

'Animosity' Claimed In Sainburg Extradition

AUSTIN (AP)—New York's efforts to extradite Dr. Frank Sainburg on kidnapping charges have met opposition from attorneys for the Big Spring surgeon.

Sainburg's attorneys also told Secretary of State Tom Reavley the doctor is "not a fugitive from justice in Texas" and therefore is not subject to extradition.

Under Texas law, the secretary of state hears arguments in extradition cases and then reports to the governor.

Attorneys for New York urged that Sainburg be extradited to face trial at an early date.

The physician, 37, is wanted in New York on charges of kidnapping, assault and burglary. He is accused of kidnapping his son, Philip II, 4, from his former wife, Miss Doris Blanchard of Ithaca. The assault and burglary charges were filed in connection with the alleged kidnapping.

Mrs. Connie Sainburg, 23, a pert brunette who is Sainburg's present wife, sat with him, holding hands, throughout the hearing. She testified that her father, Neal Smith of Longview, has sought to break up her marriage with Sainburg, and said he was trying to promote Sainburg's extradition to remove him from Texas.

Sainburg's lawyers said a request for extradition previously had been made to Arizona after his arrest in Yuma last week.

They contended he had made bond on a fugitive's warrant in Arizona and a hearing is scheduled there Dec. 27. Therefore, they said, he could not now be considered a fugitive from justice in Texas.

Representing New York were Asst. Dist. Atty. Pete Zarembo of Austin and Rex Houston of Henderson.

They denied that animosity of Sainburg's former wife or his present father-in-law were behind the extradition attempt.

Houston, attorney for Miss Blanchard in her battle for custody of the child the past two years, said the mother wants Sainburg tried on the kidnapping charge.

Houston denied the contention of Sainburg's attorney, T. A. Bath, that the former wife wants Sainburg returned to New York so she can try to collect on an alimony judgment.

If the alleged offense were minor, Gov. Shivers could properly consider whether personal animosity played a part in the extradition effort, Houston argued. That is not a consideration where the charge involves kidnapping, he continued.

Conviction for kidnapping in New York is punishable by 10 to 15 years in prison.

Bath and Dean Turner, both of Henderson, called the secretary of state's attention to a misdemeanor charge filed by Sainburg's father-in-law accusing Sainburg of making a threatening call to Longview from Hobbs, N.M. Sainburg had taken his son and Mary Jean Nance, 4, daughter of his present wife, to that city before his arrest last week.

Sainburg is a resident citizen of Texas, Bath said, and "should not be sent to New York for trial there until he has had a chance to be tried and to exonerate his name" in the Longview charge.

The Longview charge alleges Sainburg threatened the life of his stepdaughter.

NATO Delegates Hold Strategy Meet In Paris

PARIS (AP)—Fifteen foreign ministers of the Atlantic Alliance sought today to coordinate their policy for dealing with danger spots all over the globe.

Each attended the meeting, which lasted three hours, accompanied by only two top advisers. Spokesmen would only say afterward that the talk ranged all around the world where ever there were problems directly or indirectly affecting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles warned yesterday that Russia has opened two dangerous new fronts in the cold war — the Middle East and Southern Asia.

The ministers concentrated their attention on the explosive Middle Eastern situation, especially the effect on other NATO members of Turkish and British participation in the Baghdad pact, Portugal also raised the issue of her dispute with India over the status of Goa.

Some of the time was devoted to economic cooperation among the member nations — a subject which will come up again in plenary session during the afternoon when nonmilitary activities will be tackled.

A member of the NATO international secretariat said some conclusions reached by the ministers would be mentioned in the communiqué — tonight or tomorrow.

While the secret meeting was still in session, Paulo Cunha, Portuguese foreign minister, came out to explain to the press Portugal's views on her dispute with India over the territory of Goa, Portugal says Goa is a Portuguese province and not a colony as the Indians claim. The Indians want it as part of their union.

Cunha hinted that in the event of an attack on Goa by India or on Macao by Red China, he would invoke Article 4 of the NATO treaty, which authorizes member states to start consultations in case of an attack on their territories. This article, however, does not obligate other members to give military assistance, Cunha said Portugal did not consider Goa as part of the North Atlantic area, where the automatic obligation of mutual military aid would come into play.

Family Of 6 Takes In 13 Fire Victims

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Thirteen members of a family left destitute by a fire which destroyed their home and belongings have been sheltered by a neighbor woman living with five children in a two-room house.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Conley, in their late 30s, burned yesterday at nearby Hixson while Mrs. Conley was in Chattanooga with 10 of her 11 children receiving Christmas gift shoes, arranged for the children by the Hixson school.

The Conleys were taken in by Mrs. Mary Plank, about 38, who is separated from her husband. "As long as we can crowd them in and I've got a breath in my body, these children are not going to be outside in the cold," Mrs. Plank said.

The 11 Conley children range in age from 1 to 15 years and include 4-year-old twins.

Santa Hits Town Again Saturday

Santa will be here Saturday morning at all costs. This is the latest word received from him and his jet pilot, Capt. Wallace Dunning, who was dispatched from Webb AFB last Tuesday to fly Santa here for a Saturday morning date with the youngsters.

Because of bad weather in the upper part of the United States, the pilot and Santa were grounded in Goose Bay, Labrador, Thursday. But today word was received at Webb AFB that they would be here Saturday at 10:30 a.m. if they had to crack the sound barrier to do it.

Santa had promised Webb officials he would come to Big Spring to meet all the kiddies at 10:30 a.m. if they could send a jet after him. So Capt. Dunning climbed in a T-33 jet trainer Tuesday and roared off. Stops were made at Loring AFB, Maine; Goose Bay, and Thule, Greenland, before reaching Santa's home at the North Pole.

They started back, and ran into trouble in Labrador, halting their hop on over to Loring AFB. But the base here heard this morning they had left Goose Bay and were on their way. Static and continued bad weather prevented them from receiving a very long communique from Santa, but enough was given to let officials know that he would be here.

Their schedule calls for a landing at 10:30 a.m. at the air base where he will pass out candy and meet the youngsters. He will be met by Helen Winchester, "Snow Queen," and later will be escorted to town and the court house where he will meet more Big Spring youths.

He is slated for the court house appearance at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Although Santa's communique received this morning was short, he did say that no candy aboard the plane would be scuttled to make the craft lighter for speed purposes.

Cold Spell Holds Fast

By The Associated Press
A mid-December cold spell held fast over most of the nation today.

Temperatures plunged below freezing this morning into the Southeast coastal states and parts of the Gulf region. It was a frosty 30 in San Antonio, Tex., and 31 in Mobile, Ala.

The arctic air which has cooled the mid-continent this week spread across the entire eastern area and much of the south yesterday.

Temperatures dropped more than 20 degrees in many sections of the East. Similar drops were reported in the Southern Plains and northward toward Texas over the middle and lower Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley and lower Michigan.

The coldest weather continued in the upper Mississippi Valley. Temperatures again today were below or around zero in many Midwest cities. They didn't get much above zero in some northern areas yesterday.

Largest Atom 'Scope Built

BALTIMORE (AP)—The world's largest nuclear microscope capable of measuring parts of an atom "with an accuracy of four-thousandths of a trillionth of an inch," was introduced yesterday by the Air Force.

Air Research and Development Command headquarters here said the instrument, with an "eyepiece" weighing 55 tons, had been developed by Stanford University scientists under contract to ARDC.

"Stanford physicists believe the instrument eventually will be able to measure protons, the smallest matter within the nucleus of an atom," said the statement.

Prof. Robert Hofstadter, director of the nuclear research program at Stanford, spent three years designing and building it.

Salvation Army Yule Fund Rises

The Salvation Army Christmas fund rose substantially in the face of urgent pleas Thursday.

C. W. Cuthrie mailed in a $100 check, and there was a $25 check from the H. B. Reagan Insurance Agency as well as $10 from Floyd McIntyre. Another $36 came from kettles to bring the total so far to $1,350. This still is nearly $1,000 under the figure which Capt. Dexter Breazale, commander, says is necessary to meet the demand of supplying around 250 baskets to families on Christmas Day. At least 40 more applicants for aid came in Thursday, outdistancing the rate of contributions.

VOTE FAILS U. N. Council Seat Deadlock Continues

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A new round of voting failed today to break the deadlock between the Philippines and Yugoslavia for a seat in the U.N. Security Council.

With 11 newly admitted members voting, the Philippines at one point received 40 votes to Yugoslavia's 28. But on the next ballot the score was 37-32, and the result remained indecisive.

A two-thirds majority of those voting in the General Assembly was required to elect.

The United States again pledged its support for the Philippines. Communist Yugoslavia, backed by the Soviet Union, and the Philippines are tied in the contest for the seat after a record 29 ballots. There was, however, growing belief that a compromise choice might emerge before nightfall.

Both sides claimed the addition of 16 new member states would swing the trend in their favor. And both voiced confidence they had enough support to get the necessary two-thirds majority.

Assembly President Jose Maza of Chile conferred yesterday with top representatives of the United States, Britain and France in an attempt to find a way to settle the issue.

Informed sources said Britain, which has been backing Yugoslavia, proposed Sweden as a compromise choice, but the United States insisted it would stick by the Philippines.

Informants said the Americans oppose Sweden anyway on grounds that the Scandinavian nation's recognition of Red China would play a role in the growing battle over Chinese representation.

Italy and Austria also were reportedly suggested, but a number of diplomats are known to oppose giving such a high post to a new member.

Negotiations have become urgent over the past two weeks. Delegates feared that if the Assembly adjourned without filling the seat, the council would be out of business. Under the U. N. Charter, the 11-nation body cannot function without full membership.

The United States has tried to resolve the problem by proposing a rotation plan calling for election of the Philippines this year and Yugoslavia in 1957.

Both Yugoslavia and Britain gave a cold reception to the American proposal. The British and Russians argued that such a move would breach the London big power agreement giving an East European seat the seat on a regular basis.

The United States argued that the 1946 agreement was binding for only one year and added that Asia should have wider representation on the council.

When the marathon balloting began two months ago, the race was between the Philippines and Poland. But after the Poles bogged down early in the running, the Soviet bloc switched its support to Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia yesterday cast its third veto in three days against Japan's application for U. N. membership. The action came after Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American representative, introduced a resolution favoring Japan's application. The Russians took the same stand against Japan Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lodge angrily denounced the Soviet act as an "abuse of the veto power."

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev replied that Lodge, by pressing more resolutions, was trying to force more negative votes.

Kasch, C&D Electric Win HCJC Building Contracts

Contract has been awarded to A. P. Kasch & Sons, Big Spring, for construction of new buildings and extensions at Howard County Junior College.

The entire project, planned out of a $600,000 bond issue, was well "within the money" and trustees had to delete no item. On the contrary, indications were that there would be enough residue to do essential paving and sidewalk work.

The Kasch bid was on a combination basis for general and heating and plumbing. Low electrical bid was submitted by Curtis Baird of C. & D. Electric of Big Spring. The combined proposals awarded by the board of trustees stood at $495,728, or $14,272 under the next lowest combination.

Kasch had submitted a proposal of $378,000 for the general contract, which was bested by Cooper Construction of Odessa with an offer of $372,797. However, Kasch had posted his bid with the contingency that the general and heating and plumbing bids would stand together or not at all.

The heating and plumbing proposal of $90,000 gave a combined total of $368,000. The only other plumbing and heating proposal was that of Anthony Company for $109,000, and thus the combined bid for Cooper and the Anthony company was $14,378 more than for the Kasch combination.

Oil Allowable To Stay At Current Level

Production For January Set At 3,275,891 Bbls.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission set allowable production of Texas crude oil for January at 3,275,891 barrels per day, unchanged from the current level.

Purchasers split almost evenly on whether the permissive flow should be held steady or reduced.

Five companies at the statewide prorating hearing agreed with the decision to maintain the present producing pattern of 17 days statewide and in the big East Texas Field.

Five companies asked 16 producing days, which would have slashed the allowable 133,000 barrels a day; Shell Oil Co. recommended only 15 days of flow.

The final prorating hearing of 1955 was completed in less than half an hour.

Ralph Dietler, retiring chairman of Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing Co., was praised in an informal resolution by Commissioner Olin Culberson.

Dietler commended the commission, saying it has "done very well in testing the market" to determine how much oil should be produced.

Generally on the conservative side about the allowable yield, Dietler spoke a final word of caution.

"Let's not be like the man at the bar testing his capacity who finds next morning he has taken one too many."

In addition to the 17 days of production allowed statewide and in the East Texas Field for January, the commission continued the Panter, Adame Devonian Jigger Y Pennsylvania, and McElroy fields on 16 days; Sandusky 13; South Cowden and Foster, 15; Fort Chadbourne, 11, and Jameson (Strawn) 5.

Chairman William Murray said a flare-up problem which put the Jameson Field on five days this month may be whipped by about Jan. 5. If so, the field will be restored to the statewide schedule.

The next statewide oil hearing will be held here Jan. 18.

Companies recommending 17 producing days were Sun, Humble, Magnolia, Texas and Atlantic Refining.

In favor of 16 days were Gulf, Phillips, Sinclair Crude Oil, Cities Service, Continental, and Stanolind.

WEBB GRADUATION Snyder Schoolman Addresses Pilots

Forty-one officers, nine of them from the Italian Air Force, were graduated as jet pilots at Webb AFB Thursday with a reminder that the nation is looking to them to uphold the significance of freedom's heritage.

They were addressed, in rites held at the base chapel, by Dr. Cecil L. Yarbrough, superintendent of schools at Snyder, Col. Charles M. Young, wing commander, recognized 2nd Lt. Lewis W. Poe as having made the highest academic grade of any member of his class.

An added attraction at the exercises was the appearance of the Webb AFB Caroleers, a group of young officers under direction of Lt. Charles Webb. The Choraleers sang three numbers a cappella.

"You must be conscious of the great investment that the nation has in each of you," said Dr. Yarbrough to the class of 56-F, "but this monetary value is but a symbol of the trust bestowed in you. The greatest investment in you is spiritual in nature . . . as people who are free to out-live, out-love and if necessary to out-fight any people in the world who would take away our privileges."

Dr. Yarbrough declared that we are too often oblivious to the blessings of a free society of the tremendous American heritage. Now is a period of great stress and storm, he said, but he felt that through steadfastness of purpose on our part that somehow the world can break through to the calmness of peace.

Col. Young told the graduates that "we are in earnest that the Christian world shall not bow down to communism . . . and to that end we recognize that there is no place for a second rate Air Force or a second rate officer."

Members of the graduating class were: First Lieutenants Rowland J. Egger, Richard W. Martel,

DR. CECIL YARBROUGH

Isaac E. Mincey, and Lyle E. Steuffer; and Second Lieutenants Thomas A. Akin, James B. Cahill, Norman G. E. Chang, Cyril J. Crawford, Edward R. Cullen, George W. Dorrance Jr., Watt D. Elrod, and Robert M. Evans.

