'Cats Meet Mason Here Friday Night

The Rising Star Wildcats, crippled with the loss of their regular quarter and chief ball-carrier, Robert Nedeham, nevertheless gave the favored Llano Yellowjackets a much better game than the score indicated at Llano last Friday night.

Except for two plays, each of which resulted in quick touchdowns for the Llano team, the game was closely fought throughout. The first was a fumble on the Rising Star 20-yard line right after the kickoff which the Jackets seized and converted into a quick touchdown. Before the Jackets scored another in the first period. In the second period, however, the 'Cats held their heavily favored opponents scoreless.

On the opening kickoff of the second half, however, the Llano team ran the ball back for a touchdown. For the remainder of the half, however, the Rising Star boys settled down and made the contest an interesting one. Rising Star's weakness on pass defense was a factor in the 34 to 0 score which the Llano team ran up against the home boys. Another fumble near the last of the game cost the Cats a possible score after they had driven 80 yards to the Llano two-yard line. The ball was fumbled across the goal and recovered by Llano for a touchback.

The game dealt another blow at the limited Wildcat manpower when Edward Burns, regular guard, was retired because of a knee injury. Donald Crisp, who took his place, did an excellent job, especially on defense.

In the absence of Nedeham, Gary Scott ran the team at quarter. With him in the backfield were Eugene Bishop, Mack Elliott and Jack Calloway.

This quartet, with the possible exception of Bishop, who is nursing an ankle injury, will start the game against the strong Mason eleven here Friday night. Nedeham will not be able to play, Coach Ray Nunnally said, and in the event Bishop will not be in condition, Kenneth Ridens will hold down his halfback post. Burns will also be out of the game, very likely, and Crisp will fill in at guard post.

Mason which defeated Llano 19 to 7 and lost its first game of the season last week to Sonora, brings a light, fast team of young players who are heavily favored over the ailing 'Cats. They are co-favored with Cross Plains to take the district. The game will start at 7:30 instead of 8.

Here En Route to Fair With Winning Horses

Clarence Darnell, nephew of Fred W. Roberds, from Albuquerque, New Mexico, was a visitor in the home of the Roberds here. He was on his way to the State Fair at Dallas to enter his Palomino horses. The two Palominos have won the grand championship of the state of New Mexico. The horses have won in halter and performance. The quarter-horse is the champion in performance in the United States this year. It is an unusual treat to have Clarence visit here and show his horses, which he has trained. He grew up on a ranch near Rodeo, New Mexico and has been riding, roping and training horses all his life.

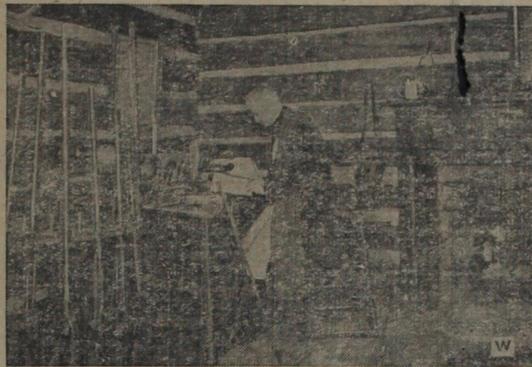

RETURNS FROM VACATION

Rev. R. A. Brooks, pastor of the Methodist church, his wife and two children, have returned from an extended trip through the northeastern states. They traveled about 2,000 miles, and are tired, but happy to be at home. He preached at both services Sunday.

ATTEND BROTHER'S FUNERAL

Mrs. H. R. House, Lessie Claiborn and Opal Hill attended the funeral of Mrs. House's brother, George Lane Morris at Comanche last week. Mr. Morris was 97 years and nine months of age at death. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Sam Houston Devoted to Huntsville Home

Sam Houston's law office, where no woman was ever allowed to enter.

Few men ever grew to love a house more than General Sam Houston, Texas' first and favorite son. His self-designed "bang-up place," as he referred to it, at Huntsville offered him more comfort than the stately mansions he occupied while representing the "Lone Star State" in the nation's capital during his three terms in the Senate.

