Max Wilson's Premier Service Station got off to a mighty good start in its three-day opening last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A lot of cars went through the new driveways to get Premier gasoline and the two pounds of sugar that the station gave away with each purchase, and a lot of kiddies were made happy with balloons and candy suckers. The station newest Rising Star business, is located on the 300 block on East College Street. It will be a 24-hour station as soon as it can get properly organized, and it services the big trucks which form an increasingly heavy part of the traffic on Highway 36, with both butane and diesel fuels.

For another class—this time of 25 members—High School days are over. The sadness with which the youngsters view their separation from the association and pursuits of their public school years, is much more prophetic than they seem to realize. For it is quite certain that none of them will ever again experience quite the happiness and freedom of their undergraduate days. They are stepping out into the beginnings of personal responsibilities which will no doubt grow more burdensome as the years increase, and it will not be too many moons before they will be looking back with longing to those days when Pop and Mom paid the bills, and the teachers did the worrying over bad grades.

A lot of them will be telling themselves they should have taken more advantage of the opportunities they had. But that is true of all of us, for the eye that looks backward sees a great deal more clearly and regretfully than that which looks front.

Nevertheless, it is a fine class of youngsters who took their diplomas Tuesday night and stepped out into a brave new world of their own, and you can bet your life that its members will give as good account of themselves as have the members of other fine classes who have graduated here. For all that the school is small, Rising Star graduates have done right well in their chosen fields. Not a few of them are in positions of great responsibility in the world, a tribute to the character of our graduates and the training they have received.

Good luck and good hunting, High School Seniors of 1959!

Charlie Smith, 84, Buried Wednesday In May Cemetery

Funeral services for Charlie Otho Smith, 84, who died at his home in May, Texas, Tuesday at 6 a. m., were held at the First Methodist Church in May at 4 p. m. Wednesday, with burial in May cemetery. The Rev. J. Roy Williams, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Richard Jackson, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of May. Burial in May cemetery was under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home, Rising Star.

Mr. Smith, a retired farmer and native of Carter County, Kentucky, had lived in Brown County for 20 years. He is survived by his wife, Sallie Catherine; three sons, O. C. Smith of Alpine, Garland of McCamey, and Sgt. Kenneth of the U. S. Army; four daughters, Mrs. Gladys Lancaster of Mesquite, Mrs. Katie Harrell of May, Mrs. Beatrice Horton of Odessa, and Miss Rita Smith of Odessa; three brothers, Andrew Smith of Amarillo, W. D. Smith of Gorman, and Walter Smith of Rising Star; two sisters, Mrs. Edna McCarty and Mrs. Julia Barron of Oklahoma City; 13 grandchildren, and several great-grandchildren.

It's Rodeo Time Again!

Biggest Parade To Open New Season Here Friday, June 5

The Rising Star Roping Club will inaugurate its 1959 series of summer rodeos Friday June 5, with what appears now to be the longest and most colorful parade of all the years that this popular western entertainment has been carried out here. Riding clubs from Baird, Eastland, Breckenridge, Winters and Comanche have already accepted invitations to ride in the parade which will be held at 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, a change from the hour originally announced.

Eastland will furnish two clubs—the Eastland County Sheriff's posse and the Posse Anns, the latter a colorful organization of women riders separate from the men's riding club. From Baird will come the always spectacular Callahan County Sheriff's Posse and Breckenridge will send the green-shirted Buckaroo Riders who reflect some of the theme and glory of the famed Breckenridge High School athletic teams. The Winters Riding Club and the Comanche Riding Club and possibly other clubs will also appear along with the Rising Star Riders who sponsor the rodeos.

The parade will be led by the Wildcat Band of Rising Star High School which is keeping its organization after the closing of the school term in order to appear in the parade and assist the Rising Star riding club in its rodeo opening program. Lloyd Gonzales is the director.

