All-Star Football Ends In Victory For Hart

Iredell's Dewey Cook crashed through a block punt with only seconds remaining, setting up the chip-shot touchdown that lifted the East to a wild, wild 36-32 victory over the West in the Texas Six-Man Coaches Assn. all-star football game here Saturday night.

Phil Mitchell, May's two-time all-star, got the winning touchdown one and one-half minutes after the East's 21-0 lead. Teammate Steve San Miguel of Cherokee scooped up the ball and hustled to one, setting up Mitchell's second touchdown of the night.

The East's late burst put an end to a wild fourth quarter that saw the two teams produce 36 points - but six coming in the final four minutes.

In all, the lead changed hands six times as the crowd of 2,000 Lion Stadium fans stayed on its feet much of the night.

The East, coached by May's Grayum Hart, had to score twice in the final 99 seconds to win it after the West's Curt White intercepted a pass and hot-footed it 56 yards to paydirt and a 32-24 lead.

The East came right back, with Bill Brown of Star returning to kick-off 39 yards to the West 20, setting up a scoring pass from Mullin's Phil Hickman to San Miguel. That made it 32-30, 1:39 left, but the East lost a shot at the tie when the snap on the two-point conversion was too high to handle.

Cook followed seconds later that brought the East back from the dead.

Mitchell, who was credited with an all-time Texas schoolboy touchdown record last fall, scored the first and last times he touched the ball. But the May flash spent most of the night on the bench nursing a leg bruise. He did electrify the crowd with a 45-yard scoring burst on the East's first offensive play with 49 yards in 14 trips.

The West jumped to an early lead, scoring on a 24-yard pass from Blackwell's Lynn Pate to Marathon's Simon Martinez three minutes deep in the game. White kicked it to 8-0.

The West tacked on a safety after Mitchell's 45-yarder cut the margin to 8-6. But Gustine whippet Mark Littlejohn, who led all rushers with 66 yards, boomed 10 yards to put the East out front for the first at 12-10 on the first play of the second quarter.

Marathon's Ben Ramirez scored on a tackle-breaking nine-yard run before half-time, lifting the West into an 18-12 lead.

The East tied it in the third, scoring when Blum's Pat Patman embraced the ball in the end zone after a wild snap on a West punt.

Littlejohn and Tim Peterson of Hermleigh triggered the fourth quarter explosion by breaking free on long touchdown runs.

Mozelle's David Avants and Woodson's Jody Bellah led an East defense that limited the high-towered West to just 195 total yards.

The following members were present: A.W. Griffin, R.L. (Bob) Rust, Aubrey Lawrence, Linda Butler, Douglas Walker and David Harris. Acting Superintendent, Bobby Fortune was also present.

There being no further businesses, the Board adjourned.

The July checks boost to $190.7 million the total that has been rebated to Texas cities for the first seven months of this year. This compares to $158.6 million for the same period last year.

"These rebates are just another sign of the strength of the Texas economy," Bullock said.

He also noted that state sales tax collections in Texas are registering a bigger percentage increase than any other state. Bullock said the City of Houston will get a July sales tax rebate check for $4.7 million and Dallas and San Antonio will receive $3.2 million and $1.3 million, respectively.

Closing Exercises Set For Local Vacation Bible School

To climax the 1977 sessions of their Vacation Bible School, the Rising Star Church of Christ will conduct "Graduation Exercises" on Friday evening, July 29, at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The program will include dramatic skits, readings and other demonstrations of the material studied during the week. Certificates will be presented at this time to all those who attended any or all of the five morning sessions or the evening ones. At the same time, a special prize will be awarded to the ones bringing the most visitors to the 1977 VBS.

Following the closing program, refreshments will be served to all present. The rooms used during the week will be open for inspection of the displays and workbooks employed in the classes.

The theme for this year's VBS was: The Bible Is For All with emphasis on the Bible's contents, how we got the Bible, how to use the Bible, why the Bible is the Word of God and some practical ways to apply Bible teachings in life.

A special feature of this year's VBS has been the split sessions, with the younger children attending in the mornings: from 9:15 to 11:30 and the teens and adults attending in the evening: 7:30 to 9 p.m.

According to Owen Aikin, local preacher with the Church of Christ, this year's VBS is setting records for attendance in most of the classes. He added: "There is still time for others to take advantage of this tremendous opportunity to explore the Bible: children, teens and adults, as several days remain before it closes. We urge everyone also to attend the Friday evening program, at 8:30."

Dorothy Diddle To Participate In Conference

If "home economics" conjures up visions of girls stitching and stirring--look again! The Texas vocational homemaking teachers of 1977 have their fingers in many pies--but most of them are not for eating. Vocational Homemaking Education is on the go these days. It is an expanding, lively career field where young women and men learn skills that will help them get a piece of the pie--the economic pie.

They learn how to earn money, manage their resources, and how to lead a quality life.

To keep abreast of the latest teaching materials and innovative teaching techniques, vocational homemaking teachers will spend a week in Dallas July 25-29 attending the State Inservice Conference for Vocational Homemaking Teachers. The conference is under the direction of Ms. Elizabeth F. Smith, State Director for Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency, and her staff. Mrs. Dorothy Diddle, teacher in the Rising Star school, will participate in the conference to be held at the Hilton Hotel.

Sessions dealing with "Effective Fatherhood", "Sensitizing to the Process of Aging", "Breaking the Stereotype Mold", "Techniques to Conserve Energy". The Homemaker in displaced homemaker and sixteen other special interest sessions and seminars, plus two general sessions, will provide the opportunity for the teachers to learn ways to integrate new knowledge into their teaching.

Dr. Betty Siegel, Dean, School of Education and Psychology, Western Carolina College, Cullowhee, North Carolina, will keynote the Conference. Special interest sessions will feature other nationally known speakers including Dr. Eva Schindler-Rainman, Los Angeles, Calif., a specialist in management techniques; Richard J. Gaven Director of Education, National Restaurant Association, Chicago; Marvin Segal, Executive Director of Education, National Restaurant Association, Chicago; Marvin Segal, Executive Director, Southwest Apparel Manufacturers Association, Dallas; Dr. Marvin Ernst, Geriatric Research Institute, Dallas; Dr. Genevieve Blair, Director, Graduate Program Early Childhood Education, Lewis University, Charleston, Ill.; Mrs. Ruth McNabb Dow, Assistant Professor, School of Home Economics, Eastern Illinois University Lawrence A. Olivia, Director of Program Development, Educational Institute of American Hotel and Motel Association, Michigan State University; Dr. Bobbie Wilborn, Director, Pupil Appraisal Center, North Texas State University Denton.

Also, Dr. Vera Taylor, College of Nutrition, Texas Woman's University, Denton; Dr. Mary Wallace Crocker, Professor of Housing, College of Home Economics, Texas Tech University; Mrs. Ruth Turner, Asst. director of Special Education, Dallas ISD; Dr. Gloria Durr, Head of Home Economics Dept., Stephen F. Austin State University, Nacogdoches; Janet Snow, Fashion Sewing Consultant, Fort Worth; Dr. Charles Smith, Director of Child Development Center, College of Home Economics, Texas Tech University; Mrs. Nelda Das, Counselor, Women's Center of Dallas; Mrs. Paula Pokladnik, Director, A-1 town East Children's Center, Mesquite; Ms. Betty Seiler, Child Development Specialist, Texas Dept. of Public Welfare, Wichita Falls; Ms. Mary Theresa Cook, Program Specialist, Institutional Training and Consultation, Texas Dept. of Public Welfare; Ms. Jo Ann Miller, Homemaker Teacher in Brownwood ISD Ms. Denise Sessions, Homemaker Teacher in Metro Special School, Dallas ISD; Ms. Dorothy Johnson Instructional Facilitator, Homemaker Education Dallas ISD.

According to Billie Chapman, Executive Director of the Vocational Homemaking Teachers Association of Texas, the inservice training in today's world topics keeps vocational homemaking teachers at the top of the list of the State's best informed educators.

Exhibits of the latest equipment and teaching materials will be open Monday through Wednesday to teachers attending the state meeting.

The Awards Banquet of the VHTAT Wednesday evening will honor Outstanding Legislators, the Outstanding Administrator in the State, and the Vocational Homemaker Teacher of the year. Also receiving awards for tenure will be 137 teachers of vocational homemaking education totaling 2,735 years of service to Texas School children.

More than 2800 teachers are expected to attend the week-long meetings, said Ms. Eric Hodge, Dickinson, president of VHTAT.

No this is not a running vine tomato--believe it or not! Jack Bibby is standing among two tomato vines which he planted earlier in the season from plants purchased at Turner's greenhouse. As they grew, he placed stakes, and more stakes to stabilize the limbs. As you can see by the picture, the plants are well over 6 foot, which Mr. Bibby stands. They produce regular size porter tomatoes--in large quantities.

