"Food Factory" In Trouble--Says TFB

WACO--"This country's food factory is in serious trouble," the president of the Texas Farm Bureau says.

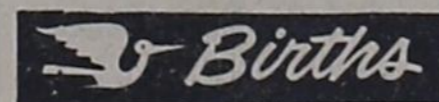

Carroll Chaloupka, Dalhart grain and cattle producer, said farmers and ranchers have responded to the call for more production, but have been penalized by lower prices. "We have produced in such abundance that we have a big surplus, and this year's grain crops may set another record," he said. "Our production costs are rising with inflation just like everybody else's but prices paid to grain producers and cattlemen have dropped."

The Farm Bureau leader said that at the end of the third week in August wheat prices were down 27 percent from a year ago, sorghum was 18 percent lower, corn down 10 percent, and that cattle prices had dropped 25 percent below last August--"which has a bad time for cattlemen."

Chaloupka said farmers are going to demand that no restrictions be placed on their markets, especially export markets. "Another embargo would be disastrous," he said.

"It would also be a disaster to establish federal grain reserves," the farm leader said. "That would depress prices even further."

Wildcats Open With Early

The return of thirteen lettermen and nine starters to the Rising Star Wildcat squad stands to provide some interesting competition in District 6-B, East Zone play this 1976 season. Another plus for Coach Frank Gray's Wildcats is quarterback and Senior Mackey Elliott, who was one of five Wildcats named to all-District last year.

Lettermen Ken Housel (142 - Sr.), Deven Rust (183 - Sr.), Bryan Ezzell (175 - Sr.), Glen Dennard (169 - Jr.), Donald Watson (173 - S oph.), Lamar Gregg (171 - Jr.) Bruce Williams (131 - Sr.), Darren White (150 - Jr.), Johnny Childers (149 - Jr.), Nicky Newbury (139 - Jr.), Randy Bibb (176 - Jr.), Randy Kinsey (126 - Jr.), and Mackey Elliott (165 - Sr.) will supply in experience whatever the Cats might lack in size. The Wildcats closed the '75 season with a 5-5 tally, however Coach Frank Gray predicts that the Wildcat team will move up in District standing at the close of this season. The Cats, in two scrimmage games, have shown a lot of promise with wins over Bronte and santo. For season opener the Cats will clash with Coach Butler's Class A Longhorns on Friday night, and it is pre-supposed that last years defeat by the Early squad will not be repeated.

Is Slow So Sure After All? Peanut Clinic Set For Sept. 9

AUSTIN--Is the slow driver a safe driver? Not necessarily, according to a landmark study recently conducted for the Texas Office of Traffic Safety (OTS).

According to Ken Nevil, OTS administrator, the study on the causes of fatal traffic accidents reveals that while lives can be saved by controlling the average speed of motorists, an even more effective way of reducing fatalities may be to control the "speed differential."

"In basic terms," Nevil said, "speed differential is the difference in speeds between two vehicles traveling in the same direction on the same highway."

"Think of the highway as a river whose current is constant. If you threw two blocks of wood into the river a few seconds apart, the chances are very unlikely that the second one would ever catch the first," Nevil explained.

"So, if all vehicles were to travel at approximately the same speed, there would be fewer conflicts, and thus, fewer possibilities of an accident." According to the study, when one vehicle catches or passes another traveling at a slower rate of speed, the chances of an accident rise as the difference in the speeds of the two vehicles increase. And the higher the speed at the time of an accident, the greater the probability of serious injury or death. This result, of course, could be reduced by proper use of safety belts.

The study indicated that reaction time and other factors make the ten mph speed differential between two cars traveling 50 and 60 miles per hour much more dangerous than the same ten mph difference between vehicles traveling 30 and 40 mph.

"The study explodes the myth that you can play it safe on the highway by traveling slowly," Nevil emphasized. "Slow drivers are safe only if there are no faster cars on the highway with them. And driving too slowly causes a potentially serious hazard to all."

It is safer, according to Nevil, to move with the flow of traffic at the speed limit rather than forcing other drivers to pass because of a low rate of speed.

Three factors influencing the rate of traffic fatalities were recognized in the study: the average speed, variation in speed, and vehicle miles driven each year in Texas.

Researchers concluded that of the three factors only the average speed driven by Texans and the variation in speed of vehicles on the highway offered any possible alternative programs for control.

"While reducing the average speed was shown to be an effective way of reducing fatalities, reducing the speed differential could hold more promise," says Nevil.

"The figures in the study show that small reductions in either the average speed or the speed differential will produce reasonably large reductions in fatalities.

"For example, a one mile per hour reduction in either of these factors can be expected to save 40 to 50 lives annually in Texas. But of the two, variation in speed has the greater impact," he said.

Nevil pointed out that a reduction of one mph in the variation of vehicle speeds would save about ten more lives than a one mph reduction in the average speed.

"If the cost and ease of controlling the two factors are the same, controlling the variation of speed will save about 20 per cent more lives than controlling the average speed," said Nevil. While the cost and effectiveness of controlling variations in speed have not been determined, public awareness of the facts could have significant results.

"We've got to get our message across to the slow poke holding up the normal flow of traffic that he may be the most dangerous person on the road," Nevil warned.

