German Extermination At Stalingrad Continuing

Prisoners Are Denouncing Leaders

Other Points Taken By Reds In The Caucasus Sector
MOSCOW, Jan. 28. (AP)—The Russians continued the merciless extermination of the doomed Germans before Stalingrad today, quoting prisoners as denouncing Hitler and officers who "ran away and left us," and widened the Caucasus front westward by capturing two cities close to the Malkop oil fields.

(The Germans announced a new retreat west of Voronezh to a shortened line. The communiques said their Stalingrad forces shattered new attacks.
Pravda reported 60 German aviators were captured near Stalingrad when the Red army was driving the foe from behind into the city. They were caught throwing gasoline on their planes when the Soviets captured the last German airplane. The loss of 48 more tanks in the last 13 hours greatly weakened the Germans near the center of the Volga city.
One captured pilot asserted German fliers came only recently from Sicily.
The eruption of new fighting in the western Caucasus was disclosed with the capture of Apheronskaya and Neftegorsk.
Apheronskaya is little more than 19 miles from Malkop and Neftegorsk is 25 miles southwest of the oil center which was burned and blasted by the Russians before they moved out in the face of the German advance early last summer. It was held unlikely that Hitler's troops were able to get much out of the Malkop fields.
The news of this advance, typing in with other successes reported in the Caucasus which had helped encircle the Malkop area, came as the Russians rushed another spearhead into the area brushing against Rostov and as fresh reports came of the surrender of thousands of cold, weary axis troops on other fronts.
The Russian midday communique as recorded in London by the Soviet radio Monitor told of the capture of a number of towns in last night's fighting in the Caucasus but did not identify them.
(The reduction of the trapped axis forces before Stalingrad continued, the Russians said, asserting that a German general, three colonels and other officers were among those who surrendered during the night.)

Flynn Denies All Charges
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28. (AP)—Erol Flynn resumed the witness stand today and flatly denied the state's charges that he had had intimate relations with blonde Betty Hansen, second of his young accusers.
The actor yesterday had similarly denied any improper conduct with Peggy La Rue Satterwhite, another complaining witness at the movie hero's trial.
Flynn spoke calmly and slowly today as he described his first casual meeting with Miss Hansen, at a dinner party at the home of Fred McEvoy, former British bobbed racer.
He never was formally introduced to the girl, he testified, and his first recollection of her was "when she came over and sat on the arm of my chair."
Defense Attorney Jerry Gleaser asked Flynn if at any time after the dinner he had ascended to the upstairs bedroom where Betty charged Flynn derobered her and had improper relations with her. Flynn answered with a flat "no."
Flynn, to whom lovemaking scenes are common on the screen, said he couldn't remember whether Betty kissed him as he left the party.
"Did she kiss you or did you kiss her?" Gleaser asked.
"I certainly didn't kiss her," Flynn replied.
"Well, did she kiss you?" the attorney continued.
"I'm not certain—she seemed to hang onto me. If she kissed me it was in such a manner that I didn't notice it," answered the actor.

BUTLEDGE OK'S
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A senate subcommittee approved the nomination of Wiley Blount Rutledge of Iowa to the supreme court. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) announced today.

Rail Lines Reopened—Russian armies, claiming to have smashed all except two small groups of Nazi troops (indicated by swastikas) near Stalingrad, have thereby reopened three rail lines which will be useful in sending supplies and reinforcements to the front, London sources heard. These lines feed from Stalingrad north (1) toward Povorina; (2) west toward Tatsinskaya, and (3) southwest toward Salak. Arrows show where Russian pressure against the Germans is greatest. Broken line is the front line as it existed Nov. 19 when the Russian drive began.

It's The Year Of The Bombardier, New Grads Told

"The year 1943 is the year of the bombardier... and the rest of the world is waiting for you," Brigadier General Isiah Davies, commander of the newly created 24th Training Wing, (specialist) told Class 43-2, the third graduating class of the Big Spring Bombardier school in exercises held early Thursday morning.
The speaker pointed out that his statement was not the "usual clap trap talk of graduation speakers" but actual truth this time. "The axis powers are waiting with fear and the conquered countries with hope for you to appear," he said.
Brig. Gen. Davies congratulated the class on being trained under competent instructors and welcomed them as officers into the greatest airforce in the world. He traced the advancement of aerial bombardment from crudely devised means of dropping bombs to the scientific precision bombing of today.
He likened the combat crew of aerial engineer, bombardier, gunner, navigator and pilot to a team which works together. "The work of the other members of the team continues until the mission is reached," Gen. Davies said. "Then they hand you bombardiers the ball to make a touchdown. If you fumble, all their work is lost."
"In 1943 the game of the bombardier is tough, so make every play a goal, for the enemy gives no credit for misses and they don't pull in any bombs," he declared.
"The President gave a hint of what was expected of you in his recent speech predicting heavy aerial bombardment on Axis-held territory. He gave you a blueprint for your job and you can meet the specifications of his blueprint with your skill and ability. You men are pioneers in what will be the greatest and most significant tasks ever tackled by man."
The speaker also pointed out that the most persuasive argument for lasting peace is the accuracy of the bombs dropped in 1943. "If your aim is accurate, if you destroy the enemy's nerve centers, you will have done much to cause the aggressors to make up their minds that destruction from the air cannot be unleashed to gratify the personal ambitions of tinseled tyrants and sawdust Caesars," he stated.
The general said the cost of maintaining huge fleets of bombers while at the same time financing reconstruction and rehabilitation may in itself be a strong factor for lasting peace. "In years to come the legions of bombardiers maintained by a peace-sensory's office would be mailed out later."

Pay-As-You-Go Tax Hearings Scheduled
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—House committee hearings will begin Thursday on pay-as-you-go tax plans, separating this subject from the general tax problem. The hope of putting many income tax payers on a current collection basis for at least a part of 1943. Chairman Doughton (D-NC) announced also that the ways and means committee would meet tomorrow to consider his bill to raise the national debt limit from $125,000,000,000 to $210,000,000,000 and a favorable report was expected forthwith.
The chairman said general tax matters, including a presidential request for $18,000,000,000 revenue in addition to the $35,000,000,000 expected from present laws, probably would be considered after a pay-as-you-go measure was put on the president's desk.
Doughton and Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate finance committee, have jointly announced that any pay-as-you-go legislation would not remove the necessity of taxpayers filing their returns by March 15, as required by present law.

Questionnaires Go To 18-Year-Olds
All military questionnaires to the 18-year-olds who registered during December were being placed in the mail Thursday.
Selective Service clerks suggested that if any of these young men failed to receive these in a few days to inquire at the office so that they would not be overlooked. Occupational questionnaires will be mailed out later.

Only Two Days Left For Payment Of Poll Taxes
Only two more days remain for payment of poll taxes and current taxes without penalty, the Howard county tax collector and assessor's office reminded residents Thursday.
Deadline on payment of poll taxes is midnight Saturday night. The office is remaining open during the noon hour Friday and Saturday to accommodate tax payers.
Current taxes are coming in a little better than last year, the office reported. After the 31st of January penalties will be assessed against unpaid taxes.
Penalties will be one and a half per cent through February, three per cent in March, four and a half per cent in April, six per cent in May, seven and a half per cent in June and after the first of July, ten per cent.

Tax payers will receive only non-voting poll taxes after the 31st of January, it was also advised. To date, 2,900 paid poll taxes have been received.
Out of state residents, who have moved to Howard county between the dates of January 1, 1942 and December 1, 1942, are eligible to apply for a certificate of exemption.
In order to vote, residents must have been in the state for one year and in the county for six months, but regardless of the qualifications for voting privileges, any out of state person arriving here between January 1 and December 1 dates in 1942 is eligible to receive the exemption certificate and vote when length of residence has been established.