Cooking with humidity and indirect heat is an ancient Oriental secret. Mr. Meat Smoker gives you this secret by placing a pan of water between the fire and the meat. CB Radio Helps 'Red Bullet' Keep Appointments

"In a service operation like this, being on time is all important," according to Charles A. James, Jr., a Chicago-area insurance representative.

James, who goes by the "handle" of "Red Bullet," lives in a suburb north of the city of Chicago, and has clients in Illinois and Indiana. There are days when he rolls up a lot of mileage on his red Mustang II getting to his appointments. That's when CB radio pays off.

This morning, James' schedule calls for him to arrive in Hammond, Indiana, for an 8:30 a.m. meeting with Ralph Prendergast, Business Manager of the Northwest Indiana Visiting Nurse Association. While he's at this organization's headquarters, James will discuss the status of the Association's group insurance program and enroll one of their employees in the tax sheltered annuity program.

To get to Hammond on time, James must leave home by 7:15 a.m. Before he does that, he takes a few minutes to set up his CB radio equipment. His E.F. Johnson radio gets placed next to him in the car. He then plugs the antenna into the radio and inserts the radio's power supply into the car's cigarette lighter. Now, communicating with truckers and other drivers on the highway to obtain information on road conditions is a simple matter.

Enroute to Hammond, he encounters Chicago's heavy rush hour traffic and soon finds himself in a slow-moving, bumper-to-bumper scene. Not wanting to be delayed too long, James picks up the microphone of his CB unit and inquires about the traffic situation ahead. A fellow CB'er comes back with the good news: the bottleneck ends about ten blocks from "Red Bullet's" present position. With his problem solved, James arrives at precisely 8:30 a.m., he arrives at the Northwest Indiana Visiting Nurse Association's office.

By 11:45 a.m., James is on his way to his second meeting with Mrs. Sandra Kowal of Lynwood, Illinois. Mrs. Kowal operates a beauty shop, has just moved in to new quarters, and wants to discuss the details of obtaining additional coverage for her shop. With time growing short, the "Red Bullet" again turns to his Johnson CB radio for help. This time, a friendly Lynwood-based truck owner with a CB unit provides James with easy-to-follow directions.

Following a quick lunch, James heads for meeting number three of the day, a 2:45 p.m. session with Gerald M. Schneider, General Agent for a major multiline insurance company.

An accident involving a

Washington, D.C. - Highways can be "happy ways" during the 1977 vacation season if motorists observe proper automobile tire care and avoid overloading their vehicles, says the Tire Industry Safety Council.

Worn tires, improper air pressure and vehicle overloading should be at the top of a driver's safety check list before he leaves home, the Council advises.

"Proper inflation is the most important rule in tire safety and tire mileage," declared Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr., Council chairman. "A regular check for proper inflation, preferably every two or three weeks and before long trips, is one of the surest ways to prevent tire trouble."

"The air pressure recommendation is one of the most important figures in your car owner's manual. Carry your own air pressure gauge. Service station air towers are often off by several pounds, studies have shown," Lovell pointed out.

More than one out of four cars has at least one seriously underinflated tire, according to a U.S. Department of Commerce study.

Tires that are underinflated by four pounds of air pressure have tread life reduced by as much as 10 per cent, and underinflation by 12 pounds can reduce tread life up to 40 per cent, the Commerce Department said.

Lovell noted that studies have shown that about two per cent of the cars on the road are overloaded by 10 per cent or more. "Most overloading occurs at station wagons and passenger cars during vacation trips. If you plan to carry extra heavy loads, check with your automobile dealer, tire store or garage. You may need helper springs or heavy-duty shock absorbers in addition to a tire of greater load-carrying capacity," he said.

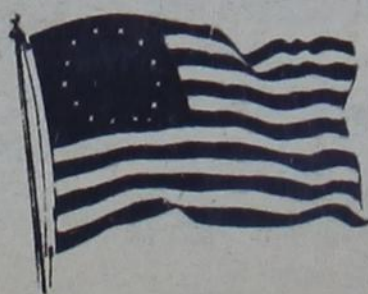

At the correct pressure, your tires will carry the load intended by the manufacturer, save gasoline, and provide optimum traction and breaking, easier steering, better cornering and longer tire life, Lovell added.

"The ability of the tire to carry the design load is reduced by underinflation. Soft tires build up excessive heat and can suffer internal damage," he added. "Overinflated tires are more susceptible to bruises and may be damaged internally where it can't be seen. This could lead to unexpected tire failure."

It's picture book landscaping, challenging games of skill, lakeside picnic grounds, petable animals, numerous shops and restaurants, as well as woodcarvers, glass blowers and portrait artists, that give Six Flags a special appeal no matter how young or "young at heart" you may be.

Things YOU Should Know ...

Exercise Can Make You Feel Better

How much exercise do you get? If you're typical of most Americans, it's probably not enough.

We are a nation on wheels. We ride to work, school, shopping and even to the corner newsstand to pick up the evening paper.

While no regular exercise program should ever be undertaken without first checking with your family physician, most of us can add more exercise to our lives with little effort.

Carl Hines, M.D., CNA Insurance medical director, contends that in this automobile age we often overlook a simple, stimulating exercise that is a tonic to both mind and body. It's called "walking."

Walking, he says, is a good body conditioner using nearly every muscle. And walking is an excellent way to relieve nervous tension.

Running, swimming, bicycling, handball and basketball also provide good exercise.

Dr. Hines says some sports such as golf, bowling, horseback riding, fishing and sailing offer limited exercise value.

Many medical experts recommend calisthenics to increase coordination flexibility and to tone up muscles.

And, don't forget numerous day-to-day activities around the home — cleaning, washing windows, painting — provide helpful exercise.

A Word Of Caution

Dr. Hines warns you should stop exercising immediately if you experience extreme fatigue, tightness or pain in the chest, abnormal shortness of breath, lightheadedness or nausea. See your doctor before resuming your exercise routine.

Also, never exercise when you are suffering from an acute infection, including a cold.

On August 26, 1842, Norbert Rillieux put a patent on a sweet idea.

It was a way to refine sugar. To help the sugarcane juices evaporate more quickly, he enclosed condensation coils in a vacuum chamber. A process that's made things a lot sweeter ever since.

Don't reduce air pressure after driving. Heat buildup during driving is normal and tires will cool down to proper air pressures on their own after you stop.

Check regularly for objects imbedded between tread grooves. They can eventually cut into the rubber, leading to air loss and tire failure.

Just in Time for Vacation . . .

Roughing It — the Easy Way

If you're tired of all the take-along equipment and paraphernalia that goes with camping and summer vacations, then a forest ranger's daughter from Utah may have an answer for you. Her advice: simplify — and have more fun.

In her bestselling book, Roughing It Easy and its new sequel, Roughing It Easy 2, Dian Thomas shows how to use improvised equipment, homemade items and a little ingenuity to solve your camping problems. With Dian's method, ordinary household discards become useful camping equipment: a gallon can makes a small, personal-size stove; two pie tins fitted together make an efficient reflector oven; and self-sealing plastic bags become mixing bowls, sinks for washing dishes, and even a way to wash your clothes!

"The idea," explains Dian, "is to make do with what you have. For instance, an old flour sifter makes an excellent campfire popcorn popper. A compressed air sprayer can be used as a portable shower. And plastic freezer bags, when blown full of air, make very serviceable pillows."

Cooking, too, can be simplified using Dian's methods. Her books tell how to cook complete meals in the coals of the fire or on a stick or spit. Foods can be cooked inside of foods (cupcake inside of an orange peel). All kinds of dishes—from potroasts to pizza — cook thoroughly and deliciously in homemade solar ovens and thermal reflector ovens.

"You may not want to do all your camping this way," explains Dian, "but my ideas

Vacation Health

The traditional summer vacation of the American family is highly recommended by your doctor. The family needs to get away from customary home and office chores, forget day-to-day worries for a short time and generally get rejuvenated and ready to face another year.

Whether your vacation will be a short trip to a nearby lake, camping out in a national park, a plane trip abroad, or what have you, there are a few things to keep in mind that will help avoid having the holiday spoiled by illness.

Depending on where you're going, you may need some vaccination shots. Tetanus, certainly for anyone who expects to include some out-of-doors activities. Typhoid, if your journey includes areas where the water supply is uncertain. Ask your doctor about these, and possibly other immunizations.

The American Association suggests that you remind yourself to use a common sense about your vacation diet. Many a family trip has been spoiled by too many roadside hamburgers and soft drinks. A sound rule while driving crosscountry is to eat lightly. Be cautious about heavy, rich meals, particularly if you're not accustomed to such fare at home.

