Protection Seminar Set Friday, Saturday

Anyone needing transportaiton to the seminar may call 629-1797 and transportation will be arranged.

Rape is the fastest growing violent crime in this country.

Recent incidents here and in this area brings this vividely to mind.

More and more are asking "How do I protect myself?" This and many other questions need answers: How can I be safe while walking, driving, in my home or apartment; how can I protect my children; how can I become a useful witness?

These and a multitude of other answers are available to those willing to learn.

On Friday and Saturday, December 9th and 10th, 1983, Jane Bingham, Director of the Rape Crisis Center in Fort Worth, Texas, and Carolyn Key Jones, Counselor for the Rape Crisis Center in Fort Worth, Texas, will present a free program on Rape Awareness and Prevention. The sessions will be held in Eastland, at the Eastland High School Cafeteria, and will be sponsored by the Eastland County Law Enforcement Association.

The Friday session will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will last approximately one and one half hours. A rape awareness and prevention film will be shown at this time.

The Saturday session begins at 9 a.m. and will conclude at 12:00 noon.

On Saturday, Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Jones will present a training session for volunteers, law enforcement, medical personnel, legal personnel and any others interested in rape prevention and awareness.

The program includes basic prevention, safety techniques, after-effect, treatment, why men rape, who is the victim, myth vs. facts.

CRIME: It's Not Pretty In This County

Can major crime be as serious in Eastland County as it is in Texas and the rest of the nation?

Citizens and Chambers of Commerce want to say "No," but statisitics have a way of painting grim realities.

The accompanying chart shows seven years of crime records pointing to a record high of 1980, with slight decreases in '81 and '82 - but with big question marks for the books when they are recorded for 1983.

"Worse, for its size, I've ever seen," said a recent visitor, a private detective working on a case here, commenting on crime in this county. He was quoted by Criminal District Attorney Emory Walton, speaking to a service club group here this County to get some help for week. "And it looks like we're on the Sheriff's Department, our own," the D.A. said, the Police Departments or from the state. At least three The citizen involvement Grand Jurys have requested groups are having an enorhelp from the state for narmous impact, he said, as he cotic control, and we can't urged participation and help to the Mothers Against Of course there's been Drunk Drivers (M.A.D.D.) tremendous federal and People Against and state fund cuts, so we know Dangerous Drugs they're short-handed too, he (P.A.D.D.), and to serve on said, but it looks like the juries when called. time has come for Eastland

Crimes included in the statistics, taken from a report, Crime in Texas, Department of Public Safety, include murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, motor vehicle theft, and the break-down shows crime worked by the sheriff's, and each of the three major police departments (Cisco, Eastland and Ranger) and totals for the four units.

Total crimes reported by the four units in 1976 was 237; 338 in 1977; 369 in 1978; 429 in 1979: 570 in 1980; 394 in 1981; and 385 in 1982. What about 1983? Well, Eastland alone has had one murder, three rapes and no telling how many burglaries. The District Attorney credited the citizens groups for helping curtail the DWI total in the past year in this area.

A dozen murders in the seven previous years may not be a record, but it's an average that most local folks aren't proud of.

Suprisingly the County Commissioners Court by its inaction, vetoed a virtuallyfree assistant prosecutor by not accepting a grant available to pay the salary, and a number of citizens are still looking for the logic in that.

A current Department of Commerce report shows that federal aid to states dropped 2.7 percent in 1982 and amounted to $66 billion. Major decreases were in funds for highways, down $1.1 billion; education, down $1 billion; and aid for miscellaneous purposes, down $1.2 billion.

Until you see in the past seven years:

A dozen murders; 16 rapes; 27 robberies; 147 aggravated assaults; 1,387 larcenies; and 155 motor vehicle thefts.

on "The Sermon on the Mount."

Following the first beatitude, "Blessed are the poor in spirit...is the second, "Blessed are they that mourn." Another strange blessing in this revolutionary passage of scripture. Strange, unless we take it in the light of its true meaning. The despair of the world, the sorrow in melancholy, and disconsolate grief on a temporal account is sinful sorrow and is not blessed. A penitent mourning for our own sins(unless we know they are forgiven), sorrow for the sins of others, a sympathizing mourning for the afflictions of others, (weep with those who weep), those who look with compassion on perishing souls and weep over them. Here we begin to see why Christ admonished that we "judge not".Rather pray for, weep, even as the prophets of the Old Testament times, prayed ane wept, not only for individuals, but the whole nations of Israel and Judah.