The October McCall's article, "Sam Houston Loved This House" recreates life during the mid-1800's in the then tiny frontier settlement of Huntsville. Sam bought the 174-acre homestead seventy-five miles north of Houston in 1847 for $1,000, and proceeded to build a white, two-story, six room, colonial style house, where eventually seven of his eight children were born.

The Houstons regularly entertained visitors to Huntsville, placing heavy emphasis on Texas-style food. Recipes for some of Sam's favorite dishes—Texas baked ham, pear cobbler, southern rice pudding, Alamo lemon jelly cake, and Sam Houston's favorite, white cake with chocolate frosting, which appears on the magazine's cover—are given in the article.

Houston's life was full of adventure and drama from the time he left his father's Virginia plantation at the age of seventeen to live with the Cherokee Indians in Tennessee, until his victory over Mexico for the Texas Territory. He attained the rank of General in the Union Army, while fighting under Andrew Jackson, who later helped him become Adjutant General of the Tennessee militia, paving the way for such positions as prosecuting attorney, congressman, and Governor of Tennessee at the age of thirty-five. It was during his tenure as Governor that his first and unsuccessful marriage took place. He later married Margaret Lea who bore him four sons and four daughters.

Bernal Hickman Re-Elected Soil District Supervisor

Bernal Hickman, supervisor of Sub-district 4 of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District, was re-elected to a five-year term at an election held Monday, October 14, at the agriculture building of the Rising Star High School where the sub-district offices are located.

The election was supervised by M. B. Shook. A. D. Jenkins was secretary. Walter Fritz of Comanche, chairman of the district board of supervisors, opened the election.

Following the election coffee and doughnuts were served at the Elite Cafe.

There was a good turnout of voters.

Scout Drive Under Way Toward $300

Rising Star set out Tuesday of this week to discharge its financial obligation to the Boy Scout program. By Tuesday night it was more than two-thirds of the way toward the tentative goal of $300 it has set for the campaign. Approximately half of the workers were yet to make their reports to Bob Shults, local campaign chairman.

"Not that we are limiting ourselves to any figure," said Mr. Shults. "We are not pushing people but we want every person to have a chance to contribute to this program which has meant so much to the boys of our nation and to our own boys. I sincerely hope that everyone who is interested in the welfare of our boys and can do so will make a contribution. We would very much like to go over the top."

"If you have not been contacted by a worker you may leave your contribution with Art Fisher at the First State Bank, or at the Chamber of Commerce."

The campaign got under way with an Early Bird breakfast at the Star Cafe Tuesday morning attended by 23 workers and Boy Scout representatives. Joe Galbraith, Scout executive of the Comanche Trail Council from Brownwood spoke to the group and a sheet showing how the Boy Scout dollar is distributed in financing the program was passed to the workers. Only 10 per cent of the fund is used for administrative purposes, the remainder paying for all the various activities that the boys carry on in their work.

Present also were the Rev. R. A. Brooks, Jr., scoutmaster, and Harvey Chick, cubmaster. Two members of the local Scout troop, Billy Cook and Charise Carroll, demonstrated artificial respiration.

"Unless we help our boys we will hurt them," said Mr. Galbraith. "John Dillinger could have been a great man, if he had had the proper direction and training such as the Scout program gives. As it was he was neglected and went the wrong way. "This Scout program is a sharing, a sharing of our means and efforts with our boys in order to develop good citizenship and good leadership."

After the breakfast the Scoutmaster and Mr. Galbraith went to the Ward School where 26 boys not now members of the troop here said they wanted to join.

Wm. E. (Bill) Tyler, president of the First State Bank, and a member of the Executive Board of the Comanche Trail Council, also issued an appeal to the people of the community to support the Scout program. Mr. Tyler, whose injury last June prevented his attending the dinner, told the officials of the campaign that he was deeply concerned for the program and anxious that Rising Star measure up to the challenge of its boys. "I hope sincerely that we can go over the top," said Bill.