Also David S. Foreman, Donald E. Gentry, William A. Grant, Gilbert A. Keay, James P. Kintz, Christian M. Lohner, Charles D. Mac Gillivray Jr., Henry A. Miller Jr., Jerry E. Mills, Ronald E. Morrison, Lewis W. Poe, Gordon G. Sloan, Vernon E. Snyder, Carroll E. Summers Jr., Bruce L. Sweeney, Angelo P. Torres, William L. Weymer, Lewis A. Wheeler, Frank W. White Jr., and Joseph G. Yopp.

Foreign Courts Lenient With GIs

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Mansfield D. Sprague, Defense Department general counsel, said today that foreign governments are being almost too lenient in exercising legal jurisdiction over American servicemen abroad under the controversial status of forces treaties.

The Pentagon's top lawyer said Allied governments of Western Europe and Japan, during the two years the treaties have been in force, have waived jurisdiction over more than 70 per cent of over 6,000 cases involving Americans overseas. In the remaining cases tried by foreign authorities actual jail terms have been given to only about 90 individuals, he said.

A court test of the constitutionality of the foreign jurisdiction treaties was shaping up as Sprague discussed the subject in a speech. A Japanese court at Maebari postponed the assault trial of four U.S. soldiers pending action which defense lawyer Frank Scollins said is being prepared for U.S. District Court in Chicago.

Scollins said the suit will be on behalf of Cpl. Alan C. May, one of the four accused in a piñata parlor riot, challenging the right of U.S. authorities to turn the men over to the Japanese.

Denying reports of widespread injustices, Sprague said one of the concerns of U.S. commanders in foreign countries has been that "the sentences imposed abroad in some cases have been too light."

Sprague addressed the graduating class of the School of Naval Justice here. He explained that the agreements give foreign governments primary jurisdiction over American servicemen overseas in all cases except those involving offenses committed by one American against another and those arising out of acts or omissions in the performance of official duty.

Sprague said the Defense Department will make every effort through Congress and in the courts to plug loopholes in military law that have been opened up by recent court decisions.

He referred specifically to the Supreme Court ruling in the case of former Air Force Sgt. Robert Toth which denied military jurisdiction over a former serviceman for offenses he is alleged to have committed while in uniform.

Sprague said the military services do not want authority to try former military people and it is up to Congress to provide for handling such cases in civil courts.

Toth, from Pittsburgh, was accused after discharge of the slaying of a Korean civilian. He was arrested for military trial but won release through a habeas corpus action in civil court.

Three turncoat prisoners of war who first chose to stay with their Chinese Communist captors, then changed their minds and came home last July, were freed from military custody in November after the Toth ruling. They, along with others who had elected to stay with the Reds, had been given dishonorable discharges.

Westinghouse, Union Still At Loggerheads

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. and its two biggest unions—locked in a strike that is costing both sides millions of dollars—appear as far apart today as when the first plants closed last Oct. 17.

Wages, time studies of workers jobs and length of contract are the big issues. Both sides agree that recent negotiations have made no progress toward agreement on the key issues.

Westinghouse says the dispute is costing some $5,000 striking employees $250,000 a day in wages. About 40,000 other employees are furloughed.

The company declines to comment on its own losses but sources close to the operation estimate production losses so far will exceed 150 million dollars. That doesn't include maintenance costs in the 40 struck plants.

The unions are the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the Independent United Electrical Workers (IUE). Each is conducting separate negotiations.

Both unions have been demanding 15-cent hourly wage hikes for workers who were earning an average of $2.10 an hour. Yesterday, however, the IUE offered to accept a temporary 3 per cent raise with provisions for further wage negotiations after the men return to work. The company rejected this offer.

The company has offered both unions a five-year contract with annual raises which the firm says will total a minimum of 23 1/2 cents an hour. Both the IUE and the IUE refused. Seventeen smaller unions signed, raising to about 44,000 the number of employees under five-year contracts.

The big electric appliance firm, second in size only to General Electric Co., says it must have a five-year contract—the same as the IUE signed with GE—to be in a good competitive situation.

The IUE claims Westinghouse's offer is not as advantageous as the one GE signed.

The IUE is bargaining agent for about 44,000 employees at 30 plants. The IUE claims 17,000 Westinghouse members. The company says the union is bargaining agent for only 11,000 at 10 plants.

Both unions have maintained picket lines outside the plants. There have been several disturbances in the lines. More than 30 IUE union members have been arrested—mostly on charges of conduct charges. A union official's car was dynamited at Columbus, Ohio.

Westinghouse said it is sponsoring back-to-work movements at its plants in Baltimore, Columbus, Mansfield and Lima, Ohio, and Sharon, Pa. All are IUE bargaining units.

The company said the back-to-work movements were begun only after requests were made either by individual workers or groups of idled workers. Some production is reported by the company at Columbus, Mansfield and Sharon.

Westinghouse says about 2,700 IUE members have crossed picket lines and gone back to work at the five plants. The union quotes no figures, but says the company is "exaggerating the picture."

The IUE is negotiating daily with company officials. The IUE is not scheduled to meet again with the company until next week.

Union Officer Shot In Back

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A union official was shot in the back and critically wounded last night as he worked in his garage. The victim was Bruce Dexter Parkhurst, 42, business agent of the Reinforced Iron Workers Union Local 416.

Frank Vaughn, also a local business agent, said there was no strike in progress nor any union trouble.

Mrs. Parkhurst told police her husband had several times ordered teen-age "crashers" out of the house during high school parties given by their daughter Dixie, 17. The house has been put up for sale, Mrs. Parkhurst said, because of the party crashers.

Research Pushed On Snow, Ice As AF Landing Fields

BOSTON (AP)—Air Force scientists are rushing research on a problem of swiftly-growing importance to the United States and Royal Canadian air forces in the strategic arctic—how to use the snow and ice as safe landing fields.

They hope to develop an airborne indicator of ice thickness and strength for arctic aircraft.

With the increasing significance of the arctic in the defense program and aircraft more and more needed in those snowy wastes, the Air Force Cambridge Research Center said today:

"The problem of safe landings and takeoffs by heavily loaded aircraft has reached major proportions."

From now until May, scientists of the research center will be setting off thundering charges of TNT in the far north. Helicopters will drop assorted pointed projectiles from various heights onto the ice. Huge tanks of 80-ton capacity will be loaded onto the ice and pumped full of water.

Researchers will saw out big ice beams and load them to the breakage point. They will cut out cylindrical samples of ice for testing.

Ice crystals in process of growth will be studied under microscopes. Experts are in Hopedale, Labrador, to conduct 17 separate experiments between now and spring.

Eight square miles around Hopedale harbor will be the study area. Researchers will travel over the ice by motor toboggan, truck and weasel.

Once Heir To Millions, Now Just John Smith

SEATTLE (AP)—John D. Spreckels III, who once inherited two millions dollars, is plain John D. Smith, cabinet salesman, today.

He got the new name yesterday in Superior Court. He said the Spreckels name had been a handicap because it made it tough to get a job. Prospective employers looked upon him "as a financier or a playboy."

Spreckels inherited the two million dollars from his grandfather, sugar baron Adolph B. Spreckels, in 1920 at the age of 20. Most of it is gone now.

Spreckels has been married and divorced four times. Testimony in one of the divorces 10 years ago said he had gone through $100,000 in a three-month betting spree. Three years ago his fourth wife divorced him when he was a hotel night clerk. Wife No. 4 waived alimony, got $100 a month for support of their infant son.

Since then, he has taken a job as a salesman for his brother Adolph, who operates a custom cabinet shop here.

Asked if he had any debts, Spreckels said he owed the government some back income taxes. "I'm paying $25 a month on that."

"Have you been involved in any other court actions?" Judge Lloyd Shore asked.

"Nothing but divorce cases," Spreckels answered. "Petition granted," the judge said.

But changing names doesn't come so easily. When a reporter called the furniture-making firm to check on family relationships, the new Mr. Smith answered the telephone: "This is John Spreckels."

Hero's Son Shy At His Hour Of Tribute

CONCORDVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A tall, red-haired boy with a ready grin accepted his own hour of tribute last night with a becoming shyness that would have warmed his father's heart.

Colin P. Kelly III, son of the United States' first hero of World War II, received his Eagle Scout award in a solemn ceremony before a group of neighbors and friends in a church hall in this tiny Philadelphia suburb.

For "Corky" Kelly it was an important event. It represented nearly four years of community and camping enterprises that totaled 21 hard-earned merit badges. Only an average of two scouts in every hundred reach this goal.

The slim, erect 15-year-old, who looks strikingly like his late father, was so engrossed with "scout talk" with friends that he paid scant attention to the cameramen and reporters on hand to cover the event.

His mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, who have tried to shield him whenever possible from any public display, took part in the ceremony.

Judge William R. Toal of Delaware County Court, himself a scout executive, presented the medal with a speech in which he said:

"Here is a lad who has borne the mantle of a great father. Pointed out in public places since babyhood, started upon and asked a multitude of questions by the idle curious—through it all—Young Corky, through perseverance and integrity, has earned for himself the nation's highest scouting award. He has lived with a great ideal and tonight he is not found wanting."

Cap. Kelly lost his life in a bombing mission in the first days after Pearl Harbor. His plane scored a direct hit on a Japanese battleship Haruna and a grateful nation made him its No. 1 hero.

President Roosevelt, in an unusual tribute, wrote a public letter to "the President of the United States in 1956" asking that the airman's 15-month-old son be given an appointment to West Point in appreciation.

At present Corky is a student, and a good one, at Westtown Friends School. He has another year there and would prefer a year in college before deciding whether to follow his father at West Point, or perhaps to enter the new Air Force Academy.

Fire Chief Ousted On Race Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fire chief of Los Angeles has been suspended because he refused to integrate white and Negro firemen.

John Anderson, for 15 years head of the Fire Department, was ousted yesterday by the Fire Commission on charges of insubordination.

He has five days in which to file an appeal. He had announced previously he planned to retire Jan. 1. It was reported that despite the outcome of the current action he'll draw a $10,000 annual pension.

The chief had openly defied the commission's orders to integrate the firemen. Last week he moved all Negro firemen back together after a brief trial of assigning a few of them into previously all-white stations. He said he made the move because there had been threats of violence.

'Leniency' Charge Brings No Reaction

CORPUS CHRISTI (U)—Federal Judge James V. Allred refused comment yesterday on statements that his court is too lenient on narcotics violators.

L. W. T. Jackson, head of the Corpus Christi narcotics detail, testified at a narcotics subcommittee hearing headed by Sen. Daniel (D-Tex).

The U.S. district attorney for Allred's district, Gordon Kroil, defended the former governor. He said he had prosecuted more than 90 per cent of the narcotics cases in Federal Court in the past year or so and said, "I have found Judge Allred to impose sentences as provided by law."

Kroil said the judge always has sentenced narcotics violators and in only "one or two first-offense cases has allowed suspended sentences, and these were where the facts in the cases were mitigating, usually because of the age of the defendants."

Jackson testified he filed his cases in state courts because the state courts usually provide heavier sentences for narcotics violators than do federal courts.

Federal law provides a 5-year sentence for first offenders; the new state law has a maximum of 10 years.

Asked why he did not file his cases in Federal Court even before the tougher state law was enacted,

Jackson replied: "Most of the sentences were suspended. They don't give heavy sentences."

Daniel said "It appears, then that is not the fault of the law but of the judge."

Jackson replied "Yes." He did not refer to Allred by name but identified the court.

Daniel ordered Jackson to prepare a list of cases on which he based his charge.

Jackson identified a former Duval County sheriff, Joe Rodriguez, also known as Chico Patos, as a right-hand man of Salvadore De-Hoyos, described as the king-pin of dope operations in Nuevo Laredo.

Daniel and Lee Spears, subcommittee investigator, were served with subpoenas to appear at the Dec. 29 trial of C. C. Flint, 24.

Flint is charged with using abusive language in a telephone conversation with the Federal Narcotics Bureau clerk, H. H. Gray, Wednesday about the subcommittee hearing.

Witnesses at the hearing told of the ease with which narcotics could be bought in Mexico and of the dope traffic between Mexico and Texas.

Mexican officials protested repeated charges that it was doing little to stamp out narcotics smuggling.

Frost, Low Temperatures Nip Most Parts Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Frost and freezing temperatures nipped most of Texas early Friday, including parts of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

For much of the state, it was the coldest weather of the season. Temperatures fell to freezing everywhere but in parts of the Valley and on the lower and middle coast.

Scattered light frost was reported southeast of McAllen and at Rio Rico, on the Rio Grande south of Mercedes.

The Brownsville Weather Bureau said frost damage in the Valley, difficult to appraise until growers have had a chance to inspect their fields, would have been worse had winds not swept through the valley all night.

The air was so dry, too, that a heavy frost was impossible.

Houston's 27 early Friday was a record for Dec. 16 since the airport Weather Bureau there was established in 1932. Austin's 23 was the lowest of the season.

The freeze may also have moved in on the Winters Garden area, Del Rio had a sub-freezing 28.

The state's low for the day was 16, recorded both at Lufkin in East Texas and at Junction in southwest Texas.

Indications of how far south the freeze extended were these morning lows: Houston 27, San Antonio 26, Beaumont 25, Laredo 35, Galveston 33, Mission and Edinburg 32, McAllen, Weslaco and Raymondville 33, Mercedes 34, and Brownsville 38.

Unofficial readings in the Houston area included La Porte and Kay, both 20, and Baytown and Waller, both 24.

The outlook was for warmer weather Saturday but there were indications another norther was on its way. The front was in Idaho Friday but forecasts called for it to cool off northwestern Oklahoma Saturday night. Whether the new front would reach Texas wasn't known yet.

Use Lighted Wreath For Two Greetings

Lighted wreaths with two-way messages are among the new holiday decorations that you won't want to overlook this year. Try using one on your front door so that its message which subtly changes from "Merry Christmas" to "Happy New Year" will greet your holiday guests as they approach your door. Be sure, however, that your doorway is protected from the weather. Otherwise, use the wreath in a window indoors.

This lighted door wreath, like many others that you will find in your local stores, is completely prewired. You merely hang it on the front door and connect it to a nearby electrical socket. Many homeowners find that with the help of an outdoor extension cord, lighted wreaths, and other devices may be connected to entrance light sockets. Lighting specialists recommend that electrical cords be "anchored" with insulated staples. Also, be sure to allow just enough extra cord to accommodate the opening and closing of the door without catching the cords.