British Bombs Rain Again On Duesseldorf

Aerial Blows Are Being Stepped Up By Allied Fleets
LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The RAF hit the German city of Duesseldorf with several hundred tons of high explosives and incendiary bombs last night during the fourth allied aerial blow at the German war machine in two nights and a day, it was announced today.
"Preliminary reports of last night's raid on the Rhineland by several hundred tons of high explosives and incendiary bombs were dropped on Duesseldorf in 20 minutes," and authoritative statement said.
The air ministry had reported that six bombers were missing from a heavy attack on industrial objectives in the Rhineland, which continued a cyclone of raids featured by the first U. S. air force assault on the reich and the first bombing of Copenhagen.

Duesseldorf, a center of transport and heavy industry in northwest Germany, is 160 miles southwest of the Wilhelmshaven naval base which, with Emden, was heavily pounded yesterday by United States heavy bombers.
The German high command, in a communique broadcast from Berlin, sought to discount the effect of the American blows. It declared that "daylight attempt under cover of clouds to bomb targets at Helgoland Bay were foiled by fighters and AA defenses."

Some of Britain's biggest aircraft, Lancasters and Halifaxes, each capable of carrying four two-ton blockbusters—were reportedly reported to have participated in the blows against the Rhineland.
"The thunderous series of bombings was acclaimed by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris, head of the RAF bomber command, as the beginning of a campaign 'to bust Germany wide open.'"
The same area was given a swarms of United States flying heavy pounders yesterday as fortresses and Liberators hammered the naval base at Wilhelmshaven and related industries at near-by Emden.

Paul H. Rankin Made A Major
Public relations office of the Big Spring Bombardier School announced today that Paul H. Rankin had been promoted from captain to the rank of major.
Maj. Rankin, former resident of Sharpville, Pa., is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.
Prior to his assignment at the Big Spring Bombardier School, he was stationed at Midland Flying School, Randolph and Kelly fields, and Camp Livingston.

Local Men Called Into Air Corps
At least three members of the army air corps reserve have been called into service here this week, and scores of others are scheduled to be called soon.
Among those leaving are three aviation cadets, Fred Mitchell, T. J. Dunlap and Jimmy Nummy.
Several youths home from college on inactive reserve duty expected to be called to active duty early in February. Exceptions were due to be made in cases of certain medical, engineering and similar students. Many college students have enlisted or been inducted following the end of the first semester of the current school year.

Bizerte Pounded By Allied Bombers
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 28. (AP)—Axis targets at Bizerte were attacked by Allied bombers Tuesday night and two enemy destroyers were bombed on the shuttle run between Tunisia and Sicily yesterday, one being left after, a communique said today.
"Ground activity on the Tunisian front was confined to patrolling, the Allied command stated."

Saturday Last Day On Sugar Stamp 10
Sugar stamp No. 10 will expire Saturday midnight, the War Price and Ration board reminded again today and Stamp No. 11, also good for three pounds will go into effect.
Saturday will also be the last day for temporary "T" coupons to be issued directly by ration boards. Beginning February 1, the "T" ration will be issued on the basis of OET certificates of war necessity.

Japs Unsuccessful In Aleutian Raid
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—American soldiers on Guadalcanal in the Solomons are continuing their westward advance "despite stiff enemy resistance," the navy said today in telling also of a two-plane Jap raid unsuccessfully directed against American ships far to the north in the Aleutian islands.
It was the first such Japanese attack in the Aleutian Islands in months, a navy spokesman said. The Japanese planes probably were operating out of Kiska.
"What type of United States ships were attacked was not specified."

Military Leaders Confer On Offensive Against Axis

Axis Reports Plan To Split Its Armies

Allies Still Depending On Air Arms For Attack
LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—An American attempt to drive a wedge between the converging armies of Marshal Rommel and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim in central Tunisia was suggested by Axis reports today as the Allied air arms resumed lethal sweeps from the North African battle lines to Italy.
The Vichy radio said last night that the United States forces originally concentrated on Tabessa, Algeria, 150 miles southwest of Tunis, had begun an offensive.
Berlin military spokesmen was quoted by the German radio this morning as saying the Americans were "planning a major offensive." Presumably such a drive would be toward the Gulf of Gabes, a relatively vulnerable sector on the line of Rommel's retreat.
The British Eighth army continued its drive toward Tunisia and its patrols were reported in contact with the enemy in the Sabra area, 41 miles west of Tripoli and less than 60 miles from the Tunisian-Tripolitanian frontier.
From the landing fields of both Tunisia and Tripolitania Allied planes roared to the attack.
A United States communique issued in Cairo said that "during the night of Jan. 26-27 Liberators heavy bombers of the ninth U. S. air force successfully attacked Italian and Sicilian harbors," and all returned.
"Although partially obscured by cloud conditions, bomb bursts were observed in all target areas," the bulletin said.
From British Middle East headquarters came the report that "successful attacks were made on enemy rail communications in southern Italy."

Pilot Blamed For Collision
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board held today that a collision between an army bomber and an American Airlines transport over Palm Springs, Calif., last October 23, was caused by the "reckless and irresponsible" action of Lieutenant William N. Wilson, 28, the bomber pilot.
Twelve persons, including nine passengers, were killed when the big B-24 transport plane crashed from 8,000 feet after its tail had been sheared off by a propeller of the B-34 bomber of the ferrying command.
Lieutenant Wilson was acquitted by an army court martial which investigated the case.
"The evidence of the record," the CAB said in a formal report, "leaves no doubt as to the cause of, or the responsibility for, this accident. The pilot of the bomber testified with great frankness to the facts, which showed that he diverged from his military mission to fly the bomber in close proximity to the airliner for the express purpose of signalling a friend in the co-pilot's seat of the latter plane. Such conduct was wholly without justification."

Bill Provides Penalties For Labor Interference
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The house judiciary committee approved legislation today to subject labor union leaders to penalties—heavy fines and imprisonment—provided by the 1934 anti-racketeering act in cases involving interferences with interstate commerce movement, such as blocking truck shipments.
The committee's action in executive session was on a split vote. Representatives Lane of Massachusetts and Celler of New York, Democrats, opposing the bill, which was introduced by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.).
The legislation would subject to a maximum penalty of twenty years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 anyone interfering with interstate commerce movements during wartime. Hobbs said it was aimed at practices of some labor unions blocking truck shipments because union labor was not employed.
No hearings were held on the legislation, which was voted out by the same committee during the last session of congress after extensive public hearings at which organized labor spokesmen strongly opposed it.
Lane said his objection was based on the contention there was no need for the bill since existing state and federal legislation was adequate to meet the situation.
Committee members said the legislation grew out of inability of the government to prosecute labor organizations under the anti-racketeering act for alleged interference with shipping in New York.