The first performance of the highly competitive rodeo series will begin with a grand entry at the arena east of town at 8 o'clock p. m. Already the list of competitors is full, and the quality of the contestants, including many professional performers from all over this section, will be as high if not higher than in previous contests. A new feature will be added in the form of barrel races for members of the Texas Barrel Racing Ass'n, an organization of professional women barrel racers. The usual barrel races for amateurs—boys and girls —will be held. Other events will be goat roping, calf roping, bronc riding and bull riding. The best of last season's bucking stock, including several animals which have never been successfully ridden, plus several new broncs will furnish some rough mounts for the contestants in the bronc division, while a whole new corral of wild bulls has been secured for the entertainment of the customers in this feature of the rodeo contests.

Rodeo contests will be held each Friday night throughout the summer. Admission prices are only 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. President of the Rising Star sponsoring club is Horace Witt. Jack Jackson is vice-president, A. D. Jenkins is secretary and C. A. Claborn is treasurer. Leonard Brown, Bill Hagaman and Cole White will be arena directors, while Dixon Boggs, Ed Witt, Chuck Elliott, Duby Jones and Virgil Bramlett are club directors.

There will be a homecoming at Sabanno, Sunday, May 31, to which all former residents of Sabanno and others interested in meeting and talking with old friends are cordially invited. The homecoming program will be held at the Presbyterian church, starting at 10:30 a. m. Bread and drinks will be furnished, and those attending are asked to bring basket lunches.

There will be a community singing next Sunday afternoon starting at 2:00 o'clock at Long Branch. The public is cordially invited.

Dr. W. S. Carter is again at his dental office after several days of treatments at Medical Arts Hospital in Brownsville.

Mrs. D. F. Jones of Pharr, Texas, mother of Mrs. J. B. Carter and a brother, A. I. Carter, died at her home in Pharr, Texas, Sunday, May 24, at the age of 84.

John Cargile of Dallas spent the week-end at his parents' and operation Dallas. His wife, Mrs. Cargile, and his mother, Mrs. Cargile, were with him at his home here.

'You Must Make Your Job,' Graduates Are Told

Double Header To Inaugurate Little League Season

The Rising Star Little League schedule gets under way Thursday night of this week with a double header involving all four of the teams at the new and lighted baseball field at the City Park.

The first game will begin at 6:30 p. m. by the Indians and the Yankees, coached by H. L. Geyer and Ed Jackson, respectively. The Braves, coached by Doyle Maynard and the Dodgers coached by Bullet Thompson, will play the second game. The game will be called at nine o'clock, if not finished by the hour, since under Little League rules play cannot continue past that hour.

With more than $1,500 already raised, all costs of organizing and equipping the teams and building the lighted field will have been paid, President J. D. (Skeet) Clark announced. This will include the cost of extra suits ordered to uniform the additional boys who joined the League. There are more than 60 youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12, inclusive, who are listed on the rosters of the four teams—a number which exhausted the 57 suits originally ordered.

There will be no charge for admission to the games, but the hat will be passed each evening and a generous response on the part of the fans will not only pay the light bill—which will run around $6 per evening—but may make it possible to construct bleachers for the fans, said Mr. Clark.

There will be games each Monday and Thursday evenings during the summer.

Junior High Cheer Leaders Are Elected

Cherry Maples was elected cheerleader of the Junior High next year at the election held by the Pep club last week. Other cheerleaders are Sharon Donham, Loretta Pittman and Anna Ezzell.

Judy Lewis was elected drum major and Pat Burns assistant. Twirlers are Sharon Roach, Linda Duggan and Sherry Jones.

Miss Jay Childress is sponsor.

Lions Work On Rescue Unit For Gift To City

The Rising Star Lions Club adjourned its regular meeting Monday evening after dinner to devote the remainder of the meeting time to the sanding the ambulance purchased from the Higginbotham Funeral Home to be converted into a rescue unit attached to the City Fire Department. Several members came armed with emery paper and dressed in working clothes including the president, Dr. Ben H. Bradley.