11.8 INCHES AT CISCO

CISCO.—Eleven inches of rain fell in the Cisco area during a 4-hour period Sunday morning, causing considerable damage to business firms, rural roads, farm lands and city streets. Highway 183 south of town was closed as the Leon River spread half a mile wide. Rainfall total measured 11.8 inches through Tuesday morning, bringing the year's total to 43.38 inches. Lake Cisco gained 6½ feet to within 8½ feet of spillway.

GAME POSTPONED

CISCO.—The football game between the Cisco Junior College Wranglers and Brookes Army Medical Center team has been tentatively postponed until December 7, because of "flu". Coach Arnett Weeks of the Cisco team said half his squad was out of action due to illness and injuries.

Mrs. Carl White and daughter, Jamie Kay, of Rio Grande, are here to be with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Weathermon, who has undergone surgery on her eye. Mrs. Flara Westernman will be with Mrs. Weathermon.

Good Rains Soak Rising Star Area

Rains measuring up to four and five inches soaked the Rising Star territory during the early part of the week, giving winter grain crops the best prospects in years and brightening the agricultural outlook wonderfully. None of the torrential downpours which dumped 12 inches or more on Cisco and created serious flood conditions in other communities, were experienced here where memories of last spring's deluge which inundated half of the Rising Star business district were still apprehensively clear. Instead the moisture fell in the most beneficial fashion, soaking into the ground with a promise of good sub-soil moisture next season, and giving grain crops and pastures a much-needed boost.

Opinion as to the effect on the peanut crop was varied, but most farmers held that the benefits of the rain far exceeded its damaging effects. A very short peanut crop is in prospect, but even so only a small percentage of the crop has been dug and is not expected to experience much damage.

In the city of Rising Star proper the city gauge recorded 2.86 inches of rain from Sunday until Tuesday morning. Outside the city, however, precipitation ranged much higher. Stock water was plentiful.

Farmers were hopeful that there would be a let-up in the rains for a few weeks in order that the peanuts might be dug and grain and pastures given a chance to grow. But whether or not there are more of the downpours immediately, the rains have brought a new feeling of optimism to the area.

It was the first moisture of any consequence to be received in this drouthy area during the fall in a number of years and held forth the promise of a good season on which to start next year's crop.

Former Rising Star Man Is Honored

Sam S. Millwee of Goldsmith, formerly of Rising Star, was honored recently by the Phillips Petroleum Company for 35 years of service. He is the brother of Ed Millwee, a local resident.

Mr. Millwee, a veteran of the natural gasoline department, began his company career in this area. He served at the Pioneer gasoline plant for 15 years before transferring to the West Texas district where his present position is chief engineer at the Andactor booster station.

Mr. Millwee was one of 211 long-service employees honored at a dinner at Bartlesville, Okla., the home office of the company.

Locally Controlled.

Texans always have been independent in spirit. They do not like for outsiders to tell them how to conduct their affairs. Most of them believe, and rightly so, that the closer government is to the people the better it will be.

That is why Texans should approve Constitutional Amendment No. 3 at the Nov. 5 election. This is the amendment that is designed to help solve our water problem. It places the responsibility for solving local water problems with local people. At the same time it makes available the resources of the State to those communities financially unable to completely help themselves.

This amendment provides for the issuance of up to $200,000,000 in bonds by the State of Texas for construction of facilities for storage and preservation of surplus waters.

These funds would be loaned to local municipalities and water districts to augment local funds. Proposal No. 3 is so written that this money will be available on an equitable basis and cannot be grabbed up by a few large projects.

The State will function primarily as a second-lien holder, taking revenue bonds on a given project over and above the amount of money that can be raised on the community's own credit rating. State participation is limited to one-third the total cost or $5,000,000, whichever is less.

It is an incontrovertible fact that Texas receives all the water it needs in rainfall. The difficulty lies in the fact that it usually is a case of feast or famine. When rains come the water rushes to the Gulf of Mexico, flooding valuable land and destroying life and property. Then come the dry seasons when crops, lawns, humans and animals die and suffer from lack of water.

The proposed amendment would change this picture by helping local communities build reservoirs for preserving the excess moisture for use when there is none from the skies.

THE WISE PHILOSOPHER'S CORNER: "Where there is no vision, the people shall perish."

