

Union Merger Effectuated As Vote Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL and CIO merged today into a single federation of 16,000,000 members—the largest organized labor force in the free world.

The CIO voted overwhelming approval in its final convention session in the Hotel New Yorker.

The AFL endorsed the merger unanimously in its convention in the Hotel Statler yesterday.

George Meany, AFL president, will head the combined organization, to be known officially as the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO).

Walter P. Reuther, the CIO president, is expected to hold a major post in the new organization as head of its Industrial Union Department.

This department embraces the old CIO's sphere of industrywide unions, such as those of the automobile and steel industries.

Both the industrial unions and the AFL unions, organized by crafts, such as carpenters and plumbers, will continue as before in the new setup, with their status described as "affiliate."

The combined AFL-CIO will go into a single convention from Monday through Friday next week in the 71st Regiment Armory.

President Eisenhower will address the convention by telephone from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm Monday.

New York Gov. Averell Harriman, a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell will address it Tuesday.

Marion Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare, will speak Wednesday, and Adlai E. Stevenson, an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination, and American Legion Commander J. Adlington Wagner, Thursday.

Meany told the AFL convention yesterday there is no question about the desirability of the merger and that there was no need originally for a split in labor's ranks. He said that, without wishing to criticize anybody, he believed the differences could have been worked out within the AFL framework.

"This merged organization can go forward to a better day," he said. "It can make a better and more vital contribution to the community as a whole and to the welfare and security of our nation."

Reuther, addressing the CIO convention, said success of the new organization will be determined by its sense of social and moral dedication.

Peter Yablonski, a Newark, N.J., painter union delegate, cast a lone dissenting vote on the merger proposal at the AFL convention, but later switched to an affirmative vote.

Two AFL union leaders complained in a lively floor discussion about some aspects of the merger.

One was Woodruff Randolph, president of the AFL International Typographical Union, who said the AFL-CIO leadership would have too much power over the organizing scope of various unions.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL sleeping car porters, wanted the AFL-CIO to have more power to punish unions that practiced racial discrimination.

A new spat was fired over a John L. Lewis letter asserting the CIO owes $1,665,000 to his United Mine Workers (independent) in repayment of a loan.

James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, told Lewis "the CIO owes you no money" and denied a Lewis charge that the CIO is being liquidated.

The combined organization, to be known as the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, will meet in convention Monday in the 71st Regiment Armory here.

MORE KIDS TO GET YULE CHEER

A few more very generous people responded today to the appeal for "providing" real Christmas to needy children. The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND was boosted to $248.

This is the fund which the city firemen use to provide usable toys, and baskets of nourishing food—plus some Christmas "goodies"—for those destitute families whose circumstances have been checked. It means a real Christmas when otherwise some people would be denied this. The help of fortunate Big Springers is needed. Send your contribution to The Herald, marked CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND.

Taylor Pleads For Saws As He Heads For Jail

John Taylor, local Jaycee president, was appealing for clemency with saws in them this morning, because Taylor is headed for a stint in the Snyder jail.

Big Spring lost to Snyder in the number of accidents occurring in the city Thursday. Safe-Driving Day, Snyder, and Scurry County, made S-D Day with no accidents. Big Spring finished the day with six mishaps, however only three of them were important enough to be called accidents.

Taylor said his "jail term" would begin next Friday. The final arrangements were made this morning with the Snyder Jaycee President, Steve Birdwell.

Mishaps occurring after noon Thursday added up to a total of six for Big Spring on S-D Day. Last year the city had only four. Peggy Charlotte Sagle, Lamesa, was in collision with Gilbert Garcia Martinez, 602 W. 1st near the Top Hat Cafe. A little earlier, R. V. Jones, 1012 Nolan, reported he was involved in a minor accident with another car. Neither car stopped at the scene, however.

Aubrey E. Cummings, 1600 E. 17th, was in collision with a fence at 1524 E. 17th. The fence is on the property of Frank Gibson.

The three mishaps reported yesterday had only one serious accident. Baxter M. Beber, Webb AFB, was in collision with a parked car at 606 State. Beber was admitted to the base hospital and treated for lacerations. The parked car belonged to Alvin Eugene Nabors, 606 State.

Homer Haygood, Neil's Courts, reported someone collided with his car sometime Wednesday night. T. G. Lewis, Snyder, called police and reported a minor accident in the 300 block of West Third. Here again neither car stopped at the scene.

HCJC Wins Approval Of School Group

Howard County Junior College has been accepted for full accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, who is attending the meeting in Miami, Fla., said that the association's committee accepted the college without reservation. A committee had been sent here early in the fall semester to check on the college's application.

Approval by the Southern Association closed the last gap in the list of accreditation.

In addition to the Southern Association, the college is a member of the Association of Texas Colleges, Texas Junior College Association, Texas Public Junior College Association, the American Association of Junior Colleges, and the Southern Association of Junior Colleges.

It also is fully accredited by the Texas State Department of Education and approved by the Veterans Administration for training under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Lamar Tech of Beaumont was the only other Texas College added to the list at this time. Among secondary (high) schools approved were the new Palo Duro school at Amarillo, the new Monterrey school at Lubbock.

Pontiac Dealer Angrily Lashes GM 'Slavery'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate anti-trust investigators today confronted the top officers of General Motors Corp. with an angry Pontiac dealer who accused the GM command of making "pawns and vassals" of its 19,000 dealers.

President Harlow H. Curtis and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr. took their places at the Judiciary subcommittee's witness table supposing themselves to be the first witnesses of the day.

Instead, they were forced to sit silent while acting subcommittee Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) called up three complaining dealers summoned by subpoena.

Then, with the dealers seated across the table from the top men of the world's biggest manufacturing organization, O'Mahoney read into the record a letter from one of them, M. H. Yager, for 14 years Pontiac dealer in Albany, N.Y., and an employe of GM for 16 previous years.

Yager wrote that "all the ethics, dignity and fun have gone out of the automobile business."

In a "wild" race for sales, Yager said, the GM officers have "adopted the policies of arrogant selfish dictators."

He called the GM command "a bully of the greatest magnitude."

In advance of the hearing GM gave out for release this morning, prepared testimony in which Curtis said the corporation has prospered because it "has been able to offer greater dollar value in its products."

In a general reply to testimony competitors, former dealers and others who have complained of some of its practices before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, Curtis said:

"I know of no management organization that has a higher standard of business ethics, a greater sense of public responsibility or a more genuine regard for the equities of the various groups with which we have contact — customers, employees, suppliers, dealers and shareholders."

Curtis said in his prepared statement GM had grown into the world's largest manufacturer because it approached problems with "the inquiring mind" and had "coordinated policy and decentralized administration" through its executive management.

GM has competed successfully, "First, the dynamic growth of our country; second, the even more rapid growth of the automobile industry; third, our management structure; and fourth, our approach to problems."

He said GM did more than 12 billion dollars worth of defense production in the 1940-45 war period at "one half its normal profit margin on civilian goods."

GM defense contracts on Sept. 30 amounted to 635 million dollars compared with three billion of unfilled contracts at the end of 1952, he said, and the total of new projects assigned by the Defense Department to GM from Jan. 1, 1953, to Sept. 30, 1955, "had a value of only $25,383,000 dollars, or less than 1 per cent of total orders received in this period."

Housing Area Road Is Sought

The Commissioners Court Monday will hear a request by Col. Charles M. Young to construct a road to a tract of land south of Webb AFB where the government proposes to develop a 483-unit housing area.

Col. Young spoke to R. H. Weaver, county judge, today, about the proposal. The government is planning to purchase a 160-acre tract southwest of the State Park and immediately south of the main part of the air base.

The tract would need to be reached by a county road in addition to entrances from the air base, Col. Young emphasized. Nearest county-maintained roads are a caliche surface road now reaching to the east side of the tract, and the old San Angelo highway which veers south just to the south of the proposed housing area.

Weaver invited Col. Young to return Monday and present the problem to the commissioners.

Col. Young stated this week that he hoped to purchase the land by the latter part of January or first of February, let the contracts, and get started by May. The job is estimated to be completed within a year from its start.

In August, appropriations for $3,500,000 for Webb were in a supplemental bill taken to the President.

Release Of Cotton Acreage Is Urged

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Thornberry has urged the Department of Agriculture to release Texas cotton acreage allotments before the national referendum Dec. 13.

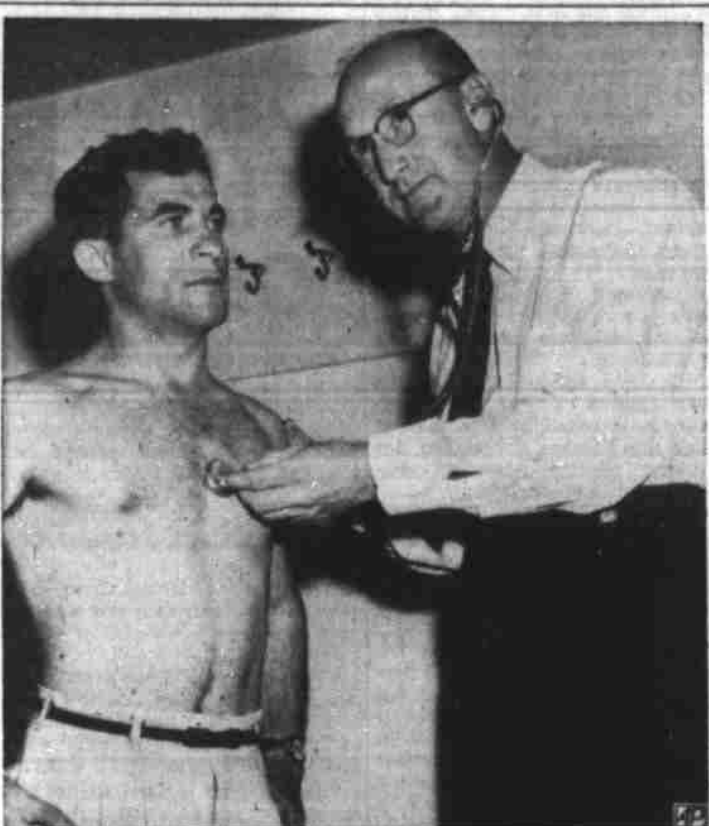

The congressman said Texas farmers are concerned about having to vote on acreage allotments and marketing quotas without knowing their allotments.

Figures have been held up pending outcome of an injunction brought by four West Texas farmers protesting the allotment formula worked out by the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Arraignment Set For Kidnaping Suspect

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Judge John B. Molinari said today he would order Mrs. Jean Benedict, 27, into Superior Court Dec. 12 for arraignment on charges she kidnaped the baby son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus from Mt. Zion Hospital last September.

LONGVIEW, (SC)—Dr. Frank P. Sainburg of Big Spring was held in contempt of court here this morning, was fined $100 and ordered confined in the Gregg County jail for 72 hours and, as long thereafter as he fails to surrender custody of his four-year-old son.

Judge David Moore of the 124th District Court entered the order. Dr. Sainburg was not present, but was represented by two attorneys, C. E. Florence and F. L. Garrison of Gilmer.

No notice of appeal of the ruling was filed immediately. Florence said he was withdrawing from the case as soon as the hearing ended.

Louisiana Facing Segregation Battle After Court Victory

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Fresh from a victory over the NAACP in a state court, Louisiana faced today a major segregation battle in Federal Court.

At issue is the segregation program Louisiana adopted in 1954 to sidestep the Supreme Court decision.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People forced the battle by filing a test suit against the Orleans Parish School Board.

The state won another skirmish yesterday with the NAACP when Dist. Judge Coleman Lindsey at Baton Rouge upheld use of $100,000 in state funds to fight segregation suits similar to the one filed against the Orleans Parish Board.

The money was appropriated by the Board of Liquidation of State Debt in July and approved by a mail ballot of the Legislature.

Release Of Cotton Acreage Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new drive for federal school aid, particularly in construction, seemed to be rolling ahead today in the wake of the impressive endorsement by the White House Conference on Education.

