Two May High School Athletes Will Go to State

May High School freshman, Vicki Lee, and senior, Chris Hardy, earned a trip to the State UIL Track Meet in Austin Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11.

Vicki advances to Austin in two events, the 100 meter dash and the 400. She advances from the Region II A track meet held in Abilene on April 26 and 27. Vicki clipped a 12.72 in the 100 meter dash and a 59.72 in the 400. Her time broke the Region II A record in the 400. She bettered her time in the 100 meters at the State Qualifiers meet held at ACU in Abilene on Friday, May 3, by running a 12.29. Seventy-nine schools were represented in Friday's meet at Abilene.

Chris Hardy picked a good day to clear his career best jump. He won the Region II A meet with a jump of 6 feet 4 inches.

Class II A and III A will compete Saturday, May 11, in Austin at Memorial Stadium on the University of Texas campus. Chris will compete

Saturday morning in the field events. Running events will be Saturday afternoon beginning at 1:00.

Congratulations to these two athletes.

TEXAS A & M HOSTS GAMEBIRD CONFERENCE MAY 25

Texans continue to show an increasing interest in production of gamebirds for both meat and sport.

To provide the latest information in this field, the 1991 Texas Gamebird Conference will be held May 25 at the Kleberg Animal and Food Sciences Center at Texas A & M University.

Charles Ramsey, wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said supplementing wild populations with pen-reared flight birds continues to increase in importance as recreational hunting pressures increase.

"In addition, more families are raising small numbers of gamebirds for home consumption," Ramsey said.

Dr. Fred Thornberry, Extension Service poultry specialist, said the conference program is designed to meet educational needs relating to industry problems. He said the conference will open at 9 a.m. after registration at 8 o'clock.

Pre-registration is $25 per family or farm, and registration at the door is $30. A barbecue lunch will cost $6 per person.

Subjects will include desirable traits of pen-reared birds, dogs and guides; quail habitat development; preventing problems in breeder flocks; gamebird diseases; nutrition and other subjects.

The program will be conducted by the Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

For more information, contact the co-chairmen, Dr. Thornberry at (409)

845-4318 or Ramsey at (409) 845-7471.

WHEAT BOARD TO HOLD BIENNIAL ELECTION

The Texas Wheat Producers Board will hold its tenth-biennial mail election between June 3 and June 18, 1991, according to Jack Norman, farmer-elected chairman of the organization. The Board was formed in 1971 in the Panhandle-North Texas area and expanded statewide by a producer referendum in 1985.

Any farmer producing wheat in Texas is eligible to vote for a board member for that district in which he farms.

Norman points out that any person qualifying to vote in the election may place his name in nomination for a six-year membership on the Texas Wheat Producers Board by application to the organization, signed by himself and at least ten (10) other persons eligible to vote in his District in the election, at least 30 days (May 20) prior to the election final (June 18) date, in order to have his name placed on the ballot.

The election will be held by mail ballot, which will be provided to all eligible voters 15 days prior to the election, Norman said. He also indicates that any person qualified to vote who does not receive a ballot 15 days before the election date, may obtain one at Agricultural Extension Service offices as provided by the Texas Commodity Referendum Law.

Wheat producers fund TWPB with a one-cent assessment on their deliveries of wheat at commercial handlers, principally at country elevators and feed yards. Proceeds from such participation supports programs of foreign and domestic market expansion, food and wheat technical service, insect control, research and demonstrations, and other activities designed to strengthen wheat producers income.

Applications for names to be placed on the ballot should be sent to the organizations headquarters office, 803 Texas Commerce Bank Building, 2201 Civic Circle, Amarillo, Texas 79109.

Eastland County Bass Club

The Eastland County Bass Club held its monthly club meeting at the Eastland National Bank on May 2. After the financial report was given and a few items discussed, members were treated to a film about the works of the Fish Hatchery in the State of Texas. The club would like to thank Kenneth Payne, local Game Warden, for providing the film.

One item discussed was having an open jackpot on a weekend with longer fishing hours. It was decided that the ECBC would sponsor the first one on Sunday, May 26.

The next ECBC sponsored Wednesday evening jackpot will be May 8. Fishing hours for these jackpots are from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Everyone is invited and you do not have to be a member of any bass club.

Tommy Maynard had the big bass of April. A nice fish that weighed 7.87 pounds. This fish was caught and released at Lake Leon. Congratulations, Tommy, for a nice fish and for releasing her.