Charge Filed In Pullman Car Slaying
ALBANY, Ore., Jan. 28. (AP)—A first degree murder charge which authorities said was based on circumstantial evidence and a reported confession, has been brought against a dining car cook in the slaying of a navy bride aboard a California bound passenger train last Saturday.
District Attorney Harley Weirick filed the charge in justice court yesterday, naming Robert Folkes, 26, Los Angeles, second cook aboard a unit of the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited as defendant.
He is held in Los Angeles, where, Weirick was informed, he made a statement admitting the killing.
The charge against Folkes constituted the first important development in the fantastic case since the morning five days ago, when the body of Mrs. Martha Virginia James, 21, of Norfolk, Va., was found in the aisle of a sleeping car on the speeding train.
The comely young woman, four months' bride of another Virginian Ensign Richard F. James had been slashed across the throat as she lay in lower berth 13 of a sleeping car.
In Los Angeles Detective Capt. Verne Rasmussen said Folkes admitted the killing, saying he had stabbed Mrs. James with a sharp bonding knife at the instigation of another, unidentified man.
Rasmussen said Folkes' statement told of a deal made with a man on the train who allegedly informed the cook he had to get Mrs. James "out of the way" and offered him $1,500 to "do the job."
The detective quoted Folkes as stating he didn't get any money from the man, but that he entered Mrs. James' berth, straddled the upper portion of her body and stabbed her with the knife.

'FULL CONFIDENCE' EXPRESSED BY FD IN MESSAGE TO SOLDIERS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 28. (AP)—Lieut. General Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today receipt of a message from President Roosevelt declaring he was returning from North Africa to the United States with renewed confidence that American soldiers "shall be victorious."
The message, addressed to American soldiers in North Africa by the commander in chief, said:
"My brief visit to North Africa has given me increased assurance and a deeper feeling of pride in the leaders and men of the American armed forces.
"I could not but note your alertness, your smartness and the pride you take in yourself and your splendid equipment. I return to the United States with renewed confidence that the American soldiers, equipped with the best equipment the world can produce, led by men who have proved themselves in battle, and all imbued with the will to win, shall be victorious."
"Officers and men of the armed forces in North Africa—I commend you."
"President Roosevelt, commander in chief."

Bombardier Band Added For Friday Birthday Dances

Big Spring dances Friday night, so that crippled children may walk. The occasion is the annual observance of the President's Birthday, when balls will be staged to raise funds for the campaign against infantile paralysis.
The news that additional music will be available in Big Spring was a cheering item to Grover Dunham's local committee, which is counting on capacity crowds at the Settles and Crawford hotels. It was announced Thursday that the Big Spring Bombardier school orchestra will play at the Crawford ballroom.
This is an additional band for the Friday night dances, and made possible through special efforts of Col. Sam L. Ellis, post C. O. While the Bombardier boys give forth at the Crawford, Jack Free's orchestra will play in the Settles ballroom, and Jim Winslow's string band will play for old-time dancing in Room 1 on the Settles mezzanine.
Dunham voiced appreciation to Col. Ellis and the post musicians. With the manpower shortage affecting musical organizations, too, only the Jack Free band had been available; and even the Birthday observance was changed from January 26 to January 29 so that "this music could be had."
"Now we'll have an excellent dance band at both hotel ballrooms," said Dunham, "and we can accommodate all those who wish to dance. And we're not overlooking that 'breakdown' music which Jim Winslow and his musicians will be dispensing for those who want the old-time dancing."
As in the past, one admission ticket is good for any and all dances at the hotels. The price is $1.75 per couple, federal tax additional, and while tickets will be available at the doors, they also may be had in advance at downtown points. H. L. Beahm is in direct sales at the Settles Friday night, while J. D. O'Barry will be in charge at the Crawford.
Various night clubs of the city, in meeting a request of the Birthday Ball committee, are donating cover charge for Friday night to the infantile paralysis fund.
Half the money raised here will be used to help local cases, while the remainder goes to the National Foundation conducting research for a cure to the dread disease.
That this year's crowds will be swelled by military personnel is indicated in sale of tickets at the Bombardier school. Dunham emphasized that army men and their wives and girl friends are welcome at the dances along with all civilians. He reminded, too, that many people are purchasing tickets to add their contributions to the fund, even if they do not care to dance.
Dunham and members of the committee are appearing on radio programs today and tomorrow to remind Big Springers of the annual charity event.

North Africa Springboard For Drive?

Eisenhower Heads Up Significant War Parley
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 28. (AP)—A 48-hour conference here attended by the best military brains in Britain and America today sharply foreshadowed the day when the United Nations will use North Africa as a springboard into Europe.
The military chiefs conferred with Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in chief of the Allied expeditionary force in North Africa, after spending eastward from the Casablanca conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.
That they came to this theater after the policy-making Casablanca conference was taken as an indication the Allies consider a Mediterranean offensive against the axis as one of the best bids for victory.
The meeting was held in the headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, American commander in chief in this theater, and for the United States was attended by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the navy; Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander in chief of army air forces, and other high officers.
Britain was represented by Field Marshal Sir John Dill, head of the British joint staff mission in Washington; Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, first sea lord; General Sir Harold Alexander, commander in chief of the Middle East; Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, chief of combined operations (commandos), and others.
The seven men named conferred day and night for two days with Eisenhower after speeding eastward from the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting at Casablanca.
All the conferences centered around General Eisenhower. This combined with the presence of General Alexander was taken as an indication the Allies are planning a union of all forces in the Mediterranean into one great theater with a coordinate command.
Such a step has long been foreseen by military experts as a necessary condition for the success of Alexander's armies join as they appear to be doing in Tunisia.
The conference, second in importance only to the Casablanca meeting, undoubtedly worked out many details of the broad strategy planned by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill for 1943.
Gen. Marshall attracted attention among soldiers throughout Algiers where he inspected a number of troops. The chief of staff of the U. S. army had planned to visit the Tunisian front and took off in the flying fortress for an advanced base, but after three hours in the air he was driven back by adverse weather.

He had been in falling health for a number of years, but continued work until he suffered a stroke a month ago.
Son of a pioneer Big Spring couple, he was born in Fort Worth and came here 15 years ago. He was at the University of Texas for a year in 1917 as a student soldier. Returning to Fort Worth, he was an accountant for Axtell's until he came here in 1929 to serve in a similar capacity for the Deats garage. Later he was associated with other firms and in recent years with V. H. Fieveland.
Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Byrd Deats; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deats, Luther, and several other relatives. Funeral is pending word from Walter Deats, Jr., but probably will be held Saturday or Sunday from the Eberly Funeral home.

Bill Provides Penalties For Labor Interference
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The house judiciary committee approved legislation today to subject labor union leaders to penalties—heavy fines and imprisonment—provided by the 1934 anti-racketeering act in cases involving interferences with interstate commerce movement, such as blocking truck shipments.
The committee's action in executive session was on a split vote. Representatives Lane of Massachusetts and Celler of New York, Democrats, opposing the bill, which was introduced by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.).
The legislation would subject to a maximum penalty of twenty years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 anyone interfering with interstate commerce movements during wartime. Hobbs said it was aimed at practices of some labor unions blocking truck shipments because union labor was not employed.
No hearings were held on the legislation, which was voted out by the same committee during the last session of congress after extensive public hearings at which organized labor spokesmen strongly opposed it.
Lane said his objection was based on the contention there was no need for the bill since existing state and federal legislation was adequate to meet the situation.
Committee members said the legislation grew out of inability of the government to prosecute labor organizations under the anti-racketeering act for alleged interference with shipping in New York.

Local Cagers Snatch Two Victories From Colorado

Blount, Ulrey Lead Steers In Scoring

The Big Spring Steers scored victoriously through their second district 3-AA opposition here Wednesday evening, defeating both the Colorado first and second teams.

With Peppy Blount and John Ulrey both in extremely fine fettle, the Steers buried the Wolves under a 44-16 landslide. Blount ran his season's total to 202 points with 30 during the evening. Ulrey also increased his with 13 points. As usual, steady Dewey Stevenson contributed seven from his guard post.