In Ec. 3:4, Solomon said"a time to weep." Jesus, on His way to the cross, said, "Weep not for me, weep for yourselves and your children."

Many promises are given when there will be no more weeping, only joy and bliss, eternally. Isaiah 30:18, "There shall be no more weeping. He shall be very gracious to you at the voice of thy cry" Isaiah 65:19 "... the voice of weeping shall not be heard ... ' Rev. 21:4, " and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. There shall be no more sorrow.." Only by faith and complete commitment can we reach out and appropriate these revolutionary facts to our own edification. Next, the meek are blessed. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lee Beggs and children, of Cross Plains, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Beggs on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parsons honored her brother, Lynn and wife Pam Hutton, with a Taco Salad Supper in their home recently. The occasion was Lynn's twenty-fourth birthday.

Continued comment mained for a longer visit this week with Tabitha Hutton. She will return home next weekend.

Though the Virginia who is now part of Christmas lore received a definitive explanation assuring her that "yes, there is a Santa Clause," the question still arises.

Every year parents, their own despite philosophies on the subject, face the question of "allowing" their children to" beleive in Santa Claus." Of course, there is a Santa Claus in everyone you meeteven in the youngsters, too. They learn-most of themthat gifts come from people who love you and care about you.

There are people who carefully swap gifts, making sure what they give is roughly equivalent to what they get. In my ancient youth, I was sometimes pressured into such an exchange because I didn't quite know how to handle the situation. No more. I may not know how to handle it any better now, but when there is no love involved with the gift, the giving gets short shrift from me.

This is drifting into intangibles, but isn't Santa Claus an intangible? It doesn't really matter how our jolly old St. Nick wound up in a bright red suit and black boots. Maybe the original St. Nicholas, a

Agriculture Stages Transition Period

The agricultural economy of the nation is in a stage of transition along with agriculture itself and affecting policies agriculture, says a leading economist in policy and marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Dr. Ronald D. Knutson says "we simply cannot continue to go down the same commodity program path of the past 50 years."

A substantial base of support is developing for change, yet major changes in policy seldom occur, Knutson adds. "Instead, changes are generally incremental and deal with particular problems at a moment in time."

Knutson says there are several critical issues that are likely to be the focal point of debate for change on agricultural and food policy in the next several years.

"Goals of agricultural and food policy from the 1940s through much of the 1960s were to raise farm income to the level of non-farm income. A shift in goals occurred in the early 1970s simultaneous with the adoption of more export-oriented farm policies," Knutson says.

This change was partially a political necessity and partially a desire to take advantage of agriculture's productive capacity by competing in the export market, he believes.

"Farm and food programs thus took on multiple objectives-raising farm income, supplementing the income of the poor, expanding exports and using food as a tool of diplomacy," Knutson says. "When surplus built up in the early 1980s, we went back to the production control policies of the 1960s. While the goals had changed, the policies had not."

"Since these multiple objectives were neither adequately specified nor organized in priority sequence, the result was inconsistency. Policy has been made in a patch work fashion--frequently on a crisis basis. That is how the present PIK (payment-in-kind) program originated," Knutson says. Establishment of a consistent food and agricultural policy requires the development of a set of overall goals as well as a consistent set of policies and programs to achieve them, says Knutson.

Thursday, December 8, 1983 Goals of such a policy have yet to be specified and would undoubtedly be open to considerable debate. They would likely be even less producer-oriented than in the past and would require a ranking of the relative importance of raising farm income, expanding exports, feeding people, conserving soil and water resources, obtaining equity for hired farm labor, maintaining producer independence and stabilizing food prices, Knutson predicts. Domestic farm and food tory of household goods or policy goals would need to be the stamps in your collecrelated to general economic tion, she explains. policy, foreign policy and economic development. make you a good record-While developing such overall priorities may be too much to wish for, the fact that people are talking about such a possibility creates the Agricultural Extension Serpotential, he adds.

When it comes to vice. "Unless good household management, a home computer is just another appliance, says home economist Bonnie Piernot. A home computer can assist in keeping household records of checks, mailing addresses, telephone numbers, special days and appointments. it can also maintain an accurate inven-

Home computers can also assist in financial decisionmaking. Financial modeling programs allow the household to do a costbenefit analysis of large in-

In some countries the custom goes right to the original birthday gifters the Three Wise Men.

