The tableau picturing the famous flag-raising scene on Iwo Jima during the war which the Wildcat Band featured in its concert recently, drew a quick hand from a far-away Marine and former resident of Rising Star. I have just received the following letter from Pfc. Mary E. Perkins of the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, Calif.:

"I read about the band concert that was presented May 16 by our Wildcat Band and was very much impressed. As many of you know the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima was done by four Marines and one Sailor and as I read the article I tried to picture the raising of the flag and the battle in which so many of our American men fought and died. Since the seventeenth of May was Armed Forces Day and the concert was presented on the sixteenth I felt proud to be a part of the Armed Forces and to be from a town that takes such a day into consideration. I showed the paper to several people here and I pointed out the article. As each person read the article I noticed the expression that came on their faces and they all said, 'That's a wonderful thing for a high school band to do.'"

"We at Camp Pendleton wish to express our thanks to the Rising Star Wildcat Band and to Miss Peggy Tate for depicting the raising of the American flag on Iwo Jima."

"Mary E. Perkins,
"P.F.C. U.S.M.C."

Mrs. Florence Graves had an abrupt and unexpected call Sunday afternoon when a trailer pulled by a car en route to Comanche broke its hitch and stuck its tongue through the living room wall directly beneath a double window. The hitch stopped only inches from the couch on which Mrs. Graves was preparing to take a Sunday afternoon nap. The folks in the car pulling the trailer were quite embarrassed and everybody was more than a little excited for a while. "Something told me," said Mrs. Graves, "that I shouldn't lie down just yet. How do you account for that?" Fortunately the only damage was a hole through the wall about a foot or less square. Shults Implement Company furnished a chain and the runaway trailer was pulled out of the wall and re-attached to the car.

One and One-Third Million Acres Upper Leon SCD Now Includes Over

Following is the annual report of the Board of Supervisors of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District just released. B. B. Hickman of Rising Star is chairman of the board:

The Upper Leon Soil Conservation District was formed under State Authority in an election held December 14, 1940. Certificate of organization is dated March 20, 1941.

Since organization it has been enlarged by 338,790 acres in 12 annexations. It now comprises 1,346,412 acres of which 1,235,754 acres in agricultural land of which 57 percent is cultivated and 43 per cent is pasture and rangeland.

There are now between 5000 and 5300 operating units in the district and 3,015 of these owners and operators are District Cooperators.

The board of supervisors consists of B. B. Hickman, Rising Star; F. M. Surlen, Rt. 2, Eastland; W. J. Fritts, Rt. 1, Comanche; Wade George, Rt. 3, De Leon; and H. W. Turney, Rt. 7, Dublin, had 11 regular and 2 called meetings during the year. The attendance of the supervisors of these meetings was approximately 90 percent.

Summary of Progress
Board members rendered assistance to Mr. Chessmore with SCS trainees at John Tarleton College Training Center by discussing District Organization work with these classes.

District stayed 100 percent in Payment of State and National dues in District Supervisors Associations and in giving full cooperation to these organizations. Memorandums of Understanding were signed with Extension Service personnel early in 1952.

Cooperation was extended to local ministers in observing Soil Stewardship week in May. Some 60 booklets were distributed and reports indicate that more than 5,000 people attended these special Soil and Soul observance services.

Special meeting with ACP, Contractors, Commissioners Courts, Extension Service representatives, SCS, FHA and leading farmers and ranchers for joint effort in soil and water conservation was held in Eastland in April 1952.

Special field days were held at Rising Star in July on grass seeding results, and at Dublin in August for inspection of Green Creek Flood Structures with owners of all sediment pools. The Board assumed responsibility for maintenance of all remaining structures with understanding that vegetation of all structures would be completed by the Soil Conservation Service.

Watershed Association in Green Creek, Resley Creek, Rush Creek and Cow and Armstrong Creeks have continued active in this SCD with outstanding progress in securing District Cooperators and in land treatment. The C of C at Eastland has asked for a group meeting early in 1953 in the interest of furthering the upstream flood prevention program.

The District put out its first Newsletter to cooperators in fall of 1952 and were pleased with results. Plans call for issuing the Newsletter on a quarterly basis in 1953, starting with an issue in February 1953.

B. B. Hickman was re-elected Supervisor for Subdivision 4 in October 1952.

Letters of agreement were secured from Comanche and Erath County Commissioners Courts for sponsoring Cow-Armstrong Upstream watershed in matter of letting contracts and underwriting maintenance costs. These agreements had previously been secured from these courts for Rush and for Resley Watersheds.

Best Grain In Years Ready For Harvest

One of the best grain crops of all time was beginning to be harvested in the Rising Star area this week. Oats, the principal crop, wheat, barley and rye are showing for yields almost fantastic in some places, as a result of the ideal moisture conditions of last winter and spring.

Although there was no accurate estimate of the acreage, it was clear that one of the heaviest plantings in history would be harvested.

There was some reports of rust damage but such it was seemed to have had little effect on the fruit, affecting the stalks which, weakened, would have been easily damaged by high winds. However, the weatherman has been unusually kind to the growers of the area. There has been little damage, and only a moderate amount from hail.