Christmas Is The Time For Family Affection By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE M.D. That tender delicate something called Christmas Sprit is often lost by the wayside in the hustle and bustle and just plain work of Christmas. Don't let it happen in your family. Christmas is a time when we can all show the better side of ourselves and not be embarrassed doing it. We can show our family how much we really love them. We can let our friends and relatives know that they are important to us, too. At Christmas the barriers are down and the very best that's in us shines out. Do try to give the children this feeling of the goodness of Christmas. Even for little children Christmas is not a time of just receiving things. Christmas is a time of sharing. Children can get much joy from helping in the family Christmas plans. You'll have a Christmas tree, and probably you'll put up some Christmas decorations and then the little packages will accumulate under the tree. Let the children take part in all these activities. Let them feel that each and everyone of them has helped create the gay festivity of the season. The feeling is so much more important than the perfection of the finished product. Let the children make decorations for the tree and the house. For the very little ones a few Christmas seals pasted on a piece of colored paper on the tree. Slightly older children can string bright red cranberries or popcorn and make paper chains and lanterns. Older girls (or little ones with your help) can make fancy shaped Christmas cookies to be hung on the tree and given to admiring guests. Then there's the question of Christmas presents. Every family has some Christmas presents to give that are just plain duties. Much as you'd like to feel that all of Christmas was full of true love and friendship, there's no use kidding yourself about some of it. Just accept the fact — life's like that. But don't talk about it much. Go off and get it done. It's like paying taxes — painful but necessary. Gifts in the family are not like that. Encourage the children to give as well as receive. But don't go out and buy "something for Susie to give Daddy." As Susie feels Christmas coming, she'll enjoy planning. She'll wiggle with excitement as she crumples a piece of Christmas paper around a hunk of clay that roughly resembles a man. And on Christmas morning when the packages are unwrapped, can't you see her beaming little face as she carries her present over to Daddy? Susie will love the expensive tricycle you have gotten for her, but she'll grow more in the image of Christ if she has the opportunity to feel the true joy of giving as well as receiving.

Congress Witness Agrees To Testify For Immunity

CHICAGO (AP) — For the first time in history a witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee has agreed to testify if granted immunity from prosecution.

Congress in 1954 passed legislation providing that courts could give immunity to witnesses before congressional committees. The idea was to encourage witnesses who in the past had pleaded the Fifth Amendment in declining to testify.

Until yesterday, however, no one had consented to testify after an offer of immunity.

Ellis G. Olm, 44, an official of the Chicago Land Clearance Commission who was named by a previous witness as a former Communist in the U. S. government, said he was willing if such immunity is granted. He once was a stenographer for the Interstate Commerce Commission and the U. S. Public Housing Authority.

The committee adjourned to March 5 and said steps would be taken in the meantime to obtain Olm's immunity. The full committee must consent before committee aides can ask a federal court to grant the immunity.

In another development as the House committee wound up three days of hearings in Chicago, the Illinois Institute of Technology suspended a professor who refused to testify about Red ties.

Prof. Gerald J. Matchett, 43, an economist, and his wife Margaret Ellen testified Wednesday that they were not Communists now, but declined to answer questions on whether they had any past connections with the Communist party, contending under the Fifth Amendment that the answers might tend to incriminate them.

Both Matchett and Olm were named by Prof. Herbert Fuchs, 50, suspended law professor at American University in Washington, D.C., as Communists employed by the federal government before and during World War II.

Adlai Supporter 'Welcomes' Sen. Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaking as a supporter of Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said today he would welcome Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kefauver scheduled a news conference at which he said he will make known his political intentions. Nobody doubted he is eager to have another fling at the nomination Stevenson snatched from him and others three years ago.

The Nashville Tennesseean reported in a Washington dispatch that Kefauver last night telegraphed friends throughout the nation saying he had decided to run again.

In advance of Kefauver's announcement, Monroney said in an interview that as a Stevenson backer he is glad to see Kefauver get into the contest. He said he is confident Stevenson, already running officially, welcomes a test of his own prevention strength.

"It is a good thing for the Democratic party for Sen. Kefauver, and any others who want to run, to get into the competition," Monroney said. "That includes favorite sons."

"Democrats like to look at more than one man in the show men. We have a lot of good men and I think the best one — Stevenson — will win the nomination."

Kefauver has called for a return to liberal democracy. Stevenson has subscribed to the theory that "moderation" is the trend of the times. Their primary contests thus may have a direct bearing on the direction the party takes in its platform as well as the choice of its candidate.

On the Republican side, both Gov. Lane Dwinell of New Hampshire and James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, discounted a published report that the White House may be taking a direct interest in New Hampshire's March 13 preferential primary.

The report implied that Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide and a former New Hampshire governor, may have assured Republicans in that state that Eisenhower would not reject a second term before the primary — easing the problem of those who might want to file as delegates supporting the President.

Hagerty said after checking with Adams that "to my knowledge, nothing of this sort has originated from anyone in the White House." Dwinell, who had announced he would seek election as a pro-Eisenhower convention delegate, said he had "received no assurance one way or the other, from the President or anyone else."

The farm issue came up again, with Secretary of Agriculture Benson predicting an end next year to a five-year decline in farm prices, though farm income will be "a little" below this year's. His department said, meanwhile, that farmers' net income will probably show some decline in 1956.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell told a news conference he expects "a lot of union members" to vote Republican in 1956 and said he agrees with AFL-CIO President George Meany that "the vote of a union member cannot be controlled."

Two members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers protested to newsmen, however, that some of their union's dues money, if not their votes, is being put at the Democrats' disposal.

Harry F. Brothers of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Walter J. Brauninger of Chelsea, Mich., made the charge at a news conference attended by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) Goldwater has said the same thing before.

In a statement in Detroit, the UAW said it "has strictly observed the law with respect to election expenditures," and has used only voluntary contributions in federal election campaigns.

It said Goldwater has "maliciously, wantonly and knowingly distorted the truth and perverted the facts about our political activities," which it said "are within the framework of the law."

Goldwater was not available for comment.

Sex Deviation 'Widespread'

LONDON (AP) — A team of experts on medicine and crime said today sex deviation is so widespread in Britain there are "practicing homosexuals" in Parliament.

Reporting on an investigation made for the British Medical Assn. the experts said the number of male perverts in the United Kingdom may exceed half a million, perhaps 2 to 3 per cent of all British males.

The investigation was made by a panel of 12 doctors, psychiatrists and criminologists.

The report said known homosexuals are active "in church, Parliament, civil service, armed forces, press, radio, stage and other institutions."

It said there is a danger that homosexuals in positions of authority may give preferential treatment to others of their kind and may fall prey to blackmailers.

The report said the number of cases of homosexual activity reported by the police have tripled since 1940 and now run around 6,000 a year.

Concessionaire Asks Release

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Glenn McDonald has requested to be released from his contract to operate the multi-million dollar Texoma State Park resort facilities, the Planning and Resources Board learned yesterday.

Dr. W. K. Haynie, chairman, said McDonald's attorney had requested release but that the matter will be discussed at Oklahoma City Wednesday.

Haynie said the state attorney general will be asked to examine the contract to determine whether it can be broken. McDonald has a performance bond with a Kansas City firm.

Love-Crazed Youth, Killer Of Girl's Parents, Is Dead

VANDERGRIFT, Pa. (AP) — A love-crazed youth who killed three persons and wounded two others died last night six hours after he was shot down in a gun fight with a posse that hunted him for 16 hours.

John Fallone, 17, died at nearby Armstrong County Memorial Hospital, where his would-be girl friend Gladys Small, 15, lay in critical condition from shots fired into her chest by the berserk boy.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Small, and her uncle William Small were shot by Fallone Wednesday night in this rural community.

Policeman Gus Zanos of Apollo, wounded by Fallone as the nearly 50-man posse closed in on the youth yesterday, was reported in satisfactory condition. He missed death by a fraction of an inch as a bullet hit him under the right eye and ranged upward to lodge under his skull.

About 100 shots were fired before a sharpshooting state policeman picked off Fallone as he stuck his head out from behind a tree stump. Fallone was found with a .22-caliber automatic rifle and 500 rounds of ammunition by his side. He never regained consciousness.

He invaded the Small home Wednesday with a rifle and a package of dynamite. His efforts to explode the dynamite after the killings were unsuccessful.

Gladys said she had dated Fallone several months ago and that her parents had forbidden her to see him again. She said after the date Fallone was so jealous he "wouldn't let me talk to other boys." Fallone had threatened "to get" the entire Small family, she said.

Today, relatives are caring for the five younger Small children.

Fallone's father Ernest said: "He was going with her and then it broke up. He never seemed to get over it."

More Families On Christmas 'Adoption' List

The Texas Social Welfare Association still has 17 families available for adoption by Big Springers who wish to assist them at Christmas. William Kitts, field worker for the Department of Public Welfare, said 41 families had already been adopted out.

There are 211 persons in the 41 families who were given out by TSWA, Kitts said. The list with the remaining names are still in the County Welfare office. Mary Cantrell, county welfare worker, is in charge of the names. Persons interested in adopting one of the families may call Miss Cantrell at 4-4191.

The TSWA list has names taken from the files of the County Welfare office, the Department of Public Welfare office, the VA Hospital, the County Health Unit, and the Red Cross.

The Christmas needy family list is one of the projects of the local chapter of TSWA.

Cold War Matched By Economic Struggle, Mahon Tells Crowd

The world is much like a five-ring circus with so much going on it is impossible to watch all.

But in the overall scheme of things, the outlook is for the cold war to continue on about the same keel for the next three or four years, Rep. George Mahon declared here Thursday.

Almost undetected in the turbulent surface of things is an undercurrent in which "a terrific economic war is being waged and which may play as great a part in the final settlement of problems as the cold war itself."

Mahon addressed a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, in which members of the American Business Club, the Rotary Club, Optimists and Jaycees participated at the Settles. This was his last public address before returning to Washington and his duties as chairman of the important subcommittee on military appropriations.

Exclusive of so-called foreign aid, the outlook this year is for approximately $35 billion, he told the luncheon crowd.

"So it looks like we are headed for another year of high level spending," he declared, "but as we spar for time and position, we may come to the time when the Soviets will be forced to recognize a live and let live policy."

Mahon regarded the non-partisan foreign policy as fairly successful—"it has accomplished as much as could have been expected of it."

He listed American aims as a rearmend (and ultimately reunited and free) Germany, a strong NATO, a strong military establishment, and free nations arriving at the point of being, through our help, able to help themselves.

Russia wants the United States to get out of Europe ("we would like to bring our people home but we cannot abandon the continent when Russia is the only strong nation on it"); to abandon NATO; to neutralize Germany ("geared to Russia"); abandon atomic weapons.

Is the world situation serious? "How could anyone in his right mind vote to spend $35 billion a year unless he thought the situation was terribly serious?" the congressman asked.

Yet there is a general belief that Russia is a lot less likely to provoke a shooting war now than two or three years ago and that she may be forced to accept a stand-off in world affairs. Already, he said, there seems to be a realization on the part of Russian leaders that the world cannot stand an all-out atomic war, and that there are bounds beyond which Russia dare not go without bringing war on the world.

"We don't want to give up atomic arms," asserted Mahon. "We don't want disarmament. Now that it is a pretty thing to say at Christmastime, but we cannot give up either until there is a basis for complete understanding."

Geneva accomplished nothing but "raising the curtain" on the era to settle differences by diplomacy rather than by arms. "We've got to settle them one way or the other and I think the first tiny step toward talking at the conference table was made at Geneva. The effort should have been made . . . and I'm glad it was."

President Eisenhower's aerial inspection proposal may in time be acceptable to the Russians, Mahon thought. Our military leaders believe that if a 500-mile buffer zone could be established, subject to rigid aerial inspection, the possibility of surprise attack would be greatly but not entirely reduced.

"We want reduction of tensions," he said, but "we don't want complacency." One of the "most explosive" issues facing Congress will be that of agriculture, he prophesied. The war effort has taken so much of labor and industry out of domestic competitive fields that prices of consumer goods which farmers require have soared in the face of depressed farm prices.

"Agriculture is one of the big three and it must be kept strong if we are to be strong," he said.

Egypt Threats Mark U.N. Israel Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Egyptian reprisal threats lent new urgency today to U. N. Security Council debate on Syria's charge of Israeli aggression.

As the 11 members of the Security Council gathered to take up the Syrian protest, they had before them a letter from Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser asserting the Israeli attack was "positively considered as an aggression against Egypt" also.

Nasser pointed out that Egypt and Syria had concluded a mutual defense pact in October.

The council meeting was called to consider Syria's protest against a raid on her posts east of the Sea of Galilee Sunday night. Conflicting reports have put the death toll as high as 59.

Nasser's letter was addressed to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld with the request that it be relayed to the council. It said Egypt must meet force with force and was "about to deal with the situation herself" with her land, air and naval forces.

Ahmed Shukairy, chairman of Syria's delegation to the General Assembly, told correspondents he would ask the council for "measures which have not been asked before." That could mean a proposal that the council request U. N. members to cut diplomatic, economic and communication ties with Israel or even to use military force.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban was ready to reply that the attack was necessary to silence Syrian guns which had been harassing Israeli police launches and fishing boats.

Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi in Jerusalem yesterday charged the Arab countries with seeking the "annihilation of Israel" and said the Syrian firing on the Galilee boats was part of such a campaign.

The council was expected to hear both sides, then adjourn until next week while members pondered possible action. In the past the council has never gone farther than a censure of one side or the other and a request that both sides work with the chief U. N. truce supervisor, Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, to prevent further incidents.

BACK IN U.S.

Turncoat Silent On Reason For Return

SEATTLE (AP)—Richard R. Tenneson, 22-year-old Alton, Minn., turncoat, returned last night from Red China to the country he once renounced but he wouldn't say why he is back.

"I am not prepared to answer now," he said in an interview which followed a 90-minute travel through official red tape after he landed here on a trip from Tokyo.

Bewildered and ill at ease, the boyish looking repatriate landed shortly before midnight. He was released by the Red Chinese Tuesday at Hong Kong and landed Wednesday night in Tokyo.

He was home for the first time since 1949, the year he went to Korea and eventual capture by the Communist forces. Offered a chance to return to the United States, he and 21 other GIs refused repatriation.

Three others of the original 22, all of whom have been dishonor-ably discharged by the Army, returned several months ago. They were Otto Bell, Olympia, Wash.; William Cowart, Dalton, Ga.; and Lewis W. Griggs, Jacksonville, Tex. For them, Tennessee exhibited little respect.

They came back, he said, "because they couldn't lead the same easy life in China they had led in occupied Japan."

And, he said, "they came back and said things which were not true just to put themselves in a good light." He did not explain this but added:

"The men who are remaining feel like I do about the three."

He said he had seen all the other Americans who remained in China in the last month and expressed the belief they all would come back "someday." This, also, he did not explain.