It doesn't matter what form the celebration takes. The thread that runs through all the Christmas season us unselfish love. It is of small moment whether children set out wooden shoes or hang up stockings. It is faith that hangs the stocking and love that fills it.

There is a crunch where economics take over and "no room at the inn" translates into "no money in' the pocket."

This can be alleviated by planning-after all, you know long before Christmas whether your money is going to stretch to a doll house or an electric train.

Some computer programs will even help families compare their spending to that of families in similar circumstances, says Piernot. "But the computer can't tell you how to budget," she adds, "since budgeting decivalue system and priorities."

According to Piernot, computer software is also available for monitoring household appliances. A security system, energy control and fire alarm can be controlled by computer. Other programs are available to improve diet and fitness by monitoring the nutritional value of foods eaten, analyzing health risk factors and even teaching excercises.

"Although a home computer can do a variety of household management tasks, its purchase price may not be warranted if used for that alone," states the specialist. But multiple functions such as providing educational programs aru games for children, use in a family business, for tarm and ranch management, or performing job tasks at home, may justify the investment.

"You can expect to invest many more dollars in software to run a computer than in the creputer itself," she notes.

We had exercises,those included were Estell Bolding. Pauline Hill and Lena Eason. We are still having a problem with the virus so we had some of the exercises in the rooms. Alice Odom did a few exercises to relieve pressures and improve circulation. Artie Fleming was feeling puny, so we only did a couple of exercises to keep circulation rolling.

We had bingo this evening and in spite of the virus we had a good crowd. Our winners were Vera Forbes, Mary Crisp, Martha Irby and Ada Foster, with each winning two games. Winning one game each were Estell Bolding, Mamie Wells, Maggie Christian and Mary Hammett. We always have a good time playing bingo.

TUESDAY Today we had crafts in Mamie Wells' room. We finished four of the Christmas wreaths that we are working on.

We love to see families and friends come to the Nursing Center to visit or take the residents out for the day. This is the residents' home and they love to have visitors.

I'd like to make some statements about visiting nursing centers. Lots of people think everyone in a nursing center is sick, crabby and that they stink. YOU ARE WRONG! Many nursing centers, including ours, are very clean, none of the residents or employees are crabby.

Some residents are sick but they need visitors, too. Many have handicaps; they need visitors. Visit your friend, old neighbor or relative here and find out first hand about nursing centers and people's need for people.

VISITORS Pauline Hill went with her daughter, Barbara Wright, to visit Mrs. Wright.

Vera Forbes' visitors were Marie and Leon Woods of Brownwood and she went to Cross Plains with Murlene Somerford.

Wandine Walker's visitors were Oleta Seals, Eve Landers, Cassie Allen, Griff Keck,, Gene & Stanley Beam of May, Jimmy & Lynn Walker of Clyde, Dude --, Dorothy -, Charlotte Self, Gene & Cliff Matthews and Gregg Knight. Wandine cannot remember all her visitors, but she thanks them.

Mamie Wells was visited by E.c. Wells from Lake Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Ivey. Effie Williams was visited by Yvonne Williams and her mother and by Billy Jean Benson.

Ester Cowley's visitors were Norman & Lolene Claborn, Clayton Wilson, Pearl Allen and Ruby Langley from Louisiana.

Mary Crisp was visited by Mr. & Mrs. Charles Young of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Bill

Police Reserve Meets State Laws

Art. 998a. Police reserve force

(a) The governing body of any city, town, or village may provide for the establishment of a police reserve force. Members of the police reserve force, if authorized, shall be appointed at the discretion of the chief of police and shall serve as peace officers during the actual discharge of offical duties.

(b) The governing body shall establish qualifications and standards of training for members of the reserve police force, and may limit the size of the reserve force.

(c) No person appointed to the police reserve force may carry a weapon or otherwise act as a peace officer until he has been approved by the governing body. After approval, he may carry a weapon only when authorized by the Chief of Police, and when discharging official duties as a duly constituted peace officer.

(d) Members of the police reserve force serve at the discretion of the chief of police and may be called into service at any time the chief of police considers it necessary to have additional officers to preserve the peace and enforce the law.

(e) Members of the police reserve force may serve without compensation but the governing body may provide uniform compensation for members of the police reserve force. The compensation shall be based solely upon time served by a member of the police reserve force while in training for, or in the performance of, offical duties.