The unit will be given to the city which, it is understood, will equip it with necessary equipment for rescue and life saving.

Rising Star OES Will Install New Officers

Rising Star Chapter No. 227, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet Monday, June 1, at 8 p. m. for the installation of officers for the year 1959-60. All members are urged to be present.

YOUR NEIGHBOR MAY ADVISE YOU HOW TO PACK A TRUNK

"Life does not hand out careers on a silver platter—you must make your own job," Dr. Ben H. Moore, Presbyterian Minister of May, told 25 graduating Seniors in the commencement program at the High School gym Tuesday evening.

The veteran minister spoke on the theme, "What Shall I Do?", a question, he said which troubles every age and time and which can only be answered by the individual.

The supply of talent exceeds the jobs available, he said. But every individual can make his own job. He can do what he wants to do, he said. The minister quoted Emerson: "Beware of what you set your heart on for it shall surely be yours." You can do what you want to do, said Dr. Moore.

But there must be purpose and a sense of direction, he added. "Set you up gulchposts—go to the highway," he quoted from Nehemiah, "otherwise you will be a wandering, listless person, doomed to failure and regret."

"In choosing your career, I hope you will choose what you like to do. A person who is not happy in his job is like a square peg in a round hole. He is a miserable person. Above all, choose one in which you can take pride and in which you can be of service to your fellowman. Choose the good life."

One vital essential of a successful life is to have faith in people, and faith in God, said Dr. Moore.

The commencement followed a baccalaureate sermon at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening in which the pastor, the Rev. Ed Jackson presented to the graduates "Three Basic Fundamentals of Living."

A better tomorrow, said the minister, must be created by you. Progress does not come from wishful thinking; it comes from individual creativity, the disciplined and dedicated individual.

The first fundamental, said the minister, is to know yourself—to know one's ignorance, one's profession and one's limitations. The second fundamental, he said, is self-control—control of one's thinking, actions and passions. The third fundamental he cited was self-denial in service to others. "He that shall be greatest among you," said the minister, "shall be your servant."

Diplomas were presented to the 25 graduates Tuesday night by Prin. Ray Nunnally after Supt. Sam Jones had made special awards. He paid tribute to the class and its sponsor, Weldon Hill.

Highest of the awards went to the two honor students—Essie Hearren, valedictorian, and Nelda Lee, salutatorian, who received scholarships and medals.

Other awards were: Home economics medal—Linda Koonce, who stood second highest in her class in all-around scholarship; Outstanding librarian—Barbara Bishop;

Yearbook editor—Bill Rutherford;

English III and typing—Danelia Darnell;

English IV—Jack Smith

Bookkeeping—Nelda Lee;

Freshman High Average—Carol White;

Junior High Average—Bennie Sue Morris;

The High School Band, directed by Lloyd Gonzales, furnished music for the program.

The High School commencement followed a program at the gym Monday evening in which Prin. J. M. Crump presented certificates of graduation to members of the Eighth Grade of the Elementary school.

Showers Break Long Dry Spell; Cheer Farmers

The best rain since almost a year ago brought smiles to the faces of the farmers and business men alike Friday and Saturday. Preparations for planting a new crop. Precipitation ranged from 1.5 to 5 inches generally over the Rising Star territory, with the heaviest fall recorded in the area southwest toward Lake Brownwood.

The City gauge recorded two inches.

In some localities, notably in the section northwest toward Nimrod and Cook, there was scattered hail, some of it intense enough to do considerable damage to fruit, gardens, and buildings.

The rainfall brought a about four inches the total received in Rising Star since the first of the year. While it gave relief to the moisture-starved soil and insured planting of a peanut crop, still more is needed. Most of the rain was soaked up by the thirsty soil and stock water, which is in short supply, was not greatly replenished, according to cattlemen.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

WASHINGTON, D. C. - In the last several years "Special Days" officially proclaimed has become a vogue.

We are now designating entire years to special purposes to place emphasis on special subjects.