Know what sort of climate you will encounter at your vacation spot and dress accordingly. It can get cold in the mountains at night, even in midsummer. Good walking shoes are important to the travel wardrobe.

If you wear glasses, take along an extra pair. Or at least a copy of your prescription. If you're taking a regular medication, make certain of your supply before you leave.

And, finally, don't overdo it. Almost no one other than a trained athlete is ready for 36 holes of golf or five sets of tennis under a broiling sun. Schedule your vacation to allow daily rest periods. Do most of the driving in the morning hours and stop for the day in early or mid-afternoon.

Your vacation should be a holiday for stress and relaxation. It should not be a grind that necessitates another vacation to rest up from the vacation.

For long distance driving at turnpike speeds, increase inflation four pounds over the amount recommended by the vehicle manufacturer. But never exceed the maximum allowable air pressure marked on the sidewall.

Beware of "summer ice." Water mixed with dust and oil acts as a lubricant on roadways and reduces traction even if your tires are new. Particularly dangerous is a light drizzle following a prolonged dry spell.

Caribbean 'action spot'...

Every imaginable luxury available on fascinating isle of Puerto Rico

As leading nightclubs in New York, Los Angeles, and Chicago close their doors for lack of business; dancing to live combos becomes an anachronism, losing out to the "rock-inspired disco"; and restaurants strike caviar, oysters and "Dom Perignon" from their menus, San Juan, Puerto Rico continues to offer the "good life" that makes a vacation special.

Luxury for all budgets. This luxury living is within anyone's budget, particularly spring until fall, with "value season" rates offered by all hotels.

A part of the United States, with the same language, currency and friendly reception, Puerto Rico is also one of the oldest cultures in the hemisphere and, with its Spanish and African heritages, is one of the most fascinating.

Often called the "action spot" of the Caribbean, San Juan is one of the few resorts that offer supper clubs where one can spend an entire evening dancing and enjoying international entertainment like Robert Goulet, Sandler and Young, and Blood, Sweat, and Tears, followed by a try at "lady luck" in one of several casinos.

A cosmopolitan city, San Juan offers a variety of dining experiences, ranging from a Spanish "paella" or a French steak "au poivre" to Puerto Rican "pasteles" (meat pies) and home grown tropical fruits.

No expense was spared in building some of the Caribbean's finest hotels providing accommodations available at a choice of price.

Ocean views. For example, the Caribe Hilton offers everything from duplex suites with a private solarium to double rooms with ocean views each one decorated with elegance and fine taste.

Or, for those on a budget, comfortable accommodations on a wide stretch of white sand beach can be had for more moderate rates at the Condado Beach-La Concha hotels.

Money saved on accommodations can be enjoyed taking golf or tennis lessons. One of the best tennis pros in the world, Welby Van Horn, is in residence at the Caribe Hilton.

With the sunshine year round, all outdoor sports can be enjoyed any time of year: scuba, sailing, water skiing, and horseback riding.

Memorable ramblings

If living high to you means buying original artwork, paintings and carvings can still be found at reasonable prices, waiting to be discovered in the small galleries inhabiting Old San Juan's historic 16th century streets.

Even if one doesn't find anything, the ramblings make for a memorable day spent with stops at El Morro fort and the Institute of Puerto Rican Culture's museum.

Street guides to Puerto Rico and Old San Juan are available free on request by writing to the Hilton International Fulfillment Department, 2050 Bellmore Avenue, Bellmore, New York 11710.

Travel Agents--What Consumers

Should Know

College Station Many travel agents can help plan satisfying vacations-but others are just plain fraudulent warns Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist.

"While reputable travel agents have the information and expertise to help vacation planners, other agents misrepresent tours and accommodations, omit certain costs form the total price information or fail to explain all the details of a trip," she said. Ms. Kerbel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Although consumers have little protection against travel agency fraud, there are safeguards they can practice, the specialist added.

Look for agent who are members of the American Society of Travel Agents or Interantional Air Transport Association. These trade organizations may be able to help consumers with a complaint against a member agent.

Deal with established, local agents--people who will be in business after your vacation.

Also, ask friends to recommend an agent-or ask an agent for names of people they served, and contact those people for recommendations.

--Read any contract an agent asks you to sign--to determine refund rights if an airplane flight is cancelled or if you cancel the trip. Always learn the cancellation policy at the time you make a reservation.

--Make certain everything that is promised is included in the contract you sign--including accommodations, facilities and services. Otherwise, make sure the contract states that these items are not included.

--Do not rely on oral promises or agreements--or pretty pictures in brochures.

BURSITIS

Sometimes it's "housemaids knee." Or "policeman's heel." By any other name it's still bursitis, and it is one of mankind's more painful and disabling ailments.

Bursitis, says the American Medical Association, means inflammation of a lubricating sac about a joint. The sac, called a bursa, is similar to a collapsed balloon with some fluid inside. It is located at various places in the body where joints or tissues touch and rub, and without cushioning there would be friction.

Bursitis can hit at many points in the body, but most often occurs in the shoulder, knee or elbow.

In most cases bursitis follows unaccustomed strain or overuse of an extremity. By taking a little time to work up to your physical condition, and especially by working up the muscles that you plan to use in any repetitious motion outside your normal activity the house, for instance) you can probably keep clear of this common and painful ailment.

If you get bursitis, no one need suggest that you see a doctor. The pain is so acute that you will be the first to seek relief.

In recent years, science has learned much about bursitis, and there is much your doctor can do to relieve the pain and promote healing. One of the mainstays in treatment is a mild pain killer. Cortisone-type drugs have been used with some success. Heat treatments also have their place in bursitis therapy. A treatment long used in this painful ailment is complete rest in bed. Anything that will lessen the chance of the afflicted joint being moved will ease the pain and speed healing.

Like any other bearings, your bursae stay trouble free much longer if you warm them up slowly and let them get fully lubricated before you race the motor.

Fishing Safety

Fishing is good therapy--both physical and emotional.

The American Medical Association points out that the millions of Americans whohead for the lakes and streams across the nation each fishing season don't need a doctor to tell them that fishing is a good sport. They likely have seen their doctor sitting in the next boat with a line in the water.

Fishing can be elaborate, complete with a trip to the seashore and renting deep-sea boats and equipment. Or it can be the cane pole and worms affair on the banks of a neighborhood creek. Either way it gets us out in the fresh air and sunshine, gets our minds of the cares of the day.

Unless you are the vigorous type who wades through racing rapids or rows hard for miles, fishing is only mild exercise, but still is good for the body and spirit. Fishing also is a relatively safe sport. But it does have some built in hazards. Most of them can be avoided.

The most common fishing accident is catching a barbed hook in the flesh, usually a finger or hand, but sometimes a leg or other part of the body. Lures and hooksleft unprotected on a dock or on the bottom of a boat cause many of these accidents.

The wise fisherman guards against hood accidents by shielding the hook. One simple way is to stick a small cork over the barb. Lures should be stored in the tackle box until needed, and returned promptly to the box when removed from the leader. The band of your favorite fishing hat is, of course, a reasonably safe place to keep lures you intend to use later in the day.

Fly or bait casters are responsible for many hood accidents to their fellow fisherman. Train yourself to look before each cast to make certain no one is in the way. This will also save lures from snagging on trees and bushes as you cast.

In removing a hook from the fish, hold the fish firmly under

Why Not Take a Summer Weekend Mini Vacation Trip on a Motorcycle?

An excellent way "to get away" for awhile this summer is to take a weekend mini vacation trip on your motorcycle.

But before you do, Kawasaki Motors Corp., U.S.A., out of its Santa Ana, Calif., headquarters, offers the following suggestions to make the best use of your time:

1. Prepare yourself completely before leaving. Get complete weather forecasts for the area in which you are traveling and thorough road maps from point of departure to destination. These are available from the Automobile Club of America and other travel services.

2. Load your motorcycle properly. For maximum comfort and economy while traveling, baggage should go as low and close to the center of the motorcycle as possible and never put belongings on the front forks. Saddle bags, tank bags or a luggage rack all are good accessories that can make the carrying of baggage easier. Another tip: Obtain an aluminum case with padding for any camera equipment to protect it from weather.

3. Take the proper clothing. Along with a leather jacket, helmet and boots, considered necessary for comfortable and safe motorcycling, take a good rain-suit along on your mini vacation. Skier's underwear and gloves are also valuable, particularly if you are traveling in the mountains.

4. Check out your motorcycle completely before leaving. Make sure that your oil level is correct, brakes and gears are in shape and visit your local dealer if you have any questions.