As the four-day meeting ended last night, Secretary of Welfare Folsom told the 1,800 delegates President Eisenhower was ready to ask Congress for "a broadened and improved" program of federal aid for school construction.

A few minutes earlier, the conference had greeted with ringing applause a statement that the delegates had approved a stepped-up aid program by more than 3-1.

The leaders of the 600,000-member National Education Assn. hailed this report and five others as "nothing short of marvelous."

John Buford of Mount Vernon, Ill., the NEA president, labeled the conference "one of the greatest ever held."

Labor union leaders, who had threatened a floor fight if the conference's position on federal aid wasn't strong enough to suit them, apparently were satisfied with the outcome.

The conference report agreed with Folsom's statement that the aid should be distributed among all the states and that the states should decide how it should be spent.

The report called on the states to spend the money "only on a basis of demonstrated needs."

Folsom's statement, which he said followed a conference with the President, followed the same general pattern.

Dr. William G. Carr, the NEA's executive secretary, told a news conference he thought the conference would have three positive results:

1. It will lead to "state action" in solving many pressing school problems.

2. Many people will be made more aware of educational needs in hundreds of places.

3. It will help speed passage of a bill by Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) to provide 400 million dollars a year for distribution by the states to distressed school districts.

Italian Waif Who Followed 36th Division Joins Navy

DALLAS (AP)—Johnny Camera changed his mind yesterday.

The Italian waif, orphaned when Germans attacked his village near Salerno 12 years ago, was adopted as mascot of the 36th Division and got a first-hand report of Army life.

After the war he was brought to Texas to live with Sgt. Claren Thompson of Waxahachie, where he went through the schools in 5 1/2 years.

Johnny, now 22, was all set for induction into the Army yesterday but moments before induction he decided on the Navy instead.

"I don't think the branch of service is so important. They all need men," he said.

Russian Leader Launches Tirade Against U.S.

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—From a seat in one of the Buddhist world's most venerated shrines, Nikita S. Khrushchev launched a bitter, impromptu tirade today against the "stupidity" of Western nations.

Red-faced with anger and pointing his finger wildly, the Soviet Communist party chieftain accused the United States and France of attempting to kidnap a Russian visitor. He also had some derogative words for the British.

Khrushchev spoke out as he rested in the 2,000-year-old Shwe Dagon (Golden Pagoda), after climbing nearly 200 steps to the heart of the famous temple. He and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were touring Rangoon shrines on the second day of their week's visit to Burma.

He started talking of architecture — and of the case of Russian architect Alexander V. Vlasov, whose work was censured by the Soviet government while he was touring the United States and France with other Russian architects.

"Be careful or you might be invited to America," Khrushchev continued, "after we criticized Comrade Vlasov, they tried to persuade him to stay. The French also repeated this stupid mistake the Americans had made."

Actually there was no reported effort by Americans to persuade Vlasov to remain with them. In Paris a band of Russian spies tried to "liberate" him, but the Russian party went to a French police station to escape the crowd and Vlasov subsequently accused the French police of trying to "kidnap" him.

An indictment returned here in 1954 charged Sainburg with entering his wife's home in Ithaca Jan. 19, 1954, and, with two accomplices, taking the child.

Varris was named last week in a sealed indictment on charges of kidnaping. A second part of the indictment has not been opened yet.

The child, returned to his mother by a Texas court order, was taken from a nursery home Nov. 14. Sainburg was arrested on a fugitive charge in the 1954 case and released Nov. 18 on $2,000 bond in Big Spring.

Mrs. Blanchard contended that the doctor, by allegedly taking the child, had violated a court judgment issued July 7 by a Longview, Tex., court.

Sainburg has been ordered to show cause in the Longview court today why he should not be held in contempt.

Federal School Aid Drive Follows Meet

At Least 30 Hurt In Fall To River Bed

EAGLE PASS (AP)—At least 30 persons were injured, some critically, when a temporary international bridge which was being dismantled collapsed and hurled about 100 Mexican farm workers into the dry Rio Grande.

Border Patrol Inspector Alfred Gurke said the farm workers or braceros were waiting on the U.S. side for trucks to take them to work in the fields.

The temporary span was being dismantled following the opening yesterday of a new bridge.

"We don't know what caused it," Gurke said, "but the bridge was being torn down by workers underneath. The braceros had been used to waiting at the spot for trucks. I guess they thought it was all right."

Gurke said the injured did not include any government workers at the bridge or any construction workers. He said it was possible there were other victims "but we don't think so."

"A couple of big cranes got messed up," Gurke said, "but we don't know if there was much other damage."

Milton Sowell of San Antonio, a railroad engineer said the overflow injured were placed on mattresses in the halls of the hospital. The hospital had only space for eight beds normally.

The 150-foot section of concrete and wood piling dropped 20 to 30 feet spilling most of the workers off to one side.

"The new bridge was opened yesterday," said Harper Sparks, editor of the Eagle Pass News-Guide. "The temporary bridge was blocked off to traffic. Apparently the whole crowd was just loafing."

Sheriff Herbert Lehmann said the crowd apparently was watching nearby construction work.

The bridge was a temporary structure used until the new Eagle Pass international bridge, opened only yesterday, could be brought into use.

"I don't know what those people were doing on the old bridge," said the sheriff. "They didn't belong there, there was no reason for them being there. They were just 'lookers,' I guess."

The span collapsed about 10-15 a.m.

Lehmann said the bridge was made up of concrete flooring of an old bridge, supported by pilings which had been driven into the river bed only three or four months ago.

"Every one of those pilings gave away, throwing the bridge sort of sideways as it fell. The people just tumbled down."

Both pedestrians and cars had moved across the temporary structure this year. Eagle Pass' original international bridge was destroyed by floods last year.

IN FREEMAN TRIAL Auditor Claims Tax Shortages

An accountant testified this morning that tax collections turned over to the county treasurer in the last five months of 1952 were $1,417.52 less than they would have been if collections from six firms were reported.

Bobby Barber, certified public accountant who assisted with an audit of county tax records for 1952, testified that the total of unreported and under-reported items for the last five months of the year was $1,417.52, less $1.38, according to his audit figures.

He said the $1.38 represented three collections of 46 cents each reported on property of unknown ownership. The 46-cent payments were reported on receipts issued to J. C. Davis, Barber said.

Barber testified as the state's last opening witness in the trial of B. E. (Bernie) Freeman on charges that he misappropriated a total of $2,520.71 when he was county tax assessor-collector during the period from Aug. 31 to Dec. 31, 1952.

The accountant's testimony was admitted after extended arguments between District Attorney Guilford Jones and Defense Attorney George Thomas over Barber's "competency" as a witness. Thomas charged that Barber had violated the rule prohibiting witnesses to discuss a case with other persons during a trial.

Barber testified that tax payments allegedly made by Rowan Drilling Company, Federal Tank Company, Sharp Drilling Company, Lee Drilling Company, Milwhite Mud Service Company and Permian Mud Sales Company were not shown by receipt number on the monthly reports submitted by Freeman for the last five months of 1952.

On cross examination, he said that if one of the firms had been issued a different receipt number, its tax payment would be included in the report.

Barber said also that he would not "conclusively" say that there were no "double assessments" on the 1952 tax roll.

However, he testified that he would "say conclusively" that a check of all tax receipts for the

Puzzle Maker Doesn't Think Like Other Folks

Whattamatter with that puzzle man? Doesn't he have any sense at all? Looks like he could dream up a crossword combination that at least one person out of more than 15,000 could hit upon.

But not this week. A record number of entries — running well past 15,000 — kept tabulators busy all day Thursday. They looked anxiously for a winner, but found none. You may turn to the correct solution on Page 2 of Section II, of today's Herald.

This sad report is offset in part by the fact that the Cashword Jackpot goes up another $25 this week. With the bonuses from The Herald and special awards by participating merchants, it's possible for some one to win over $900. And would that help the Christmas bankroll!

Hearing Stated On 'Inadequate' Ike Aide Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee will hold a public hearing next week on what its chairman calls President Eisenhower's "inadequate" order governing the activities of dollar-a-year men.

Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.), head of the subcommittee probing activities of businessmen called into federal service without compensation (WOCs), said three days of hearings will be set aside for exploration of the executive order.

"We plan to go into this order fully," Celler told a reporter after announcing hearings for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Eisenhower's order, issued Monday, prohibits WOCs and others affected from negotiating or executing defense contracts involving their private employers or concerns in which they have any interest. They also are forbidden to make any recommendations which would benefit those concerns, or to participate in prosecuting claims of those concerns against the government. They must list business connections within 60 days of appointment.

Eisenhower directed also that WOCs be employed only when qualified full-time workers were not available.

Celler has complained that the order applies only to WOCs, experts and consultants employed under the Defense Production Act and not similar personnel employed under other laws.

"For the most part," he said, the entire order is "a word-for-word restatement" of the 1955 law in which Congress "made mandatory in large part what the executive order expresses."

"It leaves important things unresolved," he said, "including permissible activities of a WOC appointed to a key full-time operating position affecting the business from which he came, and a practical method by which a WOC appointed to a policy-making position can be divorced from policy decisions."

Paz Ends 5 Years Of Exile, Back At Helm Of 'La Prensa'

BUENOS AIRES Argentina (AP)—Back in his homeland after nearly five years of exile, editor Alberto Gainza Paz today set about the job of again taking charge of the newspaper La Prensa.

He and his wife arrived here last night from New York. La Prensa, a powerful independent publication, was seized by the regime of Juan D. Peron in 1951 and turned over the Peron-controlled General Confederation of Labor (CGT). Gainza Paz fled to safety in Uruguay.

The government of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu issued a decree Wednesday returning La Prensa to the Paz family, which founded the paper in 1889. Gainza Paz told reporters he would "make La Prensa the independent and serious newspaper it was before."

'BLACKMAIL' Threat Reported On Mrs. Worden

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—A threat on her life by a strange man who tried to blackmail her was reported yesterday by Mrs. Sunny Canates Worden, accused of slaying her husband on lonely Padre Island.

The widow, 42, told about it in her first interview since she told officers of killing her husband, Don Worden.

Mrs. Worden, living alone in a small apartment, said she was unable to obtain a description of the caller, but told this story:

"This morning about 4 o'clock I heard a loud knock on my door and a man told me if I wanted to live I must pay $100,000 in cash and sign over property by today."

"He said for me not to tell the Rangers of the call and that every move I made was being watched."

Protection has been provided for Mrs. Worden and officers were alerted.

Wearing a conservative skirt and blouse, Mrs. Worden walked with a crutch. She said she has a circulatory disorder in her left leg.

Hagler Wins Bond On Lack Of Proof

SULPHUR, Okla. (AP)—David Hagler Jr., charged in the torch slaying of an unknown man, had his temporary freedom today after a judge ruled "no proof has been presented that anybody killed anybody."

Judge W. J. Monroe ordered the one-time $22,000-a-year asphalt salesman freed yesterday on $15,000 bond after a habeas corpus hearing.

It was 12:35 a.m. today before Hagler finally left jail. County Atty. Dixie Colbert and Justice of Peace V. N. Hodges left the courthouse and could not be located to approve the bond until after midnight. Hagler left for Fort Worth at once.

Hagler was the only witness. He testified he was on a drinking spree at the time a body first believed to be his was found in a burning station wagon near Davis, Oct. 10, 1954.

He denied he schemed to palm the body off as himself in a $200,000 insurance swindle.

There was no mention by the state of the slaying during the four hours Hagler was on the stand.

He testified he had two other identities — Dale Waggoner and John Williams — for "business" and "personal" reasons.

Hagler also admitted applying for $286,833 in life insurance, but said he had only about $70,000 in force when the body was found.

His business partner, Frank St. Claire, committed suicide a few weeks after telling officers of a plan he said Hagler hatched for collecting insurance.

The state claimed Hagler drove to a tourist cabin near Davis Oct. 8, left the car and went back to Fort Worth with St. Claire.