Applications for names to be placed on the ballot should be sent to the organizations headquarters office, 803 Texas Commerce Bank Building, 2201 Civic Circle, Amarillo, Texas 79109.

Preparing Foods to Keep a Healthy Heart

The foods you eat and how you prepare them can affect your risk for heart disease, according to a nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. During May, which is National High Blood Pressure Education Month, Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz recommends that Texans start buying and preparing heart-healthy foods.

"Choose foods lower in saturated fatty acids, total fat, cholesterol and sodium," she said. Following these tips will help to lower your blood cholesterol level and help control high blood pressure:

Choose fish, poultry and lean cuts of meat; eat moderate portions (about 6 oz. a day or less). Choose fish and skinless poultry more often. They are generally lower in saturated fatty acids than meat. Lean cuts of meat include beef—round, sirloin, chuck and loin; veal—all trimmed cuts; pork—tenderloin, leg (fresh) and shoulder (arm or picnic); and lamb—leg, arm and loin.

Buy lower-fat grades of meat. "Choice" grades are lower in fat than "prime" grades. "Select" grades of meat are lower in fat than choice.

Choose foods containing less sodium. Most frozen dinners and combination dishes, packaged mixes, canned soups and salad dressings contain considerable levels of sodium. So do condiments such as soy and other sauces, pickles, olives, catsup and mustard.

Trim fat from meats and remove skin from poultry before cooking and eating.

Bake, broil, roast, poach or braise instead of frying to reduce the fat.

Use salt sparingly in cooking and at the table. Drink skim and 1 percent milk rather than 2 percent and whole milk.

Instead of hard cheeses, choose low-fat cottage cheese, farmer cheese, or pot cheese which are lower in saturated fatty acids. Choose low-fat cheeses that have between 2 and 6 grams of fat per ounce.

Egg whites contain no cholesterol; substitute two whites for each whole egg in recipes.

Use liquid vegetable oils that are highest in unsaturated fatty acids such as canola, safflower, sunflower, corn, olive, sesame and soybean oils in cooking and in salad dressings.

Read labels of commercially prepared foods to find out what type of fat or how much saturated fat they contain.

Substitute low-fat or nonfat yogurt for sourcream in recipes or as toppings.

Fruits and vegetables—fresh, frozen, or canned—contain no cholesterol and are almost always very low in saturated fatty acids.

Breads and most rolls are low in saturated fatty acids; however, many other types of commercially baked goods are made with lots of fat, especially saturated fatty acids. Croissants, doughnuts, muffins, biscuits and butter rolls are examples.

Pasta, rice and dry peas and beans can make good main dishes, casseroles or soups low in fat.

Try angel food cake, fig bars and ginger snaps as

Sharp Reunion to Be Held Saturday

The Annual Sharp Reunion will be held Saturday, May 11 at the Community Clubhouse on Pine Street in Ranger.

Descendants of the late Jim Sharp have been meeting for over 50 years. The direct descendants include Myrtle Sharp Duggan of Rising Star, Ruby Sharp Williamson of Ranger, Mattie Sharp Wheeler of Ranger and Nellie Sharp, wife of the late L.D. Sharp, also of Ranger. After these four ladies, the list gets longer, including their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, cousins, aunts, uncles, etc. The list substitutes for commercial baked goods high in saturated fatty acids. Ice Milk, low-fat frozen yogurt, sorbets and pop-sicles are good substitutes for ice cream.

Limit salted snacks, such as chips, crackers, pretzels and nuts. "By following these tips for taking control and buying and preparing heart-healthy foods," Bielamowicz says, "you can control your blood pressure for a longer, healthier life."

is longer each year, and this is what makes it such a great reunion.

Come early and stay late for a fun-filled day. There will be food, gossip, more food, relaxation, games and still more food! A brunch will be served, bring drinks, salads, casseroles or whatever you'd like to bring for supper.

Remember, this annual event will be held Saturday only, May 11. So, all you Sharp family members and friends make plans to be there.

GFWC Saturday Club

The club met May 1 for its regular business meeting. The program for this meeting was Addictive Drugs, Prescription Drugs. Our speaker for this meeting was Phil Watson, Executive Director, Drug Prevention Resources Inc. of Dallas.