"On the other side of the coin is the driver who is always passing, always changing lanes, always pushing. His chances of making it to his destination in one piece are not as good as the fellow who travels at the speed limit and moves with the flow of traffic."

According to Nevil, the study may be a landmark in the philosophy of traffic control and could lead to many innovations.

The traffic safety slogan of tomorrow might read: "A difference in speed, kills," or "go with the flow."

Mrs. John Kelley Graduates

Summa Cum Laude

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story about the college graduation of Mrs. John Kelley who formerly lived here, was written by James Steel, in cooperation with Mrs. Runell Baker of the Mary Hardin Baylor College staff. The newspaper felt this was a story of unique interest to the Kelley's many friends in Rising Star.

Mrs. John Kelley

Saturday, August 14 was the highlight of a brief, but busy "college career" for Jeannette (Mrs. John) Kelley, now of Belton, and formerly of Rising Star.

Mrs. SKelley graduated summa cum laude--the top honor student of the graduating class of Mary Hardin-Baylor College in the school's summer commencement exercises Saturday morning, August 14 in Walton Chapel on the Belton campus. She received the Bachelor of Science degree in Special Education.

After five children had come into the lives of Jeannette and John Kelley, the time seemed right in the spring of 1974 for Mrs. Kelley to fulfill a desire of long-standing; college graduation and a chance to teach "special" children.

After several years of being quite active in Rising Star's civic school, and church activities, Jeannette enrolled in January, 1974 at Cisco Junior College. After that spring semester and a summer at CJC, the Kelley family moved to Belton, where she could enroll in Mary Hardin-Baylor College--an institution noted for excellence in the production of school teachers.

But she's not through. She enrolled August 23 at Baylor University in Waco to begin work on her master's degree in Special Education--one night a week. And now, at long last, Jeannette will be doing what she has believed ever since she was fourteen years old that she was supposed to do. She will teach with Language Hearing Disabilities children at Miller Heights Elementary School in Belton.

Her desire to help special children such as these may be described as in-born. Jeannette is the daughter of deaf parents, Mrs. Dan E. Mayfield, of Waco, and the late Mr. Mayfield. They inspired the ambition to help "special children" not only in Jeannette, but in her oldest daughter who began this year teaching Deaf Education in Odessa.

"My mother is just super. She reads lips and also uses deaf sign language. Even though she has been deaf since she was very young, she has learned to speak (audibly) very well and the highlight of the year for our education class was the day my mother spoke to us," Mrs. Kelley said.

Second to her mother, Jeannette gives Dr. Edna Bridges of the MHB Education faculty credit as her inspiration in learning.

Dr. Bridges said, "She is a wonderful person and a fantastically talented teacher. I'm giving her five years to be DR. Kelley!"

"How did I do it? Going to school and being wife and mother? It wasn't hard on me; probably was on John and the boys but they never complained, only encouraged me. They did almost all the house work and cooking. They were just wonderful," she said.

"I knew I wanted to go to school, but I didn't know where. I believe the Lord led me to Mary Hardin-Baylor. It was just the semester that I came that the college was accredited for Special Education; I didn't have a single wasted hour (of credit). I knew I just had to make it, with the Lord leading, with John's helping, and with the responsibility of being an example to my children," she added.

Many of her family were in Belton for the big event--about 30 of them--"You'd have thought it was my coronation, all the attention I got!" There was John, the three girls, Jeannette, Dawn, and Lorri and their husbands and a little boy for each of them; the two sons, David and J. T.; John's mother, Mrs. Henry Kelley of Georgetown; Jeannette's mother, Mrs. Dan E. Mayfield of Waco; her three brothers and families and other relatives and friends.

In addition to maintaining such a busy college schedule, Jeannette also found time to lead a young people's Sunday School department and sing in the church choir at the First Baptist Church in Belton where each of the Kelley family is a member.

POLITICAL SYMBOLS HAVE INTERESTING ORIGIN

Whether you're a Republican or a Democrat you may be surprised to know how your political party got its symbol.

The Republican elephant first appeared in an 1874 Harpers Weekly cartoon by Thomas Nast. But the elephant didn't become a Republican overnight. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, Nast used the elephant as a Republican symbol many times before it came to stand for the Republican party.

The donkey was first used as a political symbol by Andrew Jackson after his opponents called him a "jackass" during the 1828 election. By the 1880s, Thomas Nast's cartoons had caught the public eye and established the donkey as the symbol of the Democratic Party.

The Kitchen Almanac

On a lighter note: Thomas Jefferson was our first gourmet president. One of his innovations was "French fries" to serve with his beefsteaks.

If you have "left-overs" after your picnic - check to see that there is sufficient ice remaining in the cooler to keep leftovers safe and cool until you return home.

Our heartfelt congratulations to New York's Jane Creel, named Home Economist of the Year at the Home Economists In Business convention held recently in Minneapolis! With nearly 900 of the nation's top professional home economists in attendance, this was the largest HEIB convention on record.

Other good work worth noting: Extension professionals and volunteers have helped establish a 30-member I-II Club and a home economics class at the Happy Time School for Handicapped Children at Marion, Arkansas. The class, in which the handicapped youngsters learn basic skills, includes learning safety in the kitchen, how to avoid fires, and the art of peeling vegetables - all commonplace tasks for average youngsters, but difficult tasks for the handicapped.