Hagler said he went to the cabin because he was expecting to meet a girl named "Georgia", left the car then rode a bus back to Texas.

He said he started drinking, picked up two men he didn't know in a bar and they came with him to the cabin the night before the alleged slaying took place.

Hagler said he was "too drunk to know or care" what happened to the station wagon in which he was driving the two. They left him at the cabin, he said.

When "Georgia" didn't show up, Hagler said he got in the car he had left there before and went to a hotel in Gainesville, Tex. From there, he said he drove and drank to San Antonio, then back to Waco, where he heard a news broadcast that he had been killed in an auto accident.

Hagler said a load of white gasoline found by police in the station wagon was to have been used on some experiments he planned with the asphalt product he sold.

Still Has His Head

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—A loaded shotgun, with the safety catch off, penetrated a motorist's cheek yesterday. Troopers said Billy Schurkens, 25, in a hospital with a hole in his cheek, is lucky to have a head. The gun did not go off. Its barrel was bent by the impact. Three others were injured in the two-car collision.

Wet Weather Is U.S. Outlook

By The Associated Press

Wet weather, in the form of rain, snow and sleet, was the dreary outlook today for many parts of the nation.

The snow and rain which fell over the central part of the country moved eastward and this morning extended as far as eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Alabama.

Rain fell from the Ohio River southward while rain mixed with freezing rain pelted areas in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Snow fell in northern Midwest sections and extended south into southern Missouri, central Illinois and parts of Indiana and Ohio.

Temperatures moderated over the chilled eastern half of the nation from the plains states to the mid-Atlantic states. Early morning readings were in the 20s and 30s across the northern half of this region and in the 40s and 50s over the southern section.

Mild Norther Due In Texas

By The Associated Press

A mild norther was due to ripple over Texas this weekend behind slow general rains that soaked much of the east and south parts of the state.

The new front, which was not expected drastically to lower temperatures, was due in the Panhandle late Friday and to reach deep into the state Saturday.

Possible scattered showers were forecast for East and South Texas. The general rains in those areas that started falling Wednesday ended late Thursday.

Some drizzle fell early Friday along the coast and in northeast Texas. Beaumont, Texarkana, and Galveston reported drizzle.

No freezing weather was reported in the state. The low was 35 at Salt Flat. Other lows included Brownsville 52, Beaumont 49, Abilene 46, El Paso 44, Houston Lubbock and Lubbock 43, Dallas 42, Austin 41, and Amarillo, San Antonio, Wichita Falls and Texarkana 38. Dalhart's low was 40.

High temperatures Thursday ranged from 40 at Sherman to 68 at Presidio and Childress.

Woman Injured In Attack By Pet Deer

JASPER (AP)—A buck deer she had raised from a fawn attacked Mrs. T. A. Minyard, 55, yesterday when she tried to feed it. She was treated for shock and multiple cuts about the body from the deer's antlers. Her condition was not considered critical.

Adlai Winds Up First Tour With An Aching Hand

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson wound up his first tour of the 1956 presidential campaign today with an aching right hand but with hopes buoyed by a reception his supporters said far exceeded expectations.

His handshaking campaign swing down the Florida peninsula gave him a jump on the field in a bid for the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

A Stevenson slate is expected to be entered in Florida's presidential preference primary May 28, but the former Illinois governor said he wasn't sure at this time whether he would get a chance to return to do some more active campaigning.

A complication is that the California primary comes up only a few days after the Florida primary and the long jump may present a problem.

"But there is no reason I know of at this time why I couldn't enter both primaries," Stevenson said.

The only primary Stevenson said he had made definite arrangements to enter is the Minnesota primary in early March.

Stevenson's principal competition in Florida is expected to come from Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Stevenson and his party left by plane this morning for Oklahoma City to address the National League of Young Democrats.

Business Given Yuletide Nudge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board has given business an "encouraging Christmas-as-usual" nudge offsetting somewhat the effects of its severely restrictive credit policy.

This was disclosed in the board's weekly statement of its monetary operations, which showed that reserve banks bought 368 million dollars worth of government securities during the week which ended Wednesday.

This had the effect of pumping new money into the economy, helping member banks to meet the initial pinch on their funds of Christmas spending.

As a result, commercial banks ended the week owing the reserve system 170 million less than the week before, although average borrowings during the week were 159 million higher. Apparently with more money available, they paid off some of their debts.

The reports gave no indication whether this easing would be continued as Christmas comes nearer.

Meanwhile, the reserve board announced that credit buying moved up again in October for the eighth consecutive month, although the October increase was the smallest in that period.

The October increase was 264 million, only about half the September increase of 544 million which itself was the smallest of any month since March.

Insurance Firm Slates Dinner

A banquet honoring charter policy holders and stockholders of Oil Industries Life and Western Indemnity Life Company is to be held here at 7 p. m. Monday.

B. F. Everett, local representative, said several out-of-town officials, including John Bennick, president, Dale Major, chairman of the board, and Duane E. Kuntz, executive vice president, all of Houston, and J. V. Younger, Sweetwater, district agent, will be here. Three regional managers from Odessa, R. A. Lipscomb, Tom Hamilton and Leland L. Martin also are expected to take part in the session.

The dinner affair is for the purpose of reporting on company progress, both for OIL, which has broken all industry records in writing $50 million of business starting in Aug. 1, 1954. In that space of time, a corps of 350 agents has been secured. Currently, a factoring company is being launched.

In its first year of writing business, OIL put $33 million business on the books, four million more than the previous record for a new company its first year in operation. Western Indemnity, a health-and-accident unit, which like OIL is a member of the Life Underwriters, Inc. group, had a record premium income of more than $600,000 for its first year.

Poage Suggests Latin Markets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, has suggested to Agriculture Secretary Benson that the United States try to increase meat sales in South America.

Except for Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil, he said, "There is no such thing as cheap meat in South America."

He wrote Benson that west of the Andes Mountains, "There is almost no meat available at prices within reach of the great bulk of the populations."

He found chickens selling for more than $1 a pound and inferior cuts and scraps of beef selling for almost that much while he was on a recent 5-week tour of South America.

'Hot' Dishes

Dr. Lincoln LaPaz, University of New Mexico meteorologist, measures radioactivity of his orange colored dishware in Albuquerque. LaPaz discovered the coloring on the dishes was more radioactive than material from the site of the first atom bomb explosion in New Mexico. He theorizes the coloring must have been made from material taken from a uranium site. He has the Geiger counter resting on one plate while measuring radioactivity on a second plate.

Excommunicated Women Allowed To Re-Enter Church

ERATH, La. (AP)—A Roman Catholic bishop said he expected this small southwest Louisiana community to return to a "peaceful way of life" after the lifting of a decree of excommunication against two women accused of beating a teacher of unsegregated religious classes.

The Most Rev. Jules B. Jeanmard, prelate of the diocese of Lafayette for 38 years, lifted the order yesterday after receiving assurances that the two women repented their action.

Bishop Jeanmard warned, however, that anyone who threatened more violence at Our Lady of Lourdes Church would be excommunicated. Another attack such as on the teacher, he said, would force him to close the church.

Excommunication is the severest punishment the average Catholic can receive from the church.

The two women involved in the beating of Mrs. Lula B. Ortemond last week were not named in the excommunication order. But Mrs. Ortemond, who said she was attacked and beaten while on her way to church Nov. 16, has filed assault and battery charges against two sisters, Mrs. Etta B. Romero and Mrs. Lota B. Menard.

Father Labbe has ordered the reopening of the classes Monday and said they will continue to be unsegregated.

Texas Protest Conference Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Texas delegation filed yesterday a written protest against a report favoring federal aid to public schools which was presented to the White House Conference on Education.

The protest was accompanied by a letter signed by Dr. Edwin Rippey, president of the Dallas School Board and chairman of the Texas group. He said:

"We are unalterably opposed to federal aid to public schools. Under the traditional American system of education, the administration and control of our public schools are state and local community functions. Likewise, the support of the schools is a state and local community responsibility."

The 'Sleeper' In Speculation

GOP Chairman Leonard Hall is among the latest Republicans who have speculated on the availability of President Eisenhower as a candidate to succeed himself. Like other party leaders, he proclaims a concern for the President's health, but it is not easily discerned if his concern goes beyond 1956. There doubtless are many Americans, however, who are looking at Mr. Eisenhower's health from a personal rather than a political point of view. They cannot be easily persuaded that a man of 63, who has suffered a severe heart attack, would be doing else than laying his life on the line to pull his party out of a dilemma. To run again would not be just a matter of easing through another year as chief executive, but also to endure the tremendous strain of strenuous campaigning necessary to win.

Other politicians who have commented this week along the same line as Hall were Senators Ives (R-NY), Allott (R-Colo) and Butler (R-Md). Brother Butler added a little something extra: he said if Ike did run, it would naturally follow that Richard Nixon should be his running-mate.

It does not naturally follow that for Nixon is a controversial figure even in his own party, and a great many independent voters — and the Republicans will need some millions of them to carry the day—might hesitate to vote for Ike knowing that Nixon might inherit the office. If a man like Earl Warren were in the second spot, it would be different.

There is another factor in the situation the Republican strategists might profit by weighing. There must be many independents who would look upon another Eisenhower term as a death sentence, and who would feel disinclined to burden him with it, even to the extent of staying away from the polls or voting for the opposition. It is probable this feeling is more widespread among the people than the politicians realize, and it is a force to be reckoned with. It is based on the feeling that Ike should not be asked to sacrifice himself.

The incessant talk of the President's possible "availability" is the product of two factors: It's a good way for a politician to get his name in the papers, and it tends to hold down as long as possible a wild scramble among Republican hopefuls.

The Good Overshadow The Naughty

You hear and read so much about juvenile delinquency these days that your attitude toward youth is apt to get a bit lopsided.

Well, there are youths and youths, just as there are grownups and grownups. And there is plenty of news in the paper about normal youths of both sexes, though their activities fail to attract the sensational headlines just because they are normal.

On the sports pages you can read all about a lot of normal youths and their athletic activities. All the high school football players, for instance, are teenagers, a term that has come to carry an unwarranted implication of ruffian irresponsibility. A great many college players — in fact, probably a large majority of them — are also teenagers. They're just average kids in every way, except that they are better conditioned physically and probably just a little more than ordinarily mentally alert. The point is that they can't play the rough games of American sports and not be average or above average mentally, physically and morally.

All the kids, boys and girls, in YMCA, 4-H and similar organizations are the exact opposite of juvenile delinquents. And there are hundreds of thousands of them. There are millions too in church and Sunday school and Scout groups who seldom make the headlines, but uphold the highest traditions of good citizenship.

Of course, an occasional sour apple is found in these barrels of normal, healthy youths, but when one does turn up as a juvenile delinquent he makes all the headlines simply because he represents a departure from the norm.

It has ever been the province of age to look down its nose at youth, mistaking mere animal spirit — something age has unfortunately outgrown — as an evil in itself. The only time the oldersters make a grudging concession to animal spirits is when there's a war and the kids have to saddle up and go fight it.

We have been looking 'em over for a long time now, and we believe firmly that today's kids are no worse than, and in many respects much superior to, those of a generation or two ago.

U. N. Membership Plan Violates Principle

WASHINGTON — Rarely in world history has there been such a glaring example of concessions to immorality in a supposedly moral organization as in the proposed acceptance of a "package deal" by the United Nations whereby governments plainly unable to carry out the obligations of the charter are to be admitted as members.

For it now is proposed that the governments of Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Albania and Outer Mongolia, which are puppets under the control of the Soviet Union — itself a partner in the conspiracy of aggression against the free world — shall be accepted in defiance of the provisions of the charter itself.

These provisions state that membership is open "to all peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and which, in the judgment of the present organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

What are the "obligations" They are set forth in many articles of the charter. One article says that the organization is based "on the sovereign equality of all its members." Another article says: "All members shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the provisions of the present charter, and shall refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action."