He believes the most effective solution to the drug dilemma in America is prevention. It begins with compatible home life: A solid spiritual union between parent and child, open family discussions of every day life and happenings in the realm of the family circle, a closeness and caring attitude of family members for each other and a sharing of each other's problems and how they can be solved in a way that will make each child feel special and loved. Parents should make or set aside a special time for these counsels and family fun.

We want to thank our hostesses and coordinators Polly Price, Lenell Henry and Netta Lu Jarrett for introducing to us such a wonderful and talented speaker and the serving of such a lovely and delicious luncheon.

Graduating senior girls will be special invited guests at the club's next meeting, a noon luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church May 15. See you all there.

Water Quality And Conservation News Series

WHY CONSERVE WATER?

Any Texan who has all the water needed just by turning on faucets may ask, "Why should I save water?" National Drinking Water Week is May 5-11, 1991. The theme is "Drinking Water — On Tap for the Future". This article is the first of a five part series on water quality and conservation for all Texans.

There are many good reasons why water conservation affects everyone and why all Texans should do their part to conserve this precious resource.

First, water costs money. It costs a family money for water used inside and outside the house or apartment. A typical person uses 90 gallons a day. The cost of water differs from one city to the next, but it usually is about $10 to $4 for each 1,000 gallons used.

This money is used by the city or water district to pay for supplying the water. A second fee, a sewer charge, is then levied for treating the wastewater that is left over. So, the less water you use, the less it costs everyone today, next month, and next year.

Second, when individuals collectively use less water, the future cost of developing new water supplies is avoided. "It costs high amounts of money to build new or bigger reservoirs, pumping stations, pipelines, water treatment plants, sewage systems, and wastewater treatment plants.

"In most cases this money has to be borrowed and paid back for many years with higher taxes—with your money."

Third, eliminating unnecessary use of water means that more may be available for emergency purposes such as fighting fires. Each time you turn on the faucet, the water pressure drops slightly everywhere along the pipeline. This means that less water can flow out somewhere else where it may really be needed to save lives or property.

Fourth, using less water means you are living in closer balance with the natural environment. In many cases, the number of people living in a city or town is greater than the natural environment can provide for.

When this happens, the balance of nature is destroyed, perhaps irreversibly. When too much groundwater is pumped, the land may begin to sink (subsidence), or salt water may flow into and pollute fresh water aquifers. This already is happening in some parts of Texas.

Another adverse effect is that new surface water reservoirs and aqueducts must be built, to bring in new surface water supplies. This may be at the expense of the natural environment at the new source, which is perhaps far away.

Reduced water consumption not only saves potential water sources from new development, it also means that less wastewater is produced that must be treated before being released to the environment. Sewage treatment plants in many areas are already struggling to produce wastewater quality that meets stream water quality standards.

Fifth, lower water use means lower energy consumption in many ways. It takes energy for fresh water pumping, transportation in pipelines, treatment for purification, distribution to homes, and water heating within the home or business. It also takes energy to pump and treat wastewater. "So when you save water in the home, you save a lot of energy."

Sixth, the less water you use yourself, the more may be available for food production by farmers who grow the grain, livestock, and vegetables to feed families. More water may also be available for recreation and wildlife around lakes and rivers and more can flow downstream to the Gulf Coast where a rich harvest of seafood is obtained in bays and estuaries that depend on an infusion of nutrients from inland fresh water.

The seventh reason to conserve water is to help protect your own future. There will likely be more opportunities to obtain and retain jobs in areas where enough water is available at a price that can be afforded. By conserving water now you can ensure a quality water supply for the future.

Underground Petroleum Storage Tank Seminar

The Texas Water Commission will conduct an Underground Storage Tank Seminar May 16 at Tarleton State University, Business Building, Room 181. It is located on Washington Street in Stephenville. The seminar is to help owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks understand and comply with state regulations. The local Texas Water Commission staff will lead the program, providing information and answering questions about petroleum storage tanks.

This free seminar is intended to help the owners and operators of underground storage tanks comply with Texas Water Commission regulations that were enacted in September of 1989 that subject underground storage tank systems to many new operational requirements. These new regulations include requiring underground storage tanks to have corrosion protection, spill and overflow prevention and leak detection capabilities.

For more information about the seminar, please contact Mr. James Jackson, with the Texas Water Commission's District 3 Office in Waco, at 817/751-0335.