The Geophysical Year has just been completed. Special efforts were made in the scientific field, but particularly the publicity was stepped up to inform the public on certain phases of research and experiments.

A new one—A Real Dilly—has now been dreamed up. It is to be a "World Refugee Year."

The President has just proclaimed the year beginning July 1 as World Refugee Year, and pledged increasing Government aid for more than two million refugees.

The President set forth a five point program which includes easing immigration restrictions, permitting an additional 65,000 so-called Refugees and Escapees to enter the United States.

Legislation has been introduced to authorize the Attorney General of the United States to admit an unspecified number of refugees "fleeing oppression."

While we look under every stone at ists; while we attempt to stamp out disease; prevent crime; reduce unemployment; clear slums; it becomes Government policy to open up our doors to a lot of people, who under our immigration laws are considered "undesirable" and are not permitted to enter.

All these people will need to do is leave their country for any reason, say they are a refugee, and they become eligible to enter. All they need to do is start a riot such as occurred in Hungary in 1957, run out of it, and they are eligible.

The so-called Hungarian refugees permitted to enter in 1957 and 1958, are mostly congregated in the ghettos of the big cities, and this is about as definite as our officials know of their whereabouts or what they are doing. Their only responsibility is to register as an alien the first of each year, but many have failed to do so. They are not U. S. citizens and have no responsibility by reason of being here. Yet, we propose to open our doors to more of the same.

Our present immigration laws provide quotas from various countries. These quotas are set to permit immigration of the most desirable people. A certain number is provided for those nations supposedly more nearly like the United States.

Senator John F. Kennedy has introduced a bill which would remove these quotas entirely and allow 250,000 immigrants each year on a first come, first served basis.

The present law provides that visas should be allocated to countries in proportion to their share of the U. S. population in

Man of Vision

One hundred and fifty years ago, Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the world's first successful reaper, was born on the family farm in Rockbridge County, Va. In observing the sesquicentennial of his birth, International Harvester Company depicts the evolution of farm machinery from its infancy up to today's high standards of mechanization. The above drawing shows McCormick, age 22, at the first public test of his reaper in July, 1831. Below is the company's newest combine—the McCormick No. 151 self-propelled Hillside harvest-thresher. As a comparison, the first reaper could harvest 10 acres a day. Today's modern combine will handle up to nine times as much.

eliminated, and unused quotas assigned to other areas.

As surprising as it is, the bill to authorize the Attorney General to admit an unspecified number of refugees on a parole basis, is authored by Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee and also Chairman of the House Immigration and Naturalization Subcommittee of the Judiciary.

This is the sort of sentiment generated by a few big organizations in this Country, led by prominent people in disregard of the opinion of the ordinary citizen who is not in the ranks of the professional "do-gooders" and who has seemingly no voice in keeping out these thousands of people, many of whom should have no place in this nation.

We should only have to look in the daily newspapers of crime reports in the big cities, the riots, the political picketing, and other actions inimical to our standards, to have an idea of what it means to compound a serious situation already existing.

The leaders of this policy say it is "humanitarian." It probably is in some cases, but the risk is great in many others. (It is also just possible that the bloc votes of the foreign elements in the big cities may also

No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Course For Army Reserve Officers Will Be Conducted

Major General R. G. Gard, commanding general, VIII US Army Corps (Reserve), announced today that a special two-week course of instruction for US Army Reserve officers will be conducted at the Command and General Staff College under the auspices of the Chief of Information, Department of the Army.

Two-fold purpose of the course is to develop a nation-wide cadre of US Army Reserve Officers to act as spokesmen for the US Army in the course of their civilian activities and to provide these spokesmen with authoritative background information concerning current and future US Army trends and developments.

Two classes will be conducted, the first from August 2 through 15 and the second from September 13 through 26, 1959.

The special course is intended primarily for personnel with mobilization designation and troop program unit assignment to information duties. However, others may attend.