The charter is replete with statements of the obligation of members to maintain peace and participate in efforts to achieve peace, and then says:

"A member of the United Nations which has presently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council."

The government of Soviet Russia has presently violated these principles and openly boasted before the General Assembly in 1952 that it had aided North Korea with arms and munitions in the war which the United Nations itself waged against the aggressors. The Soviet Union, being a party to a dispute, could be held ineligible to vote in the Security Council and hence her own veto could not prevent expulsion.

The United Nations, moreover, in admitting the governments of the Communist-occupied countries would be compounding the crime against morality by allowing governments that have been deprived of their independence by Soviet Russia to come into the organization on an equality with sovereign governments that are truly independent. None of the five satellite states is independent or capable of acting independently.

Expediency, which has always been the cancer that has ruined good statesmanship in both national and international affairs, is, however, being extolled nowadays by those who argue that the only way to bring into the U. N. The several non-Communist governments, such as those in Italy and Japan — thirteen of them in all — is to appease Moscow and make a "deal" whereby no objection will be made by the West to the admission of the Communist governments provided the Soviet doesn't veto the admission of the non-Communist states.

This is nothing less than blackmail. Yet there are those who favor it, including officials of the American government. If there ever was a time when moral principle required an objection to the admission of the additional Communist states, it is today. The cause of peace would be upheld by rejecting the expediency which demands a "deal" and brushes idealism and morality aside. It would be far better to let the Soviet use the veto and keep some peace-loving nations out than to surrender on principle.

It would be far better, too, to uphold the basic provisions of the charter and consider the expulsion from the U. N. of the obstructive Communist states, including Soviet Russia. Then membership in the United Nations would be worth something. Then, also, the many well-intentioned American groups which laud the United Nations as an organization representing a great advance toward achieving world peace would not have to hold their heads in shame as they teach the school children of America that the U. N. is based on international morality.

Federal Education Aid A 'Certainty'

WASHINGTON — Some kind of federal aid for education—probably for building public schools—seems certain in 1956. There are practical and political reasons for thinking so.

1. Schools are needed and the states by themselves are not building them.

2. The President's White House Conference on Education last night approved by a 2-1 margin the idea of federal aid for public schools.

3. President Eisenhower's secretary of health, education and welfare, Marion B. Folsom, made it clear last night the administration would push such a program.

4. The Democrats' Senate leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, already has promised that federal aid for school construction would be a primary goal of his party in the Senate.

5. Both parties have a sound political reason to vote federal aid: the conference action demonstrated wide public support for it and 1956 is a big election year.

The conference, which brought between 1,800 and 2,000 men and women here from all 48 states, surprised the skeptics by its action last night.

Before the conference opened Monday there was widespread doubt any solid agreement could come from so many people with so many different backgrounds. Explosions, perhaps enough to wreck the conference, would not have been unexpected.

The opposite happened. In some of its other reports the conference was wishy-washy, issued platitudes, and overworked the obvious. Not last night's report on federal aid. It was terse, positive, and faced the issue.

Folsom, making one of the final speeches, carefully pointed out he had spoken with Eisenhower yesterday and added: "The federal government must help raise some of the funds for the buildings."

He went further than that a moment later by making it clear the administration was already planning to ask Congress to vote federal aid, for he said that "in designing a federal proposal we are bearing in mind" certain principles.

One of them was that "Federal assistance, while nationwide in scope, benefiting all states, should be distributed according to need." This was not a new idea. It had been batted around before in Congress, which never could make up its mind on federal aid at all.

But Folsom and the administration were right in step with the conference's thinking. Its report was finished and available a few hours before Folsom made the same point as the conference: "All states should be eligible for federal funds but... only on the basis of demonstrated needs."

Americans now pay about $90 million a day in taxes.

Teutonic knights, to prove their drinking capacity in olden times, would toss down a gallon of beer, then thread a needle while standing on one foot like a stork. (Can any effete martini quaffer today match this feat?)

That 1 in every 16 Americans is suffering from some form of mental disorder, and there are 100 different kinds of mental ailments.

That, judging from the squawks sent in by readers, my campaign to name the dandelion America's national flower has flopped miserably. The rose seems to have the most friends.

28 Million Musically Minded

NEW YORK — If a columnist didn't read his morning mail, he might never know that—

More than 28 million Americans can play some kind of musical instrument (and most of them seem to live in my block!).

No responsible scientist would fly a kite in a thunderstorm as Benjamin Franklin did in 1752 to prove the presence of electricity in clouds. Franklin was lucky to escape with his life. If a real lightning bolt had hit the kite, Ben would be remembered merely as a dead fool.

KUSHIRO, Japan — Japan's Cranes are going to live henceforth in plush surroundings on this northernmost island of Hokkaido. City fathers are building what they call "a well guarded and well organized palatial abode" complete with gardens, bathing pools, and nursery grounds for the Sacred Cranes. So far as is known, the breed exists nowhere else in Japan.

Not A Fair Trade

RICHMOND, Va. — Ruey C. Collins parked his car — three parking meters from police headquarters at 4:30 a. m. and went into a hospital. Several hours later he emerged as the proud father of a baby girl but found his car missing.

Overtime parking? Car towed away? Nope, the police said. They knew nothing about it.

Around The Rim Overhaul In Order For Politics?

A politician friend of ours summed up quite succinctly awhile back what he terms "the need for new maturity in American political life." Political immaturity, it would seem, has been with us since the last of the Founding Fathers quit the helm.

With our system of local government and avoidance of foreign entanglements, political immaturity hasn't made much difference in the past. But with world leadership thrust upon us, we find ourselves in the unenviable position of trying to run the world's affairs.

Congressman Stewart Udall, of Tucson, Ariz., sees a way out in frequently-discussed proposals to lengthen time of service of the President and members of Congress. In a talk before the Sunday Evening Forum in Tucson, Udall listed these proposals:

"1. Presidential terms might be extended to six or perhaps eight years, with no right of succession. (We have all been witnesses of late to some of the unavoidable strains placed on our policy-makers by the demands of an impending election.)

"2. Congressmen might also be given longer tenure. A constitutional amendment along these lines should increase the chances that members of Congress would take the long view and put first things first. During the 1954 campaign I had the feeling several times that the Eisenhower administration had not been in power long enough to formulate and try out new policies, and much of our debate was, as a consequence, unsatisfactory and highly inconclusive.

"3. Our outmoded system of political campaigns, which usually paralyze our leadership for months on end, could be modernized.

"4. Congress could act to modify the seniority system, which ignores quality of service and rewards mere longevity to the end that the national will sometimes is thwarted."

Udall sees danger of our becoming a "blundering generation" if we do not allow our leaders more time and room to make decisions. He wants to see public men insulated from "intolerable pressures" of constant politicking. He calls for freedom for our diplomats and statesmen in which to "negotiate settlements and pursue their best conceptions of the long-term national interest."

We think Udall scored a point in favor of a rehaul of our political system when he pointed out that Adams, Madison and Jefferson "acted almost entirely on the promptings of acquired wisdom, and impassively awaited public response."

He also recalled a Greek philosopher's adage that the punishment of wise men who refuse to take part in the affairs of government is to live under the government of unwise men.

Udall made no mention of one point we believe is important in any discussion of "political maturity." Whether we like the British or not, we must admit that any small, crowded island that can rule half the world and lead the other half by the nose for two centuries must have something on the ball. We're not in favor of the parliamentary system, but it should be pointed out that the British, unlike the U. S., keep their statesmen in power for a considerable length of time.

We took the melody for our national anthem from England — why not some of their talent at leadership?

—BOB SMITH

The Gallup Poll Young Voters Clinging To Demo Party

PRINCETON, N. J. — After virtually three years in office, has the Republican party made any headway in its fight to break the Democratic party's hold on young voters?

The Democratic party is still the preferred party of voters under 30 years of age. Today, half again as many in this age group regard themselves as Democrats as regard themselves as Republicans — a ratio that has remained constant since four years ago.

One of the interesting facts turned up in the latest survey is that fewer young voters claim to be Independents today.

In November, 1951, an Institute survey found 35 per cent of the voters in this age group claiming to be Independents. Today that figure has dropped nine points — to 26 per cent.

To find out the party preferences of young men and women, the Institute had its nationwide corps of interviewers put the following question to a cross-section of adults of all ages:

"In politics, as of today, do you consider yourself a Republican, Democrat, or Independent?"

Republican weakness in the younger age group can be seen in the following table:

Years	Rep.	Dem.	Indep.
1951	29%	30%	43%
1948	45	45	39
1944	35	29	23

Here is the comparable vote in November, 1951 — one year before the last presidential election:

Years	Rep.	Dem.	Indep.
1951	24%	30%	39%
1948	41	41	38
1944	35	29	23

It should be pointed out that the survey figures are concerned only with party preference.

ere, not candidate preference.

The figures would indicate that the GOP, as a party, has not done a good selling job among young voters and that one of the problems facing the Republicans in 1956, if Eisenhower does not run, will be to find a candidate who is more popular, than his party in this group.

Institute pre-election surveys in 1952 showed that General Eisenhower was the first Republican candidate since the beginning of the New Deal to make a strong appeal to the young voters of the nation.

In the election, Eisenhower polled 49 per cent of the vote in the 21 to 29 age group, compared to Stevenson's 51 per cent.

The following table shows the percentage of persons under 30 who voted Republican in the last five presidential elections, as recorded in Institute surveys after each election:

Year	Rep.	Dem.
1936	32	68
1940	40	60
1944	42	58
1948	38	62
1952	49	51

By contrast, in 1952, 53 per cent of persons between the ages of 30 and 49, and 62 per cent of those 50 years old or more, voted Republican.

Even outside the South, the Democratic party today holds a 4-to-3 margin over the GOP as the preferred party of young voters.

Here is the party preference of adults in the 35 states in the North:

Party	Rep.	Dem.
Rep.	31%	47%
Dem.	43	41
Indep.	26	25

Here is the party preference of adults in the 15 states in the South:

Business Mirror Santa Claus Takes Over

NEW YORK — Santa Claus takes over as business moves into the final month of what's sure to be its biggest year.

In December emphasis is always on retail trade. One fourth of the entire year's sales volume will be done between now and Christmas.

But that doesn't mean that many manufacturing industries will be taking time off this year. The industrial output pace is expected to keep on gaining. And by the first of the year the nation's total output of goods and services may nudge the 400 billion dollar a year mark for the first time in history.

Many companies and some of the most important industries will be hampered more by lack of capacity than by any decline in the steel and auto industries. The railroads are slowed more by lack of enough freight cars than anything else.

Other industries, particularly those using metals, report their chief problem now is material shortages or delays in deliveries from metal producers. There is wide belief that December will see many companies still striving, with only moderate success, to build up inventories.

Some are betting that the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production, which hit a record 142 in September and October, will push to 144 this month, helped in part by this urge to build inventories. The index uses the 1947-49 output average as its base of 100.

Retail trade starts the month off with a bang. Sales volume is already at least 7 per cent higher than a year ago. Most merchants think this year's Christmas trade will top last year's by 10 per cent.

Hollywood Review Dick Gets To Boss His Wife

HOLLYWOOD — Dick Powell is in the position, enviable to some husbands, of being able to tell his wife what to do for eight hours each day.

Multi-talented Powell is producing and directing a new, musical version of "It Happened One Night." The stars are Jack Lemmon and Jane Allison, who happens to be, Mrs. Powell. That means that Powell is her boss during studio hours. Afterwards? Well, that's another matter.

So far, the experience seems to be going along fine, despite the show June occasionally puts on to titillate the onlookers. When he raises his voice to give directions in a scene, she'll snap: "Don't shout at me. We're not at home, you know."

But foolishness aside, she expresses admiration for her daytime boss. "He's so talented," she says. "He can do everything better than we can. He can act better, he can sing better. The only thing he can't do is dance better. That's his weak suit.