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry L. Wilson

Free Booklet Available On Live Bass Release

Hubbard Creek Lake was the sight of the Northwest region Anglers Choice two man team event Sunday May 5.

Twenty-two teams were present for what turned into a normal tournament day of fishing. A weather change, high winds, and tough fishing.

Saturday's practice day showed anglers the good side of Hubbard lots of good sized fish, good numbers, and at least a half a day of great weather.

At the 3.15 weigh-in Sunday the stringers showed just how tough it got. 1st-Turner & Edwards, 14.47; 2nd-Taylor & Hughes, 13.16; 3rd-Oliver & McCain, 12.53; 4th-Bud Wood & Butch Willingham, 11.44, Cisco; 5th-Bob & Joe Bob Moore, 9.68, Cisco.

First place big bass went to Turner & Edwards with a beautiful 6.12 pounder. Second place big bass was won by Taylor and Hughes.

Other area teams who placed included 9th-Bobby Maynard, 8.85; 12th-James Fullen and B. J. Johnson, 7.67; 20th-Chuck Burgess and Tommy Maynard, 3.03.

Many anglers reported Rat-L-Traps, worms and spinner baits working best fished in and around salt cedars at 4 to 6 feet deep.

Coming up at Hubbard Creek May 18 & 19 the KEAN Big Bass Tournament. This event is designed for everyone who owns a fishing pole because it just takes one cast in the right spot at the right time with the right bait, and anyone can luck out.

A free 16-page booklet on the handling and live release of largemouth bass is available from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The booklet, written by Dr. Hal Schramm of Texas Tech University and Dr. Roy C. Heidinger of Southern Illinois University, discusses the best techniques for handling and releasing bass; livewells and maintaining good water quality in them; methods to build or improve livewells; guidelines for conducting live release tournaments; design and use of fish holding tanks; and alternatives to weigh-in tournaments.

Live release of largemouth bass has become increasingly popular among fishermen and the practice will become more important as fishing pressure directed toward largemouth bass increases, said Allen Forshage, regional inland fisheries program director at Tyler. "In order to maintain or improve the quality of fishing in our lakes, catch and release of quality or trophy bass must be encouraged. The live release of bass, when done properly, ensures that these fish will provide angling pleasure for additional fishermen."

Forshage said the booklet should be useful to bass clubs who conduct live release tournaments and tournament sponsors who conduct live release events. Bass fishermen who participate in live release events and any angler who wants to hold a fish in a livewell for any length of time prior to release, such as transporting a fish to a marina for weighing and photographing, also might find the book helpful.

The booklet was printed with funds donated by the Jasper Chamber of Commerce from funds received from the Lake Sam Rayburn Bass-A-Thon. To obtain a copy of the booklet contact TPWD, inland fisheries, Rt. 10 Box 1043, Tyler, Texas 75707.

Annual RC&D Meeting At DeLeon; Officers Elected

George Brazell of Desdemona was guest speaker for the Leon-Bosque Resource, Conservation and Development Area meeting April 17 in DeLeon.

Fortunately the RC&D group was able to secure Brazell for this annual meeting after Land Commissioner Gary Mauro canceled out that afternoon because of storms in the Austin area.

There were some other changes in the program, due to the weather and illness. The Chairman George Crump of Glen Rose was in a hospital in Fort Worth. The retirement of Vice Chairman Henry Burk of Rising Star was announced, and he was not present. Secretary/Treasurer Bill Grimes of Dublin led out with the meeting.

This event was held in the DeLeon City Hall, a turn-of-the-century building with a spacious auditorium. A large crowd from the 11-county West Central Texas area was served a meal of roast beef, grilled chicken and all the trimmings.

The meeting hall and long white tables were decorated in a patriotic theme. The speakers table held a large bouquet of red and white carnations.

The crowd was welcomed to the city by DeLeon Mayor Kent Boswell. Don Shepherd of Cisco gave the invocation. A number of community leaders in the audience were introduced, and their contributions to soil and water conservation recognized.

Special plaques were awarded to James Watson and Vice Chairman Henry Burk for years of service to the District.

Technical changes in by-laws were approved. These deal with changes from five counties to the current eleven. The district now includes Shackelford, Stephens, Callahan, Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Brown, Somervell, Bosque, Hamilton and Mills Counties.

An election was held for new officers. Named as new director from Eastland County were Calvin Ainsworth, Commissioner of Precinct 2, Reggie Pittman, Commissioner of Precinct 4, and David Tunmire, Eastland County Agent.