THAT'S WHAT WE'RE GONNA YELL!

What's what, we're gonna yell? Here's what we're gonna yell—Yea, Wildcats, beat those Mason Cowpunchers! The cheerleaders are working very hard to keep the Mr. School Spirit working 'round o' RSHS. We would like for anyone who has spirit, to come to our pep rallies on Friday morning at 10:40; it makes us students realize that we have your support.

The Santa Anna pep rally was an enthusiastic one. The stunt was a "Yell-a-Meter Stunt". We had a thermometer; and as the students yelled, it rose little by little. After four yells we finally made it reach the top. Last week at the Llano pep rally, we had one of our most effective stunts. We portrayed a park and the cheer leaders and majorettes were the sun, trees, flowers, and grass. You might know—Billy Rucker and Joe Crisp were the saps (tree sap). Thanks, you two!

The cheer leaders will be back again next week telling you all about Mr. School spirit, but now let's think about this week and Mr. School Spirit says, "Let's go 'Cats and lasso a Cowpuncher."

Editorial

A SIX WEEKS IS GONE!

It is hard to believe that one-sixth of the 1957-58 school year has crept away leaving only memories and a growing store of knowledge. Perhaps, to many of us, this store of knowledge was not as much as we had thought. Ask any teacher, and they will tell you that generally a pupil's grades the last six weeks will be no higher than they were the first. Why? Because in the first six weeks' period we set our pattern of study for the remainder of the year.

Now if we will allow our minds to wander back a month or so, we will remember many experiences and events. The first day in high school is still vivid in the minds of our freshmen. The sophomores can remember the feeling of the first few weeks when they could be looked up to rather than be known as "fish". The juniors for the first time ventured into the field of money-making. As for the seniors, they, for a while, felt a real air of greatness because they were members of the privileged class.

Also, we think back to the battles waged on the football fields; our close game with the Tigers, our gallantly fought game with Wylie, and the thrilling contest with the Longhorns. The games with Santa Anna and Llano are still in the minds of the Wildcat supporters as games played with that old Wildcat spirit.

We could not help but remember the fair and our beautiful maidens and queen from our school, the debut of the Rising Star Wildcat Band for this year, and all the other exciting events.

Now let us turn our minds to a future six weeks.

It would behoove all students to make a resolution to study harder so as to reap a harvest of knowledge as we enter another six weeks of learning.

BE READY!

Beginning this week, the Annual Staff will be selling Community Birthday Calendars. These calendars were well received last year. You have seen them and know how useful they are. Husbands and wives have been made to remember birthdays and anniversaries they would have ordinarily forgotten; thus, the calendars save pots and pans being thrown at forgetful husbands.

Our calendars are an adventure in friendship to make a friendly community more friendly.

The money from these calendars will be used to make a bigger and better annual this year. With your help and support of the birthday calendars, our 1958 "La Estrella" will be the best annual ever published at RSHS.

JUNIOR CHATTER

The Juniors are back again this week to tell you that six weeks have already passed by in our nine month term. All the tests are over and it seems that the first six weeks tests are the hardest of all.

Think someone picked a wrong time to have tests or go to the Dallas Fair? All the FFA boys and FHA girls were sleepy all day Monday in classes. Getting up at 3:30 a.m. is a little before most of us usually awaken—uh, Mom? There is always a chance that you will get a little sleep on the bus; that is unless you have someone that is long-winded and wants to talk. We all seemed to enjoy our day very much and accomplished a great deal from the many displays but oh, our aching feet and empty pocketbooks! We left Dallas at 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon and arrived home about 10:30 that night.

Everyone was surely glad to see Mom and Dad and most of all they were proud to go home and get in a nice soft bed; however, we were lucky to have the chance to go.

Come on, Wildcats, claw those Cowpunchers!

Nelda Lee has a cold; she thinks you should know why the drips and drips!