Most of us can use a little help from time to time. Here are some things KitchenAid appliance researchers suggest you keep in mind when shopping for a home trash compactor:

1. Is the unit built for heavy use and long wear? (Anti-jam ram design and a rigidized steel frame are recommended.)
 2. Does it control odors economically?
 3. Does the unit have a large capacity trash drawer for wastebasket loads and a built-in litter bin for small throwaways?
- Quality compactors should include these features, the researchers say.

Treat youngsters to a "Chocolate Orange Blossom." Combine two cups of chocolate milk with one tablespoon of frozen orange juice concentrate.

The Mailbag - The following comes from Adrian C. Allen of Rossville, Ga.: "Ladies who pour whiskey on raw meat are cooking for high steaks."

Send your tips, ideas and what-have-you (as Adrian did) to: Harry G. Clark, 2 North Riverside Plaza, Chicago, IL 60606.

Labor Day: Time To Help Fight Disease

Although Jerry Lewis and this year's poster child will be raising money to fight muscular dystrophy on this year's Labor Day Telethon, JERRY LEWIS AND 1975 Muscular Dystrophy Poster Child, Michael Newsome, join millions of Americans in raising money to fight muscular dystrophy.

there are ways many Americans can help before then.

One is to buy a 24-ounce Jerry Lewis "Sturpee" drink from a 7-Eleven Store. Another is to buy a "Hot to Go" sandwich or a hot cup of coffee at any of these stores on the night before Labor Day. The store will contribute 10 cents to the Muscular Dystrophy Association for every one of those things bought. A third way is to "Let Jerry Keep the Change For His Kids," after you shop at a 7-Eleven store, where special canisters are provided.

It's a pleasant way to help make life more pleasant for "Jerry's children."

Wildcat Tales

Back to School.
Well, it's here again, the sound of feet in the halls of Rising Star High School. Summer vacation has come to a screaming halt, and everyone is trying to accept the fact that they have to get at 7:30 to make it before the tardy bell rings at 8:30. And I might add, some haven't quite gotten used to the idea as of yet. But as they say, it will come in time. Others have been quite up and rearing to go. Wide-eyed they come to school getting used to their new surroundings. The name we give these newcomers is Freshman, or as we call them at R.S.H.S., Fish. Some already tasted a bit of the water as the Seniors welcome them to High School.

Excitement is really growing here at school. Our Football players are giving it all they have, and we on the sidelines are trying our best too. We really want to let our boys know that we are behind them. The Wildcats first scrimmage was with Bronte, where we showed our backers they were in for a great season. The Wildcats scored 4 touchdowns to Bronte's 2. Last week Santo came to get a look at the ferocious Cats. We came out on top again, 5-0. This week we are playing Early here so there is no excuse not to come.

Here at R.S.H.S., PRIDE is the heartbeat of our school. Whether it is pride in our boys, our work we do at school, in our classes, or just in our school itself. The students, even though at times you couldn't get them to admit it, do have pride in R.S.H.S. We want you to have pride in R.S.H.S. too. Come to our games. Back your Wildcats.

One more thing. The students would like to welcome two new teachers to Rising Star: Mrs. Casey and Mr. Davis. Until Next week Pam

Senior Report

Here we are again. It seems that every year about this time we all end up at old R.S.H.S. So once again we will write our little bit of news in the Wildcat Tales. The school seems to be about the same except for a very important edition, Mrs. Casey, our English teacher.

The class officers for '76-77 are: President-Pam Hill, Vice-Pres.-Bruce Williams, Secretary-Gwen Winfrey, Treasurer-Mackey Elliott, and Reporter-Darla Hosch. Our Class favorites are Pam Hunt and Ken Housnel.

I guess I'll tell you some news next week when more has happened. Darla

Junior News

Well, it's finally time for everyone to go back to school again. The Juniors elected class officers and here they are: President-Glen Dennard, Vice-President-Marty Hill, Secretary-Theresa Scott, Treasurer-Becky Wilson, and Reporter-Diana Linney. Class favorites are Carolyn Bessent (also known as safari woman or jungle bunny) and Terry Leonard (known as Rose Bud).

I guess you all know J.H. went to Hawaii. She has really gone crazy. All she ever does now is the hulla. That's all for now.

Signing off,
Diana

Future Farmers of America

School has begun again and we have another fine F.H.A. Chapter. We have thirty-three members enrolled in the vocational-ag. program this year. We also have for the first time an ag.IV class for seniors who asked if it could be worked in. One of the things the ag.IV class for seniors who asked if it could be worked in. One of the things the ag.IV class will be studying is a unit in peanut production.

The Chapter officers and the F.H.A. sweetheart will be elected in the near future. Bruce

Annual News

The Annual Staffers are just about ready to start putting the annual together and use all the rules and far-out special effects that we learned at Texas Tech this summer.

Right now we are very busy setting up dates with photographers and publishing companies. Everyone better look fantastic on September 7, because that's when school portraits will be taken. The annual staff will have their first meeting August 26 with their new sponsor, Mrs. Casey.

The Staffers this year are: editor, Darla Hosch, Gwen Winfrey, Pam Hill, Jenny Walker, Jeanne Housel, K.C. Rutherford, Bruce Williams, Ken Housnel and photographer Theresa Scott. Darla

Wildcat Country

Another School year is here with another football season. The cats played Bronte last week and scored four times to Bronte's two. They also played Santo and did exceptionally well. Tomorrow night they open against Early of District 10-A, who went 8-2 last year and second in District to State Class A Champions DeLeon.