George Crump was re-elected Chairman, and Burrell McKelvain of Moran was elected Vice Chairman. Bill Grimes was re-elected Secretary/Treasurer. The Executive Directors of Eastland County are G.A. White of Eastland and Don Shepherd of Cisco.

Ernest Moravec, RC&D Coordinator from Dublin, gave a report projects during the past year and plans for the future. The RC&D program is administered by the Soil Conservation Service, and they furnish a coordinator for each area. Local RC&D Council help identify needs of the various communities.

Moravec told of city park improvements planned for Callahan County, and the development of the downtown business section in Baird. A flour milling plant is anticipated for Shackelford County, and a County Park is underway in Glen Rose.

Moravec said that the Eastland County Career Opportunities Fair in Eastland on February 21 was not as well attended as they had hoped - only 19 came. But he said he felt that the Fair was of great benefit to those who did come, with most of them making serious inquiries about furthering their education. He said that Ranger Junior College, Cisco Junior College and governmental agencies in the area assisted with the Fair.

Speaker George Brazell was accompanied by his wife, Anna. Both taught at Cisco Junior College until their retirement a few years ago.

Brazell told the crowd that Gary Mauro didn't FAX him a copy of his speech, so all he had was his own experiences. But few people were more interested in conservation than a working rancher like himself.

Brazell said it was hard to find anyone these days who will admit to doing anything wrong. He ran over a list of S&L failures and their excuses, some government blunders and cover-ups - throwing out his own wit and wisdom along the line.

'But you must be doing something right', he told the audience, noting the Jeff Speakman makes his motion pictures starring debut as Jeff Sanders, a master Kenpo Karate with his own coade of honor, in "The Perfect Weapon." This Paramount action-thriller will be at the Majestic in Eastland Friday, May 10 through Monday, May 13.

The Perfect Weapon To Show At Majestic Beginning May 10

"The Perfect Weapon," a dramatic new picture about Karate, will begin at the Majestic Theatre in Eastland on Friday, May 10, 7:30 p.m., and show at the same time each evening through Monday, May 13.

This Paramount picture introduces Jeff Speakman, who does all list of accomplishments by RC&D area members.

He said it was good to be where people really cared what happened to the communities where they live. He said agriculture and the towns in the area all shared some of the same problems and of course the good things too.

After the meeting adjourned friends from various counties visited a moment before heading different directions.

his own Karate work. His starring role is that of Jeff Sanders, a master of Kenpo Karate with his own code of honor. For years he has been estranged from his family and searching for meaning and purpose in life.

Jeff returns home to Los Angeles to be confronted with the murder of a dear friend (Kim) who had been his mentor.

Discovering that an underworld crime ring is responsible for the killing, Jeff's search for justice sets him against his father and brother and on a collision course with one of the most dangerous men on earth.

Jeff Speakman has great acting and martial arts abilities with a style that is uniquely Kenpo Karate," says Producer/Director Mark DiSalle.

"In the picture he is quick to fight, but for the right reasons. It is his struggle to direct and control his anger that forms the spiritual core of this film."

A fourth degree Kenpo Karate Black Belt, Speakman is regarded as one of the world's top professionals. Anyone interested in these arts or an action-packed movie should see this contemporary film.

Tickets will be $3.00 at the box office. This picture is rated R. Anyone under 17 requires accompanying parent or guardian.

School Scoop
by Wendy Green

What senior guy finally took his girlfriend dancing?

What elementary student keeps school scoop pouring in?

Okay! What went on Friday night or Saturday night at the Quickway and then at the Quick-stop? Well, B.J. can't tell us, but she did see a lot of people there!

Why did B.J. go to May after she got off work?

What junior and senior girls looked like Bopside Twins Friday at the Jr./Sr. banquet? Was this planned?

Did J.M. actually take T.V. to the banquet? Gosh, that was a date then, or was it?

What seniors went to the scrub party at Arrowhead park Saturday night? Why did they come home early?

What senior girl and her friend C.N. saw it all Sunday night? Well, it's about time they were at the right place at the wrong time. Was this the first real fight they ever saw?

B.B.'s proud of his pappy! It's nice to know you have some backup when something like that happens!

Oh! Be careful where you park people, and please make sure you don't block the parking lot. It sounds explanatory, a parking lot is for parking isn't it?