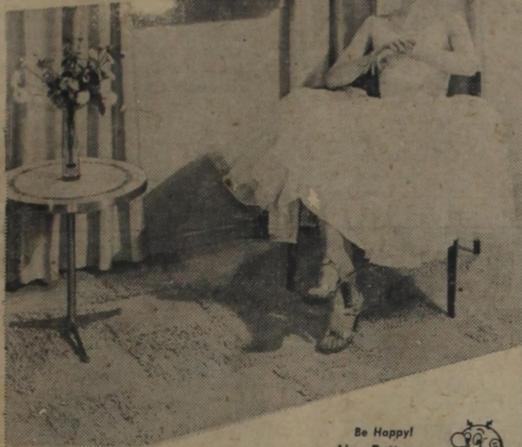

By the way, Bill did paint his car with a broom.

Don L. didn't you get your vocabulary word mixed up?

Everybody out and back the Wildcats; they need you and the game is on our home field.

and nothing is as COOL, FAST and SAFE as Electric Cooking—

As this modern kitchen clearly shows, today's trend is to electricity. And perhaps the best example of this is the electric range. Smart looking, convenient, insulated on all 6 sides (as are all electric ovens) you get even steady heat for baking and roasting. No guesswork with electric surface units either. The heat you set is yours automatically every time. And the heat goes directly into the bottom of the pan, not up the sides and into your kitchen.

But the thing you'll appreciate most is the way your electric range stays modern—year after year.

Now is the time to be thinking about storing those summer clothes. Right storage will increase the life of these clothes. Here are some suggestions for keeping out-of-season clothing in good condition until next summer. Mend any ripped seams, tears, loose buttons or other damages. A few stitches can lengthen the life of a garment. Wash or dry clean all garments before storing. Store cottons and linens unironed. Make certain all starch is removed. It can cause fabric to deteriorate and may attract silverfish. Dry garments thoroughly and store in a dry place to prevent mildew. Store in large boxes or trunks to make room in closets for fall clothing.

If you can't afford a new fall hat, give the old one a new look with careful brushing and cleaning. Start by careful brushing. This may show up spots and stains that need special treatment. Try using the sandpaper method first. With a piece of No. 0 sandpaper, begin at center top of crown and gently sand in the same direction around the crown, side crown and the brim.

If this fails, use naphtha or other cleaning fluid. Dip a small brush as nail brush, in the cleaning fluid, shake out excess liquid and brush hat until the soiled spots disappear. Remember to work outdoors when using cleaning fluids. White or light colored felt hats may need special treatment. Saturate corn meal with naphtha or other cleaning fluid. Rub the mixture into the felt with a clean stiff brush. When fluid has evaporated, brush out the corn meal and air the hat before storing.

Leather accessories are expensive items in the clothing budget these days. Fall and winter costumes call for more leather belts, bags, gloves, and shoes. Preserve the beauty and lengthen the life of leather articles by proper care.

Shoes especially receive hard wear. An economical plan is to have two pairs for alternate daily wear, permitting each pair to rest or dry out between wearings. Perspiration weakens leather, and causes shoes to crack and rip. Use a good shoe cream frequently to protect the leather. Preserve the shape of your shoes by using shoe trees or paper pads in toe and heel.

Oil belts, bags and gloves, use cream or wax polishes to protect the leather and keep it pliable and soft. To remove spots from leather articles clean with benzene or gasoline, air well, and repolish. Saddle soap can also be used to remove dirt and grease from leather articles between polishings. Prevent cracking and preserve the finish on patent leather articles with vaseline. Use a cheese cloth pad to apply a light, even coating once or twice a month.

News and Views Tip of the Week:

Keep freshly ironed garments from wrinkling before you get them from ironing table to closet. There is a new fold-away aluminum rack with projecting arms that holds up to a dozen pieces. It can be used for drip drying garments, too.

"WE'VE HAD IT!"

We Seniors have really been through the wringer! School was going along just fine and all of a sudden, Six Week's Test hit us right in the face. The midnight oil has really been burning for us, hasn't it, Patsy? The tests were just as hard as we expected, except for biology. Mr. White always picks on us!

Murder in the first degree—that's what we've had in English. We have been reading "Macbeth" which is, to us, the most interesting story of a life time. How about that, Seniors?