"Jack and I aren't so dumb. We get him to act out our parts so we can see how it's supposed to be done."

She gave some insight on what love can do for an actress. As one of MGM's top stars, she led a rather sheltered life on the set. Since becoming one of the most sought-after free-lancers, she is often treated like a hot-house flower. But not on "It Happened One Night."

She enumerated her injuries: sprained neck, torn leg muscles, scraped leg. These and other aches and pains were acquired from sliding down haystacks, doing strenuous dances, etc.

There was one place where she drew the line: working overtime. She has a clause in her contract that prohibits the studio from making her work after 6 p.m.

Holiday Lighting Tips To Brighten Doorway

One of the easiest and most effective ways to light your holiday doorway is with a 150-watt projector spot or floodlight. Holiday lighting specialists suggest that these weatherproof bulbs can be placed in commercially available holders and concealed in nearby shrubbery. Place the units to one side of the door and direct them so that they will "light" your doorway decorations. When putting up your Christmas lights along roof lines, gables or other out-of-reach spots, here are two tips that will save time. First with bulbs in sockets, stretch strings or lights on ground and light them before mounting them on your house. This simple test can reveal burned-out bulbs quickly so they can be replaced before they are placed on the house. Tighten all bulbs firmly in sockets and check wiring and repair any defects or breaks. To save time, mount your strings of outdoor lights on tiny brass cup hooks. These can be concealed under eaves, around windows or doorways and left in position year after year. The brass will not rust and, many homeowners who leave them up permanently have them painted along with their house so that they are almost inconspicuous. Insulated staples, found in most hardware stores, are also handy helps in mounting outdoor Christmas lights. Looking for a new idea for your Christmas doorway? Lighting experts suggest easy-to-make evergreen bells with lighted clappers. Fashion bells from chicken wire. Then, with a string of C-9 outdoor Christmas lights, slip the chicken wire frame over each bell and fasten so that bulbs are positioned like clappers. Then cover frames with short sprigs of evergreen until "bells" are solid with greens. Use assorted colored bulbs for your lighted clappers.

Averell Harriman of New York praised President Eisenhower as a military leader but declared here yesterday that the Republican leader "wasn't made for the President of the United States." He also charged that President Eisenhower has "surrendered the country to big business and special interests."

The 64-year-old governor said: "You hear all this talk of great prosperity in our country today, but who's getting the prosperity? General Motors, which is making one billion dollars in net profits this year?"

Harriman spent that day at the spacious hunting lodge of Rep. Frank Boykin (D-Ala.), then left for New Orleans, where he planned to make what was described as an important policy address tonight. Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama also was a guest at the lodge.

Harriman left unanswered questions as to his status as a probable candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year. He has said, however, that he is not an active candidate.

In his speech he criticized the President's attitude at the four-power meeting at the summit in Geneva. "He should have gone, yes," Harriman said, "but he shouldn't have embraced them (the Russians) and told the people they wanted peace as much as we do."

The Republicans' farm policy is "driving the farmers into bankruptcy" and the nation must go back to 90 per cent parity in farm prices, he said. He termed the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract as "the biggest steal anybody ever tried to put over." Under the proposal, private interests would have built a power plant to supply electricity in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

Seeking to refute Eisenhower's description of TVA as "creeping socialism," Harriman said that the "TVA stands in this area and throughout the country for bringing electricity into the homes of our people."

"The Republicans are trying to cut those electric wires," he said.

BOY SAVED BY ICY ROAD

MACON, Mo. (AP)—Icy road conditions usually are blamed for traffic accidents, but there is a 5-year-old boy here who probably owes his life to the slippery pavement. Ralph Brammer was hit by a car yesterday and knocked down. But instead of being run over, he was pushed ahead of the front wheel for about 100 feet, sliding on his side. The driver had been unaware of the boy until he heard shouts. The boy was not seriously hurt.

Miner Blows Up 2 Surgeons

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Police believe a crazed German-born miner who killed two surgeons and wounded a third yesterday before blowing himself up was enraged because the doctors would not certify an imaginary ailment.

The assailant, Karl Siegfried Kast, 39, swept through the doctors' adjoining offices, firing a .38-caliber revolver and scattering homemade gelignite bombs. Then he locked himself in the office of a fourth doctor who had eluded him, shot himself through the head and blew himself up with a bomb thrust into his waistband.

Kast killed Doctors Arthur Vincent Meehan, 67, and Andrew Russell Murray, 46. He pumped three bullets into Dr. George Joseph Gallagher, 35. Police said Kast had consulted the four doctors over an imaginary back ailment. When they refused to give him a compensation certificate, he sent them threatening letters in recent weeks.

Sen. Eastland Says South Can Win Segregation Fight

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.) predicted there can be "total and complete victory" in the fight to retain segregation if the South unites to overthrow what he called the "monstrous crime" committed by the U. S. Supreme Court when it banned segregation.

Eastland said last night that contending "the law of nature is on our side." He addressed a statewide meeting of Citizens Councils last night and proposed a regional commission to lead a nonviolent battle of public opinion against racial integration.

"Our position is righteous," Eastland told the 2,500 delegates to the first statewide council rally. "The great majority of the rank and file of the people of the North believe exactly as we do."

Defensive action, he added, "is the road to destruction and death. We must take the offense. We must carry the message to every section of the United States."

The group endorsed the proposed commission, which Eastland believes should be financed by public funds.

"We have nothing to be ashamed of," Eastland said. "We mistreat no one. We are proud of our system."

He added that the drive "for racial amalgamation is both illegal and immoral, and those who would mix little children of both races in our schools are following an illegal, immoral and sinful doctrine."

Rep. Rogers Leaves For Tour Of Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, Tex., left today to speak in Texas. Mrs. Rogers, who suffered a heart attack last week, returned from a hospital yesterday. She was reported recovering satisfactorily today. Rogers said she would have to spend several weeks convalescing. Rogers' first engagement in Texas is at a meeting of oil men in Borger Saturday night.

READY TO GO AGAIN

Diver Alive After 9 Hours In Water

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP)—Amazing Joe Tallarico, apparently unharmed after being trapped nearly nine hours in the chilly depths of the Patuxent River, said today: "I'm ready to go down again right away."

The 35-year-old Navy diver walked unassisted last night from a decompression chamber where he had spent four hours after being lifted from the floor of the river, 120 feet down.

Tallarico, a former Chicagoan with 10 years' experience as a diver, was caught below when his line became fouled on an anchor attached to a test mine he had gone down to recover.

Fifteen other Navy divers worked in relays to free him from waters off the naval ordnance laboratory test facility about 70 miles southeast of Washington.

Afterwards, Tallarico told newsmen: "The toughest part was the cold. After I had been down four hours I got disgusted—I thought I never would come up again."

"Did I say any prayers? Plenty of them," Tallarico's slender, dark-eyed wife Carmela pressed through the circle of newsmen and rushed into her husband's arms. Joe kissed her fervently. Then at the request of cameramen he kissed her again, patted her shoulder as she fought back tears.

Tallarico dived from a Navy launch yesterday morning for a routine job. Requiring not more than 18 minutes.

He had been in the water about 15 minutes when he reported his air hose fouled around the anchor. Boatswains Mate William G. Fisher of Williamsport, Pa., went down and found Tallarico literally pinned to the mine. "I struggled for almost 30 minutes, and I had almost worked Tallarico's lines clear when the tide grabbed me and pulled me away," Fisher said. "It was an awful feeling to have to come to the surface without him."

Other divers went down, one after the other, but could not even reach Tallarico in the now-rushing tide.

Finally Chief Gunners Mate Gray Renegar managed to get to Tallarico and the slow process of bringing him to the surface—along with the mine on which he was snagged—began.

Because Tallarico under terrible water compression so long, doctors on the rescue launch warned that bringing him up immediately would kill him. So despite the cold and long exposure, the lifting operation halted every dozen feet or so to give his body a chance to adjust.

The task continued under the boat's spotlights after darkness fell. Finally, at 7 p. m., Joe came to the surface. The boat raced ashore. There an ambulance rushed him 100 yards to the building housing the decompression equipment.

Minutes after entering the chamber Tallarico was able to raise his head, smile and wave at his wife peering in at him through a port-hole.

Navy physicians were astonished. One attendant said, "Frankly, I wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for his life."

Dr. Moffitt Holler, senior medical officer of the Navy's experimental diving unit, said Tallarico appeared to be in "excellent condition." "I am quite sure he would not have survived had he not been extremely robust and had he not remained very calm throughout," Holler said.

Newspapers Sale Largest Of Kind In U. S. History

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Sale of the Birmingham News and all of its subsidiaries, including the Huntsville Times, was announced in a record $18,700,000 deal yesterday.

Publisher S. I. Newhouse also acquired a television station and three radio stations in the transaction, as well as the Mercury Freight Line.

The Birmingham and Huntsville newspapers became the 12th and 13th newspapers in Newhouse's group. Editor and Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, termed it the biggest such transaction in American newspaper history.

The previous high was an 18-million-dollar deal in which the Philadelphia Inquirer was sold to Cyrus Curtis in 1930.

Television station WABT and radio stations WAPI and WAFM, all in Birmingham, and station WHBS in Huntsville, were included in the deal. Employees have been told that the properties would continue under present management. Newhouse signed a managerial contract with Clarence B. Hanson Jr., who will remain as president and publisher of the Birmingham News and Harry B. Bradley, who will continue as vice president and general manager.

The Birmingham News is Alabama's largest newspaper. It was founded in 1888 when Birmingham was a city of about 25,000. The late Victor H. Hanson purchased the paper in 1910.

The News now has an afternoon circulation of 187,000 and a Sunday circulation of 230,000.

The Huntsville Times, only newspaper in that north Alabama city, has a circulation of 20,000.

The properties were owned by the family of the late Mr. Hanson. In the sale price, Newhouse paid 16 1/2 million dollars and assumed liabilities of $2,200,000.

Other papers owned by Newhouse include the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the Syracuse (N. Y.) Post-Standard and the Herald-Journal; the Portland Oregonian; the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot and the News; the Newark (N.J.) Star-Ledger; the Jersey Journal of Jersey City, N.J.; and three New York City papers — the Long Island Press, the Long Island Star-Journal and the Staten Island Advance.

Newhouse also has radio and television interests in some of the same cities.

Business At Jail Is All Washed Up

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Snohomish County Sheriff Bob Twitchell received a phone call yesterday in which he was asked if he had seen an advertisement in the Everett Herald reading: "Cars washed and waxed $6. Car wash only $1. Call Bayview 4800 seven days a week."

"What is this, a gag?" the sheriff asked. "No, go ahead. Call the number," he was advised.

Twitchell did. A woman answered and when he said he wanted a wash job he was advised: "Just take it to the parking lot next door to the county jail. Ask for Jake Entfield."

Business soon was all washed up for Entfield—a jail trusty serving six months for burglary. And so was his status as a trusty.

Swink, McDonald Named To All-America Team

By BOB HOOBING
NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State's Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy heads one of the most versatile backfields ever selected on the Associated Press 1955 All-America football team announced today.

Cassidy, a holdover choice along with Navy and Ron Beagle, is joined by Earl Morrall of Michigan State, Jim Swink of Texas Christian and Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma in the backfield.

The Buckeyes owe their second straight Big Ten championship to Cassidy, winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy, who was the clutch runner of the year despite the special defenses set for him each week. He also can pass.

Swink was the most exciting runner of the campaign, springing from virtual obscurity into the role of the top scorer (125 points) and most dramatic distance gainer.

For that reason, players like Michigan end Ron Kramer, UCLA guard Hardiman Cureton, Notre Dame quarterback Paul Horton, Auburn fullback Joe Childress and Mississippi State halfback Art Davis did not make the grade.

That's not a reflection on the future potential of these fine players, but an honest appraisal of comparative performances in the 1955 college season.

Johnny Rebs Seeking Ways To Stop TCU's Jim Swink

Tech Vote May Come Up Again

FORT WORTH (AP)—The question of Texas Tech being admitted to the Southwest Conference will come up again at the winter meeting of the conference in Dallas Dec. 2-10. Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of TCU, said today.