What lady Cat didn't have a date for the banquet? But I could have sworn it was her man at the concert Friday night!

What ex-Wildcat landed face first at the concert? Well, at least he took someone with him.

What junior guy's gal copped out at the last minute? He was the one sitting alone at the banquet.

I didn't say L.H. rented the Limo for May's prom, I just stated that he and A.T. got to cruise around in one!

Good luck to the girls trying out for cheerleader! I don't have to get butterflies anymore!

Developmental Screening for Children to Be May 22

A developmental screening will be held for young children ages zero to three (0-3) at the Eastland County MHRM Center, 301 Pogue, in Eastland from 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesday, May 22.

The screening, which takes about 20 minutes to complete, tests a young child in four areas; personal/social skills (playing, eating, dressing, etc.), fine motor skills (ability to manipulate small objects), gross motor skills (running, jumping, etc.), and language development (speech, following instructions, etc.). If a child is found to have two or more delays in one area, there is further testing available or referral to the appropriate agency.

The purpose of Early Childhood Intervention is to identify and correct as many problems as possible for young children. Early detection of young children's delays have proven beneficial to the child, parents and teachers.

For further information, please feel free to call 915-646-9574, ext. 158/159 in Brownwood, or come to the screening site in Eastland.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

by Bob Turner
State Representative 65th District

The 65th District had the honor of having Dr. Lionel R. (Skip) Meno, Texas' new Education Commissioner designee as a visitor, Saturday, the 20th of April. Senator Temple Dickson and I had the opportunity to host the new Texas Education Commissioner in a whirlwind tour to Brady, then on to the Lohn schools, in McCulloch County, as he made a hurried tour of Texas school facilities. The Commissioner was met at the Brady airport by a nice delegation, including school board members, and headed by Dr. Doug Moore, Superintendent of Brady ISD, and Mayor H. L. (Bud) Gober. Dr. Meno was made an honorary citizen of Brady by means of a proclamation presented by the Mayor. The group then drove to the Lohn schools and were met there by the school board, faculty and local citizens. Superintendent Marlene Shelton showed Commissioner Meno, Senator Dickson and I through their school plant, before we returned to the Brady airport.

I was very favorably impressed with the prospective Education Commissioner. He is currently serving as Assistant Commissioner for the State of New York. Dr. Meno is from the rural, agricultural portion of that state, and has strong ties with small schools, and rural schools, but, urban ones, as well. Dr. Meno stated that he is strongly opposed to mandatory consolidation, and certainly does not equate large schools with excellence, nor does he equate small schools with poor or ineffective school systems. His statements concerning letting local districts, educators and school boards run the local systems, not TEA, or the Legislature, were especially refreshing to me, and I know are of interest to you.

I am having dinner one night this week with Representative Rick Williamson, who serves as Vice-Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, as well as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, and the Legislative Budget Board, to discuss the state's budget, and finances in general.

Further, since last update, we have had a visiting school group from Gustine ISD, in Comanche County. The school groups of all age levels that come by the Capitol are very welcome and I encourage all who want to make the trip to come.

Finally, I feel that progress is being made in the area of expanding Ranger Junior College's presence, and in obtaining an extended campus of TSTI-Sweetwater, in Brownwood. I feel that these moves are extremely important to the economic development of the entire 65th District.

Always let me encourage you to call on my staff or I if at any time you feel that we can be of service to you. My office number is (512) 463-0644, and please feel free to call collect when it concerns a problem in the district.

Dental Dialogue
by Cone C. Rice, D.D.S.
All Work Together
Q: What are the different types of teeth?
A: A typical adult mouth contains 32 teeth, which can be divided into four different types. The front teeth, called incisors, are designed to cut particles of food. Next are the cuspids, commonly called canine or eye-teeth. Their unique, pointed cusp is designed for tearing, in addition to cutting, food. Sicuspids, or premolars, are located between the cuspids and molars. They serve to crush food as it moves back through the mouth. Finally come the molars, the largest, strongest teeth in your mouth, whose job it is to grind food. Each tooth is important to the proper functioning of your mouth, so take good care of them and see your dentist regularly.

Dosing cancer patients with a genetically engineered hormone, granulocyte colony stimulating factor, seems to strengthen them to withstand more powerful chemotherapy. Doctors at Duke University in Durham, North Carolina, are conducting the tests.