Officers will attend the course in lieu of their annual active duty training. No quota for this course have been allotted to zone of interior armies. Determination as to the number to attend will be made by the Chief of Information based upon nominations submitted by Army Commanders.

Nominations by letter must be submitted through channels to the Commanding General, VIII US Army Corps (Reserve), 200 West 8th Street, Austin 14, Texas, ATTN: AKVIII-AC, to arrive not later than June 17, 1959, for the August class and July 17, 1959, for the September class.

A brief biographical sketch, prepared in triplicate with the following information must be included for each nomination: Grade, name, service number, full mailing address; age; US AR assignment; military education; civilian education; occupation; affiliations, and civilian; and public and speaking experience.

Mrs. A. D. Foster and Bevelyn, of Cross Plains, and Mrs. Carl Smith and family on Saturday, May 23.

Automobile Accident Rules Should Be Memorized

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. STOP! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. RENDER AID. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both.
3. DO NOT move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.
4. PROTECT THE SCENE FROM FURTHER DAMAGE. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.
5. CALL AN OFFICER. Policeman, Highway Patrolman, Sheriff's and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claims or damages.
6. GATHER INFORMATION. Write it down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver and he must do the same.
7. BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.
8. SEE A DOCTOR if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.
9. CONSULT YOUR LAWYER IMMEDIATELY. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

REPORT THE ACCIDENT to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or the total damages exceed $25.

An official accident report may be procured from the police, Sheriff's department, Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

Infra-red Heat Is Answer To Dry Storage Problem

College Station — Ever have you been getting your hay or other crops too dry before they are ready to store? Or to store them for a longer period? There probably isn't a farmer or rancher who hasn't.

Much of the problem has been solved by a scientist at the Station with the use of infra-red heat—much faster and cheaper.

"Infra-red heat isn't new, but this is the first time we know of its use in drying crops and the potential appears unlimited," said Dr. David W. Rosberg. "It can be used on grasses or legumes, potatoes, onions, pecans or any other crop which needs surface moisture removed in a hurry."

Dr. Rosberg also has been successful in controlling some plant diseases and insects in early tests with infra-red. He is working with various type units, both gas and electric, as sources of heat and to determine costs.

Tests with alfalfa show that infra-red can dry big volumes fast and retain full color. Lab tests will determine if there is a loss in quality.

Rice can be dried very rapidly, removing about 3 per cent moisture per minute. Also insects in rice were killed during radiation exposure during the drying process, which indicates infra-red may overcome many insect problems in stored grain.

He also has been successful in controlling pimple disease on watermelons by treating the seed, and onion neck rot disease.

Seed and disease on plants are being subjected to infra-red in more extensive tests to determine other beneficial uses.

Infra-red heats only what it touches, making possible and practical the use of small heating units mounted on standard processing equipment, without having to heat an entire area to dry the product or control the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hunt and the two sons of the Hunts were here for a week-end visit with Mrs. Jessie Lee, sister-in-law of Mr. Lee.

Mrs. Edna Hancock returned last week from Fort Worth where she visited a cousin, Mrs. Howard Stapp, who returned with her to visit a brother, Ed, die Kennedy, under treatment in Eastland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sherrill have closed their school at O'Donnell and have come to their home here for a vacation.

Future Of Egg Market Linked To Risk Share Plan

College Station — Egg producers are much concerned about the current low prices being paid for their product and future improvement.

Extension Economist John G. McHaney says that at least eight basic factors are involved in the present situation, both from the price standpoint and future improvement. He lists them as total production, number of layers in the nation, rate of lay, hatchery production, weather conditions, number of flock replacements bought, storage stocks and long range changes that develop in the production and marketing of eggs.

Egg production for the 1959 January-March period in the nation was six percent over the same 1958 period. In Texas, the increase was 14 per cent. Egg prices in Texas for the first quarter of 1959 averaged about 11 percent below a year ago. April prices dropped 24 percent below those for the same month in 1958. The rate of lay in the nation is up four per cent and number of layers three percent.