The Seniors will be selling Christmas cards soon and we would appreciate it if you would buy all your cards from us. We have a wide variety—you can get personalized or plain ones.

This is the Senior Class signing off saying, "Beat Mason".

Nothing annoys a woman more than to have a man that has loved and lost her—turn out to be a good loser.

"Lips that touch wine shall never touch mine," said Susie, and after that she taught school for years and years.

Mother: "You should always use your napkin, Jimmy."

Jimmy: "I am using it, Mother. I've got the cat tied to the leg of my chair with it."

In Russia, it doesn't take a fellow long to talk his head off. Flattery is soft soap, and soft soap is 90 percent lye.

A "deb" we surmise, is just a young lady with bride ideas.

To be successful, look for work after you've found a job.

BETTER SPEECH CLUB

The Better Speech Club of Rising Star High School met in Mrs. Shook's room, Friday, October 4. The president, Anna Little, brought the meeting to order. The roll was called and the minutes were read by Mack Elliott, secretary.

A resolution committee composed of three members; Kenneth Savaldsen, Ruby Sagehorn, and Jimmy Raliff drew up a resolution. It was adopted in appreciation for our chairman, Anna Little, who typed and stenciled the "Constitution and By-Laws" for each member of our Better Speech.

We voted on a club motto and club colors. The motto is "Better Speech, Makes Better Friends", and the colors are red and blue.

A motion was made by James Stovall that we listen to the tape recorder in which Mrs. Shook had recorded parts of "Teen Times." We enjoyed the music very much.

No special program had been planned. The meeting was adjourned.

NEW FACES

This week's subject is one of our married students. She is Carolyn Janet Nichols, wife of Jimmy Nichols, a graduate of Rising Star High School. Carolyn was born August 22, 1940, in Cross Plains, Texas. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tatum. Carolyn has attended only one school besides Rising Star—oh, yes—Jimmy found her in Cross Plains!

Carolyn, a Junior this year, is about five feet tall and has short blond hair. Carolyn's favorite book is "Give Me One Summer", favorite color is blue and preferred food is steak. (This is one girl who knows what is good). As for the movie star, Sal Mineo is her choice.

Speaking for myself and everyone else, I welcome you to Rising Star High School and especially to the Junior class; you are a great asset to our class.

BAND NEWS

About 4:30 p.m. Friday afternoon, the members of the Wildcat Band and Miss Tate boarded the buses for the trip to Llano. At every town a few rousing yells notified the town's people of our presence. Upon reaching Llano, we poured out of the buses—eager for the game to start. At the halftime the band presented "Junior Joins the Band". We traced the life of Junior from the cradle, where he played lively little tunes on his rattler (at this point the band formed a rattler), to the time he joined the band and played his first bugle call, which was slightly off key (the band formed a metronome). As Junior progressed, he was soon asked to play the solo part in "Rigoletto", which was indeed quite an honor. When Junior grew up, he started a little band of his own.

THE WONDROUS YEARS OF OUR TIME...

Man's use of petroleum — of oil and natural gas — began before the first records of history.

But petroleum's full usefulness to man has been a matter of decades only.

They have been wondrous years, those decades. Years that saw automobiles built by the millions because gasoline was available as a cheap source of power. Years that saw the oceans dwindle under the high speed of great ships powered by oil. Years that saw the evolution of a more comfortable living in homes warmed by oil and natural gas. Years that saw rubber, fibers, paints and many other useful items of everyday living produced from petroleum's hydrocarbons. Years that saw the earth shrink under the wings of the airplane, and great wars decided by the availability of oil.

Thus, the oil industry has led the way into the wondrous years of our time. The industry, through foresight, ingenuity, research, and risk-taking, has found and produced the oil required in greater quantity each year.

oil for the future, has devised the transportation system that move oil economically, has built the refineries and plants that convert crude oil and natural gas to the hundreds of useful products needed by a growing United States.

The Humble Company, founded in 1917, has participated in petroleum's progress during four great decades, and has pioneered in the development of many current techniques for finding, producing and refining oil. This week, with the industry, Humble invites you to consider the variety and extent of oil's progress . . . Surely no other industry has contributed more to the making of modern America.