No-scalpel vasectomy, practiced in China, is now being done in the U.S. The procedure is accomplished through a single puncture in the skin and may reduce the risk of hematomas, according to doctors at the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Erythropoietin, an anti-anemia drug used for patients on dialysis, has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for patients with AIDS. AIDS and its medications often result in anemia.

To improve calcium absorption, researchers at the University of Arizona found, it's more effective to divide the dose. The body is able to use twice as much calcium from four 250-mg. doses as it would from a single 1,000-mg. dose.

TEXAS SENATE WEEK IN REVIEW

Austin-The Texas Senate passed landmark recycling legislation this week. On Thursday, May 2, Senate Bill 1340, sponsored by Senator Carl Parker of Port Arthur, was passed and sent to the Texas House for consideration. S.B. 1340 is the most far reaching recycling legislation ever passed in Texas. The bill includes market development studies, recycling awareness programs, statewide recycling programs, as well as directing state agencies to purchase and use recyclable products, including the Department of Highways and Public Transportation using and recycling reclaimed asphalt pavement. Senator Parker stated that with landfill space dwindling, rising costs, and the environmental risks involved, bold steps had to be taken by state government to encourage recycling and reuse of oil, batteries, tires and all other recyclable products. The bill includes a $2 per tire disposal fee on the purchase of new tires.

On Tuesday, April 30, the Senate passed Senate Bill 546 sponsored by Senator Gonzalo Barrientos of Austin. The bill abolishes the Texas Housing Agency and the Texas Department of Community Affairs and merges their functions, duties, and responsibilities to create the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs. The Texas Housing Agency has recently been questioned for not doing enough to assist low income families with housing needs. This is legislation recommended by the Sunset Commission, an agency formed to review state agencies, boards, and commissions for their effectiveness and necessity. If this legislation is not passed, the agency will be abolished September 1, 1991. The bill now goes to the House for consideration.

On Monday, April 29, the Senate passed Senate Bill 350 sponsored by Senator Judith Zaffirini relating to the burning of hazardous material in industrial furnaces located in the Edwards Aquifer recharge and transition zones. The legislation prohibits the Texas Water Commission to issue permits authorizing the burning of certain hazardous materials located in these areas.

The Senate stands adjourned until 11:00am, Monday May 6.

Pearl Harbor Review And Program In Austin And Fredericksburg

For nearly half a century a cloud of controversy has shadowed the Dec. 7, 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor - one of the darkest days in U.S. military history.

Now these fascinating issues and controversies will be thoroughly examined at a three-day symposium and program in Austin and Fredericksburg, Texas on May 9-11.

In Austin the event will begin at the Performing Arts Center, University of Texas. Military historians, veterans and writers will explore the social, political and military events surrounding a "date that shall live in infamy."

The third day the program moves to Fredericksburg, Texas, birthplace of Admiral Chester Nimitz, for a special tour of the Admiral Nimitz Museum of the Pacific War, where the Japanese two-man midget submarine captured at Pearl Harbor is on display. Concluding the three-day gathering will be a massive "Tora, Tora, Tora" reenactment of Pearl Harbor by the Confederate Air Force, where U.S. and Japanese military people who were at Pearl Harbor will watch from the ground, providing commentary as the battles in which they fought are recreated.

New County Banker Sees Brighter Days Ahead

During a recent visit to The People's State Bank, Rising Star, Branch Manager James Ramsay pointed out assets of the town and area.

"What we have here is worth more than all the oil of Sadaam Mussion," Ramsay said, looking up from his desk.

"We have the ability to grow food - the water, soil and climate. And we have two good highways to haul it out."

Ramsay, Vice President as well as Branch Manager of the Bank, is a tall man with a steady voice and shock of gray hair. He went into banking more than 30 years ago, he says. A farm boy from Erath County, he attended Tarleton, Texas Tech and Texas A & M University before beginning his career in finance.

A number of his years in banking were spent as a State Bank Regulator, he explains. But what first brought him to the Rising Star area was when he purchased a farm seven miles north of town in 1986.

Ramsay says that in 1989 he came to the First State Bank of Rising Star in an effort to save the institution.

"This could not be done," he states.

When First State he acquired in Sept. 1990 by Peoples State Bank, based in Clyde, Ramsay stayed on as Rising Star Branch Manager.

"The people of Rising Star were supportive of the new bank," Ramsay adds. "They seemed to realize this was their home town bank, hoping to serve their needs."