The Steers held a 10-0 lead at the end of the first quarter when Coach Dibrrell pulled some of his regulars. At the half the Steers had a 26-6 lead, which increased to 35-12 at the end of the third. Ernest Bostick played only a quarter at his guard and the others got in half or three quarters. Williams was outstanding for Colorado City, using his height to good advantage for 10 points.

In the "B" game the Steers won out 19-14 after having a 9-0 lead at the half. Adams, Wolf forward, got hot with three field goals in the last quarter while his mates were adding two others to nearly overhaul the Big Spring boys.

Friday evening the Steers journey to Midland for a return game of the first and second strings. Last week the Steers defeated the Bulldogs but dropped the "B" game.

On Feb. 5 the team goes to Abilene for a double bill, and on Feb. 12 Abilene will return the tilt. Meanwhile, Lamesa, will come here Feb. 16, and on Feb. 15 the Steers will go to Lamesa to wind up the schedule before the district Big Spring.

Brothers Arrive By Devious Journey At Same Small Island In S. Pacific

When destiny takes over, the odds of time and space mean nothing.

Sam and Nats Smith, brothers of Joe Smith, T.A.P. Motor Transport mechanic here, make up a case in point.

These boys were reared at Blackwell in Nolan county by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Smith. Sam learned electric welding and when crews went up for war production labor, he struck out for the West Coast shipyards. Nats picked up the machinist trade and ended up on the East Coast in a specialized work.

Later, they both enlisted in the navy reserve as Sea Pees. Sam was shipped below Guadalcanal to an island cleft by a river. On this tropical isle in the vast expanse of the Pacific he went to work with others repairing ships damaged in action.

Nats' battalion moved out from the Atlantic seaboard, looped south and westward through the Panama Canal and months later steamed into the harbor of this same tiny island.

"I have a brother down here somewhere," he told his commanding officer. The CO obliged by contacting the station commander and making inquiry about Sam Smith.

Shortly thereafter, Nats Smith, supposedly separated by the width of the American continent and by thousands of miles of ocean, walked into the tent of a speechless Sam Smith. The brothers were permitted to transfer to the same unit.

Eventually someone asks "going across the street?" and the group departs for the Yankee offices. The chairs aren't padded in the square office where drum-beater Jack Slocum holds forth and two big leather settees are beginning to show their age.

Slocum gives out routine announcements, such as yesterday's news that the batterymen will begin training before the rest of the squad, but if there's any important information, President Ed Barrow does the thinking for the club.

Eventually the crowd winds up in Barrow's sanctum anyway while Ed makes pungent replies to question.

"Was it your idea or Joe McCarthy's to have the pitchers come in early?" he is asked. "I'm not manager of this club," sputters Barrow. "I thought of it and called McCarthy—and he agreed."

McCarthy suggested bringing in Milo Candini and Rinaldo Ardri, local "hot" volunteers. "We owe Newark and Kansas City some players and I had thought of using those fellows to pay off the debt."

Certainly they had the right handed pitchers—an entire starting staff as a result of the cash deal—and there was every indication that it would be strictly right-handers the Cubs would rely on in their 1943 tilt.

Any southpaw regular must be developed from this year's recruits. Last year's lefties, Vern Olson, Johnny Schmits and Russ Meers, have entered military service.

The 26-year-old Derringer, who has spent 12 years in the majors—the last 10 with Cincinnati—will team up with such likely right hand starters as Claude Passau, Bill Lee, Lou Warnecke, Les Fleming, Tom Pressnell and possibly Dick Barrett, 34-year-old veteran of the minors obtained from Seattle.

Robinson-Wilson Scrap To Be Tough, Take It From Joe
NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis phoned Promoter Mike Jacobs from Fort Riley, Kas., yesterday to tell Mike he'd just heard the announcement of the February 19 Madison Square Garden match between his pal Ray Robinson and California Jackie Wilson.

"And don't let anybody kid you about Robinson having an easy time that night," he informed Mike. "Ray's won 44 fights in a row up to now, and Wilson will be the toughest of 'em all."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The business of covering the New York baseball "beat" starts about 2 p. m. in Eddie Brannick's office and usually winds up several hours later four blocks down 42nd Street in the hotel where the writers are rehearsing the show for their dinner next month. . . . The scribes drift into the Giants' headquarters, make themselves comfortable, toss out routine queries whether there's any news and then discuss anything from baseball to biscuits.

In ordinary years there'd be a daily announcement that Joe Sorcaro had signed his contract and promised to win 20 games, but this season the Giants are the only club that has mailed out contracts, because of uncertainties about salary regulations. . . . They haven't reported any replies, but Brannick doesn't think it's funny when someone asks if the Giants are the only club with a halfhearted problem.

Occasionally someone has an idea and springs a question about the ball club, and if the discussions aren't too noisy he can hear the answer. . . . The two phones on Brannick's desk buzz at intervals and between calls someone uses one to call Brooklyn to see if the Dodgers have any news. They usually don't, reserving their best tidbits for Branch Rickey's weekly press conferences. . . . A railroad man who has dropped in for a special call—Eddie is said to have more friends than anyone in New York—explains that ball clubs should be able to get berths for all hands if they buy their tickets far enough in advance. . . . And Brannick takes a lot of ribbing about his costume as mine host of "Brannick Arms," where the club will stay during spring training at Lakewood, N. J., and whether a hunt breakfast will be in order before the tall-ho trip to the ball field.

Eventually someone asks "going across the street?" and the group departs for the Yankee offices. The chairs aren't padded in the square office where drum-beater Jack Slocum holds forth and two big leather settees are beginning to show their age.

Slocum gives out routine announcements, such as yesterday's news that the batterymen will begin training before the rest of the squad, but if there's any important information, President Ed Barrow does the thinking for the club.

Phillips Team Is Leading The Post League

Phillips Independents, a civilian team participating in the Officers Basketball league at the Big Spring Bombardier School, seized the top lead Wednesday evening by nudging the Behind-the-Liners.

The Line officers made a remarkable recovery or would have been hopelessly buried under a writer of Phillips scores, for the civilians had them down 18-0 at the end of the initial quarter.

Group No. 2 Pilots threw the old half-Nelson on the Group No. 1 Bombarriers, 21-14 with Flight Officer Nelson leading out with 15 points.

Group No. 1 Pilots took a cage lesson from the Group No. 3 Bombarriers, 34-25. Lieut. Dunkerley set the pace for the winners with 20 points while Maj. Magruder, star for the losers, tried valiantly with nine points.

Louis' Pupils Win Only One Bout
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28 (AP)—Baking teacher Joe Louis insists he's proud of his Fort Riley army pupils, although they won only one of eight bouts last night.

Sergeant Louis was in the corner with each of his fighters, and the series of defeats didn't appear to embarrass the world's heavyweight champion in the least.

He did seem a bit more cheerful, though, when Fort Riley's Joe Prodosky, 160, drew a terrific right from the depths of his weariness and floored Ray Spurluck for the count in the third round.

Allie Stolz To Mix It With Willie Pep

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—It is neither polite nor true to say Allie Stolz is a mental case, because everyone knows Allie can read and write and operate his mental machinery with the best of 'em.

As a matter of fact, Willie Pep, with whom Allie collides in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, admits that the one thing he's a little leery about is that Allie is "one of those smart fellas, and I'd rather fight a slugger who doesn't know too much than one of those smart guys."

But it is obvious that as Stolz nears his punch party with the New York version of the world featherweight champion tomorrow night, the wise guys want to know much more about what he says and does—and thinks—than in just what condition he's in.