"It looks pretty good for our friends but there's some doubt about it," he added.

The TCU president, who held a meeting of unofficial representatives of the member schools several months ago, couldn't say who would make the motion to extend membership to Texas Tech but he was positive either Baylor, Texas or TCU was prepared to do so.

Dr. Sadler said earlier the question would again be projected at the next session of the conference faculty committee.

Dr. Sadler said he had had a letter from Arkansas indicating it believes the sentiment in Texas is for the admission of Tech, thus indicating that the big Plains college will have at least four members for it when the question comes up.

Five votes are necessary. Rice has announced it is against the admission of Tech. So that leaves the fifth vote to come from either Texas A&M or Southern Methodist. A&M once was for the admission of Tech but changed its view in the 1934 spring meeting at Waco. SMU has never yet favored it but Flem Hall, sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, said Dr. Willis Tate, president of SMU, and a substantial number of SMU board members, have indicated that they would like to see Tech admitted.

Dr. Sadler said that TCU not only is going to support Texas Tech actively but will insist that at the coming meeting, there be no secret vote.

CAVARRETTA IS BUFFALO BOSS

By JOE REICHLER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Even before the minor league convention came in an official close today, a majority of the major league executives and field managers had departed for Chicago, where the club owners will hold their annual three-day meeting starting next Monday.

CAVARRETTA

Except for the naming of former big league stars Phil Cavarretta and Eddie Joost as managers of Buffalo and San Francisco, respectively, the action was mostly limited to parliamentary business. The minors voted on a number of amendments, passing some but rejecting those which carried more significance.

Among those rejected were the proposals to repeal the bonus rule, the unrestricted draft of first-year players, the college rule which would have forbidden the signings of collegians after their freshman year, the 25-player major league player limit on opening day and a 50 per cent increase in draft prices.

The minors made their annual move to bar commercial broadcasts of ball games on stations outside a club's "home" territory, defined as territory within a radius of 75 miles of the ball park. It also extended President George Trautman's term for another five years after it expires in December 1936, and appointed an eight-man committee to negotiate with the majors for renewal of the major-minor agreement which expires Jan. 12, 1937.

The minors also adopted an amendment that would make a returning serviceman count on the active list after 30 days. At present he can be carried as an extra man for a full season after his discharge.

National League officials, perhaps roused by the fact that their American League rivals were stealing the headlines by making all the important player trades this winter, attempted to get something going at the 11th hour before quitting this city.

All trade negotiations were negative but it may be that Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was right when he told newsmen:

"I know we've disappointed you here in Columbus but I think we'll make up for it in Chicago."

Lane talked with Roy Hamey, general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, in an effort to swing a deal for either outfielder Del Egan or catcher Stan Lopata. The Phils reportedly are seeking second base star Red Schoendienst.

The Braves, too, are seeking a second baseman, as well as a left-handed hitting outfielder. The Cubs need a catcher and another right-handed hitting outfielder.

Seeking Regional Crown
The Knott Hill Billies, seeking the Regional six-man football championship in a game with Garden City at Forsan tonight, will lean heavily upon the seven boys pictured above. They are, left to right, top row, C. J. Shockley, Roosevelt Shaw, John Shanks and Jackie Romine. Front row, Donnie Roman, Don Nichols and Delano Shaw. The Billies carry an 8-2 win-loss record into the contest.

Steers Visit Odessa Gym

Defeated in their first start by Lubbock High School, the Big Spring Steers return to basketball action Saturday night in Odessa, where they play one of District 1-A's toughest teams.

Johnny Malaise, the former Steer coach, has built a fine ball club at Odessa this year. The Bronchos slaughtered Andrews in their opening game.

Johnny Malaise has a young ball club here. Only two seniors are out for the squad and one of those, Jimmy Rice, didn't report until the conclusion of football season.

Probable starters for the Steers tomorrow night are LeRoy LeFevre, Jan Loudermik, Don Anderson, Mickey Musgrove and either Rice or Donald Loyd.

The Longhorns face Lubbock in Lubbock next Tuesday. Next weekend, they compete in the Hardin-Simmons University Tournament in Abilene, meeting Berger in the first round.

Garden City will probably be slightly favored to topple Knott, since they won an early season practice game by the score of 25-0. However, Knott later shaded Gail, 40-28, after Gail had upset Garden City, 26-24.

The loss to Gail is the only blot on Garden City's record. The teams met two other common opponents, Knott beat Sterling City, 37-13; before the Cats pummeled the same club, 42-8. The Billies nudged Foran, 31-25, after which Garden City spilled the Buffs, 49-29.

Garden City carries the better offensive and defensive records into the contest. The Bearcats have scored the amazing total of 414 points, which means they have averaged 37.7 points a game. They have yielded 156 points to 11 opponents.

Knott has scored 294 points in ten contests, for a game average of 29.4 points an outing. The Billies have yielded 205 points.

Garden City shelled Hobbs, 43-4, in bi-district play last year while Knott had to go all out to defeat Clint, 25-22.

Garden City will enter the contest in good physical trim and Coach Lindsey has indicated he will use an offensive lineup composed of Jimmy Nelson and Royce Fruit at ends, Dale Hillger at center, Lorin McDowell at quarterback, Jimmy Smith at left half and Eddie Engel at right half.

Defensively, the Cats will line up with Royce Fruit and Engle at ends, Hillger at center, Smith as linebacker and Jim Davee and Nelson at half backs.

Lloyd Jones, Milton Mow and Eugene Davee are others who will see action for the Cats.

If the Cats win, they must do something about the pin-point passing of the Knott quarterback, who hasn't been stopped all season. Long can throw to such targets as Roosevelt and Delano Shaw, John Shanks and others.

Shanks is the leading Knott ball carrier, Thomas Day, Bruce Parker, Don Nichols, Jackie Romine and Donnie Roman are others heavily counted upon by Bill Holl, the Knott coach.

The Billies will be without the services of Billy McNew, who is out with boils over his body.

The game winds up the season for both teams. Six-man football is not played beyond Regional.

Jerry Graves Named Center On Paper's All-State 11

Jerry Graves, Big Spring's senior center, was named to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's AAA all-state football team today.

For the past three seasons, Big Spring has had a player on the team. Frosty Robison, Steer half-back, made it the previous two seasons.

Herb Owens, writing for the Star-Telegram, wrote that Graves "is probably the state's best center in any class. Perhaps the finest tribute to his ability is the fact that the Steers' defensive alignment permits him to follow the ball instead of covering a specified area.

"He averaged 15 to 20 tackles a game and was credited with 57 against Lubbock Monterey."

Graves, a 210-pounder who rated the Texas Sports Writers Association's second all-state team last year, was one of two District 1-A players selected on the team. The other was Norman Grimmer, Snyder guard.

The team consisted of:

Wiley Feagin, Conroe; and Lowell Baker, Garland, ends; Charles McKinzie, Grand Prairie; and Jimmy Franz, Alice, tackles; Grimmer and Gerald Moore, Palestine, guards; Graves at center; George McKinney, Texarkana, quarterback; Bobby Boyd, Garland; and Clifford Grubbs, S a n Antonio Harlandale, halfbacks; and Gordon LeBeouf, Port Neches, full-back.

1-A players gaining Honorable Mention on the team were Jerry Blair, Lubbock Monterey tackle; Don McNew, Snyder tackle; Don Thompson, Levelland guard; Doyle Chapman, Lamesa quarterback; Harrold Hobbs, Sweetwater half-back; Jack Spikes, Snyder half-back; and Joe Baxter, Snyder full-back.

San Angelo Rams Defeat ACC B Team

ABILENE, (SC) — San Angelo College nipped the ACC reserves, 23-0, in a basketball exhibition played here Thursday evening.

The Rams were behind at half time, 17-20, but staged a late rally to finish in front.

Frank Trevino scored 22 points for the winners. Dave Malone tossed in 13 for the losers.

Pat's Clyde Team Is Beaten, 21-0

ROCHESTER (SC) — Rochester defeated Clyde in bi-district football play here Thursday afternoon, 21-0.

Clyde is coached by Cliff Patton, one-time Big Spring line-man.

Rochester thus earned the right to play Rankin in the Regional II-B finals. Rankin topped Robert Lee, 42-21.

Why do U. S. Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force Helicopters use TCP...
What does this mean to your car?
Simply this:
In a helicopter, engine deposits cause a more critical problem of power loss than in any other kind of gasoline engine service. Shell's unique gasoline additive, TCP, is used in the majority of military helicopters today because it has the unique ability of overcoming these deposits.
The same deposits are also a major cause of power loss in all automobile engines. This is particularly true of the higher compression engines which require high octane gasoline.
Because TCP additive overcomes these engine deposits, which increase with daily short-trip driving, only Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP gives you the full benefits of high octane gasoline. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use.
Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.
Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Kefauver Meets Young Democrats

Battle Shaping On Civil Rights At Demo Meeting

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Strong advocates of civil rights claimed a major victory at the Young Democrats national convention today but a floor fight still appeared likely over the controversial resolution.

A strengthened resolution, commending states which are complying with recent integration rulings, was approved in committee 9-8 last night despite opposition of Southern delegates and some Northerners who felt it would hurt the party. It is possible a minority report will be brought onto the floor Saturday for a full-dress debate.

Delegates from California introduced the resolution commending states which are moving toward integration. Richard Nevins, Pasadena, principal advocate on the Resolutions Committee, said passage was a "must" for California delegates, adding, "We cannot go home without it."

Also bearing committee approval was an earlier resolution urging continued efforts to eradicate discrimination and supporting equal opportunities for all races.

Yesterday, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), in the keynote address, rapped the Republican administration for failing to make gains in both foreign and domestic fields. His speech criticized the Eisenhower administration for its record on foreign affairs, farm issues, labor, schools and public power.

On today's program is a panel discussion on 1956 issues by five party figures. They are Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma and Clements of Kentucky, Gov. Folsom of Alabama and Faubus of Arkansas and John White, Texas agriculture commissioner.

Woman Hangs Self In Belief She Caused Death Of Husband

GARDIFF, Calif. (AP)—Authorities said Mrs. Grace Van Ness, 65, hanged herself yesterday, apparently in the belief she had accidentally caused the death of her paralyzed husband, Jay, 70.

Her body was found hanging by a window sash cord from a tree limb, with a kitchen chair overturned beneath her.

Deputy Coroner E. O. McFadden said investigation indicated that she thought her husband dead when she removed an oxygen mask, after forgetting to turn on the oxygen. Jay was still alive, however. He was transferred to a hospital.

Lorbeer To Boss W'Falls Team

WICHITA FALLS, (AP)—Ernest F. (Dutch) Lorbeer will be general manager of the Wichita Falls club in the Big State League.

Wichita Falls is returning to this league after a 2-year absence.

Lorbeer has been general manager of Austin, the Big State League for the past 15 seasons.

Wichita Falls has working agreement with Brooklyn to furnish all its players and a manager.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, addressed to the Board of Trustees, Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, for the construction of a Gymnasium, Addition to Library Science Building and Greenhouse for Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, Texas, will be received at the office of the Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, until 2:00 o'clock PM on the 15th day of December, 1955, at which time they will be opened and read. Bids must be plainly marked with titles of projects proposed.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the Board of Trustees, Howard County Junior College, Howard County, Texas, within 10 days after the date of the award of the contract and execute bonds, as outlined in the specifications and instructions to bidders.

A performance bond in the amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price will be required.

No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids for at least thirty days.

Attention is called to the fact that no less than the minimum rates prevailing in the locality in which the work is performed for the use of a building contractor, and not less than the general prevailing rate of per diem of local holiday-makers, and other time work, shall be paid to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed in the construction of public works.

The minimum wages to be paid laborers and mechanics on all jobs, as determined by the owner are listed in the Instructions to Bidders.