Former Rising Star Student, Butch Butler, is the coach. The game is expected to be better than last year's as the cats have nine returning starters and thirteen letterman from a 5-5 team. I will have a more detailed report on the Wildcats next week. The cats are looking for revenge on the home field from a 49-12 loss last year to Early.

Revenge on Mind,
Ken

RAH! RAH! RAH!

Well, football season is back again, and starting off great. The Wildcats beat Bronte 4 to 2 on Aug. 20. We also scrimmaged Santo last Friday at the Wildcat Stadium. It was a really good game. Thank you all for coming and supporting us. We will play Early at 8:00 p.m. You all be sure to come and back us. The cheerleaders will be selling beat ribbons that day for only 15 cents. We expect you all to be wearing one. Bye, Bye, see you at the pep rally at 3:00 Friday! Carolyn

Student Council

Things are a little shakey, but the Student Council of 76-77 is finally getting organized. I say "getting" because although we are starting our first project, our officers have yet to be elected.

The representatives are as follows: Seniors-Gwen Winfrey and Kevin Rust, Juniors-Becky Wilson and Nicky Newbury, Sophomores-Sharon McGinnis and Mark Wilson, Freshman-Shelly Gray and Mike Holden. Officers will be elected and someone else will get this column for the Wildcat Tales. So stay tuned to this channel for next week's report.

I want to take the opportunity to say a special thank you to Mr. Joe Butler for the watermelons used in the watermelon supper last Friday. Also a thank you to D&T Building Supply, Kenneth Bibb, and the Cheerleaders. Reporting only once, KC Rutherford

Twilite Acre Nursing Home

By the Residents

By the time everyone reads this it will be September and getting close to Fall. Everyone was very glad to see all the rain and more rain that ended our drought.

Anyone interested in becoming our head volunteer should call at 643-2681 after 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and 259-2383 all other hours. Mrs. Pittman, our present head is taking a few months off for personal reasons.

Also volunteers are needed and may call above numbers.

Our administrator, Jerry Underwood and owner, Mrs. Jewell Newton have returned from the land of Hula and grass skirts. They had marvelous time, but are glad to be home again.

Everyone is working hard to complete our crafts and handiwork before the Fair and hope to exhibit some things at the Big Country Association of Activity Directors, September 14 in Sweetwater.

This Sunday was fifth Sunday and we all had private devotion instead of group devotion as usual.

Thanks to all of you who come and visit loved ones and relatives and a special thanks to you who come to visit, but have no relations in our home.

The staff and residents of Twilite Acres extended deepest sympathy to the loved ones and family on the passing of Mrs. Ethel Alford. We shall all miss her.

We are presently planning to start a monthly newsletter to be sent to relatives and close friends about the happening at our home. If you are a relative or close friend of any resident please leave your name and address on the paper provided for this in the Activity Room (19) in the home. This is in planning and it will be later in the Fall before the first copies are made. If sent out of town, postage may be charged to those wishing to receive this. Local's may pick up their copy in the activity room. There will be no advertising.

There are a few great "42" games to be found nearly each afternoon in our dining room. Also several games of regular dominoes. Last Friday evening Mrs. Abernathy came to observe and really enjoyed watching. She is ready to play now and is a hard player to beat. George Williams comes up each afternoon and doesn't play, but certainly kibitzes-he informed the activity director she needs practice-lots of it before she would be able to win. Ethel Barnes also kibitzes regularly. George Williams offered to instruct the a.d. on the finer points, but withdrew the offer saying he was a grown man and didn't like to cry.

Mrs. Coleman, new resident, is setting in well, she beat our a.d. at WAHOO and offered to go easy on her if that was the best she could play.

When Cecille B. DeMille was commissioned by David Belasco to write a Play with a religious theme for his producer, David Warfield, he felt greatly challenged. He sought solitude in a canoe on a shallow lake. He was observing water-bugs at the bottom of the lake. One emerged and attached itself to the canoe. After about three hours, it was dry and parched-looking. It appeared to be dead. Then he noticed it was cracking open and a new life was emerging. The new life was a dragon-fly. "It flew farther in seconds than the bug could crawl in days." The idea he received from observing the dragon-fly and the dry empty shell from which he emerged, was just the idea he needed to write the film-play, "The Return of Peter Grimm" which hinged upon the continuation of life after death. Later he said, "If God does that for a water-but, don't you believe He will do it for us?"

DeMille went on to write such great religious plays as "The Ten Commandments", "The Sign of the Cross", Sampson and Delilah" and "The King of Kings."

"Be angry but do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger." (Ephesians 4:26). In commenting upon this Bible passage, Charles Hodge writes: "Anger! Frightening, sinful anger! Man can be as drunk on anger as he can on whiskey. Things that are said and done under anger's influence are later regretted. The Bible has and is AN ANSWER TO ANGER."

(1.) All anger is not sinful! There is the "wrath of God" (Numbers 11:33; Ephesians 5:6; etc.) Jesus starts us with his anger- a righteous indignation (John 2:13-17). Sin should anger!