For there's no doubt the curly-haired Newark stylist is one of those "think" fighters, whose performances in the ring depend on just how they feel "inside their heads" on any given evening. Jack Sharkey was one; so was Max Baer, and, going back a piece, Ruby Goldstein and a lot of others. Depending on their mental attitude, this variety of wallpapers can, take tanks apart one night. And the next night, they might just as well have "stood in bed."

It's All FREE

By WILDA CAMERY, R.N. Community Service Society of New York

Sunshine, fresh air and exercise, free to all, are three of the most powerful healing forces available to man. Those of us who are city dwellers tend to cheat ourselves of our share, especially in winter.

Restriction of gasoline and tires has introduced many adult workers to the thrill of arriving at work after a walk through the morning sunshine. There's also the joy of exploring nearby parks and wooded country-ides with your family during evenings and Sunday afternoons.

As you exercise, watch your posture—remember the erect straight body gives equal opportunity for all exercise. Sit tall, stand tall, walk tall. You know the picture—head held high, hips flat, abdomen in, feet placed firmly and well apart with toes straight ahead. Just standing this way, breathing deep, brushes away cobwebs.

The amount and kind of exercise needed varies with individuals. Find the activity which gives you the most satisfaction and is safe for you and enter into it wholeheartedly.

Plan for some time out of doors every day. Do as many of your routine tasks as possible out of doors and when that is impractical, by an open window.

By the way, the open window provides an excellent means for giving your baby his sunbath even in cold weather. You may safely begin when he is about four weeks old. Open a window, both top and bottom, and place the crib so that baby lies in the patch of sunlight that comes through.

The room should be heated and all other openings closed against drafts. Begin by permitting the sun to shine on his face, hands and arms for five or ten minutes the first day. Be sure his eyes are turned away from the sun. As he grows accustomed to the sun, baby's legs may be uncovered and on warm days, his shirt removed. Lengthen the time to an hour or two very gradually. Complete instructions concerning sun bathing may be secured by writing to the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Your baby also needs cod liver oil to supplement the sunshine he gets. Your doctor will tell you how much of this bottled sunshine to give. Many adults whose work limits the amount of sunshine they get also need the extra protection of cod liver oil.

Japs Planning A Move Against Australia?

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 28. (UP)—Government sources indicated today that a major operation by the Japanese may be pending against northern Australia.

It was learned from commonwealth authorities that Jap troop and shipping concentrations have been strengthened heavily by enemy movements extending to areas in the Pacific remote from Australia but converging in this direction.

The movements were said to be on a scale great enough to cause deep concern.

Enemy shipping is being concentrated in the north, it was stated.

Jap activity is increasing along the south coast of Dutch New Guinea.

Miss Laneous Notes

MARY WEALEY

Attaining a life's ambition is quite a thrill although we always aspire to the most peculiar things that nobody else ever thinks is important. For instance, the other day we accomplished another child hood dream when we plunked out rental for a safety deposit box.

Now that we've got it, we are a little vague as to what to put in it since we have no family "joia," no important papers, and definitely no money. But it ended a longing we'd had since we used to go to the bank with Mom and Pop and watch them and others go into the vaults.

It always seemed sort of mysterious and important to be shown the way to the rows of little boxes, each with its own individual key and the room safely guarded with big doors and combination locks.

After the first such trip when we watched people put things in and take things out of the tin boxes, we vowed someday to have one too. "Course, we saw people putting in their diamond rings and bracelets, the family silver, and wills and important looking sealed letters.

Now that we have ours, outside of a pair of silk hose or nylon, which we don't have, we can't think of anything important to hide away behind all that mess of locked doors. But if times get tougher, we might secrete a coffee bean, a lump of sugar, and a pork chop in our box. Things may come to that and then we'll be glad we have a spot in which to hide such provisions.

Bill Offered To Maintain Age Pensions

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—A $1,154,000 increase in current old age assistance expenditures is authorized in a bill which headed toward house of representatives consideration today.

Approved by the appropriations committee, the measure would avert a $3 horizontal reduction in each pension check beginning in March, sponsors said.

Appearing before the committee Director J. S. Muchison of the public welfare department testified that the appropriation, which will supplement a current authorized expenditure of $1,750,000 monthly, would result in full assistance payments for a period of about four months.

Muchison said appropriation of the $1,154,000 would bring about full payment of certified amounts to individual recipients. He revealed that 14.5 per cent or 25,000 now are eligible for a $30 payment but receive $29 because of the horizontal reduction.

Pilot From Texas Brings 'Em Back

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 28. (AP)—Capt. Clifton Pyle of Marshall, Tex., has brought badly shot-up planes back from raids several times—on one trip his fortress returned blazing, with four cannon and 150 machine-gun holes—but he wasn't touched during the attack on Wilhelmshaven and Emden yesterday.

Pyle flew a well-known American general to the Casablanca conference in the fortress "Boomerang," so named because it always comes back.

TEKAN ON FLAME IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 28. (AP)—Lieut. Cecil Liles of Corsicana, Tex., was aboard a flying fortress, piloted by Capt. James DeWolf of Karney, Neb., which was credited with a direct hit on a Japanese vessel in Rabaul harbor, New Britain.

Growing Power Of U. S. Air Forces Shown In Bombing Raids On Reich

AT A UNITED STATES BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 28. (AP)—The first bombing of Germany by the United States army air forces reflects the growing strength of the American air arm in Britain and presages a continuing series of attacks against the heart of the dwindling Nazi empire.

The pilots, bombardiers and the rest of the crews participating in the raid of flying fortresses and Liberators assayed the results today with the declaration that they could do better and the German defenses did not do so well.

The unexpected weakness of anti-aircraft and fighter plane defenses over Wilhelmshaven indicates that the Germans have not enough first-class aerial talent to cover all vulnerable points, it was agreed here.

Sergeant C. E. Chasen, of Tulsa, Okla., a waist gunner of the "Gopher," one of the fortresses, said that the pilots of the German fighters which sought to intercept them appeared to be "just green—they attacked only the rear planes."

Men of another fortress named "Carter" and his "Pills" said that the German fighter pilots "were just primary and basic training fellows; they didn't know which way to kick the rudder." Their fortresses, named for its pilot, Capt. J. W. Carter of Lawton, Okla., has weathered 11 raids without a scratch.

Two German fighters attacked the plane yesterday simultaneously from each side. Engineer Sergt. S. Kirk of Lincoln, Ark., the left waist gunner, and Sergt. R. A. Livengood, of Butler, Pa., nailed them at the same time.

The crew of the "Carter" plane said it got at least two and the "Devil's Playmate" crew claimed two. The "Royal Flush" and the "Connecticut Yankee" each claimed three.

San Saba Citizens Make Long Trip To Give Their Blood

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Co-operation of a gasoline ration board, the Lions Club and a ply made it possible for 82 San Saba citizens to furnish nearly 82 pints of blood to the Red Cross blood plasma bank here Tuesday.

The ration board furnished extra gasoline for five cars and a bus, and the Lions Club raised $150. The tanker was refilled off and the winner then put him on sale at auction to boost the sum another $75 with which to defray the expenses of the all-day trip to San Antonio.

NOT ENOUGH HOSTESSES

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. (UP)—Girl dancing partners have been rationed at the USO club here. A shortage of hostesses made it necessary to give each service man five tickets, each ticket entitling him to a partner for one dance.

'Joe Sent Me' Is The Password To Get Bread Sliced

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Has the missus learned to slice bread yet? Does your sandwich require excessive muscular effort to force it into your mouth?

If the unsoftened bread situation has you down, you can apparently pull your hat low, slip into some stores and murmur, "Joe sent me. How about a loaf sliced." And you'll get it.