McHaney said that production of egg-type chicks in the nation for the first quarter of 1959 was only slightly higher than for the same period in 1958 but smaller hatches were in prospect for May. The large hatch during the last half of 1958 is largely responsible for the present egg supply and will help maintain the large number of layers in late 1959, he said.

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes McHaney, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. Many commercial firms guarantee the poultry producer profits amounting to 4 to 6 cents per dozen. The degree to which these vertical integrated practices spread—and they are spreading, says McHaney, will influence what happens in the next few years to the production and marketing practices presently used by the egg industry.

Grand Neice of Rising Star People Is Crowned "Miss Wichita Falls" For 1959

Eighteen-year-old Carla Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Gray and grand-daughter of Mrs. Noble Gray, formerly of Rising Star, is Miss Wichita Falls for 1959.

The vivacious young beauty was crowned at the Memorial Auditorium in Wichita Falls in the climax to a majestic parade of beauty and talent. The Wichita Falls newspaper account says:

"Miss Gray, dazzling the audience with her outstanding poise and dramatic reading, was crowned by Miss Cecilia Spires, last year's Miss Wichita Falls.

"The brunette beauty also captured the Miss Congeniality title, being elected by the contestants themselves for the honor.

"Five judges selected Carla over a dozen young ladies who paraded their talents, personalities, dress and swim suit competition before a near-capacity house."

"She will receive a $200 scholarship awarded by the Jaycees. She will also represent Wichita Falls in the Miss Texas page-ant in July.

Miss Gray is a grand neice of Mrs. T. B. Busbee, Raymond Gray, Mrs. Virgil McGaughy and M. D. Gibson of Rising Star.

AUSTIN — Texas Dairy Princess Roselind Priemeyer salutes Texas Dairy Industry on its traditional "June Dairy Month" observance. Texas "June Dairy Month" Headquarters, the American Dairy Association of Texas, reminds that Dairying ranks 2nd in Texas in agriculture importance with $1.00 out of every $8.00 earned by Texas as agriculture a dairy dollar.

Visitors in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Cook Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hector of Burleson and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eehrens, Mrs. Ralph Steven and Tracy Lynn of Copperas Cove.

Returning for the summer from North Texas State College are Bennie Jarrett and Eddie Joe Henry.

Bob Siekman, son of Mrs. Alynne Siekman, is a senior student at Sul Ross College and will graduate from the school in August.

Rebekah Lodge Has Fun Night After Meeting

Members of the Rising Star Rebekah Lodge enjoyed a social and supper at the Odd Flows Hall, after lodge Thursday night.

This social was the culmination of a series of events. The first night each member brought a dress, tied up in a paper bag, these bags were mixed up, and sold to the members for 25 cents each.

The next lodge night each brought a hat, these were distributed in the same manner. Then a purse was brought, and last a sack lunch and on the last night each lady had to wear the articles which she had purchased regardless of fit, or suitability.

Some had dresses up to their knees, with petticoats showing, and some had their draped on them like a sheet hanging on a pole. Hats were out of this world.

After the fun had subsided somewhat, the sack lunches were spread, soft drinks were bought up, and every one enjoyed the feast.

Mrs. Eva Sturdivant of May, who is a member of Kermit Rebekah Lodge, was a visitor.

Freedom In Sight For No. 67138 After Serving 29 Years Of 99-Year Sentence

By VIRGIL MOORE

EASTLAND—For the past 29 years Raymond Mathers has been known simply as Number 67138.

That's Mathers' number at Huntsville State Prison, where he has been an inmate since March 4, 1930. Mathers drew a 99 year sentence in 88th District Court in Eastland for "attempted rape."

Since that time he has worked night and day for just one thing—his freedom.

Mathers' case is a strange one. Court records show that he was tried before Judge Elzo Dean in the old 88th District Court, which has now been abolished. County attorney was Joe Jones and the appointed defense lawyers were T. J. Cunningham and M. McCullough Sr.