5. Take good care of your motorcycle on the trip. Equip yourself with a tool kit, an owners manual and spare parts, including a stout chain and lock for the ultimate protection of your bike. Keep your vehicle's chain lubricated for maximum performance.

6. Enjoy the excursion. For maximum relaxation, take an occasional break from riding. Kawasaki recommends one stop every hour.

Using these tips, you should get the maximum enjoyment out of your summer weekend mini vacation trip. It can get help to you immediately.

CB's For Safety

When trying to contact the "smokeys" (police) or a "dragon wagon" (tow truck), stay in your car and try to get the police or another CB'er to call help for you. Try every ten minutes until you get a satisfactory response. Many of the nation's 18 million licensed CB'ers belong to public service volunteer groups who listen in on Channel 9, the National Emergency Channel or on Channel 22A, the Coast Guard Emergency channel.

For the best results you must not only have a dependable CB set, but also a well-tuned antenna system. Features to look for in a CB rig include a noise filter system, an easy-to-read RF meter, a functioning modulation indicator and a sensitivity control. Sparkomatic, known for its quality car accessories maintains high standards of quality control for all its CB equipment. You could find that in time of need, a good CB is a "good buddy" indeed.

It can save you from having to get out of your car in bad weather or on dark, lonely roads. In case of an accident

Water Safety-'PFD's' A Must

A Service of Underwriters Laboratories

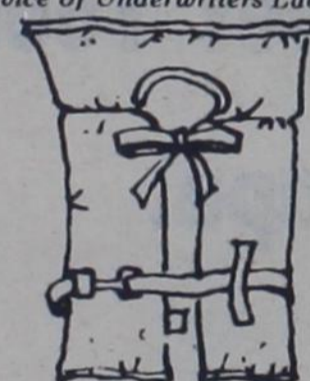

Personal flotation devices or PFD's (life jackets) are an essential part of water safety, yet many persons fail to use them. Lives which could have been saved by PFD's are lost through negligence.

Underwriters Laboratories Inc. urges you to use personal flotation devices, and offers the following information to be considered when purchasing such equipment.

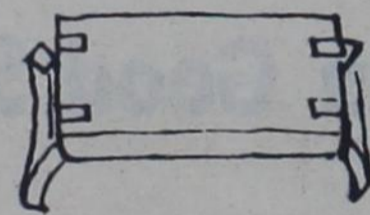

PFD's should be selected for high quality and long life, bearing the UL Listed Label - which means they have been subjected to rigid tests and found to comply with stringent U.S. Coast Guard safety requirements. Also check the U.S. Coast Guard requirements for your particular size boat, before purchasing your PFD's.

Flotation devices come in various designs, and should be purchased with your particular needs in mind. PFD's (both jackets and bib designs) have superior buoyancy characteristics - holding the wearer upright with face above the water. Type I & II devices are designed to turn a wearer from face down to a face up position if unconscious. Type III devices are designed to keep a conscious person in a vertical position but not turn wearer face down. Type IV is designed to be thrown to a person in the water.

Children's devices are designed for persons weighing less than 90 lbs. Adults should never use a PFD

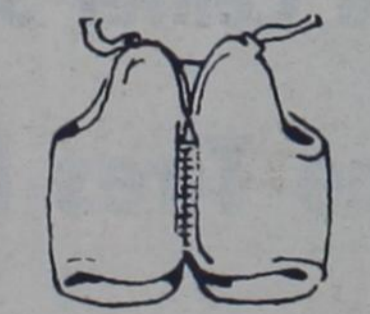

Buoyant Vest

Buoyant Cushion

Ring Life Buoy

designed for children or vice versa - a child can slip out of an adult's.

Ring life buoys and buoyant cushions are handy in an emergency - they can be thrown to a person who has fallen into the water. Never wear a buoyant cushion on your back - it can turn you face down in the water.

Care and storage of PFD's is important. Make sure they are thoroughly dry and stored in a well ventilated area - not the bottom of lockers or deck storage boxes where moisture may accumulate, and away from excessive heat and sun. Avoid abusing the equipment, never use as a boat bumper, etc. Torn, rotted or defective devices should be destroyed - cut into pieces or burned so no one will use them.

UL advises that PFD's be worn at all times when in or near the water.

SUMMER HEAT

You can't really beat the heat.

Whether it's the heat or the humidity, or both, it's hot in almost all of the United States in July. After weeks of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

You can't do anything about the outside temperature. You can avoid it if you're fortunate enough to work and live in air-conditioned comfort, but it still will be hot outside.

The American Medical Association points out that there are some things you can do to be more comfortable - things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing. The ladies have the edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day. There is sound physical reason behind the siesta custom of the tropics.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or at play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer month has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense and you can beat the heat - at least somewhat.

Satisfies American Sports Enthusiasts

There may be disagreement over what is THE all-American sport, but there's total agreement that we're beyond the spectator stage. Avid sports enthusiasts have taken to the lakes, courts, trails and fields in phenomenal numbers.

Such exhilarating activity calls for hearty foods, something the vigorous Norwegians are famous for. More likely than not their picnic menus include savory Norway sardines. Sardines are a terrific low-cost source of protein, phosphorus, calcium, vitamins A and D, and niacin. And each small, flat can tucks easily into knapsacks and bike baskets. Sardines are delicious eaten straight from the can or in sandwiches.

Innovative Norwegian cooks have created dozens of delicious ways to use sardines in sandwiches, such as Norway Sardine Buns. Each yeast roll bakes with a flavorful filling of hard-cooked eggs and sardines in mustard sauce. Serve them with Summer Potato Salad, a zesty seasoned potato and fresh vegetable mixture.

SARDINE EGG BUNS

1 package (13 1/2 ounces) hot roll mix
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2 cans (3 1/2 ounces each) Norway sardines in mustard sauce
8 hard-cooked eggs, halved
Salt and Pepper
1 egg, lightly beaten
Poppy seeds

Prepare hot roll mix according to package directions. Place dough in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place about 45 minutes, or until double in bulk. Turn onto lightly floured board and let rest 15 minutes. Cut dough into 8 equal parts; roll out each piece of dough to 4-inch circle. Spread a teaspoon of butter in center of circle. In small bowl, mash sardines in their sauce; sandwich a spoonful of sardine mixture between egg halves; sprinkle with salt and pepper, to taste. Wrap and stretch circle of dough around egg, pinching edges to seal well. Place on baking sheet, pinched side down. Brush top with beaten egg and dust with poppy seeds. Let rise in warm place about 30 minutes until double in size. Bake in 375 degree oven 18 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool on rack. Then wrap and chill until picnic time. Makes 8 large buns.

Savory sardines make Norway Sardine Buns more than just a sandwich. They're delicious fare for any picnic, especially when served with a special Summer Potato Salad.

SUMMER POTATO SALAD

12 medium potatoes (4 pounds), peeled
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 envelope Italian salad dressing mix
1 cup halved cherry tomatoes
4 green onions, coarsely chopped
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Steam potatoes 25 minutes or until tender. Meanwhile, to make dressing, in jar with lid combine vinegar, oil, water, mustard, and salad dressing mix. Shake to mix well. When potatoes are tender, drain and cube into large bowl. Pour dressing over potatoes. Refrigerate to chill and marinate. Add chilled cherry tomatoes, green onions, and hard-cooked eggs before serving. Makes 12 servings.

Timely Safety Tips For Camping Appliances And Recreation Vehicles

A Service Of Underwriter Laboratories

This is a happy time of the year as people plan and prepare for their much awaited vacation. Many will be camping out, going to summer cottages or using recreation vehicles. Half the fun is in planning - the anticipation, poring over maps and guide books, and purchasing the needed equipment.

Equipment and appliances that you use for vacationing, travel or camping should meet recognized safety requirements. The Listing Mark of Underwriters Laboratories, the UL within a circle, indicates that the design of the product has been tested and evaluated to determine this. UL, an independent, not-for-profit laboratory, tests portable stoves and heaters, electrical devices, and heating, cooking, refrigeration and water heating units for mobile homes and recreational vehicles.

Remember, whenever any fuel is burned, carbon monoxide is usually one of the products produced. If it escapes into the area where you are living or sleeping, the air you breathe can kill you. Carbon monoxide cannot be seen, tasted or smelled. As you breathe it combines with your blood 200 times more rapidly than oxygen, crowding out oxygen, causing weakness, headache, dizziness, confusion, etc. and even brain damage and death.

Read on, prevention has only just begun! How and where you use these appliances is as important as the selection of proper equipment. Here are some tips to protect you and your family:

* Follow manufacturers' recommendations for use when operating appliances.
* Camping vehicles are usually tightly constructed with little ventilation. Make sure there's plenty of fresh air when operating gas or liquid-fueled devices in recreation vehicles, travel trailers or tents.