(2.) Much anger is a spontaneous outburst! The Bible teaches disciplin, management and self-denial (Galatians 5:23; etc.). Uncontrolled anger is blatant sin (Ephesians 4:31). We can not minister and lead with such anger.

(3.) But the anger that involves most Christians (and most others-OA) is accrued-it is called resentment. Paul says, "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Do not allow it to fester and grow. This is the hidden element in anger. Country people say, "Enough digs make a grave." Hurt feelings have high cost. Hearts are broken and spirits are crushed!

The Bible says, "Love your enemies" (Matthew 4:44; etc.). "Forgive the reaction of sinful pride; when it is unresolved it destroys us. It can be recognized, identified and given up to God so that peace and love fill our personalities. (End of quote)

Come to know God, better through a regular study of His word. Join us in Bible study: on Sunday at 9:30 a.m., on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and in the Assemblies on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Those present last Wednesday evening heard a thrilling report of Gospel work being done in South India, by N. John, the principle of a Bible College there. The church here will participate substantially in this effort.

We congratulate Don and Janet Murphree, on the birth of a new daughter Rebecca Diane, last week in the Brownwood Hospital.

The special lessons on the Home are due to begin Next Wednesday evening (September 8), with Gary Adams as the speaker. The time is 7:30 p.m. All are invited.

We pray God's blessings on Tami Barnes and Larry Tatom, as they approach their marriage September 11, at the First Baptist Church.

Most of our sick show considerable improvement. Clark Mauldin is home in Oklahoma City and doing well. Joe Allgood is recovering, following an operation at the Brownwood Hospital. Ruth Middleton has been ill but was able to be with us Sunday, as also was Snova Walker. Willie Mae Buzbee shows some improvement, but is still at Twilite Acre Nursing Home.

Have a good week. Call us if we can serve in any way. --Owen Aikin

Once again we hear the school bells ringing, and we are aware Fall will soon be upon us. The Summer has slipped away and we wonder where it has gone? Most of us have had our vacations, but now we realize there are yet important things we must do. For as Fall approaches we must continue to prepare ourselves and our children for the future.

Thus we are confronted with the slogans seen almost everywhere: "Back To Work", "Back To School", "Back To Church".

Back To Work is necessary, we understand this, that we might earn enough to sustain ourselves and our families. It is necessary or we shall not have enough to enjoy a vacation next summer. Thus we are committed to labor daily that we may accumulate unto ourselves that which shall sustain us in this world.

Back to school is necessary that all may learn how to face up to the challenges of life and overcome them. "Arm thy-self with knowledge that ye may win on the battle-fields of life" is something of our admonition to the younger generation of our day. Knowledge of the truths of life is needed by all, young and old alike. Yet, too many, take not the time to study the "Book of Life". We are committed to the teaching of youth, sending them to school that they may learn; but, all too often we neglect the continued education of the self.

Back to Church is as necessary as any other activity of life. For the church fortifies our strength, and gives us the direction how we may proceed to gain the best of life. The Church challenges us at every stage of life in an effort that all men may give the best of themselves in the bringing of peace, joy, and salvation to all mankind. The Church has been characterized as a hospital for the sinner, the weak, and the blind. It has also been labelled as the refueling station where men may equip themselves for the journey through life. Whatever it is, Man needs Church, and the Church needs the dedicated commitment of everyman, that together needs the dedicated commitment of everyman, that together the ultimate goal of life may be attained by all.

As the Fall approaches let us rededicate ourselves to be At Work, In School, At Church giving our best efforts for the good of all, even ourselves.

It was a welcome sight to see Mrs. Beuna Gracey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs in the worship services this past Sunday. Both families have been away on extended visits. However several were missing from our fellowship and worship, we pray for each and all that by the Grace of God they will soon return that we may continue our fellowship and worship together.

Have a good week and let us all be in worship next Sunday. Hubert Taylor

I often wonder what the Lord thinks of the local church over which He has placed me as an overseer. What are the outstanding characteristics which would make it a testimony for God in the community.

I came across the following in the "Pulpit Helps" which was taken from the newsletter of Greendale People's Church of Worcester, Massachusetts.

What Makes a Church Great? Not soft seats and subdued light, but stong courageous leadership. Not the sweet tones of the organ, but sweet personalities that somehow reflect Jesus.

Not the tall towers with chimes and bells, but a lofty vision of its people.

Not big, budgets, but a big heart.

Not the amount of finance received, but the amount of service rendered.

Not the large membership, but God's presence and direction and power.

Not what it has done in the past, but what it is doing now and will tomorrow.