Plans and Specifications may be examined without charge in the office of the Architect, Big Spring Building, Big Spring, Texas, and may be procured, upon a deposit of $25.00 for each set of General Construction, $50.00 for each set of Mechanical Work, as a guarantee of the sale return of same. The full amount of this deposit will be returned to each bidder immediately upon the return of the plans and specifications in good condition. Plans returned in excess of the number specified will be destroyed. The amount of deposit less the cost of printing will be returned to the bidder if the bidder is not selected. Bidders for additional sets of documents may be sent to bidders by Registered Express Collect.

D. P. W. Malone, President
Howard County Junior College
Big Spring, Texas

GOP Leaders Map Precinct Projects

CHICAGO (AP)—Republican leaders are mapping a vigorous 1956 campaign for every precinct in the nation, buoyed by President Eisenhower's promise to do "everything in my power" to help.

Some GOP leaders think the President's assurances mean he will decide to run again.

Others believe he is determined to take as active a part as his health will permit.

New speculation arose over the President's 1956 role yesterday when he sent a message to a Chicago meeting of the Republican National Committee, saying:

"You have a splendid record to submit to the voters in 1956. I personally am proud of Republican achievements for the peace and the prosperity and the security of the American people. I shall do everything in my power next year to help you report the record accurately and fully to the country."

Members jumped to their feet with applause and cheers when Chairman Leonard W. Hall read the message.

Hall told the committeemen that the President "says he will lead."

He said later there is not "the slightest doubt in my mind" but that the President intends to take the most active part he can in the campaign.

Morton H. Hollingsworth, Illinois state chairman, and Harry Darby, committeeman from Kansas, said they think the President will campaign for his re-election.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland said he believes the President will do all he can to "report" and "continue" the record of his administration.

"I believe that if he is convinced he is the man to continue that record, he will be the candidate," McKeldin said.

The committee wound up a two-day Chicago meeting with a pledge to wage a "precinct crusade for victory in 1956."

Hall said every precinct in the nation will be manned by GOP workers.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell exhorted the committee members to "tell the story of Republican achievements, again and again, from every street corner."

He declared it is "no accident" that "we are at peace and we are growing and strong."

"I believe the reason is that the policies of this Republican Administration have provided a climate in which the natural forces of America have been allowed to expand and develop," he said.

The committee completed arrangements for the GOP National Convention in the San Francisco Cow Palace starting Aug. 20.

U.S. Officials Apprehensive On Afghanistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials are watching Afghanistan with some apprehension that it might fall like an overripe plum on the Communist side of the Iron Curtain.

They see no definite signs that this is bound to happen. But they view it as a conceivable result of Afghanistan's recent inclination toward Moscow amid the quickening Soviet interest in the Middle East.

There is no plan of direct U. S. action to keep it from happening. Rather, officials said U. S. policies of friendship and economic aid continue while U. S. diplomacy works indirectly to patch up Afghanistan's border dispute with Pakistan which started the whole trend.

In the meantime, two old hands at shaking international political plums, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, will be in the Afghanistan capital of Kabul in a couple of weeks after visiting India and Burma.

What is it that makes Afghanistan, a nation of 12 million in an area the size of Texas, so important? Aside from the East-West struggle for the loyalty of those 12 million people, there is little at stake so far as Afghanistan's resources go.

Little but fruits and wools are produced on its 270,000 square miles of rocks and windswept plains. Its world trade is a mere drop in the bucket.

But Afghanistan's geographical location makes it highly important. The Khyber Pass is there. Conquerors shooting for the Indian subcontinent ever since Alexander the Great have swept through the Khyber Pass in an end run around the towering Himalayas.

If Afghanistan were to become a Soviet satellite—an event officials see as unlikely—it would mean:

1. Russia would be 500 miles closer to the Arabian Sea. Long before the Communists came, Russia coveted the Middle East's warm waters and year-round ports.
2. A wedge would be driven into the northern tier of Middle East nations friendly to the West.

Candidate Named By Greenback Party

EDMONDS, Wash. (AP)—The mantle of presidential nominee rested easily today on the unassuming shoulders of a country grocer. He tried it on in 1952 with the same results he expects next year.

Actually, Fred C. Proehl (pronounced Prayle) is more concerned with what he considers the sad state of this nation's monetary affairs than he is about being a serious presidential threat.

The 75-year-old nominee of the Greenback party was tapped for the honor without flurry or fuss. He was named in a quiet mail referendum conducted by the party and announced by John Zahnd, party chairman, at Indianapolis.

The party—and Proehl—believes in greenbacks. Lots of them, as substitutes for interest-bearing bonds used in financing such things as government power projects.

"We want to issue money to pay for the services of government," he explains. "The amount to be issued should be limited to what actually is needed. If money gets too cheap, we would stop printing it."

He doesn't like the practice of the Federal Reserve Bank issuing currency because, he says, the system is controlled by banks and it gives too much power and profit to a small group.

Proehl once was a banker in Minnesota and, should he be elected, he would be the first former resident of Otter Tail County to occupy the White House.

"I want to emphasize that I'm not a busted banker," he asserted. "I sold out voluntarily." And, as though to prove he is not fly-by-night Greenbacker, he explains:

"I sold out when I found what the Federal Reserve Board planned to do in 1920 to deflate the financial system. Those plans led to the depression that people finally recognized in 1929."

Proehl doesn't plan to do much campaigning, particularly around his little rural store a dozen miles north of Seattle.

"Those people around here are all Democrats or Republicans, and if I start talking my politics in the store they'd shoot me."

Meaning of Discipleship

SELF-DENIAL ESSENTIAL TO FOLLOWERS OF CHRIST

Scripture—Luke 9:7-82.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE NAME of Herod appears frequently in the New Testament. It was Herod the Great who, after the birth of the Christ Child, ordered the babes of Bethlehem killed. Herod put John the Baptist to death, and both Jesus and Paul were tried before Herod.

Herod the Tetrarch, we read, had heard all that Jesus had done and he was curious about Him. Some had told him Jesus was considered to be John the Baptist risen from the dead. Others said He was Elijah or one of the older prophets come back.

This Herod said, "John have I beheaded; but who is this, of whom I hear such things?" and he asked to see Him. We are not told whether he did indeed see Jesus at this time or not.

When the twelve apostles returned from their missionary journey they told Jesus all that they had done and He took them and went privately into a desert place. They were not long alone, however, for the multitudes followed them and Christ spoke to them of the kingdom of God, and healed those that were in need.

Now when the day was near its end the disciples came to Him and would lose his life for the Lord's sake would save it. That he who would be ashamed of Jesus' words. He when He was in glory, would be ashamed of him.

About eight days later Jesus took Peter, James and John and went up into a mountain to pray. We are told this probably was Mount Hermon—10,000 feet high. The apostles were sleepy, but as Jesus prayed, His countenance was altered and His clothing was white and glistening.

Two men talked with Him—Moses and Elijah. When the three friends awoke, they beheld the glory of the Lord and the two men with Him. Peter suggested that they build tabernacles there, one for Jesus, one for Moses and one for Elijah. A cloud covered them, and they were afraid, but a voice came out of the cloud saying, "This is My beloved Son; hear Him." When the cloud had passed, Jesus was alone.

MEMORY VERSE

"If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me."—Luke 9:23.

asked Him to send the people away to the nearest town so that they might find food and lodging for the night. He told them to feed the people themselves, but they said they had only five loaves and two fishes.

Jesus told them to have the multitude sit down in fifties, then He took the bread and fish, blessed them, and not only fed all the multitude, but had baskets of food left over.

Alone with His disciples while He prayed, Jesus asked them, "Whom say the people that I am?" They told Him the same as had been told to Herod. Then Jesus asked the disciples, "But whom say ye that I am?" and Peter answered at once, "The Christ of God."

He told them to tell no man that, and then said: "The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day."

Also He told them, "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me." And further, that who would save his own life would lose it, and he who friends of Jesus were not without common faults. John came to Jesus to tell Him that a man who was casting out devils in Jesus' name, and that they had forbidden him to do so. But Jesus said: "Forbid him not; for he that is not against us is for us."

A man came to Jesus saying, "Lord, I will follow Thee whithersoever Thou goest."

Jesus said: "Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay His head."

To another man Jesus said, "Follow Me," but the man said he would after he buried his father. To still another to whom Christ said, "Follow Me," the answer was he would, but only after he had bid farewell to his family.

To these two Jesus said: "No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God."

If we would follow Jesus, we must not put it off, it cannot wait. We must be prepared to forget ourselves, even as He did, take up our crosses—whatever they be—and follow His footsteps, whatever the cost.

SOLUTION

To Cashword Puzzle No. 43

Explanation of More Difficult Clues

CLUES ACROSS:

- A complaint about the Soup could be a reflection on the chef and the kitchen staff—that is, the hotel's own employees—enough to disturb any manager. The fact that a guest didn't like a particular brand of Soap would hardly disturb the manager.
- Cost is best. The clue says "few people." This does not mean "all the people." Therefore, Host is ruled out because all the people who drink to excess at the party show lack of consideration for the Host; that is, do so without considering the Host. However, few people will do so without, at some point, considering the Cost.
- "Spotted" suggests visual detection, and favors Seal. One feels that a Seal is insecure when one sits on it. One does not usually see it or spot it. Seam is not so good.
- Wear is more apt. To say that a man Wears well implies that he retains his popularity over the years. Men who succeed in their efforts to do so have every reason to be proud. Because a man Wears well should fill him more with gratitude than with pride.
- Leave is best since it is broader in scope. If Leave is used the offer is likely to be restricted to an offer for the house or property. Leave permits the offer to be made for many different things for which he might be glad to Leave his house, either permanently or just for a short time.
- Care is the obvious answer. You would speak of the need for Care, or of taking Care of something. You would not correctly refer to the "need" for a Cure; rather you would refer to some thing or some action to "effect" a Cure.
- Wander is best. Wandering is a mental process, which, being abstract, "indicates" nothing. Wandering about may make it obvious that you are undecided what to do.
- The word "conscientious" is important. In referring to reading you can only be "conscientious" if you read for a purpose or employment. A conscientious Reader in a publishing company, for example, since he is conscientious, will miss very little. Reaping is done by machinery nowadays. Anything missed is missed by the machine and not by the Reaper.
- The clue implies that it is men who use them, favoring Spears. Many ladies use Shears but not Spears. Again, "men implies that persons (plural) use them, but Shears can be used by one person. Thus Spears is a more indisputable answer.

CLUES DOWN:

- A Pose may be natural or it may be artificial (affected), and the difference between the two is usually quite obvious. The manufacture of artificial flowers is nearing perfection, and, from a short distance away, it may be quite difficult to distinguish between an artificial and a real Rose. Nose is weak.
- The films he Starred in are pretty old, of course. Those he starred in, during the whole of his acting career, are of such widely varying ages that it is not possible to make a sweeping statement about the lot of them, as though they all belonged to the same era.
- A good Pal can certainly make your life more enjoyable. As for good Pay, it depends on who gets it. To the well-off it might well make no difference at all. To someone sick or suffering the Pay they get, whether good or poor, might have little bearing on their enjoyment. Pal is a sure answer; a good Pal can certainly make life more enjoyable.
- Few is more apt. The "discoveries" of "nowadays" surely must be New, which word is therefore redundant.
- Rain best fits the clue which mentions "breaking a record." Pain would handicap a runner whether he was trying to break a record or not. Rain would not handicap him if he were merely running to win, since it would slow the other runners equally. It would, however, handicap him if he were "trying to break a record."
- Late best fits the clue's reference to "finding himself." Far from simply "finding himself" Lane, a hiker gradually goes Lane, or is Lamed, (by some mishap). He may, of course, glance at his watch and "find" that he is Late.

"SO WITH PRAYER..."

The sure and nimble touch of the hands of a great pianist is the result of hours of daily practice over a period of years. The great and thrilling music which he creates is the product of daily devotion to his art.