* Use charcoal grills and hibachis outdoors, as they use oxygen and produce carbon monoxide. Portable stoves should be used outdoors, too. If not, provide plenty of fresh air.

* When burning a gas or liquid-fueled lantern, make sure there is a good fresh air supply.

* All fuel-burning appliances should receive an annual safety and performance inspection.

On cool nights in a summer cottage you may want some heat, UL engineers advise:
* Check vents, flues, pipes and chimneys before operating a space heater, fireplace, etc. to see that they are clear and working properly.

* Don't close your fireplace damper until absolutely certain the fire is completely out.

Are You An Excellent Average Or Poor Driver?

DETROIT—American drivers are the safest in the world, with the lowest traffic fatality rate of any nation. But as long as there are any automobile accidents, that's "not good enough," according to Chris Kennedy, a Chrysler Corporation safety expert.

A quickly-done check of driving habits can help the average Amer can driver rethink some driving practices, become aware of driving skills which need to be sharpened, and lower the accident rate in this country, says Kennedy.

Statistics show seventy percent of the United States drivers involved in accidents resulting in fatalities have no serious driving violations on their records. Eighty percent of those drivers have no previous accident record and were driving within the law at the time of the accident.

"We can curb serious accidents if drivers improve their skills," says Kennedy.

Kennedy suggests that drivers give themselves a test, rating their ability on each item below as excellent, average, or poor.

Do you:

1. Perform a weekly pre-drive check of brakes, brake lights, tires, lights, horn, windows and mirrors.
2. Always fasten seat belt and lock doors before driving.
3. Avoid acceleration to beat a changing light.
4. Keep maneuvering room ahead and behind.
5. Change lanes shortly after you see a "lane closed ahead" sign.
6. Make sure your turn signal is noticed before changing lanes.
7. Tap your horn to get the attention of other drivers when necessary.
8. Glance at rear view mirror frequently.
9. Stop smoothly and gradually whenever possible.
10. Look for alternatives before sudden stops.
11. Never skid or swerve.
12. Favor the right lane on open highways.
13. Drive the curb lane with greater caution because of slower, less predictable traffic and pedestrians.
14. Never cut short a left turn.
15. Make right turns into curb lanes.

Very few drivers can candidly rate themselves "excellent" on all items, says Kennedy. But by improving the skills rated average or poor, a driver can raise his "score" and decrease his chances of being involved in an accident.

San Angelo-Long-range plans for expanding the services of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center (WTRC) were outlined here Tuesday night (July 12) to the center's board of directors.

The board also elected Jerry Roach of San Angelo and Jim Heidenheimer of Anson as new directors with terms ending in 1980, heard a financial report and discussed fundraising.

The meeting, held at the San Angelo facility (128 S. Magdalen) and the River Club, was the first conducted in San Angelo since the opening of the WTRC facility here last January. Meetings are usually held in Abilene.

Shelley Smith, executive director of the WTRC told the more than 30 directors and their wives attending the meeting, that he envisions the eventual construction of four new buildings.

Those buildings, to be located on the Abilene campus, include a modified living facility for patients who must travel long distances for therapy; a regional center for training medical and paramedical personnel; a new educational wing for children and an upgraded building for the already existent Brace and Adaptive Appliance Center.

Immediate construction plans call for a "Face-lifting" of the WTRC facility in San Angelo. Smith said he has talked with director and San Angelo architect Bob Zentner about redoing the front of the building, which used to be the old Robert Massey Funeral Home. Remodeling of the interior has already been completed.

Budget figures for the first six months of rehab operation show a $33,515 deficit, Smith said. He reassured the directors however that the budget will be balanced by the end of the year if major fund-raising drives in the fall are successful.

"I know it's nerve-racking, especially for the new board members, to see these deficits," said board president Harwell Barber. "But we're always in the same situation each summer, and somehow we manage to bail out and end up in the black by fall."

Smith said the deficit is a result of a shortage of memorial gifts, and an overage in electric data processing and accounting costs, salaries and office supplies.

Smith reported that the recently finished Gist Memorial Conference Center was completed at a cost of $69,176. He said that $30,000 is still needed, however, to complete the overall Abilene Rehab Plaza project, including patient services and a bus port area.

Summarizing the first six months of patient services, Smith cited the following statistics: 1,011 audio evaluations made (a 106.7 per cent increase); 1,252 patients admitted (a 22.5 per cent increase); 9,553 speech therapy

Wildcat Band Has Organizational Meeting

THE STAR OF INDIA, majestic, three-masted windjammer, sailed around the world many times delivering passengers and cargo from Europe to colonial settlements in the New World. Now the restored 108-year-old iron ship floats in a permanent berth on San Diego's Embarcadero. The 275-foot merchant ship houses a maritime museum which is open to the public daily.

A meeting was held Thursday morning at 10:00 a.m. for all students interested in participating in this year's Rising Star Wildcat Band. Band director for the 1977-78 school year is Steve Ratliff a recent graduate of Texas Christian University. He is very interested in getting a new program started and has done extensive planning for a very well rounded program this year. Included in his agenda are several contests, marching as well as concert; two local concerts, one to be held near the Christmas holidays and a final concert in the Spring; and various other projects. In surveying the situation here in Rising Star, he has found the need for additional instruments, especially brass horns and has asked that anyone who has recently graduated from high school and no longer has use for the instrument contact him for possible loaning or sale. As funds are limited, anyone wishing to donate an instrument may also contact Mr. Ratliff at the Band Hall any morning.

Mr. Ratliff has also stated that anyone having used drapes or carpet and would like to donate it to the Band to please contact him at the High School.

At this time there are approximately 27 students enrolled in the Band program and a number more are needed. Anyone previously registered in the Band, or anyone interested in becoming a part of the Wildcat Band are asked to contact either Mr. Ratliff, Drum major, Lesa Thornton; or any of the twirlers, Becky Wilson, Taby Chambers, K.C. Rutherford, Carla Bowers or Sharon McGinnis.

Pioneer News

Mrs. A.C. Halsell

"Random Comments" could very well entitle this introduction to the Pioneer Column. There is much stress being placed on using the Daily Newspaper, as a means of teaching Reading Comprehension in our schools; both grade school and high school. Recently there was a Seminar in Abilene for English and Reading teachers. Many teachers attest to their success in using the newspaper in this way. Children are no longer protected from exposure to highly sensational things in newspapers, on T.V. and at the Theater. That being the case, maybe the newspaper coverage of this type of subjects, serves as a means of creating and sustaining interest until the child learns to read unintentionally. Two or three weeks ago I could have cited you to this type of article. At this time, I'm simply stressing that the habit of newspaper reading is good whenever and however acquired and can be a means of getting informed or of being alerted to what we need to be alerted to. Take the Editorial in Abilene Reporter News of July 23, entitled "We're digging our Own Graves by Wastefulness." A quote "We have to keep running and spending because if we stop running and spending we will be thrown backwards." This statement is a reference to a squirrel in a cage being compared to American people. Then in the same paper, J.T. Smith, farm editor, has an article entitled, "Farmers Caught in Tight Financial Squeeze." It reminds us that Free Enterprise and American Freedom is vying for continuance in an economy where big government may squeeze the little farmer out and super-farms may replace the family size farm. (If you have not read these articles find your paper and read them. You may get more interested than children get in crime and sex articles.)

I had a call from Mrs. Grace Eakin Norris. They have returned to their home at Pioneer after spending several months in their home in Kentucky. Her nephew, Paul McCowan, his mother Mrs. Ruby McCowan, and sister, Naomi McCowan made a trip to Kentucky and returned the Norrises to their home here. Their visitors since they arrived home were Annie Hill, Carona, Calif., Buna Teston, Roswell, N.M. Mike and Janice Ratliff and little Grandson (named for Mrs. Norris,) Allie Montgomery, Ruby McCowan, Zanovia Strickland, Thelma Pevey, all of Cross Plains, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Foster, Mrs. Winnie Flippin, Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff and son Daney, Eunice Morris and Vetra Connelly of Coleman.

Mrs. Norris announces the regular singings will continue at their home, fourth Friday in each month. The first singing will be July 29th.

Visitors with Mrs. Ethel Brown this week were Mrs. Cora Howland, and Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Garrett, all of Cross Plains, Mrs. Richard Purvis of Junction, Mrs. Golden Purvis of Phoenix, Arizona, Mrs. Clyde Joy and girls of Cottonwood, Mrs. Annie Hill, Velma Brown and Mrs. Halsell. Those calling on Mrs. Brown on her birthday were Gladys

Sessums, Lou Grider, Velma Jones, on another day Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sessums came and picked up the baby quilts which Mrs. Brown had pieced and quilted for them. (They were beautiful)

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Beggs of Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Beggs on Saturday. Another visitor was Mr. S.D. Beggs of Eastland. Mr. Beggs made a business trip to Eastland one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Foster's sons and wives, Eugene and Norm and Charles and Lucille of Abilene visited them during the weekend.