That is the general accusation made by several bakeries against other bread dealers, says the Army Services Want A. & M.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Texas A. & M. College is held in such high esteem as a military training institution, says Representative Kilday (D-Tex.), that several different branches of the army are competing for use of part of the school's facilities.

In addition, the navy department also would like to obtain use of part of the physical equipment and teaching staff at College Station, added Kilday.

A member of the house military affairs committee, he conferred with war department officials in an effort to learn the exact status of A. & M. and other Texas schools with R.O.T.C. units under the new educational program for some 150,000 men of the armed forces.

Generally speaking, only the junior and senior students at A. & M. will be directly affected by the changes in the war department reserve officers training setup, explained Kilday. The R.O.T.C. units in the first two years at College Station will not be affected, nor will those at the two junior college schools—N. T. A. C. at Arlington and John Tarleton at Stephenville—at such schools as St. Mary's College in San Antonio, and at high schools throughout Texas, he added.

Under the educational program, the government will sign a contract for utilization of a part of the school's physical equipment and for the services of some of its staff of instructors. "The army will not take over the school. It will be under the same administration as in the past. The soldiers enrolled under the program will be under army orders, however."

Many Applicants For The WAAC

Twenty applications have been distributed here, at Lamesa and Stanton to women contemplating enlistment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, Sgt. Edwin L. Turner, army recruiter, declared Thursday.

He anticipated that several would report Friday noon to be shipped to Lubbock for examination and enrollment.

Approximately a third of those who sought interviews with Lieut. Jesse Gardner, WAAC recruiter in this area the forepart of the week, have secured applications.

Best responses per capita came from Stanton on Tuesday. Although at that point only a short time, Lieut. Gardner gave 15 interviews and eight of the women asked for applications. Earlier in the day three applicants resulted from 20 interviews. Submission of two more applications from Big Spring Wednesday pushed the total to 11 for the week, said Sgt. Turner.

He announced Thursday that orders to report for training had come to three Big Spring women.

The plaintiff rested his case Thursday morning and defense witnesses were heard by jurors. Randall claims he was injured while working as a carpenter's helper on construction of the Big Spring Bombardier school and is asking $20 a week for a period of 401 weeks.

The suit is expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

New Loans Available For Wartime Food Production

A new source of credit at the county level for production of essential war-time food and fiber has been made available to Howard county producers through action of the county war board.

The loans, which may come through a variety of agencies, are available through the Food Production Administration which set up in excess of 200 millions of additional funds for the purpose of increasing vital production.

Under the new program, loans will be made to producers upon approval of a department of agriculture loan representative and the chairman of the county USDA war board. Individual loans will be limited only by the amount needed to do the production job. They will be made for only one agricultural season and not to exceed one year, but renewals may be granted under proper conditions.

Interest will be five per cent and collateral will be first liens on commodities, livestock or other items being financed. According to a previous announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, the new funds do not alter the existing credit set-ups for producers. Banks and the various lending institutions and agencies will continue to make proper loans, and the new aid is to be used in cases where finances may not be adequate elsewhere and where the loans will result in essential war-time food and fiber production. It is not competitive but supplemental credit, and is purely for production. It is no subsidy and proper assurances of repayment must be given.

Promotion from private first class to corporal has come for Alvah L. Woods, stationed at Camp Maxey, Texas. Woods, son of Mrs. Dora Scott of 411 Ayiford street, was employed by the Big Spring Laundry before going into service.

Large Volume Of Tires Issued

An emergency tire meeting that lasted two days was completed Wednesday by the tire panel of the local War Price and Rationing Board and the largest consignment of tires yet issued approved by the panel.

Due to lack of certificates, the applicants will probably not receive their notices until Monday or Tuesday of next week, Sonora Murphy, chief clerk, said.

Approved was 22 Grade One passenger tires, 143 Grade Two and 292 Grade Three passenger tires. One hundred passenger tubes were also approved.

Truck owners were granted 74 tires and 40 tubes and 12 tractor tires were also issued. The panel okayed issuance of 64 passenger car treads and 46 truck treads.

Although a large number of applications for tires are still on file at the office, the emergency meeting cleared up the applications of those in most urgent need for rubber tires, tubes and treads.

Editorial - - Our Positive Leadership

Called the most momentous conference of the century, the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting in North Africa must certainly be weighed of great value to the psychological effect it has upon the world. These two leaders of the United Nations with their staffs, held meet for ten days to chart war strategy and emerge with confident, positive statements in course cheering to the peoples of their nations.

It cannot be but uplifting, too, to the many oppressed nations which are under the dictatorial yoke and which are looking for the day of their liberation. And certainly the "unconditional surrender" talks are of no encouragement to the enemy.

While the dramatic Atlantic Charter conference was significant that it theorized a way of progress after the war, it was a conversation that had to be couched in generalities. It was, in a measure, a peace plan. The North African conference resulted in a war plan. There is a difference. And now we are given to understand that the broad policies of victory are mapped for 1943. There is nothing qualified in the aims as they were announced:

1. To maintain the offensive against the axis in all theatres.
2. To pool all resources of the United Nations to enable maintenance of undiminished initiative against Germany, Italy and Japan and bring about the speediest possible termination of the conflict.
3. To send all possible material to Russia for the sake of a continued Soviet offensive.
4. To give all possible aid to China and to prosecute the war in all portions of the Pacific and end for all time Japanese attempts at domination of China and the Pacific.

In addition to these four points, it is important to note that the parley very likely cleared up many differences among the French factions, and that the Giraud-De Gaulle interests were united. This, in effect, gains another ally, and certainly valuable aid in the African theatre—later, the European theatre.

These points make it plain, happily, that China and Russia are to be given the help they are entitled to as fighting allies. They make it just as plain that the United Nations are girded fully to win this war; and, being girded, have set out in full resolve to get the job done quickly, completely, inexorably.

It all represents leadership—positive leadership, which is the prime essential of victory.

Nation's Auto Dealers Are Carrying On

JACK STIMPSON
WASHINGTON — Congressman and other government officials interested in the plight of small business are studying results of a survey which may be the key to what has happened and is happening to the nation's 30,000 automobile dealers.

Speaking of Jack South, a grand guy; Texas spy tells me Jack planning on getting married in June, Army and Navy have over 100 camps and stations in Texas; Lone Star state has enough land to give every man, woman and child in American one acre each; between Pearl Harbor and last November 53,000 Texans volunteered for Army service, by far greater than percentage of population of any other state. . . .

How To Torture Your Wife

It's a short, c'est la guerre tale: "It was beautiful down there at Fall Brook on our 50 acres," she says, "and we were growing things and loving it. But suddenly Camp Pendleton was right beside us. We could scarcely get into our road for the jeeps, and bugle calls and building noise aren't exactly bird songs. The man of our couple got a job at camp for several times what we could pay, and then gasoline rationing ended our necessary commuting. The couple is living on the place for us, and we've bought a house in Beverly Hills."

If all this means more Harding pictures, I say it's to the good. . . .

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Ann Harding Returns As Wife Of An Ambassador

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Miss Ann Harding, who to these eyes is the truly beautiful woman of the movies, is enjoying a well-earned rest from the elings and arrows of outrageous and pitiless scenario-writers.

Miss Harding is not suffering nobly, bearing her woes in silence, nor giving her all with her chin held high. She is not protecting the weak, taking the rap for another's sin, nor paying the piper proudly for her own.

She is merely being her natural, gracious self with no burden on her frail, feminine shoulders other than the smart suits, gowns and furs which would have been worn by the wife of the former U. S. ambassador to Russia—Mrs. Joseph E. Davies.