Asked if his mother Mrs. Portia Howe of Alton played any part in getting him to return home, he replied:

"No, I wouldn't say that she did."

He repeatedly attempted to break off the interview, saying he was "dead on my feet. I have only had eight hours sleep since I reached Hong Kong."

Now, he said as he turned to the plane which flew him home, "I would like to be able to return to Minnesota and get back to farming and be left alone." He said he had operated a lathe in a paper mill in China.

Which One Is Mama?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Superior Judge Louis H. Burke took this custody case under submission yesterday.

The principals are Joan Underhill, 44, Mary Underhill, 39, and Mary's 3-year-old daughter Kathleen.

Joan asked Judge Burke yesterday for custody of the child, claiming that she could give the youngster a better home.

Judge Burke discovered that Joan and Mary are sisters and Joan's husband Charles is the father of Mary's husband Charles Jr. That makes Joan the child's aunt and also her stepgrandmother. She is also stepmother-in-law of the girl's father.

Joan's husband is not only Kathleen's grandfather but also her stepuncle as well as father-in-law of his sister-in-law and brother-in-law of his own son.

Dope Addict Obeys Law, Gets Caught

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A suspected dope addict didn't burn a bag of mail he had just stolen, police said, because it was against the antismog law.

Officers reported recovering the letters yesterday from the backyard incinerator of Peter Joseph Couzzi, 23, who was booked on suspicion of violating narcotic laws.

Police quoted Couzzi as saying he didn't burn the evidence just before he was arrested "because I didn't know what the hours for burning trash were."

PRESSMAN THAT HERALD HASN'T OUTGROWN
Publisher R. W. Whipkey rewards Ray (Red) McMahan

AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

Ray McMahan Is Honored For 25 Years As Herald Pressman

The Herald's peppery little Irishman, Ray McMahan, was left speechless for once in his life Thursday evening.

He was welcomed into the newspaper's 25-Year Club with news that all fees and tuition would be paid for the McMahan's son, Jerry, for one year in any Texas college of his choice. Moments before he had waded through a series of progressively diminishing packages to end up with a shining silver dollar.

"Mr. Hartie and I talked it over and we think 25 years of service is worth at least a dollar in your case," R. W. Whipkey, publisher, told McMahan. Red was ready with an answer for that but not for the surprise that followed.

The presentation was the highlight of the Herald's annual Christmas party, attended by 105 members of the paper family and their guests. The banquet crowd had been addressed by Louie Throckmorton, Dallas, vice president and director of public relations for the Republic National Life Insurance Company.

Throckmorton urged his listeners to "enjoy this country and this life to the fullest, to attempt much, to give generously and to be a channel through which God's blessings could flow to man. Invocation was pronounced by Rex Voyles, member of the composing room staff.

Whipkey, reviewing the growth of the Herald within the past decade (it has doubled to quadrupled in most instances), declared that the greatest asset was the loyal and dependable staff members, not the least of whom was Red McMahan, the pressman.

"Since 1930 we have outgrown three presses, but we've never outgrown one pressman," said the publisher. Then he lauded him for his faithfulness and craftsmanship and pointed out that "he has stereopters and pressmen all over the Southwest who learned under him."

Other honor guests were, of course, Mrs. McMahan; Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hayden. Hart and Glenn are the other 25-year veterans of the Herald, and Hayden formerly published the Weekly News.

After the presentation, the crowd pushed back the tables so Santa Claus could come and distribute gifts, including bonuses totalling about $3,500.

Many people, even in the Herald, do not know that Red McMahan is in reality Ray McMahan. The freckled pressman with thinning red hair has never been exactly red-headed (except in temper occasionally) but he had enough sand that the handle of "Red" stuck.

Around the Herald folks look affectionately upon him as "poor old Red," by his own admission the most abused, confused, and misused pressman in the United States of America. He also happens to be the spark from whom a lot of good humor and inspiration generates. He can shrug his shoulders and drop his arms with all the expressive resignation of Abraham being God, and sigh: "I don't know if it's worth it, Doc." Yet when the chips are down he gets out the paper — on time if the rest of the force gives his crew a fighting chance — and gets it out looking well. On equipment that is not too old as presses go, but which is not the latest word either, he works with the precision of a master violinist. His print is superior to many modern, precision presses and on many occasions with units meant for only black and white he has won color awards.

Ray McMahan was born in Beaumont on March 13, 1905. When he was a tot, his late parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie McMahan, moved to Ozona. One year later they transferred residence to San Angelo where Mr. McMahan died in 1907 and left his widow with five boys and a girl. Ray was the youngest boy. He grew up working around ranches, and also doing what other odd jobs he could to help swell the family till.

It was the "old man" J. G. (Pat) Murphy that he got his first taste of newspaper work as office boy.

"I swept out the front office and collected for classified ads," he recalled. Later, when Mr. Murphy sold the Standard to Houston Hartie, an enterprising Missourian who figured the Southwest offered great possibilities, Red went to work for Mr. Hartie on Sept. 1, 1921. In the stereotyping department.

During the next decade there were brief intervals when he returned to the wide open spaces as a cowboy and sheep herder — "Mr. Hartie and I disagreed" — but finally he was promoted to night pressman and rolled out the first issues of the morning Standard Times in February of 1928. This is how he came to know so much about an old Goss Acme 16-plate press which resembled a primitive say-hailer in general appearance. The press later went to Corpus Christi, when Mr. Hartie and the late Bernard Hanks acquired that property. When Big Spring outgrew the Duplex flatbed, Red helped Art Blease of Corpus Christi install the Corpus press here and remained to be the pressman.

It generally is acknowledged that Blease and Red were the only two people in the country who could run the press, and Red's associates accuse him of being well aware of that fact. When the present Duplex tubular was installed in the Herald's location at Ninth and Main on Jan. 6, 1940, they warned Red that the "honeymoon was over."

The facetiousness of the remark was lost in the intervening war years for Red was once reduced to a single helper — a woman (Mrs. W. D. Caldwell). But he got out the paper without a miss — without time for vacation or sickness. Now he's going to get a chance to work with a 46-page Simplex. Characteristically he shakes his head: "I don't know, Doc. I don't know."

In his younger days he was quite a baseball player, mostly a pitcher of no mean ability. He was on the old Red Rooster teams at San Angelo and sandlot aggregations here. Later he excelled in softball, bowling and golf. On April 2, 1937, he was married here to Miss Imogene Runyan, and they have a son and daughter, Jerry, a junior in high school, and Lynn, a sophomore.

Red is a member of the First Christian Church and has served as Scoutmaster of its Troop (No. 6) for years. The unit always falls back on "old old Red," somehow. He also is a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Elks.

When the Herald goes into its new home next year, he will be as much a fixture as the corner stone — maybe more so.

Dawson, Lamesa Officials Study Airport Plans

LAMESA — The City Council and the Dawson County Commissioners' Court met in joint session Thursday afternoon to discuss airport facilities for the county.

In an earlier meeting, the City Council voted, 3-1, to set aside $5,000 in its 1956 budget for the purpose of starting an airport.

The council members had been asked to allocate $10,000 for the undertaking by the Aviation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Council pared it down, however, hopeful that the first year's appropriations would be matched by federal funds.

The Commissioners Court reached no definite decision and announced it needed more time to consider the project.

Committee members have been visiting various airports in the area to get ideas for a new port.

Mrs. Redwine Dies At Home

Mrs. Winnie Redwine, 56, wife of O. B. Redwine, was found dead in bed at the family home at 1201 W. 6th Street early this morning. She had died in her sleep.

Mrs. Redwine and her husband came to Big Spring in 1928 and had made their home here continuously since. She was a long-time member of the West Side Baptist Church.

The remains are at River Funeral Home and arrangements are pending.

Surviving her are Mr. Redwine; three sons, Dr. Oscar Lee Redwine, Emory University, Decatur, Ga.; Fletcher Horton, of Wyley, Wyo.; and Billy Bob Redwine, El Paso; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Lou Cook, Eunice, N. M.; three brothers, Lee Horton, Sand Springs, and Byron Horton and Roscoe Horton, both of Antlers, Okla.

Cotton Acreage Battle Renewed

Talk over the state's cotton acreage allotments broke out anew Thursday.

At Temple the executive committee of the Old Cotton Belt Assn. of growers in East and Central Texas presented a program for changes in the cotton acreage allotments to congressmen.

At Lamesa, more than 200 West Texas cotton farmers were expected at a meeting Friday, called to protest the allotments which they said are unfair and favor Central and East Texas.

The Lamesa meeting will discuss the suit four West Texas farmers filed in Federal Court against the quotas.

Speakers will include Fred Hubbard, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Loyal Walker, agriculture director for the WTCC.

The 1956 allotment have reduced the quotas for some West Texas counties and increased the allotments for some Central and East Texas counties.

Farm Surpluses In Exchange For Raw Materials Is Urged

COLLEGE STATION — Rep. Omar Burleson urged yesterday that the United States use its surplus farm commodities in developing foreign trade for badly needed raw materials.

Addressing students from 47 colleges at the Texas A&M Student Conference on National Affairs, the Anson congressman said the U.S. is deficient in 9 of 15 basic minerals.

"I consider that our surplus agricultural products are assets that have not been used in shaping the policy under either administration, Republican or Democratic," he said. "We could be using them to a much greater advantage."

"Why don't we trade our agricultural surpluses for materials we need?" he asked. "We really haven't been doing it. Instead we have been giving technical aid to raise crops to compete with our own products. To fill empty bellies is one thing but to aid in the development of crops to compete with us is something else."

300 Attend Rites For Slain Family

DALLAS — More than 300 persons attended the funeral yesterday for Mrs. Mary Calhoun, 33, and her three small children who were killed by their estranged husband and father Tuesday.

Separate services were held in Sulphur Springs for Bulford Calhoun, 32, who committed suicide when he was surrounded by police four hours after the mass slaying.

Calhoun broke into his estranged wife's home before dawn Tuesday and killed her. He shot and slashed the throats of his three small children. He also critically wounded Mrs. Calhoun's son-in-law, 19, who tried to stop the slayings.

Bodies of the three-month-old twin daughters, Pamela Sue and Patricia Lou, were placed in the same coffin. The body of 19-month-old Bobbie was in a separate coffin.

Terry Fuglaar Funeral Rites Set Saturday

Services will be held at the Newbie W. Willis Chapel in Midland at 2 p. m. Saturday for Ronald Terry Fuglaar, 20, former resident of Big Spring.

Terry was killed sometime between midnight and 2 a. m. Thursday when his 1954 convertible left the road 30 miles south of Garden City and overturned. The machine came to a stop some 150 feet out in the pasture and his body was found 140 feet from the car.

J. D. Berry, Lamesa oil field worker, discovered the body when he was attracted by the headlights of the car in the pasture. Justice of Peace R. F. Pearce of Big Lake said the youth had sustained a broken neck and skull fracture and had died instantly.

Terry was born in Big Spring on Jan. 25, 1933, and he attended Midland High School, where he had been an outstanding football player, and Schreiner Institute. More recently he had been associated with Cactus Drilling Company and was enroute to work from his quarters in Big Lake when he apparently lost control of his car.

The Rev. Jim Gots, pastor of the Bellevue Baptist Church in Midland, will officiate, both at the chapel and at graveside rites at the City Cemetery in Big Spring. Nalley Funeral Home will be in charge of local arrangements at 4 p. m. at the cemetery.

Surviving Terry are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fuglaar, residents of Midland since 1947, one sister, Mrs. A. C. Wheat, Jr., Austin; his grandmother, Mrs. Tom Horton, Big Spring. He is a nephew of Viola Horton Robinson, county tax collector-assessor.

Girl Shot By Ex-Boyfriend

AUSTIN — Miss Frances Spenkel, 17, was in fair condition today after she was shot in the mouth last night as she and her escort left a dance lounge.

She was shot at close range, Steve Hawley, her escort, told police.

Police said a former boy friend, 21, surrendered and admitted firing the shot.

Hawley said he and Miss Spenkel were leaving the night spot when the gunman shoved open the door and fired two shots.

Burial Victims Are Recovered

PORT SMITH, Ark. — The bodies of two men buried alive when the walls of a deep excavation crumbled were recovered yesterday, ending a two-day search.

Lee O. Shively, a Port Smith fireman, and Donald Dages, an 18-year-old construction worker from Hartford, Ark. died almost instantly when the pit caved in, said Coroner William H. Pope.

The pit was being dug beneath the floor of the Arkansas Waste Paper Co. to hold a concrete foundation for a heavy paper baler.

Gift Awaits Missing Child

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. — A shiny tricycle is waiting for little Stevie Damman for Christmas — although he may never see it.

It was Stevie's third birthday yesterday — if he is still alive. His parents, Air Force Sgt. Jerry and Marilyn Damman are observing their fourth wedding anniversary today.

Stevie, 3, disappeared from in front of a supermarket here last Oct. 31. A widespread search was unproductive. But his parents have not lost hope.

In addition to Christmas presents for their daughter Pamela, 7 months, they bought a new tricycle for Stevie, just in case.

Ex-Airman Dies Of Burns After Room Is Set On Fire

OAKLAND, Calif. — A former airman died yesterday from burns suffered when a gasoline-drenched bedroom was set ablaze. A woman with him was in critical condition.

The victims were Robert Lee Hand, 27, and Mrs. Alice Franklin, 35, a waitress. They were in Mrs. Franklin's apartment.

Police said someone slipped into the apartment yesterday while they were asleep, poured gasoline through the room and set it afire.

"It was definitely a murder attempt," said Homicide Inspector Paul Potts, "probably a revenge attack on the part of some spurned lover of the woman victim."

Christmas Play

BOOKS · MUSIC · ART · DRAMA

CRITIQUE

By Glenn Coates

"The Captains and the Kings" will be the Christmas play at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening. Allen Adams, assistant pastor, is directing the production which is an allegory.

The cast includes Richard Engle, Barton Grooms, Bobby McMillan, George Peacock, Betty Fay Cain, J. T. Baird, Lou Ann White, Julie Rainwater, Linda Nichols, Art Doods, and Norman Gould.

It is a one-act play which depicts persons who represent the world's leaders who have heard that "The Great Ruler" has returned. His coming is announced by a Child, played by Linda Nichols, who has had a vision.

The play points out the fallacies of the thinking of the Bishop, the General, the Senator, the Prime Minister, the Leader, and others.

as they prepare for the entrance of the "Great Ruler."

He turns out to be a Fisherman. The Fisherman chastises the group for the things they haven't done and points out the things they should have done before preparing for the coming of the "Great Ruler."

The play is an excellent choice for this time of year. It is a change of pace from the regular Christmas plays most often used at Christmas. Adams and his cast have worked hard on the production and have come up with the genuine article.