The yield of oats was estimated to average about 50 bushels to the acre with some growers expecting as high as 70 to 80 bushels. B. B. Hickman's oat crop west of Rising Star was said to be good for 70 bushels or more. The price was running about 45 cents this week.

Wheat, not normally a high yield crop here, will be good for around 20 to 50 bushels, while barley and rye will have equal good yields.

The harvest should be well under way within a week, farmers said.

Reports from San Saba and the high yield small grain areas of that area said that oats would run as high as 100 bushels per acre and more. The crop was said to be the finest in history.

Geo. Goss, veteran Brown County farmer and agricultural leader, who has resigned as SCD district supervisor because of ill health. Goss is shown here with a citation awarded him in 1954 by the Texas Bank and Trust Co. of Fort Worth.

Geo. Goss Retires As SCD Supervisor In Brown County

George Goss, pioneer Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District Supervisor, has resigned his post effective with the election of a new supervisor at an election meeting to be held June 10 in the Brown County courthouse. He is resigning because of illness.

Goss was instrumental in the creation of the Brown-Mills SCD having worked for its organization in both Brown and Mills Counties. The district was created under State law in 1941, following a majority vote of farmers and ranchers within the two counties.

Following the creation of the district, Goss was appointed secretary to the five-man board for a term of one year. During this appointment he helped prepare the district's Work Plan and Program. He began a diligent and conscientious appeal to the farmers and ranchers whom he was appointed to serve to begin the application of soil and water conservation programs on their farms and ranches.

Goss was elected to serve a five-year term as supervisor of the district in 1942. He has served for 17 years. His present term will expire in 1949.

"The conservation work that has been done on farms and ranches by landowners who have cooperated with our District is good. We feel that a great deal has been accomplished in our time but so far as getting the overall program accomplished, we have only scratched the surface," Goss said.

The Brown-Mills SCD is subdivided into five zones each zone being represented by one man elected within his zone by owners of agricultural land.

"A supervisor must be a landowner who loves his land, conserves it and is willing to give his time and his ability for others in seeing that they receive the kind of assistance needed in applying soil and water conservation measures on their land," Goss remarked.

All agricultural landowners who own land north of US Highway 67 in Brown County are urged to attend the election meeting and vote. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, June 10, in the Brown County courthouse at Brownwood.

Mr. Goss is well known in agricultural circles in Eastland County where he has been recognized as a leader in pecan culture and in soil conservation practices.

He was honored several years ago with a citation from the Texas Bank and Trust Company of Fort Worth as the most outstanding SCD supervisor in his district.

Brown-Mills SCD Leader Resigns

Teen-Agers to Play First Home Game on June 12

The Rising Star Teen Age baseball club opened its play in the teen-age league Monday, June 2 with a 21 to 0 loss to the strong Cisco club, but most of the score could be charged to nervousness. At the end of the game, played at Cisco, the local boys had settled down to where they gave their opponents some real competition.

The Rising Star boys lack the benefit of practice and playing together over a considerable period, but they are overcoming this handicap with regular practices at the Wildcat football field where they will entertain other league clubs in the summer schedule.

The Lions Club is sponsoring the local club and thanks were extended to Preston Mangum and F. D. Eakin for assistance. J. W. Bishop is coach. Donations to help the boys may be given to Roy Holly, Mr. Mangum or Mr. Bishop.

The first home game will be played here June 12, with Ranger.

The Rising Star lineup at Cisco was Dicky Morrow, pitcher; Burl McKinnerney, catcher; Rodney Smith, 1b; Gerald Green, 2b; Geo. Cook, 3b; Gerald Bishop, ss; Ronald Alford, rf; Billy Cook, cf; James Evans, lf.

CofC To Send Committee To Produce Area

The Chamber of Commerce Tuesday voted to send a group of its members to the produce growing areas in Arkansas and Missouri, and possibly other vegetable producing sections, to make a study of the methods of production and the effect on the economy of the areas with the hope of bringing back information that might assist in the development of more prosperous and diversified agriculture in this section.

The group, yet to be selected, will be asked to make a special study of the local processing plants which, it is said, have made possible a more effective truck and fruit and other produce-growing industries. These plants include canneries, poultry processing plants and similar local industries which have proved, in conjunction with the program, to be a commercial success—a success that has revolutionized the economy of an old and cropped out area.

At the luncheon at the Elite cafe, the CofC named a committee to canvass the business men in an effort to secure as large a crowd as possible to go to Nimrod Monday, June 16, at 10 a. m. when the Nimrod Neighbors Progressive Club will receive an award in the Rural Neighborhood Progress Contest and the Pasture Improvement Contest conducted annually among rural communities of the state. For Better Service, Convenience and Safety Support the Extended Area Service Plan!

We, the undersigned citizens of this area, favor the proposed Extended Area Service Plan of the Kizer Company and urge its approval.

The benefits of automatic dialing, toll-free service between all telephones in the area mapped above will more than offset the small increase in rate required. The fact that any patron within the area may dial a hospital, a doctor, a school, a minister, a business house or other institution within the area, without calling long distance and paying a toll will greatly increase the efficiency and the convenience, and even the safety of our communities and people.

It will have a beneficial effect upon business activity, upon property values, upon better schools, churches and living values. It will be a step for progress.

We urge you to support it.