Too often our emphasis is upon the externals of life. God's Word would remind us "Not by might, nor by power but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

Visiting with the church Sunday Morning were: Mrs. Jim Springer of Dublin, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Parker of Dallas, and Mrs. Vernon Huntington of Jal, New Mexico. R. D. Williams, Pastor

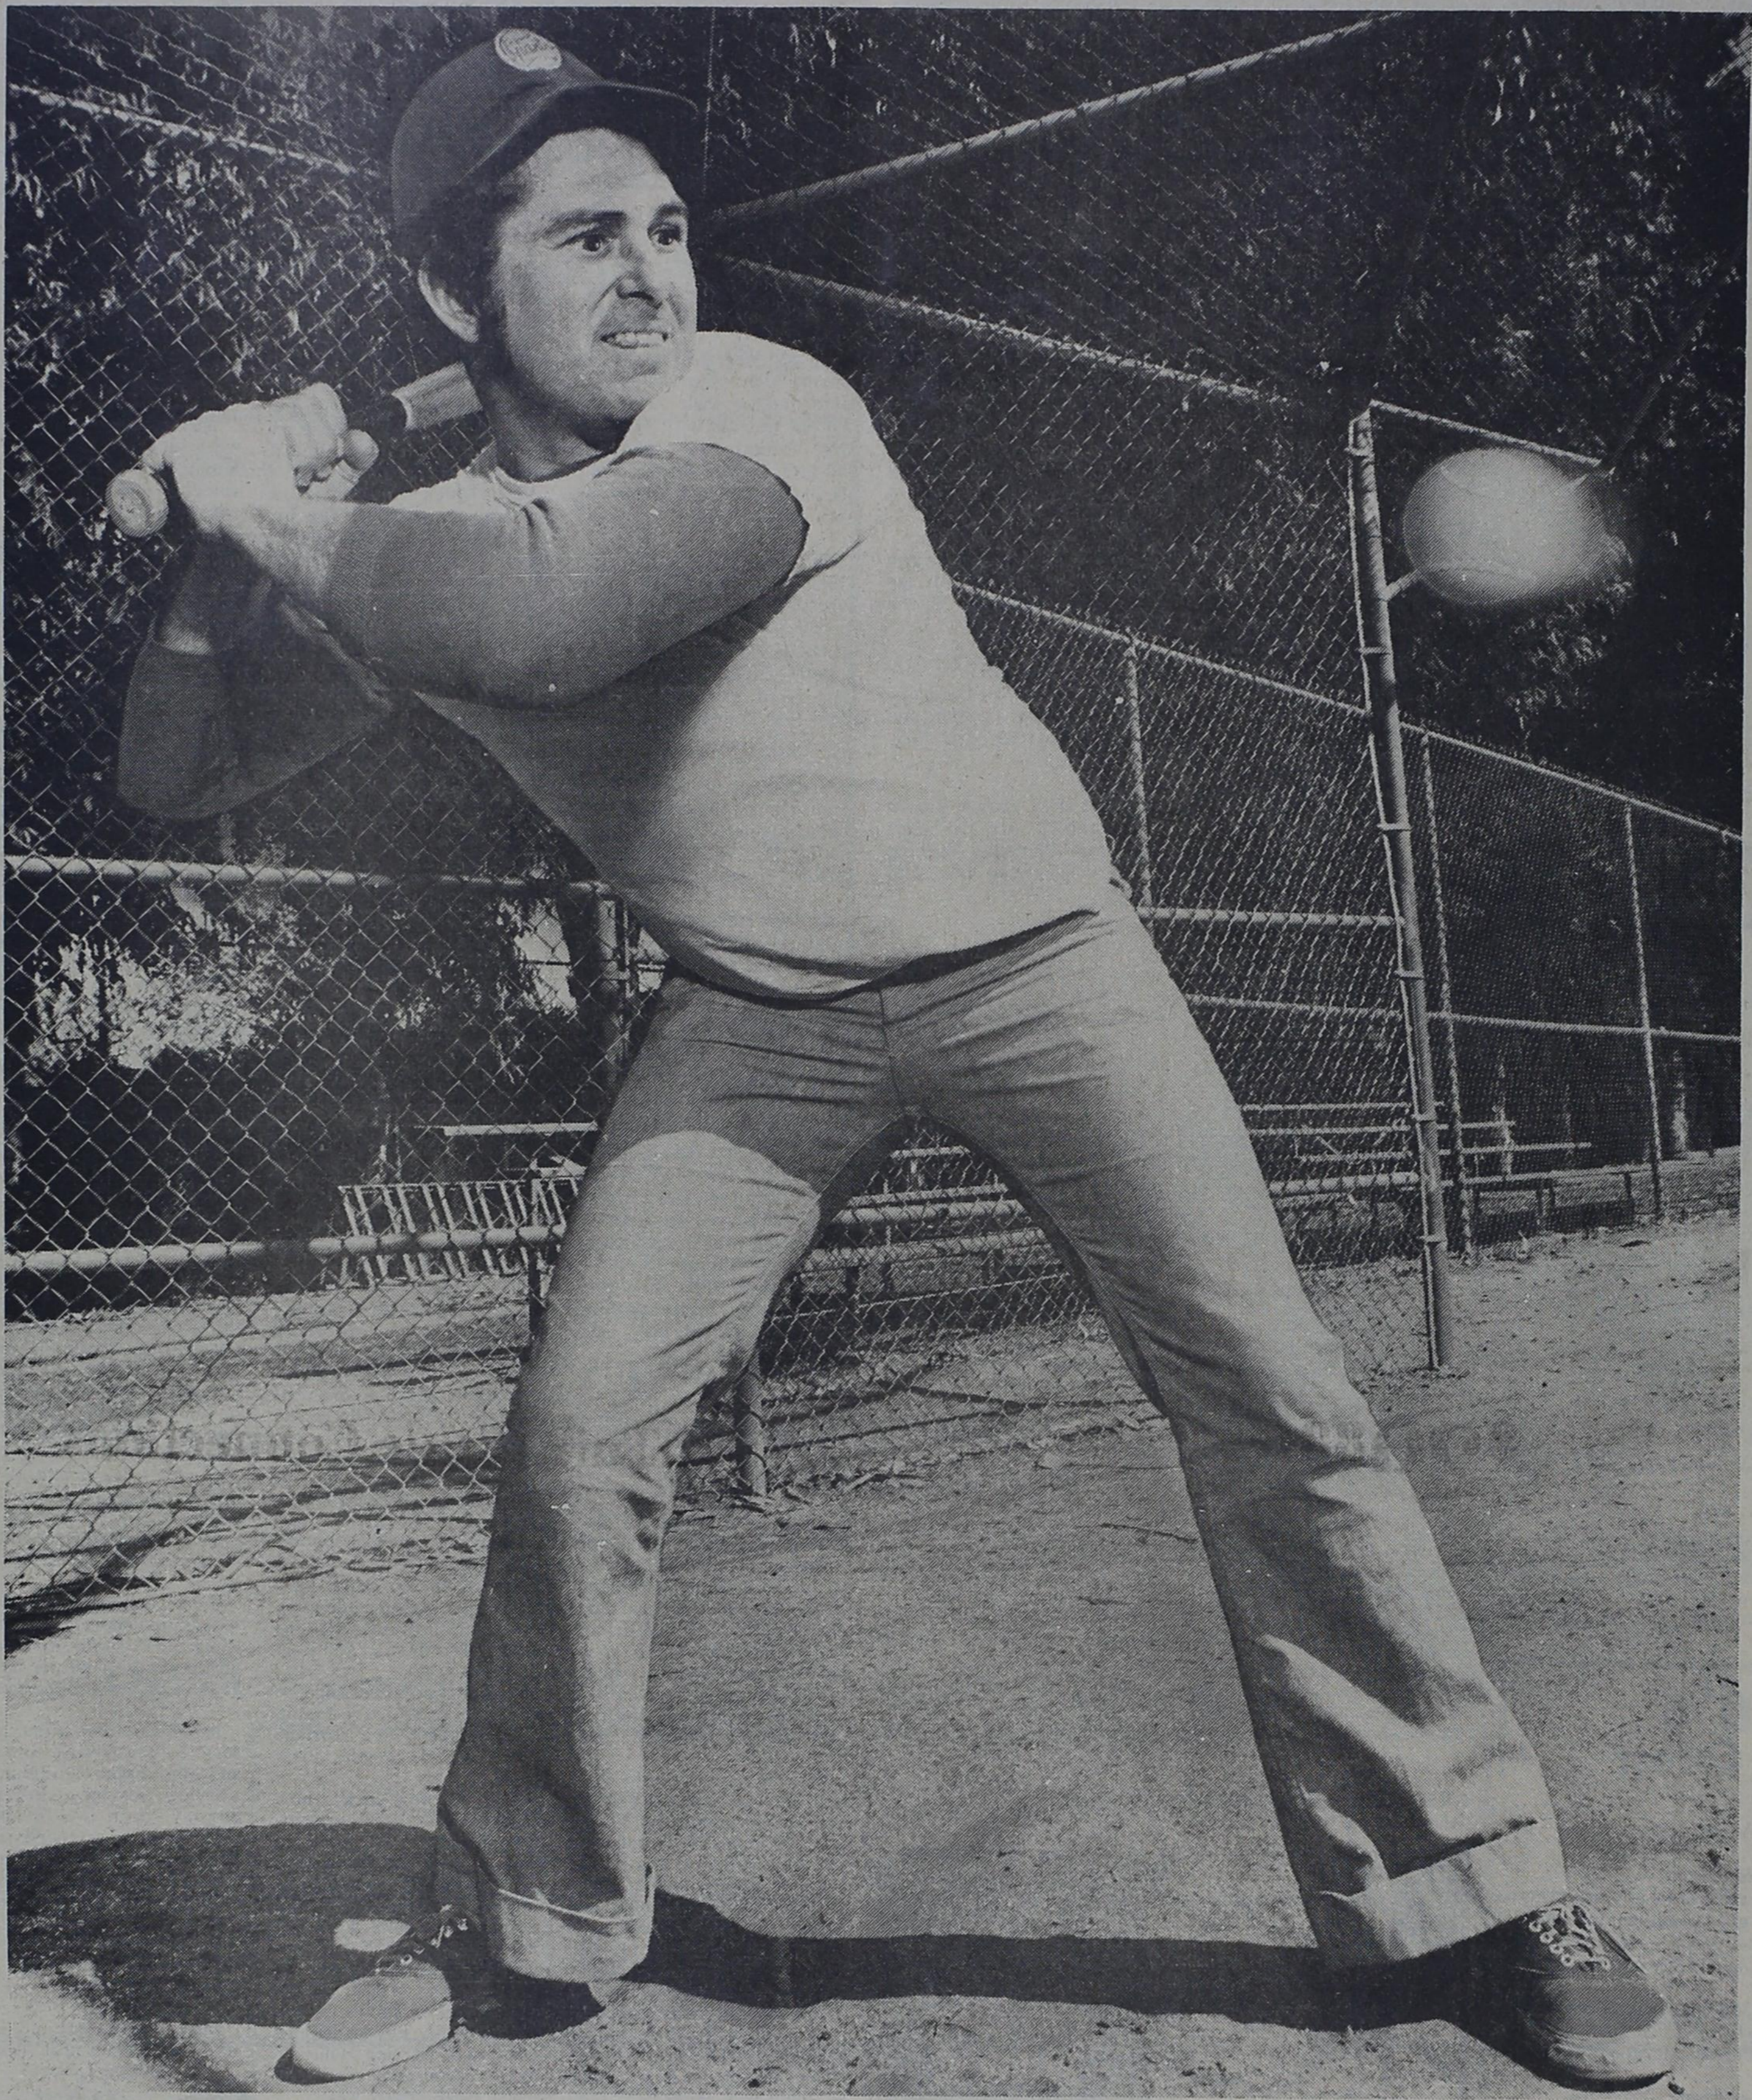

Universal Full Gospel Assembly

The question might well be asked "Who is a Christian?" The world is full of people today who, when asked if they are Christian, will say: I am a member of (such and such) Church. But that doesn't really answer the question! The important thing is: Are you a Christian? Most every Church has people in it who most definitely are not Christians! Their name may be on the Church book, but certainly not in the "Book of Life" recorded by God himself. While there are people, who because of illness or some such worthy reason, cannot go to Church, and do not have their name on any Church book, yet are fine, dedicated Christians and whose name stands out bright and clear in the Book of Life! To be Christian is to be Christ-like. Jesus said "You must be born again." St. John 3:7. Jesus said, "Keep my commandments." St. John 14:15-24; 15:10-17. St. Luke 18:18 "And a certain ruler asked Him, saying Good Master, What shall I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, "Why callest thou me good? None is good, save one, that is God. Thou knowest the Commandments. Do not commit adultery. Do not kill. Do not Steal. Do Not Bear false witness. Honor thy father and thy mother." "And he said "all these have I kept from my youth up. Jesus said, "Yet thou lackest one thing, see all that thou hast and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in Heaven. And come follow me. St. Matthew 22:37: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and greatest commandment, and the second is like unto it. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