Mrs. Grace Eakin Norris and Annie Hill visited the Fosters during the week.

Mrs. Foster wishes to announce Game night at the Club House, Thursday July 28.

Gary and Louann Bates of San Angelo spent Saturday night visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Halsell, David Carl Taylor, who has been visiting his grandparents returned home with Gary and Louann for a visit with his sister.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sessums were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Craddock and Kelly Moody all of Garland and David Thompson of Amarillo.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Jess Brown and children in the death of Mr. Jess. Brown, this week: also the family of Mrs. Richard Brannon.

Mr. and Mrs. BEN Atwood had several visitors during the week. They were their daughter, Wanda and Darwin, Anderson and Guy WATSON OF Abilene, Vanda King and girls, Pioneer. Their daughter Joe and son Todd Watson of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferrill of Cross Plains, Mrs. Mildred Watkins of Lamesa, and Duke Mitchell, Cross Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fore returned Thursday from a vacation trip. They and Mrs. Jake Huntington left last Monday morning, in Cisco, they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blackburn. From there they went to Plainview where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Polly Huntington a few days. Then, they and Mr. and Mrs. Polly Huntington went to Bushman, near Amarillo, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huntington. Jean reports that Mr. Earl Huntington is greatly improved in health since receiving the help of a pace maker for his heart. He is planning to attend the Huntington Reunion. After this visit all the group attended the Palo Duro Canyon show, "Texas". They report this to be a very interesting show and a great experience to see it.

While I am waiting for the line to cool I wish to make a correction in the Cross Plains Review but not the Rising Star. The letter "u" was typographically errored into the world, annals, which gives it a meaning different than the meaning of annals. Mistakes are easily made when one thinks how many times items are copied ingetting them into the paper for you to read. I make some of them myself.

SOUTHEASTERN SECTION - Demand for Southeastern Grown peanuts was light during the week ending July 22. Trading was slow with most sales limited to new crop. Sales of old crop were too few to quote. Cooler temperatures and widespread showers early in the week brought welcome relief from prolonged drought conditions. Hot dry weather returned by mid week and soil moisture returned to short and very short levels. Florida peanuts remained in fair condition as they progressed through the pegging stage. Georgia crop conditions ranged from fair to good. The application of pesticides was active. The crop was almost completed pegging. Alabama soils were very dry. The peanut crop was in fair condition but progressing slowly. Prices paid per pound for shelled new crop runner type peanuts sold on an FOB shipping point basis for September through December shipments were jumbo 34 1/2 cents; and US splits 28 to 28 1/2 cents.

VIRGINIA-NORTH CAROLINA SECTION - Demand for Virginia and North Carolina grown peanuts was fairly light during the week ending July 22. Trading was active for new crop, inactive for old crop. Scattered showers were insufficient to offset very hot weather as soil moisture fell to near to short level. The crop was in generally good condition but expected to worsen unless additional moisture fell. Prices paid per pound for new crop in Virginia type peanuts sold on an FOB shipping point basis for October through December shipment were for unshelled jumbo 34 1/2 to 35 cents; fancy 32 1/2 to 33; shelled extra large 39 1/2 to 40; medium, 38; and number two 27 to 27 1/2.

Beef Referendum Falls Short Of Majority

Spur, Tx.-O.J. Barron, Jr., chairman of the national Beef Development Taskforce (BDT) issued a statement today conceding that the Beef Referendum fell short of the necessary two-thirds affirmative vote.

A preliminary count from county ASCS offices indicates that over 100,000 producers, or about 55 percent of those voting, supported the program.

The BDT, a broad-based group comprised of leaders from nearly every producer organization in the U. S. has worked over three years for the industry self-help program.

A full text of Barron's statement follows:

"This is a dark day for the American cattle industry. The Beef Referendum has failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority. We have passed up an opportunity for a research and information program aimed at helping all cattlemen. This opportunity may never come again.

"Ironically, while it was a self-help program aimed at keeping the government out of our business and producers in control, some opponents falsely labeled it as a government program and scared many cattlemen into voting against it.

"It would be inaccurate to say that cattlemen don't want this program. A majority of all cattlemen voting did want it. And an overwhelming majority of the cattle industry leaders, who had studied our current plight and understood the objectives of this program, vigorously supported it.

"Never before has the cattle industry had more problems than we have now.

"Never before has the industry united behind a it did this one.

Calvary Full Gospel Assembly

The Christian faith is not just something "up in the air." It makes a difference in our lives. H. G. Wells rejected the Christian faith. For years he was an optimist, confident that the human race could lick its problems and move on to ever greater triumphs without any help from God, whom he thought obsolete. But events chipped away at his confidence. The emptiness of his faithlessness left him helpless before the anxiety of the twentieth century. So at the end of the trail he was helpless. "Man," he wrote, is played out! He goes to His doom. Perhaps some other animal will come along better adapted to face the fate that closes in more and more swiftly upon mankind."

Yet, Martin Luther heard and believed Christ's answer to anxiety. He had days of terrible doubts, faith rose up in Him to conquer despair. He was challenged once by a Cardinal who threatened him with all the power of the pope, who little finger was stronger than all Germany. "Where then 'thundered the cardinal,' will a wretched worm like you be?" "Then as now, said Luther, in the hands of almighty God."

It happened today too. Out of Soviet occupied Germany once came a letter worth quoting, from a Christian Student. "The greatness of the power of God has never been more clearly revealed to us, and could hardly be better expressed, than the following somewhat desperate statement made in a meeting of the communist youth. "We cannot get a hold on them; they always hide behind their God."

Yes-it pays to listen to the voice of Jesus and obey His word. To have faith in Him, regardless of the situation. Now we can see clearly why Jesus is so confident that prayers will be answered. Ask and it will be given you. If evil folk give good gifts to their children, the heavenly Father will do far more for us. But what will God give us? Not just anything thing we happen to want. The answer is the theme of the whole Sermon on the mount. God grants us His kingdom! So, when Jesus prayed at Gethsemane. He was granted, no release from the pain ahead, but the power of God "strengthening him." Luke 22:43. When Paul prayed for release from his "thorn in the flesh," he got the divine answer. "My grace is sufficient for you." II Cor. 12:7-10. No wonder Paul could write his friends that the answer to their anxiety was "the peace of God, which passeth all understanding." Phil. 4:6-7. It was no easy peace of mind, free of trouble; it was Gods Peace, known best in struggle and that is the only Peace that satisfies the Soul.

There will be "hard time," bad moments, trials and heartaches for the child of God, but we are never left to walk alone. We have the Almighty God and His mighty power to go before us and make a way. We can "hide away in God." May God Bless each of you.

Driving tips to aid vacationers

A few driving tips can mean the difference between a great vacation and a nightmare, says Discover America Travel Organizations (DATO).

- Have the car checked, tires inspected, etc., before you leave home to avoid an emergency while on the highway.
- Plan ahead. By phoning in advance for reservations, you don't have to worry where you will stay. And you'll know how much it will cost before you leave home.
- Drive safely, and obey the 55 m.p.h. speed limit. There's a lot more to see in America at slower speeds, and you're saving energy — and money as well.
- Avoid rush hour driving. Plan in advance to avoid getting stuck in somebody else's rush hour traffic.
- Use mass transit when possible. Often it's easier to see the sights at the destination by taking public transit, or sightseeing tours, and leaving the car in the garage.

How do we live with our advantages? We should be concerned about what we do to the earth and our accountability with respect to God's free gifts of air, land and water. Someone parodied "America The Beautiful" with these grim words of reality: "Oh, Cancerous for smoggy skies, for pesticed grain. I radiated mountains rise above the asphalt plain. America, America, thy birds have fled from thee: Thy fish lie dead by poisoned streams from sea to fetid sea...America, America, thy sins prepare thy doom; Monoxide cloud shall be thy shroud...Thy cities by thy tomb."

Living with advantages also means the cultivation of a discipline otherwise we'll destroy ourselves. The basis for our stewardship obligation is well stated in the Psalmists words: "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world and those who dwell therein; for he has founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the rivers." and he goes on to suggest that one qualifies to ascend to the hill of the Lord by "clean hands and a pure heart." All of which demands some kind of a responsible attitude.