This stroke of fortune is due, of course, to the fact that for the first time Miss Harding is playing a real-life, living character, one who is a frequent visitor on the set where her husband's book, "Mission to Moscow," is being filmed. Scenarioists who tested the depths of the Harding capacity for nobility and suffering in her earlier films like "Holiday," "Devotion," and "East Lynne" must hew to the line in dealing with realities.

And so Miss Ann Harding gets her holiday from woe.

Miss Harding, with her classic profile and ash-blond hair, is making no more attempt to look like Mrs. Davies, who is beautiful also, than Walter Huston is making to look like the former ambassador.

"I think there's been a mistake in casting," she says. "I think Mr. and Mrs. Davies should be playing themselves—they're both charming. But I'm playing the role as Mrs. Davies described it: an ambassador's wife is a background figure. She is pleasant and agreeable, a good hostess and a pleasant guest. I say 'How do you do?' a great many times—I'm trying to use different inflections on it." She laughs: "I'm afraid it's a bit part, really. Mr. Huston and I go through the story, observing a lot of fine acting by other people, but we ourselves don't have much to do."

Miss Harding, in gay good spirits, is living close to Hollywood again. For the duration, at least, she has given up the idyllic ranching life she and her husband, Werner Janssen, the symphony conductor and composer, used to enjoy.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

Chapter Two

She slid off the couch, and walking with quick little steps to one of the windows, where she stood looking out into the fiery garden. A faint noise of thunder stirred to the east, over the heights that swept down to Hampstead Heath. She seemed to want to brush away the subject. But she could not let it alone; she kept nagging at herself and it.

"Well? Aren't you going to say anything? Do you blame me?"

"No. But I still think you're foolish."

"Why?"

Hugh examined his hands, clenching and unclenching the fingers.

"It's like preparing a brief, and trying to get just the right words," he said. "If your parents were as you describe them, money was essential to them. But it isn't essential to you. And you know it."

"Really?"

"Yes. In fact, the question of money hasn't anything to do with it. You've got some sort of mental kink or obsession by which you've somehow convinced yourself that you've got to marry Frank, and I wish I knew why. Don't you realize that if you marry Frank Dorrance you'll only be marrying another 'Handsome Jack'?"

"Perhaps."

"In other words, you'll be letting yourself in for the sort of thing you hate most?"

"Perhaps."

"Then why in the name of reason are you doing it? You can't do it, Brenda. By God, it's not good enough!"

He got up from the couch, bumping against the table so that the tea-service rattled. She was still standing with her back to him in the window, with the sun on her hair, and her head gleaming in skin. They were coming nearer to it, approaching the inevitable with every step.

Yet, even as his elbow bumped against the table, it occurred to him to wonder why Dr. Nicholas Young had not come in to tea, and why they had been left alone together at a dangerous time. At any moment he expected to see Old Nick come hobbling in, and to hear Nick's only half-joking torrents of abuse at him for trying to upset the matrimonial apple-cart. A true thing, since Frank Dorrance was the apple of Nick's eye. Old Nick liked to have young people about him; he took pride in a house infested with casual visitors and more food on the table than anybody could possibly eat, but you did as he wished or he had a peculiar cruelty reserved for you. Hurry was the thought in Hugh Rowland's mind; hurry, hurry, he'd got to hurry. . . .

"It's all arranged—" Brenda began.

"Yes, I know. And Kitty Bancroft will be matron of honor, and Nick will dance the saraband, and Noakes's ghost will bless you, and even I will be an usher."

"Well, what would you suggest that I do about it?"

"You could marry me, for instance," said Hugh.

They had stumbled over it like a hurdle. And Hugh waited, the silk scarf feeling tight and hot around his neck.

"I'm not going to make the usual poor man's complaint," he said.

"We should at least have quite enough to live on, if that worries you. And I've been in love with you for four months and eighteen days. I suppose you know that?"

"Yes, I know it," said Brenda, without turning round.

"If the jury would like to retire to consider their verdict," said Hugh, while the silk scarf grew hotter, "court can be adjourned until then. If, however, there is any possibility of a verdict being returned without leaving the box—"

"Thanks, Hugh. But I can't do it."

"Well, that's that." In the emotional aftermath, he found himself suddenly angry and as though he had sustained a physical bruise. He had asked for it, he told himself; he had walked up and asked for it, and now he ought to be satisfied when he got the whack. But he could not accept it. "It's just as well to know where we stand. Shall I tell you the truth? What worried me was whether in your heart of hearts you weren't in love with Frank after all—"

"Oh, Hugh, don't be such a fool!"

"Am I being a fool? I suppose so. But is it Frank? I was only—suggesting an alternative for your approval, in case—"

The width of the room separated them. She turned around, and he saw that her face was flushed. She walked quickly towards him, to get out of the sunlight.

"You are being the most awful fool imaginable," she told him in a low and rapid voice. She stared at the floor; but he felt the anger round her.

How it happened he was never afterwards sure. In one moment she was standing two or three feet away, with the sunlight silhouetting the edges of her hair, and the baffled, insistent set of her shoulders. He saw the expression of her eyes, but he also saw the stubbornness there. A few seconds later (without any apparent interval of time or movement) he was kissing her. Her body was warm; her lips were cool, but violent and responsive.

Again her head was at about the height of his shoulder. And it was perhaps a minute later that he glanced up over it, and saw Frank Dorrance standing in one of the windows, looking at them.

How To Torture Your Wife

It's a short, c'est la guerre tale: "It was beautiful down there at Fall Brook on our 50 acres," she says, "and we were growing things and loving it. But suddenly Camp Pendleton was right beside us. We could scarcely get into our road for the jeeps, and bugle calls and building noise aren't exactly bird songs. The man of our couple got a job at camp for several times what we could pay, and then gasoline rationing ended our necessary commuting. The couple is living on the place for us, and we've bought a house in Beverly Hills."

If all this means more Harding pictures, I say it's to the good. . . .

More than one-fifth of the human race is Chinese.

It's The "Changeable Season"

Tall Tales Of Texas Weather

DALLAS, Jan. 28. (AP)—The sage who said the first liar doesn't have a chance must have just finished a session on Texas weather.

From now until summer—Texans call it the "changeable season"—anything can happen: sleet at breakfast, dust at noon, the hot sweats by supper.

And it's open season for prevaricators.

"I'm now in Texas," a buck private wrote his mother. "Not much news except maybe the weather. Day before yesterday it was so hot the captain let us wear shorts. Yesterday it started raining and washed our pup tent away. Now a norther's hit and as I write this there's icicles on my table."

"My buddy who lives up at Amarillo tells me: 'Jack, don't put them shorts away. You'll need 'em again by night!'"

The blue norther is exclusively a Texas institution, so called because of its peculiar appearance. When northern skies are a deep blue—almost black—you've just got time to head for the stove.

Meteorologists say Texas weather is so unpredictable because the state lies across the "weather route"—that path which the Arctic highs follow as they dip into the United States and then curve east.

As long as they can tell the direction of the movement of the highs, weather men can accurately forecast. But after the highs get into Texas they may switch east any time.

Thus sudden change at 6 p. m. in Dallas the other day it was 83 degrees and by bedtime it was freezing—has produced some tall tales which have made Texas weather a national institution.

Back in the 1880's—remember the first liar doesn't have a chance—a Mississippi preacher moved to Texas.

"Just why I don't know," he wrote his brother back in Natchez. "I'm covetin' the flock, but the weather in this country was ordered by satan himself."