Dell McComb, high school speech teacher and director of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, assisted Adams with the director chores.

Don't miss this play if you can possibly help it. It's a good one.

WTCC Official At Lamesa Meeting

LAMESA — A business and social meeting of 25 farmers and many Lamesa business men was held at Lidel's Restaurant Thursday night.

Loyan Walker of Abilene, Agriculture and Livestock Director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, talked on "Future in Agriculture."

Following the meal, the crowd broke up into smaller groups to discuss what means, methods and techniques could be employed to assist and co-operate with the National Cotton Council and its program.

Group discussions consisted of marketing, research, produce, finance and export.

It was generally agreed that the National Cotton Council should be supported financially.

Sand Springs Boy Struck By Auto; Injuries Minor

Howard Gregory, 8, of Sand Springs escaped with minor injuries Thursday afternoon when he was struck by a car on Highway 80 in Sand Springs.

Rufus Davidson, deputy sheriff, said the boy was hit by a car driven by William Jordan McManus of Dallas. The youth started across the highway between trucks of a west-bound Army convoy, and apparently dashed into the path of McManus' east-bound automobile, Davidson said.

Howard was brought to the Malone & Hogan Hospital in Big Spring where an examination disclosed only lacerations and abrasions. He was kept at the hospital for observation, however.

Mail Volume Thursday Hits New High For Yule Season

Letter cancellations at the Big Spring postoffice hit 57,311 Thursday, another high for the year.

The total also was more than 3,000 ahead of the number for Dec. 15, 1954, when clerks processed 54,231 pieces of mail, Postmaster E. C. Boatler reported.

High day last year occurred on Dec. 20 when 66,361 cards and letters were handled. Boatler said he expects today's cancellations to approach that figure. The peak this year is expected to occur next Monday.

Four additional trucks and six extra workers have been pressed into service at the postoffice to help handle the increasing volume of Christmas mail.

Boatler said one other truck and probably six more men are to be added to handle the final rush next week.

The postmaster also urged Big Springers not to put off mailing Christmas cards and parcels until a date designed to cause their delivery on Christmas Eve.

Such mailing causes an extra burden on already overloaded postal employees, and also may contribute to a jam that would result in delivery of many items after Christmas, he said.

"The majority of citizens realize that the early arrival of a Christmas card or gift is always welcomed," the Postmaster pointed out. "But there still are some who retain the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance. The thought behind the gift or card, not the time of arrival, is the important consideration."

Dawson's Cotton Estimate Raised To 80,000 Bales

LAMESA — The estimate on the Dawson County cotton crop has now been raised to 80,000 bales by Dayton Carrell, district manager of the Texas Employment Commission here.

Of the potential 77,000 bales have already been gathered.

Carrell also made the following report and predictions on the crop in five surrounding counties:

Lynn — 75,000 bales already ginned, crop estimate at 80,000. Original estimate was 90,000 bales.

Borden — Estimated 6,000 bales already ginned.

Gaines — of a 30,000-bale estimate, 29,000 has been ginned.

Terry — Of 56,000-bale estimate, 54,500 has been ginned.

Yoakum — Will make about 18,000 bales, of which 17,500 is already ginned.

Dons Seek 30th Win In DePaul Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—The San Francisco Dons, the nation's top-ranked basketball team, aim for their 30th straight victory tonight in the opening round of the four-team DePaul tourney—a rugged early season testing ground.

The Chicago Stadium attraction pits the Dons against unbeaten but unranked Marquette after the first game between the scrappy host school, DePaul, and Duquesne, No. 6 in the national Associated Press poll.

Winners will meet in the title showdown tomorrow night while the losers play for consolation honors. If the favorites emerge, it will be a belated battle between San Francisco, the 1955 NCAA champion, and Duquesne, the National Invitational title.

But the first round will be a sturdy test for each.

The Dons' top man is All America Bill Russell, a 6-10 phenom rated as one of the greatest goal tenders the game has produced. In addition to being great defensively, Russell is terrific in zapping shots through the nets.

K. C. Jones of the Dons is another defensive genius who all but immobilized La Salle's noted Tom Gola in the NCAA finale last season.

Marquette, undefeated in four starts this campaign, has the height to give the Dons trouble. Terry Hand, the Warriors' tallest, is 6-9 and their shortest player is Bob Wozniak at 6 feet. The smallest San Francisco man is Harold Perry, 5-10 1/2.

The Blue-Gray Tournament at Montgomery, Ala. bringing together Auburn, Eastern Kentucky, Mississippi and Texas also opens tonight. The tournament tempo picks up next week with the University of Kentucky Invitational and the Charlotte Carrousel classic. It reaches feverish heights the week after Christmas as teams trek across the country for such major attractions as the Dixie Classic, Big 7 Tourney, All-College Tourney at Oklahoma City, Sugar Bowl, New York's Holiday Festival, Southwest Conference Tourney and Orange Bowl.

San Francisco, opening a round trip that will bring it to Wichita, New Orleans and New York, is favored over Marquette, but the Warriors, a right smart team themselves, aren't conceding anything.

"We know we're up against the best team in the country," said Marquette Coach Jack Nagle. "But, if we can keep Russell away from the boards we might have a good chance of winning. Nobody gave us a chance against Kentucky last year, either."

Nagle referred to Marquette's 79-71 victory over Kentucky in the NCAA eliminations. It was a stunner, all right.

Kentucky, incidentally, nipped Maryland 62-61 in the top game of a last night's program that also saw Oklahoma defeat Arkansas 69-59, Tulsa take Western Kentucky 67-56, Oklahoma City trim Wyoming 65-59, Kansas State drub Los Angeles Loyola 92-48, Tufts upset Hardin-Simmons 68-60, Tennessee wallop Springfield (Mass.) 67-53 and The Citadel end a 23-game losing streak by beating College of Charleston 56-52.

WATER VALLEY (SC)—Two Forsan teams advanced into the second round of play in the Water Valley Invitational Basketball Tournament here Thursday night.

Ralph Dupas Is 13-10 Underdog

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Ludwig Lightburn, an invader from British Honduras and a recent graduate of the prelim ranks, is a surprising 13-10 favorite to beat lightweight contender Ralph Dupas of New Orleans in Madison Square Garden tonight.

It is the Garden main event debut for both youngsters.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

The odds are strange because Dupas, a seasoned veteran of more than five years of pro battling at 20, figures to have too much experience for the promising, 21-year-old Lightburn.

Dupas has fought better fighters and is working on an unbeaten string of nine, including victories over former lightweight king Paday DeMarco, Frankie Ryff and Ciscio Andrade. His overall record is 57-65 with 10 knockouts.

Lightburn has come up fast this year. He has won four straight and has a 6-2 record for the year. Two losses were to heavier Ike Logart, now a welterweight contender. Ludwig's record all told is 35-6 with 13 knockouts.

A look-alike of Ray Robinson, Ludwig also has a style resembling Sugar Ray's. He has a fine jab and has fast hands. He throws plenty of punches in combinations. Dupas also swings an excellent left hand. Lightburn moves in on an opponent while Dupas is essentially a counter-puncher.

Ennis Business Back To Normal

ENNIS (AP)—Ennis High School was back to normal today after incidents in which the football coach was dismissed, 200 students struck and the superintendent resigned.

The School Board bought Dave Ryan's coaching contract and dismissed him, asserting Ryan did not cooperate. He said he would accept reinstatement but yesterday he told the student body he would not seek reinstatement because he thought it was best for all concerned.

J. F. Gardner, superintendent since 1947, resigned for what he called "the interest of harmony and for the good of the schools."

Director of the Texas High School Coaches Assn. selected Martin, who coaches the split T, to place on the staff of the coaching school in Lubbock next August.

Martin Named Instructor

DALLAS (AP)—Two more football instructors to go with Abe Martin of TCU at the Texas Coaching School in August will be picked today.

Directors of the Texas High School Coaches Assn. selected Martin, who coaches the split T, to place on the staff of the coaching school in Lubbock next August.

Today's business also included picking the site of the 1957 coaching school. Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and Austin have bid for it. Abilene, Corpus Christi and Galveston may do so also.

The directors heard that plans for the 1956 school were shaping up well.

"We expect one of our best schools at Lubbock," said L. W. McConachie of Edna, secretary of the association.

Reception Slated

GALVESTON (AP)—A reception of beautiful girls and warm kisses is scheduled today for the Fort Hood Tankers football team today which plays Sunday in the Shrimp Bowl.

The opposing Navy Gator team from Little Creek, Va., was greeted that way yesterday.

Wilman Holds Leading Spot

CHICAGO (AP)—Veteran Joe Wilman, a former champion, and Anita Cantaline of Detroit, held the top spots after the first day's competition in the finals of the national All-Star Bowling Tournament.

Wilman, champion in 1945-46, continued his excellent sniping yesterday during the opening day's four four-game matches and held a 3.15 Petersen point lead over youthful Dick Weber of St. Louis.

Wilman, of suburban Berwyn, moved into the top at the end of the third match, displacing Weber.

In marching to the front, Wilman won 13 of the 16 games. He defeated Stan Thaden, Chicago; Harry Smith, Detroit; Weber, and Tom Hennessey, Detroit, in that order. He pulled up 79.34 points to Weber's 76.19.

Anita won all her eight games, downing Connie Powers, also of Detroit; Peggy Farley, Van Nuys, Calif.; Robbie Frey, of San Antonio, Tex.; and Vickie Vukovich, Milwaukee.

Odessa Jaycee Upset, 66-64, By Schreiner

ODESSA (SC)—Schreiner Institute, an entry in the Howard College Basketball Tournament in Big Spring Christmas week, upset the Odessa JC Wranglers, 66-64, here Thursday night.

The loss was the second of the season against five wins for the Wranglers.

Odessa trailed, 40-27, at halftime but deadlocked the tally at 50-50 early in the second half.

Jimmy Coulter paced Odessa's point-getting with 23 points while three boys—Dick Stanford, Charles Smoot and Jean Mauze—were tops for Schreiner, each with 14 points.

Odessa visits San Angelo tonight to play Phil George's Rams.

Stamford And New London Open Grid Playoff Slate

By The Associated Press
Stamford and New London, undefeated and untied, clash at Arlington Friday afternoon to start off the next-to-last weekend of Texas schoolboy football.

Six games will be played, deciding state championships of Classes AAAA and AAA and finalists in AA and A. Around 55,000 fans will see the contests.

The Stamford-New London game in Class AA and two Class A struggles Friday night—Stinnett vs. Chillicothe at Vernon and Luling at Deer Park—are just icing on the cake. The big ones come Saturday afternoon.

Abilene and Tyler, with two of the longest winning streaks in schoolboy football, collide at Fort Worth for the Class AAAA crown.

Garland, unbeaten and untied, and Port Neches, twice defeated but not in 10 games, play at Garland to decide the Class AAA title.

Weslaco, boasting a perfect record and believing it will be the first team from the Rio Grande Valley to win a state flag, meets once-beaten Hillsboro Saturday afternoon at Waco in the other semifinal of Class AA. The winner will play the winner of the Stamford-New London melee.

Some 15,000 fans are expected at Fort Worth where Abilene puts a 22-game winning skein on the line and Tyler lays down a 14-game victory streak. Neither is new to state final play. Abilene will be after its fifth championship in 32 years. Tyler will be seeking its second state title in WT seasons. Abilene is a light favorite.

Garland will be tackling a school that's in the finals for the third year in a row. Port Neches won in 1953. Garland is a solid choice to put the championship trophy away.

BS Tries Vernon

Bidding for a regular job with the Big Spring Steers is Jimmy Evans. The young guard has piled up an increasing amount of playing time in the past several games. He'll see action against Vernon tonight.

Coach Johnson and 14 Members of the Big Spring High School Basketball Team Left at 7 a.m. today for Vernon, where they tangle in an afternoon District 1-AAA engagement with the Vernon Lions.

The contest was originally booked for tonight but was moved forward to 5:30 p.m. to avoid conflict with the Stinnett-Chillicothe playoff football game, which takes place there at 8 o'clock.

The local cagers will remain over in Vernon tonight. Johnson expects to be back in Big Spring about noon, Saturday.

The Steers will be seeking their first win in seven starts. Vernon is playing 7:30 ball, having won three of four starts.

The Lions tripped up Lamesa in their conference opener last week, 39-36. At the same time, the Longhorns were losing to Palo Duro of Amarillo, 82-49.

Probable starters for Big Spring today are Mike Musgrove, Donald Lovelady, Jan Loudermilk, LeRoy LeFevre and Jimmy Bice.

Junior Butler, Keith Morris and Jim Lindsey pace the Vernon attack. Don Dillingham and Jack Bolton will probably start the game for the Lions, too.

There'll be a B contest this afternoon, starting at 3:30 p.m.

Longhorns Draw Ballinger As Foe In HPC Tournament

BROWNWOOD (SC)—Howard Payne College will host its 13th annual High School Basketball Tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 29, 30, 31. Sixteen teams are entered in the three-day affair, with a new champion assured as last year's winner, Abilene, will not return to defend its title.

Getting the tournament under way will be the Port Arthur-Angleton clash at 9:30 Thursday morning; and Brady-Snyder at 11:00. Lipan and Lampasas will open the afternoon session at 1:00; Stamford-Longview at 2:15; Carter-Riverside-Burkett at 3:30.

The night session will begin with Big Spring-Ballinger at 6:00; Coleman-Brooksmith at 7:15; and

Snead Leading By 2 Strokes

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Sam Snead is like wine; he seems to get better with age.

The Slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 43, and for a professional golfer that's up in years. But Sam isn't conceding Father Time a thing. He's looking, feeling and playing as well or better than ever.

In successive competitive rounds, he has turned in two record performances. As a result of his latest record-smashing effort, he started today's second round in the $15,000 Sanford Open Golf Tournament with a two-stroke lead over his nearest competitors.

Snead's opening round 33-31-64, a 6-under-par effort, wiped out the old mark of 65 for the Mayfair Inn Country Club course set in the late 1920s by amateur Jim Spencer of Sanford.

And it put him two strokes ahead of Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio, one of the younger pros, and veteran Ted Kroil, Bethesda, Md.

Seven others deadlocked for fourth spot with 67s as 37 of the huge field shattered par and nine others matched it in the opening course is 36-34-70.

Mike Souchak, former Duke football star who registers out of Grossingers', N. Y., was one of those with a 67.

Longhorns Test Auburn Tonight

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Texas University, with a 2-3 record, meet Auburn's undefeated Tigers in the second game of the Blue and Gray Basketball Tourney tonight.

