H is a way of life. For boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, 4-H offers opportunities to develop wholesome character and leadership. They learn to work together and share responsibility.

The 4-H project, a highly successful educational method, is made more interesting with complementing activities. These offer variety to all boys and girls, whether they live in the country, suburbs, or the city. Some of the most popular areas are family living, personal development, home management, conservation, engineering horse, and community beautification.

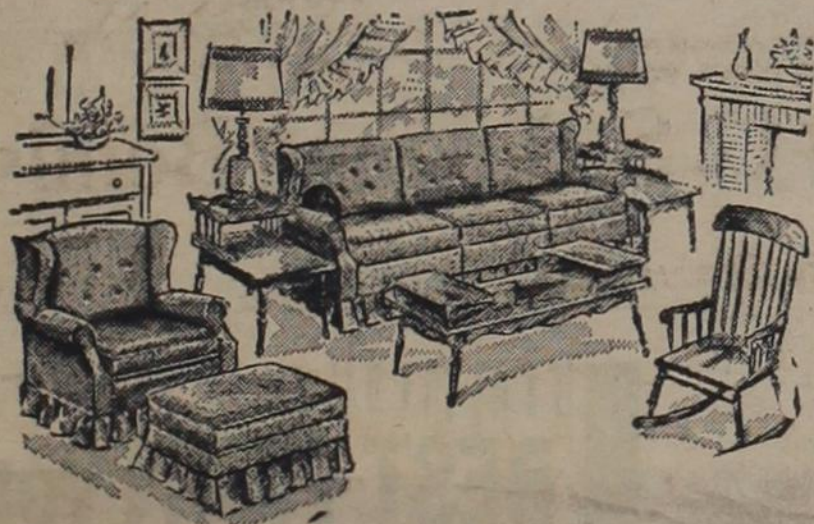

Boys and girls value their 4-H training as they participate in school, church, and community groups and activities. Their lives are enriched by having found that lucky four-leaf clover with the four "H" 's, said Mrs. Chilton.

In October 1963 Rising Star was forging to the front as an up-to-date town; citizens were enterprising and stores were advertising their wares in every issue of the Rising Star X-Ray, edited and published by Albert Tyson.

The October 30th X-Ray said: "We have regular bachannal Saturday nights here, Sunday and Sunday nights, followed by a Justice court of inquiry on Monday mornings; a football team and peradventure, will have Sunday baseball in the near future and other regulation concomitants of the strenuousity of an up-to-now life. And now Rising Star has a strike. Freighters are asking for higher wages and what they are asking for is either just or unjust."

Freighters went on a strike for better pay. All hauling of freight out of and into this area was done with heavy freight wagons and strong teams of mules and horses.

The men who did the hauling asked for $125 per bale of cotton and 7 cents per bushel for cotton seed. The prices were agreed to. Wagons were loaded out on one trip. When the freighters returned from off the trip they were told that a meeting of their customers had been held and prices of hauling freight would revert to the former scheduled prices.

As a result, the freighters issued an ultimatum in forming an agreement on their part not to haul any more freight at the old prices. The majority of freighters signed it.

Retired freighters and those presently employed testified that they made absolutely nothing hauling at the old prices. Expense of keeping up the wear and tear on wagons and teams exceeded their income.

Many times freighters were paid in goods from the merchant for whom they did the hauling. Wagons were bought from local merchants for hauling and paid for by hauling at reduced rates. The merchant, of course, made a good profit on "the goods and chattels with which he paid off his freight bills."

In the matter of handling bales of cotton, many times a 670-pound bale was hauled for the same price as a 500-pound bale. Frequently the freighters hauled from 250 to 300 pounds at one load for which they collected nothing.

There was one merchant in Rising Star who paid the freighter the prices demanded and said he made money at it.

Summing up the whole thing, Mr. Tyson of the Rising Star X-Ray had this to say:

"Start a fellow in business with a few hundred dollars and in a few years he has accumulated thousands of dollars. How is it with the man who does the hauling? There are men who have hauled for years and they think they are doing well to keep even with the world as they go without accumulating a cent. Where is the man here who has made any money freighting? Can't you name several who have made good money in business?"

The ox which treads out the grain should not be muzzled too closely; the man who labors with his hands, lives by the sweat of his own face, instead of the face of his neighbor, according to the Scriptural injunction is the head and shoulders, the feet and hands the stomach and bowels of the earth and the contents thereof, and is therefore doubly worthy of his hire. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you and do it fast."

CROP AND LIVESTOCK REPORTING SERVICE CELEBRATES 100 YEARS OF CONTINUOUS REPORTS

Cary D. Palmer, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin, reads a proclamation from Governor John Connally, designating 1966 as Crop Reporting Centennial Year in Texas. Accurate and timely production of agriculture help Texas farmers and agri-businessmen make intelligent production and marketing decisions.

Over a century ago, farmers began to realize that they were at a disadvantage when bargaining because they knew little about crop and livestock supplies outside their area. They asked the government for help and a system of crop reporting was begun to fill this need. This year marks the 100th anniversary of continuous reporting of acreage, yield and production for the United States.

Cary Palmer says that the crop reporting system of collecting agricultural statistics relies heavily on some 40,000 farmers and agri-businessmen. Their voluntary reports month after month and year after year have an important role in providing Texas agricultural statistics and make the American farmer the best informed of any in the world.

One hundred years of voluntary reports is an achievement from which all America has benefited.

"Aunt Arnie" Burns Honored on Birthday

Saturday, October 8, Mrs. Arnie Burns, affectionately known as "Aunt Arnie," was honored on her 90th birthday in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodwin. Luncheon was served at the noon hour with her four children and their families attending, and also, her only living sister, Mrs. Bill Priest of San Antonio. At 2 p.m. other guests arrived and were served pineapple punch and cake from a table laid in lace over pink. The only decoration was the beautiful white birthday cake, edged with pale orchid flowers and decked with candles, the name, and age of the honoree. Ten out of town relatives and families were present from Dallas, Abilene, Cisco, San Antonio Breckenridge and Eastland. Approximately 50 guests registered.

Mrs. F. J. Maynard was hostess to the Sally Walker Circle, October 10. Hostesses were chosen for each month in the year. Mrs. Maynard served punch and cookies. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Wilson of Brownwood.

Tommy Elliott has recently moved to Rising Star from Midland. He will make his home with his mother, Mrs. B. G. Elliott.

1966 STATE FAIR FASHION SHOWS DISPLAY MINI-SPLENDORED LOOK

Tedda Togs' silver lame military suit, combining a modified mini-skirt and shoulder epaulets, will fit right in with the theme of the daily free fashion shows in the Women's Department at the 1966 State Fair of Texas Oct. 8-23 in Dallas. At the right, Lorch's three-piece "vested" interest alaskine costume done in milk and honey tones also fits the theme—"Young is a Feeling." The military cap is in a celery shade with a deep honey band, by Asbury Millinery Co.

TO THE CITIZENS OF RISING STAR

I am a candidate for the City Council in the special City Election November 8.

I believe in open and above board government by the Council, not in one-man rule; fair and uniform taxation by a legally constituted board and not by spite; open and economical management of the City business and finances, and courtesy in all dealings with the people. I believe the City belongs to the people and not to any one person.

If you believe in the same, I will appreciate your support.

J. D. (Judd) Morrow