(f) The governing body may provide hospital and medical assistance to a member of the police reserve force who sustains injury in the course ofperforming official duties in the same manner as provided by the governing body for a full time police officer, and reserve officers shall be eligible for death benefits as set out in Chapter 86, acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, in 1967, as amended (Article 6228f, Veron's Texas Civil Statutes), provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize or permit a member of the police reserve force to become eligible for participation in any pension fund created pursuant to State statute to which regular officers may become a member by payroll deductions or otherwise.

(g) Reserve police officers shall act only in a supplementary capacity to the regular police force and shall in no case assume the full time duties of regular police officers without first complying with all requirements for such regular police officers.

(h) This Act does not limit the power of the mayor of any general-law city to summon into service a special police force, as provided by Article 995 Revised Civil Statutes of Texas 1925

All Central Texas High School Football Team Banquet

Brownwood-- The 1983 All-Central Texas High School Football Team banquet will be held in memory of three Central Texas football players who died during the past year.

Nicky Haines and David Simons of Junction died in a traffic accident in February while Howard Payne University's Paul Cunningham died on the sidelines during the

will be honored posthumously during the banquet as HPU Coach Bill Hicks and Junction Coach Lynn Spivey will receive plaques for their schools in the memory of the players.

Haines, a 6-5, 230 pound tight end, was a member of the 1982 All-Central Texas Super

Team. In addition to his accomplishments in football, he was a standout basketball and track athlete.

The banquet is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. at the Travellers Steak House in Brownwood. Tickets are $5 and will be available at the door.

Brownwood High School Coach Gordon Wood will be the keynote speaker.

Frances Justice Named to National Dean's List

A total of three students from this area have been included in the sixth annual edition of THE NA-TIONAL DEAN'S LIST, the largest recognition publication honoring college students, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois.

Students are selected for recognition by their deans or on their school's Dean's List. The 85,000 students included in the current edition are from 2,500 colleges and universities nationwide and represent one half of one percent of more then 8,000,000 college students in the country. students Local selected include:

Eastland - Ginger H. Hoffman and Julie E. Reid, students at Texas Tech University.

Rising Star -Frances J. Justice, student at Howard Payne University.

Ann Allison of Carbon, Texas has been selected as the new Presidential Hostess at South Plains College, Levelland, serving as an official ambassador for a wide variety of college functions. Ann, 18, is a freshman Home Economics major at SPC and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Allison of Rt. 3, Gorman.

During Carbon High School, Ann was cheerleader, Editor of the annual and newspaper, a member of FFA, named Miss CHS and Homecoming Queen, Valedictorian of her class, among other activities.

I sought for a man amoung them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none. (Ezekiel 22:30). We must be aware of the darkness of sin and evil around us before we can break through and reclaim stolen ground..snatching lives out of satan's grasp. Lest satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices. (II Corinthians 2:11). We must not be afraid or overcome by evil, but we must allow God's power to flow through us and tear down all of satan's evil strongholds.Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. (Romans 12:21) We must be willing to boldly speak forth the Word of God and be an example for the world to follow, regardless of ridicule or persecution. But be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity. (I Timothy 4:12) In all things showing yourself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you. (Titus 2:7-8) God wants us to have new courage: God is preparing a courageous people who will be able to stand firm regardless of the strife and turmoil that surrounds them. As the time of the second coming of the Lord approaches, God knows we are going to need supernatural strength in order to indure and be victorious. He knows the majority of Christians are just now learning how to overcome and be vistorious in our problems of dayto-day living. Some of us have been fighting the same battles day after day, year after year, and have become weary and feel as if we cannot go on. In our hearts we have been wondering,"When is all the turmoil and strife in our lives going to end? When is God going to deliver us? God is speaking to us through His Word." If you have raced with men on foot and they have wearied you, how will you compete with horses? and if in a safe land you fall down, how will you do in the jungles of Jordan? (Jeremiah 12:5 RSV) He is using this same passage of Scripture He used to speak to the prophet Jeremiah, to speak to us today. God is saying to us "If you have been wearied and afraid in the battles you have fought thus far in a land of peace and safety, how are you going to stand during the days that are coming, when sins abound and men's hearts fail them for fear? God wants us to be strong.

In looking over the column in the Dallas News entitled "Fifty Years Ago" yesterday two items of interest to this particular section were noted. One tells of the robbing of the Eastland-Brownwood stage coach near Brownwood, and the other, the fact that the T&P railroad had reached Baird in its extension into the west.