When given the 99 year sentence the then young man became a problem prisoner at Eastland County jail, records reveal. His conviction was never appealed by his attorney.

Strangest thing of all, perhaps is the fact that when State agents came to Eastland to pick up prisoners they refused to take Mathers back with them. Not just once, but several times the agents took all other convicted prisoners, but would not take Mathers. Judge Turner of the 91st District Court, says he can't recall for some reason why the agents wouldn't take Mathers, but he believes it may have been that the agents thought Mathers was not of sound mind.

At any rate Mathers stayed in the County jail for several weeks until finally, County Attorney Jones got a bench warrant ordering Sheriff Virge Foster to take the prisoner to Huntsville.

Today Mathers has actually served 29 years in prison, and has been 99 years and nine months of time to his credit. Apparently without a friend outside of Huntsville. Mathers picked the district judge of Eastland to write to. Several years ago he began a series of exchanges with then 91st District Court Judge George L. Davenport.

At one time, after investigating the case, Judge Davenport recommended the prisoner's pleas, but the pardon board refused to act. Judge Collie began receiving correspondence from the prisoner.

This week Judge Collie, County Attorney Earl Conner, Jr., and Sheriff J. B. Williams received letters from the pardon board asking an opinion on a possible release for Mathers. Judge Collie already has returned his form and has recommended the prisoner's release.

Why? The Judge says he has seldom heard of any prisoner serving such a long sentence on a conviction of "not more than 99 years and not less than five." He also feels the fact that the case was never appealed should have something to do with it.

The judge explained, however, that the pardon board would not release Mathers unless someone offered him a job. Judge Collie doesn't know if someone has or not.

How does Mathers feel about his years in prison? Reading through the thick file of letters in Judge Collie's office this reporter noted that he continually referred to the conviction as his "so called case."

At one point he described his sentence—he has spent far more than half his life behind bars—as "years of living in hell."

The pardon board, and the pardon board alone will decide the issue, however. It's up to them to say if Prisoner No. 67138 will become Mr. Raymond Mathers again or not!

Homemakers News and Views

Recreation and summer time just naturally seem to go together. Wholesome recreation is a year-round need for old and young alike. More of us are realizing that fact all of the time, according to the way we take in various recreations.

With summertime just right here with us, the youngsters out of school, and lots of parties, picnics and family gatherings planned, this is an excellent time to take a look ahead. Why not have a family conference, so to speak, and plan for the best use of leisure time, energy and recreational dollars for the summer months.

First, study the recreational interests and needs of each family member—Help each one develop a greater variety of interests. Next, plan time for recreation in the family schedule. Talking this over helps family members to see how adjustments can be made so that everyone has some individual time for recreation, and that all members plan some time for family recreation—at least all members plan some time for family recreation—at least once weekly.

The next step would be to plan and provide a place that is a comfortable and adequate place for each family member. For indoor recreation, an unused room or basement would be ideal for TV, piano, record player, or indoor games. For outdoor recreation, the family might arrange a court for horseshoes, volley ball, badminton or croquet. A cement porch or driveway makes a good shuffleboard court. The garage or carport is good space for table tennis or other games. Outdoor cooking provides lots of enjoyment for the entire family.

Family or community recreation can help keep some of the kitchen, but the bedroom. This is where most elderly persons fall, often because they get up too quickly and become dizzy. When a person gets up, he should sit on the edge of the bed for a few minutes.

Taking a step backwards. If a person feels uncertain about his footing, he should never step backwards unless he can see where he is going.

Not lifting feet high enough. As a person ages, his muscles and ligaments are less lively and he doesn't lift his feet as high, with the result he trips over all sorts of things—rug corners, toys, thresholds and doormats. Other dangers are bathrooms and climbing on chairs. (A weekly feature of the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.)