Unbeaten Mississippi and three-beaten Eastern Kentucky open the meet. The winners meet for the crown tomorrow and the losers will play for third place.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Looking at an inverted fish bowl (which must serve for a crystal ball) for the football winners this week:

GARLAND 14 Port Neches 6. Port Neches pulled an ancient trick out of the bag to topple Alice last week. Some say the play they used came from Ray Morrison's collection, which appeared in a recent edition of Sports Illustrated. Whatever it was, it'll take more than that to beat Garland this week. Bobby Boyd and Company appear to have too much for the Indians. Neches probably lost the game when it lost the coin flip. I still think Snyder should be playing in the finals, rather than Garland, however.

ABILENE 21 Tyler 7. These days, when any team holds Abilene to a three-touchdown victory, it's considered a moral victory. The Eagles appear to have everything — speed, depth, versatility and, most of all, desire. Tyler has Charley Milstead and a lot of hope.

STAMFORD 14 New London 7. The Bulldogs will be meeting one of the highest scoring teams in Texas schoolboy football but it probably won't score much against Stamford, which must have one of the finest teams in any class in the state. Stamford is tough every year and apparently tougher this season than it ever has been.

WESLACO 20 Hillsboro 13. I hesitate to pick against a Hillsboro club that has turned in one fine game after another and has, they say, one of the finest backs in history in Merlin Priddy. Still, Weslaco is undefeated and untied and beat a fine Nederland club last week to reach the AA semi-finals.

CHILLICOTHE 21 Stinnett 14. Chillicothe is still unbeaten. Stinnett beat a good Ranger team last week but will have to be even better to slow Chillicothe.

DEER PARK 13 Luling 0. Two very good teams meeting here, but one of them has to fall. Deer Park has been there before.

The last time I looked, Lon Morris — an entry in the Howard College Basketball Tournament here Christmas week — had reeled off ten victories in a row.

In his team's tenth win, Coach O. P. Morris used 15 players.

Few athletes have had more illustrious or varied careers than Jackie Jensen, now an outfielder for the Boston Red Sox.

In his time, Jackie has been named to the All-America football team, played in the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine game, the major league all-star game, the collegiate baseball championships and the World Series.

He might just make the World Series again, with a Red Sox team that appears to be loaded for bear.

Artie DiCesare, the right-handed hurler peddled to Abilene by Big Spring's Pepper Martin for $2,000 last season, will do his baseballing in the Southwestern League.

He's been obtained by Roswell from Abilene.

When San Jose State and Washington State met in football this year, the temperature hovered around five degrees. The ticket windows were opened but only one brave soul showed up to pay his way into the game. (Others were present but they had purchased their ducats beforehand.)

EIGHTH GRADERS WIN

Yearling Quints And Bowie Split

Junior High School basketball teams again split a double header here Thursday afternoon, this time with Bowie Junior High of Odessa.

The Eighth Grade Yearlings won.

Rebs Sharpen Passing Game

FORT WORTH 14—TCU continued workouts today for the Cotton Bowl game with Mississippi. The Rebels sharpened their passing game for their Jan. 2 battle against Jim Swink.

How to bottle up the star of the opposing team dominated the practice sessions of both teams.

TCU Coach Abe Martin picked a star freshman passer to play the role of Eagle Day and give the Rebels something to work on in developing a strategy to contain the famous Rebel slinging quarterback.

The Rebels are expected to use the air lanes to offset the "home run" gallops of Swink, the nation's leading scorer. Passing may be the Rebels' best weapon in the Cotton Bowl.

Pewee Reese Inks 1936 Contract

BROOKLYN 14—Pee Wee Reese, 26-year-old captain of Brooklyn's world champion Dodgers, has signed his 1936 contract but Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, for one, hopes he doesn't try to play every game.

Reese, first of the Dodgers to sign a new contract, reportedly received a boost of $1,000 to $35,000.

Bavasi said he told the little veteran shortstop that he'll not be expected to play the full season. He was in 142 regular season and seven World Series games this year.

Owners Will Again Hear Proposals

NEW YORK 14—Major league baseball club owners will get another chance to hear the players' proposals, which they rejected at their recent meeting in Chicago.

Commissioner Ford Frick yesterday promised the players' representatives, Robin Roberts of the Phillies and Bob Feller of the Indians, that he will see that the demands are resubmitted at a Feb. 4 meeting of the owners.

The two major items being pressed by the players are: increase of minimum salary from $6,000 to $7,200 and the right to participate in the negotiations for a new TV contract, which expires after the 1936 World Series.

Losing Skein Ends

CHARLESTON, S.C. 14—At long last The Citadel's 28-game losing streak in basketball is ended. The Bulldogs came from behind in the last 2 minutes last night to defeat the College of Charleston Maroons 35-32.

Feather Touch

Utah's Art Bunte demonstrates his famous "feather touch" shot during basketball practice session in Salt Lake City. The ball seems to float off his fingertips and settle like a feather in the basket. Bunte is one big reason the undefeated Redskins are ranked No. 3 in the nation. (AP Wirephoto).

Rice And SMU Seek Laurels

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference is hoping its leaders, Rice and SMU, can add a little lustre this weekend.

The teams tackle Kansas, one of the most powerful clubs in the country. SMU, with a season record of five victories and one loss, meet the unbeaten Jayhawks in Dallas Saturday. Rice, with six straight victories, will be host to the Kansas Monday in Houston.

Texas starts play in the Blue-Gray Tournament at Montgomery, Ala., Friday. TCU goes to Tulsa for a game with the University of Tulsa Saturday.

If the top conference teams can defeat Kansas, it will brighten a drab week spotted with losses, the latest of which was Arkansas' defeat by Oklahoma Thursday.

The Porkers bowed 69-59. The Sooners took command midway in the first half and kept control for the rest of the evening. Two Oklahoma players, Bill Pinkerton and Jimmy Peck, scored more than half of their team's points. Manuel Whitley with 14 points paced the Porkers.

NEW YORK 14—Mighty Nashua will be shipped to Florida next week to continue his sensational career after being sold for a world record price of $1,251,200.

Insurors Trim Nabors, 35-14

Tate, Bristow and Parks Insurance Company and McMahon's Cementers chalked up impressive victories in opening round games of the YMCA Industrial basketball league here last night.

The Insurors belted Nabors' Paint Store, 35-14, while the Cementers thrashed Texas Electric Service Company, 56-14.

The scheduled game between the Daily Herald and McGibbons Phillips 66 was postponed by pre-arrangement.

D. A. Miller of the McMahon Cementers' club was the top scorer for the night with 20 points, all of which he sunk from the field.

Hankin led the Insurors to victory by dropping 14 points. Estes had ten for the Insurors.

great colt still at the peak of his racing career. Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, 81-year-old trainer of Nashua, will take charge of the big 3-year-old again late next week.

Nashua, of course, was the big news in the dollars and cents part of the bargain. But for the sentimentalists the clink of hard cold cash did not outweigh the passing of the famous Belair Stud—one of racing's greatest stables—founded 45 years ago by William Woodward Sr.

A total of 62 horses, including Nashua, sold under sealed bids for a grand total of $1,866,200. Combs said Nashua would be sent from Kentucky to Hialeah Park in Miami to begin training for the $100,000-added Widener Handicap Feb. 18.

Nine other race horses and 12 yearlings went to John Koresa, Teaneck, N. J., electrical supply man who owns a racing stable, for $205,000. Mildred W. Woolwine of White Oaks Farm, Lexington, Ky., breeder of Helioscope, a top 1935 handicap horse, paid $410,000 for 24 Belair broodmares and 16 weanlings.

Miss Woolwine said her associates were Edward Potter of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Middendorf of Boston, Mass. Broodmares acquired by Miss Woolwine included Segula, dam of Nashua. Segula is in foal to Nasrullah, daddy of Nashua. So a full brother or sister may be along next spring.

Combs, who has figured in many great horse deals, said he would go to Miami soon after Jan. 1 to confer with Fitzsimmons on Nashua's racing campaign.

Blind Man Held In Bomb Extortion Plot

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A blind man and his sister-in-law were charged early today with bombing the big Meier and Frank Co. department store in a $50,000 extortion plot eight months ago.

William B. Browne, detective captain, said William Clarence Peddicord, 38, hatched the plot and planted the bomb, assisted by his sister-in-law Mrs. Joyce Keller, 28.

Browne said they were charged with injuring persons and property by explosives. Bond was set at $75,000 each.

The bomb exploded in a men's washroom in the 12-story store, Portland's largest, April 15. A few persons were hit by flying debris, but no serious injuries were reported.

A note demanded $50,000 on threat of another bombing the next day. Police said the payoff attempt failed. The store was closed the next day but no bomb was found and it reopened without further incident.

Browne said the two admitted the plot, but lost their nerve and did not attempt to contact the payoff man.

Browne said a report that a blind man and a woman had been seen near the washroom just before the mid-afternoon explosion led detectives to Peddicord, unemployed father of five children. His only income is state aid for the blind.

Browne said Peddicord admitted making the bomb from 12 sticks of dynamite, writing the note with his sister-in-law's assistance, and planting the bomb after she led him to the washroom.

Reds Want Clothes On Yankee Cuties

LONDON (AP)—Two Soviet editors said today the girls in U. S. night club floor shows ought to wear more clothes.

Moscow radio broadcast the criticism by Anatoly Sofronov, editor of the magazine Ogonyok, and Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda. They returned recently from a tour of America.

Sofronov said they went to several night clubs and that the floor shows were "very interesting" — but those girls!

"The territory that was uncovered was much too great," Adzhubei remarked. "Most American girls are very pretty," Adzhubei remarked. "We seemed to agree on that."

Monroney Opposes Gas Bill Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said today he can see no reason now for Senate amendment of a House-passed bill which would exempt natural gas producers from federal control.

The bill, by Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), is pending in the Senate. It makes "many important concessions to safeguard the consumers interests against unwarranted increases," Monroney said.

"I would hate to see concessions, which have been adopted to make the bill more equitable to consumers and producers alike, destroyed by unwise amendments placed in the bill on the Senate floor."

Monroney is expected to be the floor manager.

Rep. Hesselton (R-Mass.) said recently the Harris Bill likely would be amended in the Senate. Any amendment would require return of the bill to the House, where it passed by a narrow margin, or to a Senate-House conference committee. Hesselton said he believed the bill would be "a dead duck" in conference.

Monroney said "the ridiculous claims" of many mayors who "blame a $1.50 to $2.00 a thousand cubic feet gas rate in their cities on producers who receive 7 to 9 cents for the same gas would demonstrate that the producer, using up the supply of gas he discovered, is not charging an excessive amount."

Some states and cities, the senator said, want to put a consumer's tax on household gas "that would approach or exceed the amount the producer gets for his gas in the field."

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he still thought the gas bill would become law.

Questioned about the possibility of the bill being amended in the Senate and forcing its return to the House and possible delay there, Rayburn said he wanted to see the Senate pass the legislation just as it was adopted by the House.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) also expressed confidence the bill would be passed.

Neighbors Like Tannery Whistle

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—Folks living near a tannery here have cast an overwhelming vote to keep the firm's whistle blowing.

Several months ago Board Chairman Charles Vogel got the idea that some of the company's neighbors might not like the whistle. He sent out 215 self-addressed post cards asking two questions:

Keep blowing?
Stop blowing?
The results: 138 keep blowing, 4 stop blowing.
The whistle sounded at the appointed hours today.

FOR 37 YEARS

Johnson's Aide Knows His Texans

WASHINGTON (AP)—It would be hard to find a man who knows more about Texas than Arthur Perry, who has handled Sen. Lyndon Johnson's office while the senator has been recuperating from his July 2 heart attack.

"There's no such thing as catching up," he says. "We'll get these out of the way soon, but more are coming in all the time. But, that's what we're here for."

Those letters, almost any day, represent a cross section of Texas problems that relate in some way to the federal government. There is correspondence about grants to schools with enlarged enrollments because of nearby federal installations, about cotton acreage allotments, flood control dams, and other matters affecting communities from the Red River to the Rio Grande. Some pertain solely to individual Texans, about such matters as veterans' job preference rights or a widow's social security benefits.

The quiet-speaking Perry usually knows where to turn for an answer. He's been doing that sort of thing for most of his 37 years in Washington.

So familiar is Perry with Texans and their problems that when groups or individuals from Texas come to Washington he usually knows what their problem is before the talk begins. Perry is a native of Austin.

During Johnson's absence he has been receiving all of the visiting Texans who normally would meet with the senator.

Cleanup

Ray Darland, Oregon state tax building superintendent, is shown cleaning over $72 in small change sent to the department in Salem, Ore., by Don E. Daws, Brookings, Ore., as payment of back income taxes. To show his displeasure, Daws soaked the money in old crankcase oil, packed it in a dirty shirt and sent along a Christmas card reading, "From Santa Claus."

Most 'Exclusive' Town In The U. S.

SAN MARINO, Calif., Dec. 16 (AP)—This wealthy, conservative Los Angeles suburb, home of executives whose annual take home pay averages $16,762, is possibly the most exclusive town in these United States.

The residential community of 13,000 has successfully kept out movie theaters, mortuaries, second-hand stores and bars.

Exclusion of bars does not mean that San Marino is dry. Fourteen San Marino liquor stores sell $600,000 worth of bottled goods yearly to replenish the bars which are said to be in 90 per cent of the San Marino homes.

But a tavern, the head of the PTA Council argued recently, "would encourage passersby to stop, and we're not interested in the riff raff that goes through town."

Indeed, it wasn't until 26 years after the city was incorporated that a church could gain admission. The town has five now.

Someone said the town—which covers 3 1/2 square miles — even tried to exclude Democrats. But they now number one to every eight Republicans.

Police Chief Robert Seares says there hasn't been one armed robbery since he became chief 14 months ago. Officers, there are two for every 1,000 population, ride heavy patrol. They also guard school crossings.

This swank city even has its more exclusive and less exclusive sections. The one business street, Huntington Drive, bisects the town. The hills to the north are called the "Gold Coast" section, where the biggest homes are located.

Residences south of Huntington may have as few as one to three servants.

San Marino is proud of its culture. It is the home of famed Huntington Library and Art Gallery, with a Gutenberg Bible and Gainsborough's "Blue Boy" among its treasures.

Now to meet some San Marinos: Thomas Pike, assistant secretary of defense; Herbert Hoover Jr., assistant secretary of state; Reese Taylor, president of Union Oil Co.; Dr. Robert Hutchins of the Ford Foundation; Harold C. McClellan, assistant secretary of commerce, and Preston Hotchkis, until recently with the United Nations.

If you have the money and would like to move here, you'd better hurry. Only 190 vacant lots are left.

There's one drawback you should know about, however. The town is in the heart of the Los Angeles area's smog belt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Administration officials today optimistically forecast that the GI home loan guaranty business will continue at a near-record level of 650,000 applications in 1956.