We must be more than just lovers of nature. We must live in God's world as stewards who are privileged to use its resources for our good and the good of others. Being a good steward demands that we have a responsible morality in our relationship with God and our fellowman. Being a good steward demands a moral responsible use of our environment. The Apostle Paul stated that the life of a man who professes to be living in God must bear the stamp of Christ. That with what God has given us to live in and to live by.

To live with advantages means an acceptable stewardship that both accepts and respects the privilege of living in God's house of nature. Faith and action can be very practical when applied to the small, common, ordinary things that are within our reach. Let us all pray that we will not lose sight of our responsibilities as god stewards as we use God's earth. We encourage you to be in the house of the Lord this Sunday.

Let us continue to pray for those in our congregation and our community that are ill. There will be an ice cream party for the youth after church services Sunday night. Attention all youth! Please come to services and wear your jeans or comfortable clothes as we plan to begin as soon as services are over. If you would like to play tennis after ice cream, bring your rackets. We hope to see you Sunday night at 6:00 p.m.

Is there anyone who doesn't love Peach Shortcake? This one's a real beauty — and the peaches are done a new way to make them taste fresher and juicier. Church Of Christ

An anonymous writer has left for posterity Ten Rules For Happy Living, which I believe you will find as I did, most profitable in our confused world.

1. Give something away no strings attached.
2. Do a kindness and forget it.
3. Spend a few minutes with the aged (their experience is a priceless heritage)
4. Look intently into the face of a baby (and marvel).
5. Laugh often (it's life's lubricant).
6. Give thanks (a thousand times a day is not enough).
7. Pray (or you will lose the way)
8. Work with vim and vigor.
9. Plan as though you'll live forever (because you will).
10. Live as though you'll die tomorrow (because you will die on some tomorrow).

If you will join us in Bible study and worship each week, you will find that God has the complete formula for a full and a happy life. The times for Bible classes all ages are: Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Assemblies are on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Alice Harris is at home now and is improving but slowly. Vonda White is better and probably will not have to undergo skin transplant, following her burns. Hassie Moon is to have additional eye surgery in Fort Worth soon. Walter Frazier has begun his chemo-therapy treatments in Dallas. Mrs. Mary Hammett was scheduled for eye surgery this week in Abilene. Willie Hill sends greetings from Carlsbad, New Mexico. Kate Cooper has not been well lately and is to return to Abilene for a check-up this week.

Attention: children, teens and adults—there are still several days left in our Vacation Bible School. It lasts through this Friday evening Sessions for children (2 years through Grade 6) are from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. and classes for the teens and adults are in the evening, from 7:30 to 9. The Closing Program is Friday evening at 8:30. Every one is invited.

We extend our sympathy to the family of Murray Bibb, who passed away last Tuesday morning. The funeral arrangements are pending at the time of this writing.

Have a good week! Call us if we can serve you in any way.

Commentary By Myrtle Owen

COMMENTARY

Ephesians 2:4-5-6-7-8-9. But God, who is rich in mercy, for His great love wherewith he loved us. Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ. (by grace ye are saved) And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus: That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus. For by grace are ye saved through faith. And that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast. Comm. Those who are believers in Christ are higher than angels, and the Bible describes our state as "sitting with Christ in heavenly places" (Eph. 2:6). When a human being receives Christ as his Savior and Lord, he is given status above the angels, with power over demon spirits. Jesus said "These signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast a out devils," (Mark 16:17) As Christians we sit with God in heavenly places and through His name we all can overcome the evil that comes against our lives. Salvation is a gift from God. There is nothing we can do to earn salvation. The Bible says, "Our righteousness are as filthy rags." (Isiah 64:6). Regardless of how good we try to be, we cannot be good enough: We cannot be saved by our own merits. Salvation can only come through Jesus Christ who knew no sin. This Salvation is offered to you as a gift.

Scripture Thought Of The Day

Know ye not that ye are a temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man destroyeth the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, and such are ye. [I Corinthians 3:16,17]

Weddings

Miller-Martin Vows Exchanged

Lisa Miller became the bride of Nathan Martin Saturday, July 9 at 7:00 p.m. at the home of the brides parents. Brother John Stanislaw, minister of the Moran Baptist Church performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Miller of Moran. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Martin of Rising Star.

Lisa was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was made of off-white knit with off white lace overlay. The empire waist was emphasized with a shash that tied in back. Instead of the traditional veil, the bride wore yellow daisy combs in her hair. Her bouquet consisted of daisies and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Jana Miller, the brides sister, who wore a long green sundress with lace at the bodice and bottom of the skirt.

Jim Atkinson of Rising Star was best man.

The bride's parents hosted the reception at their home. A three tiered yellow cake with flowers and sherbett punch were served to the guests.

The couple now resides at 569 E. N. 16th, Abilene, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Steakhouse in Abilene.

SWEET TREAT MADE NEW, EASIER WAY!

Try making luscious wholewheat sweet rolls the cool-rise way. Easier and quicker because you mix and form the rolls, then refrigerate, to bake at your convenience—up to 24 hours. The combination of whole wheat flour and C and H Golden Brown Sugar makes them especially delicious. Try them at breakfast or coffee klatch. We know you'll like them.

WHOLEWHEAT SWEET ROLLS

- 4 cups all-purpose flour, divided
- 2 packages active dry yeast
- 1 cup C and H Golden Brown Sugar, packed
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) softened butter
- 1 1/2 cups hot water
- 2 eggs
- 2 1/2 cups whole wheat flour

Filling (see below)

Combine 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, undissolved yeast, sugar and salt in large bowl. Mix well. Add butter and hot tap water. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl often. Add eggs and rest of all-purpose flour. Beat at high speed one minute, until thick and elastic. Gradually stir in whole wheat flour with wooden spoon, to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl. Turn out on to floured board. Knead 5 to 10 minutes, or until dough is smooth and elastic. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel. Let rest 20 minutes on board, and prepare filling.

FILLING: Melt 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter and set aside. Combine 1/2 cup C and H Golden Brown Sugar, packed, 1/2 cup C and H Granulated Sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon and 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Reserve for later use.

After dough has rested 20 minutes, punch down and divide in half. Roll each half into an 18 x 12-inch rectangle, and brush with melted butter. Sprinkle 1/2 cup Filling evenly over dough. Beginning on 18-inch side, roll up tightly, jelly roll fashion. Cut into 18 pieces. Place cut-side down in well-greased 8 or 9-inch round pans. Brush tops with remaining butter. Sprinkle about 1 teaspoon filling on top of each roll. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator, let stand at room temperature 10 to 20 minutes. Bake in 375-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Immediately loosen edges and turn out on plate. Makes 36 pinwheel rolls.

VARIATION: Divide dough in half. Shape each half into nine, 2-inch balls. Dip each in melted butter, then roll in Filling. Arrange in greased 6-cup ring molds. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours. When ready to bake, follow directions in recipe above. Remove from pan immediately. Makes 18 rolls.

your national parks Right Around Home by ben moffett

Few western fort sites available to today's traveler reveal as many aspects of the nation's Western Expansion experience as Fort Scott National Historic Site, Kansas.

The historic area, located in the town of Fort Scott in southeastern Kansas, was established in 1842 as part of a chain in the U.S. Army peacekeeping effort along an 800-mile military road stretching from Fort Snelling, Minn. to Fort Towson on the Red River. Protection of trade caravans to Santa Fe and settlers to Oregon were among the Army's duties.

Fort Scott was abandoned by the Army in 1853 after the frontier moved west and the fort site grew into a civilian community during the Bleeding Kansas period when free state and pro-slavery factions struggled for supremacy in the Territory.

During the Civil War, Fort Scott was reactivated as an important supply center and staging area for Union Armies. Its final military period was in the 1870's subduing civil commotion during construction of the railroads.

To help visitors understand these periods, living history students from Kansas State College at Pittsburg, periodically during the summer present scenarios of daily fort life in authentic dress of the 1848 period. A slide presentation, prepared by the National Park Service and shown at the Historical Museum and Visitor Center, presents a brief history of Fort Scott.

Although receiving support from the National Park Service, it is not a federally managed site. It is owned and operated by the city of Fort Scott and the old Fort Governing Board. It is open from March 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. There is a 50 cent fee for adults and a 25 cent fee for children. Both escorted and self-guided tours are available about the 12-acre site.

Today's visitors leave their cars in the parking area on Old Fort Boulevard and walk into an atmosphere of grace and peace imposed by handsome Southern-styled frame buildings with inviting verandas and porches, shaded by mature maple trees, according to Mary Louise Beveridge of the Old Fort Governing Board. Of the 16 fort buildings surrounding the parade ground, some remain from the original construction, such as "officer's row." Others, such as hospital, barracks and stone guardhouse, have been restored.