"The People State has the same board of directors for Clyde, the Moran Branch, and here. But each bank is different, geared to its area. Here it is agriculture and cattle."

"We simply want to be a good small-town bank for the Rising Star and May area," Ramsay states. We don't want to expand into someone else's back yard.

"We want good loans here, and growth. But when I think of growth I mean slow, steady growth - not something that would ruin our land and water, or the lifestyle we love."

"I'm President of the Chamber of Commerce, and some of us have been making plans for things that will help the town."

"There'll be some important announcements soon - good things are coming."

Ramsay says that Peoples State Bank came into Rising Star at a fortunate time for agriculture. There was a big peanut crop last year, and prices were high. Cattle prices were also high - and remain so.

"Things still look good for agriculture in many ways," Ramsay remarks.

"The only thing - some of these plans about throwing American products on the world market makes me nervous. I'm afraid the American farmer will get the worst end of that."

One of the answers for agriculture is to diversify as much as possible, Ramsay says. He mentions that he has 600 peach trees at his own place north of town, and this will be their first year of production.

"I realize that this is a period of time in which only the strong, prudent manager will survive - in agriculture, banking, or any kind of business. It will take more effort," he says.

Poor management is the main thing that has hurt

Rising Star Banker James Ramsay discusses agriculture, the Bank - the future.

banking in recent years, Ramsay explains.

"We had it so good so long that the people in charge became lax. The banks that operated on sound banking principles - they are still here. The others are gone."

His thoughts turn again to farming. "My Dad taught me this when I was young: 'Son, no matter how many pieces of land you buy, and how many you sell, be sure of one thing - that the land is better when it leaves your hands than when you got it."

He pauses for a moment, perhaps thinking of the full circle his life has come.

"You know, the greatest thing my father ever did for me was to raise me on a farm."

A Statement of Condition on March 31, 1991 for the Rising Star Branch, Peoples State Bank shows assets of $59,279,228.36. Net loans total $22,393,609.36, with deposits totaling $52,050,508.46.

Lena Scott Honored on 90th Birthday Taxpayers Question New School Building

Lena Scott was honored with a 90th birthday party Sunday, May 5, at Pioneer Baptist Church. Currently a resident in a local nursing home, Mrs. Scott and her husband, the late George Scott, farmed for many years in the Pioneer area. Lena Phillips Scott also attended schools in the area.

Mrs. Scott was remembered by many of the guests as a steadfast member of the Pioneer church, where she played the piano and taught Sunday School for many years.

Among those present were her daughter, Gladys Barron of Rising Star; granddaughter and her husband, Jan and Don Pitts of Burleson; great-grandchildren, Sheila and Clarissa of Hurst, Julia, Jerry and Trey Forbing of Dale and Brad Barron of Clyde.

Others attending the party included a number of nieces and nephews and many friends.

A number of taxpayers want to be more fully knowledgeable about the proposed building of a new high school. They are asking for a place on the agenda at the school trustee meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, May 13.

Among the questions they want answered are these:

Will taxes be raised? If not, where will the money come from?

If the building costs more than anticipated, how will the extra funds be raised?

Is it really necessary to build a new high school building?

Couldn't the existing building be renovated?

Where will junior high students meet classes?

Wouldn't a facility for these students be more economical than a new high school?

What if the school is forced to consolidate -- before the new building is worn out?

Why wasn't the taxpayer given a chance to voice an opinion in a vote, as the citizens of Rising Star were on the water sale issue?

Notice

I am writing this notice with deep sadness and hurt in my heart because after 38 years, the Jenkins Insurance Agency door is closed. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my past customers and friends for their loyalty and trust in me over the years while I was servicing their insurance needs. Sometimes this was just not possible and I do hope everyone understands the complex system of trying to insure or to get insurance that would meet your needs.

I feel it is time for me to get out of this business and go on to less stressful aspects of the everyday work system. I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks also to Debbie Green and her family for the support they have given me over the past years and also to my wonderful children and their families for their support also. Without love and support of all you wonderful people, my job would have been so much more of a lost cause.

In the very near future, I plan on opening a Video Rented Store and will be looking forward to seeing all my freinds and hopefully making a lot more in my future enterprise.

Again, thank you, and I will miss you at Jenkins Insurance Agency.

Sincerely,
Mildred Childers