They drew that picture despite administration moves in some fields to tighten credit but with encouragement from a slight easing this week in the Federal Home Loan Bank's limitations on loans to savings and loan associations.

Last July what are described as "moderate" restrictions were placed on both VA and Federal Housing Administration housing credit. There are indications these may soon be modified too by again allowing 30-year maturity loans. The maximum term of such loans was cut to 25 years July 30.

But there has been no indication of any easing in the federal reserve rediscount rate, which has been boosted four times this year until at 2 1/2 per cent it is at the highest level in 20 years.

Thomas J. Sweeney, director of VA's loan guaranty service, said VA is expecting some 650,000 GI home loan applications next year. Such applications are filed after a private lender has entered into a commitment to make a loan with VA guaranty of a portion.

Such a volume in 1956 would equal the record 650,000 estimated for this full year. It would compare with a previous top of 630,000 in 1950 and 528,000 in 1954.

VA's home loan guaranty business began booming in April 1954. Officials attributed the boom to a May 1953 ruling raising from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent the maximum permissible interest rate on GI home loans.

They conceded the increase has meant that some 950,000 veterans have committed themselves to pay as much as $51 million dollars more in increased interest costs than if the rate had been 4 per cent. But they said that without it few loans — or houses — would have been available to veterans.

We Wouldn't Care, Either

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus firemen reported receiving a number of complaints last night after answering a call in neighboring Franklin Township.

"We have our own fire department," an irate feminine caller from the township was quoted as saying. "We're not part of Columbus and we don't need your help."

Acting Fire Chief Samuel Zaayer of Columbus said his men got to the scene before township firemen even pulled out of their station and had the flames doused before township fire fighters arrived.

City firemen answered the alarm he added, because county commissioners recently approved the township's annexation of Columbus. James A. Reed, in whose apartment the blaze occurred, said he didn't care who put out the fire.

Jesus, Man of Prayer

CHRIST OFTEN SOUGHT SOLITUDE TO COMMUNE WITH HIS FATHER

Scripture—Luke 3:21-22; 4:18; 5:16; 6:12; 9:18; 22:29; 10:21-22; 11:1-13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

WE HAVE studied the Baptism of Jesus in our lessons recently, but possibly in the brief account Luke gives, we may have missed one word, and that is prayer.

"Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also, being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove, upon Him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, 'Thou art my beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased.'"

So at the beginning of Christ's ministry He prayed to His Father, and was heard and approved by Him.

"And when it was day, He departed and went into a desert place; and the people sought Him, and came unto Him, and stayed Him that He should not depart from them." After an evening of healing the diseased and casting out evil spirits, Jesus sought solitude, but the people followed and would not get put off.

It must have been difficult for Jesus to find a chance to go away by Himself to pray. His disciples were often with Him, and as His fame spread, He was followed everywhere by those who wanted to be healed or helped in some manner. But Luke tells us, Luke 5:16, "And He withdrew himself into the wilderness and prayed."

Again, Luke says, 6:12, "And it came to pass in those days, that He went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God."

We all know that we need quiet and solitude when we pray to feel near to God, so we see that even Jesus would need to slip away when He could to refresh His spirit in prayer.

One time when He was praying His disciples were with Him, but He had withdrawn Himself from them, and then He turned to them to ask, "Whom say the people that I am?" We know what Peter answered Him.

Shortly after that episode, Jesus took Peter, James and John and went up in a mountain to pray. The disciples were sleepy, but as Jesus was praying,

"His countenance was altered, and His raiment was white and glistening." The disciples awoke to behold the Lord in His glory, and were deeply moved thereby.

Jesus uttered a prayer of thanksgiving to God, thanking Him that He had hidden His message from the "wise and prudent," and "hast revealed them unto babes." Did He mean by that that the chief priests, the learned men of the temple, rejected His message, but the common people—the poor and ignorant—believed? and He was glad it was so.

On another occasion when Jesus was praying, His disciples asked Him to teach them how to pray, and He said, "When ye pray, say, Our Father, which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name. Thy

- Decent is more apt. Before now men have struck because of a Recent raise when it wasn't Decent enough!
- Dupe is the answer. A man is not a Dupe until after he gets into the wrong hands, that is, until he is made a Dupe by some wrongdoing person or persons. Only after that would he make the newspapers. Dope is often featured prominently in the news columns, when in legitimate hands—that is, without being in the hands of wrongdoers.
- Maps are sometimes closely studied for the purpose mentioned. All those millions of miles away, Mars can hardly be closely studied.
- Four is best. An Hour, or a Tour, in an open car could apply to one person, which does not necessarily ensure good fun. Four means the companionship of Four, which seems a surer answer to something which generally ensures "good fun".
- Lots of people didn't come across the Sea due to the restrictions on travel. Even those who could not get Tea couldn't say they didn't "come across it".

CLUES DOWN:

- Green is often associated with envy. Greed may accompany envy but is not necessarily associated with it in any way.
- Conflicting Nations can certainly arouse a great deal of bitterness. Conflicting Notions are simply conflicting ideas and may cause argument but it would be intolerance, rather than Notions, that would arouse bitterness.
- Ship is best since the clue refers to something a slaver used in plying his trade. In plying his trade a Ship was a necessity. The Whip was used, but not "to ply his trade".
- Last is preferred. "Dopes" do not all have the same action. They could make a horse run faster or slower, but since often a comparatively unknown horse finishes very fast it would be more likely to be the popular horse that finished surprisingly at the tall end—Last. That would arouse suspicion.
- Lads is more apt than Lids. The expression "they turn out to be" implies something that "develops" over a period of time. If Lids are misfits they always were misfits. Lads could develop into misfits over a period of time.
- A Snare always carries with it an element of danger. Its purpose is dangerous—to trap or ensnare. This is not necessarily true of a Snake; it might well be one of the many harmless varieties.
- Bear is a more comprehensive answer. Why should they Fear criticism. They will, of course, Hear criticism but Bear covers what they Hear, read about and Fear, thus a more all-embracing answer.

ARE YOU JUST A BABE IN THIS YEAR'S TOYLAND?

Santa Claus may be hopelessly old fashioned with his sleigh and reindeer, but the toys in his pack are designed strictly for the kids of our modern, up-to-date atomic age. Dolls that only blink their eyes or cry "Mamma!" went out with the nickel cigar—this year's dolls say their prayers and even blow their noses! Yesteryear's alphabet blocks have been magnetized and new chemistry sets offer "safe atomic-energy experiments." This fascinating article tells you what's going on in Toyland and includes a convenient toy-age guide.

INTO THE DULL ROUTINE

There was little excitement in a shepherd's life. Long, uneventful days beneath the hot sun on a grassy hillside. Long, lonely nights, still and shadowy as the moon rode slowly among the clouds. All the monotony of a million lives today.

But into the dull routine of a shepherd's life came the vision that has captivated the imagination of man for two thousand years. An angelic voice saying, "Fear not . . ." A heavenly host singing, "Glory to God . . . and peace . . ." The startling proclamation of the Saviour's birth!

The message still comes with brightness and joy to all whose lot it is to labor, to endure, to wait. And the Church, preaching the Truth of the One born that night in Bethlehem, calls men from the drabness of worldly pursuits to see this Thing which has come to pass, which the Lord made known unto a band of bored shepherds centuries ago.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bible Thought For Today

For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Hebrews 4:12)

Tax Cut Prospects Are Dimmer

In proposing a billion dollar boost in defense spending for the fiscal year starting July 1, Mr. Eisenhower posed a stiff problem for the gentlemen who inhabit Congress, doubly painful in an election year. Yet he was joined here Thursday by Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the powerful subcommittee on military appropriations, in the belief that higher and not lower military appropriations will be required. This means that the tax cut so dear to hearts of most congressmen and senators (and the public) may be ruled out. Sometime the consideration of a tax cut in an election year outweighs even military requirements.

But in this case the President's extra billion dollar proposal would go into the production of B52 bombers, jet interceptors and development of the guided missile program. Now these happen to be the three items in which Russia is believed to be overtaking if not outpacing us, the Russia's revival of the cold war on all fronts should make the most obtuse and determined economist and tax-cutter aware of the bald necessity of looking to our defenses.

Talk of a hold-steady course on defense expenditures, or even possible reductions there, went up into blue smoke when the Eisenhower program was placed before leaders of both parties at the Tuesday White House briefings. Mr. Eisenhower beat Democratic talk of a two-billion hike in defense spending to the punch — or at least by half a punch.

The success of the tax-cutting movement is imperiled, but not necessarily aborted, by the higher military spending program. There are other places where economies can be effected, if Congress wants to get tough with some other departments in an election year. Most likely target is foreign aid, and some pretty potent members of Congress are outspoken in their determination to throw it out the window. But a great deal of foreign aid goes into the military strengthening of our allies, and Congress is apt to take a pretty sober look at that angle before throwing it out the window.

If the current level of prosperity continues a few more months, it will still be possible to balance the higher budget and cut taxes too.

No Welcome Mat Out For Dr. John

West Germany was surprised, puzzled and at first amused at the sudden return this week from East Germany of its once principal security officer, Dr. Otto John, who fled into East Germany 18 months ago carrying with him all the secrets of West German security, not to mention the U. S. and British Armies.

So the Bonn government, although it might be perfectly justified in considering John a traitor of the worst kind, can't just back him up against a brick wall, as the Communists would.

It may be, of course, that the man went off his rocker, and is not mentally responsible for his conduct. That wouldn't bother the East German government any, but it would give pause to Bonn.

East Germany took the latest incident with suspicious calm. It made an official announcement: "Herr Dr. John, former president of the Bonn Office for the Protection of the Constitution, who was granted asylum in the (East) German Democratic Republic in July 20, 1954, has left the German Democratic Republic. Dr. John had repeatedly stated he intends to conduct the fight against neo-fascism in West Germany."

John had said he fled West Germany because he disliked the Adenauer government's trend back to nazism.

Whatever the Bonn government is saying and doing publicly, it isn't likely to grant the returned turncoat a great deal in the way of mobility and expression.

'Progress' Nudges The Old Order

SANUS ISLAND, BALI. — On this beautiful island the visitor can still see one of the last survivals of culture that developed through the centuries in its own elaborate pattern, with the celebration of marriage, birth and death prescribed in dances and rituals that absorb each individual in the community.

In India, Indonesia and Burma, a frequent accusation is that America has no culture. It is delivered both at first hand and in innumerable newspaper editorials with indignity, a chip-on-the-shoulder attitude that is partly self-defensive, a resentment of the Western viewpoint that sanitation, health and efficiency are superior to the ancient ways of the East.

Even a glimpse of Bali helps the observer from the West to understand what is behind this attitude. The old traditional ways of life are gone or they are threatened by the advanced technology of the West, which is summed up in American mass production and mechanization.

These new Eastern nations that have so recently won their independence are torn by conflicting emotions. On the one hand they want this "progress" and on the other hand they fear its effects in creating a rootless people, divorced from the past and with no loyalties to the present.

The troubling question persists — what is to supply the cement holding this society together if the old traditional life is exchanged for a half-way knowledge of reading and writing accompanied by a growing dissatisfaction because the opportunities of a brave, new world do not open up? What takes the place of the communal way of life if the mold is shattered by the invasion of progress and mechanization?

Nothing could seem more irrelevant in the village of Ubud, with its numerous temples filled with offerings of fruit and flowers, than the hammer and sickle painted in black on a billboard of woven palm fiber put up by the Communist party. Yet, there it is. For the semi-educated who have turned their backs on the past communism may offer an approximation — false but nevertheless alluring — of the oneness of the old communal life. Something like that seems to have happened in China where a furious, fanatic zeal is offered as a substitute for the traditional past.

The meeting of East and West — of tradition and technology — as seen in many Asian cities is good reason for dismay. To the squalor and misery of the past is added the screech and roar of motor traffic jammed into narrow streets side by side with bullock carts and burden-bearing coolies. Radios blare from shop fronts displaying cheap mass-production merchandise.

Here is the worst of both worlds and it is not hard to understand why an Asian leader, such as India's Nehru, acutely conscious of the ancient streams of Asian culture, should inveigh angrily against American soft drinks and other manifestations of American enterprise as it impinges on Asian life. With the change coming so swiftly everywhere, the old ways are bound to be held up to doubt. The Indonesian government claims to have cut illiteracy from 93 per cent at the end of Dutch rule to 60 per cent today. This may be an overly optimistic estimate, but millions in newly formed schools are being taught the rudiments of reading and writing.

The natural riches of a rich country are bound to be exploited and the problem still unsolved is how this can be done without disrupting the ancient pattern that has brought rewards and satisfactions through the years. There is no reason in common sense why Asian industrialization should be accompanied by the industrial slums that blighted 19th Century Europe and America in the early phase of Western industrialization.

The serene landscape of the rice paddies, with the figures of men and women working in the old timeless ways, seems infinitely far from the world of the second half of the 20th Century. But no one can doubt that it is pressing hard against even this last outpost of the splendid past.

Special Joy For Loretta Young

HOLLYWOOD — Loretta Young will have a special joy this Christmas. She'll return to her TV show Christmas night.

The actress was stricken April 10 with peritonitis. For months she was hospitalized, and Hollywood was concerned for her life. Now she has completed the long road back to health and is once again making films for her popular Sunday night show. But there's a difference.

"This time I'm appearing only every other week," she reported in her dressing room on the Goldwyn lot.

But she denied that the stiff filming schedule of her previous two years caused her illness.

"It could have happened to anyone," she remarked. "While I was in the hospital, two other women were admitted with the same thing; theirs had not been caused by overwork. But it's true that I was run down and didn't bounce back with the vigor that I might have."

Her weight dwindled to around 90 pounds

during the illness. Now she's up to a healthy 117 and is mighty proud of herself.

"I never thought I could do it," she said. "Why, I never weighed that much in my life. I always averaged around 110 pounds."

"I'd like to get up to 120, but I don't know if I can make it. It's hard for me; I've never been much interested in food."

How did she accomplish her weight gain? By hourly mailed milks and other "forced feedings." And by giving up cigarettes.

"That was the hardest thing of all," she remarked. "I've always loved to smoke, and I had to ask God for the willpower to give it up. Someone remarked that my illness had been providential, and I'm inclined to agree. If it hadn't happened, I never would have given up smoking, and I never would have stopped working so hard."

Dulles Lives And Learns

WASHINGTON — If Secretary of State Dulles wanted to write a book on his feelings about the Russians over the past five months he could call it "Live and Learn."

In that time he expressed plenty of qualified misgivings that the Russians had changed, but through it all, at least judging from what he said, he still clung to a feeling of optimism that maybe they had.

He went to last July's summit meeting in Geneva, where President Eisenhower talked with Soviet Premier Bulganin and the heads of the British and French governments, a meeting whose startling pleasantness developed the phrase "spirit of Geneva."