We might well ask ourself the question: "Who comes first in life?" God--or our family, our friends, our business? What about those favorite T.V. programs that you stay home from Church to watch? Or how about those Sundays you spend on the lake? Or those Sundays you spend visiting with friends or relatives? When you should be in the House of God. He said, "Forsake not the Assembling of yourselves together." What do you derive the most pleasure from: worshipping the Lord--talking of his goodness--reading His word? Or worldly pleasures, drinking, gambling, spacing out?

Anything that comes before God in our life will separate us from Him and Heaven. Those desires in your heart are not the things you could do in the presence of Jesus, then search your heart. For Jesus said "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." May God Bless each of you. May He heal the sick, encourage the discouraged, and bind up the broken-hearted.

STUDENTS FROM Rising Star will be returning this week week to various colleges and universities to continue their educations.

The Rising Star conducted a poll this week, and attempted to contact all college students known to us, but certainly some have been left out. If this happens, the newspaper will appreciate a call giving the necessary information and a picture of the student. This material will then be published in the next edition.

The Rising Star wishes for each of these students a very successful school year and offers congratulations to each one for continuing his or her educational endeavors.

GORDON SPOT

by DeMarquis Gordon

Some parts of Eastland County have been lucky enough to have gotten up to one inch of rain, but much of the county has not had any rain in August.

Fruits of all types are under a severe water stress when rains fail in August and September. The pecan, already to its full size, is just beginning to develop kernels during the season. Blackberries are growing next year's fruiting wood. Grapes, once harvested, will be manufacturing stored food for next year's early season growth and crop potential. Peach and plums are developing fruit buds for next year's crop during this period. Fruit ripening of apples, pears, Japanese persimmons, figs, citrus, and muscadines is taking place now.