"I saw a man flash one day in the Brazos and one of these Texas norther's hit like lightning. Before he got his line up his hook had frozen solid in the ice. "He got on his horse and headed for home. When he got there it had thawed a little and his horse's mouth was covered with lather and his tail was covered with ice."

The norther doesn't always hold center stage. Dust, wind and droughts have their exponents.

There was the rancher who came into Abilene years ago during a terrible drought to sell his cattle.

"Yep, had to sell them cattle," he drawled. "Every time my herd got stirred up I could hear the bonnyard moving. Wish'd it would rain. Don' mind for myself 'cause I seen rain. But my kids ain't."

An old Texas ranger told how he was hunting Indians around El Paso during a sandstorm that had raged for three days. Suddenly he saw a hat sticking out of the sand. He began digging and found a man under the hat.

As soon as he got the sand out of the man's mouth, the latter said:

"Get a shovel quick. There's a good horse under me."

The best stories center around Amarillo, that bustling cattle and gas city up in the Panhandle.

A salesman from Chicago—which is supposed to be windy—asked an Amarilloan:

"Does it blow this way all the time down here?"

"Now, the rest of the time it blows the other way. You see that bank building over there? It's chained to the pavement. I've seen it blow so hard through my house I could hang my hat on the wall without a nail."

Another salesman—this time from St. Louis—picked the Panhandle to sell his line of barometers.

"A rancher was his first prospect and the salesman gave him the works.

"I guess your contraption's all right," the rancher said. "But I've got one of my own. You see that big rock hanging by a wire from that tree? Well, when that rock blows straight out we don't send the boys out to work."

FLASHES OF LIFE

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Springfield is holding its breath, waiting to learn what citizen will receive its 1942 man-of-the-year plaque.

The breathing may be delayed quite a while, too, the chamber of commerce admits.

It can't get a plaque.

SEATTLE, Wash. — William Needmyer got quite hungry, waiting for jurors to acquit him of game-law violation.

He'd just stepped across the street for his 20-cent bowl of soup when jurors reported.

They waited a half-hour for him to return, before they could free him.

Judge Chester A. Batchelor was hungry by that time, too. He fined Needmyer $10 for contempt.

GALLATIN, Mo. — A poultry shower honored the Rev. and Mrs. Lelan Atkins.

Each couple brought a live pullet.

SALT LAKE CITY — Maybe this burglar is planning on a return visit.

He broke into C. J. Samuel's garage and stole $25, an automatic pistol, some tools and the lock on the front door.

Wreckage Sighted?

LAKEPORT, Calif., Jan. 27. (AP) Sheriff Chet Antrim reported to-day searchers on Clear Lake, 150 miles north of San Francisco, had sighted what might be at least one body and part of the wreckage of an airplane. It was in this area that a navy plane, with 19 persons aboard, was believed to have been seen last six days ago.

Dinner Serving 4 or 5

Vegetable Mold Cheese Sauce Spiced Beets
Whole Wheat Biscuits
Apple Butter
Pear Sauce Nugget Sticks
Milk or Tea
Vegetable Mold

1 cup cooked peas
1 cup cooked lima or navy beans
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2-2 cup diced cooked carrots
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons catsup
2 eggs, beaten
1-4 cup carrot or pea stock
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Mix ingredients and pour into buttered mold. Bake 50 minutes in pan of hot water in moderate oven. Unmold carefully and cover with cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce
2-3 cup sliced soft cheese
1-3 cup milk
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Simmer all ingredients in double boiler until creamy. Stir frequently. Pour over the vegetable mold.

Nugget Sticks (Fruity Cookies)

1-3 cup shortening
2-3 cup sugar
3 tablespoons corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, beaten
1-2 cup chopped apricots
1-2 cup nuts
1-2 cup currants
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons milk
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Cream shortening and sugar. Add rest of ingredients. Beat 2 minutes. Pour into shallow pan, lined with waxed paper. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Cut in bars.

To cream butter means to beat or press it with a fork or slotted spoon until it is soft and fluffy. Butter creams easily if it is placed in a bowl and left in kitchen for 15 minutes or so. Never melt it first before creaming as this would make a different texture.

You can use kidney beans the same as regular navy beans for your baked beans.

Current Crops Should Be Balanced With Livestock Program

By O. P. GRIFFIN County Agent

Howard county farmers are planning the largest production of pork in the history of this county. If grain can be produced to feed out the potential pig crop, the pork production will at least double last year and will be several hundred per cent of normal. This is a good way to help win the war, and is as it should be.

However, to bring this vastly increased pork production into completion a very large amount of grain will be needed. Experiments have shown that the highest acre production of grain for this area is had from Standard Dwarf Maize. The acreage of "combine" maize has been greatly increased during the past two years. Since it can be harvested with a combine, less labor is required, and labor is scarce. But on the other hand, if the acreage to this type of maize is increased very much more, there will also be a shortage of combines. In normal times this would be no problem but now only a limited number of combines will be available. In addition to the difficulty of securing a combine, this type of maize is not quite as good feed as Standard Dwarf. Therefore, it appears that unless you have a combine available, it would be best to plant Standard Dwarf.

For each hog you plan to feed out you will require about one acre of maize, assuming you will make an average crop. To this should be added the grain you will need for poultry, feeding out hives and for other livestock. If you make more maize than you need, you can be assured it will sell for a very good price.

While short staple cotton is not needed, there are three commodities, vital to the war effort, obtained from a cotton crop. They are linters to make gun cotton, badly needed oil for human food and to make explosives and high protein feed used to balance livestock rations. Therefore, it would probably be best for most West Texas farmers to plant their cotton allotted acres in 1943. However, cotton may not be the best crop this year.

Gardens and truck crops will be vastly more important this year. Products of the garden will be so high priced farmers who do not raise them will be inclined to do without and injure their health. Besides there will not be a plentiful supply at any price, unless it is produced on these farms. Consequently, now as ever, the home food supply should come first on every farm.

Meat Canning Urged For Use At Home

Homemakers who are planning to can any kind of meat, including beef, pork, lamb and poultry are urged to use the new method for canning it.

The meat is packed in the jars or cans raw with the seasoning. Then the pint containers are allowed to steam or exhaust slowly in a pressure cooker or hot water bath for 60 minutes and quarts for 85 minutes. Next the pints are sealed and processed at 16 pounds pressure for 50 minutes and quarts 65 minutes.

The containers are full of liquid when removed from the cooker and the meat is moist and has a good flavor if good quality meat is used for canning.

For further information on this method of canning meat contact the home demonstration office or home demonstration club members who have seen this demonstration.

Black Market Gasoline Sales Disappearing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Don't break down and cry about it, but the eastern pleasure driving ban has put the old blinkus on the gasoline black market business.

Office of Price Administration officials said today that the gasoline bootlegging racket which swung into high gear in a hurry when rationing first started along the Atlantic seaboard last spring now is barely limping along on one cylinder.

Reason: Motorists can't use the gas—so why buy it?

Not only has the bottom dropped out of the "illegal and unpatriotic gasoline black market," an OPA spokesman said, but also "these chiselers are finding that what little business there is left is getting more dangerous every day."

Of course, the gawgging gangs may go west where men are men and pleasure driving still is possible.

But the OPA warned that all black market roads are under inspection—and they'll be traveling at their own risk.

Orchard By Bundle Is Practical Way

By FONTILLA JOHNSON County Home Demonstration Agent

Recognizing that many Texas farm families do not have enough fruit at home, Texas nurserymen have developed a plan for helping increase and enlarge orchards in the state.

J. F. Roeborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College extension service, explains that four types of group plantings will be available