When he returned from there, he was reportedly worried the Western Powers might assume wrongly that the Russians had truly softened up and that it was all right to relax a bit. But on Sept. 22, in a speech to the United Nations, he said:

"A new spirit does indeed prevail with greater flexibility and less brittleness in international relations."

He sounded pretty optimistic, and he still sounded that way 23 days before he went back to Geneva for his October meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and the foreign ministers of Britain and France.

On Oct. 4—the Geneva meeting was Oct. 27—he told a news conference he believed the four foreign ministers would make positive progress at Geneva toward the reunification of Germany.

As it turned out, they made no progress on anything, and particularly they made no progress on Germany. Dulles and Molotov went to Geneva with opposite ideas on how to reunify the country and neither budged an inch to accept the other's.

The Russians were bothering Dulles nevertheless on Oct. 4, for he told reporters that day he had twice warned the Soviets that Communist shipment of arms to Egypt would not "contribute" to lessening world tensions.

Still, he kept thinking that maybe. On Oct. 10 he told the American Legion the Russians had a habit of zig-zagging to get what they wanted, but said he thought world opinion "will act as a compulsion on the Soviet Union to relax its grip upon East Germany and to permit reunification."

From the way the Russians acted when Dulles met them later that month in Geneva, world opinion was something which didn't seem to be influencing them at all. Dulles came back from that meeting and reported to the nation Nov. 18.

He said a number of questions were in the air, as a result of the meeting, including this one: "Will the so-called cold war be resumed in full vigor? He still seemed to be hoping for a silver lining for he answered the question:

"We must assume that the Soviet Union will continue its efforts short of war to make its system prevail. . . . We can, however, hope that this competition will not entail all the same hostility and animosity which so defiled relations between us in the past."

That hope faded in a hurry. Between then and now Bulganin and Chubby Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev visited Southern Asia, where they spread pure poison — without sugar — about the West and the United States and Britain.

Yesterday Dulles seemed like a badly disillusioned man. In Paris, talking to the NATO Council of Ministers, he said the East-West cold war is on again after nearly a year of Soviet zig-zagging.

In fact, he said, the Russians seem to have repudiated the spirit of Geneva.

Air Camera Is Potent Weapon

NEW YORK — How effective is the military air camera today? Could you really detect a military buildup in another country through photo reconnaissance?

These questions have been raised by President Eisenhower's proposals at Geneva for the exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection as "the gateway to a reduction in disarmaments."

The issue remains very much alive. Many government figures are privately hopeful the Russians will in time agree to the proposals, perhaps when supplemented by further suggestions on their part.

The President's "open skies for peace" plan is strikingly dramatized in an exhibit of aerial photography now on display in the Carnegie International Center here.

It shows concretely how effective the camera has become as an eye-witness from the air. The exhibit, planned by a U. S. government interdepartmental committee, has impressed many U. N. delegates and other visitors.

Just what can photo reconnaissance do? The most impressive single display is a single strip of film 200 feet long and nine inches wide. The strip maps an area of the United States 2,700 miles long and 490 miles wide from New York to Los Angeles.

The strip was filmed in 1948 from 40,000 feet—nearly eight miles up—in less than four hours. The same job could be done today by only two jet planes in less than two hours.

To the untrained spectator such a film reveals little. All he can pick out are mountains, cities, lakes, rivers and some roads.

But when sections of the film are enlarged and checked by trained photo interpretation experts with special instruments and new techniques, they reveal a very great deal.

An example of the speed of the aerial camera: A jet plane flying 500 miles an hour at low level was able to photograph and identify the cards in a poker hand laid out on an airport runway.

Aussie Yuletide Comes In Heat Of Summertime

BY GORDON TAIT
SYDNEY, Australia — Imagine Christmas Day with the temperature 80 or even 100.

There isn't a cloud in the sky. People are sleeping off their dinner on a beach, or under a tree in the mountains. The kids are running around in swimsuits.

In Australia Christmas comes at the height of summer, and in the middle of the children's vacation from school.

Most Australians try to get away from the city to the beach or mountains for Christmas-New Year. Hundreds of Australian factories and offices close for the period. Thus many persons spend Christmas Day away from home—in hotels, holiday cottages or tents. But wherever Australians happen to be, Christmas Day remains a family day. Often it is the one day in the year when whole families can get together.

More Australians go to church on Christmas morning than on any other day.

After church, hundreds of thousands appear at the many surfing beaches strung along the coast.

The big meal, despite the heat, is in the traditional English style: turkey or some other poultry, ham, pork, plum pudding with three-penny pieces inside and brandy sauce outside, and plenty to drink — all steaming hot except the ham and drinks.

Some families cling to "best" clothes for the midday dinner, with dark suits for the men, but more and more people eat in a sun dress, or shorts and shirt.

Christmas presents and cards are exchanged by the million. Most cards depict English villages and other white Christmas scenes.

Future For Science Can Be Brightened

There's been considerable comment in the news of late about the growing shortage of scientists and engineers, with warnings from this nation's seers that Russia, or some other nation, might eventually get the edge on us.

And there have been various explanations for this growing shortage. Some people would have it that there is in America a sort of creeping anti-intellectualism that is stifling the ambitions of America's youth, leaving them more interested in hot rods, girls (or boys), marijuana and sex than in more intelligent pursuits. Actually, there is much less anti-intellectualism nowadays than, say, 50 years ago.

How many of you old-timers remember when the words "scientist," "professor" or "inventor" brought general contempt or a slight sneer? And, after looking back, how does today's generation compare with yours, with all the emphasis on science fiction, space stations and the jet age?

Scientists and engineers are higher in the social scheme of things today. Anti-intellectualism today is aimed more at the pseudo-intellectuals in the arts and social sciences.

America's youth is waking up to the new age, and they are responding to it in greater numbers than ever before.

But there is still the increasing shortage of trained personnel. Truth is, this shortage is more to be blamed on increased demand than on lack of supply. The entire world's scientific endeavor is expanding at an explosive rate.

Various remedies have been offered. But we think the most sensible is a recent call to America's scientists that they become a "pressure group" on the schools and government to improve teaching of science, especially at the high school level. We might add it would also be a good idea to use some of this extra money being poured into our school systems to build modern laboratories for science students. Nothing is quite so boring to a high schooler as to sit through a droning lecture by a second-rate science teacher, with nothing to see or handle but a second-rate textbook.

Science, when one can see and take part in it, can be an interesting subject.

That Decision Eisenhower Must Make

There has been a notion in the air that at some future date, say in February, the President's doctors will be able to tell him whether or not he should run for a second term. The White House press conference on Saturday, at which Dr. Snyder and Col. Mattingly submitted to rigorous cross-examination made it plain that while the doctors might advise the President not to run, it is the President himself, not his doctors, who will have to make the final "determination" that he is able to run.

Dr. Snyder, who was pressed on the point, was scrupulously careful to insist that the President's "ability" to run again, would, even if everything goes favorably, have to be left to the President's own decision. His decision would be not merely whether he wanted to run, whether he felt it his duty to run, whether he felt it his duty to run but whether he was "able" to run. This cannot be a medical decision because the doctors cannot foresee what demands will be made on the President during the next five years. "Is it possible," Dr. Snyder was asked, "to assess how much another term will take out of a man?" To this Dr. Snyder replied, "No. No, it is not. It is not."

The task of assessing how much another term would take out of him is—if the doctors give him the most favorable report—the President's own personal responsibility.

There cannot in the nature of things ever be an objective, scientific, authoritative determination that he can carry the load of the Presidency during the next five years. That is a question for his judgment and for his conscience.

In the meantime the President has already, it would seem, made an important preliminary decision, which is to put off his decision about running again. There are two main considerations involved. The one is that the better his recovery, the better able he will be to bear the heavy load of making the decision about running again. Whichever way he makes that decision, it will be a demanding decision, one fraught with heavy responsibility. The other consideration is, of course, that the longer he is able to put off his decision about a second term, the longer will his leadership remain undisputed inside his party.

Presumably, the inner Eisenhower circle, sometimes called the regency, feel that were the President to announce his retirement, there would at once be a struggle over the succession and that the struggle might go against them. Perhaps the greatest weakness of the Eisenhower administration is that there is no genuine, self-evident successor to whom the Eisenhower Republicans and the Eisenhower independents can readily be rallied.

The crucial question is whether the Eisenhower men are using the postponement to prepare a successor if he is needed—or whether they are wishing so hard to have the President run again that they do not dare to tempt fate by thinking about his not running. If it is the latter, that they are shrinking from an unpleasant subject, it must be said that they are playing for too high stakes at too poor odds.

Since there are no precedents for what to do when a President is partially incapacitated, it is only fair to recognize that the inner circle of the White House and of the Cabinet have been doing very well indeed. They are, of course, treading water, not moving much from where they are though the times are full of movement. Eisenhower, to be sure, has happily not been so much incapacitated as Wilson was. But he has been largely absent from the seat of government. Yet in his absence there has been an agreeable lack of the intrigue and of the throat-cutting which usually take place when leaving is away.

On the other side, the absence of the President has, as Mr. Roscoe Drummond pointed out on Monday, left the Administration without a responsible spokesman. For more than four months there has been no presidential press conference. It seems unlikely that the President's doctors will soon let him hold a press conference. The way these affairs have developed, they must be—use Dr. Snyder's word—among the most "demanding" of the President's labors.

I agree with Mr. Drummond that "some alternative method of putting questions to the President needs to be worked out very soon," and with his suggestion that once a week written questions should be submitted to Mr. Hagerly. They could be given written answers which would, of course, be prepared by the departments and edited by the regents.

Even before the President's illness it was fair to argue that the oral questions and answers were not sufficiently informing—especially on intricate matters—and that they needed to be supplemented by written questions and written, that is to say deliberate and fully informed, answers.

Push-Button War Comes High

NEW YORK — Push-button warfare comes high. The indicated rise of one billion dollars in spending for defense dims the hope of businessmen today that the heavy load of taxation that business carries will be lightened.

The increasing costliness of today's supercomplex weapons may also cut the chances of the individual taxpayer for much relief soon.

If you must blame someone, blame the scientists — their ideas grow costlier.

Business hopes for tax relief had grown out of the business boom itself. Gross earnings are so remarkably good and payrolls so high that the U. S. Treasury stands to take in next spring a billion or two more in tax collections than it had counted on when the budget was drawn up a year ago.

This seemed sure to balance the budget and perhaps leave room for tax relief — most likely at the individual income tax level, and possibly at the corporate income and excise tax level.

That was before the Russians turned their smiles in other directions and returned to calling Uncle Sam and his friends bad names. Defense needs are more apparent now than in the days of the "spirit of Geneva."

New weapons in this age of atomic warfare and guided missiles come with ever higher price tags.

Businessmen have seen the scientists do the same thing to them.

The days when a firm made one product year after year — maybe, generation after generation — are fast fading.

This year's gasoline has a higher octane rating than last. The drugs that grandfather used are overshadowed on the shelves by ones he never heard of. The kitchen you consider a simple necessity would have been unbelievable to great-grandmother.

The cars, appliances and other durable goods you buy today cost more because today's gadgets are more complicated and scientifically advanced than the ones Dad bought in the good old days — ones that you wouldn't buy today even if they were offered at a comparably lower price.

Waco Trust Firm Slapped With Court Stop Order
AUSTIN (U)—A temporary restraining order prohibiting the U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco from doing further business in Texas was signed by Dist. Judge Charles Betts today.

Betts appointed a temporary receiver to take charge of the assets. A hearing on temporary injunction and permanent receiver was set for Dec. 22 in 98th District Court.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd brought the action at the request of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners.

His petition alleged the company is insolvent and that it and its subsidiaries had falsely stated their assets and freely transferred them in violation of state laws. The suit came after the board's denial yesterday of the company's application for a license to sell securities under the new insurance securities regulatory act which took effect Sept. 6.

The board ruled that U.S. Trust and Guaranty, which has 20 branch offices, did not qualify for a license to sell securities.

Betts' orders also apply to the U.S. Automotive Service and the Arkansas Fire and Marine Insurance Co., alleged by the state's suit to be subsidiaries of U.S. Trust and Guaranty.

Named defendants in the suit were A. B. Shoemaker, V. E. Ridling, Sam Deeley, Robert Abernathy, Joseph Trautschold, Irwin Wilhelm and James Hay, all of Waco.

U.S. Trust and Guaranty handles auto insurance coverage and also is a depository offering securities to individuals.

Seeing Eye Stays With Sick Master In Hospital Room
HOUSTON, Tex. (U)—Punch, a 20-month-old German shepherd Seeing Eye dog, was admitted to Jefferson Davis Hospital yesterday with the privilege of bedding down in his owner's room.

Hospital officials slashed red tape and a long-standing rule against dogs to reunite Punch and Elbert Spencer, his blind owner.

When Spencer was admitted Monday to the hospital for eye treatment, Punch defied all efforts to calm him or coax him to eat. Tuesday night he had a convulsion.

In arranging for Punch to have hospital privileges, Spencer's physician said, "It's best for both the patient and the dog. Spencer was nervous and upset over the animal and it was becoming difficult to treat him. The dog was becoming ill and it would be criminal to let anything happen to a very intelligent and highly trained animal like him."

Uncle Ray: Water Adds To Force Of Electric Current
By RAMON COFFMAN

In a pioneer test, men proved that electricity could flow from one side of a river to the other. That event took place 208 years ago. An electric current flowed through an iron rod and entered the water at one side of the Thames River. On the other side of the river, the current was "caught" by a wire.

In a later test, an electric current was sent across the Thames, and it set fire to brandy which was held in a cup on the other side! One observer used a spyglass to look across the river and watch the brandy take fire. He reported that the fire started in "no time."

Those tests were interesting, but they were made by men who knew little about the dangers from electric currents. Thousands of cases are now on record in which water brought injury even death, to people who were handling electric wires, or machines containing electric wires.

Q. What dangers are increased by water?
A. There are many, many kinds. One terrible event, which has been reported several times, is the death of persons in bathtubs after radios fell into the water. NEVER place a radio in a position from which

One man used a spyglass to see when brandy burst into flame on the other side of the river.

It could slip, or be jarred into, a bathtub.

Other accidents have taken place when housewives or maids were "doing the laundry." While standing in a little water on the floor, and touching a washing machine or electric fixture at the same time, a girl or woman may be shocked, possibly suffering death. If a machine is in the right repair, it may be touched without danger, but a machine may get out of order.

As a general protection, an open rubber mat or a low wooden platform, may be helpful to a person working in the laundry. The wooden platform may be made from a few short planks, and may be raised only an inch or two above a cement floor. A good rule for the laundry is this:

Keep everything except the clothes as dry as possible.