Every fine accomplishment in life requires the same daily devotion. If your house is neat as a pin, if you have a lovely garden, if your office is well-run and efficient, you know that it takes hours of daily care and devotion.

So with prayer. Prayer is one of the highest gifts a man has. But if it is to become more than a spasmodic and superstitious cry for help, it too requires daily care and devotion. It takes practice!

The Church stands ready to help you and your children know the great joy which comes to a man through daily prayer. And the best part of it is, the more you practice prayer, the greater the joy and happiness you will derive from it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Uncle Ray:
Citizens Of Athens
Knew Foot Comfort

By RAMON COFFMAN
In some modern countries it has become a widespread custom for women and teen-age girls to wear "open shoes." These shoes differ from ordinary sandals, but they give a little freedom to the toes.

Man buying bouquet from flower girl in Athens.

Sometimes the nails of the toes are painted red, or another color. Without saying anything in favor of the nailpainting custom, I wish to compliment women for getting away, to a large degree, from the tight shoes of the past.

When feet are pressed in tight shoes, a person is likely to feel pain. Perhaps he will speak in a "cranky" manner, and that hardly will make him popular! His foot troubles are likely to call for medical help.

It seems that the ancient Greeks never suffered in that manner. Sandals were their favorite footwear, and it seems that these always were large enough to be comfortable. Straps held the leather soles of the sandals in place.

As time went on, the custom spread of coloring the straps to make them look attractive. Red, yellow, and blue and purple were employed for this purpose. Now and then an Athenian woman used gilt

SAYS IMAM

Christians May Qualify For Islam

NEW YORK (AP)—Even if you call yourself a Christian, you also may qualify as a good Moslem. "Millions of Christians in this country are true Moslems," said Sheikh Daoud Ahmed Faisal, spiritual leader of the Islamic Mission of America. "They just don't know it."

That may sound incongruous to some people, steeped in grade-school notions of the bloody Middle Ages Crusades against so-called "infidels" of Mohammed, but it is the brotherly attitude of Mohammed's followers today.

Basically, it always has been. "The average American simply knows nothing about Islam," Sheikh Faisal said. "It is the religion of Christians and Jews and all who believe in one true God and who have surrendered to his will and guidance of his laws."

But in the United States, he said, there has been little recognition of the Jewish-Christian roots of Islam, or that Abraham, Jesus and Mohammed are all seen equally as prophets of the faith.

"Prejudice, egotism and ignorance have robbed many of the truth about Islam," the Moroccan-born imam said. "Some sneer and joke and mock, because of greed for power, fear or exposure, or the evil idea they are better than everyone else."

In North and South America, the only two major continents to which Islam has not spread in vast numbers and influence, Sheikh Faisal's mission as the representative organ for Moslems has set these objectives:

"The propagation of Islam, the true faith . . . the defense of the faithful . . . the reestablishment of peace, love, good will and human brotherhood through belief in

Domino Players
Nearly Get Burned
During Hot Game

DUSTIN, Okla. (AP)—Fire almost wiped out the business district of this small southeast Oklahoma town, but it couldn't stop a hot game of dominoes.

Sheriff T. J. Sanders said three elderly men were playing dominoes in one of the buildings destroyed by the blaze. The players stepped outside for a breath of air, when smoke became so thick one said he "could hardly see any dominoes."

However, the three decided the smoke was from nearby grass fires and returned to their game.

They were interrupted by a shout: "You guys better get out of here. This building's on fire."

The elderly domino players hurried outside, just before the blazing second story of the building crashed down into the domino parlor.

U. S. Publishes Sparring Record From Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record of the verbal sparring which ended in deadlock of the Geneva foreign ministers' conference was published by the State Department today, just two weeks after the meeting ended.

"It showed the 'spirit of Geneva' fading with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov accusing this country of wanting to establish 'centers of espionage,' and Secretary of State Dulles calling 'almost infamous' Molotov's implication that only Russia was interested in disarmament."

Molotov also accused the Western Big Three of "seeking to interfere with Soviet affairs" in some of their proposals for increasing East-West tourist attractions, and said it appeared they "did not wish to reach an agreement."

Dulles called that the latest of many "frivolous" remarks by Molotov.

The conference ended in disagreement Nov. 16. Last night the State Department put out a 307-page printed report on it which, like the record of the summit conference published a month ago, contained nothing substantially new.

Some of the texts, however, had not previously been made available and it was the first time the department brought them all together.

The pamphlet includes copies of all proposals put forward by Britain, France, Russia and the United States at the foreign ministers meeting. It also includes principal statements by Secretary of State Dulles and statements by other foreign ministers previously issued as conference papers.

Judge Puts Insurance Firm Out Of Business

AUSTIN (AP)—Judge Charles Betts issued a final order today putting a Dallas insurance company, Home Service Casualty, out of business. The attorney general's department had alleged the company was insolvent; that outstanding policy claims totaled more than $90,000 while the firm had only $3,000 in cash on hand.

Braniff Airlines Buys Five Jet Transports, Due By 1959

DALLAS (AP)—Braniff Airways said today it has bought five Boeing 600-mile-an-hour, 118-passenger jet transports to be used on Braniff's international and domestic routes.

President Charles Beard said the planes, spare engines and parts will cost about 30 million dollars. The first jet transport is to be delivered by October, 1959.

Braniff is the third U. S. air carrier to order Boeing jet aircraft and the first to specify a Pratt and Whitney engine of advanced design over the J37 jet engine, William Allen, Boeing president said.

The jet order is one phase of Braniff's new $7 million dollar new aircraft program. Delivery of seven Douglas DC7C aircraft previously ordered by Braniff under its new equipment program will begin in the late summer of 1956.

Braniff's new Boeing jet transports will have a range in excess of 4,000 miles with maximum payload and yet will operate economically at ranges as short as 750 miles. They will be used on the airline's domestic schedules, including the newly acquired route between the Southwest, Mid-South and Washington and New York, as well as on Braniff routes to Central and South America.

Typical non-stop flying times for the 707 aircraft are: Dallas to Chicago, one hour and 28 minutes, compared with present schedules of three hours and ten minutes; Houston to Chicago, one hour and 53 minutes, compared with present time of three hours and 40 minutes; Dallas to Washington, two hours and 15 minutes, compared with four hours and 15 minutes at present; and Dallas to New York, two hours and 36 minutes, compared with present schedules of five hours and 40 minutes.

Court Studies Ramsey Denial

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's denial of responsibility for or knowledge of who paid for certain political advertisements allegedly placed in his behalf in 1954 was contained in a deposition filed in 53rd District Court yesterday.

A court-appointed officer took Ramsey's answers to 72 questions submitted by attorneys for C. T. Johnson of Austin, whom Ramsey defeated for lieutenant governor last year.

Johnson secured the deposition for possible use in his $36,300 damage suit filed Oct. 4 against Ramsey, Vernon Sanford, and the Texas Press Assn. Sanford is the association's executive secretary.

Johnson's suit charged a conspiracy to evade the law on reporting campaign expenditures. Ramsey denied he had authorized the Texas Press Assn., through Sanford, to cause publication of two ads which Johnson claims were run in numerous daily and weekly newspapers in Ramsey's behalf in June and July, 1954.

Ramsey also said in the deposition: "I did not authorize any individual to do so."

Texan Donates To Writing Program

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—A Texan donated $500,000 yesterday for support of Stanford University's creative writing program.

Dr. Edward Jones of San Angelo, requested that the fund be designated the Wallace E. Stegner Fund will finance scholarships, fellowships and support annual publication of Stanford short stories.

Jones is a brother of the retired head of the Stanford English Department, Richard Foster Jones. He has already contributed $150,000 for the school's writing study.

The experts acclaim LINCOLN

NEWSWEEK . . . "The 1956 Lincoln is a completely revamped car . . . longer, lower, and wider . . . with 285 horsepower and styling patterned after the experimental 'Lincoln Futura.' Biggest innovations are safety features, developed after years of crash-testing . . . a safety-flex steering wheel, spring-resistant door locks, optional safety belts."

WALL STREET JOURNAL . . . "The new 1956 Lincolns meet a smash response . . . Completely restyled, longer and more powerful . . . one of the few makes to feature a major re-do in looks for 1956. Head lamps are hooded. Larger taillights slash forward . . . 'Jet-pod' bumper guards house oval-shaped exhausts on both sides."

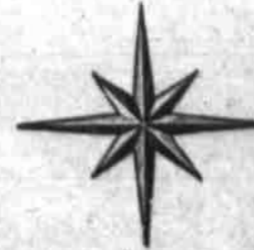

COLLIER'S . . . "Lincoln's attempt to penetrate the big-car market more deeply is based on more than prestige. Lincoln is a big car, yet . . . it conveys an impression of small-car maneuverability . . . barely five feet high, it has a ground-hugging appearance. Horsepower boosted to 285, and there are new safety devices."

VOGUE . . . "Fashion news arriving by car: the Lincoln's body is new, its engine is new, its safety wheel is new, and so are the airplane-type toggle switches. With the exception of airport limousines and the like, this is one of the longest cars in America. Handsome accessory to fashion, too, as it happens."

... and the public agrees!

Security Man Asks Subversive Tag For Civil Rights Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of the Subversive Activities Control Board recommended today the Civil Rights Congress be required to register as a Communist front. Retiring board member David J. Coddalre found the CRC is "substantially directed and controlled by the Communist party," and is "primarily operated for the purpose of giving aid and support to Communists."

There was no immediate comment from the CRC. Hearings on a petition by Atty. Gen. Brownell to require the CRC to register under the 1950 Internal Security Act, list its officers and give an annual financial accounting.

Constitutionality of registration provisions of the act has been challenged by the Communist party. The matter is awaiting decision by the Supreme Court.

Coddalre's report now goes to the full board for action. The CRC can file exceptions and ask for oral arguments on them.

Coddalre said the CRC was planned and created by the Communist party in 1946 through a merger of several organizations, including the International Labor Defense.

"This was done, he said, to utilize defense of civil rights for party purposes and to raise and maintain large mass defense and bell funds for party use.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Love Is Serious

Have you ever broken anyone's heart? "Me? A heart breaker?" you ask eyeing your reflection in the mirror.

You may have broken several without even knowing it. It's possible if you are careless with your lovemaking.

Emotions are more fragile than crystal glassware, and a broken heart is more painful than a broken arm. It does not mend as completely or as rapidly, either.

Think about your words and actions on a date. Scrutinize them. Do you go overboard anointing your date's ego with praise? Do you have a special smile, wink, or squeeze of the hand between you? Do you slide your arm around her and squeeze her up tight in an, "I could just eat you up" manner when you're out walking or on a picnic or out for a breath of air during a dance?

When you're in the car waiting for the other half of your double date do you run your fingers through your date's hair or pat her hand affectionately? (This goes for you girls, too.)

Perhaps you are surprised at the expression of complete desolation when you announce your plans to go steady with someone else.

"She should have known all that was just my way," you say. We had a good time together, but I never said anything about love."

"Didn't you? Love can be expressed in words, but words are not the language of love.

Infinitely more elegant than words, the way you feel is spoken in your actions — the look of admiration in your eyes, the special smile of amusement at her jokes, the gentle touch that means, and is meant to mean, so much.

"No, you don't have to say, "I love you" in words, you can lie to her (or him) with kisses and caresses.

Playing fast and loose is not grown-up; it is thoughtless and cruel. If you don't mean it, don't say it — either in English or the language of love.

Shivers Names School Panel

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers appointed yesterday the 15-member State Commission on Higher Education.

He named former Secretary of State Al Muldrow of Brownfield temporary chairman. The first meeting will be called in early January.

Exercising jurisdiction over 22 state institutions, the commission was created by the Legislature this year to attack the problem of giving Texas the best possible system of junior colleges, colleges and universities.

It will present a single appropriations request for all the institutions and has authority to supervise and consolidate activities of state colleges.

Included on the commission are: R. T. Waddell, Odessa, and Mrs. J. F. Boren, Abilene.