Adjacent to the city's 19th century Mall, Old Fort Scott is easy to reach by north-south U.S. 69 or east-west U.S. 54. Motels, campgrounds, restaurants and tourist supplies are ample.

For more information you can write the Fort Scott National Historic Site, Old Fort Boulevard, Fort Scott, Kan. 66701 and for more information on National Park Service areas near you, write the NPS, P.O. Box 728, Room N-18, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501 for a free SUPER 77 trip planning guide.

Freddy Fender Visits TSTI

HARLINGEN: A visit to the Rio Grande Campus of Texas State Technical Institute (TSTI) in late June was actually a homecoming for country and western singing star Freddy Fender.

It was the first time Fender had visited the campus since he was a student there in 1969. Fender (or Baldemar Huerta, as he is known in his hometown) was in the Valley to visit friends and relatives in San Benito.

It was coincidental that his visit at TSTI came on the day of the first meeting of the TSTI Former Students' Association on the Harlingen Campus.

Fender had this to say during an interview with Bob Johnston, director of public information:

"The greatest feeling in the world is to know that you have a skill in that you can stand on your own two feet. I will never forget that TSTI was the first organization that was striving to contribute to the benefits of not only Mexican-Americans but to Anglo-Americans so that we could all have a job. All I can say is thank you so much from the bottom of my heart, and I know if anything ever goes wrong with my career, I can always go back to fixing cotton-picking machines."

Fender is a 1969 graduate of the farm equipment mechanics program on the Rio Grande Campus.

East All-Stars Win 84-74 Jay Edwards Participates

Ask the West all-stars about Jack Outlaw and they will tell you the waterbug from Lingleville is aptly named. Outlaw, at 5-8 one of the smallest players on the floor, was the culprit here Saturday as the East rolled over the West 84-74 in the Texas Six-Man coaches all-star basketball game Brownwood Coliseum. It was a measure of revenge for the Easterners who had dropped two games in a row to the West, including last year's 82-59 embarrassment. Outlaw was the cutting edge, hitting four field goals, 11 of 13 free throws for a game-high 19 points while dealing the West misery on both ends of the court. It was East all the way. Coach Charles Bryant's red-clad crew streaked to early leads of 18-4 and 22-7 before settling for a 45-31 halftime spread. The East poured it on in the early stages of the second half before the gutsy Westerners staged a comeback, whittling a 21-point deficit down to 11 at 71-60 with 6:45 left. But-back came the East with 11-4 tear that opened up an 82-64 score with two minutes remaining.

Jake Dempsey, a Lingleville teammate of outlaw's. Slidell's Jim Williams and Priddy's Dale Bufe all had 10 points each for the East. John Lemley, a 5-10 guard from Hedley, led the West with 16 points. Paint Creek's Delbert Dodds poured through 12 and Darrouzett's Kevin Dukes canned 10. The West more than held its own under the boards, but lost contact in the first half when the shots wouldn't fall. While the East was shooting 38 per cent from the field and hitting 11 of 14 free throws in the first 20 minutes, the Westerners were canning just 33 per cent of their field goal attempt and missing 14 of 19 from the line. For the game, the West put up 95 shots, hitting 31 for 33 per cent. The East shot with 37 per cent accuracy from the field and converted on 24 of 32 free throws to just 12 of 31 for the West. Bufe's 10-point production was high among the five Central Texans in the game. Mozelle's Robert Gibson had four points while May's Jay Edwards and Novice's Jack Sadler bucketed two each for the East. Steve Hale of Talpa-Centennial put in eight for the West.

Public Notices

A public meeting to present and discuss a formulated plan for watershed protection and flood prevention in Sabanna River Watershed is scheduled for 1:00 p.m. on August 15, 1977, at the Gorman High School, Gorman, Texas. The meeting will be held in the auditorium. The Sponsoring Local Organization, which is comprised of the Commissioners Courts of Comanche and Eastland Counties, and the Central Colorado and Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation Districts will conduct this meeting. Technical assistance is being provided by the Soil Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture, under the authority of the Watershed and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566, 83rd Congress, 68 Stat. 666), as amended.

Sabanna River Watershed is located in north central Texas in portions of Callahan, Eastland, and Comanche Counties. Sabanna River rises in extreme southeastern Callahan County and flows in an easterly direction into southern Eastland county. It then crosses the southeastern boundary of Eastland County into Comanche County to enter Proctor Reservoir on the Leon River. The watershed drainage area is 311 square miles (199,040 acres) has an average width of 7 miles and is about 74 miles long.

The major stream course in the watershed is Sabanna River, a natural stream with intermittent flow. Major tributaries to the Sabanna River are Turkey Creek, North Fork Curry Creek, Hunting Shirt Creek, Elm Creek, Yellow Branch, Greer Creek, and Long Branch.

The project will consist of land treatment and structural measures. Landowners and operators will establish and maintain needed land treatment measures on about 35,520 acres of agricultural land during an eight-year installation period. The installation cost of these land treatment measures is estimated to be $1,080,290, of which $1,027,580 will be from funds other than Public Law 566. Public Law 566 funds will provide $52,710 to accelerate technical assistance needed for the application of these measures.

The structural measures in the Plan are 15 floodwater retarding structures to be installed within an eight-year installation period. The total estimated cost of those structures is $3,470,100, of which the local share is $379,810, Public Law 566 share is $3,090,290. Local share of the cost consists of land rights and project administration.

and Mrs. Mike Pittman of Irving, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Barnett and children of Andrews, Texas.

Mrs. Lavonne White is spending two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Beverly Edge and new grandson.

Everette and Alice Harris visited friends in Gorman on Friday, and also saw some friends in Sipe Springs Sunday and in Brownwood Thursday. They traveled to Stephenville Monday for Alice's check up and received a good report. Tommy and Billy West also visited with them on Tuesday.

Marjorie Rutledge visited her brothers and sister recently in California. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Opal Sterling of Lubbock, and a brother and wife of MONUMENT, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. R.A. THOMPSON. They made the round trip by air and reported a very enjoyable flight.

Tyler New Chairman

Austin-W.C. "Bill" Lust of Tyler, Republican county chairman in Smith County, was elected president of the newly-formed Texas Republican County Chairman Association at its July 16-17 organizational meeting in Austin.

The new association, authorized by state Republican Executive Committee action earlier this year, has been formed to provide better communication between GOP county organizations throughout the State.

In commenting on the formation of TRCCA, Republican State Chairman Ray Hutchison said, "We have long needed a channel for discussion OF PROGRAMS* BOTH SUCCESSFUL* BETWEEN OUR CHAIRMAN. We feel this can be beneficial in those district races where more than one county is involved."

Other officers elected were Bill Perrin of Brownsville, county chairman in Cameron County, vice-president; Nancy Canion of League City, chairman in Galveston County, secretary; Bill Cooper of Clyde, chairman in Callahan County, treasurer, and Mrs. Jacquie Allen of Wichita Falls, chairman in Wichita County, the TRCCA representative and spokesman on the State Republican Executive Committee.

The newly-elected officers held a meeting with Hutchinson and GOP vice-chairman Polly Sowell on Sunday following the close of the meeting to discuss plans for the group's future activities.

Outstanding Republicans who spoke to the group during the meeting were former Governor John Connally, United States Senator John Tower, Congressman Bill Archer of Houston, Congressman Jim Collins of Dallas and James A. Baker III of Houston, former Under Secretary of Commerce and the chairman of the President Ford Committee during the 1976 election.

SAFETY SAMPLER

Nearly 3000 individuals were treated in emergency rooms last year for injuries associated with hair dryers.

Never use hair dryers while in or around water. It's best not to use them in the bathroom. Read and follow manufacturer's instructions. For more information about hair dryer safety, write: U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20207 or call toll-free 800-638-2666. Maryland residents only call 800-492-2937.

Now you can have a low cost, easy to assemble and disassemble vacation cabin. Choose your sight! Buy, rent or lease the land and assemble your temporary escape from reality. The basic plan for an easy to assemble prefabricated building uses bolts screws and exclusive "snap-in" anchor clips by Tri-Way Construction Co. This method of construction which uses no nails is particularly advantageous if you are planning to build a cabin on leased property. The cabin can be made any size you want. It is easily expandable. The "Tri-Way" cabin not only offers ease of construction but in most states, structures built using nails become the property of the land owner at the expiration of the lease. Structures that can be disassembled by unbolting panels can be moved. This cabin can practically and legally be moved to another location and reassembled at the end of the lease period.

The basic plan is for a one room cabin, however, the design or floor plan can be easily expanded to two, three, or more rooms. For the basic floor plan and construction information on this unique cabin, send $2.00 to: Tri-Way Construction, Inc., Post Office Box 161, Collins, Mississippi 39428.