So, the word to the wise home gardener is to water your fruit trees well in September. Long, slow soaking irrigations are far superior to frequent short sprinkler waterings. The new concept of drip irrigation is an excellent means of watering fruit trees in the garden or yard.

Fruit tree root systems, especially those in shallow or clay type soils, are very likely to be killed by drought in July, August and September if water is not received. Remember, the fruit trees root system is usually twice the size of the limb spread. Water accordingly. Next year's crop as well as the general health of the fruit tree will depend on good late season water management.

Many pests, including shuck worm, fall webworm, pecan weevil, black aphid, pecan scab, sticky shuck, and other do much of their damage in August and September. Homeowners can prevent or control these problems with hand sprayers or hose-on sprayers. Pecan trees cannot be healthy if these pests occur.

Small trees less than 15 feet tall can easily be covered with a 2 or 3 gallon pump-up hand sprayer. Larger trees can be covered to 30 feet easily with a hose-on sprayer. A step ladder or nearby roof can be used to obtain additional elevation. For chemicals to use call the Extension Office and ask for L-1140, "Homeowners Fruit and Nut Spray Schedule" by Jerral Johnson and Charles Cole. If a good fall spray program is used on lawn and garden pecans the leaves will remain healthy until first frost. This will help produce a good crop of pecans next spring.

Lawn watering is very important this time of year. Three main practices should be followed when watering lawns. (1) Water deeply--replace all the moisture extracted from the soil. (2) Water infrequently--only when the grass shows signs of moisture stress, and (3) Apply water only as rapidly as the soil will take it.