Drip-dry Fabrics

Dripping is essential for smooth drying of cotton and rayons with a minimum-care finish, and for best results, lift the clothes from the rinse water after laundering. Hang smoothly on a hanger. Don't wring, twist or squeeze to remove water.

As the water drips off, it smooths out creases or wrinkles left from laundering. A final touch-up with the iron may be needed to make hems, seams, and edges as smooth as new.

Some of the synthetic fibers, as dacron, also have this drip-dry quality. Clothes made of these synthetics will be wrinkle free when dry only if lifted from the rinse water and hung to dry with the least possible handling. The more they drip, the smoother they dry.

About Your Health

Falling is one of the commonest but most unnecessary hazards faced by older persons according to the Texas State Department of Health.

Hundreds of thousands of old people are injured every year from falls, and more people die after 65 from falls and their complications than from auto accidents injuries.

One of the major factors in falls is that as persons age their balance-recovery ability falls. If a person starts to "teeter," certain muscles in his body instantly go into action to keep him on his feet. But in older years, these muscles get lazy and don't function as rapidly.

Some of the most common causes of falls and their preventions are:

Stairways. When an older person goes up or down stairs, he should not take one step with each foot, but should put both feet on a step before proceeding to the next one.

Insufficient light. Older persons don't see as well as they once did. Stairways especially should be lighted. A night light in the bathroom is recommended. In addition a person should keep a flashlight by his bed to use if he gets up in the night.

Bedrooms. The most dangerous room in the house is not

'Slow Down and Live', Traffic Safety Theme

For the seventh year, Texas is promoting the summer-time traffic safety campaign under the 'Slow Down and Live' slogan. The Texas Safety Ass'n will coordinate the program throughout the Lone Star State. The theme for 1936 is "Can YOU Stop in Time?"

As in previous years, the campaign starts with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day. This period has been selected for the campaign because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.

J. O. Musick, TSA's general manager, points out, the theme, "Can YOU Stop in Time?" emphasizes the four basic causes of every accident.

"A mechanically unsafe vehicle, a roadway hazardous in design or size, a driver inadequately equipped for his task or a driver whose mental and emotional attitude (often caused by traffic jams, drinking or fatigue) is such that it causes him to forget his normal safe driving habits."

Brush Chopping Pays For Rising Star Rancher

By HENRY WOLFF, Jr.

Abilene Reporter News

RISING STAR — Even goats at one time could barely eke out a living on 500 acres of sandy land which J. D. (Skett) Clark of Rising Star is turning into a profitable pasture enterprise.

Clark purchased the land for $10 and acre, and brush control practises have cost him an additional $8 per acre. However, most of the land will bring $50 or more an acre today. His project has not been all cost, although goat-cattle operation has paid dividends throughout the land improvement program.

First, he had to get rid of the extremely thick post oak and blackjack shinnery that sapped the moisture and would not let grass get started. He began chopping, the heavy growth trol machine five years ago. At with a 21,000-pound brush center chopping the land was seeded in oats with a jeep and seeder. This land produced grazing from the original seeding, and the following year from volunteer seeds. By this time native grasses began to come in. Today, Clark can point out 20 or more grasses native to the locality in the once worthless fields. Even though some of the grasses are not of good grazing they still point out that grass will grow there if given an opportunity.

He has good residue from the chopping, and most of the larger limbs have rotted enough where they are no problem. A few very large tree trunks were removed.

Forty acres of this virgin soil is in watermelons this spring. Clark feels by putting a crop in one year he will have a chance to clear the land enough to handle it with a mower should the need arise after permanent pasture is established.

This watermelon land will be put in small grain and vetch this fall, and finally seeded with a perennial grass in the spring of 1960. He is thinking of using Coastal Bermuda, a grass that is more hardy than the smaller variety of this area. Coastal Bermuda has been tried in the Rising Star area with success, but is not what he termed a proven pasture yet. The main purpose of the small grain after the melons is to control wind erosion.

Mrs. Ura Samuels of Lubbock spent a week here with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Cawley, and other relatives.
